World's Greatest Marine Disaster.

The White Star Line Titanic.

Largest Ocean Liner Ever Built Crashes Into An Iceberg, and Sinks to Bottom of the Atlantic.

Where Ocean is Two Miles Deep. 1342 Souls Lost.

Disaster overtook the giant Leithan. Titanic Sunday night at 11 o'clock, 500 miles off the coast of Cape Race, New Foundland. Four hours later she shot to the bottom of the Atlantic in 2,000 fathoms of water. The floating palace which cost $5,000,000 was on her maiden voyage from Liverpool to New York and had on board 2210 persons, including the ship's crew. Wireless messages brought to the aid of the Carpathia of the same line. 868 persons most of whom were women and children were picked up in life boats after floating for hours in the open sea where the great ship lay. Among those reported lost are: T. Stead, noted editor of the London Standard, the world's richest merchant since the death of Marshall Fields. J. P. Morgan, partner of J. D. Morgan, worth $95,000,000. John Jacob Astor returning on a bridal trip, bride and maid included, worth $150,000,000. Geo. Widener, Philadelphia cotton magnate, worth $50,000,000. Washington Roebling, cable wire king of America, worth $1,000,000. B. Thayer, Pres. Penn. R. R. worth $10,000,000. M. Hayes, Pres. Grand Bank R. R. $50,000,000.

Attention Road-overseers.

On account of the severe freezes last winter our roads are in worse condition than they have been for many years. Complaints are constantly being made to me by those using the roads. Knowing that you could not keep the ground from freezing and making the roads soft I have declined to issue any warrants until you have an opportunity of putting your roads in condition. It is a hardship on the farmers to stop and work the roads at this time, but the condition of the roads is such the work cannot be put off. I suggest that every overseer in the county arrange to work the roads the first of next week. Fill up the mud holes and ruts and open the ditches. I hope that you will put the roads in condition at once and stop the complaints, as I do not wish to issue any warrants if I can avoid it, but the matter cannot be delayed much longer. J. W. BLUE, Jr., County Judge.

COBURN'S FINE SHOW.

One of the Cleverest Performances of Season at Opera House, 25th.

Coburn's Minstrels gave one of the cleanest, cleverest and most enjoyable performances of the season at the Grand last night. In foot ball parlance, they made a hit from the kick

Then and Now.

A. D. 60. From St. Luke x 30. A certain man went down from Jerusalem to Jericho and fell among thieves which stripped him of his raiment.

A. D. 1912. Condensed from a Daily paper. Tom Yandell, a delegate to the republican convention at Louisville, went from Marion via Princeton and there fell among thieves which stripped him of his overcoat and gloves. —And yet Mr. Yandell still believes in the republican party.

off. The stage settings were beautiful, and the electric accessories well placed. If a good show deserves a good audience, Coburn's Minstrels should play to capacity wherever it appears.

The individual and ensemble work was of high order, and the entire performance a success.

In the folio were many features of the fun producing variety. The European marionette novelty is act exceptionally clever. Charley Gano was a whole show in himself. He is unquestionably in a class by himself when compared with other comedians seen here. To look at him is to laugh. A feature of Gano's work is that he never even approaches the ragged edge of anything objectionable. The work of the quartette, Lucas, McCarthy, Seattle, Tietge was clever and received numerous encores. They are a splendid singing four. Manager Coburn always brings a first-class minstrel attraction to Greenville. —Daily News, Greenville, S. C.

BYRON W. KING.

To Lecture at The Auditorium Next Tuesday Night April 23rd.

The next number of the regular Lyceum course will be Byron W. King. He is an ideal American orator and his coming is always a welcome event to Marion people. He combines entertainment, enlightenment and inspiration in such a happy way that people are always uplifted while they are being amused. He is a man with a message, a king of orators.

Regular Lyceum prices will prevail.

Mrs. Love of Salem and Mrs.

Hughes of Chapel Hill Take Notice

Mr. Editor:—Will you hear us just a minute? Some days ago I chanced to be at the home of Mrs. Pearl Hamilton. She told me that she sold in the month of March 1912, 113 dozen eggs, set 8 1/2 dozen, ate 16 dozen making a total of 147 1/2 dozen.

Now Mr. and Mrs. Hughes come across with your R. I. hens. Mrs. Hamilton has all kinds and colors, large and small.

I do not know the number of hens but she has roosters not a few. Next. —R. M. Franks.

MISS LURENA CRUCE THE AUTHOR

Of Mother's Day Proclamation Issued by Oklahoma Chief Executive.

Below we give a copy of the proclamation issued by Lee Cruce our countyman who controls the destinies of the great new state of Oklahoma. It will be interesting to know, that from a private source, we are reliably informed, that the Governor's young daughter, who has not known a mother's love since her childhood is the author, she having written it at the suggestion of her distinguished father.

Mother's Day Proclamation

To Pay Tribute to the patient, loving Mothers now departed from our midst, and to honor and reverence those left with us, an "International Honor Day" has been designated by the civilized nations of the earth.

The sweetest treasure that life contains is your Mother, who dwelling here on earth, is more a part of Heaven;—but whether with you or above with the angels, she is your Mother still. Your Mother's love is eternal, living on when youth has faded, when other love has withered and been forgotten, and when the leaves of friendship have fallen.

Nothing that we can ever do can remove the debt of gratitude we owe our mothers; nothing can add to the debt.

"To Whom it is given To garden the earth with the roses of heaven."

It is fitting that we as a nation and as a State honor these true workers of God. Though they aspire not to fame, though they seek not popular applause, yet is their worth recognized and admitted by all who are capable of appreciating truth and excellence.

