FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS

In Panama Canal Bonds to be Issued by Government.

New York, Nov. 18.—Bankers, capitalists and financiers here generally approve the action of Secretary Cortelyou in issuing $50,000,000 Panama bonds and $100,000,000 certificates of indebtedness for the relief of the financial stringency. The issue, it is the general opinion, is bound to have beneficial results in that it will immediately relieve the currency and banish the premium on cash. Putting out this government security in small denominations is a good move. It is believed, as it will attract from its hiding place much of the currency which has been taken out of circulation by the timid depositors.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Secretary of the Treasury Cortelyou tonight made an important announcement that as a means of affording relief to the financial situation the treasury department would issue $50,000,000 worth of Panama bonds and $100,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness or so much thereof as may be necessary. The certificates will run for one issue and will bear 3 per cent interest.

President Roosevelt has sent Secretary Cortelyou the following letter: "The White House, Washington, D. C., Nov. 17, 1907.

"My Dear Mr. Cortelyou:—I have considered your proposition. I approve the issue of fifty millions of Panama bonds, which will be immediately available as a basis for additional currency.

"I also approve the issue of one hundred millions, or so much as you may find necessary, of $50 3 per cent. interest bearing government notes, the proceeds of which can be at once deposited by you where the greatest need exists, and especially in the west and south, where crops have to be moved. I have assurance that the leaders of congress are considering the currency bill, which will meet in a permanent fashion the needs of the situation and which I believe will be passed at an early date after congress convenes two weeks hence.

"What is most needed just at the present time is that our citizens should realize how fundamentally sound business conditions in this country are and how absurd it is to permit themselves to get into panic and create a stringency by hoarding their savings instead of trusting perfectly sound banks. There is no particle of risk involved in letting business take its natural course and the people can help themselves and the country most by putting into active circulation money they are hoarding. Banks and trust companies are solvent. There is more money in the country today than there was a month ago, when the supply was ample. Fifty-five millions in gold have been imported and the government has deposited another sixty millions. These are facts, and I appeal to the public to co-operate with us in restoring normal business conditions.

"The government will see that the people do not suffer if only the people will act in a normal way. Crops are good, business conditions sound and we should put the money we have into circulation in order to meet the needs of our abounding prosperity. There is no analogy at all with the way things were in 1893. On Nov. 30 of that year there was in the treasury but $161,000,000 in gold. Nov. 14 of this year there was in the treasury $904,000,000 in gold. Ten years ago the circulation per capita was $23.23; it is now $33.23. The steps you now take, the ability of the government to back them up, and the fact that not a particle of risk is involved therein, gives the fullest guarantee of the sound condition of our people and sound condition of our treasury. All that our people have to do now is to go ahead with normal business in a normal fashion and the whole difficulty will disappear, and this end will be achieved at once if each man will act as normally and as the real conditions of the country's business fully warrant his now acting.

Sincerely yours,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

A Little Mistake.

Hon. G. W. Landrum, of Smithland, writes us as follows for which we are obliged to him for putting us right. The article last week was clipped from an exchange.

"Say Bro., what you got against the hunters and boys that you published in last week's issue that the quail or bird season is now open, while the squirrel law is now closed. You have it up wrong. Both the bird and squirrel and rabbit season open on the 15th of November each year, but the bird season closes on Jan. 1st, and the squirrel and rabbit law closes on Sept. 15th annually. That is the way it reads in the acts of 1904, page 112. If there is anything later I have never seen it.

That was made that way to keep people from going out hunting from Sept. 15 each year to Nov. 15th, pretending to hunt squirrels and really hunting and killing birds. With best wishes I am your friend,
G. W. LANDRUM.

Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 18.—The following proclamation has been issued by Gov. Beckham:

"In accordance with custom and the proclamation of the President of the United States, I hereby appoint Thursday, November 28, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer throughout the commonwealth. It is expected on that day that all of our people shall refrain from their usual business, employments and give thanks to All-Wise Ruler, who has so generously blessed us as a nation, and who has so bountifully provided for us.

