CRITTENDEN COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

HELD ITS REGULAR MEETING AT THE COURT HOUSE TUESDAY

Dr. Walker, of Evansville, Was President and Read an Interesting Paper

The Crittenden County Medical Society held its regular monthly meeting at the court house, Tuesday December 11th.

An excellent paper was read by Dr. Walker, of Evansville, title, "The use of purgatives."

Dr. Frazer read an excellent paper, the subject, "Things for doctors to think about."

These papers were discussed by the various members of the society, who showed great interest in the subject for consideration.

Dr. Walker is one of the best known surgeons, of Evansville, and the physicians, of Crittenden county appreciated his presence and valuable scientific paper.

This being an annual meeting, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—Dr. W. T. Daughtry, president; Dr. T. A. Frazer, vice president; Dr. E. E. Newcom, of Repton, secretary.

The doctors present were:—Drs. Daughtry, Driskill, Frazer, of Marion, Gardiner, of Sheridan, Fox, of Levas, Cook, of Crayneville, Travis, of Tribune, Reynolds, of Blackford.

Quite a number of laymen were present and were very much interested in the deliberations of our physicians.

AMONG OUR CHURCHES

Rev. J. H. Butler preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. In the morning his subject was "The Lord's Pleasure in His People." The text was taken from Psalms 149-4, "For the Lord taketh pleasure in his people." The subject was divided into two thoughts. 1. His people, who they are. 2. His pleasure in them. In the evening his text was found in John 15-14, "Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you." The subject "Friendship of Christ," was divided into three thoughts. 1. Nature of friendship. 2. Proof of friendship. 3. Manifestation, our part. Notwithstanding the inclement weather both audiences were very good.

Rev. J. W. Lewis, presiding elder, preached at the Methodist church Sunday morning and evening. In the morning his subject was, "Self Denial," and his text was taken from Matthew 16, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow me." In the evening his text was taken from Cor. 13-12, "Now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face." Both sermons were excellent. Mr. Lewis is a very deep thinker and preaches very fine sermons.

The good sisters of Salem church sent Bro. Rowe and wife many nice things Monday. They were the happy recipients of canned goods, sugar, meat, potatoes, towels dress pattern and money. Bro. Rowe and wife love the good people of Salem and pray that God will bless them.

On Wednesday eve before Thanksgiving we were the second time this year the happy recipients of many nice things for the culinary department, besides pair of nice bed blankets, and etc. We are very grateful to our beloved here and pray our Father's benedictions upon them. Your brother and sister in Christ.

MR. AND MRS. J. S. ROWE.

Quarterly Meeting

The Quarterly Meeting for Shady Grove Circuit was held at Shady Grove, December 8 and 9. Rev. S. G. Thompson, presiding elder of the Henderson District was present and preached to the delight of all who heard him.

We had a good representation of church officials on Saturday and the stewards made a good financial report. The outlook in this circuit is very encouraging. We are praying for the continuance of the revival spirit among us and hope to have a good year.

R. C. LOVE.

The Concert

A concert of unusual excellence, both in program and execution was provided for the people of Marion, Monday night Dec. 10th, in the auditorium of the high school.

The performers were Miss Ida Cole, soprano, Miss Ada Zeller, pianist, and Miss Nina Dale Park, cellist, of Cincinnati.

It is, unfortunately, not often that music of the character selected for this occasion is produced outside of the larger towns and still less often that it receives such admirable interpretation as it did unquestionably receive at the hands of these three artists.

Particularly notable was the performance of Miss Zeller in the Valse, E. Minor, Chopin, and in the Polish Song, Liszt, in both of which she did not only exhibit a finished technique in accuracy but also in the power of securing from her instrument the exact response her touch demanded.

The selections by Misses Park and Cole were also most acceptable, their artistic ability being especially apparent in their interpretations of Sylvia, Schubert, Springtide, Becker, and in the Sonate, Grieg and Calm as The Night.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the lack of sympathy with the performers, on the part of the audience at times apparent does not indicate a widespread averseness in Marion to a concert of this character.

BITS OF BYPLAY.

There lives at Hampton a remarkable woman. She has done more work and does more work today possibly than any woman in Kentucky. From early morn until late at night she keeps moving and whatever her hands find to do she does with all her might. She began keeping hotel in a farm house many, many years ago. During the last fourteen years she has done her own washing and ironing. One dollar and fifty cents each week saved. Total saved from from that source $1092. She makes her own garden and raises hogs and chickens. She keeps a splendid hotel. Drummers make it convenient to stop there over Sunday on account of the service. They are responsible for the increase in charges from 25 cents to 50 cents. At their suggestion the increase was made. In addition to running a hotel Mrs. Jennie Alsbrook does a millinery business.

Personal cleanliness and neatness is a matter of vigilance and perseverance as well as soap and water. The president of one of our banks is as neat as a new pin at all times. His white shining collar always looks as though it had just been laundered. This state of affairs had been under the observation of the cashier a long time. One day, not long ago, in a fit of mental aberration, he unthoughtfully asked the president the question, "How do you keep your collars so clean?" The president replied, "By washing my neck, of course."

