ENGLISH FLUOR SPAR.

A Determined Effort To Evade The Duty on English Fluor Spar.

Protests against the payment of the three dollars per ton duty on foreign fluor spar were filed at the port of Philadelphia by Lavinio & Co. of that city nearly a year ago, on an importation of several hundred tons manifested as "gravel spar."

The protest came up before the chief appraiser and Mr. Lavinio testified that the English product was not considered in the trade as fluor spar, that it was a combination of minerals or metals not specified in the tariff hence should be admitted free. His statement was confirmed by a salesman employed by a pig iron concern who was also engaged in handling the foreign product.

These two statements being being all the information that the chief appraiser had, the sequence that foreign fluor spar, duty free, would have followed as a matter of course, under the name of gravel spar or spar gravel.

At this point the Assistant Attorney General, Judge Wimple of New York became interested and his attorneys got busy.

On Monday, June 3rd, at Philadelphia before the chief appraiser the adjourned court was held at which time the Southern Illinois fluor spar interests were represented by Mr. Livingston of Washington, Ma. J. A. Beayney Jr. of the Fairview Co. Dr. Biddell, the chemist at Fairview and others. Subpoenas had been issued for Mr. Herford of the Pennsylvania Salt Mfg. Co. of Pittsburgh and D. C. Roberts, the latter showing that the sample substituted by the importers contained 77 per cent of calcium fluoride which today is quite a respectable fluor spar. It was also shown that

DR. W. M. ASHER DEAD.

A Physician, a Mason, and a Veteran of the Civil War Is Dead.

Dr. Walter M. Asher, a retired physician of Blackford died at his home June 6th, at the age of 82 years, after an illness of two months.

Dr. Asher was a native of Obion county, Tenn. and came here with his parents to Kentucky at an early age. He entered practice as a physician at the age of 21, and was actively engaged in that profession thirty years. He was a veteran of the Civil War—one of the few remaining who are rapidly passing into the great beyond. For sixty-one years he was a Mason, having identified himself with that most noble and ancient fraternity upon attaining the required age. A number of years ago he united with the Christian Church.

Dr. Asher's family at the time of his death consisted of his wife and only son, John G. Asher, deputy circuit clerk of Crittenden county, and a step daughter.

The funeral sermon was preached at the residence, June 7th by Rev. John King of the C. P. Church, and the burial was with Masonic honors.

A life thus spent—a life interwoven with the greatest events of the century, with Masonry and with Church interests, is a life worth living, and the memory of the man who elected so to live will long be honored.

Card of Thanks.

We desire through the columns of the Record Press to express our heartfelt thanks to the many friends who so kindly ministered to us in the last illness and death of our precious wife and mother. Words cannot express the deep gratitude of our hearts, but we pray God's richest blessings upon you. J. D. Foley & Son.

Mrs. Geo. P. Robert entertained a party of YOUNG ladies at luncheon, on Friday, June 7th, in honor of her guest, Mrs. D. C. Roberts of Chicago.

Those present were: Mrs. Emma Hayward, Mrs. Mollie Wilson, Mrs. Henry Escott and Mrs. George Gray.

These luncheons are becoming an annual affair during Mrs. D. C. Roberts' visit to her daughter, and this time the guests declared that the "girls" had had a better time than usual.

THE FAMOUS FORD AUTOMOBILES

$690 - TOURING - $690

Honk! Honk! They are going by seven-five thousand of them—a procession thousands of miles long—and all new Fords. Don't watch them go by. You'll join the army of the matchless Ford if you but bring yourself to understand the true economy of this wonderful car.

$590 - RUNABOUT - $590

All life is a "whiz"—and every third whiz on the road is a Ford. It's the car of the millions and the millionaire—lightest, rightest, most economical. Many thousands of the seventy-five thousand we're building this year are being sold to the owners of more expensive cars.

$590 - PHYSICIANS - $590

A tireless car—almost. Prisoners "here" find freedom in the Ford. It's the always-at-your-service car—and a real tire trouble emancipator—for it puts more tire surface on the ground per pound of car than any other. And we're seventy-five thousand this year.

Mrs. Astor's Mourning Clothes To Be White.

New York, June 10.—Mrs. John Jacob Astor, who at nineteen was widowed by the Titanic disaster, will wear white—not black—as mourning for her husband.

Mrs. Astor wished—indeed felt it obligatory—to wear the deepest mourning. But Mrs. Force, her mother, believes she is too young to drape herself with black cloth and black crepe. Such funeral trappings might depress her spirits, even injure her health at this, the most important time of her life. For it is a fact established scientifically that pre-natal influence is powerful.

So Mrs. Force has overruled her daughter's wish and has ordered widow's weeds of white. The gowns are cut on the simplest lines, and like the millinery are being made at a fashionable Fifth Avenue mourning clothes store. Such dresses as are to be worn out of doors are of white crepe. Lounging robe are of the finest lustrous silks and lousines.

