THE WOODMEN BANQUET

Tuesday Evening Was Largely Attended and Enjoyed by All.

Promptly at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening the members of Rosewood Camp, No. 22, W. O. W. of this city, accompanied by their wives and sweethearts met, according to appointment, at the Opera House, and were delightfully entertained by the Marion Silver Cornet Band. At 7:30 o'clock, according to program, they heard announced by the committee who prepared the feast "Come, for all things are now ready."

The happy banqueters then proceeded to the Stegar Building, led by the Band, where they found a spread, such as was seldom if ever seen in Marion. There were one hundred and seventy present and every heart was light and happy.

Prayer was then offered by Zed A. Bennett.

The evening was made more enjoyable and the repast more palatable if possible, by sweet strains of music furnished by the string band.

The most enjoyable feature of the evening perhaps was the responses to the various toasts. Every one on the program was present and responded in the happiest vein.

Mr. Zed A. Bennett, the toastmaster, as usual was ever ready with his wit and humor which always brought forth laughter and lent a "jolly air" to the entire program.

Consul Commander Wm. H. Clark responded to the toast, "The Forest," and in his inimitable way delighted his hearers. There is no presiding officer in the state who is more efficient, and he is "there with the goods" when called upon for an impromptu speech.

The next response was by Hon. John A. Moore to the toast "The Relation of Fraternism to the Church." The subject was handled with skill and everybody felt like saying "Amen" to the good things that Mr. Moore said relative to the mistaken idea extant that the fraternities stand in the place of the church.

Mr. J. Frank Dodge then followed with "Fraternal Love," and he made his hearers feel that fraternal love is the love "that vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up." Mr. Dodge made a reputation as a speaker in one evening of which any one might be proud.

The next speaker was Dr. T. A. Frazer who made an extremely "catchy" speech on "Little Things." The banquet hall rang many times with laughter on account of the "soft places" and witty things in the Doctor's speech. He is certainly at home when replying to a toast.

Hon. Thos. W. Champion then followed with the subject "Dum Tacit Clamat," a subject better understood by Woodmen than others. We have never heard a speech that was more highly appreciated. It was interspersed with arrows of wit and strong sensible thought.

Our friend, Judge J. G. Rochester, responded to the toast "Fraternalism and What it Means." The Judge's speech was so good that it made the audience feel that it was "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

The program having been completed volunteers were then called for and Mr. Rufus Robinson responded discussing "The History of Woodcraft." He greatly surprised his hearers as nobody knew Mr. Robinson to be a public speaker. He is no novice, however, in the art and every word of his speech was received with the most profound attention.

Mr. R. L. Davis, who has recently come among us, was then called upon for a speech. Mr. Davis being a modest man responded with reluctance. He paid the highest tribute to the "orders" to which he belonged and assured us that he had come to Marion to stay. We are glad to have such men as Mr. Davis among us and welcome other citizens of his type.

The committee composed of Messrs S. H. Ramage, J. W. Wilson, R. I. Nunn, A. S. Cannan, H. D. Pollard and W. H. Clark certainly did its duty and did it well. We have never seen a crowd handled so well as they were Tuesday evening and everyone present was profuse in thanks to the committee for the royal entertainment which not one failed to enjoy.

After the benediction by Bro. J. Frank Dodge, the orchestra played "Home Sweet Home" and everybody left with new resolutions for the New Year.

Miraculous Escape.

Monday afternoon while Rev. John P. Hogard the aged minister of Tribune, was returning home from Marion, the wind blew a tree down which struck his horse and killed the animal and partially demolished the buggy but by a Providential interference the aged minister was unhurt not even a scratch.

Rev. Hogard is a well known and a much beloved man and his great number of friends are congratulating him on his narrow and miraculous escape.

Zed A. Bennett Wins Nice Prize.

There were three prizes offered by Thomas & Kaye state agents for the New England Mutual Life Insurance, of $60.00; $30.00 and $10.00 for the three agents outside of Louisville writing the greatest amount of business from Oct. 5th, to the 20th, inclusive. Zed Bennett wrote $19,500 and won the $60.00 prize, the closest man to him having written only $10,000. He goes on the road for the New England, Feb. 1st, as superior of agencies for Kentucky and South Eastern Indiana. This is a good position and pays a nice salary.

Kee-Watben.

The marriage of Prof. Victor G. Kee, Superintendent of the Grenada, Miss., Graded and High Schools, to Miss Mary Fenwick Watben of this county was solemnized at the Presbyterian Church U. S. A., in this city Sunday afternoon Dec. 22nd, 1907, at 2:30 o'clock, the Rev. W. G. Hunter, of Princeton, Ky., the officiating minister, being a college friend of and in the same graduating class as the groom. The ceremony was dignified and beautiful, the well chosen words which united the handsome couple were listened to eagerly by one of the largest audiences ever assembled in this city. Long before the hour for the wedding the house was filled to overflowing with the friends of the couple and when the bridal party arrived there was not standing room in the aisles.