"In testimony whereof, I hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Commonwealth to be hereunto affixed.

"Done at Frankfort the 15th day of November, 1907.

"J. C. W. BECKHAM."

U. S. Court In Session.

The United States court is in session at Paducah this week. Among the grand jurors from this section are the following:—M. F. Speer, Carversville; Geo. Hillyard, Marion; W. M. Brown, Farmersville; J. A. Hurley, foreman, Marion; Frank Dorroh, Crayneville. Among the petit jurors are:—J. D. Foley, Lola; W. O. Hayden, Salem; D. F. Fox, Shady Grove; Wm. Babb, Piney; G. W. Perry, A. A. Deboe, Tribune.

One of the most important suits is the case of Rev. Hawley vs. W. W. Meadows of which the Paducah News Democrat has the following to say:

"The $100,000 damage suit of the Rev. F. M. Hawley against W. W. Meadows, of Fulton, for false accusations, assault and battery, was not called today and is not likely to be. The case will probably come up for trial Tuesday morning.

Attorneys for both are here. Hawley is represented in the prosecution by attorneys Shelbourne and Smith, Bardwell and Judge Joe Robbins, Mayfield. Meadows will be defended by Ollie James, Wheeler, Hughes and Berry; and Ed Thomas and H. T. Smith, of Fulton.

Blow to Old Established Practice.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 15.—A special to the World Herald from Des Moines says that the judges of the Supreme Court of Iowa have decided that a woman's stocking is not the proper place to carry her money, and that when hurrying to remove it she opens the wrong door of a depot and falls downstairs the railroad company is not held liable for her injuries.

The decision was rendered in the case brought by Mrs. Sarah E. McNaughton of Waterlee, against the Illinois Central Railroad Company. Mrs. McNaughton fell down a flight of steps in the railroad company's passenger depot in Waterlee when trying to get some money out of one of her stockings. She sustained severe injuries and brought a suit against the road asking $5,000 damages.

A Charming Party.

From the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Journal-Gazette we clip the following:

"A charming bridge party of several tables was given yesterday afternoon by Miss Helen Knight and Miss Mary Knight in compliment to their cousin, Mrs. Carl W. Keller, of Logansport, Ind., and for Miss Bertha Freeman's guest, Miss Adalade Fenton, of Coronado Beach, Cal. The Knight mansion of Spy Run avenue is one of the Fort Wayne homes noted for its gracious hospitality, and yesterday's affair was unusually delightful. Jars full of large chrysanthemums decorated the drawing-room, library and living-room and in the dining-room, where a buffet luncheon was served after the playing, brilliant American beauty roses added their magnificent color to the attractive appointments of the room. Among the guests to the number of fifty or more who were bidden to the affair were Miss Elma Daw, of Lansingburg, N. Y., and Miss Margaret Lyman, of Evanston, Ill."

The Tobacco Question.

To answer all inquiries in regard to receiving tobacco I will say to all parties that I have bought of, that I will not receive any tobacco until money matters get in a better shape, which I look for soon. As soon as business opens up, I will be ready. So go ahead and get your tobacco in bulk in good shape. You had better see me before you deliver so as to know where to deliver.

Respectfully,
A. H. CARDIN.

Card of Thanks.

To my neighbors and friends who were so kind to my dear wife in her last illness, I desire to extend my heartfelt thanks.

Mrs. Jenkins
Orchestra.

It was a little surprise when it was known that Mrs. Wilson played her own composition. After this programme, a buffet luncheon was served, Mrs. Drescher and Mrs. Geo. Roberts presiding at the refreshment table.

The affair was given for Mrs. Drescher who will leave shortly for her Southern home.

Gilbert-Murphy.

Wednesday night of last week after the RECORD-PRESS had been mailed we heard of the marriage of that sly old bachelor Eb Gilbert, of the Crooked Creek vicinity, to Miss Subie Murphy, the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Murphy who live near the city on the Memphis mines road. The ceremony was said at the home of the brides' parents by Rev. J. S. Henry and in the presence of quite a large number of friends of the contracting parties.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert have gone to housekeeping at Memphis Mines, and have the best wishes of their numerous friends. The RECORD-PRESS wishes them as much joy and as little of sorrow as is ever allotted to the best of us.

