EIGHTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Of the Hurricane Campmeeting Celebrated at Hurricane Church Aug. 30, 1907.

At the hour of ten o'clock Friday morning, Aug. 30, 1907, the magnificent, spacious tabernacle at Hurricane camp-ground was almost filled to overflowing with men, women and children who had gathered there in the name of God for the purpose of celebrating the eighteenth anniversary of Hurricane campmeeting.

Services began by the singing of God's praises in which it seemed that the sweet voiced angels of God were participants, thereby causing the veil that obstructs our view of God and the glories of heaven to be removed. It was then that the sunlight of God seemed to burst forth from the portals of heaven and wonderfully filled the hearts of all present with the electric, preserving grace of God.

After an invocation of God's blessings by Rev. Robt. Johnson, any and all present were then given an opportunity to tell of the benefits, if any, they had derived by reason of the inauguration of Hurricane campmeeting.

At this point it seemed to me that the progress of this service was crowded with a smile of approval from the sweet face of Jesus, as his spirit came flashing down the beautiful pathway from Paradise, and set the voices of more than one hundred and thirty-five glad, happy men and women to enumerating the many, many blessings which had been bestowed upon them because of there being in existence a Hurricane campmeeting.

A vote was then taken for the purpose of determining whether or not it would be advisable to continue the campmeeting longer than this year; not a dissenting voice it was unanimously declared that the Hurricane campmeeting would be carried on year after year while the ceaseless ages roll.

The devil now being entirely driven from our ranks, it seemed that God's electric wires of love had found direct connection with each and every heart in the tabernacle.

The time had now come when a sermon was in order, so prompted and being directed by the Holy Ghost which so wonderfully predominated his heart, Rev. Robt. Johnson graced the pulpit and took for his text, Daniel 15th chapter and 10th verse, "Many shall be purified and made white and tried, but the wicked shall do wickedly and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand."

As the speaker stood before his congregation the impersonation of a true, loyal, faithful Christian soldier; all seemed magnetized with his eloquence, and with words of kindness, encouragement, help and gratitude to God and benediction for man, he led his congregation up to the great gushing fountain of God, and all seemed to drink freely of the purifying waters which cleanse from all impurities, thus making us white and tried and thoroughly prepared to enter into the land of everlasting felicity.

Hundreds have gone up from old Hurricane camp-ground to join the innumerable host; to forever shout God's praises throughout a never ending eternity.

"There are many religious, but thank God this morning we feel burning in our souls a wonderful and glorious religion which came direct from the great loving heart of God our Father in Heaven.

"Brother, when God regenerated your soul you felt as though all obstacles were forever removed from your heart, but suddenly when the sun burst forth the sprouts of many kinds of evil will spring forth; and it is then that you will humble yourself to God who will cover all the sprouts with the snow of the Holy Ghost, and his mighty power will come into you and cleanse your very being of all roots or sprouts of evil that so thickly fill us.

"It is then that all sediment is removed and we are made white and tried and become useful in the service of the Lord. We must be tried and cleansed thoroughly in order that we may know we are able to stand the storms of life. We must be divorced from the world and cut off everything that is a hindrance to our faithful race to glory."

The inspired speaker continued at length to feed his congregation upon manna which fell direct from the hollow of the creative hand of God, then brought his sermon to a close with a beautiful description of heaven where today are gathered a host of our dear loved ones who were prepared to share the full blessings and joys of heaven through the influence of Hurricane campmeeting.

The following I submit as bits of history of the campmeeting:

Hurricane campmeeting was established in the year 1890, and at that time was in what was known as the Marion Circuit which embraced Marion, Hills Chapel, Siloam and Hurricane.

Preachers salary at that time was $325 and at present it is $600.

Since the inauguration of this campmeeting we are glad to note the fact that two grand and noble churches of God have been organized in this circuit, viz. Tolu and Hebron.

Since the organization of this great and good work of God at old Hurricane, the original Marion Circuit has been divided thereby placing Hills Chapel on the Shady Grove circuit and making Marion a station.

The sermons preached during this campmeeting are in number about 800.

The souls converted and sanctified I feel safe to estimate the number to exceed 2000.

The following I am glad to give you as a list of those who have been called to the ministry of God through the influence of Hurricane campmeeting, viz., L. J. Millikan who today is crowned with the honors of Presiding Elder, E. S. Moore, Hodge Murphy, Ben Yates, W. T. Nation, Will Humphrey, Elisha Thomas, Uriah Terry, Joseph Stone, Lemon Threlkeld, John Love, E. J. Martin, John Haynes and Miss Alice Griffith to Foreign Missions.

The following I am now glad to submit as a noted army of men who have been licensed to exhort and sing, viz., R. M. Franks, J. A. Wheeler, W. B. Yates, R. H. Yates, T. S. Threlkeld, Robert Lear, Ulie Threlkeld, Chas. Lear, George Yates and Wm. Brazle.

During the period of time since the organization of this campmeeting we are glad to note that three tracts of land have been bought, paid for and deeded to the Methodist church South. And quite a lot of repair work has been done on Hurricane church in the way of roofing and painting.

I am glad to say that the Hurricane campmeeting is being recognized by not only those who are professed followers of Christ, but also by many who are not professors of religion as the fountain-head of many blessings to our town and country.

Therefore, let us ever be ready and willing to lend a helping hand to this excellent work which is instrumental in lifting fallen humanity from the dark paths of sin and placing their feet upon the high plains of Christian civilization and there behold the sun-lit countenance of Christ Jesus, the Savior of mankind.

Let us all who profess to be followers of Christ ever be found at our

BUILDING BIG TIPPLE

Work on The Structure Now Going on With Large Force of Men.

Sturgis, Ky., Sept. 2.—At a picturesque point just below the noted old town of Caseyville, Ky., not far distant from the world renowned Devil Rock mentioned in the geographies and in close proximity to the supposed vast hidden treasures of Duff, the noted robber of several generations ago, and three miles above the mouth of Tradewater river, the Great West Kentucky Coal company is erecting on the banks of the Ohio river a coal tippie to be one of the greatest steel structures between Pittsburgh and New Orleans.

This great mass of steel and concrete will cost a little less than $200,000 when completed. The foundation work is in the hands of Mason-Hanger Coleman company of Richmond, Ky., while steel work is under contract to E. Hicks & Co., of North Vernon, Ind. On this immense contract these two well known firms have consolidated and are now trading under the firm name of the Hanger-Hick company. This giant construction company have a flotilla consisting of five tow boats, the Ingleside, recently bought of Captain Hornbrook of Evansville, one dredge boat, two large orange peel dredges, two large barges, one tug boat and one store boat. The equipment on the bank consists of several engines for driving piling, pumping and mixing concrete and last a big saw mill just below the mouth of Tradewater. From fifty to one hundred teams are now and have been for some time at work on the grading, which will be raised to a height of fifty-seven feet above low water mark or one foot above the unprecedented rise of 1884.

While this is being done the foundation work is being pushed to the limit. The first abutment is being made by driving the best cypress piling in a crescent shaped excavation sixty-five feet long, ten feet wide and five feet deep, with fifty piling driven to a depth of twenty-five feet and the five foot filled with concrete. In addition to this there will be four mammoth piers to be built in the same manner. The first two piers contain thirty piling and the last two ninety each, surrounded with concrete.

