THREE KILLED FOUR WOUNDED

LABOR WAR AT STURGIS CHRISTMAS EVE DAY

Four Others Were Wounded in Fight that Had Been Brewing for Some Time

Sturgis, Ky., Dec. 24.—Three men were killed and four wounded in a battle Christmas between guards employed by the West Kentucky Coal Company and the striking miners at Sturgis. The fight occurred on Fifth street in front of a pool room owned by Wm. Holdman. Just what precipitated the battle cannot be learned, as it broke out suddenly and continued until fully twenty-five or more shots were fired. The men taking part in the fight stood in the street and on the sidewalk in front of the pool room. The firing of the shots caused a stampede among the inhabitants and the men with guns had the street to themselves for several minutes. When the firing ceased C. J. Dougherty, guard, Will Malloy and Will Gray, miners, were dead and lying in the street. L. I. Moore, guard, had two bullet wounds in his stomach, one in his right thigh and one in his left leg. Sam Barnaby, miner, was shot three times through the stomach, and is at his home in a dying condition. Wm. Gooch, miner, was shot through the arm and Henry Delaney, non-union miner was shot through the left leg. Immediately after the shooting, the wounded men were carried into the office of the coal company where doctors were summoned to care for them.

Malloy leaves a wife and four children, Gray a wife and three children. Barnaby is also a man of family.

As soon as possible after the shooting Marshal Taylor and Constable Pemberton had men patrolling the streets with Winchester rifles and no more trouble occurred.

The stores all closed, business was suspended and the people generally went to their homes.

Moore and Delaney were put under arrest.

Delaney was sent to Morganfield and placed in jail, but Moore's wounds were such that he could not be removed. He was placed under guard.

Judge Clement refused either of them bond.

Strickland was arrested but afterwards released on $1,000 bond.

The remains of C. J. Dougherty were shipped to White Plains, Hopkins county.

The remains of Will Malloy and Will Gray were buried at Grainger town.

WOMAN CHAMPION HUSKER

Iowa Wife Clears Ninety-Nine Bushels in Day

Sigourney, Keokuk County, Ia., Dec. 22.—Mrs. Mattie Conner, living two miles south of Delta, was left at home, her husband having been called away. Mrs. Conner had nothing particular to do that day so she thought she would surprise her husband by going out and helping get in the corn. She rose at 4 o'clock that morning to get an early start, working from sunrise. She did not hurry particularly, but just thought she would keep count of what she did for the day.

Mrs. Conner is 25 years of age and weighs 110 pounds and is a hustler. For that day she husked 99 bushels and 15 pounds of corn from sun up to sun down stopping at noon to go nearly a mile, and cook her own dinner. She husked the corn clean, too.

Her husband is mighty proud of her record, and defies any farmer's wife in Iowa to equal the record.

Odd Fellows Election

New Marion Lodge No. 198, Independent Order of Odd Fellows held its annual election of officers Friday night, Dec. 21, and elected the following for the ensuing term:

E. V. Carenton, N. G.
Dr. T. A. Fraser, V. G.
J. B. Grissom, Treas.
G. E. Grissom, Secy.

Entertained

One of the most delightful social functions of the season, was the euchre given by Ruby James at her home on Wilson Ave., Friday evening, Dec. 28. The house was beautifully decorated with mistletoe.

An elegant two course lunch was served. The first consisting of sandwiches, chicken salad, scalloped oysters and coffee and the second of brick ice cream and cake.

The ladies first prize, a handsome hand painted salad bowl, won by Mrs. A. H. Cardin; the second prize, a pretty fan, and was won by Miss Edna Cole; the consolation, a picture, was won by Miss Kitty Gray. Mr. McElroy won the gentleman's first prize, which was a leather waste basket; Mr. Rob Cook won the second, which was a cigar jar; and Mr. Tom Clifton, the consolation, a picture.

The guest were Mr. and Mrs. Clifton, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Gugenheim, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Olie James, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sayre, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Baird; Misses Edna Cole, Kitty and Fanny Gray, Della Barnes, Mattie Henry, Lizzie James, Leafa Wilborn and Blanche Haase; Messrs. E. J. Heywerd, F. S. Stilwell, R. B. Cook, C. W. Haynes, and W. H. McElroy.

Frost Bitten Corn Kills Mules

Hamilton Drury, of Pike's Peak, lost two good mules last week from eating frost bitten corn. This was a loss for Mr. Drury, being the only team he had. A good many farmers throughout the western part of this State have had this experience. We advise every stock owner to look over their corn and see that no frost bitten or green corn is fed to their stock, however a farmer states it may be fed to cow with impunity.—Uniontown Telegram.

NEGRO RISKS

Refused By Metropolitan Life Insurance Company

The increased death rate among the negroes is the reason given by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company for refusing to accept more applications for policies from them.

The company now carries more than $1,000,000 worth of risks of negro policy holders. The new order went into effect January 1. All policies that are now held by negroes that are allowed to lapse will be canceled, and not renewed.

Coal to be Barged to Cuba

Twelve barges containing 100,000 bushels of coal will be shipped from Pittsburg to Havana, Cuba, by the Monongahela Consolidated Coal Company. The barges are a new type and have waterproof covering to protect them from the waves. This is the first time such a shipment has been attempted, although the Havana Coal Company made several efforts to have barges built for such a trip.

H. Koltinsky Takes the Cake

The Marion Milling Company has awarded to the groceryman, Mr. H. Koltinsky, the premium for the year just closed for selling the largest amount of their product. The mill dray delivered to him last week a barrel of fine flour marked compliments and best wishes of The Marion Milling Company. It was the prize for largest sales which amounted to $2886.09.

Have a Chew?

Out in Kansas they are selling beer in plugs like tobacco. It looks like tobacco, but when it is put in water there's the beer, foam and all. A small plug will make a gallon. The sellers claim there can be no revenue tax on it and no Federal license for selling it, as it is not a liquid, nor is it tobacco. But it makes drunk come just the same.

Olive-Ghesham

Ed Olive and Miss Mattie Ghesham were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's father, in Eddyville. The bride is an attractive young lady and has many friends.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Olive, of this city, and is a young man of splendid business qualification. He is now manager of the Nebo Consolidated Coal & Coke Co's Store, at Nebo.

Shortest Sermon on Record

Unwilling to keep his congregation waiting longer than was necessary for the music of Haydn's oratorio "Creation," and feeling that he could tell all he knew about his subject, creation, in a few words, Rev. Dr. James M. Farrar, pastor of the First Reformed church, Seventh avenue and Carroll street, Brooklyn, preached last Sunday night this sermon, which has the record in this country for brevity:

"I do not know very much about creation. All that any one knows about it is contained in the Bible and what scientists have been telling us. I am satisfied that there was a creator and that it has been satisfactory."

An English preacher has beaten this with a sermon consisting of "Little children, love one another—consider this."—New York World.

