Vote for Ollie James for Congress next Tuesday.

MR. W. J. STONE PASSES AWAY.

HE CAME TO BELOVED LYON COUNTY WOMAN SUNDAY MORNING.

Stricken With Typhoid-Pneumonia While Visiting Her Daughter in Jackson, Miss.

INTERRED AT NEW BETHEL

Telegrams received in this city announced the death Sunday morning at Jackson, Miss., of Mrs. Cora Woodyard Stone, the wife of Congressman W. J. Stone, at home of her daughter, Sudie, of S. J. Snook. Mrs. Stone called to Jackson a month ago to attend her daughter, who was ill. After her arrival there she was stricken with typhoid-pneumonia in its most virulent form and from the onset it was seen that her condition was critical and her husband and daughter, Mrs. Chas. W. Young, of Jackson, were summoned by telephone. Everything which loving hands and hearts could do was done, but the best medical attention was given to her but all to no avail. She passed peacefully away Sunday morning. The remains arrived at Kentucky Monday at noon. The funeral was held at New Bethel by Rev.

R. W. Morehead, assisted by Rev. Martin E. Miller, of Fredonia; Rev. Nicholson, of Kuttawa, and Rev. Conway, of Marion. The eulogies on her name and character were appropriate and feelingly delivered. The floral offerings were profuse, many beautiful emblems being in the lot.

The burial was in the family lot in New Bethel cemetery last Tuesday afternoon and was attended by an immense crowd.

Special Session at Dyer Hill Church.

After preaching rendered by brother John Lockhart from the text, "Look ye Out," (Acts 6:4) Dyer Hill church met in special session Saturday, Oct. 27, 1906, for the purpose of electing one deacon and ordaining two. After organization of the presbytery Brother W. R. Gibbs was elected to act as moderator and sister Anna Ramage as secretary of said meeting. After election of two brothers, they both refusing to serve, the presbytery proceeded with the ordination of brother I. N. Ramage. After questions by brother W. R. Gibbs the presbytery moved to accept Brother Ramage. Brother Carroll Levan was chosen to pray the prayer of ordination, after which laying on of the hands by presbytery followed by the charges given by Brother Lockhart and song "Wonderful Glory" and hands of presbytery and christian fellowship were given.

Be it resolved by the presbytery that a copy of same be presented to the county papers of Livingston and Crittenden counties.

W. R. GIBBS, Moderator.

A Last Appeal to Democrats.

W. F. COWPER.

TO MY FELLOW DEMOCRATS OF CRITTENDEN AND LIVINGSTON COUNTIES:

On next Tuesday the good Democrats of Livingston and Crittenden counties will cast their votes to select their nominee for Representative. I come with clean hands asking your support on my record as a Democrat.

I fully appreciate the importance to the people of the office to which I aspire but feel that the good counties of Crittenden and Livingston will cheerfully honor one of the humblest sons when he has striven to be worthy of the trust of his fellow citizens. If am chosen as the candidate of my party I shall be the candidate of the whole party and not the representative of any faction, clique or machine. Should I be so fortunate as to be nominated and elected I shall count myself the servant of the whole people, and advocate measures of general interest to the citizens of the state and do so without fear or favor. I was born and raised on a farm and taught in the public schools and feel that I know the educational and agricultural interests of our people, and will, if elected, support measures in the general assembly of Kentucky of general interest to them.

My record as a democrat is known and cannot be questioned. The democratic party has never called upon me and called in vain, however perilous the hour or uncertain the consequences and a democratic nominee

WARM HIGH SCHOOL DEBATE PROMISED

Marion Students to Meet Morganfield Students in the Latter City Friday Night, November 23d.

The Morganfield high school has challenged the Marion high school to a joint debate Friday night, November 23d and the challenge has been accepted. The proceeds are for the Morganfield school library. The Morganfield high school agrees to pay the expenses of the contestants from Marion and that of their teacher and also agrees to entertain the friends of the contestants who desire to attend the debate.

The Morganfield speakers will be Mr. Paul Smith, Mr. Thos. Waller and Miss Verbie Coffman and for Marion the speakers will be Miss Annie Dean, Miss Fenwick Wathen and Mr. Gray Rochester. According to agreement each school is to select one judge and these judges will select the third judge and it is also agreed that all the judges shall be non-residents of either town. Forty minutes will be given to each side to present its argument. The question is: "Resolved, that the United States is following in the footsteps of ancient Rome." Marion school has the negative side.

The contest will be spirited but friendly and is looked forward to with the keenest of interest by the friends of the Marion school and we predict they will carry off the honors.

"UNCLE TOMMY" MAYES DIES NEAR HERE.

Monogermanian Passes to His Reward Honored and Loved by All—Biographical Sketch.

G. T. Mayes, an old and highly respected citizen of the Mattoon vicinity, died Tuesday and the remains were brought here that night and taken to the residence of G. U. Dollar, Mrs. Dollar being his niece. The funeral was preached at one o'clock at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Benjamin Andros. The interment took place in the old cemetery beside the remains of his wife last Wednesday afternoon.

George Thomas Mayes was born Oct. 18, 1815, and was therefore in his ninety-second year. He was born in the county two miles south of Marion, but nearly thirty years before Marion was settled. He was married three times. His first wife was Miss Narcissa McArthur, of Livingston county. She died in 1856, leaving three children, William and Sarah, of this county, and Alice, of Washington.

His second wife was Miss Maria Stinson. She died about 25 years ago and he then married Mrs. Sarah Rice, who was killed a few years ago at a railroad crossing near G. W. Howerton's residence northeast of the city. His second wife bore him one son, James, who is now living in Iowa.

Mr. Mayes was a ruling elder in the Presbyterian church here and had been a deacon of an church almost continuously ever since he was except probably while he was in a short time in Iowa.

An Enjoyable Dance.

The young society folks gave a delightful dance at the opera house last Thursday evening from 8 to 11 o'clock. The local string band furnished the music, which was good and added much to the pleasure of the evening.

STRAUS TO GO INTO CABINET

TO BECOME SECRETARY OF COMMERCE AND LABOR.

Metcalf Changes to Navy, And Bonaparte To Attorney Generalship The Cabinet For 1907

CORTLEYOU FOR TREASURY

Washington, Oct. 26.—The reconstructed cabinet as it will be after the retirement of Secretary Shaw and Attorney General Moody was officially announced to-night. The only new men in the cabinet will be Oscar S. Straus, of New York, for Secretary of Commerce and Labor, and Ambassador Meyer, now at St. Petersburg, for Postmaster General.

There will be other changes, however. Mr. Metcalf will leave the Department of Commerce and Labor and become Secretary of the Navy in place of Mr. Bonaparte, who will succeed Mr. Moody as Attorney General. Postmaster General Cortleyou will succeed Mr. Shaw in the Treasury Department, thus making a change for Mr. Meyer.

The cabinet in 1907 will be as follows:

Secretary of State—Elihu Root, of New York.

Secretary of the Treasury—George B. Cortleyou, of New York.

Secretary of War—William H. Taft, of Ohio.

Secretary of the Navy—Victor H. Metcalf, of California.

Secretary of the Interior—Ethan Allen Hitchcock, of Missouri.

Attorney General—Charles J. Bonaparte, of Maryland.

Postmaster General—George von L. Meyer, of Massachusetts.

Secretary of Agriculture—James Wilson, of Iowa.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor—Oscar S. Straus, of New York.