The bride was a picture of loveliness as she approached the altar where she was met by the groom and his best man, his brother, W. B. Kee, of Ripley, Tenn. The maid of honor, Miss Ina Price, accompanied the bride to the altar. The attendants were Miss May Travis, of Marion, and Mr. Alonzo Klutts, of Ripley, Tenn., Miss Mary Deboe, of Marion, and Mr. W. Dan Majors, of Ripley, Tenn.

The musical recital on the organ was rendered by Mrs. S. M. Jenkins and consisted of the following selections:—

Hunting Song Mendelssohn.
Kameniaui-Ostrow Rubenstein
Aria Alla Sciezzese Valentine.
William Tell Overture.
Wedding March Mendelssohn.
Cavaleria Rusticana played during ceremony.

Prof. and Mrs. Kee left on the afternoon train immediately after the ceremony for his old home in Ripley, Tenn., where they spent the holidays and from thence to Grenada, Miss., their future home.

The best wishes of a host of friends in Marion will follow them. The bride was reared in this county and city and is famous for beauty, grace and attractive manners, and is a member of one of the county's old and aristocratic families.

The groom was principal of the Marion Graded and High school last year and the year before and distinguished himself while in that capacity. He has many warm personal friends here who congratulate him on winning the heart and hand of one who will be worthy of him and bring honor to his name throughout her life.

Rev. I. M. Hurst Here.

Mr. Hurst, of Wilmington, Del., preached at the Presbyterian church U. S. A., last Sunday morning and at night to appreciative audiences.

The theme of his morning discourse was, "Redeeming the Time." He handled the subject in a masterly way, and among other things he said "Our religion teaches us lines of special duties, but this is the one duty common to all." He made a very beautiful illustration of the subject by using the story of the priest and Levite in the good Samaritan narrative. He said "Men who make themselves immortal are those who redeem their time."

The subject of the evening discourse was "Doing Your Best." Founded on the story of the woman anointing Christ's head with the costly oil. "Christ said let her alone, she hath done what she could." "It was her best; not only her best, but her best motive. Our best service touches everything around us. God will take our best and make it better."

Mr. Hurst is a fine pulpit orator, and a forceful speaker, and both sermons were well received by the audiences.

Next Sunday is regular service day at that church and he will fill the pulpit at morning and evening service, at the regular hours, 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject, "Approximating Our Ideals." Evening subject, "The Home." All are cordially invited.

Gratitude.

With a heart full of gratitude I want to thank all those who administered to my wants during my spell of sickness in any kind of a way, even a pleasant thought for me and them who day by day came into our home and took the burdens off my companion and administered to my wants in every way that they could,

I would not forget the five year old baby who would lift my head up while I could take my medicine and would put her arms around my neck and say, "I love you," may the Lord reserve her in her beauty, to ornament the Heavenly Home to make it more attractive for those who love her so well here on earth. And there is aunt Carrie who with many others administered to my wants in giving me the last bird and squirrel they had.

May the Lord bless all of them and especially Aunt Carrie because she did what she could.

M. H. WELDON.

J. W. Adams Dead.

Wednesday morning Jan. 1st, 1908, Joseph Adams, one of the towns oldest and most highly respected citizens passed from earth to eternity. His illness was of short duration. He was at his shop last Friday and was not taken sick until that night and it was not thought that he was seriously ill. Monday night he was stricken with paralysis from which he never rallied, death ensuing Wednesday morning at 9:25 o'clock.

He was surrounded by his family, excepting one son, Sandy, who is in Texas.

Mr. Adams is survived by his wife who was Miss Josephene Dean, to whom he was married in 1858, also one daughter, Miss Emma, and two sons, George, of this city, and Sandy, of Bastow, Texas. One sister survives him, being Mrs. Margaret Minner, of this county, and two brothers, L. H. Adams, of Shawneetown, Ill., and Wm. Adams, of this county. Another sister Mrs. Martha J. Crider, died in this county five years ago.

Mr. Adams was for fifty years a member of the Presbyterian church in this city, and was one of the pillars of the church. In point of piety attendance and christian fortitude he had no superiors, and had been a professor for seventy years.

Mr. Adams was born Oct., 10th, 1826, in Knox County Tennessee, near Maryville. His father moved to Robertson Co., when he was seven years of age, in 1833. He came to Marion when he reached his majority and has, but for slight intermissions, been a resident of this city ever since.

Mr. Adams was twice married. His first wife being Miss Sarah Jane Wheeler, one son John Henry, was born of this union, but mother and son both died soon afterward.

Mr. Adams was probably the longest time resident of this city, having resided here 60 years.

The funeral will be held in the church he loved so well, Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, the pastor officiating.

Many, Many Thanks.

The members of Rosewood Camp, No. 22, Woodmen of the World, desire to express their profound thanks to Mr. J. A. Stegar for the use of his building, to Mr. S. M. Jenkins for the lights, to Messrs. J. H. Cochran & Co., for the use of the range and to all others who so generously assisted in making the banquet so enjoyable.

The Tea Club Entertained.

Mrs. R. F. Haynes entertained the Tea Club Friday afternoon. A few guests outside the club were invited in honor of Misses Lillie Cook, of Paducah, and Virgie Nunn, of Frankfort. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in conversation while the guests did their fancy work.

Tea, cocoa, cake and toasted marshmallows were served.

Lost.

