Mrs. W. J. Stone and Bob Dorroh Buried at New Bethel Same Day

LITTLE CHILD DIES FROM OPERATION

Lynn Boyd, the seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Suttleworth died Friday morning October 26th, at 6:30 o'clock, in Evansville. He was born January 30th, 1900.

He was taken ill Sunday. On Wednesday, the disease was pronounced appendicitis and he was removed to the Deaconess Hospital where an operation was performed. Just as soon as the appendix was removed it was seen there was an abscess formed round it. He rallied from the operation but poison from the abscess so weakened him that he soon died, living only forty hours.

He was a bright little fellow and the only child. His mother who was formerly Miss Maggie Easley, and father, Mr. Suttleworth, were reared in this county.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist church Saturday afternoon at one o'clock, conducted by Rev. Virgil Elgin and the interment at the new cemetery.

George Thomas Mayes, a highly respected citizen of this county, died Tuesday.

He was born Oct. 18, 1815, in this county, where he has always lived. He was married three times, all of his wives having preceded him to the grave. He had been a member of the Presbyterian church for a number of years and was an elder in that church for some time before his death.

Rev. Ben Andrews conducted the funeral services at the Presbyterian church. The burial was at the old cemetery in this city.

Louisville Letter

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 20, 1906.
To the Editor of THE RECORD,
DEAR SIR:—Allow, if you please, one who is a subscriber to your valued publication, to "chirp in" for a few minutes, to second your various motions for the betterment of Marion and the mining district. In the first place, your suggestion of the organizing of a Commercial Club (perhaps I should say a renewal of the old club, for I understand previous to the big fire there was in force such an institution) is a splendid one and should be accepted with much enthusiasm by every male citizen within the corporate limits, of your beautiful city. I might suggest that in addition to the regular Commercial Club, that there be organized an auxiliary Club composed of the ladies of Marion and the purpose and efforts of their organization should be in the same direction as that of the regular club composed of the opposite sex, only that their efforts should be in the direction of making a beautiful Marion, also to keep in touch with the educational institutions and the like. You know our good women are a power and can accomplish anything if they will pull together.

Now, as to your county affairs, only recently I had the pleasure to pay Crittenden county a visit, and during my six or seven weeks stay, by paying close attention I observed some things that struck me most forcibly. The subject (of vast interest to mine owners) of my observation was the very, very poor roads that exist in your county and I wondered whether your good residents were ever asked to pay any taxes. Now I should think that these conditions can be greatly improved. Here is where your Commercial Club and Ladies Auxiliary could do wonders. For instance, say out of the taxes collected each year, the proper authorities set aside out of the county road fund, a certain proportion to be expended for the building of pikes or macadam roads. No matter how small the distance each year, still the pikes would gradually take the place of the bad dirt roads. I believe I could voice the sentiment of the whole district, when I say that every mine owner would be more than willing to supply all the rock from their dump piles to the county road authorities, which in itself would be a great saving. Then again, instead of the citizens doing as they usually do during certain seasons of the year, that is, lend their assistance or a substitute to work their roads so many days each season. Let a certain number out of each district haul rock from the nearest mine and then let the rest break and scatter them. Of course this is only a crude suggestion, but it may be the beginning of a discussion and out of discussion come a more perfect plan.

Keep up your good work of encouragement to outside capital, fan the spirit of a Greater Marion into a glowing, burning, blazing fire. Make each individual feel his importance in that making and it won't be long before everyone will be saying, "My! but isn't Marion growing!" There seems to be an absence of true pride for the district. Put ginger into your business and professional life. Whoop them up, if they don't toe the mark with their part tell your inhabitants about the dead ones. Publicity will awaken them. Let everybody in business support the newspapers by liberality in advertising and getting more subscribers. Everybody on the hustle for six months and see whether or not these efforts are in vain.

Let Marion help the mining men—the owners—to get good roads, in return for the many dollars she gets directly and indirectly from their pockets. Let them stop to consider what good roads mean and no doubt they will put their shoulders to the wheel for all they are worth.

I would be greatly obliged to you indeed, Mr. Editor, if you would publish a strong notice along the lines set out herein and let our mine owners see what we might expect in the future for our money expended, whether to continue to patronize without anything in return. It is time, I for one think, that life be put into this subject and that we get some results for our outlay. With very best wishes, I beg to remain,
Very truly yours,
ZINC, LEAD & FLUORSPAR CO.

Good Meeting

There is a protracted meeting in progress at the Crayneville church, conducted by the pastor Rev. W. T. Oakley. The singing is conducted by Mr. Woodall.

There is quite an interest being manifested. There has been twenty conversion and several additions to the church.

The congregations are so large that the house will not accommodate them.

WILL TRAVEL FIFTEEN YEARS

Edison Solves the Problem of Economical Power

WILL MAKE AUTOS CHEAP

Inventor Describes Long Search for Metal Which Ends in Success

THE HORSE WILL BE A CURIOSITY

New York, Oct. 31.—Thomas A. Edison has accomplished a surprise for the world. He has worked out successfully the problem of cheap power. He promises to put on the market within six months a new storage battery which will enable every man to travel in his own private carriage at about the cost of car fare. Without danger, without breakdowns, without cost, almost a carriage, once supplied with the new power for $200 will travel without repairs for fifteen years, for 100,000 miles if necessary, says the wizard.

Mr. Edison reiterates the declaration that he has invented a storage battery which will solve the problem of congested traffic in the big cities of the world as soon as he can manufacture enough of the batteries. He is erecting two large factory buildings, now nearly completed, and is installing in them new machinery especially for the manufacture of the motor battery.

SAYS THE HORSE IS DOOMED

"Fifteen from now the horse will be a curiosity; we shall be paying 50c cents to look at him in side shows," said Mr. Edison to an interviewer.

"Last year you were sure you had solved this problem?" he was reminded.
"Yes, last year I was sure," replied Mr. Edison, "but now I am dead sure. There is a difference between the two. It's one thing, for instance, to be sure, and another thing to be—Wall street sure."

For three years 25,000 storage batteries have been constantly at work in the test shops of the Edison plant at Orange, N. J.

"I never believed that nature, so prolific of resources, could provide only lead as a material ingredient of the battery," said Mr. Edison. "I have always found her ready for any emergency, and based on this confidence that she has never betrayed, I commenced diligently with her. Then I thought I had accomplished the task. But he hasn't to the satisfaction of his commercial instinct. The question of the weight of the battery was most important as was that of durability."

COBALT SOLVES PROBLEM

Nickel rust failed, other things failed everything the ingenious Edison, with his trained, scientific mind, could conceive failed.

