TWO TOBACCO BARN BURNED

The Barn Burning Season is at Hand

CARE SHOULD BE TAKEN

A Residence and Livery Stable at Salem Go Up in Smoke Monday Night and Tuesday Morning

TWO HORSES PERISH IN THE FLAMES

At this season when fires are started in tobacco barns it will pay the raisers and owners the biggest kind to be a little careful and not burn the barn. The loss is always double in that the crop is gone and the barn is gone and nothing but a pile of ashes remains.

During the last week we notice that the tobacco and tobacco barn of M. O. Eskew located about six miles from Marion, burned Monday night about seven o'clock. There were about 900 sticks of tobacco in the barn.

Also the tobacco barn of Henry Thomason burned a few days ago, containing about $200 worth of tobacco. This barn was on the Bradley Crider farm three miles south of Marion. The barn was owned by Miss Sallie Crider.

A livery stable at Salem burned at 10:45 o'clock Monday night. Two horses and nearly all the vehicles, all the harness and feed stuff were burned. There was $1700 insurance on the contents and $400 on the building. The building was owned by Jesse Farris and contents by Jas. Guess, son of T. C. Guess.

A cabin and an ice house were burned at the same time.

At eleven o'clock the next day, Tuesday, a residence belonging to Tom Martin and occupied by C. H. Bush burned to the ground. Nearly all the contents were saved. There was no insurance on either the dwelling or furniture. This also occurred at Salem.

In the heat of his tobacco argument he may decide to use the persuasive powers of his eloquence in an endeavor to get the voters to make his election unanimous.

FINE VEIN AT EIGHTY FEET

The Tabor Mine Has a Nine Foot Vein of Spar

NEW STIKE AT THE GLENDALE

Captain Haase at the Asbridge Mine Has His Shaft Down Eighty Feet--Will Cross Cut

MINING COBALT ON BRYANT TRACT

Captain Haase, at the Asbridge mine, has his shaft down eighty feet and at that depth has started a level with six feet of No. 1 spar in the breast. The Captain is now hoisting some ten tons of ore per shift. He will at once erect a steam sinking plant which will enable him, with the large vein of ore now in shift, to make his output thirty tons per shift.

The Hodge fluorspar mine is better than ever in fact, President Nunn is giving it his entire attention at present.

The parties owning the C. W. Bryant tract four miles of town have started mining cobalt and will make a shipment of that ore soon.

The Tabor mine at eighty feet has a nine foot vein of spar and when Capt. Haase gets his steam sinking plant, now in the course of construction, at work it will be the largest producer of fluorspar in the district.

The Edwards Mining Co. have their shaft down forty-eight feet and work is progressing nicely. They will sink another forty feet and then cut on the lead vein which they have been working by open cut on the surface.

The Nancy Hanks mine, owned by the Albany Mining and Investment Co., are now down 220 feet with their shaft and running two shifts and operating their concentrating mill as fast as steam can remove the ore.

We understand the Eclipse people are having some trouble with their machinery in the last few days, and on account of that the work is progressing slowly.

The Glendale Mining Co. have made a new strike in the last few days cutting a seven and one-half foot vein of lead and spar.

They are working three pumps day and night at the Pogue mine this week to get the water pumped out, that they may sink it deeper.

The Kentucky Fluor Spar Co., is working at the old Yandell mine and are cross-cutting for a known vein.

BANKS FOR THE PHILIPPINES.

Postal Savings Institutions Established by Government.

Washington.—The Philippine commission has established in the islands a postal savings bank system under the direction of the department of commerce and labor. Its act of May 24, which was received at the bureau of insular affairs of the war department here, directs the immediate creation of postal savings banks in the cities of Manila, Iloilo and Cebu, and the rapid extension of the system in the other cities, towns and villages.

Of the three other classes of banks authorized, the first may receive deposits in any amount, but sums in excess of 1,000 pesos, or $500, shall not bear interest. Various limitations are imposed upon deposits and withdrawals in the second and third classes of banks. In the third class deposits are to be made entirely through the medium of postal savings bank stamps, issued in denominations of $ 10 and 20 centavos (half a cent), to extend the privileges of the system to the least prosperous communities. Uncanceled stamps may be redeemed at their face value in postage stamps. The commission has made several exceptions in favor of charitable and benevolent institutions.

Deposits in the savings banks will not be subject to taxation by the insular government. They will be invested through the insular treasurer in securities determined by a special board. Until practical experience shall demonstrate that a higher rate can be maintained the interest on deposits will be two and one-half per cent.

THE "TELEVUE" AT LAST.

Virginian Invents Apparatus for Seeing at a Distance.

Richmond, Va. — City Electrician William H. Thompson, the "Little Wizard" of Richmond, is at work on the "televue," a wonderful device, which, he says, will enable a person talking over the telephone to see the face and figure of the person to whom he is talking. The device, it is declared, can be used with a wire of indefinite length, and gives a vivid image. Discussing the invention Thompson said:

"It can be perfected the televue will revolutionize modern conditions. The telephone makes communication of a purely intellectual character simple. But there are hundreds of forms of communication that cannot be satisfactorily accomplished without the aid of the eyesight. The housewife will be enabled to purchase her dress and provisions and do her shopping by televue. The salesgirl will simply have to hold up the article before the televue transmitter and say: 'How will this hat do, ma'am?' When the wife desires to purchase meats she will call up the butcher by televue and require him to hold up the goods for inspection before she buys."

For the present the electrician desires to exhibit the model on which he is working, or to give a description of it. He explains, however, that the image in the televue is transmitted in the form of a photograph, and the apparatus depends for its working on the variations in the electrical resistance of a ribbon of selenium produced by variation in the intensity of a beam of light impinging on it.

REMOVES SNAKE'S APPENDIX.

Big Rattler Undergoes Operation, but Dies Later.

New York.—First of his kind to go under the knife for such an operation, Pete, a big rattlesnake in the snake-house in the zoological garden in Bronx park, had his appendix removed, and died later. The operation was performed by Dr. C. William Bebe and Raymond L. Dittmar, one of the curators at the "zoo."

