RALPH PARLETTE

The bureau managers of Ralph Parlette, who comes to lecture at the school auditorium Dec. 16, report his seasons sold long ahead with more demands than they can fill, and we are fortunate indeed to be able to secure him. His lecture will come nearer pleasing all tastes with his humor, philosophy and eloquence, than any speaker who has been here in years.

"Let's stay acquainted—the world's so small we'll need each other before we get out of it." This is a characteristic greeting of Ralph Parlette. Here's another of his outbursts: "I'd rather be hungry than handsome!"

Don't forget the date, Friday December 16.

Give Us The News

The newspaper man is blamed for a whole lot of things he can't help, such as using partiality in mentioning visitors, giving news about some folks and leaving others out, etc. He simply prints all the news he can find. Some people inform him about such things, and other do not. An editor should not be expected to know the names and residences of all your uncles, aunts and cousins, even if he should see them get on or off the train. Tell us about it. It's news. The newspaper, and every man woman and child can be associate editor if they only will. Never apologize when you give this bit of information to an editor, for if there lives one so dead that he has lost his appreciation of such favors he is dead, indeed, to every virtue that imparts value to a paper.

First Visit In Several Years

Luther Miller, wife and daughters, Misses Leona and Nannie will leave next week for his old home in Illinois to visit his brothers and other relatives and friends. This is his first vacation in several years.

LEAD ME, LORD.

I do not ask, O Lord, that life may be a pleasant road;
I do not ask that thou wouldst take from me

Aught of its load;
I do not ask that flowers should always spring

Beneath my feet;
I know too well the poison and the sting Of things too sweet;

For one thing only, Lord, dear Lord, I plead;
Lead me aright,

Though strength should falter and though heart should bleed,

To thee, my Light.

For God's Sake Do Something for The White Slave

We are trying to enter the most damnable trust or combine that ever disgraced God's foot stool (The White Slave Trade.)
It is wealthy unscrupulous, and the most brutish that human mind can conceive.

We desire to place a book exposing this evil traffic, in every home and especially desirous for the mothers and young ladies to see it.

As The Printer Saw Parlette

When the tall, gaunt, big-eyed, hungry-mouthed printer ambled out on the platform in a half shuffle and half walk, the audience after one glance would have gone home satisfied that the sight was worth the price of admission. But laugh! When he arose to speak he opened that mouth, surely it measured thirty-six ems pica either way, and what he said thereafter was set in "wide measure." Never once during the evening, as the audience awayed from side to side in bursts of merriment, did Parlette fail to make a point. Parlette never copied that lecture from books—it came from him. —Geneva, O., Press.

Burned To The Ground

On last Thursday night at 11:00 o'clock B. F. Slaughter and family who live in the Repton section, were awakened by Mr. N. T. Dixon carrying his baby boy "Buster," his wife and little daughter, Bessie, following closely behind, bearing the news of the leaping flames that consumed his dwelling house and almost all of its contents. The house was supposed to be ignited from a defection hearth of the cook-stove. The family returned that night between 9 and 10 o'clock and about 10:30 the little girl Bessie was awakened by suffocation caused by accumulated smoke in the rooms and gave the alarm and the parents hurried out of bed dressed and barely escaping with their lives. In the mean time Mr. Henry Evans who lives on Mr. Dixon's farm hurried to the scene, but the flames were too severe as the entire building was enveloped in the furious flames, consequently they saved only one feather bed, one bolster and one or two quilts and just a change of clothes.

Insurance of seven hundred dollars. Mr. Dixon's wife will go to her mother, Mrs. Markham's near Alzey, Henderson county to stay until her husband replaces the home when she will return.

Christmas Is Coming

Let every Sunday School in the county celebrate it such away as will give the people a better insight to Christ and his mission in the world. Please remember the young and old—those in darkness and cold—the sick suffering either body or mind, remember he taught us ever to be kind to the widows, orphans the poor and the sick—let us help all out of the ditch. All our talent to him give be a blessing while you live. Wishing all schools a happy Christmas, yours for better schools.

