SEVENTY-TWO

BLUE BACK SPELLERS

Have Been Ordered By the "Old Guard" to be Used in Spelling Contest.

Marion is getting on a tip toe of expectancy in view of the fact that early in March there is to be a spelling battle between the "Old Guard" and the pupils, the ex-pupils and the alumni of the Marion School.

The members of the "Old Guard" who were in school in the 70's are, R. F. Haynes, G. M. Crider, H. A. Haynes, J. W. Blue, H. K. Woods, A. C. Moore, F. B. Heath, T. F. Newcom, J. F. Price, C. B. Hina and any other of the "Old Guards" who wish to enlist. Thirty-six blue back spellers have been ordered and sold and an order for thirty-six more have been sent in.

They do say that spelling goes on in the rear of Haynes and Taylor's drug store at all hours of the day for this is the principal rendezvous of the "Old Guard." We are expecting a spelling such as has not been since "we were young." The Battle Royal will be pulled off Monday evening March 11th, at the Auditorium.

Common School Diplomas

Will Be Delayed.

State Superintendent Hamlett writes to our County Superintendent E. Jeffrey Travis under date of February 7, 1912.

The Department will be considerably delayed in sending out Common School Diplomas. This is due to the fact that I found only a few hundred blanks in the office, while more than a thousand pupils have passed the examination successfully. These diplomas will be mailed to you at the earliest, possible dates. Of these 10 pupils are of Crittenden county.

This Swine Weighed 650 Pounds.

Messrs. C. H. Wilson and C. D. Fletcher sold a hog to Mr. C. W. Mason Wednesday that tipped the scales at just 600 pounds gross.

The hog is of the Duroc variety and was raised on the Wilson farm up the Cumberland river. It is perhaps the heaviest hog ever marketed in Smithland. — Livingston Banner.

Heaves $301 Out of Car Window.

Royds, Md., Feb. 23.—When the young daughter of Mrs. Forest Fuiks of Garrett, Kan., saw her mother throw an empty milk bottle from a car window, the child imitated the motion, and the mother turned just in time to see her pocketbook, which contained railroad tickets and $301 in money, go sailing into a field and disappear from view. The money was later recovered.

Henderson Seeks

Artesian Well Water.

Henderson, Ky., Feb. 16.—Water was struck at a depth of 175 feet in a test well sunk by the direction of the filter committee of the city council in its quest for pure water. Mayor Thompson says that, after it is tested if it proves all right for general use, several of these wells will be driven, and this water used instead of river water.

FIRST TO ANNOUNCE

As Candidate for Congress in First District.

Allen W. Barkley was born on November, 24, 1877, on a farm near Lowes, in Graves county. His father was a renter, moving from place to place until the subject of this sketch was 15 years of age. Young Barkley attended such schools as the neighborhood afforded until he was 15 years old at which time his father moved his family to Hickman county, near Clinton. Being inspired with a desire to be educated, but having no money, and being the oldest of eight children and being compelled to work to help support them, he walked from the country into Clinton, and asked the authorities of Marvin College if he might sweep the school building and make the fires in order to pay his tuition. This privilege being granted him, he continued his studies for five years, all this time doing the work about the school and graduating with high honors in 1897. After that he taught school at Clinton, and in 1899 he removed to Paducah and began the study of law in the office of Chas. K. Wheeler and later continuing in the office of W. S. Bishop and John K. Hendrick.

In 1901 he was admitted to the bar and entered upon the practice of law, and is recognized as one of the leading lawyers of the Paducah Bar. In 1905 he was elected County Attorney of McCracken County, and while holding that office he was a believer in the vigorous enforcement of the law, and helped prosecute some of the most noted criminal cases that have arisen in McCracken county for years. He also demanded and helped secure an economical administration of the affairs of McCracken county and before his term expired he was nominated without opposition for county Judge of McCracken county, and is now serving his third year in that office. As county judge, he has reduced the affairs of McCracken County to a business basis, has eliminated favoritism and useless expenses, and in two years saved enough money to pay off $20,000 and build 80 miles of new gravel roads without raising the tax rate.

