Superintendent Crabbe Complains That Land-Owners at Bowling Green Refuse Reasonable Prices.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—The boldest kind of a hold-up game is what some of the property owners of Bowling Green and vicinity are trying to work upon the state, said Superintendent J. G. Crabbe upon his return from Bowling Green, where he attended a meeting of the board of regents of the Western State Normal School.

"They are asking us prices that are simply out of all reason for sites for the building which will be erected with the $150,000 appropriated by the last Legislature. Property which is not worth more than $100 or $125 an acre is offered at $200, and the owners refuse to budge from these figures. We greatly prefer to purchase Potter College, as it offers a magnificent prospect for the school, but on it, too, there is a prohibitive figure set. The sum of $70,000 is asked for Potter College, together with the seven or eight acres of ground which go with it. Now, we want about 125 acres. There is a nice tract lying right behind the college, but the figure that both the college and this tract would cost is just $125,000."

Prof. Crabbe expressed himself strongly on the matter and indicated that unless the people of Bowling Green show more appreciation of the benefit of having the State Normal School in their midst and show this appreciation in substantial form it was not at all unlikely that the old buildings and site will be sold and the Normal School moved to Paducah or one of the other points in Western Kentucky which are very anxious to get it and which will offer splendid inducements.

EDITORIAL NOTE.

After reading the above a citizen of Marion wrote Prof. Crabbe offering to donate 100 acres of land near Marion for a site for the "Western State Normal School."

Under date of February 6th, 1909, Prof. Crabbe replied as follows: "Dear sir:—I have your kind favor of February 4th, for which I wish to thank you. Should the site be changed I am sure the Board of Regents will be glad to consider the proposition which you make. Very truly yours, J. G. CRABBE, Superintendent."

A GRAND TESTIMONIAL.

The decision of the Court of Appeals of the State of Kentucky in the test case from Union Co. involving the validity of the union between the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., the opinion having been prepared by Hon. H. S. Barker, concluded as follows:

"In conclusion, we deem it not improper to say that, owing to the great importance of the question involved in this case, we have given it our most careful and impartial attention. The question whether or not the various families of the Presbyterian faith must remain ever separated, although the causes which originally divided them have disappeared in the light of modern theological evolution, is one which must give solicitude to all who have the advancement of civilization at heart.

The history of the Presbyterian Church is the history of a very large part of what we know and enjoy of civil and religious liberty. The teaching of her creeds are such as have always attracted to her the most lofty minds and boldest spirits. In following her path through the ages of history, whether her votaries be called Lutherans, as in Germany; Huguenots, as in France; Covenant-ers, as in Scotland, or Puritans, as in England, they will always be found to be among the bravest and the best. As a religious organization it had no compromise along the lines of conscience to make with power, and it could be deflected from the path of rectitude neither by the frown of authority nor the blandishments of corruption. With the same indomitable courage it confronted the haughty princes of the House of Tudor, and the crowned weaklings of the House of Stuart—with the same words of scornful condemnation it rebuked the sins of Messalina on the throne and the wanton in the street. Her path has led her oftener into exile than into favor with the great—oftener to the dungeon and the stake than to the pleasures of kings' houses or the friendship of courtiers. But under her searching gaze the shackles have fallen from the human mind, and the divine right of kings has shrunk to the mean thing it now appears. Wherever a battle was to be fought for human liberty, whenever a forlorn hope was to be led, or a mine braved for conscience' sake—wherever the blood of a martyr was needed as a testimony to truth—her answer was always that of the prophet of old, 'Here am I; send me.'

"The judgment is reversed, with the directions to dismiss the petition."

Whole court, except Chief Justice Settle sitting; Judge Nunn dissenting. The effect of this decision is to maintain the legality of the union, and declare the membership of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church recognizing and adhering to the union to be entitled to the church property.

Judge Barker is not a Presbyterian, but a member of the Disciples or Christian Church.

Merritt-Starkey.

Mr. Joe H. Merritt and Miss Hat tie Starkey were married Wednesday afternoon, February 3, at the home of J. H. Starkey, the bride's father, by Rev. U. G. Hughes.

After the ceremony, the large gathering were invited to the dining room, where a sumptuous feast was served.

The bride is a beautiful girl of 17 summers and groom is a sterling young farmer, entirely worthy of her.

Gov. Willson Issues Proclamation.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 11.—Gov. Willson yesterday issued the following:

Lincoln Day Proclamation. To Kentucky and All of Our People.

The State government recommends the people in every neighborhood in Kentucky to display the flag of our country and assemble in their respective communities to do honor to the memory of Abraham Lincoln on Friday, February 12, of this year, 1909, the one hundredth anniversary of his birth, and that his first inaugural address and the Gettysburg oration be read at all the meetings. The life of Abraham Lincoln was so wholly devoted to mankind, so sacredly free from selfishness and he was so truly a noble representative of all that is dearest, truest and best in humanity. In all his grand work as a leader of the nation in her greatest trial, and martyr to the cause of the freedom of men, that it will be an honor to all that is best in us to pay this respect.

The President of the United States will journey from Washington to Kentucky to deliver an address on that day at the farm on which Abraham Lincoln was born, and many distinguished visitors from sister States and many of our people will journey to the farm to be present. For the many who cannot make this journey the appeal is made to lay aside the every-day cares and work and give the time needed for the proper observance of the day and renewal of our love and thankfulness. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the Commonwealth of Kentucky to be affixed this second day of February, 1909.

By the Governor, AUGUSTUS E. WILLSON, BEN L. BRUNER, Secretary of State.

RETURN OF THE WRECKED

"Republic's" Crew Shows Need For Emergency Aid.

New York, Feb. 11.—That husbands and fathers have just been restored to 84 wives and 139 children at the homes of the seamen and stokers of the sunken steamship "Republic" in Liverpool was reported at the headquarters of the American Seamen's Friend Society in this city today. This census of the home folks, who so narrowly escaped becoming widowed and fatherless was taken when over a hundred of these shipwrecked seafarers flocked from the "Baltic" to the new Seamen's Institute here;—sick, half naked, penniless and barefoot. Only by quick application of an emergency fund of some twelve hundred dollars were they able to send them on their home voyage, clothed, and shod, the officers of the society declared.

No shipwreck in the present generation has demanded such immediate and extensive measures for relief as that of this big ocean liner, it is asserted by expert workers of this seamen's organization which has for eighty years succored stranded survivors of ocean disasters in forty of the principal ports of the world as well as in this city. While a thousand dollars was spent by them during the year 1908 to set on their feet the victims of the coast wrecks about this port, they say, more than this same sum was required in one night to provide the men of this one ship's stoke hole and fore-castle with the clothes to their back. Only by the fortunate chance that its $300,000 Seamen's Institute had just been opened and by the instant contributions of scores of its friends here was the society able to relieve the crowds of shivering seamen, who came trooping to its doors from this shock of the seas that had left them without money or employment in a foreign harbor.

To fit America's chief seaport with already refuge for such stranded outcasts of the ocean, the officers of the American Seamen's Friend Society have today decided to appeal to the people of every section of the land for a fund to be devoted to just emergencies as the sinking of the "Republic." In every town in the country they believe the families and friends of seafaring sons will readily lend a hand toward providing means to instantly succor the victims of future great sea tragedies.—Where established Red Cross and relief organizations make the shores of other countries thoroughly prepared to care for large companies of stranded sailors. America is today sadly unprepared, they believe the recent wreck of the "Republic" has shown.