"Then I tried cobalt," he said, and punctuated the statement with a broad smile.

"And it worked?"
"It certainly did, but cobalt being one of the rare metals the problem was not solved. I scoured the country to find cobalt in sufficient quantities to warrant its use and discovered lots of it in Canada, in Wisconsin, in Oregon and in Kentucky. Then I knew that I was all right."

"What are you working at now in connection with this phase of the discovery?"

"One of the most difficult problems in metallurgy is to separate cobalt from the ores with which it is associated. At present it is done only at a great expense, and so for the last few months we have been devising a plan of getting cobalt out of the ore cheaply within a ratio of cost already calculated for the price of each cell."

SUCCESS COMES AT LAST

"And you have succeeded?"

"Completely. I can positively promise that the new battery will be on the market in the spring. The factory buildings are ready and the machinery is being installed."

"But there may be some surprise that nature is holding back that will interfere?"

"Absolutely none. I haven't kept 25,000 batteries working for three years without discounting all chances of failure."

The actual cost of recharging the new battery is a matter of a few cents per cell, the greatest achievement being in making it light in weight, in compact shape and above all, durable.

The new storage battery is not designed for fast automobiles.

"But I am not an automobile manufacturer, and I have thought only of solving the problem of street traffic, which is serious in all the great cities of the world," says Edison.

Good Salaries

In order to fill vacancies in the drafting departments of the government, the Civil Service Commissioner at Louisville, O. A. Beckham, announces examinations November 20, 21 and 22 for the following: Twenty architectural draftsmen (male), $1,400 to $1,800 per annum; thirty-eight junior architectural draftsmen (male) $840 to $1,200 per annum; two engineer draftsmen (structural), male $1,600 to $1,800 per annum; five electrical draftsmen and engineers (male) $1,200 to $1,600 per annum; five heating and ventilating draftsmen (male) $1,200 to $1,600 per annum, and one junior architectural draftsman (male, Bureau of Animal Industry) $900 per annum.

Examinations from which to select several assistants in the Philippine service will be held November 30 and December 1. College graduates are required, and entrance salaries are $1,200 per year.

HAPPENINGS IN THE MINING DISTRICT

Work Being Pushed on the Leander
White Property

The Memphis mine is steadily raising their output of No. 1. spar.

Shipments of spar from Mexico during the past week have been above the average.

The stock of spar now on the railroad will not last much longer than Feb. 1st, 1907.

The Edwards Mining Company are hard at work sinking a shaft on their valuable property.

The Marion Mineral Company have just shipped another car of carbonate from their Miller mine.

The steam plant at the Tabor mine is at work and mining nicely. No end to the spar at this mine.

A number of capitalists have been here during the week looking over the district with a view of investing.

The steam plant at the Asbridge mine will be ready for work early the coming week. This is one of the finest mines in the Frances district.

The estimate for a supply of spar for 1907 consumption will be nearly forty thousand tons, and Kentucky is expected to furnish nearly all of it.

The Nancy Hanks people shipped a car load of ground spar and have wagons hauling in for another shipment. Oh for a railroad to open up the Salem district.

The Leander Mining Company are pushing work on their property and the showing made is far beyond the expectations. Watch this company, they will soon be one among the dividend payers.

The Beauty Doctor

The offering of the new Walls Bijou theatre at Evansville for the coming week is The Beauty Doctor, which is booked for Sunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th. It is a dashing musical comedy with Will Feltrock and the entire original company and is a regular $1 production, but will be presented at the new theatre's popular prices 15c to 50c. Mail orders for seats will receive prompt attention.

CAREER OF L. A. GOURDAIN

Has Been Like a Falling Star

WAS CLERK 20 YEARS AGO

Nearly Ruined the Famous Louisiana
State Lottery

TALKS OF BUILDING PRIVATE JAIL

The readers of the RECORD will remember several issues back we published a picture of a jail to be built by the man who hoped to be the only inmate. This man was:

Louis A. Gourdain, the emaciated, luminous eyed parchment-skinned boaster, who has succeeded in keeping himself before the public for upward of three weeks by trying to get himself reincarcerated in prison, has an interesting history. He claims many things that doubtless are not true. He is offended because the authorities refuse to send him to prison while he is out on bail, and talks of building a private jail himself, that he may serve time for evil transactions. The most interesting that is laid to him in the way in which he nearly put the Louisiana State Lottery out of business by counterfeiting the tickets of that notorious concern, writes a correspondent of the New World.

The history of the man as outlined by himself, commences with his birth 40 years ago at Thibideau, La. At 17 he entered the banking and commission business of his brother. He was a son he says, of a colonel in the famous Louisiana Tigers, a crack military organization of the south. Incidentally, he does not make this boast when he is in the south, because of bodily harm that might come to him.

Twenty years ago he was a clerk in New Orleans State Lottery. At that time the lottery was running wide open, because stringent laws had not been enacted against it. Gourdain got $15 a week. This did not satisfy him and he quit the business and outlined a plan to a man who had a little capital. It was to run a fake opposition lottery.

They hired a room, printed a few million lottery tickets, purporting to be of the Louisiana Grand Lottery, and sent them out to all parts of the country, in $20 packages. These packages were directed to men in each community who were told to sell them and keep 20 per cent of the money and forward the balance to Gourdain before the date of the alleged drawing.

In each package was one ticket in a separate envelope. An accompanying note stated that this ticket was intended for some man in the community whose drawing a large prize would cause a sensation and make customers for the lottery. The agent was told to keep a half interest in the ticket himself. The result was that the agent would keep the whole ticket and forward the money to Gourdain. From this scheme Gourdain made $250,000 before the police raided him and drove him out.

It was when Gourdain's money was running low that he evolved his scheme and formed a combination with John H. Dalton, a Chicago man, and a New Orleans man, who since has risen to such prominence in the community that his name has ceased to be mentioned in the connection.

Gourdain came to Chicago and negotiated with a printer for the manufacture of 4,000,000 lottery tickets counterfeiting those of the Louisiana State Company. This was in 1892.

Dalton's history up to that time is unknown. He was a German who had changed his name, and mystery shrouded his past. Gourdain established headquarters in New York, Chicago and New Orleans, taking charge of the eastern office himself, leaving Dalton in charge in Chicago and allowing the third partner to handle the New Orleans headquarters.

The firm name assumed for the purposes of the fraud was W. L. Jackson & Co., New Orleans.

The 4,000,000 counterfeit tickets were made up into packages containing from $20 to $100 worth each. Into each bundle went a circular letter, the tenor of which was as follows:

"Dear Sir: No matter how old and well established may be, the time comes when it requires advertising, and we have chosen this means of advertising our goods. You have been recommended to us as a proper person to act as our agent.

