REPUBLIC'S OWNERS SUE FOR $2,000,000

Suit Started in N.Y. Courts To Recover From Florida's Owners.

New York, Jan. 28.—Counsel for the Oceanic Steam Navigation Co., owners of the White Star Line steamer Republic, today filed a libel in the United States District Court against the steamer Florida, of the Lloyd-Italiano line, which ran down and sunk the Republic off Nantucket lightship. Damages amounting to $1,500,000 for the loss of the ship and $500,000 for the loss of the cargo and effects of the passengers and crew were claimed.

It was asserted in the libel that the collision was due to no fault on the part of Capt. Selshy, of the Republic, but wholly to the fault of the Florida which, it was alleged, did not keep a proper course, had no sufficient lookout, did not give proper whistles, nor pay heed to the whistles of the Republic, that the Florida failed to indicate her changes of helm, that she was proceeding at an immoderate speed and did not stop to back her engines.

The assertion was made that when the officers of the Republic first heard the whistles of the Florida in the fog, the Republic's engines were run full speed astern, and that her helm was put astern. Shortly afterward the Florida appeared broad-off the Republic's port side tearing down at a high speed, and her railing hit the Republic at right angle below amidships.

"In the effort to escape the blow," declared the libel, "the master put the engines of the Republic ahead, but the Florida came on at a high rate of speed, apparently swinging under a starboard helm, and crashing head-on into the port side of the Republic, penetrating into the engine room."

It was also asserted that at the time of the collision the Republic was running at reduced speed, that the captain, two officers, a quartermaster and a seaman were on the bridge with two look-outs.

The Florida, it is declared, struck the Republic nearly a square blow and made a cut extending below the water line, starting the bulkheads. The court was asked to condemn the Florida and order the payment of $2,000,000 damages to the owners of the Republic.

FORMER KENTUCKY GIRL ENDS HER LIFE

Miss Talbott, of Omaha, Has Break With Her Lover.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 27.—Miss Bennie Talbott, a prominent young Omaha woman, who came here with her parents from Sturgis, Ky., a few years ago, committed suicide at the home of Mrs. R. Dunn, in this city, last night, by shooting herself in the head with a revolver.

A note left by the young woman said she had decided to end her own life because she was despondent. She was despondent over the loss of her lover, Palmer LaMoreaux, son of Dr. LaMoreaux, a well known Omaha physician, with whom she quarreled and broke her engagement. Young LaMoreaux and Miss Talbott had been engaged for some time, the girl's family say, and the recent breaking of the engagement had weighed heavily upon her mind and finally led to her suicide.

Miss Talbott is survived by her parents and a brother, Raymond, who live in Omaha. The body of Miss Talbott will be taken to Sturgis for burial. She was born and spent most of her life there.

Mother's Death Follows.

Wednesday's telegram to Mr. Linton Talbott announcing the death of his niece, Miss Bennie Talbott, in South Omaha, Neb., was followed on Thursday morning by another telegram announcing the death of Mrs. Talbott, her death having been caused, it is thought here, by the shock of Miss Bennie's death.

Mrs. Talbott's health has been very frail for several years, and the devotion between mother and daughter had been so close and so happy that relatives here feared the effect upon Mrs. Talbott when the message was received yesterday.

Mrs. Talbott was Miss Virgie Winston, daughter of Mrs. Annie Winston, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Elmo Crabtree, last winter in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Talbott have many relatives in this county who will be pained to learn of the deep bereavement of Mr. Talbott in his far away home. Mr. Talbott has one son, Raymond.—Morganfield Sun.

BIG TOBACCO DEAL MADE

Million And Half Pounds Sold In Caldwell County.

Princeton, Ky., Jan. 27.—A large tobacco deal that has spread a smile on all faces was closed here today by the Dark Tobacco Growers' association with W. G. Head & Son, of Madisonville, wherein the latter takes over one and one half million pounds of tobacco from the north section of this county. A satisfactory price was given and as a result money will be coming in abundance.

The sale was made for the association by John G. Orr, salesman, and John W. Hollowell, county chairman, who were appointed as a committee to make the deal at Guthrie recently. The tobacco was ordered, priced and handpacked in hogheads. Negotiations are now pending for the sale of the remaining of the 1908 crop, leaving now about 2,000,000 yet unsold. It is expected that the deal will be made this week.

The association also disposed of 400,000 pounds of the 1908 Lyon county crop. The buyers were the Wake Tobacco Co., of Louisville, and a price of 5½ cents was paid. This clears up the entire crop of Lyon county tobacco pooled.

All of the tobacco controlled by the association in Crittenden county, amounting to 300,000 pounds, was sold to the Imperial Tobacco Company at a fair price.

Expressions of delight over the three deals is shown on the countenance of the residents of this section.

NO TOBACCO RECEIVED.

On account of large deliveries, I will not receive any more tobacco at the Friday, Jan. 29th, until further notice.

PARDON IS GRANTED TO COLONEL BASSETT

Col. E. B. Bassett, of Hopkinsville, will not have to answer the charges of contempt in the Trigg Circuit Court. He was pardoned yesterday by Governor Willson, says the Frankfort Journal.

Col. Bassett was held in contempt of court because he failed to appear before the grand jury when summoned to testify in the "weight rider" cases.

Gov. Willson said if Col. Bassett had obeyed the orders of the court and attended to the summons of the court it would have conflicted with his orders. His reasons follow:

Col. E. B. Bassett, formerly

Major E. B. Bassett, who was subpoenaed by the sheriff of Christian county under order of the Trigg Circuit Court and subpoena issued from the court to appear and testify before the grand jury of the Trigg county and has been summoned to answer for contempt in failing to obey said subpoena and disregard the process and authority of said court, is hereby granted a full and free pardon for contempt in failing to obey said subpoena and authority of said court in regard thereto because said Bassett was at the time on duty under the orders of the governor and could not attend said court in obedience to said subpoena without conflicting with his duties under the orders of the governor of Kentucky under which he was then on duty.

With his party, Mr. Taft landed this morning at Colon and proceeded by special train to Culebra, where tonight he is quartered at the residence of Lieutenant Colonel Goethals, chairman of the Panama Canal Commission. His reception by the Panama officials both at Colon and Culebra, was most cordial. Tomorrow Taft will visit the site of Gatun Dam.

