THE BLOOMER SOCIAL A DISTINCT SUCCESS

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Noggle Delightfully
Entertain at Their Home Last Thursday, Jan. 12th.

THE CONTESTS WERE INTERESTING

On Thursday evening Jan. 17th, the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Noggle on South Main street was thrown open for the first time to their friends who were invited to a "Bloomer Social." The idea was unique and as the invitations stated that the ladies would be furnished with bloomers immediately after their arrival, there was a flood of acceptances received by the host and hostess. From the crowd that was present we do not think any of those bidden declined. Among those present were noted the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Taylor
" Ben Andres
" Geo. Gray
" H. K. Woods
" J. H. Orme
" S. M. Jenkins
" Jno. Wilson
" J. W. Trisler
" Levi Cook
" Joe Rochester
" Nat
" Jeff Clement
" Walter Blackburn
" Frank Dodge

Mesdames Robt. Woods, R. F. Dorr, Carrie Thomas, Misses Phoebe Rochester and Eva Clement.

Mr. and Mrs. Noggle proved them selves delightful entertainers and had prepared a business and legal question contest for the ladies. The men propounded the questions and the ladies answered them. Some of the questions and answers we give:

What is the difference between a doctor and a minister? A doctor fills the cemeteries and a minister fills the pulpit.

Does a note draw interest when no rate is mentioned? Yes, if not specified not to draw interest.

What is a negotiable note? One that can be negotiated.

What is the difference between a contract and a covenant? A contract is between man and man, a covenant is between God and man.

What is the difference between a mortgage and a lien? A mortgage is given in exchange for money borrowed; a lien is given on property as security.

Which is safer, a mortgage or a land note? Mortgage.

What is the difference between a minister and a physician? One empties the pews, the other empties your pockets.

What is the difference between a note and a receipt? A note is what a girl gets before marriage and a receipt after marriage.

What is a promissory note? Promise to pay one day after date.

After this the ladies (all of whom wore the bloomers which Mrs. Noggle had prepared for them and wore them gracefully) decided to get even with the gentlemen for putting such difficult and abstruse problems to them by demanding that each one of those present should write a receipt for

SAD DEATH OF YOUNG WIFE AND MOTHER

Mrs. A. J. Hartzell Died Saturday Morning at 11 O'clock at her Home Near Repton, Ky.

WELL KNOWN AND BELOVED HERE

Huey Nunn, wife of A. J. Hartzell, died Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at her home near Repton, five miles from Marion, of puerperal fever, after a short illness. Her death came as a great shock to her family and friends, few of whom knew of her serious illness. Her aged mother is greatly distressed over the death of this, her youngest daughter.

Mrs. Hartzell leaves one child, two old, a little girl, Georgia Duke.

Besides her aged mother, who survives her, and her husband, she leaves four brothers, Dr. Will Nunn, of Henshaw; Robt. Nunn, of Marion; Geo. and John Nunn, of Sullivan; and two sisters, Mrs. Noble Boston, of Marion, and Mrs. John Quiry, of Sullivan. Her father was the late T. L. Nunn.

The funeral and interment took place Monday morning at Sullivan, Rev. W. T. Oakley officiating.

Burned to Death.

The two-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Travis, of Livingston county, was burned to death last Sunday evening from its clothes taking fire. —Lyon County Times.

MISS MARY DORR A BRIDE TO BE

Cards Received Last Friday Announce the Wedding to Take Place February 7th.

Cards received in the city last week by friends of the family read as follows:

"Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bunton Dorr announce the marriage of their daughter Mary Stewart to Mr. William O. Cox on Thursday, February Seventh nineteen hundred seven Los Angeles, California."

At home after February twentieth at No. 1284 West Twenty Fourth street Los Angeles, California.

Miss Dorr is a lovely girl, she was born and reared here but removed when a child to California with her parents Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Dorr. She visited here two years ago and won many friends by her winsome manners and attractive personality. The Press congratulates Mr. Cox, the groom to be.

Prof. H. J. Von Tobel Has a Class Here

About forty lovers of vocal music met Prof. Von Tobel, of Henderson, Tuesday evening to organize the Marion Choral Union. C. S. Nunn was elected chairman and Fannie Walker secretary and treasurer.

John A. Moore, F. S. Stilwell and Mrs. Thos. Cochran were appointed as a committee on Constitution and By-laws.

The Choral Union will meet Tuesday evening of each week and has engaged Prof. Von Tobel as instructor. He will come here each Tuesday night.

MRS. TRISLER ENTERTAINS THE MARION MUSICAL CLUB

Last Saturday Evening from 2:30 to 4. The Contests Were Very Unique And Instructive

IN HONOR OF MRS. J. L. SHRODE

Mrs. Trisler entertained the Marion Musical Club Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 4.

Each guest was given a badge with the colors of the club, blue and gold. Little Miss Dixie Trisler served punch.

There were two musical contests which were instructive as well as interesting and amusing. Mrs. Shrode played the piano in one contest and Mrs. Trisler in the other.

Mrs. Fannie Walker and Mrs. S. M. Jenkins won the prizes.

The sitting and dining rooms were beautifully decorated with blue and gold. Refreshments were served in two courses. First course consisted of hot chocolate, salmon salad, scalloped oysters and sandwiches. Second course consisted of ice cream and cake.

Among those present were Mesdames Tom Cochran, J. L. Shrode, Ben Andres, Joe Walker, E. V. Carleton, John Wilson, C. P. Noggle, S. M. Jenkins and R. D. Drescher. Misses Florence and Caroline Harris, Lizzie James, Kittie Gray and Sallie Woods.

FATAL FIGHT OVER A WATER HOLE

Prospectors Nearly Perishing Come Upon the Precious Fluid and Are Attacked by Owner.

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 27.—In a fight for water on the Arizona desert one prospector was injured and the owner of the water hole, with its slender supply of what in that barren region is a priceless fluid, was killed.

