MARION TO HAVE CANNERY.

Enterprise Launched and Now Well Under Way.

The representatives of the "Hasting and Industrial enterprises of Chicago," at the solicitation of a citizen of this city were here last week and the week before endeavoring to interest our people in a canning factory. They met with much encouragement as many of our citizens felt that such an enterprise would be a vast benefit to the city and in fact the entire community.

It is a well known fact that tomatoes, at the prices that have obtained at canning factories, are a very profitable crop, besides being highly advantageous to the land, and therefore many farmers are already interested in growing a few acres the coming season.

A canvass of the town also revealed the fact that many of our citizens preferred to not have "foreign" help, but felt that the cannery could be gotten up cheaper and more satisfactorily by home people and as Mr. John W. Wilson had become interested, it was decided to let him have a clear field and no competition and the Messrs. Gable, father and son, who came here in the interest of the "Hasting Industrial Co.," were induced to drop the matter for the present. They accordingly left for southern Indiana, where they are putting up a cannery for a local company. They expected when they left here to return after the election. In the meantime Mr. J. W. Wilson is getting all the stock subscribed that he can by local capitalists and farmers and he hopes to complete the organization before Nov. 5th.

Among those who have taken stock and the amount are the following: J. W. Wilson, $500; T. H. Cochran, $500; J. N. Boston, $500; George H. Foster, $500.

Notice of Election.

Notice is hereby given that the writ of election was issued by the Judge of the Crittenden County Court to fill a vacancy in the office of Assessor for Crittenden County, caused by the death of J. Anthony Davidson, said election to be held in the various voting precincts throughout Crittenden County on the 5th day of November, 1907.

To Buy Tobacco Was Announced By Henderson Firms.

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 27.—In a signed statement appearing as an advertisement in both the local Henderson dailies this morning, the American Tobacco Company, the Imperial Tobacco Company, Dibrell, Glover Co., Gallaher, Limited, John H. Hodge Tobacco Company, Thomas Hodge, Nosworthy & Argue and Arthur B. Jarvis state that they will buy tobacco in this city as usual this winter.

Some days ago a committee from the association of growers went to the local merchants and asked them to keep their buyers out of the field. What transpired at that conference was not given out. The secretary of the association here states that there will be less than 5 per cent. of the crop outside of the association when the books close. Fourteen hundred acres were pledged Saturday.

The notice is as follows:

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 26, 1907.

We the undersigned Tobacco Dealers in Henderson, Ky., do hereby state that it is our full intention to buy tobacco as usual this winter.

The American Tobacco Co., Incorporated, by B. B. Beverley Buyer.

The Imperial Tobacco Co., of Kentucky, Incorporated.

Dibrell-Glover Co., Incorporated.

Gallaher Limited, Incorporated.

Farmers in Dawson With Whips.

Dawson, Ky., Oct. 28.—Twenty-five men, supposed to be members of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association, rode into Dawson Springs Saturday night and began to inquire for H. B. ("Bud") Williams, a tobacco buyer for the Imperial Tobacco Company.

They visited the stores and public places, but were unable to locate Mr. Williams. They stopped citizens on the streets and demanded to be shown to Mr. Williams' home. Only a short time before, Mr. Williams had been seen on the streets, but he was evidently warned of the coming of the strange party and they were unable to locate him.

Silas Kevil, the negro porter at the Hotel Arcadia, was stopped on the street, and was almost terrified when he found himself surrounded by a body of determined-looking men dressed in slouch hats and armed with buggy whips. They wanted Kevil to locate Mr. Williams for them, but the negro was frightened and almost speechless and was unable to do their bidding.

Bradley Wilson, chairman of the Dark Tobacco Growers' Association of Hopkins county, is in Dawson Springs for the purpose of investigating the reports that had been made to him to the effect that Mr. Williams had bought or had attempted to buy tobacco that had been pledged to the association.

To the Voters of the City of Marion.

Inasmuch as Mr. W. H. Clark, candidate for Mayor on what is known as "The Peoples' Ticket" has published a statement giving his reasons for making the race, and the necessity for another ticket in addition to the Citizens Ticket, of which the undersigned are the nominees, from which statement of Mr. Clark the citizens might be led to presume that we are advocating the measures which he proposes to correct, and in order that the voters may know our position upon these matters, we desire to submit the following statement of our intentions if we should be elected.

First, we do not believe that it is necessary to have more than one telephone exchange in our town, for the reason that it is a double tax upon the business men, who would be required to subscribe to two 'phones instead of one, and for the further reason that we think our streets should not be furthered encumbered with the poles and wires necessary for the establishment of another system, not only taking up the use of the street, but increasing the danger to the citizens by the increased liability of the wires to become crossed with the electric light wires.

We also believe that the expenses of operating the city should be kept down to the lowest possible limit, compatible with good government and the maintenance of our streets in good condition. We also endorse the adoption of the local option law in our town, and we believe that any violation of the local option law by the sale of whiskey or other intoxicants or the importation of any of them for the purpose of sale in our city, in violation of the law, should be punished to the fullest extent of the law, and we pledge ourselves to use our best endeavors to have any one engaged in the sale of intoxicating liquor within the town, punished to the fullest extent of the law without partiality or favor to any one. And in this connection, we pledge ourselves that we will not repeal the present ordinance which provides a penalty of imprisonment for any violating the local option law. As our Board is nominated as a non-partisan Board, and is not the ticket of any party, we do not believe that the politics of any one should be considered in selection of officers to be named by the Board of Councilmen, and in the selection of officers we shall endeavor to select those best qualified to perform the duties of the offices to be filled without regard to politics.

In regard to the Ordinance fixing the salary of the City Attorney at $300.00, which was passed at the first meeting while Dr. Shively, the Peoples candidate for Mayor, was in office, while we do not wish to question the judgment of the old Council for passing the ordinance at that time, when saloons were open in the city, and prosecutions were daily occurrences in the Police Court, yet, since the conditions have changed so that we have no open saloons in our city, and the duties of the City Attorney do not demand so much time, we do not believe that the conditions at present justify the payment of the salary of $300.00 to the City Attorney, and we are in favor of reducing same.

With this statement of our views upon the above matters, which seem at present to be of principal importance to the town, we submit our claims to the voters, with the promise that, if elected, we will use our best endeavors to so administer the affairs of the city as to keep the taxes at the lowest possible amount.