WHEREFORE, I Lee Cruce, Governor of the State of Oklahoma, do hereby proclaim Sunday, the Twelfth Day of May, Nineteen Hundred and Twelve, as "Mother's Day," and request that each citizen of Oklahoma, whether old or young, rich or poor, happy or sorrow laden, remember her whose love passeth human understanding, and remembering, manifest to the world your love and gratitude by wearing a white carnation in honor of the dearest of all Mothers, and wearing it, think of her and love her.

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State of Oklahoma to be hereunto affixed at my office in the City of Oklahoma City, State of Oklahoma, this the Sixth Day of April, Nineteen Hundred and Twelve.

LEE CRUCE, Governor of the State of Oklahoma. BENJAMIN F. HARRISON, Secretary of State.

R. M. Franks tells us that he has eaten six birthday dinners in the last month and they were not all eaten at the same time either—they were not all his own. He is still up and looking thin, and around about for more.

Highest Price for Corn Since 1890.

Henderson, Ky. April 15. —Corn was sold here yesterday at 82 1/2-8 cents, which was the highest price paid for corn since 1870 during the Franco-Prussian war, when Joseph Adams shipped his Diamond Island crop, to New Orleans, which sold for $1.00 per bushel.

Col. W. S. Grady sold his crop of corn across Green river of about 6,000 bushels for 8 1/2 cents per bushel.

Paul Gossage, the "Lula from Lola" passed through the city Monday afternoon enroute to Terre Haute, Ind. where he will pitch ball this season.

Driver—Reid.

Hugh Driver of Fredonia and Miss Nonie Reid were married Saturday night at 7:45 at the residence of R. M. Crow in Fredonia. Rev. W. T. Oakley officiating. This is a popular young couple and they have the best wishes of all who know them.

Case Compromised.

The case against J. M. Norris charged with being the father of the child born to Miss Myrtle Tudor, was compromised—Norris agreeing to pay Miss Tudor $50 cash and $50 a year for six years. —Morganfield Sun.

You Get Square Deal

When You Buy Square Deal Fence

Fences You See In Catalogs with big bulls and horses behind them look stout. Any kind of a fence can hold a bull on paper—Square Deal Fence does it on your farm. Just step into our store some day and let us show you Square Deal Fencing. You can look at the fence without feeling under any obligation to buy.

The Square Deal Lock is the secret of the success of this fence—the strongest, most compact lock ever invented. It grips the stay wires above and below the strand wires, and will not let them slip. There are no brittle welds to snap—no cumbersome knots to hold moisture, gather rust and shorten the life of your fence.

The Stay Wires are in one straight piece from top to bottom of fence. That means no sagging, no bagging, no buckling to let the pigs underneath. These Square Deal one-piece stay wires help support the fence and save fence posts—lots of 'em. That means fewer post holes to dig—less cost for posts and less cost for labor. All these things count in buying fence.

The Wavy Strand Wires keep Square Deal fence tight and trim the whole year round. They give the fence elasticity so it springs right back into place after sudden heavy strains. We have been handling wire fencing a long time and we want to sell you Square Deal fence because we honestly believe it beats all others in strength, durability and appearance and gives you much more fence value for your money. Come in and get Square Deal prices the next time you come to town. Anyway, don't buy another rod of fencing until you see for yourself why Square Deal is the best fence value on the market today.

Here and There.

(By Rambler.)

Farmers are getting behind with their farm work. There is not a sufficient number of tobacco beds burned and but few oats sown—but the April sun shine is making the wheat look green and thrifty.

There were five car loads of hogs shipped from the stock pens last Saturday. Who would have thought of that many hogs being for sale around Marion?

The last few days of wind and sunshine have dried the ground—a few more such days and the farmers will get busy.

Marion has moved. She is now the T. C. R. R.

While thinking over the past, "Mr. Editor" and musing of the beautiful, sunshine this Easter day—just the Lord's Sabbath, that's all, and like all Sabbath days should be remembered and kept holy. But how many will place a special stress upon this day and even in our churches, in cities and divers places, a few hours will be spent today in revelry, listening to some fine instrumental music of a worldly nature. No wonder we are growing spiritually dead as a Church people. We need the power of the past to quicken the power of the present.

ASHAMED OF HER FACE

"I was ashamed of my face," writes Miss Pickard of North Carolina. "It was all full of pimples and scars, but after using D. D. D. Prescription for Eczema I can say that now there is no sign of that Eczema and that was three years ago."

This is but one of thousands of cases in which D. D. D. has simply washed away the skin trouble. D. D. D. cleanses the skin of the germs of Eczema, Psoriasis and other serious skin diseases; stops the itch instantly, and when used with D. D. D. soap the cures seem to be permanent. Nothing like D. D. D. for the complexion.

NOTICE.

The long-looked-for Spring seems to have reached us at last. The time has come when mother earth is putting on her coat of green, the birds are singing to their mates and the world is being transformed from her cold mask of winter to the gorgeous garments she will wear throughout the spring and summer.

The earth is beginning to warm and the pesky fly will soon be here in his hideousness. This little, harmless looking insect is responsible for one-half of our summer sickness. He can only breed in filth, principally about stables and garbage. If we dispose of the fly we must do it before he is born, then it behooves us to dispose of the filth and we will not have the fly. Let us clean and disinfect our premises and put them in a sanitary condition before the hot season is on us.

Let every citizen of Marion take a pride in his home and his town; let us make our city an example for others to follow; let us save our babies from sickness and death.

Clean up YOUR OWN back lot, and then if your neighbor does not do his duty, report to the Board of Health.

T. ATCHISON FRAZER.

Right on The Minute.

On the roof of an old warehouse building at a Detroit wharf, two friends stood watching the Great Lakes' freight boats pass. Suddenly there shot out from the adjoining dock a little tug, with a row boat in tow, bobbing up and down on the dancing waves in the afternoon sunlight. The tug headed straight out into the lake, looking as if it would pass impudently in front of a large vessel which was approaching. Instead, the vessel slowed a very little, a man nimbly jumped from the tug into the row boat, and pulled close alongside the freighter. Before you could realize he was there, the freighter was yards ahead again, going steadily on her way westward.