Big week at Wells

Beginning Sunday Jan. 6th, the Black Crook aggregation will be the attraction at the Wells-Bijou Theatre in Evansville for four nights and two matinees. This is a magnificent production with 50 people and 14 scenes and will be put on at popular prices. On Thursday and Friday nights, Neil Burgess with an original production of The County Fair, staged with great splendor, prices 25c to $1.00. Saturday matinee and night, theatre-goers of this section will be given an opportunity to see Lillian Russell in her latest and greatest success "The Butterfly."

THIS IN KENTUCKY

Prohibition Wave Has Almost Covered the State

The drouth in Kentucky continues to spread, and there are now ninety-four totally "dry" counties out of a total of 119.

Two months ago there were eighty-two "dry" counties, but since then many precinct and county elections have been held to vote whether liquor should be sold or not. In these, twelve counties have gone "dry" and the only victory gained by the "wets" was to carry the towns of Cloverport, Middlesboro and the portions of Nelson county. There isn't a county in Kentucky that is totally "wet."

There are only four counties that are approximately saturated. These are Meade, Jefferson, Kenton and Campbell, all along the Ohio river in the northern part of the State. Todd county, on the southern border was "wet," but the "drys" captured it in their recent raid.

There are ninety-four counties without any saloons, nineteen with saloons at only one place, nine with saloons at two places, and six where liquor is sold at three or more points.

Liquor is sold in Christian county in four places, Hopkinsville, Pembroke, Crofton and Gracey.

Chautauqua Club

The Ladies Chautauqua Club kept "Open House" Tuesday, new years, at the residence of Mrs. G. C. Gray on South Main Street.

The decorations, superintended by Mrs. Gray, were of palms, ferns and smilax and were beautifully arranged.

Mrs. T. H. Cochran received the guest at the door and ushered them into the parlor where they were greeted by Mesdames H. A. Haynes, H. H. Sayre, R. D. Drescher, G. C. Gray, J. F. Clement, and W. B. Yandell. Mesdames J. W. Blue and J. H. Orme, then piloted them to the library, where punch was served, this being presided over by Mesdames H. K. Woods; and G. M. Grider. Misses Lena and Ina Woods.

Every guest was required to register and also make some wish for the new year. This was presided over by Miss Nelle Walker.

Hyacinths were given as souvenirs. All the members of the club were present except Mrs. W. J. Deboe, who was absent on account of a wound that had been sustained in a fall. The colored string band was stationed in the dining room and furnished music for the occasion.

All went away wishing the club many more happy new years and hoping they would keep "open house" many years to come.

Resigns His Position

Mr. R. G. Fowler, who has been connected with the dry goods firm of McConnell & Stone, as salesman has resigned his position. Mr. Fowler has not decided what he do in the future.

YOUNG MAN ENDS HIS LIFE

WITH A PISTOL SATURDAY AT HIS HOME NEAR TOLU

He Was the Son of John Franklin Who Is Almost Prostrated With Grief

Dallas Franklin, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin, of near Tolu, committed suicide Saturday by shooting himself through the head. He had gone into the room where his father was, and he (his father) began to scold him for something, but he left the room going to a little cabin in the yard, placed a pistol just behind one ear and pulled the trigger which caused his death. The bullet did not go through his head, but he lived only a few minutes, dying before he could be carried to the house.

It is thought the young man's mind was slightly unbalanced, caused by an attack of spinal meningitis.

Mr. Franklin is so grief stricken that he has become insane. He has been almost unmanageable since his son's death. It was thought for awhile that he would have to be tried for insanity, but he is better and it is thought that he will soon be alright.

HEAVIEST RAIN IN YEARS

Water Has Fallen Almost Constantly Several Days and Bridges Washed Away

The continued floods of water show no signs of abatement. One of the heaviest rainfalls in years is now upon us.

The bridge between Marion and the Harvey Elder place across Crooked creek has been washed two or three hundred feet from its foundation, and Judge Blackburn states it will take a day or so of very hard work to get this bridge back in place, and if these rains continue it will be longer than that.

The mail route from Salem to Crayneville has been impassable for two days as has also the routes from Marion to Salem Marion to Shady Grove, Marion to Fords Ferry and Rural Free Delivery No. 1, Noble P. Hill, carrier.

Dr. J. D. Threlkeld returned from Dawson Thursday, and stated that there was as much as fifteen inches of water over the railroad track at Kelsey and the water was up to the ties of the bridge near the tank.

A cave-in is reported at the Harrison trestle, also one at the Woodall trestle.

A. J. PICKENS SELLS OUT

His Interest in the Hardware Store To Lawrence Crider and Alvis Stephens.

Mr. A. J. Pickens, of the firm, of Cochran & Pickens has sold his interest in that popular hardware store to two of the salesmen, Messrs. L. E. Crider and J. Alvis Stephens. These two young men have been connected with the firm for a number of years and will no doubt prove themselves excellent partners. They are young men of splendid business qualifications.

This firm has always enjoyed a lucrative trade and we predict for them even a better one for the future.

Mr. Pickens has not decided what he will do, but we are sure he will soon embark in some kind of business as he never stays out of business very long at a time.

Please Take Notice

Mr. A. J. Pickens, of the firm of Cochran & Pickens has sold his interest in the hardware business to L. E. Crider and J. Alvis Stephens. The firm will be known from this time as T. H. Cochran & Co. Everyone indebted to us will please call and settle at once by cash or note as we want to wind up all out-standing accounts. COCHRAN & PICKENS.

Virginia Society in Kentucky

Norfolk, Va.,—Following close upon the raising of a popular fund by the Kentucky Jamestown Exposition Commission for that State's representation at the Exposition, comes the announcement of the formation of the Virginia Society of Kentucky, which was launched at Louisville with fifty charter members amid the greatest enthusiasm. It is anticipated that within thirty days the society will have a membership of over five hundred. The method whereby funds were raised to insure the participation of Kentucky at Jamestown in 1907 has set the people of the entire State to studying history and discussing the glories past, present and future of the mother commonwealth, and this it is that stimulated the Virginians of our neighbor across the Blue Ridge to inaugurate a society for keeping alive the memories and sentiments of the Old Dominion.

While intended as a purely social organization for the entertainment of guests from the home state and the holding of an annual banquet to afford opportunity for pleasant recollections and the sounding of Virginia's praises, the specific purpose of the society at present is to afford active support to the Kentucky Commission to the Jamestown Exposition. Of course the society will be present in a body when the State of their adoption opens its building at Jamestown.

These gentlemen were elected at the first meeting: Capt. John H. Leathers, President; Judge A. E. Richards, first Vice-President; Rev. Carter Helm Jones, second Vice-President; A. J. Walz, Secretary; Geo. H. Wilson, Treasurer; Prof. A. P. Robertson, Historian; Rev. W. C. Beauchamp, Chaplain.

The directorate is composed of Dr. Frank C. Wilson, John F. Hancock, J. A. Hiner, E. E. Phillips and Dr. Hugh N. Leavell.

It is proposed that all joining the society within thirty days shall have the distinction of being charter members. The present membership is composed exclusively of citizens of Louisville, but any Virginian resident in Kentucky is eligible.

