ODDEN DEATH OF AGED WOMAN

J. J. McNeely Answers Call Saturday at Home of her Daughter near Salem

After a long well spent life, with not even a moments warning, Mrs. J. J. McNeely at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jno. Woodall; was called to the ever-lasting life in Eternity. While Mrs. McNeely was 82 years old, she had been in good health until the very hour of her death. The first intimation that anything was the matter was when she called for the camphur, the words she ever spoke and she was dead in but a few moments.

Mrs. McNeely was one of the best and most highly respected Christian women in this county, having been a consistent member of the Baptist church at Piney for fifty-seven years.

The funeral services conducted by Rev. J. R. King, took place at Piney Creek church Sunday evening witnessed by a vast number of sorrowing relatives and friends.

Of the living children there were nine, ranging from 67 to 40 years old. They are: C. T. McNeely and Mrs. Rodah Beavers, Caldwell county; Mrs. Letitia Woodall, Mrs. Sallie Bibbs, J. B. McNeely, Mrs. Jennie Woodall, Mrs. Mary Hughes, of Marion and Crittenden county, Mrs. Lee Edge of Arkansas and J. W. McNeely of Poducah.

PRIVATE JIM BUTLER

Mr. James Butler, one of the best known and most highly respected old men of the country, was in to see us Monday. Mr. Butler is now eighty years old and notwithstanding that he carries the marks of many hard fought battles in our great civil war, is active, in good health and likely to live many years. His father, James Butler, fought under Gen. Washington. Mr. Butler says he is proud to have lived to see veterans of the Blue and Gray clasp hands over the graves of their fallen comrades and together perpetuate their memory in covering their graves with flowers in Decoration day.

NOTICE

I am at my old stand and ready to serve the public. Will do work on short notice. Have double shovels and new ground plow for sale. Call and see me. GEORGE ADAMS.

MEN WANTED.

Men wanted to cut heading bolts. Apply Geo. S. Woodson, Blackford, Ky.

Miss Maud Gill, who has been teaching at Clovis, N. M., arrived at home Saturday and will spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Gill.

Miss Katie Gray left Monday for Chicago, where she will be the guest of Mrs. H. E. Merritt, for two weeks.

It is time to make concrete walks and white wash your out buildings. See J. N. Boston for the best Portland cement and fresh lime by the barrel or small quantities.

DECORATION DAY SERVICES A SUCCESS.

A Large Crowd Out From All the Churches and Sunday Schools to Enjoy the Day.

Monday dawned bright and clear, with not a cloud to mar its beauty, the birds were all singing their best songs and breathing the air from nature's sweet buds and flowers it is no wonder that every body was made to feel that God had recognized for us this day above all other days of the year.

On this memorable day every home was astir early in making ready their floral gifts and at the appointed time the officers of all the combined churches and Sunday Schools marched with their flocks to our beautiful city of the dead, when after the announced program was carried out, they paid their beautiful floral tributes to the dead, until the vast cemetery was transformed from its sad appearance to a literal flower garden.

Appropriate talks were made by Bros. J. B. Adams, J. F. Price and others and prayer by Bro. Blackburn.

The newly elected officers for the Cemetery Association are: R. L. Moore, Pres., Gus Taylor Vice Pres., Mrs. Cora Crider, Treas., and Miss Nelle Walker, Secy., with Jno W. Blue, H. V. Stone, C. E. Weldon and A. C. Moore as directors.

The program as carried out proved a success in every feature. The many visitors in the city paid many high compliments to the good management for giving us one of the most beautiful cemeteries in West Kentucky.

Of course to keep our cemetery like it is calls for care and work and an efficiency on the part of the officers, and while its condition reflects credit on the town we feel to want to give most of the credit to the noble men and women who have labored incessantly and without pay to make it what it is. Among the foremost and most deserving for all that has been done and for the interest now manifested are Mr. H. V. Stone, Mrs. Geo. M. Crider and Miss Nellie Walker.

OUR SUPERINTENDENT AT BOWLING GREEN

Is Well Pleased With Visit and Highly Compliments President Cherry and Faculty.

On May 4-7 I attended the annual conference of the Superintendents of the Western District which was held at Bowling Green. I think I was never in a more interesting and profitable meeting. The Superintendent who fails to attend these annual conferences of the Western District is going to be lacking in energy and interest for the schools of his county.

I shall not try to give a full account of the meeting, but will say it was presided over by Pres. H. H. Cherry and his able faculty which is sufficient guaranty to all schools that the meeting was a success.

There were forty-nine of the fifty-one Superintendents present. These Superintendents' while there, entertained by the teachers who were attending the State Normal. Each Supt. by the teachers from his own county.

In the picture you will see the teachers from Crittenden county. By these I was royally entertained during my three day's stay there. These teachers will always have a first place in my heart, and when I have a teacher to recommend, these are sure of recommendation. Not because of their courtesies toward me, nor their entertainment, but because they are preparing themselves to do the work for which they offer.

The State Normal at Bowling Green was established for the teachers of the Western District, that they may prepare themselves for efficient work in teaching. More efficient teachers has long been what our boys and girls have needed.

A great deal of our money and time have been wasted on ineffective work. The teachers who does not prepare to do her work and do it properly and effectively ought not to have the work to do. The State Normal at Bowling Green is the place for the teachers of the Western District to make this preparation. President Cherry and his faculty can not be beaten. I have authority to appoint any teacher in Crittenden county to a free scholarship in that great school, and when your winter term is out your time and money could not be spent more profitably than in the State Normal.

BRO. G. F. MASON ON LAST SUNDAY

Delivered an Able Sermon at the Southern Presbyterian Church to Large Congregation.

Rev. Geo. F. Mason, pastor of the Southern Presbyterian church delivered an able address from his pulpit Sunday night to a delighted audience, on "Blind Bartimeus" from the 10th chapter of Mark. Bro. Mason certainly manifested his ability as a story teller and entertainer failing in no instance to show the many wonderful things that had happened in and around Old Jericho.

Through courtesy, Rev. J. B. Adams vacated his own pulpit at the Methodist church that his congregation might hear Bro. Mason, for which Bro. Mason paid a touching compliment to both Pastor and flock.

As Rev. Mason has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Presbyterian church at Monticello, Ga., he will preach his farewell sermon from his pulpit here at 11 o'clock Sunday morning and as he is popular with every one here a crowded house is expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Spicer, of Livingston county, were in town Saturday purchasing a nice, new buggy of T. H. Cochran and Co. They were dined while here by Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Butler, one of the popular salesman of the Yandel-Gugenheim Co.

Mr. Sylvan Price, who has been attending school at State College returned home Sunday.

LETTER FROM GOV. SAUNDERS OF LA.

To Cashier T. J. Yandell, of the Marion Bank, Asking him to Favor New Orleans.

Marion, Ky.
T. J. Yandal Cashier,
Gentlemen:—

Referring to the letter to you from the New Orleans Clearing House Association, asking your assistance in having New Orleans designated as the logical point for holding the World's Panama Exposition, I, too, wish to ask for your kind co-operation in this matter.

Over sixty million of people live within a radius of 1000 miles from New Orleans, while in the same radius from San Francisco there are only six million people. The average railroad fare to New Orleans for over 75 per cent. of the people of this country to visit an Exposition here will be $12.50 as against $37.50 to San Francisco.

It is proposed, because of the importance of the Panama Canal to the Central and South American republics, to extend special invitations to those Governments to participate, and to the people of those nations to visit this exposition. For them New Orleans is the only logical point. Even if an exposition were held in San Francisco, these people would pass through New Orleans to get there. They can come to New Orleans via water in two weeks less time than it will require for them to reach San Francisco.