Respectfully,
J. W. BLUE,

W. B. Yandell, J. M. Freeman,
H. V. Stone, R. L. Nunn, Jesse Olive, J. B. Hubbard.

Fox—Parsons.

Married, Wednesday noon, Oct. 23rd, Pinckneyville, at the pleasant home of the bride's mother, Dr. Jas. Ernest Fox and Miss Gratia D. Parsons. This is the happy consummation of several years of delightful pursuit. The groom is the popular young physician of Levas, and the bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Parsons, of Pinckneyville.

Immediately after the ceremony they proceeded on their bridal trip to Crider and Shady Grove where they visited relatives and friends. Their many friends attest their high appreciation by the many handsome and useful presents received.

An Old Deed.

STATE OF KENTUCKY,
Livingston County,

On the 9th day of August, 1832,
personally appeared in Court before
C. Haynes, J. Watts, James Cruice
and William Stewart Esq., the Court of Livingston County now setting, James Sullinger, a resident of Livingston county, in the State of Kentucky, aged 68 years, who being first duly sworn according to law doth on his oath make the following declaration in order to obtain the benefit of the act of Congress passed June the 7th, 1832.

That he entered the service of the United States under the following named officers and served as herein
stated to-wit:

That he was born 30th December, 1764, in Chatham County, State of North Carolina, and was raised in Guilford County, same state, where he at the age of about 15, volunteered in a company of minute men, commanded by Capt. Gillespie (which was sometimes called Guilford Dragoons.) That the time of his joining this company was just after the defeat of Gates, and at the time the British were on Dan River. This is as nigh the time as he can remember, and continued in the service until the war ended which he thinks was between two and three years. That during this time the Company was constantly patrolling the country and in suppressing the Tories, moving from one point to another as occasion required, that they often pursued the celebrated Colorado Farming and constantly watched his movements.
That at the time of the battle of Whitells mill, he was a pilot for
Col. Lee's men to the iron works at Troublesome Creek.

That after the battle of Guilford,
we joined Green's army and proceeded down toward Wilmington as far deep river and there left the pursuit, having been there ordered to turn back and guard some baggage wagons going from Hillsboro to Statesboro loaded with bacon for Green's army, which duty was performed, and we marched down on little Pedee where the Tories had built a Fort, and who got an item of our approach, fled into the sand hills after setting fire to the fort. That we then joined Col. Isaacs
(from Burk County) on deep river near the Buffalo ford and remaining with him about two months when the country was cleared of the Tories and peace was declared. That he knows of no person in this country (save his brother Peter,) who can prove his service.

There is a Thomas Hamilton in Sumner County, Tennessee, who served with him, and who was living this last spring, but it is impossible to procure his evidence here in this court. That he came to the western country in 1802 and has lived here ever since though not all the time in this county. That he knows of no clergymen whose attendance he can procure without great trouble and expense. He hereby relinquishes every claim whatever to a pension or annuity except the present, and declares that his name is not on the role of the agency of any State.

Sworn to before me and subscribed
the day and year aforesaid in open Court.

JAMES SULLINGER.

We, William D. Dorris, Timothy O'Neal and Peter Sullinger, residing in the County of Livingston and State of Kentucky, hereby certify that we are well acquainted with James Sullinger who has subscribed and sworn to the above declaration, that we believe him to be sixty-eight years of age that he is reputed and believed in the neighborhood where he resides to have been a soldier of the Revolution, and that we concur in that opinion. Sworn to and subscribed the day and year aforesaid
in open court.

TIMOTHY O'NEAL.

PETER SULLINGER.

Peter Sullinger came personally into court and being duly sworn, de-poses and says that he will be sixty-three years of age in September next.
That the above named James Sullinger, and that he the said James did serve as a minute man under Gillespie as he has stated in his declaration and from his (said Peter's) knowledge of the facts related in his declaration he does not doubt the truth of everything he has related. That he the said Peter was not old enough himself to know of the service of his brother.

And the said Court do hereby declare their opinion after the investigation of the matter, and after putting the interrogations prescribed by the War Department, that the above named applicant was a revolutionary soldier and served as he states and the Court further certifies that it appears to them that William D. Dorris, Timothy O'Neal and Peter Sullinger
who has signed the preceding certificate are residents in the county of Livingston and State of Kentucky, and credible persons, and that in their opinion it would be difficult and too much trouble for the applicant to procure a clergyman to vouch for his standing and character.

Development of Electric Power.

While the actual history of electrical power dates back to 1834, the year Thomas Davenport, the self-taught Vermont blacksmith, discovered the electric motor, the trial development of the power has been since 1880. The greatest growth in this industry has been during the past fifteen years, and each year sees a greater increase in the business of manufacturing electrical motors, until now it is estimated that fully 10,000 electric motors are turning out every month by the General Electric Company and other large electrical manufacturing concerns.

Since 1870 all power has increased wonderfully in this country. The greatest actual and relative increase occurred between 1890 and 1900.
Steam increased 77.7 per cent; gas 1,408.9 per cent; water 15.9 per cent, electricity 1,895.4 per cent,
(the greatest increase); other power
944.8 per cent.

The use of electrical current for the transmission of power has been one of the most notable features in the development of manufacturing.
In 1890 the United States census reported 15,569 horse power. The census of 1905 showed that this class of power amounted to 1,138,208 horse power. The total of other classes of power were given for 1905 as follows:
Steam 10,664,560; gas, 289,514;
water, 1,647,969; other power, 91, 789; rented, 632,905. From 1900 to 1905 steam power increased only 31 per cent; gas power, 114 per cent;
water power 13.3 per cent; electricity 264.4 per cent; other power, 83.6 per cent; rented power, 98.1 per cent.

Mechanical power of some variety was used in 134,520, or 62.2 per cent.

Electricity for every industry is the goal for which electrical manufacturing concerns are striving with the result that motors have been improved and made adaptable for every branch of manufacturing from the sawmills to the mines, from toys to battleships; from the cotton gin to the sewing machine, from the smallest to the largest industrial plant.
Motors are made in every size from the little fellow which can be carried in the vest pocket to the monster 6,000 horse power induction motor, the largest in the world, built for the Indiana Steel Corporation by the General Electric Company.

