Graded and High School Opening.

Spacious Auditorium Was Filled With Anxious Parents and Pupils Monday Morning

Words of Encouragement

Marion Graded School opened Monday, Sept. 17th, and the same spirit that has predominated for several years past was manifested on Monday. Every seat of the spacious Auditorium was filled with anxious children and parents. The devotional exercises were conducted by the Superintendent Victor Kee, after which the national anthem, "My Country 'Tis of Thee" was sung by all present. As usual the cries rang forth from the high school boys for "speeches" from some of the leading persons of the town who always lend their help by hand to all interests of the school. A great number expressed their opinion on the same line leading to the great thought that it is not instruction alone that makes a school course desirable, but the associations, friendships and experiences in the school community are also important factors. Among those who were called on for words of encouragement besides the faculty were Revs. Butler, Andrews and Elgin, Judge Blackburn, E. Weldon, Zed Bendett, J. W. Haynes, H. A. Haynes, R. E. Flannery, H. Cochran, Dr. Stilwell and Oleman Haynes. The morning exercises were heartily enjoyed by all and the great desire of the citizens of Marion is that Marion Graded School will in the future as it has in the past send out to the world enthusiastic, practical, sensible students to strive, as the old song has it, "For God, for Country, and M. G. S."

Died in the Far West.

A pathetic was the death of Mrs. Frances Clinton in Adna, W. Va., Sept. 18th. Thirty-two years ago her husband left Kentucky for the west and from that good day until the day before her death she had seen any of her relatives since her departure from Kentucky. Her mother, father, Leasel Stone and wife, died, also a sister, Mrs. Mary, who has crossed the dark river. Her brother, Caleb Stone, left her in 1874 to visit her, arriving there on the 4th, and he was the only one of her relatives she ever saw from Kentucky after leaving this state in 1874. W. J. Stone, of Kottawa, her brother, and Mrs. Temple, washer of New Bethel vicinity, Lyon county, is the only sister left, she being eighty-two years of age. It seems a dispensation of Providence that she should be spared all these years to see a visit from her brother only days before being called home.

Morris-Bu

Dr. R. J. Morris, of Louisville, was married Tuesday morning to Mrs. Burke, of Owensboro. The ceremony was performed at the residence of the Catholic priest, and the happy couple left for Louisville on a bridal tour. Dr. Morris formerly lived here and has friends who will wish him much happiness in his married life. The bride is not known but is said to be a beautiful woman and has been a widow only a few years. She and Dr. Morris were friends before her first marriage.

A Distinguished Honor.

Mr. A. H. Cardin, of Vienna, received his commission from J. C. W. Beckham appointing him delegate from the state of Kentucky to the Farmers National Convention which convenes at Rock Island, October 9th. Mr. Cardin appreciates the compliment and expects to attend.

NOT GUILTY IS THE VERDICT

H. H. Loving Acquitted of the Murder of H. A. Rose Long Jury Session.

JURY OUT FIFTY-ONE HOURS

H. H. Loving is not guilty. That was the verdict of the jury of "twelve good men and true" at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon.

Ever since noon on Saturday these men have been considering the evidence submitted and deliberating on the case. During that period they have had no intercourse with the outside world, and their deliberations have been secret.

The first vote, it is said by one of the jurymen stood 9 for acquittal, one for manslaughter and two blanks, were simply undecided. No material change in this vote was recorded until this afternoon, when the three men came over in a bunch, the entire twelve voting for acquittal.

Twice during their deliberations the jurymen tried to report a disagreement, but the court would not hear them, and both times they were sent back to their room.

The first of these times, it is said, was Saturday afternoon, and the second this morning at 8:30 o'clock when court opened.

Judge Reed had nothing to say to the jurymen except that a hasty disagreement would not be considered by the court, and back they went, to finally reach an unanimous decision.

The defendant was in the court room when the jury came in, and although he has shown very little mental perturbation during the trial, the look that came over his face when the words "not guilty" were spoken, gave eloquent testimony of the relief he felt. He was soon the center of a group of friends, and as soon as he could get away from them, he hastened to express his thanks to the jury and to his attorneys.

This was the second trial of the Loving case, the first one resulting in a verdict and a sentence of five years in the penitentiary. This judgment was afterward reversed on error by the court of appeals, and the case was sent back for trial.

The defendant was charged with the murder of H. A. Rose, whom he shot in his own (Loving's) office in the Fraternity building more than one year ago.

Mr. Loving acknowledged the shooting, and put up a plea of self defense, declaring that Rose had made threats against him, and had come to his office to attack him at the time of the killing. —Hopkinsville News-Democrat, Monday September 17.

A Knotty Question.