The people of your state could come to an exposition in New Orleans in much less time, and at much less expense, than they could go to San Francisco, and here is a point which you, as bankers, will readily see the force of:

If this exposition is held in New Orleans, the millions of dollars which will be expended in the construction and maintenance of the great enterprise, and the millions of dollars which will be here expended by hundreds of thousands of people from all parts of the world, will unquestionably remain in the Mississippi Valley and in the South and, during its idle period this immense amount of capital will find its way back to the banks of the North and East.

If this exposition goes to San Francisco, these million of dollars will stay on the Pacific Coast, and not one state East of the Rocky Mountains will receive any benefit therefrom.

Senator Thos. H. Paynter and Representatives John O. Langley and Jos. L. Rhinock of your State are members of the Committees which will settle this important matter and I beg of you to communicate with all of them by wire or letter, in behalf of New Orleans and the South.

Sincerely yours,

J. Y. SAUNDERS,

Gov. of Louisiana.

TOLU

Dear Editor:—As you have not had any correspondent from this place I thought I would give you a few of the happenings of this little village.

We are having plenty of rain and cool weather.

Most of the farmers are done planting corn. All the heavy rains set them back so they are later than usual.

We are having plenty of good tobacco seasons this spring.

Most of the gardens are looking bad around here.

The river is falling slowly. Boats are running regularly now from Evansville to Paducah. The Hopkins every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Lowery every Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Miss Katie Hammond is seriously ill with typhoid fever and is under the care of a trained nurse.

Mrs. Partain, of Ark., is visiting friends at this place, at present she is the guest of Mrs. Sallie Guess.

L. E. Guess and family, of Marion are visiting friends and relatives here this week.

Mrs. C. E. Weldon and children, Harry, Mary and Edwina were the guest of friends here recently.

Miss Mary Sleamaker is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Wm. Turner, of Hebron this week.

A baby girl arrived at Dr. Moores recently.

Aunt Drue Bebout is on the sick list.

Of what use is the hog law with out a pen to put them in.

Every body that is not sick or compelled to work have gone fishing or visiting.

Quite a number from here attended the show at Elizabethtown, Ill., Saturday night.

Mrs. Anna Williams and her little daughter, Louise, who have been visiting her parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Love returned to their home at Greenville, last week.

Charlie and Anthony Thomas and their families visited their brother, Robert Thomas Sunday.

J. B. Croft has returned home from Salem where he has been visiting friends.

Prayer meeting here every Wednesday night.

Clyde Lucas and J. E. Phillips have rented the Tolu Telephone, and are giving satisfaction.

Fruit is very scarce in this vicinity.

Hurrah for the Colon boys they did extra good playing if they did loose their first game. Scores being 8 to 10 in favor of Cave-In-Rock.

Harry Stone is catching some fine fish. He had the pleasure of landing one Friday morning weighing 55 pounds.

STAR.

Rev. J. R. King will preach here next Saturday night and Sunday.

Big day here Monday May, 30th.

Some tobacco planted.

Where is that telephone line?

That new law prohibiting soft drinks to be sold within one mile of any campmeeting or association, no doubt is good news to the campmeeting people at this place.

Come out to Sunday School and bring your children, we need your help.

Our blacksmith and broom factory man, John Turley, is kept busy.

When are we going to clean off the grave yard at this place?

Our mail carrier, Mr. Guess, is always on time bringing us our Post Cards.

Charley Hunt is hauling timber.

Crops are being worked out.

B. T. Bradley makes us a good Sunday School superintendent.

There is but little wheat or oats in this section.

Ed Hunt contemplates building a blacksmith shop. Ed is a hustler.

"Sure Cure"

"I would like to guide suffering women to a sure cure for female troubles," writes Mrs. R. E. Mercer, of Frozen Camp, W. Va.

The Woman's Tonic

The pains from which many women suffer every month are unnecessary.

It's not safe to trust to strong drugs, right at the time of the pains.

Better to take Cardui for a while, before and after, to strengthen the system and cure the cause.

This is the sensible, the scientific, the right way. Try it.

FORMER MARION BOY IS PROSPERING.

Walter Walker Buys one of the Leading Democratic Papers in Colorado.

Walter Walker, for nearly six years past, the city and news editor of The Daily Sentinel, has purchased the newspaper, plant and business of the Ouray Plaindealer, one of the oldest, one of the best known and one of the most substantial weekly newspapers in the state of Colorado, located in Ouray, the center of one of the greatest and most famous mining districts in the world.

The purchase of the newspaper by Mr. Walker was formerly perfected today, and the purchase is made from the Ouray Plaindealer company, capitalized at $10,000 and which company was formed many years ago by Mr. F. J. Hulanski, who for more than twenty years has been manager and editor of the Plaindealer and whose able and original style of writing and whose close connection with the political and mining life of the state has had much to do toward giving the Plaindealer more than statewide reputation.

Mr. Walker will take possession of the Plaindealer on June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Walker leaving Grand Junction for Ouray on Sunday, May 28.

Mr. Hulanski, who retires from the ownership and editorship of the Ouray Plaindealer, is forced to leave the high altitude on account of his health and he and his family will leave Ouray shortly for California for a long visit and Mr. Hulanski will devote his attention to his extensive mining interests in Colorado and in New Mexico.

The Ouray Plaindealer was established 26 years ago. It is the official publication of the city and county of Ouray. It has always enjoyed a splendid patronage and has a wide circulation and a wide influence. It is a democratic publication and will naturally continue as such under Mr. Walker who will exert his efforts to make it not only one of the best weeklies in Colorado, a position it now holds, but one of the best weekly publications in the West.

Ouray, considered Colorado's most picturesque and beautiful mining camp, is the center of the famous mining fields in which are located the wonderful and fabulously rich Camp Bird gold mine (discovered by Tom Walsh) and many other very rich mines. Hundreds of miners are steadily employed in the district and just now Ouray and the Ouray district is entering upon a season of great activity.

Mr. Walker has been connected with The Daily Sentinel as its city and news editor since September 13, 1904.

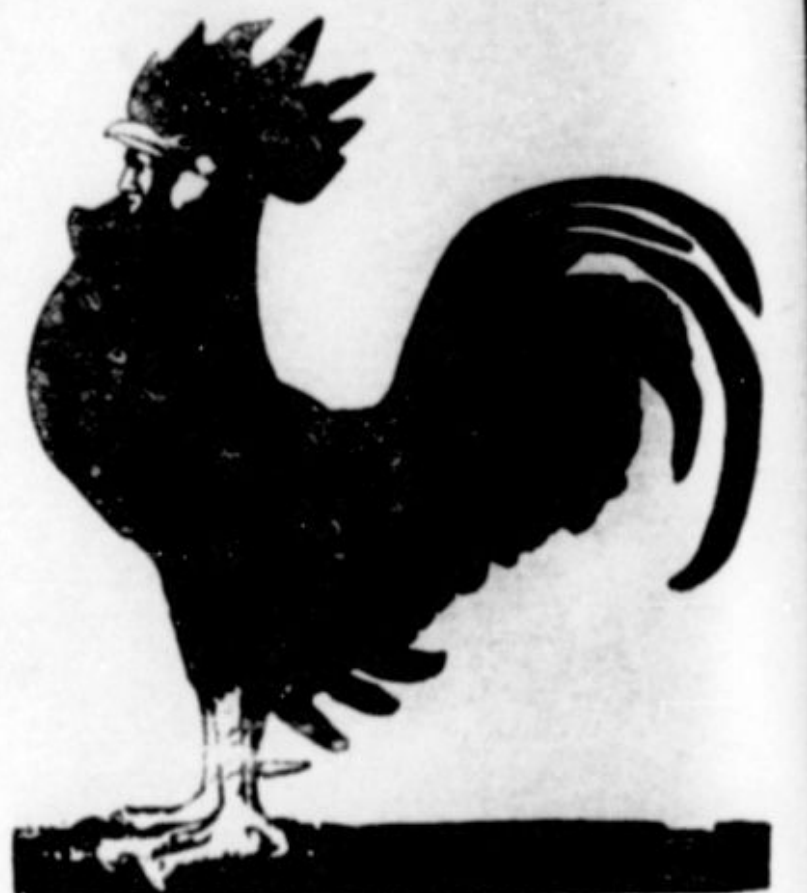

It has not yet been definitely determined who shall succeed Mr. Walker on The Sentinel, the

TO OUR READERS!

