THANKSGIVING BANQUET

Watstika Tribe 224, I. O. R. M., Enjoy Sumptuous Spread at Their Wigwam.

With solemn incantations to a slow dirge the Watstika Tribe No. 224, of the Improved Order of Red Men, danced around their sacred camp fire last Thursday night, Nov. 28. The camp is located in the Odd Fellow's hall over the old stand of Walker & Olive.

The occasion was a feast for painted braves, their wives and sweethearts. Among the number there appeared pale faces to whom the mystic rites and ceremonies were very interesting. Their quiet demeanor and exemplary behavior was evidence to all that the feathered Red Men held full sway, especially around their own camp fire. The chief Sachem, whose white name is J. C. Wallace, presided over the ceremonies with great dignity. His speech to his warriors was listened to with marked attention interrupted now and then by a grunt of approval. His conduct of the entire ceremonies was executed with a quiet poise which called to his hearer's minds "The Last of the Mohicans."

The feast spread for all was magnificent and consisted in part of buffalo, deer, wild turkey and other delicacies. Those high in the council of braves very properly tabooed "firewater" and therefore no pale faces lost their lives.

Rev. R. C. Love in a very solemn and impressive manner invoked the blessing of the Great Spirit upon the occasion.

After the feast other braves made speeches and in the glare of the camp fire their hearers sat in solemn silence while aboriginal eloquence poured from the lips of hardened warriors. The most notable was high chief medicine man, A. J. Driskill, who held all his hearers spell-bound. Standing in the firelight painted and befeathered, his long arm pointing a direct emphasis, he outlined the grievances of his tribe and called down dire destruction on the heads of all enemies of the Watstikans.

Prophet C. E. Weldon painted in glowing colors the beauties of and the advantages offered by the Improved Order of Red Men. A few pale faces attempted to make speeches but it was very evident that the weird surroundings produced upon them a very depressing effect. They all sat down quickly. The affair was very enjoyable and pronounced a grand success by all who attended. Among brave Indians and visitors who attended we note the following on the register:

J. C. Wallace, Walter McConnell, Mrs. Lillie McConnell, Miss Olive McConnell, Claude Guess, Mr. and Mrs. James Tolley, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred

Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. E. Wilborn, Alma Conyer, Izetta Conyer, Minnie Ross, Stella Ross, John H. Scott, Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Love, Mrs. A. J. Driskill, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Nunn, Mrs. C. E. Weldon, Mrs. J. E. Glass, Mrs. S. H. Ramage, Mrs. Annette King Jackson, Miss Bernice Driskill, Miss Eliza Lawson, Emmett Koltinsky, Mrs. Leona Koltinsky, C. R. Duvall, C. V. Franks, Hattie Shuttleworth, Iva Hicklin, Miss Maude Driskill, Winfred Sleamaker, Ivan Brown, Myrtle Glass, John B. Sedberry, Arnold Driskill, Mrs. J. C. Wallace, J. W. Ross, Wathen Rankin, Grace Yandell, C. E. Weldon, T. M. Conyer, J. E. Glass, Walter Guess, S. E. Ross, Harvey Hill, R. L. Bibb, Mrs. Mariah Brown, Geo. M. Crider, A. J. Driskill, John Bell, S. H. Ramage, Jerry Daughtrey.

New Manager For Opera House.

Marion, Ky. is at last blessed with an Opera House manager, one that is a hustler. Mr. Chas. Holton, from Memphis, Tenn., is the gentleman and this is his object: To furnish the best talent to elevate and refine; to show the depth and breadth of mind and to create a normal desire for wholesome amusement. No attraction is too good for Marion. I have not asked, as is often the case, that the merchants and business men aid with a subsidy or guarantee. I shall bring my people here on their merits. I feel confident that they will obtain the appreciation of the theatre going lovers of Marion and that consequently the production will prove a great financial success.

The manager of the Marion Opera House will provide not only the best and most beautiful that money can buy, designed with special reference to the comfort and enjoyment of Marion audience, but I will furnish the best and most expensive attractions to be found in the amusement centers of the world.

All that is possible in catering for companies of the highest class will be done. Expense has never been considered when any desirable attraction was in view and thus for thirty-five years under my management I have dealt in a fair and liberal manner with the people of this country. I have kept faith by pushing forward from the day of small things to a higher plane and keeping in the van of that movement which has forced a universal recognition of drama as a recreative entertainment for ladies and gentlemen.

I simply ask the aid of all interested in this. I shall ask them to give the Opera House a fair test and feeling assured that I will be highly pleased. I shall ask them to spread the fame of the production among their friends far and near. The success which I hope to obtain in Marion will be of importance, not only to myself and to the organization, but even of more importance to the people of Marion. Respy.,

CHAS. HOLTON,
Manager Marion Opera House.

J. C. FOSTER DEAD

Stricken With Paralysis While Out on His Farm.

Geo. H. Foster of this city received news Tuesday of last week of the death of his uncle J. C. Foster, of Joy, Livingston county. He was sick only a few days, having been stricken with paralysis. He was 74 years of age August 12th, last.

Mr. Foster was a member of the Presbyterian church, and had been a Christian since he was 16 years of age. He is survived by his wife and four children: Olive Foster, of Carrsville; Mrs. Martha Glenn, of Caldwell county; Mrs. Chas. Rutter, of Paducah; and Mrs. Dr. Goodloe, of Smithland.

Of him the Livingston Echo says:—Last Friday while out on his farm near Joy, Mr. Cal Foster was struck with paralysis which affected the lower limbs. For several days he had been feeling bad. His condition has been and is still serious. He is not expected to recover.

Mr. Foster is an old man, one of the best known men of the county, a farmer. His many friends are extremely uneasy about his condition. A later report is, that Mr. Foster is dead. He died Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He will be buried today at the Duley Bluff grave yard. There was at no time since the attack much hope of his recovery. The seriousness of his condition was at once realized and his children and near relatives were at once called to his bed side and remained till his death.