The growth of motor power during current year promises to be even more wonderful than last, and 1906
was far ahead of 1905 in this respect.
The cost of electricity has been greatly reduced by the development of the steam turbine. The adoption of direct drive in manufacturing, that is, the motors are connected direct with the machine, doing away with all shafting and belting, and thus saving in transmission from 30 to 60 per cent of the power, has greatly increased the demand for electrical power. The future of electricity is indeed bright. Scientists, inventors and prognosticators say that an electrical age is dawning, and that all the industrial wheels in the world will be turned by the mysterious power in time to come.

Ollie James Puts Life Into the Campaign.

Danville, Oct. 21.—[Special.]— Ollie James spoke to a big crowd of Democrats at the Courthouse this afternoon. Much enthusiasm was manifested and the auditors stamped the floor, yelled and waved their hats
when the big Congressman scored a point. He said that Wilson had said enough things about him. At Hopkinsville the Republican candidate for Governor said: "We are tired of Crispy Beekham; we are tired of Incompetent Hager and we are tired of James." With his characteristic smile, Ollie said: "Well, I have been rolling Gus around a good deal lately."

Mr. James read extracts from the tariff laws and said that he had been formerly bothered a great deal as to why asafetida had been admitted on the free list, and that the whole matter was made clear in his mind when Roosevelt dined with Booker Washington. He denounced Wilson for his declaration that he would have with Booker Washington had he been President Roosevelt and hauled him over the coals as attorney for both the American Tobacco Company and the Continental Tobacco Company.
He produced the records to show that Wilson had been representing the trusts.

Mr. James said that Bryan is the
the greatest Democrat in the world and that the people would not take any other man in his stead and the crowd yelled his approval. The speaker created the first real enthusiasm among local Democrats and work for the whole State ticket will begin in earnest now. At times this afternoon applause lasted for five minutes. Mr. James spoke nearly three hours and the crowd protested
when he was forced to stop.

and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by Haynes &

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

This remedy is intended especially for coughs, colds and croup. From a small beginning its sale and use has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Why?
Because it has proved especially valuable for these diseases. People who once use it are so much pleased with the prompt cure which it effects that they recommend it to their friends and neighbors. It is not a palliative intended to merely give temporary relief, but effects
a permanent cure. It contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidentially to a baby as to an adult. Sold by J. H. ORME. 4c

The Meddlesome Giraffe

There were two giraffes who kept house together in the desert of Tim-buktou. They were a young couple who had recently been married, and because of their inquisitiveness I have called them Adam and Eve.

They were short and sleek and spotted, with necks no longer than a pony's, for in the days I speak of the giraffes ate grain like a horse and did not bother with trees.

One-day Eve came running to Adam, saying, "Oh, Adam, I've found the greatest bargain!"

"What is it, my dear?"

"It's a lovely box of marshmallows,
all made up in silver paper, left here by

"TRY A PIECE WITH ME."
That last band of English soldiers, it will last me a month at least, and all for nothing."

"Well, I shan't touch it. I don't believe in eating strange foods," said the husband decidedly.

"Oh, try a piece with me, dear," she pleaded. "You know you won't refuse your Eve."

Saying which she took out a yeast cake from the box and ate it and gave him a piece also.

"It's pretty good," said both. "Makes you thirsty, though," said she after eating nearly the whole box.

Both took a large drink of water at the spring. But, terrible to relate, the yeast began to work and lifted their heads higher and higher and strained their poor necks all out of proportion until they stood eighteen feet high from toe to crown. "Oh, dear, I wish we hadn't eaten them," said Eve.

"Yes, you'll have to get your supper off a tree top tonight. Serves you right; you tempted me," said Adam sulkily.

And from that day to this the giraffe has had a long neck. Don't meddle.—

Why Pete Wasn't Sold

Mr. Benson was plowing the ten acre field, and his wife came out to bring him his dinner. She brought Bennie, the six-months-old baby.

The day was warm and Bennie fell fast asleep, so his mother laid him on a quilt in a fence corner where some bushes shaded him and sat down to chat with her husband.

Then old Pete was hooked to the plow and started on a furrow. He went two or three yards, straining at the plow and pulling it along bravely.

RIGHT IN FRONT OF OLD PETE'S HOOF!
then he stopped short, and no coaxing or threatening could make him lift a foot.

"A mule's the meanest thing on earth," shouted Mr. Benson. "I'm going to sell this one. Hi, there! You Pete!" And he slapped the lines on Pete's back till they rattled. But the mule only shrugged his shoulders.

"Oh, the baby! The baby's gone!"
cried Mrs. Benson.

Old Pete was forgotten, while the farmer and his wife both searched for the child. And where do you think they found him? Right in front of old Pete's hoofs! If the mule had made one step forward he must have stepped on the baby. If he had even managed to step over him carefully, he must have dragged the plow upon him.
Bennie's mother hugged the mule—and I suppose it was the first time
anybody ever petted him in his life.
But you may be sure that Pete was not sold. He is growing old on Mr.
Benson's farm, and Bennie is getting big enough to ride him now.—Worcester

Where Mushrooms Grow.

Mushrooms grow in many strange places—among them the catacombs at Paris. Of late another curious field for their growth has been selected in France. The St. Denis (department of the Seine) railway tunnel is no longer used for the purpose for which it was originally intended. The ground therein has been cut up into ridges, divided from each other by means of furrows, upon which whole battalions of mushrooms are now flourishing. In Scotland a company is now growing mushrooms in a tunnel 3,000 feet long.
It was originally built by the North
British railway, and is 60 feet below

TEDDY KILLED A BEAR.

President Roosevelt. Famous Dead-wood Dick in Disguise. Shoots Old Bruin in Louisiana Thicket.

New Orleans, Oct. 18.—News of the killing of a big black bear by President Roosevelt in the canebrakes near Bear Lake, La., reached New Orleans this morning in a telegram to John M. Parker, one of the gentlemen who invited the President to hunt in the State, and who himself was a member of the hunting party until business required his return to New Orleans several days ago.

The telegram to Mr. Parker was signed by Mr. Leo Shields, another member of the party, and read as follows:

"President Roosevelt killed a great big bear. Went into thicket after him."

No particulars were stated in the telegram, but Mr. Parker surmised that the President bagged the bear late yesterday. Two days ago several trails were struck, but only once did the dogs come up on the bears and then it became necessary for a negro hunter in the party to kill the bear immediately to save the dogs.

It was announced yesterday that the President had started out early and that with fresh and better dogs, trails had been struck in the morning and were being followed in a lively manner.