J. E. Crittenden, formerly editor of the Crittenden Record, at Marion, and now Hopkinsville inspector for the Kentucky Board of Fire Underwriters, has been notified by a friend that his acquittal on the charge of contempt of court before the county judge of Livingston county has been ignored by Judge Gordon, of the Madisonville circuit court, and that summons would be issued requiring him to appear before the December term of court for trial. —Hopkinsville New Era.

amined for mail carrier last week and took the highest grade, 100 in a class of 14 applicants, most of whom were his seniors, he being only 20 years old.

W. G. Conger, of the Tribune section, has some tobacco single leaves of which measures 3 feet, 9 inches long and 27 inches wide. Who can beat it? This is the best we have heard of to date.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Taylor are now in the east buying the stock in some lines for the Taylor & Cannon store.
Mrs. Taylor's good taste will be utilized in selecting those delicate items on which a woman's judgement is better than any one else, such as laces, ribbons, dress goods, trimmings and novelties. The ladies of Marion may expect a rare treat.

Mrs. Etta Williamson who was taken to the Sanitarium at Nashville by Dr. O. C. Cook last week, was operated on very successfully Saturday and is now doing well. Her physician and friends now confidently expect her speedy recovery, notwithstanding the serious nature of the operation. A tumor weighing 15 pounds was removed from her abdomen.

studies, and will make music, instrumental and vocal her special study.

Jake Farris sends in the banner car of corn. It is the finest specimen brought to the PRESS office this season and was brought in by Jesse Farris. It is the White Dent variety, and was raised on the farm near Salem. If every farmer would get some of this seed it would certainly pay them to do so, especially if they will also hustle around and try and get some land like this ear grew on, which would not be very easy to do.

W. F. Wofford and son, Wylie, E.
F. Love and family, all of Sikeston, Mo., who came over to attend the campmeeting at Hurricane returned to their homes in the west Monday, daughter of Joseph Wigglesworth the merchant at Sheridan, Ky., accompanied by the Rev. E. D. Bess, of the M. E. church at Tolu, and several friends went to the Bethel union, Ill., where the Besses united them in the bonds of wedlock. The wedding was an elopement as there were no relatives on either side the trip to the river being taken just after the wedding and pleasure in it. The party who has traveled extensively returned to Ky from California some time before the death of a brother, the late G. A. Terry. He was a young man and has many friends who wish him good luck in his new business with his bonny bride. The wedding the happy couple returned to the home of the bride's father where they will reside for the present.

Development Comm'n' Mayor Appoints

Marion, Ky., Sept. 5, 1906.
Mr. D. W. Coon, Secretary, Paducah Commercial Club, Paducah, Ky.
Dear Sir:—You favor of recent date, requesting my appointment of some of our representative progressive citizens to attend a immigration meeting or convention, to be held Oct. 4th and 5th, is received.

I take pleasure in submitting the following list, whom I consider among our most progressive citizens, and whom I have appointed:

T. H. Cochran, T. Frazer, C. S. Nunn, S. M. Jenkins, George M. Crider, R. L. Moore, J. S. Henry, and E. J. Hayward.

I am heartily in favor of this movement, and feel that it will result in great good to our section of the country. I am convinced that with proper development, there are greater opportunities here in all kinds of farming and fruit raising than in most any other section of the United States, and feel that our farmers who are leaving this country for western lands are leaving better opportunities behind them than they will find in the new country. It seems to me that, if we could induce the railroad in this section to advertise our land as extensively as the Rock Island Frisco system are advertising the arid lands of the west, it would result in as great a benefit to this section as their advertisement has in the Southwest.

Yours very truly,
J. W. BLUE, JR.,
Mayor City of Marion.

Pain from a Burn Promptly Relieved Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Mr. James E. Nichols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr. Nichols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by Woods & Orme, The leading drug store in western Kentucky.

Now Coal Mine.

I own 125 acres of coal out three miles north of Princeton, and have it well opened into, and have a four foot vein, of as good coal as can be found in Ky. And sell at 6 & 7 cts per bushel at the mines for all that can be gotten out, and 10 cts. delivered at Princeton, three loads a day can be easily made to Princeton. I am not a coal miner, and want some one who is to take charge of this mine and pay me a royalty. For particulars they can come or write me here.

Respectfully,
M. C. O'Hara,
O'Hara, Ky.

Dr. Finn's Testimony Interesting.

Dr. Thomas Finn, of Boonsboro, Mo., who has practiced medicine for 35 years, says he has used every prescription known to the profession for treatment of kidney and bladder diseases, and says he has never found anything so effective in both chronic and acute kidney and bladder trouble as Foley's Kidney Cure. It stops irregularities and builds up the whole system. Woods & Orme.

We have the S. S. lesson for December 2, in this week's readings. "Christ before Pilate," Sunday Sept. 16, Christ's second trial before Pilate, Mt. 27:15-26; Mk 15:6-15; Lk. 23:13-25; Jno. 18:38-19:15.