At the shop where the Astor white mourning is being made it was said, that white mourning robes are being more and more worn. The Chinese wear white as emblematic of the purified spirit of the departed.

New Orleans, June 10.—Another break in the Mississippi main levee was reported today, when 200 feet of embankment went out about 200 feet above the original Hymelia crevasse, thirty-five miles up the river. The remaining portion of the levee between the breaks is caving rapidly, and the crevasse will eventually be at least three quarters of a mile wide. The rush of waters is undiminished and engineers believe it will be some time before the river subsides sufficiently to stop the overflow. The country about here is already submerged, and the new break affects the situation but little.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give one hundred dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

School Teacher Asks for Heavy Legal Damages.

Asking for $30,000 actual damages and $1,000 punitive damages, Ben D. Vick a former school teacher of Livingston county, Thursday afternoon filed suit in McCracken circuit court against George W. Landrum, former owner of the Smithland Banner, and D. L. Barnes, M. L. Powell, C. C. Duley, W. Y. Compton, O. R. Hurley, whom he names as four defendants. The suit was filed by Mrs. Robertson and David Browning of this city.

In this petition, which is lengthy, Vick sets out that in November, 1911, with malicious intent and for the purpose of defaming his character, the plaintiff published, or allowed to be published, in his newspaper, the Banner, stories which ruined any chance of securing a position in any school of Livingston county. He further avers that the publication attacked him by calling him a perjurer a liar and accused him of sweating falsely. Vick also sets out that the defendant, Landrum published in his paper, or allowed to be published therein, an article in which he, Vick, was charged with padding the school census of educational division No. 1 for the purpose of holding his position as teacher in that division.

Vick recites that the other defendants conspired with Landrum against his character.

Vick also avers that in one addition of the Banner it was publicly stated he should be in the penitentiary.

All of the defendants are prominent men of Livingston county. George Landrum, though he has sold the banner continues to practice law at Smithland.

DAYS NUMBERED FOR PUBLIC DRINKING CUP

Act of Legislature Prohibiting It Goes into Effect June 10.

The public drinking cup has not even a few more days of life. It must have disappeared entirely by last Monday morning, June 10, when the ordinance passed the last Kentucky Legislature prohibiting its use, went into effect.

The Health Committee of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs worked hard to secure the passage of this act. The attention of all women's clubs throughout the State was called to the well known fact that the spread of diseases was in a great measure caused by the germs being carried in the public drinking cup.

Dr. Lillian South, of Bowling Green, State bacteriologist, and a member of this committee, has used in her lectures stereopticon slides demonstrating the fact that the mouths of diseased persons are often infected when other portions of the body appear to be healthy. The law is as follows: An act prohibiting public drinking cups.

In force June 10, 1912.

The use of the common drinking cup of railroad trains and in railroad stations, public hotels, boarding houses, restaurants or stores or any publicly frequented place in Kentucky is hereby prohibited. No person or corporation in charge of the aforesaid places, and no person or corporation shall permit on said railroad train, in railroad stations, public hotels, boarding houses, restaurants, steamboats, stores, or any publicly frequented place in Kentucky, the use of the drinking cup in common. There must also be posted in conspicuous place by the individual or corporation by the drinking water contained in any of the places mentioned in foregoing paragraph, a warning card-board with the above printed thereon in large letters so that they can be easily read. Any person or corporation violating the provisions of this act shall upon conviction be fined in any sum not less than one dollar, and no more than ten dollars, and each day's violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be considered a separate offense, punishable by fine in the amount named above.

All laws inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed. (Passed by Kentucky legislature, session 1912; Governor's signature, March 12, 1912.)

THE WAY TO HADESSays Indiana Minister in Sermon on The Downfall of Preachers.

Anderson, Ind., June 10.—“Silly” women, who look upon a preacher as a superior mortal, in whom they may confide their innermost lives, and forget that he is merely human, received the brunt of the blame for the downfall of preachers in a sermon here by the Rev. C. M. Dinsmore, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The Rev. Dinsmore, immediately after the sensational episode that caused the resignation of C. C. Cissell as superintendent of the Logansport district of the M. E. Conference last week, announced the text of his sermon for Sunday night would be “Why Preachers Go Wrong.” In a candid, absorbing treatise of the subject before a big congregation, he touched frequently on incidents connected with the downfall of the Indiana minister and that of the Rev. V. T. Richeson, who was electrocuted recently in Massachusetts. The name of neither pastor was mentioned, however.

The Rev. Mr. Dinsmore commented in his introduction on “What appears to be almost an epidemic of preachers going wrong,” and cited the “unusual eagerness manifested within the last year by the press to give publicity to their downfall.”