MISS DELLA FUGATE

Formerly of the Record Married Dec. 19 to Mr. E. E. Reno

Central City, Ky., Jan. 1.—One of the greatest surprise weddings in Central City was that of Mr. E. E. Reno, editor of the Republican, and Miss Della Fugate, business manager of the same paper, which occurred on the 19th of December, at the home of Dr. W. R. McDowell, where the bride made her home. By only a few was it suspected that there was more than a business relation existing between the editor and his pretty business manager, so that nothing was thought of both spending the holidays in other cities, especially when the paper was not issued during the holidays, and they had just closed a long-drawn-out popularity contest.

However, they returned on Sunday, the 30th, and made the announcement that the ceremony had been said on the 19th by the Rev. W. M. Wright, the only witnesses being Dr. and Mrs. W. R. McDowell. Immediately after the ceremony they left for Dixon, the home of the bride, and before returning visited in Missouri the relatives of the groom. They are at home at the residence of the groom on Locust street. Dr. and Mrs. McDowell are being congratulated along with the happy couple for the complete secrecy of the ceremony.

Knights of Honor

Thursday of last week the Knights of Honor held an election and elected the following officers:

C. E. Doss, Dictator.
L. H. James, Vice-Dictator.
D. Woods, Treas.
G. E. Grissom, Secy.

PARROT IS TOO TALENTED

Brings Loss to Roadhouse Man and He Gives it Away.

New York.—Joseph Murphy, proprietor of a roadhouse in the Bronx, is said by voracious citizens of the vicinity to have suffered financial loss through the misplaced intellectual efforts of his green parrot Jemimah. The bird had to be disposed of because it ordered too many drinks at Mr. Murphy's bar.

According to neighborhood report, and Mr. Murphy reluctantly confirms the tale, a parrot pronounced to be bright and quick to learn was given to Mr. Murphy. The bird, which was hung on the veranda where the thrifty are served, made good his reputation by learning the names of the drinks the waiters called through the open windows to the professor behind the mahogany. The wise bird could distinguish a horse's neck from a mint julep within three weeks.

It was when Jemimah began to call out the order for drinks on her own hook that trouble began. "Scotch highball and two up," Jemimah would exclaim in the midst of a hurry of orders. The bartender would set out the drinks, ring up the check, then find that it was "on the house." This grew monotonous and so Murphy gave the bird to a friend whose wife is a member of the local Woman's Christian Temperance union.

PLAN FEDERAL FEMALE PRISON.

Government May Rally All in One Great Institution.

Leavenworth, Kan.—It is the plan of the department of justice to build here within a short time a prison to be devoted entirely to the keeping of government female prisoners, and Gen. Cecil Clay, special agent of the department, and Architect T. C. Young, of St. Louis, who are at the United States penitentiary making an inspection, are said to be looking over the land of this prison for a site. If one is built it will be directly west of this immense institution, and, perhaps, under the same head, but this has not been decided.

The government has in all no less than 200 female prisoners held for violation of the federal laws. These are confined for the most part in state penitentiaries, in states where their crimes have been committed and are being paid for out of funds set aside for this purpose. The cost is about 50 cents a day and it is thought they can be more cheaply and satisfactorily confined if in a government institution.

At one time it was planned to confine all female lawbreakers in one cellhouse of the federal penitentiary here, but this has been changed, as it was not thought this would be a suitable arrangement and would be detrimental to discipline.

MILES PREDICTS WORLD WAR.

Former Army Head Declares Panama Canal Will Bring Conflict.

Philadelphia.—Gen. Nelson A. Miles, former commander in chief of the United States army, said that the opening of the Panama canal would, in his opinion, be a step toward a war in the future.

"If war does come," he said, "it will be a struggle for supremacy between the United States and the powers of the world."

Gen. Miles admitted that the struggle he foresees will not come for some time. But it is certain sooner or later as the clash of commerce becomes keener. In such a war the United States would have to struggle single-handed against the world. An increased army and navy would not avail much, he says. South American trade is the bone over which the powers will contend and the canal's opening will force us into the arena.

16-HOUR DAY ON MILK DIET.

Half-Breed Hercules Drinks Two Quarts While at Work.

Battleboro, Vt.—Joseph Moss, a French and Indian half-breed, works 16 hours daily, and says that it makes him "dopey" to sleep more than two hours and a half in one night.

Ignoring union conventions and precedent, Moss accepts less instead of more than regular compensation for overtime. Because of his unusual strength, he carries a load made especially for him, his loads averaging 100 pounds. He is paid 30 cents an hour for the nine-hour day and 25 cents an hour for overtime.

Moss wears his hair, which falls below his shoulders, in a twist beneath his hat. He pauses in his work every forenoon to drink two quarts of milk, which is brought to him by a milkman. The income of Moss from "carrying the load" is said to exceed the salary of the county treasurer.

Substitute for Celluloid.

Vienca.—A young Bohemian chemist at Gabling has discovered a substitute for celluloid, much cheaper and without any of its dangerous properties. The new substance is elastic, entirely nonflammable, and an excellent material for working. By a simple process articles made from it can be given a high and lasting polish. It is said to keep its color alike in sun or water.

United States Paid Germany. Berlin.—The United States government has paid Germany the award of $20,000 in the Samson case. Great Britain paid her damages in the spring and the matter is therefore settled.

ORIGIN OF POSTAGE STAMPS.

Secret Sign on an Envelope the Cause of Present System.

Quite recently there has been more or less discussion as to the origin of the postage stamp.

Perhaps the most authentic story is that which comes from the post office department at Washington.

It appears that about 65 years ago Rowland Hill was traveling through one of the northern districts of England and for a time was sojourning at an inn where the postman came with a letter for a young miss, who turned it over and over in her hand and after examining the envelope minutely inquired the price of the postage, which was a shilling. She sighed sadly and returned the letter to the postman, saying that it was from her brother, but that she had no money.

Mr. Hill was an onlooker and was touched with pity. He paid the postage and his action seemed to embarrass the girl. When the postman had gone she told Mr. Hill that some signs marked on the envelope conveyed to her all she wanted to know and that as a fact there was no writing inclosed. In extenuation she said that she and her brother had contrived a code system of communicating, as neither of them were able to pay post charges.

Mr. Hill thought of the results of a system which made such frauds possible. Before another day he had planned a postal system upon the present basis.—Harper's Weekly.

Paupers Were Well Fed.

In the records of St. Thomas hospital, London, is an entry of the year 1570, to the effect that "in consideration of the hote tymie of the yere, the poor be allowed 'every one a daye three pynnts of Bere for two monthes'—a quart at dinner and a pint at supper—and at the end of two months return to 'there olde ordinary allowance, wch is one quart.' The food at this ancient workhouse was to be dealt with as liberally as the drink. The almoner and steward were to 'bye no byffe but of the best, without bones and in speciall without the marybon, and none other to be bought."

American Civility Criticized.

Owen Owen, a dry goods man, who is in a large way of business in Liverpool, tells in the Draper's Record of what he saw on a recent visit to the United States. He speaks with wonder of the many attractions and conveniences American dry goods men furnish for their customers, but remarks: "One hardly ever hears the phrase 'Thank you' in an American shop. Without being actually rude, the assistants seem to lack some of the polish which is expected from them in this country."