Pete, in all the glory of his eight-year body, had been a favorite of visitors at the snake house since he was taken there four years ago from Florida. He was also a pet of the keepers.

Noticing a curve in the snake's back, extending from the head about three-quarters of the length of the body, an attendant touched the reptile with a stick.

Pete wriggled away, showing that he was a very tender place, and for the rest of the day refused to allow anyone to come near him.

After a consultation it was decided that he should be operated on. An anesthetic was applied, and Dr. Bebe opened the reptile's back. He then saw that the appendix was swollen and inflamed. The cause of Pete's suffering was not evident. He had appendicitis, and, moreover, it was the first case of the kind on record.

When the appendix was opened a large piece of rabbit's fur was found. Pete came out of his stupor after his back had been sewed up, and it was said that the operation had been successful, but Pete died.

Hitch Your Cows to Niagara.

Rochester, N. Y.—Farmers within 10 miles of Niagara Falls are utilizing the electric current generated by a monster dynamo there to milk their cows. This use of one of the wonders of the world was discovered by Charles Francis, of Medina, and he hailed with enthusiastic glee by neighboring bucolics. Francis, by the use of the current and a boy of 15, milked 32 cows in five minutes. Mere manual labor would take four men 10 hours, not counting such drawbacks as kicking cows and obstreperous flies.

HOSPITAL PHYSICIANS SAID:
"IT WOULD DELIGHT US TO FIND SOMETHING TO CURE THIS DEAR OLD SUFFERER."

MR. E. W. ROSE, St. Louis, Mo.

RICHMOND, IND., Nov. 20, 1905.

DEAR SIR: The charity patient in whom I am so much interested was seventy-five years old at the time that she began the use of "Zemo," and her weight was 120 lbs. After her death has been for some time past, suffering mainly from skin trouble, according to the diagnosis of the doctors in attendance. She has been a hard worker all her life, having made the living for her family by keeping boarders. Some four or five years ago she began to feel her skin gradually becoming worse until her entire body was affected, the legs being a mass of sores constantly separating. The itching and burning sensation was so dreadful at times that it was impossible for her to sleep day or night. The doctors (two of our best) pronounced the case incurable, and when I asked permission to use "Zemo" promptly said, "It would delight us to find something to cure this dear old sufferer." "Zemo" was first used on the upper part of the body and soon relieved the patient of the terrible distress caused by the itching and burning. The doctors had been dressing the legs every day, but as soon as they saw the wonderful change in the skin where "Zemo" had been used, they gave consent to have it used on the legs. Gradually they began to improve and are now almost as smooth as the face. It was probably about a month before much relief was experienced in this part of the body, then skin scaled off, itching, burning and scaling gradually ceased. It seems now as if a testimonial might be given, but the patient thinks that she had better use "Zemo" a few weeks longer before saying that she is cured. However, she is very grateful to all who have been instrumental in securing her wonderful remedy and thinks that it is a great future before it.

Respectfully,
(MRS.) MARY PERRY BELLIS, Nurse in Hospital,
No. 208 N. 8th St.

Prosperity of the Farmer

The prosperity of the American people in the last decade has been beyond the dreams of the most speculative minds. Clever as are the writers of fiction and the reporters for the Metropolitan press who are continually on the lookout for something to startle the reader, they have not kept pace with the Director of the Census and the Secretary of Agriculture. No record of fortune building on Wall Street, or in the diamond mines of South Africa, equals the plain and painstaking compilation of facts that show the increased values in farm lands and farm products, and the increase in wages and output of the factories where they are gathered together by the statistician who assembles the figures and marks out the simple sum of addition to reach the grand total of our prosperity.

Secretary Wilson is not a dreamer of dreams, nor a maker of fiction. He is a practical farmer. No one ever compared him to Jules Verne, but what writer of fiction ever recorded a more striking paragraph than this from the report of the Secretary of Agriculture: "Every sunset during the past five years has registered an increase of $3,400,000 in the value of the farms of this country; every month has piled this value upon value until it has reached $101,000,000; that portion of the National debt bearing interest is equalled by the increased value of farms in nine months, and this increase for a little over a year balances the entire interest and non-interest bearing debt of the United States."

This is the short and simple story of the poor farmer as he has been photographed by the Secretary of Agriculture, instead of cartooned in the comic papers. This poor farmer of the United States last year produced wealth aggregating $6,415,000,000, and more than four-fifths of the materials used in our manufactures. Then in turn he bought more than one-half the entire product of manufacturing establishments.

We hear of the speculative values in railroad stock, and how they have increased by means of water. But these advances in values of railroad stocks have not outrun or equalled the increases in the values of that one real property which the single tax advocate recognizes, the land. The average increase in farm values in the past five years has been one-third their former value, and in the South and West this average increase has been more than 40 per cent., while in corn and cotton lands it has doubled.

The products of the land have doubled in the same time, and no property of the capitalist in this country has shown anything like such an increase in value. Facts are stranger than fiction, and the dreamer of dreams cannot equal the startling developments of this country under the Republican Administration in the last ten years, as shown by the painstaking compilations of the statistician.

The Republican Party through its policies enacted into law since 1895 has consistently protected the laboring man in his standard of living. At all hazards protection to labor must be continued in order to maintain the standard of prosperity for the whole country and the entire population. The Republican Party stands ready to fulfill that task if the voters continue their support of its candidates for Congress.

AMONG THE CHURCHES.

Elder J. S. Rowe preached Sunday morning from Luke 19:9. He spoke of Zachaeus as a machine politician, indorsed honest politics, but spoke of the temptations of a politician and illustrated by taking honest Dick Tate, who was Kentucky's Secretary and Treasurer, and who stole the money.