The question of “Why does a preacher fall,” was met by the pastor with seven direct theories. Society and its “eagerness to copy the fashion of Sodom,” was scored mercilessly as one of the chief contributors to ministerial delinquency.

“Women walk the streets today,” he said, “and many of them come from Christian homes—who have not clothes enough to be called decent. They do it because it is fashion, and fashion is decorating the way to hell. When Christian mothers let their daughters go out in the street with dresses too low in the neck, as many do, and cut so short at the bottom, as many wear them—they need not wonder that hell is stirred up in the breast of every man who sees them.”

As to the cause of the downfall of pastors, the Rev. Dinsmore says: “Because he is human. The devil is in him just the same as it is in every other man. There are so many women who do not seem to know the limit of frank respect for those who have helped them in some way. There are some women, who because they are either losing hopes for future bliss or because they have been disappointed in their majority, seem to want to make some pastor their confidant, forgetting that he is always a man.

“Too many men are getting into the ministry who are weak morally. No man has any business there unless he finds that he is successfully fight the sin that is in his own nature. “By no means shall we excuse the preacher who goes wrong,” he said, in conclusion. “When a man assumes to stand before the community in the position of a pastor, and then disgraces that office, he is worthy of death.”

Memphis, Tenn., June 11.—Curly-headed, blue-eyed, Dora Catherine Schwartz, four months old, slowly strangled to death here when she in some unaccountable way became pinioned between the brass bed, on which she had been placed, and the wall of the room, while her parents, unconscious of the little one's danger, were at supper. Hogs Eat Tobacco Plants

Man Has Rival at Last

In Trigg County. Plant bed depredations have assumed a new form in the Canton section. Whether from scarcity of corn or innate cussedness, a certain breed of hogs have developed the taste for the tender tobacco plants and several plant beds have been destroyed by the “long snout” tribe. It seems that they actually eat the plants. Persons seeking further information can consult John F. Guier by letter, phone or in person. —Cadiz Record.

Hail Kills Colt.

A heavy wind and hail storm struck the Manington country Friday and the hail fell in great chunks. Colts, geese and chickens were knocked on the head and killed. All window lights in the boarding cars on the siding were smashed, the hail came through the roof of several houses that were covered with rubber roofing. Browder Myers, the well known travelling salesman picked up a lump of the hail and measured it. It was found to be eight inches in circumference and weighed three quarters of a pound. —Earlington Bee.

We are authorized to announce Allen W. Barkley of McCracken county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the First District. Subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce DENNY P. SMITH, of Trigg county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the First District. Subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce JACOB CORBETT, of Ballard county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the First District. Subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce JOHN K. HENDRICK, of McCracken county, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congressman from the First District. Subject to the action of the Democratic party.

What Neighbors Say.

Judge Barkley is a Democrat by training and inclination, and for a number of years has engaged in campaign work on the stump for Democratic principles and party nominees.

He is not a machine politician, but a plain man of the people, never depending on machine methods to obtain success. He goes straight to the people with his cause and heretofore they responded with almost unanimity.

Judge Barkley is a progressive Democrat and believes in a progressive Democracy. He believes the Democratic party should blaze the way for Democratic principles, reduce the tariff, restore competition in trade, restrain the trusts and destroy their unlawful manipulations of the anti-trust law, extend the benefits of the interstate commerce, favors federal aid to good roads, deepening river deepening channels, strengthening levee systems, the enactment law prohibiting the granting of liquor license in local option territory, presidential primaries, and all laws the object of which to bring more effectually, the reins of government in the hands of the people. Judge Barkley believes in the rule of the people and will favor economy of every branch of public service.

Judge Barkley informs us that last year, in the last State convention he made a fight for the County Unit plank within the McCracken county delegation, but was outvoted—the county delegation voting against the adoption of the county unit plank over his protest. Thus showing he will contend for what he believes to be right, though odds may be against him. His election to the important office he now holds shows his popularity at home, and being now in the prime of life, his service will be that of a stalwart figure in the halls of Congress, should the Democrats of the "Old First" decide in his favor on the 3rd of August next.

Judge Barkley is no stranger to the readers of the News and we ask that his candidacy be given due consideration by the Democrats of Fulton county and the first district.

If nominated and elected to a seat in the Lower House of Congress we feel sure he will make the district and nation a safe, conscientious servant.—Fulton News.

Help for the Drunkard.

Mr. Charles B. Towns in an article in the Century magazine for June brings forward some enlightened suggestions in regard to the treatment of alcoholics. Mr. Towns protests against the cost of alcohol—not its cost in money but in men, and declares that the cure for drunkenness lies not in punishment but in medical treatment. Drunkenness, is then according to Mr. Towns, a disease, not a crime.