Mrs. Julia P. Moore Dies.

Our friend, R. B. Dorr, of Los Angeles, Cal., writes us as follows: Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 25, 1907.

Dear Marshall—Mrs. Julia P. Moore, widow of the late Rev. W. T. Moore, died this morning at 3 o'clock of pneumonia at the Deaconess Home this city.

Your friend,
R. B. DORR.

The Mrs. Moore referred to is the widow of the late much beloved Rev. Tom Moore, of this county. He being a brother of Elvis Moore, of this city. Mrs. Moore was the step-grand-mother of Mrs. Walter Travis and Wilbur Boston, both of this city.

Mining Capitalist Here.

R. N. Austin, General Passenger Agent of the B. & O. R. R., and his private secretary, Mr. Hager, and son Leslie Austin, of the Gold field and Tenapah R. R., of Nevada and R. C. Haase, of St. Paul, Minnesota, composed a party of capitalists who were here the guests of Capt. T. H. B. Haase last week.

They came first to Mexico by private car and after making a survey of the "Blue Grass Fluor Spar Co.," properties they came to Marion and spent the day and night here. They left Saturday night for Chicago, but before their departure expressed themselves as highly pleased with prospects in this field and with their investments. The purpose of their visit was to make a casual survey of the Lime Mineral Belt R. R., which will connect with the I. C., somewhere near Mexico.

W. B. Yates, at Joplin.

Evangelist W. B. Yates, of Kentucky, made his first appearance in revival work here Sunday morning at the M. E. Church South. At both morning and evening services the house was crowded. Mr. Yates is a specialist in chorus work but charms every one when heard in solo. His voice is one of power and inspiration and while the music is simple, charms, holds and wins the listener. In the afternoon he held a special young peoples meeting. He talked on the subject of "paying the price." It was well attended and proved an inspiration to the night service. Rev. Burton preached last night on "Ye must be born again." The meetings continue each night this week and next. Rev. O'Rear of Centerville will fill the pulpit this week.—Joplin, Mo., Times.

Bigham Reunion.

A happy reunion was that held at the home of W. H. Bigham in the Chapel Hill section Thanksgiving day, when all of his children and grand children called to cheer the family fireside from whence they have all scattered except one daughter, Miss Ruby, who keeps house for her father.

Besides the father and daughter, those who partook of their hospitality were the following:—E. H. Bigham, wife and children, Delle, Norvel, Lester, Effie, Estella and Ruth Bigham, J. T. Bigham, wife and children, Marvin, Iva and Vida, J. N. Hill, wife and children, Fannie and Ovid Hill, H. H. Ward, wife and children, Iris, Baby Ward, and Ruby Bigham.

A fine dinner was spread and a grand and good time was had by all present who hope for many returns of the day.

Blaze At Repton.

Last Tuesday morning about three thirty o'clock, Mr. S. D. Asher's, of Repton, store and dwelling adjoining were burned to the ground.

The fire originated in the store and was supposed to have been set on fire by sparks from a passing freight train.

He had just received a new lot of goods and altogether, he had about $2800 worth of goods, in the general merchandise line. There was only $1500 insurance on the goods, none on the building.

The dwelling was valued at $1400 with $600 insurance and $200 on the household goods.

All the stock of merchandise and about one-half the household contents were destroyed.

Mr. Asher was also postmaster and lost all his post office supplies, books, etc., and saved only a few stamps which happened to be in the safe, that being the only article taken from the store.

The small freight depot belonging to the I. C. Railroad Co., was burned but everything was removed from it before it caught.

Harmony Club Concert.

The concert given at the school Auditorium Tuesday evening by the Harmony Club was one of the best that has ever been given in this city. This was the second visit of the Harmony girls and every one looked forward to the entertainment.

The program was well rendered. Miss Maude Kirksmith's selections on the violin were fine. Miss Gertrude Kirksmith possesses a voice clear and sweet and with much volume. Miss Lillian Kirksmith certainly knows how to play the flute and her selections were very sweet. Miss Clara Blakeslee is a pianist with much ability. Each member of the company was fine, but the whole company in their quartettes was finer.

The people of Marion should feel that they are very fortunate to be able to secure such attractions as the Harmony Concert Company.

A Worthy Institution.

The Bowling Green University is worthy of the confidence and support of the public. It has trained hundreds of young people who are now holding responsible and lucrative positions with credit to themselves and satisfactory to their employers.

If our readers desire information concerning this popular institution it can be had by writing to the School at Bowling Green, Kentucky.

Need 300 Teachers.

Three hundred teachers will be needed in the Philippines early next year in order to maintain the quota of 1,000 from the United States. Special examinations for these positions will be held by the United States Civil Service Commission in the holiday vacation.

Two sorts of places are open to competition, those of teachers and assistants, the latter being of a higher grade, and likely to lead the appointments as Division Superintendents and more important places to the civil service of the islands. The examination for these places will call for graduates from colleges and special schools.

In an announcement prepared to be given out at the War Department, it is stated: "This examination will be open to the wives, fiancées, or other women who are near relatives of those already in the service or candidates for position as teachers. The age limits are twenty and forty years. The bulk of the appointments will be made at the entrance salary of $1,200."

In his address at the opening of the Philippine Assembly, Secretary Taft said that one of the greatest obstacles to the development of the Philippines was the lack of a common language. In noting the improvement as the result of the school system, he said:

"It is not an exaggeration to assert that now more native Filipinos speak English than Spanish, although Spanish was the language of the ruling race in these islands for more than 250 years. The strongest basis for our confidence in the future of the Filipino people is the eagerness with which the opportunities extended for education in English have been seized by the poor and ignorant parents of these islands for their children. It is alike pathetic and encouraging."—Washington Cor. N. Y. Times.

Public Meeting.

There will be a public meeting Wednesday evening, Dec. 11, 7:15 p. m., at the Methodist church to discuss the prevention of tuberculosis (consumption) and to promote a healthy sentiment towards preventing the spread of this disease.

