PRINCETON PRESBYTERY LAST WEEK

Met with the Princeton Church on Tuesday Oct. 9.

Most Interesting and Beneficial Session Held—Fourteen Churches Were Represented.

MADISONVILLE NEXT YEAR.

October 9, 1906 Princeton Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian church met pursuant to adjournment at Mt. Carmel church near White Plains, Hopkins county, Kentucky. The cannon ball does not stop off at White Plains, but Nortonville instead, this last place being described as a saloon for each hundred inhabitants and the saloons number four. From Nortonville we checked our baggage and traveled in our own car "without the aid or consent of any other nation on earth."

Promptly at 7:30 p. m. Rev. G. L. Woodruff, retiring moderator, began his sermon, taking for his subject "Religious Convictions".

Rev. I. G. Joiner, a pioneer preacher, was elected moderator. His biography is thus characteristically summed up: Born seventy years ago on the last day of the week, last day of the month and last day of the year. He is the last one of the family (youngest) and is the last survivor. The following ministers were present: I. G. Joiner, G. L. Woodruff, J. L. Price, Jno. R. King, A. C. Biddle and W. T. Oakley. Two others sent excuses for absence, J. B. Lowry and O. C. Womac.

R. A. Moore and T. C. Boucher were received under the care of the presbytery as candidates for the ministry and Elder H. N. Lamb was elected stated clerk.

The so-called union left the Presbytery without funds and so the first matter to be looked into was how to place Princeton presbytery upon a business and working basis. It was calculated that a pro rata of two dollars among the fourteen represented churches and several others known to be loyal. This proved the magic touch. Men good and true pledged their churches for the union, paying it into the treasury there and then themselves, taking their respective churches for reimbursement. Some were not prepared to do this. Then it was that Geo. W. Putnam said: "If any delegate is not prepared to pay this money now I will pay it and take his church for it." Needless to say that the money was raised and Cumberland Presbyterianism did not die.

Various committees were appointed to look after divers affairs. Among others was a committee on affairs whose duty it is to look after the churches which are jeopardized by the so-called union with the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. Rev.

The subject for debate was, resolved, that woman should have the right of suffrage. The speakers were: Affirmative—Fred Hillard, V. L. Stone, Edward Stone, Negative, Elzie Rannels, C. R. Newcomb and H. K. Powell. After the subject was discussed the judges rendered the decision in favor of the negative. The subject that was chosen for discussion at the next meeting of the debating society was, resolved, that the printing press has done a greater service to mankind than the steam engine. The speakers will be as follows: Affirmative, Edward Stone, C. R. Newcomb, W. K. Powell and E. D. Rannels. Negative, V. L. Stone, Fred Stone, H. W. Powell, Fred Hillard. HOLD PRESBYTERY AT MT. CARMEL

CUMBERLAND PRESBYTERIANS ENJOY INTERESTING MEETING.

Rev. I. G. Joiner Elected Moderator and Craneville Selected For Next Meeting.

UNION QUESTION REVIEWED.

Princeton Presbytery, of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. met in Princeton, Ky., Tuesday Oct. 9th 1906, at 7:30 p. m.

The opening sermon was preached by the retiring moderator, Rev. R. H. Anthony, from John 8:31,32 his theme was "How the truth makes us free." He clearly showed that narrowness and sectarianism was inconsistent with the eternal truth of God. Five congregations and two ministers were transferred from the Louisville Presbytery, of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A. to Princeton Presbytery. Rev. E. H. Bull, of Hopkinsville, preached an able sermon Wednesday, 11 a. m. on the theme of "evangelism." He said this was the key-note of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., and showed the wonderful work done in that direction and the thousands brought to Christ through their means of evangelism. He pressed the importance of every church member being a soul winner. Wednesday afternoon was devoted to live topics pertaining to church work and embraces such topics as the "Presbyterian Brotherhood" men's organizations etc. Judge J. L. Landes, of Hopkinsville, made a fine speech on this line, good speeches were also made by Dr. R. L. Moore, of Marion, Ky., and Jas. West, of Hopkinsville, Ky. Rev. A. J. Thompson, of Kattawa, preached an excellent sermon on missions on Wednesday night. It was soul-stirring because of its fact and full of the Holy Ghost. He clearly showed that the mission of church was to go out and save the world. The work of the Presbytery was excellent. The reports of the committees were encouraging. The Presbytery was thoroughly organized in all departments for the purpose of saving souls and building up the church in all its enterprises. Fourteen congregations were represented and seven ordained ministers were present. A sweet spirit pervaded all the transaction of the Presbytery and every one present seemed to enjoy its session. Presbytery will hold its next meeting in Madisonville. It closed with a very sweet and impressive sacramental service.

CHARLES MINNER KILLED BY WAGON

FALLS IN FRONT OF LOAD OF CORN AND SUSTAINS FATAL INJURIES.

Victim Was a Prominent Farmer of the Sheridan-Vicinity and Leaves a Family.

