W. O. W. UNVEILING

Rosewood Camp Assisted by Visiting Sovereigns Unveil Monument Last Sunday.

Sunday was Woodmen Day in Marion, and when Sovereign J. P. Stubblefield, of Corydon, Ky., was introduced by W. H. Clark, to the magnificent audience that had assembled in the Opera House to hear his sermon on Woodcraft, he arose to address a packed and crowded house. From the time Sovereign J. P. Stubblefield, commenced his sermon on Joseph until he had spoken the last word, he was given the closest attention by the entire audience. It has never been our pleasure to hear a sermon before that was laden with so many beautiful thoughts, expressed in so many delightful words. With his faultless, eloquent words of logic, he told of the story of Joseph's life, explained the life of Joseph which was a type of Christ and with his beautiful language showed how the religion of Joseph and of Christ, permeated, swayed and controlled the great work of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man that was being done by the Woodmen of the World.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon, the Woodmen of the World formed a line in front of the Opera House, and headed by the Marion Silver Cornet Band, followed by the Sovereigns of Rosewood Camp, No. 22 of Marion, Ky., and officers; Corydon Camp, No. 70, with its Camp Flags; Camp No. 152 of Robards, Ky.; Princeton Camp, No. 92; Hopkinsville Camp, No. 23 and other visiting Sovereigns, marched in a body to the New Cemetery where the monument to Sovereign Thomas N. Morgan was unveiled.

The ceremonies at the Cemetery were opened by a selection rendered by the Band, followed by an appropriate selection by the Marion Choir, after which in perfect keeping with the Ritualistic requirements the officers of Rosewood Camp, with imposing ceremonies unveiled and dedicated the monument of Sov. Thomas N. Morgan. The splendid singing by the Marion Choir together with the music furnished by the Band added much to the beauty of the unveiling.

Miss Mabel Butler, daughter of Sovereign A. J. Butler, a beautiful and accomplished girl, recited with fine emphasis, "Oh why should the spirit of man be proud."

Sovereign Duncan, of Robards, Ky., delivered a very pretty address in which he told of the great good that has been done for our country by the different fraternal orders, especially by the W. O. W.; not only what they had done for our country and for the widow and the orphan, but what they had accomplished in bringing men close together in fraternal friendship.

Sovereign J. P. Stubblefield, the orator of the unveiling ceremonies delivered an unveiling address with the most touching sublimity. He addressed the large, attentive, audience from an impromptu platform erected at the foot of the grave. His address was a sweet and beautiful tribute to the departed Woodman who slept in peace beneath the green sod. His address was replete with word of consolation to the mother and the father, the friends and the relatives of the dead Sovereign. He paid a beautiful tribute to the worth of the deceased Sovereign Thomas N. Morgan, saying that when his mother's shoulders had become stooped under the weight of many years and hair had been kissed with gray that Tom had not forgotten his dear old mother and father, but with each succeeding month, that he was away from home had sent them his wages. He said that the fact that the assembled Sovereigns had this day unveiled his monument and the fact that so many friends were gathered about his grave, was an undying tribute to the memory of the deceased Sovereign, in proof of the fact that he while living had done his duty alike to his father and mother and to his state. It was a masterly effort, profoundly eloquent and delivered with intelligent earnestness in a most forcible manner.

The unveiling was attended by a large crowd of visiting Sovereigns from neighboring towns and was the most interesting occasion in connection with Woodcraft that has ever taken place in Marion. The Sovereigns and hundreds of friends were greatly impressed with the touching tenderness of the unveiling ceremonies.

MARION AND HOPKINSVILLE.

City Editor Bacon of the "New Era" Captures One of Marion's Fairest Daughters.

The receipt of cards of invitation to the wedding of Miss Carrie F. Moore, of this city, to Mr. Merriweather E. Bacon, city editor of the New Era at Hopkinsville, was no surprise to the friends of this popular couple, especially those who had watched the courtship. Mr. Bacon has been a most devoted suitor for the hand and heart of the talented teacher since she first went to Hopkinsville to take the management of the "Lockyear Business College" and how well he has succeeded is evidence by the announcement of the wedding which is to take place Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 9th, at 3 o'clock, at the Methodist Church in this city. Miss Moore is the youngest daughter of Judge James A. Moore and is a justly popular girl on account of her native wit and her bright mind coupled with a most attractive personality. Her gracious manner has won her warm friends and admirers every where she is known, and its with regret we relinquish her to our neighboring city. THE RECORD-PRESS extends congratulations to its Brother Editor with the assurance that he has won a life partner who could, if need be, fill his place in an editorial capacity and who will be a helpmate indeed.

Death of Mrs. Sarah Nunn.