"Many alcoholics are born with tendencies which make alcohol their natural and inevitable course,—they are naturally highly nervous or through some systemic defect crave abnormally the excitement which alcohol confers. Some are predisposed to alcoholism by an unstable nervous organism inherited from intemperate parents or ancestors. Others are drinkers because they do not get enough to eat, or fail for other reasons than poverty to be sufficiently nourished. Some become victims through worry or disease."

Mr. Towns believes that these people should be punished

ed for a disease which they themselves did not initiate, than they should be for developing a cancer. Instead of penalization—whereby a man loses his employment and frequently his position in respectable society, and are then sent back on the world with even less strength to resist temptation than before—these victims should be sent to an institution for medical treatment, and government money which goes to defray their expense in courts and jails would be sufficient to maintain them as "invalids."

"Punishment has never yet cured a disease.

"The man who drinks is not necessarily depraved, but under the influence of stimulants he may drift into associations or environments which lower his standards until he becomes criminal. No community ever existed which could afford to loose the services of all its citizens who drink to excess or even those who frequently get drunk.

An attempt to enforce abstinence on a man who wants a drink is not only ineffectual but destructive. Society may save itself from a few drunkards but it is likely to get lunatics or "drug fiends" in their places."

The Ladies Home Journal for June, has an editorial protesting against the "growing practice of calling up people up over the telephone at meal time." We hope the Home Journal is starting on one of its crusades against what has become a "distant menace of the family meal," and we wish them success in their fight.

English Fluor Spar.

the importers had advertised for years the product which they insisted was simply gravel, as fluor spar in several of the metal journals of this country.

The Government also introduced witnesses familiar with the open house steel process and a former purchasing agent for a steel plant who testified that fluor spar was necessary and was necessary and was bought under that name whether imported or domestic.

The probabilities were on the closing of the hearing that the decision would be in favor of the Government, although we have no definite report up to this date. The Fairview mines are to an extent recovering from their high water trouble, an output of some 20 tons daily being obtained from their Blue Diggings shaft above the three other openings being more or less in trouble. A large steel barge belonging to the American Steel & Wire Co. is being loaded by the Fairview Company with gravel fluor spar and will be pushed up the river to the plant at Pittsburg. This innovation on the usual transportation will be watched with unusual interest and it may be the initiative of a much cheaper rate than that by rail.

It is stated that Resiclare mines are making a daily output of 300 tons shows, lead 0.18, zinc metallic 52.74, silica 11.09, iron oxide 10.04, the sulphur, some 26 percent, completing the hundred points. This analysis shows that the zinc blende amounts to about 78 per cent of the entire ore. It is certainly a most desirable property. The details of the new plant and hull will be given later.

Messrs Peter W. Mayne, President of the Lake County Trust & Loan Co., William Thum, Supt of the United States Metals Refining Co. and R. M. Chapman an analytical and consulting chemist passed through this city enroute north on Monday. They were escorted by Col. D. C. Roberts from Carrsville via Salem. Several boxes of the zinc blende ore from the Carrsville vein were previously expressed East via Golconda, Ill. on their account.

Several mining men were invited by Mr. Barnett to a "fish fry" at the Lake Barnett, Tolu. They all expressed wide-open admiration at the big fish they saw around Elizabeth town. They seemed to swim in pairs and were easily obtained. One or two of the visitors caught four of one kind several times and altogether a very pleasant visit was had. Elizabethtown is noted for its great American game.

CRITTENDEN'S OPPORTUNITY

To Honor Her Adopted Son, John K. Hendrick, Who Announces For Congress.

This week we announce to the readers of the Press the candidacy of Hon. John K. Hendrick for the Democratic nomination for Congress from the First District. It is not necessary to introduce Mr. Hendrick to our readers—his name and character are familiar to every reader of the Press. Especially is he known and esteemed in Crittenden county where as a young man he taught school and rode over Crittenden's hills as deputy sheriff. Being a nephew of the eminent jurist, the late Judge Caswell Bennett from whom he received his legal training and his ability as a lawyer justified any anticipation Judge Bennett could have entertained for his pupil and kinsman. There are but few lawyers in our commonwealth who are so brilliant in oratory, logical in argument and learned in law as John K. Hendrick. His reputation was not long in overreaching the bounds of our First District so productive of gifted men.

His work is proven to be good by results. As a school teacher he taught Lee Cruce, now Governor of Oklahoma his letters. Some of finest lawyers have "read law" under Mr. Hendrick, two of whom are the brilliant C. C. Grassham of Paducah and his brother-in-law, Hon. John L. Grayot, who is now serving his second term as our Commonwealth's Attorney and whose success is established. And though men of achievements and renown who are his handiwork are filling high positions, Mr. Hendrick is yet in his prime; he still bears on his almost unfurrowed face the stamp of a most noble nature that touches in sympathy the lives of his fellowmen at every point. That he has met and overcome difficulties along life's journey, goes without saying but he encountered and overcame as a manly man and his generous nature lays no claim on any one's support for nomination because he laudably aspired from early youth.