By special arrangement we offer you a great opportunity to read

"Chantecler"

EDMOND ROSTAND'S wonderful "Chantecler" is the dramatic sensation of the world. In it Rostand proves himself to be one of the greatest dramatists of all times. "Chantecler" is not only the greatest play of the century—it is the one great play of the last hundred years. It is an exquisite story, palpitating with human sympathy and interest. It warms the blood—stirs the emotions—arouses every commendable sentiment. "Chantecler" sparkles with wit—counsels with wise philosophy—entertains with fascinating idiom—while the tones of the hour bell of today, and today's problems, are heard through the medium of "Chantecler's" deliciously up-to-date slang. No language contains sufficient superlatives to describe it. Only reading and study will enable you to appreciate it. It has aroused all France—London has gone mad over it.

The Only English Translation

Rostand has chosen HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE as the medium through which to present "Chantecler" to the English-reading world. The publication will be in four installments, one act to each instalment, beginning in the June number. The translator is the same who helped to make "Cyrano de Bergerac" so fascinating to American booklovers.

We have made special arrangements with the publishers of HAMPTON'S by which our readers may get "Chantecler" and the many other fine features published in HAMPTON'S in connection with our own paper, practically without cost. Read our offer below.

OTHER EXPENSIVE FEATURES

HAMPTON'S MAGAZINE every month contains the most costly, most important, and most interesting contents ever put between the covers of a general magazine. "Peary's Own Story" of the discovery of the North Pole, a $50,000 feature, is now in its most interesting stage, giving the positive "proofs" that Commander Peary and no other man discovered the North Pole. "The True History of the Southern Pacific Railroad" by Charles Edward Russell is one of the greatest magazine serials ever published. Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr's articles on the "Power of the Women's Clubs" are without an equal in their appeal to women everywhere. Fiction contributors include the foremost story-tellers of the world; Arthur Stringer has a new series called "The Adventures of an Insomniac"; James B. Connolly describes in several stories his Trip Around the World with the American Fleet; Frederick Palmer is contributing a series of airship stories of which Danbury Rodd is the central character. The only new idea in detective fiction since Sherlock Holmes is provided in the second series of stories about Luther Trant, the psychological detective, written by Edwin Halmer and William G. MacHarg. Other Short Stories are by such favorites as O. Henry, Gouverneur Morris, Charles Belmont Davis, Rupert Hughes, Josephine Daskam Bacon, Harris Merton Lyon and many others.

LOGICAL SPEECH BY M. F. SHARP.

Urging the Farmers to Co-operate and Stand Together for Their Mutual Protection.

One of the best and most logical speeches ever heard in this city on the question of farmers organizing for their mutual protection was delivered Saturday afternoon in the city court room by M. F. Sharp, of Narrows, Ky., state organizer for the American Society of Equity.

Mr. Sharp is a forcible speaker and convinces his hearers that he has studied the subject of which he speaks.

His address was in the interest of the A. S. of E., and so convincing was his argument in favor of the farmers sticking to the society that, when he had finished, many who had lagged behind in dues, paid up and were reinstated. Several new members were added to the union.

The speaker was bitter in his denunciation of those who tried to cause a split in any farmer's organization, and said when any one came with a wedge to split the society in twain, no matter if it was the Stemming Association or any other farmers' organization, the fellow who tried it should be drummed out of the order and shunned. He said it was personal and selfish ambition that caused a man to undertake such a move and that no man ought to be convinced that by splitting a log in two it was stronger. In speaking of the effort to have two tobacco pooling societies here, he said that men let their prejudices get the better of their judgment sometimes, and that by having two organizations the purpose of such organizations were weakened. The enemy would take the two factions to fight with and cause dissensions and strife that would soon put both societies out of business. He said Union is what the farmers want. Division is to be shunned and scoffed at. He urged the farmers to get together and fight shoulder to shoulder.

Mr. Sharp said that every farmers' organization that had been formed to control price and benefit the farming class had sprung from the A. S. of E., and he endeavored to show that it would be much cheaper and easier to pool tobacco through the local unions than to pool under the present system of employing solicitors to make a house-to-house canvass. He illustrated that the farming class was all powerful if they would assert their power. He said when they were prosperous the merchant was prosperous also, but when the farmer was crushed by the Trusts and was only half paid for his products the merchant felt his poverty as keenly as did the farmer himself. The speaker asserted that when the farmer is happy and prosperous the nation is safe, but when he is half fed and clothed and dragged out a miserable existence, then the nation is in danger.

The speaker said that the cause of the farmers in organizing was second only to the cause of the revolutionary war. That our forefathers rebelled because they were taxed without representation and that the farmers were rebelling to day because they had to sell with out having any voice in the prices of the article they sold. He said that everything from the newsboy up to the richest corporations were organized and the only way to meet them was by counter organization. He referred to the miners and showed how they had bettered their condition by banding together, and said that the farmers by organizing solidly could cope with the greatest capitalists in the world, for he had the bread of life—he fed and clothed the world, and the man of millions could not eat his money and was bound to favor the farmer in order to get the things that prolong life. He urged the farmers to get into the A. S. of E. and pool their products as well as tobacco, and aid that they could control prices and cope with the devil and his hosts.

He favored organization and making a rule that no one but members be allowed to pool. He paid his respects to the man who would not pool his tobacco but dumped it on the market and got the benefit of the farmers who did pool. He said it was as sueaking as milking a neighbor's cow through a fence and that the dumper had no business any where but with the trusts or the devil. He said these fellows generally said that they can attend to their own business. Continuing, Mr. Sharp said: "Let them alone—leave them to attend to their own business; don't go about them; let them thresh their own wheat and roll their own logs and he will soon find that he can't run his own business with his neighbors against him, and will come into the union. There is no use to use violence—you can organize without that. The trusts can't exist without the co-operation of the farmer, and the farmer who refuses to pool his products and help the men who are striving for better conditions is a worse enemy to organization than the trusts. Some men are so foolish that they hold a ten cent piece so close to their eye they can't see the $20 gold piece about three feet away."

Answer This Question

When shown positive and reliable proof that a certain remedy had cured numerous cases of female ills, wouldn't any sensible woman conclude that the same remedy would also benefit her if suffering with the same trouble?

Here are two letters which prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fitchville, Ohio.—"My daughter was all run down, suffered from pains in her side, head and limbs, and could walk but a short distance at a time. She came very near having nervous prostration, had begun to cough a good deal, and seemed melancholy by spells. She tried two doctors but got little help. Since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, Blood Purifier and Liver Pills she has improved so much that she feels and looks like another girl."—Mrs. C. Cole, Fitchville, Ohio.

Irassburg, Vermont.—"I feel it my duty to say a few words in praise of your medicine. When I began taking it I had been very sick with kidney and bladder troubles and nervous prostration. I am now taking the sixth bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and find myself greatly improved. My friends who call to see me have noticed a great change."—Mrs. A. H. Sanborn, Irassburg, Vermont.

We will pay a handsome reward to any person who will prove to us that these letters are not genuine and truthful—or that either of these women were paid in any way for their testimonials, or that the letters are published without their permission, or that the original letter from each did not come to us entirely unsolicited.

What more proof can any one ask?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

LETTER FROM COLEMAN MOORE

Feels Marion High School Canceled Date With Them Because of Madisonville's Report.

Hopkinsville, Ky., May 25.—To the people of Marion and Crittenden county:

The information has come to us from reliable sources that because of certain aspersions cast upon our city and our student body, the manager of Marion High School base ball team cancelled a date with a team in this city.