G. C. GRAY HURT.

Last Monday Mr. G. C. Gray accidentally fell from one of the ladders in the shoe department at the Yandell-Gugenheim Co's store and bruised himself considerably besides spraining the ligaments of his foot and breaking the small bone above his right ankle. He was carried home on a cot and Dr. Driskill summoned at once. He hastily examined the wounded man and reported above, while Mr. Gray's hurts are painful and will necessitate him staying in pretty close for several weeks, nothing serious it is thought will result and his friends hope soon to see him out.

Don't Forget The Poor.

At the County house there are 3 old men, 2 young men, and 11 children who should be remembered at Christmastide. In your own joy and the excitement attending the holiday festivities don't forget those who in sadness and poverty are dependent upon the public for necessities, send them some little remembrance. Packages may be left at Cochran & Co.

Beloved Matron Quite Ill

Mrs. Eva Gugenheim, wife of Sam Gugenheim the merchant, has been critically ill for a week past of hemorrhage of the stomach and bowels. Her mother was called by telephone Saturday at midnight from Providence. Miss Alice Griffith our trained nurse has been in attendance all this week. Dr. Clement the family physician has had Dr. J. V. Hayden, of Salem and P. Y. McCoy, of Evansville two of the most noted practitioners in this section in consultation and they all pronounce the patient a very sick woman but hold out to her family the hope that her life can be saved. Wednesday at noon she was reported no better.

TINSLEY—TERRY.

"Its out now, and we had as well own up," said Markham Terry, that sly widower who fooled everybody and got married Oct. 27th, 1910, to Mrs. Lottie Tinsley, of this city. The ceremony was said in Evansville where the couple had quietly gone with the hope of keeping it from the public for two years. But like all of cupid affairs it soon became known and now they are talking of going to house keeping some where. At present they are stopping with the groom's mother, Mrs. Maggie Terry, on College street.

Mr. Terry is the valued agent of the "Metropolitan Life Insurance Company," and his bride is the well known merchant and milliner, who has won fame fortune by her energy and her untiring devotion to her business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Dehaven of Blackford were here shopping Monday Mr. Dehaven renewed for the 33rd time his subscription to the Press.

Our tobacco is sold to W. G. Head & Son, of Madisonville. Delivery to begin Dec. 20, at our factory in Marion. The contract requires the tobacco to be classed in leaf, lugs and trash, tied in good medium hands—using short narrow leaves as ties. It must be delivered in good handling order—no sprinkled or damaged tobacco is included in the contract.

These Are The Prices

Tobacco of good quality 25 in. and up 9 1-2 9 1-2 4.

Tobacco of good quality from 23 to 25, in. 8 1-4, 8 1-4 4.

Tobacco of good quality 21 to 23, in. 7 1-4, 7 1-4 4.

Tobacco of good quality 18 to 21, in. 6 1-4, 6 1-4 4.

Tobacco of good quality under 18 in. 5 1-2, 5 1-2 4.

Now, boys, since all the trash goes at 4c, we can afford to put all the trash to its self, and we must do it. We have agreed that the general average price must not be less than six and three fourths; now there need be no trouble between the grades; and if any difficulty arises it will be the result of the manner in which the farmer has culled his tobacco, or the condition in which he delivers it.

Our delivery days are: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. When a season comes get to your stripping, being careful to keep each class to itself, also, each length of leaf or lugs to itself. When you get ready to deliver if you find there is a rush just hold up awhile you will have plenty of time to deliver before the season closes. I shall close this article with this statement—mark it well:—The man who knows his tobacco is poor and that his classing is poorer still, is the man who will do the "tallest cussin'" about the grades he gets.

Decision of Indiana Courts on Acts

of W. S. Taylor And R. N. Miller

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 10.—Special. Real estate transfers, in which W. S. Taylor, of Kentucky, and R. N. Miller who came immediately following the Gobel murder, were declared null and void by the Circuit Court here today, and a mortgage on the property was held to be valid. It appears that man named Engler, a client of Miller's, had loaned him $1,000 and taken a mortgage on Miller's farm. At Miller's request he did not have the mortgage recorded and shortly after Miller deeded the property to Taylor and then Taylor deeded it back to Miller and wife jointly. The court today held for Engler and set aside the conveyance of Taylor to Miller and wife.

DEATH OF MRS. ASHER.

Mrs. Malvina Ann Asher, Relict of the late Squire William H. Asher, died at her home on Morganfield road in the suburbs of this city Friday, Dec. 9th, 1910, in her seventy-eighth year.