COOK WITHOUT FIRE

CLEVER DEVICES FOR USE AT ARMY MANEUVERS.

Merits of Invention Will Be Tested in Field Operations and Commissary Department Expects Good Results.

Washington.—Brig. Gen. Sharpe, commissary general, has sent enough of the new army fireless cookers to feed four companies to the joint camp at Mount Gretna, Pa. He has also ordered enough of the cookers to supply eight companies sent to Fort Riley, Kan., where one of the largest of the joint encampments began recently.

It is the intention of the commissary department to test the merits of this device in practical field operations. The cooker in its present form has been constructed by the army artisans themselves; there are no patent rights connected with it, and it is so simple that any boy handy with tools could make one in the course of a day according to the army standard. The commissary department is highly gratified over the success in the experiments made in the west, and the officers are devoting their attention to developing minor improvements, such as the application of devices for hermetically sealing the cooking vessels and lightening the weight of the outfit.

The large six-compartment cookers first made weighed 450 pounds each, but they have been lightened, and one development is a single compartment cooker weighing a little over 100 pounds which has found much favor because it can be packed readily on a mule, assuring a hot supper for a detachment at the end of a day's scout. Another improvement about to be introduced is the adoption of aluminum vessels, made after the department's plans, which are expected to be indestructible.

TAKE MILLIONS FROM AMERICA.

Records Show That Immigrants Send Earnings to Home Banks.

Washington.—Millions of dollars in American gold is being hoarded annually in the banks of Italy by temporary Italian residents of the United States. This is the news that has just reached the government, along with a statement from the general commissioner of immigration at Rome that the total immigration to the states from Italy in the year 1905-6 approached the 500,000 mark.

The idea of most Italian emigrants, says the immigration commissioner, is to accumulate something like a fortune in the states and return with it to Italy. The intimacy of the home connection is shown by the exhibit of the Bank of Naples, which, having advertised that sort of business as its specialty, has more than 183,000 accounts opened by Italian emigrants in the United States and placed to their credit during the fiscal year just closed more than $500,000.

During the same period Italians in Argentina sent to this single bank $228,000 and $425,000 came from Brazil. The total receipts from such sources at the Naples bank were $200,000 above those of the year before. And that is only one bank among dozens in Italy.

AGED WOMAN SPEEDS AUTO.

Takes Delight in Fast Driving in Spite of Her 106 Years.

Middletown, Conn.—Arrayed in goggles, visored cap and long cloak, Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt, of Brooklyn borough, who is 106 years old, is making her annual tour of this state. The trip is being made in an automobile which travels by easy stages from one town to another. Hitherto the annual tour which Mrs. Hunt insists on making each year has been accomplished mostly by train.

"Not much like the stage coaches of my girlhood," she laughs. Owing to her rheumatism she has to be helped into the car, but she scorns cushions and pillows. She likes to sit on the front seat with the chauffeur, and asks many questions about the mechanism of the car, which the driver gladly explains to her.

She often tells the chauffeur not to hold the machine in, because she says she can stand as much speed as her son, who is 35 years her junior, and who also enjoys the sport.

BRICKS MADE BY LIGHTNING.

Elements Are Kind to Man Living Near Columbus, Ind.

Columbus, Ind.—Nathan H. Newsom, a farmer of Sandcreek township, has brought to this city some samples of bricks made by lightning. During a thunder, rain and hail storm on his farm recently lightning struck a shock of wheat and burned it.

Several hours later Mr. Newsom was walking through the field and found the ground so hot near the burned shock that he could not stand on it. The next day the ground was still hot, and he took a shovel and dug down to see for his own curiosity how much of the ground had been affected.

Ten inches down he found that the ground was thoroughly baked, and pieces of earth which readily held together were taken out. The earth, which was fine black soil, is cooked to a brick red, and every bit of vegetable matter has been roasted out.

In Memory

Of Mrs. Alvira J. Elder, wife of T. S. C. Elder, who died at her home two and one-half miles Northeast of Marion, on Nov. 5, 1906, at 2:50 o'clock a. m. She was the daughter of James E. and Peggy Jackson, and was born March 11, 1833. She was married to Mr. Elder August 16, 1859. She leaves a husband and three children, Rufus H. and Sophronia Elder, of Marion, and Mrs. T. T. Davis, of Summerville, Ga., one brother, W. H. Jackson, and one sister, Mrs. J. D. Scott, both of Alva, Okla.

Mother professed faith in Christ when quite young and united with the Presbyterian church at what was known as the Old Brick Church at Marion. Though she was an invalid and a great sufferer for a number of years, she remained faithful to her church and was devoted to her husband and children. The best medical aid was secured and all was done that could be done to alleviate her suffering, but to no avail. When death came it was to her "only a dream," for the sting thereof had been taken away by the precious blood of Christ. On the other side she is watching and waiting for loved ones to come.

She was laid to rest in the old cemetery at Marion, the funeral was conducted at the grave by Rev. Ben Andrews.

Precious mother, she has left us. Left us, yes, forevermore; But we hope to meet our loved ones On that bright and happy shore.

Lonely the home and sad the hours, Since our dear one has gone; But oh! a brighter home than ours In heaven is now her home.

Largest Chain Cables.

What are said to be the largest chain cables ever made for ships use have been turned out in South Wales. The iron bar used in making the links is three and three-quarters inches in diameter at the smallest part. Each link is about 22 1/4 inches long and weighs about 160 pounds.

When tested for strength the breaking stress of 265.7 tons required by law, instead of fracturing these gigantic links, simply elongated them about one inch. With the highest stress that the testing machine could give about 370 tons, the links showed no signs of cracks or fracture—Export Implement Age.

Robespierre's Change of Heart.

Robespierre, of the French revolution, the man who was destined to deluge France with blood, was not long before his frightful career of power began, one of the most strenuous opponents of capital punishment. While he was still an obscure advocate at his native Arras he threw up an appointment because of his opposition to this form of penalty. And just when his star was in the ascendant he boldly harangued the national assembly to prove "that the punishment of death is essentially unjust, that it has no tendency to repress crimes, and that it multiplies offenses much more than it diminishes them."

Clever Trick of Press Gang.

Desperate means were sometimes resorted to in order to get men for British warships. A chronicler writes that in the year 1738 "a fleet of ships being required immediately to be manned, the press gangs placed a live turkey on the top of the monument, which, drawing together a great number of idle people, they had the opportunity of selecting as many men as answered the purpose of their intended scheme." The scene so enraged a citizen that he fired a shot at the bird "which occasioned it to fly away." But the mischief had been done.

English Officials in India.

Britain uses only a handful of Englishmen in its India civil service to govern the hordes of natives in India. Says an authority: "Including military officers in civil employ and others; about 1,200 Englishmen are employed in the civil government of 232,000,000 of people and in the partial control of 62,000,000 more. On the average there are only four members of the ruling race for every million of its subjects. India is a government of Indians under British direction."

New Water Scoop Tried.

If the experiments that are now being made with a new water scoop are successful it will be possible for trains running at the high speed of 75 miles an hour to take water without slackening. The initial experiment made a few days ago was highly successful, and it was shown that it was possible for engines on the fast through trains to be equipped with the device.