From the United States Marine postoffice on shore the freighter had been sighted in the distance. They had mail for her crew, and the tug was dispatched to deliver it. In the moment that the little row boat was alongside, the mail had been passed up to the freighter and letters for posting passed down. The meeting was so well timed and executed with such precision, because every man was doing his part right on the minute. Perhaps there was a father among the crew on the freighter longing for news of a sick child at home; or a husband looking for word from his wife. If just one of the men on the big boat, or on the little boat, or even at the Marine postoffice, had failed to do promptly and faithfully his part, there would have been no letters received or sent that day.

It is a splendid thing to be faithful in great duties; but it is equally fine to be faithful in the smaller duties. We never know how much may depend upon the little task assigned to us. We are all links in a chain, and one link missing spoils the whole chain.—East and West.

Farmers' Bank

of Marion, Kentucky.
Capital Stock $15,000

Before the introduction of Rural Free delivery of mails in this county, it was inconvenient for many citizens of the county to transact their banking business in Marion.

On account of that inconvenience, many of this county's citizens began to do business with banks located in other counties.

The daily delivery of mail from Marion to the homes of almost all parts of the county, removes that inconvenience, and this bank has many patrons whose accounts are very active, but who seldom find it necessary to pay a personal visit to this bank. The mail brings in their business one day, and delivers them the bank's receipt at their gate, on the next day.

It is the purpose of this advertisement to reach such of the citizens of this county as may be continuing to transact their banking business with banks located outside this county, and invite them to patronize the institutions of their own county.

The Banks of this county, and their owners, pay their taxes in this county; they help to build and maintain the roads and bridges that you use; they help to maintain the schools in which your children are being educated. In these matters they are partners with every tax payer in this county.

Money deposited in the banks here, may be borrowed by your neighbor for the development of his business, and in helping him to his success, it helps to increase our county's resources.

Banks located in other counties do not help you pay taxes or maintain your school but they use the money they make from your patronage, in developing the resources of some other county.

Unless outside banks can offer you some facility or security that your home banks cannot offer you, do you not believe that loyalty to your home institutions should cause you to prefer to patronize them?

bank is more secure than a State bank, and for that reason hunt up a National bank to transact their business. The facts are; a National bank is not adapted to the needs of rural communities. No National Bank could lead your a thousand dollars on a ten thousand dollar farm, because the law forbids.

No National Bank could make you an offer for real estate notes, for the law forbids this kind of investments for them.

Your home banks can serve you in this way, because they are not restricted by the laws governing National Banks.

National Banks are required by law to keep as much as twenty-five per cent of their deposits in cash and on deposit in other banks.

On April 1st, this bank had seventy-one per cent of its deposits in cash and in other banks.

Some men have an idea that a large bank is safer to do business with than a small bank. The safety of any bank depends on the character and business ability of the men who manage its affairs.

A small field may be more carefully cultivated than a large one, so a small bank may be more carefully managed, more economically conducted, and is generally, more liberal in its dealings with its patrons.

If you are disposed to patronize your home banks, but are not quite ready to make the change now because you owe the other bank, come in and borrow from us the money you owe them, and pay them off and let them depend in the future on their home people for their patronage.

If you doubt our ability to serve you perfectly, ask your neighbor who does his business with us, he can, and will, gladly tell you how we do business.

Why Do Girls Dislike Housework?

We find many girls who grow up to dislike housework and cook. I believe one reason of their distaste for these tasks is because they have never been taught to do them well. The best way of doing home duties is being taught under the name of "Domestic Science," and thus an effort, which is being crowned with success, is being made to elevate these duties to a higher plane in the minds of young women. It is very true that we generally like what we do well. Therefore if we study these tasks as a science with the view of doing them in the best possible way, we shall come to enjoy them. It is very often not the tasks themselves that are disagreeable, but the way they are done.—Life and Health.

General Grant Dies Suddenly.

New York, April 15.—Major General Frederick Dent Grant, U. S. A., died here tonight at the Hotel Buckingham.

The news followed within an hour of the reported illness of Gen. Grant, the eldest son of the eighteenth president and himself the commander of the department of the east. Mrs. Grant telephoned the clerk's desk saying: "Get a physician, quick, the general is dying."

It was first reported that he had strangled, but later the doctors in a statement said it was heart disease. He had been suffering from diabetes and attendant digestive disturbances. His heart stopped instantly.

He was born May 30, 1850, and was with his father through several of the civil war campaigns. He later went to West Point. He resigned in 1881 and in 1888 was made minister to Austria in 1906. He married Miss Ida M. Honore, of Chicago, in 1874.

Good Telephone Manners.

Discourtesy over the telephone is hard to prevent. A person exasperated over some business affair is called to the telephone while still hot over the annoyance he feels. As he speaks into the inanimate transmitter, it is a good deal to expect that his manner will suddenly change to one of suavity. In other words, it is a strain on the imagination for him to see in the piece of metal and gutta percha the person on the other end of the line, and to change his manner in accordance.

Yet the telephone manners are as important in this day and age as table manners, and the one should be as carefully taught as the other. Fifty years ago an illegible letter was excusable, but in this day of the typewriter it is not. So the growth of the telephone has brought with it a requirement of rules of etiquette on the part of the telephone user.

Some of the large business institutions are taking up this matter with their employees. The Pennsylvania Railway Co., has sent letters to its employees in which are given strict instructions as to how to answer calls sent into their offices, and these instructions must be lived up to. The demands of the company are set down as follows, and we print them here in the hope that other people may read and profit thereby. They are:

"First—Answer all telephone calls promptly. It is not good manners to keep a caller waiting."

"Second—Drop once and for all the impolite meaningless, and often irritating 'hello.'"