A Good Meeting.

Our meeting at Sulphur Springs began the fourth Sunday in October and continued twelve days and nights. Our beloved pastor, E. M. Eaton, did all the preaching. Twenty-nine were added to the church, four received by letter, one restored and twenty-three by Baptism. The church was greatly revived and encouraged.

Public Sale.

I will on Wednesday Nov. 27, 1907, at my home on the farm of the late G. G. Clark five miles South of Salem and one mile North of Pineknayville, sell to the highest bidder all of the personal property of the late G. G. Clark and also all of my own personal property consisting of horses and mules, cattle, wagon and buggy, plows, harrows, household and kitchen furniture, all kinds of farming tools and machinery and various other things too numerous to mention.

Terms make known on day of sale.

The Canning Factory.

A great many farmers have expressed their intention of raising several acres of tomatoes for the new canning factory which will be one of the city enterprises ere long.

A man can make more money on four acres of tomatoes than he can on a like amount of tobacco and with about half the work and in less than half the time.

Gold For Crittenden County.

Henderson, Ky., Nov. 19.—The Imperial Tobacco Company agents here received $100,000 in gold from Richmond, Va. It was deposited with the Ohio Banking and Trust Company and will be used as the first installment to pay for the 1907 tobacco crop recently purchased by the Imperial from the Stemming District Association.

Sugar Grove Convention.

The District Sunday School Convention was held at Sugar Grove Saturday, November 16th, it being a pretty day we had a goodly crowd. Something after 10 o'clock the convention was called to order by Bro. H. N. Lamb, District President for Sugar Grove. After song Bro. Tom Walker read Isaiah 55. After scripture we were led in prayer by Bro. O. D. Spence. After prayer Bro. Ed Dean led the choir in another beautiful song.

The following program was then taken up:

Purpose of the Sunday School -- Bro. W. T. Oakley and others.

Has the Sunday School Accomplished its Purpose--County President, Bros. Oakley, Dean Lamb and others. The conclusion seemed to be that it had accomplished its purpose only in part.

Responsibility of Parents--W. J. Hill, he being absent for his quarterly meeting, provided a paper which was read by Bro. Oakley. It was considered good.

The Ideal Superintendent--Bro. H. N. Lamb, Frank Dean and others
The Ideal Teacher--O. D. Spence and Miss Rankin.

At the noon hour we must not forget to say that a sumptuous dinner was served on the prepared place on the sunny side of the church.

At the conclusion of the service the following officers were elected by acclamation for the next year. Bro. H. N. Lamb, District President and Bro. Ed Dean, District Secretary for Sugar Grove District.

A more spiritual convention was never held in this county. Everybody was in a good humor and enjoyed the occasion. This life is worth living if we make it so. Let's have another one like it.

Dycusburg comes next which will finish the years work for Sunday School rallies for 1907.

Let's all listen for Dycusburg District.

Newspaper Suspends After A Thousand Years.

London, England, Oct. 23.—The report that the Peking Gazette has been suspended means that the second oldest newspaper in the world has suffered this fate. Started so long ago as 911, it was then a monthly. In 1361 it became a weekly, at the beginning of the last century a daily, and latterly—as "latterly" goes in China—it has published three editions in the twenty-four hours. There is, however, another newspaper published in Peking, the Tsing-pao, which is about 200 years older than the Peking Gazette.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. Sold by Morris & Yates.

The Husband's Salary.