We invite the people of Marion and the students of Marion High school to visit us or engage in interscholastic contests with us and see what fair and gentlemanly treatment is really received by visitors in our city.

Madisonville and Hopkinsville High schools were contestants for the football championship of Western Kentucky. This honor was won by our school.

We had a large silken banner made to commemorate our victory. This banner was carried to Paducah and displayed at the third annual meeting of the Western Kentucky Oratorical League.

The morning after the contest certain Madisonville students obtained this banner from the clerk at the Palmer House by donning our colors and resorting to other false pretences. This banner has never been returned. That it is now in Madisonville is an absolute certainty. The identity of the coward has never been discovered.

Because of our protest against this proceeding the student body of Madisonville High School have taken every opportunity of libeling and defaming our city and school.

I have asked that the editor of the Record-Press publish this letter, stating the facts of the case in the interests of fair play. Yours very truly, COLEMAN MOORE, JR.,

Ass't Mgr. Orange and Black Eleven.

The Crittenden Record-Press

N. E. CALME: Editor and Publisher.

Entered as second-class matter February 9th 1907 at the postoffice at Marion, Kentucky, under Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

One Dollar the Year in Advance.

City Marshall A. S. Cannan deserves to be complimented for having the streets in the congested part of town so beautifully cleaned and also for his invasion of the back yards of the business houses. One of the best recommendations to a home is a clean one and so it is with a town.

The Apollo Concert Company and Bell Ringers entertained a reasonably full house at Manager Clark's Majestic Theatre last Thursday and true our predictions proved the best, all-round aggregation visiting Marion for some time. Their music was high class and well rendered from first to last. They were a jovial pleasant lot and could play perfectly on more different instruments than any set of entertainers ever visiting us. Mr. Clark is making a date with the same management for another high class entertainment soon.

As the following editorial in the Record-Press brought forth some comment and was construed by some as an intended reflection on Mr. E. Jeffery Travis, our county school superintendent, when our whole aim was to disgust the people with the law if law it was, to the extent that it would eventually be repealed before the seeming aim of such law gradually allowed the negro equal rights in our free schools with the white.

Mr. Travis appealed to State Superintendent Regenstein while we appealed to Superintendent N. C. Hammack for the custom of our sister county, Union. Following is the editorial paragraph and replies.

Supt. E. Jeffery Travis,
Marion, Ky.

Dear Mr. Travis:—

Answering your letter under date of May 19th, I beg to advise that the law does not provide a separate examination for white and colored Common School graduates. The examination must of necessity be held in the same room, or at least in the same building.

Very truly yours,
ELLSWORTH REGENSTEIN,
Superintendent.
Per T. W. VINSON,
Chief Clerk.

Morganfield, Ky.
Mr. N. E. Calmes,

Dear Sir:—

In regard to examinations for colored and white applicants, there is nothing in the school law that forces them to be examined in the same room. We hold our examinations in court house, and have separate rooms for white and blacks. I think it suits both sides better. There is no dissatisfaction in regard to it here.

It is natural that new official will make some mistakes, they all do it, old ones as well. Mr. Travis wrote me in regard to this question, about examinations, of the two races, and I am answering him in the same mail and advising him of how I manage it. I want you and the superintendent to get along, work for better schools and be friends.

Sincerely yours,
N. C. HAMMACK.

A WOMAN'S GREAT IDEA

is how to make herself attractive. But, without health, it is hard for her to be lovely in face, form or temper. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation and Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. But Electric Bitters always prove a godsend to women who want health, beauty and friends. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give smooth, velvet skin, lovely complexion, good health. Try them. 50c. at Haynes & Taylor's Drug store.

A NEW HOME, SWEET HOME

Here's a beautiful picture of "Home Sweet Home," not the one of the old sweet song; but a modern home, built by turtle doves, who sing through the whole day long. They have only been married just one short year, but ah, what a happy pair, and love sits in every chair. Each room in the house is a little gem, the furnishings bright and new, and while not the most expensive, they're handsome and tasty too. The wife is as pretty as she can be and wise as she is pretty besides. She used Chi-Namel on all the floors, and recommends it to brides. The Chi-Namel Ready-to-Use Graining Process will make any old floor look like new surface. Sold by W. O. Tucker Furniture Co.

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to return our sincere thanks to our friends for their benevolent acts and deeds during the brief sickness and death of our dear mother, Mrs. J. J. McNeely and to Bro. J. R. King for his words of comfort in this hour of grief. May God bless you all is our prayer.

CATAARRH QUICKLY CURED BY A PLEASANT GERM-KILLING ANTISEPTIC

The little Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) inhaler is made of hard rubber and can easily be carried in pocket or purse. It will last a life time.

Into this inhaler you pour a few drops of magical Hyomei.

This is absorbed by the antiseptic gauze within and now you are ready to breathe it in over the germ infested membrane where it will speedily begin its work of killing catarrh germs. Hyomei is made of Australian eucalyptol combined with other antiseptics and is very pleasant to breathe.

It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, bronchitis, sore throat, croup, coughs and colds or money back. It cleans out a stuffed up head in two minutes. Sold by druggists everywhere and by Haynes & Taylor. Complete outfit included inhaler and one bottle of Hyomei, $1.00. And remember that extra bottles if afterward needed cost only 50c.

A HIGH COMPLIMENT TO MANAGER TRAVIS

Manager James Travis, manager for the Home Telephone Company at Marion, was paid a compliment that reflects credit to his company as well, when Mr. J. W. McNeely, Transportation Supt. of Paducah Traction Company said that in fifteen minutes after the death of his aged mother, the nine children in Paducah, Caldwell, Crittenden county and Arkansas were notified of it.

DEATH OF HENRY STEMBRIDGE

Uncle Henry Stembridge as he was generally known died at his home near Iron Hill, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. RED LETTER DAY AT CROOKED CREEK

Bro. R. M. Franks Was There and Gives a Good Report of the Great Event.

Notwithstanding the excessive rainy days and the discouraging outlook for the farmers who are liable to grumble any way and any how, the fourth Sunday was altogether lovely, but when we consider the vast multitude who gathered at Crooked Creek church on this the fourth Sunday in May, it makes us want more fourth Sundays. We hardly know where or how to begin to talk about it. Long before 10 o'clock the people from all quarters began to come in wagons, buggies, surreys, horse back and on foot till the house was packed to its utmost capacity. From the first song the inspiration began to rise and continued to rise during the entire day's service. Our Lord's return to earth again, being the first song. The Sunday School exercises were short but interesting. After a short intermission Bro. Gibbs delivered one of his master sermons on missions. When we say master sermons we mean a master sermon from any standpoint. At the close of the sermon we sang another good song and your church clerk was called to take account of the subscriptions for missions. The first call was for $5.00 led by Bro. Gibbs and Dr. Frazer followed, three, two, one and so on down to dimes and nickles until nearly $60 were collected for missions. We sang a closing song and had benediction for noon and in a few minutes the whole face of the earth for no little distance was covered with the finest display of the best things from pickles to ham pork, chicken, mutton, light-bread, corn bread, cakes, pies, jellies, preserves, strawberries and tooth picks too numerous to mention. Well of course we had to wait an hour or more after dinner before we could do anything.

At 2:30 we gathered for the afternoon service, beginning with a song after which Bro. Duncan favored us with a good talk on Sunday Schools. At this juncture Bro. Eaton gave us a splendid sermon on the second coming of Christ. At the close of his sermon we sang again. The Lord's Return to Earth Again. Bro. J. C. Kingsolving was present and led the prayer in A. M. after the reading of the scripture lesson by Bro. Eaton.

Well I shall not undertake to tell who was there, but he was there and she was there and they were all there and I was right there and I saw women not a few and men too. Why not enjoy life? You can if you will. Yours for a long life, R. M. Franks.

HOME INDORSEMENT.