At a distance of 600 feet above the tippie, five immense breakwaters will be built, each to be fifty feet high by twenty-five feet wide, requiring 5,000 cubic yards of stone and 300,000 feet of lumber. The object of the breakwaters is to protect the tippie, towboats and a fleet of over 200 coal barges from ice and drift and give a harbor in dead winter. The sand and gravel will be taken from the bed of the river by two large centrifugal pumps of a capacity of 150 cubic yards per day each. This gravel will be barged to the tippie landing, where it is sent up in cars to the concrete mixer, where it is mixed as fast as it can be used. Especially courteous to The Courier representative was W. R. Paul, the bookkeeper for the construction company, and C. R. Conner, the chief engineer for the Great North American company, of which the West Kentucky Coal company is but a branch.

All of the railroad bed after striking the river front has been under the direction of Mr. Cunningham, post of duty battling down all satanic influences that are in the least inclined to be a hindrance to the promotion of this grand and noble work of God, human improvement.

sown in bluegrass, which is now growing beautifully. But in every case where exposed to violence, rapping has been resorted to. The company railroad from its collieries here to the new tippie is about seven miles in length and after striking near the river, runs up the river under the overhanging rock to the new tippie. The approach to the tippie is 5,800 feet long and wide enough for a number of tracks precluding any possibility of a block. Besides this an extra siding has been provided some half mile in length just outside the tippie yard limits which is ample provision for any emergency. At the old tippie a temporary tippie has been completed for the handling of the coal from the mines at Wheatcroft to be brought in regular forty ton railroad cars. Since arrangements have been perfected with the Illinois Central railroad for the use of their road from Wheatcroft via Blackford to Sturgis, thence over the company tracks to the river there will be excuse for broken runs. This great company has need of every ton they can possibly mine and very soon the West Kentucky coal trains on the Illinois Central and its own road together with the smoke from her towboats on their way to the company yards at Paducah, Memphis and New Orleans, will begin to show the people of Sturgis and Union county what this company really means for Sturgis.

A new engine and boiler house has been built and the machinery installed at colliery B and very soon, coal will be running over screens in the new tippie there. The company has bought and are now using their big new light engine for hauls over the I. C. besides having just received one for the mines here. Very soon colliery C will be reopened and in less than twelve months all their works will give employment to 2,000 men. While the company is at present at a big expense, every dollar put out leaves something done with an eye to permanency to show for it.

Great Colt Show.

On Monday the much talked of and long looked for colt show of "Jim Stewart's" colts was held in the stable lot in the rear of R. W. Wilson's residence, permission having been Mr. J. S. Newcom to hold it there as the lot was roomy and dry. The list of entries were as follows: W. H. Arfack, two; Sumner Newcom, one; Butler Cain, one; Joe Hughes, one; Barney Thurmond, one; Thos. Oneal, one; Alvin Newcom, one; John Walker, one; Lena Carrick, one; Stewart Hughes, one; J. H. Hughes, Sr., one; Laws Morgan, one, and probably come others whose names we did not get.

W. H. Arfack won the blue ribbon and sold his colt on the ground for $100 in cash to Sumner Newcom. The show was a novel and interesting sight and each one of the entries really deserved a prize for each of them looked like prize winners, and Mr. Newcom received many compliments on the class of stock he is entailing the farmers of his vicinity to get and it is earnestly hoped that he will hold his "colt show" annually.

TO TOBACCO GROWERS.

Judge Towery, of the County Executive Board Has Something to Say.

Perhaps it will be a surprise to the tobacco growers of Crittenden county to see in print an article written by me in regard to the present growing crop of tobacco in this county, which is now included in the Stemming District Tobacco Association. Having the honor of being chosen as a member of the executive board from my county to that body, which met at Henderson last Saturday, I desire to say to the friends who will have tobacco to market this year that we have made a deal with a distinguished gentleman, who lives in the city of Henderson, who has the reputation of being the greatest tobacco man known to us, to put up all of the tobacco which is pooled and will be pooled in the aforesaid district this year, at a cheaper rate than has ever been done since the organization began. I am authorized to say that he will operate factories anywhere in said district where they can be secured at reasonable rates and enough tobacco to justify the operation of same. This promise being made in my presence, I certainly pressed the claim for Crittenden county to be in the rush and the distinguished gentleman referred to above assured me that we would have an opportunity to have our tobacco handled at Marion, which certainly is the proper place for the most of the tobacco grown in Crittenden county to be prepared for market.

The next thing I desire to say to the public is that after this proposal was made to me for my county, it gave me pleasure to assure him that the citizens of my own beloved county seat would welcome his arrival at any time.

It is not my aim in this article to tell whether it is best to pool or not. I can only point you to the record in our Stemming District Tobacco Association, which shows that we have twelve million pounds pooled in 1907 which indicates to me that if the tobacco growers who follow this method of marketing their tobacco which they produced in the best tobacco district known to man, it needs no further argument. With kind words for all and ill will toward none, I remain yours, as ever,

AARON TOWERY.

Close Game.

The game between Princeton and Marion yesterday was witnessed by a large and appreciative audience of Princeton and Marion people.

The game was called at 3 o'clock and an old time "Rebel Yell" went up from the large audience, but the announcement that Wacker, the Central League pitcher for Marion, had failed to show up, was a disappointment to the entire audience, as a pitcher's battle was expected between him and the "Invincible" Guy.

Of course, with Marion, shy of their pride pitcher the players went into the game considerably handicapped, and the Princeton players did not put the vim into the game that they fully intended doing. However, it was an interesting game and highly appreciated by the entire audience of men, women and children.

Some excellent plays were made on both sides, and many good hits were registered. The field work of both teams was excellent and the fielders were frequently applauded.

There were many clever people, both men and women, from Marion to witness the game, and the very best of feelings prevailed throughout the entire game. We are always delighted to have the good people of Marion present on any and all occasions pulled off in Princeton.—Princeton Leader, Sept. 6.

Roads Crowded With Haulers.

Over one hundred loaded wagons come into Marion each day from all directions. The amount of mineral, lead, zinc, fluor spar, and of timber of all classes is something wonderful. As evidence of the thrifty condition of the teaming business, Cochran & Co. have sold over 200 vehicles this season and are still selling them.

A gentleman who went out one road the other day claimed he met seventy-one different wagons and teams, some six-horse, some four-horse and some two-horse, but all bound for Marion.

Who Will Pay for the Glass?

Who will pay for the glass broken out of the windows in the room recently vacated by M. E. Fohs, in the Press building, is the question that is being generally discussed on the streets. The name of the person who broke them is withheld awaiting settlement, which will no doubt be forthcoming, as any honorable person will gladly reimburse another for any damage to his property if not intentionally done.

Reduced Rates.

On account of Hagenback & Great Wallace shows at Princeton, Ky., we will sell round trip tickets to Princeton at rates of five per mile using the one way mileage. Number of miles, twenty-five. Dates of sale 17th, good only on that date.

Mass Convention.

