MILLION POUND TOBACCO SALE MADE AT OWENSBORO.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 22.—The American Tobacco Company through its branch office at this place has made a deal with the American Society of Equity, by which they have purchased about a million pounds of tobacco from the farmers of McLean county. The tobacco is of the 1908 crop and is to be delivered at Calhoun, Livermore and Sacramento. The deal was made by W. E. Bibb, of the Equity Society, R. E. Massie and J. C. Englehard, of the American Tobacco Company. This sale is said to have been made on a contract similar to the one which existed last season between the American Tobacco Company and the American Society of Equity in McLean county. Both factions have expressed their approval of the sale. The new contract has already been forwarded to New York for the official signature of the American Tobacco Company officials.

The prices paid were as follows: Grade No. 1, leaf, $9; lugs, $9; trash, $3. Grade No. 2, leaf, $8; lugs, $8; trash, $3. Grade No. 3, leaf, $8; lugs, $7; trash, $3. Grade No. 4, leaf, $6; lugs, $6; trash, $3.

TO MEMBERS OF FARMERS' UNION OF KENTUCKY.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 20th, 1908.

Brethren:—We, your committee appointed to arrange for the handling of Farmers' Union tobacco, assure you that all arrangements will be made that are necessary to handle all tobacco pledged to the Union, raised during this year of 1908. All who have been in any doubt can henceforth relieve themselves of such doubt, and be assured that your tobacco will be handled.

A PRINCELY GIFT.

Mr. John W. Wilson has sold to H. Koltinsky, of this city, the timber on the Crittenden Springs tract of 500 and some odd acres for $7,000 net thousand. Mr. Wilson thinks he has about 300,000 feet which will bring him a small fortune.

Kaiser & Co., of Louisville, have taken an option on the mineral for which they pay a handsome monthly rental and the above with the farm, hotel and cottage rentals make a princely income for the son, who was recently presented with this property by his father, R. W. Wilson.

THE LATE MRS. JAMES B. MCCREARY DEAD.

Richmond, Ky., Oct. 23.—Mrs. James B. McCreary, wife of United States Senator James B. McCreary, died at 9 o'clock last night. Mrs. McCreary had been ill for two years. Two weeks ago her illness took a critical turn, and for forty-eight hours before her death she was unconscious.

Mrs. McCreary was one of the best-known women in Central Kentucky. She was one of the social leaders of Washington besides her home.

She is survived by her husband and a son, Robert McCreary, of Chicago, who reached his mother's bedside before her death.

Senator McCreary has received many telegrams of sympathy from Washington and other points.

The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon from the Presbyterian church. The services will be conducted by the Rev. Addison J. Smith. The burial will be in Richmond cemetery.

FELL ON BARGE AND BROKE HIS NECK.

Hickman, Ky., Oct. 23.—Alfred Howard, an employe on a derrick boat raising coal from sunken barges across the river from Hickman and Missouri side, while snatching a barge with a spike pole, lost his footing and fell from the gunwale of the barge, a distance of eight feet, to the water, falling with such force that he struck the old sunken wreck and broke his neck, meeting with instant death.

FREDONIA GRADED SCHOOL.

A vote will be taken at Fredonia, on Monday, November 7th, regarding the issuance of bonds for a new school building. Fredonia needs a good school building badly and it is to be hoped that the people will embrace this opportunity. The Fredonia Graded school has had six weeks of very successful work. E. W. Gibson, A. B. (Transylvania University) is principal and Misses Jean McGregor and Mamie McChesney, of Princeton are assistants. The course of study include the tenth grade.

The great advantage of a graded school to a community has been demonstrated here in Marion. The remark is often made that the school is the best thing here for the town and it certainly has helped to build up the town.

KENTUCKY WOMAN INVENTOR

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 20.—Friends in Paducah have received copies of Los Angeles paper, telling of the invention of Mrs. Ada Van Pelt, of that city, which, it is believed, will do away with the use of flywheels on stationary engines. Mrs. Van Pelt is a society woman, and a member of a prominent Western Kentucky family. She is as well known at Princeton as in Paducah. She is the sister of Mrs. William Marble, of this city.

HOW A PANIC HURTS EVERYBODY.

One of our biggest advertisers in cancelling his contract for advertising space writes us as follows: "We wish to thank you for the uniformly satisfactory manner of our business in the past, and the courteous treatment we have at all times received from you. We hope when our agent next revisits your city CONDITIONS WILL BE MORE FAVORABLE and that he will be able to make a new arrangement with you which we can accept. Yours very truly"

CONVICT MORTALLY WOUNDED BY GUARD.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 23.—As Frank Brown, a vicious negro convict, was in the act of assaulting the guard with a club in the Eddyville penitentiary Clarence Glenn, another guard, shot him, inflicting a mortal wound. Brown was sent up from Barren county.

HAS NARROW ESCAPE.

Mayfield, Ky., Oct. 22.—Harry Watkins, well known manager of the Clay Switch mings, has been confined to his room for several days with a fractured rib and bruises and his body many in number.

Mr. Watkins was called to a small town named Dumor, near Louisville, to examine some property belonging to Mud River Coal company. He was riding on horseback. He was accompanied by another gentleman on horse back. They were riding along at a good clip when his horse broke. The horse could not be stopped and began to run the faster. When crossing a bridge, the animal began to "back jump" and threw Mr. Watkins off, hurling him through the air a distance of fifteen feet. Mr. Watkins gathered himself together and his companion hurried him to the nearest physician. On examination it was found that Mr. Watkins was very painfully bruised and shocked, one rib was fractured and his hands and legs were more badly bruised than the other parts of the body.