Mrs. Asher was sick only a few days of pneumonia to which her frail body was an easy victim. She was up and well as usual on Monday before her death, and attended as was her custom and pleasure to her household duties. Since the death of her husband only a few months ago she had lived at her home alone except for the company of her little grandchild, a daughter of Sam D. Asher, her youngest son.

Mrs. Asher was a daughter of Samuel Crider, one of the county's most respected citizens in his day and a member of the large family of that name in this vicinity. Denton E. Crider, of Piney, is her only surviving brother or sister all the others having preceded her to the grave. She is survived by eight children as follows: Mrs. Nancy O'Neal, of Baker; Mrs. Mary Samuels, of Repton; Mrs. B. H. Thurman, of Blackford; Mrs. W. D. Lamb, of Iron Hill; Mrs. E. H. Newcom, of Portales, New Mexico; Mrs. Alvah Newcom, of Weston; J. D. Asher, of this city; and S. D. Asher, of Shady Grove. She was born June 19th, 1832, married March 21st, 1849, died Dec. 9th, 1910.

The funeral was preached at Repton Saturday at 12 o'clock by Rev. W. T. Oakley and the interment took place there at 1 o'clock and her remains were laid to rest beside those of her husband and other loved ones who are buried there. Mrs. Asher was a member of Piney Fork Cumberland Presbyterian church and had been for many years, and was a woman of pure character and high principles, much beloved by all who knew her.

Swift's Premium Calendar For 1911

Swift's Premium Calendar for 1911 is styled "The Courtship of American Poetry."

The size of the calendar is 10x 15 inches. On each of the four sheets is a beautiful picture in colors. These pictures are the work of noted American artists. There is no type matter on them so they are suitable for framing.

Under each picture is the verse from the poem illustrated that fits the action in it.

The subjects are "Priscilla and John Alden," "Hiawatha and Minnehaha," Maud Muller and The Judge," Evangeline and Gabriel."

The calendar is now ready for distribution and can be secured by sending one cap from a jar of Swift's Beef Extract, 10 Wool Soap wrappers or 10 cents in stamps or coin to Swift & Company, Calendar Department, Union Stock Yards, Chicago, Ill.

DRILL:—

The above program was rendered in a most creditable way to teachers and scholars. Miss Price has a large class which is most interesting because of the variety of types and ages. Some of the little tots could scarcely climb on the piano stool and were as ready to do their parts as the older ones. The ones who did their parts well and were roundly encored would embrace every name on the program, it being freely said by many of the audience that it was the best recital they ever attended in this city.

DONT JUDGE A MANURE SPREADER BY LOOKS

Every manure spreader is not a Cloverleaf that looks like one. You can't judge a manure spreader by its looks because there are many features which are found in the construction of one machine that are not found in others. Cloverleaf manure spreaders are the most easily operated, the strongest and best machines on the market. If you will examine one critically, you will agree with us that the Cloverleaf is the best machine you ever looked at. Drop in. Let us discuss the manure spreader proposition. Let us explain the many meritorious features found in Cloverleaf construction. Better still, buy one, then you will be in a better position to know why you can't judge a manure spreader by its looks. If you are not ready to buy, call and get a catalogue. It is filled with valuable information on soil maintenance and fertility. We are reserving one for you. Won't you call and get it today?

Free Liver Remedy

It is well to stop a physical ailment at the first signs of its approach, and that is especially true of liver trouble, which can eventually give rise to so many serious complications. Many have liver trouble and imagine it is indigestion, and hence take the wrong remedy.

When the liver does not store up sufficient gastric juices it becomes sluggish, and in this way disturbs the stomach and bowels, with which it is supposed to work in harmony. Then comes the sallow complexion, the pimply face, the dull pain in the forehead, the thinning of the blood, etc. A very quick and sensible way to stop the trouble as well as to cure it is by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which contains ingredients especially intended to promote the activity of the liver.