Delightful In Entertainment.

The Princeton Leader has this to say of Miss Metcalfe's dance. Miss Metcalfe is the daughter of Mr. Charles W. Metcalfe, owner of the Marion Ice Plant.

One of the most delightful and largely attended balls in connection with Princeton society for many years was that given by Miss Minor Metcalfe at the Henrietta hall room Tuesday evening of this week. There were about one hundred and fifty participants and on-lookers, and enjoyment was at its height throughout the evening. The music was of the very best for the occasion, and those present, especially the participants, were delighted. Hot coffee and sandwiches were served to the delight and pleasure of all. Miss Metcalfe's hospitality, which is in keeping with her popularity, will ever be remembered by her guests for the pleasures of the evening. The out of town guests of the occasion were: Miss Ellis Grav, of Marion; James Lochridge and James Taylor, of Mayfield; Miss Corinne Carlett, of Edenville; Miss Faith Langstaff, of Paducah; E. F. Mathew, of Louisville; W. S. Lafae and H. F. Neely, of Greenville, Miss.

Glasgow Has More Lights.

The City Council has made a contract with the Glasgow Electric Light Company for eight are lights and 84 Tanson lights for five years for $2,500 per year, the lights to be run all night. At present the town is paying $1,600 for sixteen are lights to run only until midnight. The new contract is certainly a great improvement on the old, and will be put into operation just as soon as the necessary work looking to additional lights can be made. —Glasgow Times

WANTED IN MARION

Three Hundred People to Get the Daily Bible Reading Habit.

The Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday School Have Started Branches in Marion.

There is a movement on foot by the Sunday school workers to secure at least 300 members for the International Bible Reading Association. Mr. Charles Waters, of London, England, organized the association in 1881, and in this country it is represented by Mr. Marvin Lawrence, General Secretary of the International Sunday School Association. Here we give the what and why of the I. B. R. A.:

"What is the International Bible Reading Association?"

It is a band of Sunday school officers, teachers, scholars, parents and others, numbering now nearly one million members in all parts of the world, who are reading daily the same portion of God's Word. The readings are all intended to illustrate the International Sunday School Lesson for the following Sunday.

"Why Should I Join It?"

Because the daily readings will help you to understand your next Sunday's lesson and so make it more interesting, because the Bible is the only guide to eternal life and you should read it regularly in order that you may know Jesus, who is "The Way, the Truth and the Life." Also because it will help you to live a better life day by day.

"What is Required in Becoming a Member?"

Any one who will agree to read the selected portions of Scripture daily may become a member of the Association. The membership fee is five cents a year. Members have no other expense. All memberships are renewable at the first of January no matter when they began. When ten or more members are secured from one school or locality, it is called a "Branch" and should have a "Branch Secretary."

"What Do Members Receive?"

New members receive a Certificate of Membership beautifully printed in colors. They also receive a Monthly Leaflet with "Hints" on the Bible readings for the month. These hints are written by Mr. Charles Waters, of London, the founder of the I. B. R. A. They also receive a Quarterly Letter of Greeting, and from time to time other interesting and valuable printed matter. All printed matter is free, and cannot be bought. It is furnished to members only.

We hope to enroll 300 members during the first and second quarter of the year, and kindly ask pastors, superintendents and teachers to urge the members and scholars to join and get the daily Bible reading habit.

The Methodist and Presbyterian Sunday schools here in Marion, have started branches. The Methodist school has 75 members and the Presbyterian 15, and their enrolment is increasing each week. The other Sunday schools are now taking it up, and we hope to have a large enrollment in the town ere the first of March.

A Bible reading Sunday school will make a good Bible living church. Why not everybody get the Daily Bible Reading habit?

One teacher in the graded school has taken the matter of daily Bible reading up in her room, and has secured 22 members.

Crittenden county now has an enrollment of 119 members, 12 at Weston and 6 at Tolu. We hope every school in the county will start a branch of ten or more members. Crittenden county ought to furnish at least ONE THOUSAND of the TEN THOUSAND members for Western Kentucky.

Any one who wishes to join or start a branch, will please see or write to Miss Nellie Walker, the Secretary of the Marion District.

wide spread storm in this section was the battle of the steamer City of Marquette against raging Lake Michigan as it fought its way in a sinking condition along the Illinois shore from Chicago to Waukegan.

With the fireman standing in water up to their waists and shoveling coal into a feeble fire, the boat "limped" into Waukegan eleven hours after it left Chicago. Before it reached its dock the water ran over the fires, and the aid of a tug had to be secured. The whole upper works of the boat were shattered by the waves that broke over it, and it was only by great exertions that it was kept afloat.

The City of Marquette is a wooden boat drawing fourteen feet of water. The bows, however, are reinforced with steel for breaking ice, and it has made daily trips for years.

Its crew of twelve men had gone through many stormy voyages, but after they set foot in Waukegan, with their clothing frozen upon them, they vowed they never again would tempt fate on Lake Michigan in winter. Capt. Arthur Hill was the only one undaunted. He declared that he would have the "City" in shape in a week or two and continue in spite of ice and northeasters.

A gruesome result of the disturbance of Lake Michigan was the yielding up by the waters of the body of the former light house keeper of the port, F. W. Raether, which was taken by them in a similar storm fourteen months ago. The body was identified by its gold-teeth and wedding ring.

Kentucky's Famous Torch Well Is Again Aflame.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 8.—The famous burning well located on Green river, four miles from Greensburg, in Green county, which has puzzled scientists and laymen for almost one hundred years, the blaze of which ceased just before the recent Italian earthquake, has again resumed its flow, and at the present time the flames reach higher than at any time within the memory of the oldest inhabitant.

The well first came into existence immediately following the earthquake of 1811, which played havoc with certain sections of Tennessee and Kentucky, and at the same time the bottom apparently dropped out of a large area of land in Tennessee and formed what has since been known as Reelfoot Lake. The well had been used by Samuel White for water purposes, and when the phenomenon appeared the fixtures covering it were blown so far they were never discovered.

At times during the past three-quarters of a century the light from the well was sufficient to permit farmers to work by night as well as by day, and when it recently went "dry" much disappointment was felt in the neighborhood. The phenomenon was referred to in "Athen's history of Kentucky," published forty years ago, as being perhaps the most remarkable thing discovered in the state to that time.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.

(By J. B. M.)
A number of schools in the country are closing with entertainments. This is an excellent training of the memory, aids in vocal expression, teaches the pupils to appear before the public in a graceful and cultured manner.

Habits.

To our way of thinking that was a splendid paper on "Habits," by Mrs. Minnie Brasher. Our lives are made up of a bundle of habits, so the importance of forming good habits in youth.

Teachers' Training. By J. R. Glass, is well worth the reading and contains Bible truths as well as logic and practical psychology.

Educational League.

The Educational County League has reached Crittenden. Are you going to be equal to the occasion--organized and be benefited by the Society? On our answer depends success or failure. What we need in this county is a more hearty co-operation of every citizen and mutual understanding between school officers, teachers and patrons.

Therefore we endorse the School Improvement League.

How Should Pupils Study?

There should be a definite time for study. Pupils should be taught to take up the study of each lesson at the proper time, and "stick" to that particular task until it is finished or mastered. The essential of the lesson should receive particular attention, and the mind should be entirely on the lesson at hand until every thought is well established.

Elocution or Reading.