We have a number of good physicians in Marion and all without exception charge a patient according to the number of trips and work done during illness. The Chinese method differs from this considerably. The Chinese physician charges the patient when well and not when ill. When his customer gets sick it is up to him to get him well so he can begin charging again.

In a Sunday School class not long ago the teacher was illustrating the parable of the talents. She said, "Our hands are talents and what can we do with them?" One little boy spoke up and said, "I can lock ginger up in the closet."

Died In Paducah

Dr. J. R. Coleman died at his home in Paducah December 9 at 9:45. o'clock. The cause of his death was acute Bright's disease of the kidneys. He had suffered from this disease for more than a year, but only a short time ago he began to succumb more and more to it and finally passed away. He was born August 22, 1860 in Henry county, Tenn., and was the son of Dr. R. S. Coleman, of Princeton.

Dr. Coleman's death will be a shock to a number of Marion people, for he was well known to them.

The services were held at the residence in Paducah conducted by Rev. Taylor, of Murray, and Thompson, of Paducah, the Masonic ceremonies were presided over by J. E. Watkins. The remains were shipped to Murray, Ky., his old home, for burial.

ON RURAL ROUTES

The Government, It is Announced, Will Give More attention to The Subject

It is announced that the government will look more carefully to the enforcement of its rules regarding the roads over which rural free delivery is established: The present requirement is: "Roads traversed shall be kept in good condition and unobstructed by gates; there must be no unbridged creeks or streams not fordable at any season of the year."

In many cases residents on proposed routes have made improvements that enable them to obtain rural delivery service, but sometimes the efforts to keep the roads are relaxed. But the government has decided that unless the roads traveled by the carriers are properly maintained the service will be withdrawn. The post-office department now calls on carriers for reports on the roads, and will stop the service where the highway was in question or bad.

The 35,973 rural delivery carriers now employed cover over 863,363 miles daily, and it is unreasonable to expect them to contend with neglected roads, or to work for communities lacking the enterprise to keep their common highways in decent shape. Wherever a route is discontinued the inhabitants themselves will be to blame for it, for if alive to their own interests and their duty to the public they would give their roads vigorous and constant attention. The idea that a route once organized is necessarily permanent is a mistake. Advice on the best road method is supplied by the agricultural department, and the neighborhood that loses its rural free delivery must itself bear the discredit for so unpleasant and humiliating an event.

Marion High School vs Morganfield

Marion High School has challenged Morganfield High School to meet them in a debate in the school auditorium Friday evening, December, 21. The question that has been chosen for discussion is: Resolved: "That Labor Unions are More Pernicious than Trusts." Marion will discuss the negative side and Morganfield the affirmative.

Misses Annie Dean and Fenwick Wathen and Gray Rochester, the pupils that acquitted themselves with so much honor at Morganfield on November 23, are to represent us again, it goes without saying that if they are given a fair "trial" that they will certainly "win out in a walk."

Miss Verlie Coffman, Tom Waller and Paul Schmidt, the former Morganfield speakers, are to represent their school again.

Let us hope to have judges that will act with more justice than the former ones apparently did. Our little town is prepared to entertain as many of the pupils and citizens of Morganfield that desire to come and attend the debate. Come we will do our best to treat you well.

To Organize Bible Class

Rev. J. F. Price desires to organize a Bible Class at 2:30 p. m. at the C. P. Church next Sunday. The Sunday School lessons for next year will be in the old testament, beginning at the first of the Bible. The object of their class will be to study the Bible, preparatory to the Sunday School lessons. All are cordially invited to participate. Bring bible, tablet and pencil.

Hon. T. H. Molloy Dead

Hon. T. H. Molloy, one of Eddyville's most highly respected and prominent citizens, died at his home Dec. 10. He was a victim of pneumonia and had been ill only a few days.

Mr. Molloy was born and reared in Lyon county. He was president of the First National Bank of Eddyville at the time of his death. The news of his death will be received here with great sorrow. He was well known and a man of many sterling qualities.

The funeral services were held at the Methodist church, of which he was an active member, and interment at the Eddyville cemetery.

A Christmas Present

To every young man and young woman in Crittenden county who wants to get an education. Write me, giving your name and address, and I will mail you our latest catalogue and make it plain, if you will ask me, how you can attend school at Marion during the Spring term.

VICTOR S. KEE, Supt. Marion Schools.

SIDELIGHTS FROM THE FOOT HILLS OF MIDDLE TENNESSEE

BY OLD TIMER

Why is so much excitement caused by the burning of a lot of tobacco at Princeton? A good share of it ought to go up in smoke, you can't chew and snuff all of it.

0-0

Mr. and Mrs. William Dinwiddie Baird were guests of the Maxwell House, Nashville on Friday last. William looked as well as could be expected under the circumstances and the Madame—she was roses and then more roses.

0-0

Your last issue speaks of seeing cattle in Texas that were from fifteen to fifty feet high. I can understand now the absolute necessity of a prohibition law in Marion. Change your brand of dope or you will see more things than tall cattle.

0-0

I notice that the society editor of your esteemed contemporary has given the social set a new quirk "benediction" before meat, that ought to be a winner. It naturally stops the game before it commences.

0-0

An extract from the letter of a little lady living under the arctic circle may be of interest. The date is Oct. 31. "The short days are upon us, but we don't seem to mind them very much, the moon is full and bright and it is never real dark. The Aurora Borealis sheds a soft light over this Northern country. It is now half past two in the afternoon and we have had no sun today."