A setter bird dog. White, with small dark gray spots on body. Ears very dark gray. Reward will be paid for return or for information leading to his recovery.

H. K. WOODS.

DIED FAR FROM HOME.

Caleb Stone, Octogenarian, Crosses the Dark River While in California.

Mrs. Geo. W. Stone received a telegram Monday containing the announcement of the death of Caleb Stone in Pomona, California, where he was visiting at the home of S. J. R. Boyd. The dispatch came from Councilman Stone to his wife and stated that the remains of his father would reach Fredonia Friday afternoon Jan. 3rd, at 3 o'clock barring delays or accidents.

The news came as a great shock to the friends of the deceased. The last report from his bedside being that he was improving, his age though was against any great rapid improvement and a slight relapse soon carried him away.

Caleb Stone was born in Lyon Co., near New Bethel Sept. 5th, 1825 and was a son of Leasel and Nancy Killiar Stone, and was one of a large family. His brother, Hon. W. J. Stone being one of the state's most prominent men, and one sister Mrs. Tempe Brasher survives him. His wife (Mrs. Lucy Cruce of this county) preceded him to the grave several years ago. His only living child is Dr. Geo. W. Stone of this city, who hastened to his bed side when advised of his serious illness two weeks ago.

Mr. Stone was a baptist and for years was a member of the New Bethel Congregation. His funeral and burial will take place there probably next Saturday.

Dreutzer-Bebout.

Cards have been received in the city reading as follows:—

"Married, Miss Ida Mary Bebout to Mr. Otto E. Dreutzer, Tuesday evening, December twenty fourth, nineteen hundred and seven, Chattanooga, Tennessee, Rev. H. L. Jones officiating. Home, 524 Lookout Street."

Mrs. Dreutzer is the third daughter of A. J. Bebout, of Sheridan, and is a young woman of bright mind, who has been a stenographer in the office of the Southern Express Co. Her many friends here and in the county will congratulate the groom on winning the heart and hand of one of Crittenden county's handsomest girls.

The groom is not known here but is reported to be one of Chattanooga's prominent business men.

Birthday Party.

Marvin Bighan, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bigham, celebrated his seventh birthday, Saturday, December 28th, at his home on North Main Street. Ice cream, cake and pop corn were served.

Those present were:—Louise Dess, Mary Virginia Doss, Archie Little, Johnie Byford, Newton Moore, Fannie Moore, Wilson Woods and Joe Walker.

All seemed to enjoy themselves very much.

Card of Thanks.

To the kind Sovereigns, W. O. W. for their help in time of need. I have been confined to my room for twelve months, and have worked two months in the last two years, during which time they have never neglected us, been ready and willing at all times with things necessary to our comfort and benefit, and to-day unasked brought a delicious and sumptuous dinner for which we are more thankful, may the order live long and prosper, and may its members and their families be ever blessed with health and prosperity is the humble prayer of yours in suffering.

W. B. AND F. B. WHITE.

Your Hair Contrary?

Is it inclined to run away? Don't punish it with a cruel brush and comb! Feed it, nourish it, save it with Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula. Then your hair will remain at home, on your head, where it belongs. An elegant dressing. Keeps the scalp healthy.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Formula with each bottle. Show it to your doctor. Ask him about it, then do as he says.

A Letter From Colorado.

Ordway, Colorado.
Mrs. H. G. Howard,
Salem, Ky.

Dear Mother:—As it has been some time since I have written to you and I am in camp alone tonight, I will let you hear from me and also tell you of my hunt to New Mexico. After cooking two months for Harry Millhouse while he was thrashing, after we finished up him and his brother and I got us some good guns and a wagon and team. We loaded up and started to New Mexico from Olinha, Colo., so I will give you my trip as I have it written.

Oct. 17, 1907. Left Olinha at day-break, passed through Folar at 10 o'clock, took dinner at the Hie-line ditch on the Arkansas river and all of the land from the ditch to the river is irrigated land and is worth from $125 to $200 per acre.

Took supper tonight at Red-top, that is a large cattle ranch and is a nice place. It has plenty of water and is on Mustang creek.

Second day. We crossed Mustang valley this morning. We saw a large bunch of antelopes and killed one of them. There are not so many of them as they are hunted with greyhounds and lot of them are caught that way.

Noon. We are camped for dinner on Cedar Hill just across the Mustang valley, and there is one herd of horses that has about 15,000 head of horses in it and that is the reason it is called Mustang valley because there are so many Mustang horses there.

We are camped tonight on a large creek and there is some farming done. Most all of the people are Mexicans. We have crossed the country 140 miles and have seen only one ranch.

Third day at noon. We are at Walsenburg now having some mountain shoes put on our horses. Walsenburg is a nice little town. It is on the C. R. G. road. It is a coal mining town.

We are camped tonight at Levita. We came up the creek valley from Walsenburg. It is a fine valley, all under irrigation, and all of the land is farmed by Mexicans and most all of them have a small herd of sheep. Levita is a small town, but there is lots work going on here. It has a large flour mill and saw mill and the railroad keeps several extra engines to help the trains across the mountains.

We have been traveling in very broken country today, deep canyons and heavy timber such as spruce, pine and cedar.