A Philadelphia judge has decided that the wife is not entitled to her husband's pay envelope, and this seems to be a good law—the sort of law that is written in the statute book of this state. At the same time the husband who turns over his wages at the end of the week to his wife is apt to be the winner in the long run. There are some women who want too many fine clothes and a lot of trumpery, but, as a rule, the wife, albeit she has never been trained in the arts of finance, is usually a much better manager than her husband. She knows just what the family expenses are, and she is more willing to make sacrifices than the husband. When you see a man prosperous on a small salary you can make up your mind that the wife is the one who has done the saving. It is true that by the laws of nature the husband is the head of the house and he can usually reason much better than his wife, but when it comes to the actual problems of life she is as a rule much better fitted than he to distribute the earnings.—Ex.

No Case of Pneumonia on Record

We do not know of a single instance where a cough or cold resulted in pneumonia or consumption when Foley's Honey and Tar had been taken. Miss Della Neil, of Pineknayville, is visiting Mrs. Owen Boaz this week.

Miss Cora Dalton is the guest of Mrs. Ida Woodall.

The revival at the Baptist church closed Sunday night after continuing two weeks. Rev. M. E. Miller, of Fredonia, assisted the pastor doing most of the preaching. The church was edified and strengthened. Thirteen were added to the church. Rev. Miller is indeed a man of God. He greatly endeared himself to our people by preaching the gospel in its purity. Large crowds attended the night services, and here we wish to remark that the people proved themselves a refined and appreciative people by their quiet behavior and close attention accorded to the preaching and we trust that seed has been sown in the hearts of men that will yield a rich harvest unto God.

The ordinance of Baptism was observed at the river Sunday at 2 p. m. Six were immersed. Rev. Nowling, P. C., officiating.

Agonies Of Pain

Never give up, and think that all women, yourself included, have to suffer pain.

Thousands of women have written to tell how they have cured their womanly ills, and relieved their pains; and over a million have been benefited, in various other forms of female disease, during the past 50 years, by that popular and successful female remedy

WINE OF CARDUI WOMAN'S RELIEF

"I believe I would now have been dead," writes Mrs. Minnie Lamb, of Lebanon Junction, Ky., "if it hadn't been for Cardui. I had suffered with bad cramping spells, pains in my back, sides and arms, and awful bearing-down pains. Now these pains have all gone, as a result of using Cardui."

Winter Warnings

Tired feelings in the morning may come from too heavy bed-clothing.

It is foolish and unnecessary for most people to get housed up for the winter. The human animal cannot hibernate.

Keep the mouth closed when out of doors or when going from one room to a room of colder temperature, breathing through the nose.

Ventilate your sleeping rooms where you spend one third of your lives. Too many people poison themselves with the noxious exhalations of the night hours.

Don't try to prevent colds and illness by coddling. Create a vigorous healthful body by proper eating, proper exercise, proper clothing proper bathing, and by proper medication if ill.

Under-woolens should be as heavy as needed for warmth but of loose texture and loose fitting. Such garments are warmer than tight-woven ones which are impervious to air and moisture.

DON'T WAIT

Take Advantage of a Kentucky Citizen's Experience Before It's Too Late.

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic; Till serious kidney troubles develop; Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Mrs. L. B. Taylor, of 810 East Jefferson St., Louisville, Ky., says: "Several years ago I contracted a cold which settled in my kidneys. I suffered a great deal from pains across my back and loins and was also much annoyed by the too frequent action of the kidney secretions, especially at night. I steadily grew worse, began to be annoyed by dizziness and a feeling of languor and depression. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills and felt relief from the first. I continued the treatment and was soon cured. I gave a statement to this effect in 1900 and am glad to confirm same at this time for the cure has proven to be a permanent one."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Always Was Sick.

When a man says he always was sick—troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say—he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Such a man exists.

Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: "For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me." Sold by J. H. Orme.

Alter Mott Ayres' Job

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 13.—J. E. Chittenden, formerly insurance inspector here, and editor of the Crittenden Record at Marion but who now holds the position of rate clerk with the Kentucky Board of Fire Insurance Underwriters in Louisville, is applicant for Mott Ayres' job as State Fire Marshal. Mr. Chittenden has always been an enthusiastic Republican, and while running his paper at Marion he rendered valuable service to his party. It is thought that his petition to Gov. Wilson will be seconded by former Senator W. J. Deboe, possibly Attorney General-elect James Breathitt and other prominent Republicans, and it is therefore thought that he stands a good chance to land the place.—Evening Post.

