GALLAHER CO. OF HENDERSON

PAY THE HIGHEST PRICE FOR TOBACCO PAID THIS SEASON

Purchased a Crop Of 5,000 Pounds for $10, $10 and $2 From A. S. Spencer.

The highest price paid for tobacco this season must be credited to the Gallaher Company, which was purchased from A. S. Spencer, of the Frog Island neighborhood, a crop of 5,000 pounds for $10, $10 and $2, a good price in any year.

In this connection the Journal desires to call attention to a letter it has just received from Mr. Thomas Gallaher, who is nearly as well known in Henderson as he is Belfast. It appears that in writing of the Princeton outrage one of the factories was referred to as being controlled by Gallaher, Limited, and all of the owners of the property destroyed as being closely identified; the error was immediately made right, but it furnished Mr. Gallaher with an opportunity for declaring in his letter that "We have been fighting the Imperial Tobacco Company ever since they joined hands with the A. T. Co., on this side, as the trust policy is to crush out all independent manufacturers."

Mr. Gallaher goes on to state:

"This burning and destroying of property is to be greatly deprecated by all right thinking men as it will not accomplish anything if, when the trust was formed, the farmers had stuck to the independent buyers and not sold their tobacco to the trust buyers for 5 cents per hundred more, which we have known them invariably to do, they would not now be in the claws of the trust that they complain so much about and we would strongly advise our farmers to favor the independent buyers all the time when selling their tobacco, otherwise things will be getting worse instead of better, as the independent manufacturer will be forced out of business, and the trust will have the field to themselves."—Henderson Journal.

ATTEMPT TO ASSASSINATE

Deputy Sheriff of Christian County Has a Close Call

Hopkinsville, Ky., Jan. 9.—A. A. Robison, a deputy sheriff, has a bullet hole through his hat as memento of an attempt to kill him Monday night as he was returning to the city from a trip into the east portion of the county. Mr. Robison was about four miles from town when he noticed eight or ten men standing near the road. When he got up to them, one of the men stuck a pistol into his face and fired, the powder burning his face and the ball going through his hat. The deputy replied to the fire and several shots were exchanged, but no one was wounded, and the men disappeared into the woods. Although there were so many men in the party, only one seemed to be shooting at Mr. Robison. The latter says he could not identify the men, but think they were all white.

About 11 months ago an attempt was made on this same spot to hold Mr. Robison up, but the officer fired at the would-be highwayman and wounded him, although he made his escape and was never located.

Crayne-Conger

Mr. Fred Crayne and Miss Lillie Conger were united in marriage Wednesday, Jan. 9, at the residence of Eld. W. F. Paris.

The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Conger and is a very attractive girl.

Mr. Crayne is the son of Mr. Vernon Crayne and is a hustling young farmer. This happy young couple will make their home for the present with the groom's parents. THE RECORD joins their friends in wishing them a happy life.

LEARNED A LESSON

In Surgery By Amputating an Injured Foot of the Family Pet

Whichita, Dec. 30.—It was not necessary to have a meeting of the Southern Kansas Medical Society at the city building in order for Dick Dorr to learn a lesson in surgery. There are some things that a fellow can learn by experience and this is the school at which the affable city clerk learned his lesson.

One of the members of the Dorr household, although not exactly a member of the family, was a fine young dog, the pet of the children and a general favorite with Mr. and Mrs. Dorr. This young canine became frisky in the presence of a passing street car and as a result one of its feet was crushed. Dick decided to kill the animal and in order to accomplish this end as humanely as possible he procured some chloroform. By this time it was discovered that the pup's foot was not as badly hurt as was at first thought. It was decided to put the animal under the influence of the drug and amputate the foot, with the purpose of saving the animal's life, even though it might be a cripple the rest of its days.

The drug was administered and the canine was soon under its influence. Remembering his own terrible experience two or three years ago when both his legs were amputated as the result of an accident, Mr. Dorr carefully removed the injured foot, cut away the bruised flesh, trimmed the shreds of skin off smoothly and after washing the wound, bandaged the leg and placed the pet on a pallet to regain his dog senses. But the animal did not revive, and after waiting an hour or two Mr. Dorr called up a veterinary surgeon to know what to do.

"Did you give the dog enough chloroform to put him to sleep?" queried the animal expert.

"Yes," said Mr. Dorr; "I did not want to hurt him, so I gave him enough to put him sound asleep."

"Well, you might as well take him out and bury him, for he is a dead dog," was the reply.

Dick waited a while longer and finally became convinced that the veterinarian was right, but there were some moist eyes about the place before the pet was finally given up for good and the crying was not all done by the children either.

CROOKED CREEK BRIDGE

That Was Washed Away Replaced in Record Time

The Crooked Creek bridge was washed away Wednesday night Jan. 2nd. The water left the bridge about 200 yards from its foundation. Judge Walter Blackburn realized the importance of the road to Salem and immediately placed twelve men at work tearing the bridge to pieces and replacing it on the old foundations. Some of the foundation had to be rebuilt. All day Friday twelve men worked in the wet and mud. Saturday there were nine men on the job and by three o'clock p. m. the bridge was completed.

The total cost will be about as follows:

Stone for foundation.....	$ 5.00
Labor.....	55.50
Nails.....	1.00
Total.....	$61.50

There have been several bridges washed away in this county as reported to the judge. One at Mattoon and one at the Oliver place between here and Dycusburg and several others.

The Protracted Meeting

A protracted meeting began at the Methodist church last Sunday and is now in progress. Rev. A. P. Lyon, of Hopkinsville, could not come and the preaching is being done by the pastor, assisted by other brethren of the town. The text of the pastor at 11 o'clock last Sunday was Acts 2:21-47; the subject, "A Scriptural Revival."

In the evening the text was Gen. 4:9; "Am I my Brother's Keeper?" Fine congregation at both services. All are invited to attend the meeting, and the christian people to contribute to its interest.

SETTLEMENT MADE WITH JUDGE BLACKBURN

By R. W. Wilson Treasurer of the Railroad Commission

A settlement made with the Judge of the Crittenden County Court by R. W. Wilson, Treasurer of the Ohio Valley Railroad Commission for the Marion precinct in Crittenden county, this the 5th day of January, 1907.

I find said treasurer chargeable as follows:

Tax for year 1904, J. W. Lamb, sheriff. $1,666.24
Tax for year 1905, in part collected from J. F. Flanary, sheriff. 1,515.00

Total chargeable $3,181.24

I find said treasurer is justly entitled to credit as follows:

1905.

Oct. 11—By amount due treasurer as per last settlement July 13, 1905..... $ 298.46

Oct. 11—By bonds No. 54 and 60, $500 each paid..... 1000.00

Oct. 11—By bonds Nos. 33, 35 and 36 for $100 each paid..... 300.00

Oct. 11—By interest on coupons paid..... 34.88

1907.

Jan. 2.—By bond No. 58 paid..... 500.00

Jan. 2.—By bond No. 61 paid..... 1000.00

Jan. 2.—Interest on coupons paid..... 15.00

Five per cent commission allowed treasurer on $3,181.24..... 159.06

Cost of this settlement..... 300.00

Total credits..... $3,310.40

Leaving balance due R. W. Wilson, treasurer..... $129.16

This settlement does not include tax for the year 1905 not yet paid treasurer by sheriff.

Given under my hand this Jan. 5th, 1907. W. A. BLACKBURN,

County Judge Crittenden County.

There are outstanding bonds to the amount of $3,800.

When the sheriff makes his settlement with the treasurer for railroad tax collected by him for the year 1905, the amount of bonds should be reduced to approximately $2000.

There will probably be $500 more collected from sheriff on railroad tax for year 1906, which will still further reduce the railroad indebtedness to $1500.

When the railroad tax for the present year, 1907, is all collected it should be ample to pay off all of the railroad bonds of the Marion precinct.

Good News to Her Friends

Miss Estelle Walker, daughter of R. C. Walker, after being unable to walk for a period of nearly eighteen months, is able to be on her feet again and for the first time in many months walked a distance of several blocks this morning. The young lady, it will be remembered, was seriously injured in a runaway accident on the Karnah Creek road in July 1905, and never completely recovered. She has improved rapidly during the past two months. For some time she has been under the treatment of Drs. Haviland and Morlock, the osteopaths.—Grand Junction, Col., Daily Sentinel.

The School Contest

The long expected contest is coming at last. Next Friday night, January 11, the Marion High School and Morganfield High School will debate the following question: "Resolved that Labor Unions are more Pernicious than Trusts." Marion will discuss the question from the affirmative point of view. Gray Rochester and Misses Annie Dean and Fenwick Wathen will represent our school.

We hope that nothing will happen to postpone the contest as all are anxiously waiting for our school to win the laurels.

Miss May Hale Passes Away.

Miss May Hale, daughter of Mr. W. S. Hale, died at the home of her father Friday morning at 1:30 o'clock. She was a victim of tuberculosis and had been ill ten months. She contracted a deep cold last spring and this settled on the lungs, causing her death.

She professed faith in Christ during the revival in Paducah last spring and joined the Baptist church.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence and the interment at the Salem cemetery, Saturday afternoon.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Tax Supervisor's Report Adopted, and Several Raises Made

The City Council met Tuesday night, January 8, 1907, and transacted the following business:

Levi Cook was re-elected city clock winder, and J. R. Finley was appointed to make the tax book for 1907.

The report of the tax supervisors was adopted by the Council. This report shows that they raised the assessed valuation of property within the city limits, in the sum of $23,965. They also discovered unassessed property to the amount of $14,000. This makes a total of $38,165 resurrected by the supervisors, which at the rate of fifty cents amounts to $190.

The Council also passed the following ordinance:

The City Council of the City of Marion, Kentucky, do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That wholesale dealers in spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, and distillers selling by wholesale, their own manufacture of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall pay a license tax of Five Hundred Dollars per annum.

Section 2. That any person, firm or corporation selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors within the city of Marion, Kentucky, by wholesale, without first paying the license tax therefor as provided in Section 1 hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than Fifty ($50.00) Dollars nor more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars, and each sale shall constitute a separate offense.

Passed and approved Jan. 8, 1907.