Among the many thousands who have written the doctor about the results achieved with his remedy, and who are glad to make the facts public so that others can help themselves, are Mr. J. A. Kennedy, St. Louis, Mo.; Mrs. S. A. La Rue of Smith's Grove, Ky., and many others. These, like thousands of others, started the use of Syrup Pepsin with a sample. If you will send your name and address you can also obtain a free trial bottle. This will prove to you that liver trouble is promptly cured with this remedy or money will be refunded. Having tried it you can then buy it in the regular way of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and the latter is sufficient for an entire family. This remedy is a vast improvement over cathartic tablets and salts, which only do good for the time being. Syrup Pepsin is permanent in its results, is pleasant to take and does not gripe. It is especially good for all those who cannot stand a violent purgative. Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. H. Caldwell, R. 500 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

Why not get a Pocket Knife for Brother and see him smile Xmas morning. Cochran.

THE REFUGE

(Arthur Chapman in Denver Republican)

The pleasure your face in the hours that race

Are as dust in the turn of a year; The sights that you see, scant comfort shall be—

Can they hold back a sob or a tear?—

One by one your friends sail to that port beyond hail,

And wave no farewell from the murk;

But there always remains to put hope in your veins,

The honor and glory of work.

The woes of new day turn the dawn to dull gray,

But still is there promised relief; When at last you have turned to the toil you have learned

The sting shall be taken from grief,

Round the desk and the bench, and the plow and the wrench

Despair's deepest shadows ne'er lurk;

Let death and disaster but speed your hands faster—

God's balm is the glory of work.

A nice Carving set would keep that husband of yours in a good humor, no matter how tough the turkey is and one of ours will last a life time. Get it for him Christmas. Cochran.

Storage of Seed Potatoes.

Seed potatoes, like table stock, should be stored as cold as possible without frost. Light injures the flavor of table potatoes, which should be kept in the absolute dark. Light is a benefit to seed potatoes, as it toughens the skin and retards sprouting. Hence, potato cellars should be partitioned so that the seed may be in the light, and the eating potatoes in the dark.

Potatoes in large piles or in unventilated cellars often heat so that they will not grow well, and if for seed are most vigorous if stored in boxes, crates or open barrels, or if thinly spread on the floor.

Dirt should be carefully screened out of seed potatoes before they are stored, because much dirt among potatoes tend to heat them and stops the circulation of air. If potatoes have been frosted in the ground and put in storage they should be sorted over the third week, to remove the rots, as the rotten potatoes tend to heat and kill the seed.—Farm Life.

The other fifth brought seven cents average.

Or say seventeen and a half million pounds, in round numbers, of fired tobacco has been sold at seven and a half cents.

And four million pounds, in round numbers, of unfired tobacco has been sold at seven cents.

There remains unsold five and a half million pounds.

Every pound of Henderson county tobacco has been sold.

Say a million is yet unsold in each of the counties of Hopkins, Webster, Union and Crittenden.

THE PURCHASER

The Gallagher, limited, bought five million Henderson county; one million eight hundred thousand and Webster.

The Imperial, five million five hundred thousand Henderson county; six million Webster county; one million Hopkins county, and one million Union county.

W. G. Head & Son, half million Henderson county; one million Hopkins county.

Nosworthy and Argue, half million Henderson county.

Total sales of unfired tobacco to date 3,500,000.

Bear in mind the Association has pooled, in round numbers, twenty-eight million pounds, all told, of which one-fifth is unfired.

Other sales are pending.

Such are the essential facts of the sale. Slight discrepancies may be noted, but all will be made clear in the next two or three days by explanatory comments. Let all good members cheerily back the acts of the District Board. The difficulties overcome by Manager Elliott and the Board in attaining the price were much more serious than is dreamed of by good members.

We could not afford to so strongly endorse Rexall "93" Hair Tonic and continue to sell it as we do, if it did not do all we claim it will. Should our enthusiasm carry us away, and Rexall "93" Hair Tonic not give entire satisfaction to the user, they would lose faith in us and our statements, and in consequence our business prestige would suffer.

Our faith in Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is so strong that we ask you to try it on our positive guarantee that your money will be cheerfully refunded if it does not do as we claim. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at our store —The Rexall Store Haynes & Taylor Drug Company.

MARION A MUSICAL CENTER.

Marion is getting up quite a reputation as a musical center.