HORROR AVERTED

Ellis Kan., Oct. 22.—The timely intervention of a physician who was not satisfied with the appearance of the body, prevented the burial alive of Mrs. Thomas Chapman, wife of a prominent citizen. Mrs. Chapman was supposed to have died suddenly Saturday last. The body was prepared for burial, but was not embalmed, and the funeral was to have taken place yesterday. Just before the casket was sealed, physician asked permission to see the body. After confirming his suspicions, the woman was removed from the coffin and placed in bed. While her heart was very weak, it is believed Mrs. Chapman will recover.

A Gay Party of Picnicers.

Miss Elva Pickens was the hostess last Thursday to a gay party of young folks, whom she entertained with a picnic at Piney, near the iron bridge. The hills and bluffs of that vicinity, which are famous as a place where the youth and beauty of the county for many years have enjoyed outings without number, were never more beautiful. The many tinted leaves of fall, which bespeak the approach of winter and tell of the visit of "jack frost" were ablaze in autumnal splendor and seemed to vie with the bright sunlight, crisp morning air and deep blue of the sky in making the day an ideal one to spend in the woods, especially when a pretty girl is along and a good dinner of her own cooking.

Among Miss Elva's guests who were in the various conveyances when they left town, were Misses Alma Asher, Myra Dixon, Frances Blue, Madoline Jenkins, Maude Flannery, Lena Holsclaw, Messrs. Orin Moore, Coleman Foster, Aubry Cannan and Roy

Now, as to the gentleman who got stung by the article I wrote to our paper the first of the month. Let me say to him: Brother, if you will get our state constitution and read some you won't have to take my second hand information about the Union.

SCENE FACTS ABOUT THE FARMERS' UNION.

The reason I believe in the prin-

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first signs of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness—limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

named it the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of America, and no one can deny that it is a very becoming and appropriate name; for, as we look back to the council chambers of this great nation, we find that not five per cent of them are actual farmers and as we know it is the educated minds of the nation who rules the government, we say truly the farmers need educating as to co-operation. We mean to establish cooperation with every legitimate calling in this country; and sell our products direct from the farmer to the factory, and thereby eliminate the present cunning and thieving speculation.

But the question is, how do you expect to bring this about? Well, we propose to organize, educate and centralize the farmer in a great brotherhood and teach them this important lesson, that he must stop competing with his brother farmer and that he must have uniform prices set on all his products.

But some will say, you don't mean for the farmer to put the price on his own products? Exactly. If he is not the one to price them, then, pray, who is?

Some one is ready to say, you fellows are going too far, it will never do to let the producer price his products. This is essentially the one argument, that the other fellow will price and fix things for you. This idea is in league with dishonesty, a covenant with speculation, promoted by the Shilocks and vampires in an effort to persuade honest and confident simpletons that they can get what they want by not wanting what they ought to have.

Under the pretence that the farmer will go too far. Let me say, the Farmers' Union believes that the words of Christ are true when he says, "Them that are not for you are against you." Therefore pull down your window blinds when you assemble at your meetings, close the doors and take up the room work, just as other organizations do, and in this way the farmer will show his faith by his works.

You can not point out an order of any kind that was established for the benefit of the farmers alone but what has been overrun by a gang of infamous grafters, unless they had an organization with an iron-clad constitution that would keep them out, and the farmers realize this is true and are demanding just that kind of an order.

Reader, if you are a farmer I would like for you to ask yourself this question: Were you ever invited to attend any meeting where the bankers or the railroad men or the manufacturers or the great packing companies or the Standard Oil Company or even the retail merchants or the medical board of even your own county? No, you never did and never will, not because you are not honest, but because they are all on to their business, and they know it none of your business.

Is it possible when you see as clearly as the noonday sun that all the different interests of the nation who have adopted this kind of business have every one been a success? Then again you see that every time the farmer has tried to organize the speculator has come and offered his services to attend to the business end of your organization, and every time you have listened to his racket you have come out at the little end of the horn.

I say to you, brother farmer, as long as you turn over your business to the speculator and allow him to weigh and price what you sell, and then turn right around and let him weigh and price what you buy and go home satisfied, there is absolutely no hope for the farmers of this country.

THE PLAIN TRUTH.

What More Can Marion People Ask.

When well known residents and highly respected people of Marion make such statements as the following, it must carry conviction to every reader:

J. B. Thorp, Marion, Ky., says: "I feel a great deal better since using Doan's Kidney Pills and keep them in the house at all times. I was a victim of kidney complaint for five years. The secretions from my kidneys were very irregular in action the passage being too frequent, especially during the night when my rest was disturbed. The secretions contained sediment and were very unnatural in appearance. My back ached severely and when I stooped or lifted sharp twinges would dart through my loins. During the day I felt languid and the least work left me completely tired out. Whenever I contracted a cold it was sure to settle on my kidneys and at such times my suffering would always be more intense. Doan's Kidney pills procured at Haynes & Taylor's drug store, me helped from the first and I still using them and a steady improvement is noticeable in my conditions.

How to Cure Constipation

Simple Home Remedy That Is Safe and Pleasant

Few people escape constipation. Catching cold, over eating, worry, lack of exercise, failure to answer promptly the calls of nature, diseased or weakened system or strong medicines may cause it. The too common practice of taking salts, or pills or some such violent cathartic has always done more harm than good. They make the bowels act quickly and violently simply because they irritate them, and leave them in a worse condition than before.

What is needed is a mild easy herb laxative, that gives regular daily movements in all cases, yet does not pain or gripe, and which will strengthen the bowels and tone up the system instead of depleting it.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin taken at night before going to bed will bring an easy pleasant natural movement in the morning even in the most obstinate cases and without any bad effects. No pain, no griping, no bowels act quickly and violently simply because they irritate them, and leave them in a worse condition than before.

What is needed is a mild easy herb laxative, that gives regular daily movements in all cases, yet does not pain or gripe, and which will strengthen the bowels and tone up the system instead of depleting it.