A mass convention of the Republicans of Crittenden county is hereby called to meet at the court house in Marion, on Saturday, Sept. 14, 1907, at 1 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting delegates to attend the convention called to meet in Marion Saturday, Sept. 21, at 1 o'clock, p. m. for the nomination of a Republican candidate for Representative in the General Assembly of Kentucky from the counties of Crittenden and Livingston.

CITY HORSES SOLD

To Teaming Company of which Former Mayor Barth Was Stockholder.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 5.—Mayor R. W. Bingham announced today that he had made formal application to the officers of the Ohio Valley Teaming company for the restoration to the city of a number of horses now in the possession of this company. These horses belong to the city and no record can be found that the city was ever paid for them.

The records show that the Ohio Valley Teaming company is capitalized at $12,000 and the stock is held by: John M. Settle, $3,000; Albert C. Straub, $3,000; A. E. Livingston, $3,000; Estate of Paul C. Barth, $3,000.

Three weeks ago Experts Charles Meriwether and C. W. Banta, who are going over the books of the city, reported to Mayor Bingham that twelve horses and a wagon purchased by the city were missing, that several of the horses had been found in the service of the Ohio Valley Teaming company and the records of the city treasurer's office showed no payment to the city, for this property, except one payment of $50 from an unknown source.

Mayor Bingham instructed the experts to again examine the books, which they did, and made the same report. Mr. Bingham then sent for Mr. Arthur E. Livingston. The latter made a full and frank statement, to the effect that the property was in the possession of his company, but had been purchased from the city through Mr. Paul C. Barth.

Mr. Livingston stated that he paid Mr. Barth $100 in cash, and that he drew checks payable to Mr. Barth for the remainder. Mr. Livingston produced checks, showing that they had been cashed by Paul C. Barth which he identified as the checks which he had paid for the horses. Mr. Livingston stated on oath that he had always believed that the money had been turned into the city treasury by Mr. Barth, and that the transaction was a legitimate one.

The average price paid for these city horses to Mr. Barth was $50; the average price paid by the city for them was $250.

The sum involved to the city was therefore about $3,000.

Mr. Bingham decided to lay these facts before several of the most intimate friends of Mr. Barth, with a request that they aid him in clearing up the transaction. Accordingly Mr. John M. Settle and Mr. Rudy Vogt, both of whom were close friends of Mr. Barth, were sent for.

Mayor Bingham informed the friends of Mr. Barth, that while as mayor, he felt compelled to protect the interests of the city, he would do all in his power to aid the friends of Mr. Barth in explaining the transaction.

Mr. Settle and Mr. Vogt asked for time to consult with Mr. Fred R. Bishop and make other investigations. This was a week ago. The request for time was readily granted.

Several days later Mayor Bingham called upon a representative of the Fidelity Trust company, which has charge of the estate of Paul C. Barth. Mayor Bingham laid the same facts before Mr. Barr and asked him to make an examination of the private papers of Mr. Barth in an effort to find some document bearing upon and perhaps explanatory of this painful matter.

This morning the representative of the Fidelity Trust company, Mr. John M. Settle and Mr. Rudy Vogt called upon Mayor Bingham, and formally notified him that they could not find any proof to show that Mr. Barth ever restored the money to the city treasury. The offer of $1,000 was made to the city by the Ohio Valley Teaming company as payment for the horses, and it was accepted.

The payment of the $1,000 to the city was made by the Ohio Valley Teaming company, but it is under-

Illinois Central Train Rocked.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 6.—An Illinois Central passenger train was rocked between Princeton and Henderson last night and several passengers had narrow escapes. Large, sharp-pointed rocks three or four inches thick were thrown into the windows.

One of the narrowest escapes by any of the passengers was that of Mrs. Chas. Parissi, wife of a wholesale fruit dealer of this city. A large rock smashed the window at which Mrs. Parissi and her niece were sitting, and fragments of glass were scattered all over them. The women attribute their escape from injury to the fact that their faces were covered with heavy veils.

Elephant Lifts Locomotive.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 6.—Bacil the mother of Jumbo, an elephant over 200 years of age, saved the life of a man at Wheeling, W. Va., today. A freight train was wrecked near Morgantown, the engineer being caught underneath the locomotive. The wreck caught fire, and it appeared as if the man was doomed. The sections following the wrecked train, having aboard a circus came up and Bacil lifted the wrecked locomotive with her trunk from the body of the engineer. Eight other elephants filled their trunks with river water and extinguished the burning cars.

Bacil has never lost an intense hatred of locomotives, which was engendered by the tragic death of her offspring, Jumbo, who was killed in Indiana several years ago by an engine while crossing the tracks.

DEAN OF SOUTHERN METHODISM DEAD

Rev. Dr. John M. Mathews Succumbs to An Attack of Paralysis at His Home.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 3.—The Rev. Dr. John Mathews, eighty-two years old, dean of Southern Methodism, for sixty years a minister of the Methodist Episcopal church South, and one of the most noted clergymen of his day, died Sunday of paralysis at the family residence, No. 3441 Pine street. Dr. Mathews was constantly attended by his wife, with whom he celebrated his golden wedding several weeks ago.

Dr. Mathews, weak from protracted illness, fainted Saturday morning while telling a policeman he had summoned about the visit of a burglar to the room of Miss Tracy, a maid in his home, but apparently recovered during the day. At 6 o'clock Saturday evening he began to hover between life and death, and at midnight the attending physician announced that he could not live another twenty-four hours. Between 6 Saturday night and 2:30 Sunday afternoon he ceased to breathe six times, the quick work of the trained nurse at the bedside reviving him each time.

The funeral will be held by members of the different protestant churches in St. Louis Wednesday morning, and the pall bearers will be selected from among the younger Methodist clergymen.

Dr. Mathews was a national figure in Methodism, and was known as the dean of his church. He was 82 years of age.

An Ounce of Prevention is worth a pound of cure. There are many poor sufferers, Consumptives who are hopeless of getting well—who, if they had taken care of themselves, would now be well. A cough is the foundation of Consumption. Ballard's Horehound Syrup will cure that cough. Held Prisoner in Hospital.
St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 6.—Ben Von Phul, accompanied by his wife, left St. Louis last night for New York to try to have Miss Sallie Taylor, great granddaughter of President Zachary Taylor, discharged from the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital. She is alleged to have been put there for the purpose of keeping her out of the way of her employer, Mrs. Laura Blossom, of St. Louis, whose wealth is estimated at more than a million dollars.

It is alleged by the Von Phuls that a rich New Yorker, who by marriage is distantly related to Mrs. Blossom, has for a long time been envious of the intimate position that Miss Taylor had been occupying at the home of Mrs. Blossom, and is afraid she would inherit the fortune. Mrs. Blossom's only son died three weeks ago. Miss Taylor, who is a trained nurse, is a sister of Mrs. Von Phul. It appears that Mrs. Von Phul has received a letter signed by Miss Taylor from Carmen, N. Y., where it had been picked up alongside a railroad track. The letter from Miss Taylor said she was being held a prisoner, and asked for help.

Men Past Sixty In Danger.
More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate gland. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rock Port, Mo., writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." Bank at Tiline.
Sunday the Royal will make a trip from Golconda to Paducah, load on the material for the bank building at Tiline, take it to the river landing nearest that point, unload and go back to Golconda ready to come out on time Monday morning. The building will be pushed rapidly to completion and business will be opened up as soon as ready, it being understood that the institution will be a branch bank of the First State Bank of this place. Mr. Chas. Smith was in town Monday looking after matters connected with the bank to be opened up there.—Smithland Banner.