It is evident that the incentive which prompts him to ask to be sent to Congress is neither money nor empty honor—his law practice is lucrative and he is honored wherever known. The old Democratic spirit that is his heritage prompts him to enter national politics and fight for democratic principles. If Mr. Hendrick is elected his forensic ability will retain the high standard of old Gibraltar. It is said of Mr. Hendrick, "He is as plain as a farmer and one of the most talented men of the state." The democrats of the First District have no candidate for Congress more true, more courageous, more gifted, and none so experienced as he. It seems that John Hendrick for Congress is the logical candidate of every thoughtful democratic voter of the First District.

TO SECOND NOMINATION

Of Speaker Clark—Our Big Congressman Tipped to Set Off Fireworks.

Washington June — Senator elect Ollie James may deliver one of the speeches in the Democratic National Convention seconding the nomination of speaker Clark for President. The Clark managers are desirous of having Mr. James for the role partly because Kentucky is the Speaker's birthplace and partly because the speaker-elect from that state is recognized as the finest convention orator in captivity. Mr. James has been frequently mentioned among Democrats in Washington as a likely man for permanent chairman of the national convention. Speaker Clark will probably be placed in nomination by either Senator Reid or Stone of Missouri.

Mrs. Lowell F. Foley was born July 20, 1867, and died June 4, 1912.

She professed faith in Christ at the age of 13, uniting with the C. P. church. Later she joined the Missionary Baptist church at Lola, in which she lived a consistent member until death.

She was the daughter of Dr. J. H. Clement, of Lola, Ky. She was married to J. D. Foley April 5th, 1882. God blessed this union with four children, of which only one, a son about twenty years of age, survive her. The other three died very young.

She was a noble christian woman, a loving and devoted wife and mother and a kind and affectionate friend to all. She never seemed to be so happy as when making others happy about her. She died a most triumphant death and was conscious to the last, speaking of her death as if she were going on a journey. She stated that she would see Matthew, Mark Luke and John, but best of all she would see Christ.

Th funeral took place Wednesday, June 5th, from the Baptist church at Lola, conducted by the pastor, U. G. Hughes, assisted by Rev. H. Kenney. The remains were laid to rest in the Robinson cemetery.

Her popularity among her friends was shown by the large number who attended the funeral and the many tears that were shed. Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them.

One Happy Day.

On Tuesday, June 4, in the early cool of the day, we loaded ourselves into 2 large drummer hacks away we drove to Sheridan, the dear old home, to spend the day, with the family of our sister-in-law, Mrs. R. H. Yates, the crowd numbering in all 27, as follows:—W. B., Mrs. Cora, E. H., Eva, William, T. R., Mrs. Nora Vivian, G. W., Mrs. Willie Harold, Trice, W., L. E., Mrs. Freda, Alberta, Mrs. and Mrs. A. A. Neimeyer and son, Roy, of Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Lummie Clark, the family of our sister-in-law, and her two brothers, H. E. and Sidney Minner.

Now you talk about a good time we had it. Any southern Georgia troop might have looked on and listened to his amusement and probably to the strengthening of his program of entertainment. We sang, they sung, she sung, he sung, from the largest to smallest, we had solos, duettes, quartetts, and piano recitals, goliere.

Then the time came and we all marched out to the long and heavy laden table which was groaning with all the good things that heart or appetite could wish and after a good sweet invocation from the heart of Bro. W. B. Yates, asking the guiding hand of the heavenly father to lead and keep peace one and finally bring us all to the great home above where our loved ones we shall never leave.

Then every one showed themselves real workmen, and we ate ate some more, not an idler in the camp. After some funny experiences in snap shot picture taking and viewing around over the places of sorrow and of gladness of bygone years, and after enjoy some funny jokes, and stories, then some more music, we drove back to Marion feeling closer drawn to each other and with a wedded laughter and frolic, with one more picture in our memories that will last until that one happy day when we shall all meet at the new home.

Panama Canal Tolls Up to Congress

WASHINGTON.—That the question of legislation relative to canal tolls and regulations and the government of the canal zone will come before congress at the very outset of the session and that it will be one of the most important matters of the winter in a legislative way was the view expressed by Senator Bristow of Kansas. He is a member of the committee on inter-oceanic canals and recently returned from a visit to the canal zone.

Senator Bristow summed up his impression of the canal and the work being done on it with one word: "Great." He commends in the highest terms the efforts of those in charge of the construction of the canal. He expects to see it opened in 1913.

"The matter of tolls and regulations should be settled this session," said he. "Those who are looking forward to the use of the canal want to know what they can expect. The fixing of the tolls is the chief problem. It is the most important question relative to the canal to be worked out. And the tolls should be fixed by legislation. If they are left to regulation, the executive can change them in twenty-four hours. They should be put on a permanent basis and it must be done by congress."