There was a time and not long
ago when music was little appreciated or cultivated here, considering the size, and advance of the city in other arts and sciences.
The town has always been one
of refined citizenship, well educated and cultured and to see the delightful art of music being encouraged and put to the front is one of the best signs of the times. Few towns the size of Marion can boast of as many excellent pianists, violinists, cornetists and organists to say nothing of the other rare and beautiful instruments, the Italian harp,
flute, mandolin, vocalion, clarinet, bass horn and numerous others which have found admirers here, who have mastered
them and thus added pleasure to the homes, the schools, the churches and refinement and tone to themselves, for who does not love music, old age is soothed by it and carried back to the halcyon days of youth, mother
and father are reminded of their happy courtship days, youth is rendered doubly joyful and even childish glee rings out more happily under its subtle strains. It is our duty to encourage music
and we are glad to note the increased attendance at each recital and the great interest taken
in them by those who are fortunate enough to attend.

Suppose.

Suppose, my dear, that you were I
And by your side your sweet-
heart sat;
Suppose you noticed by and by
The distance betwixt you were
too great;
Now tell me, dear, what would
you do?
I know—and so do you.
And when so comfortably placed
Suppose you only grew aware
That that dear dainty little waist
Of her's looked very lonely there,
Pray tell me sooth what would
you do?
I know—and so do you.
What having done what I just did,
With not a frown to check or
chide,
Suppose her red lips seemed to bid
Defiance to your lordly will;
Oh tell me, sweet, what would
you do?
I know—and so do you.

MARION A MUSICAL CENTER.

Marion is getting up quite a
reputation as a musical center.

There was a time and not long
ago when music was little appreciated or cultivated here, considering the size, and advance of the city in other arts and sciences.
The town has always been one
of refined citizenship, well educated and cultured and to see
the delightful art of music being encouraged and put to the front
is one of the best signs of the times. Few towns the size of Marion can boast of as many excellent pianists, violinists, cor-
netists and organists to say nothing of the other rare and beautiful instruments, the Italian harp,
flute, mandolin, vocalion, clarinet, bass horn and numerous
others which have found admirers here, who have mastered
them and thus added pleasure to
the homes, the schools, the churches and refinement and
tone to themselves, for who does
not love music, old age is soothed by it and carried back to the
halcyon days of youth, mother
and father are reminded of their happy courtship days, youth is rendered doubly joyful and even
childish glee rings out more happily under its subtle strains. It
is our duty to encourage music
and we are glad to note the increased attendance at each recital and the great interest taken
in them by those who are fortunate enough to attend.

Suppose.

Suppose, my dear, that you were I
And by your side your sweet-
heart sat;
Suppose you noticed by and by
The distance betwixt you were
too great;
Now tell me, dear, what would
you do?
I know—and so do you.
And when so comfortably placed
Suppose you only grew aware
That that dear dainty little waist
Of her's looked very lonely there,
Pray tell me sooth what would
you do?
I know—and so do you.
What having done what I just did,
With not a frown to check or
chide,
Suppose her red lips seemed to
bid
Defiance to your lordly will;
Oh tell me, sweet, what would
you do?
I know—and so do you.
—Eugene Fields.

"Let's stay acquainted—the world's so small we'll need each other before we get out of it." This is a characteristic greeting of Ralph Parlette, who is to lecture at the Marion Auditorium. And here's another of his out bursts: "I'd rather be hungry than handsome!"

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Jacobs were in the city last week enroute to their home in Missouri after attending the funeral of her mother, Mrs. Cordelia Beard at the Walker graveyard.

By a mistake of the type setter, which was overlooked by the proof reader, Mrs. Cordelia Beard's last name was printed last week as Bean, which error we regret.

Everett Crayne, of Hoxie Kansas arrived last week for a visit to friends and relatives in this city and county. He will remain several weeks. Sunday he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Moore on Depot street.

WHAT TEDDY WANTS WOMEN TO KNOW

Mrs. William G. Clark of Cleveland, Ohio, has just become the mother of her third set of triplets. Between times the stork has left four sets of twins at her domicile.

Although but 33 Mrs. Clark has been the mother of 17 children, seven of whom are living. She herself was a French girl and came to America when six years old.

She was married when 12 year old and a year later twins were born to her; when 14 she became the mother of triplets.

She herself has 26 brothers. The proud papa of the last set of triplets is a blacksmith.

Mrs. Clark did the family washing two days after the triplets were born. She believes that homes without lots of children are mere shells.