Secretary Taft will not go on the Supreme Court bench. He will stay in the cabinet. It is the understanding that he is to be President Roosevelt's legation for the presidency.

Three of the new cabinet members will be New Yorkers, in addition to which New York has the first assistant secretary of state, Robert Bacon. Never before has one received so many cabinet appointments. Geographical considerations have hitherto been considered.

Mr. Straus, the new Secretary of Commerce and Labor, has not been recognized as a Republican more than two years. He was President Cleveland's minister to Turkey, and was retained by President McKinley.

He was then considered a Democrat. He has been voting the Republican ticket right along, however, and since the Roosevelt-Parker campaign he has been considered a Republican.

Secretary Wilson will establish a record. He went into office with President McKinley in 1897 and has survived all the changes that have taken place since then. He and Mr. Hitchcock are the only members of McKinley's cabinet left, but Hitchcock did not come in 1897.

Mr. Metcalf wanted the Navy Department when he was made Secretary of Commerce, and has been waiting for it ever since. Mr. Bonaparte wanted to be Attorney General when he was made Secretary of the Navy. Mr. Meyer is accredited to Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts. Roosevelt and Lodge were friends in 1884; have been so ever since, and it was Lodge who got Roosevelt the Assistant Secretaryship of the Navy in spite of Senator Platt, and thus gave him his start towards the Presidency. The political relations between the two have been interrupted by the President's advocacy of more radical legislation than Mr. Lodge can accept, but it has not impaired their personal relations and Mr. Meyer's appointment is due to Lodge.

The new cabinet will contain one Hebrew, Secretary Straus. He is said to be the first Hebrew ever appointed to the cabinet by a President of the United States, though he is not the first who ever held a cabinet place in this country, for Judah P. Benjamin served as Attorney General in the Confederate cabinet under President Davis. Mr. Moody will retire about the first of January and Mr. Shaw probably by the first of February.

Anecdote of McCrory and Harlan.

Judge Harlan and James B. McCrory once canvassed Kentucky together as the Republican and Democratic candidates for governor. They traveled about the state on a joint debating trip and in many small mountain places had to sleep in the same bed. They were warm personal friends and so did not object to this intimacy. One night Mr. Harlan got into bed first. Senator McCrory was not far behind, and just as he entered the bed Judge Harlan raised his bulky form and said in his stentorian voice, "McCrory, there is one thing certain—the next governor of Kentucky is in this bed." As he spoke the bed slats broke, and Judge Harlan rolled to the floor. Senator McCrory caught and held himself in bed, and as Judge Harlan reached the floor, said: "John, you are right. The next governor of Kentucky is still in this bed."

PRESIDENT SENDS OUT ANNUAL PROCLAMATION

Names Thursday, November 29, as a Day of Thanksgiving.

Washington, Oct. 31.—The president has issued a proclamation naming Thursday, November 29, as a day of thanksgiving. The text of the proclamation is as follows:

"The time of year has come when, in accordance with the wise custom of our forefathers, it becomes my duty to set aside a special day of thanksgiving and prayer to the Almighty, because of the blessings we have received, and of prayer that these blessings may be continued. Yet another year of widespread well-being has passed. Never before in our history or in the history of any other nation has a people enjoyed more bounding material prosperity than is ours; a prosperity so great that it should arouse in us no spirit of reckless pride, and least of all a headless disregard of our responsibilities, but rather a sober sense of our many blessings and a resolute purpose, under Providence, not to forfeit them by any action of our own."

"Material well-being, indispensable though it is, can never be anything but the foundation of true national greatness and happiness. If we build nothing on this foundation of true national greatness and happiness, if we build nothing on this foundation, then our national life will be as meaningless and empty as a house where only the foundation has been laid. On our material well-being must be built a superstructure of individual and national life, lived in accordance with the laws of the highest morality, or else our prosperity itself will in the long run turn out a curse instead of a blessing. We should be both reverently thankful for what we have received and earnestly bent on turning it into a means of grace and not of destruction."

"Accordingly, I hereby set apart Thursday, November 29, next as a day of thanksgiving and supplication on which the people shall meet in their homes or their churches, devoutly acknowledge all that has been given them and to pray that they may in addition receive the power to use these gifts aright."

An Old Relic of Russo Japanese War Causes Awful Destruction.

Vladivostok, Oct. 27.—The hull of the steamer Warjargin was struck by a mine yesterday which had been flaring since the close of the Russo-Japanese war. The explosion which followed was terrific. Of 200 passengers and the crew, only one saved his life. The passengers and crew had no chance whatever to escape, owing to the suddenness of the disaster.

The mine was seen by the lookout on the steamer, who thought it merely a log and not worth reporting to the officer on deck. The hull of the steamer was torn completely in two. A frightful panic followed, in which women and children were crushed and trampled on and killed. In less than four minutes after the explosion the vessel sank. Only one man later was taken from the rigging.

Consumption

There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

We will send you a sample free.

Most of it was in checks, but there was $111 in money belonging to Mr. R. H. Wright, of Hampton. The carrier did not miss the envelope until he had returned to Hampton, when he and Mr. Wright started on the hunt of it. They found the envelope containing all the checks, but the money was gone. Mr. Wright is very confident that he has the money located and no doubt recover it all.—LIVINGSTON BANNER.

Lola Democrats Favor Paris.

What the democrats of Lola and the Lola precinct have to say about Robert S. Paris as a reliable man, to represent Crittenden and Livingston counties in the next general assembly of Kentucky.

To whom it may concern, and most especially to the democrats of Livingston and Crittenden counties who feel an interest in the success of the democratic party in the general election next year. We present to you the Hon. Robert S. Paris, of this precinct, as a most suitable democrat to unite the democratic party of this legislative district. We feel sure that if you will give him the nomination in the November primary that he will come out alright in the general election next year. Mr. Paris served two terms as magistrate in this precinct and is well qualified in every respect to represent the people, and as a man of sense and qualifications, as a democrat true and tried we feel sure that all democrats will support him in the general election and knock the props out from under anything the republicans might stick up. He'll fix them alike. We feel sure that wherever Mr. Paris is known that this article will be mentioned, anyway in the respect as Mr. Paris being an alright man to represent the people, a true blue, citizen. For the consideration of all democrats and the success of the democratic party next year in the general election we urge your careful consideration before you vote in the primary this year. We do not want to send another republican representative to the general assembly of Kentucky from a democratic district, as was done the last time. Our strongest hopes are that the democrats will settle on the right man. LOLA DEMOCRATS.

WINFREY REPLIES TO GULLION

THE PLAIN TALK IN STATE SUPERINTENDENT'S RACE.

Imaging Facts Submitted to Show That Gullion is Double-Dealing.

The Democrats of Kentucky: My opponent, Mr. E. A. Gullion, is greatly disturbed over the fact that voters all over the state are finding out that he is trying to sell into the State Superintendent's office up false colors, and that evidences of double-dealing are rapidly accumulating against him.