"That Reminds Me"

"The most impressive experience in the marrying line that ever came to me is one I can relate only on condition that no names be mentioned—not for my own sake, but lest some one who knew me, should see the article, identify the other parties and cause a well kept secret to become a painful matter of public discussion," said a prominent local clergyman.

He was given the required assurance that no name would be used, and related the following experience.

"While visiting a friend at a hotel in Marion one day I was called to the parlor to meet a very bashful couple from Blackford whom it was plainly evident had called to be married. It wasn't a bit nice in me, I know, but a spirit of mischief led me to defer asking the purpose of their call and thus compel a much embarrassed young man to state his business without any help on my part. After the preliminary salutations the young man blurted out the question, any big doing's going on in town today? Nothing out of the ordinary that I know of, was my response. Big time in town he continued, but we couldn't stay. Say preacher, did you ever climb a greased pole?"

"I admitted my experience along that line, whereupon he described at considerable length and with surprising fluency the sport of catching a greased pig. I plied him persistently with questions concerning the going on, at such a country fete as he had in mind and kept the bride expectant in the anxious seat for fully 20 minutes. Finally the woman in the case couldn't stand it no longer, and breaking into our discussion of 'greased pig and greased pole' without waiting for a convenient pause, exclaimed, 'say preacher, we didn't come here to talk about what's going on up in our town, what we want is to get married, so as to get back before the doing's are all over.'"

After I had performed the ceremony, and after the happy pair had imbibed a "snifter or two from a bottle of boiled owl" they took their departure, radiant and happy, after cautioning me not to say anything about them 'till they give the word. A few Sundays later they appeared at my church, and at the close of the service the husband came to the pulpit platform, wearing in the lapel of his coat the biggest peony I had ever seen, and giving me a hearty handshake, he said, 'say preacher, this reminds me of the last time you and me met at a gathering, and it's all right preacher, now, and you can blow on us whenever you please, yes sir'ee, you ken let her slide now."

ZINC ORE PRODUCTION IN KENTUCKY IN 1906

Will Be Doubled This Year the Separating Problem Having Been Solved

The production of Kentucky in 1906 was small, but arrangements are being made which will doubtless lead to a considerable increase in the output in 1907, the problem of successfully separating the ore having been solved by the introduction of a flotation method. The Sanders Ore Separating Company used this process at Marion in 1906. Two new ore separating companies have been organized which will probably be operating in 1907.—The Engineering and Mining Journal.

The progress in the metallurgy of zinc is another example of the backwardness of American metallurgists in adopting new inventions of foreign origin that the processes, which have become of so great importance in Australia, are still but little known in the United States. However, it is satisfactory to report that during 1906 an installation of this kind was made at Marion, Ky., for the separation of the blende-galena fluorspar ore of that district, (which previously had been a difficult problem) and the results have been all that was hoped for. The samples of the concentrates that we have seen have certainly been of excellent quality. It is interesting, moreover, to remark that the zinc of this ore occurs distinctly as resin blende, which character of mineral, it had been previously stated, was incapable of flotation.

The fact is that at the present time no one knows what is the real theory of flotation, and the adaptability of the process to any particular ore can only be determined by experiment.—The Engineering and Mining Journal.

Methodist Conference

Bishop A. W. Wilson, of the College of Bishops, of the M. E. Church, South, stated the other day that the recent deaths of Bishops Tigert and Smith, the illness of Bishop Galloway and the state of health of Bishops Kay and Duncan will put the work of holding conferences on Bishops Morrison, Hoes, Chandler, Atkins, Ward and himself. This may occasion some change in the time these bodies will hold their sessions.

BREAKS THE RECORD

Sheriff J. F. Flanary Has About Closed His Business of 1906

J. F. Flanary, sheriff of Crittenden county, has closed up nearly all of his business for 1906. On assuming charge of the affairs he was charged with a total valuation of property in this county of $2,935,720. The total amount of taxes he had to collect on this valuation amounted to between $30,000 and $31,000. Sheriffs of this county have been returning from 500 to 700 delinquents. This year there will not be over 300 delinquents and all those who do not desire their names published as delinquents had better call on Mr. Flanary and pay their tax. A man paid his tax the other day and stated that it was the first tax receipt he ever bought. He is between thirty-five and forty years of age.

Mr. Flanary's statement receipt with the state is numbered forty-seven and dated Dec. 20. Out of the 119 sheriffs he was numbered forty-seven in settling. The total amount of taxes collected to date is $29,373.95. Mr. Flanary's slogan has been "Pay your taxes." The new law compels him to do this.

Among the amounts paid out during 1906 we note:

Paid State Treasurer $14678.60
County claims for 1905.

W. G. Carnahan.....$1292.65

Geo. W. Perry.....811.23

Job Postlethweight.....534.96

Sam H. Ramage.....100.62

County claims for 1906.

Geo. W. Perry.....$1395.50

Haynes & Taylor.....41.69

Farmers Bank.....2983.50

John Blue.....50.00

Henry Haynes.....656.78

'FRISCO FIRE FACTS IN A NUTSHELL FORM

PROF. WHITNEY MAKES HIS FINAL ESTIMATE

520 Blocks With 25,000 Buildings on 4000 Acres Destroyed During the Fire

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 9.—Professor Whitney, of the University of California, making his final estimate of the money received in San Francisco from the fire insurance companies in payment of the April fire losses places the amount at $180,000,000.

The burned area in this city comprises 4,000 acres, or about 4.7 square miles, containing 520 blocks and about 25,000 buildings of which about one-half were residences. The amount of insurance covering property in the burned district was approximately $250,000,000.

All of this had been written by companies authorized to do business in this state, except about $6,000,000, which had been placed outside of the state in about a hundred companies. The value of the buildings and contents destroyed by the fire was approximately about $350,000,000, this amount being an estimate on the insurance liability, the known generalization of insurance to value about seventy per cent. and a guess that about five per cent. of the property carried no insurance.

A Delightful Entertainment

Mrs. S. T. Dupuy very delightfully entertained the ladies of her neighborhood Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. A song contest was engaged in and refreshments were served.

The guests were: Mesdames T. J. Yandell, W. B. Yandell, G. M. Crider, G. P. Roberts, R. F. Haynes, Tom Clifton, Chas. Moore, E. J. Hayward, J. H. Orme and J. I. Clement.

Marriage License

Fred J. Crayne to Miss Lillie V. Conger.

Albert Orr to Miss Mertie Edwards.

W. B. Bateman to Mrs. Ora Singleton.

Albert Sweet to Miss Deanie Jones.

M. E. Asher to Miss H. Heath.

DOCTORS MEET

Crittenden County Medical Institute Met Tuesday, Jan. 8.

The Crittenden County Medical Society met at the New Marion Hotel, Tuesday, Jan. 8, 1907.

The following program was rendered: Dr. A. M. Hayden, of Evansville, read a very interesting and instructive paper, subject, "Cancer of the Stomach." The paper was highly appreciated by all the auditors, and was discussed by Drs. Frazer and Driskill.

Dr. Driskill read a paper, subject, "States of Defective Inhibition." This was a very interesting paper and was discussed by Drs. Frazer, Hayden and Daughtrey.

Dr. Frazer read a paper, subject, "When the Baby is Born." This question was discussed with enthusiasm by Hayden and Driskill.

Those present were Doctors Trisler, Daughtrey, Driskill and Frazer, of Marion; E. E. Newcom, of Repton; A. M. Hayden, of Evansville.

A number of laymen were present including lawyers, druggists, life insurance agents.

These meetings are very instructive as well as entertaining and the physicians of this society appreciate the interest taken in this work by the laity, and when the laymen attend the medical meeting he realizes that the work of the society is in the end beneficial to the laity.

Dr. Dinkelspiel Dead

Dr. Monroe Dinkelspiel, an optician who has made several trips to Marion in the practice of his profession, died in the city hospital in Owensboro last Saturday night. His death was caused from liver trouble. He was 54 years of age and a son of the first Jewish rabbi in Louisville.

SETTLEMENT MADE WITH JUDGE BLACKBURN

By R. W. Wilson Treasurer of the Railroad Commission

A settlement made with the Judge of the Crittenden County Court by R. W. Wilson, Treasurer of the Ohio Valley Railroad Commission for the Marion precinct in Crittenden county, this the 5th day of January, 1907.

I find said treasurer chargeable as follows:

Tax for year 1904,
J. W. Lamb, sheriff.....	$1,665.24
Tax for year 1906,
in part collected from
J. F. Flanary, sheriff.....	1,515.00

Total chargeable $3,181.24

I find said treasurer is justly entitled to credit as follows:

1905.

Oct. 11—By amount due treasurer as per last settlement July 13, 1905.....

1906.....

Oct. 11—By bonds No. 54 and 60, $500 each paid.....

1907.....

Oct. 11—By bonds Nos. 33, 35 and 36 for $100 each paid.....

Oct. 11—By interest on coupons paid.....

1907.....

Jan. 2—By bond No. 58 paid.....

Jan. 2—By bond No. 61 paid.....

Jan. 2—Interest on coupons paid.....

Five per cent commission allowed treasurer on $3,181.24.....

Cost of this settlement.....

Total credits.....

Leaving balance due R. W. Wilson, treasurer.....

This settlement does not include tax for the year 1906 not yet paid treasurer by sheriff.

Given under my hand this Jan. 5th, 1907.

W. A. BLACKBURN, County Judge Crittenden County.

There are outstanding bonds to the amount of $3,900.

When the sheriff makes his settlement with the treasurer for railroad tax collected by him for the year 1906, the amount of bonds should be reduced to approximately $2900.

There will probably be $500 more collected from sheriff on railroad tax for year 1906, which will still further reduce the railroad indebtedness to $1500.

When the railroad tax for the present year, 1907, is all collected it should be ample to pay off all of the railroad bonds of the Marion precinct.

We hope that nothing will happen to postpone the contest as all are anxiously waiting for our school to win the laurels.

Miss May Hale Passes Away.

Miss May Hale, daughter of Mr. W. S. Hale, died at the home of her father Friday morning at 1:30 o'clock. She was a victim of tuberculosis and had been ill ten months. She contracted a deep cold last spring and this settled on the lungs, causing her death.

She professed faith in Christ during the revival in Paducah last spring and joined the Baptist church.