Mrs. Sarah Nunn, wife of the late Otho Nunn, died Tuesday morning September 24th, 1907, at six o'clock, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sarah Gill, with whom she had made her home for years. About a month ago Mrs. Nunn fell and sustained injuries from which she could not recover. She was born in Caldwell County near Princeton, on April 24, 1827. She was Miss Shelby before her marriage and was the niece of Mr. Aaron Shelby, the founder of the Princeton Collegiate Institute and a great niece of the first Governor of Kentucky, Isaac Shelby. She was educated in Princeton and joined the Presbyterian church when young, but after moving to this county joined the Rosebud church with her husband. About fifty years ago, she had measles which settled in her eyes, causing her to go blind. Mrs. Sarah Gill is the only survivor, Mrs. Bean, a daughter, and Mr. Sam Nunn, a son, having preceded her to the grave several years ago.

The funeral services were conducted by Mr. W. J. Hill, and the burial took place at the Nunn graveyard on the old Ira Nunn farm.

Mrs. Nunn was a noble Christian woman and was a patient sufferer and possessed a cheerful disposition.

Cupid in the Print Shop.

Robert E. Wilborn, foreman of the Crittenden RECORD-PRESS office and Miss Mae Perry, the "Angel" of the shop went to Evansville, Ind., last Thursday morning, September 26th, 1907, and were married there by Rev. C. D. Mitchell, of the Baptist Church. They returned home the following day and will live at the Wilborn home with his mother and sister, Miss Leaffa.

Miss Perry, the bride, is a young woman of fine traits of character and by her industry and sweet disposition has won admirers by the score, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bell Perry and has resided here for several years with her mother on North College street. Her father is in business at Caneyville, Grayson County, where she visited the week before her marriage. Miss Perry was employed at the RECORD Office and has since the consolidation been one of the most highly prized employees of the RECORD-PRESS and will continue in that capacity.

The groom was reared here and lived here the most of his life and by close application to his work has attained the foremanship of the RECORD-PRESS and is a trusted employee on whom the main responsibility of "getting out" the paper rests. He has improved the make-up and general appearance of the paper since he has been in the lead, and deserves much credit for the progress he has made.

Writes Another Letter to the Tobacco Growers.

To the Tobacco growers of Crittenden County:

The readers of the PRESS will remember the article written by me not long since. Pointing out to the tobacco growers of Crittenden County the great opportunity to have their present crop of tobacco handled and sold by the Stemming District Tobacco Association. I desire to say that our manager Mr. Elliott, of the city of Henderson has closed the contract with our friend Dr. R. L. Moore, of Marion, for the use of his factory for the purpose of storing and preparing all of the tobacco for market which is pooled and will be pooled in our county.

It is plain to me that the executive committee and all officers of the aforesaid Association have certainly given Crittenden County tobacco growers a great opportunity. Now then we kindly ask you to pool your crops at an early date and show your brother farmers that your stand with them and against the Tobacco Trust. There is but two sides to this question and that is are you for the farmers or are you for the Trust? I am informed by our manager that most of our last year crop which was pooled has been disposed of at good prices, far better than those who did not pool. I said in my last article that I would not say that it was best to pool or not, now I am prepared to say that I know it is best to pool and when you sign the contract stand to it. Doubtless you have already had Trust agents to come to see you and tell you that tobacco is high.

We admit that it is high and will be higher, but the next question is, who made it higher. It certainly was not the tobacco trusts that brought the price up. For it was thoroughly demonstrated in the halls of Congress; that the American Tobacco Trust brought the price of tobacco down. That being true it certainly is a mistaken idea that the same combine would make the price high. Therefore it is a plain proposition that the Tobacco Associations have made such progress that they are controlling the marketing of their tobacco. Again we are told that the shortage of the crop that makes the price high—to such inquiries we would say please examine the statistical part and you'll find that this is not the case.

Therefore we are bound to admit that this tobacco association has brought pleasure and happiness to many a poor family. Again we are told by some farmers that we ought not to be so hard against the trust buyers. Why did you not make this same complaint when the American Tobacco Company put our merchants out of business in 1903. Consistency than art a jewel.

In conclusion I will say that we have fully 85 per cent. of the tobacco in the stemming district pooled now and we are informed that other districts are doing equally as well. We have also noticed that where neighborhoods have all pooled peace and prosperity abounds.

We have now the respect of the markets of the world. More next time.

To Be Married October 9th.