Many persons who knew the relationship existing between Mr. Gullion and certain persons in the city of Lexington, who are known to be unopposed to the normal school movement, were suspicious from the time this announcement that there was a change in the leadership. This feeling seems to be well-nigh universal. Recognizing the great popularity of the normal school movement in the state, and being conscious that the people generally are speculating on the fact that his candidacy has, from the first, been strongly endorsed by those who opposed the normal school, my opponent comes out in the papers of the state and in circular letters insists that there are no persons opposing normal schools. In his efforts to deceive the public, he goes further and deliberately misrepresents his attitude in the fight for state normal schools, and ingeniously conceals his real mission in Frankfort last winter. He has the audacity to claim that he spent 50 days of the 60-day session of the last legislature in Frankfort, in the special interest of the state normal school bill, and that he did everything in his power to secure its passage, adding that certainly no one was more active in promoting the measure than himself. He even makes a feeble attempt to prove his ridiculous and glaring misrepresentation by persons who were not in position to know whether he worked for the bill or not, except by taking the word for it, since none of them were on any committees which had his bill under discussion.

In order that the voters of the state may know that my opponent is attempting to deceive them in this matter, I submit below statements from members of the legislature who were in position to know who worked for the normal school bill, and who also knew what Mr. Gullion's real business was in Frankfort during the last session of the legislature:

Senator Conn Linn Talks. I was chairman of the educational committee in the senate, during the session of 1906, and as such I was greatly interested in the state normal school bill, drawn by Prof. M. O. Winfrey and introduced by the late R. W. Miller. I well remember Prof. Winfrey as the champion of that bill both before and during the recent legislature.

I do not recall that Mr. E. A. Gullion ever met with the senate committee on education or that he ever spoke to me on the subject of state normals. It was my understanding, in fact, I think he told me, that he was in Frankfort as the lobbyist for the newspaper libel bill, which was defeated. I never heard from him on any subject outside of newspaper legislation.

Very truly,
CONN LINN,
Chairman Senate Educational Committee.

Gullion a Lobbyist. I was a member of Educational Committee No. 1, in the house, and was secretary of the subcommittee which had charge of the redrafting of the normal school bill. I attended every meeting of the committee and of the subcommittee. We were in frequent conference with educators from all parts of the state, but I do not recall that Mr. E. A. Gullion attended a single meeting, nor did he by suggestion or otherwise render the committee any assistance. I was cognizant of every step he was taking to the passage of the act, and I never knew of Mr. Gullion's taking any interest whatever in the welfare of the measure. I do know, however, that he spent a great deal of time before the legislature as the champion of the libel bill. It was only as a lobbyist for the newspapers that he ever approached me.

CHARLES I. DAWSON,
Ranking Member House Educational Committee.

Championed the Libel Bill. In reply to your inquiry, I will state that I do not recall that Mr. E. A. Gullion ever appeared before the committee on appropriations at any of its meetings to urge favorable action on the state normal school appropriation, nor do I recall that he ever approached me on the subject.

I know he was in Frankfort a good part of the session, but it was my understanding that he was there as the representative of the Press Association, in the interest of the newspaper libel bill.

I do recall very distinctly that Dr. Hume, Prof. Cherry and Prof. Winfrey were present at these meetings.

I make this statement without any ill-feeling toward Mr. Gullion.
E. H. SHELMAN,
Chm. Appropriation Committee.

May Have Favored Wrong Measure.

In reply to your question as to Mr. E. A. Gullion's attitude on the state normal school matter, and as to whether he ever appeared before the house appropriation committee in their interest, I desire to say that I do not remember his appearance before that committee on any subject, though he may have done so. I attended nearly all the meetings of that committee, and remember distinctly the appearance of Hon. R. W. Miller and others in the interest of the normal bill, but do not recall any part that Mr. Gullion may have taken in the question.

I remember the appearance of Pres. James K. Patterson in the interest of the normal appropriation for the State college at Lexington, and it may be that Mr. Gullion was interested in that matter, thus confusing the two normal school bills.

Truly your friend,
LOUIS P. HEAD,
Member Appropriation Committee.

In view of the above statements, what becomes of my opponent's claim that he was in Frankfort 50 days last winter in the special interest of the state normal school bill?

It is evident that he is trying to deceive the public by claiming to have labored to promote this normal school legislation. Why did he try to conceal his real business before the legislature? "All the people can not be fooled all the time." Verily he has seen the "handwriting on the wall."

Four Candidates From Seventh District.

There are 11 congressional districts in the state and nine candidates to be nominated for state offices. The Seventh district has four candidates in the field, Mr. Gullion for State Superintendent being the last one to announce. Two of these four candidates have no opposition, viz: Hon. Henry M. Bowers for auditor and Hon. South Trimble for lieutenant governor.

As a matter of fairness and justice to the other sections of the state, and in order to strengthen the ticket would it not be advisable to distribute the candidates over the state, rather than to nominate four out of nine from one section?

Supt. Fuqua's Indorsement. My opponent has given wide publicity to a statement which he secured from State Superintendent Fuqua, after promising Mr. Fuqua a place on his state board of examiners.

In order to correct any false impressions that this letter may have caused I publish herewith a letter written by Mr. Fuqua a few days ago:

"Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 11, 1906.
"I have known Mr. M. O. Winfrey a number of years, and have always found him very zealous and active in the cause of education, and a successful and skillful teacher. He has been a member of the State Board of Examiners since my entrance into office, and has discharged his duties faithfully and efficiently. He was very active and untiring in his efforts for the establishing of the two normal schools. It is a pleasure to me to give these testimonials of regard for Mr. Winfrey.
Very truly,
"JAS. H. FUQUA, SR.,
"Supt. of Public Instruction."

Gullion Attacks Jim Stone.

Mr. Gullion seems greatly worried over the fact that I have selected for chief clerk Hon. James E. Stone, former county superintendent of Breckinridge county for two terms and chief clerk of the house of representatives for the past 25 years. He seems greatly distressed over Mr. Stone's superior fitness for the place, and goes on to say that this is not a popularity contest between chief clerks. He seems to argue that efficiency in a chief clerk is unnecessary, for he says, "A machine can add a column of figures." I wonder if this was the plea which prompted him in selecting his chief clerk.

The thousands of friends of Hon. James E. Stone throughout the state will resent Mr. Gullion's weak attempt to reflect upon him.

From One Who Knows. Prof. M. O. Winfrey worked incessantly for nearly two years to pave the way for state normal schools. During the two years prior to the meeting of the last legislature he did more to mold and develop public sentiment in favor of these institutions than any other man in Kentucky. During the session of the last legislature he spent much time in Frankfort, and was always alert and active for the state normal school bill, of which he was the author.

He should ever be remembered by the teachers and friends of education in Kentucky as one who has labored faithfully and sacrificed much for the success of this great cause.

DR. E. E. HUME,
Chairman Executive Committee, Educational Improvement Commission.

Middlesborough School Board.

Prof. M. O. Winfrey is one of the most thoroughly equipped and accomplished school superintendents we have ever had the pleasure of knowing. Besides being highly educated, and a strictly moral, upright Christian gentleman, he is one of the most active and zealous educators within our acquaintance. He has within four years revolutionized our schools. He has brought order out of chaos. He is peculiarly fitted for his work, being gifted with exceptional executive ability and the power of enlisting the community in the cause of education. As a result of his good work here we are straining ourselves financially to erect for him a $30,000 high school building.

While we would regret exceedingly to lose his services, yet we can not say too much in praise of him as a wide-awake, up-to-date educator. We are proud of him.

Very truly,
R. L. RALSTON, President.
H. H. SPRAGUE, Secretary.
WM. WALLBRECHT, Treasurer.
Board of Education, Middlesborough City Schools.

WHAT PROMINENT SCHOOL MEN SAY.

From Prof. T. J. Coates, Supt. Princeton City Schools.