Judge Barkley has always been a democrat and has his parents for a hundred years. He has taken part in every campaign in West Kentucky for many years and has always worked for the success of the party. He is what is known as a Progressive Democrat. He believes in the reduction of the tariff in accordance with the democratic doctrine; believes in the election of the United States Senators by the people; believes in a law prohibiting the issue of government license to sell liquor in local option territory; believes in the enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce Commission; believes in a rigid corrupt practice act, which will effectually curb and eliminate all corrupt practices in elections; he believes in the passage of such laws as will more truly restore the powers of the government to the hands of the people, and curtail and destroy the power of unlawful wealth to manipulate the forces of the government. He believes in the passage of such laws as will enable farmers to cope with the corporations in regulating the price of their products; and he believes that state and national platforms are made to carry out and live up to as well as to get in on. He is for a primary election as the method of choosing the nominee, and believes in the principle of primaries for the nomination of all officers. There are many other questions before the people upon which he will declare himself as the campaign progresses.

Called Home.

Died at their home near Chapel Hill Church, in Crittenden Co., Ky., 1, 1912, Grace R. (Hill) Clement, daughter of H. O. and Mallie Hill, and wife of Jammie Clement, aged 21 years, 2 months and 18 days.

Grace was a sweet, pure girl and grew into a sweet, pure womanhood. No one in the community was better loved than Grace.

She professed religion when quite young and united with the Presbyterian Church of Chapel Hill, Oct. 18, 1903.

She has been a faithful and consistent member of the Church; always present at all the services when possible—a member of the choir and an active member of the Sunday School. It seems to her pastor that she manifested as sweet a Christian spirit as any one he ever knew.

She was married to Jammie Clement, Feb. 15, 1911.

They went at once to house keeping in their newly prepared home and lived happily together.

But alas, how uncertain are all our earthly plans and hopes!

A little babe came to brighten the home, and the life of the little one cost the life of the mother. Grace lived only a little more than two weeks after the baby was born. The pastor was with her in her last sickness, and with her when she died. It was the most beautiful death bed scene he ever witnessed.

She gave her babe to her mother, selected the songs to be sung at her funeral, joined in singing when some of her friends sang as she was dying, with a beautiful smile on her face, said goodbye to husband and friends and so went without a doubt or a fear to meet her Savior.

The loving daughter, devoted wife and mother, the true friend and earnest Christian and faithful Church member has been called up higher.

Her funeral was preached at Chapel Hill church in the presence of a large congregation of her friends and loved ones, and all that was mortal of Grace was laid to rest in the cemetery near by.

May God bless her loved ones and bring them all home to meet her in the land of peace.

—PASTOR.

He leaves to mourn his loss, father, mother, one sister and four brother.

The funeral was preached at Crooked Creek church by Rev. E. B. Blackburn who paid a beautiful tribute to his memory. The interment was in Crooked Creek cemetery.

STORIES ABOUT INTERESTING PEOPLE

Washington Woman World's Best Orchardist.

With the competition open to the world, the State of Washington led all the rest in the apple contest at the great New York land show this year. But, mind you, it was a woman orchardist who took the first prize.

So, again the supremacy of Washington soil and climatic conditions for the most nearly perfect apple production is demonstrated; and again the ability of women to excel in whatever line of work she closely applies herself is shown. In the great fruit-growing states of the Pacific Coast there are many successful women orchardists; owing to the marked achievement of Mrs. Rowland, in the future we shall undoubtedly have more orchardists. It is a delightful, healthful, lucrative occupation for intelligent women, offering them assured freedom from the nerve-racking professions most commonly pursued by women, such as teaching, nursing and matrimony.

At the first great land show held in Atlantic Coast territory, in New York, in the fore part of November, Northwestern apples winter wheat, oats, barley and alfalfa made a clean sweep of first prize. The most astonishing thing about the entire show, it seems, to the Easterners, was that the first prize for apples should have been captured by a woman.