TALK ABOUT TAXES

Various State Grangers On the Subject.

Demand For Study of the Question by the Farmer For His Own Interest.

The farmers composing the Grange, an organization that has done much to study the real interests of the farmer, has been taking a good deal of interest in the subject of taxation lately and some very pertinent utterances on this question have been given out in the addresses of the Masters at annual sessions of various state Granges.

At a recent meeting of the Washington State Grange, the Master gave considerable attention to the question of taxation. He said, in part:

"I urge every Grange in this state to take up the study of taxation in all its phases earnestly and seriously during the coming year, for I feel strongly that we farmers have hardly realized the importance of thoroughly understanding the fundamental principles of taxation.

"In considering the subject of state taxes, in the brief time I have been able to give it since my mind has been fully aroused to its importance, I have come to doubt very much the wisdom of our present method of assessing state taxes. Section 2 of Article 7 of our state constitution is as follows: 'The legislature shall provide by law a uniform and equal rate of assessment and taxation on all property in the state, according to its value in money.' (This is the general property tax similar to Kentucky.)

"The above constitutional provision is similar to that of many of the western states and enjoins a system of taxation which has been tried in practically all the states of the Union. It requires the application of the same rules of taxation to forms of property totally different in character. Most of the older states, such as New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, have constitutions which impose no restraint on the power of the legislature, or very little more restraint than that imposed by the federal constitution. Those states have developed systems of taxation more in harmony with modern conditions.

"The attempt to tax all kinds of property by the same rules, has in all times, and in all countries, imposed heavier burdens upon rural districts than cities, and in a large degree has measured the tax to be paid by each citizen by the amount of his consumption, rather than by the opportunity he enjoys to acquire wealth under the protection of the state.

"The plan adopted by our neighbor, Oregon, is to apportion the state tax in proportion to the revenue raised by each county. Oregon made the mistake of not carrying out the principle to its logical conclusion. The tax should be apportioned in proportion to the entire revenue raised by each county, and all the taxing districts within each county.

"It is very easy to see that the more highly developed and more densely populated a county may be, the more money it needs for local purposes in proportion to its taxable values, and the greater is the power to pay taxes. The tax apportioned in this manner will shift from the poorer and remote rural counties the burden they now bear, and impose it on the more thickly settled and prosperous counties. This change would do away with the universal temptation to undervalue property in order to shift the state tax to other communities. A study of the experience of other states shows that one of the greatest evils has been this incentive to undervalue. It produces inequality and dissatisfaction, if not downright fraud.

The Ohio State Grange.

In Ohio they are proposing an amendment to the constitution that will permit of a classification of the sources of revenue, such as is now in effect in Pennsylvania. The difficulty with the Ohio constitution is exactly similar to that in Kentucky. They are proposing there an amendment to the constitution which will make it read this way: "Taxes shall be levied at a uniform rate upon all property of the same class." The Ohio constitution now requires that taxes shall be uniform upon all classes of property, the provision being similar to that of the constitution of Kentucky. The Master, Honorable F. A. Dethrick, commenting upon the proposed amendment to the constitution, said:

"To pull up every stake in our constitution seems heroic treatment, and if done would throw upon the people added responsibility in the selection of their representatives. If classification is to be the plan adopted, it should be left to a commission of at least five members appointed by the governor, one from each of the four sisters, whose combined efforts have made us all we are—one from manufacture, one from mining, one from commerce, one from agriculture. This board should be reinforced by the appointment of a member of well-known integrity and great legal ability.

"The farmers are not committed to the idea of classification, but we wish to join in the study of tax revision. The Ohio State Grange, assembled in annual session, December 11 to 13, 1906, by a unanimous vote expressed the desire of an organized body of taxpayers, fifty thousand strong, to co-operate with all other interests in devising a tax system that shall be just and fair to every legitimate interest in the state."