He spoke of curiosity aroused by Christ's journey to Jerusalem and through this curiosity of Zachaeus climbing a sycamore tree because of his small stature that he might see Jesus. He spoke of curiosity as important and unimportant in human life. He spoke of fancies both commendable and non-commendable. He spoke at length of necessity of institution as indispensable to repentance.

Sunday evening he preached upon John 5:8, or the three witnesses, Spirit, Water and Blood. He dwelt upon the facts about which they testify and upon their concurrent testimony. He took up the testimony of the spirit and showed that it testifies now through the word that Jesus is the Christ and that we are sinners or saints. He then took up water and showed that it can only testify in baptism and that it testified in Christ's case the act of obedience which brought the confession from God, "This is my beloved son and etc."

It testifies to us that it with the antecedent conditions brings remission of sins. Blood is the third witness, and testifies through its symbol, the wine, to the same propositions hence these three witnesses from heaven agree in one as to Christ's divinity and our salvation.

Rev. J. H. Butler filled the pulpit at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. The morning subject was, "David's Desire." The text was taken from the 27 Psalm, 4th verse.

"One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord and to enquire in his temple." David's great desire was that he might dwell in the house of the Lord. This was David's all consuming desire. This he wanted to do, that he might learn God and behold His beauty. By frequenting the house of God we may learn His word. David made the house of God a house of enquiry. He wanted to know concerning the unknown country and to learn he went to God's house. David set us a splendid example, by persevering we can learn more of God's word and what He would have us to do.

In the evening the subject was, "Advantages of Christian Living." Both sermons were earnest ones enjoyed by a good congregation.

The celebration of the Lord's Supper was observed at the Presbyterian church last Sunday. The remarks of the pastor were appropriate to the occasion, and were based on the scriptural text, Luke 22:19, "This do in remembrance of me." These words are like the inscription on a monument, they call our attention to the deeds of the past. Along the pathway of life there are many monuments erected to great men that remind us of their noble and heroic lives. The Lord's Supper is Christ's monument which reminds us of his beautiful and wonderful life. It reminds us of his purity, his associations, his death, and his resurrection. While many monuments have been erected to the memory of men who gave their lives to their country, this monument has been erected by and for Christ who gave his life for the world. And "As oft as ye eat this bread and drink this wine ye do show forth the Lord's death until he come."

The sermon at night at the Presbyterian church was on words of Christ found in Mark 12:30, "And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and with all thy strength; this is the first commandment." It is important in life to get the first things first, and the man who has put anything before this commandment has things twisted. This commandment is above all laws, and we are to honor it as such. To love God as this commandment implies is to love him with every faculty of our being and is better than external sacrifice.

Rev. J. D. Fraser, a former pastor of the Methodist church at this place, preached last Sunday in that church both morning and evening. The congregations were large considering that services were held at the other churches. Mr. Fraser was warmly welcomed by his old members, and gladly renewed many old acquaintances. He missed of course some of those faithful followers who sat under his ministrations and are now on the other shore.

Next Sunday Rev. Virgil Elgin will preach in the Methodist church and this will be the last service before Conference. All Methodist members are urged to be present. Rev. Elgin's time expires with the close of this Conference year and he cannot be returned to this work. He has many warm friends who regret this very much.

A meeting of the Session of the Presbyterian church is called for next Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. There is some very important business to be brought before the Session and it is urged upon all the members to be present.

Preaching at the Methodist church next Sunday by the presiding Elder, Rev. Virgil Elgin. This will be his last service on the district, four years having ended his work here. By request he will preach on "Infant Baptism."

The new Methodist church at Dycusburg was dedicated last Sunday. The dedicatory sermon was preached by Rev. Virgil Elgin. The new building is a creditable one. A large crowd attended the services.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church will meet at the home of Mrs. Nunn next Thursday at 3 o'clock. All members are urged to be present.

Quarterly meeting will be held at Hebron next Saturday, Sept. 22.

Sunday Sept. 30th, there will be no preaching at the Methodist church.

EDUCATIONAL COLUMN

J. R. PARIS, Editor.

TROUBLES. HAVE YOU ANY?

Are you a public school teacher? If you are do you have any trouble as a teacher? Or are you smoothly moving on toward pay-day in a careless half-hearted, hum-drum way, sorry when school time comes and glad when the day ends? Are you giving value received for the pay you are getting?

Before I ask too many questions let me emphasize the main point of this article. That is, are you having serious trouble with anyone of the many difficult problems confronting you as a school teacher? If so, carefully make a statement of your troubles, mail to me and we will get some one who seems to be successful where you fail and thereby get a remedy for your "pedagogical ills." Will you please do this? You owe it to yourself, to the State whose money you get and above all else to the children who come under your care, to improve yourself in every conceivable way. Why? Because the little child looks upon you and your life as its ideal. The child naturally will imitate the teacher.

When your personality is stamped upon that child it will be for all time to come. If that isn't enough to make any teacher shudder it is because of gross ignorance or moral degeneracy.

If you find that you are having success along any particular line of a teacher's life would you not show the right spirit to tell us how you succeed so that we can give it to the teaching force and in that way help those that need help? And there are none but what need help in some way. You are experienced and don't need help! Bless your poor soul, don't boast too much of your experience. Perhaps that is your greatest source of shame. Just a short time ago a young man said to me that there was just one teacher that did him any good. Just one that gave him any desire for higher and better things. Just one! Before you boast of your long experience ponder well the comment of this young man. We especially invite that self-satisfied stagnant character to turn the x-ray on himself in a desperate effort to progress. What did the boys and girls under your care get that had a tendency to lift them upward? Did you impress them for good or evil? Ah! this business of teaching is a grave question and one of great responsibility. I am firm in the belief that a teacher will be held to answer for blunders due to unwarranted ignorance.

Don't be ashamed or afraid to say you have troubles for we all know you do. What we want is to find the trouble and then find a remedy. That is the logical way to act. Don't imagine you can hide your difficulties by asserting that you have none and that you are getting along fine, perfectly "delightful."