By J. B. McNeely.

According to the Latin, the word elocution means, to speak out. From e, meaning out, and loqui, to speak. The English follows the Latin, so we have it, to speak out.

We should breathe deeply, so that the lower cells of the lungs can receive some fresh air. With the body erect, press the hands firmly on the side just below waist line. Inhale slowly, letting hands move out perceptibly. Exhale slowly, as if blowing something to cool it. Repeat ten times.

Raise arms at sides until they meet overhead, at same time inhaling slowly. Continue the exercise until the voice is well trained on low, pitched and medium sounds.

Pronounce difficult words, first slowly, then with more rapidity. Take the word "boat," say it quickly and loudly, making the last sound as distinctly as the first. Practice on sentences like the following:

"Round the rough and rugged rock the ragged rascal ran."

"He thrusts his fists against the posts and still insists he sees the ghosts."

Then something more difficult of pronunciation:

"Peter Prangle, the prickly, prangly pear picker, picked a peck of prickly, prangly pears."

Or this sentence: "Simon saw six long, sleek, slim, slender sapplings"

When we have selected our words and sentences, then give the order: "Stand erect! Expand chest! Book in right hand! Right foot in front! Weight of body on left foot!"

Then repeat slowly and in concert, advancing in loudness, then to a whisper, then louder again. Practice day after day and week after week. When we have reached the ideal in this, and the pupils have a fair understanding--perception and vivid thought of what they read, then we can take another step in advance.

Fire At Lisman.

The saw mill of Mitchell & Danagan at Lisman was destroyed by fire early Friday morning. A heavy wind was blowing and it is supposed that the mill shed caught fire from the flying sparks. The watchman was not at his post. Great difficulty was experienced in preventing the flames from spreading to adjacent lumber piles, but the lumber was all saved. The loss to the owners is between $1500 and $2000. They carried no insurance on the mill. Providence Enterprise.

Centenary of Darwin

Born February 12, 1809

IN the list of great men whose one-hundredth anniversary of birth occurs this year, the name of Darwin stands out with full prominence. An English biographer closes his record of the famous scientist's life with these words: "A marvellously patient and successful revolutionizer of thought, a noble and beloved man."

Simplicity, kindness, gentility, modesty, courage, were distinguishing traits of Darwin. Arrogance and pretense had no place in his makeup. He loved truth for truth's sake, and was willing to search for it tirelessly.

Although he held at the time high rank as geologist and biologist, it was not until the publication of "On the Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection, or the Preservation of Favoured Races in the Struggle for Life," his theories began to make great stir in the world.

In the retirement and quiet of his country home in the village of Down, Kent, he had for years been making patient, laborious study of the mystery of species, and in the work put forth at the age of 50 he propounded a theory of biological evolution, what is known as the "Darwinian theory." In evidence of his generosity and modesty, attention should be called to the attitude taken by him regarding an essay written by the naturalist, Mr. Alfred Russel Wallace, in February, 1858, in which Mr. Wallace set forth the same theory as that he himself had arrived at. "The two men having, independently and unknown to each other, conceived the same very ingenious theory," Darwin was strongly inclined to withhold from publication the memoir he had ready on the subject, yield priority and all honors to Wallace; but the matter was settled by laying before the Linnean society selections from the papers of both men. Darwin's paper was read in July, 1858, his great work appeared in the fall of the following year.

As is well known, Darwin's evolutionary theories were regarded as very revolutionary, and violent attacks were made on views and author, especially by the orthodox and religious journals. Denunciation, satire and ridicule were employed to express the judgment of reviewers, but the one who had created all the agitation recently bent to his work, not answering attacks, but making corrections and additions in his work. A second edition of "The Origin of Species" appeared six weeks after the first, a third came out a little more than a year after the second. By the time of the third edition, 1872, Darwin was able to declare that almost every naturalist of the day admitted the great principle of evolution.

In "The Descent of Man" he came to grips with what had been implied in the "Origin of Species," being the evolution of man. He is not only secretary after discussing the steps in the development of man, he comes to the conclusion that from the old world monkeys are descended, descended man, "the white and gray of the universe."

His first biographical book, "On the Various Contributions to Which Children Are Entitled by Inherited Qualities," was published in 1862, and brought out in 1862, and pronounced the most masterly treatise on very much of vegetable physiology that had ever appeared. This was followed by "The Movement and Habits of Climbing Plants," later by a work on "The Variation of Animals and Plants Under Domestication." "The Expression of the Emotions in Man and Animals" appeared in 1872. The work on "Influences of Plants" was published in 1879, this followed by "The Effects of Cross and Self Fertilization in the Vegetable Kingdom," "The Different Forms of Flowers in Plants of the Same Species," and "The Power of Movement in Plants"--works of infinite value to the science of biology.

As illustration of his wonderful patience in research mention should be made of his study of earthworms, carried on for a period of 30 years, the result of this study presented to the public in his last contribution, "The Formation of Vegetable Mould Through the Action of Worms." In this work he says: "The plow is one of the most ancient and most valuable of man's inventions; but long before he existed the land was in fact regularly plowed, and still continues to be thus plowed, by earthworms. It may be doubted whether there are many other animals which have played so important a part in the history of the world as have these lowly organized creatures."

Darwin suffered most of his life from stomach trouble, and was not able to work continuously through the day, had to conserve his energies with great care. Charles Robert Darwin was born at Shrewsbury, England, February 12, 1809, the same day that Abraham Lincoln was born. He was son of Dr. Robert Darwin, and grandson of Erasmus Darwin, naturalist and poet. His maternal grandfather was Josiah Wedgwood, the celebrated potter. The family was in affluent circumstances, the naturalist all his life in a position to pursue his studies uninterrupted by financial worries. He early showed perhaps more than a boy's usual taste for collecting, and amid the flowers, shrubs and pets of his father's home--The Mount--began the study of Nature. During a period of work at Edinburgh university he evinced much interest in zoology, later at Cambridge was strongly attracted to natural history. Cambridge associations brought him invitation to join as naturalist the scientific expedition of H. M. S. Beagle, and in 1831 Darwin set forth on that long and fruitful voyage which was to color and mold all his future work. The voyage lasted five years, and though persistently troubled by chronic sea-sickness, Darwin was indefatigable in work. His book, "A Naturalist's Voyage Round the World," is very widely known. His contributions on the structure and distribution of coral reefs and geological observations on volcanic islands and on South America were of highest value.

Three years after the close of the voyage, in 1839, he married his cousin, Emma Wedgwood, a union that proved very happy. There were nine children, two of whom died in childhood. In 1842, being in ill health in London, he took up residence at Down House, a delightful country place, and amidst ideal surroundings pursued his scientific investigations. Of the domestic life there are many pleasant records, the genial home, the generous hospitality, the children and dogs, the devoted servants, the flowers and vines and pets. It was at Down House the earthquake, April 19, 1857, quietly, with no violence of pain, no actual sickness, just a gradual loss of strength, able to work a little the day before his death.

He was buried in Westminster Abbey, near Sir John Herschel and Sir Isaac Newton. On the Sunday following the burial, the bishop of Carlisle, preaching at Westminster, admitted Darwin had produced a greater change in the current of thought than any other man. In Germany the Allgemeine Zeitung declared "Our century is Darwin's century."