Monday, 17, Christ mocked, Mt. 27:27-31; Mk. 15:16-20; Lk. 23:26-31; Tuesday, Sept. 18, Christ led away to the place of crucifixion, Mt. 27:31; Mk. 15:20; Lk. 23:26a; Jno. 19:16.

Wednesday, Sept. 19, Simon bears Christ's cross, Mt. 27:32; Mk. 15:21; Lk. 23:26b.

Thursday, Sept. 20, Discourse to the weeping women, Lk. 23:27-31.

Friday, Sept. 21, Two malefactors led with him, Lk. 23:32.

Saturday, Sept. 22, Arrival at Calvary, Mt. 27:33; Mk. 15:22; Lk. 23:33a; Jno. 19:17.

HELPS TO STUDY.

Jesus had been sent from Herod back to Pilate. Thus commences the third civil trial of Christ. Pilate announced that he found no fault in him, neither had Herod (Lk. 23:15). Pilate suggests a substitute for death, he will chastise him and release him. It was a custom to release one at the feast. It is a custom at Massachusetts state prison to release one or two prisoners on every Thanksgiving Day.

This did not at all satisfy the Jewish rulers. They cried for the release of Barabbas and the crucifixion of Christ. In the midst of the excitement and confusion Pilate's wife sent him a warning from a dream she had in regard to Christ. The strain was great. The leaders saw that Pilate was wavering. At all hazards they must secure the death of Christ. It was their one opportunity. They knew the power of the mob spirit and "moved," stirred up the people. This word is derived from the Greek word stomnos from which earthquake is taken. The leaders caused a mighty upheaval of opinion and feeling by appealing to the prejudices and passions of the people. The cry rose like a furious torrent, "Crucify Him crucify Him." Thus, by a strange irony of fate, the hierarchy obtain the release of a man guilty of the very political crime with which they charge Christ; that is, sedition.

One of the latest insurrections had been occasioned by the act of Pilate in taking the money from the sacred treasury, dedicated to God under the name of Corban (Mt. 15:5; Mk. 7:11,) with which he constructed aqueducts five miles long to convey water to Jerusalem.

How many and what varied persons bear testimony to the innocence of the Holy One.—Pilate, Herod, Pilate's wife, Judas Iscariot, the thief on the cross, and the centurion who superintended the crucifixion.

Pilate washed his hands and declared himself innocent, but this action at these words in no degree removed the responsibility and the guilt from Pilate's soul.

It is proper here to note the fate of the murderers of Jesus. Judas died by his own hand. Pilate was soon recalled, degraded, banished to Gaul, where he committed suicide. Herod died in infamy and exile. Caiaphas was deposed the next year. The house of Annas was destroyed a generation later by an infuriated mob, and his son was dragged through the street, scourged, beaten and killed.

For the third time Jesus was mocked and mistreated. The sixth time Pilate made an effort to release Him, but was foiled in his attempt. He then delivered Jesus up to be crucified and they led Him away.

Exhausted by the loss of sleep and the great mental and spiritual strain, he sank exhausted beneath the weight of the cross. They then compel Simon, an African, to bear the cross.

In the crowd was a company of weeping women who were true to the blessed Master. He told them not to weep for him, but to weep for themselves and the children because of the woes that would soon be visited upon Jerusalem. There were two others, malefactors, who were led away with him to be crucified. About 9 o'clock in the morning they arrived at the place of crucifixion.

THE TEACHER—METHODS OF TEACHING.

Attention.—The work of the teacher is not to entertain, divert, or amuse, but to teach. It is to teach the great truths of our blessed religion. To do this the teacher must have the attention and sympathy of the pupils is one of the teacher's first efforts. Interest, attention, and sympathy are the only channels of communication between teacher and scholar. The word attention is derived from the Latin words ad, to, and tendo, to stretch. It means to stretch out toward something; like bow stretched or strained to shoot an arrow; the head bent forward eager to listen. It is the stretching of the mind toward a subject, or the mind upon the subject under consideration.

SEARCH QUESTIONS.

1. How did Pilate try to get around condemning Christ when He was brought back to him? 2. Who was Barabbas? 4. What did Pilate know about their motives? 4. What warning did Pilate receive? 5. How did he try to show his innocence? 6. What appeal at last moved him to condemn Christ? 7. What did the scarlet robe signify? 8. What abuse was heaped upon Him? 9. Where was He crucified? 10. What was the purpose of the draught they offered Him to drink on arriving at the place of crucifixion? 11. Who were the women whom Jesus addressed? 12. What was the crime of the malefactors who were crucified. 13. At what time did they arrive at the calvary? 14. About how many authors of the Bible? 15. What were the occupations of its authors? 16. Where were the different books written? 17. What is remarkable about the Bible, written by so many authors and covering so long a period of time? 18. What is the bearing of these facts upon the inspiration of the Bible?