Hundred of Marion citizens can tell you all about it. Home endorsement, the public expression of Marion people, should be evidence beyond dispute for every Marion reader. Surely the experience of friends and neighbors, cheerfully given by them, will carry more weight than the utterance of strangers residing in far away places. Read the following:

William Redd, farmer, Marion, Ky., says: "I was subject to sharp twinges through my loins when I stooped or lifted and was also troubled by a pain in my back. At night I had an acute backache and when I arose in the morning, I was very lame. I tired easily, felt dull and languid and at times was nervous. The kidney secretions were to frequent in passage and I was obliged to arise three or four times during the night. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store and after using them about three days, I received such great relief that I continued taking them until I was cured. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milbourn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

THE SEA OF LIFE

[By Miss Roberta Louise Baird]

A painter stood at his canvass, And in his imagination, He painted a sea that was rife; With huame habitation; Where black clouds hovered ominously, O'er the sea-gulls piercing scream Assuming vague fantastic shadows,

'Mid a sunburst's lurid gleam. Amid that seething ocean, Some ragged crags loomed high, Upon which these hopeless victims, To save themselves would try: While upon their faces was depicted, The appalling fear of their fates As they strove to support their bodies. On the sinking ones of their mates. And yet their were so many, No effort seemed to make,

Upon whose faces was the peace, Of inevitable fate; While just a few escaped, To this vantage place of goal, And on the towering rock, A footing seemed hold.

And where there was one safety, A thousand were drifting in the sea, Whose famished cries and moanings Were pitiful to see;

While the rock loomed in the distance, The one escaped from doom, Its compass small and meager, Upon its face was room.

And as his picture grew, 'Twas pitiful to see, The number of hapless victims, That fell back into the sea; And the few whose dauntless courage, Grew stronger with defeat, Who wavered not or faltered, 'Till victory was complete.

For upon this rock were people, From every walk in life, Who had fame and fortune won, Amid the surging strife, There were millionaires and scientists, And monarchs of Lydian fame, Who had scanned the mount of science, And won themselves a name.

The fortunate ones upon this rock, The ones of fame and gold, Were feasting in some revelry, As Socrates of old; While scores of men and women, With the stamp of genuine mold, Were succumbed to the waves, And drifted out to shoal.

And yet there stood in groups, A few of an earnest band And some there were though rescued, Would calmly faint away, As the sun came out occasionally, And lent its sickening ray.

Just as scores of people succumb To the breath of pestilence and blight, As scores start fresh in the morning,

A few hold out in the fight, And as the sun shines balefully, The weaklings fade and drop, At the foot of the rugged mountain.

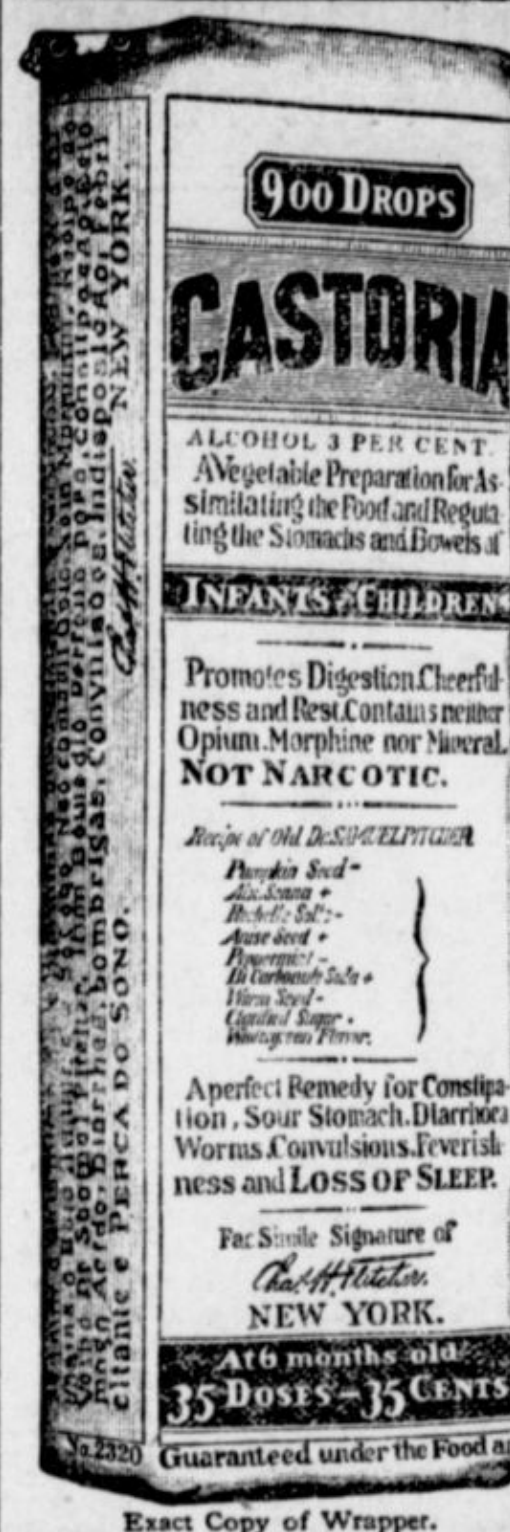

While there's room enough at the top.

For this was the seething sea, Of constant surging strife, The restless sea of humanity, The wonderful sea of life, That depicts so clearly, The people's true condition, While the rock in mid-ocean typifies, The thing we call position.

At length o'ercome by emotion, The artists sank in his chair, With his face buried in his hands A long time rested there; His own somber mood, Upon the canvass was reflected, As the truthness of the picture, Had made his heart dejected.

Then something filled his soul, And suddenly he leaped to his feet!

With feverish haste began

From Lucile's Diary

When father announced that he and his new young business friend, Walter Dare, were going to leave Friday before last for a flying trip to Washington, I immediately proposed myself as a member of the party.

"I don't think that would do at all," protested mother. "Your father and Mr. Dare will have a great many matters to attend to and you would be in the way."

"Daddy, dear," I said, after kissing the tiny bald spot on father's head, "is your little girl ever in your way?" "No, of course not, child," he replied. "Your mother simply meant that Dare and I are going to Washington on pretty important business, and will be too much occupied to devote much time to your entertainment."

"Oh, there are so many interesting things to see in Washington that I can entertain myself," I said.

"Father," I remarked, gayly, Thursday night, "my trunk is packed for Washington."

"Why, Lucile, you're not really expecting to go, are you?" asked mother.

"Of course I am," I answered, good naturedly.

"But your father did not say you could."

"He did not say I couldn't; did you, daddy?"

"No," answered father, "but I fear, my dear, that you'd better not go."

"I haven't been out of town for a long time, father," I urged, "and I love to travel with you. I shall be dreadfully disappointed if you don't take me." I could not keep back the tears as I spoke.

"Oh, well," said father, "if the child's heart is set on the trip I suppose she'll have to go."

Mr. Dare proved a delightful traveling companion. We had some long talks while father was in the smoking compartment. We disagreed just enough to make our discussions spicy, and by the time we reached Washington we were on the footing of old friends without having worn off the novelty of our short acquaintance. He had told me who were his favorite authors and I had named the actors I admired most and had laughingly confessed that my two passions were the theater and automobilism.

"I'm sorry we can't go to some play to-night, Miss Lucile," he said, as we were breakfasting at our hotel Saturday morning. "Unfortunately, business is the order of this evening, but we won't let anything interfere with a nice little theater party Monday night."

"That will be lovely!" I exclaimed, enthusiastically.

When I went to my room after dinner Saturday evening I found a big bunch of roses, a box of candy, a thick new novel and a tiny note from Mr. Dare expressing the hope that I would not be lonely during the evening. I must say I think Mr. Dare was very nice in some ways. He was especially thoughtful about automobiles. Sunday he took father and me around Washington in a big touring car. Monday he suggested that I go to the concert at the marine barracks.

I was greatly astonished and delighted to meet my old school friend, Laura Burnett, after the concert. I had not seen her for years, for she married a marine officer when she was a mere child.