Midland, Texas, Jan. 21, '09.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins:—

The reason I have not renewed my subscription for the PRESS is that we have moved to Adams county, Texas, and are 65 miles from a post office. But there will be an office here in about two months, and I will then send the $1.50 for the year 1909.

my subscription to your valuable paper. I love old Crittenden and her people—such as J. E. Dean, G. W. Condit, Ed Cook, and Jas. Cleghorn, that have been such good friends to me.

But if they could but see the farms out here. One man can take four horses to the field and do as three men can in Crittenden, and do it a lot easier too.

I live in McCoupin county, forty-five miles south of Springfield, Ill. Please send the RECORD-PRESS to my address.

Wishing you success, I remain your friend,

D. W. Jackson,

Dear Mr. Jenkins:

Herewith my check for $1. Kindly renew my subscription to the RECORD-PRESS for another year. My time is out in March, I believe. Mrs. Weldon and myself are always glad to get THE PRESS. It is like getting a letter from home.

I am with the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association in their auditing department and have an excellent position. Dame fortune has indeed been kind to me since I left dear old Crittenden seven years ago, as I have had very little sickness in my family and have always had a good position.

With kind regards,

Dear Editor of the RECORD-PRESS: As my time has expired and I was afraid I would miss a copy, I will renew to day, for I love my old Kentucky home.

IF WOMEN ONLY KNEW

What a Heap of Happiness it Would Bring to Marion Homes.

Hard to do housework with an aching back.

Brings you hours of misery at leisure or at work.

If women only knew the cause—that

Backache pains are from the sick kidneys,

Would save much needless woe.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys.

Marion people endorse this:

Mrs. Mary Alexander, living in Marion, Ky., says: "I was afflicted with kidney trouble for three or four years. Sharp twinges of pain would catch me in the back when stooping or lifting and I was unable to rest well on account of the constant aching at night. At times I was very nervous, there was a dull, languid feeling constantly with me and headaches and dizzy spells bothered me occasionally. I was also troubled with a blurred vision, and the kidney secretions contained a sediment when ever they were voided. I finally ordered Doan's Kidney Pills at Haynes & Taylor's drug store and am glad to say prompt relief. I have no hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to other sufferers."

London Man Supports a wife And 25 Children on $8.00 a Week.

London, Jan. 30.—Ex-Sergeant Richard Humphreys of West Ham, had nine children, when in 1893 he wedded a second time a widow who had four children. Offsprings of the number of twelve have blessed that union, so that altogether the pair family have a family of twenty-five. The latest addition was twins, and Mr. Humphreys is in no wise cast down, though he admits that the bringing up of such a large family on such a comparatively small wages (he gets $8 a week as a wagon builder in the Great Eastern Railway Works, where he has been for thirty-two years) has been a hard one.

Soldiers Balks Death Plot.

It seemed to J. A. Stone, a civil war veteran, of Kemp, Texas, that a plot existed between a desperate lung trouble and the grave to cause his death. "I contracted a stubborn cold," he writes, "that developed a cough that stuck to me, in spite of all remedies, for years. My weight ran down to 130 pounds. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery, which restored my health completely. I now weigh 175 pounds." Patrons can save themselves inconvenience by noticing if their lights are right when the current is put on, which is at 4 o'clock p. m. usually, and earlier on cloudy days. We have a man for attending to trouble between that time and 6 o'clock, as it is easy to repair any break in daylight, even if on a pole, whereas after dark it is exceedingly dangerous, especially on damp days, to climb a pole. Repairs inside the house can be attended to much more satisfactorily to patrons in daylight and it frequently occurs that we have no available hand just at 6 o'clock

WHEEZER OR SNEEZER?

Have You Heard of Hyomei for Catarrh, Asthma and Hay Fever?

If you wheeze or sneeze, hawk or spit, snuffle or blow, something is the matter with the membrane of your respiratory tract, and you need Hyomei.

And you need Hyomei because it will cure you of any catarrhal or inflammatory condition that exists.

It isn't a stomach medicine, or spray, or douche, but a very pleasant, healing, antiseptic balsam, from the eucalyptus forests of Australia. You breathe this balsamic air through a small, hard rubber inhaler, and it reaches every nook, corner and crevice of the membrane, and promptly kills the catarrh germs.

Haynes & Taylor will sell you a complete Hyomei (pronounced High-o-mei) outfit for $1.00, on the money back plan.

The use of Hyomei cured Mr. Cutler of catarrh in 1904. He has strongly endorsed the use of Hyomei in many instances, and we are glad to go on record regarding this marvelous catarrh cure, and endorse it.—Mrs. A. Cutler, 201 Post Ave., Battle Creek, Mich.

Messrs Wesley Allen and Robert Hillyard, who have been visiting this county for several weeks, will start on their return to Kansas Tuesday.

Last Friday night during that furious wind and snow storm, John Stembridge heard what he thought to be Mrs. W. H. Wallace calling as if she was in distress. He knew Mr. Wallace had gone to Marion that day with tobacco, and thinking Mrs. was alone with the little children, he hurried to their home, hearing the calls a number of times on the way. He arrived there to find Mr. Wallace and family enjoying themselves around the fire. He told them what he had heard, and Mr. Wallace concluded that it was too bad a night for any one to be in trouble without help, so he went out to find the cause of the distressing calls, going first to Murray Travis', but found no trouble, though they too had heard the calls. On his way back home he continued to hear the piteous cries and decided it was either at Willie Walker's or George Lamp's, and hurried to their homes only to find them surprised at his mission, as all was well with them.

Mr. Wallace again started for his home, debating with himself whether to go by the way of Aunt Jincy Murray's. But when near Buffalo brance his dog, which had followed him, suddenly became agitated and rushed into the thicket, but after a short but furious battle, he emerged from the thicket a thoroughly whipped cur and "took to his heels," his enemy following. Mr. Wallace, who is a constable, got busy with his revolver, but the creature disappeared. About a hundred yards further on, however, it suddenly attacked Mr. Wallace, wrapping itself about his legs, almost getting him to the ground. He managed to get his firearm into action again, one ball taking effect, as he believes, in the animal's back and it gave vent to a scream that convinced Wallace that the source of the distressing cries he had heard was near at hand. The beast seemed to roll away from him when he shot it, and disappeared in the darkness. Wallace fired his last cartridge in the direction his enemy had taken, then turned his attention to finding his leggin, which had been torn off during the attack. He describes the animal as about the size of the average dog, but with a much larger head. Its tracts around over the community were plainly to be seen in the snow the next morning. Previous to this it had been seen by a number of people, who say the animal answers the description of a catamount and there is no doubt that that is what Mr. Wallace encountered. A hunt is being planned.

Two hundred and forty wagon loads of tobacco were in town Monday by noon, which was enough to keep the association employees at work all week unloading.

Mrs. Frank Bogard, of Pittsburg, Pa., arrived here Saturday, being summoned on account of the serious illness of her father, Myron Frisbie.

Monday was a busy day in Marion besides over two hundred wagon loads of tobacco, there was a large number of mules on the market and as there were several buyers, a great many were sold. The strong man was here and he drew a large crowd to see his display of strength.

Twenty-six Negroes Arrested.

Pittsburg, Feb. 10.—At the Central Police Station here to-day 126 negroes who were arrested late last night and early to-day following a carnival crime against young white girls in the Herron Hill district recently, were given hearings before Magistrate Brady. Forty-three of the negroes proved to the satisfaction of the court that they have honest employment and were discharged. Forty-two were fined in amounts varying from $5 or ten days in jail to $25 or thirty days in jail or work-house and forty-one were held over pending further investigation.