TAX CONFERENCE

Students of National Fame Will Discuss Taxation at Columbus.

In response to a call in August by Governor Harris of Ohio, there will be held in Columbus, Ohio, November 12, a national conference of the National Tax association. Delegates have been appointed to this meeting by the governors of all the states, and it will, in addition, be attended by many tax experts from all over the country. The discussions will take a wide range, covering every phase of the question of taxation.

Such a gathering as that which is to be held in Columbus will result in disseminating a great deal of information on the subject of methods of taxation and is bound to stimulate still further the interest in this reform. Governor Beckham has appointed three gentlemen to represent the state of Kentucky. It is very much to be hoped that they will attend, as Kentucky has as great an interest as any other state in this question and very much greater interest than some other states that have made more progress than we have toward a better tax system.

The Proposed Reforms.

The purpose of the conferences are thus announced:

To secure an authoritative and an exhaustive discussion of the subject of state and local taxation in all of its details.

To produce a volume of proceedings containing the best thought of those who, by reason of their special educational training and practical experience, are qualified to speak with authority upon the special branch of the subject they may elect to discuss.

To furnish to the members of the legislatures of the several states a concrete, up-to-date statement of the economic and business principles that should be applied in state and local tax legislation, to be used as a guide for their action when considering proposals to improve the tax laws of their respective states and in the administration of the same.

By this means to secure the application of correct economic and business principles in all tax legislation, and thus develop a high degree of uniformity in the tax laws of the several states.

By securing uniformity in state tax laws, to eliminate the evil of changes in legal residence and in the location of business undertakings induced by differences in state tax laws, and to create conditions of high value in aid of the effective and economical management of the financial affairs of all state and local governments.

The following partial list of papers and their authors shows that the discussions at this conference of the many branches of the subject of state and local taxation will command the attention of the intelligent public throughout the country:

NEW SALEM.

Old Mr. Moran is on the sick list.

Eighty per cent. of the corn crop is safe in the crib. The crop is 20 per cent. better than thought before gathering commenced.

The protracted meeting closed at New Salem last Sunday night.

The question now comes, up with our good people who have pooled their tobacco is this? The money is all pooled also and the question presents itself what are we to do: pretty nifty, you bet.

Mrs. T. A. Harpending is visiting her son John L., near Crittenden Springs, whose wife and babe is quite sick.

Will Davenport and family, of Salem, were the guest of Mrs. Davenport's parents Sunday.

Every other man one meets asks what do you think of the times? Our answer is, we don't know. One thing we do know, is that there is no money laying around loose.

A former citizen of this section, but at present a resident of the town of Salem, sent to Michigan for an imported bird dog. Well, the dog came all O. K., and after a few days Bert was taken out for a hunt, and made a most beautiful stand. The owner raised his gun but no birds appeared, upon a careful hunt a bug about the size of a June bug was found. Well there there was a smell of sulphur around for awhile.

The poor man that has health and plenty to feed his family and never had a dollar to put in the bank, can lay down at night and sleep in peace.

REPORT NOT TAINTED

Civic Federation Investigators Not Influenced by Subscribers.

Professor Parsons, an M. O. Member of the Commission, Denies That Corporation Contributions Had Any Influence on Its Report—Resents Newspaper Criticisms.