It was our misfortune to get into one of those "just fine" schools once and it was a "daisy too." Disorder, contempt for authority, idleness, etc., were prevalent. What does such as that lead to? To disorderly conduct wherever those pupils are and a contempt for any authority that attempts to restrain them. This is just one instance, so wake up teachers and consider some of the ways to let yourself be known outside the district in which you are teaching or "keeping school."

BITS OF BYPLAY.

At the opening of the Marion Graded School last Monday a great many of our local speakers, as well as Prof. Kee, made very appropriate talks, some in serious and others in humorous vein. At last Mrs. Fannie Walker was called on to make a few remarks. She arose with alacrity and said indeed she did want to speak and had been wanting to for sometime. She said she wanted to lift her voice for an adjournment as some of the little ones were worn out and nearly crying. Prof. Kee immediately lifted his hand and said, "Let us all arise and be dismissed."

Who has not experienced some difficulty in expressing numbers nor has had some trouble with his arithmetic? We of uncertain, if not mature age, have lapses of memory in which our uncertain, if not mature minds, play false and refuse us the information we are fully persuaded lies dormant beneath our thought dome. Did your mind ever balk at parts of the multiplication table? Nine times eight are what? Whoa! Sai—back up! Let's pick out a familiar place in the road—Oh! yes, nine times six are 54, nine times seven are 63, nine times eight are 72. There you are. How easy—
0:0
A good illustration of the above occurred at the beginning of school last Monday in grade one. Mrs. Fannie P. Walker suddenly appeared before a little boy who sat in open mouthed wonder and awe, and whose little heart went pit-a-pat while he debated in his mind whether or not he would ever see mamma again. "Now my little man what is your name?"
"Nesbitt Fowler."
"And how old are you?" This was said in a critical tone and with a sweep of the eye that would indicate age four and one-half. The little boy hesitated then suddenly brightened as he stuck up the thumb of his left hand and all five of the fingers of the right hand and replied, "Two fumbs and these fingers."

John W. Blue, double junior, is a little Depot street boy with Presbyterian predilections. He has arrived at that age in which the mind is filled with interrogation marks. He leisurely tosses these at his father or mother with a careless abandon that is sometimes amusing and sometimes irritating. Not long ago he clambered on a chair behind his father and proceeded to investigate the growth of his father's back hair. Continuing his investigations further up he made the alarming discovery that there was no hair on top of his head where if ought to grow. Immediately he tossed out an interrogation point.
"Papa who cut your hair on top of your head?"
"Father time my son."
"Well papa don't you let father time cut it anymore."

Twenty years ago Grant Bugg and Joe Stewart clerked for Uncle Jack Woods, of whom much has been written, and much said with none of it bad. One day Grant Bugg, Uncle Jack Woods and Dr. J. W. Jordan, the dentist, all stood in the door way of the store. Far down Main street appeared a little mule carrying a big man. He came up the street on a keen run. He was a horse and mule trader from away back. When opposite the Woods store he spied Dr. Jordan and drew rein immediately. He was just drunk enough to want to trade and too drunk to remember Jordan's name, so he called,
"Say! here!! you tooth fixer, come here."

A few days ago a very small little visiting girl in Marion of a very few summers calmly raised her eyes and took notice as the grown ups returned from a calling tour and remarked "Is you all came back?"

Doctor T. H. Cossitt, the dentist, is pleasant, affable and bland. He treats all comers courteously and pulls their teeth vigorously with very little pain. In his own language the pulling of your tooth is a mere circumstance. Not long ago he exchanged greetings and in answer to the old and familiar question of how are you, Doctor? he said—
"Oh! I am tolerable. You see I am either tolerable sick or tolerable well all the time and so I always say just tolerable."

A great many people never pay a debt, others pay when pressed, some pay on presentation of a bill, and once in a great while you will find a man that will hunt you up to pay you. Mr. Tom Wring, the Singer sewing machine man, will hunt a man up to get to pay him.

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have
"slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs
the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease.
Nerve energy must be restored.
Dr. Miles' Nerve will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken down. I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain.
I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said I could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve and used altogether eight bottles, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."

first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he

CHEAPER FARM LANDS.

Southwest Offers Best Opportunities
For Securing Homes.

Many farmers in the Northern and Eastern states are selling their high priced lands and locating in the Southwest. Many who have been unable to own their homes in the older country are buying land in the new country.

Unusual opportunities exist along the lines of the Missouri Pacific-Iron Mountain Route. The rich, alluvial, delta lands and river bottom lands of Southeast Missouri, Eastern Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, capable of producing 60 bushels of corn, a bale of cotton, 4 to 6 tons of alfalfa, 150 bushels of potatoes, and other grains, vegetables and hay crops, can be bought for $7.50 to $15.00 per acre. When cleared and slightly improved will rent for $4.00 to $6.00 per acre cash.
Uplands more rolling, lighter soil,
adapted to fruit growing—peaches,
pears, plums, grapes, berries, also melons, tomatoes and other vegetables, can be bought for $5 to $10 per acre in unimproved state. Many places with small clearings and some improvements can be bought very cheap.

This is a fine stock country. No long winter feeding. Free range, pure water, mild climate. A healthy growing country, with a great future.

Write for map and descriptive literature on Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Kansas and Indian Territory.

Tuesdays of each month.

TOLD TALES OUT OF SCHOOL.

Parrot's Phrase More Than Hinted
at Domestic Difficulties.

S. Baring-Gould, the English novelist, had the bitter pleasure of reading many unflattering obituaries of himself. Through an error he was reported dead, and the newspapers of his native land declared unanimously that he had left no good work behind.

An American editor dined with Mr.
Baring-Gould in London during the season. The talk turned to the premature obituaries, and the American said:

"How did you feel on reading them?"

"Taken aback, nonplussed," the novelist grimly replied. "I felt like an East Ham lady who owned a parrot."

"This lady's cook came to her one morning in joyful excitement.

"O, ma'am," she cried, the parrot has learned some more new words."