A Clear Complexion and Bright Eyes.

In most cases a sallow, blotched complexion and dull heavy eyes are due to poor digestion and inactive liver. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and stimulates the liver and bowels and makes the complexion smooth and clear. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Refuse substitutes. Woods & Orme.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." To the Tobacco Growers.

EDITOR OF PRESS:
I will ask you for space enough this week in your valuable paper to advise the tobacco growers to keep their tobacco in good shape. They have the finest crop of tobacco I have seen for ten or fifteen years. It will be in need of more barn room than most of them have and they also need more sticks than they have on hand. So you see how easy they can damage tobacco by putting too many plants on a stick and putting it too close in the barn. This crop will be very easy house burnt as it is large and full of sap. The farmers may as well get this in their minds and keep it there. House burnt tobacco is almost worthless and sun burnt is but little better so look after that part of the work and have no house burnt nor sun burnt tobacco. About the first question the buyer will ask this time will be how much house burnt have you got, any sun burnt in your crop. Did you get any rained on in the patch after you cut it. How about your colors. Now if you manage your tobacco from the knife on until it is well cured you can knock the buyer down on all these questions. To secure good colors let your tobacco get ripe, then let it yellow well, then put on slow fires for about 24 hours, then run your fires up to good heat for about two days, then let the fires run slow for about ten days. During that time if your tobacco comes in order a little at night dry it out during the day until it is well cured. Then your colors will be regular, and that means $1.00 more on the 100 pounds when you sell. Several have asked me by letter sell well. I will say a cherry red is the best color, but a dark brown or a solid dark are good colors.

We have the size and quality this year and if you fail to get a nice selling crop it will certainly be your fault. Now do not fail to do your part and then ask the buyer to help you out. If the tobacco growers will come out to our next club meeting I will give you a talk on the tobacco question, how to prepare your tobacco for the best price and what market your tobacco should be sold on. The first thing for farmers to do is to organize, get yourselves in shape to demand good prices and get them.

Respectfully,
A. H. CARDIN.

Obituary.

Mrs. Lizzie Worley, daughter of T. H. and Sallie Ellen Shemwell, was born in Stewart county, Tenn., Feb. 11th 1871. At the age of nineteen she professed faith in Christ, and in June 1890 joined the Methodist church at LaFayette, Ky., and was a consistent member of the church during the remainder of her life. She was left an orphan at the early age of fifteen. She was a mother as well as a sister to her younger brother and sisters, after the death of her parents. She lived in LaFayette, Ky., until she came to Crittenden county in 1895.

March 17th 1897 she was married to J. A. Worley, and the union was blessed with four children, all of whom survived. They are Willard, Myrl, Jim, Evans and Bernice.

Mrs. Worley died July 27 1906 after a lingering illness of several weeks of typhoid fever. Besides her husband and four children four sisters and a brother survive her. They are Mrs. W. L. Smith and Miss Lelia Shemwell, of BigRock, Tenn., Mr. S. A. and Miss Tommie and over the phone the best color to Shemwell, of LaFayette, Ky., and Miss Fossie Shemwell, of Tolu.

The remains were interred at the Hurricane cemetery July 28, Rev. E. D. Buggess saying the funeral rites.

Barn Burned.

Friday night the large frame tobacco barn on the Crider place four miles south of the city with a fine crop of tobacco which had just been housed, was burned to the ground. The barn and crop belonged to Will and Frank Adams, who live on the Princeton road south of the city, and their friends will regret to hear of their misfortune.

Late report we learn to day that the barn which burned on the old Crider place four miles south of the city Friday night was the property of Miss Sallie Crider, of this city, and her brother Jake who is now in Kansas. Henry Thomason has the place rented and owned two third interest in the crop. Will Adams also had 160 sticks of tobacco in the barn, his loss was about $60.00. Miss Sallie and Jake Crider lost the barn value at about $200.00 and $60.00 worth of tobacco. Henry Thomason's loss was about $120.00 worth of tobacco.

Harm and Good of Present Socialistic Movement in America

By FRANK PARSONS.
Lecturer on Law, Boston University, and Author.

THE Socialist movement in America is likely to do a great deal of good, and also a great deal of harm, especially if the plan proposed by the Socialists should be carried into effect in any large degree. In so far as the Socialist agitation impels people to think about economic conditions and the great social problems of the day it is good. In so far as it calls attention to the waste of competitive industry, the abuses of irresponsible industrial power, and the injustices attending the over-concentration of wealth that results from our present industrial arrangements, I believe the Socialist movement is invaluable. But in so far as it emphasizes and intensifies class feeling, ignores the laws of growth and evolution, and aims to establish universal government ownership of all the means of production and distribution, I believe that Socialism is wholly and virtually wrong.