Miss Carrie E. Moore, of Marion, Ky., recently manager of Lockyear's Business College, in this city, but who returned to her home last spring, will soon return to Hopkinsville as the bride of the popular newspaper man, Mr. Merriweather E. Bacon, of the New Era. They will be married at Marion, Wednesday, October 9th, at 3 p. m., at the Methodist church. They will arrive here at 6:25 the same evening and go to housekeeping at 746 East Ninth street. Miss Moore is a daughter of Mr. J. A. Moore and is a young lady of rare beauty, intelligence and graces of mind and person.

Mr. Bacon is the son of Dr. T. L. Bacon and is one of Hopkinsville's most popular and deserving young men. The Kentuckian tenders them its good wishes in advance.—Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Mrs. W. I. Tabor Dead.

Mrs. Amanda Tabor, wife of the Mexico merchant, and daughter of James Matthews, died Tuesday afternoon at 1:20 p. m. at her home near Frances on the Gordon Matthews place. She had been ill some time with stomach trouble.

The funeral was conducted Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. R. A. LaRue, at the Matthews cemetery near Frances.

Mrs. Tabor was a member of Caldwell Springs Baptist church, of which Rev. LaRue is pastor. She was thirty-eight years of age and left besides her husband three children, two daughters and one son.

The family have the sympathy of all in their great bereavement.