William and Lynn Desplain, brothers, nearly perishing for water came upon a water hole twenty-five miles from Salome, Ariz. An old man named Jones had taken possession of it and forbade the prospectors filling their kegs. They disregarded Jones and he fired upon them with a rifle. A fight began and when it was over Jones was dead and William Desplain was badly wounded.

Will Stegars Barn Burned Near Princeton.

The dairy barn of W. H. Stegar was burned by incendiaries during the early hours Wednesday morning, the building and all of its contents, including the cattle housed therein, being a total loss. The incendiaries made good their escape after firing the barn and left no trace as to their identity. No cause is given for the deed.

Mr. Stegar is a brother of James Stegar whose tobacco warehouse was burned on the morning of December 1, 1906 by the masked mob of men who visited Princeton upon that occasion and at the same time burned the warehouse of J. G. Orr. —Lyon County Times.

ARRESTED AND CHARGED WITH A SERIOUS OFFENSE

John D. Gregory Brought Here Friday Morning from Dycusburg and Lodged in Jail

STOUTLY PROCLAIMS HIS INNOCENCE

Considerable excitement and surprise was created, here last Thursday night when the news was telephoned here that John D. Gregory ex-marshal of Dycusburg, a former Marionite and at one time night watchman here, chosen from among a large list of applicants to guard the city at night from all evil doers, had made an assault on the cashier of the Dycusburg Bank Edgie Gregory, a well known and highly connected young man. The reports which came were quite conflicting and equally sensational and John D. Gregory's friends were loath to believe them. Sheriff J. F. Flanary was notified and he went after the accused man who was brought here and lodged in jail Friday morning in default of bail which was fixed at $3000.00 by Judge Blackburn, later the amount of bail was reduced to $2000.00 and still later to $1000.00. The prisoners relatives and friends on the advice of his counsel decided to demand an immediate trial and the case was set for next Monday Feb. 4th. The Press has not been able to get any statement from Cashier Gregory or ex-marshal Gregory and in view of the close proximity of the day of trial will await the evidence and publish the full details next week as brought out at the trial.

Cashier Gregory received several painful cuts on the head but will be able to appear next Monday at the trial. No case in many years has excited so much interest in Crittenden county Mr. Gregory the banker is a nephew of Mrs. Randolph Finley of this city and Geo. and Sam Yacey of Dycusburg.

Mrs. Robert Crow Dies.

On Saturday at 9 p. m., Mrs. Dallas Crow died of consumption at her home in Fredonia after an illness of several months. She was about twenty-two years of age and before her marriage to Robert Crow was a Miss Ward. She leaves besides her husband and other relatives; one child a little girl about four years of age. The funeral services were held at the Baptist church Sunday at two o'clock p. m., by Rev. M. E. Miller and was attended by many friends of the deceased; the remains were then interred in the new cemetery at Fredonia.

"Lon" Can't Miss a Show.

Alonzo Johnson, of Morganfield, who was depot agent at Marion for three years, came over Monday night to attend the show, "Hooligan's Troubles," at the Opera House. Lon certainly enjoys a show and can get as much real enjoyment out of one as anyone. He left for his home in Morganfield Tuesday morning and the smile he wore was of the variety that "won't wash off."

WEARY WATCHERS RETURN THANKS

River Almost on Stand and Men Who Have Fought to Save the City Join In Prayer

THEY MEET IN A GROCERY STORE

(By Mayor Kratz, over long-distance telephone at 10 a. m., Sunday.)

Shawneetown, Ill.—Jan. 17.—

With hearts full of gratitude, several hundred weary men congregated in the grocery store owned by Charles Carroll here this evening and returned thanks for the deliverance of the city from destruction by the flood. The meeting was led by the ministers of the city all of whom have remained here during the trying time since the water threatened the levee, working as faithfully as anyone to save the city. For thirty minutes short addresses were made recounting the many trials that have befallen the patient worker and how after a struggle extending over several weeks the river is now on a stand and the levee safe. Every man in the audience was weary and care-worn after two weeks of almost ceaseless vigil but with bared heads every man in the audience joined in returning thanks and singing "Lead Kindly Light," and "Rock of Ages."

The cause of the rejoicing is simple. For the first time in ten days Shawneetown is assured today that the levee will withstand the ravages of the Ohio and that all danger is practically over. Only a heavy break or a multiplicity of small leaks coming simultaneously can mar the property valuation of the town or cause added discomfort to its citizens.

THY LOVE IS OVER ALL

(By Request)

Glad bells will ring the New Year in,
And bid the Old good bye,
And o'er this darkling world of sin
The stars come out on high;
Methinks from those wide fields of light
I hear sweet voices call,
Soft-singing through the peaceful night
"Thy love is over all."

The sailor's little children sleep
Like sea blooms on a stem,
While far off on the stormy deep
Their father dreams of them;
And though the mighty north wind blows
And rains unceasing fall,
Deep in his trusting heart he knows
Thy love is over all.

Some poor old mother softly lays
The rusty sabre by,
While through her open window strays
The glory of the sky—
What though no footsteps greet her ear,
Her name no voices call,
Yet still she knoweth Thou art near,
Whose love is over all.

We owe our blessings all to Thee,
A most exhaustless store,
They have no limit or degree
But grace, both rich and poor;
The beggar crouching at the gate,
The monarch in his hall
Alike upon Thy mandates wait
Whose love is over all.

Upon the New Year altar fair
What gift shall be our part?
Methinks Thy voice sighs through the air,
"My child, give me thy heart."
Then take it, Lord, for weal or woe,
I care not what befall,
Enough it is for me to know
Thy love is over all.

The Mermaids in History.

Nearly all nations have folk lore and fairy tale accounts of mermaids, and sometimes of mermen. Even the American Indians had their "woman-fish" and "man-fish." The Chinese tell stories about their sea-woman of the southern seas. Sometimes mermaids and mermen are represented as leaving the water and living with human beings, but more frequently they are pictured as being so attractive that they sometimes will lure human beings to destruction in the depths of the sea. These myths have been utilized by man poets, and have even been used for stories "with a moral." Most encyclopedias and Baring Gould's "Myths of the Middle Ages" give interesting histories of the myths and the extent to which they have been held by various nations.—St. Nicholas.