Industry ought to be organized for the benefit of all, and not for the benefit of a part. Economic waste should be eliminated. Conflict of man with man beyond the sphere of emulation should cease. Industrial conquest should be abolished, and man should work shoulder to shoulder for the conquest of nature, for the benefit of all mankind. But this great purpose which the Socialists have in view, as well as many who are not Socialists, does not require the methods proposed by the Socialists, nor in fact, as I believe, could the said purpose be adequately accomplished through the universal extension of government ownership.

Public ownership of the great public utilities is justified by the fact that monopoly excludes the full and free operation of the principle of cooperation.

In respect to some vital services that are not monopolies, such as education, fire service, and so forth, a full development through cooperative association does not seem possible as yet, because of the apathy and imperfect development of our people. But wherever the field is open and the motive adequate, as is the case in general throughout the fields of commerce, manufacture and agriculture, voluntary cooperation should be left to do the work of transforming competitive industry into the nobler forms of partnership and federated cooperative groups.

The path of liberty in human evolution should never be departed from except from clear necessity. Legislative compulsion should not be used where voluntary association can do the work.

The true mutualism must be a natural expression of a developed and ennobled individualism. To attempt to jump into the millennium by a vote for the establishment of government ownership of all the means of production and distribution is the most stupendous folly ever proposed.

Live as Long as You Can and Do Good

By HON. ALONZO GARCELON, Aged Four Score Years and Fourteen, Former Governor of Maine.

Old age is worth striving for if the striver has a purpose beyond the selfish end of slothful ease.

It is absurd to say that a man should work himself out as quickly as possible, and then be consigned to the scrap-heap. He who has that goal in view will get the scrap-heap long before his time.

But it is true that a man should work hard, and endeavor throughout all his days to be of service to the community of which he is a member. If he succeeds in this he will be all the worthier the longer he lives.

If a man starts out in life with the purpose to accumulate wealth or power at the expense of his fellowmen, if his only purpose in existence is to gather to himself a certain measure of power or aggrandizement, then it will be very fortunate for his neighbors if he starts early toward the scrap-heap.

But if a man is inspired with the high ideal of service to his fellowman, the longer he lives the better it is for himself and the community in which he lives.

The question then resolves itself into this: Is old age desirable as the conclusion of a life well spent in the cause of mankind or of uplifting endeavor, or is it desirable as the self-gratified end of years of toil, selfishly devoted to the prospect of accumulation that will enable the possessor to lie back and enjoy luxurious ease while watching the toiling procession of the poor pass by?

If it is the latter, old age is not worth while striving for; if it is the former, it is well worth all the effort that is required to secure it.

Influence of Hard Work on Character

By RABBI LEON HARRISON,
St. Louis.

assistance. That law of mechanics is not the law of men. We no longer seek the easy, the pleasant, the selfish. We are trained to regularity, to industry, to usefulness, to leading our days together continuously on the thread of our daily work. And we go on through the marvelous power of habit, increasing momentum, efficiency, by the sheer automatic skill of repetition and almost unwitting progress.

And so work leads us almost mechanically to develop the highest moral qualities.

Indeed, the brotherhood of man is mere breath between the lips until we work side by side with one fellow-workman; until we recognize the material need of cooperation in industry without which no making can be, nor mental strides nor moral betterment; without which trades have no unions, capital no aggregations, learning no specialization, science no international fellowship of seekers after truth. Yet men work from hunger, and lo! Selfishness hath become a prophet going forth into highways and byways and teaching men with whips of cord, with tasks and castigation the lesson they reject from the lips of love. Thus the tasks that sever then unite them at last, and the battle for bread establishes brotherhood.

A BRETON WEDDING.

Picturesque Parade to Display the Household Furniture.

A typical Breton wedding is as curious as it is imprudent. No poor often are the young pair that the only way they can set up housekeeping is by presents from their friends of food, flax, furniture and money. The youth desirous of matrimony simply offers his hand to the object of his choice. If she accept she must confirm her acquiescence by drinking wine with him. Her father's consent is asked by proxy, the deputy holding a piece of furze during the interview. The father usually offers an old woman, a young widow and a child before granting the request.

On the wedding day a cowherd leads round the village an ox wagon laden with the wedding furniture. On the top of this load two maidens are seated, one spinning hemp and the other flax.

The bride shows her fine breeding by making her friends drag her to church. On either side of the altar burns a wax taper, and it is expected that whichever of the two is nearest to the least brilliant light will die first.

The bride on leaving the church is presented with a dowry to remind her of her duties. Tripe, butter, buck-wheat bread and cider form the marriage feast, toward which each guest pays his portion.

At nightfall, according to an ancient custom, the mother gives her daughter a handful of nuts. The happy pair are serenaded and are served with soup containing crusts threaded together, in symbol of unity.

SPECTACLE LENSES.