We are sending you a package containing $100 of our tickets, which you will sell, retain 20 per cent and forward balance to us. In a separate envelope you will find two fractional tickets bearing the number. This number will draw $10,000.

Keep one of these and give the other to a prominent citizen who will be willing to make affidavit that he drew a prize. If you as shrewd a person as we believe you to be, it is not necessary to send a hammer with this package to drive the point into your head."

Gourdain's theory that the supply of suckers was inexhaustible was vindicated. The returns began to come in by the bushel. The officers of the company whose tickets had been counterfeited raged and fumed. They finally sued out an injunction restraining the express company from delivering the money packages to Gourdain and his accomplices, and it is estimated that hundreds of thousands of dollars were sent back by the express company to the senders.

As it was, the proceed of the coup amounted far into the hundreds of thousands, and may have reached $1,000,000. Gourdain started a bank in New Orleans and began to hurl money away. He did not drink, gamble nor use tobacco. He did not indulge in any of the common vices or the unprincipled rich. But he "burned" money with a torch in each hand.

His eccentricities were construed as methodical madness for advertising purposes, but after he began to drive through the streets lolling in his sumptuous carriage, attired in his bath robe, he was "interdicted" and sent to the Louisiana retreat, or asylum for insane, where he was confined for a year.

After his release from the asylum he started another doubtful game and served six months in the Topeka jail. From there he drifted to New York and opened a bank. He was sent to Blackwell's Island for a year. Then he showed up at Omaha during the exposition. He was broke, and got $1,500 from a New Orleans man who was willing to risk the money on the promise that Gourdain would make him a millionaire. Dalton again joined him and they bought swamp land in Louisiana and sold it for oil land. They made a cool million out of the scheme.

Now Dalton and Gourdain are both headed for the penitentiary. Dalton besides being convicted with Gourdain for fraud, is under sentence for enticing young girls. It is apparent that Gourdain's attempt to break back into prison are made for some ulterior purpose, because to remain there when he was in it would only have been necessary to refuse to sign a bond for his release. All he has to do to get back is to get his partner, Jack Dalton, to surrender him on his bond. The government officials believe he is laying some new scheme against the time he gets out finally—for he is sure to serve his time.

IT CAN'T BE FOR MONEY

Salary Only $7.50 Per Year For all of His Time

Rev. T. C. Gabauer, of Henderson, Ky., passed through Marion a few days ago. He is employed to travel and work all of his time in the Sunday School cause. In the course of a conversation he made the statement that in Western Kentucky there are more than 100,000 children outside the influence of the Sunday School. He said "We need 1,000 more Sunday Schools in Western Kentucky. During my travels right lately, and not a thousand miles from old Crittenden county, I found a church that had 70 members and yet before last they paid their preacher $7.50. Last year they paid $55 and this year they propose to pay $80."

MARION RAILROAD BOYS

Now Working On The Illinois Central Railroad

Marion boys seem to be of the material best suited to the needs of the Illinois Central Railroad.

Last Saturday a son of the late N. B. Eddings was in town and stated that he was employed by the I. C. as a fireman. He used to be known as "Buster" Eddings and is well remembered by all. Mr. Nat B. Eddings married the sister of Dr. Joe H. Clark and Dr. J. Riall Clark.

Both Mr. Eddings and wife died in Marion and the family since has been somewhat scattered. "Buster" and Cass Eddings live in Evansville. One of their sisters lives in Henderson and one is the wife of Bert Crayne of near Crayneville. These are all that are left of the family.

Speaking of Marion boys on the Railroad "Buster" Eddings said Marion boys who are firing engines on the I. C. are as follows:—Will Morgan, Louis Ringo, Frank M. Doss, Harley Carnahan and myself.

Fireman on the I. C. have a better time, easier work and can make more money than fireman on any other road in the United States. I don't think I am doing anything hardly at all when I only make $80.00 per month. It is easy to make $100.00 per month if a man will just work and not lay off.

There are some other boys on the I. C. Buford Cardwell has charge of an engine as engineer, John Travis is a conductor and Cass Travis is flagging."

A Year of Blood

The year 1903 will long be remembered in the home of F. N. Tackey, of Alliance, Ky., as a year of blood; which flowed so copiously from Mr. Tackey's lungs that death seemed very near. He writes: "Severe bleeding from the lungs and a frightful cough had brought me at death's door, when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, with the astonishing result that after taking four bottles I was completely restored and as time has proven permanently cured." Guaranteed for Sore Lungs, Coughs and Colds, at Haynes & Taylor's drug store. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Going Springs

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lanham are visiting friends in Illinois this week.

Our school is progressing nicely with Miss Iva Hicklin as teacher.

Mrs. Bell James, of Paducah, is visiting her brother, Ira C. Hughes, and family.

Miss Carrie Hughes, of Paducah, visited her old home here last Sunday. Come again, Carrie, we are always glad to see you.

Seldon Driver, Harry Vaughn, Conie Ford and Ena Driver visited at Seven Springs last Saturday.

A good many of our young people are attending the protracted meeting at Repton this week.

John Terry is still making regular trips to Lone Star every Sunday to see his best girl.

Ira C. Hughes and family spent last Saturday night and Sunday with Aunt Susie Gass.

Corn and tobacco crops are good in this neighborhood, but the cane was damaged some by frost.

Republican Campaign Text-Book

A departure has been made in the Republican Campaign Text-Book just issued, in that its contents are wholly devoted to live issues, and these are treated in the briefest possible way, yet comprehensively enough to include all necessary facts and figures.

First, there is a general statement of the issues of 1906, followed by a brief review of Republican legislation in general and the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress in particular. The Railroad Rate Law, Pure Food Law, Free Alcohol Law, Employers' Liability Law and the Meat Inspection portion of the Agricultural Appropriation Law are given in full, as is Chairman Tawney's clear explanation of the appropriations.

The Labor question is next fully presented, followed by Representative Watson's exposition of Anti-Trust proceedings. About one hundred pages are given to the Tariff, Agriculture and Manufactures, and the tables showing the various phases of industrial activity. Among other subjects treated under the tariff are:

Protection and Free Trade, Customs Revenue, Foreign Commerce, Home Market and Internal Trade, Wages and Prices, Export Discounts, Reciprocity, Free Hides, Revision, etc., etc.

Some half hundred tables give official and authoritative figures down to the latest possible date. The work of the president and administration is then briefly presented, the condition and status of the Philippines, the Panama Canal, the Navy, Postal Service, Irrigation, etc., etc.

The President's letter to Representative Watson concludes the work, which has a copious index of over a dozen pages.

