DOING WELL IN LOUISVILLE

C. H. Whitehouse Doing a Fine Real Estate Business in the Kentucky Metropolis.

Mr. J. M. Persons, a mining engineer of this city and this district, made a short trip to Louisville returning Sunday. While there he visited Mr. C. H. Whitehouse, a former associate editor of this sheet, and exchanged greetings.

Mr. Whitehouse is doing well in his new occupation and his friends in Crittenden will no doubt be happy to hear of his late successes. He has averaged a profit of $75 per week for the last ten weeks and has bought a splendid home at 220 Burnett avenue.

Mr. Whitehouse is in the Real Estate Brokerage business. He is one of three partners and handles the placing or selling end of the business. His partners declare that he is the best salesman they ever saw, or the luckiest. They are not prepared to say which.

THE RECORD wishes Mr. Whitehouse success in full measure in the new field essayed by him.

Exercises Too Long.

Our esteemed constituent and good friend, J. Mack Walker, of the Iron Hill settlement, was on the streets of Marion Saturday.

Mr. Walker was asked what kind of a time did they all have at the convention.

"Splendid, fine, but some of the exercises were stretched out too long."

"Did you know it was impossible to make a hog eat when he is absolutely full? Say, did you ever try to call a hog out of a corn crib?"

"If I had been going to make a speech out there I would have gotten up and told some good joke and my speech would have been about this long."

With that Mr. Walker measured about two and one half or three inches on his left index finger and settled back in his chair, while the wrinkles about his eyes gradually closed. Each one in the crowd knew that Mr. Walker was laughing.

Jim Henry's Troubles.

Jim Henry has been in the far west and just returned. Well how is every thing he was asked, the day of his arrival back home? Jim's face fell about four inches and with a look closely resembling the man, who had lost his ticket, he said:

"I tell you I found things in an awful fix when I got back home. I found my wife and my boy sick, and my horse all cut to pieces with a barb wire fence and my dog running around with a fence paling through him and a whole lot of fellows who think I ought to pay them." Discovering the familiar face of a familiar grocer approaching, Jim shied down an alley and was gone.

THE RECORD'S MINING NEWS

The Week's Doings Throughout the District Told in Paragraphs.

NEW DEVELOPMENTS CONTINUE IN THE TERRITORY

BONANZA AT THE HODGE.

On the Hodge property there are three veins: the main Hodge fault, and another on either side to the east and west respectively. The lessees, the Kentucky Fluor Spar Co., have worked the main Hodge and the vein east, both at several openings in the past. A year or so ago Jas. Meeks, working under contract, made an opening into the west vein, and at intervals since has raised quite a tonnage of leady spar by open cut and surface working. Lately he has got down to the wall rocks, which have a dip of about 45 degrees west or towards the main Hodge fault, and now the run of ore he is working has a width between the walls of about six feet and manifests the most beautiful "banded" structure of lead and fluorspar that it has been the privilege of the writer to see anywhere in the district. It is fine mill stuff, and perhaps run over 25 per cent in lead. It is stated the company proposes to put in an incline shaft and establish a steam power plant at this locality. When the development now in progress, to recover the main old Hodge working, has concluded and with the new showing on the west vein, the Hodge property promises to take on great new life.

REED MINES.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar Co., is raising considerable gravel fluorspar here this season as they did last. A log washer has been installed and is now used instead of the sluice washer used last year, since the log permit of less labor, and more continuous operation on a limited output of gravel.

HOPEWELL PROPERTY.

Mr. Hopewell reports the location of a new vein on their mining tract lying back to the west from their main vein some 300 pards. They are prospecting this new vein at present, which gives good promise of ore bodies.

OUT FROM SALEM.

The Nancy Hanks Mine and the Riley Mine are in full operation, and are raising a gravel tonnage of ore. Both these properties have Joplin type of mills, and produce a lead concentrate, besides making a by-product of fluorspar. At the Nancy Hanks a grinding plant for producing "ground spar" is also in operation, and the Riley has talked of putting in a grinding plant.

HODGE MINE.

The sinking of the air shaft continues and is now down about 125 feet, at which depth a level to the north is being driven, as well as sinking going ahead. This will become the main working shaft, from which at about 200 feet in depth levels will be put out to the south under the Hodge "old workings," worked out to about 165 feet and now caved from the surface. A "run" of spar over 150 in length and 19 feet wide maximum was mined in the old workings, and it is this handsome ore body that will ultimately be attacked from levels driven under it out from the air shaft. Mr. Fred Clement is foreman at the Hodge, and certainly has proved efficient in his management. A log washer is operated at the air shaft steam plant, for washing gravel spar mined elsewhere on the Hodge property.

MEMPHIS MINE.

It is reported that a new vein of fluorspar was discovered this week on the Memphis Mine property. The opening made lies to the east of the Klondike vein and between that vein and the "big spring." Fluorspar six feet wide is said to have been encountered. This new vein would make four veins on the Memphis property—it, the Klondike, the middle vein between the Klondike and the Memphis and the main Memphis vein.

ECLIPSE MINING CO.

This company is the one operating on the McMican farm out in the "Memphis District." A mighty rich run of coarsely crystalline jack is being mined, which product is about as fine ore as has ever been opened up in this field.

