PUT ABOUT HIS NECK.

Masked Men Accused Kuttawa Man of Talking About Night Riders.

Kuttawa, Ky., March 28 -- At this time there are no soldiers in Lyon county. The County Judge J. L. Crumbough, last Monday tendered the courthouse to Capt. Givens, of the Middlesboro company, to be used for their quarters, but as yet the militia has not come. There has been no trouble in this county for some time except last Wednesday night a crowd of masked men men to the home of Will Bridges, in this county and after taking him a little ways from his home, put a rope around his neck and told Bridges that they this morning and the verdict charges had been informed that he, Bridges, had said he knew who the "night the prominence of both parties the riders" were and they would hang him if he did not tell. Bridges protested he did not know and could not tell, and asked to be taken to the man who had informed them when they turned him loose.

Hopkinsville, Ky., March 28 .--The case of of Mat Gholson charged with night riding, was this morn ing continued until the seventh day of the June term on motion of the Commonwealth. Gholson is one of the men indicted by the March grand jury. Four were indicted for confederating and three for sending threatening letters, Gholson is in jail in default of a $1,000 bond.

John Howell and William Holmes charged with writing threatening letters are in jail. Rob Wood tried on a similar indictment was convicted, and his case will be appealed while he is out on bond. Three prominent men, Herman Crenshaw, of Trigg county; J. M. Weaver and Dr. Wallace Durham, both of Christian county have been indicted for confederating and are under bonds. All of the cases have been continued until the June term of court. It is believed that many more indictments will be returned by the next grand jury. Many of the night riders are known, but it is very difficult to secure evi-

Eminence, Ky., March 19 .- Shelby county had its first experience crats have suggested his name for with the night riders Tuesday night the place. when seven masked men called at the home of Henry Ellis, who lives just over the line about three miles from Eminence, and calling him to his front door, demanded to know whethez he had sold any his pooled tobacco Ellis replied that he had, and his assailants, employing all the oaths it their vocabulary, declared that they would teach him a lesson. Thereupon, while several of the marauders held him securely, other slipped to his house and set fire to the building without even taking the precaution to warn his servants in the house to flee for their lives. Fortunately they had been awakened and they made their escape from the burning buildby a few moment after the torch had n applied. s soon as the raiders saw there was no chance for the building to be saved, they rode away and Mr. Ellis and his servants succeeded in removing his parlor furniture. This was the only property in the dwelling that was saved. Mrs. Ellis was not at home, being in a hospital at Shelbyville.

Before setting the house on fire, the marauders destroyed several tobacco beds which the tenants of Ellis had planted and prepared, and Ellis had decided to raise tobacco this season in spite of the Equity sons needing Ice, and will Killing at Princeton.

Princeton, Ky., Mach 27 .- Orbie Nabb, one of Caldwell's most prominent foung farmers, was shot and killed in this city this morning after 12 o'clock. The killing occured at the entrance of the Henrietta opera house. The fatal shot is supposed to have been fired by Henry Wilson, a prominent farmer and horseman After the shooting Wilson is said to have left the city and has not yet been apprenended.

Young Nabb has a large family connection and was well liked and quite popular. He was about 26 years old and resided in Hopson, about eight miles southeast of Princeton. He was one ef Caldwell's leading young Democrats and took an active interest in politics.

The Coroner's inquest was held Willon with the killing. Owing to killing is greatly deplored and the excitement and the feeling very high. The cause of the shooting is said to have been that the men quarreled over hiring a vehicle to take some chorus girls of a "show" appearing at the Henrietta out for a drive and

A Strong Denial.

(Special to PRESS.)

Fredonia, Ky., March 31 .- In the Louisville Post, of March 27, was a letter supposed to be written at Fredonia, Ky., saying that a Law and Order League had been formed here and that the town was being guarded by armed men and etc., and that any attempt of the night riders or association men to pass this way would result in a fierce battle.

Now we wish to state that we are unable to find any one that knows anything about any Law and Order League being in this town.

After seeing the publication in the Post, the majority of the most prominent citizens talked the matter over, and two or more letters were written to the Post, asking it to correct the statement it had made.