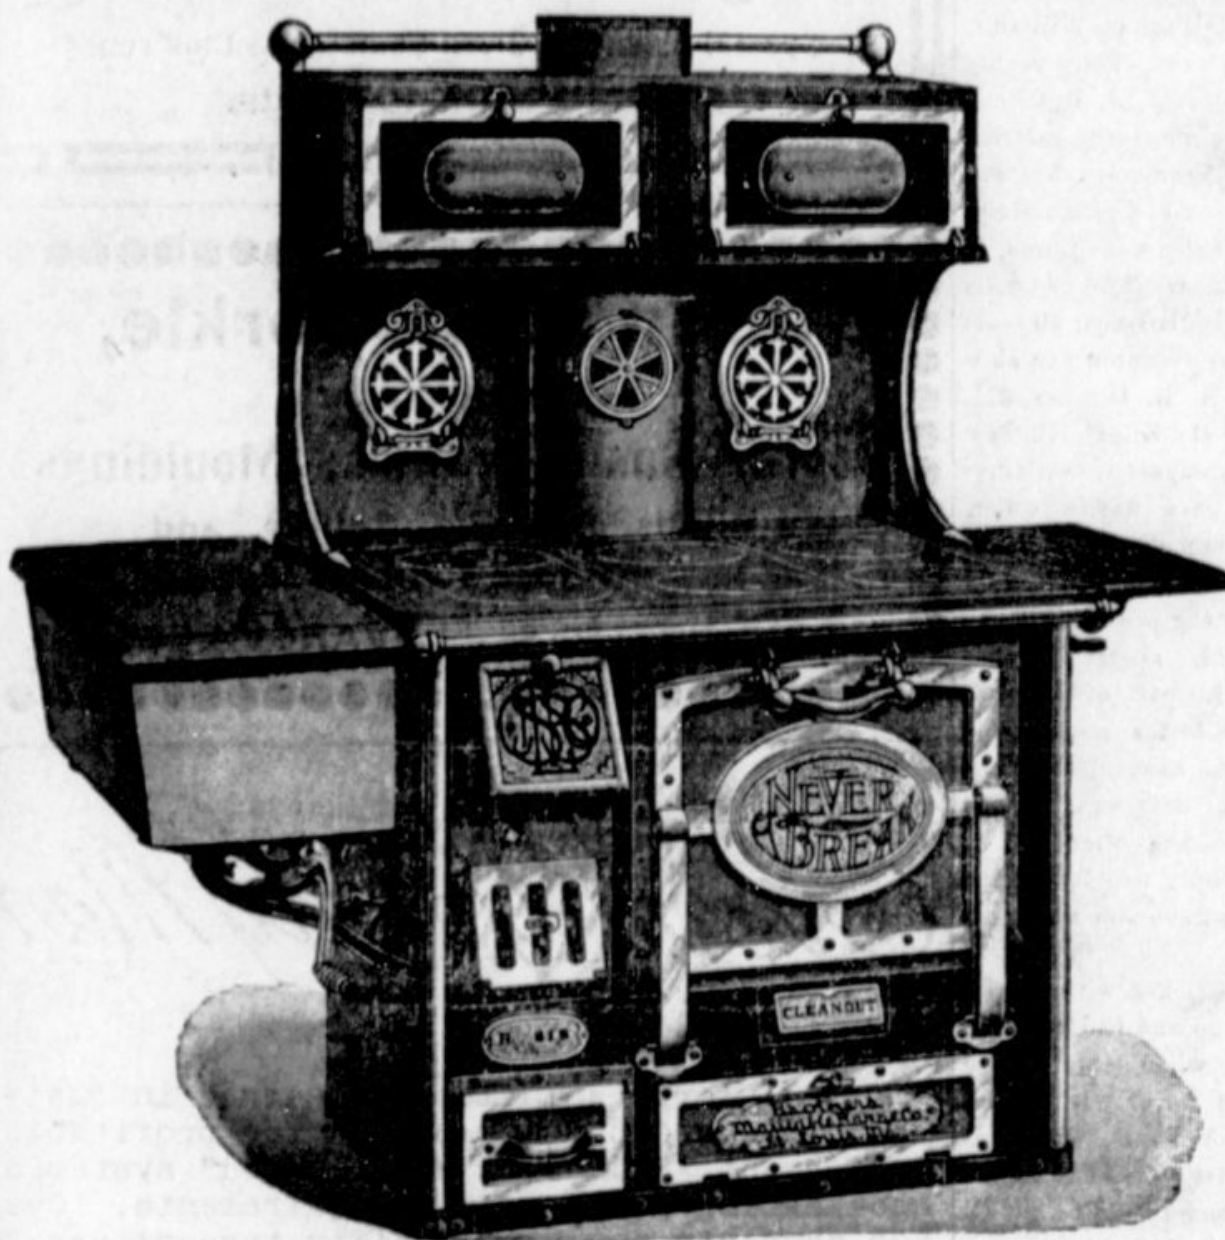

Hon. W. J. Bryan will speak at Marion, Tuesday morning, October 8th at 11 o'clock.

GALLANT GOBBLER

Attempts to Aid Turkey Hen in Her Maternal Work but Gets Wrong Material.

A fine Turkey gobbler belonging to Mrs. Arnold Livers, living a few miles above here on a farm, has built himself a nest and is setting on some gourd eggs which he procured himself by going to the vines, tearing them off and carrying them to the nest. The gobbler evidently thinks he has the right kind of material to manufacture young turkeys and is as busy as a setting hen. Mr. Liver's father, Mr. Hous Piland, and a number of others have witnessed this strange sight which is attracting great attention in that community.

Several days ago Mr. Livers in a spirit of fun attempted to place some kittens in the nest but was frightened away by the gobbler who showed fight and refused in any way to be interfered with. Several rare instances of turkey gobblers setting have been related to this office, but we have never heard of any that had the tenacity of this old gobbler with his gourd eggs.—Uniontown Telegram.

SHOCKED TO DEATH IN BATH

Pollun Fell Into Water in Garage Cellar That Was Charged With Electricity.

(By Associated Press.)

New York, Sept. 26.—Shouting, writhing, suffering agony, unable to rise from four inches of water, Pierre Pollun was slowly shocked to death by electricity in a Williamsburg cellar yesterday.

Pollun, twenty-four years old, first went to work as a machinist in Chas. Reilly's garage, No. 568 Graham avenue, yesterday morning. Toward evening Pollun went to the cellar to get a piece of steel shafting. Immediately Rielly and his employees, John Foley and another heard Pollun's cries, unintelligible save that they told he was in mortal danger.

The three, Foley leading, ran down the cellar stairs, which are wooden. They saw Pollun, his face distorted, fighting desperately to rise from the shallow water, squirming like one of the damned whom Dore drew.

As Foley jumped from the last step in the water, Foley shrieked: "The water's charged."

He had been severely shocked by electricity, but he survived, this gives the best idea of what Pollun must have suffered, as he swallowed in that hideous electric bath. Foley regained the steps, ran up them and got a pair of rubber gloves. He and the others got a thick plank, carried it down and extended it from the last step into the water.

Pollun's cries were growing faint, his struggles weak. The three men stepped cautiously along the plank, were badly shocked as they lifted Pollun, but they did raise him and carried him upstairs. He was limp and unconscious then and soon died.

An electric cable runs into the garage cellar, from it the batteries of the electric motor cars are charged. Investigation proved that the insulation on part of the cable had been scraped off—how, nobody knows. So the current escaped into the water that had leaked in in and, as everybody knows water is a good conductor.

Pollun's home was at No. 71 Greene street, Williamsburg.

Smallest Deer in the World.

