MISTAKE

In Vote--Ollie M. James Robbed of Majority By Error--Majority Should

BE 12,372 INSTEAD OF

Less Than Nine Thousand As First Reported--Bryan's Plurality 8,381

Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 24.—The board of election commissioners completed the canvass of the returns from the last election, one or two mistakes in addition were discovered and it was found that Bryan's official plurality in Kentucky was 8,381. Certificates were awarded.

By a mistake in recording the vote of Calloway county when the official returns were made up for the election commission, Congressman Ollie M. James in the First district, was out of about 4,100 votes to which he was entitled, and his majority was reduced that much Mr. James carried the First district by 12,373, instead of 8,000, as was first given out.

The election commission met today and went over the returns. They found that the vote of Calloway county had been tallied, but had been put down wrong. The vote for James in that county was credited to Porter and the vote for Porter credited to James. This gave Calloway county to the Republican candidate by a big majority, when actually it went for James by a big majority. Mr. James' vote in Calloway was 5,000 and Porter received only 800 votes.

THANKSGIVING DINNER TO RECORD-PRESS FORCE.

The Thanksgiving dinner given to the RECORD-PRESS force by Mr. and Mrs. T. Cleveland Stone at their home on Depot street, was a most enjoyable affair, not only to every member of the "force"—from editor to devil—but by quite a large number of others not connected with the newspaper office.

Everything that goes to make up a bountiful Thanksgiving dinner was on the table, from the conventional turkey down—or up—of which each member showed his appreciation by partaking of it abundantly—in fact, he partook, then kept on partaking until he could partake no more. Yet there was an abundance left on the table, more than twelve baskets full, no doubt.

Mrs. Stone showed the true Thanksgiving spirit and her hospitality will be remembered by every member of the "force" for many Thanksgiving days yet to come.

PRESIDENTS

Two visit Lincoln Farm Roosevelt To Speak In February--And Taft to Make

PILGRIMAGE IN MAY.

$250,000 Museum to be Built as Rapidly as the Weather Will Permit to do so.

Postmaster Thomas B. Kirkpatrick of Hodgenville, has been the guest of Cad Burba, of the office of Collector of Customs J. Frank Taylor, and other officials about the Custom house. Mr. Kirkpatrick was the originator of the idea for purchasing and beautifying the Lincoln birthplace and has been prominently connected with the work thus far.

With reference to the visit of President Roosevelt at the laying of the corner stone, February 12, and that of President-elect Taft in May, Mr. Kirkpatrick said: "Hodgenville will be honored with the presence of two Presidents within the next seven months, and thereafter at least every four years she will entertain the highest officers in America. Richard Lloyd Jones, of Collier's Weekly, which was instrumental in the purchase of the farm and its conversion into a park, and in a recent conversation announced that Mr. Taft had declared himself as favoring the plan for a presidential visit to the historical ground at least once each term. Mr. Jones said the President-elect announced that he would establish the precedent by his visit in May and that it would be urged upon future Chief Magistrates that they should make a quadrennial visit to the Lincoln farm."

The new $350,000 museum which will be erected on the farm will be built as rapidly as the weather will permit after the corner stone is laid February 12. The largest crowd ever assembled in Larue county is expected on that occasion, at which President Roosevelt will be the chief speaker.—Courier Journal.

GENERAL

Manager of Planters' Protective Association Answers Complaint.

KICKERS CAN GET OUT

Says the Idea of a Separate Sale of Tobacco Is a Flight of Fancy.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Nov. 28.—By order of the board of directors of the Planters Protective Association, General Manager Ewing has addressed a lengthy answer to the caustic letter of Hugh Lyon, of Lyon county, representing the farmers, said to be 500 in number, who, "as free-born American citizens," declared a strike unless they were granted certain rights and privileges. Mr. Ewing declares that the idea of each county selling its tobacco separately is "merely a flight of fancy, like building a railroad to the moon, but on analysis it is easy to see that the rails are made of tissue paper." He charges that Mr. Lyon is disgruntled because he was not elected by his people to represent them in the councils of the association, and that he is responsible for the lack of good feeling in Lyon county. He says that if Lyon's ideas prevailed, the association would not.

"Doubtless," writes Mr. Ewing, "you know the wants and needs of your people as well as any man, but on the other hand, no better than the most ignorant, because so far as the association and tobacco is concerned, there is only one thing they want and that is money." Again, he says: "As to the relief necessary, no effort has been, or will be, spared to gain it for you hastily, but intemperate talk and threat is the last, most undesirable and least probable way to obtain it. . . . The methods and affairs of the association and its officers, you designate as rolling in luxury, are far-fetched and purile, but you are at least doing more in an effort to disrupt that grand organization than any other man has ever done."

Taking up Mr. Lyon's interrogations seriatim, he says: First, the officers of the association are only employed to do its work. Second, that the members of the association are entitled to a report of its business and transactions "as far as consistent with the business of the association," and that each director can and will enlighten any member in his own county. Third, members will not, as suggested by Mr. Lyon,

CALDWELL

Insurgents Gather in Princeton and Pass Some Resolutions

SAME ONES ADOPTED

By Lyon County--Short Talks by S. D. Hodge, J. S. Hawthorn and Hugh Lyon.

Princeton, Ky., Nov. 28.—The Caldwell County Tobacco Association "Insurgent" met at court house in this city this afternoon. The meeting was presided over by ex-Police Judge R. R. Morgan. Short talks were made by S. D. Hodge and J. S. Hawthorn and also by Hugh Lyon, of Eddyville. The same resolutions were read and adopted as those recently adopted at Kuttawa, Lyon county. There were no objections to the resolutions and as a result the vote thereon was declared unanimous and everything passed off quietly. This year's crop is the last of the three years association pledge. The resolution adopted today does not effect this year's crop or that portion of the 1907 crop now unsold, which means that there will be no hitch between the association members and the insurgents.

WILL MEET IN KUTTAWA NEXT YEAR.

Benton, Ky., Nov. 28.—The first district Educational Association which has been in session here since yesterday, selected Kuttawa as the place of meeting next year, and selected the following officers:

President, W. B. Dodds, of Mayfield; vice president, C. M. White, of Kuttawa; secretary, C. W. Richards, of Princeton; enrolling clerk, L. B. Alexander, of Paducah.

HITCHCOCK FOR POSTMASTER GENERAL.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Hitchcock chairman of the Republican National Committee, was offered today and has accepted the position of postmaster General in Taft's Cabinet.

BULL DOG TEARS A HORSE TO PIECES.

Evansville Ind., Nov. 27.—A bull dog broke his chain yesterday and tore his master's horse to pieces. The dog had always disliked the horse.

Mrs. T. F. Newcom and mother, Mrs. Clifton, were in Blackford visiting relatives Saturday and Sunday.