Scattered throughout the book are quotations from President Roosevelt and other Republican leaders. Among these is the extract from Senator Hanna's speech where he used the "stand pat" expression, it being the only instance in the Text-Book where the words "stand pat" are used. A page is given to Mr. Bryan and his views, with the comments of the New York World. A so-called "Prosperity Postscript" is added, giving treasury conditions, trade reports, etc., down to August 1.

For the first time in a political campaign, the Text-Book will have a general circulation, as together with other literature, it will be sent on receipt of one dollar by John C. Eversman, Assistant Treasurer, 1133 Broadway, New York.

Made Happy for Life

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent, St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' Dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters; and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor's drug store. Price 50c.

...THE TEACHERS INSTITUTE...

After the Institute came to order "School Management" was discussed, first in its organization by C. E. Thomas, second; study, by Miss Mary Moore and third in recitation by Rev. Price. Mr. Thomas thought that in organization the "Devotional Exercises," should not only come first every morning but be the basis for the day work. After the devotional exercises on first day have trustee give short talks and then try to place pupils in correct classes and assign suitable work. Miss Moore said, "be satisfied with nothing less than faithful study and attention by all." Instructor Price then gave some valuable advice on recitation and school management. Mr. Zed Bennett a visitor, gave an interesting talk on his experience in the management of schools showing that the school's management and success depended almost entirely on the teacher. The body as a whole then entered the discussion on school management and recitation, after which the instructor summed up and closed the work.

Adjournment by president.

WEDNESDAY MORNING

After a song the devotional exercises were conducted by Mr. P. M. Ward, a member of the institute. Each teacher answered the roll call with a good quotation. Rev. Price then commenced the days work with a short talk on "Training the Senses," impressing the teachers with the fact that every one of the special senses should have special training. He said that as the sense of the taste was so easily perverted, the teacher should teach the place of reishes, stimulants and food.

The first number of the regular program was the talk on "Arithmetic" by Mr. C. R. Newcom. Some of his best ideas were as follows:—Be patient, proceed slowly and begin teaching second year people from a text that is suited to their need. Always use plenty of mental arithmetic and use object work. Arithmetic has a practical and disciplinary value. Review often. Don't stay in text book and don't give class hard puzzles of no practical value to solve. Let child do the work but offer the correct help at the proper time.

Miss Bertha Moore placed on the black board, before the institute, two solutions of a problem, one in the neat form of analysis and the other in a way unfortunately very common, but in a very haphazard form. Nothing more than a picture was needed to convince everyone of the need of neatness in solutions. Mr. O. D. Spense, who spoke on the same subject, said that in order to have this neatness it was absolutely necessary to require even the youngest child to put all work in that form.

Here a heated discussion on neatness, technicality in statements and solutions took place.

Mr. O. L. Vick spoke of the need of original work in Arithmetic. In order to have children like the study present it to them in a reasonable manner, and for this result work in original methods and with original problems made by child.

After a discussion on the value of this work it was found that the remainder of the program must be postponed until after recess.

After recess the postponed work was first disposed of. Mr. R. C. Moore spoke of the sources of failure in arithmetic, they laid the blame on the teachers who failed to create interest and to teach "the whys." Not enough mental and practical work done, and analysis and review neglected. Miss Carrie Oliver and Mr. Richard McDowell spoke of the necessity of review in order to strengthen memory and accuracy and to lead the pupil to study something besides the recitation. They cautioned, however, against reviewing the same problems, and with same methods.

Miss Nannie Campbell spoke of business forms and how to teach them. These forms should not be taught until the fundamentals were first made thorough. Use the imagination in trade discount and such business arithmetic to enter large wholesale houses. Organize a bank and do real work. It makes arithmetic practical, therefore interesting. Do not fail to require the correct written forms.

Miss Minner believed penmanship to be very much neglected in our schools, the main fault lying with the teachers who did not know how to correctly teach it. Don't train one day and neglect it the next. Rev. Price said that both movement and form should be taught, form coming first in order and that the first year pupils should be drilled in position, penholding and spacing as well.

Miss Lena Woods in her practical

Robbing Yourself

That is just what you are doing when you fail to get regular and sufficient sleep. Your body requires this unconscious period for repair work; without it your nerve energy becomes exhausted, and you are tired, worn-out, nervous, excitable; have headache, neuralgia, indigestion, poor appetite, or other ailments caused by a lack of nerve force. Make it your business to sleep. If you are restless, take Dr. Miles' Nervine; it soothes and strengthens the nerves, and brings sweet, refreshing, life-giving sleep, and gives the organs power to work naturally. Try it to-day.

"I had a severe spell of fever, which left me in a very weak condition and very nervous. I had severe spells of headache and neuralgia, and could sleep but very little. Every effort that was made to recover my strength was of no avail until I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. After I commenced to take the Nervine my sleep was profound and restful, and the pains in my head, as well as the neuralgia pains, left me to a certain extent and I grew gradually better."

talk on "Drawing," proved it to be of a great educational value. It teaches observation and develops manual dexterity. It can be connected with geography and history, arithmetic and physiology and those studies helped. Have a drawing period. Teachers should develop their ability and use it in chalk talks.

After discussion by Rev. Price and institute on the merits of drawing and the need of it, the institute was adjourned until 1:30 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON.

The institute sang "My Old Kentucky Home," and the secretary called the roll. After a few remarks about Normal schools and Marion schools by Prof. Kee, Mr. J. B. McNeely and Rev. Price, the first number of the program was taken up.

Mr. T. F. Newcom believes that oral civics should be taught before the text book is taken up and that civics should always be taught in connection with geography and history, but not as civics. Make it interesting and let the child see that it is studying something near to it, and important.

Miss Marion Richards and Mr. E. E. Phillips gave a complete discussion of the state and national governments compared, and Mr. L. G. Morgan and J. C. Hardin told of citizenship, its conditions, rights and duties. The local civic condition should be made a matter of schoolroom study, said Mr. M. E. Smart. The institute and its instructor then discussed the teaching of civics and its importance to the future government of our country.

Miss Jennie Clement believes that the most interesting way of teaching civics is in the study of current events.

Questions by instructor, "What is a good citizen?" Institute's answer, "A good citizen is one who is true to himself, his country and his God." The teachers seemed to agree that the trouble with our present citizenship was commercialism and ignorance and that the remedy was the public school.

Dr. Frazer, of the Board of Health, being present was asked to make a talk to the teachers. He discussed the importance of teachers understanding sanitary science, and the increasing necessity of such knowledge. They should understand what measures to adopt in all cases of infectious and contagious diseases. Since tuberculosis has become so alarmingly prevalent and since no laws have been made by government it depends on the teacher and physician to in a measure protect our childhood. Watch the ventilation, use care in sweeping and dusting, force children to use individual cups and allow no expectoration on floor or grounds.