An Interesting Poem. (By T. M. Hurst.) A few years ago I went to a West ern town to preach two or three weeks and the first thing I was told when I got there was, "this is a bad town," with a "set" of agnostics who always "pique the preacher." A few days after I reached the town a Thanksgiving service was held in one of the central churces at which I preached a sermon, that was published by one of the local papers next day. After reading it one of the preachers critics said to me, I thought the literary style of your sermon was unexcelled, and of course I thanked him, and doubted his sincereity but this was an introduction and then the man said, I object to what preachers say in the pulpit because it is one sided. I asked him if that were not true of everything he heard and he agreed that in a sense it was. One of the United States Senators from his state had spoken in the town a few days before and I asked this man if his Did this phiegethon of fury sweep my friend, the Senator, had presented and he said that he had not. And so our acquaintance grew. He asked me if I had read Swedenborg, and Gibbon and Hume and Voltaire and Paine and Ingersol and others and I told him that I had sketched most of them in a kind of superficial way and then I asked him if he read the bible and he said he did not. Then I said said you will allow me to object to pour "theology" for the same reason you object to mine. It is one sided. So we became friends and the next day he took me out behind a pair of bays that he said cost him $1,000, and he asked me to read and review. in writing, a certain book with permission to have my review read before There at length they found me lying his club and I consented with proviso that he and his friends come to hear me preach at least half a dozen times. He agreed to this but made me promise not to insist on the miraculous conception and birth Christ, nor on the inspiration or inerrancy of the scriptures, nor to rely on the prophecies or the parables or I might make. Ollie James' Primary Called For May 30.

Princeton, Ky., March 26 .- 1n pursuance to a call of Chairman Mott Ayres, the First District Democratic Congressional Committee met in this city today to determine the time and manner of nominating a Democratic candidate for congress. The meeting was called to order at 10:30 o'clock by the Hon. John H. Stevens, chairman of the Caldwell County Democratic Committee, who presided in the unavoidable absence of Chairman Ayres. The Hon. Clem Nunn, of Marion, as secretary of the committee, upon motion read a report recommending that a primary election be held in the district on Saturday. May 30, and setting Tuesday. April 14, as the limit for entries and paying the entrance fees. Should there be but one announced candidate by April 14 the call for the primary election will be resinded and the committee will meet in Paducah on April 18 and upon resolving into convention will make a nomination which will more than likely by the Hon. You're always talking about the harm the trusts are doing. The country's going to the demnition bowwows, you say, because of the uncurbed trusts. Rich growing richer, poor getting poorer. Used to be that a poor man could go into business for himself in a modest way and make a good living. Now he must become a clerk or a roustabout or a hodearrier for some corporation—some combination that has grown to be a Goliath of bigness, that has devoured the fat of the land and is still gourmandizing upon it, till there's not a scrap of bone left for the under Didn't we see you stalk up to the postoffice just now and mail a letter with the address of a city Mail Order Store on the envelope? Hey? Didn't we?

Don't you know that the Mail Order Store is a trustone of the most dangerous in the crowd? Don't you know that it is secretly and silently and slyly closing the doors of opportunity to the young men in country towns and small cities like ours? Don't you know that the Mail Order Trust is collecting the patronage of town and country people by the mail route, thereby cutting down the patronage of the smaller merchant, the local man who is trying to build up a modest, independent, antitrust business?

DIGS UP POT OF GOLD.

Chas. H. Wells, of Mayfield, Ky. Digs up Pot of Gold and Silver Containing $5,500.

Joseph Lugan, of Hickory, Ky., dropped into the Herald office last Friday and told the Herald of a remarkable find of an old-fashioned bean pot buried in the ground near Woodville, Ky. The pot contained $5,500, all in gold and silver; the gold pieces were five, ten, twenty and fifty dollar gold pieces; the silver pieces were dollars and halves. The find was made by a young man named Chas. H. Wells on Tuesday of last week on the land of L. C. Mears, where J. L. Thurman was setting up a saw mill. Wells' home is at Mayfield, Ky., but he was raised near Murray, Ky. He had been employed by Mr. Thurman to level up a foundation for the mill and in doing so uncovered the pot of gold and silver. Aside from being slightly rusty and discolored by its long secretion it is otherwise in good

It is supposed that it might have been buried in this spot by an old miser who live in the neighborhood long ago, but who has been dead for any near relatives-so the money becomes the actual property of the find-

Night Riders in Hardin.