Just at what figure to fix the tolls, Senator Bristow pointed out, is something difficult to work out. Many interesting and important factors enter into the solution. It is expected that the canal will cost $3,000,000 or more a year to maintain. This sum ought to be made up by tolls, if feasible, he says.

"The problem is to put the tolls at the point where they will bring in the most revenue," said the senator. "Ships, for instance, between the east coast of the United States and the west coast of South America naturally will use the canal. But if the tolls are fixed too high vessels starting from or going to points far down on the Pacific coast of South America will go around the Horn in preference to using the canal. If the tolls are sufficiently low most of the business will pass through the canal."

"The same thing is true as to vessels between Europe and the west coast of South America. High tolls will drive many of these vessels around the Horn, while low tolls will bring many of them through the canal. On the rate of tolls will depend, too, whether vessels from Japan bound for Europe use the canal or go by way of Suez. Many points have to be considered, therefore, in fixing the tolls."

Postal Savings Bank Proves a Success

BY Jan. 1 the trustees of the postal savings banks expect to have a postal savings bank established in every first, second and third class post-office in the entire country. All of the first and second class offices have already been so designated, and the designation of third class offices is on and will continue at the rate of 100 a day until exhausted. This means that more than 2,000 postoffices in the United States are now receiving deposits in their postal banks for which the government pays 2 per cent per annum interest, or, if the depositor chooses to buy government bonds with his deposits, 2 1/2 per cent. The officials in charge of the work in the post-office department know that the system has been a tremendous success, far exceeding their expectations, and they are bending their time and energy for the present to an extension of the benefits of the service.

On Jan. 3 last, the postal savings bank system of the United States was started by the designation of one second class office in each of the 48 states and territories of the country as a postal savings bank. Progress beyond this point was slow at first but now that the system of administration is well in hand, designations are proceeding as rapidly as investigations can be made, instruction given and supplies furnished. There is no longer any disposition to hang back—the system is a demonstrated success.

It is the intention of the board of trustees, just as soon as they get around to it, to devise a plan for an extension of the postal bank system in the larger cities. At the present time Chicago, New York and other of the larger cities have only one bank.

The next move will be to permit the branch post offices, of which there is at least one in all large cities in proximity to each branch of foreign population, to receive deposits and also to redeem deposit certificates.

Consul-General Kicks on His Laundry

IF John H. Snodgrass, consul-general at Moscow, ever kicked about his laundry work in Cincinnati, Washington or Indianapolis, he begs the pardon of every steam cleaning establishment, every slant-eyed Celestial, and every colored washerwoman in those and other cities. What they are doing to his collars, his shirts and unmentionable wearables over there in the land of the czar is something awful to relate. Besides that, the way they are soaking John in the matter of price is enough to make any American citizen utter loud wails of distress. For instance, they charge a nickel to do up a collar, and "the work is unsatisfactory and the finishing is crudely done," he insists.

Chafing under the collar—frayed to a saw edge by the ruthless Russians without doubt—Consul-General Snodgrass (he is no relation to Snodgrass, of the New York Giants, who snagged Baker, of the Athletics during the world's series game), writes to the department of commerce and labor a fiery report on the wash subject and begs some enterprising American capitalist to hurry over to Moscow and start a real United States laundry.

There isn't a modern establishment of the kind in the city, he states. In fact, the only steam laundry open to the public in the entire empire is at St. Petersburg, and that is too far from Moscow to send a collar with any hope of getting it back before another consul-general comes into office.

"In the private hand laundries," he states, "only women and girls are employed. They work in deep, dark cellars, without ventilation and poorly lighted, and the work is unsatisfactory, as injurious chemicals are used to 'break' the water and fragile clothing lasts only a few washings. The proprietors have no thought of time, and usually an ordinary week's wash is not delivered under a fortnight."

Schools of Nation Show Marked Gain

GREATER progress has been made in education in the United States during the last ten years than in any previous decade in the country's history. A study of this development, just completed by the federal bureau of education, shows that during the years 1900 to 1910 the annual income of the public schools has nearly doubled, having increased from $220,000,000 to $425,000,000, while annual appropriations to normal schools for the training of teachers have grown from $2,769,000 to $6,630,000. The value of public school property in 1900 was $550,000,000; in 1910, it was more than a billion dollars.

During the same period the average length of the common school term increased from 144 to 156 days and the average attendance of children enrolled from 99 to 114 days. The number of public high schools advanced from 6,005 to 10,212 and the number of teachers therein from about 20,000 to more than 41,000, while the total of public school teachers increased from 423,000 to 512,000. Salaries of teachers also are larger than ten years ago, the average salary of male teachers now being $65 a month, as compared with $46.50 in 1900. The average salary of women has increased from $34 a month to $62.