The remarkable record made by Mrs. Williams G. Clark, of Cleveland, O., does not equal the records made by many other mothers, according to history.

Nowadays when the advent of twins excite such a commotion and triplets are "good for scare head" type, while quadruplets are worth big salaries on the museum stage, it behooves a shrieking race to hark back to the time when a woman at Dunstable, England, was thrice blessed with triplets and twice did she usher into being five babies at a time.

But even this record was outdone by a German woman at Dayton, O., about a half century ago, who gave birth to sextuplets. Just think of six babies waking up at the same time at night and all wanting a tired dad to carry them!

In 1690 Mrs. Edith Bonham of Wishford Magna, England, surprised her husband with septuplets. The entire seven were carried to church in a huge tray for baptism.

A dutch woman went this one (or seven) better by two sets of seven babies each. All 14 of these children seemed as healthy and normal as any other youngster of their age might be reasonably expected to be.

But early America was not to be beaten. In 1861 three boys and five girls were born to a woman in Trumbull county, O. Imagine the proud papa when the nurse came out holding up eight fingers.

But that was not the world's record. The Journal des Savants of Paris made the statement that in 1760 a French woman gave birth to nine children at one time.

Lady Elphinstone of England, who died in 1700, was the mother of 36 children, of whom 27 were living at one time. The youngest brother of the first Lord Bathurst was presented with 22 children by his first wife and 14 by his second. Mrs. Thomas Urquhart of Cromarty castle, Scotland, who lived in the early part of the 16th century, presented her husband with 26 children, all of whom lived to a mature age.

Dionora Salvata of Florence, Italy, was the mother of 52 children. Of these there was one set of sextuplets, while all the rest save one were triplets.

The largest family in the United States, of which any trace can be found, is that of David Wilson of Madison, Ind., who died about 40 years ago, the father of 47 children.

But the champion "papa" of them all was Feodor Wassiliev, a Russian peasant. His first wife presented him with 16 successive pairs of twins, then triplets seven times in as many years, and finally capped the climax with four sets of quadruplets, making a grand total of 69 children.

When she died Feodor felt the need of a stepmother for his motherless brood, and took unto himself another wife. The second Mrs. Wassiliev added to the big regiment of "sons and daughters of Feodor" two sets of triplets and six sets of twins, making 18 in all; which added to the original 69, made a great chorus of 87 children, who could in unison or otherwise call Feodor papa.

MODEL HUSBAND

He leaves his couch at early dawn

And makes the fire to burn, He puts the eggs and coffee on And cooks them to a turn, Then when the meal's prepared he takes

His way unto the bed and wakes The partner of his joys.

He knows where all his things are kept—

He puts them there, you see! If, when he's home, his den is swept

He laughs right merrily. He wipes his feet upon the mat

Until from mud they're clear, He never, never hangs his hat

Upon the chandelier! He is on time at eventide,

No dinner has to wait; He smokes no fragrant pipe inside

His little home—that's straight! A wash day lunch, he likes it, yes; And if some talk there be Of cash to purchase hat or dress

He scorns economy. So doth the model husband do

In winter, spring or fall; He is a saint in summer too—

He has no faults at all! He is the catch to bring delight

To any maiden fair— They say that he exists all right

But I can't tell you where! —Chicago News

FORMER EDITOR NOW LAWYER

Last Monday G. W. Landrum made the following motion in court:

"Your honor, I desire to present Mr. Chas. Ferguson, who passed a very creditable examination in the McCracken circuit court touching his qualifications to practice law and who now wishes to be sworn in at this bar; but I desire to enter the same objection to him that you entered to me five years ago, the constitutional inhibition on dueling for I know that he and I have fought not less than 200 in this county and state."

The court said: "Your objection, Mr. Landrum, is not well taken because the provision of the Constitution regarding dueling is that he must have fought a duel with a citizen of this State and you being a general out-law, are not a citizen of any state, therefore the court overrules your objection."

Whereupon the court administered the constitutional and official oath to Mr. Ferguson and directed the clerk to write up the following order, viz: On motion of Geo. W. Landrum, Chas. Ferguson was permitted to file his certificate of examination and admission to the McCracken County Bar and Mr. Ferguson, after being duly sworn is now admitted to this bar as an attorney."