Beech Hargis on a Tare.

Jackson, Ky., Jan. 30.—Beech Hargis got drunk Wednesday and Thursday morning his sister, Mrs. Evelyn Hogg, took him to the home of a cousin, Harlan South, five miles from here. That afternoon Beech slipped away and procured some mean whiskey from Obadiah Roberts, at the point of a gun. He then started on towards South's, and a short distance away he met South on horseback. Pulling his 45 the boy order South to get off his horse and let him ride. South at first demurred, but being unarmed he complied. Hargis then went to South's home where, after running the women off, he amused himself by shooting the dishes off the table. A neighbor was hurried to town for officers, but when they arrived in the afternoon they met Hargis with a party of young men and he had shot himself in the foot. He was taken to the home of his mother, where his injuries were dressed.

MADE BURGLAR

DROP FULL SACK

Merchant Policeman Shot And Probably wounded Robber Who Was Leaving Store.

Merchant Policeman Cliff shot and probably hit a fleeing burglar whom he saw leaving the grocery store of Ed Miller, 825 W. Franklin street, at 10:45 o'clock last night.

The merchant officer ordered the man to halt. The man fled down the street. The officer then drew his revolver and shot twice. At the second shot the burglar yelled and dropped the sack. He darted around the corner and escaped.

The sack contained half a sack of flour, seven cans of tomatoes, four pounds of coffee and an assortment of cakes.

"I believe I hit the man the second time I fired," said Officer Cliff. "He did not cry out the first time I fired. I don't think his cry was just one of fright at the shoot."

Detectives are on the case. The view of a possible bullet wound is being followed.

MORE PRES- BYTERIAN UNION.

Three Branches of the Church Carry on Negotiations for Organic Unity.

Negotiations for the organic union of three of the Presbyterian family of churches which were held in Philadelphia during the sessions of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America give promise of a successful consummation. Committees of Closer Relations and the Union of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, the Welch Presbyterian Church and the Reformed Church in the United States, formerly known as the German Reformed, met in the Witherspoon Building one afternoon and after a conference decided to report favorably upon the union to the highest judicatories of their representative churches.

The Rev. William Henry Roberts, D. D., was chairman of the committee of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. R. T. Roberts, D. D., of Wilkesbarre, chairman of the committee of the Welch Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. J. Spangler Kieffer, D. D., of Hagerston, Md., headed the delegation of the Reformed Church. Doctor Kieffer is president of the Reformed General Synod. The joint committee at the outset of their deliberations selected Dr. Roberts chairman, and Prof. George W. Richards, a minister of the reformed church, secretary.

A minister who participated at the Conference said that the discussion "was highly favorable to the organic union of the three churches." It was stated that the Presbyteries of the Welch Church were now voting upon the question, and that fifty per cent of the Presbyteries have taken action, and without exception they have favored the union.

Representatives of the Reformed Church who attended the Conference were not prepared to commit their denomination to any policy, but as individuals they declared that organic union was the only thing worthy of consideration, since the Federal Council made a closer bond of federation unnecessary. The joint committees closed by calling for the appointment of subcommittees to investigate the situation with a view of forming an organic union of the three churches.

The Presbyterian Church in the United States has 1,300,000 communicants and is one of the most powerful Protestant churches in America. Two years ago the union with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church added 100,000 communicants to its membership. The Welch Presbyterian Church has about 15,000 communicants. Its twenty Presbyteries are mainly located in New York, Philadelphia, Ohio, and Wisconsin. Like the Presbyterian Church, its highest governing body is the General Assembly.

The Reformed Church has 270,000 members, principally along the Atlantic Coast. It has 59 classes or Presbyteries, eight synods and its highest legislative body is the General Synod. One German class includes Philadelphia, which has several German congregations.

Negotiations for the union of the three churches have been pending since 1906. The Welch Church appointed a committee to consider the subject in 1907, and the German Reformed Church took similar action this year. The recent meeting was the first at which the Reformed Church was represented.

MISERY IN STOMACH.
And Indigestion Vanishes in Five Minutes And You Feel Fine.
Why not start now--to-day, and forever rid yourself of Stomach trouble and indigestion? A dieted stomach gets the blues and grumbles. Give it a good eat, then take Pape's Diapepsin to start the digestive juices working. There will be no dyspepsia or belching of Gas or eructations of undigested food; no feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach or heartburn, sick headache and dizziness, and your food will not ferment and poison your breath with nauseous odors.
Pape's Diapepsin costs only 50 cents for a large case at any drug store here, and will relieve the most obstinate case of indigestion and Upset Stomach in five minutes.
There is nothing else better to take Gas from Stomach and cleanse the stomach and intestines, and besides, one triangle will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all your food the same as a sound, healthy stomach would do it.
When Diapepsin works your stomach rests--gets itself in order, cleans up--and then you feel like eating when you come to the table, and what you eat will do you good.
Absolute relief from all Stomach Misery is waiting for you as soon as you decide to begin taking Diapepsin. Tell your druggist that you want Pape's Diapepsin, because you want to be thoroughly cured of Indigestion.

CATARRH MUST GO
And Hawking, Splitting Snuffles Must Go Too.
Hromei (pronounced High-o-mei) will give the sufferer from catarrh joyful relief in five minutes.
It is such a remarkable cure, and so positive in its action, that HAYNES & TAYLOR goes so far as to guarantee it to cure catarrh or money back.
A complete outfit, which consists of a hard rubber pocket inhaler, a bottle of Hromei, and a unique dropper for a filling the inhaler, only costs and if an extra bottle is afterwards needed, the price is only 50 cents.
Hromei is a healing, antiseptic balsam, taken from the mighty eucalyptus trees in the health-giving forests of Australia, where diseases of the respiratory tract are unknown.
All the sufferer has to do is to inhale the antiseptic air of Hromei over the inflamed parts, where the germs are entrenched three or four times a day. It cures coughs, colds, asthma, hay fever and croup without stomach dosing.