Supt. M. O. Winfrey of Middlesborough Ky., stands in the very front rank of school men in this state. As a member of the State Board of Examiners, as President of the Kentucky Educational Association, as President of the Educational Improvement Commission of Kentucky, as superintendent of the city schools of Stanford and Middlesborough, as institute instructor and platform lecturer, he has proven his right to be ranked among the brightest, truest and brainiest young men of the south. He is in the prime of life, hardly forty yet, ambitious, energetic, a tireless worker with superb health and splendid courage. The schools of the state, I sincerely believe, would be vastly benefited under his administration. I know no man who has done more than he to arouse and direct public opinion along educational lines. In his life, his heart, his hopes are in his work. Above all he is a man of action; he brings things to pass. He has crowded more work into his eighteen years of school life than any other young man I know. He is a born leader.

For these reasons I believe the welfare of the school children of the state, and the future advancement of Kentucky will be best served by the nomination and election of Professor Winfrey, and therefore I shall cordially support him.

From Prof. John Morris, For Ten Years Superintendent of Covington Schools.

Covington, Ky., Oct. 23, 1906.
As a school man I am watching the progress of the campaign for Superintendent of Public Instruction with more than ordinary interest; and I feel that the people should be alive to the educational demands of our commonwealth.

The best interests of public schools demand that a thorough school man should be elected to the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction in Kentucky. He should be a teacher by profession and a man of wide experience in actual school work. He should be a leader in his profession as well as a scholar. He should know the educational needs of the state, and should be ever ready to sacrifice personal ease for the good of the state. Such are some of the qualifications the superintendent of public instruction should have. If all the qualifications are possessed by a candidate the people should not hesitate to cast their votes for him on election day.

Fortunate for the educational interests of Kentucky, there is such a candidate in the person of Prof. M. O. Winfrey, superintendent of the Middlesborough city schools.
Very respectfully,
JOHN MORRIS.

From Prof. W. F. Pate, Supt. Lebanon Graded Schools.

In my long association with Prof. Winfrey I have always known him as a man of fine moral character, as an earnest and zealous worker in any cause that he considers right, as a man of strong convictions and with the courage to carry out those convictions. No man has ever worked more ardently for the upbuilding of our common schools, no one in our state is better equipped for the duties of the important office of Superintendent of Public Instruction, and certain it is that no other one has done such effective work for the establishment of our state normal schools; and in my humble opinion the best thing that can happen to the educational interests of our state is to elect him to the position he seeks and begin a new and more progressive era in Kentucky.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

Mounter and Taylor

Mounter and Taylor were two dogs who lived together on Mr. Bentley's farm. Mounter had made up his mind that Taylor should not cross a fence ahead of him, and when he did so there was certain to be a fight. One day Taylor not only jumped the fence of Mounter, but whipped him in the fight that followed. Mounter made up his mind to get even, and the next day he showed Taylor where Aunt Nancy, the cook, had left a jar of preserves. Taylor was very fond of sweet things, and Mounter thought he would eat the preserves and be punished for it, but Taylor did much worse than that. He kept pushing his head into the jar to get the very last slice of preserve, and the small neck of it slipped over his ears. When he tried to pull back he could not get his head out.

Aunt Nancy, mistaking him for some dreadful wild beast, screamed till Mr. Bentley brought his gun. Taylor came very near being shot, but just in time his master saw that it was a dog with a brown preserve crock on his head instead of a wolf that had got into the smokehouse. When Mr. Bentley broke the crock he hit Taylor's head pretty hard, but that was part of his punishment. At the two dogs walked off together. Taylor said, "I'll never eat preserves again as long as I live." And Mounter said, "You'd better promise yourself not to jump over any more fences ahead of me."—Atlanta Constitution.

An Animal Story For Little Folks

A Sad Ending

Fishing was poor. Little Bill had dangled his bob in the river all the morning. He had baited his hook with the choicest worms extracted from his mouth, where he had been carrying them because he couldn't find a can. But the fish simply wouldn't nibble. "It's dead mean," he muttered, kicking the gravel into the water. "They always bite in school time, but they never will when it's vacation. Seems as if they sorter wanted to tempt a feller to play hooky." But while he fished there was something going on in Fishland, just under the waves.

"YOU'LL NEVER COME BACK."

you, it's ridiculous. I've struck. Here we are expected to spend our time biting on silly wriggling worms day after day and day after day all summer, just to keep these fishermen amused."

"What can you do about it?" his wife feebly suggested. "I shall take a vacation myself," he said decidedly. "Get my things ready!" "Never heard of such a thing!" exclaimed his wife excitedly. "A fish taking a vacation just like the common schoolboys and poor teachers! You must be daft!"

"Daft, nothing! Get my grip packed." Mrs. Sunfish obeyed, and soon Mr. S. was ready.

"Where do you go?" she asked.

"To the sea, of course, you silly!"

"You'll never come back," she said sadly. And he never did, for the salt water killed him, while Mrs. Sunfish died of a broken heart, all of which shows that we don't always have to go away from home to be happy.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Facts Concerning Lead and Zinc.

In a recent issue of the Lead and Zinc News we find the following interesting article on Lead and Zinc:

Lead and zinc are closely associated in nature, their ores commonly occurring in conjunction, especially their sulphide ores. There is less association of their oxidized or carbonate ores, since in the process of oxidation the original zinc sulphide is converted first into sulphate, which is very soluble and may therefore be leached away by some action of nature, but in a large number of cases, as for example at Leadville, Colo., the occurrence of pure lead-carbonate ores above the water level is followed by the occurrence of mixed lead and zinc sulphides below the water level. Both lead-sulphide ore and zinc sulphide ore occur alone, but the occurrence, in association is more common and the importance of the joint consideration of the two metals from the industrial standpoint increases as the oxidized ores are exhausted and the smelters have to fall back on the sulphide ores, which have already become by far the more important, both in the metallurgy of lead and zinc, all over the world.

It will be observed from a study of the literature of economic geology that the deposits of both lead and zinc ore, whether in association or alone, form most kindly in connection with a dolomite or limestone country rock. Most of the great lead and zinc ore deposits of the world occur in formations of those rocks.

In their metallurgy there is also an intimate association of the two metals. In the first treatment of the ores by jigging or other methods of separation, there is generally obtained a galena concentrate, which goes to the lead smelter for the recovery of its lead content and a blend concentrate which goes to the zinc smelter for the recovery of its zinc content. With few exceptions the crude ore has first to be separated in some such manner. The limitations of mechanical practice do not, however, permit a clean separation of the minerals to be made save in rare instances and the lead concentrate consequently almost always contains some zinc, and vice versa the zinc concentrate contains some lead. The presence of zinc is objectionable to the lead smelter and the presence of lead is objectionable to the zinc smelter, but in neither case does the presence of the other metal in limited proportion prevent successful smelting. But while the lead smelter is bound inevitably to lose all the zinc contained in the lead ore that he smelts, the zinc smelter may recover a large proportion of the lead in the zinc ore after the zinc itself has been extracted. Thus a very large proportion of the pig lead produced in Belgium is recovered from zinc ore residues and this practice has been inaugurated in the United States and is without doubt destined to increase in importance.