A radical change in the treatment of negroes by white citizens of the Herron Hill district is already manifested. Some of the women now go armed, others who are afraid of a revolver, carry police whistles and a majority of the men have armed themselves and positively threatened to kill the first negro caught molesting a white woman.

The police are of the opinion the terrible criminal acts of the negroes are the work of a few degenerate cocaine fiends. Several hundred colored friends of the 106 negroes under arrest gathered to-day in the Public Safety building and in an alley adjoining the building. Some of the negroes were amazed at the wholesale arrests, others considered it a joke, while some were surly and indignant.

During the past month over a dozen girls have been assaulted in the Herron Hill district.

Pres. Roosevelt Vindicated.

Washington, Feb. 10.—President Roosevelt broke a long silence of two months in authorizing a denial of a charge that while horseback riding through Rock Creek park on last Thanksgiving day with Mrs. Roosevelt and a party of friends, he had crowded into a group of seminary girls and had struck the horse ridden by Miss May Rhodes with his strop, after criticizing the girls for not giving him right of way.

The denial was prompted by the receipt of the following letter from Mrs. Elizabeth M. Rhodes, dated Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 27.

"Dear Sir: My daughter, Miss May Rhodes, whose horse, it has been widely reported, you struck while riding in the park last Thanksgiving day, emphatically denies any knowledge of such occurrence, and as it is deemed of such importance as to be referred to in congress, may I be permitted to ask you why you do not deny this story?"

"Very sincerely,

"ELIZABETH M. RHODES.

Secretary Loeb stated the reason the President had paid no attention to the story earlier was that he considered it too absurd to deny.

Sues For $10,000.

New Orleans, Feb. 10.—The alleged carelessness of a negro porter in putting a man in the wrong berth of a sleeping car was the basis of a $10,000 suit brought in the federal court here by Mrs. Amelia M. Dubourg, of this city, against the Pullman Company.

Mrs. Dubourg says she was the victim of the serious mistake averred and alleges that she was severely injured by the man's being "thrown" into her berth. The occurrence is said to have taken place on the night of January 22, while she was en route from Deming, N. M., to New Orleans.

Burned to Death.

Mrs. Myrtle McCormick, daughter of Dan Melton, of Poole, Ky., was burned to death Wednesday night at her home at St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. McCormick was in the act of getting supper on a coal oil stove when the stove exploded, covering her body with the blazing oil. Her clothing was set on fire and before help could reach her she was burned almost to a crisp. She died shortly afterwards in horrible agony.

Mrs. McCormick, with her husband, moved to St. Louis about a year ago. Her husband secured employment as a street car motorman and was on his run when the fatal accident occurred. Mrs. McCormick was twenty-five years of age and had been married for seven years. She leaves besides her husband, two children, one four and the other six years of age.—Henderson Journal.

STRANGE STORY

Brother of Chicago's Mayor Tells of Firing Bullet Ending Woman's Life.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 31.—George Busse, brother of Fred A. Busse, mayor of Chicago, tonight accidentally shot and killed Mrs. Lucius C. Tuckerman, thirty-two years old, wife of a fruit dealer at Milton, N. Y. The bullet struck Mrs. Tuckerman in the heart and she died instantly. The shooting occurred in Walton apartment building at 305 North Clark street.

Mrs. Tuckerman was visiting her father, General A. C. Girard, retired, who occupied an apartment in the building.

Shortly before 7 o'clock George Busse in his apartment across the area way was demonstrating the use of a revolver to Miss Bertha Lambke, his house maid so that she could employ the weapon in case of burglars. Suddenly the revolver was discharged and the bullet went through two windows and, crossing the area-way into the Girard apartment, pierced Mrs. Tuckerman's heart.

Mrs. Tuckerman was present at the shooting and as soon as he learned of the fatal consequences notified the police.

Mrs. Tuckerman was in a bedroom dressing. When struck by the bullet she staggered into a hallway. General Girard and Mrs. Tuckerman's five-year-old son, Alfred rushed from an adjoining room.

"Oh! Father I have been shot and I'm dying," said Mrs. Tuckerman and expired.

A moment later there was a loud pounding at the door of the Girard apartment and Mayor Busse and his brother, George, came in. Mayor Busse's wife and his mother followed. The mayor summoned a physician and notified the police by telephone. No arrests were made. General Girard expressing himself as satisfied that the shooting was purely accidental.

CUPID.

THEY were the neatest ladies on the entire street. Miss Lucinda Berry and her sister Alice, and they subsisted meagerly on a small pension that had been their late father's.

In the same block lived the richest, sloughest and most irritable bachelor in the city.

In February, when an unexpected mildness set in, Miss Alice turned the hose on her sidewalk to wash away the ashes.

All night long, however, the wind rose, and the fourteenth of February dawned bitter cold, and the water used for washing off the ashes froze.

Miss Lucinda was in the kitchen sifting ashes to resprinkle the pavement, when she heard her sister shriek. Lucinda rushed to open the front door, and saw Alice on her knees in the street supporting the husky shoulders of Williams, who was shouting lustily: "This is your work! Nice, isn't it? Always knew your confounded neatness would cost me my life."

Alice could only sob in reply. "I'll sue you for this, all right," he bellowed.

By this time Lucinda had approached, and now spoke authoritatively: "Well, it is plain you must be carried into your house and a doctor sent for at once." Beckoning to the bachelor's man servant, who hovered near, she instructed him how to assist the injured man without causing unnecessary pain.

When Williams had been laid on a disordered bed, Miss Lucinda made him as comfortable as possible before the arrival of the doctor. The Berry girls set to work preparing bandages. The doctor came, set the arm, expressed approval of all that had been done, and left.

Williams heard this commendation of the maiden sisters, and after some thought said: "If you bring me through without crippling me, I will let you off as lightly as possible."

This unexpected generosity overjoyed the ladies. They took their regular turns, and the negro servant raved the day when they invaded his slouchy kingdom. Though the injured bachelor could not know of all the changes taking place, still he felt the influence of orderly domesticity.

They really enjoyed the nursing, and their patient particularly appreciated having Miss Alice near, for her touch was delightfully soft. So, even when the physician came, it was Miss Alice who bandaged the arm after it was dressed.

When able to be around again it was difficult to break an acquired habit, so it happened that Mr. Williams went over morning and evening for Miss Alice to attend to his arm.

One morning he did not come; instead the servant appeared with a note for Miss Alice, who read it with alarm:

"I shall call this evening to sue for my damages. If it is not rendered me, I am afraid I must proceed to extreme measures."

Miss Alice cried the better part of the day after the receipt of the note, and Miss Lucinda for once was not practical, so cried some also.

At seven that evening the door bell rang and Miss Lucinda admitted Mr. Williams and showed him into the parlor where Alice sat, openly tearful.

"Take a seat," she whispered.

He sat down facing her, and took her limp hand.

"Bless my soul," he cried, "what's the matter?"

"Nothing," she exclaimed, and burst into sobs.

"I wish you'd cry for me," said the bachelor huskily.

"Oh," she moaned, "we can't pay those damages, Mr. Williams."

"Well, if you can't," said he, "can you do something else? Can you accept the worn-out old valentine that was thrown at your gate about a month ago? Not worth picking up, perhaps, old-fashioned and full of flaws, but a most loving valentine."