John M. Culwell, a prominent deep-well man, while putting down a well for the graded school building at Sturgis, came upon a large and well preserved log at a depth of eighty-five feet, parts of which are on exhibition at the News-Democrat office.

This bears out the theory that centuries ago this was the bed of the Ohio river. From Raleigh on the river through by Spring Grove,

NIAGARA FALLS TO BE ILLUMINATED

Fifty Searchlights And Color Scintillators to Produce Wonderful Effects.

The night illumination of the mighty torrent at Niagara Falls is now assured and the plan for lighting the mist and water is unquestionably the greatest feat ever conceived in electrical illumination. The great falls, bathed in dazzling light surpass in grandeur and spectacular affect anything of its kind ever seen before.

W. D. A. Ryan, illuminating engineer, has the work in charge and the falls were illuminated for the first time the night of Aug. 15, 1907. The lighting scheme for this enormous undertaking is on a scale never attempted before and a new invention, the color scintillator, is utilized for producing color effects which make the falling water far more beautiful and impressive by night than by day.

A battery of nearly fifty large search lights, several of them the largest of their kind and capable of throwing a beam of white light 125 miles, are located below the falls. A portion of the projectors are set down near the water's edge opposite Goat Island so as to play a rising illumination on both the American and Canada Falls. Another battery is placed on the high ground on the Canada side to throw a plunging light on the falling water and flying mist. The projectors are powerful enough to cover every inch of the torrent with a brilliant white light. All alone the big searchlights are an exhibition worth traveling far to see, but when used in connection with the new scintillators the wonderful effect which can be produced beggars description.

The color scintillator consist of a network of steam pipes which will be used to augment the cloud effects of the flying mist. In front of the big light projectors are mounted wheels containing large gelatin disks which are revolved slowly. With the changing of the color disks the beams of light are variegated with kaleidoscopic effect producing a color scheme on the mist and water only excelled by the Great Northern lights. This apparatus was but recently perfected by the engineers of the General Electric company and has never been used before here or abroad, although it was given a thorough test a few months ago. The color attachments tint the waters carmine, crimson, orange, yellow, green, blue and violet of the purest shades and the rising clouds of mist blend the colors into hues and tints like a glorious sunset. It is even possible to produce an artificial aurora borealis and the colored beams reaching far into the sky will be visible in Toronto and Rochester in such volume as to cause comment. The program for illumination will be changed every night and in the winter time the color effects on the ice, snow and frost coated trees of the surrounding country will be spectacular, indeed. The entire proposition is to illuminate Niagara in a distinct and dignified manner on a scale in keeping with the surroundings. The possibilities of the apparatus installed are limited only by the imagination of the manipulators. It is possible to produce colored figures, snakes, dragons, flags and a thousand and one different novelties. The apparatus possesses the spectacular effect of fireworks on a grand scale without the fire hazard and danger.

I. C. Orders 3,000 Cars.

To meet any shortage in freight cars, that is in prospect for the fall season, the Illinois Central railroad yesterday ordered 3,000 freight cars. Now that the season is drawing near when there will be a big traffic movement in all directions, the railroads are beginning to place orders for box cars and engines. Several weeks ago the Southern railway placed an order for fifty engines and several hundred box cars. Courier Journal.

Flameth afire as its leaves unfold,
Yellow and bright! Like a sunset glow,
Carpets the marsh where the zephyrs blow!

Caltha palustris—the marigold,
Stirreth within me sweet memories old!
Thoughts of a maiden, with true blue eyes,
Plucking them there 'neath the halcyon skies!

Caltha palustris—the marigold,
Speaks of a day when one's hope was bold,
Tells of a time when the heart was light,
Throbbing in Faith, with no thoughts of night!

Caltha palustris—the marigold—

Wafts o'er the chasm of years that flee,
Incense of youth, and its grace, to me.

MISSOURI CASE LIKE KENTUCKY'S

In the Matter of Trouble With Tax System.

A Tax Commission Has Just Made a Report That Is of Interest in This State.

Missouri has been laboring under a difficulty in its tax system nearly exactly similar to that of Kentucky. A tax commission has been at work in Missouri and in line with the tax commissions of other progressive states it has found no solution of the difficulties of the situation short of a constitutional amendment that will give the legislature greater liberty in dealing with the question; but it also points out that such an amendment is chiefly desirable because it will lead to separation of the sources of state revenue from the sources of county revenue.

The comments of the Missouri tax commission are so pertinent to the situation in Kentucky that the following extracts will be found of interest: "We all agreed that the first step in any tax reform is the separation of the sources of state and local revenue. This change would not require the exemption of any class of property from taxation. The proposed change may be effected by the adoption of a single constitutional amendment.

"The general features of this separation of the sources of state and local revenues may be briefly summarized. The state would discontinue the levy of a general property tax upon the real and personal property of the state, leaving the assessment and collection of this tax to the counties and municipalities for local purposes. This would make a saving of the large expense incident to the present dual system. It would also dispense with the work of the State Board of Equalization connected with the attempted equalization of assessments of real and personal property among the counties of the state.

"The state would thereafter derive its revenue through its inherent general power of taxation upon general subjects of taxation, as by licenses, corporation taxes, inspection fees and such other forms of taxation as the general assembly may determine.

"The different rates of assessment in the different counties, enforced by the different demands for local revenue, would no longer produce inequality in taxation with reference to the state tax. The remedy proposed is, in our opinion, the only effective remedy. Each community could fix its own rate of valuation as its local needs may require, without subjecting its citizens to the injustice of being compelled to pay an undue share of state taxation.

"There is now a certain kind of home rule in taxation, which consists in the variation of the rates of assessment upon property according to the local needs of the community, some counties paying taxes on 70 or 80 per cent of the real value of property, and others only 20 or 30 per cent. The report of the Tax Commission of 1903 says: It is in the bounds of truth to say that no two counties of the state have the same rule for the assessment of all classes of property, and generally speaking, there is absolutely no uniformity as to the proportion of the cash value taken as a basis of the assessed value. Some counties value real estate, so far as our reports show, as low as 30 per cent of its selling price, while others have a 90 per cent basis. Some assess real estate at 33 1/4 per cent, and tangible personal property at 50 per cent. The commission concluded that there was an absolute want of equality in taxation.

"This inequality can not be remedied by the State Board of Equalization, for the obvious reason that the high rate of assessment in certain counties, including the city of St. Louis, is enforced by the pressing demand for revenue for local requirements. The board can not raise the assessments of the counties which make a low valuation, as that would be imposing an unnecessary burden upon those communities.

"We see no remedy for this existing inequality and resulting injustice, except in the separation of the sources of state and local revenue.

"Under the plan proposed, the state would retain all of its inherent powers of taxation, except as to the general property tax upon real and personal property, which would be assessed and collected by counties and cities for local purposes. The state now levies a tax upon insurance companies, dramsshops, express companies, sundry corporations, license and inspection taxes, and a collateral inheritance tax. What other forms of taxation may be adopted will be for the General Assembly, in its discretion, to determine. The system proposed requires no change in the existing limitations upon the tax rates of the counties, cities and school districts.