Fourth day. Left Levita this morning and struck the Indian creek pass two miles out of Levita. We are over the mountains now. It took us seven hours to get from the front of the Indian creek pass to the top. It took all three of us to keep the wagon in the road. The most of the way the road was solid rock and in some places we could look straight down for a thousand feet. Such places as that did not look very good to the driver as the road was about one foot wider than the wagon. There is lots of water in the canyon. The water is sure fine as it is melting snow from off the mountains.

We are camped at noon just at the top of the Rocky Mountains, 12,000 feet above sea level. The snow is about three feet deep. I can stand up here and look West down into the Sonlu valley and down in New Mexico, a distance of 200 miles, and look back East over the prairies as far as I can see. It is one of the finest scenes I ever saw.

We saw a bunch of elks just now. To look at them I don't look like they could get through the timber at all as their horns are so large, but they can run as fast through the thick timber as a horse can on level ground. There are plenty of deer, bears and mountain lions up here. One of the boys killed a nice little deer this morning and it is almost as good as a Kentucky chicken.

As we left the top of the mountain and started down on the West side, we could see a large cloud hanging on the side of the mountain. When we got down two miles we were in the cloud and it was snowing hard and went two miles and were out of the cloud and the sun was shining brightly while it was still snowing above us.

Fifth day. We camped last night ten miles from the top of the range. As we were coming down the canyon this morning there was a small stream of water along the road. We all got out of the wagon and in five minutes killed ten pounds of mountain trout.

The grass was green all the way down the canyon on the West side of the mountain and I saw some of the finest cattle that I have ever seen in the West and they are almost as wild as deer.

We came down Utah creek for fifteen miles this afternoon. We saw the roundup wagon as the cattle men were rounding up the cattle to ship the beef and brand the summer calves. They had about fifteen thousand head of cattle and seven hundred head of saddle horses. There were about seventy-five boys with the wagon.

It is very rough riding in the mountains. They have to wear a heavy pair of shoes over their pants and leather vests.

We are camped tonight at Fort Garlon, a place where Capt. Garlon fought the Indians. The walls of the old fort still stand. I went in and looked at them. They are made out of mud three feet thick. The fort is at the foot of Sero Blanco mountain, the highest peak in Colorado, which is 14,400 feet high.

Sixth day. We are camped today at Sonlu, eighteen miles from Ft. Garlon. Sonlu is a small town, all of the people are Mexicans and all the houses are made of mud. This town is in a fine valley and there are large herds of sheep and goats around here and there is a great deal of farming done here.

We camped tonight in New Mexico at Gustilla and it is snowing hard and we have got supper over and the boys have got the beds made down beside the wagon, so I guess we will be covered with snow in the morning. We have traveled about forty miles down this valley today. It is about fifty miles wide and is fine land. They expect to irrigate this valley from Ft. Garlon to Lapesta, New Mexico, a distance of seventy miles.

Seventh day. We traveled South today along the snowy range and we are camped tonight with an old prospector on Red river. The Rio Grande river is two miles West of here. The old prospector has lived in the mountains thirty-two years and has not been out of the mountains in ten years. He is seventy-eight years old and looks as young as the men do in the East at forty-five or fifty. I ate my first bear steak tonight and it is sure fine. He has two large deer in his camp and says he has eaten no kind of meat only wild game in twenty years.

We will go into the mountains here to do our hunting. There are lots of Indians around here and any where Indians hunt are good hunting grounds.

Eighth day. After staying all night with the old prospector he concluded to go with us hunting and we were glad to have him for our guide. We left our wagon at his camp and he let us have burros and pack saddles as the road was so rough that we could not travel in our wagon. There is no road only trails, so we loaded our beds and cooking outfit and started. We only had two burros and each of them were carrying about 500 pounds and we started up Red River canyon. The first three miles we had a very good trail to travel, but the next ten miles we had no trail at all. We went through timber and over rocks that would make a rabbit stop and think how to get through. We traveled about thirteen miles today close to the top of the mountains. It is snowing here now. We did not stop to get any dinner as we came up and we have just got dinner over and the boys and old man have gone out hunting, but I am nearly give out. I think I can rest now. I think we will be camped here several days as bears, deer and elks are plentiful.

Ninth day. I got up this morning and my bed was covered two feet deep with snow and it made me feel like lying in bed all day rather than get out in the snow and build a fire. So after breakfast we started out to see which could get the first deer. The old man and I went together. We had not gone far until we came to two large bear tracks, so we kept following them until they separated, then he took one track and I the other. I had not gone far until I heard two shots fired and I supposed he had got the one he was after, so I kept on after the other, he only went about a mile and went in the cool in the side of the mountain. Then I started to the old man to help him in camp with his bear. I had a hard time in finding him. When I found him he was lying speechless in the snow with blood all over his face. In about two hours I had him on his feet and so he could talk. He said the first shot he fired broke the bear's shoulder and the second broke his lower jaw and by that time the bear hit him with his front foot and knocked him down and tried to bite him, but his jaw being broken he could not hurt him, then the bear struck him and he did not know anything more until I got him up. The bear's jaw being broken saved his life. We then started on the bear's track and followed it to the same cool the other one went into.