"Third—Be particularly careful of the tone of voice in which you speak over the telephone."

"Fourth—In answering a call for the company over any of the company's telephones make it a point to see that the person speaking gets the information he wishes with least inconvenience to himself."

Winner of the Gold Medal One of the Most Popular Students in University and from Marion.

By a decision of the judges, N. Gray Rochester of Marion a senior in the College of Arts and Science, last night won the annual oratorical contest and the accompanying gold medal of the Patterson Literary Society of State University, defeating Chas. E. Blevens of Mt. Sterling, a sophomore in the College of Agriculture.

At 18:30 o'clock this morning, Mr. Rochester will debate with Leo J. Sandman of Louisville who, last week, won the annual contest of the Union Literary Society of the University. The latter debate will be held in the university chapel, and the winner will represent the university at large in the Kentucky Intercollegiate contest to be held on May 3, at Kentucky Wesleyan College Winchester.

Mr. Rochester's subject in the contest last night, which he also will use in the inter-society debate this morning, was, "Universal Peace." Mr. Sandman's topic of debate is "Peace on Earth." Both subjects have a significant relation, but the two young men have treated them from different standpoints. Mr. Blevens had as his subject last night, "The Permanency of the Nation." His topic was well prepared and contained many excellent thoughts but his weakness was in delivery.

The gold medal given annually by Dr. James K. Patterson, president emeritus of the university, in whose honor the society was named in 1897 by Gov. Proctor Knott, was presented to Mr. Rochester by Dr. Patterson in person, accompanied by a short and pointed talk.

The attendance was perhaps the best that has greeted one of the society contests in several years. The judges were Prof. Edward F. Farquhar, C. R. Melcher and Ezra L. Gillins, all of the university faculty.

Mr. Rochester, the winner of the Society contest, is one of the most popular students in the university and a leader in the senior class. He will graduate in June with a bachelor degree from the College of Arts, and probably will study law after graduation. He is from the home town ton Herald.

Stops Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a reliable remedy for any kind of horse lameness. Will kill the growth of spavin, curb or splint, absorb enlargements, and is excellent for swellings, fistula and thrush.

Here's Proof.
"I used Sloan's Liniment on a mule for 'high lameness,' and cured her. I am never without a bottle of your liniment; I have bought more of it than any other remedy for pains." BAILY KIRBY, Cassidy, Ky.
"Sloan's Liniment is the best made. I have removed very large shoe boils off a horse with it. I have killed a quarter crack on a mare that was awfully bad. I have also healed raw, sore necks on three horses. I have healed greasy heel on a mare that could hardly walk." ANTHONY G. HINES, Oakland, Pa., Route No. 1.

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is good for all farm stock.

"My hogs had hog cholera three days before we got your liniment, which I was advised to try. I have used it now for three days and my hogs are almost well. One hog died before I got the liniment, but I have not lost any since." A. J. McCARTHY, Idaville, Ind.

Sold by all Dealers. Price 50c. & $1.00.

BEAUTIFUL COCHRAN MEDAL

Auditorium.

The oratorical contest at the school auditorium last Friday night, was not attended by as large crowd as is usual on such occasions, on account of the rain and the threatening storm.

However the popularity of all the contestants brought out a large number of their admirers and the house was comfortably filled.

The program as published was carried out.
Coleman Foster, a favorite in Marion and wherever known, spoke first on, "The Heroes of Peace," and so well did he handle it that he divided honors with the winner, in the minds of the audience. In fact many of his adherents assert he should have had the medal.

Earl Sullenger followed on the subject, "The Power of An Enlightened Public Opinion" and acquitted himself admirably.

Marion Conditt son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Conditt, followed with the subject, "Life Is More Than A Living" and his diction and delivery were perfect and it was soon seen that all who had preceded him had met a foe worthy of their steel if not a vanquisher. His subject was a good one and he had given it much thought and hard work. When he had finished there was a question whether a majority of those present were with him or not, so well did he acquit himself. Eugene Wilson of Rodney section son of Rufus E. Wilson closed the contest on the "Land of Promise" after which the Judges Rev. M. E. Miller, E. J. Hayward and Rev. Wallace Clift retired to ballot for the name of the winner. It was not an easy task for them to settle it. Each of the noble boys desires special mention and each one had acquitted himself creditably.

The beautiful medal which is given each year by Mayor Thos. H. Cochran was awarded finally to Marion Conditt and he was showered with congratulations. All of the speakers received real tints of the rainbow.

The occasion was a pleasant one and only added another to memorie's treasury for the participants and all the patrons of the Marion Graded and High School.

Land Owners Tenants, and Road Workers, Take Notice.

Chapt. 64 of the Acts of 1910 provides as follows:—

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

Sec. 1. That it shall be unlawful for any one to obstruct the water tables of a turn pike or any public road by putting a crossing either private or public over the water table of a public road without providing a culvert or drain of sufficient dimensions to carry the full volume of water that may drain in this water table or to curb it so as not to impede the full flow of water. It shall also be unlawful to plant trees, telephone poles or fences in or closer than two and one half feet of the outer edge of the ditch, so that a plow or machinery may be used in making, widening or deepening them. Any fencing, tree or stone falling into a water table or rolling down from above into it, shall be removed within five days by owner of the land of which obstruction was a part or any person not an owner trimming trees or cutting weeds or briars, or any person placing any other obstruction in water table shall be liable for all damage done by turning water into road bed and also a fine of two dollars a day for each day the obstruction has laid in the ditch longer than five days.

Sec. 2. It shall be the duty of the road overseer or county surveyor of roads to report every misdemeanor under this act with all evidence he may collect to the magistrate in whose district that part of the road may lay under penalty of being indicted by the first grand jury for misfeasance in office and on conviction expelled from office for two years in some newspaper of general circulation published in their county.