Until recently there has been no tobacco troubles in Hardin county but only a few days ago a number of prominent farmers of West Point and Upton sections have received anonymns letters of warning that if they raise any tobacco crop this year, their houses and barns will be burned to the ground and they will be lashed with a horsewhip. As this is the first intimation of trouble in the county, it has created much comment and much excitement prevails in these communities .- Ex.

Some weeks ago the RECORD-Press published an extract from a speech delivered by Mr. Hawkins, of Lexington, in which he advised, in rather a forceful language to the Burley Tobacco Growers of Central Kentucky to raise no crop this year.

This advice is applicable to the Burley Tobacco District alone, and it seems that his advice is being taken by all the growers throughout that district.

Don't Stop my Paper.

The recent ruling of the postoffice department has caused the following fine old poem to start on the rounds

Don't stop my paper, printer, Don't strike my name off yet, You know the times are stringent And dollars hard to get; But tug a little harder.

Is what I mean to do, And scrape the dimes together. Enough for me and you.

can't find to drop it, I find it doesn't pay, To do without a paper However others may hate to ask my neighbors To give me theirs on loan; They don't just say, but mean it,

You can't tell how we miss it, If it, by any fate, Should happen not to reach us, Or come a little late; Then all is in a hubbub

Why don't you have your own.

And things all go awry. And printer, if you're married, You know the reason why.

Then take it kinkly, printer, If pay be somewhat slow, For eash is not so plenty, And wants, not few you know, But I must have my paper, Cost what it may to me: I'd rather dock my sugar And do without my tea.

So, printer, don't you stop it, Unless you want my frown, For here's year subscription And credit it right down, And send the paper promptly And regularly on, And let it bring us often It welcome bension.

THE AMERICAN IDEA.

Charles L. Edgar and Walton Clark of the National Civic Federation Commission on Municipal Ownership Show Why American Institutions Should Not Be Abandoned at the Demand of Socialists and Municipalizers.

The efforts of the National Civic fed eration have resulted in a commission of Americans whose first interest in this investigation, as in all else, is to do what they may to preserve and continue the American idea and American institutions, believing that the high state of civilization and prosperity in America justifies the American idea and the American method and places the burden of proof heavily upon those and the American method and places who would say another idea and another method would result in improvement in the condition of the people. Believing this to be the thought and intent of the membership of the comdinate to it, we still believe that there are ills in the American body politic that may be remedied or cured. We tration and the highest possible good stroy that body. We submit that, livperity are the common lot, we must be not mean that where abuses are found and merclessly eradicated, but it does mean that changes in system should be undertaken only after conclusive proof that such changes will result in bettering the condition of the individual. We had better bear the relatively few ills we have than subject ourselves to unknown conditions that may in their train greater ills of which we do not know

Our investigation has determined with certainty many heretofore mooted questions. It indicates the probably correct answers to other mooted questions. Where the facts are clear and the conclusion evident our task has been to summarize and indicate. Where there is remaining uncertainty as to facts and conclusions are not evident we have made an effort to determine the probabilities. This has resulted in arguments based on such facts as our investigators have recorded and on our

Finally, we who stand in opposition to municipal ownership, speaking, we believe, for all individualists, arraign the arrogance of many of its advocates in assuming that they exclusively occupy the field of reform in dealing with the problems concerned and that they are the sole promoters of measures of economic improvement in municipal affairs. Free With Your Subscription To The

Crittenden Record--Press

If you will send us $1.00 cash in advance for a year's subscription The CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS or if you are in arrears; and will pay up back dues, we will send you, free of charge, Farm and Fireside twice a month for the rest of 1908 (nine months), and 500 Pictures of President Roosevelt besides.

FARM AND FIRESIDE

is the National farm paper. It prints and circulates each month more copies than any other agricultural publication. For over thirty years it has been "The Giant of the Farm Press," and now it is bigger, better and more helpful than ever. Has departments covering every phase of farm life, from plowing to the kitchen. Interests not only farmers, but horsemen, poultrymen-in fact, any one who keeps animals or lives outside of the large cities. Has thousands of readers in every state in the Union. Farm and Fireside is published twice a month, which is twice as often as most farm journals are published. It stops when your time is up. We heartily recommend it to all our readers as the cleanest, brightest biggest and most helpful farm paper we know of.