SOLDIERS

Are Breaking Camp and Returning to Their Homes--General Order

WITHDRAWING TROOPS

From All Points Except Two--Love and War--Four Weddings Have Taken Place.

Maj. E. B. Bassett, who is in charge of the troops in the western division, is putting into execution the orders of Adj. Gen. Johnston for the withdrawal of the larger part of the soldiers.

The detachment of the Pineville company, stationed at Hickman and Cadiz, broke camp yesterday and will come to Hopkinsville. They will deposit their equipment here and then leave for their homes. The various detachments at Princeton, Dawson, Gracey, Cobb, Star Line Works and elsewhere will also be reof duty at once, and on next Monday there will be no camps of soldiers in Western Kentucky, except at Murray and Eddyville, where the officials still regard conditions as critical.

The Golden Pond detachment was ordered home Wednesday, but the order was countermanded at Cadiz and they were ordered back to Golden Pond.

The soldiers here will probably be the last withdrawn, but it is a matter of but a few days until all will be called in.

The soldiers were ordered out Dec. 7, 1907, and from 50 to 300 have been on duty ever since. With this exception of the murders at Hickman where the Walker family of negroes were exterminated, the last Night Rider crimes of any magnitude in this region were the raids last summer at Gracey, Otter Pond and Carulean, where the Illinois Central depots were burned because the railroad company had permitted troops to camp on the right of way.

The soldiers have been taken from all three of the regiments from time to time. They have undergone repeated hardships without complaining, and at night have been almost continuously in the saddle, patrolling a large part of the night-rider districts. The hospitality of the people in some sections at first made their performance of duty exceedingly arduous and unpleasant, but the unfailing courtesy of the soldiers have caused a change of sentiment almost everywhere, and they will carry with them to their homes general good will.

DEMOCRATS AT MURAY WANT TROOPS TO STAY.

Murray, Nov. 29.—The jury trying the case of Jesse Wells on a charge of tampering with the grand jury in the investigation of an alleged fraud charged against the law and order element in the recent primary is unable to agree.

Jesse Wells is a cousin of County Judge Wells. The anti-law and order element here is excited over the reorganization of the county committee by the law and order Democrats. Governor Wilson is being urged to leave troops here and will do so. Judge Wells is expected to be Denny Smith's opponent in the commonwealth's attorney race. The feeling between the factions is bitter.

A protracted meeting will begin at the Baptist church on next Sunday morning, Dec. 6th.

WHY I AM A FARMERS UNION GIRL

Friends and neighbors: We have met to-night for the purpose of talking and reasoning together. This meeting has called a class of people together, who are looked upon by the millions from the pine forest of Minnesota to the orange groves of Florida, and the metropolis of the east to the golden gate on the Pacific coast, as workers or tillers of the soil, who are unfit to make the laws of these United States of America, but only as laborers.

We are predominated by a class of people who sit in their mansions and palaces, with all the luxuries of life at their hand—the fruit of our toil, and in the event of a dissatisfaction or quarrel over the spoils, things that should belong to us, they come by a flowery talk through the columns of some journal, seeking whom they may devour, our last treasure our vote. Or should it be on our products, they do not warn us of the approaching crisis, but warn one another, and there they fix the price on our corn, wheat, tobacco, etc.

I cry as of olden times, "how long must we stand these evils?" Or how long can we stand such things to go on? These gambling dens are located all over this broad land and country of ours, and how few are the cases brought to justice by the law, and even then the court is more than apt to reverse the decision and let the courts say it was an unconstitutional ruling and they go free.

We have these corporations known as the trusts, or in other words, a soulless man, and so well it is a soulless man, that they take what we raise below the productive price and say, I expect the prices to go down, there is so much on the market. But my dear friends, after the crops leave the hands of the farmer, did you ever hear of lower prices, I dare say no, but on the other hand, they soar up until the hungry can hardly be fed from their meager pittance allowed for their labor.

I call you again to arms! To arms! Farmers get in line and be ready for the crisis that now is confronting us. Did you ever hear of a farmer selling a million bushels of wheat and have no crop? I say, no. Did you ever hear of a speculator selling millions of bushels of wheat and corn and the crop yet to grow? Yes. These men who buy, store, figure our prices and bushels, store the money we make and rarely leave us food, to say nothing of the homes in this country that are in dire need of medicine, doctors and clothing. They are deprived of the pleasures of this life, they cannot go to school, they can't go to church nor anywhere, and in fact are not fit to stay at home. Why? Because they have been robbed of the results of their labor—money. On the other hand, look at the picture, you see the children dressed in their silks and satins, riding in fine automobiles to church, attending the university of their choice, and fitting themselves for a life of ease and pleasure.

Neighbors let me ask you the question, how many such cases as I have just related to you, can you point out? There is not a person in the sound of my voice but could tell you of just such case, then I say, is it not time to do something? This is not the age when we can just set, things will right themselves, but on the other side, Benjamin Franklin sounded the key-note when he said: "He who would thrive must either hold or drive." Are you ready, if not, get ready, fall in and let us march to victory.

Let's lay aside our prejudice and come as a band of co-workers and brothers and success is within our reach. We look all around us and see unions of various kinds, they have proven a success. Why not us? Because there has been a few orders started to benefit the farmer, and failed, in one respect they did not fail, they only helped us to see what we needed the more, and so we have to stand as a band of brothers. Out of the eleven million farmers nearly three million are holding our banner unfurled to our principles, Equity and the Golden Rule.

We want good, clean-hearted farmers—those who know how to farm and make an honest dollar and spend it for the right cause, those who give God honor and praise and look upon man as his equal, those who are willing to apply the John Smith rule, those who do not work may not eat, and when such men as these band themselves together it is like the mighty rock of Gibraltar—they will stand though the waters roll high and waves batter their back, because they are founded upon a rock, the products of the soil.

Let me say just here, we do not oppose capital as applied by the great enterprises of these United States. We believe in organized forces, but my dear sir, let them be fair and apply our motto, "Equity and the Golden Rule," and you will see prosperity as you never saw before, the dinner pail will be full to overflowing and the hearts of the laborer will abound with good will toward his master. There would be no need for strikes and ceaseless panics, causing the laboring classes to cry out, what must we do or what can we do to be saved.

We want good old times, like years ago, when equal rights to all and special privileges were granted alike to rich and poor. Not so now. The masses are serving the classes, and they dictate terms to us, when this matter should be equal.