A jump from $166,175,000 to $273,425,000 is shown in the productive fund of universities, colleges and technical schools; and an increase from $28,500,000 to $77,800,000 in the annual income of these schools from sources other than endowment. There are now 183,699 students in these schools, as against 110,000 ten years ago, and 17,000 instructors, as compared with 27,300. More than 900,000 high school pupils were enrolled in 1910, as against 520,000 in 1900. The total average increase in schools of all kinds has been about 80 per cent.

Lightning Stuns Driver Killing Plow Team

Princeton, Ind., June 11.—While John Reynolds was plowing a field near Owensville yesterday he was knocked unconscious by a bolt of lightning. When he recovered his senses he found both the mules he had been driving were dead. As had the reins wrapped around his neck it is likely he would have been dragged to death had not both mules dropped down where they stood.

Power of Speech Affected By Lightning.

New Orleans, June 11.—Miss Jessie Fishel, daughter of Lewis Fishel, of this city, whose power of speech was restored several weeks ago when shocked by lightning became dumb again from the same cause. She has been under the care of a physician for many months but they have discovered nothing indicating the cause of the girl's power of speech being susceptible to flashes of lightning and thunderclaps.

The members of her family grieved by her condition, confidently expect Miss Fishel to begin talking again during the next thunderstorm that visits New Orleans. Relatives say that some years ago her speech was restored when she put her feet into a basin of water that was too hot.

Railway Business for March.

For ninety per cent of the steam railway mileage of the United States the aggregate of the operating revenue for March showed an increase of $12,661,901 as compared with March 1912. Operating expenses showed an increase of $12,152,394 and net operating revenue an increase of $509,507.

This increase in the total of net operating revenue was due solely to the larger returns incident to an increase in railway mileage. When the returns are measured by the average per mile, the only proper basis for comparison, the net operating revenue shows a decrease. The average was $306 per mile of line for March 1912, and $309 for March 1911. The average for 1911 was twelve and eight-tenths per cent less than for March, 1910.

Railway taxes for March amounted to $9,576,574, or $44 per mile, an increase of eight per cent over 1911.

These compilations were made by the Bureau of Railway economics from reports of the railway companies for the month in question that had been filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission prior to May 10th.

THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING

Read this letter:
Gentlemen:
I have one of your "TENNESSEE" wagons. It has been used continuously for 31 years, never kept it under a roof, and hauled two cords of fire, maple wood on same a nine mile haul in its 31st year, and it is still the only wagon on the farm.
Yours truly,
CHARLES GUSTAIN

THE BEST PROOF of the Unequalled Quality of the "TENNESSEE" wagon is its record of service all over the country—30, 35 and 40 years of wagon satisfaction—repair expense only a few cents a year—almost nothing.

THE TESTIMONY of hundreds of thousands of owners is absolute proof that the quality of "TENNESSEE" wagons is built in—built by the best wagon builders to be found anywhere, using the choicest air seasoned wood stock, selected and inspected many times, substantially ironed, handsomely and durably painted and the utmost pains taken in constructing every piece and part.

Skins made from scientifically correct patterns in company's own foundry and set on axles with exact "pitch and gather", under immense hydraulic pressure.

THAT'S WHY "TENNESSEE" wagons hold grease well and last so long.

That's why hundreds of thousands of wagon users have already placed their stamp of approval on them, and given them the highest reputation a wagon can have. That's why you will be more than satisfied with it in every respect.

You can't afford to buy any wagon until you have examined the "TENNESSEE" on our floor. Manufactured and guaranteed by the KENTUCKY WAGON MFG. CO., (Incorporated) Louisville, Ky.

LILY DALE

Quite a number from here attended church at Fredonia Sunday.

CALDWELL SPRINGS

Some few farmers are not through setting tobacco.

The cool dry weather has set the oat crop short.

There has been quite a large crop of peas sown.

Quite a crowd from Lyon and Crittenden counties, Sunday, to see the new bridge, we think it is the best in the county.

Robert Stinnett is quite sick. Dr. Speckard, of Fredonia, is attending him.

Edgie Brasher and Jim Peak, our genial merchants, went to Marion Monday.

Esq. Yandell, Ed Asbridge and Tom Stevenson were appointed by Judge Blue, Monday, as viewers of proposed new road, beginning at Mrs. Rose Mayes' and ending at the Dycum road. A road is badly needed here for school and church purposes.

We saw old uncle John Part in Marion Monday. He is as full of fun as a boy sixteen years old.

Hurrah for the Record-Press. It brings us the news each week.

Mr. Barkley, of Paducah, candidate for Congress, was shaking hands with the people here Friday. He will get the lead here, in the final wind up.

Better Roads.