EDWARDS MINING CO.

Adjoining the Eclipse to the south is the "Panther Hollow" property now being exploited by the Edwards Mining Co. In the past this place has produced a large quantity of first class fluorspar. No doubt the present operators will, by the systematic work they are inaugurating, make the property a much larger producer than ever before and certainly will arrange for more permanent and continuous work. They have now about 2000 tons of fluorspar, and have installed three log washers to wash this for market. They have built a large lake for water supply.

HOPEWELL.

The Hopewells are prospecting in a new place. They have commenced a shaft about 200 yards from the vein and now every indication points to a new vein about 3 feet wide at present.

HOPEWELL.

Mr. Solomon Lee, an old resident of this country, and known from Hurricane Creek to Dycusburg as a first class citizen and honest man, was in Marion last week.

He lives in Livingston county on the Cumberland river.

Zinc Brings $48 at Joplin.

Joplin, Mo., August 4.—Many of the bins containing the higher grades of zinc were put on the market during the past week, and $48 was the highest price reported paid for the ore, although the assay basis was much stronger at the first of the week.

The lead buyers did not buy their usual quantity of ore this week, but the price finished the week no lower, with the top price at $78.50, while some bins of choice ore sold as low as $75. The shipment of ore was 244 tons of zinc and 227 tons of lead greater than the previous week, and 1520 tons of zinc and 305 tons of lead greater than the corresponding week of last year, while the value was $81,330 greater than the same week of last year. The thirty-one weeks of the year show an increased shipment of 13,387 tons of zinc and 4451 tons of lead greater than the first thirty-one weeks of last year, and the value is $1,083,978 greater.

METZ & SEDDERBERRY.

Oil Treatment for Streets.

Mr. J. Louis Clifton, traveling salesman for a New York clothing house, made a few remarks the other day upon the condition of our streets, the dust and sprinkling by water.

Mr. Clifton said the best streets he saw during his travels over this state and Tennessee were those that had received the oil treatment. Continuing he said, "The best way it seems and the most scientific mode of treating public highways is by sprinkling them with black crude oil."

"First clean off the street and haul away the surplus dust, dirt, rocks etc., and then sprinkle with oil using the same sprinkler you are using now, and then over this sprinkle sand. The oil and sand forms a paste impervious to water and very tenacious holding together all particles of dust and dirt. One good sprinkling will last three or four months and the cost will not exceed three cents per square yard. I believe they say if the streets are perfectly clean this method will last one season, but if the streets are nothing but dirt roads and very dusty it takes about four applications annually."

"Some of the finest streets I saw while gone were in Danville, Lancaster and Shelbyville, Ky. They are sprinkled with oil. When you figure all the items of cost it will be found that oil is the cheapest and best."

The RECORD respectfully refers the above to all the merchants of Marion, especially those directly interested in keeping the dust out of their stores.

A Valuable Formula.

THE CRITTENDEN RECORD: The following formula for testing Manganese ore for Cobalt is one that will be found reliable so far as the presence of cobalt in the manganese is concerned.

Procure a glass test tube from your druggist, these tubes are from four to six inches long, also a small alcohol lamp. Pulverize a piece of the manganese ore the size of a pea, after putting this in the test tube, pour over it Hydro-Chloric (Muriatic) acid until it stands from one and a quarter to one and a half inches high in the tube, hold this over your alcohol lamp moving it around until the manganese is taken up in the solution. Should the solution have a green color cobalt is present, the percentage cannot accurately be told in this manner but the green color ranges from light to a dark green, the color indicates the per cent. The usual strength of our ordinary manganese is from two to three per cent of cobalt. A very pale green would hardly do, the percentage being too light.

Truly Yours,

D. C. R.

PASTOR RESIGNS

Rev. T. V. McCaul Takes Leave of the Baptist Congregation at Providence.

At the conclusion of the services at the Baptist church last Sunday morning Rev. Thomas V. McCaul had the clerk to read a paper in which he asked that his resignation be accepted as pastor of the church, to take effect September 1st. The announcement fell like a bolt out of the blue. Even the closest friends and advisers of the reverend gentleman were unprepared for such and the congregation strained their ears and held their breath while the clerk read the letter. The pastor gave no reason for wishing to resign beyond the statement that a long cherished hope of his was nearing realization and that its fruition would demand the action he had taken. After several motions had been made and rejected the motion was adopted appointing a committee to consult with Mr. McCaul in the endeavor to induce him to reconsider his action, but from what we have been able to learn his decision is irrevocable and Sharon church will lose his valued services as its pastor and the community one of its most useful members.

Mr. McCaul came here nearly three years ago from Richmond, Va., and fresh from the graduating class of the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville. He possessed a mind well trained for his work, a buoyant spirit and an earnest zeal for the great cause he had taken up, blended with a charming personality that won him friends from the start, and now that his popularity is universal, his loss will be a great blow to the church and the entire community. He has made the church a most excellent pastor; he has labored hard and earnestly and great good has been the result of his efforts. If we are to lose him he will go with the regret and best wishes of all this people.—Providence Enterprise.

Will Make Maps.