Addresses on this vital subject will be delivered by physicians and laymen, and delegates will be elected to represent our county at the Anti-tuberculosis Association, which meets in Louisville early next year. It is especially desired that we have a large attendance. Ladies are urged to be present and help us in this work. T. ATCHISON FRAZER, Health Officer.

The finest Coffee Substitute ever made, has recently been produced by Dr. Shoop of Racine, Wis. You don't have to boil it twenty or thirty minutes. "Made in a minute" says the doctor. "Health Coffee" is really the closest Coffee Imitation ever yet produced. Not a grain of real coffee in it either. Health Coffee Imitation is made from pure toasted cereals or grains, with malt, nuts, etc. Really it would fool an expert—were he to unknowingly drink it for coffee. Sold by Morris & Yates.

Body of Woman Has Been Stolen.

Sturgis, Ky., Nov. 26.—When the grave of Mrs. Henry Delaney, who was mysteriously murdered fifteen years ago was opened today it was found that the coffin containing the body had been removed and the grave refilled.

Henry Delaney and Abbie Oliver were sweethearts here fifteen years ago. It is claimed that Delaney accomplished the ruin of the girl and that her parents forced the marriage, the father threatening Delaney with dire vengeance if he did not marry the girl.

Delaney and the girl drove from here to Morganfield, the county seat of Union county and the ceremony was performed there. On the way back the bride of a few hours was mysteriously murdered by a party of boys who had come to the rescue of Delaney. Delaney was arrested charged with the crime but he was acquitted and still lives here. The body was buried here. Today T. C. Williams, of Evansville, came here to exhume the body to transfer it to another cemetery. When the grave was opened it was found that the coffin containing the body had been removed and the grave refilled, whether the body was stolen to prevent a post-mortem or whether it was sold to a medical college is a matter of conjecture. The matter has attracted a great deal of attention throughout this section.

Years of Service on Supreme Bench.

Washington, Nov. 28.—John Marshall Harlan, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States, will round out to-morrow thirty years as a member of the highest tribunal. While there is a rumor in circulation that he may resign his position as a member of the court in the near future, there is no confirmation to be had, so too much dependence should not be placed in it. Some time ago, when asked whether he ever thought about retiring, Justice Harlan said:

"I can only say that I have not as yet determined what I shall do. I could have retired on full salary on June 1, 1903. Now and then the thought comes to me that I should retire in order that I might do certain work which I cannot well do while on the bench; but when I get close to a determination of the question the thought comes to me that my life would be shortened and perhaps become dreary if I should quit the work to which I have become accustomed, and in the doing of which I am most happy. So I am undecided in the matter. It may be that my judicial work may end only with my life, unless in the meantime I am informed by those near me and who have the right to advise me that my duty is to give way to a younger man."

Born on June 1, 1833, Justice Harlan is now more than seventy-four years old, but is as active as a man half that age.

Mrs. Rossie Rankin is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Wofford.

Some months ago late one dark night a stranger hallooed at the H. E. Wathen residence. Eb came to the door and supposes from the wayfarer's voice that he is Ben Rankin. The following dialogue ensues:

Stranger—Hello!

Eb—Hello, Ben!

Stranger—Is this where the Wathens live?

Eb—Yes sir, come right in.

Stranger—But I have a horse and buggy out here, what shall I do with the horse?

Eb—Oh, never mind the horse, just set the dogs on him.

It now dawned on Eb that he is up against an embarrassing case of mistaken identity, for the traveler proves to be none other than the young knight of education, Prof. Victor G. Kee, a suitor for the hand of the fair Miss Fewwick. Eb then offers the suitor his most humble apologies and gives him a royal welcome.

| If you don't want all the papers sent to one address you can split either club, and have them sent to any number of different addresses. Or two or more parties can get together, order any club, and have any part they may want sent to any address. | If you think you won't have time to read all of the papers and magazines now, remember the long winter nights are not far off. WE LOOSE MONEY on every order, but intend to have a larger circulation than any County paper in this state. | If you are already a subscriber to any or all of these papers, your time will be extended one full year on receipt of combination price. | If you change your address your papers can be changed from old to new address. If you are now taking any of these papers from an agent or direct from the publisher, order it stopped, and save over 100 per cent. by accepting our offers. | SAMPLES of each publication will be gladly given you, even if you do not subscribe. Come to our office for them, or telephone, and our representative will be glad to call with Samples. | Every paper goes to you for one full year. Money back if you are not satisfied that it is the greatest newspaper bargain ever offered. |

Remember this great offer is for a very short time only. This offer is good to all old as well as new subscribers.

THINK OF IT Twenty-two great papers and magazines in our clubs; and the wonderful part of it is that it only costs you a few cents more per month than you are now paying for the one you may be taking. Remember each issue of the Crittenden Record-Press will give you all the news of Marion and all the surrounding towns. The papers we offer contain many special departments which will appeal to both old and young. The market and business reports in the papers are alone worth many times the special price we ask for the entire club. All the magazines in each club are so well known that the description of them is unnecessary.

Remember each paper in every club is the best of its kind published. We have been very careful in making up our clubs so that each paper would be a representative one and that every paper would give complete satisfaction. To any business man, farmer, manufacturer or family, the market reports are alone worth the price of the entire club. Each paper gives you complete news, not only of the entire United States, but of the world as well. All of the magazines and papers have many special departments that will appeal to and please every person reading them. Semi-monthly and monthly magazines are so well known that when you read the name alone tells what they are.

The Crittenden Record-Press is proud to be able to offer to its patrons clubs of this kind, composed of such representative papers and magazines, and we can say to each and every one that our offer is worth many times the price of the clubs and that no one will make a mistake in taking advantage of them.

On page three of this issue you will find an interesting article in regard to all of the papers in our club. This gives a full description of each paper. The saving habit is the key to wealth, not how much you make but how much you save.