Thoughtful Little Miss.

She was late in starting for the Far-land school the other day, and her mother gave her a note of apology to the teacher.

The teacher read the note and dropped it into her waste basket. "You weren't late enough to need an excuse," she said pleasantly.

Later in the day the little miss quietly obtained the note.

"I thought," she exclaimed to her mother, "I ought to save it, 'cause you know I might really need it some day."—Detroit News.

It Takes Nerve

Everything depends upon your nerves. It is nerve force that causes the brain to direct the motion of your body; it is nerve force that causes your heart to pulsate, and send the blood through your veins, it is nerve force that causes your stomach to digest food, your kidneys to filter the blood, and the liver to secrete bile.

In fact, nerve force is the power that runs your body, so if you feel worn-out, irritable, nervous, cannot sleep, or eat well, have pain or misery anywhere, your nerves are weak, and your system run-down. To restore this vitality take Dr. Miles' Nerveine which will strengthen and build up the nerves. You cannot be healthy without strong nerves.

"For eighteen years Dr. Miles' Nerveine and Anti-Pain Pills have been my close companions. Early in married life, while raising children, my nerves became all worn-out—could not sleep, had no appetite, indigestion very bad, and had such awful dizzy spells. Then I began using Dr. Miles' Nerveine, and at once I began to improve, and soon found myself in perfect health."

MAN IS KILLED BY EXPLOSION

OF DYNAMITE AND ANOTHER IS FATALLY
INJURED THURSDAY EVENING

BODY BLOWN MANY FEET

Hanson H. Love And His Companion
Were Dynamiting Stumps on
M. H. & E. Right-of-Way.

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 24.—Hanson H. Love, general superintendent of the construction crew of the M. H. & E. railroad, was instantly killed Thursday morning by an explosion and a companion who was with him at the time was seriously injured.

Mr. Love and his companion were removing stumps along the right of way of the new railroad, and were at work on the farm of Robert Brown, about two miles from this place. The stumps were being removed by dynamite. A charge had been placed under one and the fuse touched off, but for some reason the explosion failed to occur as soon as it should have, and Mr. Love and his companion started back to make an investigation.

Mr. Love was in the lead, and when within a few feet of the stump a fearful explosion occurred. Mr. Love was blown quite a distance and was badly bruised and mangled, death resulting instantly.

His companion, Jake Straus, was also injured, and was rendered unconscious by the explosion. When he recovered he found the body of Mr. Love quite a distance from the scene of the explosion, and when he reached his side the man was dead.

Mr. Love had been employed by C. H. Dishman, who is the contractor of the M. H. & E. railroad, as superintendent for several months. He was a man about sixty years of age and had devoted practically all of his life to railroad building, and had handled dynamite for years.

Mr. Love's home was at Terre Haute, Ind., where he has a family. He had just recently returned from a visit to that place. He was held in high esteem by his employer and had the good will of all the men who worked under him. He was a gentleman in every sense of the word, and his untimely death has caused much regret among his many friends in this county.

The remains of the dead man were brought to this city and prepared for burial at the undertaking establishment of Slaton & O'Bryan, and were shipped to his home at Terre Haute Thursday afternoon. His son, who was also at work on the road, accompanied the remains home.

Ratskin for Gloves.

A glove manufacturer took from a cabinet the other day a handsome pair of brown gloves.

"Ratskin," he said. "These gloves are made of ratskin. They look well at first glance, but examine them carefully. Look into the skin."

The skin, though soft and fine and supple, revealed on close examination a great many cuts and scars and scratches. None of these went quite through, nevertheless their effect was to weaken the gloves greatly.

"These cuts and scars," said the manufacturer, "are what bar ratskins out of glove-making. You never get a skin without them. Hence you can't make a good, strong, perfect ratskin glove."

"These scars are the result of the rats' pugacity. Rats fight so much that they become at an early age a mass of scars. Their torn hides are of no use to commerce."—Minneapolis Journal.

WASHINGTON'S GUN

Thought to Be Gun Washington Carried
Prior to 1754—Gun of Elegant Pattern.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 21.—An old-style rifle, formerly the property of George Washington, hero of the American revolution and first president of the United States, is the property of W. A. Bertram, traveling salesman, with an office in the Tobin building.

The gun is believed to be the one carried by young Washington on his dangerous trip from Williams bridge, Va., to the French forts at the head-water of the Ohio river, prior to the outbreak of the French and Indian war in 1754. This historic old gun may be the one from which General Washington, then colonel, fired at De Jumonville's troops and ordered the French and Indian war, which settled the question of colonial supremacy between France and England in America.

The revolutionary record of the old gun is not known. During this memorable struggle Washington was at the head of the American armies, and would hardly have needed such a gun. Nor is much of the subsequent history of the historic old weapon known. After the death of Washington it fell into the hands of a Virginian.

Later it became the property of John Ericsson, builder of the Monitor, derisively called the "Yankee cheese box," which fought a famous battle with the formidable ram Merrimac, in Hampton roads and prevented the breaking of the Federal blockade of southern ports. At his death his son and then his grandson owned the gun. The latter sold it to John J. Sweeney, of Houston, Texas, a millionaire, in whose possession the gun remained for years.

About four years ago, Mr. Bertram, while in conversation with Mr. Sweeney at Houston, was told about the rifle. He was interested, and finally bought the gun for a good sum and it was expressed to St. Louis about a week ago. The expressage on it was $9.

The rifle was formerly a flint-lock, but one of the owners had it converted into a cap and ball weapon in 1853. The butt plate and trimmings for the stock are of solid silver. The barrel is hand forged and inlaid with gold near the end and by the rear sight.

On one side of the stock, besides other silver trimmings there is a grease box used by Washington for tallow, bullets and "patching." This is of solid silver. On the lid of the box is a bust of Washington in relief and the inscription "Gen. Washington." On the other side is the family coat of arms. An inscription on the barrel bears the name of S. B. Elliott. This believed to have been the maker. The gun is 4 feet 10 inches in length and weighs probably 25 lbs.