We want the time to come when we can put our farm products on the market and let the highest bidder buy. Not so now. The price is fixed six months before our crop is ready for the market. Do we say it costs fifty cents to grow a bushel of wheat and we must have seventy-five cents. No! No! But we approach the money exchangers and in a humble way, regardless of cost of production say, what will you give me for my crop. If he wants it for 1 and nothing you have no recourse but walk away and meditate over the matter and say, well there is no one else to sell to, so I guess I'll have to let him have it. I say, farmers, awake to a sense of your duty and let's make the money exchanger come to us and say, what will you sell me a bushel of wheat for? Reason teaches us he cannot eat his money, but we can eat our corn and wheat, so you see at a glance he is at our mercy. If we only try, I say again, we do not want to take all nor give all for a living, but let's divide our products for an equal share of returns, money, and go through this world as brothers.

The question might arise, what have we women got to do with this question? This ought to be easily answered, but alas, could you but see the many homes where mother and children alike toil in the field day by day, year by year, and go home at the setting sun, nothing to eat but a little bread and water, the next day to repeat their hard work, I say is it any wonder the heart of the American farmer rises to the highest pitch for some means to escape? I dare say the mothers are willing to toil and help to make the necessities of life, could they but know they would reap a fair price when harvest is over and go home to rest with their loved ones, to sit around the bright fires of winter and enjoy the fruits of their labor, but such a picture is made grim by the reverse. A picture of Yuletide will convince you this is true when Fanny says to papa, did you get me that dollie you promised me? Robert says, papa, where is that gun and rubber ball you said I could have when you sold our tobacco? Just when the children are most expectant the father and mother are made to feel bitter pangs at heart on account of breaking a promise, but in a gentle voice we hear the answer, children, we are so sorry, but our debts had to be paid for bread to live on, and the few dollars left we will have to make the very best use of possible. We did not get much for our crop this year, but we will try and do better next year. So you see such is the life of a farmer under the present system.

I sincerely believe that the farmer is God's chosen people. As Israel was of old, so are we to-day. We are being oppressed and our burdens growing heavier. Why? Because we do not stay by each other and stand for the right.

What is more lovely than a country home, surrounded with all the necessities of life? It surpasses the kingly palace with all its beauty and grandeur. A modern home is found only where peace and love do rule.

Could I picture this home in its sublime beauty and tell all its pleasures, such as are not to be told, only experience can unfold, such a home as those of you here that are able to withstand these times, would arise and in one grand chorus shout Home, home, sweet home; there is no place like home.

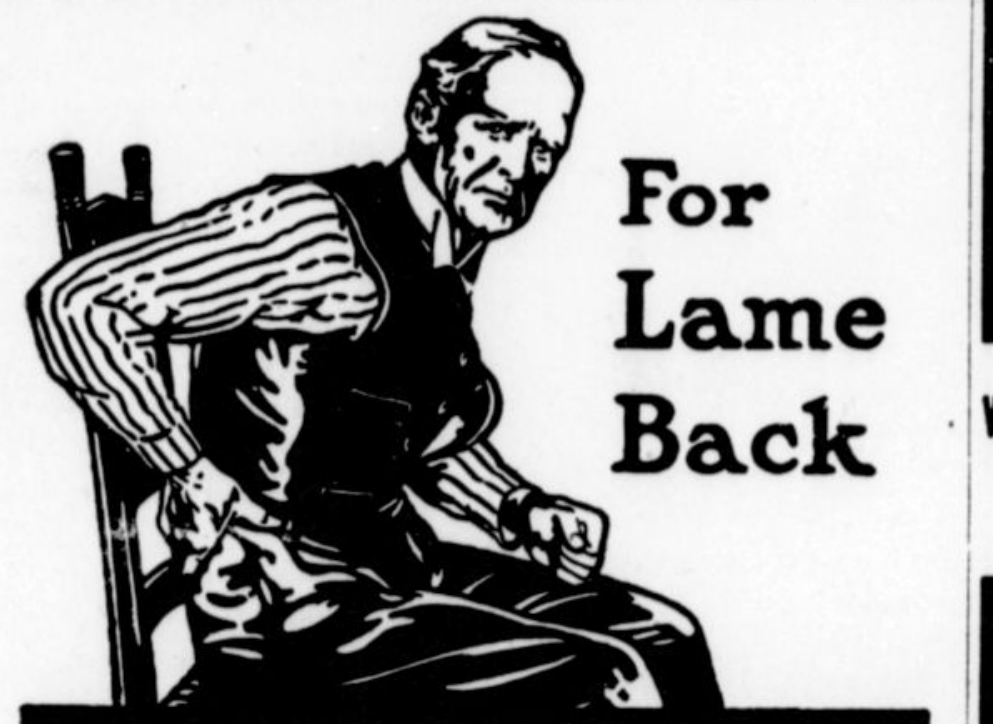

God in His wisdom has placed a few warnings on certain classes, the rich, lawyer, doctor, etc., but can you find again against the farmer? But he did say, "We should live by the sweat of our brow," and this is what we want to do. So it stands us in hand to apply the motto of our beloved Kentucky, "United we stand, divided we fall," always mindful of our union, "Equity and the Golden Rule," to live and let live.

I said we were the chosen people, and so I believe we are, and that our redemption is to be through the Farmers' Union, even as the children of Israel were led by the pillar of fire, so I sincerely believe we are to be led by our union to victory.

Now, in conclusion, let me say, if you believe what I have said is true, and these are some of the reasons I am a Farmers' Union girl, we want you to come and help. "United there is strength." All we want is a fair price for our products, to live and let live. I ask you again, is our cause a just one? My charge to you, brothers, is this, be faithful to press on; the goal is just ahead; the harvest is rich and all we will have to do to succeed is press on.

As Christ said to his disciples, Ye have been faithful over a few things, I'll make you ruler over many. May we expect the same of our Farmers' Union—he true, be loyal.

WOMAN LOST ON A BARREN ISLAND

FEMALE EXCURSIONIST SPENDS NIGHT OF TERROR IN THE HILLS OF CATALINA.

TAKES STROLL AND LOSES WAY

Thoughts of Wild Animals and Deadly Skunks Oppress Her—Found Exhausted After 18 Hours on Beach by Boatman.

Los Angeles, Cal.—After a night of harrowing experience, with hunger, exhaustion and the fear of wild animals, Mrs. Margaret Olsen of Brooklyn, N. Y., a visitor to Catalina island, was found early the other morning in a state of collapse on the edge of the island, where she had wandered in an effort to find a trail to Avalon.

Mrs. Olsen was found crouched on the beach by a son of "Tony, the Greek." He saw her from his launch when she called for aid as he went past on the way to the fishing grounds. She was taken back to Avalon and placed on a steamer for San Pedro.

Mrs. Olsen had made arrangements to meet another woman friend and make a sightseeing trip of the island with her. The friend failed to appear, and alone Mrs. Olsen made the trip.