REMAINS BURIED SATURDAY

Chas. Minner, one of the best known and most substantial farmers in the Sheridan-Hurricane vicinity, was horribly crushed last Thursday by being run over and dragged by a wagon loaded with corn. He was driving down a hill and the front end gate burst out of his wagon and he slipped with the corn out under the heels of his team and as the wagon passed over him with locked hind wheel he was dragged and crushed beneath the heavy load. He was frightfully injured, his ribs being torn loose from the back bone. He displayed great nerve and arose and walked to the house, but the arrival of the physician revealed the fact that there was a very slim chance, if any, for his recovery. He lived about twenty-four hours.

He leaves, besides his wife, who was a Miss Wooten, a daughter of James Wooten, four children. His mother, Mrs. Macinda Minner, died only a few weeks ago.

The interment took place Saturday at Hurricane graveyard. Rev. E. D. Boggess preached the funeral. Mr. Minner was a christian gentleman and had been a member in good standing of the Methodist church at Hurricane for many years. His widow and orphans have the sympathy of The Press in their affliction.

Difference Between Character and Reputation.

BY EDWARD STONE.

Character is what a man is, reputation is what he is thought to be. Character is within, reputation is without. Character is always real; reputation may be false. Character is substantial and enduring; reputation may be vapory and fleeting. Character is at home; reputation is abroad. Character is in a man's own soul; reputation is in the mind of others. Character is the solid food of life; reputation is the desert. Character is what gives a man value in his own eyes; reputation is what he is valued at in the eyes of others. Character is his real worth; reputation is his market price.

God gives the mind; man makes the character. Mind is the garden; character is the fruit. Mind is the white page; character is the writing we put on it. Mind is the metallic plate; character is our engraving thereon.

Hoofs Pick up Lost Ring.

Bloomington, Ill., Oct. 15.—A valuable diamond ring, lost a week previous by Joseph Jackson, of Champaign county, was found by him when examining a hoof of his driving horse. The ring was lost in the road and by some strange freak of chance the owner's horse stepped upon it in such a way as to firmly attach it to the shoe. The ring was but little damaged.

Obituary.

Carrsville, Ky., Oct. 17 1906.—Olin D. Everson, the subject of this sketch was born on what is known as the Everson Farm, one mile south of Carrsville, May 23 1892. And was accidentally shot while hunting Oct. 3 1906. He was the oldest son of T. W. and Mollie Everson.

As a child we have ever known him to be one of the best and most cheerful. As a boy none was more loved than he. We are sure he could number all with whom he was acquainted as his friends. He was a boy who never made an enemy.

As a student, I can cheerfully say he was one of the best I have ever seen. I never knew of him being corrected in school. I never heard of his using an unclean word.

He was his father's idol and his mother's joy.

I never saw any thing throw a greater gloom upon a community than his untimely death.

His funeral was attended by one of the largest crowds that ever assembled at this place to pay their last respects to the dead.

It seems hard that one so young and promising should be taken away so suddenly, but our loss is heaven's gain.

We say to the bereaved parents and brothers, weep not for Olin is now where accidents or sorrow is unknown.

The whole community joins us in expressing our deepest sympathy to the family.

Courts Favor Anti-Unionists

After our editorial pages are made up the news comes that Judge Pen-dleton, of Atlanta, Ga., has decided the suit in that state in favor of the opponents of union. The substance of the courts decree is in the following words: "the union between the Presbyterian church in the U. S. A. and the Cumberland Presbyterian church was null and void. The action of the general assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian church seeking to effect such union was without constitutional authority and in conflict with the express provisions of their constitution." We will publish the decree in full on another page. While, as in the Tennessee case, this decree is apparently not final, yet the words quoted above indicate that in the opinion of the court the union is illegal, in which case, of course, all property questions must be decided in favor of the anti-unionists.—Cumberland Presbyterian.

"Nothing New In Government Ownership Of Railroads"

By United States Senator HENRY CABOT LODGE of Massachusetts

WE led the way in Massachusetts in establishing state supervision of the railroads, and we did it so wisely and so well that Mr. Asquith, the great English authority on railroads, in his testimony before the senate committee on interstate commerce and in his book on railroads refers to the Massachusetts legislation as A MODEL FOR THE SUPERVISION OF RAILROADS.

But the supervision and the regulation of the railroads are one thing and their OWNERSHIP is another and totally different thing. I believe in the exercise of the national power to REGULATE interstate commerce. I give to the interstate commerce clause of the constitution the LARGEST POSSIBLE INTERPRETATION, but it does not follow from that that I should support the ownership of the railroads by the government.

I offered an amendment to the rate bill, and it now forms the first sentence of the law which includes within the jurisdiction of the interstate commerce commission the PIPE LINES of the country. I thought they needed regulation and supervision as much as anything in this country and that they ought to have been included, but it does not follow from that that I think the United States should take over and OWN THE BUSINESS of the Standard Oil company. I think we should regulate and control, that we should prevent so far as possible the UNDUE DISCRIMINATIONS which that great monopoly secures from the railroads. I think that we should make them do business with justice to the people whom they serve, but I do not think it would be wise for the United States to go into the business of refining oil, and I think the gulf that separates those two propositions is as wide as it can possibly be.