"Good," said the East Ham lady.
"That bird is wonderfully teachable.
It sits and drinks in every blessed word my husband says to me. What does it say now?"

"It keeps a-sayin'," said the cook:
"Shut up, you old fool!"

MADE THINGS EASY FOR HUBBY.

How One Clever Woman Gets Her Letters Posted.

Women with absent-minded husbands who forget to mail letters needn't grieve, for a matron says she has found a cure for such little over-sights. Once upon a time, she says, the dialogue between her and her husband used to run: "Didn't you hear me ask you to mail it? You were listening all the time." "I quite forgot."
"Yes, you always do." Now, she adds in triumph, everything is as it should be and the all important epistle reaches its destination on time. After much thinking she decided that the best plan was to pin the letter on the lapel of her husband's coat when he started for business. Thus tagged he would cause passersby to stare and, in wondering what they were looking at, he would see the letter. It worked like a charm.

Big Peanuts This Year.

Peanut lovers have noticed that the nuts are generally very much larger this year than usual, a fact which may be verified by the most casual glance at any stand where they are sold. They are said to be much better in flavor, though there are some connoisseurs who declare that the small nut is the sweetest.

"The increased size of the peanut now in the market," says a wholesale dealer, "is due more to improved methods of cultivation, I think than to the accident of favorable weather conditions, though the current crop is unusually large in quantity."

"As to the relative merits of the large and small nut, I cannot speak, being a seller, and not an eater of them. I do know, however, that with these big, fat-looking fellows on sale there is practically no market for the little ones."—Philadelphia Record.

Made Her Feel at Home.

A visiting woman went to dinner with a man and his wife to one of the men's clubs, and as they sat at a table waiting to be served she sighed. Her hostess looked surprised, and the guest with a melancholy inflection explained:

"I am always so unhappy when I go to a man's club. No wonder a man gets dissatisfied with his home. His wife may plead and threaten, but she can't possibly compete with the service of such a place as this."

Just at this moment the soft-footed waitress gracefully tipped a plate of soup in her lap.

"Thank you," she said to him gratefully.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Too Gay.

The puritan miss dozed over her knitting and dropped a stitch in her father's stocking.

"Priscilla," said the old gentleman, sternly, "be more careful."
"Why, father," replied Priscilla, in surprise, "there is no great harm in dropping a stitch in your stocking, is there?"

"Yes, my daughter. Surely you would not have it gossiped about that your staid old sire wore drop-stitch stockings like the dudes of 200 years from now?"

And Priscilla, shocked at the very thought, began to unravel the whole stocking.

Leading Authority.

"Mister," said the sad-faced individual who had sneaked in the big skyscraper, "can I sell you the great
"Encyclopedia of Sporting Events?"

"Nope," replied the busy man. "We have one encyclopedia of sporting events already."
"That so? Where do you keep it?"

"Why, we try to keep him on that stool over there, addressing envelopes.
I mean the office boy, and he is an encyclopedia on everything from a game of skiddoo to the Olympian games."

Hard to Collect.

Ascum—Whatever because of that queer patient you were telling me about last spring!

Dr. Price—Oh! he's got a complaint now that's giving me a great deal of trouble.
Ascum—Indeed? What is it?
Dr. Price—Why, a complaint about the amount of my bill.

KENTUCKY'S FAIR A BIG SUCCESS.

Exhibition To Be Held Next Week at Louisville.

Opens September 17 and Closes
Night of September 22.

Trotting and Running Races
Every Day.

Premiums and Purses Amount to More Than $25,000—Band Concerts and Scores of Other Attractions—Visitors Will be Well Entertained.

Everything is in readiness for the State Fair, which will begin next Monday at Louisville. The grounds having been beautified and put in perfect shape, the exhibits are being received and assigned to their proper quarters and hundreds of little details are being attended to and preparations practically completed, and will undoubtedly prove the greatest Fair ever held in the State of Kentucky. In many respects the Fair will be a surprise to those who attend, as it will give unmistakable evidence of the great advance that has been made by Kentucky in the past few years, and will show to the world the extent and value of her products, the pre-eminence of her horse-breeding and magnificence of her other live stock. Splendid specimens of tobacco from her fields and grain from her farms will be displayed in abundance. Complete evidence of the industry and thrift of her housewives will be shown.

The State Fair Society and will doubtless receive the hearty and united support of every loyal son of the Commonwealth. It is a State Institution, belongs to the citizens of Kent and Calloway Counties, as well as to the residents of Jefferson. It is the Fair of the Mountains, the Blue Grass, the Mountains and the Plains. It is a place where Kentucky's best products are shown, and where the people of the State will be able to see the best of everything that Kentucky has to offer. The State Fair will be a great success, and will undoubtedly prove the greatest Fair ever held in the State of Kentucky. In many respects the Fair will be a surprise to those who attend, as it will give unmistakable evidence of the great advance that has been made by Kentucky in the past few years, and will show to the world the extent and value of her products, the pre-eminence of her horse-breeding and magnificence of her other live stock. Splendid specimens of tobacco from her fields and grain from her farms will be displayed in abundance. Complete evidence of the industry and thrift of her housewives will be shown.

The State Fair affords an opportunity to the man who is a lover of the State's natural resources to add to the untold wealth that lies in the mountains. The State Fair will be held under the management of the Board of Control appointed by the State Board of Agriculture, Immigration and Forestry. W. T. Harris is chairman of the Board, and J. E. Taylor, of Bardonia, is Secretary. The money amounting to more than $25,000 will be distributed during the week. This is an unusually large sum, the $15,000 appropriated by the State having been supplemented by more than $10,000 in addition. Much of this has been contributed by local organizations and public-spirited citizens of Louisville. The entire amount has been appropriated as follows:

Horses	$5,500 00
Cattle	5,000 00
Hogs and Jack stock	400 00
Women's department	800 00
Fish and tobacco, horticulture, etc.	2,500 00
Hocks	1,500 00
Swamp	1,500 00
Horses for the races	8,500 00

The large amount of prize money offered has attracted the highest class of entries both from Kentuckians and other exhibitors. The show rings will be worthy of the Fair and of the State in every respect. In every department the exhibits will be better than have been hoped for by the management or the outsider.