How the Glasses are Ground, Polished and Finished.

In the manufacture of spectacle lenses the bit of glass to be formed into a lens is fastened by means of pins to a small block of hard rubber, so that it may be held. It is ground by being pressed against a rapidly revolving cast iron disk on a vertical spindle and with curvature equal and opposite to that desired in the lens.

This is the "rough tool" and is kept moistened with emery and water. Several grades of emery are used in succession, changing from coarse to fine as the grinding proceeds.

The glass is then transferred to the "fine tool," made of brass, and compared from time to time to a standard curve in order to insure accuracy. In this second grinding the abrading material is rough.

Finally, the lens is polished by being pressed against a piece of cloth powdered with rouge and fastened to the rotating tool. The glass is now looked from its back, turned over and the reverse side of the lens ground. When this has been accomplished the lens is placed on a leather cushion and held firmly in position by a rubber tipped arm while a diamond glass cutter passing round an oval guide traces a similar oval on the glass below. The superfluous glass is removed by steel pinchers and the rough edges are ground smooth on Scotch wheels.—Pearson's Weekly.

Man and His Money.

Almost every woman has her basis for the valuation of a man. One girl who recently broke off an engagement to be married certainly has hers.

"I couldn't stand him," she said, "because he carried his money in a fish scale purse. That seemed to me the limit. To my mind there is only one really manly way for a man to carry money, and that is to throw it around loose in his trousers pockets, so that when he wants a nickel he has to dig up change by the handful to get it. For bills, of course, I can stand one of those flat leather pocketbooks. They have a businesslike aspect and do not detract from a man's dignity. But to see a big strapping fellow who has the appearance of a real live man draw a little purse from his pocket and fish around for a dime is too much for me."—New York Sun.

Rome's Great Fire.

In A. D. 64 ten of the fourteen municipal districts of Rome were destroyed by a conflagration instigated, it is said, by the Emperor Nero. The number of lives lost is known to amount up into the hundreds, but the value of the property destroyed cannot be estimated. By the emperor's command thousands of Romans rendered homeless and destitute were employed in removing the debris and rebuilding the burned city. Nero, to divert the odium of the crime from himself, charged it upon the Christians, and thus began one of the greatest persecutions in the history of the early Christian church.

The World's Coal.

The total known coal production of the world is something like 700,000,000 tons per annum. Experts state that even at this rate of production there is sufficient coal to last for thousands of years. Some faint idea can be gathered from these figures of the enormous quantity of coal there is on this planet. At the same time there is the statement made by Sir Robert Ball that all the coal on the earth would not supply the sun's heat for one-tenth of a second.

He Changed.

"Geymour's wife brought him home a suit of clothes, but I understand he mustered up the courage to tell her that he had made up his mind to change it."

"Did he change it?"

"Oh, yes; he changed his mind."

The first smile of an infant, with its toothless gums, is one of the pleasantest sights in nature. It is innocence claiming kinship and asking to be loved in its helplessness.—Dr. D. Livingston.

Heart Weakness

The action of the heart depends upon the heart nerves and muscles. When from any cause they become weak or exhausted, and fail to furnish sufficient power, the heart flutters, palpitates, skips, beats and in its effort to keep up its work, causes pain and distress,
such as smothering spells,
short breath, fainting, pain around heart, arm and shoulders. The circulation is impeded, and the entire system suffers from lack of nourishment.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure makes a heart strong and vigorous by strengthening these nerves and muscles.

"I had palpitation and pain around my heart, and the doctors said it was incurable. I don't believe it now. After taking six bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure, three bottles of the Nervous and three bottles of the Kidney and Liver Pills I am entirely cured and feel better than I have for five years.
It is all due to these remedies. I want you to know that your medicine cured me, and I kept right on the pain in my chest was gone, and I kept on feeling better even after I had taken it." JOHN H. BARNES, Wash-

REST THAT RESTS.

Rest means rest.

"Cut out" worrying.

Rest with a capital R.

Few persons know how to rest.

Rushing for trains and boats isn't resting.

Being elbowed by a vulgar mob isn't resting.

Neither is staying home and being annoyed by endless details.

Overdressing, overeating and too much excitement are not restful.

Over Sunday rest is best accomplished by a trip to some restful place.

The idea is to discover what best agrees with one and then to follow it as well as possible.

DYCSBURG.

Mr. Cullen Turley aged about sixty years died at his home near Dycusburg September 11. Mr. Turley has long been a leading citizen of this community. He leaves a wife and five children. One son of his first marriage is a citizen of Kuttawa. His last wife was Miss May Bell, and she with her small children have the sympathy of many friends.

Mr. Al Driver, of Caldwell Springs died September 10th, and was interred at Caldwell Springs cemetery. During a hard storm of rain, hail and wind two burials were in progress at Caldwell Springs at the same hour on the 12th, inst., that of Mr. Turley and Mr. Driver.