Fears Giving Offense.

"You can't do any good work in the world without offending somebody," said Congressman Longworth in an address. "The man who makes no enemies is the man who does no good."

"Some men, but for this fear of making enemies might accomplish something. As it is, they remind me of the dying man who was too cautious even to make his peace with providence."

"Do you renounce the devil and all his works?" the minister said to this man.

"And the dying man replied in a weak, hesitating voice:

"Please don't ask me that. I'm going to a strange country, and I don't want to make myself enemies."

STRANGE COUNTRY IN UNKNOWN BRAZIL

Little Intercourse Between the Outside World and Upper Amazon
Jungles

One of the most eminent statesmen and journalists of the great South American republic is the Hon. Leao Veloso.

He contributes to the December number of Appleton's Magazine an article on "Brazil To-day," which is full of information for the general reader. He says incidentally:

"Brazil is very little known to foreigners, who heretofore have been satisfied with knowing it to be the largest and most populous of South American republics.

"Brazil is indeed a large country much larger than anyone realizes until he appreciates the fact that its territory covers as much ground in South America as does the United States in North, and that in the Eastern Hemisphere only the colossal empires of Russia and China can rival the dominions of this vast republic of the South. Its coast line, bathed by the waters of the Atlantic, extends north and south 3,600 miles and its inland plateaus in some places reach the watersheds of the Andes, which hugs the Pacific coast. This great block of territory, which borders upon every South American country except Chile, is situated between 5 degrees 10 seconds latitude north and 33 degrees 46 minutes 10 seconds south, and while most of lies in the torrid or tropical zone, there is a large tract which belongs to and enjoys all the advantage of the temperate zone.

"Nature has done all in its power to facilitate communication between the various parts of the country. It would take a fifteen-knot steamer ten days to cover its coast line. Brazil possesses the greatest river system in the world, the principal factor of which is the Amazon river, many of whose tributaries can be navigated for a thousand miles and whose main stream is penetrated for two thousand miles and more by ocean steamers plying between New York, Manaus, and Iquitos. In the South, starting from Montevideo, the capital of the Republic of Uruguay Brazilian steamers reach the inland State of Mato Grosso and require over a month for the return trip. These two systems, that of the Amazon and that of La Plata, form a great bow whose center is in Western Brazil. Parallel with the Atlantic and forming the string to this great bow, the great St. Francisco, a river almost unheard of abroad, stretches its navigable waters for over a thousand miles.

"Brazil's population is to-day calculated at 20,000,000, and this does not include the Indians or savage tribes which still exist in large numbers in unexplored regions. These figures show how thinly the country is populated and betrays the weak point in its development and progress. What Brazil needs is immigration, and former Government have spared neither money nor effort in bringing people from all lands.

"Rio de Janeiro, the capital of Brazil, has approximately 1,000,000 inhabitants, and this figure is destined to increase rapidly owing to the great improvements which have been inaugurated and pushed to conclusion during the last three years. First in importance of these fundamental improvements is the fight for the complete sanitation of the city, which is being brought to a successful close.

Prof. Lockyear when in the city last week, in a side conversation, remarked that every five minutes of sunshine had been carefully jotted down and Evansville had had but ten hours of sunshine in a month. OIL FIELDS ON DECLINE

Jamaica Earthquake Decreases Output
in Texas Oil Fields. Seventeen Wells Go Dry.

Galveston, Tex., Jan. 24.—The Gulf coast oil fields have decreased their production over 45 per cent. within the past week, and the cause is attributed to seismic disturbances associated with the Jamaica earthquake. The Texas-Louisiana fields have been on a steady decline for the past ten months, as shown by the decrease of 18,000,000 barrels for the year just ended compared with 1905. The sudden drop was noticed the second day after the Jamaica earthquake and seventeen wells in Texas and Louisiana went entirely dry, while every well declined perceptibly. After the Valparaiso earthquake the Texas-Louisiana oil fields declined and many wells ceased to flow, while an immense oil lake appeared out in the gulf. The fields never recovered from the Valparaiso shocks. Experts who have studied the situation declare that the shocks release the oil reservoirs or lakes in the bowels of the earth, and that the treasured product flows to some other section of the earth. While the South Texas and Louisiana fields have been on a rapid decline since the Valparaiso earthquake, the north Texas oil field have shown an increase of 100 per cent. in the same period, and the latter are the oldest field by many years.

Another strange feature about the coast country oil since the Jamaica shocks is that the product is 50 per cent. lighter in color, or a change from a dark brown to a light yellow.

The Charming Woman

It is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires, neatness, clear eyes, clean smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvet skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at Woods & Orme Druggists, etc.

"THE IDIOT" ON M. O.

A Suppressed Chapter of "Coffee and Repartee" by J. K. Bangs.

Glorious Times Coming. When Each Passenger Will Be Paid For Riding on the Street Cars—Morris Chairs, Desks and Carnegie Libraries to Be Provided—The City to Pay the Bill.

"I see," said the idiot as he folded up the morning paper and sat on it so that his fellow boarders might not come into possession, "that the municipal marshmallow and peanut brittle plant at Hobokus has been sold to the candy trust, and the dream of comparatively free and absolutely pure marshmallows and peanut brittle under the control of the city fathers has turned out to be a mere bit of bankrupted triflescence."

"It's all iridescence—the whole municipal ownership scheme," said Mr. Brief, the lawyer. "It's a bubble about to burst."

"Oh, I don't think that," said the idiot. "Seems to me it's a pretty good scheme, only they ought to make it comprehensive. What I want to see is the day when the municipality owns everything that now fills the individual."