Remember this offer is only for a short time. Don't let your opportunity pass. Order now. Tomorrow or next week may be too late.

The Crittenden Record-Press,

Marion, Kentucky.

This paper, at a large expense and a great deal of work, has arranged three of the most remarkable club offers ever presented by any publisher. Each of these clubs include the CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS.

The price that each club costs you is only a few cents more each month than you are now paying for our paper. Realizing that we could largely increase our circulation, we entered into a contract to use the papers and magazines that compose the three clubs that we offer. The CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS does not make a cent out of this offer, in fact, we lose money, but by increasing our circulation we can secure more advertising and also get a better rate for same.

SPARE MOMENTS.

Every year or so some one magazine comes to the front and stands out as a leader. This year it is Spare Moments. The magazine has had a meteoric career, and made a record in the publishing field. In less than three years it has obtained a subscription circulation of 300,000 copies a month, covering the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. Started in November, 1904, as a 12-page paper, with a subscription price of ten cents a year it has increased by gradual stages to a 24-page magazine, with cover in colors, and a subscription price of 50 cents a year. There is absolutely no other magazine like Spare Moments published at the price. It is printed with good ink, clear type, on a good quality of paper. It contains articles by the same writers who contribute to the "Saturday Evening Post," "Collier's," "Munsey" and other magazines which sell for 10 or 15 cents a copy. Spare Moments pays as much for one article in one issue as some papers pay for all the matter they use in a whole year. It is a high class magazine in every respect. During 1907-08 this magazine will contain three great serial stories, a dozen or more short stories by the best writers of the day, articles of current interest, besides department devoted to Cooking, Dressmaking, Fancy Work, Physical Culture, the Children, etc.

THE MOTHER'S MAGAZINE.

The Mother's Magazine is the only magazine exclusively for mothers. It fills a long-felt want and positively meets the needs of the most important class of people in the world. It is cheerful, entertaining, helpful and intensely human. It treats of everything of interest to mothers and nothing else. It carries the news of the day, and special articles and interviews, from the most noted men and women of the country, all bearing on the mother's problems. Its stories and articles are written expressly for mothers, and deal with real life. Everything in the Mother's Magazine is practical and common sense. Its good humor and cheerfulness has won immense popularity. Over 100,000 new subscriptions were received within six months. Besides fascinating stories, special interviews and features, it contains over 20 regular departments to help the mother in every possible way with her children and her home. All readers have the privilege of personal advice and help from the editors, a veritable correspondence school for mothers. The magazine contains from 48 to 64 pages, beautifully printed and profusely illustrated in colors. For 1908 the Mother's Magazine promises more than ever before, especially along the lines of Physical Culture, Beauty Articles, Child Study, Kindergarten

Methods in the Home, Health, Finances, the Servant Problem, Food Products and Preparation, and a great variety of matter for the mother's entertainment and pleasure. Remember there is no substitute for the Mother's Magazine; there is nothing like it published in the country.

DRESSMAKING AT HOME.

This magazine is the size of the Ladies' Home Journal and contains 30 to forty pages dealing entirely with fashions. It not only has a handsome cover in colors, but every issue contains a double page fashion plate in colors. It tells women how to dress; what to wear; how to make their garments and how to have them made; furnishes the latest and most elegant designs; informs what materials are being and will be worn; indicates what would be becoming; contains millinery hints; health and beauty hints; home cooking receipts; articles on home floriculture; contain more fashion matter and practical up-to-date designs than any other fashion magazine, it makes a moderate priced pattern for every design; it gives suggestions for making over clothes; and offers individual advice to subscribers; and, in fact, hundreds of ideas and helps for the women of the home.

HUMAN LIFE.

Human Life is a handsome 40-page magazine edited by Alfred Henry Lewis, the highest priced magazine in the world. Each month it contains from 40 to 60 pages brim full of matter, which will be interesting and of value to each and every one. The pictures and illustrations which you will see each month in this publication alone are worth many times the price that we ask for one of our clubs. Among the many authors that you will find each month in this publication are Charles Edward Russell, Walter Shanger, Day Allen Willey, Crawford White and many other of the best known writers in the world. This is not only one of the handsomest and most complete publications of its kind in the world, but it is equal to any publication, no matter what its price may be.

WEEKLY NASHVILLE AMERICAN. Is published at Nashville, Tenn., on Thursday of each week. This publication stands pre-eminent in the weekly newspaper field of the South and Southwest. No paper of this kind ever before published in the territory that it covers equals it. It contains from 8 to 16 pages each issue, and is not only ably edited, but has many departments that will appeal to every one. Each issue presents to its readers all of the important news from the Southern and Southwestern States. It is very reliable and brim full of bright, snappy news. Its agricultural and farm pages are the best in the South.

PRAIRIE FARMER.

The Prairie Farmer is published at Chicago, by the Rand-McNally Company, one of the largest publishing houses in the world. It is published each week on Wednesday, and contains from 24 to 32 pages each issue. It is published on a good grade of book paper, and contains many handsome illustrations. Each issue contains various departments devoted to home life. All issues contain full and complete market reports. It also has a very interesting department entitled "Talks With Our Boys and Girls." Each issue also contains full page of patterns that each and every woman is interested in. A complete Question Box is also conducted by this publication and all questions will be given careful attention. The price of this well known weekly farm and home paper is $1. It is the oldest farm journal published in the United States.

GOODALL'S WEEKLY FARMER. This publication is issued on Friday and each issue has 16 to 32 pages and many handsome pictures are shown each week. The special features each week is that of Life, Stock and Cattle News. It is the greatest farmer's weekly newspaper ever published in the world. Its market reports are without doubt the best published by any publisher. It contains each week from three to five pages of market reports and price news. Many special departments are prepared by some of the best writers in the United States. It is without doubt the most complete publication of its kind in the world.

FARMER'S WEEKLY NEWS SCRIM-ITAR.