With her cheek against the bandaged arm, Miss Alice cried some more—but there were smiles shining through.

THE DAY IN SCOTLAND.

Custom There Has Been to Choose One's Valentine.

It seems to have been a custom in Scotland to choose one's valentine. If Sir Walter Scott is to be trusted in his account of the wooing of the Fair Maid of Perth and Hal of the Wynd in the novel. The always amusing and ubiquitous Pepps, in his diary, which neglects nothing under the sun apparently, mentions St. Valentine's day and its customs in several places, and gives an amusing account of his wife, fearing to open her eyes on St. Valentine's day while the painters and decorators were at work in her room, lest she should see one of these unsuitable persons first instead of a more comely valentine. The genial Pepps himself, of course, had to call upon one of his friends on February 14 and entreat her to become his valentine, and we will hope that he sent a suitable gift to the lady chosen.

Whatever the origin of the custom, it has given rise to many quaint and pretty fancies, and both poets and lovers have employed the legend and the saint to good purpose. The sending of letters and the more or less tawdry cut paper valentines, which the children of the last generation were so familiar with, undoubtedly gave rise to the modern fashion of Christmas cards in this country and in England, which has grown to such astonishing, not to say alarming, proportions, and the comic valentine, that hideous and dreadful creation, is presumably one of the evils resulting from the custom. However this may be, it is exceedingly agreeable to receive a gift of flowers, or fruit, or a dainty book upon this midwinter festival, and if it take the form of a more useful present there is a distinct authority for sending even these, as one of the oldest customs consisted in sending a veil of tissue or gauze to the fortunate valentine which was selected to be the recipient of the attention.

THROAT TROUBLES WEAKENS THE SYSTEM.

A serious illness is often brought on by a neglected sore throat.

All throat troubles invariably weaken the system and should not be allowed to go unchecked.

A gargle made with twelve drops of Sloan's Liniment in half glass of water will break up a sore throat.

Sloan's Liniment is an excellent remedy for tonsillitis, croup, asthma and bronchitis. Applied freely to the outside of the throat and chest, it draws out the inflammation, reduces the swelling and relieves any soreness. Twelve drops of this Liniment in half a glass of water makes a splendid antiseptic gargle.

Mr. Albert W. Price, of Fredonia, Kan., writes: "We have used Sloan's Liniment in the family for about a year, and find it an excellent relief for colds and hay fever attacks. Two drops of the Liniment in a teaspoonful of water will stop coughing and sneezing instantly."

Mr. L. T. Hurst, of Coatesville, Ind., R. R. No. 1, writes: "I find your Liniment the best remedy I have ever tried for sore throat, either for horse or man. I once cured a case of sore throat on myself the second day and almost the first night, which had continued for over three weeks, under constant treatment of three physicians (I was traveling) and it was getting worse."

Chickens Get "Soused" on wine.

The home of Mrs. S. A. Thompson, four miles from Louisville on the Preston-street road, took on the appearance of a trained animal show Sunday afternoon when more than one hundred buff rock chickens, got drunk on sour blackberry wine, strutted and fought and finally went down for the count to sleep off the effects of the jag. It was necessary for Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and their servants to carry all of the chickens into the hen house last night. All of them had entirely recovered this morning with the exception of one old hen, who so far forgot her motherly duties as to get soused, leaving her brood of thirteen chicks to the mercy of the rats, cats and dogs.

ceptio of one old hen, who so far forgot her motherly duties as to get soused, leaving her brood of thirteen chicks to the mercy of the rats, cats and dogs.

Shortly after noon, Mrs. Thompson went to the cellar to get some wine and discovered that a large quantity blackberry wine had soured. She carried it upstairs and to the chicken yard. Never dreaming of the possible effect on the chickens, she poured the wine into their trough.

A big buff rooster strutted up to the trough and taking a nip sent out the call that brought the entire brood hurrying to the feast. It was the old story. One drink was no good they took just one more. After that they didn't care whether they ever stopped and indeed they did not until the trough was drained. Then the fun began. Mothers fought with sons and daughters. Hens cackled and roosters crowed while the battle was on. The rooster—the one which had started the trouble—pranced up and down on his unsteady legs until the wine got the best him and with a farewell crow stumbled over on his side.

Mrs. Thompson hearing the racket, went to the door. The chickens were wobbling about in their drunken frenzy and here and there they could be seen lying on their backs apparently dead. Mrs. Thompson summoned her husband. By the time he reached the hen yard the majority were down and out. He questioned Mrs. Thompson and quivered for her chicks by informing her that the charge could be nothing more than plain drunk.

Mr. Thompson supposed the chickens would recover by night, but they did not, and nearly every one had to be carried into the house. The younger element—those that could not get onto the trough—could not understand the strange condition of the belligerent attitude of their mothers and fathers caused them to seek shelter under the coops.

The Secret of Long Life.

A French scientist has discovered one secret of long life. His method deals with the blood. But long ago millions of Americans had proved Electric Bitters prolong life and makes it worth living. It purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, rebuilds wasted nerve cells, imparts life and tone to the entire system. Its a godsend to weak, sick and debilitated people. "Kidney trouble had blighted my life for months," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "but Electric Bitters cured me entirely." Only 50c, at Jas. H. Orme's and Haynes & Taylor's drug store.

Origin of Sir Loin Steak.

Henry V. King, of France, was one day sitting at the table surrounded by his favorite knights, when a servant placed before them a tender, juicy, loin steak. Each one was praising the savory dish, when the king exclaimed "This meat deserves to be knighted." Thence forward that part of the beef has been called "Sir Loin." This quality of steak can be found at Kemp's, who has the fattest of cattle, sheep and hogs, corn fed for his patrons. If you haven't tried his meat you have missed half your life.

Littell's Liquid Sulphur Stops Itching Instantly

If the trouble is serious it will cure it. If it is not serious but is uncomfortable or unsightly it will stop whatever is wrong.

A Southern Lady Says:

I feel it is my duty to write and let you know what a blessing Littell's Liquid Sulphur has proven to me. For months I was afflicted with a breaking out on my face, red, angry looking blotches would appear upon the upper part of my face causing me the greatest humiliation. Having doctored and used almost every skin remedy advertised with no improvement whatever, I was utterly discouraged until I obtained a bottle of your Littell's Liquid Sulphur from your demonstrator, last August. My face began to improve immediately and that obstinate breaking out has entirely disappeared. I am still using Littell's Liquid Sulphur and would not be without it under any circumstances. MRS. THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

TURNING A MAN DOWN

It is often possible to do another man a good turn without much effort on our part. It may mean very little to us but a great deal to him. A buyer recently said to me: "I am called on by solicitors of all kinds, and, while I am able to patronize only a few of them, I always make it a rule to treat every man in a way that will tend to help him. I treat him with respect, and in such a way as will preserve his self-respect, and his respect for his own work, and when he goes away he is that much stronger in his own mind when he meets a possible customer. It is so easy to get discouraged when you are turned down. I used to sell goods by soliciting and I ought to know. I am now trying to make up for some of the cold-hearted rebuffs that I used to get, and which used to take the heart out of me, at the very time when I was having the greatest struggle of my life to get on my feet. I made up my mind that if I ever worked on the other side of the desk I would have some regard for the man who should try to sell goods to me. I may not always be able to buy a man's goods, but I can send him on his way without doing anything to make his work harder for him. There is a way of turning a man down that really helps him more than giving him an order, and every buyer ought to learn to use it on the salesman he can't give business to."