Arrived at the island, Mrs. Olsen made the rounds of the sights, including a trip inland to the Pacific wireless station. When returning to take the steamer that left at 3:15 o'clock, she started to take a short stroll among the hills. So engrossed was she in the scenery that it was not until she had wandered far inland that she looked at her watch and to her surprise saw that it was three o'clock. She immediately tried to find a short cut to the steamer, but lost her way. Hour after hour she tramped through the hills, cutting her feet on the rough stones, breaking through bushes of brush, tearing her clothes and lacerating her hands. But with all her efforts the way only became more hopelessly lost. Then, utterly exhausted, and with darkness hiding all landmarks, she decided to try to sleep until daylight.

Mrs. Olsen lay for a time trying to sleep. Then the thought of wild beasts came to add to her worries. She had heard somewhere of hydrophobia skunks which bite a sleeper only on the face. To guard against such an attack she removed her skirts and wrapped them tightly about her head. The mist from the ocean chilled her through and through and with the constant fear of the animals and the terrors of the darkness she could not close her eyes to sleep.

Finally dawn came and at the first ray of light Mrs. Olsen started again on the search for the trail that would lead her back to Avalon. Her feet were so cut by the rocks that it was only with the greatest difficulty she was able to drag herself along.

Finally she heard the roar of the ocean apparently at a great distance. She reasoned that if she could follow the coast line of the island she would eventually reach her goal. But so far gone was her strength that when she reached the beach at White's Landing she collapsed.

When she recovered she laved her feet with the water, trying to take away the stinging pain of the cuts. It was then that she heard the puffing of a gasoline launch, saw it going past her and desperately cried out for help and signaled to the occupant. The man in the launch saw the signal, saw it was a woman in distress, and went to shore. Then, with Mrs. Olsen, he returned to Avalon.

Mrs. Olsen was taken care of and later was placed aboard the steamer for the trip back to San Pedro and her friends.

Altogether 18 hours were passed from the time Mrs. Olsen started to explore the island until she was found on the beach by the boatman, every moment of which was filled with the terrors and suffering any castaway on a barren island might experience.

DRIVEN INSANE BY GHOSTS OF FRIENDS

TWO ST. LOUIS MEN, HAUNTED BY SPIRITS OF THE DEAD, TAKEN TO HOSPITAL.

ONE SEES MANGLED BODIES

Became Excited and Crouched in Corner of Cab When Engine Passed Spot of Fatal Accident—Night Watchman's Nerve Broken.

St. Louis.—Imagining that the ghosts of dead friends were haunting them, two men became insane and were taken to the city hospital. One is a locomotive fireman who thought he saw the mangled forms of his two friends as he passed over the spot where they were killed. The other is a night watchman who imagined that the spirit of his old employer came to him in the factory and walked around with him.

The mental strain of having to ride an engine at full speed every day or two over a stretch of track where two of his friends had been mangled and killed in a train wreck so oppressed the mind of Roy M. Scott, the locomotive fireman, that he became a raving maniac.

Scott is 27 years old and was employed by the Frisco railroad. Early this month a passenger train on the Frisco going at full speed left the rails near Carthage, Mo., and the engine and some of the cars rolled down a high embankment.

Harry Johraus, the fireman, and Engineer Blood went down with their engine, which crushed them to death. They were both personal friends of Scott and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers sent him to Carthage to bring the bodies back.

Scott saw the mangled bodies of his friends and he went to the spot where the engine had rolled down the embankment.

It made a deep impression upon his mind and when he next went over that spot on his engine he was greatly agitated.

Thereafter, whenever he was approaching this spot with his engine, he would become nervous and excited. It grew worse with every trip, until at last he would crouch in a corner of the cab until the spot was passed. He declared that the place was haunted and that he could see the ghosts of his two friends beckoning to him.

At last his fancies took the form of acute insanity and he was placed in the observation ward of the city hospital. The board of health declared that he was insane.

Twenty-eight years as a night watchman, alone each night in a great factory and going with his lantern from floor to floor, peering into dark corners and listening to strange noises of the night at last broke down the mind of Jeremiah Sheehan, and his brother, John Sheehan, a policeman, took him to the city hospital for observation.

Jeremiah Sheehan, a high school man in the city, was taken to the city hospital after a long stay in the city jail. He was found in the city jail after a long stay in the city jail. He was found in the city jail after a long stay in the city jail.

"Why, Jeremiah," said his wife, "he is dead, and he has been dead, too, and factory together."

Then Mrs. Sheehan's brother, who was in the hospital, said to her: "The old man is still lighted, and he refused to go home."

"How do you feel?" said his friend of Mal. "She's speaking."

Gentlemen: Last summer I had a very severe case of hives. I consulted several of the best physicians, and tried everything that I had ever heard of being used in the treatment of hives. I was in a terrible condition, but was not all over in great red blotches, the itching was almost unbearable, and it was impossible for me to sleep. I was almost crazy. Finally a physician advised me to use a case of Littell's Liquid Sulphur. I used it in the house, and as soon as I began to use it, the hives disappeared completely, and the itching and swelling went away. I am now a happy man's sleep. Sincerely yours,

He states that such symptoms as lame back, pain in the side, frequent desire to urinate, especially at night, painful and discolored urination, are readily overcome. Here is the recipe. Trivet. Half Extract Dandelion, one half ounce. Corn and Kargon one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla three ounces. Take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

A well known druggist here in town is authority that these ingredients are all harmless and easily mixed at home by shaking a vial in a bottle. This mixture has a peculiar healing and soothing effect upon the entire Kidney and Urinary system, and of overcomes the worst forms of Rheumatism in just a little while. This mixture is said to remove all blood disorders and cure the Rheumatism by forcing the Kidney to filter and strain from the blood and system all acid and foul decomposition waste matter, which cause all such afflictions. Try it if you won't well. Save the prescription. 27-28

TELLS HOW TO MIX IT

Tells You How to Overcome Rheumatism With Simple Recipe.

A well-known authority on rheumatism gives the following valuable, though simple and harmless, prescription, which any one can easily prepare at home:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Mixed by shaking well in a bottle, and take a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime.

He states that the ingredients can be obtained from any good prescription pharmacy at small cost, and, being of vegetable extraction, are harmless to take.

This pleasant mixture, if taken regularly for a few days, is said to overcome almost any case of Rheumatism. The pain and swelling, if any, diminishes with each dose, until permanent results are obtained, and without injuring the stomach. While there are many so-called Rheumatism remedies, patent medicines, etc., some of which do give relief, few really give permanent results, and the above will, no doubt, be greatly appreciated by many sufferers here at this time.

Inquiry at the drug stores of this neighborhood elicits the information that these drugs are harmless and can be bought separately, or the druggists here will mix the prescription for our readers if asked to.

An Error.

His father had found it necessary to rather severely punish Robert, aged five. The little chap came running to me with resentment in his heart.

"Auntie," he sobbed, "did God make you?"