This well known paper is published in Memphis on Wednesday of each week and has the largest circulation of any weekly paper published in South and Southwest. To have such a circulation means that it must be a first-class publication. Each issue contains from 8 to 16 pages. Its agricultural departments are unequaled by any other Southern Weekly Paper. It covers thoroughly the entire field of the entire South and Southwest. No one will make a mistake in subscribing for the club that this well known publication is in.

RURAL WEEKLY, OF ST. PAUL, MINN.

The Rural Weekly is the greatest national weekly of the United States. Each issue contains from 8 to 16 pages and is published on Wednesday of each week. No weekly paper in the United States contains as many illustrations as the Rural Weekly. No one, after reading this publication for a year, will ever thereafter be without it. All departments of the farm and home are covered by it in a most able manner. We are indeed glad to be able to include Rural Weekly in our offers.

GREEN'S FRUIT GROWER.

Of Rochester, N. Y., has been published for twenty-seven years, and is edited by Col. Charles A. Green, who is said to be the best known writer of this kind in the world. He is ably assisted by Prof. H. E. Van Deman as assistant editor. These two well known gentlemen also have a large number of department editors and special writers. This magazine alone is worth the price that we ask for the entire club. In its class, no paper in this country compares with it.

INLAND POULTRY JOURNAL.

Of Indianapolis, Ind., stands at the head of all the publications devoted to poultry. Without doubt it is equal to any two poultry papers published in the United States. This magazine is devoted to poultry entirely in all its departments. Each issue contains from 50 to 80 pages. Every issue has many handsome illustrations, and each of its departments are in charge of experts. Every issue is printed in magazine form on heavy book paper. Any one that has chickens, pigeons, pet stock, turkeys, geese, ducks, etc. will not only save but will make money by having this well known magazine before them. If anyone takes this publication and does not say it is one of the best of its kind and is as handsome, readable and valuable a poultry paper as is published, we will send same to them three months as an absolute present.

A description of the other publications included in these club offers will be given next week.

Will Petition For Transfer.

The session of the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. will petition for a transfer from the Paducah Presbytery to the Princeton Presbytery U. S. A. at its next meeting after which the two congregations here hope to meet on favorable and agreeable grounds in a union. In the mean time, of course, both churches will continue all services as heretofore including preaching, Sunday School class and prayer meeting, under the direction of their present pastors.

Rev. Jas. F. Price, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, U. S. A., is now assisting in a meeting at Westmoreland, Tenn., will be at home soon and fill his pulpit as usual. There seems to be absolutely nothing of consequence to prevent a harmonious union, which will be a great benefit to all concerned.

Wedding at Lisman.

Mr. Lottie Gilbert, of Marion, and Miss Jettie Nichols, of Lisman, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents yesterday morning and after the wedding the happy couple boarded the early Dixon train for Marion to take Thanksgiving dinner with the relatives of the groom. The bride is one of the most popular, talented and charming young ladies of Lisman and her marriage was quite a surprise to her numerous friends. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Nichols. The groom is a popular and worthy young gentleman and is favorably known in Providence, having been employed here during the summer months. He is preparing himself for the practice of medicine and he and his bride will make their home in Louisville until he has completed his studies in a medical college there. Mrs. Birdie Baker, of Lisman, a sister of the bride, will reside with them. Providence Enterprise.

Rheumatism

I have found a tried and tested cure for Rheumatism! Not a remedy that will straighten the distorted limbs of chronic cripples, nor turn bony growths back to flesh again. That is impossible, but I can now surely kill the pains and pangs of this deplorable disease.

In Germany—with a Chemist in the City of Darmstadt—I found the last ingredient with which Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy was made a perfected, dependable prescription. Without that last ingredient, I successfully treated many, many cases of Rheumatism; but now, at last, it uniformly cures all curable cases of this heretofore much dreaded disease. Those sand-like granular wastes, found in Rheumatic blood, seem to dissolve and pass away under the action of this remedy as freely as does sugar when added to pure water. And then, when dissolved, these poisonous wastes freely pass from the system, and the cause of Rheumatism is gone forever. There is now no real need—no actual excuse to suffer longer without help. We sell, and in confidence recommend

Asthma Sufferers Should Know This

Foley's Honey and Tar has cured many cases of asthma that were considered hopeless. Mrs. Adolph Buesing, 701 West Third St., Davenport, Iowa, writes: "A severe cold contracted twelve years ago was neglected until it finally grew into asthma. The best medical skill available could give me more than temporary relief. Foley's Honey and Tar was recommended and one fifty cent bottle entirely cured me of asthma which had been growing on me twelve years. If I had taken it at the start I would have been saved years of suffering." Sold by J. H. Orme.

Business Section Wiped Out By Fire.

Cadiz, Ky., Nov. 26.—The little town of Rockcastle, ten miles west of here on the Cumberland river, was almost completely destroyed by fire last night. The fire originated in the storehouse of Mrs. Cynthia Collins and was under such headway before discovered, about 9 o'clock, that it could not be checked. It destroyed every business house in the town. Mrs. Cynthia Collins' store and warehouse, J. Y. Mize's business house, hotel and stables. The residence of J. W. Rascoe, Harvey Lane, Mrs. Sarah Litchfield, and the stables of Dr. S. E. Standrod were destroyed.

This included every house in the business section. Some of the losses are well covered by insurance, while others had very little insurance.—Ex.

Badly Mixed Up.

Abraham Brown, of Winterton, N. Y., had a very remarkable experience, he says: "Doctors got badly mixed up over me; one said heart disease; two called it kidney trouble; the fourth blood poison, and the fifth stomach and liver trouble; but none of them helped me; so my wife advised trying Electric Bitters, which are restoring me to perfect health. One bottle did me more good than all the five doctors prescribed." Guaranteed for blood poison, weakness and all stomach, liver and kidney complaints, by Haynes & Taylor and Jas. H. Orme.

Child Killed In Mother's Arms.