NEW SALEM.
The people generally well.
The mercury went up to 76 on January 22, in this section.
Did you ever see such weather? Is what every other man we meet has to say.
David Wolford, of Salem, was in our section Sunday.
Your correspondent killed a snake on January 22. The next day some of our neighbors pulled out for Gollonds for Snake Medicine.
Henry Brewster has been down near Paducah the past week.
About two-thirds of the 1908 crop of tobacco has been delivered.
The young people of this section enjoyed themselves last week at an entertainment at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Ladd.
John Capron was at Birdsville last week.
Look out for the candidates.
No births, deaths or marriages the past week.
Your correspondent was glad to meet, last week, in Pope county, Illinois, our old friends, Judge C. R. Stevens and Col. Henry Rapolee, both of Salem. Judge Stevens is a candidate for County Judge of Livingston county, Kentucky, while Col. Rapolee is a candidate for County Attorney of the same county and state. The boys told me their prospects are good and that they had great encouragement from the people of Illinois.
We are glad to see Uncle Smith Lowery up and able to walk around again.

ASKS US TO PRINT IT.
This Town Has Its Share of Dread Disease, Which Is Said to Yield to Remedies.
To relieve the worst forms of Rheumatism, take a teaspoonful of forms of bladder and urinary meal and at bedtime.
Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.
These harmless ingredients can be obtained from our home druggists, and are easily mixed by shaking them well in a bottle. Relief is generally felt from the first few doses.
This prescription forces the clogged-up, inactive kidneys to filter and strain from the blood the poisonous waste matter and uric acid, which causes Rheumatism.
As Rheumatism is not only the most painful and torturous disease, but dangerous to life, this simple recipe will no doubt be greatly valued by many sufferers here at home, who should at once prepare the mixture to get this relief.
It is said that a person who would take this prescription regularly, a dose or two daily, or even a few times a week, would never have serious Kidney or Urinary disorders or Rheumatism.
Cut this out and preserve it. Good Rheumatism prescriptions which really relieve are scarce, indeed, and when you need it, you want it badly.

THE GREAT EMANCIPATOR

BORN 1809--DIED 1865.

Stanton's Tribute

The World Has Come to Accept the Great Secretary's Opinion of Abraham Lincoln as the Most Perfect Ruler That Ever Lived.

THIS is the one hundredth anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. It is 44 years since the death of Lincoln. The men of his day and generation have largely passed away. The civil war has been over a long time. This is a new century of other men and new activities. Yet there is nothing remote about the name and fame of Lincoln. He is close to us, and growing closer. Here, as everywhere, the observation of the day increases year by year.
The explanation of this extraordinary fact is at once simple and satisfactory. It is that the American people never appreciated Lincoln while he was alive. When he was taken away from us we began to see him as he was. We are now beginning to appreciate him.
Many loved Lincoln devotedly while he was alive. Others saw that he was a thoroughly good man. But in general even those who loved him and those who trusted him utterly failed to realize that he was as great as he was good.
The failure of Lincoln to win the appreciation of those who had every chance to judge him seems incredible to us now. Nevertheless, one may hazard a guess as to the belittling power of intimacy in his case.
Never in the history of the world was there a great man so entirely and consistently his natural self. He was homely and ungainly and poorly dressed--and he knew it, and joked about it. He was entirely self-made--and he was not proud of the job. He was ambitious--and frankly admitted it. He was so modest, so honest, and so "easy" that not a few thought he must be simple-minded. He was easy of access, and was the same to every one.
Traits like these are not evidences of genius in the mind of the common people, who prefer that their idols shall pose. Stephen A. Douglas, Lincoln's lifelong and successful rival until the final test came, posed effectively; therefore they knew he was great and dubbed him the "Little Giant." Lincoln never posed, though he never occurred to them that he could be great.
To be sure, there were some who came to appreciate Lincoln before his death. There were a comparative few who learned by experience that he was "easy" only when it didn't matter, and that, instead of being simple-minded, he was literally and absolutely a master of men.