"The change recommended requires no modification of the methods of assessing the property of railroads and other public service corporations by the State Board of Equalization. That system is statutory and its continuance or modification is subject to the control of the General Assembly. Should the present system be continued, whereby the assessed valuation made by the state board is apportioned to the counties, the General Assembly should continue the present state tax upon such valuation and provide for its direct payment into the state treasury."

Escaped Watery Grave.

Eight men from Paducah, whose names were not learned, came near being drowned in the Ohio river Monday evening in the storm just before sundown. The men had been fishing and hunting at Chippis lakes and were on their way home when the storm struck them and the gasoline boat which they were in, almost sank before they could get to the shore. The men came to town and got dry clothes and spent the night at the Clark House.—Livingston Banner.

Bloodhounds from Morganfield were telephoned for but got there after the rain Monday evening and could do no good. No clue left as to who the parties were.—Livingston Banner.

"No Friend Like an Old Friend."

Ed and Euellous Adams and Charles Morehead, all former Madisonville boys and publishers of the Morganfield twice-a-week Post, are getting out an up-to-date paper now, one that is a credit to Morganfield and Union county, and are being liberally patronized by the merchants and citizens of that county. These are deserving young men, have had much newspaper experience and their friends here are pleased to note the success they are meeting with in Old Union.—Madisonville Hustler.

Special Prizes For Corn Exhibits.

For the National Corn Exposition, to be held in Chicago, October 5-19 next, a magnificent line of special prizes have been secured, amounting to something like $50,000. This, added to the $16,000 in cash, makes the most magnificent array of prizes ever offered for the products of the soil. No corn grower can afford to neglect this opportunity, not only of winning splendid prizes, but of becoming more familiar with the best methods of corn growing and the adaption of varieties to different localities.

The biggest special prize is the four 160-acre farms in the Pan Handle of Texas, offered by the Freehold Land & Investment Co., First National Bank Bldg., Chicago. This Company makes the following offer: "We will give, free, one-quarter section or 160 acres of this splendid land as a premium for each group of states mentioned: Ohio, Indiana and Illinois; Missouri and Kansas; Iowa and Nebraska; Wisconsin, Minnesota and South Dakota; to be awarded by the awarding committee of judges. These lands, amounting to 640 acres, although not selling for less, will in a very few years be worth $40.00 per acre, meaning that the lands we are offering will very soon be worth $25,600.00.

The next most interesting offer is that of three splendid pianos. One, value $500, is offered by the W. W. Kimball Co., Wabash Ave. and Jackson Blvd., Chicago; another, value $575, by the John Church Co., 25th Wabash Ave., Chicago; and the third, value $350, by The Cable Company, Wabash Ave. and Jackson Blvd., Chicago. These pianos will be offered as a special prize in the state classes. One for the best white the other for the best yellow, and the third for the best corn of any other color.

Makes Sure of Money.

The late Professor O. C. Marsh, who for many years occupied the chair of paleontology at Yale, used to delight in telling the following story:

One morning he was walking down a New Haven street when he met a dandy driving a horse which had a curiously malformed hoof.

"When your horse dies," said the professor to the old dandy, "I will give you $3 for that hoof if you will cut it off and bring it to me."

"Very well, sah," was the reply, and horse and driver disappeared. Two hours later, when the professor reached home, he found the negro, who had impatiently awaited him for an hour.

Handing a carefully wrapped package to the professor, the dandy said: "De boss am daid, sah."—Boston Herald.

IN INTEREST OF THE PEOPLE

Great Awakening On the Subject Of Tax Reform.

Many States Taking Steps to Abolish Old Methods in Favor of Better. Kentucky's Case.

There is no question of greater importance before the people of Kentucky at present than the question of taxation. Those who have interested themselves in studying the growth of the state's industries during the past year and watched the attempts to develop its resources have been deeply impressed with the fact that our tax laws form a most serious obstacle to success. So deep-seated is this conviction in the minds of hundreds of thoughtful men that the time appears to be drawing near when the people of Kentucky will at last make up their minds that nothing is more worthy of their serious attention than this tax question. As a rule, they concern themselves with it only when the assessor makes his annual call, or when they walk up to the tax collector's office to settle. Then they are fully persuaded that the whole tax system is wrong, but as soon as the tax has been paid and the smart of it has been forgotten, the whole question is apt to be passed up again, without another thought, until another assessment and paying time rolls around.

It is important to Kentucky that the people of the state should realize that taxation bears in a most vital way upon the prosperity of the state, and in order that taxation may be wisely adjusted, it is necessary for the intelligent people of the state to turn themselves to a careful study of the whole question and persist in it until the tax system of the state is of a kind that will yield all the necessary revenues with the least possible burden. According to the justice or injustice of the tax; according to its reasonableness or its oppressiveness, capital is invited to a community or driven from it, industries will flourish or be destroyed, competition with other states may be possible or may be rendered out of the question, justice may be done or flagrant injustice imposed.

The Committee of the Senate.

No little disappointment was felt by those who have studied the tax situation in Kentucky when the committee of the State Senate, appointed to consider tax questions during the interim between the sessions of 1904 and 1906, failed to recommend anything more than an attempt to raise more revenues along the lines of the old revenue bill. In its report to the senate, the committee showed that it had very seriously considered the advisability of recommending more radical changes in our system; but it reported the conclusion that it was not at that time advisable to do more than attempt to perfect the old system along old lines. The reason given for this in the report was that the revenue system then in force had, perhaps, not been sufficiently tried out, and was entitled to a longer experiment. And there is much to be said against hasty tinkering with tax laws.

Did Its Best.

There is no doubt that the committee itself felt disappointed in not being able to recommend something more. It spent many months in carefully considering the tax situation. It held hearings in various parts of the state, at which hearings there appeared before the committee, by its invitation, representative farmers and business men to present their views on the subject of taxation. The committee could not fail to be impressed with the general dissatisfaction with the system in force in Kentucky, and yet they did not then think the time ripe to recommend a departure.

The net result of the committee's report was an attempt by the legislature to tighten up the leaks in the old system and to make one further desperate but futile effort to get satisfactory results out of the old plan of the uniform general property tax. Of course this attempt has not succeeded. It probably never will succeed, and in other states public men have ceased to expect that such a plan can, by any probability, succeed. From the rapid progress made in the last 10 years in the study of public finances, those who have reached the conclusion that the uniform general property tax is unsound, unjust and cannot be made productive of satisfactory results.

An Official Tax Commission.

There has grown up in the state some sentiment for a tax commission with some official status, whose duty it shall be to go thoroughly into the whole question of taxation, with a view to devising a better system along new lines, and, of course, new lines are not possible in Kentucky without first changing the constitution. At present, our constitution ties us fast to the general property tax as it is called; that is, to the system of levying the same tax upon all classes of property for all purposes. Other states have employed such a commission with good results, and indeed commissions of this kind are now at work in a number of states, getting to the very bottom of the question of taxation and doing a work that is resulting gradually in a vast improvement of tax methods. So far, Kentucky has made no step in this direction. Voluntary organizations, like the State Development Association, and various commercial bodies, have appointed tax committees, who are doing the best they can to gather information on this subject, but it is possible that there may develop the necessity for an official tax commission.