Morgantown, Ky., Nov. 28.—The seven-months-old baby of Ernest Burns was killed to-day by the accidental discharge of a gun. John Burns who had been hunting, came in and laid his gun on the table. Mrs. Burns was standing in the door with her child in her arms. The gun went off without any apparent cause and shot the child in the abdomen. It lived about two hours.—Ex.

Meadows Settles.

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 26.—News of a compromise in the Hawley-Meadows damage case was given out here by Judge J. E. Robbins, of the plaintiff's counsel. W. W. Meadows pays the Rev. F. M. Hawley $2,100 and all costs.

Hawley asked for $100,000 damages for injuries received in a horse-whipping given him by Meadows and others of the Fulton depot last spring. The trial resulted in a hung jury at Paducah last week. The whipping is said to have been done because of attention the pastor was said to have paid to Mrs. Meadows.

SAYS IT IS FACT.

Haynes & Taylor Confirm Guarantee on Hyomei, Cure for Catarrh.

The question having been raised as to whether or no Haynes & Taylor will refund the money if a Hyomei outfit does not do all that is claimed for it in curing catarrh, they want to state positively that this guarantee is an absolute fact.

A guarantee like this is the best proof that can be offered as to the curative powers of Hyomei in all catarrhal troubles. You do not risk a cent in testing its healing virtues, Haynes & Taylor take all the risk.

If you have catarrh, try this wonderful medicated air of Hyomei. It does not drug or derange the stomach, but is breathed through a neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, so that its medication reaches the most promote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs, where any catarrhal germs may be lurking. It quickly destroys them, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane and vitalizes the tissues so that catarrh is no longer possible. You can lose nothing by giving Hyomei a trial, nothing but the catarrh and that is good riddance.

The price of the complete outfit is but $1.00; nothing if it fails to cure. Get an outfit from Haynes & Taylor to-day and begin its use at once.

Washington, Dec. 3.—President Roosevelt's annual message to congress is a voluminous document of nearly 6,000 words, by far the longest message he has ever submitted to congress. It is a very full and complete statement of the president's views on the financial condition of the country, and for which the president lays much the blame upon unscrupulous stock speculators and says:

"In any large body of men, however, there are certain men who are dishonest, and if the conditions are such that these men prosper or commit their misdeeds with impunity, their example is a very evil thing for the community. Where there is a prevalence of great anxiety and of temptations both unscrupulous and reckless, and where the conditions are such that they act without supervision for control and at first without effective check from public opinion, they delude many innocent people into making investments or embarking in kinds of business that are unwise and unprofitable. When such misdeeds are discovered, suffering comes not only upon them, but upon the innocent men whom they have misled. It is a painful awakening, whenever it occurs, and naturally when it does occur those who suffer are apt to forget that the longer it was deferred the more painful it would be. In the effort to punish the guilty, it is wise and proper to endeavor as far as possible to minimize the distress of those who have been misled by the guilty. Yet it is not possible to refrain from such distress from striving to put an end to the misdeeds that are the ultimate causes of the suffering, and as a means to this end, where possible to punish the guilty, it is the duty of the government to see that the differences of opinion as to many governmental policies, but surely there can be no such differences as to the need of unflinching and unhesitating war against financial dishonesty."

He quotes at length from his message of last year in which he advocated federal control of corporations doing interstate business, and believed that such control would be the remedy for overcapitalization and stock speculation which he believes have brought about the present financial conditions.

Our steady aim should be by legislation, cautiously and carefully undertaken, but resolutely persevered in, to assert the sovereignty of the national government by affirmative action. In substance it is merely a restoration, for from the earliest time such regulation of industrial activities has been recognized in the action of the law-making bodies, and as the government is to meet the changed conditions in such manner as will prevent the commonwealth dedicating the power it has always possessed, not only in courts, but also in legislatures, before and since this country became a separate nation.

Federal Control of Railroads Is Favored.

"No small part of the trouble that we have come from carrying to an extreme the national virtue of initiative and action. It is wise to conserve this virtue and to provide for its fullest exercise, compatible with seeing that liberty does not become a license for wrong others. Unfortunately, this is the kind of liberty that the lack of all effective regulation inevitably breeds. The founders of the constitution provided that the national government should have complete and sole control of interstate commerce. There was then practically no interstate business save such as was conducted by war, and this the national government at once proceeded to regulate in thoroughgoing and effective fashion. Conditions have now so wholly changed that the interstate commerce by water and land is significant compared with the amount that goes by land, and almost all big business concerns are now engaged in interstate commerce. As a result it is but too true that interstate commerce is controlled or regulated by the action of any one of the several states; such action inevitably tending to be either too drastic or else too lax, and in either case in conflict with the national government. Only the national government can in thoroughgoing fashion exercise the needed control. This does not mean that there should be an extension of federal authority, for federal authority for interstate commerce already exists under the constitution in amplest and most far-reaching form; but it does mean that there should be an extension of federal activity. This is not advocating centralization. It is merely looking facts in the face, and realizing that centralization in business has already come and can not be avoided or undone. The public at large can only protect itself from certain evil effects of this business centralization by providing better methods for the exercise of control through the authority already centralized in the national government by the constitution itself. There must be no halt in the healthy constructive course of action which this nation has elected to pursue, and has actually pursued during the last six years, as shown both in the legislation of the congress and the administration of the law by the department of justice. The most vital need is in connection with the railroads. As to these, in my judgment there should now be either a national incorporation act or a law licensing railway companies to engage in interstate commerce upon certain conditions. The law should be so framed as to give to the interstate commerce commission power to pass upon the future issue of securities, while ample means should be provided to enable the commission, whenever in its judgment it is necessary, to make a physical valuation of any railroad. As I stated in my message to the congress a year ago, railroads should be given power to enter into agreements, subject to these agreements being made public in minute detail and to the consent of the interstate commerce commission being first obtained. Until the national government assumes proper control of interstate commerce, in the exercise of the authority it already possesses, it will be impossible either to give to or to get from the railroads full justice. The railroads and all other great corporations will do well to recognize that this control must come; the only question is as to what governmental body can most properly exercise it, and the limits within which the federal authority can exercise it, and there will still remain ample work within each state for the railway commission of the state; and the national interstate commerce commission will work in harmony with the several state commissions, each within its own province, to achieve the desired end.