"Jack is stationed here now," she explained, "and we are having a lovely time. We are going to Fort Myer to a hop to-night, and you must go with us. Jack and I know a lot of bachelor officers who will make it pleasant for you."

Just then a perfectly stunning-looking young man joined us and she introduced him as Capt. Blossom, and he begged to be my escort to the hop.

At first I hesitated, but it seemed to me that it would be foolish to miss a military hop just to go to the theater, so I accepted the invitation. Laura and I went down to the hotel in the taxicab and I got an evening dress out of my trunk and wrote a few lines to father asking him to tell Mr. Dare that I was dreadfully sorry to miss the play and that I hoped he and father would have a good time without me.

Capt. Blossom and I dined with the Burnetts. We all went over to Fort Myer and had a perfectly delightful evening. I certainly think there are no men so handsome on a dancing floor as officers in uniform.

"Where is Mr. Dare?" I asked father the next day at luncheon, for I did not get up to breakfast.

"He took the midnight train for New York," said father. "I'm very much afraid that your absence from the play last night offended Dare, for he went away very unceremoniously."

"Oh, daddy, he never could have missed poor little me," I said, laughingly, but father still looked grave.

The trip home was awfully dull. Father was engrossed in his business papers and when he did talk he kept saying that he feared Mr. Dare's feelings had been hurt.

"Goodness, father," I said, at last "don't worry. Surely, Mr. Dare isn't a sensitive plant. When he calls or me, as he said he would do, you'll see that he's just as cordial as ever."

But, strangely enough, although he has been at home several days, Mr. Dare has not yet called. Neither has Capt. Blossom sent me the photograph of himself in full-dress uniform that he promised to forward at once. Some times I think men are all faithless creatures.

IN THE REAR APARTMENT

Only in New York are such acquaintances possible. We are very near neighbors. Our two apartment houses approach each other as closely as the law permits, and our windows are exactly on a line. We had been enjoying the privacy of having a vacant flat before our windows for months, when our seclusion was suddenly broken in upon. The windows so near our own were thrown open one day. Our neighbors had arrived.

We decided at once that they were bride and bridegroom and that the old colored servant had been in her family for a generation. They were very quiet neighbors, not in the least obtrusive or noisy, and without ever speaking to them, after the New York fashion, we came to regard them with quite a neighborly spirit. The daily routine of the bride's apartment soon became very familiar. We knew the hours of their meals, their plans for calls and callers. If the bridegroom were late in coming home or the couple went away for a day we knew it, and their doings supplied much of our small gossip.

One summer's night when the windows were thrown open on the air shaft we were attracted by a sudden commotion. An elderly gentleman, obviously a doctor, hurried in and we saw a group gathered anxiously about the bed. What is left to flat dwellers of the spirit of neighborliness was aroused. The little bride was very ill. The lights burned in her room throughout the night; nor did the doctor leave till daybreak. Out of pure sympathy we slept little ourselves that night. Then followed a long illness, which we watched with anxious attention. When the doctor's visits changed from three visits a day to a single call it was a source of rejoicing for us all. And one bright morning, weeks after, the little bride appeared in her chair before the window. Silently we all rejoiced in her improvement. She looked very pretty and very frail in her gayly colored dressing gown, with its profusion of pink ribbons. And each day the great bouquet of flowers before her was renewed.

A week passed and then one day we missed the little bride from the window. She had gone back to bed, and again the doctor came regularly at first, daily, but soon, to our consternation, twice each day. Later, however, the calls became fewer and once again the little bride took up her place by the window. But it was a greatly changed little figure, which went straight to our hearts. The gay dressing gown was gone, as were the pink ribbons, and the face looked drawn and pale. Then the effort proved beyond her strength and we saw her no more.

But one night our attention was attracted to the window again and we watched fearfully with anxious hearts. Two doctors and a nurse hastily summoned were beside the bed. The bridegroom sat at the foot, his head buried in his hands, without moving. The doctors and the nurse were obviously working with desperate haste. One, two, three hours passed and then the lights were turned down and the curtain, which had been forgotten, was drawn. We knew all, and throughout that night the loss seemed to be our own. The next morning we saw the undertakers enter the room with their hideous tools.

And the pathetic little family has not yet gone out of our life. The husband and the old colored maid still live in the apartment. At first we marveled that he should stay on alone among so many memories, but we have decided that these memories are all that he has left. He sits by the windows alone in the early evening with the room darkened. We feel that we know him well and that he is bound to us by innumerable bonds of sympathy. But we have never so much as learned his name.

The Lady of the Telephone.

She is more than five feet tall, she is neat, she is quick, she is never deaf nor dumb, she is invisible when most effective—she is the girl who must be consulted before you can get the telephone you want, says the Baltimore Sun. The government experts find that she can answer 225 calls a minute without shedding a hairpin, but do not mention that she can give you the same wrong number three times in five minutes and cause attacks of apoplexy and indignation at both ends of the wire. She must be either very patient or very indifferent, this operator in the conversation exchange, for she deals with many men of many tempers and many women of many tongues. And if she can manage this successfully and emerge from a day of conflict with unruffled temper and smiling face, she must be a wonder.

New Remedy.

Customer—I wish I had as good a head of hair as you have. I have tried everything to remedy my baldness, but with no good results.

Watchmaker—Have you ever tried rubbing your head with steel?

Customer—Certainly not. That's ridiculous.

Watchmaker—Why ridiculous? Isn't it a fact that steel makes the hair spring?

Bled eight feet from the ground, a rubber-yielding tree of 15 inches diameter gives three pints of liquid.

Aids Old Men

The sudden change from years of activity of both body and mind to the quiet of later years causes the human system to undergo many changes, chief of which is in the digestive organs.
It becomes harder and harder to get the bowels to move promptly and regularly and in consequence many elderly men suffer not only from the back trouble, constipation, but from indigestion, headache, belching, sour stomach, drowsiness after eating and similar annoyances. It is first of all necessary to keep the bowels open and then to tone the digestive muscles so as to get them to again do their work naturally. A violent cathartic or purgative is not only unnecessary but harmful, and something mild will do the work just as well.
After you have got through experimenting with salts and pills and waters of various kinds, and have become convinced that they do only temporary good at best, then try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. A mild, gentle, pleasant-tasting laxative tonic that is especially adapted to the requirements of old people, women and children. Your druggist, who has handled it successfully for a quarter of a century, will sell you a bottle for fifty cents or one dollar, but if you want to make a test of it before spending any money send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell and he will gladly send you a sample bottle free of charge.
This remedy is rapidly displacing all other forms of medication for the cure of stomach, liver and bowel trouble, and families like Mr. O. F. Wisner's of Byca-more, Ill., and Mrs. Carrie Culler's of 225 N. Notre Dame street, South Bend, Ind., are now never without it in the house. They have tested it and know its grand value to every member of the family.
Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail.
For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

TEN THOUSAND AT WORLD'S S. S. CONVENTION.

WASHINGTON THROGGED FOR THE MOST COS- MOPOLITAN GATHERING EVER HELD ON THIS CONTINENT.

Five Thousand Men in Bible Class Procession Down Pennsylvania
Avenue. Congress Adjourns for Parade. President Taft Makes Speech and Mrs. Taft Gets Ovation.

Unprecedented for its cosmopolitanism, unequalled in the magnitude of its constituency, and unsurpassed as a spectacle,
the World's Sixth Sunday School Convention in Washington, D. C., May 19-24, marks an event in religious history.

President Taft was not alone in expressing amazement over the size and character of the Convention. He looked out over a sea of six thousand faces on the opening night, while outside the Convention Hall a still larger number of persons congregated, unable to enter.
Nearly twenty-five hundred of the official delegates wore red ribbon badges with the legend
"North America." Rev. James F. Price was one of the 52 delegates from Kentucky. Some five hundred others wore blue badges bearing the names of more than fifty different nations, as remote as China and South America, Turkey and Australia.
In addition to these three thousand official and representative delegates from every State and Province in the United States and Canada and from foreign lands, there were about seven thousand unofficial delegates or visitors. Sometimes three and four simultaneous Convention sessions were inadequate to hold the throngs.