Recess.

Miss Frances Gray gave a valuable talk on "School Exhibits," which showed the teachers method and the pupils progress. Use uniform size paper, have them illustrated and embellished and mounted on cardboard. Have an exhibit of woods of county. Make relief maps of pulp. Have an exhibit of physiology object and life drawings and nature work.

Rev Price in his comments on exhibits said that in cases where parents would not help, the teacher should work by herself, but that any money spent in school exhibits was well spent.

Mr. Travis told of Arkansas' method of having teachers exchanging school exhibition work. Rev. Price made a plea for school libraries and better care for them, and then told of the Chautauqua Reading Circle and its value. He then gave and discussed five principles of teaching, as follows: Adaptation, cooperation, gradation, illustration and repetition.

The last work of the evening was a talk on the Bible, as being fundamental in its teaching principles, by Rev. Price.

Adjournment by president.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used only on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure and get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Haynes & Taylor, druggist. BITS OF BYPLAY.

The apostle, of Silver from Silver heights to starry heights, comes along with something frequently and the last was in this strain: "I heard a good old brother the other day close his prayers with this: 'Nothing believing, nothing doubting, and let us keep the Lord in the bottom of the seat of our affections.'"

The bright young man at table asked for a definition of a Prince, a monkey, a bald-headed man and an orphan. Of course they all gave it up and the bright young man had to answer. A Prince is an heir apparent. A monkey has a hairy parent. A bald-headed man has no hair apparent. An orphan has no hairy parent. Upon the perpe-tration of this hairy aged joke not a smile was noted. Only one sound broke the stillness, the table groaned.

It is a fine thing for any community to have good bank cashiers. Marion thinks she has two good ones. It is their place to be pleasant and affable and it is the general verdict that they are, except when a voice over the phone notifies the improvident and impecunious of overdrafts, drafts and other things that send a chill down the spinal column of some we know and others we could mention. But these 'some we know and others we could mention' have a day occasionally and the occasion occurred not long ago. It happened in the court house yard. Mr.
T. J. Yandell, cashier of the Marion Bank, stood near the fence and next to Mr. Jess McCaslin. The Browns were preaching and had just raised an umbrella and planted it on the ground bottom up to catch the money of those who would give to their cause. Mr.
Yandell said "Let us give something,
Jess." Mr. McCaslin said "All right
I will do as well as you, what are you going to give?" Mr. Yandell fished out a nickel and a fifty cent piece. He held the half in sight, but concealed the nickel in his hand intending to hold on to the half and drop the nickel. Mr.
McCaslin searched all his pockets and could not find but 30c. "I'll throw this in if you will yours." "All right,"
"You throw first." "No, you first."

"Let's throw together." "All right."
"Here goes." Mr. McCaslin dropped 30c. Mr. Yandell dropped his nickel and despite all he could do the half dollar slipped out of his hand and fell in the umbrella. He came right back over to the bank and ordered Mr.
Woods to "collect all those drafts or send them back."

Harvey Mulhall was all right. He is gone now and it is safe to tell. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Shrode were "setting up" to housekeeping. This little piece of furniture was simply lovely and that was grand and this little oil stove was so cute. Harvey Mulhall was going to live with them. Mr. and Mrs. Shrode and Harvey were all planning what each was to do. Mr. Shrode's work should be this and Mrs. Shrode's that and now Harvey, what will you do?
"I'll carry wood for your oil stove," said Harvey.

"It is better born lucky than rich."
So thinks Uncle Joseph W. Adams.
Oct. 10th he had a birthday and on that day some good friends ordered the coal man to deliver 200 bushels of good coal into his coal house and the aforesaid good friend would pay the bill. If we had a dozen guesses as to who Uncle Joe's friend was we would guess one man a dozen times.

AMONG OUR CHURCHES

The Sermon at the Presbyterian church last Sunday was on the subject of "Inspiration." It was an exposition of the Westminster Standards on the doctrine. The text was 2 Tim. 3. 16. "All scripture is given by inspiration of God." The subject was treated under the following heads: The nature of the scriptures. Nature is not sufficient to teach man the way to God, hence God has given man the light of Revelation. This includes the doctrine of inspiration, which was taken for the subject of the evening sermon. The scriptures have the authority of God. This was the claim and they made it good by the wonderful productions they had given us. The contents of scripture were next discussed, this was done under the answer to the question of Shorter Catechism, "What do the Scriptures principally teach? The scriptures generally teach what a man is to believe concerning God, and what duty God requires of man." The sermon at night was the doctrine "Inspiration." A statement of the doctrine was given, and then a proof was established from the fulfillment of prophecy, that scripture is inspired.

Rev. J. H. Butler preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening.
The morning text is found in Titus 2; 11-12-13. The subject "The grace that bringeth salvation" was divided into three thoughts, 1st nature of this grace, 2nd appearance of this grace, 3rd teaching of this grace.
In the evening the first 21 verses of third chapter of John were read as a lesson. The interview between Jesus and Nicodemus was discussed. The time of the interview was at night and the subjects were; 1st The new birth, 2nd Christ's mission, 3rd. Condition of unbelievers, 4th. Eternal life and how to obtain it.
The result of this interview was the conviction, conversion and salvation of Nicodemus.

Text at the Methodist Church Sunday morning was Col. 1:28, "whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom, that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus."
The theme, the substance, manner and purpose of gospel preaching.
1st—Substance, "Whom we preach" (1) present personal Christ, (2) Human, (3) Divine, (4) Deliver.
2nd—Name of preaching, (1) Warning every man; (2) Teaching, etc.
3rd—The purpose, perfection of character, "That we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus."
Services every Sunday at 11, a. m. and 7 p. m. All cordially invited.

The new Church at Pleasant Hill will be dedicated, Sunday November 11th, 1906.
The dedicating sermon will be preached by Elder J. L. Paris, assisted by Elder J. R. Clark. The other part of the services will be conducted by Elders W. F. Paris and J. A. Hunt.
An opportunity will be given to all who wish to make a free will offering. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the services.
Hallow'een Entertainment
Mr. and Mrs. John L. Shrode very delightfully entertained a few friends on Hallow'een night.
Several contests were engaged in and the fortunes of all the guests were told.
Some "spooks" slipped into the dining room and devoured the lunch so that part of the program was left off.
The guests were: Misses Nelle Love, Susie Gilbert, Atta Copher, Ora Hedges, Mabel Guess, Pearl Doss, Neil Cassitt, Maude Hurley and Mrs. J. W. Flynn. Messrs. Claude Lamb, Creed Taylor, Bruce Babb, Chastain Haynes, John Sedbury, Clarence Franks, Virgil Carleton and Alvis Stephens.
W. H. Walker has just arrived from Princeton, Ky., where he attended the meeting of the Synod of the Presbyterian church U. S. A., and he says it was the most conservative, dignified and intellectual deliberative assembly he ever attended.