"Yes, Robert" I answered.

"And did he make me?"

"Yes."

"And did he make me?"

"Certainly, my boy."

"And did he make me, too?"

"Of course he did."

"Well," sobbed Robert, sadly, "that's when he made a mistake."

Breathe Hyomei And Kill The Loathsome Catarrh Germs.

Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will hawk and spit, and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. But there is one remedy that will kill the germs and cure catarrh, and that is Hyomei, the Australian dry air treatment.

MANIAC CONDUCTS PRAYER MEETING

RELIGIOUSLY DEMENTED YOUTH MAKES PASTOR PLAY PART OF "CONGREGATION."

LATTER RECALLED EXHAUSTED

Is Compelled to Sing Hymns and Offer Up Prayer at Demand of Crazy Man for Three Hours.

Galveston, Tex.—Compelled to choose between being pounded into jelly and being the audience of a prayer meeting conducted by a lunatic, Rev. Dr. George Francomb, pastor of the St. James Methodist church here, chose the latter. For three hours he sang all the hymns announced by the lunatic leader, and prayed long and long whenever called on to do so.

When the minister was found by a member of his church and rescued from the madman, he was exhausted and a physician had to be summoned. Dr. Francomb had been holding revival services at the First Methodist church, and among those who have shown a deep interest in the meetings was a young man whose name Dr. Francomb says he never learned. The man became more and more enthused, and finally became so earnest that he went to the church between meetings and held service all by himself. Recently he found Dr. Francomb in the church when he went there and he requested the minister to hold a service just for the two of them. Dr. Francomb made some excuse and went away.

Nothing was thought of the incident until, when Dr. Francomb was in the church himself arranging the music for a meeting, the young man entered, turned the key in the lock and put the key in his pocket. Advancing up the aisle he saluted the minister and then suggested that they hold a prayer meeting for their mutual good. Dr. Francomb demurred and attempted to leave the church, but found that the church was locked. When he requested the young man to open the door he was confronted by two huge fists, and he was asked if he wanted to receive a sound thrashing.

"Your Only Escape is to Hold This Meeting!"

Dr. Francomb said he did not. "The only escape then is to hold this meeting," was the rejoinder and Dr. Francomb was marched up the aisle and seated in the front pew.

For three hours Dr. Francomb was held a prisoner, and even then the insane leader would have continued had not one of the minister's parishioners, who knew he was at the church, come there to see him on a matter of business. He found the door locked, but heard Dr. Francomb singing lustily. Going to a window and climbing up the friend looked in and saw the two holding the meeting. At first he thought that the meeting was merely an incident of the revival services, but while he was looking through the window he saw the young man descend from the pulpit and engage in one of his exhibitions of pugilistic pantomime in front of the minister. Then the friend knew that he was a friend in need, and he sent for the police.

Brave Girl Throttles Mouse.

Bethlehem, Pa.—A mouse caused a small panic in Bechtel's restaurant at the noon hour, when the place was filled with diners, mostly women.

A waitress discovered the little rodent running across the floor, and shrieked. In an instant every chair was occupied, feet first.

Just then Miss Elizabeth Heatro, a pretty waitress, came in from the kitchen, and as the terrified little mouse came her way, quickly seized it back of the head with her hand and broke its neck.

Woman Whips Thieves.

Quakertown, Pa.—Discovering a man ransacking the closets in her kitchen, Mrs. George Zuck of Zion Hill trounced him with a horsewhip. After he had fled Mrs. Zuck found a second man in a bedroom, and she also flogged him as he ran downstairs. In trying to escape he was caught on the pickets of a fence, and while in this predicament the woman rained blow after blow upon him.

FLIRTATIOUS MONKEY SQUEEZES TWO GIRLS

JOCKO SEES THEM CHESTNUTTING IN WOODS AND CEASES TO BE HERMIT.

New York.—Miss Stella Bruggeman and Miss May Wood of Montclair, N. J., and young Jack Ebbsels, a Montclair beau, went chestnutting in the woods around the new State Normal school, Montclair Heights. Of a sudden Miss Bruggeman, who had wandered a little away from her companions, shrieked affrightedly. Jack Ebbsels ran to her. A monkey with a funny bearded face and a long tail, jumped from Miss Bruggeman's shoulder, clambered up an oak tree and vanished through a hole in a big limb.

The frightened girl said she had not seen the monkey until it sprang on her shoulder, threw its arms around her neck and squeezed her so vigorously that it scratched her cheek and neck.

Young Ebbsels vengefully swore he would catch that monkey, and, with the girls' help, he climbed the tree and caught its lowest branches. As he ascended, the monkey reappeared and pelted Ebbsels with chestnuts, of which, it proved, it had a great stock in the hollow branch.

As Ebbsels approached, the monkey ran down the tree and again sprang on Miss Bruggeman's shoulder, chattering excitedly as if it wanted to tell her what a very pretty girl she is. Miss Bruggeman fainted.

Screaming, Miss Wood ran away; the monkey, as if to show no favoritism, chased, overtook her, and, leaping on her shoulder, clasped her neck and held on tight. Miss Wood ran to the nearest house and fainted.

"Why, here's Jocko come home again," cried the woman, living in the house. The monkey sprang in her arms; the children came running and petted the monkey. The woman revived Miss Wood, and told her she had owned Jocko three years.

LOSES TROUSERS IN CUE BET.

Player Awaits Another Pair, but Wife Sends Smoking Jacket.

New York.—Something new in freak bets was introduced in Brooklyn when William W. Williams and Walter M. Oestreicher wagered their trousers on the result of a billiard match.

The bet, made in the heat of an argument over their ability as cue wielders, was carried out much to the distress of Mr. Oestreicher, who, after losing the game and his trousers and being compelled to hide himself beneath the friendly folds of a pool table cover, learned that his wife, to whom a messenger had been dispatched for aid, had sent in lieu of another pair of trousers a daintily embroidered smoking jacket.

It was agreed by the men that they would play a 50-point game, and that before starting they would remove their trousers and hand them over to a stakeholder.

Accompanied by the stakeholder, Arthur Nosworthy, and several friends, Williams and Oestreicher went to the billiard academy and obtained a small private room for their game. It was cold in the room, but neither flinched.

Williams is robust and stood the strain, but Oestreicher suffered from the frigid air. Williams won by 50 to 21, and, after donning his own trousers, tucked Oestreicher's garment under his arm and marched away in triumph.

Bundled up in a billiard table cover, Oestreicher awaited the return of a uniformed lad, who made a leisurely trip to the Oestreicher residence and returned with the smoking jacket.

Williams finally went back to the place and returned the trophy.

Snakes in Cupboard.