A Wonder?

"I always read your poems by the fire," wrote the Young Person to the Bard.

TELL OF COMING DEATH.

Omens Implicitly Believed in by Old English Families.

It is not in superstitious Ireland or Scotland only that omens are supposed to warn an old family of death. Whenever two enormous owls perch together on one of the battlements of the house of Arundel and Wardour death is at the door. The ancient family of Clifton of Clifton Hall, in Nottinghamshire, is supposed to be forewarned of death by a sturgeon forcing itself up the River Trent. The apparition of a Benedictine nun is said to warn the ancient Yorkshire Catholic family of Middleton of the approach of death. Camden, in his "Magna Britannia," in speaking of the antiquity and dignity of the Brereton family, says: "This wonderful thing respecting them is commonly believed and I have heard it myself affirmed by many, that for some days before the death of the heir of the family the trunk of a tree has always been seen floating in the lake adjoining their mansion."—London T. P.'s Weekly.

His Pertinent Query.

"If you haven't got anything to do—and you don't 'pear to have—'" grimly said the Old codger, addressing the most paltry citizen in the village, "and no sense—and you don't evidence any symptoms of having—and no honesty—and you've never been accused of being cursed with any—and no self-respect—and there's no indications of it—and no ability to do anything but loaf and lop and lally-gas around—and you are clear up into the thirty-third degree at that—w'y'll you not you run for the legislature? You are amply equipped for the position; look at the fun you'd have, with all the Toms, Dicks and Harrys in the community hoo-awing for or against you, and if you should happen to be elected the dishonor wouldn't especially hurt you, and you've got no family to be disgraced. What say?"—Puck.

No Help for the Dying.

The extreme callousness of the old English gamblers, or gentlemen, as they were then called, is illustrated by the following account which Horace Walpole, the celebrated letter writer, gives of a curious occurrence at White's coffee house in London.

In one of his epistles to Sir Horace Mann, under date of September 1, 1750, he says: "They have put into the papers a good story, made at White's. A man dropped down dead at the door, and was carried in. The club immediately made bets whether he was dead or not; and when they were going to bleed him, the wagers for his death interposed and said it would affect the fairness of the bet, and they stopped their efforts."—The Sunday Magazine.

And it just rained "a purpose."

It will be admitted by all that the year just ended was a most prosperous one for the prosperous.

THE RECORD proposes this toast, "Here's that ye may never die nor be kilt till ye break ye bones o'er a bushel of glory."

Broken resolutions are beginning to come home to roost. This is only Jan. 4, and a little early, but they always get an early start.

Congress has reconvened and will no doubt get very busy. We hope if a rearrangement of the tariff gets in the mill that they will place a tariff on flour spar of at least $2.00 per ton.

THE CRITTENDEN RECORD greets you once again the first of this good year, 1907. That the coming twelve months may be an improvement upon the past twelve with each and every one of you is our wish. That Marion will take on more courage, reach out with a firmer faith, lay hold on those things that are good and win her share of the overflowing prosperity of this, the grandest country in the world, is our hope. That each and every issue of this paper during 1907 will be better than the corresponding issues in 1906 will be our endeavor.

Here are a few things THE CRITTENDEN RECORD would like to see come to pass in 1907:

A settlement at once for now and forever of the tobacco troubles in this district.

The Nine Acre mine put on a paying basis and started with such a swing that it would never stop.

The Columbia Mining Company extend the shaft on their property to a depth of 1000 feet.

A tariff placed on flour spar. Why not press the point with the powers that be?

An equitable and just adjustment of railroad rates and an abolition of unjust discrimination against the western end of Kentucky.

Such a condition in the mineral field that the managers of Sanders Ore Separating Company would consider it almost imperative that they run their plant to its full capacity night and day.

Such an advance in price, such an avalanche of orders and such an abundance of cars that the Kentucky Flour Spar Co., The Marion Mineral Co., and all other spar producers in this district would be compelled to pass some orders unfilled.

The proposed new Baptist church completed; "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

A greater interest manifested in the attendance of all our churches, especially Sunday nights.

A general wave of progress and advancement for Marion and 4000 inhabitants on Dec. 31, 1907.

The location in our midst of a glass factory employing several hundred skilled artisans. Paducah is after one right now. Why not Marion? Have we got the right kind of sand?

Every farmer in Crittenden, Livingston, Lyon and Caldwell counties the owner of a flock of sheep caused by the location within one mile of our court house of the Marion Woolen Mills. Mayfield Woolen Mill stock is better and harder to get than stock in the Marion Bank or the Farmers Bank.

Senator Bailey, of Texas, carries a pistol. It has always been a saying that "when a man in Texas needs a pistol, he needs it—bad." The distinguished Senator has been accused by certain constituents, who are a little particular about points of honor, of having dealings with trusts not exactly in accord with the teachings of the simple, righteous life. As he has been replying with such epithets as "scoundrel," "liar," etc., which is one way of "committing suicide," he thinks that he should be prepared for eventualities. —The Pantagraph.

The Texas statesman is having the time of his life trying to make good before the people of Texas. There have been so many questionable transactions that Senator Bailey no sooner gets through explaining one than another confronts him. The onlooker looks with much interest at the struggle between the rich corporation lawyer and the Jeffersonian Texas Democracy.

The planter in the "Black Patch" may not have a very extended or elevated mind; his imagination may not be the most lively nor the most poetical but he possesses a very solid, very common sense. He knows right from wrong; he knows he has been wronged, and he is going to have justice and right, if—well, if the dynamite and parlor matches hold out, and there are lots of dynamite and matches.—Madisonville Journal.

Anarchistic utterances like the above by supposed to be respectable journals and men have made the name of Kentucky a by word. Whoever lauds incendiary, whoever encourages lawlessness, whoever winks at and condones law breakers, is an enemy of those he thinks he helps. The farmers tobacco societies everywhere repudiate the lawless acts at Princeton therefore why a far fetched effort to curry favor?

That the raid and destruction of trust tobacco factories at Princeton recently was the direct result of incendiary speeches made by professional politicians, there is but little doubt. It has become the common custom of the average office-seeker, who for the lack of personality or the champion of any principle that appeals to the voter, to contend that the trust magnates are infamous scoundrels, who ought to be wearing prison stripes, and many of the most destitute of campaign thunder say they should be hung. The prejudice of the people is appealed to and their baser passions aroused to the highest degree of desperation, so that only a leader is needed for them to give way to lawlessness to the commission of lawless deeds. It is too often the case that the politician indulges in unfounded charges against corporate capital for the sole purpose of catching the people who do not study such matters themselves. The demagogue sometimes rides into office on the aroused feeling of the people against the trusts and after reaching the goal worships at the shrine of the trusts he has basely abused. Thus is the career of the "peanut" politician and the sooner the country is done with him the better. The trust, in the practical acceptance of the term, is a curse, but no less so than the unscrupulous demagogue. The one takes from the people by the mighty hand of oppression, the other by deceit and intrigue. We are unqualifiedly in favor of putting such oppressive combinations as the tobacco trust, the beef trust and the oil trust out of business in a legitimate way, such as the A. S. of E. purpose. So, also, are we in favor of forever retiring the professional demagogue politician.—Ex.