Eighty-two Counties "Dry"

The following statement is given out by Rev. C. L. Collins, district superintendent of the Kentucky Anti-Saloon League, showing the result of local option elections held in the state since the county unit law became effective on June 11, 1906. The table shows the territory and population affected.

DRY VICTORIES

Counties.	Population.
Henry	14,62
Washington	14,17
Union	20,32
Lincoln	17,05
Trigg	14,07
Hardin	22,93
Woodford	13,13
Simpson	11,62

Total	165,57

WET VICTORIES.

In the same time the wets won the following contests:

Georgetown.
Nelson county 16,587 population.
Russellville.
Jefferson county precincts.
Mt. Sterling, two wards.

There are now eighty-two of 119 counties in Kentucky that have voted dry. Meade, Hancock and Edmonson are to vote soon. All the elections shown above except Henry county, Harrodsburg and Georgetown have been held since August 25.

Preventics, as the name implies, prevent all Colds and Grippe when "taken at the sneeze stage."

Preventics are toothsome candy tablets. Preventics dissipate all colds quickly, and taken early, when you first feel that a cold is coming, they check and prevent them. Preventics are thoroughly safe for children, and effective for adults. Sold and recommended in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes by Haynes & Taylor.

When the tip of a dog's nose is cold and moist, that dog is not sick. A feverish dry nose means sickness with a dog. And so with the human lips. Dry cracked and colorless lips mean feverishness, and are as well ill appearing. To have beautiful, pink, velvet-like lips apply at bedtime a coating of Dr. Shoop's Green Salve. It will soften and heal any skin ailment. Get a free trial box at our store and be convinced. Large nickel capped glass jars, 25c at Haynes & Taylor's.

To Consumptives.

The undersigned having been restored to health by simple means, after suffering for several years with a severe lung affection, and that dread disease Consumption, is anxious to make known to his fellow sufferers the means of cure. To those who desire it, he will cheerfully send (free of charge) a copy of the prescription used, which they will find a sure cure for Consumption, all Asthma Catarrh, Bronchitis and all throat and lung Maladies. He hopes all sufferers will try his remedy, as it is invaluable. Those desiring the prescription, which will cost them nothing, and may prove a blessing, will please address Rev. Edward A. Wilson, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ELECTRIC BITTERS THE BEST FOR BILIOUSNESS AND KIDNEYS.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

For something new, nice, economical and effective, try a box of

Lax-ets

For a Limited Time We Offer For Only $1,100

A residence of four rooms, hall, veranda and back porch, rooms are all 16 x 16 feet and cistern on back porch. This property includes one acre of ground, and good stable 10 x 30 feet. All under good fence with red cedar posts.

This Fine Farm Is a Rare Bargain at Only $525

A farm consisting of seventy-five acres, with two small houses, a stable, stock barn; a small orchard consisting of about 40 trees; good well and spring with lasting water. The owner of this property received as rent on same last year $200. If taken at once, this farm can be bought for $525, one-third cash, the balance payable in one and two years with six per cent interest.

We Offer This Land For $550

We have four acres of land all lying in the city limits of Marion, Ky., located on a good street and in one of the best neighborhoods in the city. Land is level and can be laid off in building lots so that the purchaser can double the money invested in a short time.

This Farm For Only $1,800

200 acres of fine land within 2 1/2 miles of Marion, on public road within one mile of good school; residence and out buildings, fine well, branch runs through farm and furnishes water the entire year. This land is limestone soil, lays well and produces well; suitable for corn, wheat, oats, tobacco or hay. Under good fence and has some fine timber on it.

For the Present We Offer This Farm For 2,850

A fine bottom farm of 18 1/2 acres within two miles of Ford Ferry, Kentucky, within half mile of Baptist church and one mile of good school; good frame residence, stable, poultry house and other out buildings, cistern in yard, two fine springs on the farm that never fail to furnish water; Crooked creek runs through the entire farm. This land will produce as fine corn as most any land in Crittenden county and is a fine hay farm. This will make one of the best stock farms in Crittenden county.

HOSPITAL PHYSICIANS SAID:
"IT WOULD DELIGHT US TO FIND SOMETHING TO CURE THIS DEAR OLD SUFFERER."

Mr. E. W. ROSE, St. Louis, Mo.
RICHMOND, IND., Nov. 20, 1906.
DEAR SIR: The charity patient in whom I am so much interested was seventy years old at the time that she began the use of "Zemo," and her weight was 130 lbs. Her health has been poor for some time past, and suffering mainly from eczema, according to the diagnosis of the doctors in attendance. She has been a hard worker all her life, having made the living for her family keeping bookbinders. Somewhat over a year ago eczema began to trouble her. It gradually grew worse and worse until her entire body was affected, the legs being a mass of sores constantly oozing. The itching and burning sensation was so dreadful at times that it was impossible for her to sleep day or night. The doctors (two of our best) pronounced the case incurable, and when I asked permission to use "Zemo," promptly said, "It would delight us to find something to cure this dear old sufferer." "Zemo" was first used on the upper part of the body and soon relieved the patient of the terrible distress caused by the itching and burning. The doctors had been dressing the legs every day, but as soon as they saw the wonderful change in the skin where "Zemo" had been used, they gave up the treatment and used no more. Gradually they began to improve and are now almost as smooth as the face. It was probably about a month before much relief was experienced in this part of the body, then skin scaled off, itching, burning and aching gradually ceased. It seems now as if a testimonial might be given, but the patient thinks that she had better use "Zemo" a few weeks longer before saying that she is cured. However, she is very grateful to all who have been instrumental in securing your wonderful remedy and thinks that it has a great future before it.

Respectfully,
(MRS.) MARY PERRY BELLS, Nurse in Hospital,

SPECIAL EXCURSION! TO Panhandle of Texas! ON Tuesday, November 6

Come and go along with us to see a country between Canyon City and Tulla, Texas, on new Railroad that is just being completed, that is attracting Homeseekers and Investors from all over the United States.

We are absolute owners and agents of 100,000 Acres excellent farm land now on sale in any size tracts at low prices and on easy terms, near new growing town of Happy. Very rich black soil, fine climate, splendid water, ample rainfall. These lands are in Shallow Water District.