Mr. Berry with U. S. Geol. Sur., and eight assistants have headquarters at Hotel Crittenden. They are preparing to make a topographic map of parts of this county. They are now working on the Clay quadrangle, which includes parts of Crittenden, Caldwell, Webster and Union counties.

This is a regular work of the government and it will take years to complete the map. The United States and State are working together. Mr. Berry and his assistants will be here about three months.

Rufus Stinson Dead.

Rufus Stenson, son of Rufus Stinson, of Carmi, Ill., died at the home of his father in that city, Wednesday. He had been ill only a few days. His parents were in Colorado at the time of his death. The burial will take place Saturday at Carmi.

City of Marion Enjoys That Distinction

HIGH STANDARD OF MORALS

Our Citizens Point With Pride to the Attainments of Marion's Noble Sons.

PRESIDENTIAL TIMBER ABOUND.

The city of Marion enjoys quite a distinction in more ways than one. We think our readers will attest this fact before the close of these remarks.

Our moral atmosphere is the best. Our people cannot be beat. Our crops are all that man could wish for and the purity of our mineral leads the world. We have in this part of God's moral heritage presidential timber we think, congressional and judicial timber we know. We point with pride to a congressman in action and an appellate judge in deliberation. We boast of our ability to send to the United States senate the only republican senator ever elected in Kentucky. We have one man, who could with ease keep on the right track, with all the wheels greased, any kind of a financial proposition from a penny Sunday school collection to the treasury of the United States.

We claim one man, not now in our midst,—loaned as it were—who would grace the columns of any city daily and who for facile, snappy, terse writing is only equalled by one other in Kentucky. Crittenden county has sailed down the sea of time for many years without fear and with much favor. And now it has been discovered that we have inventors in our midst.

Mr. A. Dewey of the Marion Milling Company invented some kind of milling machinery and exchanged his ideas for several thousand dollars. Mr. John Morse invented a button case and they are in use today. Quite a number of inventions, have been evolved from Marion thought domes.

Now comes to light the latest sensation in the way of an invention. Mr. J. LeRoy Shrode, at present Superintendent of the Marion Electric Light & Ice Company, has obtained a patent for an automatic oil cup which solves a world of problems for engineers. It promises to do away with hot boxes, bearings and the like. Upon examination you cannot tell the Shrode cup from the ordinary cup. They look alike and all work alike on stationary and movable engines. The "Shrode Automatic Oil Cup" is an appliance which automatically opens and feeds oil faster the hotter the bearing gets.

The beauty of this can readily be seen. The more oil the greater the tendency to cool the bearing and the cooler the bearing the less oil flows which of course is limited to a certain amount. The peculiar operation of this cup, especially the automatic mechanism, is still a secret for the which Mr. Shrode is certainly justifiable. Mr. Shrode has already been offered $1,200 for his invention by one of the largest oil cup manufacturers in the United States. He refused the offer and says whenever they place another nought to the right side of the two already there he will sell.

Mr. Shrode is practically a new-comer to Marion. It must be something in this peculiar Crittenden atmosphere that generates distinction among her sons and daughters and newcomers.

WILL BE BETTER THAN IT EVER WAS

In Its Third Year The Record's Circulation
Exceeds the Expectations of Its Publishers and Friends.

With the issue of July 13th, 1906, THE CRITTENDEN RECORD started in on the third year of its existence. A part of that voyage has been tempestuous and part of it bright.

On the 28th day of March, 1905, a conflagration destroyed the greater part of Marion and in that destruction THE CRITTENDEN RECORD went down. THE CRITTENDEN RECORD did not miss an issue on account of the fire nor for any other cause. For over a year it struggled along without any machinery, but now it is fully equipped and prepared for any and all kinds of newspaper and job work. Below is a cut of the new Cranston press installed July 6th, 1906, and also a cut of the engine that drives all the machinery.