The funeral services were conducted at the residence and the interment at the Salem cemetery, Saturday afternoon.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Tax Supervisor's Report Adopted, and Several Resolutions Made

The City Council met Tuesday night, January 8, 1907, and transacted the following business:

Levi Cook was re-elected city clerk winder, and J. R. Finley was appointed to make the tax book for 1907.

The report of the tax supervisors was adopted by the Council. This report shows that they raised the assessed valuation of property within the city limits, in the sum of $23,965. They also discovered unassessed property to the amount of $14,000. This makes a total of $38,165 resurveyed by the supervisors, which at the rate of fifty cents amounts to $190.

The Council also passed the following ordinance:

The City Council of the City of Marion, Kentucky, do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That wholesale dealers in spirituous, vinous or malt liquors, and distillers selling by wholesale, their own manufacture of spirituous, vinous or malt liquors shall pay a license tax of Five Hundred Dollars per annum.

Section 2. That any person, firm or corporation selling spirituous, vinous or malt liquors within the city of Marion, Kentucky, by wholesale, without first paying the license tax therefor as provided in Section 1 hereof shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined not less than Fifty ($50.00) Dollars nor more than One ($100.00) Dollars, and each sale shall constitute a separate offense.

Passed and approved Jan. 8, 1907.

J. W. BLUE, JR., Mayor.

JAS. L. TRAVIS, Clerk.

"That Reminds Me"

"The most impressive experience in the marrying line that ever came to me is one I can relate only on condition that no names be mentioned—not for my own sake, but lest some one who knew me, should see the article, identify the other parties and cause a well kept secret to become a painful matter of public discussion," said a prominent local clergyman.

He was given the required assurance that no name would be used, and related the following experience.

"While visiting a friend at a hotel in Marion one day I was called to the parlor to meet a very bashful couple from Blackford whom it was plainly evident had called to be married. It wasn't a bit nice in me, I know, but a spirit of mischief led me to defer asking the purpose of their call and thus compel a much embarrassed young man to state his business without any help on my part. After the preliminary salutations the young man blurted out the question, any big doing's going on in town today? Nothing out of the ordinary that I know of, was my response. Big time in town he continued, but we couldn't stay. Say preacher, did you ever climb a greased pole?"

"I admitted my experience along that line, whereupon he described at considerable length and with surprising fluency the fun attending this feat and likewise the sport of catching a greased pig. I plied him preposterously with questions concerning the going on, at such a country fete as he had in mind and kept the bride expectant in the anxious seat for fully 20 minutes. Finally the woman in the case couldn't stand it no longer, and breaking into our discussion of 'greased pig and greased pole' without waiting for a convenient pause, exclaimed, 'say preacher, we didn't come here to talk about what's going on in our town, what we want is to get married, so as to get back before the doing's are all over.'"

After I had performed the ceremony, and after the happy pair had imbibed a 'snifter or two from a bottle of boiled owl' they took their departure, radiant and happy, after cautioning me not to say anything about them 'till they give the word. A few Sundays later they appeared at my church, and at the close of the service the husband came to the pulpit platform, wearing in the lapel of his coat the biggest peony I had ever seen, and giving me a hearty handshake, he said, 'say preacher, this reminds me of the last time you and me met at a gathering, and it's all right preacher, now, and you can blow on us whenever you please, yes sir'ee, you ken let her slide now.'"

ZINC ORE PRODUCTION IN KENTUCKY IN 1906

Will Be Doubled This Year the Separating Problem Having Been Solved

The production of Kentucky in 1906 was small, but arrangements are being made which will doubtless lead to a considerable increase in the output in 1907, the problem of successfully separating the ore having been solved by the introduction of a flotation method. The Sanders Ore Separating Company used this process at Marion in 1906. Two new ore separating companies have been organized which will probably be operating in 1907.—The Engineering and Mining Journal.

O-O

The progress in the metallurgy of zinc is another example of the backwardness of American metallurgists in adopting new inventions of foreign origin that the processes, which have become of so great importance in Australia, are still but little known in the United States. However, it is satisfactory to report that during 1906 an installation of this kind was made at Marion, Ky., for the separation of the blende-galena fluorspar ore of that district, (which previously had been a difficult problem) and the results have been all that was hoped for. The samples of the concentrates that we have seen have certainly been of excellent quality. It is interesting, moreover, to remark that the zinc of this ore occurs distinctly as resin blende, which character of mineral, it had been previously stated, was incapable of flotation. The fact is that at the present time no one knows what is the real theory of flotation, and the adaptability of the process to any particular ore can only be determined by experiment.—The Engineering and Mining Journal.

Methodist Conference

Bishop A. W. Wilson, of the College of Bishops, of the M. E. Church, South, stated the other day that the recent deaths of Bishops Tigert and Smith, the illness of Bishop Galloway and the state of health of Bishops Kay and Duncan will put the work of holding conferences on Bishops Morrison, Hoss, Chandler, Atkins, Ward and himself. This may occasion some change in the time these bodies will hold their sessions.

BREAKS THE RECORD

Sheriff J. F. Flanary Has About Closed His Business of 1906

J. F. Flanary, sheriff of Crittenden county, has closed up nearly all of his business for 1906. On assuming charge of the affairs he was charged with a total valuation of property in this county of $2,935,720. The total amount of taxes he had to collect on this valuation amounted to between $30,000 and $31,000. Sheriffs of this county have been returning from 500 to 700 delinquents. This year there will not be over 300 delinquents and all those who do not desire their names published as delinquents had better call on Mr. Flanary and pay their tax. A man paid his tax the other day and stated that it was the first tax receipt he ever bought. He is between thirty-five and forty years of age.

Mr. Flanary's statement receipt with the state is numbered forty-seven and dated Dec. 20. Out of the 119 sheriffs he was numbered forty-seven in settling. The total amount of taxes collected to date is $29,373.95. Mr. Flanary's slogan has been "Pay your taxes." The new law compels him to do this.

Among the amounts paid out during 1906 we note:

'FRISCO FIRE FACTS IN A NUTSHELL FORM

PROF. WHITNEY MAKES HIS FINAL ESTIMATE

520 Blocks With 25,000 Buildings on 4000 Acres Destroyed During the Fire

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 9.—Professor Whitney, of the University of California, making his final estimate of the money received in San Francisco from the fire insurance companies in payment of the April fire losses places the amount at $180,000,000.

The burned area in this city comprises 4,000 acres, or about 4.7 square miles, containing 520 blocks and about 25,000 buildings of which about one-half were residences. The amount of insurance covering property in the burned district was approximately $250,000,000.

All of this had been written by companies authorized to do business in this state, except about $6,000,000, which had been placed outside of the state in about a hundred companies. The value of the buildings and contents destroyed by the fire was approximately about $350,000,000, this amount being an estimate on the insurance liability, the known general ration of insurance to value about seventy per cent. and a guess that about five per cent. of the property carried no insurance.

A Delightful Entertainment

Mrs. S. T. Dupuy very delightfully entertained the ladies of her neighborhood Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. A song contest was engaged in and refreshments were served.

The guests were: Mesdames T. J. Yandell, W. B. Yandell, G. M. Crider, G. P. Roberts, R. F. Haynes, Tom Clifton, Chas. Moore, E. J. Hayward, J. H. Orme and J. I. Clement.

Marriage License

Fred J. Crayne to Miss Lillie V. Conger.

Albert Orr to Miss Mertie Edwards.

W. B. Bateman to Mrs. Ora Singleton.

Albert Sweet to Miss Deanie Jones.

M. E. Asher to Miss H. Heath.

DOCTORS MEET

Crittenden County Medical Institute Met Tuesday, Jan. 8.

The Crittenden County Medical Society met at the New Marion Hotel, Tuesday, Jan. 8, 1907.

The following program was rendered: Dr. A. M. Hayden, of Evansville, read a very interesting and instructive paper, subject, "Cancer of the Stomach." The paper was highly appreciated by all the auditors, and was discussed by Drs. Frazer and Driskill.

Dr. Driskill read a paper, subject, "States of Defective Inhibition." This was a very interesting paper and was discussed by Drs. Frazer, Hayden and Daughtrey.

Dr. Frazer read a paper, subject, "When the Baby is Born." This question was discussed with enthusiasm by Hayden and Driskill.

Those present were Doctors Trisler, Daughtrey, Driskill and Frazer, of Marion; E. E. Newcom, of Repton; A. M. Hayden, of Evansville.

A number of laymen were present including lawyers, druggists, life insurance agents.

These meetings are very instructive as well as entertaining and the physicians of this society appreciate the interest taken in this work by the laity, and when the laymen attend the medical meeting he realizes that the work of the society is in the end beneficial to the laity.

Dr. Dinkelspiel Dead

Dr. Monroe Dinkelspiel, an optician who has made several trips to Marion in the practice of his profession, died in the city hospital in Owensboro last Saturday night. His death was caused from liver trouble. He was 54 years of age and a son of the first Jewish rabbi in Louisville.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF THE Fredonia Valley Tobacco Association

PREAMBLE.

Whereas, through organization and co-operation, the buyers and manufacturers of tobacco have been able practically to eliminate all competition in the purchase of their supplies, and have been able to dictate to the producers the prices they shall receive, irrespective of the actual value of their tobacco;

And whereas, the conditions under, and the prices at which tobacco is now sold by the producers, render some remedial action on their part imperative, if they are to continue to raise this article of commerce;

And whereas, the General Assembly of the State of Kentucky, recognizing the intolerable conditions that have been foisted on the people of this Commonwealth; saw fit, at its last meeting, to provide a remedy, by enacting Senate Bill No. 287, which permits the pooling of tobacco and other products and the sale thereof, and legalizes all contracts made in reference thereto;

And whereas, the representatives of the tobacco producers of Crittenden, Livingston, Lyon and Caldwell counties have met in convention to devise adequate means to protect their interests;

And whereas, such protection can only be afforded by thorough organization of the tobacco producers, as has been demonstrated by the Green River District Tobacco Association and the Dark Tobacco Planters' Protective Association, both being organizations for the purpose of affording protection to the producers by handling and selling their pooled products at prices commensurate with their true value, which they have been able to do through organization;

And whereas, the producers represented in this convention are unorganized, and are unable to cope with existing unfavorable conditions by reason of such fact; now,

Be it resolved, that the delegates in convention assembled do organize themselves into THE FREDONIA VALLEY TOBACCO ASSOCIATION and do adopt the following constitution and by-laws for the government of the association:

Constitution of the Fredonia Valley Tobacco Association

ARTICLE I.