Everybody or Nobody

The outbreak of lawlessness, which culminated in the wanton deeds at Princeton has been echoed all over the country; everywhere it has been denounced and everywhere the harm that must result has been instantly recognized.

But while this is true, it is true also that the proper appreciation of that harm has been less general, and that statements have been made at once misleading and mischievous. It is proper that these should be corrected and that the situation, as it exists today, should be made clear.

Take, for example, the position of the insurance companies. It has been stated with a great deal of insistence that the companies are discriminating between the parties of corporations handling tobacco; this is not the case. Some companies, domestic and foreign, yielding to panic, have retired from the field; they have cancelled their risks, as was their right, and will not accept tobacco in rehandling houses. Others, less timorous, have reduced their lines, not for one, but for all. But in no case does discrimination exist, and we can state on the authority of an agent who recently appeared before the "field men" of the insurance corporations doing business in Kentucky, that where they write tobacco at all, they treat trusts, independent and farmers precisely alike, and will continue so to do.

Either they will insure everybody or nobody.—Henderson Journal.

Once there was an old farmer who lost his voice. As he could not call his hogs, he taught them to run to the feed pen when he tapped on the trough with a stick. One day the old man turned his hogs out in the forest to run at large and every time the hogs heard a woodpecker tapping on a tree they would run to it and this they kept up until they finally ran themselves to death. That's just like the Democrats. Once they were called together by a Jeffersonian voice, but the party lost its voice and played the trick of the old farmer. It taught the boys to run to the sound of any sort of a rattle. And they began to run. The woodpecker politician tapped on the tariff-reform limb and away the boys run like they would break their fool necks; then the free silver limb, then the imperialism snag and so on until the voters are so nearly run to death that they couldn't trot after a genuine issue if they had one. Why not call them the woodpecker party? At any rate, they come as near imitating the old farmer's hogs as any thing we ever knew.—Yellow Jacket.

EX-DEPUTY COLLECTOR PEPPER BILL JONES

Endorses Ex-Senator Deboe for the Nomination For Governor of Kentucky

To the Editor of THE RECORD:

Much has been said in the last few weeks regarding the next nominee of the Republican party for Governor of Kentucky. I am of the opinion that there has never been a time in the history of Kentucky politics that the Republican party had as fine an opportunity to elect the chief executive and a full chore of State officers as the present time affords. The Democratic party with that insatiable appetite for greed and graft so characteristic of it has brought down on its own head the condemnation of many thousands of its voters, and after having many of its treacherous and rascally schemes laid open and bare by one of its own in the last great State primary, I refer to the utterances of the present Attorney General, Napoleon Bonaparte Hayes, from every stump in the State. It still endorses its past leaders and promises no relief to the honest tax payers of the state but the machinery is oiled and running rampant to the disgust of thousands of its own, and they are now ready to lay the party prejudices down and vote for a clean, honest administration of affairs in Kentucky, like Missouri, Pennsylvania and other States. The old party is split in two and it behooves the Republicans of the State to look about carefully and intelligently and select as their nominee one who possesses the rare qualities that it takes to make a creditable Governor; one who we can point to with pride; first of all to be considered is character, then ability. We are not looking for politicians, machinists or Federal office holders, the masses are against these classes, they are tired of them and are clamoring for clean, honest men. Our party has factions in it, we are to a certain extent divided in making our selection; this is one of the important things to be considered.

I want to call the attention of the Republicans to a man who it seems to me fills the bill. He hails from old Crittenden county, the banner Republican county of Southwestern Kentucky. Once upon a time, a few years ago when it seemed on account of dissension in our ranks, notwithstanding we had a majority in the legislature and senate, when it looked as if we were not going to elect a U. S. Senator on account of these dissensions, wisely enough the party cast about to find one whom the whole party could unite on, they came to Crittenden county and selected the gallant fighter who had wrestled the Fourth Senatorial District from the grasp of the Democratic party where it had a majority of 800 and had placed it in the Republican column, the Hon. W. J. Deboe. For six years he served his constituency as U. S. Senator with credit and ability and received the endorsement of his party the second time, but was defeated by the overwhelming Democratic majority in the Senate and Legislature. He has been pointed out to strangers by the Democrats as there stands Deboe an honest politician. Clean, brave, honest, intelligent, a christian gentleman, one who has done more for the advancement of Republicanism in Western Kentucky than any other. As true and devoted to a friend as a mother to a child. After distributing patronage for six years no one can rise up and say that Wm. J. Deboe ever made him a false promise or deceived him in any shape or form. Can this be said of any other who has filled the place of U. S. Senator from Kentucky. The nominee must come from Western Kentucky. There are too many Republicans holding fat jobs from Central and Eastern Kentucky. Several of them third termers and the cry is going out for a Western Kentucky man for Governor. Deboe is the logical candidate; his own party has confidence in him. He has never been mixed up in any factions, he can poll every Republican vote in the State and the Democrats know that he is honest and clean, and the thousands disaffected ones will vote for him. Lets place our flag in his hands and when the idea of November comes and the smoke of battle has cleared away the glad news will spread over hill and dale that old honest Deboe is Kentucky's Governor.

The Franks-Grady Discussion

Bells Mines, Ky., Dec. 24, 1906—The Franks-Grady discussion seems to have taken on foreign and abnormal features at least the Franks side of it.

As to the identity of said woman or the parentage of said children, he need not quibble one minute—a true, benevolent Sunday school man would not. Even if I were not the woman nor the children mine, that should make no difference. Benevolence demands that he show no preferences.

Now, I suppose this so-called discussion will end. I, too, believe in both schools. During the days of the week we can drop the seeds of good and on the Sundays we cultivate, develop the flowers or gather the fruits. Persistence in any cause will win over negligence, therefore I say combine the two. Now Mr. Editor, what I don't just understand is his reference to the "great wave of reform" in the neighborhood of Sturgis. Union county has just voted whisky out, and Sturgis has a new graded school house and the Baptist college has taken the form of a university, besides there are three live Sunday schools. You can tell him these may only be ripples preceding the wave.

Again, I fail to get his bearings when he refers to the "high school east." But he may be like a great many first year school boys, failing to recognize east from south, he has reference to Bells Mines. We have not a high school here altho some of the higher branches are taught. We also have a school that the actual enrollment comes within six of the census report, and the average attendance is more than sixty per cent. of the enrollment, and every pupil over twelve years old is a professor of religion.

We have a church not of the vascillating type, but staunch and true. During the fall meeting there were sixty three conversions and thirty additions to the church. We have a Sunday school and two weekly prayer meetings. Mr. Editor, please tell him that these too, may be some of the ripples preceding the great wave.

Yours,
E. JEFFREY TRAVIS.

BITS OF BYPLAY.

Little Charlie Stewart, after kneeling at his father's knee not many nights ago, announced that he was not going to pray anymore. "Well why my son?" "Oh papa! it's no use. It just rains and rains and I can't go to school."