The "mouse deer" is the chevrotain, one of the smallest of hoofed animals. It stands less than twelve inches in height at the shoulder. The prevailing color of the fur is brown, finely speckled with yellow. The spots are large and sometimes run into each other and form stripes. The under parts of the body are white. It possesses the peculiar habit of walking on the tips of its hoofs. This lends a stiffness to the legs, which has gained for the chevrotain the reputation of having no knee joints. It has no horns or antlers. But as in the case of the musk deer, the male is provided with large canine teeth or tusks in the upper jaw. It is of exceedingly timid disposition, and lies hidden in the jungle throughout the day and only ventures to feed in the early morning and after dusk in the evening. In captivity this tiny native of India is gentle, quite tame, but always shy.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without unnecessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold has gotten up of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly, Va., has used Chas Eberlain's Cough Remedy for years and says: "I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by J. H. Orme the leading druggist in Western Ky. Haynes & Taylor the enterprising druggists of Marion.

Death of Mrs. Nannie Hughes.

The subject of this sketch Sister Nannie Hughes, who was born Sept. 15th, 1838, died September 10th, 1907. After 69 years had come and gone, the good Lord called her to her home beyond the river, where well, never say good-bye. She was converted in her 18th year. She joined the Methodist church at Mount Zion in 1861 with the writer and 14 others. I am the only survivor of the 16; the Bristors, Heaths, Hughes, Williams, Teats and Walingfords. The preacher in charge was Rev. J. J. Ruddle—Alderson was the presiding elder at the time. Sister Nannie Hughes was a daughter of Frank and Susan Simpson, her maiden name was Lucas, a sister of R. C. Lucas. She was married to Lawson Hughes near 40 years ago. To this happy union five children were born, A. R. Hughes, Edwin Lawson, J. F. and Zilpah Hughes. The oldest and youngest are still living. Sister Hughes was a quiet, good Christian and mother all through life.

Her home was the preachers home and resting place. Sister Hughes took delight in this part of the work and the church lost a good friend when she went to heaven, but our loss was her gain. She was a great friend of mine. She often said to me; we are the only two left of the 16. Now she is gone and I am left alone.

She had been stricken with paralysis some years ago and had not been stout since; so when the second stroke came she never rallied but went out in a few hours. She was put away by a host of friends in the Mount Zion cemetery. Bro. R. C. Love conducted the funeral services. The old song, "How Firm a Foundation," was sung by the friends. A lesson from first Peter and 3 was read and commented on by Bro. Love, then we put her body away to rest until the trumpet shall sound to wake the sleeping dead, and bring them up to the great judgment day.

Now reader where will you stand in that day. Oh, that God would lay his hand on the two children that is left and make them useful in the church and the world, children don't be sad, mother is living in a mansion and singing with the angels. Glory to God, lets go and see her again, will you? Your cousin, W. J. Hill.

A Certain Cure For Croup—Used For Ten Years Without a Failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant, is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have been subject to croup for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup, but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by J. H. Orme the leading druggist in Western Ky. Haynes & Taylor the enterprising druggists of Marion.

Victorious Girlhood.

It is the girl who is full of vitality, keen and eager about all sorts of things, happy, healthy and sure that the globe on which she resides brims over with entertaining facts, who carries all before her. The middle-aged and the aged bow to her opinions, admire, spoil and forgive her everything.—Bystander.

The Passing of Summer.

The harvest is passed, the summer is ended, the wheat is sold and the money is expended. The corn in the fields it ripens and rustles, while the faded old farmer gets up and hustles. The colts are weaned and soon learn to eat and the farmer commences to drill in his wheat. The calves in the orchard stand sadly and beller, but because they are weaned there is more milk in the cellar. The golden rod flings its gay banners aloft and the peaches and the peaches are both getting soft. The victims of hay fever snifle and sneeze, while the thistle down rides on the September breeze.

BEST OF PROOF.

That Hyomei Will Cure All Forms of Catarrhal Diseases.

Testimonials could be printed by the thousands, many of them from Marion and nearby towns, that Hyomei is an absolute cure for all catarrhal troubles, but the best proof of its unusual curative powers is the guarantee that Haynes & Taylor give with every outfit that they sell. "Money back if Hyomei does not do all that is claimed for it."

Hyomei is not a secret remedy. Its formula is given freely to physicians who want to know what they use when they prescribe Hyomei. It is guaranteed under the Pure Food and Drugs Law by serial No. 1418.

By breathing Hyomei, the healing medication goes directly to every nook and corner of the air passages where the catarrhal germs may lurk, and disinfects and heals. To be convinced of this you have only to give it a trial, remembering that if it does not cure, Haynes & Taylor will refund your money.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00, and in most cases is sufficient to cure the disease, making it not only a scientific treatment but one that is highly economical. Get an outfit today from Haynes & Taylor if you have any catarrh.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes: W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for a bout two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by Haynes & Taylor, and J. H. Orme druggists, 50 cents.

ELEPHANTIASIS.

Brooklyn Woman Afflicted With This Rare and Remarkable Disease.