Sec. 1. The name of this association shall be THE FREDONIA VALLEY TOBACCO ASSOCIATION.

ARTICLE II.

Sec. 1. The purpose and object of this Association is to represent its members in the handling, grading and marketing of their tobacco; and to obtain for them all the advantages to be derived from co-operation and organization.

ARTICLE III.

MEMBERSHIP.

Sec. 1. Any person is eligible to membership in this Association who is a producer of farm products, or who is in sympathy with the purposes and objects of the Association.

Sec. 2. The signatories hereto are charter members of the Association.

Sec. 3. Any person may become a member of this Association by application.

DYSPEPSIA

Almost every other man and woman you meet is afflicted with this terrible disease in some stage until it acquires full strength and suddenly seizes them in the most violent form. tion in writing thereto for membership, provided that the county board of each county shall have the right, in its discretion, to refuse affiliation to any person or persons who, in its judgment, would be undesirable as members.

Sec. 4. All members of the Association agree and obligate themselves to comply with and be bound by the constitution and by-laws of the association.

Sec. 5. Neither initiation fee nor dues shall be charged the members of this Association.

ARTICLE IV.

PLACE OF BUSINESS.

Sec. 1. The principal office or place of business of this Association shall be located in the city of Fredonia, Ky.; but the Association may have such other offices or places of business as may be deemed necessary for the proper conduct of its affairs.

ARTICLE V.

Sec. 1. All tobacco pledged to this Association shall bear its proportionate share of the expenses of handling, grading and marketing same.

ARTICLE VI.

MANAGEMENT OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Sec. 1. The general management and direction of the affairs of this Association shall be vested in a District Board, which shall be composed of one representative from each county board, said representative being the chairman of his county board. Until the proposed District is organized the following shall constitute a board of control: J. L. Wyatt, H. C. Rice, F. W. Harper, J. T. Brazier, J. E. Pilaut, R. C. Hill, G. W. Hill, J. A. Wilson, J. F. Hughes, D. C. Hill, S. A. Woodall, J. E. Myers, T. W. Brazier, W. S. Teer, G. W. Talley, W. M. Griffin, J. L. Jeffords, J. J. C. Rorer, J. M. Polk, M. H. Hendon, J. D. Manus, Lester Young, P. M. Bennett, C. S. Jackson, J. E. Crider, Jr.

Sec. 2. Each county represented in the Association shall have a county board, composed of one representative from each magisterial district in said county having membership in the Association; and shall have such authority in the control of the affairs of the members of the Association in their respective counties as is not expressly delegated to the District Board by this constitution or the by-laws of the Association.

Sec. 3. Each county board shall act as a Board of Arbitration for their respective counties.

ARTICLE VII.

ELECTIONS.

Sec. 1. The first meeting of the members of this Association for the election, by magisterial districts, of representatives on the county boards, shall be held at such times and places as may be designated by the chairman of the initial meeting of this Association; and thereafter all meetings, by magisterial districts, for the election of representatives on the county boards, shall be held at such times and places as may be determined by said county boards.

ARTICLE VIII.

ANNUAL MEETING.

Sec. 1. The Annual meeting of the members of this Association shall be held in the city of Fredonia, Ky., on the first Saturday in September of each year to receive the reports of its officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before it.

ARTICLE IX.

Sec. 1. This constitution may be changed, amended or added to at any annual meeting of this Association by a majority vote of two-thirds of the members present, provided that no proposed change, amendment or addition to this constitution shall be considered unless it shall have been submitted to the chairman of each county board at least thirty days before such annual meeting.

Sec. 2. The county chairman of the several county boards of this Association shall, upon receiving notice of any proposed change, amendment or addition to this constitution, cause a copy of same to be published at least three times in the paper in their counties having the largest circulation before the date of the next annual meeting of the Association.

Sec. 3. The By-laws of this Association may be amended, changed or added to in the same manner as above provided for changes, amendment or additions to the constitution.

By-Laws of the Fredonia Valley Tobacco Association.

ARTICLE I.

MEETINGS.

Sec. 1. The duly elected representatives from each magisterial district, in the several counties, shall meet at the county seats of Lyon and Crittenden and at Fredonia in Caldwell and Salem in Livingston, on the first Saturday in August of each year, and shall organize as the county board. They shall elect from their number a chairman, who shall be the member of the District Board from their county. They shall also elect a secretary, but he need not be a member of the board.

Sec. 2. In the event of the death or resignation of the chairman or secretary, the board shall elect their successors.

Sec. 3. All county boards shall meet on the first Saturday in the months of August, November, February and May of each year, said meetings to be held in their respective counties.

Sec. 4. The duly elected chairman of each of the county boards of this Association shall meet in the city of Fredonia, Ky., on the first Monday in September of each year, and shall organize as the District Board of the Association. They shall elect a general manager, secretary and treasurer. The general manager and secretary may or may not be elected from the membership of said board. The treasurer shall be some bank located in the city of Fredonia, Ky.

Sec. 5. The District Board shall meet in the city of Fredonia, Ky., on the first Saturday in the months of September, December, March and June of each year.

Sec. 6. The presiding officer of either the district or any of the county boards may call meetings of their respective boards whenever they deem it advisable; and must call a meeting on a written request so to do signed by two members of their respective boards.

ARTICLE II.

DUTIES OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 1. The general manager and secretary of the District Board shall perform such duties as shall be prescribed by, and shall have such powers as may be delegated to them by the said board. The board shall have the power to remove either of them at will.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the treasurer to receive all monies received by the Association from the sales of tobacco, and to pay it out as directed by the District Board.

Sec. 3. The treasurer shall give bond in such sum as may be required by said board for the faithful discharge of his duties.

ARTICLE III.

COMPENSATION OF OFFICERS.

Sec. 1. The general manager, secretary and treasurer of this Association, shall receive such compensation, if any, as may be determined upon by the District Board.

Sec. 2. The members of the District Board shall receive such compensation, if any, as may be determined upon by the respective county boards they represent; and in case any member is allowed compensation by his county board such compensation is to be borne by the association members of said county, and assessed against the proceeds of the sales of their tobacco.

ARTICLE IV.

EXPENSE OF THE ASSOCIATION.

Sec. 1. All tobacco handled by the Association shall bear its proportionate share of the general expenses of the Association.

ARTICLE V.

POWER OF DISTRICT BOARD.

Sec. 1. The District Board shall exercise a general supervision over all the affairs of the Association; shall make all contracts for the handling and sale of all tobacco; shall receive and disburse the proceeds of all sales; shall have power to employ such agents in the management of the business of the Association as they may deem advisable;

ARTICLE VI.

VOTING.

Sec. 1. All questions coming before the District Board for settlement shall be decided by a majority vote of the members presents, and in case of tie the general manager shall cast the deciding vote; provided, that upon demand of any member of said board a unit vote shall be taken.

10

Sec. 2. The basis of said unit vote shall be one vote to each county for each five hundred (500,000) thousand pounds of tobacco, or major fractional part thereof, pledged by said county, and each county's vote shall be cast by its representative.

ARTICLE VII.

QUORUM.

Sec. 1. A majority of the members of the District Board, and a majority of the members of the several county boards, shall be necessary to constitute a quorum at a meeting of said boards.

ARTICLE VIII.

HANDLING, GRADING AND MARKETING TOBACCO.

Sec. 1. All tobacco pledged to this Association shall be received at such factories in the respective counties as may be designated by the District Board, and a receipt shall be issued to the owner showing the amount delivered, its grade, and its appraised value.

Sec. 2. The grading and valuing of all tobacco delivered shall be agreed upon by the person making such deliveries and the agent of the Association who receives same; and in the event they cannot agree, then the question is to be decided by the Board of Arbitration for the county in which delivery is made, and their decision shall be final and binding on all parties.

Absinthe Bonbons.

"Look out for absinthe in bonbons," says a Philadelphia candy dealer. "They are on the market and they are loaded. I doubt if any are on sale as yet in this city, but they have been offered to us and I have seen samples of them. I have no doubt they will soon be seen here. It's likely that their stay will be short, however, for the authorities and the temperance people will surely be after them. Four of the kind of bonbons that were sent to us would make a pretty stiff drink of absinthe, and an innocent customer might get laid out cold before he knew it. Those sent to us were from Europe, where, I understand, their manufacture has resulted from certain restrictive legislation concerning the sale of alcohol."

He Signed the Pledge.

Miss Eva Shonta, sister of Chairman Shonta, of the Panama commission, obtained samples of barrel house rum from Alderman Kenna's place on Clark street, and publicly burned it at a meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, says the Chicago American.

"I got the tip that she was coming here for booze," said the bartender at Kenna's, "and I sold her a quart mixture of kerosene and beer." Miss Shonta said she would prove the poison in the liquor by setting it on fire. It exploded, boiled, hissed, turned red, blue and yellow, and then went out with a bang.

Harry Ging, a Chinaman, signed the pledge at once.

THE FAD FOR GREEN.

Called for Unkind Comparison in One Case, at Least.

The fad for green has been growing so fast of late that the average congregation at any church on Sunday mornings looks, from the gallery, like a miniature forest, says the New York Press. The popular green is not a compromise; it is not resea or gray-green, or anything undecided, but real green-green, hunters' green, emerald green, apple green, Irish green.

A little woman who always lives up to the top-notch of the styles invested last week in a green bonnet. To carry out the tone of this Paris importation, she purchased also a pair of green suede gloves, a green chiffon veil, an imitation emerald pin and a green tulle neckerchie. The effect of all these with her dark green suit was decidedly stunning, and she gave it an added dash by carrying a green beaded bag. The other night she donned the whole outfit in honor of a theater invitation from her husband.

When she came down stairs crayed in all her verdant glory that worthy looked at her from head to foot but said nothing.

"What's the matter?" she asked, disappointed because he did not fall at once into raptures over her latest effort. "Don't you like me?"

"Yes," he said doubtfully; "but, my dear, you look exactly like a fresh salad."

And then he wondered why she cried and refused to go to the show.

Old Man Made a Guess.