If you place in the hands of the government the BUSINESS AGENCIES of the country, you confer upon it powers which alter its entire character. It is not a question of whether the United States should have those powers as against the states. It has nothing to do with NATIONALISM OR SEPARATISM. It has to do with the very essence of all government. Is it well for any government to take possession of the business agencies of the country and run them?

We know in what direction those policies point; they point toward SOCIALISM. There is nothing new in it. It is an old remedy that has been suggested in the past centuries over and over again in order to cure the ills that flesh is heir to. You will find the doctrines of communism, of socialism, discussed MORE THAN TWO THOUSAND YEARS AGO and satirized in the comedies of Aristophanes. You will find them solemnly discussed in the republic of Plato and by Aristotle in his politics.

We cannot afford to close our eyes and sit down and say everything is right and we will DO NOTHING. That is the attitude of the tory and the reactionary.

WHAT WE CAN DO IS WHAT WE HAVE DONE—MEET THE QUESTION OF THE HOUR, BUT MEET IT WITH MEASURES WHICH PROCEED ALONG THE LINES MARKED OUT BY THE GREAT MEN WHO HAVE FOUNDED THE REPUBLIC AND CONTINUED BY THE GREAT MEN WHO SAVED THE REPUBLIC.

The Jails Make Criminals

By C. V. COLLINS, New York State Superintendent of Prisons

WE who are familiar with the facts know that many convicts are received at the prisons who are morally poisoned and contaminated WHILE AWAITING TRIAL in the jails by the intimate association with confirmed and degraded criminals which is permitted in these institutions. This is especially true of the younger class of offenders, who come to the jail having respect for authority and DREAD OF CONFINEMENT. At no period of their penal term are they so susceptible to external influences. If at this period a practical REFORMATORY influence is exerted upon them their correction can in most cases be accomplished, but if they are left in idleness and subject to the evil influences of degraded companions their respect for law is soon destroyed and they become hardened and defiant and accept the theories and ambitions of the confirmed criminals AS THEIR OWN. Thus the man who enters jail in such condition that proper treatment would readily turn him from his criminal course often reaches the prison a most discouraging subject for its reformatory system.

For the interest of society as well as for the protection of young offenders the jail system should be corrected. The jail buildings are improved and the prisoners are better fed than they were fifty years ago. OTHERWISE the system remains practically the same. Its conspicuous defects still exist. No chain is stronger than its weakest link. The extensive schemes of penal administration in the several states have their fatally weak part IN THEIR JAILS.

GENUINE AND EFFECTIVE ORGANIZATION IN THE UNITED STATES FOR THE SALVATION OF CRIMINALS AND ALLEGED CRIMINALS MUST TAKE HEED OF THESE FACTS, WHICH ARE NOTORIOUS.

Effect of Army Canteens

By Lieutenant General H. C. CORBIN, U. S. A.

IT would seem unnecessary to argue to a FAIR MINDED person the superiority of a system which provides a mild alcoholic beverage at reasonable cost in moderate quantities UNDER STRICT MILITARY CONTROL to one which results in luring the soldier away from his barracks to neighboring dives, where his SOUL AND BODY are poisoned and ruined by vile liquors, with the accompanying vices, and where his money is taken from him by gamblers and thieves.

UNAUTHORIZED ABSENCE AND FREQUENT DESERTIONS, DIRECTLY TRACEABLE TO VISITS TO THESE DENS OF INIQUITY, FORM A LARGE PERCENTAGE OF THE CASES OF TRIAL BY THE SEVERAL MILITARY COURTS, THE NUMBER OF WHICH IS A BLOT UPON THE OTHERWISE FAIR RECORD OF OUR ARMY.

Human Blood Marks.

A tale of horror was told by marks of human blood in the home of J. W. Williams, a well known merchant of Mac Ky. He writes: "Twenty years ago I had severe hemorrhages of the lungs, and was near death when I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I completely cured me and I have remained well ever since." It cures Hemorrhages, Chronic Coughs, Settled Colds and Bronchitis, and is the only known cure for weak lungs. Every bottle guaranteed by Woods & Orme Druggists, or $1.00 Trial bottle free.

Will Enforce the Law

Mt. Sterling, Net. 15.—A sensation was created at Owingsville when the circuit judge, Allie W. Young, discharged the grand jury for failure to perform their duties and chose a new grand jury to meet the 15th day of this month to investigate the alleged sale of liquor which has been going on in Bath county in violation of the local option law.

Judge Young says that he proposes to show the people that prohibition will prohibit, at least in the twenty-first judicial district, and has summoned United States Commissioner Wood to this city to appear before the grand jury and give testimony regarding arrests made by Deputy Marshal Jackson for illegal whiskey selling a few days ago.