I began taking it, and three bottles affected a complete cure." The fame of this life saving cough and cold remedy, and lung and throat healer is world wide. Sold at J. H. The KITCHEN CABINET

THAT "HOUSEHOLD" STUNT.

"I've forgotten, I've forgotten— Everything I ever knew. Since the many Household columns Tell us women what to do!"

"Boiled eggs throw at once in water. That is cold—but, like as not, I'll forget and fail to wonder. If it had not been for that!"

"Jelly, made of quince and apple. 'Tackles very easily." But I read somewhere, "Add lemon." I forget such points, you see.

And I think I've heard: "Clothes whiten if you add some 'Lemon.'" Yet at times, a double price—Possibly it is genuine!

Water in the double boiler. Quicker boils if you add salt." But if once I added sugar, "Was it really my fault?"

For so much advice is given In the many "Household" stunts, Is it really any wonder That I feel myself a dunce?

For a Child's Party.

If you use finger bowls the Japanese boxes may be thrown into them with pleasing effect. The flowers will expand and open, affording the children much amusement. If you do not serve the bowls (and it seems rather an affliction for children), a pretty way to use the flowers is to drop them in tiny frappe glasses just as the little ones sit down to the table.

Peach Surprise.

Open freestone peaches and remove the stone; refill with candy—preferably chocolate cream, and fasten together with ribbon or moisten well with melted sugar and the halves will stick.

Spanish Pudding.

This has all the ingredients of an ordinary bread pudding, but the style of making gives a change.

Put two tablespoons granulated sugar over the fire; let it get brown, but not black. When it has cooled, add two cups milk. Stir it over the fire, and the sugar will blend with the milk.

Now mix together three ounces raisins, three tablespoons sugar, the rind and juice of one lemon and half a pound of bread cut up into small dice. Add the browned milk; when the mixture cools add two beaten eggs and a glass of wine. Bake in a buttered mold.

[Delayed from last week]

Dear Editor:—You told me you had nothing in sight for your page next week, and I told you I would send you something, because when I named you as editor of this most important department of our county paper and promised you my co-operation, I meant it.

I am sorry indeed that the teachers have not responded with their contributions as they gave us reason to expect. Do we know that there is a single school in progress in the county? Not by the reports, no. Why this timidity and backwardness? Should we hesitate to give a short account of our school to these columns? Have you no good things to say about the community in which you teach? Is it possible that none of your pupils has made "honors" yet? Ah, I know you are just waiting to see somebody else's report.

Well, now, just go ahead and break the ice yourself. Give that aid you promised Miss Hard at once. That chilly sensation will pass off after you see your name in print a time or two, and you will fire afterwards like a veteran. Your pupils will be delighted. The patrons will soon be eager to see the Record. Press to find out what their teacher has to say about them and theirs.

You can speak in the types what say take Cod Liver Oil—they undoubtedly mean Scott's Emulsion.

It would be just as sensible for them to prescribe Quinine in its crude form as to prescribe Cod Liver Oil in its natural state. In the oil is emulsified and made easy to take—easy to digest and easy to be absorbed in to the body—and is the most natural and useful fatty food to feed and nourish the wasted body that is known in medicine today. Nothing can be found to take its place. If you are run-down you should take it.

your tongue will never have opportunity to utter. Every lover of education will scan these pages to find what their workers in the intellectual vineyard are doing.

What a pity if the seventy-five teachers of Crittenden county will not make use of the space so generously given them for public dissemination of educational thought and school work.

Will you let this space go by default, thereby acknowledging to the world that we can not do what a much smaller number of teachers have done in other counties.

Will you order a retreat before you engage the enemy, like Lee at Monmouth? Will you raise the white flag, like Hall at Detroit? We can not afford to surrender this space. We must buckle on our armor and be like Napoleon's little drummer boy when ordered by Desaix to beat a retreat. His reply was, "Sire, my master never learnt me one, but I can beat a charge that will bring the dead back into line." The charge was ordered and the battle gained.

Now, let us get out our note book and pencil and write a short article at once, thereby throwing a life line to our editor whom we enticed into deep water when she told us plainly she could not swim, and was depending on us altogether. She has a right to expect our help and we owe it to ourselves and the cause of education, to say nothing of our solemn pledge to her, to be up and doing.

EASY TO MIX RECIPE

Hundreds of People in Vicinity Here Will Welcome This Advice.

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving a simple prescription, which is said to be a positive remedy for backache, kidney or bladder derangement, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the four acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial. 20-3t.

Where Bullets Flew.

David Parker, of Fayette, N. Y., veteran of the civil war, who lost a foot at Gettysburg, says: "The good Electric Bitters have done its worth more than five hundred dollars to me. I spent much money doctoring for a bad case of stomach trouble, to little purpose. I then tried Electric Bitters, and they cured me. I now take them as a tonic, and they keep me strong and well." 50c at J. H. Orme's and Haynes & Taylor's drug stores.

To Marion.

My esteemed friend M. F. P. I was indeed sorry to learn the deplorable condition of your mind. Since reading of your last article, I have been very thoughtful, and wondered if there could be any permanent cure for one in such a state of mind. I would suggest that you leave off reading old Greek stories, Arabian Nights and Robinson Rufus Saw, and as your mind grows stronger you may try reading some simple stories, such as you find in the Courier Journal, you could get a back number dated about April 1st, when it stated that a great mob was gathered in Crittenden county, for the purpose of over running Caldwell and Lyon counties.