CHASE LASTED FOUR HOURS.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 18.—The President killed a bear late yesterday afternoon. Few details of the President's bear killing are known, except that it took place late yesterday afternoon after he and the other hunters with him had followed the dogs in the chase through the jungles for four hours.

The beast was a female of the black variety, and was beyond the average size. The fact that she was secured at all is attributed to the staying qualities of the new dogs.

The news was brought in by a courier who arrived from Bear Lake this morning. The exploit has given heart to the camp, and the hunters are now working with renewed vigor in the hope of making a brilliant finish.

Doctors Said He Would Not Live.

Peter Fry, Woodruff, Pa., writes: "After doctoring for two years with the best physicians in Waynesburg, and still getting worse, the doctors advised me if I had any business to attend to I had better attend to it at once, as I could not possibly live another month as there was no cure for me. Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me by a friend, and I immediately sent my son to the store for it, and after taking three bottles I began to get better and continued to improve until I was entirely well." MR. FISH BESTS HARRIMAN Secures Postponement of Illinois Central Meeting.

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Stuyvesant Fish early today secured a postponement of the Illinois Central stockholders' meeting until December 18. The Harriman people agreed to the adjournment, although they had previously been anxious to push matters as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Fish gave out a statement tonight in which he claims to have had a majority of from thirty to fifty thousand when the count of proxies was abandoned. The statement says: "Our victory is most gratifying and real. The best we could have hoped for under Judge Ball's modified order was to prevent an election of directors at that time. This has not only been accomplished, but we have also secured definite adjournment until December."

The Old House.

Old haunted house that hides away Deep in the willows, people say Your shelter still your tenants who Have lived and aged and died with you.

And country swains, who pass your way, Pass quietly and quickly, too.

And so you do, old domicile! Your olden guests, in regal style, Meet 'neath your roof when darkness falls—

Assemble when the night-bird calls And tarry at your board awhile Till dawn's first somber warning falls.

I've seen them when the moonbeams lit Your cold gray hearth and shadows flit—

A child and mother waiting there For one who from his daily care And toil now comes to rest from it— A picture wondrous, wondrous fair!

I've seen thy little children play Again as in that distant day:

I've seen a bride in silk and lace— I've seen a corpse with peaceful face—

I've seen them all, both grave and gay

When darkness fell, old haunted place!

About thee something sweet enthralls The souls of men when darkness falls

And moonbeams kiss thee tenderly; The simple domesticity,

That Time has writ upon your walls, Hath strange and happy charms for me!

Will Use Bears In Dash for Pole.

New York, Oct. 22.—Capt. Raold Amundson, the Norwegian Arctic explorer, arrived here today and is going to lecture in different parts of the country about his experience in the far north and how he discovered the western passage, which explorers had tried for 400 years to discover.

He also proposes the novel plan of using polar bears in a dash for the north pole. Capt. Amundson said:

"I intend to try to find the pole and will start in 1910. From what I have learned through our passage I am convinced that the voyage as planned by the Jeannette was the right one, and I shall profit by the experience of that voyage. I shall equip a vessel for a stay of six years and figure that it will take possibly five years to accomplish what we set out to do."

"I am having some polar bears trained by an animal trainer. These bears, when properly trained, are as tractable as oxen and can pull sledges well. They are at home in the cold of the Arctic and can easily be cared for and fed with seal meat. When near enough to the pole it is my intention to use these bears to make a dash. There will be six of these bears and they will haul three sledges."

It Wasn't Us!

A Kentucky newspaper threatened to publish the name of the young man who was seen with his sweet heart's head on his shoulder if he didn't come across with a dollar on subscription. Twenty-seven young men shipped in and subscribed for the paper, and letters were received from two or three others saying they would subscribe as soon as they got the dollar.—Exchange.

More Buyers Asked to Quit.

Morganfield, Ky., Oct. 27.—Members of the American Society of Equity called on J. Whittle Clark, an independent buyer of tobacco here, and told him they wanted him to quit buying at once. Mr. Clark bought tobacco property here and has enlarged the warehouses and put in extensive improvements at a large expense since he has been here. There were about a dozen men, sober, quiet and substantial farmers, in the crowd. Earlier in the day they called on Henry Rudy, buyer for the Imperial Tobacco Company in Uniontown.

Head Blown Off.

Harlan, Ky., Oct. 28.—Marion Ledford, a farmer of Caswood, blew his brains out with an old squirrel rifle and died instantly.

Young Mr. Ledford decided to take a rabbit hunt and went to the rack and took the old rifle down and walked out of the house on to the porch. He must have thought the gun was not loaded for he set the breach upon the floor and putting the muzzle to his mouth began to blow when the gun exploded, the whole charge entering his mouth, passing up and out at the top of his head.

Woman.

BY ORONEL KENTUCKY.

During the closing exercises of the "Pennyrite" Seminary, the Professor announced that the Junior Class of the next session would embrace seventeen lovely young ladies. "Be sure to put me down as a member of the Junior Class," exclaimed the nice young man. Wherefore, the old Colonel is inclined to remark: "A silver trumpet is none too good to herald the delicious tootsie of my toot. Commend me to the chivalrous youth, kneeling at the shrine of Beauty. More to be desired than the grandest aureole of fame is the light of a virtuous woman's love. The brave man never comes into the presence of a pretty girl without realizing that he has caught a glimpse of Heaven. She can say more with a single tear than man can express in a whole book. Her eyes are brighter than the stars, her lips are like the luscious cherry, her smile is glory hallelujah, and her kiss, oh Lordy!

To kiss her under the mistletoe is pleasant, I suppose. But I prefer informally To kiss her under the—nose.