Hendrick the Favorite

As the state primary election draws near the democrats of western Kentucky become more unanimous for Hon. John K. Hendrick for the important office of attorney general. Mr. Hendrick is one of the ablest lawyers in the state, a man of fine address and an elegant gentleman, and is well known all over the state. During the past two weeks his strength in every section of the state has developed wonderfully and it is thought his nomination is certain.

The democrats of Graves county are for him and know no other candidate in his race and will give him almost their unanimous support. Mr. Hendrick's nomination is almost assured. Besides the first district gives a big democratic vote and Mr. Hendrick being a great campaigner his services will be needed for the entire ticket of the state.—Mayfield Messenger.

The Great Difference

In Fire Insurance Companies is not revealed by their names nor their claims. The day before the San Francisco disaster, all Fire Insurance Companies seemed alike to the thoughtless; there was a great difference nevertheless, and when the test came, some quibbled;
some defaulted, while others drew on the reserve funds which they had ready for such a contingency, paid the large amounts due, and went right on.

All of our Companies have an enviable record of honest adjustment of San Francisco losses

HELPS TO STUDY.

After Christ's exclamation, "It is finished," he committed his spirit into the hands of his father and died. At this juncture the veil of the temple was rent into two parts from top to bottom. This veil was rich and costly, made of blue and purple and scarlet and fine-twined linen. Ex. 26:31-34. It was made with fine needle work and beautiful cherubim were worked in the texture of this wondrous veil. Its purpose was to separate the holy place from the most holy. No one could enter the most holy place except the high priest and that on the great day of atonement and then not without blood. This rending of the veil implied that the way into the most holy place was opened for everyone. We can come directly before God for ourselves without the mediation of a priest. Christ is our mediator and intercessor and every man can come directly before God and ask for the pardon of his own sins. Heb. 9:1-15, 24-26.

In connection with the rending of the veil came the earthquake. It was a mighty earthquake. The rocks were rent. It is not impossible that we see traces of this earthquake yet in the mighty rocks that are rent asunder from the parent bluff. "The graves were opened." This is the only earthquake in which such strange phenomena has occurred. The graves were opened but mark the fact that none of the bodies came out of these graves until after Christ's resurrection; because he must be the first fruits of the resurrection. I Cor. 15:23. There were a great number of bodies resurrected at this time—"many bodies of the saints which slept arose". Some think that the 144,000 referred to in Rev. 14:1-5 was the number resurrected at this time. Many people saw them. They went into the holy city and appeared unto many. This is a remarkable proof of the resurrection. How can people doubt the resurrection? These people were citizens of that community, were well known by the people and appeared unto many who could testify to seeing them.

The centurion who witnessed the death of Christ and these remarkable phenomena glorified God and confessed that this was the Son of God. Many others were impressed with these solemn scenes, smote their breasts as an indication of their grief, and went away from the solemn scene of the cross, awed by power divine.

There were a number of faithful attendants at the cross. The three Marys and John have already been mentioned. In addition there were many women from Galilee and from various parts of the ministry of Jesus, those who had become acquainted with him and had ministered him, watched him with devotion and love. Here we have demonstrated the psychological principle. If you wish to attach anyone to you let that one do something for you.

In order to accelerate their death so that their bodies could be disposed of before the beginning of the Sabbath day, which began at 6 o'clock in the evening, the rulers requested that their legs might be broken.

THE TEACHER—METHODS OF TEACHING.

1. Gain the attention.
2. Review the last lesson. This should be very brief; enough to test the class and to show that you expect the lesson to be remembered.
3. The recitation. a. Hear the assigned parts. b. Bring out additional facts. c. Analyze—show the parts, the divisions of the lesson.
4. Direct teaching—causing them to know. a. Main facts, give them, show their relation one to another, their place in God's plan. b. leading truths—explain them, strengthen them with other scripture. c. Illustrate—let the light in on—by other scripture facts and truths, by current events, personal experience, etc.
5. Application. The lesson should be studied and prepared with a view to a two-fold application. a. General—application of the general truths to the whole class. b. Specific—direct application to the needs and conditions of individual scholars, the teacher having prayerfully studied their condition and needs.
6. Review and test. The teacher should not fail to reserve from three to five minutes for a brief looking back over the lesson. This test of the scholars will do much to fix the lesson permanently in their minds.

SEARCH QUESTIONS.

1. What can you say as to the veil of the temple? 2. What was its purpose? 3. What did its rending imply? 4. What remarkable phenomena occurred? 5. How many were resurrected? 6. What proof have we that they were resurrected? 7. What effect did these things have on the centurion and many others? 8. Who were some of Christ's faithful attendants? 9. Where did many of them come from?

Are Solid for Hendrick

A Hendrick club has been organized in Calloway county to hustle up supporters of John K. Hendrick for attorney general and it has several hundred members. We haven't one in Livingston county. We don't need any in Livingston county. We all belong and it would only be a question of enrolling all the democrats in the county. The Calloway club may just enroll Livingston as county as a whole.—Livingston Banner.