Mrs. Ella D. Rowland, of Zillah, Washington, whose 25-box exhibit of winesaps received the best score, was awarded the unique prize of $500 in gold coin, presented in a handsome plush-lined leather case from President Howard Elliott, of the Northern Pacific Railway, and the $1,000 silver trophy cup, given by A. G. Hanauer, of Spokane.

In the apple contest there were thirty exhibitors, representing practically all the apple growing districts of the United States and Canada. The first twelve exhibitors who scored the highest were all, with one exception, from the Northwest. A New York State exhibit ranked sixth. But just to show what it could do, the Northwest had five competitors lined up with higher scores than the Eastern orchards.

Mrs. Rowland went to the Yakima Valley eighteen years ago with her husband, when they settled in Mrs. Rowland's present location, consisting of thirty acres, twenty-nine of which are in apples at the present time. They originally cultivated hops on their ranch, with good success, afterwards planting to apples. Since Mr. Rowland's death, Mr. Rowland has managed the ranch and done much of the work herself, steadily producing the apples which have now placed her in the lead of orchardists the world over. The land which grew the apples originally costs the Rowlands $40 an acre. It is now valued at $1,600 per acre. Mrs. Rowland says she will remain on the ranch and continue to manage it herself. She attributes her success to careful and systematic cultivation, backed up by natural conditions, consisting of the best of soil and abundant sunshine and water.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address F. J. "TEN REASONS"

Why You Should Patronize The FARMERS BANK of Marion.

1st. The officers and Stockholders of this bank, were all born, reared, and now reside in this county. No other Bank in the county is so owned and officered.

2nd. The earnings of this bank are distributed among men who help to maintain your schools and other public institutions.

3rd. The net profits, earned from your patronage, to this Bank is not sent to Stockholders who live outside this State, or in other Counties of this State, but it is paid to men who live in this County; and the money becomes available, at once, for the use of any man in the County who needs to borrow it.

4th. The Stockholders of this bank do not borrow the money of the depositor, to use in furthering their private interests.

5th. The officers of this bank, are men whose conservative and successful conduct of their own affairs, proves their ability to manage the bank's affairs.

6th. The officers of this bank are bonded against dishonesty, and its vault, (the ONLY steel vault in Crittenden County) is insured against burglary.

7th. Alike all State Banks in Kentucky, this bank is examined by an official from the office of the Secretary of State, but we make no boast that we have been found honest. It is the Duty of officials of a bank to see that the affairs of the bank are honestly conducted. We claim no special distinction for having performed our duty.

8th. This bank is not a United States Depository. No money is sent from Washington to be deposited in State Banks in Kentucky. Under the Postal Savings Bank law, the Postmaster is permitted to re-deposit in local banks, such small sums as have been deposited in the Post office. Provided; a bank can be found willing to comply with the requirements of the Government; which are, in substance, that the local bank must first deposit with the Government say, One Hundred Dollars, then the Postmaster is permitted to deposit with that bank seventy-five to ninety dollars, provided the bank pays the Government 2 1/4 percent per annum interest. This Bank pays home depositors Two percent on time certificates of Deposits. We do not believe the advertisement of having "United States Depository" appended to our sign, would be of enough value to justify the paying of a higher rate of interest to the Government than we pay to home people.

9th. Since the organization of this bank, there has not been projected in this County a single enterprise which was thought for the good of the County, which we have not assisted.

10th. This bank offers you the security of careful, honest and conservative management, added to ample capital for all its needs, and abundant credit for extraordinary needs, combined with liberal terms and courteous treatment, as all who patronize us will testify.

There is no other Bank in Crittenden County that can offer the above reasons for your Patronage.

We solicit your business.

The Farmers Bank of Marion.

We hope for some pretty weather now.

Misses Lizza and Lula Kinsolving of Emmaus attended church here Saturday.