Tenth day. We all left camp early today as it was the second day after the snow. Bears most always wait until the second day after the snow to travel. There are three kinds of bears in Colorado and New Mexico, the black, brown and the gray. The gray bear is the largest of all. We have seen most all kinds of game in Colorado and New Mexico on this hunt and killed lots of it. I only saw one mountain sheep as they are scarce in Colorado and New Mexico. They are a beautiful animal. The one I saw had large horns. They stay up above the timber line in the mountains, where there are nothing but rocks, so I guess they live on pure air and mountain scenery. The deer stay up high in the mountains this time of the year and keep getting lower until spring and then they are down at the foot of the hills.

We had a fine time on our hunt and saw some fine mountain scenery and some fine lakes in the mountains. They are natural lakes, made by volcanoes years ago. We have been gone about thirty-four days. When we started back I left the boys at Logusta and took the stage coach for Ft. Garlon and came back the mountains on the railroad and up to Pueblo. Stayed there two days and came on down to Ordway again. I guess I will be here all winter. I am working at the Boston ranch on a hay baler at $3 a day and board. I expect to go to New Mexico in the spring. I will close with best regards to all. AYERS HOWARD.

A Big Meeting at Blackford.

I closed a twenty days meeting Dec. 22, at Blackford, (Princeton Presbytery) which resulted in thirty conversions and ten reclaimed and twenty-eight additions with more to follow. I had no ministerial help. This was an old time Holy Ghost meeting and the people had a mind to the work. One of the glorious results of the meeting was manifested in the spiritual uplift of our town and community. We now have fifty-two members, all loyal to the C. P. church. REV. J. R. KING, Pastor.

We closed our meeting Nov. 5 at Flatlick church, (Princeton Presbytery), with forty-eight conversions, thirty-one additions and eleven children baptized. One of the glorious results of the meeting was manifested in the spiritual uplift of the community. People of the different churches worked in perfect harmony with us, and there was much of the old time revival spirit of our fathers. This congregation now has 150 members and all loyal to the C. P. church. I was assisted in the meeting by C. T. Boucher and R. A. Moore.

ITALY ENTERS VIGOROUS PROTEST.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 24.—Gov. Wilson received this afternoon a dispatch from Secretary of State Root at Washington stating that the United States government was in receipt of a cablegram from Rome that the Italian government protested against the burning of Regie tobacco at Hopkinsville and that Italy looks to this government to stop such raids, and that something must be done by the United States to protect the property of that government in the tobacco district of Kentucky.—Ex.

Hogwallow News.

Jefferson Potlocks left the cork out of his jug under the bed last night and got up this morning with a terrible cold.

A one-legged fellow has been noticed hanging around the Dog Hill grave yard standing on one foot.

Some visitor knocked on Fletcher Henstep's door Friday night but he refused to get up as he had done closed his eyes for the night.

Fit Smith alleges that his mule got scared at a coal oil can Thursday and ran off with a load of saw logs. The logs were scattered along the road for miles and all of them were splintered into kindling wood or badly skinned up in the runaway.

A cart ought to go twice as fast as a buggy as it has to make only half as many tracks.

As an illustration of the fact that the public in general is either lary or in a hurry look at the paths that cut across vacant lots.

Washington Hocks built a new due to his chimney Sunday. It is modeled on the defective plan, as they are the ones most mentioned in Newspapers.

Inquiry as to the whereabouts of a corkscrew usually elicits an undue amount of speculation among bystanders.

Anyone wanting stamps or postal cards after 10 o'clock at night can find the Hogwallow postmaster at his home over on Gauder Creek.

The sun, somehow, shines just as bright on a grave-yard as it does on places where happiness reigns.

Poor folks always have to work hard for a living—unless they have plenty of money.

All of us have one big final moving day—and that's when we are loaded up and carried to the grave.

A man crossed the street with a sack in his arms. He was eating an apple. Several persons noticed the man and everyone of them at once drew the conclusion that he had a sack of apples. And while the appearances were favorable for such a conclusion, the sack contained nails instead of apples.

Fit Smith says he aims to get a new hat as soon as Raz Barlow pays him.

Croup.

Not a minute should be lost when a child shows symptoms of croup. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. For sale by J. H. Orme.

A Growing Institution.

Already the largest business school in the South, the Bowling Green Business University is still growing. It is now enjoying the largest September attendance in its history. It has made good all its promises and pledges. Its graduates secure positions and hold them with credit to themselves and satisfaction to their employers. It advertises nothing it does not fulfil. In this way it has justly become the largest business school in the South.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasantly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure. If it's a painful period with women, same cause. If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the natural blood pressure.

Brise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's a congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

CRITTENDEN CIRCUIT COURT, KENTUCKY.

F S Gass, Adm'r of J V Gass, dec'd PFE Equi-Against
Mrs. M. F. Gass, et al. Defendant.

By virtue of a judgment and order of sale of the Crittenden Circuit

Court, rendered at the November

Term thereof, 1907, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court house door in Marion to the highest bidder, at Public Auction,

on Monday the 13 day of January

1908, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabout (being court day), upon a credit of six months the following described property, to-wit:

A certain tract of land lying in Crittenden county and about 2½ miles S. E. of Marion and known as the J. V. Gass home-stead and said Gass and Ira C. Hughes by W. S. L.