This was about the time a supposed night rider was killed in Princeton and I can find you a number of citizens in this county who signed a petition as long as the moral law, that we the citizens of Crittenden county aren't mad at "no body." I signed this paper and it was full of names too, it was sent off but I don't know who too, but this is about the time the soldiers were wanted in Marion so bad. The man that presented this article explained, thus: "We think they are aiming to come here are wanting this for an excuse." You need not read that other article where it said the soldiers broke into the W. O. W.'s lodge room for you seem to know that story by heart and love to dwell upon it, and seem to have a way of making every body that belongs to any lodge believe that it was his own "neighbor local" that was raided, and was raided by the soldiers.

You asked in pleading tones do we really slure the soldiers? As them what they call it. You said!

you liked good soldiers but when they got to reckless riding and breaking into depots you just couldn't hardly stand it. I suppose you had reference to the depots at Cerulean Springs, Gracey and Outer Pond. You said I ought to be promoted for the heroic defence of the state officials, if it was nothing but to beat the tom-tom for Judge Wells. I would rather do that than to dwell in the tents of the wicked.

In answer to the "Golden Rule" you complained of me going back into the middle ages, it seems you have gone even back of that, if you will stay away from the Pyramids sixty days you will find several of your acquaintances "Politically" huddling around tombs. It seems too, that your Latten and Mongolian sentences pertain to antiquity, in fact there was nothing new you said even in regard to Europe where the military is enslaved millions and our own land is beginning to feel the heed of military sat-rap, even that is not new. Jeff Davis, uttered comparatively those same words forty-nine years ago. Your defence for the night rider is like the Irishman's duck pond, and begory the minute you get one place doddied they start another wave and cause it to break over again. So just about the time you get them justified for one outrage, they break out in a new district.

THURSDAY, Oct. 23, 1908.

Speech of Rufus Robinson at W. O. W. Unveiling Oct. 4th.

It is with sincere but mournful gratifications that I attempt to perform the duty which by your kindly invitation has been assigned to me to-day.

We have met to-day by the demand of our soul and the dictates of fraternal love to pay a tribute of respect to the memory of a brother, whose name has been erased from our register by the finger of death, and to dedicate to his name this granite memorial.

It is an inspiration born of Heaven and for us the grave loses some of its horrors, when you feel and know that when you have answered the roll called above, fraternal hands will perform for you the duty which you perform to-day.

We are assembled around this grave to render the last sad service of the living for the dead. Monuments to the memory of the departed may be unveiled, but speech can not reveal the mystery of death, and the requirement of nature tells us that this is the end of service of beauty and glory of the earth.

He who sleeps here was a son, honored with a mother's love; blessed in filial affection by a loving father.
He died as the golden sun of life was arching past the glories of the dawn, and the shadows were still bending toward the west. In the sparkling morning tide, when hope rode on fancy's wings toward ambi-tion's goal; when the Great Artist was blending colors in the opening rose of buoyant life, the cold hand of the universal avenger smote athwart his brow and he fell asleep with the multitude that has gone before.
The young who sport with passing hours, and in the coming years see only sunshine, to whose minds there is no certainty of doubt or sorrow are not exempt from the power of the last enemy.

Beauty is marred, the sweet joyous voice is hushed, and laughter is changed to one last sad sigh, as the soul leaves its house of clay.

While yet in love with life and rapture with the world, he past to the eternal portals, perhaps in the happiest sunniest hours of all the voyage, while eager winds were kissing every sail, his barque was dashed against the unseen rock and his name enrolled with the dead.

Man glories in the strength of his body, and in the great powers of his mind which is not satisfied with the known, but constantly reaches out after the unfathomable, tries to grasp the infinite and solve all mystery--but the end comes and others take up the search. A Skeptic once said: "The tree hath hope, if it be cut down, it becometh green again, and new shoots are put forth.
If even the roots be old in the earth, and its stock die in the ground, from vapor of water it will bud and bring forth boughs as a young plant. But man dieth, and his power is gone;
he is taken away, and where is he?"
That the dead shall live again, is found in the literature of all nations and it is an instinct of the human heart. The ancient Egyptian book of the dead, taught the doctrine to the followers of Mahommed, the Koran gives this assurance. It was recognized and taught by the philosophers of Greece. In the soliloquy of Plato it finds a beautiful expression.
The red men, of America, buried
the bow and arrow with their dead, to be used in a happy hunting ground. In the beautiful words of Longfellow, o'er the grave of Minnehaha, a fire was kindled that her spirit might not wander in the darkness. There is no antidote for the sting of death. The teachings of your fraternity, your belief in immortality leads you to pay this tribute of respect to your fraternal dead.

On this stone are carved the teachings of immortality "Dum Tacet Clamat" it speaks more eloquent than any living voices, it speaks of the strongest ties of sympathy and human love, of orphans fed, widows clothed, better husbands, better fathers and better sons, and by its mute appeal point to a home beyond the grave. I would rather have those who know me well in life to say "he was my friend," than to have a glowing eulogy carved on the stone that marked my grave. The Woodmen of the World does not seek to usurp the place of the Christian church, nor teach the paganism and idolatry of the years that have gone. They have chosen for their emblem the axe, bedle and wedge, the emblems of industry and honest toil. They are typical of the men who made America what she is. It was the man who worked with these implements, who emptied the tea into Boston harbor and down at Annapolis compelled the burning of the Peggy Stewart. It was these men whose hands were callous with the handling of the axe, who first startled the world with the cry of freedom. That cry was taken up on every hand. It reached from Plymouth Rock and was heard on Carolina's coast. With the inspirations and teachings of this great Order, we come to-day to offer

our tribute to your fraternal dead,
not alone to the one that lies here;
no matter where their homes are entered memory reaches out and offers to their names a share in this memorial. So we have with us to-day the shades of those who once joined in your songs and supplications, and who once around your altars pledged undying friendship to the principals love, honor and remembrance.