In speaking of the improvements recently made on our highways, a gentleman from Evansville says: "The Moore Hill is one of the best pieces of road-making on the entire stretch of 22 miles. This method of construction is an object lesson and ought to be viewed by every road overseer in the county. Not a great distance from this hill, toward Marion, the old style of road building is in evidence, and for all the good it does to everlastingly shove in a little loose soil and apparently use a lead pencil to mark where there should be ditches on each side of the road, the past years show. These ditches, so-called, are simply an imaginary line, they are not in any sense of the word ditches. The bridge over Crooked Creek is still unprotected on one side and is a dangerous place to cross with anything that has a leaning toward nervousness. A pair of spirited horses could easily cause the county a big damage suit, which a five dollar note today would avoid. This bridge has been reported to the apparent proper authority several times. It is hoped that before another leap year comes around the person in charge will 'wake up.'

Meeting of Board of Education.

The Crittenden county Board of Education will meet Friday June 14th at the office of the county supt. for the purpose of framing and adopting a teachers' wage scale. The teachers will be paid this year according to class of certificate and amount of experience in teaching as well as according to the size of the school he teaches also he will receive a rebate at the end of the term if his average attendance for the term will warrant; so the first class teacher should not feel so great a hesitancy in applying for a third or a second class school.

BISHOP SCHINNER'S POSITION

Bishop Schinner, of the Roman Catholic diocese, Superior, Wis., has firm faith in popular government. In an address delivered at Superior, Bishop Schinner said:

"I have supreme confidence in the people. The promises that God has made to man in the temporal order have been made to the masses and not the few, and any class that separates itself from the people invites its own doom. The people are the living waters that preserve unsoiled the well springs of all that is noble and good. Separated from these living waters, the pools will stagnate and breed corruption. Even great leaders are but the crystallization of their time and race. Their powers would but spell impotence did impulse not come from the people. The danger most to be feared is not that the people should have power, but that the power should be wrested from the people or that the people should be too supine to use their power."

In a newspaper interview with a representative of the Minneapolis Tribune, Bishop Schinner declared in favor of the initiative and referendum, saying:

"I favor the initiative and the referendum. Initiative and referendum are but the logical conclusions from the first promises of our national constitution. A restricted referendum has been provided for us by the founders of our national body and they have given a proof of their consummate wisdom by acknowledging that the constitution might have to be amended either on account of its initial defects or on account of changes induced by the growth of states or other causes, not excluding scientific discoveries and institutions which have rendered intercourse between the extreme ends of our country day easier than between cities within the same state the days of the founders.

"Our constitution and our laws are not like the laws of Medes and the Persians—could not be changed in a day; our laws can be changed and have been changed, have improved upon the original draft of our constitution. We are proud. Witness, also, the disgraceful episode in the history of our nation due to mode of election prevailing at that time, when such a man as Aaron Burr lacked but one vote to become president of the United States. Moreover, the referendum is recognized in practice by every state of the union, it is made contingent upon good pleasure of the legislative bodies.

"Initiative and referendum but a return to the original source of our laws and our government, the will of the people. Without initiative and referendum, a government is the people, for the people by the people has too often been a delusion.

"Initiative and referendum simply mean that the people have delegated their powers to others shall have a right to directly the power derived from them. They mean that the people, for such the people called and acknowledged in a country, shall be sovereign fact as well as name.

"The objection comes from misunderstanding of the initiative and an interest of the people. The arguments I have heard against the initiative referendum have strengthened me in my conviction. Initiative and referendum do not mean that no longer shall there be special duty of legislators that the people at large will act all laws directly.

"Even with the initiative and the referendum, the people delegate their powers to others as they have been wont to do. They will choose experts, they will not deliver themselves irretrievably, even for a time into the power of these delegate experts though they be people will entrust their interests to a delegated body, but they will demand a right to interfere when their interests are jeopardized by that great body, and stay the blow that is aimed at their welfare, instead of waiting until the blow has fallen occasioned, perhaps, irreparable loss. The people prefer the security to the doubtful satisfaction of seeing the conspirators punished."

"DOG FALL"

Results From a Highly Exciting Trial.

"We, the jury, find for the plaintiff, J. E. Torian, $10 damages and $2.50 for work on the house. We, the jury, find for the defendant, Mrs. M. A. Bird, $17.50 due for rent and to be credited by $12.50. We find for the defendant $5. T. C. Overstreet, one of the jury."

The above is the verdict returned by the jury this morning after considering the evidence in the suit of J. E. Torian vs. Mrs. M. A. Bird for $3,000. The verdict is a dog fall. Torian covers $10 damages for the exposure when the doors and windows were removed from the house. He is also allowed $2.50 the expense he incurred in stopping the holes in the house. The jurors decided that Torian owes Mrs. Bird $17.50 rent, and deducting the $12.50, leaves $5 for Mrs. Bird.—Paducah Sun.