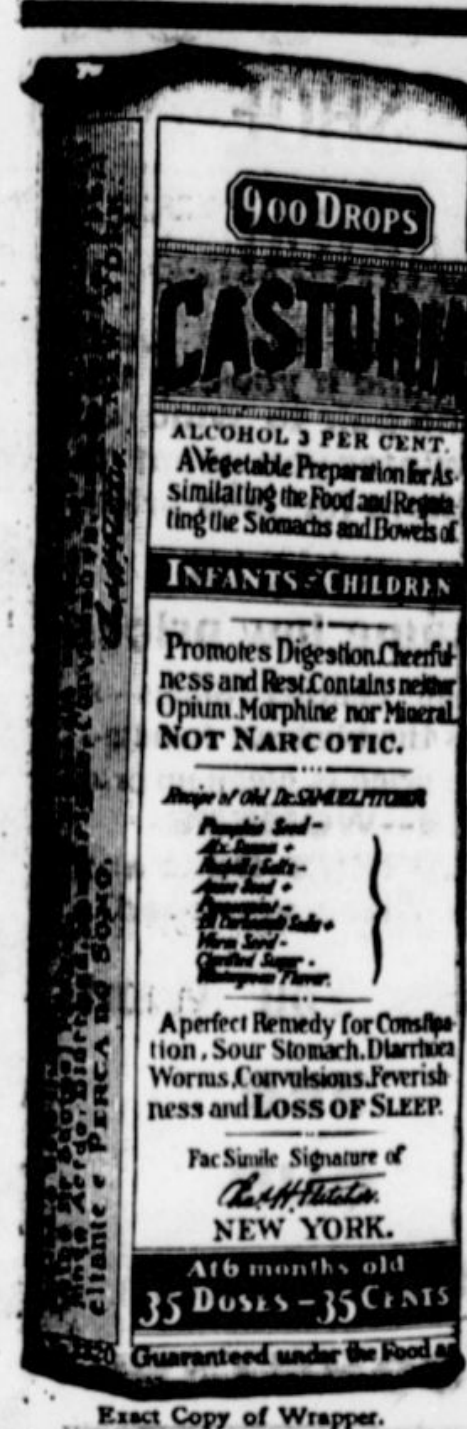

Douglas, to whom he put the question at Freeport that saved the United States, came to know him as his master--and held his hat for him while he took the oath of office as president. Fremont, the "soldier statesman," whom he made--and unmade--learned the same lesson. So did McClellan, the "Young Napoleon." So did Seward, who went into the cabinet prepared and expecting to take the reins of government. He did Chase, the "indispensable man," who resigned once too often--and thanks to Lincoln's magnanimity, administered to him the second oath of office.
Even Stanton, that saturnine Titan of the cabinet, who was in the habit of referring to Lincoln as the "original gorilla," who openly prophesied that Jeff Davis would be in the White House within six months, who believed himself called into the cabinet for the express purpose of holding up the hands of an impotent president--even Stanton learned his lesson. It took him a long time. But he learned it well.
When Lincoln drew his last breath Stanton said: "There lies the most perfect ruler of Men the world has ever seen."
But it was not until the homely face and ungainly figure of Lincoln were gone from the sight, and his pointed feet were no longer heard, that the American people began to see Lincoln as he was, not as we had assumed him to be. And year by year we are coming to know him better.
We know now, among other things, that this self-made man from the log cabin was truly an educated man; that this backwoods circuit rider was not only an honest lawyer, but a great lawyer; that this cross-roads debater and political stump speaker was an orator to whom it was given to speak words that are immortal--words that are as much a part of the national heritage as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution.
We know now--not some of us, but all of us--that this man who saved the union by force of arms and brought peace out of the hell of civil war did these great things in an even greater spirit; that he wrought "with malice toward none, with charity for all."
And we know now that this man, who was so human that he did not seem to be great, was yet a lonely soul, set apart for a great work and aware of his mission. The time may come when we shall forget in part his "infinite jest," but never the infinite sadness of his deep-lined face.
Providence raised up Abraham Lincoln. And we are just beginning to understand.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

It may be that some other in his place Might have accomplished all he did or more.
Some other might with all his strength and grace Have borne the mighty cross he bravely bore.
Perhaps if chance had doomed him to remain In deep obscurity through all his days Some other might have had the heart to gain A nation's gratitude, a people's praise.

It may be that some wiser man than he Was left uncalled while Lincoln rose to lead.
Some other may have had the wish to be The glorious doer of the splendid deed.
But Lincoln faced the danger, bore the care,
Nor was it chance that raised him to his height.
Because his heart was dauntless he was there And ready, when the moment came, to smite.

Kentuckian Honored By Gov. Hughes of New York.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 21.—Gov. Hughes today sent to the Senate the nomination of Frederick A. Wallis, of New York, to be Superintendent of Insurance.

Mr. Wallis, who was born in Kentucky in 1869, has been identified with the insurance business for the last fourteen years. For six years he was general agent for Kentucky of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company and later became director of agencies in Maryland of the New York Life Insurance Company, a position he resigned to become manager of the New York city agency of the Home Life Insurance Company, last year becoming agency superintendent of the Home for eleven Eastern States.

The nomination was referred to the Committee on Insurance, of which Senator Grettan, of Albany, is chairman.

Mr. Wallis was a native of Hopkinsville, and is well known in Louisville. He was assistant general agent for the Northwestern Mutual Insurance Company in Kentucky, and at one time had an office at Lexington.

What a Heap of Happiness it Would Bring to Marion Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that

Backache pains are from the sick kidneys.

Would save much needless wear. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Marion people endorse this:

Mrs. Mary Alexander, living in Marion, Ky., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for three or four years. Sharp twinges of pain would catch me in the back when stooping or lifting and I was unable to rest well on account of the constant aching at night. At times I was very nervous, there was a dull, languid feeling constantly with me and headaches and dizzy spells bothered me occasionally. I was also troubled with a blurred sight, and the kidney secretions contained a sediment when ever they were allowed to stand. I finally ordered Doan's Kidney Pills at Haynes & Taylor's drug store and am glad to say that they gave me prompt relief. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to other sufferers."

The Secret of Long Life.

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolong life and makes it worth living. It purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, rebuilds wasted nerve cells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak, sick and debilitated people. "Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "but Electric Bitters cured me entirely." Only 50c, at J. H. Orme's and Haynes & Taylor's drug store.

"WENT DOWN TAIRS."
A Youngster Who Fell from Second-Story Window Into Snowbank.

Minneapolis, Feb. 1.—"I don't know how many mamma," heard Johnny Carlson, after falling from a second-story window.

Johnny lives at 712 Twenty-first Avenue South. He was playing in an upstairs room when he fell from a window. A snow drift below turned Johnny's apparently fatal plunge into exciting sport, and he was going to repeat the performance when restrained by his mother.

Mrs. Carlson had seen her son falling, and rushed into the yard, expecting to find him dead or severely injured. The youngster was not even scratched. He is the son of Andrew Carlson, president of the Minneapolis Pressmen's Union.

MR. BRYAN.

A western banker who has, in three presidential campaigns, voted against William J. Bryan, recently remarked: "While I do not agree with Mr. Bryan in the policies he advocates, I am free to say that I regard him as the most important citizen in the country to-day. As an ever ready protestant against the encroachments of special interests he is rendering invaluable service to the country and but for him some of these special interests would run away with us."

This was certainly a high tribute from a political opponent and the correctness of the tribute will, we believe, be generally approved. That this is the common opinion may explain the oft repeated remark, that although defeated for the presidency three times, Mr. Bryan's hold upon the American people to-day is stronger than ever.

It is safe to say that thousands of men who voted against William J. Bryan confidently look to the defeated candidate for the presidency for some measure of protection from imposition by the beneficiaries of the trust system.

In this view, then, Mr. Bryan occupies—as far as public interests are concerned—a position second in importance only to that of the presidency.

As a great Commoner in whose purity of purpose men of all parties have absolute confidence, William J. Bryan, has a great opportunity to render service to his fellows. That he will grasp this opportunity no one will doubt. He will do it from the lecture platform; he will do it in newspaper interviews; but best of all he will do it through his own publication—The Commoner—a paper that is now steadily forging to the front because through its columns the American people may continually keep in touch with Mr. Bryan's opinion upon public questions and with his efforts for the public welfare.

Mr. Bryan announces that he has again assumed editorial charge of The Commoner and that he will give active, personal attention to the editorial department.