Whether this should come about or not, the demand is becoming very insistent in many quarters for a thorough investigation and reform of our tax system, and whenever a taxpayer begins to feel this way and begins to think about what kind of overhauling he wants done, he inevitably reaches the conclusion that the starting point is an amendment to the constitution of the state.

At Work In Ohio.

This sort of unrest as to taxation matters is widespread. In Ohio the State Board of Commerce is engaged in actively advocating an amendment to the Ohio state constitution. There is also a tax commission, which has an official existence, engaged in holding hearings all over the state and giving citizens of every occupation a chance to air their views on the subject. The difficulty in Ohio is very similar to the difficulty in Kentucky. They are restricted there to the general property tax. They are pushing an amendment which will allow the legislature to separate the sources of revenue; that is, to raise the state revenue from certain classes of property, leaving other classes of property to be taxed for local purposes only. Ohio has tried before to get amendment to its constitution along these lines, but has failed, but sentiment in the state now, if an opinion may be formed by the hearings given by the tax commission, is overwhelmingly in favor of the amendment.

Missouri Is Busy.

In Missouri a special tax commission, of which Frederick N. Hudson was chairman, recommended to the legislature the separation of the sources of state and local revenue, and proposed a constitutional amendment providing for such separation, giving greater discretion to the legislature and also giving to localities local option in matters of taxation. The amendment was adopted by the last legislature of Missouri and will be voted on by the people of the state at the next general election. This amendment provides that the sources of state and local revenue shall be separated by the year 1909, and that thereafter the counties in the state may tax or exempt for local purposes any class of property, in the discretion of the county court. It will be observed that both Ohio and Missouri are striving for the system of separating local and state sources of revenue. This is the system that has been in successful operation for many years in Pennsylvania, and it seems the logical and only satisfactory solution of the present complicated tax situation.

Minnesota Makes Progress.

The people of Minnesota at the last election held in that state ratified a constitutional amendment, which practically removed all limitations as to the power of the legislature in relation to taxation. The legislature at its session last winter passed two measures recommended by the governor for the purpose of putting into effect the provisions of the constitutional amendment. One of these provided for a permanent tax commission to recommend amendments to the revenue laws and to perform certain administrative work. The other measure imposed a recording tax on mortgages of one-half of one per cent. In this mortgage tax Minnesota is following the experiment successfully tried by the state of New York. Under this plan the tax of one-half of one per cent is collected when the mortgage is recorded, and the mortgage is thereafter exempt from taxation. Old mortgages may be registered on payment of one-half of one per cent tax, and are thereafter also exempt from further taxation. In both Minnesota and New York this plan of taxing mortgages has been found to be a productive source of increased revenue. It has some very decided advantages over the plan which Kentucky is now trying, the chief visible effect of which at present is to tax holders of mortgages who live in the state, while exempting holders of mortgages on Kentucky property who live outside the state.

Activity In Other States.

In the state of Washington there has been very considerable agitation of the question of taxation, and the last legislature passed an act providing the method of taxing intangible personality. One result of separating different kinds of property for different rates of taxation and for different purposes is that the tax burden can in this way be just to each class of property according to its burden-bearing capacity.

In the state of Oklahoma a clause was inserted in the constitution very similar to the tax provisions of the Minnesota constitution. A number of other states have tax commissions at work. Texas has just been overhauling its tax laws. The tax commission of California has just made its report. In the state of New York a tax reform league has been at work for nearly fifteen years, with the result that some very wise amendments to the tax laws of that state have been made.

Needs Thorough Study.

No state needs to have the tax question thoroughly studied and studied in the light of the experience of other states as well as with due regard to its own experience, more than does Kentucky. For fifteen years since the new constitution was adopted, we have striven hard to realize that dream of uniformity in taxation which animated the makers of the new constitution. We have not succeeded in doing this. It is true the revenue of the state has increased, but the tax burden has been extremely heavy on some classes of property, while some classes of property have gone almost scot free. The amount of money, stocks and bonds reported for taxation is ridiculously small. The falsity of the tax returns betrays itself upon comparison with the reports of the deposits in the banks. The only kind of personal property that does not escape taxation is that visible, tangible personal property, found chiefly on the farm. The farmer can not hide his horses, cattle and farming implements, so he has to pay, while the man in town can hide his money, or his stocks and bonds, and escape his share of the burden. This will always be the case while human nature remains as it is. It is incumbent upon Kentucky to find some way of deriving a revenue from this elusive class of property.

It will probably take a long time for Kentucky to reach the point of believing in the policy of separating the sources of revenue, selecting one class of property from which to raise its state revenues, another class of property from which to raise its city revenues. Unless the experience of all other states is to be relied by the experience of Kentucky, that is what we are to come to some time, though it may be far in the future. We can not well continue to adhere to a system that is being abandoned by other states and which, if persisted in, will put us in the position of handicapping our property owners of every class with a burdensome tax system, which will seriously injure them in the sharp competition with the less heavily burdened property owners of other states. It is, at least, worth while for Kentucky to be studying the question and thinking seriously about it.

Capt. Stone Will Support Democrats.

Cadiz, Ky., Sept. 2.—Capt. W. Stone, who had announced as independent candidate for the State Senate in this district against Conn Linn, the Democrat nominee, to-day withdrew from the race and announced his intention of supporting the entire Democratic ticket. He made a speech to a large crowd, in which he said that the action of the committee in declaring Mr. Linn the nominee had been final and regular, and for this reason he would withdraw in favor of Mr. Linn. Mr. Linn also spoke, urging voters to support the State ticket.

Union Cemetery.

Union cemetery is not on the railroad and is not a city cemetery, but it is fortunate in having good neighbors. In fact it is situated in one of the best "settlements" in the grand old county of Crittenden and no better evidence of the standing of the people is needed than to take a look at their cemetery. This is true of Union or any other community. To see people mindful of dead is almost as good trait as being thoughtful of the aged or kind to the poor. Some of the keepers of other cemeteries in the county would be dazzled if they should see Union as it is now.

TRIAL MARRIAGES.

A Queer Old Custom That Existed For Ages in Scotland.

"Handfasting" was a custom that existed for ages in Scotland. The contracting parties met at the annual fairs in their several districts. There young men chose the maids who best pleased them. They joined hands and by that act became man and wife until the corresponding day of the following year. If the love and fortunes of the pairs had prospered during the year, on the anniversary of their meeting they were legally married by the priest; if all had not been well, then they parted.

The practice is supposed to have arisen from the scarcity of clergy. If the pair decided to part at the end of the twelvemonth, the bride was at liberty to marry another man, her apprenticeship to matrimony not carrying with it any reproach to her. Such marriages were by custom made legal. Any issue resulting from the union would in the case of a second marriage be taken by the father and rank as heir after the children of the marriage which lasted for life.

Many weddings were unmade at the end of the year, but it was dangerous if the initiative were taken by the man who had wedded the kinswoman of a chief. When a Macdonald of Sleat availed himself of his right to send back the sister of a Macleod of Dunraven, the latter resented it as an indignity. "He had no bonfire to celebrate his wedding, but he shall have one to solemnize his divorce," Macleod swore. He kept his word, and a terrible vendetta between the clans resulted.