Finally the chief use for pig lead is in the manufacture of white lead pigment and one of the large uses of zinc is in the manufacture of white pigment, which in the trade is a direct competitor of white lead. But white lead and zinc oxide are to a large extent used in a pigment compounded of both, so that it is conceivable that the lead and zinc which existed originally in the same ore deposit and were mined and separated by a common operation, might be smelted by a combination process and finally after conversion into finished products might be mixed again for use in the arts and be subject to common disposition under the action of weather and time.

Cozy Homes.

The discovery of a new wick principle—so effective and yet so simple that it's a wonder no one thought of it before—has so revolutionized the manufacture of oil heaters and lamps that explosions, smoke and smell, caused by imperfect wick arrangements, may safely be regarded as things of the past.

This new wick attachment is to be found on the Perfection Oil Heater. Interesting tests show that, although the heater gives intense heat, the wick can not be turned too high, too low—absolute safety thus being assured. One other feature which is worthy of mention is the smokeless device which prevents all smoke and odor. The portability of the heater also commends it for general household use. Heater is very light and can be easily carried about. Its simple operation, usefulness in heating water and warming cold rooms make it a most handy and useful article in any home. This heater is so far superior to other oil heaters, and is of such a fair price that its universal adoption is but a matter of time. The Rayo Lamp, which is made by the manufacturers of the Perfection Oil Heater, is without doubt the best lamp for all-round household use. It is equipped with the latest improved burner, and gives a bright, steady light at small cost. Suitable for any room, whether library, dining-room, parlor or bedroom. The Perfection Oil Heater and the Rayo Lamp from a combination that for real home comfort cannot be equalled. When consideration is taken of the simple operation of both heater and lamp, their absolute safety, the intense heat generated by the one, and the bright and steady light given by the other—all without smoke or smell—their value in any home, large or small, can be somewhat appreciated. Sold by all good dealers.

THURSDAY, NOV. 1, 1906

are authorized to announce W.
W. Perkins, of Smithland, as a candidate to represent the counties of Livingston and Marion in the next General Assembly, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

To Democrats of Crittenden County.

Gen-men:
on J. W. Newman, of Wood-county, is a candidate for -sioner of Agriculture. He is a practical farmer, a lifelong citizen and a man of the highest character.

Newman has served the people of this county in the lower house of the Kentucky legislature and now represents his district in the state assembly. I have made arrangements for Newman to become Assistant Commissioner if he shall be successful in securing the nomination.
I have been a farmer myself and feel that the interests of farmers are very closely identified with his. I have been a farmer myself and feel that the interests
of farmers are very closely identified with his. I have been a farmer
myself and feel that the interests
of farmers are very closely identified with his.

Mr. Newman recognizes the needs of western Kentucky, and shall be elected, I shall do power to bestow the benefits of the Bureau of Agriculture on every farmer in the state.
I call to my friends in Crittenden county and the democrats generally to support Mr. Newman on the 6th of November next. In voting for Mr. Newman, you will do me a great favor, for which I shall ever feel profoundly thankful.

Respectfully,
John L. Smith.

Was Known Here.

Campbellville, Ky., Oct. 31.—
The Rev. J. L. Edgington, an aged and greatly beloved Methodist minister on the Campbellville circuit, died at his home six miles south-west of this place Saturday morning of paralysis and complications. He is survived by a widow, nee Miss Ferguson, of Louisville, and a daughter. He had sobriquet of "Taylor County's Grand Old Man."

Rev. Edgington was pastor at the Methodist church here in the early eighties—twenty five years ago and was much beloved.

Death Near Caldwell Springs.

William H. Mays, a well known and highly respected citizen of the southern end of the county, died Sunday morning at 2:30 of tuberculosis. He had been in failing health for several years and had calmly and patiently waited for the end. The interment took place Monday at Glenn's Chapel, Lyon county, where his daughter was buried only a few months ago. Besides his wife, who was Miss Rose Flannery, of this county, sister of sheriff J. F. Flannery, he left two children, Mrs. Minnie Guess, of Kuttawa, and Charles Flannery. The family are all well known here and have many friends who will sincerely regret this new bereavement which has befallen them.

R. S. PARIS ANNOUNCES

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF CRITTENDEN AND LIVINGSTON COUNTIES:

After the solicitations of many friends of both counties and after a careful deliberation of the situation

I have decided to offer myself as a candidate for Representative in the next General Assembly of Kentucky.
I place my claim before you as a Democrat and subject to your will at the November primary. If nominated and elected I shall strive to represent the whole people and wear the collar of no man or faction, but offer a faithful and impartial discharge of the duties incumbent on me. If you decide otherwise the successful candidate shall have my heartiest support.

Very respectfully,

R. S. PARIS, Lola, Ky.

A Very Distressing Death.

Everyone who saw little Lynn Boyd Shuttleworth, of Evansville, on his visits here to his aunt, Mrs. W.
T. Daughtrey, will be grieved to hear of his death, which sad event occurred at the Deaconess Hospital in Evansville last Friday morning at 6 o'clock following an operation for appendicitis. The remains were brought here on the afternoon train and taken to the residence of Dr.
W. T. Daughtrey for the night. The funeral took place Saturday morning at the Methodist church and the interment at the new cemetery. Rev.
Virgil Elgin officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Shuttleworth have the sympathy of a large circle of friends here in the loss of their little son, who was unusually bright and interesting for his age—seven years.

Position of Legislative Candidates on the Ballot.

Paris first,
Farris second,
Cowper third.

Last Saturday representatives for the three counties for the legislature met to take the oath and select the position of each on the ballot of each county. Jesse Olive represented Marion, Senator Maxwell represented Livingston and Z. A. Farris represented W. F.
Cowper. The two and three were placed in separate plain envelopes which were mixed and then drawn by the above named representatives, with the result that Robt.

S. Paris gets first place on the ballot, John R. Farris, second and W.
F. Cowper third.

To the Voters:

Having been solicited by my friends to make the race for the legislature in the district composed of the counties of Crittenden and Livingston I have decided to announce my candidacy subject to the action of the democratic primary on November 6, next. As the time is short it will be impossible for me to see all of the voters and I therefore take this method of soliciting your votes. I will see all of you I can and to those not acquainted with me I will say, ask anyone who knows me as to my record in the past, and as to my honesty and ability to fill the office. I am a farmer and have been all my life. I am a democrat and have always been and have always lent my influence to the best

H. W. McKee brought to the Press office from his farm near Repton a beet over 12 inches long which weighs 11 1/2 pounds. The biggest one we have seen this season. Who can beat it?

A. C. Glass, of Fredonia, was in Marion to pay his taxes and attend to some other little business matters. He has bought John Asbridge's interest in the farm on which they both have been living.

Squire N. N. Rice died at Cerulean Springs last week. He was the father of Mrs. J. J. Nall, formerly a resident here, and had visited her here frequently, and was well known to many of our people.

Harden Bros., the dairymen, have purchased a new and modern type milk wagon which is as pretty as a school girl in a new calico frock. These gentlemen came here strangers, comparatively and are building up an enviable reputation for fair dealing and are now permanent citizens.

"A man's sensitiveness usually is in inverse ratio to his service." Sequel: A tooth's sensitiveness usually is in indirect ratio to its service. Consult Dr. F. S. Stilwell, Dentist about such matters, office over Marion Bank.

Mrs. Herbert Whitney and son, Herbert Wood, left Monday night for their home at Water Valley, Miss., after a two weeks' visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Dorr.

CHURCH NOTES.