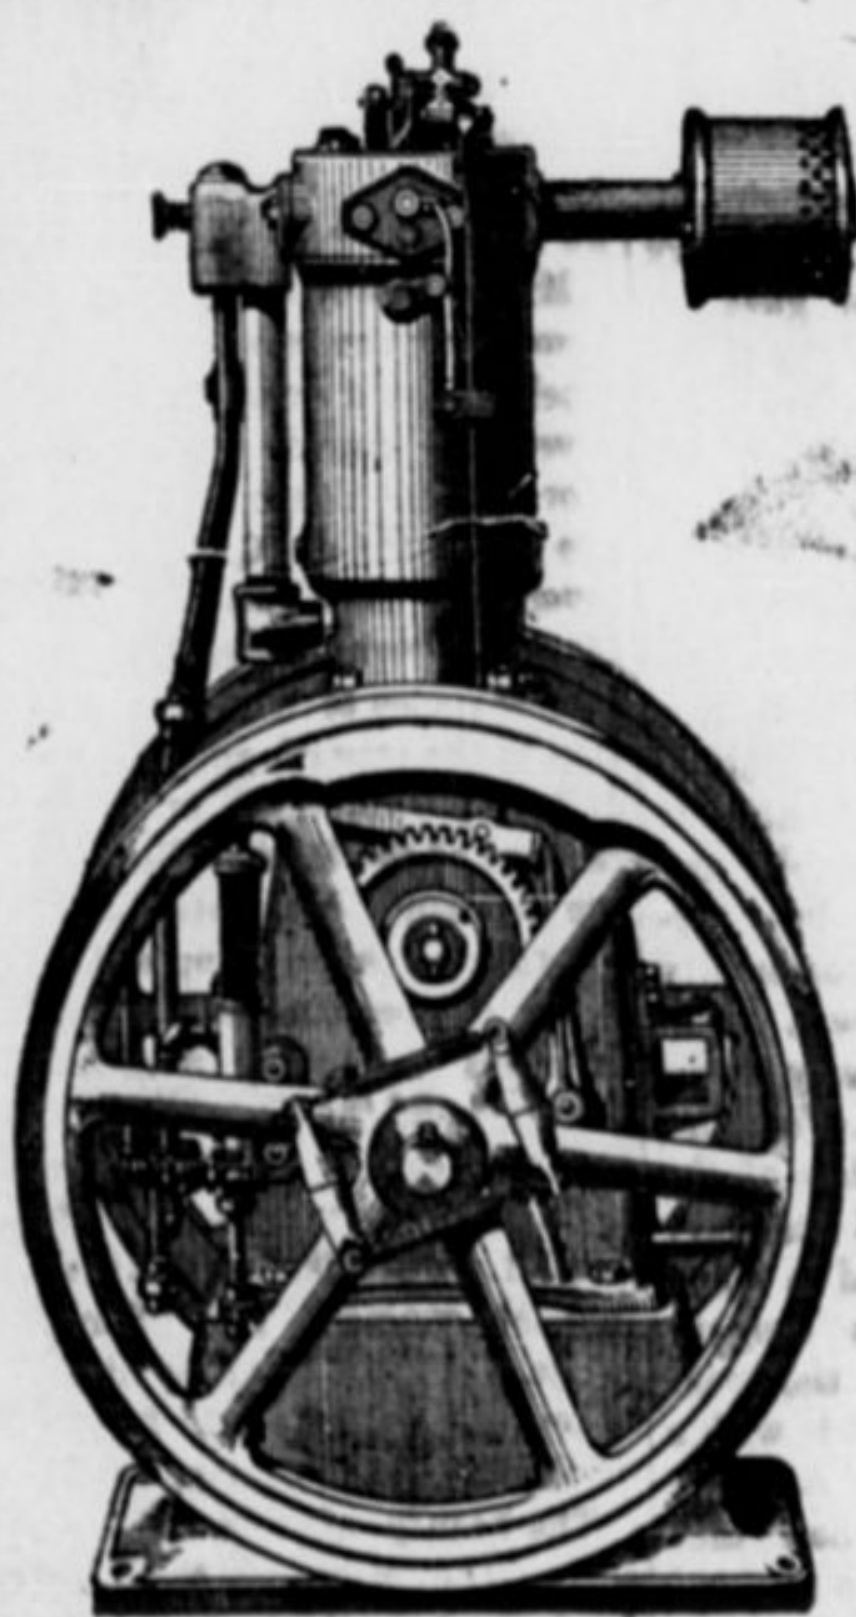

In the past two years the circulation of THE RECORD has grown beyond all expectations and now exceeds that of many much older county papers, in fact few reach as many homes.

A special continued effort is now being made to still further enlarge the number of papers that go out from this office.

THE RECORD will be made better than ever before, both as a newspaper and advertising medium, and it will ever be a friend to enterprise, industry and education and will be of interest to every member of the family.

We thank our friends for liberal patronage and assure them that we shall endeavor to merit the same.

WHY HIS HAIR WAS LIKE THE SETTING SUN.

"Do you know, sir," chuckled the buffoon barber, as he reached for the tonic bottle, "that your hair reminds me of the setting sun?"

"Quit you nonsense," snapped the busy man. "How could my hair remind you of the setting sun? It is not golden is it?"

"No, sir."

"Nor variegated in color?"

"No."

"Then why do you say it reminds you of the setting sun?"

"Because it is so rapidly disappearing, sir."

The State College of Kentucky LEXINGTON, KY.

THE Agricultural and Mechanical (State) College of Kentucky offers the following courses of study, viz: Agricultural, chemical, biological, mathematical, physical, normal school, classical, mechanical engineering, civil engineering, mining engineering, each of which extends over four years and leads to a master's degree. Each course of study is organized under a separate faculty. The general faculty number nearly fifty professors and instructors.

County appointees receive tuition, room rent in dormitories, fuel and light, and if they remain ten months, traveling expenses.

The laboratories and museums are large, well equipped, comprehensive and modern. Military tactics and science are fully provided for as required by Congress. Graduates from the several courses of study readily find excellent positions and liberal remuneration. The demand is largely in excess of the ability of the college supply. The matriculation for the last year was, including Summer school, 815.

Specialists with the necessary number of assistants have charge of each department of natural science. Summer schools are provided for pedagogy, engineering and instruction in science and arts.

The State College of Kentucky is the only institution in the Commonwealth doing in any proper sense university work.

The college home for young women provides facilities for good board and lodging. It is well equipped with all modern conveniences, including bath room and a room for physical culture. It is heated by steam and lighted by electricity.