Sunday 16th, the new Methodist church at Dycusburg was dedicated, Rev. Elgin preaching the dedicatory sermon. The day was ideal and there was a fair audience. After music by the choir with Mrs. Phillips, organist, the pastor Rev. Robt. Johnson, read the opening lesson, "Jacob's Dream." Rev. Elgin delivered a fine sermon from Gal. 2-6. Unfortunately the sermon was interrupted by the alarm of fire and most of the congregation left the church, returning after the fire on the roof of the suburban residence of Mr. G. W. Jones, it was extinguished. Mr. John D. Gregory, Dycusburg's efficient marshal acted as usher for the occasion. After services an ample dinner was spread on a shady hillside adjacent to the church. The evening services were held by Rev. Johnson, who preached his last sermon for this conference, at this place. This people certainly appreciate his labor of love assisting in the erection of our elegant new church.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Boaz, of Salem, attended the dedication Sunday and was the guest of Mrs. F. B. Dycus.

Mr. Wm. Tyner and daughter, Mrs. Harris, of Tyner's Chapel, were at church here Sunday.

Mr. Wm. Guess, of Salem, attended the dedication and was the guest of G. W. Steele.

Miss Minnie Casidy and Mr. John Bradshaw, of Eddyville, are visiting relatives here.

Miss Rosa and Fred Smith, of Clay, have been the guests of their aunt, Mrs. Henry Wells, and of their grandfather, the venerable Wm. Smith, of Livingston.

Miss Maude Baldwin and Mr. Homer Lyuu, of Glenn Chapel, attended services here Sunday.

Mrs. Robt. Johnson and children, of Livingston county, were at the dedication Sunday and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. K. Cooksey.

Mrs. Jas. Duvall continues dangerously ill.

Mrs. Jennie Vosier is in Paducah.

The Messrs. Daughtrey and Guy Richards are off on an overland trip to Missouri.

The little infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Rad McKinney, fell and broke his arm last week.

SALEM.

Friday Sept. 7th, at 1:30 o'clock the news reached Salem that Mr. Joe Hayes near town was dead. He has been very ill for several months. He was certainly a fine man and loved by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and several children to survive him. He was buried at Tyner's chapel Saturday September 8th.

Master Fred Hayden has been very ill for the past week. We are glad to say that he is improving.

Postmaster Sam Harpending was in Evansville on business Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. McChesney, of Paducah, were shaking hands with their many friends here Friday and Saturday.

Miss Allie Cox, of Carrsville, is visiting her grand-mother, Mrs. Fleming.

Rev. Roe filled his regular appointment here Sunday.

Jake Farris, Jr., left Monday for Hopkinsville where he will enter school.

Miss Sallie Grassham is visiting in Paducah.

BORN—To the wife of Richard Pierce September 6th, a fine boy.

We hope we will succeed in getting our streets worked and side-walks repaired as they are much in need of it.

As we are forced to make room for our fall goods you will find our summer goods too cheap to mention. Call and see for yourself.

J. D. FARRIS & CO.

CAVE-IN-ROCK, ILL.

The Cave-in-Rock boys met the Marion boys at Needmore last Saturday and played base ball. The Cave boys claim to have beaten Marion two to one and those of them who are not crowing are wearing a broad smile. Our boys all fell in love with Galen Dixon, they seem to think that he is about "the stuff."

Allen Paris came home from Paducah quite sick last week, but is better and will return to college soon.

Joe Mason is preparing to erect a large business house in the near future.

Gillam Bracy and Jack Alvis, two boys living near Needmore, each are suffering from a broken arm.

There is talk of re-opening the mines of the Cleveland, Illinois Mining Company near Lead Hill.

We noticed Jeel Farmer on our streets last week.

Never within the memory of man was such a corn crop as we now have known to wave over the "little hills of Hardin."

Ernest Paris will leave September 21st, for St. Louis, to attend Pharmaceutical college.

H. H. Pelhank and wife attended the "Big Saline Baptist Association" which met at Herod Springs first Sunday in September. They report a great meeting.

CHAPEL HILL

This community is still moving along very nicely, some sickness in this section.

A large number of Chapel Hill people attended the campmeeting at Piney Fork Sunday.

Chapel Hill people are very busy housing their tobacco, and I will say they have some very fine tobacco.

Ben Allen, of Oak Grove neighborhood, was in this vicinity last week.

The corn crop in this precinct is large and well matured and the boys are looking forward for a fat crib.

Sunday was Rev. Thompson's regular meeting day at Chapel Hill and a small congregation was on hand on account of the campmeeting at Piney Fork.

Our fall meeting at Chapel Hill begins on Wednesday night before the third Sunday in October, and will continue ten days.

Prayer meeting every Wednesday night, until the fall meeting begins.