The subject of the sermon at the Presbyterian church last Sunday was on the doctrine of "Inspiration" as set forth in the Westminster Confession of Faith. The object of the sermon was to show how practical the word of God is in this advanced age and also to demonstrate that the doctrines of the fathers have not lost their place in the march of progress. The sermon at night was a continuation of the morning subject. The text was 2d Tim. 3:16.

At the Baptist church last Sunday there was two large and interested congregations. In the morning the pastor spoke upon "The Grace of God That Bringeth Salvation," Titus 2:11-13, and at night on "Christ and Nicodemus". Next Sunday evening Mr. Butler announced that he will begin a series of sermons to the young men of Marion, taking for his subject next Sunday evening "Christ's Love for Young Men." The public cordially invited.

There will be no services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday. The pastor will be engaged in a meeting at Forest Grove school house.

The sermon at the Methodist church next Sunday will be especially to the children and young people. All invited.

Strayed.

Two red steers left my farm last May; crop off right and crop and half off left ear. One a deep red about 700 or over, the pale red one some larger, both a little stag-headed. Left at the same time but have separated. Will pay reasonable for their return or information as to their whereabouts.

School Benefit Entertainments.

The National Ladies Quartette, the first of the series, appeared in fine form on Tuesday evening of last week before a large and enthusiastic audience. These ladies all proved that they were complete masters of their art. The parts of both Miss Feasy as a Japanese belle and of Miss Cunningham as reader and accompanist were especially clever. As the season tickets had been sold for the entire course all that was taken in at the door was clear profit for the school library fund and amounted to about $20.00.

On Friday night, November 9, Dr. Edwin "Cyclone" Souther, the "Scrub Palm Philosopher" and "Florida Cracker" in his famous lecture, "If I Were the Devil," will appear as the second number of the series. Dr. Souther is famous as a chautauqua speaker and has been heard by the local management. He is more than a humorist, but a veritable philosopher who strikes greed, vice, pride and hypocrisy with such subtle satirical blows that one is compelled to think and never fails to go away with food for many reflection.

The Great Difference

In Fire Insurance Companies is not revealed by their names nor their claims. The day before the San Francisco disaster, all Fire Insurance Companies seemed alike to the thoughtless; there was a great difference nevertheless, and when the test came, some quibbled, some defaulted, while others drew on the reserve funds which they had ready for such a contingency, paid the large amounts due, and went right on.

All of our Companies have an enviable record of honest adjustment of San Francisco losses

Democrats of Livingston County Endorse W. F. Cowper for the Legislature

READ WHAT THEY HAVE TO SAY FOR "THE GOOD OF THE PARTY."

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF CRITTENDEN AND LIVINGSTON COUNTIES:—

We, the undersigned Democrats of Livingston county, would most respectfully submit for your careful and favorable consideration, the candidacy of our friend and fellow democrat, W. F. Cowper, for the Democratic nomination to represent the two counties in the lower house of the next General Assembly of the State of Kentucky. We most cheerfully state, not only in his behalf, but in the interest of the Democratic party of the two counties, that it is our honest opinion, that he can come nearer harmonizing all differences that have heretofore existed in the party in Livingston county, than any other man we know of in the county of Livingston.

We know that his democracy is of the purest type, and that he is in every way worthy of the support of every voter in the two counties. He has conducted himself in such a way as not to have incurred the ill will or enmity of anyone, and yet at the same time has given unstinted and loyal support to his party.

We appeal to all democrats in both counties, in the interest of harmony and good will, to support him in his ambition to secure the nomination, and we feel confident that you shall never, by any act of his, have cause to regret it.

We further state that none of us were candidates in the late Democratic primary or final election in Livingston county, and that we believe that the nomination of W. F. Cowper for the Legislature will result in good to the party.

The Democratic Executive Committee of Livingston County Endorses W. F. Cowper as a Worthy And Genuine Democrat

At a Meeting of the Democratic Executive Committee of Livingston County, August 27, 1906

We most heartily endorse the candidacy of our fellow countryman, W. F. Cowper, and we further endorse him as a most worthy and genuine Democrat, and in every way worthy of any honor the party may see proper to bestow upon him, and we most cheerfully and willingly recommend him to the favorable consideration of the Democracy of the two counties in his race for Representative.

Reply To "Some Reflections."

To the Editor of the Press.—

Mr. Editor: I noticed in the last issue of your paper an article headed "Some Reflections," which I think casts a dark reflection on the facts discussed. Such "Reflections" in State affairs would be called anarchy.
Is there any difference, can there be any difference in anarchy, whether applied to church or state? The answer is obvious, there can be no difference. Anarchy is the same the world over. Why is it that the persons who call themselves "Loyalists" persist in committing acts, make so many statements, and use so much printers ink, all of which reflect on true loyalty. It seems that the writer of this article tries to throw "mud," using terms commonly used in vituperative political harangue.
He says: "In this union the parting of the ways was forced by aggression, desire for numerical strength." Any one can make statements, but can these be proven? He does not do so in this article, neither do I believe that he or any one else can prove such assertions. The reference to "Foot notes" is simply preposterous, for it is presumption on the ignorance of the uninformed readers of his article. For every one who wants to know can easily find out.
The wonder is how any intelligent person could have failed to find out, even by a casual scanning of the secular press, that there were "Chapters" added to the Westminster Confession of Faith. The writer of "Reflections" says: "I believe in majority rule." Do his acts show it?

One son said: "I go sir" and went not. The other said: "I go not," but went and as commanded.

"A tree shall be known by its fruit." The Savior when upon earth by his teaching brought "discord" for there was even a majority that did not follow him. But was the tree bad? "Go sell all that thou hast and give to the poor," "was foot-note that did not" explain far enough away" the desire foreplace in the young man's heart. So it may be with some now. They fear there will be no place for them among men of education. So they try to make people believe that some one else is looking for place when in reality it is only the fear that they themselves will fail to find a place.

If the writer of "Reflections" does not want the settled vexed question, discussed why does he open the discussion by such vituperative insinuations? Like the lady who came in late at the meeting of the sewing society, every body was talking, of course, but all must stop for her benefit, so she could catch up.
Her question was: "Who said what?"

Relation of Blood Circulation to Health

By SIR JAMES BARR,
Senior Physician to Liverpool Royal Infirmary.

A WELL balanced circulation of the blood is a necessity for the maintenance of life and health, and only with healthy blood vessels can a man hope to retain his mental and bodily vigor, and expect to attain a green old age. The capillaries through which the interchange of nutritive pabulum and gases take place between the blood and tissues, play a most important role in the animal economy. Yet they have received very inadequate attention from clinicians. Perhaps it has been thought that their structure and position could be so briefly described that any circumspection in their description was unnecessary. But however simple their structure, and however apparent their functions, they constitute a vast filter bed for conveying nutritive material and oxygen to the tissues and for removing waste products therefrom. A careful study of how these changes take place, and how the functions of these little tubes are carried on, has always seemed to me a matter of as much importance as even the action of the heart itself.

The capillary bed is a vast territory which pervades every tissue and organ of the body, and so numerous are these little vessels that it would be difficult to stick the point of a needle in any vascular area without wounding one or more, but in neurotic individuals you may wound many such vessels without drawing blood. In every plethoric individual and in cases of polycythemia the capillaries of the body are fairly replete, but in ordinary mortals, especially in those of neurotic temperament, perhaps not a third of the capillaries are full at any one moment; the capillary pressure in the foot even when immobilized is often less than that in the hand and much less than that in a frog-blossomed nose. This is entirely due to the wonderful mechanism of the vasomotor system.