An opportunity is thus afforded to them of a thorough education in classics, modern languages, literature, science, mathematics, logic, metaphysics, history and political economy. No other institution in the State offers advantages for the education of women at all comparable to those offered by the State College of Kentucky.

A new Library building will, through the generosity of Mr. Carnegie, be erected during the next Collegiate year.

The Normal Department will be on a better footing than ever heretofore. Last year's largely increased attendance, with the unprecedented growth of the Summer Normal School, both indicate that an era of prosperity surpassing that of all previous years has opened for the Normal Department of the State College.

CHEAPER FARM LANDS.

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities
For Securing Homes.

Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the Southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying land in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn, a bale of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa, 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and hay crops, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $4.00 to $6.00 per acre cash.

Uplands more rolling, lighter soil, adapted to fruit growing—peaches, pears, plums, grapes, berries, also melons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5 to $10 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap.

This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding. Free range, pure water, mild climate. A healthy growing country, with a great future.

"Make Hay While the Sun Shines."

There is a lesson in the work of the thrifty farmer. He knows that the bright sunshine may last but a day and he prepares for the showers which are so liable to follow. So it should be with every household. Dysentery, diarrhoea and cholera morbus may attack some of the home without warning. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which is the best known medicine for these diseases, should always be kept at hand, as immediate treatment is necessary, and delay may prove fatal. The Crittenden Record.

ISSUED WEEKLY.

GEO. M. CRIDER, Editor and Publisher.
EUGENE GUESS, Associate Editor.

SUBSCRIPTION ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR.

Entered as second-class matter July 15, 1904, at the postoffice at Marion, Ky., under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

NOTICE! In changing your address write us your old address as well as the new one when writing.

FRIDAY, AUG. 10, 1906.

The news of Marion, Crittenden county, Livingston county and other adjoining counties is to be found in THE RECORD.

THE RECORD management is more than pleased at the large number of new subscriptions rolling into THE RECORD. We have been weeding out the list of subscribers with a long knife but the new ones coming in make up the deficiency and show quite a large gain over the old number.

One of the brightest exchanges that comes to this editorial table is "The Elizabethtown News," published at Elizabethtown, Hardin county, Kentucky. The paper was established in 1869 and Mr. H. A. Sommers, whoever he be, is certainly on to his job.

The vision of our friend Senator McCreary is improving. He could not see the frauds in the Music Hall Convention, the steal of the offices following the election, or the frauds in the Democratic State Primary. But now sees visions of fraud in a primary yet to be held.—The Sun-Sentinel.

A subscriber writes as follows:

"When my present subscription runs out continue the paper and send me the bill.

"The person who wrote What Can Girls Do in a Country Town etc, is certainly all right. That was a good sensible article and had the right ring. "With best wishes for your success. Very truly yours,"

Mary Jones will please take notice.

Col. Russell Goes West.

Colonel G. M. Russell, editor, printer and general newspaper writer, type setter and reprinter has resigned his position with the "Crittenden Press", folded his tent and gone to visit his son in Missouri.

Barring Mr. R. C. Walker, we know of no man more completely identified with the printers trade in all its phases in Crittenden county than Mr. Russell. He has been in our midst doing with his might what his hand found to do for 20 years, and be the service small or great he did his best.

He is now rounding out a long life and the years of his pilgrimage are commencing to weigh somewhat heavily. Unlike the young his life is stretched out behind him and it is something of a retrospection.

We trust his path down the shady way will be cool, calm and full of promise for a brighter dawn.

Smart-Black.

Mr. Marion C. Smart, of this city, and Miss Madge Black, of Grove Center, Ky. were united in marriage at Morganfield and arrived in the city Aug. 7th at the home of the groom.

The bride is a pretty young lady and popular in her community. The groom is a young man of business qualities, he is well known in this city and county, he will shortly take up school at Fords Ferry. Their many friends wish them a prosperous voyage through life.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Rev. J. R. McAfee filled the Methodist pulpit last Sunday morning at 11 o'clock service and his subject was An Ideal Manhood—Phil. 4, 6-7. One of the things that will undo life and destroy the smooth even temper of an ideal manhood is over anxiety; therefore Paul says "In nothing be anxious." A properly garrisoned heart and mind will produce an ideal manhood. We find that the most vulnerable points in our moral character is the heart and mind and that the only power that can keep these in all purity is the peace of God which passeth all understanding. Then the great question is how may I procure this peace or power that will stand garrison over my heart and mind and how may I cause it to obtain throughout life? Having this peace, therefore another question arises, What is the nature and what is the character of this peace? First, divine in nature. (a) Because it brings man back somewhat into the original ideal relationship in which God designed him to be. (b) Because it is the result brought to us by God's love and mercy. (c) Because it is in some way a Divine donation. It is that which is produced in the heart by God's spirit. Second, in character this peace passeth the comprehension of all created intelligence and assumes a warlike attitude as it stands garrison of the heart and mind.

The Methodists now have one hundred new hymns so if you attend church there you will be assured of a book. The congregation are all expected to sing.

The weekly Sunday meeting of the Epworth League has been postponed until September 16th, on account of very hot weather.