We have a sick man in our community and at our Sunday service here some of our good brethren thought it would be prudent and right to take a collection for him. The sick man had not asked for this at all, but the collection was taken and this man received more than $12 in a few minutes. This shows that our good people and friends around us believe in what the scripture teaches us to do, to look after the sick and afflicted, to visit the widows and orphans, and administer to the poor and needy and to keep ourselves unspotted from the world. All those things are Christ's Commands and we should obey. As dear children of His, that we may be able when done with life's battles to hear that welcome applauded, Come Ye Blessed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

Prayer meeting at this place every Sunday evening at 2 o'clock. Everybody invited to come and attend.

Henry Burklow and daughters, Misses Sarah and Cora Burklow attended church here Saturday and Sunday.

Linvel Holoman is still in very poor health suffering with tuberculosis.

HUBBY'S LETTER

Gave Him Away And His Wife Was Waiting.

Brownsville Pa., Feb. 17. —Mrs. Ely Cope, wife of a prominent lawyer and politician, horsewhipped Miss Elsie Whilson, a pretty young girl of Pittsburg, who arrived on the Pittsburg and Lake Erie train to visit Mrs. Cope's husband. The young woman was met at the station by Cope and they went to his office. Cope had gotten rid of Madge Brown, his stenographer, for the afternoon by sending her to a matinee.

When Cope and the girl opened the door to the office, Mrs. Cope opened fire with a horse whip on Miss Wilson, giving a severe beating and chasing the girl until she jumped on a street car and escaped. Mrs. Cope had advance information of the proposed visit from surreptitiously reading a letter found in her husband's pocket.

Cope is about fifty-five years old. He and his wife separated after the affray, he moving his effects to a hotel.

Boys Corn Club

Successful Candidates to Receive Diplomas.

Frankfort, Jan. 6, 1912.
My Dear Superintendent:—

I am arranging with the Commissioner of Agriculture to furnish a high grade of seed to members of the Boys' Corn Clubs, to be distributed through your office.

Each boy is expected to grow
one acre of corn. Specific rules governing these clubs will be furnished through this office
from the Commissioner of Agriculture, a little later on.

I am writing to advise you to notify, as soon as possible the

Commissioner of Agriculture,
how many boys will join the club
in your county. In order that the Commissioner may know the amount of seed corn necessary to provide for your club, it is necessary for the club to be organized as soon as possible.

Every boy growing as much as sixty bushels of corn to the acre during this year, will be presented a nice diploma signed by the Governor, the Commissioner of Agriculture, the State Superintendent and the County Superintendent.

The Commissioner of Agriculture has authorized me to say that all matters in your county pertaining to the corn club will come through the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, but please advise the Commissioner of Agriculture
as soon as you can, how many boys will be in your corn club.

I regard this as a splendid feature of correlation between the Departments of Education and Agriculture, and I earnestly hope that you will render hearty support in making this the greatest year of all along these lines.

Thanking you in advance for a hearty co-operation in this and other matters, I am,

Very truly yours,
Barksdale Hamlet, Supt.

The above letter from State Superintendent gives you an idea of what the State Department is doing to interest the boys in home and farm work.

Now, I want the names, addresses, school district, and ages of as many boys whose ages are between nine and sixteen, inclusive, that we may organize a corn club, or clubs for Crittenden county. Send me your names, addresses, etc., and I will forward them to the State Superintendent. The Department will then furnish us with the seed corn, rules for organizing, cultivation, etc. I want, at least, as many as fifty boys.

There has been a great work done in other counties of this state, and other states along this line. We want our part of all good things going.

This summer when the schools start again we will complete the organization. Besides the diploma offered by the State we will arrange for prizes to be given those making the best yield per acre.

I must hear from those that will join us within two or three weeks.

Yours very truly,
E. Jeffrey Travis, Supt.

Kentuckians Speak to Philadelphia Bankers.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 19.—
Ollie M. James, of Marion, Ky., and Bishop Woodcock of Louisville, gave their views of political and business conditions in speeches at the annual banquet
of the Philadelphia bankers from all parts of the East were present.