Some people are very liable to cold feet in bed, and such appendages to a lady seem to have led up to a divorce in the United States of America. In such cases the part may be fairly comfortable before going to bed, but once the horizontal posture is assumed the arterial pressure and capillary velocity fall, there is not a sufficient amount of fuel carried to the extremities to keep the large cooling surface warm. Here the defect is in the initial energy, and besides improving the general arterial pressure, it would be advantageous to keep the feet much lower than the head and shoulders. Possibly if the lady had been under medical treatment she might have conserved her own comfort, preserved the affection of her husband (though she might not have thought the affection of the brute worth preserving), and saved the notoriety of the divorce court.

The Fool and His Money

By CARRIE DE MAR,
Well-Known New York Soubrette.

It was directed—or seemed to be directed; perhaps they were doing some moralizing for themselves. However this may be, it is not going to do much good—this moralizing, I mean. Moralizing, as I look at it, is a subjective, intangible thing—the weapon of the casuist and the policy of aggression pursued by the sophist.

Were it not better at times like this to be objective—that is, to say or write, or at least think, something that is measurable and applicable in the same way that a coat of whitewash or a gob of soapuds is applicable? What is the use, for instance, in dwelling on the folly of the brainy, brawny ironmaster or shipping merchant or banker or what not who rears his son in idleness, luxury, ease and that sort of "independence" that is the most slavish form of downright dependence? Fathers will go on making money and leaving it to sons as long as the world goes round. There's nothing in blaming dead fathers or in talking the Decalogue to living, live-wire sons. Point out to the latter, when the chance comes, how others see them; that sort of ridicule will tell.

Thus, what must be the feelings of that prodigal who, having proved himself a fat-headed calf, gets into trouble, to find that those on whom he had lavished his attentions and professed his utter lack of intentions are the ones who regard him with the most contempt? What sort of myopia is it that blinds an educated, cultured young American or Englishman of to-day, when newspapers are served with the breakfast and other forms of the world's thought and experience with luncheon and dinner, to the fact that he is the antithesis of a hero in the eyes of the will-o-the-wisps of the show-girl line and the chorus?

A Defense of the Modern Woman

By EDITH CORY,
Prominent English Woman.

And though they hardly require a defense, I want to point out that there are a few compensating advantages even to the alleged decay of domesticity.

There is no doubt that women of the upper middle class have now more leisure than they ever had, and we must look to this class for modern developments. Nowadays the morning visit of the tradesman's cart, the production in bakeries and factories of things formerly made at home, the telegraph, the telephone, the cooperative stores, have so lightened household work that for a woman to spend her whole time in the care and management of her home would be absurd. Housekeeping has been reduced to a minimum, and middle class women having thus leisure from home duties, have found fresh channels for work and play.

Games, for women, are a development of the last 30 years. Tennis, hockey, cricket and golf have taken the place of indoor sedentary pastimes, and it must be admitted that the modern mother gains enormously in moral influence by being able to understand her son's games and appreciate his keenness at them. She, who formerly mourned as a "golf widow," may now by industry attain proficiency in her husband's game, and in consequence, be not only able to tolerate his golf "shop," but even lead him eventually by three up, with the aid of a stroke a hole and a little inaccuracy in scoring!

Cedar Brook Debating Society.

The society met at Oakland Saturday night, October 20, and was called to order at 7:30 by President Terry. E. B. Newcomb, chairman; Fred Hilliard, secretary. After order was called the minutes were read and adopted. The subject for discussion was: Resolved, that the printing press has done a greater service to mankind than the steam engine. The speakers were: Affirmative—Edward Stone, E. R. Newcomb, E. D. Reynolds. Negative—A. L. Stone, F. D. Stone, Fred Hilliard. After the subject was discussed the judges rendered the decision in favor of the affirmative. The society adjourned to meet Saturday night, November 5.

Nervous Worn-Out

If you are in this condition, your nerve force is weak—the power is giving out, the organs of your body have "slowed up," and do their work imperfectly. This failure to do the work required, clogs the system and brings distress and disease. When the nerves are weak the heart is unable to force the life-giving blood through your veins; the stomach fails to digest food; the kidneys lack power to filter impurities from the blood, and the poisonous waste remains in the system to breed disease. Nerve energy must be restored. Dr. Miles' Nerve will do it, because it strengthens the nerves; it is a nerve medicine and tonic, that rebuilds the entire nervous system.

"Several years ago I was all broken down, I was nervous, worn-out, could not sleep, and was in constant pain. I doctored for months, and finally the doctor said he could do nothing for me. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nerve, and I became strong and healthy, and now weigh 170 pounds."—H. C. CUNNINGHAM, 198 Ellsworth Ave., Allegheny, Pa.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first bottle will benefit. If it fails, he will refund your money.

NOTES AND RINGS.

MARION GRADED SCHOOL.

Prof. Kee on Thursday morning accompanied us through the different rooms and departments of the Marion graded school building. "Come in here," said the professor, and we found ourselves in the third grade room, Miss Caroline Harris, teacher. Everything was in fine taste. Here we found drawings of horse heads, geese, cats, dogs, rolling pins, buckets and other fine stencil work, all showing up to fine advantage. "Now come this way," and we entered the fourth grade room, Miss Ethel Hard, teacher. Here we found drawings of the skull, chickens, rabbits, apples, potatoes, all showing skillful work. He gave our sleeve a pull and said "come into this room." Here we found maps, pictures, etc. In this way we past from the first to the eighth grade and from all appearance there is fine work being done in all the departments. In the high school department, Prof. Victor Kee, teacher, we pulled a ring and out rolled a fine map of LeBello, size 40x40 inches, and we touched another ring and out rolled another map of the world, size 70x30 inches. Other aids and devices for teaching filled every department. Then he said, "come into the library." The present management of the school has added about 300 books, making a total number of 2,300. Among the oldest books in this great collection is "Jackson's Christian Legacy" and "Graves and Brown's Debate".

We noticed in every department of this immense school building everything was neat and in good order, which indicated to our mind care and attention to every detail. Every teacher and citizen of Crittenden county should feel proud of our graded school located at our county seat within reach of our home people and wherever and whenever we can we should speak a word for the Marion graded schools.

MORE CLIPPINGS FROM TEACHERS INSTITUTE.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.
Singing—My Old Kentucky Home.

Prof. Kee made some announcements concerning the Marion public schools followed by J. B. McNeely, who highly recommended the Marion graded school for the consideration of pupils who wish to attend a school of high order.

Civics were discussed by T. F. Newcomb. He would teach civics in connection with history and geography.

Comparison of state and national government by E. E. Phillips. He brought out the fact of the relation of the state and national constitution. He brought out some good principles. Followed by Marion Richards. She showed that the state government is founded upon the constitution of the United States.

Citizenship, by L. C. Morgan. He read an excellent paper setting forth the duty of citizenship. Followed by J. C. Hardin, who read another good paper on the subject.

Importance of local civics. M. C. Smart said he would begin by teaching the government of the home, school, county, state and then the national government.

Miss Jennie Clement advanced some practical thoughts on the importance of teaching current events.

The question was asked, who is a good citizen? Answer, one who is true to himself, his country and his God.