0-0

We have had such a splendid time since arriving here. A dance nearly every week in the Arctic Brotherhood hall, tomorrow evening a progressive whist party, we have already had skating two nights this week. The Arctic Brotherhood gave a hard times party which was very enjoyable. We are to have a masquerade soon.

0-0

We have very good beef, later we will have moose and caribou. We have just bought a quarter of beef for $72. It is much cheaper that way, otherwise it is 60 cents a pound.

0-0

The weather has been very warm so far, six degrees below zero being the coldest and on that day I took a lovely walk with my new fall jacket on.

0-0

"Father Monroe of the Roman Catholic and a clergyman of the Episcopal church gives us church services every two weeks. I shall likely play the organ for both."

In marked contrast to the weather in the sunless country we have here in middle Tennessee on December tenth a landscape diversified with green grass, freshly plowed fields, the old stone fences covered with the beautiful honeysuckle in blossom, the air vocal with the call of the quail and the chatter of many birds.

0-0

Still, the same joyous life in Alaska and in Tennessee, the same warm hearts in both, the same charity for the sins of omission and commission, one faith, one Lord, one baptism. As Tiny Tim said on the great christian festival of Christmas, "God bless every one of us."

Dies In Kansas

Mrs. John G. Jacobs died at her home in Phillipsburg, Kansas, Wednesday December 5th.

The cause of her death was congestion and she was ill only a few days.

Mrs. Jacobs was a daughter of Mr. W. Bennett Crider, who lives near Marion.

She was a woman with many lovable traits of character. She was survived by her husband and several children.

Marriage License

Thomas Parker to Miss L. K. Johnson.

W. E. Curry to Ollie May Sanders.

W. D. Baird to Miss Lena Donakey.

THE LITTLE DAUGHTER

Of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark Died Tuesday Night

The little three year old girl of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Clark died Tuesday night from the effects of a burn sustained in the afternoon. The mother was out of the room a few minutes and during her absence the little one went too near the fire. Its clothing caught and were burned off before they could be put out or torn off. All was done that could be, but to no avail, the burns were too deep and she only lived a few hours, passing away at eight o'clock. The burial took place Wednesday.

Mass Meeting

In answer to a call for a mass meeting the citizens of Princeton and surrounding country assembled at the court house in that city last Saturday morning. The meeting was presided over by Ex-County Judge Black, of Crider, Hon. S. D. Hodge and J. T. Lamb as secretaries.

The resolutions made and adopted bitterly denounced the act of the incendiaries and pledged themselves to support and assist the officers in suppressing such violence. Addresses were made by Hon. Ward Headly, Revs. M. E. Chappell, W. G. Eldred and G. W. Hummel, all advocating law and order and appealing to the audience to respect and uphold the law, so that peace and happiness will prevail in their little city again.

The War Correspondent

The attraction at the Wells Bijou theatre in Evansville for the first four days of the coming week, with matinees Sunday and Tuesday, will be the big musical production, The War Correspondent, by the authors of The Land of Nod and The Umpire. The staging and costumes are all that a lavish expenditure of money can make them, and the cast contains such stars as Alice Dovey, last year leading lady in The Land of Nod, Mabel McCane, a former Evansville girl, Geo. L. Cox, Leo Kimball, Harry Austin and Justin Cooper. Popular prices will prevail.

Keep In Good Health

There are many thousands of people all over the world who can attribute their good health to taking one or two Brandreth's Pills every night. These pills cleanse the stomach and bowels, stimulate the kidneys and liver and purify the blood. They are the same fine lavative tonic pill your grandparents used, and being purely vegetable they are adapted to children and old people, as well as to those in the vigor of manhood and womanhood.

Brandreth's Pills have been in use for over a century and can be obtained in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

HANDSOME MAJORITY FOR LOCAL OPTION

THE PROHIBITIONISTS CARRY THE COUNTY BY 1263 VOTES

The Result of the Election Should Satisfy Both Factions

On last Friday the voters of Crittenden county were given an opportunity to say whether they were in favor of having whiskey sold within the bounds of their county or having it kept out. There were 1666 votes polled on that day; 1263 of these votes were in favor of keeping whiskey out, which left 403 saying let us have it.

"Are you in favor of the sale, barter or loan of spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors in Crittenden county, Kentucky, and the local option to apply to druggists." The following is how the question was answered in each precinct:

Thanksgiving Echoes

At the Annual Thanksgiving period the good people of Chapel Hill made up a wagon load of nice meats, fruits, vegetables, sweet meats, etc., and took them to the residence of Rev. J. F. They pray God's richest blessing rest upon this in all their laudable undertaking in life.

Santa Fe's Eucalyptus Groves

(From the Railroad Gazette)

The Santa Fe has begun planting trees on its land in San Diego county, in southern California. The tract is 8,650 acres in extent and is known as the Rancho San Diegito. It is near Del Mar. It will be converted into a eucalyptus grove. About 700 acres one will be planted for a number of years. The wood will be used for ties and piles. F. P. Hosp, who has charge of this class of work, estimates that $3,000 worth of timber for ties can be raised on one acre. The red gum will be planted, as this, as well as the sugar and iron bark varieties of eucalyptus, has been shown by experiments in Australia to last more than twenty-five years under ground, while the blue gum will not last more than three years under ground. The seedling will be done during the winter, and the seedlings for the first year's planting are now in preparation. About 3,000 boxes of small seedlings are required.