Prof. Brander Matthews, along with his belief in spelling reform, believes in short words and in simple constructions. The simplicity of his prose style as it is manifested in his books is only equaled by his grace. Apropos of simplicity, Prof. Matthews said the other day: "In my youth I once passed the summer in the country. One of my friends, an elderly farm hand, visited New York during my country visit and on his return I said to him, employing a word needlessly complex and long: 'Well, James, how did you like the metropolis?'

"'Wot say?' asked the old man. 'How did you like the metropolis?'

"'I repeated."

"'Twa'n't open,' said he."

Ignorance at a Premium.

Education, according to commander Gamble, was not valued in the British navy in the '50s. The future commander began his life at sea aboard the Retribution with an education which included Greek, an acquaintance of which "our second master, who had joined the navy straight out of a merchant ship," made light. "We don't want none of this here kind of hogwash at sea," said my friend. "I also quickly discovered that to know anything about music—beyond being able to sing a comic song or play a hornpipe on a tin whistle—was likewise an offense; while the crowning infamy was to be able to talk French or any foreign tongue."

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines for many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

NO CAUSE FOR WORRY.

Lady Didn't Mean to Lose "Splendid Girl" for a Triviality.

At a meeting of a woman's club in an eastern city, the members discussed the problem of securing and retaining good housemaids. After the session one of them told another member that she had "a splendid girl," and then (in strict confidence, of course), narrated the following incident:

She had attended a meeting of the club the previous week, and upon returning home earlier than expected, entered the house by means of a latchkey. Going upstairs quietly she was surprised, on suddenly opening a door, at seeing her husband in the act of kissing the "splendid girl." Naturally there was surprise all around, but without saying a word the clubwoman returned to the lower part of the house. In a short time down came the maid arrayed for departure.

"What is the matter, Annie?" asked the mistress of the house. "Why are you going at this time?"

"Well," replied the maid, "after what you have just seen I don't think you want me to stay here any longer."

"Don't let that worry you, Annie. Go upstairs and take off your things. If two of us cannot satisfy his propensity for kissing I shall get another servant to assist us."

And that is one woman's way of keeping a "splendid girl" as her maid.

Black Walnut.

Black walnut is produced in this country at an annual rate of about 33,000,000 feet. The larger portion of it now comes from southwestern Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma and Indian territory, although there is some scattering growth still picked up in Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee and West Virginia. The most considerable stand of the wood remaining east of the Mississippi river is on the upper waters of the Guyandotte river in West Virginia, says a writer in The Southwest. The home demand for black walnut lumber is only for comparatively small quantities. Its use is largely confined to gun stocks, novelties, electrical work, etc. The chief demand for walnut comes from Germany and Hamburg is the commercial center of the market.

Barnes Explained Why.

Many people in this section remember Augustus Barnes, who for years drove the stage between Tilton and Franklin, before the railroad was built. Dr. Tucker, president of Dartmouth college, tells of riding across from Tilton one day. Just out of Tilton, on the sandy bank of Winnepesaukee river, he located the Tilton cemetery.

Dr. Tucker was occupying a seat beside the venerable driver, and as they passed the city of the dead, he said: "That is a queer place for a cemetery. I wonder why such a spot was selected?"

Barnes' explanation was short and to the point, his answer being: "Easy digging."—Boston Herald.

Pat's Prize Effort.

An American visiting Dublin told some startling stories about the height of some of the New York buildings. An Irishman who was listening stood it as long as he could, and then queried:

"Ye haven't seen our newest hotel, have ye?"

The American thought not.

"Well," said the Irishman, "it's so tall that we had to put the two top stories on hinges."

"What for?" asked the American.

"So we could let 'em down till the moon went by," said Pat.

Frugal Soul.

Visitor—I do hope that poor Jack, your brother, does not grieve too much at my having broken our engagement, I feel sure he must be very unhappy. What did he say, dear? The sister—Oh, he said what a job it was to break it. He said it was his luck instead of next, as it saved him from having to buy you a birthday present.

CREEKS AND TEN LOST TRIBES.

Indians' Story of Their Wandering Away From Palestine

"The Indians are the most superstitious people on earth," said a man a few days ago who had taught for years in a Creek Indian School. "They have myths and legends by the score. Some of them are as beautiful and picturesque as the legends of the old Greeks and Romans."

"I boarded for five years with a Creek Indian who had been educated at Carlisle. He knew the Indian legend that they are one of the lost tribes of Israel. This Indian was the son of a medicine man who was once great and powerful in the tribe. All his knowledge of Indian lore came from his father, the medicine man."

"This medicine man said that the Creeks were one of the lost ten tribes of Israel. The legend ran that they were once associated with the other tribes and that they had wandered and became separated. They wandered for years far to the north until they came to a sea. There they built boats and embarked. They steered their course by the wand of a medicine man. Each morning he went to his teepee and set up his divining rod and told them which direction to pursue. They followed this rod from a warm country to a cold sea on which they set sail. The sea was crossed and then they traveled toward the south again."

"The Creeks have a covenant of their tribe which is kept with the chiefs. No one but the elect is ever permitted to see this guarantee of the genuineness of the Creek faith and origin."—Chickasha correspondence Kansas City Star.

PRIZE MONEY NEVER CLAIMED.

British Admiralty Has Sums on Hand for Destroying Slave Ships.

The days when prize money was looked upon in the navy as an ordinary source of income are recalled by a notification from the British admiralty of money waiting to be claimed—the proceeds of bounties for the destruction of pirates and of the sale of slave ships.

There is a sum of $25,000 from the sale of slaving vessels captured in the '60s awaiting claimants, also a goodly amount of naval prize money and bounty for the destruction of pirates which nobody applies for.

Some of those to whom money is due are, no doubt, still alive, but if they are dead they probably left descendants who if the names were advertised would be forthcoming to substantiate their claims.

As it is, there is little demand for the money in hand. During 12 months dealt with in the statement issued from Whitehall under $40 have been paid out.—Court Journal.

DAYS OF MALE DANDIES.

Feminine Display Outdone by Duke of Buckingham.

Until the last century, in variety and magnificence, the human male followed the rule of the lower animals that the male shall predominate in brilliance. No woman has ever ruled through pure modishness; there has never been a feminine counterpart of Beau Rummel. All varieties of exquisite are male, whether dandy, macaroni or beau—and not because they are exceptions to a general rule of sobriety, but because of a superior originality and more forcible and distinguished expression.

In the point of extravagance there never has been (until the last century) any difference between male and female costume. The duke of Buckingham took 27 suits of clothes to Paris in 1625, one of white uncut velvet set all over with diamonds, worth £14,000. He also wore a diamond feather and diamond buttons and earrings. A curious fashion for men prevailed in 1612 of ornamenting the ear with strings of black velvet ribbon, also of placing a rose behind the ear.

WAY TO TELL A DIAMOND.

Useful Hint for Lovers of These Beautiful Stones.

The jeweler made a small dot, like a period, on a piece of white paper with a lead pencil. Then he held a large diamond over the dot.

"Look through this," he said.

Through the diamond the dot looked precisely the same as before.

"Now look through this," he said, taking up another stone.

Through the second stone the dot was transformed to three dots.

"There," the jeweler said, "is an easy way for the average man to tell a real diamond from an imitation. A dot on a piece of paper, looked at through a real diamond, is the same as before; but, looked at through a fake, it shows double or triple, or it appears blurred, scattered."

Beggar's Ready Explanation.

Eugene Higgins at a dinner on his yacht Varuna described a winter he had spent at Nice.

"But the Nice beggars!" he said, laughing. "The splendid, sun-drenched Promenade des Anglais, with its ivory white villas on one side and the blue Mediterranean on the other, is always haunted with these beggars. One of them accosted me one morning as I came out of the Cercle Mediterranee, the fashionable French club."

"Monsieur," he said, "one little son, for the love of heaven. My poor wife is starving."

"Why, look here," said I, "only last week I gave you some money to bury your wife and now you tell me she is starving. How can that be?"

"But, monsieur," said the beggar, "I have a new wife now."

Dismissing a Tempter.

A pompous Chicago merchant, arrogantly carrying the signs of his prosperity about him, accosted an acquaintance of his who conducts a successful rescue mission, and said:

"James, I'd like to attend one of your meetings."

"Certainly," rejoined the minister, "but leave your watch and diamonds with the hotel clerk."

"What!" asked the merchant in astonishment, "are not the men of your mission converted thieves?"

"True," answered the mission leader, softly, "but, George, you look so easy and wholesome. Really, I don't want my men to regret that they promised me never to steal again."

Unfortunate Mistake.

Collin Butler was an old colored ditch digger on the farm of a well-known land owner in Virginia. One morning, after having been at work only a few hours, Collins was seen approaching the farmhouse with unusual rapidity, and with a peculiar limp to his usually dragging gait.

With a moan and a sob he exclaimed: "Lor, massa! I fought I see de biggest turkie haid I ever did see befo' in my life, wiggling fro' de mud, an' I took de spade an' whacked dat haid, an' I done cut off mah big toe."

The Rarest Autograph.

"Shakespeare's autograph is the rarest," said the dealer. "There are only seven in existence, and three of these are doubtful."

"The best is in the British museum, in a translation of Montaigne. It cost $15,000, and would sell readily for $25,000. The two next best are in conveyances of property. Three are in Shakespeare's will, but two of these are doubtful, and there is a doubtful one in the folio edition of his plays."

The Supreme Test.

"I have here a letter from a man saying that he was anxious to be loved without his sweetheart's being influenced by any knowledge of his circumstances, good or bad."

"Well?"

"So he wrote me an anonymous letter, asking me to marry him."

INVENTORS HAD LAST LAUGH

Steel Making by Bessemer Process Was Ridiculed at First.

The so-called Bessemer process of making steel by injecting air blasts into molten iron was discovered first by an American named Kelly, and known as his air boiling process.

After the iron workers had seen it done, they still would not believe it. "Some crank'll be burning ice, next thing," they said. Some of his customers, when they heard about it, wrote Kelly that they wanted their iron made either in the regular way, and not by any new-fangled method, or not at all.

When the first blast was so strong that it melted the iron, the spectators roared with laughter at what they called "Kelly's fireworks," and laughed for ten years at his "folly."