Control of Interstate Business Urged.

"Moreover, in my judgment there should be additional legislation looking to the proper control of the great business concerns engaged in interstate business, this control to be exercised for their own benefit and prosperity no less than for the protection of investors and of the general public. As I have repeatedly said in messages to congress and elsewhere, experience has definitely shown that the only way to put a stop to all these combinations of capital, and the results of speculative folly any more than it can guarantee an individual against the results of his extravagance. When an individual misuses his freedom, he is an automobile he invites disaster; and when wealthy men, or men who pose as such, or are unscrupulously or foolishly eager to become such, indulge in reckless speculation, they jeopardize not only their own future but the future of all their innocent fellow-citizens, for they expose the business community to panic and distress."

He advises against any general tariff legislation this session of congress, and says:

"In a country of such phenomenal growth, it is not possible to cut every dozen years or so the tariff laws should be carefully scrutinized so as to see that no excessive or improper benefits are conferred thereby, that proper revenue is provided, and that our foreign trade is encouraged. There must always be as a minimum a tariff which will not only allow for the protection of our industries but which will at least make good the difference in cost of production here and abroad; that is, the difference in the labor cost here and abroad. The well-being of the wage-worker must be a cardinal point of American policy. The question should be approached purely from a business standpoint, both the protection of the wage-worker and the well-being of the wage-worker must be a cardinal point of American policy. The question should be approached purely from a business standpoint, both the protection of the wage-worker and the well-being of the wage-worker must be a cardinal point of American policy."

"The antitrust law should not be repealed, but it should be made more efficient and more in harmony with actual conditions. It should be so amended as to forbid only the kind of combination which does harm to the general public, and which is not accompanied by a corresponding benefit to the public. It should be so amended as to be an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big corporations engaged in interstate business, and should be accompanied by provision for the compulsory publication of accounts and the submission of books and papers to the inspection of the government officials. A business combination that is not accompanied by a corresponding benefit to the public is an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big corporations engaged in interstate business, and should be accompanied by provision for the compulsory publication of accounts and the submission of books and papers to the inspection of the government officials. A business combination that is not accompanied by a corresponding benefit to the public is an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big corporations engaged in interstate business, and should be accompanied by provision for the compulsory publication of accounts and the submission of books and papers to the inspection of the government officials."

Inverting Public Should Be Ample Safeguarded.

"The congress has the power to charter corporations to engage in interstate and foreign commerce, and a general law can be enacted under the provisions of which existing corporations could take out federal charters and new federal corporations could be created. An essential provision of such a law should be a method of predetermining by some federal board of commission whether the application for a federal charter was an association or combination within the restrictions of the federal law. Provision should also be made for complete publicity in all matters affecting the public and complete protection to the investing public and the shareholders in the matter of issuing corporate securities. If an incorporation law is not enacted, the national government might be a combination of the two might be tried. The supervision established might be analogous to that now exercised over banks, and the antitrust act should be supplemented by specific prohibitions of the methods which experience has shown have been of most serious damage to the public. The real owners of a corporation should be compelled to do business in their own name. The right to hold stock in other corporations should be limited to the amount of stock owned in the corporation. The interstate corporations, unless on approval by the proper government officials, and a prerequisite to such approval should be the listing with the government of all owners and stockholders, both by the corporation owning such stock and by the corporations in which such stock is owned."

He confers upon the national government, in connection with the amendment I advocate in the antitrust law, power of supervision over big business concerns engaged in interstate commerce, would benefit them as it has benefited the national banks. In the recent business crisis it is noteworthy that the institutions which failed were institutions which were not under the supervision and control of the national government. Those which were under national control stood the test."

"National control of the kind above advocated would be to the benefit of every well-managed railway. From the standpoint of the public there is need for additional tracks, additional terminals, and improvements in the actual handling of the railroads, and all this as rapidly as possible. Ample, safe, and speedy transportation facilities are even more necessary than cheap transportation. Therefore, there is need for the investment of money which will provide for all these things while at the same time securing as far as is possible better wages and shorter hours for their employees. Therefore, while there must be just and reasonable regulation of rates, we should be the first to protest against any arbitrary and unthinking movement to cut them down without the fullest and most careful consideration of all interests, and of the actual needs of the situation. Only a special body of men elected for the national government under authority conferred upon it by the congress is competent to pass judgment on such a matter."

Greater Elasticity in Currency Is Urged.

The president quotes extensively from his last message in dealing with the direct subject of currency legislation, and says:

"I again urge on the congress the need of immediate attention to this matter. We need a greater elasticity in our currency, provision of currency that we require, the even greater need of a safe and secure currency. There must always be the most rigid examination by the national authorities. Provision should be made for an emergency currency. The emergency issue should, of course, be made with an effective guaranty, and upon conditions carefully prescribed by the government. Such emergency issue can be based on adequate securities approved by the government, and must be issued under a heavy tax. This would permit currency being issued when the demand for it was urgent, while securing its retirement as the demand fell off. It is worth investigating to determine whether officers and directors of national banks should be subject to the same supervision as banks; legislation to this effect should be enacted for the District of Columbia and the territories."

"Yet we must also remember that even the wisest legislation on the subject can only accomplish a certain amount. No legislation can by any possibility guarantee the business community against the results of speculative folly any more than it can guarantee an individual against the results of his extravagance. When an individual misuses his freedom, he is an automobile he invites disaster; and when wealthy men, or men who pose as such, or are unscrupulously or foolishly eager to become such, indulge in reckless speculation, they jeopardize not only their own future but the future of all their innocent fellow-citizens, for they expose the business community to panic and distress."