To the People of Crittenden County

At a meeting of the Anti-Saloon campaign committee held in this city today we were appointed a special committee to write and express through the columns of the RECORD our hearty thanks to all temperance workers in our town and county for the grand help which they gave us in our late fight against the saloon evil in our midst. And now that the Lord has given us such a great and glorious victory over our enemy let us in the future be true and faithful to our trust, and see to it that those horrible monsters called "blind tigers and bootleggers" of which we have all heard so much about, shall never find a place among us, but that the laws governing the liquor traffic shall be strictly observed and obeyed throughout our entire town and county. Respectfully signed by the committee.

DEDICATION SERMON

Substance of a sermon delivered on the occasion of the dedication of the new church at Pleasant Hill, Marion, Ky., by J. L. Paris.

On the 24th day of May, 1844, Prof. Samuel F. B. Morse took his seat at the telegraphic instrument which had been placed in the Supreme Court room of the Capitol at Washington. Many of the chief officials of the government were present. Prof. Morse pressed upon the key of the instrument with his finger and instantly the waiting operator at Baltimore received the message and it was sent back, and this was the message, "What hath God wrought?" When this message was read a thrill of awe ran through those who heard it. It seemed that the finger of God, and not man, had written the message. This was the first message that ever flashed over the wires in the United States or in the world so far as is known.

Having been chosen by the committee to deliver what might be called a dedication sermon for this occasion, I began at once to think what would constitute a suitable text; and my mind has been directed to these words, "What hath God wrought?" This sentence of Scriptures will be found by reference to Numbers 23:23. It might be thought by some that owing to the arrangement of the words of the text that a question is asked. But not so, it is an exclamatory sentence and thus it becomes an emphatical expression.

Now leaving off the further elucidation of the text for the present, let us turn our attention to the word "dedicate" for a few moments. Mr. Webster defines dedicate as follows: To set apart to a Divine Being, or to a sacred purpose; to devote to a sacred use, by solemn act, or by religious ceremonies, as, to dedicate vessels, treasures, a temple, an altar, or a church to God or to religious use."

Dedication services within and of themselves mean little or nothing. This is an age of much dedication in a formal. But there is a higher sense of dedication than mere forms and ceremonies. In this higher sense we have the best of reasons to believe this house has already been dedicated to sacred purposes alone. At no time has any other thought occupied the minds of its owners and builders. And unless this thought and purpose hold good throughout its existence these services today will be hollow and unavailing. A year or two ago I read in the papers of a certain theater building being dedicated, in whose ceremonies certain so-called ministers of the Gospel took part. Just think of a play house being dedicated to God of heaven. Such pretense is worse than abomination in the sight of God. If they had called upon the god of sinful pleasure and fleshly lust, that perhaps would have been appropriate. The Roman Catholics are profuse in their dedication ceremonies. No doubt their churches, monasteries and convents are all set apart with what they call solemn services. But if I have been rightly informed these institutions are cesspools of corruption and uncleanness, where the priests carry on their system of secret concubinage and rear their scores of illegitimate offspring. How could one think of applying the words, "What hath God wrought?" to such infamy as this? The Apostle Paul says, "Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap." Teeming millions will in the judgment come to reap the fruits of their hypocritical pretenses. But while these things are true it is quite appropriate to dedicate in a formal way a house of worship to the living and true God. Nothing is more noble than for a Christian to consecrate himself to the service of his heavenly Master. But this should not be for a day or a week or a year only, but for a life time; and each day will find need of continued or renewed consecration. Just so with a church house. Its being set apart to sacred uses will hold good only so long as the worshippers maintain the true spirit of worship. When this is lost God's watch-care over that house ceases.

Now I propose to try to show you that the words I have chosen for a text have an appropriate application to the matter in hand today; that is, the dedication of this house.

But suffer me first to note in a special way the text and its immediate context. These words were uttered by Balaam who made pretense of being a prophet of the Lord, but who in reality was an enchanter, and no doubt was skilled in the art of divination. But on this particular occasion God interfered on behalf of his people and Balaam found that there was no enchantment against Jacob, neither was there divination against Israel. "According to this time it shall be said of Jacob and of Israel, 'What hath God wrought!'" But in order to a clear understanding of the things here narrated it will be necessary to go back a few hundred years in the history of this people spoken of here as Jacob and Israel. Their history began with Abraham. When God called him from Ur of the Chaldeas he obeyed, and from that very hour he consecrated himself to the obedience of the commandments of God, and he was called the friend of God. God made a covenant with Abraham that he would give to him and to his seed after him the land of Canaan. Later on came Isaac and Jacob, heirs with him of the same covenant and promise. David speaking of this covenant says, "Be ye mindful always of his covenant; even of the covenant which he made with Abraham, and of his oath to Isaac; and hath confirmed the same to Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant, saying, Unto thee will I give the land of Canaan, the lot of your inheritance." Another thing the Lord told Abraham in this same connection was that his seed should sojourn in a strange land which was not their own, and that people should bring them into bondage, and evil entreat them four hundred years; and after that He would bring them out with a high hand and an outstretched arm. After a time Jacob and his great family went down into Egypt, and the King of Egypt gave them the goodly land of Goshen. But at length there arose a King over Egypt who knew not Joseph, the favored son of Jacob, and he brought the children of Israel into cruel bondage. At length the time came for their deliverance and God raised up Moses to be their leader; and after multiplying his signs and wonders in the land of Egypt the Israelites came forth and made the passage of the Red Sea as dry as land. Now, by the space of forty years the Israelites wandered in the wilderness and learned lessons that were very important for them to know. During this time Moses built the tabernacle according to the pattern God had given him. Here the worship of Jehovah under the Jewish economy was fully set up. The ark that contained the tables of stone, on which were written by the finger of God the ten commandments, was placed within this tabernacle, and all was consecrated to the service of God.