Men of all political parties have a deep and abiding interest in the fight which Mr. Bryan is to wage through the columns of The Commoner. It is a fight for the public welfare; a fight against the encroachment by special interests upon the public interest; a fight for the protection of the men who, in professional offices, on the farm, in counting room or in workshop give honest toil for their livelihood. It is a fight to preserve popular government as the fathers founded it.

In the initial number of The Commoner printed in 1901, Mr. Bryan said: "The Commoner will be satisfied if, by fidelity to the people, it proves its right to the name which has been chosen. The Commoner has proved its right to the name and because it is giving this proof in abundance The Commoner deserves the support of the American people."

Feeling that a wider circulation of The Commoner in our section will materially advance the democratic cause, and that a large per cent of our readers, as well as others who should be regular readers of our paper, will take pleasure in helping to increase The Commoner's influence in this community, we have made special arrangements with Mr. Bryan whereby we can furnish The Commoner at the exceptionally low rate of $1.50 each for one year. This special rate holds good for a limited time only. Orders should be sent direct to this office.

Soldiers Balks Death Plot.

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Texas, that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me, in spite of all remedies, for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 178 pounds." For severe Colds, obstinate Coughs, Hemorrhages, Asthma, and to prevent Pneumonia it's unrivaled. 50c, and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Jas. H. Orme and Haynes & Taylor.

Patrons can save themselves inconvenience by noticing if their lights are right when the current is put on, which is at 4 o'clock p. m., usually, and earlier on cloudy days. We have a man for attending to trouble between that time and 6 o'clock, as it is easy to repair any break in daylight, even if on a pole, whereas after dark it is exceedingly dangerous, especially on damp days, to climb a pole. Repairs inside the house can be attended to much more satisfactorily to patrons in daylight, and it frequently occurs that we have no available hand just at 6 o'clock p. m.

VALID IS FARMERS POOLING ACT

Trust However, Prohibited From Boosting Prices--Court of Appeals

HANDS DOWN OPINION IN INTERNATIONAL

Harvester Case--Damage Suit Reversed--Lassing and Hobson Dissent.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 26.—The Court of Appeals in a lengthy opinion written by Judge O'Rear today affirmed the judgement of the Hardin Circuit Court in the case of the Commonwealth against the International Harvester Company. The company was indicted under the anti-trust act but the lower court sustained a demurrer to the indictment on the ground that the act of 1906 permitting farmers to pool their crops discriminated against the harvester company.

The defense of the company to the indictment was that the anti-trust act of 1890 was repealed by the 1906 pooling act. In sustaining the action of the lower court, the court here says that the demurrer to the indictment was properly sustained as the latter failed to state that the combination or trust known as the International Harvester Company had enhanced the value of its machinery above the real value and not upon the ground that the act of 1890 was in conflict with the act of 1906. By this decision, the act permitting the farmers to pool their crop to obtain better prices is sustained but the trusts and combines are prohibited from uniting to boost the price of their articles above their real values. Judges Lassing and Hobson dissented from the opinion.

EATS BEER GLASS AND DIES.

Youth, to Win $1, Breaks Vase and Swallows Piece.

New York, Jan. 27.—From peritonitis, caused by eating a beer glass, Samuel Van Dorn, a colored youth, who lived in the Rockaway road, near Jamaica, has died. Van Dorn, who was eighteen years old and wanted to buy his sweetheart a present, ate the glass without losing a piece to win a $1 wager. Van Dorn never "weicheid" on a dare. Once he won $5 by eating a foot of hemp rope, and his digestion was not affected in the least. Several negro friends, on learning "Sam was broke," decided to test his digestive powers to the limit. "Jim Williams, the police say, put up the $1 and dared 'Sam' to eat a beer glass. Van Dorn accepted the offer. He got his father's ax and went to a saloon where a referee was waiting. Placing the glass in a bucket he smashed it into small pieces. His meal lasted almost an hour, after which the youth rubbed his stomach as if in great satisfaction. "Sam" took the dollar and bought a ring for his fiancée. That night he was taken ill, and he died early next day.

Stemming District to Pay Growers of Five Counties Their Pro Rata.

NEGOTIATIONS PENDING

For Sale of 8,000,000 Pounds--Other Per Cent. to be Paid When Sold.

The members of the stemming District Association will be paid seventy-five per cent on the sales made of the 1908 crop, made by the society, beginning with Monday, and the payment will be continued until all of the tobacco growers receive the amount due them. This news will be gladly received by the farmers and it will give them some ready money. The payment of the seventy-five per cent, will be made to the members of the Stemming District Association in Henderson, Crittenden, Webster, Union and Hopkins counties. There are about 1,500 members in Hopkins county who will be benefited by the action of the society. The members in this county will receive their checks at the local office of the society. The Stemming District has disposed of 24,000,000 pounds of its 1908 crop and has only 8,000,000 pounds left unsold.

Negotiations are pending for the sale of this amount and an announcement is expected to be made of its consummation in the near future.

As soon as the remainder of the 1908 crop on hand is sold the members will receive the other one-fourth per cent less one and one-half per cent, which will make 98 1/2 per cent, they will be entitled to. The remaining one and one-half per cent will be used to defray the expenses of the association. The

Littell's Liquid Sulphur Stops Itching Instantly

If the trouble is serious it will cure it. If it is not serious but is uncomfortable or unsightly it will stop whatever is wrong.

A Southern Lady Says:

I feel it is my duty to write and let you know what a blessing Littell's Liquid Sulphur has proven to me. For months I was afflicted with a breaking out on my face, red, angry looking blotches would appear upon the upper part of my face causing me the greatest humiliation. Having doctor and used almost every skin remedy advertised with no improvement whatever, I was utterly discouraged until I obtained a bottle of your Littell's Liquid Sulphur from your demonstrator, last August. My face began to improve immediately and that obstinate breaking out has entirely disappeared. I am still using Littell's Liquid Sulphur and would not be without it under any circumstances. MRS. Tell Her So.

Amid the cares of married life
In spite of toil and business strife,
If you value your sweet wife,
Tell her so!

Prove to her you don't forget
The bond to which the seal is set;
She's of life's sweets the sweetest yet,
Tell her so!

When days are dark and deeply blue,
She has her troubles, same as you,
Show her that your love is true--
Tell her so!