Hughes November 20th, 1880, recorded in deed book P., page 157, in

County Court Clerk's Office, Crittenden

County Kentucky.

Then however 20 acres which the said Gass in his life time sold and conveyed to one James P. Gass and also about 87 acres which the said

Gass sold and conveyed to one Mary

E. Tidwell, leaving a balance of about 113 acres more or less.

This land is to be sold subject to a lean given to J. S. Thomas by said

Gass, which expires December 9th, 1909.

For the purchase price the purchaser, with approved security or securities, must execute bond, bearing legal interest from day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

Obituary.

Died, Nov. 3, 1907, at her home in Shady Grove, Ky., Mrs. Jane

Hubbard, of paralysis, in her 80th year. Thus ended the life of one of the oldest and best known women in that part of the county. The writer has been personally and intimately acquainted with her for more than thirty years. She professed faith in Christ in early life and united with the Baptist church, in which she remained a consistent member until her death. In her younger life she was a regular attendant at all church services, but in latter years she was one of the Lord's "shut-in ones" by reason of her great affliction. She spent her last days alone in her own home. She was a Baptist from principle, but not a bigot. Her con-vicitions of doctrine and duty were deep but not extravagant. Her faith in her Savior was beautiful and steadfast. Her hope of heaven was all based on what Christ had done for her, and no glory was taken to herself.

A good mother and a kind neighbor is no more. She will be missed by her children and friends but by none more than by Mittie, who never tired of ministering to mother's needs. Her afflictions were many

Great Money-Saving Club Offers

SUMMARY—Nine great papers. Three Weeklies, Two Semi-Monthlies and Four Monthlies. Their regular price is $4.00. This Club is sold to you for only $2.00. No offer of any kind, no matter where, could be such a bargain as this. Think of it. Over 400 pages of valuable reading matter each month in this Club.

If you don't want all the papers sent to one address you can split either club, and have them sent to any number of different addresses. Or two or more parties can get together, order any club, and have any part they may want sent to any address.	If you think you won't have time to read all of the papers and magazines now, remember the long winter nights are not far off. WE LOOSE MONEY on every order, but intend to have a larger circulation than any County paper in this state.	If you are already a subscriber to any or all of these papers, your time will be extended one full year on receipt of combination price.	If you change your address your papers can be changed from old to new address. If you are now taking any of these papers from an agent or direct from the publisher, order it stopped, and save over 100 per cent. by accepting our offers.	SAMPLES of each publication will be gladly given you, even if you do not subscribe. Come to our office for them, or telephone, and our representative will be glad to call with Samples.	Every paper goes to you for one full year. Money back if you are not satisfied that it is the greatest newspaper bargain ever offered.

Remember this great offer is for a very short time only. This offer is good to all old as well as new subscribers.

THINK OF IT Twenty-two great papers and magazines in our clubs; and the wonderful part of it is that it only costs you a few cents more per month than you are now paying for the one you may be taking. Remember each issue of the Crittenden PRESS-RECORD will give you all the news of Marion and all the surrounding towns. The papers we offer contain many special departments which will appeal to both old and young. The market and business reports in the papers are alone worth many times the special price we ask for the entire club. All the magazines in each club are so well known that the description of them is unnecessary.

Remember each paper in every club is the best of its kind published. We have been very careful in making up our clubs so that each paper would be a representative one and that every paper would give complete satisfaction. To any business man, farmer, manufacturer or family, the market reports are alone worth the price of the entire club. Each paper gives you complete news, not only of the entire United States, but of the world as well. All of the magazines and papers have many special departments that will appeal to and please every person reading them. Semi-monthly and monthly magazines are so well known that when you read the name that alone tells what they are.

The Crittenden RECORD-PRESS is proud to be able to offer to its patrons clubs of this kind, composed of such representative papers and magazines, and we can say to each and every one that our offer is worth many times the price of the clubs and that no one will make a mistake in taking advantage of them.

On page three of this issue you will find an interesting article in regard to all of the papers in our club. This gives a full description of each paper. The saving habit is the key to wealth, not how much you make but how much you save.

Remember this offer is only for a short time. Don't let your opportunity pass. Order now. Tomorrow or next week may be too late.

The Crittenden Record-Press,

Marion, Kentucky.

Joined U. S. Army.

Mr. Herbert F. Phillips of Repton, Ky., joined the U. S. Army at the Army Recruiting Office, in Princeton, Ky., on Dec. 16, 1907.

He enlisted for the Infantry branch of the service and passed an excellent physical examination.

He was sent immediately to Jefferson Barracks at St. Louis, Mo., for his preliminary training in the duties of a soldier, prior to joining the organization for which he enlisted. He is to be congratulated on choosing and receiving service "with the colors" both at home and abroad.

Respectfully submitted

CERTAIN RESULTS

Many a Kentucky Citizen Knows How Sure They Are.