From the standpoint of the public there is need for additional tracks, additional terminals, and improvements in the actual handling of the railroads, and all this as rapidly as possible. Ample, safe, and speedy transportation facilities are even more necessary than cheap transportation. Therefore, there is need for the investment of money which will provide for all these things while at the same time securing as far as is possible better wages and shorter hours for their employees. Therefore, while there must be just and reasonable regulation of rates, we should be the first to protest against any arbitrary and unthinking movement to cut them down without the fullest and most careful consideration of all interests, and of the actual needs of the situation. Only a special body of men elected for the national government under authority conferred upon it by the congress is competent to pass judgment on such a matter."

Greater Elasticity in Currency Is Urged.

The president quotes extensively from his last message in dealing with the direct subject of currency legislation, and says:

"I again urge on the congress the need of immediate attention to this matter. We need a greater elasticity in our currency, provision of currency that we require, the even greater need of a safe and secure currency. There must always be the most rigid examination by the national authorities. Provision should be made for an emergency currency. The emergency issue should, of course, be made with an effective guaranty, and upon conditions carefully prescribed by the government. Such emergency issue can be based on adequate securities approved by the government, and must be issued under a heavy tax. This would permit currency being issued when the demand for it was urgent, while securing its retirement as the demand fell off. It is worth investigating to determine whether officers and directors of national banks should be subject to the same supervision as banks; legislation to this effect should be enacted for the District of Columbia and the territories."

"Yet we must also remember that even the wisest legislation on the subject can only accomplish a certain amount. No legislation can by any possibility guarantee the business community against the results of speculative folly any more than it can guarantee an individual against the results of his extravagance. When an individual misuses his freedom, he is an automobile he invites disaster; and when wealthy men, or men who pose as such, or are unscrupulously or foolishly eager to become such, indulge in reckless speculation, they jeopardize not only their own future but the future of all their innocent fellow-citizens, for they expose the business community to panic and distress."

He advises against any general tariff legislation this session of congress, and says:

"In a country of such phenomenal growth, it is not possible to cut every dozen years or so the tariff laws should be carefully scrutinized so as to see that no excessive or improper benefits are conferred thereby, that proper revenue is provided, and that our foreign trade is encouraged. There must always be as a minimum a tariff which will not only allow for the protection of our industries but which will at least make good the difference in cost of production here and abroad; that is, the difference in the labor cost here and abroad. The well-being of the wage-worker must be a cardinal point of American policy. The question should be approached purely from a business standpoint, both the protection of the wage-worker and the well-being of the wage-worker must be a cardinal point of American policy."

"The antitrust law should not be repealed, but it should be made more efficient and more in harmony with actual conditions. It should be so amended as to forbid only the kind of combination which does harm to the general public, and which is not accompanied by a corresponding benefit to the public. It should be so amended as to be an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big corporations engaged in interstate business, and should be accompanied by provision for the compulsory publication of accounts and the submission of books and papers to the inspection of the government officials. A business combination that is not accompanied by a corresponding benefit to the public is an incident of a grant of supervisory power to the government over these big corporations engaged in interstate business, and should be accompanied by provision for the compulsory publication of accounts and the submission of books and papers to the inspection of the government officials."

Inverting Public Should Be Ample Safeguarded.

"The congress has the power to charter corporations to engage in interstate and foreign commerce, and a general law can be enacted under the provisions of which existing corporations could take out federal charters and new federal corporations could be created. An essential provision of such a law should be a method of predetermining by some federal board of commission whether the application for a federal charter was an association or combination within the restrictions of the federal law. Provision should also be made for complete publicity in all matters affecting the public and complete protection to the investing public and the shareholders in the matter of issuing corporate securities. If an incorporation law is not enacted, the national government might be a combination of the two might be tried. The supervision established might be analogous to that now exercised over banks, and the antitrust act should be supplemented by specific prohibitions of the methods which experience has shown have been of most serious damage to the public. The real owners of a corporation should be compelled to do business in their own name. The right to hold stock in other corporations should be limited to the amount of stock owned in the corporation. The interstate corporations, unless on approval by the proper government officials, and a prerequisite to such approval should be the listing with the government of all owners and stockholders, both by the corporation owning such stock and by the corporations in which such stock is owned."

He confers upon the national government, in connection with the amendment I advocate in the antitrust law, power of supervision over big business concerns engaged in interstate commerce, would benefit them as it has benefited the national banks. In the recent business crisis it is noteworthy that the institutions which failed were institutions which were not under the supervision and control of the national government. Those which were under national control stood the test."

"National control of the kind above advocated would be to the benefit of every well-managed railway. From the standpoint of the public there is need for additional tracks, additional terminals, and improvements in the actual handling of the railroads, and all this as rapidly as possible. Ample, safe, and speedy transportation facilities are even more necessary than cheap transportation. Therefore, there is need for the investment of money which will provide for all these things while at the same time securing as far as is possible better wages and shorter hours for their employees. Therefore, while there must be just and reasonable regulation of rates, we should be the first to protest against any arbitrary and unthinking movement to cut them down without the fullest and most careful consideration of all interests, and of the actual needs of the situation. Only a special body of men elected for the national government under authority conferred upon it by the congress is competent to pass judgment on such a matter."

Croup Quickly Cured.

A few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy bring surprising results when a child shows symptoms of croup. There is no cause for alarm when this medicine is in the house, as it rarely takes more than three or four doses to bring about a complete cure. It has never failed even in the most dangerous cases, and no home where there are small children can afford to be without it. For sale by J. H. Orme.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by James H. Orme.

Of Interest to Mothers.

There is one subject which always interests the mother of young children and that is how to treat their coughs and colds, or to ward off a threatened attack of croup. For this purpose we recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It always proves beneficial. In case of croup it should be given as soon as the croupy cough appears, so as to prevent the attack. Keep it at hand ready for instant use. Many mothers do so, and it saves them much uneasiness. For sale by J. H. Orme.