The financial condition of Crittenden county, as shown by the statement published this week, is good,
in fact, excellent. It shows that,
although over $2,300 has been paid on old claims, and all claims for the current year provided for, there is a net balance yet unexpended of over $600. The county has no bonded debt and, unlike some of our sister counties in this commonwealth, is now "heart whole and fancy free."

The Crayne Meeting.

The meeting at Crayne closed last night. The pastor, Rev. A. J.
Thompson, was assisted by Rev. T.
M. Hurst, pastor of the Presbyterian church in Marion.

The meeting lasted ten days.

Very large crowds attended the meeting. Standing room was occupied at nearly every service, and at some of the services many were unable to get in. The order was unusually good. The best order and attention I believe I ever saw for such crowds.

Brother Hurst's preaching was all that could be desired, many of his sermons were of unusual power.
He has done great good here, and endeared himself to all.

There were several professions and lasting impressions for good have been made. The members of the other churches in the community took an active part in meeting, showing kindness and courtesy to the preachers in charge of the meeting.
The meeting was an exceedingly pleasant one.

The singing was led by Ves Threlkeld and of course was all that could be desired.

A. J. THOMPSON, Pastor.

Whose Collars, Pants and Vests Are These?

Three pairs of pants, five vests and a dozen or more bundles of laundry were found in the Davis & Davis old stand, where they had been left to be pressed and cleaned. The owners can get same by calling on the undersigned.

Notice To Tax Payers.

Marion, Ky., Oct. 20th, 1908.
To all city tax payers. I now call your attention that this is the last month to pay your city taxes without a penalty, as 6 per cent will be added Nov. 1st, 1908, to all unpaid taxes. The city now owes about $1200.00 for street lights, and will be compelled to collect close to pay same. To all parties owing back taxes will say: That you will save cost by paying same at an early date, as I mean to collect same.

Respectfully,
A. S. CANNAN,
City Tax Collector.

Miss Marie Ramage is the guest of friends in Caseyville this week.

BENNETT SUES FOR $100,000.

Henry Bennett, of Dycusburg, has filed suit against the parties, whom he names, and alleges burned his factory and distillery at Dycusburg, last February, and at the same time abused him unmercifully. The suit is filed against near one hundred citizens, of Trigg, Lyon and Caldwell counties and is for the sum of one hundred thousand dollars.

Taken up as a stray.

Marion, Ky., Oct. 21, 1908.--I have this day taken up and impounded the following described hog, to wit:

One black sow, weight about 125 pounds; very thin in order; swallow-fork in left ear; rings in nose.

The above described hog was taken up off the street of Marion while running at large, in violation of ordinances. Name of owner unknown.

If the above hog is not called for on or before Nov. 4, I will sell same at my residence on East Bellville street, Marion, Ky., between the hours of 1 and 3 o'clock p. m., to pay for impounding, keeping and feeding same.

JOY IN THE CITY

By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. (Moody's)
Church, Chicago.

"There was great joy in that city,"—
Acts 8:8.

It was the joy of receiving Christ. With this there comes the joy of forgiveness. A sense of guilt oppresses the one who realizes that he is under condemnation. It carries with it shame and remorse; it is soul-darkness. When Christ is received, the sun has risen and the light of joy fills the soul. This city of Samaria had once rejected Jesus. He asked a night's lodging and they would not give it. Weary with the journey, he had to press on, for he would not thrust himself upon them. Whether they remembered this treatment of the Master or not, we cannot tell, but it looks as if they tried to make amends for it. We should remember, however, that they rejected Jesus before his death; he had not then been lifted up; they had not felt the magnetism of his love on Calvary. After Philip had preached that he had died for them and risen from the dead, their hearts yielded to the drawings of gratitude. There is always joy in feeling that you treat another right, and there is sorrow in the consciousness that you have dealt unfairly. Have you rejected the Lord Jesus in the past? Make amends for that; receive him now. Think quietly for a moment of the love that was shown in the death on the cross, and simply let your heart yield itself to the magnetism of that love. To resist is to do violence to the noblest that is in you; to yield is to let the noble assert itself.

Joy in Obedience.

There was the joy of heeding the word of God. "The people gave heed to those things which Philip spoke," and we learn in the fourth verse what he spoke. He was one of those who "went everywhere preaching the word." His mission was not to preach about the word, but the word itself. Tell the people God's word and it will fill them with joy. Raise questions about the word and you will fill them with gloom. Discussing the composition of bread will not feed a hungry man; give him bread and satisfy his hunger. Analyzing the waves of sound will not thrill the soul with music.

Joy of Wealth.

If you would have the joy of wealth, study the Bible. If you would impart that joy to others, proclaim to them its teachings. A member of the English parliament was a merchant with many burdens, and he determined to take a vacation for two weeks. He instructed his confidential clerk to send to him only telegrams and cablegrams, opening and answering such letters as he deemed important. In a large mail of letters, circulars and papers there came an unstamped envelope which the clerk placed among the unimportant correspondence. After the vacation was over, the merchant, feeling one day that he had leisure, decided to look through the pile of mail rubbish which he had on hand. He opened this unstamped envelope and found in it a communication from the queen of England offering him a baronetcy and giving him 30 days in which to answer. Twenty-eight days had passed and only two remained. He hastened to answer the communication and received the honor with thankfulness. How near he came to missing what he considered the greatest honor of his life! And so it is with many of us. In the Bible is the heritage of wealth and honor beyond any bestowed by the crowned heads of earth. Shall we place this book among the common things to be neglected? If so, we shall turn away from the richest heritage ever given to man. It is here we learn that we are heirs of God and joint heirs with Christ.

Joy of Fellowship.