There was a time you thought it bliss
To get the favor of one kiss;
A dozen now won't come amiss--
Tell her so!

Your love for her is no mistake--
You feel it, dreaming or awake--
Don't conceal it. For her sake,
Tell her so!

Don't act, if she has passed her prime
As though to please her were a crime
If e'er you loved her, now's the time--
Tell her so!

She'll return, for each caress,
A hundredfold of tenderness!
Hearts like her's were made to bless!
Tell her so!

You are her's and her's alone,
Well you know she's all your own
Don't wait to "carve it on a stone"--
Tell her so!

Never let her heart grow cold--
Richer beauties will unfold;
She is worth her weight in gold!
Tell her so!

VOLCANO BELCHES TORRENTS OF WATER.

Does Great Damage to Property in Tayabas Province in Philippines.

Manila, Jan. 20.—The volcano Laguna in the Tayabas province, which forms the southwestern part of the island of Luzon, became suddenly active between 8 and 9 o'clock last night and the eruption seriously damaged the surrounding country. No reports of loss of life have been received. Loud reports, detonations and deep rumblings preceded the eruption and were heard during the afternoon. Telegrams received here describe the outbreak of the volcano as a "great explosion of water." The Governor of the province reports by telegraph that a large area of cultivated fields were ruined, highways were rendered impassable and many bridges destroyed. It is believed, however that the subterranean rumblings and detonations warned the people of coming danger in time to allow them to flee to the hills, thus preventing loss of life. From advices received it appears that great torrents of water rushed from the sides of the volcano during the eruption.

Centenary of Mendelssohn

Born February 3, 1809

THE YEAR 1909 marks the one-hundredth anniversary of the birth of Felix Mendelssohn, the famous German composer, conductor, pianist and organist. He was born February 3, 1809, at Hamburg, North Germany; died at Leipzig, Saxony, November 4, 1847.

He was son of a banker, grandson of a celebrated Jewish scholar and reformer. In mature life the father was influenced to renounce the Jewish faith and add Bartholomew to the family name to distinguish his branch from the orthodox members of the family. Father and mother, the latter also of the Jewish race, adopted the Christian religion, the children were baptized and brought up as Christians.

The life of the Mendelssohn family was very interesting and beautiful. The children unusually gifted, in the home an art atmosphere making for full development of the individual gifts. Felix received his first piano instruction from his mother, from his earliest days both parents were devoted to the fostering of his genius. The story of Mendelssohn's life is not the record of bitter poverty and Herculean efforts in overcoming obstacles; he stands out a genius accustomed all his days to wealth and refinement.

The Mendelssohn family moved to Berlin when Felix was scarcely three years old, and in this city his childhood and youth were passed. The parents were strict disciplinarians; the children kept hard at work at their music; rising at five in the morning to begin their tasks. During a visit to Paris Felix studied under Mme. Bigot; in Berlin was under the instruction of Carl Zelter and benefited for a season by work with Moscheles. At the age of nine he made his first public appearance, the youthful pianist winning favor. In his eleventh year Felix entered the Singakademie; the following year he began systematically to compose. To this period belong a trio for piano and strings, a sonata for piano and violin, a sonata for piano, pieces for the organ, songs, a comedy and a cantata.

It was the custom in the Mendelssohn family to hold musical performances at their home every other Sunday, a small orchestra assisting, and these musicals were of the greatest value to the young musician. He enjoyed the opportunity of having his works presented, and he always conducted.

For the Sunday musicals Felix constantly wrote new works; at the age of 17 produced the delightful "Midsummer Night's Dream Overture"—"conceived by a genius and executed by a master." His one opera was brought out publicly the year following the overture, and though given a favorable reception on its presentation at the Berlin opera house, the piece was shortly withdrawn. The year 1829 is marked by an important event, the performance under Mendelssohn's direction of Bach's "St. Matthew's Passion," which created a great sensation and led to the great Bach revival. Succeeding this event, an invitation to visit London was accepted. Mendelssohn made his first public appearance in England at a philharmonic concert, the concert opening with his C minor symphony, the author himself conducting the presentation of his work. The newcomer was most enthusiastically received, and it was from England Mendelssohn's fame as composer spread abroad.

In London he published the first book of his "Songs Without Words." In that city to the end he had an enthusiastic army of admirers, loved and was beloved by the English public. In all he made ten visits to England. A short time before his death he journeyed to London to conduct a series of philharmonic concerts.

Of his work as conductor there stand forth most prominently his distinguished services while director of the Gewandhaus, Leipzig. In this city of Saxony he was very much at home, very happy, his work much appreciated—as it was not always in his home city of Berlin. In 1835 the University of Leipzig created him doctor of philosophy. From 1835 to 1841 he resided in Leipzig, the latter year yielded to the solicitations of the king of Prussia to return to Berlin. Official and court interference attended his efforts in Berlin, and he finally asked for liberty to withdraw, and found his way again to Leipzig. For a brief season he served as musical director at Düsseldorf conducted at the Lower Rhine festival; in England performed some of his oratorio "Elijah" were given under his direction.

Mendelssohn's compositions from the first were marked by finish and neatness. He corrected and revised with utmost fastidiousness. Of the mass of work left behind by him only the briefest mention can be given. The "Midsummer Night's Dream," the overture work of his youth, stands as one of his best productions. His oratorios, "Elijah" and "St. Paul," are ranked as the most notable of his works. Other notable vocal works with orchestra are the symphony-cantata, "Loebesang," the "Gutenburg Cantata," the ballade "Die Erst Walpurgisnacht," music to the choruses Antigone, "Athalia" and "Aedipus in Colonus." He was author of much important church music in addition to that mentioned; his orchestral works include four symphonies and several concert overtures; the chamber music includes seven string quartets, a sonata for violin and piano, an octet for strings, and various other works. He wrote for the organ three preludes and fugues, six sonatas, preludes in C minor; the piano compositions are numerous and distinguished. Fluency, grace and elegance are considered the chief technical characteristics of his music.

Mendelssohn was deeply interested in the establishing of a school of music in Leipzig, and in 1843 saw this cherished wish fulfilled, this the date of the opening of the Leipzig conservatory. He labored unceasingly for the success of the school, brought to it not only his prestige, but a practical business ability of much value.