Nothing uncertain about the work of Doan's Kidney Pills in Kentucky. There is plenty of positive proof of this in the testimony of citizens. Such evidence should convince the most skeptical sufferer. Read the following statement:

Mrs. L. Varalli, living at 923 Fifth St., Louisville, Ky., says: "I am happy to say that Doan's Kidney Pills have been of great benefit to me and other members of my family. I frequently had attacks of backache and kidney trouble before using your remedy, but after using two boxes of the pills the trouble was entirely cured. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to a great many of my friends for I attribute my present good health to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills. They certainly do all that is claimed for them."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Question that Every Man Should Decide for Himself.

There is one subject in which many of us are interested and that is, what is the quickest way of getting rid of a troublesome cold? Is it best to put some new remedy put out with exaggerated claims, or to pin your faith to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a preparation that has won a world wide reputation and immense sale by its cure of this disease? This remedy is for sale by J. H. Orme.

TOLL TAKEN BY INDUSTRY

Startling List of Ailments Among the World's Workers—No Class Exempt From Deadly Disease.

The public is acquainted but slightly with the numerous so-called industrial diseases which are incidental to manufacturing industries. Of course, lead poisoning usually comes into mind as the most general, if not the only, ailment of this class. There was recently enacted into the laws of Great Britain a measure designed to provide compensation for workmen who contract any of the so-called industrial diseases during their terms of employment, and an exhaustive study has been made of the subject by a departmental committee of the home office, which lists, among others, the following startling array of afflictions which are directly traceable to particular lines of manufacture:

Poisoning by nitro and amido derivatives of benzene used in the manufacture of high explosives; poisoning by carbon bisulphide, used in india-rubber manufacture; poisoning by nitrous fumes, occurring in chemical and explosive factories; poisoning by nickel carbonyl, incident to the refining of nickel from its ore; arsenical and lead poisoning; poisoning by gonionia kamassi or African boxwood; chrome ulceration and its sequelae, occurring in the manufacture of potassium and sodium bichromate and in the dyeing trade; eczematous ulcerations of the skin produced by dust, caustic or corrosive liquids; ulcerations of the mucous membranes of the nose or mouth, produced by dust; ulcerations of the skin or eye, due to pitch or tarry compounds; epitheliomatous cancer, due to similar compounds, and subcutaneous cellulitis, or hand-heat.

Brass founders' ague, popularly supposed to be a serious complaint, has been ruled out, as investigation has proven it to be very transitory.

WAY OF PHILANTHROPY.

A lady who was recently appointed a visitor to a hospital for children, fearing that poor children failed to receive the same attention bestowed on those of richer parents, paid her first visit to the institution, intending to effect a change. In a ward she found a tiny boy quite alone. He informed her that there was another boy in the ward, but that he was being examined before a clinic. The lady looked around for evidence of neglect on the part of the attendants. A suit of clothes lay huddled on a chair. Folding them in an orderly manner, she said:

"Surely, my dear, these trousers are too long for you by several inches."

"Yes, ma'am," replied the boy.

"A sin and a shame," cried she, and took a "companion" from her bag. She sat down and cut off the legs of the garment and hemmed the edges.

"Now," she said, triumphantly, when the task was complete, "they will fit you better."

"The other boy's taller than me," replied the child. "They belong to him."—Exchange.

SOMETHING OF A YAWN.

We have noticed of late that there has been an increase of yawning among the ladies. At first thought this seemed to be a lapse from good form, but now we notice in a valued contemporary that yawning is quite fashionable and that it has back of it scientific fashion, which is that it is healthy. There could be no better basis for a fashion than that it is the practice of health. It may reveal in a few cases some irregularities of teeth, but we are all mortal, and the teeth may not have been one's pride. But the true soul does not observe these discrepancies, but stands out on the sunny slopes of the "new thought" and admires the yawn as the self-assertion of a lofty soul. And when on the trolley you see Aurelia, across the way, opening wide the portals of her fair face, remember she is only adding another grace to the beauty that nature has so bountifully provided her.—Ohio State Journal.

DOESN'T INTEREST THEM.

"No," said Miss Prim, with virtuous indignation, "I never dance. When a man asks, 'May I have this dance with you?' it's the same as if he should say, 'May I hug you?'"

"Ah! I see," replied Miss Knox, "and so the men never ask you to dance."

THEATRE TALK NO. 2.

AMONG THE IMPORTANT ATTRACTIONS BOOKED AT THE OPERA HOUSE in this city in the near future is that famous play "A Dangerous Friend," which is a very cleverly arranged melodrama written by Fred. G. Conrad. THE PLAY

IS SAID TO BE ONE OF INTENSE HUMAN INTEREST and is never suggestive of the exaggerated sensational, but is written around an actual incident that occurred in Chicago high life a few years ago. IT IS AT TIMES EXCITING but nevertheless a pure play with an object lesson. It unfolds a sublime narrative of love and honor, abounds with beautiful dialogue and is said to be compiled in Conrad's best vein.

IT IS BEING PRODUCED THIS SEASON with a stronger cast than has ever been seen in the play before. The play still retains that strength and intensity that has in the past won its way to the hearts of the public.

NO MELODRAMA OF LATE YEARS HAS MET WITH SUCH PHENOMENAL SUCCESS and unbounded praise from patrons and press alike, as has this one. Young and old, people of all conditions and classes and all localities, flock to see this play with the same enthusiasm.