There was the joy of fellowship in the word. The people with one accord gave heed unto these things which Philip spoke. Sharing our joy with others increases it, as sharing our sorrow with others diminishes it. The miser hoards his wealth and is miserable; the philanthropist shares his wealth with others and is happy. We have no right to become misers in hoarding the wealth of God's word; we should share the comfort and joy we receive from it with others. We have in this Bible a batch of letters from heaven. We read them for ourselves and rejoice, but when we tell their contents to others and see the joy it gives to them, our joy is increased.

There was the joy of seeing God work. "Hearing and seeing the miracles which he did." Commentators think that the hearing refers to the words which Philip spoke, and the seeing to the miracles which he did. There is a miracle of word as well as of deed. The people heard miracles of speech from the lips of Paul, Sargon and Whitfield. God spoke His words of revealed truth through the men who committed their lips to Him. The people saw the deeds which God wrought through Philip and they rejoiced. It rests on one to see power at work.

WOMAN'S BACKACHE

The back is the mainspring of woman's organism. It quickly calls attention to trouble by aching. It tells, with other symptoms, such as nervousness, headache, pains in the loins, weight in the lower part of the body, that a woman's feminine organism needs immediate attention.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

Mrs. Lydia E. Pinkham, of 6 Columbia Ave., Rockland, Me., says: "I was troubled for a long time with dreadful backaches and a pain in my side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. I read what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to try it; after taking three bottles I can truly say that I never felt so well in my life."

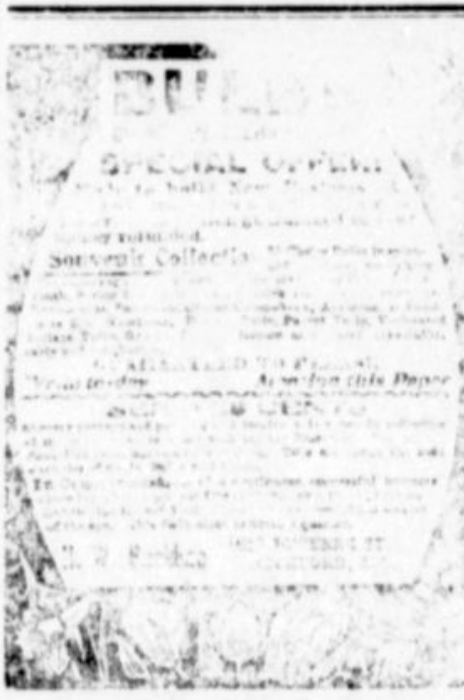

Mrs. Augustus Lyon, of East Earl, Pa., writes to Mrs. Pinkham: "I had very severe backaches, and pressing-down pains. I could not sleep, and had no appetite. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me and made me feel like a new woman."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

A Healthy Family.

"Our whole family has enjoyed good health since we began using Dr. King's New Life Pills, three years ago," says L. A. Bartlett, of Rural Route 1, Guilford, Maine. They cleanse and tone the system in a gentle way that does you good 25c at J. H. Orme's and Haynes & Taylor's drug stores.

KILL THE COUGH AND CURE THE LUNGS

WITH Dr. King's New Discovery FOR COUGHS, COLDS, AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG TROUBLES. GUARANTEED SATISFACTORY OR MONEY REFUNDED.

Would Mortgage The Farm.

A farmer on Rural Route 2, Embury, Ga., W. A. Floyd by name, says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured the two worst sores I ever saw; one on my hand and one on my leg. It is worth more than its weight in gold. I would not be without it if I had to mortgage my farm to get it." Only 25c.

PEOPLE TALKED ABOUT

ENTERTAINED AMERICAN TARS

Sir Joseph George Ward, K. C. M. G., premier of New Zealand, showed the tars of the American battle fleet, during their recent visit to that country, that all colonial officials are not of the Swettenham type. He had charge of the entertaining of the bluejackets and he acquitted himself royally. In addition to dinners and balls in the city he took them for a two-days' trip into the interior and showed them the natural wonders that have made New Zealand known throughout the world.

He had the American admiral stir up a sleeping geyser with a cake of soap, and he had the tars peep into the blazing pit which the Maoris have always regarded as the place of final torments. He showed them the most socialistic government in the world, a country in which at the polls as well as in the courts woman has the same rights as man, and the Maori stands on the same plane with the white man. And no man is better able to point out and explain the things of interest in that most interesting country than Premier Ward, for he has been in politics nearly all his life, knows every foot of the country and is versed in all its problems.

Sir Joseph is a typical Englishman in appearance, tall, stout, with a large, well-shaped head and wide-open eyes. He is very ordinary in his appearance and would impress one as a successful business man with a kindly nature and a genial manner. It was for very meritorious services that he was made a baronet. It was in acknowledgment of his powers as an entertainer, for he was premier when the duke and duchess of Cornwall visited New Zealand and it was his place to receive them. And he took just as great pains in entertaining the American tars as he did when he had sprigs of royalty as guests.

Sir Joseph is 51 years of age and is still in the prime of life.

LATE TURKISH AMBASSADOR

Mehmed Ali Bey, the Turkish ambassador to the United States, who has just been unceremoniously dumped out of his position by an order from Constantinople, is a victim of chance, just as he was favored of that goddess when he received appointment. For Mehmed Ali Bey was made ambassador through the influence of his father, Izzet Pasha, who was private secretary to the sultan and one of his most trusted and influential advisers. It is an eloquent illustration of the whirligig of time that even while the son is recalled by his government and, presumably, reduced to the ranks, his father is declared at this moment to be hidden in New York, a fugitive from justice and sought by the "Young Turkey" leaders in Gotham, who hated him during the sunny days when his word was a potent influence with the sultan.

Not that Mehmed Ali was unfitted for his position. He is a man of culture and ranked high in the diplomatic corps, although only 35 years old. He was one of the chief counselors of the foreign office at home before coming to America. He is much more liberal in his views than were most of his predecessors.