But at length the time drew nigh when the seed of Jacob and of Israel must actually possess the promised land. So the Israelites began their battle of conquest. They had already subdued the Amorites and now they had pitched their tents in the plains of the Moab. Now it is fitting to state here that whatever the children of Israel were in point of power, strength, wisdom and success, it was by virtue of what God had wrought among them. But back to the land of Moab, Balak, the King of the Modilites was stricken with terror when he saw the Israelites invading his land; for he had heard what they had done to the Amorites. Balak had also heard of Balaam, that whomsoever he blessed was blessed and whomsoever he cursed was cursed. So Balak sent for Balaam to come and curse the children of Israel. But instead of cursing he blessed them each time. So at length they went over Jordan and did actually possess the land of Canaan. After they had been there many hundred years God raised up David, a man after his own heart, to be their king. David fought against the nations round and about and subdued them, and when God had given him rest from wars David desired to build a house of settled habitation for the God of Jacob. But the Lord told him that his seed that should come forth of his own loins should build him an house. So when Solomon came to the throne of David his father, he built the temple in Jerusalem and dedicated it to the service of God, as you heard read from the lesson this morning. I presume this congregation noted in the reading of Solomon's prayer that he contemplated a possibility of the people turning away from God and being taken into captivity. But Solomon asked for their restoration to their own land when their hearts should turn to the Lord and they should pray in the land of their captivity, looking toward Jerusalem and the house he had built. The people did forsake the Lord and Nebuchadnezzar, King of Babylon, came and thundered down the temple, spoiled the city and took the people captive. This was what I meant when I said in the outset that a house being set apart to sacred uses would hold good only so long as the worshippers maintain the true spirit to worship. When this is lost God's watchcare over that house ceases. It was so with the temple that Solomon built.

But after seventy years of captivity in Babylon Zerrubabel was privileged to return to Jerusalem and rebuild the temple and re-establish the true worship. But following the history of this people it will be found that they fell into sin and abominable idolatry again. And when Christ came on earth a lamentable state of affairs existed throughout the whole nation of the Jews. At one time when Jesus came to Jerusalem he made a scourge of small cords and drove out of the temple those who sold doves and overthrew the tables of the money changers, and said unto them, "Take these things hence; it is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer, but ye have made it a den of thieves."

For the time being Jesus purified his Father's house and stood its sole occupant, as the prophet said, "The desire of all nations," and filling this latter house with greater glory than that of the former. But this house, on account of the wickedness of the Jews, was also to have a fearful ending. Jesus lamented its awful fate, when he said, "O Jerusalem, Jerusalem, which killeth the prophets, and stoneth them that are sent unto thee; how often I have gathered thy children together as a hen doth gather her brood under her wings, and ye would not! Behold, your house is left unto you desolate," etc. About forty years after this the Savior's prophecy concerning the destruction of this house was literally fulfilled, and from that time the Jews have been a scattered people in all the nations of the earth. Now we come to notice more particularly Christ's mission and work on earth. When he began his active work he called unto him his twelve disciples. Here was the beginning of the Christian church. This church was to continue until the end of time. Just before his ascension to glory the Savior commissioned his disciples, saying, "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost: teaching them to observe all things, whatsoever I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world." These disciples were to tarry in Jerusalem until they received the endowment of power from on high; which came upon them at Pentecost. After this they went out in obedience to the commission and preached the Word, and constituted churches. It might be well for us to define a Christian church. Briefly, it means an assembly called out. That is, an assembly of believers in Christ, called out of the world and confederated together in the name of the Lord to do business under direction of the Holy Spirit, independent of all other bodies; whose only bonds are bonds of love and Christian affection. Many such churches were constituted by the apostles. I say churches, because we must not conceive the idea of one big, central head, called the church, while all other organizations are mere branches, or offshoots of the one central head.

Now the different organizations all need houses, or places where they might assemble to worship God. At first, private homes seem to have been used for this purpose. These homes were no doubt consecrated in the highest sense to the service of the Master. But as their numbers increased the necessity came about to erect houses for the special purpose of assembling together to worship the Lord. Whether or not all such houses are and have been dedicated to sacred uses alone, I cannot tell. But it seems to me that it should be so.