Representative James declared: "Socialism is not yet a menace but only a protest. Its danger can be averted by applying the rule of equal rights for all and special privileges for none. There never was and never will be an argument for the few that could not be advanced for the benefit of all."

"There is a certain class of business men who do not represent real business, are not honest and do not contribute to business success," said Bishop Woodcock.
"They are pessimists. A pessimist is one who blows out the light to see how dark it is, a man with a prejudice, one who destroys the very things he lives
on, faith in men and business."

Arizona Is Now a State.

Washington, Feb. 14.—As the White House clocks were striking 10 President Taft today signed the proclamation admitting Arizona to the union. He used a gold pen which is to be given to Postmaster General Hitchcock.
"There you are," said the president as he signed the last document.

In signing the proclamation

admitting Arizona to the union,
President Taft added the 48th star to the flag and brought within the sisterhood of states
the last bit of territory within the confines of the United States.

To perpetuate the scene for future Arizonians the moving picture man invaded the White House for the first time.
The president's office was filled with officers of the state, government officials and others interested.

To the Farmers of Kentucky.

You are hereby notified that the State Farmers Institute as provided for by law is called to assemble at Frankfort, Feb. 27th, 28th, and 29th.

All delegates will be duly notified through this office but this notice is sent to the public in order that all farmers, irrespective of whether delegates or not are cordially invited and will be accorded the privileges of the floor and are in fact urged to be present at this meeting, as it is understood by your commissioner: the law does not contemplate that just one person from each county should attend this meeting, but that all persons interested in the development of the agricultural resources of the State who desire to attend
should be given the opportunity and the invitation to attend this meeting.

Women are especially invited and Feb. 28th, will be in a great measure, "Ladies Day." Some of the best lecturers on "Household Economics," "Home Improvements" and "Woman's Place in Agriculture" have been secured and particular attention will be given to interesting the women of Kentucky
in the improvement of home conditions especially in the rural districts.

Low railroad rates are expected. A good program has been provided for this Institute. The General assembly is in session.
The State Capital is always interesting and it is hoped that this meeting will be the largest gathering of Farmers ever held in the borders of the State.

Any information desired further will be cheerfully given by addressing.

J. W. Newcom,
Commissioner of Agriculture,
Frankfort, Ky.

DEATHS

Mrs. Walter McConnell's Father Dead.

Mrs. Walter McConnell received word last Wednesday of the serious illness of her father, Mr.
H. C. Trenary of Elnora, Ind.
She left Thursday for her former home to be at her father's bedside. Mr. McConnell accompanied her as far as Evansville.
She reached Elnora, Thursday night at 8 o'clock and found her father unconscious and sinking. She immediately phoned her husband whom she had left at Evansville. Mr. Trenary died Friday morning at 3 o'- clock before Mr. McConnell reached there. He was about 55 years of age, was engaged in the hardware business and was a member of the M. E. Church.
His untimely death was caused by erysipelas from which he had suffered less than a week.

J. H. Hughes dead.

J. Harvey Hughes an old and well known citizen of the county died Tuesday morning at his home on Flynn's Ferry road two miles south of Weston, of acute

Mrs. R. Champion Expires Suddenly at Her Home in Salem.

Friends of the family and relatives of the deceased were shocked beyond expression Monday morning when the news reached the city that Mrs. Maggie Champion had expired of heart failure while alone in bed.

Her daughter, Miss Ina Koon
had gone to the kitchen to prepare breakfast, and Mr. Champion, her husband was absent in Clarkville, Tenn.

About one hour before she was found dead she awoke her daughter, Miss Ina and told her to build a kitchen fire, saying she did not feel very well but would get up and help her about the morning meal. As she did not appear Miss Ina went to her bedside
when breakfast was ready to ask her mother if there was anything she especially wanted for breakfast, and found she had quietly breathed her last without making a sound and without a struggle.