The added attractions of the Fair will be of the highest class. The music will be furnished by a band of sixty musicians composing one of the most famous organizations now touring the United States, the State Fair management having felt justified in going to great expense in securing this band, believing that the patrons of the Fair are entitled to the very best of everything. The carnival company will have fifteen shows upon the grounds, all of them strictly moral and there will be none permitted that are not suitable in every respect for women and children. No gambling devices will be permitted, and special precaution will be taken to protect every visitor from swindlers and thieves.

Open at Night.

The gates of the Fair will be open each morning at 9 o'clock, when the showing of horses, cattle and live stock will begin. The show rings will be continued throughout the afternoon with occasional intervals during which the music will come. The Fair will be open at night until 11 o'clock, the attractions being conducted by the band and shows of the carnival company. Every day will be featured especially and the first day will be as good as the last. A complete program of the week's work, and will begin at 9 o'clock.

on Monday evening, and continue without interruption until 11 o'clock Saturday night. Not a single department will be lacking in interest. The farmer, who is thinking of buying some new machinery, will find the latest improved farming implements displayed with experts to explain their working. The housewife will find the women's department a lasting source of delight where she can rest and enjoy herself while her husband journeys through the various stalls closely examining the live stock.

No resident of Kentucky can fail to be benefited by his attendance at the Fair whether he comes to compete with his horses and cattle for the prize money or whether he comes merely as a spectator to see what others are doing, and see how he can improve his own breeding of stock or cultivate his land more successfully. The trip will not be expensive and it will be worth the while. The Fair which begins next week will be the fourth State Fair held in Kentucky, and will be held on the same ground that the first one was held several years ago. At that time though the exhibits of live stock and agricultural products were fully up to the expectations of the managers, there were no outside attractions. This year there will be the carnival shows, the band concerts and many other interesting events which were not provided for the first State Fair. The beautiful and classic course of Churchill Downs will be magnificently decorated and beautified. Not until the grounds are entered the splendor of the State Fair and its myriad attractions will be appreciated. Those who fail to attend will long have reason to regret it.

Prize List Approved.

Many expressions of commendation of the manner in which the prize money is to be distributed at the Kentucky State Fair come from prominent exhibitors throughout the State. Prize money has been distributed among the several classifications in such a way as to suit the conditions in Kentucky, and the stock breeders and horsemen are well pleased with the result.

In the first place, the prize list amounting to more than $25,000, is greater by $7,000 than the prize list for last year's State Fair, and is far greater than was ever hung up for any previous fair held in this State. In addition to this several breeds, which have heretofore been exhibited at the State Fair, have been eliminated from the catalogue, and the money not used in that way will go to increase the premiums for the other classes. For instance, no French draft, Percheron or coach horses will be shown. None of these breeds are raised by Kentucky horsemen, and prizes have heretofore gone to enrich dealers in other States. More than this, the Board of Control has reserved a large amount of the prize money exclusively for Kentucky breeders, and the prize winners in these classes will be eligible to compete also in the open classes against the best that is entered from other States.

The system of allotting dates for State Fairs is sure to prove of great advantage to the Kentucky Fair, as many exhibitors begin with the Ohio State Fair and make the circuit. The circuit this year opens with the Ohio Fair at Columbus, and is followed by the Indiana Fair at Indianapolis. The Kentucky State Fair at Louisville is third, and then after one week comes the Illinois Fair at Springfield.

The prize list for the Kentucky State Fair compares favorably with that of the other State Fairs, though it is the youngest of the quartette, and in addition to the exhibitors who follow the circuit, there will be a large number of Kentuckians to show at Louisville who do not make a practice of showing at other State Fairs. It is predicted that many breeders of horses and cattle which have had easy victories in Ohio and Indiana will meet with surprise when they show at Louisville. A big feature of the Fair will be the classes for five-gaited saddlers. The first premium is worth frequently as much as $50.00, and never less than $20.50, and a large number of classes for this typically American saddle horse have been provided. In addition to this $12,500 of there will be a silver cup donated by W. J. Hogan, President of the Kentucky Horse Show Society. A cup for the best filly or colt valued at $400.00 has been donated by the American Saddle Horse Breeders' Association, the entries to this class are to be registered with this association. There will also be a combination class, the horses to be shown both under the saddle and in the harness. The prize in this class will amount to $25.00. The horse will be judged equally from its performance in harness and under the saddle. Another combination class, and one not commonly shown, will be a three-gaited saddle horse, which will be shown also in harness. They will be judged equally upon their saddle gait, walk, trot and canter, and upon their performance in heavy harness as high-steppers.

The stalls which will be used for the horses and cattle will be those regularly kept for the thoroughbreds who race at the track, all dry and kept clean during the entire year. New pens will be built for the hogs and sheep. The committee having this in charge will see that all pens are of a large size and built in the most modern manner. This is an item of great interest to the breeders of sheep and swine, as at many fairs they are seriously handicapped by the small pens provided for their charges. Admits will be so constructed as to give the stock every opportunity to examine the live stock in the pens.

The Breath of Life.

It's a significant fact that the strongest animal of its size, the gorilla, also has the largest lungs. Powerful lungs means powerful creatures. How to keep the breathing organs right should be man's chiefest study. Like thousands of others, Mrs. Ora A. Stephens, of Port Williams, has learned how to do this. She writes: "Three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery stopped my cough of two years and cured me of what my friends thought consumption. O, it's grand for throat and lung troubles." Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor, druggist. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

WILL BE BETTER THAN EVER BEFORE

In Its Third Year The Record's Circulation Exceeds the Expectations of Its Publishers and Friends.

With the issue of July 13th, 1906, THE CRITTENDEN RECORD started in on the third year of its existence. A part of that voyage has been tempestuous and part of it bright.