Mendelssohn married at the age of 23, in his marriage good fortune still faithful, young Cecile Jeanrenaud of Frankfurt, as amiable and interesting as she was beautiful. His domestic life was idyllic, center of all Cecile, as is shown in the letters. Five children were born to the pair.

Overwork and sudden shocks are thought to have been the cause of his death. The unexpected loss of his father was a great blow; his mother's end occurred in the same way, and last came word that his sister Fanny, close friend and confidant, had been stricken while conducting a rehearsal of her little choir. Felix never recovered from the shock of Fanny's death, a few months later death coming to him. He was laid to rest in the Alte Dorotheenkirche in Berlin, his resting place marked by a cross.

Ask Her This Question

"Do you know of any woman who ever received any benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

If any woman who is suffering with any ailment peculiar to her sex will ask her neighbors this question, she will be surprised at the result. There is hardly a community in this country where women cannot be found who have been restored to health by this famous old remedy, made exclusively from a simple formula of roots and herbs.

During the past 30 years we have published thousands of letters from these grateful women who have been cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and never in all that time have we published a testimonial without the writer's special permission. Never have we knowingly published a testimonial that was not truthful and genuine. Here is one just received a few days ago. If anyone doubts that this is a true and honest statement of a woman's experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound write and ask her.

Houston, Texas.—"When I first began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was a total wreck. I had been sick for three years with female troubles, chronic dyspepsia, and a liver trouble. I had tried several doctor's medicines, but nothing did me any good.

"For three years I lived on medicines and thought I would never get well, when I read an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and was advised to try it.

"My husband got me one bottle of the Compound, and it did me so much good I continued its use. I am now a well woman and enjoy the best of health.

"I advise all women suffering from such troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. They won't regret it, for it will surely cure you."—Mrs. Beattie L. Hicks, 819 Cleveland St., Houston.

Any woman who is sick and suffering is foolish surely not to give such a medicine as this a trial. Why should it not do her as much good as it did Mrs. Hicks.

The salary of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States was increased from $13,000 to $15,000 per annum, and those of the associate justices from $12,500 to $14,500. These changes were made amendments to the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, after an extended debate. Amendments allowing $5,000 to the Vice President and Speaker of the House for horses and carriages, was stricken from the bill.

Senator Raynor's resolution, called on the attorney general for information concerning the suit he purposes bringing against certain newspapers on the charge of libel in connection with the statements made in relation to the purchase by the United States of the Panama Canal property, referred to the committee on judiciary after a strong fight to have it adopted, without such reference. Various pension bills were passed.

HOUNDS RAN A FOX SIXTY MILES.

Before The Hounds Could Catch Up With Him. An All Night Chase.

Glasgow, Ky., Jan. 28.—One of the longest fox chases ever known in this section is reported here from Adair county, where hounds owned by ex-Governor J. R. Hindman and A. W. Tarter chased a fox more than sixty miles before it was caught. The Tarter dogs started the fox about dark and were joined by the Hindman dogs. All night long the dogs ran the fox and just at dawn caught him.

The fox carried the dogs over a seven mile run five time, besides making numerous side tracks. Out of the entire pack of some thirty hounds not a single single dog quit the race until the job was completed.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY
WALDO PONDRAV WARREN

THE ABILITY TO TEACH

THE ability to teach others how to do the work you are doing yourself often measures the difference between gaining or losing an opportunity.

A manufacturer was searching for a foreman for one of his shops, and the right man for the right place seemed hard to find. He was willing to pay a good salary if he could find the man he wanted. One of his associates asked him why he didn't take one of the men in the shop and make him foreman. He replied:

"There are a number of men there who might seem to know enough to warrant making the experiment, but so far as I can find out there is not one of them who can teach others how to do the work, and that is something a foreman must be able to do. I could put one of these men in and I suppose we might get along fairly well for the present. But there wouldn't be much growth in the capacity of the men unless the man over them was progressive and could learn things and teach them. The man I want could come into the shop and learn the work himself and then turn around and give pointers to some of the men who have been there for years."

One secret of successful teaching is to feel sympathetically the mental needs of others, and keep their minds open for instruction by not wounding their pride. The poet said: "Men should be taught as though you taught them not, and things unknown proposed as things forgot."

THE JOY OF GIVING

By REV. A. C. DIXON, D. D.,
Pastor of the Chicago Ave. (Moody's) Church, Chicago.

"It is more blessed to give than to receive."—Acts 20:35.

Some gems, as solitaires, are so brilliant that they need no other gems to set them off. This text is such a gem of truth. It appears to have been omitted by the four evangelists and picked up by Paul as he came along after them, but there was really no omission. The other beautitudes lean upon each other; it takes them all to make a whole. This one is a sort of summary of all the rest; it is the life of Christ in a nutshell. It is but another way of saying, "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister."

Giving imparts more joy than receiving, because

Giving includes Receiving.

"Give, and it shall be given unto you; pressed down, running over." "Honor the Lord with thy substance and with the first fruits of all thine increase; so shall thy barns be filled with plenty." Scripture after scripture goes to prove that the man who gives receives, though the man who receives, said to say, does not always give. Receiving is but a province in the larger kingdom of giving. Note, however, that it is giving—not trading, not paying, nor bartering. If we give with a view to receiving from God, we give not at all. If we give expecting nothing in return God will make an abundant return. If we give expecting him to repay, the very nature of the act is changed. He does not promise to give money for money, bond for bond, gold for gold, but he does promise that to those who give he will make returns. Giving Cleanses.

"Give of such things as ye have, and, behold all things are clean unto you." (Luke 11:41.) The foulest things in our cities are not the sewers, but the money in the pockets of some men who have not given a cent of it to God. The fountain that throws up its sparkling water into the sunlight is made clean by the very process of giving. The Dead sea, with its brown asphaltum, is the foulest of places. No fish live in its waters; no fowl swim upon its bosom, and the secret of its foulness is that it takes the Jordan in at one side and gives off nothing. The Sea of Galilee would be as foul as the Dead sea if it gave not off the Jordan that it receives. The man that only takes blessing from God is a Dead sea; the man that receives from God and gives back of what he receives is a Galilee full of life and beauty. I have heard of a Christian woman who, while poor, gave liberally to several good causes, but after she had inherited a fortune she ceased to give anything. One of the deacons waited upon her and asked her the reason. She frankly replied that while she was poor she did not know the value of money, but after she became rich she saw that one dollar would make another, and it dried up the fountain of her benevolence. Receiving made her narrow and stingy.