"What is one man's meat is another man's poison" said the cigarette fiend on the steps of the bank the other day. Then he drove a coffin nail under his nose, his eyes walled slightly, his jaws swelled longitudinally, there was a dry cracking, hawking spasm as his chest bulged forward. All was still. Was it a trance? No. All of a sudden there burst forth from ears, eyes, nose and mouth a thin, vaporous, foul smelling smoke that gave every evidence of coming from the feet up where it had by close contact become infected by dry, dirty, musty, rotten sox.

Jim Freeman once said he did not know exactly what that word was, but he was satisfied it was a good word by the way it sounded. We all find ourselves in that fix at times. And then sometimes we use the wrong word entirely.

A Crittenden county man was describing not long ago how he gave a certain man a good cussing. "And," he said in relating the circumstance, he never existed it a bit."

Another Crittenden county man living north of town when asked whether or not he would be able to collect a debt replied, "No sir, Deller, do you know that scoundrel threatened to plead 'insanity' on me and I will have to lose the debt."

Another Crittenden county man said, "No sir, there is no use to excavate that dirt out of there, for just as sure as you do you will have to excavate it right back in again."

Mr. Spees, the restaurateur over the store of Morris & Yates, says his lot is a hard one. He has to arise before daylight and go to work. He sticks to his post until 11 o'clock at night and in this strenuous, soul and nerve racking manner he manages to put in nineteen hours out of the twenty-four.

Jess McCaslin is the green grocer beyond the bridge and fernist mill. He is kept pretty busy seeing after his stock of goods and keeping in touch with his constituency. He is the only grocer in town that keeps Baptist chickens. These he waters carefully. On the day before Christmas Mr. McCaslin hurriedly answered a telephone call. The order was for some toys and a turkey. He misunderstood the word turkey and heard it torpedoes. Not having any torpedoes he thought fire crackers would do, so the order was filled that way. The lady making the order could not see any similarity between turkey and fire crackers.

A barber of Marion sat at meat at the hotel table and entered into conversation with a drummer. During the shuttle like movement of these remarks back and forth Mr. Drummer inquired what line the barber sold, mistaking him for a brother drummer. The barber replied, "I sell shavings. Come up street a few doors and I will show you my line."

As this is a mining community we will give the latest definition of a mine, "A hole in the ground owned by a liar."

At one of the womens clubs not long ago Mrs. A. asked Mrs. B. how old her boy was. Mrs. B. replied, "I don't remember exactly, but he has had the stamp collecting craze and has gone through the cigar-band period, parts his hair in the middle, wears his hat on the back of his head and is loving the girls harder than a mule can kick. Oh, I should say he must be somewhere around sixteen or eighteen."

The Evils of Constipation

are many; in fact almost every serious illness has its origin in constipation, and some medicines, instead of preventing constipation, add to it. This is true of most cathartics, which when first used, have a beneficial effect, but the dose has to be continually increased, and before long the remedy ceases to have the slightest effect. There is one preparation, however, that can be relied upon to produce the same results with the same dose, even after fifty years daily use, and this is Brandreth's Pills, which has a record of over 100 years as the standard remedy for constipation and all troubles arising from an impure state of the blood.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used and can be found in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

Dr. Ravdin, previous to taking any post graduate work, had the unique distinction of making the highest grades before both the state boards of Indiana and Tennessee, a record that has not yet been equalled in either state.

Mr. Dick Cruce has been at home for this usual holiday vacation. He is with his mother, Mrs. Press Ford, of the Crayneville neighborhood. Mr. Cruce traveled for years for the National Lead Trust. He now has a better job than ever. He is local manager for the same company in New Orleans. During the year just closed they sold 2,500,000 pounds of white lead average price of say 10 cents. This would show a business of $150,000. Mr. Cruce states that he sells 85 per cent. of all the white lead sold in New Orleans. Of course this new job carries with it an increase in salary.

AMONG OUR CHURCHES

Rev. Virgil Elgin preached at the Methodist church Sunday morning at eleven o'clock and at seven p. m. The text in the morning was Isaiah 64:6, "We all do fade as the leaf." This was used as appropriate to the closing year. This is a figure of human life, especially its passing away. The following analogies were shown: 1. As the leaf dies naturally, so it is nature for man to die. 2. Leaf fades gradually. 3. All fade. 4. Fade and die to give place to the new leaf. 5. Dying and decaying of the old leaf enriches and prepares for the new. 6. The leaf fades and dies, but the tree will bud anew. The subject in the evening was "Christian Growth." Text 2nd Peter 3:18, "But grow in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ." The unlikely morning prevented a large attendance, but in the evening there was a fine audience.

Services every Sunday. Sunday School at 9:30 o'clock a. m., Epworth League at 6 o'clock p. m. The public cordially invited.

MINER GETS MEDAL.

Carnegie Reward of $1,200 Will Pay Mortgage on His Home.

Wilkesbarre, Pa.—William Watkins, a young mine worker of Edwardsville, near here, is the first anthracite miner to receive a Carnegie medal for heroism and $1,200 from the hero fund. This is in recognition of his act of heroism on September 3, 1904, when he saved the lives of three men at the imminent risk of death. He was greatly surprised by the news that the medal was to be given him.

There had been an explosion in the No. 4 colliery of the Kingston Coal company. As the workers rushed out of the mine Watkins realized that three men who were at the bottom of the slope where the explosion occurred might be alive. He turned back and calling to his comrades to stand by to help, he rushed down the slope.

The explosion had knocked out the props, he said, "and the roof was falling. The black damp was gathering, and I knew I had to work quick. Brinley Davis was burned bad, so was Joe Winchent, while Reese Williams was caught under a car which had been blown on top of him. I could not pull him out. The only way was to lift the car. I tried three times before I could get it up a bit and he managed to wriggle out. Davis and Winchent were wild crazy. They all recovered and are working in the mines now."

C. T. Mathews, of 93 Water street, New York city, a wealthy Welshman who takes a great interest in his countrymen, heard of Watkins' heroism through friends, and was so impressed that he gave Watkins a handsome gold medal himself, and later brought the case to the notice of the Carnegie hero fund commission.

The $1,200 which Watkins will get will just pay off the mortgage on his house.

PLAN COLONY IN TEXAS.

Big Tract to Be Settled by Farmers from Europe.

Chicago.—A tract of land comprising 25,000 acres has been purchased near Raymondville, Tex., on the Gulf Coast railroad, for the colonization of farmers from France, Belgium, Switzerland and Holland. The land was purchased by A. M. Davidson, of Chicago, and the colonists are being found by his eminence, Mgr. J. R. Villatte, right reverend archbishop and primate of the Old Roman Catholic Church in the United States.

The plan of the archbishop, who makes his headquarters in Chicago, is to colonize the tract with people of his own religious faith. Ninety acres have been set aside in the center of the tract, and upon this will be erected a monastery and a cloister for the education of priests and for the preparation of young men for the ministry. The archbishop will be at the head of the monastery.