We have Sunday school at this place every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock promptly.

Mr. Will Adams and Henry Thompson were very unfortunate to lose a very fine barn of tobacco last Friday night by fire.

Mr. James A. Hill is putting up some very fine pea hay this last week.

I am glad to note that our jolly old friend Jessie Olive has moved back to Marion. Jessie is a good Democrat don't you forget it.

STARR.

Last Week's Letter.

There has been a crew of government surveyors working in this part of the county for some time.

Plenty of corn makes cheap hogs, but as swine are scarce this year may be an exception.

There has been a number of preachers in attendance at the camp revival.

John Paris is able to be out again.

W. T. Carley and others are getting ready to take an over-land trip to Missouri.

"Thank you," are pleasant words, and they always make a good impression when used in the right time and in the right place.

The meeting is in progress this week. There are several campers on the grounds.

Mrs. Belle McNeely, and children, of Paducah, visited relatives in this section last week.

Several of our farmers are cutting tobacco.

Mrs. Cogwell, of Enon, died Friday night and was buried at the Piney cemetery Saturday.

The pictorial section of the Press last week was a daisy. That reproduction of the steamship of the future should be preserved for future reference.

J. A. McCormick has made a great improvement on his residence by painting it.

Press Blackburn, of Enon, was in this section Saturday.

Mrs. Lucy Crayne has been very sick but is improving.

The meeting is progressing with a good attendance.

Dr. O. C. Cook returned from Nashville Monday where he has been to accompany Mrs. Etta Williamson. He left Mrs. Williamson doing well.

T. F. Newcom, of Marion, gave us a call Thursday evening. He was accompanied by Miss Bulah Clark.

Mr. Dunn, of Caldwell county, visited here Saturday.

Rev. Huggins, of Union City Tenn., is doing most of the preaching at the campmeeting, and he takes the opportunity to drop in a few crumbs along the line of Cumberland Presbyterian doctrine and on Wednesday he delivered a discourse along that line and urged his people stand fair to faith. He is a fine logical speaker, and makes a strong impression on the minds of his hearers.

On last Friday while Rev. J. R. King was preaching he received a message announcing the death of his brother. It is said Bro. King wept like a child. He left at once to attend the burial.

TOLU.

Dr. Jesse Moore's father of Princeton is visiting him this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Guess went to the Piney camp meeting last week.

Our miller, Mr. Wolf, went to Paducah Tuesday.

District No. 62.

Two months of our school closed last Friday and I can safely say that it has been the best school so far that has been taught in the district since I have lived in it, and I have been here nine years. Miss Bertha Ware as teacher is all the name imports. True the trustees and parents don't help as they should but school keeps just the same.

A PATRON.

An Old Landmark Gone.

Tuesday at 11 o'clock the residence of C. H. Bush was burned at Salem and was not insured. It caught from the kitchen stove. Mr. Bush was away from home but his family was there and saved the most of the household goods. The house formerly belonged to Rev. M. H. Utley and was very old.

SALE NOTICE.

We will on Saturday, Sept. 29th, 1906, at 9 o'clock in the morning, begin the sale at the residence of the late D. W. Ralston, deceased, one mile from Frances, on the Caldwell Springs road, of all his household and kitchen furniture in beds and bedding, also farming implements of all kinds, wagon, buggy, wheat grader, twine binder, one-half interest in wheat drill, one tobacco pruning saw, one nice saddle and harness mare, one milk cow, one dry cow, six head young cattle.

EDWIN & JOSEPH RALSTON,
Executors Estate, D. W. Ralston, deceased.

SALE NOTICE.

I will on Saturday Oct. 6th, 1906 at my residence on Shady Grove and Fishtrap road, offer for sale to the highest and best bidder, growing crop also farm of 144 acres unless sold at private sale before.

W. I. McConnell.

To the Public

I have sold my millinery business to C. B. Loyd who will continue the business in his dry goods store. Misses Lillian Ragsdale and Ida Hill will have charge of this department, both of whom have had long experience as trimmers and having worked for me I can heartily recommend them to my patrons and public.

Yours very truly,
Mrs. E. G. BUDD.

Our Fall and Winter Stock of Dry Goods, Shoes, etc. are coming in and a good line is ready for inspection. Call early and get our prices before making your Fall purchases.

Left for the West

Mrs. Eula Thurman left Tuesday for Los Angeles, California, to join her parents who moved west three years ago. Miss Eula remained here with her grandmother, Mrs. A. V. Melce, to complete her education. She graduated with high honors at the close of last session of the Marion High School and has remained till cool weather to take the trip across the continent. Her uncle, E. M. McFee, will accompany her to Memphis, and as there is no change of cars after that she will no doubt make the long journey safely and pleasantly. Miss Eula is quite popular with all who know her and her schoolmates especially regret to see her leave.