His father, Izzet Pasha, is declared by the Turkish revolutionists in New York to be at this moment hidden somewhere in that city, with a great share of his fortune and an interpreter who speaks perfect English and who screens his master from observation. Mundji Bey, late Turkish consul general to New York and named to succeed the ambassador as charge d'affaires, and who is in sympathy with the "Young Turkey" movement, is positive that the former "boss" is in that city, and that he will be discovered. Just what would be likely to happen to the pasha if the revolutionists should find him first is a matter for speculation.

SEEKS FOLK'S PLACE

William S. Cowherd, who received a plurality of the votes in the primary as Democratic candidate for governor of Missouri, will have to fight for his place on the ticket in the courts of the state. Walter Hall, who landed second in the running, has started a contest, and has placed before the prosecuting attorneys of three counties evidence tending to show that many of the ballots cast for Cowherd were fraudulent.

One peculiar feature of the campaign which closed with the primaries was the fact that Cowherd secured his plurality in the three cities of St. Louis, Kansas City and Springfield. Every other county in the entire state went heavily against Cowherd, yet he piled up such enormous majorities in the three cities named that he overcame the adverse lead and had several thousand votes to spare, according to the returns.

Cowherd is 48 years old, a native of the cob-pipe state and a lawyer. He has practiced law in Kansas City ever since his graduation from the state university, except when he was too busy playing the game of politics.

His political career may be said to have commenced with his appointment as assistant prosecuting attorney in 1885. From that position he went to the city counselor's office as first assistant, was mayor of Kansas City for two years and served in congress for eight years, retiring in 1905 at the request of his district.

In the recent campaign he was credited with the support of United States Senator William J. Stone, himself a candidate for re-election. Hall, Cowherd's strongest opponent, was said to have the backing of Gov. Folk.

The latter has been asked to send the attorney-general of the state to Kansas City and St. Louis to assist the local prosecuting departments in the search for crookedness in the primaries, but the executive has intimated that he does not consider it the place of the state officials to take any active part in any such investigation, but rather to leave the whole investigation in the hands of the local officers.

TO DIRECT NEW THEATER

Donald Robertson, who is to be director of the new municipal theater experiment in Chicago, is equally well known as an actor and a manager. He has from the inception of the Chicago idea been an ardent supporter of the experiment, and it will be carried out upon his own lines.

There is little similarity between the new theater project in New York and the municipal playhouse in Chicago. The former is essentially a private enterprise, founded by a group of wealthy men who, seeing the need of an untrammelled stage for the perpetuation of the classic drama, banded themselves together, furnished the money to put up a magnificent building, and announced a scale of prices in keeping with the superior quality of the entertainment offered. The Chicago idea, however, is mainly educational, and contemplates the presentation of a series of classic plays by a capable stock company for no admission fee whatever. The Chicago institution will be in a sense a municipal project, occupying by assignment a municipal building.

It has been arranged to present a season of 20 weeks of dramatic offerings in Pullerton hall, an adjunct of the Chicago Art Institute, with performances on Tuesday evening of each week. The season will begin with the last week in September, and the Robertson players will offer in historical perspective pieces from the classic German, Spanish, Scandinavian, Italian, French and American playwrights. The financial burden of the whole artistic experiment will be assumed by the directors and members of the Art Institute, who number about 2,500 people, and admission will be restricted to the membership until the demand from that field is satisfied.

Incidentally, the municipal theater in Chicago will not be a place of amusement—no light cleverness nor frothy music—no superficial problem plays nor sketchy reviews. Rather, it is to be heavy, heavy to the verge almost of pedantry, with the idea of educating the public taste rather than catering to it.

USES HOUSE FOR BARN; SLEEPS UNDER A TENT

HORSE TRADER AROUSES DANVILLE, ILL., BY TREATMENT OF HIS EQUINES.

Danville, Ill.—Rather than run the risk of injury to his horses from exposure to the weather, Owen Joels, a horse trader reputed to be wealthy, sleeps in his yard on property that he has rented on Logan avenue in this city, and houses his horses in his dwelling.

Joels is the owner of a large drove of fine horses. A few days ago he rented the property that he now occupies from a local real estate dealer. His plans as to his mode of living were not divulged, however. The other morning the agent of the property was surprised when one of the man's neighbors called over the phone and informed the real estate dealer that his tenant had pitched several tents in the yard instead of using the two story house to live in and had placed a number of horses in his dwelling. Not only are the horses being sheltered in the house, but a couple of wagons have been backed up to the front door.

Joels' landlord called him to task when he found out the state of affairs, but when the horse dealer was asked to explain matters he replied that "he was minding his own business and would not bother anyone if he was let alone."

In the meantime the upper rooms of the dwelling are unoccupied, owing, perhaps, to the fact that the horses have not yet been trained to climb the stairs of the house.

CHAMPION HARD LUCK STORY.

Escaped Prisoner Risks Death Only to Be Recaptured.

New York.—Manuelo Prato, 35 years old, present address penitentiary, Blackwell's island, has the prize answer to the question: "What is hard luck?" but he is too depressed to give it now, so here it is, anyway:

To escape from a file of prisoners on the island; dodge the bullets and bolts of pursuing officers; swim the chilly waters of the East river to the Astoria shore; walk half a mile to what looked like a hospitable house to ask for dry clothing and find you were in the home of a policeman, who had no sentiment about escaped prisoners. Now, wouldn't that make you sore?

That was Manuelo Prato's bitter experience.

Six months of sweeping walks on the island didn't appeal to him, so he took the desperate chance of being shot when he plunged into the river, living and dodging until he reached the beach near the boulevard.

Having lost his blouse and shirt on the way, Prato had only a pair of overalls on when he reached the Astoria shore.

Half a mile farther, at Grand and Fourth avenues, he had shaken off his pursuers. So he walked into the back yard of a house.