The Methodist ladies are planning for a big church reception to be held at the parsonage of Rev. J. R. McAfee, Aug. 12th.

The feature of the song service at the 11 o'clock service last Sunday was the special anthem "Lovely Zion." It was rendered well.

Rev. Ben Andres will preach next Sunday afternoon at Dean's school house at the usual hour. At which time a vote will be taken and the majority of those present will rule as to whether the services will be held at Dean's school house or Mounds or Forest Grove in the future.

Rev. J. H. Butler filled the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday morning.

He read for the morning lesson Psalm 62. He used for his text Job 19:25, "I know that my Redeemer liveth." He divided the text into three parts. 1st, Job's declaration of faith in a living redeemer. Though he passed through trials and afflictions, this served only to purify his heart for his was a living faith worked by love. 2nd, Job's faith amounted to assurance for he said I know my Redeemer lives, not I hope or I believe. It is a privilege to say I know, for it causes us to lose faith in self. Job had faith in a humane and divine Redeemer. He had faith in a powerful Redeemer, able to deliver from affliction and mighty to save. 3rd, Job had faith in a personal Redeemer, I know that my Redeemer lives. Some things Job achieved by his faith: it kept him from falling into sin, from rebellion; caused him to humbly submit to God; faith caused him to exercise patience; enabled him to endure. Job's faith achieved for him a wonderful victory.

There will be preaching at the Baptist church next Sunday morning by the pastor. Sunday school at 9:30.

Elder J. S. Rowe preached in Christian church last Lord's day morning, taking for his text Acts 18:8. He spoke of the simplicity of the gospel, and said that because of it's simplicity the Corinthians considered it foolishness, and because of it's universality the Jews considered it a stumbling block 1st Cor. 1:23. He said in reference to talking about divine things that we mold our thoughts, words and expressions in human molds whereas we should mold them in divine molds. He said that such expressions as "getting religion," "experiencing showers of grace," "professing faith," second work of grace, etc., are molded in human molds. He then briefly discoursed of the text. He preached the union discourse in C. P. Church at night. His text is found in Gal. 6:2. A good audience heard him.

Rev. J. F. Price preached last Sunday at the C. P. church on the text "That ye may be filled with all the fullness of God." There are texts that stagger us by their greatness. We cannot conceive how we can reach such sublime heights in the Christian life. While our aspirations may enkindle an earnest desire, yet we shrink from the richness and fullness of blessing that God offers to us. He showed what is meant by the fullness of God, how we attain it, and the blessed results.

GIVENS & SON

Quit Ice Business to Devote Entire Time to Their Meat Shop.

Givens & Son have given up their ice business and will henceforth devote their whole time and attention to their meat business. They propose to run one of the most up-to-date butcher shops in Western Kentucky. The senior member of the firm will spend his entire time in selecting and buying the most choice stock that can be found, thus giving their customers the best that can be procured.

Elected Tax Collector.

Mr. H. C. Moore, of Hopkinsville, has been elected tax collector of that city.

Mr. Moore is known in Marion as "Coley" and is a son of Mrs. S. D. Moore who lives out about two and one half miles on the Salem road. He has two brothers in this county, Mr. Jimmie Head Moore and Mr. Lacy Moore.

Mr. H. C. Moore was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Gus Tandy, July 24th.

We are reminded of the fact also that Mr. Moore is organizing a whole sale grocery concern for Hopkinsville of which we may have more to say later.

Joel Deboe Here.

Joel Deboe, ex-postmaster of Clinton, Kentucky, is in Marion and will be here two or three weeks.

His wife was Miss Eva Hill, daughter of Mr. E. P. Hill, and they have been living in Clinton, Ky., for four years or more.

Mr. Joel Deboe is the son of Abe Deboe and has a host of friends and relatives in Crittenden county.

THE RECORD is very sorry that political exigencies were what they were and as a panacea for all ills respectfully invites Mr. Deboe's attention to the fact that Marion is a good town to live in and there is not a man, woman or child, who will object to his residence here.

CLIMBING THE LADDER

Marion Boy Winning Laurels in the South and is Promoted by Uncle Sam.

Prof. Albert Foster Crider is in Crittenden county renewing old acquaintances and exchanging felicitations. To the young man just starting in life we respectfully call attention to a little preachment and as an introductory thereto we will take the text.

Albert Foster Crider—his father left him nothing but a good name. When he got through Marion High School he was financially busted. He graduated with high honors and picking up the scattering threads of his nerve and relying on a little native gall he borrowed enough money to complete his education.

Since arriving in Marion a few days ago he received notice from Uncle Sam that he had been promoted from the position of assistant geologist to the position of geologic aid to the position of assistant geologist. This promotion carries with it an increase of $600 in salary. His salary now with the government is $1,800 per year and all expenses paid. He it understood however that this is paid him on the per diem plan. In other words the government pays him at the rate of $1,800 per year for whatever work he finds time to do. Now in addition to this the state of Mississippi elected him to the position of State geologist last spring. This carries a salary of $2,000 per year and all expenses and the per diem plan does not enter therein.