ODDITIES IN GRAVES.

A Woman Who, Born, Living and Dying Cross, Was Buried Cross.

There is a curious old gravestone in Prestbury churchyard which records the fact that one woman at least in England died a bachelor. Her name was Sarah Pickford, and the stone gravely informs the reader she was there interred "August ye 17, Anno Dom. 1703, and died a Bachelor in the 48th year of her age."

A stone in Westminster abbey records the interment there of George Graham, who was the only workman that received the honor of being buried in Westminster abbey. He was a scientific instrument maker, who in 1700 invented the deadbeat escapement in clocks. His funeral was attended by the Royal society in a body.

In East Ham churchyard there is a tombstone placed crossways. The woman interred is said to have been born cross, lived cross, married a Mr. Cross and died cross. Her dying request was to be buried cross, and this was carried out.

As to more ancient graves, that of Noah is reported to be in the small town of Nakhichevan, near the foot of Mount Ararat, and is sixty feet in length. Another tradition says that the grave is merely a niche in the wall of an abandoned fortress.—London Chronicle.

A Direct Appeal.

A story is told of a New York car conductor who had once been in the ministry and who retained some of his former ways of speech in his new calling. He had been at the front of the car collecting fares, and when he returned to his platform a well-dressed person told him that a man had boarded the car at Houston street and had found a place inside. The conductor stepped inside the doorway and ran his mild gaze up and down the car, but could not be sure which of the tightly packed passengers was the late arrival. "Will the gentleman who got on at Houston street please rise?" he asked calmly.

The gentleman rose involuntarily, and, with a bow and a "Thank you!" the conductor collected his fare.

Irving's Uphill Fight.

When Irving first appeared in a certain midland town critics declared that his curious mannerisms of voice, gait and gesture destroyed his chances of becoming a great actor. How Irving confounded his critics by creating triumph after triumph and redeeming the English stage from the charge of mediocrity is now a matter of history. This great Shakespearean actor rose from the ranks to the head of his profession by sheer force of his histrionic power, ability and originality. And withal he was one of the most kindly of men, generous to a fault when the distress and troubles of others came under his notice.—London Mail.

Adam and Eve.

Adam was making his avowal to Eve. "No power shall ever take you from my side," he declared fervently. "That's a pretty rash promise, isn't it?" inquired Eve, winking, "since you know I was taken from your side the first thing after you arrived here?" Perceiving that the woman was giving him a rib roast, Adam went off sulking in the apple orchard.—Exchange.

He Was Right.

"See here," feebly complained the victim after the accident, "I thought you said it was perfectly safe to go up in that old elevator?" "Well," replied the elevator man, "so it was" he went up. You see, the dangerous part of it was comin' down."—Philadelphia Press.

Local Option in Favor of the Drys.

The local option election held in Lyon county Saturday resulted in a sweeping victory for the drys, or prohibition.

The campaign had grown very exciting and on Saturday the interest grew almost to a fever heat, and perhaps the hardest and effective work ever accomplished for prohibition was witnessed in the towns of Eddyville and Kuttawa.

At Eddyville, men, women and children worked hard all day. It is said the church bells rang all day, beginning at six o'clock in the morning and continued until after the polls closed at four o'clock in the afternoon.

There were 1,426 votes polled in the county, the prohibitionists casting 968 as against 458 votes cast by the liquor people, thus making the majority for prohibition 510.—Princeton Leader.

The State has been divided into five districts as shown by the itinerary given below. ## FIREWORKS NIGHTLY.

ERUPTION OF VESUVIUS TO BE REPRODUCED.

PAIN'S FAMOUS PYROTECHNICS

One of the Most Remarkable Amusements Ever Shown in the South.

Whether or not it is the promise held out to us in the rainbow that the earth will not again be destroyed by water but by fire, the interest in fire works is as old as history, or at least runs back to the period when they were first introduced hundreds of years ago in China. To make a big event entirely a success, it is almost necessary to add to the amusement features a great fire works exhibition. This has been done by the State Board of Agriculture, under whose auspices the Kentucky State Fair is to be held in Louisville, September 16 to 21.

A contract has been closed with Pain's Pyrotechnic Co. to bring from New York complete, Pain's new monstrous spectacle, "Vesuvius," a gigantic reproduction of Naples and Vesuvius. This is an exact picture, 350 feet in length and fifty feet high, of the modern city of Naples and of Vesuvius, from sketches and views taken on the spot by Pain's special artists and reproduced by the eminent scenic artists, Messrs. Reed and Rafter, and their assistants. It is the most elaborate spectacle and summer night's fete and illumination ever attempted. It depicts the "Carnival of Naples" and the eruption of Vesuvius as they occurred on the night of April 3 and 4, 1906.

The subject lends itself to the most gorgeous of scenic environment, and the most wonderful electric and pyrotechnic effects. Two immense acts are devoted to the production. The "Carnival of Naples" is attended by the King and Queen of Italy, and other crowned heads. The streets of Naples are shown on a fête day; the populace and visitors are in gala attire; there is a feast of lanterns and ballet choruses, concluding with the introduction of some wonderful European specialties. While the carnival is at its height, a small curl of smoke begins to ascend from Vesuvius. The alarm begins and increases as the mountain rapidly belches out its lurid flames and seething ashes.

The first act is concluded and the second, the awe-inspiring calamity, is begun. Refugees crowd into the city; the King and Queen depart for a town in the mountains; there is mass in the cathedral. Old Vesuvius, in tremendous detonations, speaks angrily to the inhabitants for scores of miles around; the rain of ashes with rivers of lava continue, and the destruction of the city is complete.

This great spectacle is to be given nightly at the Kentucky State Fair grounds, to be followed by Pain's wonderful fire works, the display of which will be changed each night.

The contract made between the Pain's Pyrotechnic Company and the State Board of Agriculture, calls upon the former to bring the entire Manhattan Beach production, as produced at Manhattan Beach, Coney Island, New York. There are 250 performers, properly and splendidly costumed. The fire works program covers fifty numbers, consisting of all of Pain's latest novelties.

"YOU TAKES YOUR CHOICE."

Races of Every Known Form at Kentucky State Fair.

It is said of the Kentuckian that half of his cranium is filled with brain matter and the other half with miniature horsehoes. The ability of the citizen of old Kentucky to gain eminence demonstrates clearly the truthfulness of the first half of the statement, and his love of a horse race indicates that the latter half is by no means an untruth. The Kentucky State Fair, which will run for six great days at Louisville, beginning September 16th, holds out special inducements to everyone, whether or not a Kentuckian, to polish up the horsehoes imbedded in his head by reflected glory.

The State Fair management has arranged a most interesting speed program covering trotting, pacing and running races. As the new home of the State Fair, which was Douglas Park, has the fastest trotting track in this country, and perhaps in the world, many records are expected to be smashed during this meeting.

Those who have been robbed of horsehoes beneath their scalps through constant contact with rubber tire that carry gasoline tanks, will find in the automobile races that which appeals to them, while others who have turned their thoughts from things terrestrial to things celestial, will gain their desires in the balloon races.