FEW HERE KNOW THIS.

Shake Well in the Bottle and Take a Teaspoonful Three After Meals.

Few people here know that you can cure that dread American disease, Rheumatism, with just common, every-day drugs found in any drug store. The prescription is so simple that any one can prepare it at home at small cost. It is made up as follows: Get from any good prescription pharmacy Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Mix by shaking in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime. These are all simple ingredients, making an absolutely harmless home remedy at little cost.

Rheumatism, as every one knows, is a symptom of deranged kidneys. It is a condition produced by the failure of the kidneys to properly filter or strain from the blood the urea and other matter, which, if not eradicated, either in the urine or through the skin pores, remains in the blood, decomposes and forms about the joints and muscles, causing the untold suffering and deformity of rheumatism.

This prescription is said to be a splendid healing, cleansing and invigorating tonic to the kidneys, and gives almost immediate relief in all troubles and backache.

MILLIONAIRE IS FOUND WORKING IN A MINE

OIL OPERATOR HELD UNDER ARMED GUARD RESCUED BY WIFE LEADING POSSE.

Houston, Tex.—After five months, during which it was generally believed that J. E. Webb, the millionaire oil operator, had been swallowed up by the sea, he has been found by his family and has returned home. Private detectives have ascertained that the man was drugged in Houston, carried to a small place near St. Louis, and held there under an armed guard for a long period of time. He escaped, but all the time that had intervened between his abduction and his return to his former self was a blank, and, not knowing what had happened, feared to return. He found employment in a mine in Joplin, Mo., where he wielded a shovel and held a drill as a common workman for weeks. Recently he was located by the owner of the adjacent mine, J. H. Putnam, and when Mrs. Webb was notified she headed a posse of Texans and rescued her husband from his peculiar position and has now returned with him to Houston.

To cover their tracks the conspirators are said to have carried his clothes, containing his valuables, to Galveston, and left them in a bathhouse, where they were found. Affidavits were secured from the boy, who was supposed to have sold the bath ticket, and from a young woman who believed she had seen Webb in the surf, to support the contention of death by drowning.

An attempt was made to collect his life insurance held in the New York Life Insurance Company, but payment was refused and Mrs. Webb offered a reward of $5,000 for information leading to the discovery of her husband or his body.

Webb declared that he does not remember a thing that happened after he drove to Houston on the night of June 19 last until he found himself on the public road near Joplin, Mo.

ACTS LIKE A MAD MAN.

Human Being, Half Animal, Refuses to Wear Any Clothes.

Menominee, Mich.—Officials at the Menominee county poor house are up against a strange proposition. With one man who is really half man and half animal on their hands another character of the same kind has been thrust upon them.

The first character was brought to the poor house years ago. His name is James Eagen and he was born in Marinette county. The man has no mind at all. He refuses to wear clothes and his body is almost covered with long hair. He eats from the floor of his dwelling like an animal, can not say a word and the only sound he makes is a whimper like an animal. The authorities long ago gave up the idea of trying to clothe him as he would tear the clothes off of himself a moment after they had been put on. He does not know his own mother and recognizes only the keeper who brings him his food.

The second character whom the authorities now have on their hands is Edward Simeoneau, who was at one time a bright-minded little boy in the public schools of the city, but who now refuses to say a word, refuses to keep clothes on himself and, like Eagen, eats and acts in all ways like an animal. At an early age his brain began to soften and at 16 years of age he had no intelligence at all. His condition has grown worse and separate quarters will have to be given him.

Tied Farmer in a Sack.

New York.—Because he was scolded for letting the hogs wander in the corn, Philip Moore, a farm hand, near Cranbury, N. J., knoed his employer, Henry Riggs, unconscious, tied him hand and foot and put him in a bag, which he flung in a far corner of the field. The fellow then left the place.

Riggs worried his way out of the bag and covered the ropes that bound him on the blade of a hay cutter. He fell in a faint at the foot of his wife. It is said his condition is serious. Moore was caught on the road and jailed.

Dampered Enthusiasm.

"So you didn't give those clothes to the poor, after all?"
"No, indeed. They were so horribly degraded that we were ashamed to go near them."—Puck.

Women Inclined To Constipation

Great Care Should Be Taken Not to Use
Violent Cathartics

Women, owing to their peculiar functions, are more or less liable to constipation and many of them owe their continued ill health to the pill habit. A well known physician lays the majority of cases of foul breath, bad complexion, disordered stomach, sick headache, and female weakness to constipation and the constant use of violent cathartics to overcome it.

We believe women will be glad to learn of a safe, reliable bowel and stomach remedy that is pleasant to take and that the first few doses will certainly produce natural daily movements without pain or gripe and in a short time establish a permanent cure. It is so effective it has cured cases of 60 years' standing and yet so mild and safe thousands of mothers give it to their babies. Jennie Graham, Nashville, Tenn., says: "I suffered almost death with torpid liver and indigestion and Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin gave me quick relief." Sister M. Berchmans, of Mt. St. Mary's Academy, Oklahoma City, says: "We have found Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin so satisfactory as a gentle laxative and stomach tonic."

Mrs. Myrtle Mather, Chicago, says: "My daughter was troubled since birth with constipation and sick headache. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin cured her." Mrs. W. M. Powers, New Philadelphia, Ohio, says: "It is the best remedy for constipation and stomach trouble I have ever used." Mrs. R. H. Brown, Adlington, Ohio, says: "I gave her prompt relief from constipation and torpid liver. Mrs. Isabella Wheeler, Freeport, Ind., says: "Twenty-three years ago I was taken with stomach trouble. Three years ago I had become so weak I could hardly walk. I took Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and today am as well as ever." Druggists sell it at 50c and $1.00 per bottle.

We are glad to send a free sample to any one who has not used it and will give it a fair trial. Address Pepsin Syrup Co., 208 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

STAYED CAVING WALL WITH BRAUNY BACK

WORKMAN SUPPORTS TONS OF DIRT ON HIS SHOULDERS
WHILE COMRADES FLEE.

Seattle, Wash.—With the mangled body of one of his workmen above him, crushed beneath 12 feet of earth, and with two live men below him whose lives he intended to save at any risk, A. F. Heilmann, a foreman for C. J. Erickson, supported tons of caving dirt in a narrow excavation in Jefferson street, between Fourth and Fifth avenues, long enough to allow the men below to escape.

With his broad shoulders pressed against each side of the cut and his back against the staging above him, he supported the weight while placed across the cut to temporarily check the caving earth.

Heilmann then crawled by means of the landings to the bottom of the 22-foot cut and with the two workmen at the bottom crawled through the sewer pipe to the next opening. The way up to the surface from there was easy.

Nicholas Klusa, 24 years of age, was the workman killed. His body was dug out after four hours of heart-breaking work.

The digging was directed by Heilmann, the foreman, who worked like a demon, shoveling himself whenever one of his men gave way.

The deep holes had been dug along Jefferson street for a sewer. The pipe had to be put down low enough to conform with the new grade of the street. Instead of a solid ditch, holes were sunk at intervals the required distance and a tunnel cut from one to the other for the sewer pipe.

The hole in which the cave-in occurred was 22 feet deep. In order to get the earth from the bottom out into the street it had to be shoveled from the foot of the cut to a staging placed about eight feet from the bottom.

From there it was shoveled to another staging and then to the street. Klusa was engaged in placing the supports about the excavation to prevent a cave-in.