It is very plain to the average man that Mr. Crider has two good strings to his bow. If the state of Mississippi should decide that he was not the man he is still employed by the geologic survey and he need not be out of a job for a minute. Mr. Crider now devotes nearly all his time to the work of the state.

We therefore refer these remarks to the young men of Marion for their proper consideration and advise them one and all to ask Albert Crider how he did it. We feel safe in saying that his course shows good reasoning powers and good sense. We further remark that he exhibited a whole bushel of good sense by coming back to Marion for a wife.

Mules and Horses Wanted.

We will pay good prices for young mules, 4 to 6 years old, in good flesh, all sizes. Also good saddle and buggy horses. I will be in Marion on Monday, Aug. 13. Bring your stock in early and in good condition. We will be at Ordway Bros. & Guess' livery stable, where you can bring your stock.

LANE & LEAVELL.

BITS OF BYPLAY.

If any of THE RECORD readers desire to recall pleasant memories of sight seeing on the pike let them take a stroll down Bellville street, north side, and take a half way quick side glance at the imposing front of the enormous livery stable now being erected by Dudley. One can almost hear a lion roar as it did in Hagenbecks and—well it beats "Creation."

There is a tale of a fish pond to be unfurled. If some of the moving spirits in the enterprise will speak out we will present it to our readers.

Ed Robeson has moved back to town. He became so used to the luxuries of a great city, that he found he could not remain in the country any more with anything like satisfaction.

Geo. Roberts walked up town Friday of last week with his fingers stuck under the forepart of his harness commonly called galluses. Everybody who saw him made inquiries. It was a fine girl and weighed 9 pounds. He was exceedingly chesty.

Dudley Wallingford is building a livery stable. We mean he is building a stable and then building a brick wall around his lot also including some of the surrounding territory. In a sudden fit of wealth he decided to cover it with the best tin made something like Taylor, old style. He immediately sought the companionship of Sam Ramage and unfolded his designs. Sam smiled a deep sarcastic smile and replied, "If you cover that with tin you will have to sell all your horses, buggies, surreys, including your farm and maybe your house and lot to get the money." A few figures well placed on the back of an old envelope almost unjoined Dudley's nerve.

A lady of Marion passed down the street. She was in somewhat of a hurry as a sick one at home demanded her presence and attention. In passing the residence of Mr. Harry Carnahan inquiry was made about the sick. The lady replied that he was better and that his fever was now one and two-fifths. Old lady Douglas did not exactly catch the reply and as the lady moved on she turned to her daughter and said "did she say he had two fits."

Bro. J. F. Price looks as cool as a cucumber these melting days, but he says he gets hotter than anybody. The explanation thereof is something like this. He is so thin it gives the sun a better chance to go through him.

If the Hon. O. M. James does not come on home right soon the post-office force will have to either move out or rent another room. There is more mail in the office for him than he could possibly read in a year.

Since the red headed man in Union county was mistaken for a squirrel and lost his life the drug stores report an increased sale of hair dye, from the which we deduct the conclusion it is better to dye than to die.

Quite an excitement permeated things last week. Billy Baird left early in the morning and wild eyed rumor said they had gone to the Illinois to get married.

The enforced absence from the Farmers Bank of Mr. William Crawford, the assistant book-keeper, puts Assistant Cashier J. B. Hubbard to the bad. He now leads a strenuous life gravitating from home to the bank and from the bank back home.

A small piece of presidential timber told his mamma the other day that he was now certain that he would be a preacher. "Why my son?" "Because mamma—I have such a big voice."

A little girl now in Marion, who is the delight of her mother's eyes, was found carefully examining the bible. In answer to the question "What are you doing?" She replied "Mamma I am looking at the library of the Lord."

Anti-Saloon League Meets.

The Anti-Saloon League, of Crittenden county met in the Cumberland Presbyterian church at two o'clock p. m. Thursday of last week.

All their petitions have been filled with the requisite number of names and they will be presented to the county court Monday, August 13th.

THE MAN WITH A HOE.

(By Edwin Markham.)

Bowed by the weight of centuries, he leans
Upon his hoe and gazes at the ground,
The emptiness of ages in his face
And on his back the burden of the world.
Who made him dead to rapture and despair,
A thing that grieves not and that never hopes,
Stolid and stunned, a brother to the ox?
Who loosened and let down this brutal jaw?
Whose breath blew out the light within his brain?
Is this the thing the Lord God made and gave
To have dominion over sea and land;
To trace the stars and search the heavens for power;
To feel the passion of eternity?
Is this the dream he dreamed who shaped the suns
And pillared the blue firmament with light?
Down all the stretch of hell to its last gulf

There is no shape more terrible than this—
More tongued with censure of the world's blind greed—
More filled with signs and potents for the soul—
More fraught with menace to the universe.

What gulfs between him and the seraphim!
Slave of the wheel of labor, what to him
Are Plato and the swing of Pleiades?
What the long reaches of the peaks of song,

The rift of dawn, the reddening of the rose?
Through this dread shape the suffering ages look:

Time's tragedy is in that aching stoop;
Through this dread shape, humanity betrayed,
Plundered, profaned and disinherited,
Cries protest to the judges of the world.
A protest that is also prophecy.