"YOUR MONEY'S WORTH OR YOUR MONEY BACK." "REAL PRICES WILL PREVAIL."

Marion Opera House, Tuesday Jan. 7th.

Obituary.

Jacob Allen Thomason was born Sept. 9, 1881, and died Nov. 23, 1907. He was 25 years, 2 months and 14 days old, and professed religion at old Piney Fork at the camp meeting in 1901 and joined the church at that place where he remained until his death.

He was married April, 9, 1902, to Annie B. Swansey, besides his wife he leaves a baby girl two years old, his mother, two brothers and a host of friends. His father and three sisters have gone on before to await his coming. The funeral was conducted by Rev. W. T. Oakley.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babes. The wholesome green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountainous shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, "The Sacred Herb." Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. Sold by James H. Orme.

Is Properly Acted.

A production of great interest is promised in the presentation of "A Dangerous Friend" at the Marion Opera House, Tuesday, Jan. 7. The engagement indicates that Manager Holton is booking the best kind of plays, since "A Dangerous Friend" comes with the cheering news that it is a wholesome melodrama wherein the reason of the spectator is not disgraced and the intelligence of the American theater-going public is not ridiculed with murder, arson, explosions, riots, battles, revels in vice, monsters of immortality and scenes of debauchery. The author, Fred G. Conrad, who also has the responsibility of being the manager and director of the play, seems to have acted on the most praiseworthy ambition to prove that there is such a thing in a big rousing, appealing, even thrilling melodrama without such obnoxious details as outrages, dens of crime and enough shooting to make Bunker Hill sound like a bunch of firecrackers. The author evidently has retained a firm hold on the interest of the audience through five strong acts, and incidentally he has given them plenty of hearty laughs. The people of this community like a vigorous, bright, refreshing, entertaining play with plenty of real sentiment in it and it looks as if "A Dangerous Friend" was such a drama. The manager-author has seen to it, no doubt, that his play is properly acted since the pride of authorship can never be overcome by the economy of the producer.

Obituary.

Deacon J. C. Brown was born in Hopkins County, Kentucky, on the 25th, of November, 1826, died Dec. 23, 1907, being 81 years and 28 days old at the time of his death. He professed faith in Christ at Old Meadow Creek in 1870 under the preaching of Eld. William Wynns, a Cumberland Presbyterian Minister. He united with the Camp Creek Baptist Church and was baptized by Eld. R. B. Tudor. He was ordained a Deacon of that Church a few years after he united with it.

He used the office of deacon well in many respects and thus purchased to himself a good degree and great boldness in the faith which is Christ Jesus. He was of a kind and cheerful disposition, a friend to all and was honored and loved by all who knew him. He loved his bible and was one of the best posted men on the Holy Scripture that the writer ever talked with, really to give a reason for his hope within him, he was a sound Baptist, but no bigot, he had christian fellowship for all of God's children. He loved his church and his pastor, and always stood by him in his work. The writer had the honor of being his pastor for several years, at different times and always a wise counsellor and a true yokefellow in the Master's work. But Uncle Jess as he was familiarly called is gone, his wife Aunt Liza preceded him to their heavenly home a few months, she having died last June.

He leaves one son, A. L. Brown or best known as "Dock" Brown. One daughter-in-law and six grandchildren to mourn their loss.

May Heavens richest benedictions rest upon all the bereaved ones in the earnest prayer of the writer.

Funeral service were conducted by the writer who read a part of the 14th chapter of Job and made a short talk, then Bro. U. G. Hughes his pastor and Bro. W. J. Hill, each prayed an earnest prayer, after which we layed him away in the Repton cemetery to await the resurrection.

Servant of God well done, Rest from thy loved employ.

The battle fought, the victory won, Enter Thy Master's joy.

W. R. GIBBS.

Haynes & Taylor Ask Catarrh Sufferers to Try Hyomei on Their Guarantee.

Haynes & Taylor invite all who suffer from any form of catarrhal troubles to get a Hyomei outfit from them with their absolute guarantee that if it does not give perfect satisfaction, the money will be refunded upon request.

There is no other treatment for catarrh that in any way resembles Hyomei, none that gives such quick curative results and lasting satisfaction, no medicine that can be sold on such a guarantee, refund the money unless it cures.

Catarrh is a germ disease and can be cured only by breathing Hyomei, so that the most remote air cells in the nose, throat and lungs are reached by its antiseptic healing powers. In this way all catarrhal germs are killed, the irritated mucous membrane is healed and catarrh is driven from the system.

This wonderful medicated air treatment does not drug and derange the stomach, but is breathed through a little pocket inhaler that goes with every dollar outfit.

The unusual way in which Haynes & Taylor sell Hyomei attests their confidence in the remedy.

HEAVY SALE ON FLOUR

Marion Milling Co., sold to Morris & Yates the enormous quantity of flour represented by the handsome sum of $2,972.15 during the year 1907, which is an average of nearly $250.00 per month or about $10.00 per day for every business day in the year. Is there real merit in a product which holds patronage this way or is it all in the winning ways of Frank Morris and Hope Yates? Ask Bob Nunn he can tell you.