Sec. 3. Any water table that may wash out deeper than necessary to carry the volume of water drained and undermining the roadbed or adjacent property by permission of overseer or road supervisor, the ditch may be filled or dammed to its proper size.

Sec. 4. In making or repairing any part of the public road one sixth or more of all money so spent shall be used for the drainage of said road by making water tables and placing culverts or drain pipes of suitable number and size.

Sec. 5. This act shall not apply to telephone companies that have obtained the consent of the fiscal court of the county where, in its poles are located as to the location of same.

Approved March 24 1910.

Fredonia Home Talent Company's Visit to Marion.

"A Kentucky Belle" was presented by the Fredonia Home Talent Co. at the Opera House, Monday night to a good house.

The play was in three acts and the program which was well rendered was as follows:

Miss Maria Douglass, a southern aristocrat with her niece Isabel to marry Col. McMillen. Isabel the lively owner of Kentucky Belle, a race horse, thinks the Col. is "too old, stupid and ugly." She admires a handsome young student who is temporarily a telephone lineman.

Program,

Chorus, You're Welcome If You Keep Right Still.
Solo: Lucy Lee.
Quartet: When the Dew Is on The Rose.
Duet: Cohen's Pet Names.
Solo: Why Can't I Make A Hit?
Trio: Garland of Old Fashion Roses.
Recitation: Lasha.

Solo: Linger Longer Lovey.
Duet: Take Your Billy And I'll Take Jake.
Solo: A City Far Away.
Pantomime: My Faith Looks In To Thee.

en lady with aristocratic tendencies, Florence Patton.

Isabel Douglass, a niece of Miss Douglass with Democratic tendencies, Mary Ray.

Marie Van Harlinger, friend of Isabel Helen Davis.

Col. Wm. McMillen Lem-on Lowery.

Dr. Blake, a middle aged practitioner, Smith Maxwell.

Miss Maddon, a trained nurse, Annie Patterson.

John Cason Gordon, alias Jack Cason, a wealthy student of sociology, Ed Harmon.

Miss Gordon, mother of John Cason Gordon, Sarah Davis.

Miss Gordon, sister of John Cason Gordon, Lala Clift.

Cinda, negro maid, Willie Donaldson.

Henry, negro boy engaged to Cindy, Don Harris.

Reuben Ray, Strother Davis, Lonnie Clift, Lacy Loyd.

Telephone Linemen.
Time: The Present; Place: Blue grass region of Kentucky.

All did their parts well. The songs at the beginning were catchy and proved much ability on the part of some of the young folks. Miss Mary Ray a former Marion girl attracted much attention on account of her voice which is wonderfully full and sweet and will make her famous ere long we predict.

Miss Helen Davis delighted the audience with her brightness and mirth and a brilliant future is predicted for her should she choose the stage and train for it. She fairly bubbles over with fun and has a mischievous look which fascinated many of her audience.

The fact is they all did well and we are glad they came and hope they will come again.

The proceeds were for the benefit of the C. P. Church at Fredonia and we understand a nice sum was realized.

DR. BELL'S ANTI-PAIN

CONVICT INVENTS WAY OF

Sheriff of County in West Still Looking for Return of Prisoner With Patent.

That all people, even hard-bitten jailers, are interested in inventing is shown by the following story:

Some years ago a Washington patent attorney was called on by a man from the west who had an improvement in some refrigerating apparatus and prepared and filed application for patent, the inventor leaving ostensibly for home.

A few days later the attorney received a telegram from the state of the inventor's home county, asking whether he was in Washington and replied that he had been but left for home, and later received from the sheriff an explanatory letter to the effect that the inventor had been committed to jail for some offense and while in the sheriff's custody had developed the invention which the sheriff had taken an interest; that he had, on his own responsibility, released the prisoner temporarily, so he could go to Washington to secure the patent and the return to serve the balance of his term.

So far as known, the sheriff is still waiting his return.—Scientific American.

FAMOUS WOMEN'S NAMES.

A census is being taken up in literary clubs here and abroad of the Christian names of women who have attained fame in art, science, history and government. The results so far obtained show a tie for first honors among Marys, Elizabeths and Anns. The next favorite name of illustrious women is Margaret, and then come Jane, Catherine, Frances, Sarah, Harriet, Charlotte, Caroline, Lucy, Matilda, Emily and Susan. The Mauds, Gwendolyns, Ediths, Ethels, Hazels and Roses are not famous enough to get in the honorable mention class so far. As the census has not yet been completed, there still may be hope for some of the latter.

WISE.

They had talked together five minutes or more on the street corner, when the man with the fuzzy hat took a notebook from his pocket. "By the way," he said, "what is your telephone number? I might want to call you up some day."

"That wouldn't help you any, Ferguson," said the other man; "my name's Fladger. I knew you were trying with all your might to place me and couldn't quite do it."

Cashier T. J. Yandell of the Marion Bank, had MOST ALL of his republican enthusiasm cooled off while enroute to the State convention. A thief at the Princeton depot stole his new spring overcoat, which was a beauty, and cost the genial banker 25 plunks just a few days ago. Tom told some of the other "boys" from Marion, that he was a good notion to return home and not go to the convention.

Mr. T. J. Yandell, the popular banker was offered a place of honor, that of alternate delegate for the state at large to the republican national convention which convenes at Chicago, June 18th, but did not accept. Mr. Yandell, besides being a modest man who does not ask or desire political preferment, is one of the most attentive to his bank's interests, and is rarely absent from his post at the window of the Marion bank.

In honor of the auspicious ceremonies which are to occur in our city soon, in connection with the dedication of the new Methodist church and subsequent events at the same place during almost the entire month of May bringing to our gates many distinguished personages, every citizen should clean up their premises and brighten up everything to make the city as attractive as possible at this time.

OUR FRIENDS IN PRINCETON

Give them the State-Is-Are Convinced.