O masters, lords and rulers in all lands,
Is this the handiwork you gave to God,
This monstrous thing, distorted and soul quenched?

How will you ever straighten up this shape,
Touch it again with immortality,
Give back the upward looking of the light,

Rebuild it in the music and the dream,
Make right the immemorial infamies,
Perfidious wrongs, immedicable woes?
O masters, lords and rulers in all lands,
How will the future reckon with this man?

How answer his brute question in that hour—
When whirlwinds of rebellion shake the world?
How will it be with kingdoms and with kings—

With those who shaped him to the thing he is—
When this dumb terror shall reply to God
After the silence of the centuries?

We don't think it becomes any paper that makes any pretension toward Democracy to talk so much about a "machine." That is too much on the "sore head" order, and the candidate who follows such to the end follows it to death. If Ollie James gets into the race for governor he should do so on a plain, simple, business basis, and talk no "machine." It makes the average voter sick to hear so much talk about rings, cliques and machines.—Livingston Banner.

That is the way most of the "machine"—run papers think about it. Just throw up the load off your stomach, get in the anti-machine band wagon and nausea will not trouble you any more.—Mayfield Monitor.

Billie's Dream.

William G. Clifton, the urbane and talented traveling representative for one of the largest hat houses in St. Louis, sat in a chair in a certain hotel office and slumbered. Peace rested on his brow and flies on his face. A gentle, rhythmic, undulatory movement proclaimed the fact that Willie walked the golden streets of slumberland and an occasional snort only confirmed the suspicion that he slept.

Billie is especially partial to flannel cakes, syrup and ice cold sweet milk. In his dream he thought he was seated at a table and a waiter brought him a pile of cakes that reached plumb to the ceiling. Billie proceeded to eat with great gusto and relish. The waiter brought great buckets of iced sweet milk, half cream, and what Billie did to that pile of cakes was plenty. He sat in the chair all night long and when he awakened next morning his dream had been so realistic that to him he had a very full feeling in fact so much so that he could not eat a bite until supper time.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children.

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, Pastor of the first M. E. Church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." Sold by Haynes & Taylor, the enterprising druggists of Marion.

Heartburn

You know what it is—few people are exempt from frequent "spells" of this distressing complaint. The appetite becomes impaired, while a severe gnawing or burning sensation is experienced in the upper part of the abdomen. Heartburn is one of the many ways in which the digestive organism expresses disapproval of ill-treatment—warns you to be careful.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gives instant relief in all cases of heartburn and by toning and strengthening the stomach and bowels, prevents a return of the trouble. DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN is an invaluable remedy for all trouble arising from the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys, and because of its purity can be used with impunity for both children and grown folks. DR. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN can be obtained in both dollar and half-dollar sizes from all druggists. Your money will be refunded if it does not benefit you.

Your postal card request will bring by return mail our new booklet, "DR. CALDWELL'S BOOK OF WONDERS" and free sample to those who have never tried this wonderful remedy. Do it now.

Watson's Magazine

The leading exponent of Jeffersonian Democracy, edited by Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, the Father of Rural Free delivery; author of "The Story of France," "Life of Napoleon," "Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," "Bethany" and other books. Mr. Watson was the People's Party nominee for Vice-President in 1896, and for President in 1904. He is today heading a middle-class reform movement which is bound to sweep the country in a short time.

Watson's Magazine is not a Socialist publication. It does not stand for collective ownership for all the means of production. Mr. Watson believes in public or government ownership of railroad, telegraphs and telephones; in municipal ownership of street railways, gas, electric lights, water works, etc.; and he believes in private ownership of all industries not natural monopolies.

The middle class—the home owners, farmers, small business men and property owners—won Jefferson's victory in 1800; won Jackson's victory over Nick Biddle's money power in 1832; won Lincoln's victory in 1860. But each time after the flush of victory had died away, they became careless of their rights and went to sleep. They have slept a good portion of the time since 1865, but—

Watson's Magazine is waking them up. Another great victory is in the air. Keep in touch with the movement.

Silver Heights.

After a long silence notwithstanding we have had pitched at us a some what reproof for what we thought was honesty for reporting our findings, also the warning that it might terminate in the crib and in the meat house among the hams. We might say however that none of the above mentioned articles found were near the unfortunate accuser and if we were looking for hams or corn we would go where liberality less abounded and hams more abounded.

Well we are through gathering berries for this year and we must say that since we arrived at Silver Heights we have not seen a crop like it, yet in spite of the almost numberless acres of loaded briars and the cheapness of the fruit the old political spirit of monopoly was much manifested from the amount of trouble that existed during the harvest, as the harvest is over we feel that peace will soon be declared. I would now suggest that whoever rents or works these old briar fields own a wife and she own a loom so that she can weave carpets as they can find all manner and color of goods hanging to the briars, occasionally we can find remnants of pairs of brich. balloons where there seems to have been a man or men devoured.

We had the pleasure of attending the Sunday School Convention at Sugar Grove where we met many of our old friends and shook their hands, eat their good corn lightbread, their cake, chicken, pie and other things too numerous to mention, and it didn't make us sick, please. We love to go to Sugar Grove, but we will go next year, if we live, to the Wilson Park near southeast of Marion, please.