Woman rules the world; the cradle she rocks, and she darns our socks. Our victuals she cooks, and she pulls off our boots when we get fatigued. Bless the dear creatures; they will love us, even when we are gone, that is, if we are not too far gone. They tell us that woman is denied the privilege of joining a benevolent society because she cannot keep a secret; because she would jump upon a chair and scream for dear life when a little celluloid mouse is turned loose in her midst, because she don't know how to ride the Billy Goat like a man. Oh, I deny the allegation, and defy the alligators. Woman is man's superior in every thing noble and good, wiser in the marriage row, more patient under affliction, and braver in the hour of adversity. Withered be the arm raised to strike her, and blasted be the tongue that would dare utter an unkind word against her good name. I know not what other men may think, but as for me, give me woman or give me death. She is the only thing on earth that can compare with the Star Spangled Banner. A pretty girl can run a man crazy for twenty-four solid hours, and then in a second and a half send him to the gates of Paradise by simply clothing him under the chin. One touch of her little hand is enough to make the most incorrigible old bachelor jump heels over head into a barrel of fresh New Orleans molasses. The poetry of her motion, as she trips the light fantastic, makes the food, fascinating fellow feel fresh as a mountain stream, sparkling as champagne and inspiring as an intellectual cocktail. Oh, wait a minute! The Sacred Scriptures tell us woman was created from the rib of the first man, considering the raw material, that is the finest job that has ever been accomplished.

Oh, she is the star, that shines with brightest ray Where'er our footsteps roam,
The only sovereign we obey,
The angel of our home.

Pays $162 for Quarter.

By paying the highest price ever given for quarter dollars of the year 1896 James H. Manning, a banker in Albany, obtained two of these coins at the auction sale held at No. 14 East Twenty-third Street.

"For a quarter dollar which the date '1896' was stamped over the date of the preceding year Mr. Manning paid the record price of $162. For a coin of the same year, but bearing a perfect date, he paid $27. The highest price paid for a 'perfect date' of 1896 previous was $23 which was paid at the Smockley sale. Until that sale $17 had been the top price.

Barnett's Corn.

Wm. Barnett, of Tolin, is a kind hearted fellow, and has friends by the score as a consequence, a few days ago he sent Tom Vandell corn to fatten his hogs by Jim Thomas, the Tolin mail carrier. As the banker had two due porters "put up" and was wondering where the food had come from, since corn has soared so high, he saw, of course, in the language of Toddy "delighted" when he saw the mail carrier hand the Tolin mail pouch every day on the Tolin route with the Tolin Bank with the name of Barnett's Corn on it. Barnett's Corn is a good thing, and they are a good thing, too. Barnett's Corn is a good thing, and they are a good thing, too. Barnett's Corn is a good thing, and they are a good thing, too.

Veterans Meeting.

The Netoma Club which has been dubbed "Old Faithful," on account of its perseverance and attentions of the little amenities of life, entertainment at the residence of Mrs. J. W. Blue, in honor of Mrs. Caroline Maxwell, who was sojourning in our midst after an absence of two years in the Golden West. "There was a feast of reason and a flow of soul." Refreshments and contests were indulged in, but they are scarcely worth mentioning on such occasions. Altogether it was both a sweet and enjoyable afternoon—except about when "Auld Lang Syne and My Old Kentucky Home" were sung in concert which almost caused the meeting to dissolve in tears; as only a few of the stout-hearted could sing more than one stanza.

Whiskey in His Grave.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 28.—Phineas G. Wright had his grave reopened at Putnam to place a case of whiskey beside the coffin, which has been in the grave more than a year awaiting for Wright's company. He is seventy-five years old. Several years ago Wright caused a granite block to be placed over the grave with his name to be carved on it. The cut of the whiskey did not please him and he caused the coffin to be taken the stone enough to conform to his private adornment. The inscription below the name reads: "Going, but know not where."

NEW ORLEANS NEWS.

Lively Times in New Orleans—Exposition in New Orleans in 1915.

A larger number of visitors are expected here than usual.

The health of this city has been unusually good for the past season.

Dan Patch will pace against time today at the City Park Race Track.

The uniting of the Oceans will be celebrated by a World's Exposition in New Orleans in 1915.

Our move on ordinance compels visitors to see the sights by rubber seeking in street cars, or flying in automobiles.

The Louisiana cane crop is reported unusually large and grinding operation will be in full force by the first of next month.

The Crescent City assessment has increased $13,000,000 in the last year. This will add materially to appropriation of $5,000,000 for sewerage which is now well under way.

With anticipation we look forward each week with pleasure and interest the weekly receipt of the Crittenden RECORD PRESS as the perusal of same always leave a pleasant flavor in the South.

The City of New Orleans is at present in the throes of the greatest building boom in its history. Over a dozen skyscrapers, both completed and under course of construction, being erected representing an estimated valuation of nearly half a billion of dollars.

Nov. 1st, being in New Orleans "All Saints Day" the believers and patriots are now busying themselves preparing family tombs and decorating same with cut flowers in memory of their departed. This is a custom peculiar to the State of Louisiana only. The tombs being literally covered with floral tributes.

The "Aero Club" of the United States at one time thought seriously of having their next annual meet here, but after close investigation found that the heights of the buildings now in course of construction and to be erected would very seriously interfere with the course, consequently New Orleans will not have the pleasure of entertaining their airships next year.

Those who have the heartaches of losing by death those they love, must indeed feel a satisfaction in seeing and knowing they are buried nicely in best style and with solemnity.

The protracted meeting will begin the second Sunday in December, 1907 at Crooked Creek Church with Bro. E. H. Cunningham to assist the pastor. Everybody come out and hear him.

Miss Lillian Orr, of Berry's Ferry was the guest of relatives here last week while en route home from a visit to her sister at Repton, who has just returned from a year's sojourn in California at the home of her Uncle Frank Orr in Lancaster.

Maurice Boston has leased the "Concrete building" just east of the Post Office, and has purchased a "moving picture machine" similar to the one Henry Morrison had here and will soon begin to give entertainments on two evenings each week.

Gabe Towery, Albert Travis and Noah Fox all of Iron Hill, each had the misfortune to lose a fine horse last week and each one was valued at $150 or more. Colic was the cause of their deaths and it was supposed to be caused by over feeding new stock peas. We always regret to hear of a neighbor and friend losing a fine animal, and at this time horses are almost like ready money and the loss is especially a keen one to these good men.

George Lawson left Tuesday for Henderson, Ky.

Miss Grace Ainsworth is the guest of Miss Ina Koon of Frances.

W. H. McElroy, of Princeton, was in the city Monday afternoon.

W. H. Crow left Monday for Harrisonburg, La., where he will spend the winter.

Albert Butler, of Livingston county, Republican candidate for Representative, has, we are informed been quite ill at his home near Salem and was confined to his bed for several days, which is the cause for much regret by his family and friends.

Robt. Packett of San Francisco, California, is trying through his agents to purchase a home for his mother Mrs. Cynthia Pickett and sister Miss Hughey Cisco. This is a most commendable thing for any boy or man to do and we hope he will be successful.