Rising Sun, Mo.—Mrs. Joseph Cutler of Liberty Grove heard a commotion in the lower section of a cupboard in the kitchen, and upon opening the door among the pots and pans discovered a black snake and a flathead viper in a furious combat, the black snake appearing to be victorious.

Assisted by her daughter Helen and armed with clubs they dispatched the reptiles.

The blacksnake measured four and one-half feet, while the viper measured three. A mouse hole in the wall showed where they entered.

Women Inclined To Constipation

Great Care Should Be Taken Not to Use Violent Cathartics

Women, owing to their peculiar functions, are more or less liable to constipation and many of them owe their continued ill health to the pill habit. A well known physician lays the majority of cases of foul breath, bad complexion, disordered stomach, sick headache and female weakness to constipation and the constant use of violent cathartics to overcome it.

We believe women will be glad to learn of a safe reliable bowel and stomach remedy that is pleasant to take and that the first few doses will certainly produce natural daily movements without pain or gripe and in a short time establish a permanent cure. It is so effective it has cured cases of 60 years' standing and yet so mild and safe thousands of mothers give it to their babies. Jennie Gresham, Nashville, Tenn., says: "I suffered almost death with torpid liver and indigestion and Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gave me quick relief."

Sister M. Berchmans, of Mt. St. Mary's Academy, Oklahoma City, says: "We have found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin satisfactory as a gentle laxative and stomach tonic." Mrs. Myrtle Mather, Chicago, says: "My daughter was troubled since birth with constipation and sick headache. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin cured her." Mrs. W. M. Fowers, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says: "It is the best remedy for constipation and stomach trouble I have ever used." Mrs. R. H. Brown, Addington, Okla., says it gave her prompt relief from constipation and torpid liver. Mrs. Isabella Wheeler, Freetown, Ind., says: "Twenty-three years ago I was taken with stomach trouble. Three years ago I had become so weak I could hardly walk. I took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today am as well as ever." Druggists sell it at 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

We are glad to send a free sample to any one who has not used it and will give it a fair trial. Address Pepsin Syrup Co., 308 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Plenty of Exercise Necessary.

Plenty of regular exercise must be taken in order to keep the body in a healthy condition. Any excessive or unusual exertion, however, is sure to cause stiffness and soreness of the muscles and joints.

To counteract this effect there is nothing better than Sloan's Liniment. Lay it on lightly where the muscles have been strained; it requires no rubbing for it penetrates right to the bone, relieves any congestion and inflammation and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Sloan's Liniment is a great boon to athletes, for it not only relieves pain and stiffness, but it is an excellent remedy for sprains, cuts, bruises and cramps.

Mr. J. F. Price, of Tusculum, Ala., writes:—"I am an engineer on the Southern Road from Chattanooga to Memphis, Tenn. The continued elevation of my arm upon the throttle gives it a sore feeling when on a long journey, and there is nothing that will take the soreness out like Sloan's Liniment, and I keep a bottle in my grip always."

Richelieu Demonstra.

tion at Morris & Yates.

The great firm of Sprague, Warner & Co, Chicago, (which bears the distinction of being the largest grocery concern in the world,) has had one of its able representatives here this week in the person of Miss Schwarberg, who has been booking orders for customers of Morris & Yates the Main street grocers. The local firm is building a fine trade in the "Richelieu Brand" which embraces all kinds of preserved and canned goods as well as mince meat, coffee, tea, etc., in fact, every thing in the grocery line, and it is only another proof of the old adage "first class goods make a satisfied customer" and it is to Marion's credit that such splendid goods can now be obtained here, obviating the necessity which has previously existed of having to go, or send away when any especially dainty and elegant was desired in Edibles.

To-morrow and Saturday, Richelieu Coffee will be served hot with rich cream and sugar at MORRIS & YATES, and they extend a cordial invitation to all "judges of good coffee" to visit their store and "take one on them." If the old saying "the road to a man's heart is through his stomach" is true we predict that Miss Schwarberg will captivate all of our old bachelors who sample the Richelieu goods.

O GREAT SALVATION

By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. (Moody's)
Church, Chicago.

It is salvation from the greatest evil to the greatest good.

The greatest evils begin with the serpent letter "S": Sin, Sick ness and Suffer ing. Salvation from sin, the guilt of it and the de- flement of it, the power of it and by and by the presence of it.

Salvation from guilt is a great salvation. Prof. Freeman of Harvard university was tried for murder. He was convicted, and a few days before the execution he made complaint of the guards for mocking him. He said he heard all through the night some one uttering the name of the man for whose murder he was tried. Investigation was made, and it was discovered that the guards did not utter his name; it was the guilt of sin that spoke it. It was conscience that uttered it. The an- cients in their pictures of the furies, each one with a tongue of fire, were giving us a picture of sin's guilt. If we realize how righteous God is and then realize that we have sinned against a holy God, the sense of guilt will really overwhelm us. Through Jesus Christ we get rid of sin. The greatest day of my life was the day when I settled the sin question; the day when I got a vision of Jesus Christ as the Guilt-Beater, and realized that the guilt of sin was forever gone.

It means salvation from sickness. There is a land where they never say, "I am sick." No disease ever enters the gates of pearl, and in saving us from the guilt, delinquent and power of sin God saves us from sickness. Sal- vation from suffering. Salvation in suffering often with the view to sal- vation from suffering. Christ was made perfect through suffering. The gold goes into the furnace that it may not need the furnace. The vine dresser uses the knife that the vine may not need the knife. And God may give us the experience of suffer- ing that we may become acquainted with Christ in the fellowship of suffer- ing, and this suffering "works out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory," until the suffering will have performed its work and the character that it makes will remain. The furnace will then be out of sight and only the gold will be seen. The diamond will be off the wheel and in the Master's crown. Salvation from sin, sickness and suffering is a great salvation indeed.

The Greatest Good. It is salvation to the greatest good. Holiness, health and happiness. They balance each other—sin, sickness and suffering over against holiness, health and happiness. "He was made sin for us who knew no sin that we might be made the righteousness of God in him." As righteous as God in him, and when you settle the sin question and the guilt of sin has passed from you to Christ you have settled the holiness question, too, for the holiness of Christ passes from him to you. We give up our sins to him and he gives his holiness unto us.

God saves us from sickness. Ours is God the healer. Call it scientific psychology, allopathy, homeopathy or anything you please, but the Lord does the work, and he may use remedies, but he does the healing, and we praise God and not the remedy. Let us dis- pense with all fads and fancies and come down to simple faith in God as the healer of the sick.