ELECTRIC BITTERS THE BEST FOR BILIOUSNESS AND KIDNEYS.

The Great meeting At Mattoon.

The great tent meeting at Mattoon, Crittenden County, Ky., under the directions of Brother Ben Yates and Brother Humphreys, will never be forgotten, on account of the wonderful love that was shown by all denominations for each other, and to help rescue men and women out of the hands of the devil.

It was delightful to hear the good sermons that were preached by those men out there, where they felt free to preach the truth as it is in the Bible. Brother R. C. Love, Brother Elgin, Brother Oakley and Brother J. R. McAfee, the men who opened up the way in this country for Methodism that no other man has. My! How they did preach, and help rescue the souls from sin and hell. Brother Wm. McChesney at the organ, with Gus Phillips, Walker, Hodges, Smith and King, and a number of ladies to help them make the songs ring out over the valley and fields. My! How delightful it was to be there, to hear the sweet songs and testimonies go up to God for His saving and keeping power, and for the comfort that is in religion.

It would make one feel like they were sitting by the River of Life, under the shade of the trees in the land of the blessed. No wonder men women, boys and girls, trembled and cried for help, and wanted to get rid of sin, and with us to heaven. We believe in the "Whoever will" doctrine, and of course that gives all a chance, with the privilege to come to Christ, and get Salvation. Glory to God for this: "Whoever will, let him take of the Water of Life freely." Rev. 22:17. So, you see this lets every one in who will repent and forgive his fellow man.

This opened the gate to men that had not spoken to each other for fourteen long years. I am certain there were twenty-five or thirty, if not more, conversions, and a general uplift with all who came to do good. It was the writer's privilege to take dinner with some of these people. We sat around the same table, and ate the good things that Sister Summerville and the nice, industrious Phillips girls had prepared for this occasion. It made a Love-feast, indeed. It is wonderful what religion will do for us. Athaliah dethroned and Christ crowned King, brings peace and comfort to our home and hearts. Then we can love our neighbors, and have them to eat and have good time with us, and all go to heaven together. My! you tell me that this would not make a man who has religion shout. Now, I want to say to all who were converted in the tent meeting, keep in the middle of the road; do not be side-tracked by the Devil; keep in good company, unless you go to rescue some one from sin and a wrong life. Watch and pray much.

I would like to see the man that could be more accommodating than Brother Gus Summerville was. He opened his woods-lot gate, and said "Come in" to all; and as the meeting increased, the woods-lot got too small, so he opened up two other lots, and his stable and corn crib, if they wanted to feed. Then he said "There is the pasture; turn in." And his table loaded down with good things to eat, and a standing invitation was given to any that wanted to come; and the writer and wife went.

So you can see what religion does for a man. I say it puts any man in good shape with his neighbors, when he gets a good case of it. It is a blessing to any community to have a religious doctor in it. So, I say to Dr. Newcomb, "Be a good man; pray for your patients; feed their souls as well as to doctor their bodies. It is the Bread of Life we people need.

So I say to all of the converts, stand in your places like men and women, truth and the right, and meet me in heaven. This letter was asked for by the Press.

Yours in Christ,

"A Cleaner and Less Numerous Race"

By Mrs. SARAH
PLATT DECKER,
President
National Federation of Women's Clubs

THE thing we Americans must learn, if our country is to continue in its place at the head of nations, is to disregard such appeals as have been made by the president of these United States WHEN THEY ARE UNQUALIFIED. When stockmen and horticulturists are turning their attention to and spending vast sums of money that a breed of cattle or plants and trees may be brought to greater perfection AT THE SACRIFICE OF NUMBERS, it is time that human beings opened their ears to the truths of the necessity of a like method of procedure in the betterment of the individuals to go to make up the race.

When a nation such as England has to reduce its standard for entrance to the army because its men are inefficient, because of unwholesome prenatal and social conditions, it is time to take steps toward saying, by legislative enactment, if need be, WHO THE FUTURE FATHERS AND MOTHERS OF THE CHILDREN, WHO ARE TO KEEP THE NATION'S HEAD UP, SHALL BE.

IT IS A VITAL QUESTION.

Those who are intelligent and have listened to the president know their own mind and their duty to the country, WHICH IS MORE, but the great mass of the people who hear and heed the "multiply and replenish the earth" doctrine from the lips of the highest governmental authority of the land are the poor, the unprovided for, THE INEFFICIENT AND THRIFTLESS, who when they bring children into the world commit a sin against the children and put the country in jeopardy. These are the ones who follow the advice of the president, and to neutralize the effect of his words the Federation of Women's Clubs will initiate an educational propaganda which shall have for its watchword "A CLEANER AND LESS NUMEROUS RACE."