It is a pleasure to read such good news as the following, for it shows that the experience of our friends in Princeton is the same as that of many Marion men and women who have spoken out so heartily in the columns:

Mrs. Mattie L. Morse, Princeton, Ky., says: "For years I suffered from kidney trouble. My back pained me terribly and at night the trouble was worse. I did not sleep and in the morning felt more tired than when I went to bed. I was dizzy and nervous and my limbs became swollen that I could not do my housework. I was hardly able to get around without assistance. At times I became unconscious. One day I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and as soon as I began their use, I felt their good effect. In a remarkably short time I was around, doing my housework. That was nearly four years ago and I have taken a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills since then and they have kept my kidneys in good normal condition. Any kidney sufferer who sees this will do well to take my advice and use Doan's Kidney Pills. I cannot praise this excellent remedy too highly."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

The Flooded Railroad.

The Illinois Central Railroad is at present routing all of its passenger trains via Evansville and Princeton. Fourteen passenger trains are passing Marion daily. The Seminole Limited a full Pullman car train together with the Panama Limited and other de luxe affairs of the kind boom through our city every day in the week, but they give us the merry ha-ha so far as any stop at this point is concerned. Some years ago this railroad got a train from Nashville to Chicago which gave Marion just the North and South service she needed and that she needs now. At the present time the act of going to Chicago over our own railroad is practically impossible without we have unlimited time to spare. To be sure we can leave Marion at 8 in the morning and reach Evansville somewhere about 10 or 11 a. m. and secure a train about six o'clock using up 24 hours in traveling from Marion to Chicago. The traffic manager of the Illinois Central is asked to arrange a through sleeper, Chicago to Paducah via Marion. Basing the line of the Seminole Limited which leaves Chicago at about 9 o'clock, reaching Paducah via Cairo at 8 the next morning this train via Marion would reach Paducah even earlier than now scheduled.

The Press insists that this Kentucky State Special would be a winner.

Every family that has children is liable to have croup; invariably at night. IF BALLARD'S HORE-BOUND SYRUP is kept in the house, it saves going after the medicine at an inconvenient time and checks the attack promptly. Price 25cts., 50cts., and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Jas. H. Orme.

WHAT HIS NEIGHBORS THINK OF HIM

Denny Smith if Elected will Con-tend for the Rights of the Common People

Near the east bank of Tennessee river, among the rock-ribbed hills of Trigg's western border, the life of this stalwart statesman began forty-five years ago. Plowing, sowing and tending the flock was his avocation, with limited means for support and meager opportunities for obtaining an education.

In early manhood we find his energies bent in the direction of public usefulness, first by teaching school in connection with his farm work, afterwards by attending the State University at Lexington, Ky., where he worked his way for five long years. Ten cents an hour were his wages there when he could spare the time away from his books until by his tact and peculiar fit-

Hanna's Green Seal "The Made-to-Wear Paint"

If you expect to do any painting, you are interested—you should be—in the quality of the paint to be used. In any given job of painting, labor represents practically two-thirds, material one-third the cost.

It stands to reason that with so much expense in labor, the enduring quality of the paint is all important.

Why have the painting done unless the protection and durability of the job is sought?

How is one to determine the true value and obtain paint that may be depended upon for durability?

HANNA'S GREEN SEAL PAINT IS NOT A SECRET. This paint has the printed formula on every package.

The makers have confidence and take pride in the quality and tell the public the composition of the paint.

IS THIS OF ANY VALUE TO YOU? IT OUGHT TO BE.

ness he was honored by promotion as foreman among the laboring pupils of the school.

Having graduated with high honors, we next find him back in his home county where he began the practice of law.

Mr. Smith has been twice elected County Attorney of Trigg, twice elected Commonwealth's Attorney of the third Judicial district, now serving his second term to the satisfaction of the people, and desires promotion to a seat in the lower house in the Nation's Congress.

It is needless for the Press to mention his democracy, for his long and useful services, in the democratic party and his astute management of campaign work puts him among the State's most efficient organizers, as well as in the ranks of the party's ablest stump speakers.

More than two years ago he espoused the cause of James B. McCreary for the Governorship because of his long and useful services, urging his nomination because of his stainless public life and his honesty of purpose, believing McCreary's nomination would vouch-safe democratic victory at the poles, and thus put an end to republican mis-rule in Kentucky.

In western Kentucky no man can be found who did more to bring about the nomination and election of Governor McCreary than did Denny P. Smith whose services were in demand before and after his nomination, thus proving his good judgement and foresight in his wise selection of Democracy's standard-bearer.

As a delegate to the democratic platform convention he was placed on the platform committee and made a winning fight for the "County Unit" plank with Ballard county misrepresented and McCracken's whiskey interests well represented and half of Fulton county voting to sustain Col. Watterson's liquor traffic contentions.

Having helped to win the signal victory last November, restoring democratic supremacy in Kentucky, at the same time aiding in taking the prisons out of the hands of a corrupt political oligarchy, or making it possible for Gov. McCreary to do so, he has demonstrated his superior ability and the superb qualities of an honest leader and one in whom the "Great Common People" can put their trust. We believe the next National administration will be managed and controlled by democrats and in that event, or in any event, great questions will come up for settlement between the people on the one side and the "Interests" on the other. Congress will be the scene of strenuous efforts to maintain the supremacy of the masses against the masses—bought up and fought out by hirelings of the money power and big business.

To battle against these combinations and high tariff taxes, we need a man of experience as well as ability and one whose heart and soul is interested for the toilers of our great country.

Such is Denny P. Smith and such he will prove himself to be if elected to succeed Olive M. James from the First District of Kentucky.

We ask our readers to give his candidacy careful consideration at the democratic primary, Aug. 5, 1912.—Fulton News.

KING WANTED HIM TO SING

Disagreeable Circumstances Under Which Seventeenth Century Musician Practiced His Art.