are all arranged on one supperb mounting, 134 x 204 inches, into one big photograph, but every picture is seperate and distinct from each of the other pictures. This photograph of 500 pictures is the most wonderful photograph ever made, and the only one of its kind in existance. It cost $1,000. No other like it can ever be made of President Roosevelt, and there is probably no other public man on earth who, has had enough "snapshots" taken to make a picture of this sort. It took one man two months merely to put together the 500 pictures, and two other men worked just about as long making the prints. The 500 pictures were chosen from 2,500 in the possession of Underwood & Underwood, the President's official photographers, and they show the President is his most characteristic attitudes. They were taken in every state in the Union except four, and at some of the most important events that have taken place in American history. Five years from now, reproductions of this great $1,000 photograph will be worth many dollars, as the supply is limited, and later on, when President Roosevelt is out of public life, they will be priceless treasurers in any American home. The reproductions of this great photograph are entirely controlled by Farm and Fireside, which owns the original $1,000 photagraph.

Remember, you get the Farm and Fireside, the 500 Pictures of Roosevelt, and The CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS all for only $1.00. Send your subscription today and address The CRITTENDEN RECORD-PRESS.

EXPERIENCES AFLOAT

To one accustomed only to Atlantic travel the element of novelty begins of smug English stewards, neat Chinamen in spotless linen gowns of blue, long cues, immaculate white stockings, and the broadest of smiles, fly nimbly about carrying baggage or waiting on passengers with most cheerful disparity.

The Chinese stewards interested us exceedingly, and when, directly after sailing from San Francisco, we descended to luncheon, we saw them in a new way. The long tables in the saloon were laid out invitingly with massive silver and piles of fruit, around which the neat boys whisked, making an attractive picture. Here we received our first introduction to the far-famed "pidgin English," which we had previously conceived to be very largely a figment of the story-teller's brain. It was to be later impressed upon us how universal the use of it is, from San Francisco right through to Ceylon, wherever the Chinese coolie lives and moves and has his being.

In the dining saloon the boys wore long gowns of blue linen, shiny with starch, high cuffs over their sleeved, and each smooth and jetty cue finished at the end with a silk tassel, neatly tucked through a little strap at the side of the gown. This is to keep it from slipping over the shoulder when stooping over the tables.

When at hard or outdoor work, a Chinaman will twist his cue up like a woman, but never in the house, as it is a disrespectful act to appear before a superior with the cue bound up. Foreigners in many cases do not know this, and the Chinaman, who instinctively hates all foreigners, will often resort to this method of insulting them, taking a deal of comfort out of it, even though the foreigner may be in blissful ignorance of the in-

Some of the dining saloon boys had been in the service long enough to speak and understand English very well; with others it was necessary to resort to the "pidgin" dialect which is board who was having her voice cula ridiculous hybrid of baby talk, broken, or rather mangled, English, and a few stray Chinese words.

It was my luck to draw a waiter who was particularly shy on straight English, and when I asked for a nice piece of rare roast beef, and vegetables such as my wife had, his face remained blank as a newly whitewashed barn door. Seeing my perplexity, a kind neighbor taught me what to say, and, though feeling rather silly, I repeated: "Boy, you ketchee me number one piece roast beef, no too well done, and vegetables allee same lady have got." His face beamed with intelligence, and my order was executed with neatness and dispatch.

I subsequently discovered that if a chair was desired from the upper

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

SUGAR-COATED LIES

HAVE read several good articles lately exposing the pernicious philosophy expressed in Ingalis' famous sonnet, "Opportunity." According to this poem, Opportunity is "master of human destinies," and "knocks unbidden once at every gate." If the call is unheard or unheeded it says that you are "condemned to failure, penury and woe," and that you will "seek in vain and uselessly implore" this myth which "answers not and returns no more."

Of course no thinking man would believe that; but prob ably a good many people believe it because they do not think -because they swallowed this pretty pill and tasted only the poetry on that outside. But there can be no good, and possibly a great deal of harm, in giving the poem further circulation. Just the other day I saw it printed as a frontispiece in an adverticing booklet for a manufacturing concern. cover of an employee' magazine, issued by one of the largest mercantile concerns. Trade papers often use it for a filler, and thousands of beautifully printed copies of the poem hang on the walls of homes and offices. And yet it contains a bit of false philosophy, which, if actually believed, would warp the careers of thousands of men and women. The truth is that Opportunity knocks not merely once but a thousand times-is knocking all the time.

Many such suger-coated lies are being thoughtlessly spread abroad through various channels.