On the 28th day of March, 1905, a conflagration destroyed the greater part of Marion and in that destruction THE CRITTENDEN RECORD went down. THE CRITTENDEN RECORD did not miss an issue on account of the fire nor for any other cause. For over a year it struggled along without any machinery, but now it is fully equipped and prepared for any and all kinds of newspaper and job work. Below is a cut of the new Cranston press installed July 6th, 1906, and also a cut of the engine that drives all the machinery.

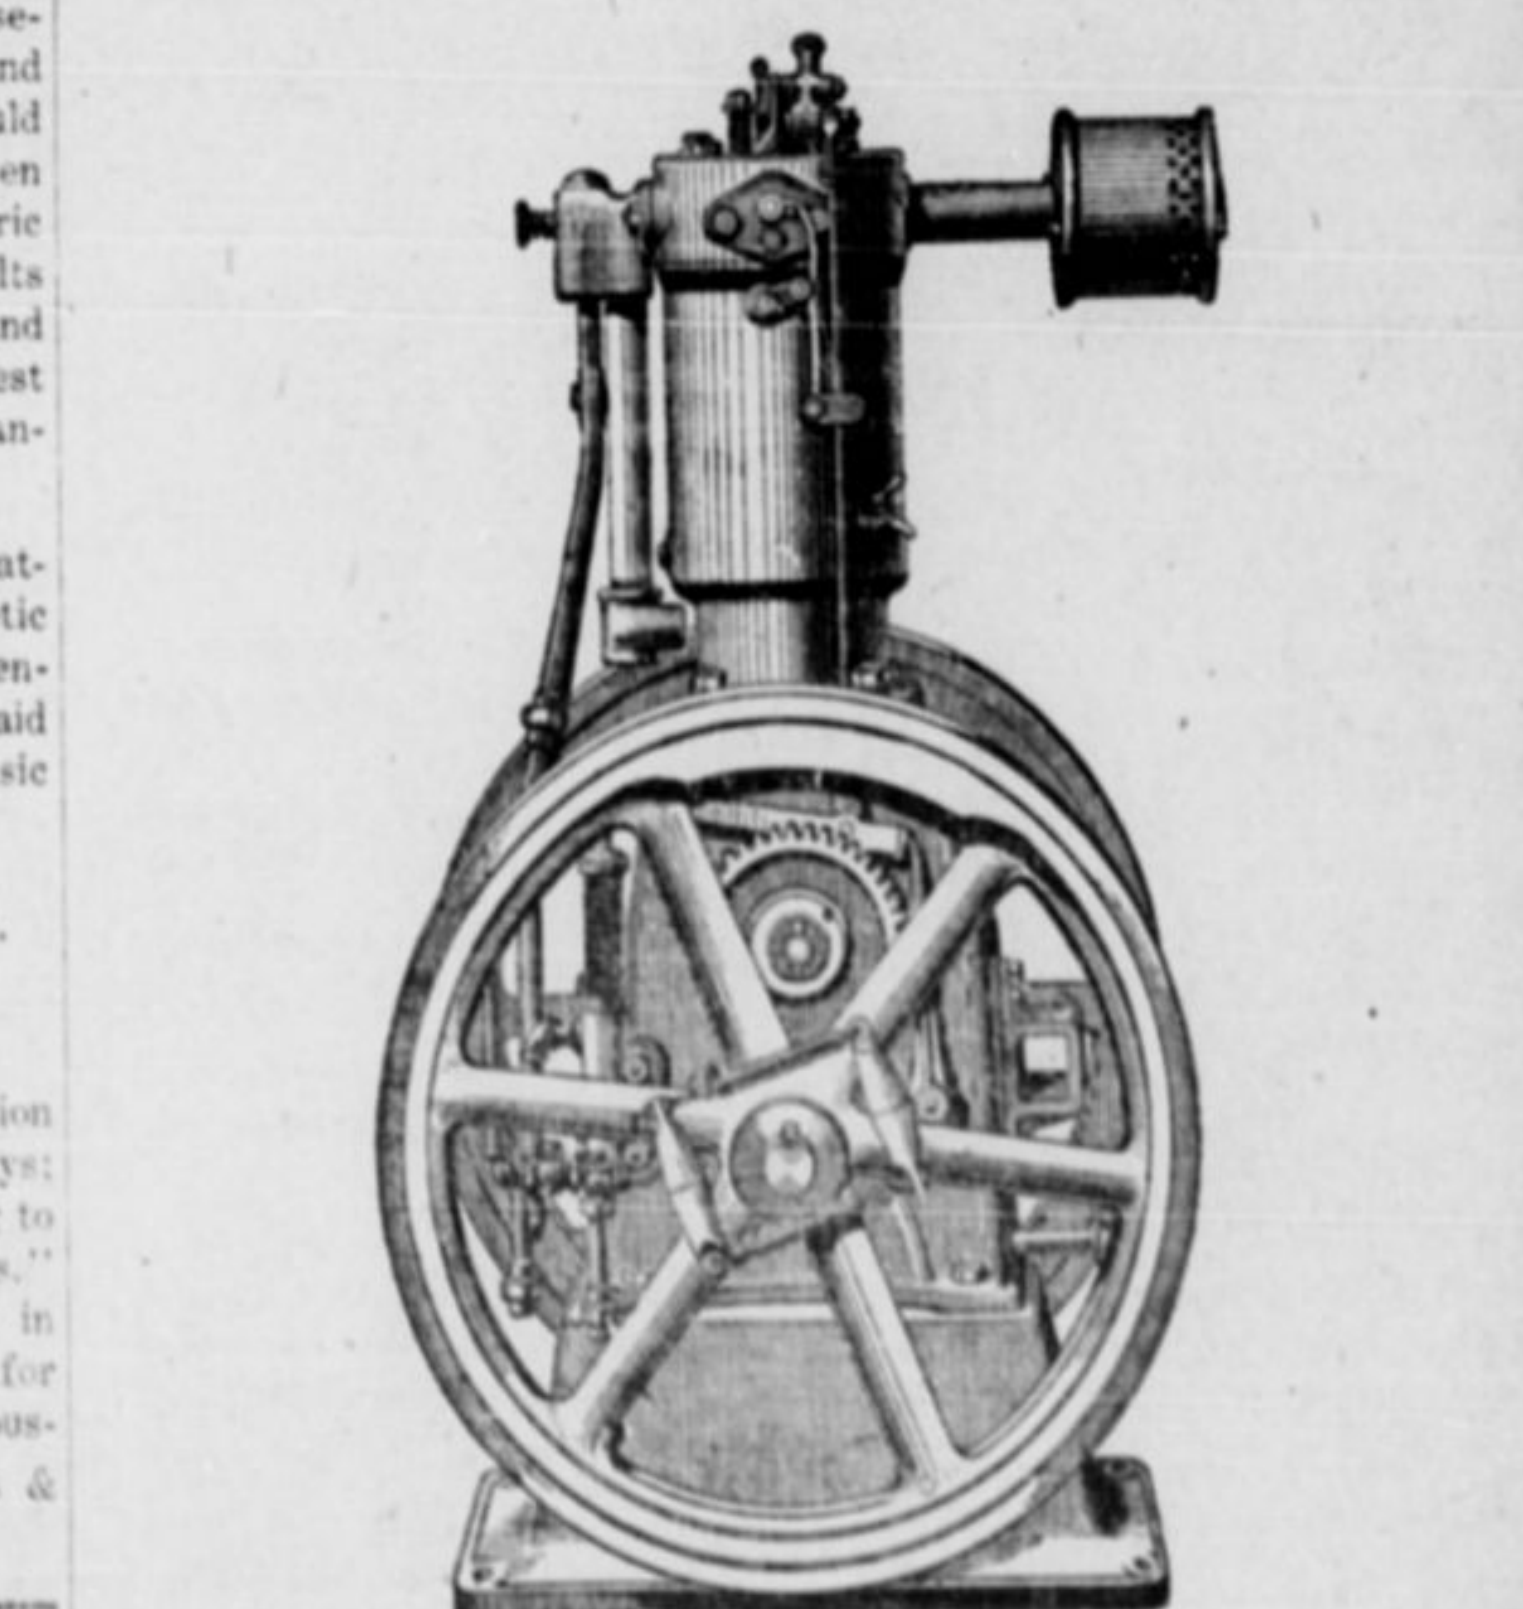

In the past two years the circulation of THE RECORD has grown beyond all expectations and now exceeds that of many other county papers, in fact few reach as many homes.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

To The Tobacco Growers

EDITOR RECORD:

I ask a small space this week to speak to the tobacco growers, as I am anxious for them to house and cure this crop of tobacco in good shape.

From all I have seen this is the best crop we have had for fifteen years and it will not do to handle it carelessly. If you expect to get a good price you must get it in the barn in good shape and fire it well, let it yellow well, then start your fires slow, say for 24 hours, then increase them for one day and night, then fire slowly for about ten days, just enough to keep the leaf dry. If it comes in order a little at night dry it out during the day until it is thoroughly cured. The best color is a cherry red, the next best color is a rich brown or a solid dark. This year you will need more barn room and more sticks, and you are liable to put too much on the stick and crowd it in the barn. You will have to guard against this or you will have house burnt tobacco, and if you have much of it your work will not bring you enough to meet your wants. House burnt tobacco is almost worthless as well as sun burnt tobacco. You can make or ruin a crop of tobacco from the knife on.

Since the Trust has got control of the tobacco business they are very particular as to how the tobacco is classed, and if you are curing your tobacco by bad management, get mixed colors, it is hard to class, which will cut the price fully $1.00 on the 100 pounds, and you will find every buyer hunting for house burnt tobacco this year. Keep that in mind and give it plenty of room on the stick and in the barn. If you do not want mixed colors let your tobacco yellow well and fire slow in the start and fire until your tobacco is well cured.

If you will come out to our next club meeting I will tell you just how to handle it to get the best prices.