It Is Safer to Steal Now Than Ever Before

By Rev. MADISON C. PETERS of New York

FAILURES of banks, with millions of cash and securities stolen, are such common occurrences that the daily chronicles no longer startle us. Are we the most dishonest people on the face of the earth? Is our society HOPELESSLY CORRUPT? Steal a dollar and the world will kick you. Steal a million and the world will feel honored by being kicked by you. It is nearly always safe to be a BIG THIEF.

Felony is felony, whether committed by a bank president or a bank burglar. It is high time that we look upon these financial crimes as high treason against public property and PUBLIC MORALITY. The high social standing and influential family relations of these scoundrels only AGGRAVATE their crimes.

I have kept in close touch with public affairs in this city for twenty years, and I do not hesitate to say that in all that time it was NEVER SO SAFE AS TODAY to be a big thief.

THE MACHINERY OF THE LAW LIES STILL IN POLISHED INACTIVITY, WHILE THE OFFICERS OF THE LAW ARE RESTING AND TALKING.

The love of display, of luxury, of rivalry in family and social life is tempting many men to steal. The MOST FRUITFUL SOURCE of temptation and disaster is the attempt to lead $50,000 existences on $10,000 incomes.

Most Business Men Are Unbusinesslike

By GEORGE BERNARD SHAW, British Dramatist and Critic

THE MOST STRIKING PECULIARITY ABOUT BUSINESS MEN IS THAT I HAVE NEVER MET ONE WHO UNDERSTANDS THE SLIGHTEST THING ABOUT BUSINESS.

Business men have certain fixed conventional methods. Propose to them a way of doing business, and, although the new way may mean more profit, they will not accept it UNLESS FORCED TO, and even then they believe they are being swindled.

My own way of doing business is neither harsh nor unfair. But it is novel, and therefore the men I deal with regard me with suspicion.

It is very much as if you offered a man $5 for doing something for which he had previously been in the habit of receiving only $1 and having the man denounce you as a swindler.

In making an agreement with an Englishman you may be sure of one thing. If it is not ENTIRELY TO HIS ADVANTAGE he will not keep it. An Englishman, when he wants a house or money or anything else, knows that in order to get what he wants he has to sign something. He doesn't care what he signs so long as he gets what he wants. After he obtains whatever he stood in need of, if he finds the agreement he signed is disagreeable, he will denounce the man who holds it as a knave or a scoundrel.

In my own experience with Englishmen the terms of my agreements, satisfactory at the time of signing, have afterward proved irksome. They would then come to me and say, "Surely, Mr. Shaw, you cannot expect to hold us to such outrageous terms?" And when I would point to the agreements bearing their signatures they would retort, "Surely, Mr. Shaw, you are a gentleman."

Americans are perfect children in business. They have a stratum of romanticism that prevents them from knowing WHAT BUSINESS REALLY IS. This childish, romantic spirit impels them to do something that nobody else has done or to do a greater thing than anybody else has ever done.

ACCIDENTS, OF COURSE, WILL HAPPEN, AND SOMETIMES THEY MAKE MONEY, BUT THE PERCENTAGE OF FAILURES IN AMERICA IS SOMETHING TERRIFIC.

REPRESENTATION AT JAMESTOWN.

State Development Convention Takes the Matter up in Earnest.

Winchester, Ky., Oct. 15.—At the session of the state development convention, a committee was chosen authorized to devise ways and means for providing representation for Kentucky at the Jamestown exposition.

The resolutions were introduced by Col. J. Stoddard Johnston, of Louisville. After reciting that the general assembly had misinterpreted the wishes of the people of Kentucky in failing to provide an appropriation for the erection of a Kentucky building at the Jamestown exposition, the resolutions provided that the chairman appoint a committee to consist of one delegate from each of the eleven congressional districts, which committee will report for convention on plans for obtaining such representation.

Capt. W. J. Stone, of Kuttawa, chairman of the executive committee, seconded the resolutions were offered, moved to suspend the rules and immediately consider them. This was carried and Senator Lindsey, chairman of the convention, put the resolution on their adoption and were carried by unanimous vote.

Making Marriage a Success.

In business, if problems arise, a man seeks to master them; if in marriage, he seeks to elude them; he seeks to remove them; he does not let things drift or work themselves out in some way; he knows it is his business to find out where things are wrong and how he can set them right; he does not shut his eyes to troubles, and think that he is curing them by obscuring them. Men are often resigned to conditions in their home that they would never surrender to in their business; they often accept inevitable in their home life what they could change if they only would. It is cowardly to accept any wrong condition if any amount of effort will right it.

People often fan themselves into the serene self-satisfaction that they are bravely accepting fate when they are really only too mentally lazy or morally inert to take a bold, firm stand to win the freedom of thought and action they desire. There are little rifts in the lute of marriage happiness that unnoted and uncorrected, widen until the music of sweetness is lost. There are little differences that a few moments of listening, a few moments of kindly wisdom and explanation will set right, but foolish pride may deter, and a heart is wounded; unrest, vagary, misunderstanding, and suspicion threaten confidence and a sad growing apart may darken the years.