Dr. Frayser being present he was called on to address the institute. He said in part: Each teacher should be a sanitarian and called the teachers' attention to the fact of hereditary and infectious diseases. He spoke of tuberculosis and how it can be prevented to some extent. One-seventh of the people who die in Kentucky come to their death by some form of tuberculosis. In the state of Kentucky during the last ten years we have had 200 people to die of small pox, 1,100 have died of some tuberculous disease and he appealed to every teacher to use every sanitary precaution to prevent this plague.

School exhibits were fully discussed by Miss Fannie Gray. This work should not be an attempt to be perfect.

Reviews and examinations was discussed by the instructor. He made a strong talk on this point and produced five principals on education.

1. Principle of application. 2d. Cooperation. 3d. Gradation. 4. Illustration. 5. Repetition, and closed his talk by saying, "Review, review, review."

THURSDAY.

Reading of scripture by Rev. Andres. In his prayer he very feelingly asked God's blessing upon the teachers, county superintendent and the educational interests of Crittenden county.

Prof. Cherry then addressed the institute and held their close attention for an hour and forty minutes.

Geography by Miss Mattie Perry. She teaches all classes of geography and uses illustrations, teaching physical geography by beginning with the school ground, studies the map as a whole, then each state, uses object lessons outside of the text book.

Synthetic method by Miss Mary Towery. Begins with school house grounds, stories of little people in other countries.

Commercial geography by W. O. Wicker. He teaches the natural and artificial routes and products from each country.

Methods of geographical study was very thoroughly brought out by W. S. McChesney. Uses maps on the board, outlines. He makes one point a center, all directions from that products, minerals, etc.

Purposes of geographical study was discussed by Miss Sylvia Travis who brought out some fine thoughts on the purpose of the study.

Economics was ably discussed by Burl Woodson.

School government. Discipline was discussed by P. M. Warl. He said: "I am like the little boy; what I haven't in my head I have in my pocket. Discipline is good training; prepares us to be self governed and brings about good order."

School punishment was discussed by E. J. Travis. Punishment is inflicting pain upon a person for his good as well as for the good of others. We don't study so much as to how to punish as how to keep from it.

Superintendent Paris announced that the institute fee would be one dollar and four dimes.

FRIDAY.

Reading of scripture and prayer by Rev. Elgin.

Sensibilities, physical, psychological, sensation, instinct, emotions and affections were very clearly explained by the instructor.

History. Miss Edna Roberts teaches history in relation to other studies. Also by maps.

Its related studies by H. E. Miner. Geography and civil government. We need shorter methods. Followed by Miss Margaret Rankin. We need a combination of studies.

Ends to be attained. A. A. Fritta. History is a memory study. We should have frequent reviews and it should awaken a love for our country.

Uses of imagination in history by Misses Verda Quill and Myrtle Todd. Each read a fine paper on the subject. The instructor enforced this important feature in teaching history.

Miss Edna Roberts has pupils to bring out some important invention.

Physiology was next discussed by Dr. Vernon Fox. He teaches by outline and illustrated his method by a diagram on the board.

Physiology—Narcotics. A fine paper was read by Fred Stone. Miss Willie Carlous discussed accidents and poisons. Nervousness and its cause was discussed by Dr. L. F. Moore.

Interest and attention was discussed by the instructor. The pronunciation match was very interesting.

Some miscellaneous business and the institute closed by singing, "God be With you Till we Meet Again."

Prayer by Rev. Elgin and one of the best teachers institutes ever held in the county came to a close.

SUGAR GROVE.

The protracted meeting at this place closed Saturday night.

Albert Crayne is moving from here to the Pleasant Hill neighborhood this week.

DYCSBURG.

There are winds and waves on the Cumberland.

Dr. T. L. Phillips had a serious attack of heart failure during a visit to Paducah last week. He however recovered and returned to his home and duties.

Mrs. P. K. Cooksey after a pleasant visit to Louisville is at home again.

J. A. Graves is having all tomato cans labeled and shipped to Mound City. Mr. Graves has proved himself to be an excellent manager and the canning factory is said to have made a successful run this year. It is rumored that Mr. Polk, of Mound City, is tempted to the purchase of this excellent little plant at Dycusburg. If machinery that would can produce six months in the year were placed in the factory the financial advantage to the town and vicinity would count "way up in the figures." The tomato crop alone puts thousands of dollars in circulation.

An infant child, of Ed Henry was buried at the cemetery Friday.

Mr. J. R. Glass than whom we have no better citizen, has sold his home one mile from town to John Campbell. While we welcome the new, we are loath to part with the old and trust that Mr. and Mrs. Glass will decide to remain in our midst, nor is it intended here to intimate that these excellent people are on life's shady slope. It is only that would keep them.

Dr. H. Wolfe, of Salem, has been in Dycusburg the past week in the capacity of dentist.

It is reported that J. O. Charles, of Livingston county, while returning home from Dycusburg Saturday was seriously injured in a run-away.

Died Sunday Oct. 28th, at 2 o'clock a m. Wm. Mayes at his home five miles from Dycusburg after a long illness of tuberculosis. For several years he was a resident of this place and was a well known business man in this and adjoining counties. His sister, Mrs. Moran, of Dallas, Tex., and his brother Mr. Joe Mayes, of Mo., were with him in his last illness. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

Guy Richards has returned from Missouri.

Carl Glenn has purchased the Chas. Burks property an elegant little home. Consideration $500.

Hugh Graves left last week for Clifton, Tenn., where will board with his sister, Mrs. Aiken, and attend school.

W. L. Barnett is recuperating after an illness of several weeks.

Mrs. Dames, Laura and Ella Hill, of Tiline, were the guests of Mrs. W. E. Charles last week.

Our country is progressing rapidly.

Some few on the sick list; Johnnie Roberts and Mrs. O'Neal, both improving.

Don't come in this country, if you don't want to be joked.

The telephones are a great help to the people here, cave-dropping carries the day.

All of the people are interested in our good meeting at Crayneville.

Our school is progressing nicely.

Mr. Loyd killed the fattest calf for the meeting.

We hope to see some items in this paper every week from these parts.

H. B. Bennett and family, spent Sunday in Livingston with his daughter, Mrs. J. R. Wells.

James Lowery who has been sojourning for a time in La., is stopping with his brother, Ed Lowery of this place.

Mrs. H. B. Burnett has placed in her home an elegant new piano.

A show boat, Water Lily has been moved to our landing the past week. Music, moving pictures and a social time for the young people were the features.

Mrs. J. B. Clifton is in poor health.

Mrs. L. D. Vosier, after a short visit home, has returned to Nashville where her husband is taking a course in school.

NEW SALEM.

We are on deck again.

Corn gathering in full blast.

Ruben Wheeler is on the sick list, and under the care of a doctor.

The present crop of tobacco nearly all sold at good prices.

Frank James has moved near New Salem, on the W. S. Lowery farm.

John Harpending returned from Louisville Saturday.

Uncle Fred Caperton and his aged wife have moved to Cypress, Ill.

The protracted meeting at New Salem church last Sunday, the meeting was conducted by Rev. Price, King and Lowery.

Our farmers will have to commence feeding early this fall, owing to the early frost.

Allen Watson has moved from Caseyville, to his farm near New Salem.

A child of Cecal Watson, who lives at Fair View, Ill., was buried at Tyner's Chapel last Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Watson have the sympathy of their many friends in the loss of their little one.

With plenty of corn, and a fine tobacco crop sold at good prices, the farmers ought to feel pretty independent.