It is probable that on no occasion has any other musician had to practice his art under more disagreeable circumstances than that in which Abell, a singer of the seventeenth century, once found himself.

It appears that while Abell was rambling through Poland he was sent for to go to court, and after evading the request by excuses for a short time he was commanded to attend. At the palace Abell was placed in a chair in the center of a spacious hall, and suddenly drawn up to a great height. The king, with his attendants, appeared in a gallery opposite him, as he sat thunderstruck in his suspended chair. At the same instant several bears entered the hall with their keepers.

As the singer gazed in horror at these ferocious creatures the king calmly inquired whether he preferred to sing or be let down among the bears. The singer's choice, of course, was quickly made, and he afterward declared that in spite of his terror he never sang better in his life, although he admitted he might have introduced a few more "shakes" than usual in his songs.

WILLING TO KEEP HER.

Edgar, who had in his prisons been making nightly appeals for a little brother, was sent a few evenings ago to visit his grandparents. When he returned home on the following morning he was informed that the stork had brought him a sister. Edgar was sadly disappointed and disposed to hastily conclude that prayer was futile. After some delay, however, he consented to permit the nurse to lead him to the basket in which his little sister lay. He looked at her long and earnestly, and then, as if a great weight had been lifted from his mind, said: "Well, she looks intelligent, anyhow."

The ingredients are on the carton. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey contains no habit producing drugs, and always gives satisfaction. Look for the bell on the bottle.

DELOVED FOUNDER OF RED CROSS DIES.

Miss Clara Barton Dies at Ninety.

Washington, April 12—Miss Clara Barton, founder of the American Red Cross Society, died at her home in Glen Echo, Md., at 9 o'clock this morning. The cause of her death was chronic pneumonia, with which she was struck about a year ago. Her brother, Stephen Barton of Boston was with her when she died. Miss Barton was born at Oxford, Mass. in 1821.

Miss Barton has been confined to her home, "Red Cross" at Glen Echo since last fall when she returned from a visit to New England. It was thought her trip was beneficial, but soon she was taken severely ill. She celebrated her ninetieth anniversary December 25, when she received many messages of congratulation from all parts of the world.

Clara Barton might properly be called the Florence Nightingale of America. Like her British prototype her works of mercy were not confined to her native land but were carried even to the eastern hemisphere.

FOR AGED PEOPLE

Folk Should Be Careful in Their Selection of Regulative Medicine.

We have a safe, dependable, and together ideal remedy that is particularly adapted to the requirements of aged people and persons of weak constitutions who suffer from constipation or other bowel disorders. We are so certain that it will relieve these complaints and give absolute satisfaction in every particular that we offer it with our personal guarantee that it shall cost the user nothing if it fails to substantiate our claims. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity. JAMESSEES VICTORY FOR CHAMP CLARK.

Ollie Delighted over Speaker's Remarkable Victory in Illinois.

Washington, April 16.—Of all the gleeful followers of Champ Clark elated with the the victory of the speaker in Ill., none was rosier with the hope of Mr. Clarks nomination today than representative Ollie James. To him the most significant phase of the result in Ill., was that Clark received more votes than the successful republican candidate, Theodore Roosevelt. "The overwhelming majority of more than 150,000 for Clark tells its own story" says Mr. James. "It means his triumphant nomination at Baltimore as our presidential candidate and his election in a veritable landslide in November. The plain people of Illinois, so long pinched and oppressed by monopolies and trusts, see in Champ Clark a deliverer from this oppression. His long and distinguished service to them was abundantly remembered at the ballot box. Champ Clark is going to give us in the nation that which he gave us in the sixty-second congress—a great national victory. He will have back of him as our nominee an absolutely undivided democracy. "The most significant thing about the Illinois primary to my mind is that Champ Clark received more votes in this heretofore republican state than Theodore Roosevelt did, and yet Roosevelt swept the state over Taft. This shows that Champ Clark can certainly carry Illinois with its twenty-nine electoral votes in November.

FEEDING THE QUAILS.

The game warden of the quail cov-ys near Eastport, Long Island, utilizes wheat in a unique way as a source of food supply for the birds during the winter months. After the first heavy snow, sheaves of wheat, one sheaf to a tree, are tied upright around the trunks, the tops bent over, and loose food strewn in all directions to attract the birds. When a new snow comes, the birds go underneath the bent-over tops and find the food, the snow never completely covering it. This has been done on a 10-inch snow, followed by a 12-inch snow, but investigation proved that there was plenty of food left, and always one side of the sheaves uncovered.—Popular Mechanics.

The Efficiency of Buying at Home.

Did you ever stop to think what a convenience it is to have a full line of good retail stores at home, in our own community.

It enables people to see goods at any time before paying down money, in that way the purchaser detects many faults that could never be found in buying from a catalog cut.

Furthermore you get your goods when you want them without bother, letter writing or without the fatigue of a journey to a big city and tramping all over the streets. It is economy of time, car fare, human energy.

Furthermore you can do your shopping at your leisure, when you are in a mood for it, rather than in haste and flurry of a trip out of town. In our home store you take all the time you want to talk over your purchase and inspect goods. You can positively assure yourself that you are buying right.

Furthermore you get more personal and intelligent attention in a home store than any where else. The proprietor and clerks must please home trade or get out of business. It is human nature to take more pains for people who are known than for strangers. The home merchant will go to the utmost limit to give satisfaction for defects in the goods and without irritating red tape.

When locating for a residence or business, people are as slow to settle in a place lacking good stores as in a place where the water is not good.

If you want to draw in new residents every one must do his share to provide them with the convenience of retail trade. The only way to do this is to patronize the home merchant.

It is the good fortune of this community to have a line of finely equipped and attractively stocked retail stores. But if every dollar possible were spent at home, these stores could grow faster, put in fuller assortments, employ more clerks. Thus they would contribute to the convenience of every resident, and add to the prosperity of every property holder.