Sometimes the lack of proper understanding comes from that moral cowardice that seeks only to preserve peace in the family. This is a false peace. It is treason thus meekly to surrender, shutting out the true, white light of real peace for a silent suffering protest which eats into the heart. —From the November Delinquent.

"There Is No Free Open Market In America"

By United States Senator R. M. LA FOLLETTE of Wisconsin

THERE is no FREE OPEN MARKET in the United States for a pound of beef or mutton. Don't we know that half a dozen men among the packers fix the price of beef as it leaves the farms? They CONTROL THE PRICE of every pound that leaves the butcher's counter. I could tell of butcher shops which have been closed by order of the beef trust. How is this possible? Easy enough, through the corrupt relations existing between the powerful aggregation of packers AND THE RAILROADS. The people ultimately will be OBLIGED to stick together to regain control of the country, which has not been theirs practically since 1870.

There is no market for a bushel of grain because the same constituents which make up the beef trust dominate. And these same men who fix the price of meat have much to do in fixing the price of the fruit that comes to the table even from California. ALLIANCE WITH THE RAILROADS has made it possible for them to control all the industries with which they come in contact. The elevator trust, allied with these men, gives them control of the grain of the country.

THERE ARE EIGHT MEN WHO CONTROL NINE BILLIONS OF THE THIRTEEN BILLIONS OF RAILROAD CAPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES. THESE EIGHT MEN CONTROL 90 PER CENT OF THE VITAL MILEAGE OF THE RAILROADS.

There is no longer any competition between the railroads. Ponder upon this and what it means to the country, so dependent upon the great common carriers. I do not say that the government should deal unjustly with the railroads or transportation companies. They are essential and should have a fair profit—enough to pay running expenses and fair dividends on their stock. BUT I CONTEND THEY ARE ENTITLED TO NOTHING ELSE.

I am opposed to government control of railroads. The idea is not a good one, for I am sure the legislation adopted at the recent session of congress, together with what may be passed during the next few years, will be sufficient to control the most obstreperous railroad corporation. NOT UNTIL LEGISLATION HAD BEEN TRIED TO THE END would I favor the government taking over the railroads of the United States.

The government should have control of the RATES, and they should be sufficiently large to permit the corporations to earn a reasonable dividend. In Wisconsin the state railroad commission assessed the railroads after going over every mile of line. The average assessment was $25,000 a mile. This was somewhat higher than a tentative assessment submitted by the railroads themselves. The assessed valuation is about one-third less than the aggregate capitalization of the railroads of my state.

EVERY STATE SHOULD HAVE A RAILROAD COMMISSION, WHICH SHOULD BE ACTIVE IN ITS DUTIES.

I think a railroad corporation should earn about 6 per cent dividend upon a reasonable capitalization.

Pupils Need More Exercise

By Professor TYLER of Amherst

TWO classes of children in our public schools demand SPECIAL ATTENTION today—first, the children of the business and professional classes; second, the brighter and more ambitious children of every class. Both these classes will probably enter into business or professional life.

A SOUND AND VIGOROUS BODY AND TOUGH NERVOUS SYSTEM ARE ABSOLUTELY ESSENTIAL TO THEIR SUCCESS.

Muscular exercise and fresh air are necessary to the child to promote growth and development of all the vital organs, THE BRAIN INCLUDED. If the motor centers are not well developed the adult becomes an impractical dreamer, ever, as has been said, "standing shivering on the brink of action," always planning, hoping or criticizing, never creating or realizing. The motor centers must be developed EARLY if at all.

The average child needs far more outdoor exercise today than a century ago. He actually has far less than used to be furnished by the farm. In the city he has very little, if any. The child begins going to school younger, AND THE SCHOOL YEAR IS ALMOST THREE TIMES AS LONG AS THEN.

Woman's Effort to Please Man

By Professor W. L. THOMAS, University of Chicago

THERE has been developed a peculiar code of morals to cover the peculiar case of woman. This may be called a MORALITY OF THE PERSON and of the bodily habits, as contrasted with the commercial and public morality of man.

Purity, constancy, reserve and devotion are the qualities in woman which please and flatter the jealous male, and woman has responded to these demands both really and seemingly. Without any CONSCIOUSNESS of what she was doing (for all moral traditions fall in the general psychological region of habit), she acts in the manner which makes her most pleasing TO MEN. And—always with the rather definite realization before her of what a dreadful thing it is to be an old maid—she has naively insisted that her sisters shall play well within the game and has become herself the most STRICT CENSOR of that morality which has become traditionally associated with woman.

FEARING THE OBLOQUY WHICH THE WORLD ATTACHES TO A BAD WOMAN, SHE THROWS THE FIRST STONE AT ANY WOMAN WHO BIDS FOR THE FAVOR OF MEN BY OVERSTEPPING THE MODESTY OF NATURE.