In conclusion I want to give you a small bit of history of this (Pleasant Hill) church. During the year of 1853, a little church was constituted here with thirteen charter members. Elder Paul L. H. Walker had come from Tennessee and had begun his ministerial labors in these parts. God blessed those labors and the little church held services in the old log house that was built a few yards down the way, there. As time passed on this first house became inadequate in size to accommodate the congregation. So, in 1867, a house was erected on this spot which has served the congregation from that time until the present year, when it was thought advisable to erect a new and larger house. A matter of special interest was brought out when we must meet here to tear down the old house. It was this, when the question of what directions the new house should be extended came up for consideration, a brother stated that he would be glad to have the new pulpit occupy the same spot as the old one did. For says he, I have heard Bro. Walker relate a dream to this effect. That he dreamed when about the time he began his preaching labors here, that he was passing through these parts, and it was a time of great drouth. There was no water in sight any where; and when he reached this spot he met up with Brother John Hunt, who had a hoe in his hand, and who was almost famished for water, and he commanded Bro. Hunt to dig with his hoe, and he had not dugged but a few strokes until he found water in abundance. This was Elder Walker's dream. Well, in 1867, Brother Walker took the contract to build the new house, and he said he placed the pulpit as nearly over the same spot where he dreamed that he and Bro. Hunt found water as he could locate it. So it was agreed that this pulpit should occupy the same spot, and I am now standing directly over that spot of ground. But I must not continue this thought further. It seems that in all I have noticed we can see the hand of God in it, and thus we might say of it all, "What hath God wrought!"

Now it is my sincere desire that this house shall stand throughout its existence as a monument of what God has wrought in the hearts of his people here. For the erection of this house is a willingness upon the part of this people to work with their hands and with their means until the end has been accomplished—"For the people had a mind to work. And it now becomes necessary that you younger brethren and sisters should begin to feel the weight of responsibility that will come upon you when the mantle service falls from those who are now bearing the burden and heat of the day shall fall upon your shoulders. May God prepare you by grace divine to carry the work forward with even a greater degree of glory and honor to his Name than we who are taking the lead now. I would exhort every member of this body to let this house be to you in every deed the house of God. And in the language of a certain minister who lived in Missouri, but who is now is dead, let me say, "Next to his Lord, the Christian's joy should be in his church. That church should be to us the house of God. Let there ever prevail in it the loving discipline of the family; let it be to us the school of Christ; a school in which the old man is as interested a learner as the young."

But this can only be true as a result of much careful and prayerful study of the word of God. A prayerless church cannot hope to prosper; neither can one who neglects the study of God's Book of inspiration. Then in the language of the same writer, whom I have just quoted, let us take the Bible and say, "Oh, Word of God! Read it to me when I am dying. Shroud me not with my country's flag much as I honor it, but lay beneath my wearied head, resting at last, the well worn, old Bible which has sustained my heart in the heroism, and the sufferings; the joys and the sorrows, the sacrifices and heavenly aspirations of my earthly life." So may it be. Amen!

FRIDAY, DEC. 14, 1906.

In the development of the tobacco situation at present it seems it is now up to the farmers to either join the Growers Association or try to get his tobacco to fortified towns like Hopkinsville, Henderson and Owensboro. The factories in these places, at least in Hopkinsville, have been enclosed by very heavy stockades of sharpened pickets ten or twelve feet high and guarded by officers of the law night and day armed with repeating shot guns. The city of Hopkinsville is guarded by a company of state militia and the streets are patrolled at night by mounted armed guards. The RECORD joins in the hope oft expressed in the last few days that the Trust and the Growers Association will get together, that the trust will take the association tobacco at a fair price. A very prominent insurance official stated yesterday that from all he could gather this will be the final solution, but that it will take several weeks yet to work out this conclusion even if it is done at all. Insurance officials do not feel warranted in assuming the unusual and extreme hazard and will undoubtedly decline Association tobacco as well as all other. In fact a great deal of the insurance on association holdings has been cancelled in the last three days. Farmers joining these associations expect money to be advanced at least 50 or 60 per cent. If insurance cannot be had the money will not be forthcoming. We trust the warring factions will come to terms and "Let us have peace."

John D. Rockefeller's income is $60,000,000 per year or at the rate of 1.90 per second. This forms a large target at which everybody takes a shot. He was indicted not long ago by an Ohio jury.

Simplified phonetic spelling met a disastrous defeat in congress this week. All public printing was ordered after the fashion of Daniel Webster.

Young Theodore Roosevelt has passed down the line in school discipline and can now be rated a "good fellow." Without a murmur he sang "Old Black Joe" backwards to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner," he ate ice cream seasoned with tomato catsup and Jamaica ginger; he has trudged many miles in a snow storm, beginning at four o'clock in the morning; he has gone about with a pickle balanced on a hat pin and has tried under orders to sell the pickle to street car passengers. These were the initiatory performances required to qualify him for election to a Harvard class society.

The tobacco buyer in this district is certainly in a deplorable condition. Loaded down with stemmy property which represents years of saving, he is right now practically without insurance. In some cases he has several thousand dollars invested in tobacco and between the Charybdis of incendiarism and the Scylla of inaction his hours, whether awake or asleep are not pleasant. If his stemmy is in ashes he is not certain that he can place the responsibility in the courts or out. It would be the height of folly for him to rebuild. His business is gone. His years of study and training are nothing.