Let me ask you a question which no being in this universe can answer. "How shall we escape if we neglect so great salvation?" Theologian, can you tell me? Philosopher, can you tell me? Holy Spirit, can you tell me? The Holy Spirit, who is the spirit of wis- dom, has to reply for once, "I cannot tell you." Lord Jesus, can you tell me? He cannot. Lord God Almighty, and I speak it with reverence, can you tell me, with all your wisdom, how I can escape if I neglect so great a sal- vation? God himself for once is un- able to answer. Not an angel in heaven, not God himself can answer that question. How can I escape if I neglect—not if I revile, not if I dis- pute, not if I fight against it, but if I neglect so great salvation? There is no escape for time or eternity. I be- seech you, do not neglect it longer.

University Bars Liquor.

The trustees of the Leland Stanford university, California, have recently adopted the following resolution, af- fecting the use of liquor for beverage purposes within the university build- ings. "The academic council is in- structed to prohibit the use of liquor in fraternity chapter houses, student club houses and other student lodg- ings." The action taken by the trust- ees and the specific instructions given to the university authorities practically end the controversy, which has been taking place on the liquor question at Stanford. From now on, not only will liquor not be allowed in the buildings of the uni- versity, but any student who shall have or keep intoxicating liquors of any kind in his residential quarters in the building will be expelled and the leases of fraternity and club houses will be subject to this rule.

STRANDED CREW ESCAPE CANNIBALS

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS IMPRISONED THREE WEEKS IN VESSEL OFF BORNEO COAST.

HOT TAR THEIR ONLY WEAPON

Find Themselves Face to Face with Horde of Savages When They At- tempt to Land—Keep Guard on Craft Until Rescued.

Galveston, Tex.—Imprisoned for three weeks on a wrecked vessel, with hostile natives threatening their lives on land and the storm-swept sea pre- venting escape, the crew of the Amer- ican steamer New Orleans took turns in standing guard, armed with buckets of hot tar, their only weapon, mo- mentarily expecting an attack from the natives from shore.

This is the narrative told by John Cutbirth, a native of Fort Worth, Tex., who arrived on the El Norte on his way home after an absence of ten years.

The wreck occurred last May, short- ly after the vessel set sail for New Zealand, laden with phosphorus, for Hamburg. While passing the Straits of Macassar, off the coast of Borneo, the vessel, during a fierce storm, was driven on a reef and there stuck fast.

Capt. Homby, realizing that the only course was to abandon the ship, or- dered the boats lowered. In the boats was placed all portable property worth saving. There were no weapons on the ship, and when they approached the shores of Borneo they were de- fenseless. The landing was made at night, and the anxious crew waited eagerly for daylight. But when day broke they found themselves face to face with a horde of fierce-looking na- tives armed in a primitive fashion.

That the natives did not relish the idea of having their island invaded by a band of strange-looking white men was evident from the attitude they im- mediately assumed. From suspicion they passed quickly to resentment and then they prepared to become aggres- sive. Whether well-founded or not, the belief of the stranded crew soon became fixed that the natives were on the verge of making a square meal of part of them, and of putting the others in cold storage to await further appetites.

The belief was not a pleasant one, and Homby was advised by the mem- bers of the crew that they did not wish to tempt the hunger of the na- tives by further display of themselves on the shores of Borneo.

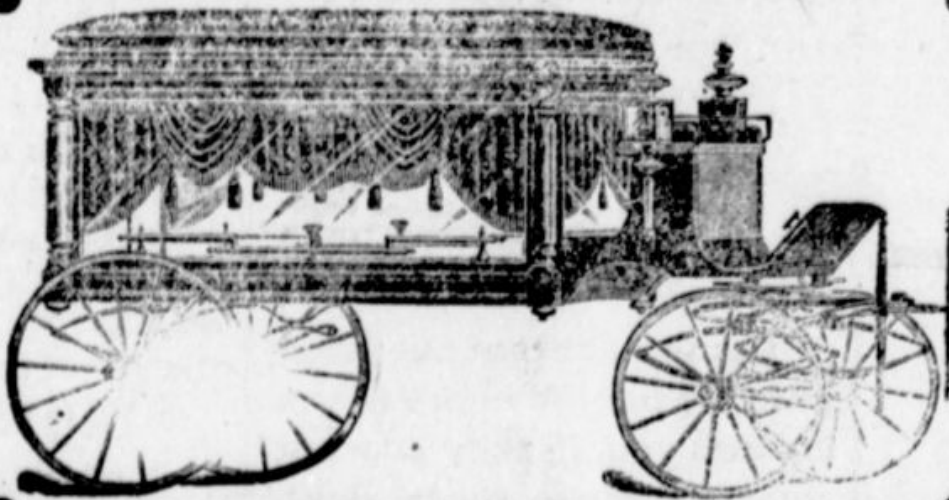

Capt. Homby did not demur, and in a very short time the crew were hastily pushing the lifeboats off and pulling out of reach of the natives' weapons. Then a conference was held. The only alternative to being eaten was to re- turn to the wrecked vessel. The crew soon took to the ship, thanking their stars that they were not in more un- comfortable quarters.

Considering that their danger was by no means passed, the crew at once made the ship as habitable as possible, at the same time that a system of de- fense was planned. It was found that the only weapon they had was a small quantity of tar, and this was de- cided to be made more effective. Buckets were placed conveniently near the tar and everything prepared so that it could be dumped on the heads of those who attempted to invade the ship.

At the same time a watch was kept by passing vessels, but for three weeks no relief came. In the meantime the crew, although they made several half-hearted demonstrations, failed to attack the ship, but by remaining on the vessel they actually prevented the natives from landing. Fortunately, the ship was not in danger of being sunk, and the defense of the ship was not a matter of routine.

On June 1 the crew's distress sig- nal was picked up by the Dutch steamer, which came to the wrecked vessel and took off the crew. The stranded sailors were sent to Liverpool and Holt steamer, and the Liverpool members were cared for at the hospital and eventually were re- turned home ports.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY

WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

OTHERS HAVE DONE IT

THERE are many young men in business who, because of a lack of early training, either through limited oppor- tunities or wasted opportunities, are struggling with a great handicap, which they hardly realize, in their limited knowledge of certain fundamentals of education. They re- semble a man in a boat with only one oar, battling against the waves, without even knowing enough to wish for another oar, and without realizing that the reason others are making better headway is because they have two oars.

The fundamental branches of study—those which every schoolboy is supposed to learn in his early years, and which are often too meagerly understood by young men—are: How to spell, how to use correct grammar, good penmanship, arithmetic, geography, history and etymology.

Simple as these branches are, there are thousands who are deficient in them, and yet are blundering along through life, expecting to make a success in business, and yet not realizing how greatly they are handicapped by the lack of these things. Those who feel a lack in any of the simple fundamentals of education cannot afford to neglect any oppor- tunity they can make to acquire some knowledge in those branches. Fifty years of hard work without them cannot hide the defect which may be overcome by a few years of night study.

NEWLY-WEDS HOBO IT ON HONEYMOON TRIP

MAKE A 1,650-MILE JOURNEY. STARTING WITH A TOTAL CAPITAL OF $8.75.