Notice to Democratic Legislative Candidates:

After a careful investigation of the probable expense of holding the legislative democratic primary election it is estimated that the sum of forty ($40.00) dollars will cover same. And the said sum is hereby assessed against the candidate or candidates for representative. If there be but one candidate he shall pay the whole sum and if more than one candidate then such sum shall be equally divided between the candidates. If after the primary election it be found that this estimate is too small to cover the entire expense, then the successful candidate will pay the deficiency. If the estimate is too large the excess shall be refunded to all the candidates in equal proportions. Any candidate desiring to enter the race and be voted for at said primary will on or before October 21, 1906 notify in writing C. S. Nunn, at Marion, Ky., and then pay to him the proper proportion of said assessment. This October 8, 1906.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

Mrs. Flamingo's Nurse

Mrs. Flamingo Longnecker wanted a nurse. She put an advertisement in the Forest Times, and her only answer was a little gray cat.

"Dear me," said the Flamingo lady, "you look very small. Have you had any experience with children?"

"I have raised sixteen of my own," replied the cat.

"Sixteen," repeated Mrs. Flamingo Longnecker. "That's a very large number of children. Did you raise them all at once or by—er—on the installment plan?"

"I raised four at a time—four kittens, you know," Pussy Gray replied demurely.

"I suppose you know how to handle a child and hold it and carry it," the lady Flamingo said. Pussy Gray thought she did, and so the young flamingo was given into her charge to take out into the park. Mrs. Flamingo was going to a club and couldn't be bothered. That evening when she came home the mother went upstairs to see if her young flamingo was put properly to rest. On the first limb she met Pussy Gray. "I done the best I could, ma'am," Pussy Gray said. "But I think his legs is mostly worn out from dragging over the gravels. He did have such a long neck, ma'am."

"Dragging over the gravels," screamed Mrs. Flamingo Longnecker, and let me tell you that when Mrs. Flamingo Longnecker screamed it was real screaming—"dragging over the gravels! How did you carry the child, wretched being?"

"Why, I j-j-just carried him like I used to carry my own babies," whimpered Pussy Gray, putting the corner of her apron to her eyes. "I took him by his neck, and it was so long and twisty-twisty that most of him dragged on the ground. And, please, ma'am, I don't like nussin' young flamingoes. And, please, ma'am, I want to quit."

"Quit you will," shouted Mrs. Flamingo, "and without a character!" as she flew upstairs to put arnica, vaseline and poultices on poor baby Flamingo's legs. But the dear Flamingo lady never thought for a moment that if she had stayed at home from her club to look after her long legged baby these sad happenings would never have been.—Worcester Post.

PRINCETON PRESBYTERY.

John R. King preached a strong sermon on Wednesday and the moderator, I. G. Joiner, administered the sacrament of the Lord's supper. Wednesday evening the Rev. A. C. Biddle, of Hopkinsville, Ky., preached a powerful sermon on "The Unconscious Loss of Divine Power." Rev. J. L. Price, of Providence, preached Thursday just prior to adjournment. Presbytery adjourned to hold its spring meeting with the Craneysville Cumberland Presbyterian church.

SOME REFLECTIONS.

Ninety-six years of happy progress and then absorption; is that the final history of the Cumberland Presbyterian church? Union or annihilation is that the edict? And is it like the law of the Medes and Persians, cannot be changed? There are a few who say no to the union. Not from prejudice but from principle. There are a few who choose to remain with small things rather than with the larger things be untrue. Principle is something that the proffer of peace is nothing. But I believe in "majority rule" and am willing to concede that majority all its rights. But the church of God is no political clique and men's consciences are subject to no law from the standpoint of a conscience healthy and wholesome. In this union the parting of the ways was forced by aggression; by ambition for numerical strength. The 106 loyal delegates to the Decatur assembly represented a large constituency—a constituency large enough to be heard. Foot notes don't explain "far enough away" those objectionable features of the Westminster Confession is the verdict the loyalist bring forth. I do not intend being unkind; it is not mine to stir up discord—to generate unchristian spirit. Harmony is the true fruit of right christian endeavor. It is meet now that we go to work and since this is a land of free opinion it is useless to try to dictate either pro or con upon this question of union. Union is not so important to our civilization as that of christianity. No one can deny the fact that this union question has brought discord—that is its chief fruit. Wherefore? May we say that ambition for "larger things" has prompted this? The bible says that a tree is known by its fruit and since the fruit of this "union tree" is discord. Wherefore the true? How many, many hearts on both sides cry out deeply, contritely, "Would to God it never had come to pass." But now that the vexed question is settled let's leave off discussion, especially that sort which mars instead of mends.

W. HUGH WATSON, Tolu.

Killed at Bevier.

A timber broke while efforts were being made to release the cage at the shaft of the Crescent Coal company's mine at Bevier and A. L. Meaders was instantly killed by falling down the shaft. Reese Johnson was struck by a flying timber at the same time and but for the timely aid of Will Morton and Braze Johnson he would have been killed by falling to the bottom of the shaft. Mr. Meaders was unmarried and his parents live at Island, where the remains were taken for burial.—The St. Charles Little Banner.