Respectfully,
A. H. CARDIN.

How to Utilize Time in Public Schools

To the persons who endeavor to take upon themselves the task of training the boys and girls of the public school, and who feel the responsibility such a position makes incumbent upon them can no doubt recall many times when the cry from their inmost heart has been, "How can I accomplish my work in the appointed time?"

Anyone will concede that the curriculum is too much crowded but this is not the time nor place to pen-harague the curriculum but to find the best plans for meeting successfully the existing order of things.

We do not believe in every minute of each day being slavishly adhered to in each particular work but the teacher should bear in mind the work to be done and not get lost on one theme and suddenly awake to the fact that his hours are gone and much work left undone. Instead of being master of the situation you have become the victim of circumstances in such a case.

I believe more time is wasted by conducting recitations injudiciously than in any other one way. We can familiarize ourselves with the facts of the lesson and yet conduct the class in a very round-a-bout way if we have not reflected on the straightest, clearest and most logical manner of presenting the lesson. We must be concise. Systematic effort on the part of the teacher to present the subject clearly and avoid all random talk is most essential. It is time-saving as well as beneficial in training the pupil to think clearly and straight to the point.

When so much work is expected of us we cannot but require our pupils to thoroughly prepare their work. We must be exacting in the quality of work brought forward. But do not let us adhere too rigidly to the same routine of lessons day after day. Our school is not a mechanical device, nor is the average pupil like the "patient horse in the tread-mill," for he grows weary of monotonous work much sooner than does the teacher.

I loathe the thought that we should be content with thinking that a certain number of recitations constitute a days work in the school-room. Teaching is a science and an art, not labor, and its purpose is to develop both mind and heart. If we are thoroughly in touch with school work we will originate many little devices that will aid us in doing our work well but that seems too insignificant to mention. We will never be anything in the teaching profession unless we are "dead in earnest" for the development of growing humanity.
NANNIE A. CAMPBELL.