Afflicted with a rare disease, elephantiasis, which gives no sign of abating. Mrs. Juliette Felt is confined in the King's County hospital, Brooklyn, her body slowly but surely increasing in size. She now weighs 525 pounds and is daily gaining weight.

Physicians at the hospital declare it is the most malignant and remarkable case of elephantiasis that has been brought to the attention of the medical fraternity. Every step in the progress of the disease, the hourly condition of the woman, her action and moods, and a complete history of the case are being carefully noted and kept for the benefit of the medical world.

Her skin resembles that of an elephant. It is thick, hard and coarse. It is said to be so much like that of an elephant that it would be difficult to tell the difference. During the last two years she has increased in weight from 350 pounds to 535. The doctors declare she may weigh more than half a ton in ten years.

Before Mrs. Felt was attacked by the disease she weighed about 149 pounds. Seven years ago she experienced an itching sensation in the left leg. Some days later the itching ceased, but it was followed by a slight swelling. Every month she noticed the swelling was greater and it was accompanied by pain.

Presently she began to get very heavy. She took on weight rapidly on the body, arms and legs. The face was not affected. The body and the legs seemed to increase in size correspondingly. For a long time Mrs. Felt assumed she was merely increasing in weight from natural causes. She could not account for the twitching and pain in her body.

When Mrs. Felt weighed herself two years ago and found she tipped the beam at 450 pounds, she became worried. She started to take patent medicines in the hope that her weight would be reduced. She also dieted herself, refraining from eating all starchy foods. But it had no beneficial effect. The increase in weight was accompanied by the pronounced hardening of her skin, it also being very coarse and heavy. She could not move about now except without great difficulty. She now suffered terribly from pains of the body. Her head ached continually. She could gain relief only when lying down.

A week ago, when she was unable to stand on her feet at all, a physician diagnosed her case as that of elephantiasis. He suggested her removal to a hospital. Her daughters, who are wealthy, wished to send her to a private institution, but at none of them were there any facilities or accommodations for such a case. The Kings County Hospital was the only institution capable of accommodating her.

A private ambulance conveyed her to the hospital last Sunday night. Twelve men carried her from the ambulance into the building. The task was especially difficult because the woman had to be handled with great care and much tenderness, as the slightest jolt to her. Nearly half an hour was consumed in getting her into the institution. Mrs. Felt suffered much while being carried from the elevator to a private ward on the third floor.

Two stout iron beds were put side by side. Three mattresses were placed on the beds.

There Mrs. Felt is now resting. Everything possible has been done to render her position comfortable. She finds it unbearable to lie long in one position and consequently moves from side to side.

The size of Mrs. Felt's body is a marvel even to the doctors at the hospital. Each of her legs are as large in circumference as the chest of a well developed man. Her arms and hands are huge, too. It is possible that her face may yet be attacked.—New York World.

"Ship 27 Babies," Wichita Writes to Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 25.—The published statement that the babies' home of the Humane Society is overcrowded and that the managers are in a quandary has brought a letter from Mrs. George Hodson, of Wichita, Kan., who writes in effect: "Send a lot of them here."

Mrs. Hodson says Wichita stands ready to provide for all of them. Right in Mrs. Hodson's own neighborhood and among her particular friends, whom she could vouch for, there were places for twenty-seven babies and more especially girl babies.

"Why," says the lady in her letter, "do you know, the police matron here had a girl baby to give away a little while ago and she received seventeen applications."

"You can fix up your babies and send them along as soon as you like," Mrs. Hodson concludes.

Youthful Driver Dragged to Death.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Sept. 23.—A boy named Hancock, aged eleven years, a son of Mrs. James Hancock, was killed at Lafayette yesterday, by falling from a wagon. When he was found he was being dragged, having become fastened in the gearing. He was driving alone at the time of the accident.

Mr. William Dollar, Good Citizen.

In a certain western town lives a gentleman whose name is William Dollar. They call him Dollar Bill when they get funny. But Mr. Dollar is a dignified, enterprising, good citizen.

Not every Dollar Bill is a good citizen. Many of them are prone to ignore the claims of their own community and run away to a big city to be spent. Many millions of Dollar Bills have left the smaller towns for the overgrown cities this present year of our Lord.

How many Dollar Bills have gone out of THIS TOWN—left home and gone to some big city, never to return?

Every time a Dollar

Bill leaves town it takes a two-cent stamp with it, for it goes to a Mail Order Store. That helps the postmaster a little, but it doesn't help the local merchant. It means just so much less trade for him.

Which means just so much less cash circulating in this community.
Which means just so much more social and business stagnation.
Which means the stunting of the town's growth just to that extent.