When Bessemer introduced his process to the British iron makers, they, too, roared with laughter at the "crazy Frenchman," and would not allow the "silly idea" to be mentioned in their records.

The steel rail proposition excited only derision. "Bosh! Stuff! Humbug! Nonsense!" said the railroad directors when it was proposed to them. But after one road had tried it, the steel mills could not keep up with the orders sent in.—The Sunday Magazine.

SIGN WELL PAID FOR.

One Thousand Dollars a Word for Railroad Crossing Warning.

At the Franklin Inn, a literary club of Philadelphia, a young poet, licking his lips, said that Conan Doyle was paid one dollar a word.

"That is nothing," said one of the reading railroad advertising men, "I know of a case where a man was paid 1,000 a word. Our line used to have at its grade crossings a very long and complicated sign that began: 'Beware of the engine and cars,' and then this sign went on with a lot of injunctions and warnings that would have taken five minutes to read. In a number of accident cases the claimants for damages declared that our long signs were not clear warnings. Therefore the line decided at last to get a new grade crossing sign, and Judge Paxson was engaged to write one."

"The sign that Judge Paxson wrote cost $1,000 a word, but it was a classic. It remains a classic. It has been copied everywhere. It is as well known among us as 'Father, I cannot tell a lie,' or 'England expects every man to do his duty.'"

"But what was the sign?" the poet asked, impatiently.

"The sign that cost $1,000 a word, or $6,000 in all," said the railroad man, "was the famous 'Railroad crossing—stop, look and listen.'"

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cassara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, solid Extract of Fumex, etc., this same Cassara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Sloop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Bilelessness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

Watson's Magazine

The leading exponent of Jeffersonian Democracy, edited by Hon. Thos. E. Watson, of Georgia, the Father of Rural Free delivery; author of "The Story of France," "Life of Napoleon," "Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson," "Betheny" and other books. Mr. Watson was the People's Party nominee for Vice-President in 1896, and for President in 1904. He is today heading a middle-class reform movement which is bound to sweep the country in a short time.

Watson's Magazine is not a Socialist publication. It does not stand for collective ownership for all the means of production. Mr. Watson believes in public or government ownership of railroad, telegraphs and telephones; in municipal ownership of street railways, gas, electric lights, water works, etc.; and he believes in private ownership of all industries not natural monopolies.

The middle class—the home owners, farmers, small business men and property owners—won Jefferson's victory in 1800; won Jackson's victory over Nick Biddle's money power in 1832; won Lincoln's victory in 1860. But each time after the flush of victory had died away, they became careless of their rights and went to sleep. They have slept a good portion of the time since 1865, but—

Watson's Magazine is waking them up. Another great victory is in the air. Keep in touch with the movement.

TELEPHONE 136

FRIDAY, JAN. 11, 1907

Have you got your goloshes on?

It is an easy matter for it to rain in wet weather.

The lid is on in Evansville. The lid goes on in Marion the 16.

Total valuation of property in Crittenden county was $2,935,720 as per assessment of 1906.

When the Marion business man waits at the hotel for an hour or more for a long distance connection he feels that he has quite a grievance and that the telephone sometimes works a hardship. The papers of last week record a telephone delay that was probably more exasperating than any yet known or heard of. Three minutes after his client was hung an attorney, of Vicksburg, Miss., found by telephone that the governor had commuted the sentence.

The Fredonia Valley Tobacco Association met here Tuesday and tried to organize an association in this county but were not successful. On the account of the inclement weather there were only a few farmers in town. Several attempts had been made heretofore to organize the county, but all of them were as unsuccessful as the last one.

Elsewhere in this issue the by-laws and constitution of the proposed association are given.

The Horseless Carriage

The following poem was clipped from the Commercial Appeal and was written by a former Marion girl.

Under a spreading chestnut tree
The horseless carriage stands;
The owner being weary, he
Rests in the shade. His hands
From plying the motive power
Are strong as iron bands.

His hair is streaked and gray with dust,
His face is mostly jaw;
He travels slowly, 'cause he must,
And yet it's not the law.
He looks the oxen in the face,
While he remarks, "Gee-Haw!"

Character According to the Cigarette

A Mexican journal analyzes the character of a man according to the fashion in which he smokes a cigarette in the following deductions:

The one who smokes down to the extreme end is either unhappy or an egotist.

The one who smokes rapidly without taking time to remove the cigarette from his mouth is of an excitable disposition, jealous and somewhat quarrelsome.

The one who lets fall the ashes at short intervals is of a restless disposition and torments himself over every little trifle.

The one who smokes his cigarette until he burns his fingers or his lips is either a newspaper man or a poet.

The one who holds the cigarette daintily between the index and middle fingers is a liar.

The one who smokes with large puffs is enjoying good health.

The one who smokes in small spiral puffs is lazy or sick.

The one who takes great pains so as not to lose the ashes is of an affable disposition.

The Evils of Constipation

are many; in fact almost every serious illness has its origin in constipation, and some medicines, instead of preventing constipation, add to it. This is true of most cathartics, which when first used, have a beneficial effect, but the dose has to be continually increased, and before long the remedy ceases to have the slightest effect. There is one preparation, however, that can be relied upon to produce the same results with the same dose, even after fifty years daily use, and this is Brandreth's Pills, which has a record of over 100 years as the standard remedy for constipation and all troubles arising from an impure state of the blood.

Brandreth's Pills are the same fine laxative tonic pill your grandparents used and can be found in every drug and medicine store, either plain or sugar-coated.

BITS OF BYPLAY.

A resident of Salem in the midst of the watery flood of last week raised his voice thus, "Water street, water town, waterville, swimtown. Have you got your rain coat and duck habits on?"

It sometimes pays to take your medicine however bitter and say no more about it. Several years ago there were two colored individuals up for trial in a Kentucky court. Both were convicted for stealing and each sentenced to two years in the penitentiary. One of them took his medicine. Hon. John Young Brown represented the other and he appealed the case. It was reversed by the Court of Appeals and a new trial ordered. At this trial Brown's client got the same sentence as before. Brown appealed the case again and the Court of Appeals reversed the case and ordered new trial. At this trial Brown's client got three years instead of two. During all this time Mr. Colored Man lay in the county jail. At the conclusion of the last trial John Young Brown told his client he would make a motion for a new trial and failing in that would appeal the case. The colored man replied, "No—no boss, I don't want no more of that. Why don't you know that other nigger done come home?"

There is a farmer in the Caldwell Springs settlement who farms as old Dick what's his name used to say "a purpose." In October, 1904 Mr. Geo. W. Parrish bought eleven head of sheep, paying therefor $30. In the year 1905 he sold the wool and lamb crop for $56.30. In the year 1906 he sold the wool, part of the lambs and some of the old ones for $72 and he still has fifteen head that are well worth $75.

The affable, urbane and ever present J. Frank Dodge resigned his position with Messrs Taylor & Cannan on Jan. 1. The question of "what are you going to do?" got to be an every day affair. Rumors got busy. A concentration of these were that Frank would enter the grocery business and be backed by any one of half a dozen capitalists. Frank kept silent. He knew what he would do but did not say a word. If he should run a business in Marion he of course would be an object of considerable interest to other dispensers of necessities. He was approached by one of the transfer men with "I would like to do your hauling for your grocery store." Frank promptly and blandly replied "All right sir, you shall have all my grocery hauling." Frank is now selling goods for McConnell & Stone.

In the window of Eberle & Hardin's saloon there is a tiger. It is a papier-mache affair and looks the part it plays to perfection. The eyes are incandescent globes and the light at night comes and goes with regularity. Mr. Hardin closed his place the other night on account of the expiration of his license and the next morning passers by noticed a handkerchief tied over the eyes of the tiger.

Everyone knows Fent Griffith. He is gone now and lives so far away that probably he won't get to see this. This tale is told on him, but for the truth of it we do not vouch. A good many years ago he wanted to borrow $100 and went to Mr. R. W. Wilson to get the money. Mr. Wilson was willing to loan the money and ask him what security he would give. Fent replied by asking another question, "Aint I good? I only want the money sixty days." Mr. Wilson said he might die and it was usually customary to require security. Fent replied, "I only want the money sixty days and whoever heard of a man dying in sixty days."

Inaugurated In Church

Denver, Col., Jan. 8.—The Rev. Dr. Henry A. Buchtel, Chancellor of Denver University, was inaugurated as Governor of Colorado today. In deference to the Governor's wish, the oath of office was administered to him and he delivered his inaugural address to the Legislature in Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, which he aided largely in building while he was pastor of that congregation. The Governor concluded his address with a prayer, followed by the Lord's prayer, in which many of the audience joined. About 2,500 persons attended the inaugural ceremonies, the church being crowded.

KNOW THYSELF

Some of the Wonders of the Human Body

In the human body there are about 263 bones.

The muscles are about 500 in number. The length of the alimentary canal is about 32 feet.

The amount of blood in an adult averages 30 pounds, or fully one-fifth of the entire weight.

The heart is about 4 inches in diameter and about 6 inches in length, beating 70 times a minute, 4200 times an hour, 100,800 times a day and over 36,000,000 times a year. At each beat of the heart over 2 ounces of blood are thrown out of it, 180 ounces a minute, 600 pounds an hour and about 8 tons per day.

All the blood in the body passes through the heart in three minutes.

This little organ, by its ceaseless industry, pumps each day what is equal to lifting 130 tons 1 foot high, or 1 ton 130 feet high.

The lungs contain about one gallon of air at their usual degree of inflation. We breathe, on an average, 1200 times an hour, inhale 600 gallons of air, or 34,000 quarts a day. The aggregate surface of the air cells of the lungs exceeds 20,000 square inches.

The average weight of the brain of an adult male is 3 pounds and 8 ounces; of a female 2 pounds and 4 ounces.

The skin is composed of three layers, and varies from one-eighth to one-quarter of an inch in thickness. Each square inch of skin contains 3500 sweat glands or perspiratory pores, each of which may be likened to a little drain pipe one-quarter of an inch long, making an aggregate length over the entire surface of the body of 201,166 feet, or a ditch for draining the body almost forty miles long.

The nerves probably exceed 10,000,000 in number.

The nerves and the nerve system are all connected by the spinal marrow, and, together with their branches and ramifications, form a body guard probably exceeding 10,000,000.—Ex.