AN ENTERPRISING MERCHANT

This Must Have Been Joel P. Deboe. You Can't Keep Him Down.

Down at Columbus, one of the flood beleaguered towns of Western Kentucky, enterprise has not been crushed out and business is not entirely dead, says the Courier Journal. A merchant of that city comes bravely to the front to announce that he is still doing business at the same old stand, having moved his stock of goods to the second floor of the building. "I am," he continues, "running a line of boats between my store and the foot of the Clinton and Arlington Hill roads and these boats are in charge of competent people who will take you to and from the store free of charge."

The advertisement which appears in the county paper, goes on to enumerate some of the things in stock and to urge the people of the vicinity not to stay away from Columbus on account of the high water. "The further assurance is given that, during the time of loss and inconvenience I will endeavor to maintain my 'live and let live' prices."

This is a splendid example of "coming out strong under discouraging circumstances." Probably business will not be as good as under ordinary circumstances, but at least no resident of Columbus who has the price need delay the purchase of necessary supplies because of the fact that the Mississippi river is temporarily enjoying the freedom of the city. Just at present the citizens in that locality doubtless are thinking more about bread and meat than about spring millinery and dress goods and are more interested in the price of umbrellas and rubber boots than quotations on swag-gor shoes for spring wear.

They are fortunate, nevertheless, in having merchants who can so readily adapt themselves to abnormal conditions and whose enterprise is of that unquenchable kind which survives the wreck of matter and the crash of calamity.

Princeton Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Princeton Presbytery of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church met at Providence Ky., April 9th 1912 Convened at 7:30 p. m. with nine ministers present and 25 churches represented.

Rev. D. W. Fooke of Mayfield Presbytery preached the opening sermon, Matt. 4-10, his theme being a "Special Call to a Special Work."

Elder O. C. Quirey, of Sturgis Ky., was unanimously chosen moderator. Rev. J. T. Barbee and Rev. O. A. Barbee of Owensboro Presbytery were invited to seats as advisory members.

Rev. O. A. Barbee preached Wednesday at 11 a. m. from Esther 4-13. An interesting and helpful program was considered Wednesday afternoon, consisting of many entertaining talks on the Sunday school work.

On Wednesday evening at 7:30, the ladies' missionary society held a delightful service, that was inspiring to all present. The service being held in memory of Mother Rogers of the Hopkinsville Church, Mrs. Edna W. Perry, president of the missionary society presided. Among those taking part were Mrs. N. H. Fentress, Miss Lola Beeder, Jas. D. Hill, and Rev. J. L. Price. Miss Lorena Wilsongave a history of the organization of the womens' board of missions and what it is doing.

Thursday morning devotional services conducted by Rev. D. W. D. Moore, after which Presbytery proceeded with the regular order of business. Hopewell congregation of Livingston county was selected as the place of meeting of the next Presbytery. Rev. O. D. Spence with Rev. J. L. Price alternate, were elected commissioners of the Assembly on the part of the ministry, and A. E. Orr with elder G. H. Whitecotton alternate on the part of the eldership, after which the various committees made their reports. At 11 a. m. Rev. J. M. Cook of Madisonville preached on the subject of an internal call to the ministry, Gal. 1-1. Thursday evening session the committee on publication made their report followed by an able address by Dr. A. L. Hudgins, editor of the church organ.

At 7:30 p. m. Dr. Hudgins preached to a crowded house, holding them spell-bound for one hour, after which the Lord's supper was administered and Presbytery adjourned.

HORTICULTURE

REMOVING A LARGE BRANCH

Cut Should Be Made Parallel With Main Stem From Which One Is To Be Removed.

(By W. S. THORNBUR, Washington.) In the removal of large branches from old or bearing trees always make the cut parallel with the branch or main stem from which the one is removed. This frequently means a larger wound than it would make if the cut is made at right angles to the limb that is to be removed, but such wounds will heal quicker and are less injurious to the tree than the much smaller ones that leave the collar of the branch to be covered with healing tissue. Do not hesitate to remove large useless or superfluous limbs from trees, but always make smooth, clean cuts with a saw, and if necessary to prevent splitting the stem or peeling the bark, make two cuts—the first from six to twelve inches out from where the limb is to be finally cut off. Nothing can be applied to the wound to hasten the healing.

PROPER GRADING OF APPLES

One Excellent Method is to Construct Wooden Trough With Different Sized Holes.

An excellent method of grading apples is described by Ray Malcolm in the Farm and Fireside as follows: Make a trough, mounted on legs, with a receiving box as shown in Grade the Apples. drawing. Cut two holes, one larger than the other, in trough. These holes grade the apples by letting small ones drop through first hole, second or medium ones through second hole, while large ones roll out at end of trough. The trough must be mounted high enough so as not to tire the operator, for one person will have to keep the large and medium-sized apples out of the small hole and the large out of the medium hole. This can be accomplished best by reaching hand under trough and knocking apples up out of the holes.

Food Value of Fruit. Here are a few facts worth considering. Baked apples are more nutritious than baked potatoes, and will produce more work. Dates, prunes, figs, apricots and raisins are dried fruits always available. Instead of looking upon them as merely supplemental to food—like confectionery—we should remember that they are really among the most healthful, palatable and concentrated of vegetable foods.

Some Fruit Trees for Poultry.

It seems that there is no doubt that the plum tree is the fruit best suited for the poultry yard. Frequently the plum trees in the poultry yard are the only ones on the place that bear crops. The benefit comes from the destruction of every insect that gets on or near the ground, either in fallen fruit or otherwise. Then the fertility distributed around the roots furnishes abundant available food for all of the trees damaged.

Of course, plum trees for the poultry yard should be pruned high. Three or four feet for the first limb will be about right.