The Catholic church in France has been outlawed. The French chamber of deputies has passed laws separating church and state and a church which has for 1000 years been supported by the government is under the ban of the law. Such will be the final fate of the established church of England.

President Roosevelt disposes of a hard problem only to be confronted by another. By drastic action he retired Bellamy Storer and wife to private life. His attention is now called to the refusal of the senate to confirm his nominations.

The electric lights these days remind us of the Herpicide advertisement, going—going—gone.

A BIT OF HISTORY

Of the Hurricane Camp Meeting Held Annually for a Number of Years

Editor of THE RECORD:—I have been asked to write up the history of the Hurricane camp meeting. If you will give me space I will try to write from memory some of the facts in the history in the year 1890.

Sixteen years ago Bro. S. K. Breeding, the pastor of Hurricane church organized the camp meeting at Hurricane with the following names as a camp meeting committee: Joseph W. Gueas, S. F. Crider, T. A. Minner, J. B. Perry, Jas. T. Terry, Dr. I. H. Clement, Methodists, and R. M. Franks, then a minister of the Baptist church. They adopted the following rules: First, that there should be no stands of any kinds on the grounds except a feed stable and a hotel. Second, that the ladies and the gentlemen should not sit together during services.

A large shed was built for a place of worship. There was also a man of this committee appointed to distribute lots for any who desired to build camps for their own convenience in attending the annual meeting. Among those who were given authority was R. M. Franks who was not a member at that time of Hurricane church. The camps were built in good faith with the assurance that they had a right to control them for camp meeting purposes. But soon after the camp meeting began to be of note money lovers began to seek the place to sell various things that are sold at public drinking places. The committee tried to hinder this in every conceivable way. First, by paying at the rates of one hundred and fifty to two hundred dollars per acre for the lands occupied by stands. The stand owners would move to another point and set up again. One year the committee raised over four hundred dollars for the purchase of land and right of ways to prevent stands and to perpetuate the privilege of the camp meeting.

This money was obtained as a free will offering from people that lived in at least six different states as well as our own people. The camps are now owned by people from different counties and states and so far have not consented to relinquish any title promised by the committee. Since the organization the committee has been changed. J. W. Gueas, Dr. I. H. Clement, R. M. Franks and Dr. R. G. Carty have resigned and L. C. Terry and J. G. Hamilton have been put in as committeemen. This camp meeting has been a help to all that would avail themselves of the opportunity to be helped. Eternity alone can tell its advantages. The disadvantages were only to those who misapplied their privileges.

The committee has always endeavored to meet the demands of the meetings from year to year. Many objects of charity have been met through their careful management. As long as there was no opposition by the rulers of the church we had grand results. Holiness instituted in several states as a result of this camp meeting. Also many preachers have been the outcome of this camp meeting. We will say that there has been more preachers produced as the direct or indirect result of this camp meeting than all the churches put together in the bounds of the district. People have come from all quarters and freely give their money for the running expenses of this camp meeting and nearly all of them have preferred that their names were not known. Yet the leaders of our church would have us report it as church expenses and would ignore the report of money given a pastor by one who may not be a member of his own flock, though it may have amounted to 50 cents or $1. Should these annual collections been reported every year since the organization of the camp meeting it would have amounted to more than five thousand dollars and yet our own home churches have given but a small amount of it comparatively speaking, and yet we are called upon to render an account of their stewardship and in these latter years jealousy has been created in our own ranks and is much attributed to acquisitions brought by people that knew least about the affairs, but should there be an edict that this camp meeting should close in 1907 there would come up a cry from the four quarters of the earth from every name and order against it. Why? Because the camps are owned by all denominations, or nearly all and they have paid their money for them. They don't own the grounds but they do own the camps by virtue of promise and repromise and they have no use for them but to camp in them every year and it is a great pleasure. We have looked forward for these sixteen years with pleasant expectations for the coming of that noted day, Wednesday, before the fourth Sunday in August as the day to move into the camps for ten days and those ten days are as much enjoyed as is possible.

In reference to this camp meeting as a charitable institution, I have known invalids to receive as much as thirty dollars and sent them to their destination. The people become liberal as they associate together in a meeting like this.

To bring it nearer home, when R. M. Franks had his horse stolen from the camp ground a few years ago the people with one accord made up eleven dollars and odd cents to secure his horse. Think of an institution that is more charitable. The wants of the sick and suffering have been met liberally.

When old Hurricane church caught fire during Bro. Jim Bigham's ministry the old camp shed being attached to the church gave us the only chance to save it. Notwithstanding this the church or pastor ordered that the shed or tabernacle be cut loose from the church and it was done. The tabernacle now stands independent of the church as a place of worship for all denominations during the camp meeting. If a man will attend every service of one camp meeting he will discover his prejudice and will give it up and will be a happier man because of it. Come let us reason together and live while we live.

Yours,
R. M. FRANKS.