EACH PASSENGER WILL BE PROVIDED WITH A MORRIS CHAIR.

ual with care, from the toothache and appendicitis up to the trolleys, theaters and theology. Did you ever think, Dr. Squills, of what a fine thing it would be to operate on the body politic for a case of municipal appendicitis?"
"I have never let my mind dwell upon so fertile a field for thought—no," said the doctor. "It would be rather difficult, wouldn't it?"
"I suppose it would," returned the idiot. "I suppose it would be next to impossible to etherize the whole city government before you began to grapple around in its insides after the offending verminiform, but if it could be done wouldn't it be fine? Just think of getting rid of all the useless and in flamed members of the body politic as easily as man now sheds his personally conducted trouble with his innards."

"Do you really believe that government could run the trolleys as well as they are run by individuals?" asked Mr. Brief.
"If they couldn't they'd better go out of business," said the idiot. "I don't see why they can't run street railways as well as they run the street manure department. And think how nice it would be—how much envy, hatred and malice would disappear—if the people owned the trolley! For instance, when you and I see Mr. J. Willieboy Duckington hiking up the pike in his automobile—"

"His what?" demanded the lawyer.
"His automobile," said the idiot. "It's a machine run by gasoline that breeds trouble of its own power. When we see old Willieboy scooting along in his car and I turn pale pink with envy because we haven't anything of the kind to keep us awake nights and before the police courts of all the counties 'twixt Cattaraugus and Kennebec. We're too poor to pay even for that long and tolerably consistent scent that lies in the trail of it, and we gnash our teeth to think that we never can get our pictures in the Sunday papers because we shall never own one of those machines. But if we as citizens of this metropolis owned the trolleys it would be different. When the Green avenue and Gompers square car goes by we would look at its brilliantly lit electric interior and smile with satisfaction. 'That is my new Wilmington,' we'd say to our country cousins who were visiting us. Then we'd nod politely to the chauffeur, and he'd stop and take us aboard, and by and by the conductor would come through and hand us all a nickel."

"What in thunder are you talking about? What on earth would the conductor hand you a nickel for?" demanded the lawyer.
"For riding on the car, of course," said the idiot. "That's the scheme, isn't it?"
"Oh, is it?" laughed the lawyer. "Well, I guess that's the way some people look at it. What is your precise idea of municipal ownership, anyhow?"
"Why," said the idiot, "as I understand the propaganda of the M. O. people as expounded on the editorial pages of the sporting extras of the New York Evening Tribune and the Chicago Daily William Randolph, municipal ownership means the grabbing of everything in sight that has a cash register and a meter attached to it, sending the original owners to jail for life and managing what's left for the benefit of the people. In the case of the trolleys all the enormous profits derived from the nefarious practice now in operation of carrying a passenger ninety miles for a nickel are to be

PARIS HAS BALLOON FAD.

New "Sport" a Favorite in the French Capital.

"It is impossible, on a fine day, to look up into the sky above Paris without seeing two or three balloons, like red or green moons, aloft against the blue."

The speaker, a member of the Aero club, resumed:

"On a September Sunday, standing by the Arc de Triomphe, I counted nine balloons aloft above my head. They were beautiful in color—scarlet, blue, gold, green, white—and nobody watched them, for they were an ordinary spectacle, like a horse or a peddler."

"The balloons, keeping together, floated past the Eiffel Tower. Then a gust of wind seized them, and they rushed with incredible rapidity towards Montmartre. You could see them dropping sand. It looked like a rope made of cloud, a rope that quickly melted against the blue sky."

"Ladies run balloons in Paris. Children go up in them. But for the expense, I believe that every Parisian would take a Sunday balloon ride."

THE DEMAND OF LABOR.

Request That Seemed at First to Savor of Extortion.

It was formerly the custom of a paper mill in Massachusetts, to pay the workers semi-monthly, and the operatives having found the practice somewhat inconvenient from their standpoint, it was decided to send a delegate to the head of the firm to state their grievance. An Irishman, rather well known for his sagacity and persuasive powers, was selected for the task. He duly waited on the "boss," who said: "Well, Michael, what can I do for you?"
"If ye please, sor," said Mike, "I've been sint as a dilgiate by the workers to ask a favor of ye regardin' the paymint of our wages."

"What do they want?"
"Sor, it is the desire of meself an' of ivery other man in the establishment that we resayve our semi-monthly pay every week."—Lippincott's.

So Unreasonable.

Two pretty girls about 16 years each were confiding to each other their views upon life in general, and upon affairs of the heart in particular. The blonde had evidently been recently receiving some maternal advice, for she remarked, with a slight pout:

"I think people are just too unreasonable."

"Of course they are," the other readily agreed. "What are you talking about?"

"Why, kissing."

"Who is unreasonable about kissing?"

"Why—er—everybody. They only begin to think it's wrong for a girl to let herself be kissed when she begins to get old enough for it to be interesting."

Love and Life.

"Love is hurt with jar and fret." These words, written by the English poet years ago, sum up the truth that love, even more than friendship, can be marred and finally lost from carelessness or cruelty.

"For friendship is more equable and steady, it is a matter at once of more reserve and stability; when one loves, one gives all, and so suffers after shipwreck if things go wrong."

Love is hurt with jars and fret, and when two people come into possession of this most precious heritage they should resolve that let come what may, ill temper, harsh words and disagreements should not occur between them.

"Heat Veil" for Firemen.

One of the gravest perils which fire fighters are constantly facing is the fierce heat. After successful trials, a newly invented "heat veil" has been introduced into practice at Cologne, Germany, where 290 men have been supplied with the appliance. The veil is made after the principle of a safety lamp, with double windows. It is composed of fibers of cane, which possess the peculiar property of retaining water for a considerable length of time. The veil is made damp before being fastened to the fireman's ordinary brass helmet.

Revival of the Bridegroom's Price.

As if the millions of evils from which the Brahmin community is suffering are not sufficient, a new evil of a very formidable and demoralizing character, in the form of a varadakshana (bridegroom's price) has appeared among us. The rich and the poor who have the good fortune of having sons have been shamelessly extorting money and concessions from the parents of the brides, irrespective of the means and circumstances of the latter, taking unduly mean advantage of the Shastric injunction that girls should be married before they attain puberty.—Indian Review.

A New Idea.