The Great Plains Country of Northwest Texas offers the "LAST CHANCE" to the investor and homebuilder in U. S. No finer lands on earth. Several of your leading citizens have already purchased lands from us and have made Big Profits. Thousands of people are going to the Panhandle on each excursion day. Lands have advanced last 12 months over 100 per cent and a similar advance can reasonably be expected within next 12 or 18 months by those who invest now.

Crops Produced past few years bear us out in making this assertion. Yield: wheat 20 to 49 bushels per acre, oats 40 to 75 bushels, alfalfa 3 to 5 tons, corn 25 to 50 bushels, milo-moize and kaffir corn 50 to 60 bushels. All kinds of fruits grown, melons, vegetables, etc.

Why Remain in Crowded District

When such unlimited opportunities are offered for investment and cheap homes. Crop failures are unknown and healthiest climate in the world. No malaria or fevers can exist. One crop pays for land at prevailing prices. Where can you equal this?

Price of Land runs from $10 to $20 per acre, owing to improvements and location. Easy Terms Join our Crowd Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 6th, at Morganfield, Sturgis, Sullivan, Marion, Crayneville and Princeton, via Memphis over Rock Island to Canyon City, Texas.

See John W. Fleener or L. W. Hagg at above points this week.

A Few Facts

The government has a surplus of revenue over expenditures. We have an average favorable balance of trade amounting to half a billion annually. Our manufacturers have doubled since 1896. Farm values have doubled since 1896. Employment and wages have increased from 50 to 100 per cent since 1896. We have one thousand million more dollars in saving banks as deposits than we had in 1896. In Kansas the cry used to be $3.00 per capita. Now they have $33.00 per capita.

Farm For Sale.

A good little farm of four acres, two and one-half miles northeast of Marion, with good farm house, barn and all necessary out buildings, desirable location for some one looking for a garden spot. For particulars call at this office or on T. S. C. ELDER.

Starr

Cool Weather.

Some of our farmers are making molasses.

There is a scarlet fever scare in this community. It is thought that Frank Crider's little girl has it.

While at Starr last Thursday we heard that W. G. Crayne's little girl had broken her arm. Dr. Cook, of Crayneville was called in and he set it and we learn that she is getting along fine.

John Martin and family have returned from Kansas.

C. T. Boucher held services at Pleasant Hill Sunday evening.

The roads are getting dusty.

D. E. Crider, of Midway, was in this section buying calves last week.

The corn crop is not as good as we expected. Corn is selling at 35 and 40 cents per bushel.

The protracted meeting commences at Piney Creek next Sunday. Rev. Clay Hopewell, of Sturgis, will assist the pastor Rev. J. W. Vaughn in the meeting.

The meeting is in progress at Pleasant Hill Baptist Church this week. Rev. Moore, of Tennessee, is doing the preaching.

Tobacco buyers are looking around at some of the best crops of tobacco.

Messrs. Smith and Henry Hamby have returned from Johnson county, Illinois. Mrs. S. A. Hamby remained to pay a visit to her son Albert.

Rev. C. T. Boucher preached at Old Pleasant Hill last Sunday evening. Carl means to do good.

Sing a song of Autumn days, When leaves are red and gold. October bright we welcome now, The year is growing old, Ripe fruits and nuts in golden store, We gather with glad cheer; And happiness surrounds us all, For November is now here.

The new Pure Food and Drug Law will mark it on the label of every Cough Cure containing Opium, Chloroform or any other stupefying or poisonous drug. But it passes Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure as made for 20 years; entirely free. Dr. Shoop's all along has bitterly opposed opiates or narcotics. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is absolutely safe even for the youngest babe—and it cures, it does not suppress. Get a safe and reliable Cough Cure, by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's. Let the law be your protection. We cheerfully recommend and sell it, Haynes & Taylor.

Lawn Tennis and Tennis.
There are thousands who imagine that tennis and lawn tennis are identical.

In America tennis, the mother game, is always known as "court tennis," whereas lawn tennis is generally known as "tennis." The games are in many respects very different.

The court, which in lawn tennis is open, in tennis is closed at the back and sides by the walls, and almost invariably above by a roof. There is a considerable amount of play off the back and side walls. The balls are harder than lawn tennis balls, being, in fact, of the consistency of cricket balls. Hence the rackets are cricker and the gut is thicker.—Fry's Magazine.

"There are five shillings," said the old gentleman to his young grandson,

"one for each of your birthdays. What more could a little fellow like you wish?"

"Only that I was as old as you, grandpa," replied the young financier.

"Father," cried the stage-struck youth, "you must let me choose me own course. I feel that I was born for the boards."

"Well, gosh all hemlock!" answered the father, "ain't I tryin' ter make a carpenter of ye?"

"It's All Right in the—"
The waves broke in the summer light with a mournful sound, and the light on the sea made a highway of shimmering silver.

Singing!
The voice of the youth vibrated in deep feeling.

Quieted Him.

She was going away for the summer and of course she wanted a new parasol.

"And as to the handle," she mused

"I want something nobby. Do you think the head of a bird would suit me?"

The big husband looked up from his paper and grinned.

"Most assuredly, my dear," he chuckled, "if the bird is a parrot."

She flushed deeply.
"Is that so?" she retorted, sharply.

"Well, sir, I am going to get you a cane for a birthday present and I shall make sure that the handle suits you in every particular."

"Ah, indeed! What kind of a bird or beast will it represent?"

"Neither bird nor beast. It will represent a lobster."

Insisted on Being "Boss."
A new "Mark Twain" story is going the rounds. The humorist takes long rides in the country in his auto, and one day the mud was so deep that the machine stuck in it. On a railroad near by an Irishman was seen bossing a gang of Italians. "I called to him," said Mark, "and he brought the whole bunch over to lift the machine out. We clashed right away.

The Irishman insisted on bossing the job and I wouldn't stand for it. 'All right,' said the Irishman, and he took his men back to the railroad. There was nothing for me to do but give in.

I sat in the car for about an hour and then called for the Irishman to come back. 'Am I to be boss?' he asked.

'You are,' I said. And he was."

Woman Loyal to the End.
A striking case of forgiveness extended to a murderer to the extent of shielding him from justice occurred recently in Paris. A handsomely dressed young woman, Mdlle. M. Gou-vier, was found in the street dying from the effect of a stab in the breast, and later in the day she expired in a hospital. But not a word could be extracted from her as to the identity of her murderer. "He did it in a fit of jealousy," she said, "and because he loved me." The last words to pass from her lips were: "I pardon him."

She gave up her life, but not her murderer's name.