A GREAT SPECTACLE,
It was a spectacular Convention. The great Men's Bible Class Parade on the afternoon of May 20 opened the eyes of Washington to the virility and masculinity of modern religion.
In order that some members of Congress might march in the parade, as they did, and that others might witness it, Congress adjourned early on the day of the demonstration. Torrential rains immediately preceded and followed the parade, largely reducing the ranks; nevertheless five thousand men in bannered procession two miles long marched down Pennsylvania Avenue, and were reviewed at the Capitol by a throng of ten thousand persons.

All these marching men belong to the Sunday School, and the thought uppermost in the minds of many of the spectators who lined the sidewalks was expressed on one banner, "Where the men lead the boys will follow." A huge mass-meeting for men, with ringing speeches
by Rev. Dr. Homer C. Stuntz and Rev. Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, followed the parade. At the same time two big meetings of women delegates were in session.
Another spectacular feature of the convention was a great open air gathering on the east steps of the Capitol, when a multitude of people joined in singing of Christian hymns.

The demonstration accorded President and Mrs. Taft—whom the former introduced to the cheering throng as "the real President"—stirred the nation's Chief Executive greatly. He declared his belief in the fundamental importance of religious training of the youth of the nation through the Sunday School.
MET UNDER A WORLD MAP.

The Convention met with a monster map of the world before its eyes. The official button showed the globe with a red cross superimposed thereupon.
Part of each day was given to a "Roll Call of Nations." The ends of the earth came together at Washington.

Strikingly, the note of international peace resounded from session to session; the depth of conviction upon this subject which possessed the delegates made the gathering worthy to rank among the great peace conferences.

On the closing night of the Convention there was a tableau of seventy five children reproducing the picture which this convention has made famous;
"The Twentieth Century Crusaders." The children of many nations gathered under the Sunday-School flag. At the same time delegates from many lands
—Korea, China, India, Japan, Mexico, Brazil, Turkey, ect.— gathered on the front of the platform and all sang together to the one tune, but each in his own tongue, one of the familiar Christian hymns that is sung the world around.

THE WORLD'S LARGEST ORGANI-ZATION.

The statistics of the Convention were presented at this time, the flag of each nation being added to a display stand as the figures from that land were given. The total showing is 27, 888,479 members of whom above 16,000,000 are found in the United States and Canada. This includes 2,500,000 officers and teachers; the number of schools reported being 285,842. All ages from octogenarians and other adults by the million to infants on the cradle roll and in the kindergarten department are now found in the Sunday School.
This vast company is scattered over the habitable globe, the increase in non Christian lands being especially noteworthy.

Various factors combined to make the Convention a missionary occasion. Many distinctively missionary addresses were made.
The presence of several hundred missionaries helped. So did the Missionary and Educational Exhibit. The realization that the agency which deals with childhood is the most potent evangelizing force cont. and powerfully.

The wide spread observance of World's Sunday School Day, in more than two hundred languages and dialects, as reported to the Convention by cables from various lands, was a real missionary factor. Literally thousands of sermons upon the religious training of youth seemed to have been preached upon that day.

$75,000 IN A FEW HOURS.
For the first time in its history the World's Association tried to raise a budget for the expenses of the ensuing trennium. The sum asked for, $75,000.00, was all secured in a few hours. This will be used largely in placing field workers in foreign lands to develope the Sunday School idea and organization.

The Convention sessions were too numerous to be mentioned in detail. On Sunday afternoon there were twenty-five, and on Sunday night over a hundred, all with regularly appointed speakers from a wide area. Convention holds six thousand persons and it was packed mornings as well as evenings, and the simultaneous sessions often overflowed a'to.
Frequently the Convention broke up into sectional conferences. Especially notable among the speeches were those of President Taft, Dr. S. Parkes
Cadman, of Brooklyn; Hon. Jno.
Wanamaker, Rev. S. M. Swemer of Arabia; Bishop J. C. Hartzell, of Africa; Robert E. Speer, and Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman. Rev.
Dr. F. B. Meyer of London, who presided, had a profound influence upon the Convention.

The retiring committee, Dr.
George W. Bailey, was elected President for the next three years, and Mr. E. K. Warren, of Three Oaks, Mich., Executive Chairman.

Because of its size and representative capacity, and because the delegates were for the most part middle-aged leaders in Christian work, and also because of the new notes of world peace, world Christianization, and virile allegiance to the Bible, the Convention will doubtless exert an extraordinary influence over the immediate future of all the churches. The next World's Convention will meet in Geneva, Switzerland.

HERE AND THERE

Rambler down in Missouri finds a family church.

As I moved upon what might have been all sense of limitation fell away and we thanked God for a mind that could receive and perceive as Peter says "God is no respecter of persons" Satan, to his lieutenants "Where are you?"

"We are at Greenwood church. They are going to elect officers and we want them to select them from the same family."

That is cleverly thought out, your record is good in every department of church society and I am pleased with your work go ahead with your plan but be on your guard.

One week, church in session. Pastor. — "Brothers today is time to elect church officers."

Brother Tom Reed Hawkeye. "I place in nomination for elder, Bro. Green Hawkeye, for deacon, Bro. Dan Hawkeye, for clerk, Radpath Hawkeye for pastor, uncle Fuller, and I move you they be elected by acclamation." Bro. Greeny. "I second the motion." And they were elected and duly installed.

Lieutenants to each other. — "This is a family church." Satan. — "It is going my way."

One year later. Pastor to Bro. Sincere. — "What is the cause of all this envy, prejudice, strife and jealousy among the brethren? Only a few are taking any interest in church work."

Bro. Sincere. — "Take the scripture as your guide and let it be a lamp unto your pathway. The fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, goodness and faith."

Love one another. Word of the everlasting God, will of his glorious son, without These how could earth be trod, or heaven itself be won?

Miss Lucile Nunn left Saturday for her new home in Morganfield, where her father Dr. W. H. Nunn will practice his profession. Miss Lucile is one of the most beautiful, intelligent and popular young ladies it has been our pleasure to know. While her parents resided at Henshaw she had been attending school here, leaving with more compliments and the knowledge of having made more friends than any member in the school. She is of noble parentage and one of the sweetest young women in all Kentucky.

Mr. Ed Carney, the well known and popular salesman for the big dry goods firm of Alms, Doeplke Co., of Cincinnati on visiting our cemetery on Decoration Day said that it was one of the best kept and most beautiful he ever saw. He also said that all traveling men held that a well kept cemetery was one of the best marks of a good town and a thriving people.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT AT OUR FRIENDS IN FULTON AT WAR.

Bright Ten Year Old Boy Crushed Acc Engaging the Devil and His Henchmen in Fight Against Liqueur Traffic.

Sturgis, Ky., May 31.—One moment alive, well and joyously shouting to his companions in the field. The next moment a poor crushed and bleeding form. This is the sad story of little Willie Simpson, son of well known parents residing in the vicinity of Sturgis.

Was Running A Roller

Willie Simpson was ten years of age and unusually bright and strong. He was put in the field Tuesday morning to run a roller in the corn field. The work was not hard and he had just been shouting to and joking with companions in the field. Suddenly he was seen to lurch forward and fall in the path of the heavy roller. Before human hand or human voice could stop the team the roller had passed over him and when the companions rushed to the spot and picked him up they found that life had been crushed from the little form.

Parents Notified

The accident happened about three miles from Sturgis. The parents were notified and they went to the field for the body of their son. The accident has spread sadness to many homes owing to the extensive acquaintance of the family.