In place of the tiny cards used to announce the little one's advent, "christening boxes" have now come into favor. They at least have the quality of novelty and are as dainty as one could wish. The boxes are about five inches square, and covered with white satin. Embroidered in the right hand corner is a bunch of forget-me-nots, and in the lower left-hand corner is the baby's monogram done in silver.

The box is filled with pink and white sugar-coated almonds, over which is a dainty lace napkin.

OWN TO BE MOVED FROM SITE ON SLEDS

Too Far Away From the Railroad
Concluded to Haul Town to it.

Bridge, S. D., Jan. 28.—The town of Kvaris, twelve miles south of Mobridge, which has a population of 1,000, will be put on runners and brought to the Missouri river to Mobridge, as soon as the ice in the river becomes thick and strong enough to support its weight.

Kvaris is going to be moved because it is too far away from the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railway, which runs through Mobridge. Several months business men of Kvaris have been buying lots in Mobridge, and are now ready to move their churches, stores, dwellings and buildings up here.

Large runners have been made out of trunks, and the town is to be moved on these. Several churches and grain elevators are among the things to be moved.

It is predicted that there will be a quarrel over the name to be given to the new town. Mobridge people want the old name retained, and Kvaris people desire that the name of the town be used.

Saloons In Paris.

Paris, according to the "Cri de Paris," they have counted the saloons in various wards. The ward in the center of the exchange has the most saloons, with one for every 100 inhabitants, while the 14th arrondissement has one for every 102. The military school has one for every 172 people.

Martyr.
The multimillionaire was in great agony when the found he would probably be compelled to die rich.
"Money," he exclaimed, piteously; "nothing but money! Is it not a punishment?"
"Yes," replied the beggar at the gate, "and I call it capital punishment. Suppose you give me your wealth and die a happy man?"
But the multimillionaire shook his head.
"No," he answered dolefully, "when a man is condemned to capital punishment he generally deserves it, so I shall take my medicine like a man."
And then he called out his $10,000,000 and drove the beggar off the premises.—Chicago Daily News.

WALKED 65 FEET IN BOILING WATER

Engineer and Fireman Caught in Pit and Water From Boiler Rushed on Them.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 24.—Lucius Roney and C. T. Miller, stationary engineer and fireman, while making repairs on a battery of boilers at the plant of the Mutual Heating company of this city were caught in pit sixty feet long which suddenly filled with scalding water from the boilers and they were fatally injured. The men waded waist deep the entire distance of the pit through the hot water, their only means of escape from death.

The police ambulance took the men to the hospital and when their clothing was removed it brought with it the cooked flesh from their bodies. It was thought the boilers had been drained and the removal of a gasket precipitated the flood.

A Thousand Dollars Worth of Good

A. A. Thorne, a well known coal operator of Buffalo, O., writes: "I have been afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble for years, passing gravel and stones with excruciating pain. I got no relief from medicine until I began taking Foley's Kidney Cure, then the result was surprising. A few doses started the brick dust like fine stones and now I have no pain across my kidneys and I feel like a new man. It has done me $1,000 worth of good."—Woods & Orme

HEBRON.

(Too late for last week)

The river is still creeping over the bottom land slow but sure.

John B. Martin has moved on Hurricane creek, and will work for Mr. Dial.

Jas. Darnell has moved over on Mr. Croft's place and will work for Jesse Alvis.

Harvey Herrin spent two or three days in Henderson last week.

Several of the farmers in our neighborhood are putting up their poles and fixing for telephones. Let every one do this and our neighborhood will be as one family.

Herrin Bros. sold 250 fat hogs last week to Jno. Gregory, of Cave-in-Rock, at $6.00 per hundred at their scales.

Herbert Phillips, of Colon, made a flying trip to Fords Ferry, Thursday.

Miss Ora Hale returned from Marion last Thursday.

Jas. Daughtrey and wife and Lewis Barnes left last Saturday for Missouri.

Dexter Daniel has bought part of the Jas. Daughtrey, farm and will move to it.

Mrs. Si Franklin has been on the sick list for several days, but is able to be up now.

Newt Weldon was on the sick list last week.

What little wheat there is in our section looks fine.

Mrs. John Nunn left last week for her home in Blackford.

Quarterly meeting at this place first Saturday and Sunday in February. Let every turn out and bring well filled baskets.

Wesley Hill, who has been at the bedside of J. M. Phillips for several weeks, returned to his home at Clay, Ky. Mr. Phillips is now able to be up and out.

Some Cat Superstitions.

Napoleon Bonaparte showed a morbid horror of cats. The night before the battle of Waterloo a black cat passed near him, and at the sight the great warrior was completely unnerved. He saw an omen of defeat. Henry III of France swooned whenever he saw a cat, and one of the Ferdinandis of Germany would tremble in his boots of a harmless tabby got in the line of his vision. Among the Romans the cat was a symbol of liberty. The Egyptians held the animal in veneration under the name of Aelurus, a deity with a human body and a cat's head. Whoever killed a cat, even by accident, was put to death. Diana assumed the form of a cat and effected the fury of the giants.

"I had tried everything my baby, until Dr Lyle recommended Cascasweet. I can truthfully say it is the best medicine I ever used for babies."—Nannie L Taylor, Bedford, Va. Cascasweet is sold by Woods & Orme should your baby suffer? When he is fretful and restless, don't experiment on him and use any old thing your neighbor recommends. Buy a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, greatest known worm medicine and cure for all children's diseases. It is mild in its action, builds up the system, makes thin puny babies fat. Mrs. J. C. Smith, Tampa, Fla. writes: "My baby was thin and sickly, could not retain its food and cried all night. I used one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and in a few days baby was laughing happy and well."—Woods & Orme

Why

Stella—Yes.
Mabel—Well, he's all right in his way.
Stella—Y-yes; but I'm afraid he'll be always right in my way after our marriage.

Exceptional Etiquette.
When out walking with a lady, care should be taken not to step on her shadow.
If afflicted with hay fever, refrain from sneezing while taking with a grass widow. Some grass widows are very sensitive.
The proper way of heading a letter is "Dear Sir." Never write "Dr. Sir" unless the man owes you money.
In eating pie care should be exercised not to click the knife on the teeth. This sound is very annoying to sensitive persons.—Boston Transcript.