R. F. Dorr, the funeral Director, and only licensed embalmer has an innovation in the way of a pearl-white tulle veil to spread over the fine caskets he sells when the body is awaiting burial. This is the newest thing out and is used only by up-to-date undertakers.

Mrs. H. H. Sayre entertained several ladies at dinner Wednesday at 1 o'clock in honor of Mrs. Carrie Maxwell. The affair was entirely informal and was just an old fashioned dining and "spending the day." Among those who partook of Mrs. Sayre's bountiful hospitality were, Mesdames R. H. Woods, D. Woods, A. V. McFee, S. M. Jenkins, R. W. Wilson and R. F. Dorr.

Mr. H. D. Sale, who has been sick so long, was taken to Paducah, Thursday, and put under physicians in Riverside Hospital. He was accompanied by Dr. T. A. Frazer and his wife, Mrs. Sale. He stood the trip very well and it is hoped he will soon recover.

Arthur W. Finley, one of our boys, has again received a much merited promotion from the "Cumberland Telephone Co." He now has charge of 10 telephone exchanges and has his office at Jackson, Miss., that of district messenger. He has been in recent years, first at Shreveport, La., and later at Vicksburg, Miss., and each move has been a promotion and at an increased salary.

Miss Frances Hoover, who is attending school here, visited her parents at Sheridan Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Gus Taylor was called to Princeton on account of the serious illness of her sister, Mrs. Gus Baker.

Rev. T. C. Gebauer, Secretary State S. S. Association will hold a rally at the Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock and in the evening at seven o'clock.

Dorr also has the steel caskets and vaults for children, so nothing rarely seen this side of the city.

As an evidence of what can be done at farming on Crittenden county land if a man only knows how judge J. P. Pierce had gathered this week on his farm adjoining town what some experts say is the finest crop of corn ever raised in the county considering acreage. It will sum up close to 100 bushels to the acre and many of the ears are over a foot long, some going to fifteen inches. This land has been taken care of and built up instead of run down and it should be a lesson to every farmer in the county.

Elsie Thomas, an employee of the "Marion Ice & Cold Storage Co." was arrested Tuesday by a U. S. Marshall charged with sending an obscene postal card through the mail. The card was intercepted by postmaster Crider and did not reach its destination, but on the contrary was turned over to the postal authorities who sent an inspector and U. S. Marshall, who took young Thomas to Hopkinsville where he gave bond, with Ex-Senator W. J. DeBoe as surety, for his appearance in Owensboro, at the United States District Court Nov. 25th.

Last Saturday evening little Miss Helen Sayre and her brother Bob entertained their little friends at their home on Gum street, which was well attended. Among those present were: Misses Mamie and Ruth Haynes, Gladys Drescher, Linda Jenkins, Nellie Olive Masters, Ted Boston, James Howerton, Robert Drescher, Jesse Olive, Dudley Noggle, Joseph and Lucien Walker, Robt. Jenkins, Homer McConnell. Prizes were awarded in a live contest which was won by Master Lucian Walker and in a peanut contest by Master Ted Boston and in the memory contest Master Homer McConnell. The girls prizes were won by Misses Mamie and Ruth Haynes and Gladys Drescher. Delicious refreshments of Ice Cream and Cake were served and a jolly good time was had by all.

CERTAIN RESULTS

Many a Kentucky Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Kentucky. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical sufferer. Read the following statement:

Mrs. L. Varalli, living at 923 Fifth St., Louisville, Ky., says: "I am happy to say that Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and other members of my family. I frequently had attacks of backache and kidney trouble before using your remedy, but after using two boxes of the pills the trouble was entirely cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends for I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly do all that is claimed for them."

CURT JETT

Becomes a Member of the Church During Religious Exercises in Penitentiary.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 21.—[Special.]—During religious exercises conducted at the Kentucky penitentiary Sunday by the Rev. Dr. C. R. Hudson, in the absence of Chaplain Severance, Curt Jett, who is serving a life term for the murder of J. B. Marcum, of Breathitt county, and one of the most noted prisoners in the institution, went forward and joined the church. Jett has shown a religious inclination for several weeks and has been studying the Scriptures. Upon entering the prison Jett was at times unruly, but has made an exceptionally good prisoner recently.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of gashoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of to-day; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold remedy and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor and J. H. Orme's drug stores. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Mist Falls on Spot Where Bartley Died

Glasgow, Ky., Oct. 26.—Several hundred parties arriving here to-day from Glasgow Junction, ten miles from here, report a strange phenomenon at that place which is mystifying the people of that unusually quiet little town and is simply inexplicable.

On the exact spot where Van Smith killed his half brother, Bill Bartley, last May, a fine mist, amounting to almost rain, has been falling for the past four weeks; at least it has been noticed that long, but may have been falling longer. The fact has startled the residents of that section and surrounding country and as the report spreads interest increases. The place on which the mist is falling is some twenty feet across and includes the exact spot on which Bartley fell when shot by his half brother.

Among those who were at the place yesterday were J. A. Conyers, Senator J. C. Gillenwaters and Oscar Seay, who while waiting for a train heard of the strange mist and went to view the spot. Mr. Conyers, who is well known as a recent appointee in United States Marshal George Long's office at Louisville, and a prominent politician, was seen, and when asked about the matter said that he visited the place and found something like a hundred persons gathered there, discussing the puzzling phenomenon. He walked slowly across the place where the mist was falling and said in that time his hat was wet and the rain shown perceptibly on his clothes. When asked how the people explained the presence of the mist, he replied that they did not explain it at all, as they knew of no explanation. Senator Gillenwaters and Oscar Seay, a well-known Louisville traveling man, tell substantially the same story.

BETTER THAN MEDICINE

Breathe Hyomei's Tonic Healing and be Cured of Catarrh.

Nature has a remedy for catarrh, a treatment that is far better than dosing the stomach with medicine.

It is the healing oils and balsams of Hyomei which medicates the air you breathe, reaching the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, killing all catarrhal germs, and restoring health to the mucous membrane.