Laurant, the magician and illusionist, gave the best entertainment of the kind ever given in Marion. He is certainly a very clever artist and all his "tricks" were a mystery to the spectators. The producing of the flags of all nations from the "magic" hat was one of the prettiest tricks of the evening.
Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe Syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

AMONG OUR CHURCHES

Rev. J. H. Butler preached at the Baptist church Sunday morning and evening. His text in the morning was taken from the ninetyeth Psalm and ninth verse, "We spend our years as a tale that is told." The subject, "How to Keep the New Year," was divided into the following thoughts: 1. How to begin. 2. How to continue. 3. How to end.
In the evening the text was taken from Luke 4-19, "To preach the acceptable year of the Lord." The subject was, "The Acceptable Year of the Lord." The thoughts discussed were: What is meant by acceptable, year of the Lord, he will bless, receive and save us. How we are to make it acceptable, by repenting, believing, obeying and following Christ.
The protracted meeting began at the Methodist church Sunday. There will be services every afternoon at 2:30 and evening at 6:45.
"Tithing" was the subject of the sermon at the Presbyterian church last Sunday. The text upon which the sermon was based is Lev. 27:30. The title of the land is the Lord's. This is one of the statutes of the Lord given to the people of Israel by Moses. This is as much a law to-day as it was in the time of Moses. The history of tithing goes back beyond the days of Moses and Abraham. It was a custom practiced by the Babylonians and Egyptians. The people of China and India have used this system to gather revenue for the affairs of church and state. Tithing is in vogue among heathen in this day. These facts of history should bring the blush of shame to the face of every follower of the Lord Jesus Christ, since this is more than the Christian world is doing for Christ today. Let us see that we do as much for the God of all the earth as the heathen does for his idol god. Tithing is a practical institution. It brings the soul closer to God and it enables the church of Christ to conduct its affairs more substantially. It has been estimated that if the church would practice tithing the world would be evangelized in less than 100 years. In Mal. 3:8-10 we read, Will a man rob God? Yet ye have robbed me. But ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? In tithes and offerings. The tithe belongs to God and He expects you to give it to him. Reasons were given to show that this was as much the law under the N. T. dispensation as it was in the time of Moses. If anything, it is more obligatory than in the days of Moses, for God has fulfilled all his promises to man in his gift of Christ. The Christian should do as much for the God who has redeemed him, than the heathen does his inanimate god.

More Good Shows

The Wells-Bijou Theatre in Evansville continues to offer only the very best line of attractions. Beginning Sunday, Jan. 13th, for four nights and two matinees, the bill will be Howard Hall, in that strong and stirring play, "The Millionaire Detective," at the Well's popular prices. On Thursday night, Henrietta Crissman comes here in "All a Sudden Peggy," the new play which took Chicago by storm, and Friday "Tim Murphy" in his new comedy, "A Corner In Coffee."

A Great Outside Remedy

Most pains are of local origin—a "crick" in the back, a twinge of rheumatism, a soreness all over arising from a cold—are all cured by outside applications. The quickest, safest and most certain method is Alcock's Plaster, known the world over as a universal remedy for pain. They never fail, they act promptly, they are clean and cheap. You can go right ahead with your work while the healing process goes on. Sixty years' use has given them a great reputation.

THE HOT CROSS BUN

TWO THEORIES AS TO THE ORIGIN OF ITS MARKING.

Symbols in the Shape of Pretzels and certain Cakes—The Siege of Rostock and the Bakers of Schwann. German Commemorative Cakes.

Who would think of the pretzel as an astronomical symbol or the hot cross bun as a missionary document? Yet it is said that originally the one was intended to represent the sun and the four seasons and the other to convert pagan England to Christianity. The former is declared to have been first made by the Romans, who called it the annulus—a word they are said to have formed out of annus, a year—by which they meant a year ring. The ring represented the sun's annual circuit and the four spokes the seasons. It was afterward known under other names in the more northerly countries of Europe. There are two stories of the origin of the hot cross bun. The Christian missionaries to England are said to have discovered that, although they could alter the views of the people on religious matters, they could not induce them to abandon their time honored pagan customs. One of these was the eating of a certain kind of cake in honor of the Goddess of Spring. They decided to put the sign of the cross on the Saxon buns and launch them forth on a missionary enterprise. The buns accomplished their mission.

The other story is that in early times in the observance of holy week the church was more strict in the matter of fasts than now. Only a certain amount of food could be eaten. This was indicated by two boundary marks made in the dough to show the length and width of the piece. The loaves were sold in churches and were carried from place to place by pilgrims. So the custom of crossing the bread used on Good Friday became fixed.

These are not the only kinds of shapes of bread whose origin has been traced to odd circumstances. The crescent shaped rolls which one sees in some parts of the city had a curious birth. On one of the occasions when the Turks besieged Vienna, Peter Windler and his wife had a bakery in that city. This baker's patriotism was kindled with a sense of humor and possibly a sense of business. At any rate, he conceived the idea of making rolls in the shape of a crescent, the emblem of the Turks. They found a ready sale, for everybody wanted to devour the half moons typifying the Mohammedans at the outer gate.

Germany is the home of commemorative cakes and bread. Other countries, while having as many varieties, have not woven sentiment about them to the same extent.

A great many Americans would not know what schwannkuchen is unless they asked a native of the old German city of Rostock. It is to be had only at a certain season of the year because it commemorates a kindly act of many years ago. Rostock was surrounded by an enemy. The city gates were closed, and the enemy had come close to the walls, with clubs, spears, heavy mortar slings and many other old time implements of war. Once and again and again they rushed upon the walls with thunderous noise and clanging weapons, but the brave burghers of Rostock, seeing the danger, the latter sallied beyond the gates and drove back the foe until the siege was raised.

It was with great joy that they saw the bakers of Schwann, a village twelve miles down the river Warnow, at the gate as the enemy drew away, bearing heavily laden baskets of cakes. It was such a godsend to the famished burghers that they rewarded the Schwann bakers by giving them the privilege of coming to Rostock every year on Maundy Thursday to offer their cakes for sale. For many years this custom prevailed, to the profit of the bakers from the neighboring town. In time, however, the bakers of Rostock, showing ingratitude, some might think, baked the schwannkuchen themselves. To this very day everybody in Rostock eats schwannkuchen in holy week.

Another German bread, which in shape resembles a capital W, owes its existence to the siege of the German town of Kraitsheim in 1379. It is called haas aef, or hair monkeys, a name suggested by the appearance of the apparition which raised the siege. The efforts of the besiegers to take the place had been in vain. They decided to starve the burghers and their families. So they sat down before the town. There they sat for seven months. By this time the provisions were getting short, and starvation seemed inevitable. One woman had pondered long upon the subject, and finally she said to the head of the defenders: "The people outside the wall are superstitious. Let me masquerade at night before them on the city wall in a peculiar dress." She was permitted to carry out her plan. When her fantastic figure was seen upon the wall in the dim light, flitting from point to point, climbing nimbly over obstacles, they were horror stricken.

"Haas aef," they exclaimed, pointing at the apparition on the wall. "It is an evil spirit." The following night they fled from the town.

In remembrance of the success of the ruse this peculiar shaped cake was made. For more than 500 years the authorities of the city have celebrated the anniversary by distributing large quantities of these cakes among the poor and the children of the city.—New York Tribune.

Republican Campaign Text-Book

A departure has been made in the Republican Campaign Text-Book just issued, in that its contents are wholly devoted to live issues, and these are treated in the briefest possible way, yet comprehensively enough to include all necessary facts and figures.

First, there is a general statement of the issues of 1906, followed by a brief review of Republican legislation in general and the work of the Fifty-ninth Congress in particular. The Railroad Rate Law, Pure Food Law, Free Alcohol Law, Employers' Liability Law and the Meat Inspection portion of the Agricultural Appropriation Law are given in full, as is Chairman Tawney's clear explanation of the appropriations.

The Labor question is next fully presented, followed by Representative Watson's exposition of Anti-Trust proceedings. About one hundred pages are given to the Tariff, Agriculture and Manufactures, and the tables showing the various phases of industrial activity. Among other subjects treated under the tariff are:

Protection and Free Trade, Customs Revenue, Foreign Commerce, Home Market and Internal Trade, Wages and Prices, Export Discounts, Reciprocity, Free Hides, Revision, etc., etc.

Some half hundred tables give official and authoritative figures down to the latest possible date. The work of the president and administration is then briefly presented, the condition and status of the Philippines, the Panama Canal, the Navy, Postal Service, Irrigation, etc., etc.

The President's letter to Representative Watson concludes the work, which has a copious index of over a dozen pages.

Scattered throughout the book are quotations from President Roosevelt and other Republican leaders. Among these is the extract from Senator Hanna's speech where he used the "stand pat" expression, it being the only instance in the Text-Book where the words "stand pat" are used. A page is given to Mr. Bryan and his views, with the comments of the New York World. A so-called "Prosperity Postscript" is added, giving treasury conditions, trade reports, etc., down to August 1.

For the first time in a political campaign, the Text-Book will have a general circulation, as together with other literature, it will be sent on receipt of one dollar by John C. Eversman, Assistant Treasurer, 1133 Broadway, New York.

To stop a cold with "Preventics" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will head off all colds and Grippe, and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventics are little toothsome candy cure tablets selling in 5-cent and 25-cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin sneeze, try Preventics. They will surely check the cold, and please you. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

You Look Yellow

The trouble is, your liver's sick. One of its products, "bile," is overflowing into your blood.

You can't digest your food, your appetite is poor, you suffer dreadfully from headache, stomach ache, dizziness, malaria, constipation, etc. What you need is not a dose of salts, cathartic, water or pills—but a liver tonic

Thedford's Black-Draught

Its great medicine acts gently on the sick liver. It purifies the blood, renews the appetite, feeds the nerves, clears the brain and cures constipation.

It is a true medicine for sick liver and kidneys, and regulates all the digestive functions. Try it.

A Book For Two Cents

C. A. Snow & Co., Patent Lawyers of Washington, D. C., have now ready their Diary and Memorandum book for 1907, which they will send on receipt of two cents postage. This little book is useful. No where else that we know of can so much be had for so little.

Vermont's Two Seasons.