The funeral was preached by Rev. Willis Pierce and the interment took place at Old Union, at the especial request of her husband who is grief stricken over the young wife whom he idolized. Mrs.
Champion who was a daughter of the late John A. Yandell, of Caldwell Spring section, was twice married, her first husband, Goldie Koon dying several years ago. About two years ago she married Richard Champion, the well known stock-man of Salem,
and she and her daughter, Miss Ina Koon removed from Caldwell Springs to Salem. Mrs.
Champion was 42 years of age and was a sister to T. J. and W.
B. Yandell of this city also Milton Yandell, of Caldwell Springs
and John Yandell of Rosiclare.
Her sisters are, Mrs. Tobe Gras-ham of Salem, Mrs. Riley Brasher of Dycusburg, and Mrs.
Frank Gwaltney, of Charleston, Mo.

New Decalogue on Which Hang Business Laws and Profits.

1 Thou shalt not wait for something to turn up, but thou shalt pull off the coat and go to work that thou mayst prosper in thy affairs and make the word "failure" spell "success."

2 Thou shalt not be content to go about thy business looking like a loafer, for thou shouldst know that thy personal appearance is better than a letter of recommendation.

3 Thou shalt not try to make excuses, nor shalt thou say to those who chide thee, "I didn't think."

4 Thou shalt not wait to be told what thou shalt do, nor in what manner thou shalt do it, for what may thy days be long in the job which fortune hath given.

5 Thou shalt not fail to maintain thine own integrity, nor shalt thou be guilty of anything that will lessen thy respect for thyself.

6 Thou shalt not covet the other fellow's job, nor his salary nor the position he has gained by his own hard labor.

7 Thou shalt not fail to live within thy income, nor shalt thou contract any debts when thou canst not see thy way clear to pay them.

8 Thou shalt not be afraid to blow thine own horn, for he who fails to blow his own horn at the proper occasion findeth nobody standing ready to blow it for him.

9 Thou shalt not hesitate to say "No" when thou meanest "No" nor shalt thou fail to remember that there are times when it is unsafe to bind thyself by a hasty judgement.

10 Thou shalt give every man a square deal. This is the last and great commandment, and there is no other like unto it. Upon this commandment hang all the law and the profits of the business world.—Tit Bits London

OCEAN VESSELS

BUILT ON OHIO.

Boat for Cuban Trade Building at Pittsburg.

Pittsburgh, Feb. 21.—A seagoing vessel is to be constructed in Pittsburg. T. J. Keenan who has just returned from the Isle of Pines, says it has been decided by the Isle of Pines Navigation company of which he is president, to construct a steamship for operation between Key West and Cuba, and that it will be built here.

Col. Keenan believes that with the completion of the Ohio river improvements now in progress, by which a nine-foot stage is to be maintained all the year, Pittsburg will become a great port for the construction of vessels which will be seen in every South American and Pacific coast harbor.

It is his opinion that deep draft as a necessity for ocean-going vessels is a worn-out theory. The Isle of Pines Navigation company has now two vessels plying between the island and Havana of about six feet draft and the length of the Atlantic coast. The steamer he proposes building here will have more than eight feet draft.

Butter Made in Presence

An enterprising dairyman has recently added to his list of electrically-driven appliances a one and one-half horse-power motor for driving a churn. His patrons purchase cream for him, and for a small charge have it made into butter on the spot. The method is not only an excellent advertisement for the tradesman, but is also instructive for the children and others in the neighborhood.—Chicago Tribune.

Largest Egg in the World.

The largest egg in the world has recently been on exhibition in the Museum of Natural History, New York. It is the eggs of the gigantic extinct bird called Epynoris, which formerly lived in considerable numbers on the Island of Madagascar. This was a huge wingless creature, the largest and most formidable bird that ever trod the earth. In life it has been variously estimated to have stood from seven to twelve feet in height, possessing massive and powerful limbs. This bird surpassed the ostrich, the king of modern birds, both in size and herculean strength, though it closely resembled in build all the members of the family of which the ostrich is a type, such as the emu of Australia, the extinct moa, etc.