If you could figure up the Dollar Bills that leave town in this secret manner, like taking French leave—which you can't—you would know just how much the town is stunted by indulgence in this mail order stunt.

If these Dollar Bills were really good and enterprising citizens they would stay at home and circulate around, helping things along.

How many of YOUR Dollar Bills take the midnight express out of town on the Envelope Route?

Do You Want to Make The Women Happy?

Shopping by Mail is vastly unsatisfactory to the Female.

There isn't a woman in Christendom—or in Islam—who doesn't prefer ten times over the trip through a store to the trip to the postoffice.

Why, Lord bless their hearts, the ladies love to shop! It's just as unsatisfying and artificial to shop by mail as to make love by mail—and that's the limit.

But, while the women go to walk through piles of bargains, they love also to read about the bargains. When a newspaper comes to the house, which page does the woman peruse first? The page with the biggest shopping ads. Sure thing! Won't fail one time in ten. Test it and see.

In communities where the merchants don't advertise big enough to tempt the women, what happens? The Mail Order Catalogue comes along, full of attractive ads., with prices put down in black and white. The women read the catalogue; they are tempted by the bargains offered; they send their money by mail.

Thus they miss nine-tenths of the glory and joy of shopping. But what else can the poor ladies do?

Now, Mr. Merchant of Our Town, be good to the ladies. Give them some interesting reading matter. Print some of your bargains in your home paper. Put the prices there in black and white.

Isn't it really a pity to deprive the ladies of one of their supreme delights—shopping, seeing things, inspecting before taking?

BE GOOD TO THE LADIES AND YOU'LL BE PROSPEROUS.

Hoorah For Cleve.

Our genial friend H. Cleveland Woolf, formerly of this and Livingston counties at large, writes us under date of Sept. 25 as follows:

I am getting along first rate up here and having a good business, our bank has made 80 per cent. on our capital since March 3rd, 1907, which is a very good showing. Strawberries are the principal crop here, the crop amounted to nearly $100,000 this year and will be more next year, the farmers make from $300 to $500 off of each acre so if you see any one who wants to raise berries send them up.
Yours sincerely,
H. C. WOOLF.

Turns Wood and Water Into Sugar.

Barrel Hoops and Other Scraps
Changed to Chemically
Pure Sugar.

An electro-chemical process by which wood and water are actually converted into the purest and sweetest sugar is being demonstrated in a western city. The machine, which cost only $1,000, is composed of a water boiler, a furnace for heating steam until it turns into hydrogen and oxygen, a retort in which the charcoal is reduced to a gas and mixed with the hydrogen and oxygen, a water tank in which the combination of gases is cooled, an air compressor and a set of highly charged electrodes.

To operate the plant the inventor took an armful of pine wood, eucalyptus, corn cobs, a piece of old buggy and a barrel hoop and piled them into an oven where they were made into charcoal.

The charcoal rsady, he put 32 pounds of ia into the retort and started the fire under his water boiler. Twenty minutes later, when things were getting hot, he started the air compressor and a set of highly charged electrodes. The water, converted into steam, passed through a heater where it was dissociated into hydrogen and oxygen at a temperature of 3,000 degrees. The mixture of gases was then compressed upon the carbon heated to a like temperature.

Then he let the compressed gas flow past the electrodes and a fine spray of powdered sugar burst from the end of the pipe. Thirty minutes later it ceased. The entire output was about 70 pounds of sugar. It is claimed sugar can be produced commercially at a cost of only 1 cent per pound.—Popular Mechanics.

Makes Homely Women Pretty.

No woman no matter how regular her features may be can be called pretty if her complexion is bad. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup aids digestion and clears sallow blotched complexions by stimulating the liver and bowels. Orino Laxative Fruit Syrup does not nauseate or gripe and is mild and pleasant to take. Remember the name ORINO and refuse to accept any substitute. J. H. Orme.

ED PRESS.—We would be glad to publish through your columns what the Lord has done for us. We began a protracted meeting at Blackburn Church on the second Sunday in September. Bro. Moore pastor, the meeting convened in the first week, without seeming result, but the Lord was near shaming his hosts, the Christians were alived to the work, as was manifested by their earnest labors, fervent prayers and untiring zeal assisted by Rev. Eaton, of Marion. Through his earnest preaching and the deep earnest work of the church and united the Lord descended in power of his might and spirit and dwelt among us. Sinners were made to tremble and feel the power of the Lord and mourners to cry out: "What Shall I Do to be Saved" and fifteen were made to feel they were saved, the meeting closed on Sunday, the 22nd, from commencement at the waters on old Piney Creek where we had met to attend to the ordinance of baptism where Rev. Eaton delivered a discourse on its mode after which Bro. Moore led two boys and girls into its waters and buried them beneath its liquid waves. The ten baptized were: Jim East, George Boyd, Hermon Boyd, Ernest and Clarence Davis, Miss Nina Fralick, Nannie and Bertha and Nellie Davis and Ivey Boyd. All of them boys and girls who will come on and take places of the old when their work is done. We had a most glorious revival and the church built up, showing that when Zion travels she shall bring forth sons and daughters in honor and glory to God.