Professor Frank Parsons, president of the National Municipal Ownership league, was recently interviewed by a representative of the Boston Herald in regard to the testimony before the public service commission in New York to the effect that the Metropolitan Securities company had contributed $15,000 to the expenses of the commission which studied the problem of municipal ownership here and abroad. "The testimony before the commission," said Mr. Parsons, "contained nothing that in any way reflects on either the Civic federation or the committee of investigation. The sensational elements presented by the press were read into the case by an erroneous interpretation of some of the facts stated in the evidence in connection with some remarks of August Belmont in relation to the investigation. "A large part of the funds were contributed by various corporations and industrial interests, the Metropolitan company among the number, and Mr. Belmont is quoted as saying that the result of the investigation was very satisfactory. Some newspaper man put those two facts together and concluded that the corporations had got what they expected and paid for. "As a matter of fact, however, Mr. Belmont's remark meant merely that the work had been thoroughly done and a valuable mass of facts brought out. How far wrong is the impression that corporation contributions had any influence on the character of the results may be seen from the fact that the final resolutions of the commission, summing up the investigation, are signed by every municipal ownership member of the commission. "Another fact which has a strong bearing on the case is that the supervision of the engineers and experts in Great Britain and the disbursements of all the funds across the water were intrusted to Dr. M. B. Maitland, now a member of the New York public service commission and well known as a writer strongly favorable to municipal ownership. "The truth is that the idea of investigating municipal ownership took form in the Civic federation as early as 1900, or long before Mr. Belmont became president of the federation. "About half the funds, or over $40,000, was raised by scattered subscriptions from persons all over the country in amounts ranging from $5 up, and the remainder of the fund was contributed by large industrial interests or men connected with them. "All the money was spent under the supervision of a committee of five, on which there were two well known municipal ownership representatives and the chairman of which was Professor Goodnow of Columbia university. "Chairman Ingalls of the committee on investigation, who is also chairman of the board of directors of the Big Four railroad, is one of the fairest and most honorable men in the United States, and the investigation from start to finish was conducted without a shadow of influence from the corporation contributions which were made to the finance committee. "In fact, the committee on investigation did not know where the money came from nor who the contributors were, with a few trifling exceptions, until the investigation was all finished and the report was in type. "I wish to say further in all fairness that while I personally do not at all approve of many things in the history of Mr. Belmont's corporations there is no question in my mind but that he and the Civic federation have acted with perfect fairness toward this commission on public ownership. "The engineers and experts worked in pairs, one of each pair representing municipal ownership and the other representing private ownership. This nearly doubled the cost, but resulted in securing a body of facts, signed by experts of the highest character and representing both sides of the question. This gives the report a very unique character and confers on the statements of facts so agreed upon a degree of authority far beyond that which attaches to any previous investigation."

More Profitable to Sell.

The mayor of Harrisville, W. Va., states the situation there as follows: "Some eight years ago this little city purchased a (natural) gas plant at a cost of some $10,000. The revenue from the plant paid for it and left a surplus. Two years ago we leased the plant to a private corporation at a generous rental."

So far as we know this is the only lighting plant transferred to private parties while being operated at a profit, as this one apparently was. It is noteworthy, however, that the people evidently believed that they could get better results from the plant if it were under private management or they would not have leased it.

Ordered Sold by the Voters.

The lighting plant owned by the incorporated village of Waddington, N. Y., was sold after the voters had so ordered at a special election. The president of the village writes briefly, but eloquently:

"The property was sold for $3,000; cost, $8,000; five years used. The village was sore on the property."

NEW SALEM.

Old Mr. Moran is on the sick list.

Eighty per cent. of the corn crop is safe in the crib. The crop is 20 per cent. better than thought before gathering commenced.

The protracted meeting closed at New Salem last Sunday night.

The question now comes, up with our good people who have pooled their tobacco is this? The money is all pooled also and the question presents itself what are we to do: pretty natty, you bet.

Mrs. T. A. Harpending is visiting her son John L., near Crittenden Springs, whose wife and babe is quite sick.

Will Davenport and family, of Salem, were the guest of Mrs. Davenport's parents Sunday.

Every other man one meets asks what do you think of the times? Our answer is, we don't know. One thing we do know, is that there is no money laying around loose.

A former citizen of this section, but at present a resident of the town of Salem, sent to Michigan for an imported bird dog. Well, the dog came all O. K., and after a few days Bert was taken out for a hunt, and made a most beautiful stand. The owner raised his gun but no birds appeared, upon a careful hunt a bug about the size of a June bug was found. Well there there was a smell of sulphur around for awhile.

The poor man that has health and plenty to feed his family and never had a dollar to put in the bank, can lay down at night and sleep in peace.