In using Hyomei you are treating your catarrhal troubles with the only natural remedy, for it gives a curative air bath to the air passages that has as powerful healing and antiseptic effect as that found in the mountains where the pine forests give off their fragrant and healing balsams. Breathe the invigorating and healing Hyomei, and see how quickly you will get relief from your catarrhal troubles. Haynes & Taylor have seen so many cures, even of the worst cases of catarrh, with offensive breath, rising of mucus, frequent sneezing, droppings in the throat and spasmodic coughing, that they feel warranted in selling Hyomei under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. They take all the risk.

"On Relieving One's Mind."

Here is a good bit of philosophy from Harper's Bazar, which I cheerfully commend to our readers' careful consideration and use. It chimes well with Grace MacGowan Cooke's article on "Strength," in September Nautilus. Ponder this—

"Nothing weakens the mind more," said a clever woman, whose home was conspicuously happy, "than to relieve it. I used to, so I speak from experience. When I began house-keeping, I relieved my mind freely. That was why I could not keep any servants for the first three months were enough in that direction. But John remained. He could not give warning; so I relieved my mind to him after I learned not to do it so often to the cook. John said nothing, but he commenced staying out evenings; and as I before remarked, I am not a fool, so I determined that I would not relieve my mind for six months. In a week I realized the difference. My mind was more active, under the load, than it really had been ever before. You see, it had to meet things without complaining to them. At the end of the six months I no longer wanted to relieve my mind. I knew better. If you take the pressure off an engine, where is your power?"

Her philosophy was sound. A relieved mind may make its possessor more comfortable, but it makes everybody around "uncomfortable." Half the family jars, half the changing of servants, are caused by the men and women who keep control of her speech is the woman who also keeps her servants—and her husband.

Belt Mines.

From the Sturgis News-Democrat we clip these items which concern all the Belt mines section of this county as that whole section, of Union, Crittenden and Webster counties is underlaid with black diamond awaiting development.

Supt. W. H. Pollard, of the Bell circus men, who had secured possession of the "greatest show on earth," and that henceforth it would be run in connection with their other athletic enterprises. The sale was made in London yesterday.

The transfer of the Barnum & Bailey show to the new managers places the five Ringling Brothers at the head of the circus business in America and leaves them practically without a real rival in the world, they now having under contract the original Union Coal Co., claims the mines be in the best condition since being opened, and, but for want of railroad cars, would be running 300 tons daily. New entries are being driven which make room for more men all the time. These mines are prepared outside to handle an output of 2,000 tons per day which will in but a short time be run from this up-to-date colliery.

The Bell Coal & Coke Co., owned by Col. W. W. Smith, J. T. Gifford, of this city and Col. T. J. Scott, of St. Louis, is now being made ready for a run. This company, to the number of acres, own the most valuable coal lands in Kentucky. In fact will be the only mines in all this section running the genuine celebrated Bell coal. Several years ago these mines were opened and the nice tipples on the banks of Tradewater almost made ready for running coal, but for some cause work was suspended until now. Quite a little town has been built and we learn it will be but a short time before the company will be able to make creditable runs.

LIONS ROARED

Mr. McChesney's Speech a Certain Raiser for a Circus.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 23.—Secretary of State McChesney returned this morning from a speaking tour of the tenth congressional district in the interest of the Democratic State ticket. He found the Democrats of the counties which he visited thoroughly aroused, and says the leaders over the district are confident of rolling up not less than 3,500 majority for Judge Hargis for Governor.

At West Liberty, Morgan county, Secretary McChesney was billed to speak on the day a circus was to appear in the little town. So much Democratic enthusiasm was displayed by the people that the circus owner came to Democratic Executive Committee that they hold the political meeting in his big tent, that Mr. McChesney speak as long as he wanted to and the exhibition would follow. This was agreed to, a thousand or more heard McChesney's speech and oratory and the entire assemblage remained to the circus. Mr. McChesney reports that the lions in the show roared just as he would reached a climax in his speech.

Honolulu Letter.

Honolulu, H. I., July 20.—There are some odd things that one runs across in traveling about the world that are so strange that one is difficult about telling of them for fear those to whom the information is imparted will think that the truth is being strained a little. In such category must come the fish market in Honolulu. To people accustomed to seeing fish of temperate waters there is no comprehension of the strange forms that the denizens of the deep take on in those countries where the water is continually warm.

When I first walked down the aisles of the Honolulu fish market I had to take a sudden reel in my memory to see if I had been drinking anything recently that would give one queer visions. I did not exactly see blue monkeys with green tails but I saw such variegated coloring and such impossible shapes in fish that I thought my mind must have been warped by the climate.

We are so accustomed to having a certain shape in our minds when fish are mentioned that we cannot associate any other shape with the finny tribe, but that idea received a severe jolt when I saw a trunk fish lying on the counter, looking all the world like a grotesque Japanese jewel box. Imagine a fish about five inches long with square sides and ends, separated by sharp corners. At one end a queer little snout surmounted by two beady eyes, and at the other a caricature of a tail, while two little fins adorn the sides. If your imagination is good you can see in your mind's eye a trunk fish. It is not edible, but when it is taken in the net with other kinds it is sent to market as a curiosity.

But the trunk fish is mild in comparison with the puppy eel. Take the most loathsome, slimy snake that you can conceive of, and in place of a snake head put on it the head of a new born puppy, ears and all, and you will have an object that will fill you with disgust. Hawaiians eat this sort of animal with relish.

I could go on enumerating queer and disgusting fish for some time, but there are so many that are beautiful beyond description that I think they will be more interesting to you. What I considered most beautiful of all I saw, was a little fish about the size and shape of the common perch of American waters. It was delicate pearl in color, its flesh translucent, and at intervals were bands of blue, green, yellow and gold, as perfect in color and size as if they had been laid on with an artist's brush. They look like the coloring of finest Dresden china, and ran around the body in perfect proportion, equidistant from each other. There were entirely blue of color, so rare as to make one dream of summer skies; again there were red ones, yellow ones, black ones, all looking as if they were hand painted, and as if the color were so fresh that it would come off if it were touched. I thought at first that these were painted china fish used for signs, and it was only when I held one in my hands that I was convinced to the contrary.

On one table lay a lot of cuttle fish, younger brothers to the devil fish, and from which the bone that is put in canary bird cages comes. Hawaiians prize this fish highly and make a most palatable dish of it by boiling it in coconut milk. I tasted of this dish with considerable hesitancy at first but found it very delicate in flavor, and came to the conclusion that all things are not so bad as they look.