It was the home of Patrolman Keating of the Ozone park section, who was off duty.

Further details are painful and unnecessary. Prato is back on Blackwell's island doing penance "in solitary" for his brief bit of freedom.

Girl Kills Big Rattler.

Big Muddy, Wyo.—Irene Dickinson, a 12-year-old girl, killed a rattlesnake which measured 40 inches long and had five rattles and a button. She had been into the pasture for her horse, and on her return she encountered the rattler.

She threw a pair of hobbles at it, but failed to hit it. She then threw a tin pail in which she had been carrying a few oats with the same result. She then took off one of her bridle lines and commenced to whip it.

Her father, thinking she had been gone too long, started out to look for her, and came upon her in the act of crushing the reptile's head with the iron links of the hobbles. Irene is now wearing the skin as a belt.

How He Knew.

"Let me congratulate you upon the pronounced success of your party last night," said the phlegmatic "But you were not present at the party," rejoined Mrs. "How do you know it was a success?" "Because," explained the other, "I prescribed for those of your guests this morning."

THEFT OF ELECTRIC CURRENT--- KENTUCKY STATUTE RELATIVE THERETO.

CHAPTER 36.

1262 A. 1. Converting or Interfering with Electric Current.—That any person who, without the consent of any person, firm, copartnership or corporation engaged in the manufacture or distribution of electricity, shall unlawfully convert to his own use, from any wire of such person, firm, copartnership or corporation any portion of such electric current or electricity, or who shall prevent such current, or any part thereof, from passing through any meter provided for measuring it by such person, firm, copartnership or corporation, or who shall in any manner, prevent such meter from correctly registering the current passing through it, or shall aid, in any manner, in the unlawful conversion to his use or the use of another, or any portion of such electric current, shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not less than three months nor exceeding twelve months, or both so fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the jury trying the case.

2. Injuring Electrical Machinery.—Any person who shall unlawfully and maliciously destroy, injure or otherwise interfere with any meter, pipe or conduit, wire, line, pole, lamp or other apparatus belonging to any person, firm, copartnership or corporation engaged in manufacturing and selling electricity, shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars, or imprisoned not less than ten days nor more than one year, or both so fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the jury.

3. Possession of Contrivance to Prevent Current Registering.—Any person who shall have in possession any machine, appliance contrivance, of any character, used or intended to be used to prevent a meter from correctly registering the electric current passing through such meter or for diverting the electric current that should pass through such meter, shall be punished by a fine of not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned not less than three months nor more than twelve months, or both so fined and imprisoned, in the discretion of the jury.

4. Receiving Benefit of Electricity Wrongfully Obtained.—Any one who shall knowingly accept and receive the use of a current of electricity diverted as provided for in section 3 thereof shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined not less than fifty dollars nor more than five hundred dollars, or imprisoned in the county jail for not less than three months nor more than one year, or both so fined and imprisoned in the discretion of the jury.

SPECTACULAR SUICIDE IN A DEN OF LIONS

YOUTH, BENT ON SELF-DESTRUCTION, ENTERS CAGE, IS ATTACKED AND KILLED.

Laval, France.—For a truly spectacular suicide the self-destruction of a young countryman here the other day is almost without parallel. The youth, who was only 19 years old, and whose name was Jean Grollier, became enamored of a pretty young girl who was in a small traveling show. Every night Grollier would go to the show and applaud the girl, and he soon became acquainted with her, and with all the members of the troupe.

The rest of the performers liked the country boy and were friendly, but the girl turned a cold shoulder upon him and would give him no encouragement.

The Lions Attacked Him Furiously.

when he protested his love for her. He gave her little presents, such as his slender means would permit him to buy, but, while she accepted these, she was careful to make it plain that she really cared nothing for him.

One night, after having been again repulsed by the object of his love, Grollier walked back to the little arena where a small menagerie was kept. His presence there attracted no particular attention, for he was so well known that he had the run of the show and could go and come as he pleased. He walked straight to a cage in which were three lions, unlocked the door, entered the cage, turned and locked the door.

The members of the troupe were horrified and for a moment were paralyzed into inaction by the youth's boldness. When they sprang forward it was too late to assist him, for one of the lions had made a rush at the boy and seized him by the throat.

Grollier shrieked in agony and terror, but he was borne to the ground and the lion bit and mauled him dreadfully. When at last the beast was driven off his victim was dead.

In one of the youth's pockets was found a letter of farewell to the girl he had loved in vain, and then it was understood that he had deliberately chosen that horrible way of committing suicide.

HUSBAND LIVED IN TOOLSHED.

Kept Out of the House by Wife for Eight Weeks.

London.—An extraordinary story of a husband who lived in a toolshed in the garden, while his wife lived in the house, was told at Grimsby police court.

William Brown, an ex-farmer, was summoned by his wife, Ida Brown, who sought a separation on the grounds of persistent cruelty. It was stated that when Mrs. Brown came into a legacy under an uncle's will, her husband gave up work, saying she had taken him for better or worse, and must keep him. He repeatedly threatened her, struck her and questioned her conduct with other men. She turned him out of the house, but he refused to go away, and for eight weeks lived in a toolshed in the garden, though his wife offered to pay the rent of a house for him if he would leave her.

Brown denied all his wife's allegations, but said that since she came into the money she had tried to get rid of him. "She locked me out of the house, so I took up residence in the shed," he said. "I lived there for eight weeks, despite her efforts to move me. She perished all my belongings, and sent them out of town."

"She then sent me a note down the garden, saying: 'All your things have gone. Please follow them.'"

"After the eight weeks I was decoyed into the house by the promise of a wash and a clean shirt. While I was having the wash my wife locked me in the kitchen and she then went out and chained the shed up with an ax. Being in the house, I did not wish to leave, but to get me outside, my