W. F. McMurray and son, Johnson Burns, were guests of Mr. McMurray's parents Sunday, Johnson Burns remaining this week.

Do not wait for the Cemetery Association Secretary to call on you for your dues for coming year. Call and pay it to her. Do not put it off, but attend to this at your earliest convenience so they can begin work immediately on your lot.

NELLE WALKER, Secretary.

It's the quickest, surest healer for all such wounds as Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Chapped hands, Corns or Piles, Etc. at Haynes & Taylor's.

Mrs. Jas. Henry entertained a few friends Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Droste, of Monte Clare N. J., at bridge. Delightful refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. The guests were: Mesdames C. S. Nunn, J. I. Clements, W. H. Russell, Mesdames Droste, Della Barnes, Virginia Nunn, Frances Gray, Mary G. Nunn, Martha Henry and J. W. Nunn.

That our readers may see some of the many flimsy and foolish arguments of the whiskey people, we publish the following from the Fulton Daily Leader a true champion of the great temperance cause. We are so proud of the fact that we have an empty jail since the banishing of the saloon from our town that we want to help every town that is trying to do the same thing. The people of our good town have more money to pay taxes with since whisky was voted out than they did before and the town is more prosperous. The prayers of the Christian of Marion are surely for a sweeping victory for their Fulton friends.

DR. LUTEN'S LETTER

We print below a letter from Dr. J. R. Luten which will explain itself. Dr. Luten was grossly misrepresented in the Nashville American, and it is due him that he have this space in the home paper. We, who know Dr. Luten, know that there is no more staunch temperance worker anywhere than he is, but if there is doubt in the mind of others where he stands this will set them right.

To the Fulton Daily Leader: There is printed in the Nashville American a special dispatch from Fulton, Ky., dated May 19, 1910, which states that I signed the petition to call another election in favor of saloons in Fulton, Ky. I have lived in Fulton thirty-five years and have always been prominent in any opposition to the saloons, nor has any word or act of mine up to the present time led any man to believe I have gone over to the saloon side of the question. On the other hand I have been outspoken in my opposition to taking a vote or agitating the question. The author of said dispatch, with intelligence enough to correspond for a paper, could have known my opposition to the open saloon. I am, therefore, of the opinion that the author of the article used my name with the malicious intent to besmirch my character in order to boost a damnable cause—one that all Christians should oppose. Such actions on the saloon advocates would lead to believe they would resort to any kind of deception to force saloons on the good people of Fulton. It appears that the author of the special dispatch is in the employ of the distillers and brewers and wholesale dealers, and in order to induce them to put money in the campaigns he would deceive them by making the impression that all the good people of Fulton are in favor of the licensed saloon.

Respectfully,
(Signed) J. R. LUTEN.

THE SALOON KEEPERS APPEAL

We would like to call your attention to some of the logic of the "whiskey men's league:"

1. They tell us that the impoverished condition of the city and the desire of certain men to relieve this condition and make us rich is responsible for the recent petition that has been filed with the county judge.

Now, we wish to flatly deny that the city is in an impoverished condition. We are told that the bond debt of Fulton is $35,000. Take it for granted that this is true, what have we to show for those bonds and to stand for their payment? The court house and the water works plant. Instead of these improvements throwing us into an impoverished condition, they prove themselves to be assets upon which we can depend not only to reduce their own indebtedness and ultimately pay it, but to help pay for other and more improvements. The property behind these bonds is worth far more than the bond issue.

Then again, you take the Leader of May 28th, and on the 2d page you will find a statement by Mr. E. H. Freeman, Examiner, that the outstanding claims against the city are as follows:

Fulton Electric Light and Power Co.	$3,771.92
Kelley Springfield Roller Co.	1,100.00
Dr. Seldon Cobb	250.00
Harbert Carr	125.00
Frank Carr	25.30
Lee Carter	300.00
M. C. Meggs	1.00
Street Grader Co.	225.00
Total	$5,898.22

Now suppose, if you please, that the amount of the floating debt was twice or three times that amount, surely with the revenues that come into the treasury, wisely managed, it would not take us long to relieve such indebtedness. A wise and economic administration of the city's finances by the council will take us to a place where we shall not only be free from debt, but have money in the treasury.

Don't let anybody scare you with the cry of poverty. Fulton is financially in good condition. Let these folks that are such "calamity howlers" compare our condition here with other towns and they will find we are in as good shape as any of them. If not better, and in nearly all cases the conditions here are far better than they are where the town is under the whiskey rule.

But, if the whiskey ring could and would and did pay a few of our debts, or help us to a few improvements, where would the profit be? Would it be wise for us to debauch our citizens, ruin homes now happy, impoverish children, women and men, and interests for the benefit of a few dollars, or an improvement here and there? We all know the effects of the saloon business, and the curse it has been to us. Its fruits have been evil and evil continually, and we will vote down the proposition for its return to prey on us.

LISTEN:—It saves sickness and doctor bills by screening your house. Flies carries disease to your table when they light on your victuals. After this cold spell passes off and it turns warm, flies will come in swarms and by the thousands. When in need of window, door screens and screen wire, be sure and call on Boston at the Planing mill and see his screens and get his prices before you place your order.

COMMISSIONER'S NOTICE.

DANDRUFF CURED IN TWO WEEKS OR MONEY BACK

The above is the guarantee Haynes & Taylor the druggists, are offering for Parisian Sage, the greatest of all hair restorers.

If you have dandruff take advantage of this offer and kill the little dandruff germs that will surely steal your hair if allowed to continue to persistently burrow into the hair roots.

Parisian sage is also guaranteed to stop falling hair and itching of the scalp.

Don't accept any substitute from any druggist. Parisian Sage is the original prescription of one of the world's greatest scientists, and is manufactured only in this country by Haynes & Taylor, druggists.

Parisian Sage is an exhilarating and pleasant hair dressing; it is not sticky or greasy and it makes the hair soft, beautiful and luxuriant.

We call attention to the ad of Mr. N. J. Bishop a prominent merchant at Crayne. He is making some very attractive prices, and you will miss some good bargains if you fail to call on him.

In mentioning the fact that Mrs. Arthur McFee had returned from an extended visit to Southern California, a G by mistake took the place of an F making it read McGee, instead of McFee. We are glad to make the correction.

On Wednesday afternoon three to five o'clock Mrs. Nunn received in honor of Miss Droste, of Monte Clare N. J., and Miss Virginia Nunn, Frankfort, Ky. The guests were met at the door by W. O. Tucker and Mrs. Henry and were ushered into the parlor where they were received by Mrs. Nunn, Misses Della Barnes, Martha Henry, Kitty and Frances Gray and fa Wilborn assisted in serving refreshments in the dining room. Mesdames J. I. Clements, Dupuy, and J. H. Orme were the guests in the library. Misses Gwendolin Haynes, Mary Coffield presiding at piano.

The reception was very formal and every one enjoyed hospitality dispensed by Nunn and her assistants.

STOMACH DEAD MAN

People who suffers from such fermentation of food, distressing eating and indigestion, and suffer in large chunks of artificial food, are killing their stomachs inaction just as surely as the use of morphine is deadening and beyond repair every nerve in body. What the stomach of every sufferer needs is a good prescription that will build up his stomach, put strength, energy and class into it, and makes it sturdy enough digest a hearty meal without effort.

The best prescription for indigestion ever written is sold by druggists everywhere and by Haynes & Taylor's rapidly guaranteed to build up stomach and cure indigestion, money back.

WHAT A GREAT MAN SAID IN THE GREAT AMERICAN PEOPLE

Parisian Sage is a discovery of a celebrated scientist, who spent the best years of his life perfecting this great hair tonic. In giving his recipe to the American people he said: "Parisian Sage is the most delightful hair dressing in the world. It cures dandruff by killing the germs that infest the roots of the hair; it stops falling hair; it gives vigor and strength to the hair roots. Haynes & Taylor sell Parisian Sage at 50c. a large bottle and guarantees it to do all that is claimed for it, or your money is refunded. It stops falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp in two weeks.