The epynoris egg is six times larger than that of the ostrich, having a capacity of two gallons, or the capacity of 150 hen eggs. Here are some of the astonishing dimensions of the big egg: The shell is about one eighth of an inch thick, the lengthwise circumference is two feet eight inches, and two feet two inches round the middle. Though termed a fossil egg, it is not petrified or turned to stone as in the case of dinosaur bones. It is in a surprisingly perfect condition, unbroken and has a yellow color, although finely pitted in places. The contents have not been removed, as they have turned to a fine dust which comes out when the egg is handled through a small natural perforation on one side.—The Christian Herald.

FREE IF IT FAILS

Your Money Back if You are not Satisfied with the Medicine We Recommend.

We are so positive that our remedy will permanently relieve constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine at our expense should it fail to produce satisfactory results.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels and tend to make constipation chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous.

Constipation is caused by a weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect permanent relief you must therefore tone up and strengthen these organs and restore them to healthier activity.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our recommendation. They are exceedingly pleasant to take, being eaten like candy, and are ideal for children, delicate persons, and old folks, as well as for the robust. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They apparently have a neutral action on other associate organs or glands. They do purge, cause excessive looseness, nor create any inconvenience whatever. They may be taken at any time, day or night. They will positively relieve chronic or habitual constipation, if not of surgical variety, and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments, if taken with regularity for a reasonable length of time. 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents. Sold in Marion only at our store.—The Rexall Store.

PUMA DISCOVERED KILLING SHEEP.

Animal Supposed To Have Escaped from Circus.

Augusta, Ky., Feb. 21.—D. F. List, Supt. of the Bracken County infirmary, had an exciting experience with a strange animal supposed to be a puma near the county farm Saturday. The animal was discovered on the hillside, close to a vacant barn, and was preparing to kill some sheep when discovered. Mr. List procured a shotgun and tracted the puma to his lair under some oats in the barn where he was dislodged by some dogs, but two shots failed to bring him down, and the dogs being afraid to take up its trail the animal escaped.

The puma is supposed to have escaped from a traveling circus, last summer and hunger is thought to have forced it to make an effort to kill sheep in day time. Farmers in that vicinity report the loss of a number of sheep recently.

Life Saver

In a letter from Branchland, W. Va., Mrs. Elizabeth Chapman says: "I suffered from womanly troubles nearly five years. All the doctors in the county did me no good. I took Cardui, and now I am entirely well. I feel like a new woman. Cardui saved my life! All who suffer from womanly trouble should give Cardui a trial."

Cardui

The Woman's Tonic

50 years of proof have convinced those who tested it, that Cardui quickly relieves aches and pains due to womanly weakness, and helps nature to build up weak women to health and strength. Thousands of women have found Cardui to be a real life saver. Why not test it for your case? Take Cardui today!

Real Gentility.

An idea can become common thinking of the people without giving thereby an idea of wide extent. It may lose its original meaning or become obscured by uses to which it has been put. It will continue to be the same in the life and thought of the people. This observation has no pertinent application than the idea of gentility. Just as the marks of the gentleman are viewed from age to age, so the standards of gentility that obtain in his time never vary in essentials. The world could ill afford to have a general idea as this is its form in any essential. So that all literature is to the same qualities as gentility. The refinement of society may not be the same in the person who has the inner marks of gentility. But there is strong probability that the true gentleman should seriously offend any of the important canons of society. When a man displays no regard for age or reverence for things that are held dear by others, he is a boor. He has no gentility and he may have genius, but if he lacks the cardinal requirements of respect for the views and the position of others and arrogates to himself the prerogative of indiscreet criticism, if he is without consciousness of the virtues of society, then he has a serious defect which cannot be supplied by act of training on his part. Nothing enters quite so into the actual character of a man as his gentility or the quality of his life. It is the life of life and it gives to a gentleman will never be of taking advantage of opportunity to give offense to others. He will never run to the attack from ambush. His views will be positive and his acts will have individuality enhanced by its gentility with the social standards, he can never be mediocre, as there is nothing that so attests the fullness of the spirit of a person, the completeness of his equipment, the value and force of his views and the effectiveness of his character as to have the deserved reputation of being instinctively a gentleman.