Blouse Made at Home.
Watch for the remnants of the pretty pale-tinted batistes, and of these make separate blouses. For these the prettiest way to combine lace is to take an all-over valenciennes, with a small design rather widely scattered, so that one-quarter yard will make about 12 medallions. Baste these between whatever tucking you may induce in, and embroider a vine or a wreath of small flowers around the edge, then cut away the material beneath and a very dainty waist will be the result.—Vogue.

Mr. Masterson Answered.
Rev. Mr. Masterson, a summer resident of Marblehead Neck, for reasons best known to himself, wears in the hottest weather a long coat and a handkerchief around his neck. Thus dressed he frequently takes long runs about town, but has decided objections to being stared at. One day recently he was running along, and noticing a small boy gazing at him, he stopped and asked querulously:

"What are you looking at?" The boy promptly replied: "I'm looking at a d—n fool."

Bachelor Maids' Union.
Young girls are less eager to marry than they used to be, says a writer in The Lady. At one time a girl who remained unmarried when she had been out one or two seasons was almost a reproach to her parents, and an unfashionable blot on the marriage market. But the unmarried have tacitly formed a union, which has as silently insisted upon the standard of the di-grace of their state being lowered.

The New Sun Pudding.
A new and attractive mold for gelatin or any dessert of the consistency of cornstarch is in the shape of a circular sun, with the genial features of old Sol on the surface.

The Newest Boarder (sarcastically) —How as I to distinguish the milk from the cream, Mrs. Skinner?

Mrs. Skinner (of Slyvandale Farm) —You'll allus find the milk in that there pitcher with the chip off'n its snout!—Puck.

Too Full for Utterance.

"How was it I saw Footlites in town this week?"

"He isn't playing."

"Why, I thought he was the star in that tank drama."

"So he was, but he wanted to be the tank, too."

Honored in Old Age.

The French Academy of Fine Arts has just elected to a corresponding membership Charles Famin, the Chartres architect, who is 97 years old.

His Bait Good Enough.

Keeper—Hi, boy! You can't fish here without a permit.

Boy—Well, I'm getting on well enough with a worm!—Tit-Bits.

Lawn Tennis and Tennis.

There are thousands who imagine that tennis and lawn tennis are identical. In America tennis, the mother game, is always known as "court tennis," whereas lawn tennis is generally known as "tennis." The games are in many respects very different.

The court, which in lawn tennis is open, in tennis is closed at the back and sides by the walls, and almost invariably above by a roof. There is a considerable amount of play off the back and side walls. The balls are harder than lawn tennis balls, being, in fact, of the consistency of cricket balls. Hence the rackets are heavier and the gut is thicker.—Fry's Magazine.

E. W. Crider

Quieted Him.

She was going away for the summer and of course she wanted a new parasol.

"And as to the handle," she mused "I want something nobby. Do you think the head of a bird would suit me?"

The big husband looked up from his paper and grinned.

"Most assuredly, my dear," he chuckled, "if the bird is a parrot."

She flushed deeply.

"Is that so?" she retorted, sharply. "Well, sir, I am going to get you a cane for a birthday present and I shall make sure that the handle suits you in every particular."

"Ah, indeed! What kind of a bird or beast will it represent?"

"Neither bird nor beast. It will represent a lobster."

Insisted on Being "Boss."

A new "Mark Twain" story is going the rounds. The humorist takes long rides in the country in his auto, and one day the mud was so deep that the machine stuck in it. On a railroad near by an Irishman was seen bossing a gang of Italians. "I called to him," said Mark, "and he brought the whole bunch over to lift the machine out. We clashed right away. The Irishman insisted on bossing the job and I wouldn't stand for it. 'All right,' said the Irishman, and he took his men back to the railroad. There was nothing for me to do but give in. I sat in the car for about an hour and then called for the Irishman to come back. 'Am I to be boss?' he asked. 'You are,' I said. And he was."

Woman Loyal to the End.

A striking case of forgiveness extended to a murderer to the extent of shielding him from justice occurred recently in Paris. A handsomely dressed young woman, Madlle. M. Gouvier, was found in the street dying from the effect of a stab in the breast, and later in the day she expired in a hospital. But not a word could be extracted from her as to the identity of her murderer. "He did it in a fit of jealousy," she said, "and because he loved me." The last words to pass from her lips were: "I pardon him."

She gave up her life, but not her murderer's name.

Blouse Made at Home.

Watch for the remnants of the pretty pale-tinted batistes, and of these make separate blouses. For these the prettiest way to combine lace is to take an all-over valenciennes, with a small design rather widely scattered, so that one-quarter yard will make about 12 medallions. Baste these between whatever tucking you may indulge in, and embroider a vine or a wreath of small flowers around the edge, then cut away the material beneath and a very dainty waist will be the result.—Vogue.

Mr. Masterson Answered.

Rev. Mr. Masterson, a summer resident of Marblehead Neck, for reasons best known to himself, wears in the hottest weather a long coat and a handkerchief around his neck. Thus dressed he frequently takes long runs about town, but has decided objections to being stared at. One day recently he was running along, and, noticing a small boy gazing at him, he stopped and asked querulously: "What are you looking at?" The boy promptly replied: "I'm looking at a d—n fool."

Bachelor Maids' Union.

Young girls are less eager to marry than they used to be, says a writer in The Lady. At one time a girl who remained unmarried when she had been out one or two seasons was almost a reproach to her parents, and an unfashionable blot on the marriage market. But the unmarried have tacitly formed a union, which has as silently insisted upon the standard of the disgrace of their state being lowered.

The New Sun Pudding.

A new and attractive mold for gelatin or any dessert of the consistency of cornstarch is in the shape of a circular sun, with the genial features of old Sol on the surface.

Teeth and eyes cut from the meats of nuts and pressed into the pudding just before serving complete the effect.

Smart.

"There are five shillings," said the old gentleman to his young grandson, "one for each of your birthdays. What more could a little fellow like you wish?"

"Only that I was as old as you, grandpa," replied the young financier.

—Cassell's Journal.

Couldn't Pass Her.

Lady—Why in the world are you bringing the milk at four o'clock in the afternoon? Can't you get here earlier?

Milkman—Earlier? Why, madam, this is to-morrow morning's milk!—Detroit Free Press.

Agreed.

"Father," cried the stage-struck youth, "you must let me choose my own course. I feel that I was born for the boards."

"Well, gosh all hemlock!" answered the father, "ain't I tryin' ter make a carpenter of ye?"

"It's All Right in the—"

The waves broke in the summer light with a mournful sound, and the light on the sea made a highway of shimmering silver.

"Ain't that?" he voice of the youth vibrated deep feeling.