Mr. Ferguson received the congratulations of the bar and his friends. He is now ready to receive your business and qualified and able to attend to it as an attorney.—Livingston Banner.

The Family Meat Supply

At this season of the year farmers are much concerned about the family meat supply for the coming twelve months. Every wide-awake farmer is keen to get the best recipes for curing bacon and corned beef.

Pending negotiations for a sale of the 1910 Association tobacco, or, rather say pending a decision one way or the other, which decision the district board in justice to members, will, after only a few day delay only out of courtesy to buyers, make public: pending all these things, I say, I am furnishing good members today with these recipes for meat-curing clipped from that old reliable farmers' paper, Farm and Home, published at Springfield, Mass.

Corned Beef

The pieces commonly used for corned are the cheaper cuts of meat, such as the plate, rump, crossribs and brisket. The meat should be cut into medium sized pieces, so that it will pack well in a jar or barrel. It should be well cooled and corned before decay sets in, or it will spoil the brine.

For each 100 pounds meat weigh out eight pounds of salt, sprinkle a layer about 1-4 inch deep over the bottom of the vessel, and then pack in a layer of meat 5 or 6 inches thick. On top of this put a layer of salt, followed by a layer of meat, until all the meat is packed in the vessel. Keep enough salt for a good layer over the top of the last layer of meat.

After this has stood over night add, for every hundred pounds of meat, four pounds sugar, two ounces baking soda and four ounces salt-peter, all dissolved in a gallon of warm water. When this is cool pour it over the meat and add enough cold water to cover the meat. Weight it down with a loose board held in place by a clean stone to keep the meat under the brine for from 25 to 40 days before it is ready to use. —W. H. Tomhave, Licking county, O.

The Famous Kentucky Hams

For every 10 hams of moderate size take 3 1-2 pounds brown sugar. Mix thoroughly and rub the hams therewith on every side. Then pack in a tight box or barrel and set in a cool place for three weeks. Then put them in a pickling tub or barrel and cover with brine of sufficient strength to float an egg.

After remaining in this pickle about two weeks take out, rub lightly with fine salt and hang up in a well ventilated place to dry for two or three days, after which transfer to the smoke-house carefully until they take on a nice brown shade. In Kentucky most of the smoking is done with hickory chips.

Curing Hams and Bacon

I have hams and bacon from one curing time to the next, and they remain as sweet and with as prime a flavor and rich red color as when taken from the salt. When the meat is ready to trim, which should be the next morning after butchering, if the weather is just cold enough, and not so severe as to freeze the meat hard. In the latter case trim it the same day before it freezes. When trimmed salt down in a box or on a bench.

Take salt in the proportion of 10 pounds, brown sugar four pounds and salt-peter four ounces; mix this and rub the flesh side of each piece of meat with it, and in a day or two put more on the meat. Finally leaving each piece of meat covered 1-2 inch with the salt, etc. If it does not freeze so the salt will cake, three weeks is long enough for the meat to remain in the salt, although if the weather is severe it will require longer. The salt-peter causes the salt to strike it sooner than otherwise, while the brown sugar aids in retaining the natural juices.

When the meat has taken salt, dip each piece in boiling water for half a minute; this not only cleans it, but sears the outer surface, so as to make it almost impervious to insects. Smoke a few days with hickory or other hard wood chips or corn-cobs. This smoking is not merely an old foggy notion, but is important in curing the meat, and the earlier this is done the better. When smoked, the meat should be again dipped in boiling water to destroy any eggs that may have been deposited, and put away in a convenient place.

I have found a box of hay where the rats and mice cannot enter an excellent place to keep cured meat. Also as good results have been had by sewing the meat in muslin bags, which should be painted with a paste made of yellow ocher and flour, and hanging. If borax is dusted on the meat it will ordinarily keep skipbers out, although I have known them to infest meat so treated that there-

ARE YOU DEAF?

Catarrh is probably The Cause. Get Rid of The Cause.

If you have catarrh and have constant ringing noises in your ears look into the matter at once.

It's a pretty sure sign that catarrh is spreading and is making its way through the Eustachian tubes that lead from the nose to the ears.

When catarrh gets to the ears partial deafness follows. If you have ringing noises in your ears go to Haynes & Taylor's to-day and get a HYOMEI outfit and drive out catarrh.