Educational Notes

Crittenden county is entitled to six appointees to the State Normal at Bowling Green. Teachers, shall we furnish our quota to that institution?
Out of about eighty teachers have we six who want to take advantage of the generous offer made by the state? If so make your application to me not later than Dec. 8. You can live with as little expense in Bowling Green as anywhere and with free tuition you will have nothing to hinder in preparing for better work. Mark this prediction, those who attend the State Normal and complete the course will be given the best schools in the best communities. Such a teacher will be in demand and instead of the teacher seeking the school the school will seek for the teacher. Would you like to be such? If so prepare yourself and the question is answered. You must apply for appointment on or before Dec.
8, and then take the examination Dec.
15. This costs you nothing except your time.

WHICH SCHOOL TO ATTEND

Appointees must, in order to secure free tuition, attend the school of their own district—that is, appointees from any county in the Western District will attend at Bowling Green; appointees
from counties in the Eastern District will attend at Richmond. Those who pay tuition may enter either school.
All appointments must be made from the county in which the applicant teaches.

CONDITIONS FOR ADMISSION

Persons of good moral character of any age not less than sixteen years will be admitted to the State Normal Schools
on the following conditions:

Persons appointed by the county superintendent for free tuition are entered without examination.

All persons who hold certificates of any grade authorizing them to teach in the public schools of Kentucky may enter without examination.

All students who hold a common school diploma in Kentucky will be admitted without examination.

Holders of State diplomas, State certificates, and graduates of high schools, colleges, and Normal schools, may enter without examination and be classified at such a point in the different courses of study as their qualifications will warrant. J. B. P.

A Western Wonder.

There's a Hill at Bowie, Tex., that's twice as big as last year. This wonder is W. L. Hill, who from a weight of 90 pounds has grown to over 180. He says: 'I suffered with a terrible cough,
and doctors gave me up to die of consumption. I was reduced to 90 pounds when I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Cough's and colds. Now after taking 12 bottles, I have more than doubled in weight and am completely cured.' Only a sure Cough and Cold cure. Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor druggist. 50 and $1.00
Trial bottle free.

Supreme Court Decision

Possibly it would help some judges having before them the question of the legality of the recent union of Presbyterian churches, to have their attention called to a very pertinent decision of the United States Supreme Court. I refer to the case of Watson vs Jones, found in Book 20, page 666, of the Supreme Court Reports.

If the Georgia and Texas judges to whom you referred in an editorial note in your issue of November 15, had been thoroughly familiar with that decision, they might have been saved from the errors committed by them. They seem to have followed English rather than American law in their judgements.
Certainly the Texas judge, had he known American law, would not have been guilty of the farcical proceeding of giving to a jury the task of deciding whether the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. was conformed in its standards to the doctrine and order of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The disagreement of the jury was quite natural, by the way.

In the case referred to, the principle is laid down that the decision of the highest judicatory of a church on all ecclesiastical matters is final and must be respected by the civil courts.

This language is used: "Whatever questions of discipline or of faith, or ecclesiastical rule, custom or law have been decided by the highest of these church judicatories to which the matter has been carried, the legal tribunals must accept such decisions as final, and
and as binding on them in their application to the case before them."

Two questions may be considered by the civil courts: (1) Who resides authority to decide according to the constitution of the church? (2) What decision has been made by the proper tribunal?

Whether that decision is constitutional or not, the civil courts cannot inquire.

The Cumberland General Assembly
having decided the union to have been properly effected, the civil courts have nothing to do but to respect that decision.

Belonging to neither church involved,
I have no interest in the matter except to see justice done, with the desire of helping to put an end to litigation. Robert Adams,
Laurens, S. C.

Republican Campaign Text-Book

A departure has been made in the Republican Campaign Text-Book just issued, in that its contents are wholly devoted to live issues, and these are treated in the briefest possible way, yet comprehensively enough to include all necessary facts and figures.

First, there is a general statement of the issues of 1906, followed by a brief review of Republican legislation in general and the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress in particular. The Railroad Rate Law, Pure Food Law, Free
Alcohol Law, Employers' Liability
Law and the Meat Inspection portion of the Agricultural Appropriation Law are given in full, as is Chairman Taw-ney's clear explanation of the appropriations.

The Labor question is next fully presented, followed by Representative Watson's exposition of Anti-Trust proceedings. About one hundred pages are given to the Tariff, Agriculture and Manufactures, and the tables showing the various phases of industrial activity. Among other subjects treated under the tariff are:

Protection and Free Trade,
Customs Revenue,
Foreign Commerce,
Home Market and Internal Trade,
Wages and Prices,
Export Discounts,
Reciprocity,
Free Hides,
Revision, etc., etc.

Some half hundred tables give official and authoritative figures down to the latest possible date. The work of the president and administration is then briefly presented, the condition and status of the Philippines, the Panama Canal, the Navy, Postal Service, Irrigation, etc., etc.

The President's letter to Representative Watson concludes the work, which has a copious index of over a dozen pages.

Scattered throughout the book are quotations from President Roosevelt and other Republican leaders. Among these is the extract from Senator Hanna's speech where he used the "stand pat" expression, it being the only instance in the Text-Book where the words "stand pat" are used. A page is given to Mr. Bryan and his view, with the comments of the New York World. A so-called "Prosperity Postscript" is added, giving treasury conditions, trade reports, etc., down to August 1.

For the first time in a political campaign, the Text-Book will have a general circulation, as together with other literature, it will be sent on receipt of one dollar by John C. Eversman, Assistant Treasurer, 1133 Broadway, New York.