The Kentucky State Fair has in its making the promotion of the breeding interests of Kentucky, a college to educate the people of the whole south to the recognition of the value of the best grades of all kinds of live stock.

The most exciting of aerial sports—balloon races—will be on the amusement program of the Kentucky State Fair.

There will be 2,600 awards, an average of 418 awards a day for six days, at the Kentucky State Fair.

Alaska's New Island.

Last March reports were received that a new volcanic island had been found in Bering sea. Later, L. L. Bales, a well known Alaskan hunter and trapper, sailed close to the island. He estimated its height at 900 feet and its length at about three miles. Mr. Bales is quoted as saying: "The island has come from the depths of the sea since last spring. I hardly credited the report when I first heard of it, but went close to it shortly afterward in a sealing schooner. There were streams of lava still running down into the sea from the crater, or one of the craters. The sea is almost covered by thousands of dead fish. They have been killed by the heat from the lava."

"Close to the island the sea almost boils. It is rugged and about 900 feet high, or possibly a little more. The island is almost enveloped in clouds of steam and smoke. It lies about fifty miles west of Dutch Harbor, almost directly between the Bogoslof Islands."—Boston Alaskan.

CATARRH IS CURABLE.

Successful Experiments in Abating and Curing this Disease.

Catarrh is an entirely unnecessary disease and should not be tolerated for a single day now that Hyomei is so generally known and has made so many cures in Marion and other towns.

Until comparatively recent times catarrh was thought to be a blood disease and stomach dosing the only treatment. Modern science finally disproved this idea of the cause of catarrh, and found that it was a germ disease and, after many experiments, the remedy was decided to be Hyomei.

Hyomei medicates the air you breathe; it kills the catarrhal germs; it heals the smarting and raw membranes of the passage in the nose and throat; it cures all catarrhal troubles.

As there is life and health in the air in the mountain-tops where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams, so there is life and health in breathing Hyomei. There is no need of suffering from Catarrh if the simple and natural treatment of Hyomei is used.

So sure is this treatment to cure even the worst cases of catarrh, that Haynes & Taylor sell it under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

Egg Production of Hens.

Thus, a hen lays at the age of one year about twenty eggs; at the age of two years, about 120; at the age of three years, about 135; at the age of four years, about 115; at the age of five years, about eighty, and at the age of six years, sixty.

Governor Hoch and Balmaine. Governor Hoch, of Kansas, never took any stock in the railroads, who in years past picked up a good deal of money from farmers in the Shawnee state. At one time the residents of Marion were subscribing to pay for some railroading experiments. Mr. Hoch declined to chip in and an elderly deacon quoted feelingly: "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." Hoch replied: "I recognize the quotation, but let me remind you of another: 'A fool and his money are soon parted.' Don't forget that." "Where do you find that in the Scriptures?" asked the deacon. "Why, in Bartholomew 24, 6," answered Hoch, moving away. The deacon and his friends bunted up a Bible and not for some time did they discover that there was no such book in the Scriptures.

AN AERIAL NAVIGATOR

YOUNG INVENTOR WILL FLY THROUGH THE AIR.

IS NOW HEADED FOR KENTUCKY

State Fair Management Announces His Appearance in Passenger-Carrying Ship.

The problem of aerial navigation has at last been solved. The inventor to attain this desired end is Captain Roy Knabenshue, of Toledo, O., the first American to make a successful flight in an airship. This first flight was made during the World's Fair at St. Louis in October, 1904, when Knabenshue was only in his twenties. He is yet a very young man, but he has talents that he has successfully applied. During the past winter, he has spent his entire time in perfecting a piece of craft to ply the clouds which will carry passengers.

Fortunately for those who will attend the Kentucky State Fair to be held at Louisville, September 16th to 21st, the services of Captain Knabenshue and his passenger-carrying airship have been secured for daily flights during this great exhibition week at the metropolis of Kentucky. The State Board of Agriculture, under whose auspices the fair is to be given, closed a contract with Captain Knabenshue several weeks ago, stipulating therein that his visit to the Kentucky State Fair was to be his only personal appearance in his passenger-carrying airship either in Kentucky or in Southern Indiana.

The big airship will be displayed in an aerodrome when not in operation, permitting visitors at the fair to make a close inspection of it, who will also have an opportunity of taking a ride through the air with Captain Knabenshue if they desire.

Captain Knabenshue is guarding very firmly the secret of the mechanism that enables him to carry passengers into the air, but he has permitted us to give a brief description of his marvelous invention. The elongated gas bag has a capacity of 20,000 cubic feet of hydrogen gas, giving a lifting power of 1,800 pounds. The envelope is 120 feet in length and about 25 feet in diameter. Two mammoth aeroplanes, which serve to resist the wind pressure and propel the vessel, are built on either side. Two delicately constructed engines of twenty horse power each furnish the drawing power, enabling the craft to sail through the uncharted skies at a speed of sixty miles per hour. This speed is attained only in a calm, while in a moderate wind the velocity is reduced to about forty-five miles an hour. With his new airship, Captain Knabenshue is able to sail under any weather conditions.

Resembling very closely the modern coach of a street railway, the carrying car is ninety feet long with cushion seats provided for the passengers. The operator sits at the bow of the vessel and guides it in its journey. Captain Knabenshue has built the propeller and rudder along entirely different lines than heretofore, and the vessel, taken as a whole, but faintly resembles the smaller crafts which heretofore have been shown in this country.

The engagement of Captain Knabenshue and his passenger-carrying airship at the State Fair is for a flight daily for six days, and one or more flights at night, when the world's greatest aerial navigator will use an immense searchlight to guide his passage.

CAPTIVE BALLOON ADDED.

Visitors to the Kentucky State Fair in Louisville, during the week of September 16th, who are not willing to risk their lives in Captain Knabenshue's passenger-carrying airship or in the balloon races, may satisfy their desire to see "how it feels to be in the air" by going up in a captive balloon, which is to be one of the attractions. This balloon, as its name indicates, is firmly tied to the earth, and by means of a windlass it is allowed to rise in the air to a height of 600 feet. It will carry passengers every ten minutes.

GREAT TOBACCO DISPLAY.

Largest Amount of Money Ever Offered to Be Given at Kentucky State Fair.

The State Board of Agriculture, under whose auspices the Kentucky State Fair is to be held at Louisville, September 16th to 21st, has appropriated $475 to be given in premiums on tobacco during fair week, and this has been supplemented by the Louisville Board of Trade with an appropriation of $250. This amount of money should bring together the finest lot of samples ever shown. The premiums offered by the Board of Trade are as follows:

Burley Types.

For best sample representing hogshead of not less than 800 pounds net, Bright Burley Leaf Tobacco..... $ 75
For the best sample representing hogshead of not less than 800 pounds net, of Red Burley Leaf Tobacco..... 50

Dark Types.

For best sample representing hogshead of not less than 1,200 pounds net, of Fire Cured Tobacco..... $ 75
For the best sample representing hogshead of not less than 1,000 pounds net, of Unfilled Tobacco..... 50
Samples of tobacco competing for these awards are to be drawn and sealed by the Louisville Test Tobacco Exchange Inspection, not limited to crop, and open to all exhibitors.