No other ideal could be set before the youth of equal value to the ideal of gentility. The small acts in which the spirit of gentility are most observed attest that in the larger operations and activities the person is moved by the abiding sentiments of his fellow-men. To the extent one fails in gentility he is anti-social, and if he displays his contempt of reverence for positions and views that are deserving of honor, then he is not only anti-social but an anarchist.—American.

FIND 100 TACKS IN SHOEMAKER'S MIDST

Leconey Says He Used Mouth to Hold Them and Often Swallowed a Few.

Burlington, N. J., Feb. 19.—Abraham Leconey, a shoemaker at Delanco, was taken to a Philadelphia hospital today for a tack-lifting operation upon which physicians are relying to save his life. For nearly a year Leconey has been suffering from stomach ache. All remedies failed to relieve him, and the puzzled doctors finally proposed an X-ray examination. The spot light revealed about a hundred brass tacks sticking in the walls of the shoemaker's stomach.

Leconey says that for several years he has used his mouth for a temporary tack box while at work at his bench and often swallowed a few. The surgeons say one section of the shoemaker's stomach has more tacks in it than the sole of a boot.

The most superficial investigation will prove that the following statement from a resident of Marion is true. Read it and compare evidence from Marion people with testimony of strangers living so far away you cannot investigate the facts of the case. Many more citizens of Marion, will endorse Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Emma Weldon, Salem St., Marion, Ky., says: "Kidney trouble annoyed me for five years and greatly affected my health. My back was lame and pained me most of the time. I had headaches and often could hardly see. None of the remedies I tried gave me any benefit until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store. The effect of this remedy was marvelous, as in two months I was free from kidney trouble. It has been observed repeatedly on board vessels stationed west of Cape Otway at the southern tip of Australia, that it was impossible to communicate with vessels situated in the port of Melbourne. Moore—Thomas, Nuptials.

On Wednesday Feb. 14th, 1912, at 3:30 o'clock, p. m., at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. J. A. Thomas, of this county, Mr. Robt. C. Moore and Miss Willie Thomas were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. G. Y. Wilson, of Tolu. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of blue serge trimmed with blue velvet and cream net, carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

The groom wore a suit of blue. The general opinion was "they never before looked so pretty." No community can boast of more estimable and deserving young people which were sufficiently attested by the vast number of relatives and friends assembled to witness the consummation of the happy event. After congratulations were extended, the guests returned to their homes. The following day quite a number of relatives of the contracting parties were invited to partake of the bountiful repast at the home of the groom's father, Mr. R. D. Moore, of this county. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hurley, and Veyar, Thomas the bride's brother.

That evening a number of the younger people were invited, who spent the evening in pleasant conversation, varied by the instrumental and vocal music. Last but not least they were invited into the dining room where refreshments were served in courses. The table was beautifully decorated with pink and white carnations and festoons of pink hearts, reminding one that "Cupid" was in the midst.

Covers were laid for ten.

Those present were Misses Emma and Ruth Terry, Addie Franks, Clara and Mary Hurley, Dora, Cora and Rose Moore, Stella Flanary, Myrtle, Stella and Ollie Thomas, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Thomas. Messrs. Geo. Conditt, Callie Strong, Hayward and Grayot Hurley, Kellroy LaRue, and Ray Thomas.

Everyone returned to their homes feeling delighted with the occasion and declaring that the Misses Moore, sisters of the groom, could not be excelled anywhere as caterers, and the young men whispering that "if all minds agreed it would not be long 'til similar occasions would be celebrated there."