It is the purpose of those who are carrying on the project to allot the land to the immigrants in 40-acre tracts, which is the largest farm one man can handle in that section of the country. From France grape growers are to be taken to secure experienced agriculturists or horticulturists. The archbishop will superintend the selection of the colonists and see to it that no undesirable immigrants are brought in.

NO BAN ON SMALL SOLDIERS.

Government Lowers the Standard to Admit Porto Ricans.

Washington.—Concession to the slight stature of the Porto Ricans is made in a general order just issued by the general staff of the army providing that five feet two inches shall be the minimum height of men admitted to the Porto Rican provisional regiment. Heretofore the minimum height for the insular regiment has been five feet five inches, which is the height required for admission to the regular army in the United States. The new order does not extend to officers of the Porto Rican regiments, who will still be required to come up to American standards.

Other minimum measurements are also reduced by the general order in proportion to the height. Recruits five feet two inches tall are required to have a chest measurement of 32 inches at expiration and mobility of the chest amounting to two inches. One hundred and twenty-four pounds is fixed as the minimum weight for this height.

INFANT IN ARMS AT NINE.

Child's Development Ends When He Is Eighteen Months Old.

Harrisburg, Pa.—A nine-year-old boy, whose development was arrested when 18 months old, just as he was beginning to walk and talk, was a "case" at the Harrisburg hospital. The boy's name is Ivan Imier and he resides in Middletown with his grandmother, who brought him to the hospital for treatment.

She carried him in her arms, for he is no bigger than an infant. She said that for the first 18 months of his life he was bright and growing like other infants, but suddenly his growth, physical and mental, ceased, and he has remained as he was ever since.

Hospital surgeons say it is one of the strangest cases ever called to their attention, although a 45-year-old "baby" died in England recently. The grandmother treated the boy as if he were the veriest infant.

Commissioner's Sale

CRITTENDEN CIRCUIT COURT, KY.

W. B. Yandell, Plaintiff, vs Mary Hill, etc., Deft., Equity.

By virtue of a judgment and Order of Sale of the Crittenden Circuit Court, rendered at the November term thereof, 1906, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Marion to the highest bidder at public auction, on Monday, the 14th day of January, 1907, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabout, (being court day) upon a credit of six months, the following described property, to-wit: Two certain tracts of land lying in Crittenden county, Kentucky, near Piney Creek church, and known as the A. S. Hill tract of land, and near the medical spring, the two tracts adjoining each other, and both together containing about 160 acres.

For the purchase price the purchaser with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop to the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

CRITTENDEN CIRCUIT COURT, KY.

Bert Crayne, et al, Plaintiff, vs Mrs. Linnie Dorroh, etc, Defendant, Equity. By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of the Crittenden Circuit Court, rendered at the November term thereof, 1906, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the court house door in Marion to the highest bidder at Public Auction, on Monday the 14th day of January, 1907, at 1 o'clock p. m., or thereabout, (being court day) upon a credit of six months the following described property, to-wit: A certain tract or parcel of land lying and being in Crittenden county, Ky., near Crayneville, Ky., containing 3 1/2 acres, less 1 1/2 acres, right of way of Illinois Central Railroad Co., running through said land. This tract of land is known as the late homestead of Mrs. R. E. Crayne, deceased, and lays on each side of railroad.

For the purchase price the purchaser with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from the day of sale until, paid and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Apple Slump.

Pare, core and quarter a dozen tart, juicy apples, pour over them a cupful of hot water and place in a saucepan on the back of the range. Let them stand five or ten minutes, then add two cups molasses. Cook ten minutes, cover with a paste made from a heaping pint of sifted flour, a teaspoonful of sugar and two of baking powder, with enough sweet milk to make a soft dough. Spread this over the apples, cover the kettle closely and cook 25 minutes without uncovering. Serve with lemon or foamy sauce.

Had Servants Guessing.

A London lady who had been holiday-making, wrote to a servant that she would be home next evening at 6:30 (D. V.), and asking that dinner be ready. Arriving home, she found no dinner. The cook appeared with apologies. "Would you mind telling me, ma'am, what 'D. V.' means?" she said. "I couldn't make it out, but Sarah (the housemaid) said it must mean 'Due at Victoria.' So we allowed you an hour to get home from the station."

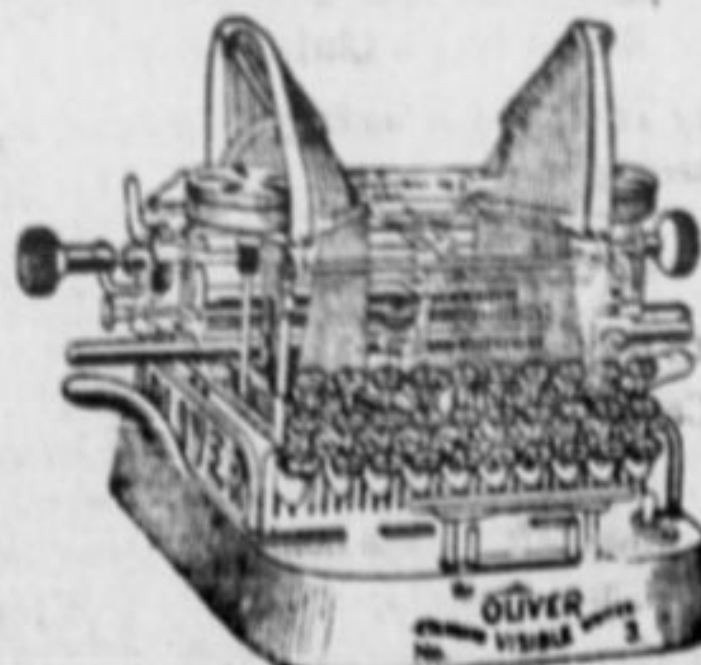

Have Change of Menu.

It is not good economy to cook the same thing day after day. Study up new dishes and serve them daintily, use up all the left-overs; and put bits of bread, cereals, mashed potatoes, or anything of the sort in your griddle cakes, and they will be greatly improved.

Ways and Means.

"But I do not approve of his ways," protested the pretty girl. "Never mind about his ways, my dear," replied her mother. "He has unlimited means."—Chicago Daily News.

Watson's Magazine

The leading exponent of Jeffersonian democracy, edited by Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, the Father of Rural Free delivery; author of "The Story of France," "Life of Napoleon," "Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," "Bethany" and other books. Mr. Watson was the People's Party nominee for Vice-President in 1896, and for President in 1904. He is today heading a middle-class reform movement which is bound to sweep the country in a short time.

Watson's Magazine is not a Socialist publication. It does not stand for collective ownership for all the means of production. Mr. Watson believes in public or government ownership of railroad, telegraphs and telephones; a municipal ownership of street railways, gas, electric lights, water works, etc.; and he believes in private ownership of all industries not natural monopolies.

The middle class—the home owners, farmers, small business men and property owners—won Jefferson's victory in 1800; won Jackson's victory over Rick Biddle's money power in 1832; won Lincoln's victory in 1860. But each time after the flush of victory and died away, they became careless of their rights and went to sleep. They have slept a good portion of the time since 1865, but—

Watson's Magazine is waking them up. Another great victory is in the air. Keep in touch with the movement.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe Syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.