Hawaiian waters are noted for their sharks and the fish market would not be complete without a few of these ferocious sea pirates. But the sharks I saw there were not of the regulation kind. They were edible and had a most peculiar head. Instead of the head that well ordered fish ought to have, these had heads that extended out on both sides of the body much like a double hammer. In fact they were hammer headed sharks. It is said that some of the finest fillets of sole that is served in high-priced hotels comes from this shark, and those who pay fancy prices for it never know they are getting anything but the finest fish.

In the old days the natives made a gala day of market day, and brought in their wares with songs and rejoicing. If they caught a peculiar fish it was the reason for special rejoicing. Now all this is changed, and Japanese do all the fishing, making it a business in which there is no pleasure. But the fish market has old charms so far as the peculiar inhabitants of the waters are concerned, and what is lost in sentiment is gained in additional varieties of fish to gaze upon and wonder at. MADISONVILLE IS IN FLAMES

Ramsey Factory Leased by Imperial Tobacco Company and Many Small Stores and Residences in Ruins.

Madisonville, Oct. 25.—At six o'clock this morning one of the largest blocks of business buildings in this city was destroyed by fire, variously said to been caused by a defective flue in the Bailey store, and to have originated in a livery stable across from the Frank Ramsey factory, now occupied by the Imperial Tobacco Company. This factory which was empty, was completely destroyed, and the fire also devastated the Davis Wagon Works, Laffoon's livery stable, Coil's livery stable, Kirk's blacksmith shop, and five or six small frame residences. The total loss placed at $75,000, which is about half covered by insurance. The buildings were, for the most part, old and of poor construction, and there is every likelihood of their being replaced by more important structures.

FORDS FERRY.

Jack Hughes has a new wagon.

Wallace Clift was in Marion, Monday.

C. M. Clift had his house raised Friday.

Major Dare is building a fine chimney for Henry Truitt.

Bud Kirk will have his chimney finished out at an early date.

Lee Rankins went to Barnaby's mine for a load of coal, Friday.

Will Truitt made a trip to the Bolles Mines neighborhood last week.

Sam Hines recently finished walling a fine cistern for Gillman Hayden Kirk.

W. B. Wilborn shipped a hundred and sixty-five hogs from Ford's Ferry to Evansville, Tuesday. This is the largest shipment from Ford's Ferry to Evansville, Tuesday. This is the largest shipment from Ford's Ferry that has been made for a long time.

There was a spelling match at Hebron Friday, between that place and Heath school, better known as "Opossum Ridge," in which the latter won a signal victory after a spirited contest. This is a notable victory for Opossum Ridge, especially since it is only a third class school, while Hebron is one amongst the best in the county.

NAME CHANGED.

The name of the thriving little town of Crayneville, Kentucky, has been changed to Crayne. This is done on account of the similarity of Crayneville to Crayneville, both being located on the Illinois Central Railroad which caused mail and freight to go to one or the other through error. Crayne as it is now called is a prosperous little town on the I. C. R. R., located four miles South of the hub of this part of the State.

Killed a Negro.

Alfred Martin, formerly of this place, who was reared in Crittenden county, and who has been employed at Zeigler, Ill., shot and killed a negro man there a few days ago. The report is that the negro had offended Martin in some way and when he resented it, the negro knocked him down several times. The men met a few hours later, when the difficulty was renewed and Martin shot the negro to death. Martin evaded arrest and is still a free man. —Providence Enterprise.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had. For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for your self what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

To the People of Marion.

While out of our little city and without any solicitation whatever on my part, my name was placed at the head of the Peoples' Ticket, as a candidate for the office of Mayor of the city of Marion. Since the petition that has my name on it as Mayor together with the names of Dr. G. W. Stone, Thomas Clifton, Luther Miller, W. L. Verner, A. J. Duval, and J. H. Orme, as councilmen for the city of Marion, has been filed by the people with the County Clerk, I have been approached by many people who have urged me to allow my name to remain on the Peoples Ticket. After having given the matter due consideration I have concluded that in so much as a great number of people have seen proper to offer me as a candidate for the office of Mayor of our little city, that I will allow my name to remain on said ticket, to be voted for on the 5th day of November, 1907. I deem the high office of Mayor to be the most important office of any in the city and I am appreciative of the fact that numerous matters of importance affecting the interest of the tax-paying citizenship of our little city comes before the Mayor for his just, equitable and economical adjudication, knowing this, I feel that no man should offer himself or allow himself offered as a candidate for this office without making a public declaration setting forth the stand he will take in the administration of our city affairs, should he be elected to the office of Mayor, I therefore now, unhesitatingly proclaim and unreservedly declare that I am in favor of an equitable, impartial enforcement of all ordinances and laws governing our city. I am in favor of an economical administration of our city affairs.

I voted with the temperance people at the last election held in this county under the County Unit Law, and I am now for temperance and I will oppose if elected Mayor any step or measure that tends to legalize the sale of liquor within the municipality of Marion, in or any sense to alter or change the temperance law that is now in full force and effect.

I appreciate the good and efficient service that has been and is now being rendered us by the Independent Telephone Company, in our City and County, and I am heartily in favor of giving them all the encouragement possible. I am positively against and I think it unwise to encourage or permit the Cumberland Telephone Company to establish an exchange in our city.

On the 13th of February, 1906, the city council of the city of Marion passed and approved the following ordinance: "The City Council of the City of Marion, Kentucky, do ordain as follows: That the salary of the City Attorney be and the same is hereby fixed at three hundred dollars per annum, payable quarterly, and in all cases in which he is present and prosecutes the offender he shall receive fifty per cent. of all judgment for fines and forfeitures rendered in the city court in favor of the commonwealth of Kentucky for the use and benefit of the city of Marion, Kentucky, which shall be in full compensation of all services rendered said city by its said attorney. All laws or parts of laws in conflict herewith are hereby repealed. Passed and approved February 13, 1906."

I don't believe that this ordinance should have ever been passed or approved by the city council of Marion and I don't believe that the present affairs of our city warrant the expenditure of this sum of money for the services of a city attorney, I am therefore opposed to it and favor a repeal of this ordinance.

Very respectfully,
WM. H. CLARK,
Candidate for Mayor of Marion, on Peoples' Ticket.

We heartily endorse all of the above:
GEO. W. STONE,
JAS. H. ORME,
W. L. VERNER,
A. J. DUVALL,
LUTHER MILLER,
TOM CLIFTON.