Heilmann, the foreman, was on the first staging or landing from the bottom and Klusa was standing on the one first below the level of the street when, with a low rumble, the planking put up to hold the earth at the top gave way and tons of dirt fell upon Klusa and the staging on which he was standing. Heilmann, below him, heard the rumble and knew what had happened.

BOY ATTACKED BY EAGLE.

Saved from Serious Injury by Brother Who Shoots Bird.

Elgin, Ill.—To save his brother, Jacob Baker, from serious injury, Edward Baker, living on a farm near Hampshire, was forced to shoot a large American eagle the other morning. The bird was one of the largest ever seen in that vicinity, measuring more than six feet from tip to tip of its wings, and is thought to have been driven down Wisconsin by the forest fires.

The Baker boys were out early to inspect some traps they had set on the edge of the farm. Jacob was bending over one of the traps when the bird descended upon him like a whirlwind, striking furiously with its wings, and scratching and clawing with beak and claws.

Dazed by the suddenness and ferocity of the attack, Jacob was unable to resist, and would probably have been seriously injured but for the coolness of his brother, who waited until the bird rose for another descent on its victim, and then shot it through the head.

Indians Adrift Thirsty Many Days.

Victoria, B. C.—A dispatch from Celestet says that two Indians who were lost off the sailing schooner Thomas E. Hayward and brought in by the schooner Markland were adrift in an open canoe for 14 days with only three or four loaves of food, and no water for ten days. The Indians alleged that they had one inch of bread a day. After ten days on the water, water was caught in a gull's wing, and was almost gone when they were rescued and landed on the schooner. They had lost all their belongings and were nearly dead.

A largely attended meeting of the A. S. of E. and F. E. and C. U. of A. at Odessa last week unanimously voted to pool tobacco again.

Our people continue to discuss the quickest and best way of getting rid of the Crabbe school law, which is undoubtedly a long step backward so far as the country schools are concerned. For instance, it places Sugar Grove and Lamb districts in one, which gives us a district eight miles long. Big Piney formerly divided the district and there is not even a bridge or road crossing the creek in the district as it is at present.

He Killed A White Deer.

Milford, Pa., Feb. 8.—George C. McKean shot a white buck near his home in McKean valley, along the Shohols, in the hunting season just closed, and the old time native hunters who cling to the superstition that killing a white deer will surely bring bad luck are wondering what will happen to him. This is the fourth white deer of which there is a record hereabouts.

First, James Van Gordon shot in the Lackawanna county the first white deer of the Pike county record. It was a large doe. The Chronicle says: "It was his last shot. A wasting disease attacked him and not long afterward he died."

Years after that Joseph Brick, Alamanzor Griswold and William Westfall were hunting together. In the hunt a white deer was killed. Westfall always declare that it was Joseph Brink's shot that killed it. At any rate Brink, who was a robust man at the time of the hunt, was dead of what the natives called hasty consumption three months later.

Alamanzor Griswold was subsequently killed by the upsetting of a wagon load of stone. The killing of the white deer seemed to have no damaging effect on Westfall, and later having followed the trail of another white deer and shot at it several times without success, he guided a hunting party consisting of Hornbeck Shimer and Henry Frank, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Lyman Bevan, of Port Jervis, N. Y., to its retreat in the Paupae country. All three of these hunters got a shot at the white deer and killed it.

Shimer was a prosperous hotel keeper in Wilkesbarre, and Frank a coal operator, and Bevan a leading merchant in Port Jervis. Shimer lost his fortune and died a miserable death, and his grave was robbed of his body by resurrectionists. Frank became bankrupt and died of smallpox. Bevan failed in business and committed suicide. Westfall died of starvation owing to an ailment that prevented him from taking food.

These misfortunes and fatalities are attributed to the killing of the white deer by the Pike county woodsmen and they see the future holding hard fate for George McKean. He, however, is not disturbed over the prospect.

PANIC WAS CAUSED.

In The Chicago's North-Side Widow's Club.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 28.—Panic invaded the headquarters of the North-Side Widow's Club, an exclusive organization of the North Shore, when announcement was received from Mrs. W. H. Penevost, the Club's most enthusiastic charter member and president, that she no longer was eligible to membership and tendering her resignation. She is married to Denbigh Harold Scott, of Covington, Neb. Mrs. Penevost was one of the organizers, and her opening speech was thrilling.

Here are a few of Mrs. Penevost's striking utterances:

"Man is unfit in his present stage of his mental development for association with the best type of womanhood. The wife generally is fifty years ahead of her husband spiritually and in her intuitive higher understanding."

"Man is a head hunter, loving the lighted streets with an eye single to conquest. While he is telling you that he loves you, he is winking at the girl in the big red hat at the next restaurant table. Men were deceivers ever. For my part, no man will ever enter again into my life, I have tasted freedom and it is sweet."

What her views are now is not fully known, but in her letter of resignation she wrote: "Don't blame me too much. He's such a dear."

T. W. MOORE

Writes An Interesting Letter—Opposes Associations And Unions.

Fredonia, Ky., Jan. 29th, 1909. Mr. S. M. Jenkins.

DEAR SIR: You should not have published my reason for having my paper discontinued, it was only a personal matter between you and myself.

I am not only opposed to the tobacco association we have now but I am opposed to all labor organizations, because they always cause trouble and often death. I am also opposed to organic union of any kind, the Presbyterian Church U. S. A. is trying to force the Cumberland Presbyterian church with all of our property into their church against our will.

I am in favor of fraternal union, but am opposed to organic union from the sole of my feet to the crown of my head. I don't believe in forcing people into any thing, either by night riding or friendship.

Yes I am a farmer, I believe all farmers should set a reasonable price on what they have to sell, and not sell until they get their price and not go into an organization where some scoundrel is trying to get a profit out of it.

The Equity writings of the Piques in your paper had something to do in stopping my paper. I consider some of their writings of an incendiary nature.

I want to suggest another good point, that is for the farmers not to plant too much tobacco, I think two acres and a half to the hand is enough to plant and perhaps won't over stock the market. I am not in favor of forcing farmers to plant any certain amount. Respectfully,

T. W. MOORE.

Candidates are still being born into the primary for the Salt River market.

This seems of late to be a central point for outlaws to pass, especially at night. We are of the opinion that there are more pistols up and down this way than any other part of the country. There is a heavy crop of boys somewhere in the south eastern part of Crittenden county that will make a record some day. We are of the opinion that there at last two things of men and boys who carry pistols without authority, first they have not been raised as they ought to have been, and second they are cowards, to say the least of it, and we are getting very tired of random shooting, especially when our old dog Jack is in front of the pistol.

IF First Officer John Stephens had not been far more interested in the problem of his escape from Valparaiso, where his life was in imminent danger, than in the subject of long lost treasure in the Antarctic ocean, or of a pretty woman, he would—

IF Lady Darlington, wife of a distinguished Earl, had been seeking an adventure and a love affair, she would certainly not have chosen the method which she did, but—

IF When the opportunity for escape was presented to John Stephens he had known just what was in store for him he would undoubtedly have refused, but—

IF You want to get the answer to all of these problems you have but to read our new serial, which we promise you will be a thriller, but of the highest type of literature as well. It is "The Last Voyage of the Donna Isabel," by Randall Parrish, the master craftsman of all American literary workers.

Watch for the opening chapters. They will appear in the near future.