One winter when Thaddeus Stevens had come back to his Vermont home he was the victim of a severe cold and could not leave the house for many weeks. One of his callers was Lewis Clark, a man of short stature, who in earlier days had been a playmate of the "Old Commoner" and was a near neighbor of the Stevens family in their Peacham home. Vermonters had just begun to wear buffalo coats, and Mr. Clark arrived at the Stevens home almost lost in a coat which reached to the ground. His upturned collar completely covered his ears and face, while a fur cap completed the disguise.

"Is that you, Lewis?" asked Mr. Stevens in an incredulous tone.

"Yes, Thad," he replied.

"Well, skin yourself and sit down," exclaimed the other.

During the interesting conversation which followed Mr. Clark asked Stevens if he wouldn't come back to his Vermont home and live.

"No," replied Stevens. "You have but two seasons here—winter and late in the fall."—Harper's Weekly.

The Crocodile's Strong Jaw.

Sir Samuel Baker in his "Wild Beasts" says that the power of the jaws of the crocodile is terrific. Once he had the metal of a large hook, the thickness of ordinary telegraph wire, completely bent together, the barbed point being pressed tightly against the shank and rendered useless. This compression was caused by the snap of the jaws when seizing a live duck which he had used as a bait, the hook being fastened beneath one wing. On one occasion he found a fish weighing seventy pounds bitten clean through as if divided by a knife. This, again, was the work of a snap from the jaws of a crocodile. M. Paul Bert once made experiments on the strength of a crocodile's jaws by means of a dynamometer. He found that a crocodile weighing 120 pounds exerted a force of 308 pounds in closing his jaw. The lion has an enormous jaw power. On one occasion an African traveler pushed the butt end of his gun into a lion's mouth, and the pressure of the jaws cracked it as though it had been struck by a steam hammer.

Hog and Boiled Turkey.

"The hog," said a Baltimore judge, "is the greatest animal in the world. Every part of him has a different flavor, and each flavor is better than that of any other animal in the world."

"Better than a terrapin?"

"I don't call a terrapin an animal. The terrapin is a creation. But, to return to the hog, all of him is good, from his tail to his front feet. China is a great dish, but it doesn't compare with jowl. Jowl and turnip tops in the spring can be beaten by only one thing, and that is a boiled hen turkey. Nobody but a Yankee or a heathen would roast a hen turkey in the spring. Hen turkeys are fat before they lay, and the flavor is delicious. Properly cooked and served, such a dish is fit for kings, and nations have gone to war for less cause."—Baltimore News.

An Anatomical Puzzle.

Behind the bridge of your nose is a little cavity in the skull, the origin of which appears to be unknown. It probably was a gland, consisting of two tiny lobes, joined together, and is named the Sella turcica. Physiologists believe that this is the remains of a sixth sense, which was of practical value to our antediluvian ancestors, but whether it enabled them to see in the dark in days before they possessed fire or helped them to find their way through trackless forests as wild beasts can today or what other purpose it may have served we do not know and probably never shall know.

The Prize Cow.

Take for yourself a well bred cow, get her on full feed, cram and feed and stuff and cram her for, say, a year. Go to the trouble of washing and currying and scrubbing and combing her twice a day, get down on your hunkers, my friend, sandpaper her hoofs, groom her legs, polish her horns and brush her tail, and by the time show season comes around you should have a very creditable looking show cow.—Sheridan (Mo.) Advance.

They Didn't Tally.

"That society newspaper published some very flattering remarks about me," began Miss Devane.

"Yes," replied her best friend; "but it was horrid of the editor to go and spoil it in the way he did."

"Spoil it, indeed! Why, he said I was a beautiful belle of the younger set and—"

"Yes, and then he put your photograph right under it."

A Different Paley.

Miss Backbay—You are familiar, in a general way, with paleontology, are you not? Mr. Carondelet—No, I don't remember that I ever happened across it. But I once read Paley on "Evidences of Christianity," or something like that, when I was a boy, and I found it awful heavy reading.—Chicago Tribune.

The Alternative.

Muggins—I hear you are having your daughter's voice cultivated. Buggins—Yes; I'm afraid it can't be cured, so I am doing the next best thing.—Philadelphia Record.

His Usual Way.

She—it's funny, but all the time I have known Mr. Tigg he never has paid me a compliment. He—Tigg never pays anybody.

Can't Jolly 'Em Always.

It is easy to convince a woman that you love her, but it is not so easy to live up to it for a lifetime.—New Zealand Graphic.

The Awful Carib Fish.

A traveler in Venezuela gives an interesting description of the fish of the Orinoco country. He says the party several times came in contact with the carib fish, which are the most ferocious inhabitants of the water known. The fish are not over fourteen inches long, but they travel in schools. Their teeth are three cornered. Any living object which attracts their attention is attacked with fury. Mr. Thompson tells of an Indian woman who entered the water to fill a bucket. She was attacked by the fish and reached shore only to die in fifteen minutes. The flesh was literally torn from her body. Mr. Dart, who was with Mr. Thompson, caught one of the fish and pulled it upon the bank. He held the carib under his foot while he pointed at the peculiar teeth with his finger. With a quick movement the carib flopped out from under Mr. Dart's foot and seized him by the finger, cutting that member to the bone. The fish frequently have been known to bite ordinary fishhooks in two.

Progress of Dentistry.

Though dentistry became a science under the hand of Professor Richard Owen as late as 1839, there are evidences that it was practiced in a crude way by the ancients. Herodotus refers to treatment of the teeth by the Egyptians, and evidences of attempts to supply artificial teeth have been discovered in ancient skulls and mummies. Galen was the first physician to speak of treatment of troublesome teeth, and Ambrose Pare, in his work on surgery in 1550, makes mention of the preservation of the teeth. It is only since the middle of the last century, however, that dentistry has become a branch of surgical science. Before that time bad teeth were extracted, and mere tooth drawing constituted dentistry early in the nineteenth century. The first dental school in the United States was erected at Baltimore in 1839. In 1845 Cincinnati boasted of a similar institution, and in 1856 a dental school was erected at Philadelphia.

A Gentleman of the Old School.

Lady Dorothy Nevill in her reminiscences tells a story of her father, a gentleman of the old school, "in nankeen shorts, with white stockings and a brass buttoned blue coat, with big collar, over a beautifully embroidered waistcoat." But he swore, after the manner of the age. "He was traveling at night on the continent alone in a post chaise when the postboy, while passing through a forest, began to drive like a man anything but certain of his way. My father's wrath soon rose, and the explosion of strong language which issued from the carriage so alarmed the driver that, murmuring, 'Je ne veux pas conduire le diable' (I will not drive the devil), he pulled up and, having expeditiously unfastened the traces, made off with his horses at a gallop. My father, I believe, passed the whole night alone in the woods."

Colonial Fear of Lawyers.

In the columns of the New York Gazetteer of Sept. 8, 1786, there was a paragraph lamenting the increase of lawyers as threatening to the future prosperity of the community and degrading to freemen. "An honest trader in former days," said the writer, "was all that people of common ability and education were ambitious of, but now no profession is gentler but the lawyer and the merchant. The lawyers are now creeping into every post of importance and thrusting themselves wherever there is a vacancy. Our congress, our assembly, are crowded with them, and even in our great commercial convention there are five lawyers to one merchant."

Caring the Bad Boy.

You remember the old fashioned woman who when she heard her young son swearing or using naughty words washed his mouth in soap suds. There is an Atchison boy who could not be reformed in this way, so his father took him in hand. Every day his father called him in and said: "Now, your mother objects to those naughty words you use, but I, being a man, like them. Go over the list for me." The boy promptly complied at first, but in a few days he tired of the words and has now given up his list entirely.—Atchison Globe.

The Toad and Its Skin.

The toad sheds its skin at certain periods, the old one coming off and leaving a new one, which has been formed underneath, in its stead. It does not give its cast off coat away to any poorer toad, and there are no toads dealing in second hand raiment. Neither does it leave its cast off jacket on the ground after the fashion of the shiftless snake. It swallows its overcoat at one mouthful, converting its stomach into a portmanteau.

Noses Out of Joint.

When I was a girl, the aristocratic nose was high, beautifully modeled, rising in a delicately waving ridge and at the tip standing well out from the face and not turned up. But now the fashion has completely changed. The pretty women one sees portrayed in illustrated papers and magazines very seldom have much to speak of in the way of noses.—Dowager in London Chronicle.

The Difficulty About Our Composers.

"Who is your favorite composer?" inquired the artistic person. "I can't say just at this moment," answered Mr. Cumrox, with an appealing glance at his wife. "but it's somebody whose name I can't remember and whose name I can't pronounce."—Washington Star.

Wicked men cannot be friends either among themselves or with the good.—Socrates.

If You Want Cash

For Your Real Estate or Business

I CAN GET IT

No Matter What Your Property is Worth, or in what Town, City, State or Territory it is Located

If I did not have the ability and facilities to sell your own property, I certainly could not afford to pay for this advertisement. This "ad" (like all my other "ads") is practically sure to place on my list a number of new properties, and I am just as sure to sell these properties and make enough money in commissions to pay for the cost of these "ads," and make a good profit besides. That is why I have so large a real estate business today.

Why not put your property among the number that will be sold as a result of these "ads"? I will not only be able to sell it—some time—but will be able to sell it quickly. I am a specialist in quick sales. I have the most complete and up-to-date equipment. I have branch offices throughout the country and a field force of men to find buyers.

I do not handle all lines usually carried by the ordinary real estate agents. I MUST SELL real estate—and lots of it—or go out of business. I can assure you that I am not going out of business. On the contrary, I expect to find, at the close of the year, that I have sold twice as many properties as I did the past year, but it will first be necessary for me to "list" more properties. I want to list YOURS and SELL it. It doesn't matter whether you have a farm, a home without any land, or a business; it doesn't matter what it is, worth, or where it is located. If you will fill out the blank letter of inquiry below and mail it to me today, I will tell you how and why I can quickly convert the property into cash, and will give you my complete plan.

Free of Charge

and terms for handling it. The information I will give you will be of great value to you even if you should decide not to sell. You had better write to-day before you forget it. If you want to buy any kind of a Farm, House or Business, in any part of the country, tell me your requirements. I will guarantee to fill them promptly and satisfactorily.