Substitute for Ice.

A Syrian correspondent describes the method in Asia Minor of providing a substitute for ice; snow is gathered in the adjacent mountains and packed in a conical pit, tamped in tightly and covered with straw and leaves. At the bottom of the pit a well is dug, with a drain connected at the bottom to carry off the water formed from melted snow. As the cost of collecting and storing is very small, the only labor is in delivering to the consumers, which is accomplished by pack horses.

CHAPEL HILL.

Sunday was Bro. Thompson's day at Chapel Hill and a nice crowd assembled to hear him preach from the first letters in the old Bible, Genesis. In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

J. N. Hill has moved to Crayneville this week.

Dave Yandell moved home from T. M. Hill's the first of the week.

J. T. Bigham, of Crayneville, is down with inflammatory rheumatism.

The tobacco has begun to move in this precinct and the men and boys are feeling good over it. Some are reporting that their crops are weighing out more than expected and some are receiving docks on a small scale and some on a large scale and some are expecting a dock and some are looking forward not to be docked, but you see that don't prevent them feeling good when they begin to ram that bunch of bills down in their old jeans pocket.

Doc R. L. Moore begins to receive tobacco Jan. 31st 1907.

Mrs. J. C. Long is visiting her daughter Mrs. Persons of Marion last week.

Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Jacobs have sold their Williamson farm to Mr. Jennings, of Marion. Price paid, $350.

Eura Bigham went to Fredonia last Monday.

FAIR VIEW.

School closed here Friday with exercises and a big dinner.

Lenord Riley, of Livingston county, visited relatives in this vicinity last week.

Miss Almo Conyer, of Marion, is visiting here.

J. D. Hall will make regular trips to Marion in the near future.

Luther Howard is at work at the Pope mines for a little recreation.

Will Fulton says if he only had a Billie.

Odo Conyer is quite sick with the fever.

Roy Cisco still makes his regular trips to the home of J. H. Conyers.

Murray Hodges will leave for Texas in a few days.

SHADY GROVE.

Benjamin Crowell, of Bellville Bend, passed here Monday en route to Marion.

Judge Towery, of Piney, passed here Monday en route to Marion on business.

R. M. Riley and Ellis Akers, of Providence, passed here Tuesday en route to Marion.

S. D. Asher, of Bellville Bend, passed here Wednesday going to Repton.

Asher Towery went to Marion Wednesday with tobacco.

William Birchfield went to Marion Friday.

Marion Ford, of Piney, was here Friday.

Curby McChesney went to Marion Saturday on business.

Harvey VanHooser, of Piney Fork, was in these parts Saturday and Sunday.

R. D. McDowell returned home from Evansville Saturday where he has been at work for some time with the L. & N. railroad company.

NEW SALEM.

Winter at last.

Travel about suspended.

No work being done.

Robert Cash is quite sick and under the care of a doctor.

John Carpenton came up from the Berry Ferry mines Saturday.

The sick in this section are improving.

Crittenden county is coming to the front these winter days. We want say in what way.

We hear but very little said by the farmers about a tobacco crop for 1907.

The public road leading to Tyner's Chapel is blocked by the formation of a pond near W. C. Tyner, and travel is entirely cut off until the court makes some arrangement to drain said pond.

The winter wheat crop looks promising.

If it was not for the telephone these winter days, we don't know what would become of hay-seeds.

STARR

Muddy, muddier, muddiest! But several yards of our road has a rock top so just haul on.

Miss Carrie Woodall, of near Crayneville, visited Miss Pearl McNeely last Tuesday.

Kirbie Paris gave us a call Sunday.

Grtan Woodside, visited Sidney McNeely recently.

W. A. Woodall passed through en route to Shady Grove last Monday.

There is being more tobacco hauled through here this winter than has been for some years.

Miss Nora Crayne went to see Mrs. Delila Baker Monday.

Cam Crayne went to Princeton one day last week.

W. H. Guess was here one day last week.

The ladies work as piecing quilts and making carpets. There is preparation for six new carpets almost in sight of my house. We wonder if those girls is going to get married.

Mrs. A. Woodall is some better.

Mrs. May Boone is on the sick list this week.

G. W. Crayne and Sidney McNeely is the boss tobacco haulers in this part.

D. S. F. Crider is buying chickens.

Mrs. Boucher has been dressing her house with a new suit of furniture.

Melton Woodall, of Iron Hill, went to Crayneville last Wednesday.

Farmers are preparing tobacco beds for another year.

Married—Ed Riley and Miss Eunice Newbelle. We wish them a long and happy life.

Herman Brown is suffering from the effects of a weed being stuck in his eye.

We wish the law would allow us one untaxable day to keep the varments away from chickens. We have sold $22 worth of poultry produce in two months and a half and we want to keep our chickens and geese.

The meeting will lay low and guess till the weather moderates. Can anyone tell us what was the first text preached in Kentucky and who preached it.

LEVIAS

We are now in the grip of winter. Owen and Virgil Threlkeld of Marion High School visited home Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. R. A. LaRue with Bob and Ruth, spent last week in Salem with her mother Mrs. W. E. Barnes, who was quite sick.

Jesse Williams is in the trapping business he has caught several valuable felines besides his finger.

Mrs. Jane Carter has been suffering with a severe attack of LaGrippe. She is improving now and we hope she will soon be up again.

The outlook is promising for a Select Spring School here. Why send our children and money away from home when we can educate them just as well at home.

Tom Carter of Marion High School visited home Saturday and Sunday. He is delighted with school work.

Henry Woolridge the stock man of Salem was here Monday, looking for fat stock.

Miss Lelia Carter returned home last week after several days visit at Pinckneyville the guest of Mrs. Guess.

Misses Eva Threlkeld and Gracie Belt visited the M'sses Caster Monday.

Jasper Franklin delivered tobacco at Marion for Henry Watson.