Seattle, Wash.—Beating their way from Lincoln, Neb., to Seattle, Wash., a distance of 1,650 miles, by "riding the rods," "bumping the bumpers" and sleeping in sidedor Pullmans, was the method adopted by John Barker and his bride for celebrating their honeymoon.

Mrs. Barker says she enjoyed the trip. The couple were married at Lincoln, and started west immediately, with a total capital of $8.75. It was Mrs. Barker's intention to go only as far as Brush, Col., where her sister lives, but when she discovered that travel a la hobo is not so difficult as she imagined, she decided to go with her husband all the way to Seattle and visit her brother-in-law.

"I'll never forget our start," said Mrs. Barker after reaching Seattle. "We went to a point a short distance outside of Lincoln, and there I made a bonfire of my skirts and put on men's clothes. I wore a heavy pair of trousers and a pair of overalls on top of them, a long heavy coat and a slouch hat. I kept my hair moistened all the way so that I could keep it in compact form under my hat."

"The only person who discovered my identity on the entire trip was a conductor. He happened to pull off my hat while I was asleep in a box car. He treated me nicely, though, and gave me a good dinner. In fact the only really well-cooked meal we obtained on the entire journey."

"I could never control my timidity, however, about entering a farmhouse, because I was afraid my sex would be discovered."

At Park City, Mont., they were ar- rested. Mrs. Barker, the police told her, was suspected of having stolen a suit case. They were taken to a sal- oon in charge of a deputy sheriff armed with a shotgun and two other officers, and held there until a police- man ascertained if she answered the description of the thief. Finally he came back, looked at her forehead for a certain mark he did not find, and then released both of them.

"I was scared," said Mrs. Barker, "but I did not let it appear so."

They often rode in box cars with 15 or 20 other hobs.

ADRIFT 36 HOURS IN OPEN BOAT.

Family of Six Has Awful Experience in a Dense Fog.

London.—Henry Marshall and his wife and four young children were landed at Cardiff pierhead after hav- ing been 36 hours adrift, without food, in an open boat.

Marshall is a wire-worker, whose custom it has been to move from sea- port to seaport with his family in a 14-foot punt. They spent a week at Weston, and on getting into the chan- nel became lost in a fog.

After vainly pulling about through- out the whole of yesterday night, hun- gry and wet, Marshall and his wife, the eldest boy and the youngest a babe, were driven ashore.

Next morning, the family of six, the wife and four children, were found by the Flat Coastguard cutter, which towed them to shore. The family was then taken to a hospital, where they were treated for their exposure and cold.

Mr. Harris, who was in charge of the rescued family, said:

Girl Unafraid of Bear. South Bend, Wash.—A young girl, one of the old Bullard family, who lives on the coast, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bullard and Annie Scholtz. Mrs. Myer's 14-year-old sister.

The other day she discovered a bear in an apple tree and immediately brought out a .22-caliber rifle with which to slay him. As the bear was pretty well hidden by the foliage of the tree, she, without a moment's hesi- tation, climbed into the tree and began shooting.

She had fired two shots, both of which had taken effect, and the bear was coming down when a neighbor, Sherd Vaughn, coming along, took the rifle from her and, with a well-aimed shot through the ear, brought the bear to the ground.

CLUBMAN SAVES LIFE AND ALSO WINS BRIDE

THRILLING EXPERIENCE IN WA- TER LEADS TO SUBSEQUENT PLIGHTING OF TROTHS.

Philadelphia.—Some poet—or was he a philosopher—said that love likes the unusual. And here is just another proof of it, for Chauncey S. Hager, president of the West Overbrook Ten- nis club, and an all-round athlete, and Miss Mabel Swanson of West Phila- delphia, have announced to their friends that they are man and wife. More than this, they have been mar- ried several months, while their friends were in ignorance of the fact.

Now it happened in this way: Mr. Hager was spending his vacation at Somers Point. So was Miss Swanson. Both were the best swimmers of all the throng of bathers which went down every day into the bay to play in the waves. And each being a champion, naturally it was not long before they became acquainted.

Many were the friendly contests they held in the water until old salts and summer girls alike talked of their prowess. Now Somers Point, is sepa- rated from Ocean City by the Great Egg Harbor bay, four miles wide, and ferried at one stretch by the sweep of the current as it rounds Beasley's Point, bound inland. The folk along the seashore looked at Ocean City across the bay, and then at the two swimmers sporting in the water. Could they do it?

The challenge was passed, and, ac- companied by a launch to help in case of trouble, the two started on their long swim. At first the waves parted easily before them and their little limbs struck out in unison. Then they met the strong current sweeping on its way from Beasley's Point. Miss Swanson found the waves rougher. Swimming became an effort, then an impossibility. Hager, by her side, no- ticed her exhaustion and called to the launch.

But—and perhaps it was only a whim of the little blind of love—the engine of the launch would not work. Hager realized the danger for Miss Swanson, and, telling her to rest her hands on his shoulders, began swim- ming for a place where the quietness of the water told him there was a sand- bar. All but exhausted he reached it with his burden. The water was only shoulder high and the two rested there until the launch was able to reach them.

And then they were married—just two days after their adventure.

DOG COMMITS SUICIDE.

Calmly Walks Under Auto Bus and Refuses to Move.

Philadelphia.—Friendless and bear- ing the marks of many buffets from an unsympathetic world, a shaggy yellow dog lay down in front of an auto bus at Broad street and Ontario avenue, and, refusing to move at the motorman's shout, was run over and killed. Persons who saw the act be- lieve the animal intentionally committed suicide.

With limp ears and drooping tail, the animal approached an inmate of the Masonic home and followed him back to the home early in the morn- ing.

During the afternoon the dog lay with head between his paws on the lawn near the porch of the institution. He refused to eat. A number of the inmates reached down and stroked the scrawny head, but beyond feebly wag- ging his tail the dog made no demon- stration.

He would only rise and trotted about the grounds, standing deject- edly. He refused to approach any of the inmates of the institution.

DEMOCRATS PUT DEAL THROUGH

Declares Ollie James in Interview at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 23.—Congressman Ollie James, of the First district, stopped here on his way to Washington, D. C., and gave out an interview relative to the big tobacco deal which has just gone through. He said the deal had been consummated as a result of the Democratic victory in Kentucky.

He said that had the Republicans been successful in the tobacco growing districts, it would have indicated to the tobacco buying trust, that the farmers were not standing together, but inasmuch as the Democrats were successful, the trust saw that the farmers were standing together, and that it would be forced eventually to give in.

Congressman James said that during the recent campaign, Gov. Wilson made himself the issue and poked fun at Clarence Lebus. "I would like to know what he has to say now about Mr. Lebus," he concluded.