To cure catarrh HYOMEI should be breathed through the Hyomei inhaler for a few minutes, four or five times a day. Just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler and breathe it.

It kills the germs; soothes the irritation; heals the inflammation; stops hawking, spitting and snuffing.

HYOMEI keeps the throat free from mucus and prevents crusts in nose. The complete HYOMEI outfit which includes the little indestructible hard rubber inhaler, a bottle of HYOMEI and simple instructions for use, cost $1.00.

J. J. MARTIN AWARDED FIRST PRIZE

The successful corn show given by C. H. Ellis, of the Bank of Sturgis, closed Saturday, and proved not only interesting contest, but an incentive to the farmers of this section to pay greater attention to the selection of seed for planting and in producing a better quality of grain, the prizes for the best exhibits also being some inducement.

Frank G. O'Dell of Nebraska, a specialist sent out by the Department of Agriculture, was on hand, and besides acting as judge in the contest made an interesting talk regarding the fundamental importance of selecting a good quality seed corn. The exhibit was highly complimented by Mr. O'Dell.

The first prize of $5 was awarded to J. J. Martin, of Sullivan; second prize, $3, W. W. Slaton; third prize, $2, Harry Culley; fourth prize, $1, for largest ear of corn, George T. Gill. —Sturgis News Democrat.

GERMS IN HER SYSTEM

Every Woman Should Read This Advice and the Generous Offer that Goes With it

The number of diseases peculiar to women is such that we believe this space would hardly contain a mere mention of their names, and it is a fact that most of these diseases are of a catarrhal nature. A woman cannot be well if there is a trace of catarrh in her system.

Some women think there is no help for them. We positively declare this to be a mistaken idea. We are so sure of this that we offer to supply medicine absolutely free of all cost in every instance where it fails to give satisfaction, or does not substantiate our claims. With this understanding, no woman should hesitate to believe our honesty of purpose, or hesitate to put our claims to a test.

There is only one way to overcome catarrh. That way is through the blood. You may use all the snuffs, douches or like remedies for years without getting more than temporary relief at best. Catarrh in general is a diseased condition of the system that shows locally most frequently in discharges from mucous membranes. Local treatment should be assisted by internal treatment for the general diseased condition if a complete cure is to be reached. That internal treatment should be scientifically devised and faithfully administered.

Rexall Mucu-Tone is scientifically prepared from the prescription of an eminent physician who for thirty years made catarrh his specialty. This remedy is admirably adapted to the treatment of the catarrhal ailments of women. It purifies and enriches the blood, tends to stop mucous discharges, aids in removing impurities from the system, soothes, heals and strengthens, the mucous tissue, and brings about a feeling of health and strength.

We want you to try Rexall Mucu-Tone on our guarantee. If you are not benefited, or for any reason not satisfied, simply tell us and we will hand back your money. Rexall Mucu-Tone comes in two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies only at—The Rexall Store Haynes & Taylor.

IS TREED BY WILD BOAR

Barbourville, Ky., Dec. —15. Treed in a small sapling by a wild boar, Frank Noe, a merchant of Nolen's Creek, Harlan county had an unusual experience and one he will not quickly forget. With two dogs Mr. Noe went out to hunt some wild boars, which are numerous in the mountains bordering Nolen's Creek. The dogs engaged one of the ferocious animals, and were about to be killed, when Mr. Noe came to their rescue, and, the wild boar turned upon him. Not having time to reach his rifle, he was forced to flee, and climbed a small sapling, where he was forced to remain the greater part of the day, while the enraged brute kept watch beneath. The animal finally left, and Mr. Noe was enabled to descend from his cramped position, thoroughly chilled by exposure.

Grit

Hang on, cling on, no matter what they say;
Push on, sing on, things will come your way.
Sitting down and whining never helps a bit.
Best way to get there is by keeping up your grit.
Don't give up hoping when the ship goes down,
Grab a spar or something—just refuse to drown,
Don't think you're dying just because you're hit;
Smile in face of danger and hang on to your grit.
Folks die too easy—they sort of fade away;
Make a little error, and give up in dismay,
Kind of man that's needed is the man with ready wit,
To laugh at pain and trouble and keep his grit.