On the diary of a good woman in New York, who received $5,000 from a friend, were written the words: "Quick, quick, before my heart grows hard." She had been in the habit of giving a certain portion of all her earnings to the Lord, and when she found that she had $5,000 on hand the temptation was strong not to give the same proportion, but to keep it for her own use. She felt the polluting process begin and hastened to counteract it by promptly giving.

Giving Develops All Other Graces.

Giving is a grace. "As ye abound in everything, in faith and utterance and knowledge, and in all diligence, and in your love to us, see that ye abound in this grace also." The growth of any grace will develop other graces, just as the growth of any sin will develop all other sins. Giving fosters and increases love. We love those for whom we make sacrifices. The mother loves most tenderly the child for whom she gives the most sleepless nights. I may not understand why God first loved sinners, but after I have seen Christ on the cross, learned something of how much God has sacrificed for sinners, I understand why he loves them now. If you would attach a man to you, do him a kindness; if you would bind him to you with hooks of steel, get him to do you a kindness.

Giving makes us cheerful, while receiving may make a man morose and melancholy. Some of the gloomiest most forlorn men are those who simply know how to hold the strings of their pocket books and keep all they have.

Those who gave their money to the support of the Telegu mission thought for 20 years that there was no return but the interest came pouring in with 10,000 converts in one year. Dorcas is doubtless being surprised in heaven every day. She is still gathering the fruits of the sewing society that she organized for the poor. That widow who put in the two mites rejoices with Dorcas in the returns that are still coming in. It will take time and eternity to exhaust the influence of their self-sacrificing acts.

When You Take Cold

One way is to pay no attention to it; at least not until it develops into pneumonia, or bronchitis, or pleurisy. Another way is to ask your doctor about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. If he says, "The best thing for colds," then take it. Do as he says, anyway.

We publish our formulae. We have analyzed from our medicines. We urge you to consult your doctor.

When the bowels are constipated, poisonous substances are absorbed into the blood instead of being daily removed from the body as nature intended. Knowing this danger, doctors always inquire about the condition of the bowels. Ayer's Pills.

How to Cure Indigestion

Well Known Family Physician Gives Good Advice

"When a person cannot eat ordinary food without discomfort afterward, when he has heartburn, sick headache, gas on his stomach, watery brash, belching up sour food, and this condition has continued for a week or more, it certainly is time to do something and do it quickly. That's what a popular physician recently said to the writer. 'First thing you know you'll have dyspepsia if you don't,' said he.

The quickest and best way to regain your normal condition is to step into the drug store and buy the bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It gives natural, daily movements to the bowels, and that is usually where more than half the trouble lies. Then it aids digestion, sweetens the stomach, acts on the liver and is a general system tonic.

Postmaster Ridgill, of Bruceville, Tex., had such a severe attack of dyspepsia that his stomach, liver and bowels seemed almost paralyzed, but a few doses of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin relieved him and today he is well as ever. Maude Hall, Alpena, Mich., says that one bottle cured her of a very severe case of indigestion. A. L. Esch, Chief of Police, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says: "I find Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin the best remedy for indigestion I ever used. I would not be without it." Rev. A. J. Fletcher, Rutherford, Tenn., is now 80, and yet it cured him of stomach trouble of 60 years' standing. Mrs. Mattie Crouch, Tiptonville, Tenn., cured her five months' old baby of indigestion with it, so you see that while it is so effective it will cure cases of long standing of dyspepsia and constipation in old people, it is perfectly safe for babies, and it is pleasant to take, and does not pain or gripe.

All druggists sell it at 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Pepsin Syrup Co., 207 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill., are glad to send a free sample to any one who has not used it and will give it a fair trial.

YOUNG FRENCH WOMAN POSES AS CUSTOMER IN FAMOUS SHOPS AT PARIS.

TRAPPED BY AN ATTENDANT

Seen Making Sketches of Latest Designs While Presumably Writing Out Orders for Gowns—Method Is Quite Original.

Rome. — Mlle. Julia Barbarini's method of making her fortune is not recommended to those possessed of strong scruples, but it is none the less original and worthy of being told.

It is, of course, in Paris that "la mode" is created, and the dressmakers and tailors of other countries purchase their models from there. But Mlle. Barbarini found a better way and for many years she realized good profits by presenting to the chief dressmakers of this and other large towns in Italy the newest and most exclusive fashions which she procured in Paris by a most ingenious and delicate method.

At the commencement of the season, as soon as the new fashions were out, two people would present themselves in the show room of one of the largest "magazines" of Paris. The attendants hastened to wait on a richly dressed young woman, dark, slender and elegant, accompanied by an old gentleman. The young woman threw herself into a chair, grumbled with a strange foreign accent of the tyranny of fashion to which she had to submit, and of the bother of buying new frocks, and hardly paid much attention to the "mannequins" who paraded before her with the latest in walking, evening and ball dresses of all sorts. Presently her interest seemed to awaken a little and she drew out a little gold pencil and some ivory tablets, on which to write down to all appearances her orders. The parade went on and a second assistant was called to help this hard-to-please woman to make up her mind, and so it went for nearly four hours until the couple departed, saying they would send in their orders later.

Upon a recent occasion the two assistants who attended to the couple were nearly exhausted when a chance movement gave one of them an inspiration. She happened to look in one of the big glasses at the back of the dissatisfied customer and there saw that she was not writing down her orders, but was drawing, with facile pen, designs of the latest fashions which were being paraded before her.

"We have something still better in another room," said the girl, "if madame will follow me." The old gentleman was asked to remain where he was, and the assistant conducted her customer to a small fitting room, where she closed and double-locked the door upon her. Then she returned to the old gentleman and told him his companion was a prisoner and would remain so until she gave up her tablets upon which she had been making her designs. Five minutes after, they both left the shop to re-commence at some other, no doubt, but leaving behind them the lady's labors of the past four hours.