Miss Glenella Carter is visiting her sister near Pinckneyville.

No hunting allowed on my farm, all trespassers will be prosecuted. JOHN L. WOODS, Shady Grove, Ky.

IRON HILL.

The back water in this community from the Ohio has reached a higher stage than any time since the memorable rise of '84.

A new baby girl arrived at J. B. Allen last week.

William Murray aged about 35 yr. son of T. A. Murray, died at his home between Marion and Repton, of consumption, Jan. 24, and was buried at Sugar Grove cemetery the 25th. He leaves a wife and one child a little boy. The deceased was until a few years ago a member of this community and was honest, industrious and a christian being a member of the C. PANAMA CANAL CONTRACTOR TURNED DOWN

Brother-in-law of Gaynor Who Was Implicated in Frauds With Carter Rejected by Cabinet

WILLIAM J. OLIVER MAY GET CONTRACT

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—As a result of an extended conference at the white house tonight it was decided to reject the bid of Oliver and Bangs, who proposed to complete the construction of the Panama canal for 6.75 per cent of the total estimated cost insofar as Anson M. Bangs of New York city is concerned. While no official statement was given out it can be authoritatively stated that if William Oliver of Knoxville, Tenn., can enter into a satisfactory arrangement with some other contractor, who is financially responsible, he will be given the big contract.

The fact that the McArthur-Gillpie company of New York, whose bid was 12.5 per cent, was represented at the conference leads many to believe that a combination may be formed between that firm and Oliver. It is known the McArthur-Gillpie syndicate has convinced Roosevelt and Secretary Taft of its responsibility and the canal commission officials are satisfied that Oliver is able to carry out his end of the agreement. There would have been no question as to awarding the contract to Oliver and Bangs had the credentials presented by Bangs proved as satisfactory as those furnished by Oliver. The decision means that Oliver will be given a chance to take some other contractor into partnership. The canal commission with this requirement met will not undertake to dictate who this contractor shall be.

The rejecting of all bids was discussed at the cabinet meeting today and this decision has been practically agreed upon before the conference tonight. If Oliver refuses to consider the contract after the rejection of Mr. Bangs, the canal commission will immediately issue a call for new bids.

Anson M. Bangs of New York, Oliver's associate, was the contractor for the Soo canal lock. He is president of the Federal Construction company of New York, which is capitalized at $2,000,000. The board of directors of that company consist of Anson M. Bangs, John F. Donovan and James Hughes.

Bangs is a brother-in-law of John F. Gaynor, of the firm of Greene & Gaynor who were implicated with Captain Oberlin M. Carter in the Savannah harbor frauds. This fact, however, it is stated, had no influence with the canal commission.

something tempting of a culinary nature. They all demurred and only agreed to do as requested when they heard it whispered that the dining room, where the refreshments were to be served, would not be opened until every mother's son there had written a receipt and here is some of them. The others were afraid of dire results and destroyed their receipts.

Salad Dressing. 3 qts. of sugar, 1 pt. of vinegar, 1 lb. table salt, 4 of a soft boiled egg mixed with a little more punch and shake well before taking. Frank Dodge.

Mince Meat. Is mixed meats, fruits and spices chopped together with a little dough. Gus Taylor.

Welsh Rarebit. Go to Dr Trisler's rabbit hatchery and secure one good sized rabbit. Dress it, let it freeze in cold storage for 60 days; stew with lemon sauce with a pinch of pepper and serve after chopping fine a la mode. H. K. Woods.

Pickled Tongue. Take a tongue, beef, deer, ox or buffalo, (woman's tongue won't do,) boil to a soft state cut in slices, put in vinegar and spices until thoroughly seasoned and serve with catsup, etc. Rev. Ben Andres.

Pound Cake. 2 cups of flour, 1 cup sugar, 3 eggs well beaten, baking powder, 1 cup butter, pinch of salt; bake in buttered pan in oven not too hot. G. C. Gray.

White Cake. I would first separate my eggs and then add flour, soda, sweet milk, sugar and butter, beat my white of eggs in thoroughly and cook. I will refer you to the red cook book for proportions. J. H. Orme.

Angel Food. 1 lb. flour, 1 cup sugar, teaspoonful of salt; beat together and bake. W. A. Blackburn.

Apple Sauce. Plenty of apples, plenty of sauce and a spoon to stir it around. Jeff Clement.

Ice Cream. The only thing I ever used in making ice cream was elbow grease. S. M. Jenkins.

Devils Food. Equal parts of flour coffee grounds, or dark sorghum molasses, salt of course to suit the taste and well sweetened; bake until well done. J. G. Rochester.

Deviled Eggs. Boiled eggs, mustard, celery seed, salt, pepper, nig. g. s. woman to mix. Dr. Trisler.

Straw-berry Short Cake. First get the strawberries; second, flour, salt, lard and mix into a paste then put in stove and bake until a light brown, then cut in two pieces, put butter and mashed berries between the two pieces; eat while hot. J. W. Wilson.

After the merriment occasioned by the reading of the receipts, the guests were ushered into the dining room, which had been beautifully decorated for the occasion, and refreshments were served, consisting of coffee, ice cream, fruit cake, angel food and almonds. Punch was served through the evening by Mrs. Jenkins.

The affair was one of the most enjoyable given in Marion this season and now the gentlemen want to organize a club and have a reception every time the ladies have one.

P. S. We came very near forgetting to tell that the bloomers the ladies wore were beautiful flowers all colors of the rainbow and each bunch selected with a view of suiting the special style of beauty of the lady it was intended for.

Death

Annie Lee Gill, little daughter of Oscar E. Gill and wife formerly Miss Cora Clark, of this city, buried here. The funeral of the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gill of Milburn, I. T., took place last Sunday afternoon at the new cemetery and was attended by many friends of the family. Rev. Virgil Elgin officiated.

The little baby girl died at Milburn Tuesday Jan. 22 and its parents arrived here with the remains Friday but on account of the terrific snow storm which prevailed Friday and Saturday the interment was postponed until Sunday afternoon.