Throws Shoe at His Wife.

New York, Sept. 28.—Because she stayed out too late at night, Archmar Siver, ex-chief of the Kabyle Northern Africa, today tried to divorce his wife, after the custom of his race, by throwing his shoe at her. The result landed him in the Tombs court on a charge of assault.

Siver admitted that he had thrown his shoe at his wife, but said that her conduct had passed all bounds, and he had lost patience.

"If I was in my own country," said Siver, "I would have known just what to do, but here in America I could only throw my shoe at her. That means divorce in my country." Annie said she would stay at home if her husband would increase the weekly allowance.

Magistrate Dorge sent the pair home. Siver who was chief of the Kabyle tribe, which is now giving the French so much trouble in Morocco, came to America to make his fortune. Shortly after his arrival he fell in love with Annie, a Bohemian Catholic, and despite the differences of religion and race, they were married.

Stomach trouble, Heart and Kidney ailments, can be quickly corrected with a prescription known to druggists everywhere as Dr. Shoop's Restorative. The prompt and surprising relief which this remedy immediately brings is entirely due to its Restorative action upon the controlling nerves of the Stomach, etc.

A weak stomach, causing dyspepsia, a weak Heart with palpitation or intermittent pulse, always means weak Stomach nerves or weak Heart nerves. Strengthen these inside or controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how quickly these ailments disappear. Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis., will mail samples free. Write for them. A test will tell. Your health is certainly worth this simple trial. Sold by Haynes & Taylor.

Red Men, New Lodge to be Organized in Marion.

A new lodge of the Improved Order of Red Men is to be organized in Marion, therefore a history of the order will prove interesting.

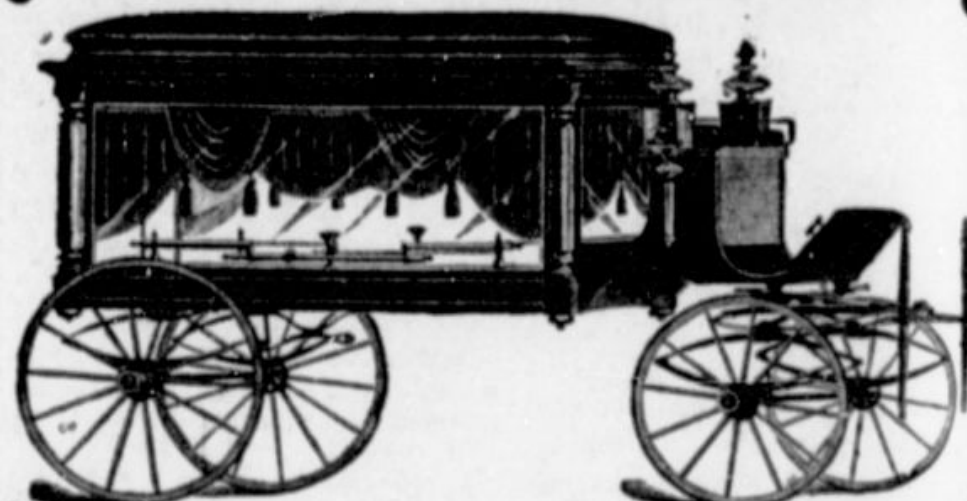

The order was founded in 1763 by George Washington, the father of our country. In 1773 occurred the throwing overboard the tea party in Boston Harbor, as history tells us, and there our forefathers sacrificed their lives for freedom and liberty, hence the motto of the great order of Red Men: "Freedom, Friendship, Charity and Liberty."

The order of Red Men should appeal to every true American citizen. This order does not interfere with civil or religious liberties and is for white people only. An initiation fee of $6.00 and 50c per month dues entitles a brother to $5.00 a week while sick, $50.00 for funeral expenses, $25.00 for a brother's wife and $10.00 per month for each orphan until he or she shall reach the age of 16 years. For information call on David Moskovitz at Mrs. C. P. Noggle's boarding house.

Children Should Be Taught.

not to read in the twilight, not to stoop too much over their tasks, not to strain their eyes in any way. Thus may eyesight be saved in most cases. But when the damage has been done, waste no time in bringing your little ones here to have their eyes examined free, to get them what they need in glasses at fair prices.
