MARION, CRITTENDEN COUNTY, KY., THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT. 19, 1912.

NO. 12.

NEW CO., ROAD RECOMMENDED.

A Change in The Road From Marion to Sheridan Leaving The Large Hills Out.

A matter of great interest to all the people living at Sheridan and beyond there in the N. W. section of the county, is the proposed change in the road from Marion to Sheridan around the Love graveyard and two other steep and rocky grades on the Columbia property. Last week, County Surveyor, L. A. LaRue, R. H. Kemp, W. L. Taylor and J. L. LaRue, were appointed commissioners to view the proposed change and they have filed their report in the County Court. The new road will go through the land of the Columbia Co., Larned A. Campbell, Henry Lynn and Ed Moore, intersecting the old road again near Chas. Donakey's house. We quote the following from the report.

"We attach hereto a map showing the location and distance of the new road as related to the old road and also the Crittenden Springs and Fredonia road.

We note that on the old Marion road there is only one residence and at west end of same is what is known as the Love graveyard. On the Crittenden Springs and Fredonia road there is only one residence, viz. Willis Lynn's.

In opening the new road we recommend that all that portion of the Marion and Tolu road be annulled as a public road except that portion of same on the west which leads from the Wallace ferry to the said graveyard.

In the event a convenient and suitable outlet can be had from Willis Lynn's house to the new road we recommend the annulment of the whole of the road by his house known as the Crittenden Springs and Fredonia road.

We strongly urge and recommend to the county the opening of the proposed new road as viewed and surveyed by us because it will afford the greatest convenience and at the same time the least damage. It will relieve the county of the expense of maintaining and keeping in repair at least two miles on the two roads to be annulled, and put upon the county the expense of keeping up only one mile and the same is free of rocks and steep grades and it will be as easily kept in repair as any road in

FOSTER SELLS LIVERY BUSINESS

Thos. Y. Ordway, of Fredonia And Thos. C. Guess of This City, Are The Purchasers.

By a deal which has been on foot for some weeks, and which was closed Monday, Thos. C. Guess, of this city, and his nephew, Thos. Y. Ordway, of Fredonia, became yesterday the proprietors of the Mammoth Brick livery and feed stable of G. H. Foster on Bellville street. These gentlemen are too well known to require any introduction or comment. They are hustling and wide-awake livery men and have been in the teaming and livery business long enough to know what is required and suffice it is to say they will give this business their personal attention. They contemplate putting in some elegant new rigs and more horses, and ask the public to give them a share of the business.

Miss Cora Moore of the Gledale section was here Wednesday accompanying Miss Ruby Bigbam this far on her way home to Chapel Hill neighborhood from a two week's visit to her.

Rev. Coleman of Morganfield was chosen moderator and H. K. Woods, temporary clerk.

Rev. Sweets of Louisville preached the opening sermon.

There were delegates and visitors from Henderson, Paducah, Morganfield, Louisville, and other points.

ANOTHER CRITTENDEN CO., PAPER GETS ENOUGH OF IT.

The Proprietor of The "MARION NEWS" Could Not See His Way Through, So He Turns His Subscription List Over to The "WEEKLY GLOBE"

EXPERIENCE IS BETTER THAN A TEACHER.

A deal was closed Monday whereby The Marion News, a weekly newspaper established in Marion just one year ago by Messrs. R. E. Wilborn and C. V. Oakley, and later owned and operated by the latter member of the firm, was taken over by The Weekly Globe, a weekly newspaper of recent birth, and owned and published by "The Republican Campaign Committee of Crittenden Co."

An interview with Mr. Oakley Tuesday revealed the fact that "The News" had never proven to be a paying proposition, and the publisher stated that while he regretted that such was the case, at the same time he considered it—and rightly too—only good business to dispose of the business.

The subscription list and good will was purchased by The Globe, while the type, material, etc., was sold to the Bourland Printing Co.

It seems evident that Crittenden county will not, or cannot support more than one Newspaper. Various efforts have been made trying to run more than one newspaper in Marion at a time and all have ended in nought.

If there was any money in running one, there might be hope of profit for two which we regard as very remote.

Election Officers Are Named.

Election Commissioners for Crittenden Co., Make Good Selections.

county, therefore, constituting the board of Election Commissioners of Crittenden county, have this day met and C. S. Nunn was selected as secretary and the board proceeded to select officers to hold the coming November election as follows:

BEATS MARION'S CHICK ORDINANCE

The Firm Complained That Honey-gathers Have Wounded Their Feelings.

From a Louisville paper we clip the following:

"Officials of the firm of Bradas & Gheens, candy manufacturers, 817-829 South Floyd street, this afternoon appealed to Chief of Police H. Watson Lindsey to protect them and their employees from the ravages of swarms of bees, which have invaded their premises in search of sweets.

The firm complained that the honey-gathers have wounded their feelings and those of the girls employes, a number of whom have been stung. So many candy-makers were stung and so many others frightened that general strike resulted.

The apiary belongs to A. Hammer, of 231 East College street. Col. Lindsey was in a quandary for a while; then he dispatched a blue-coated officer to the Hammer home, with the message that he "must keep his bees in his own back yard."

The bees have been told to behave."

THE LAST OF THE FREEBOOTERS DIES

Is Run to Earth by English Soldiers in The Belgian Congo.

London, Sept. 19.—James W. Rogers, an American, who for years has defied all authority and practiced illicit ivory-trading an elephant poaching in the jungles of Central Africa, has been hunted down and killed by British soldiers. Rogers' organization among the natives was far-reaching and he was virtually the king of jungles, defying all forces to stop his operations.

Rogers led his British pursuers a long and difficult chase before he was finally run to earth in the Belgian Congo. He died in camp while talking to Capt. C. V. Cox, who led the man-hunting party.

JOS. O. BROWN, DIES AT TOLU.

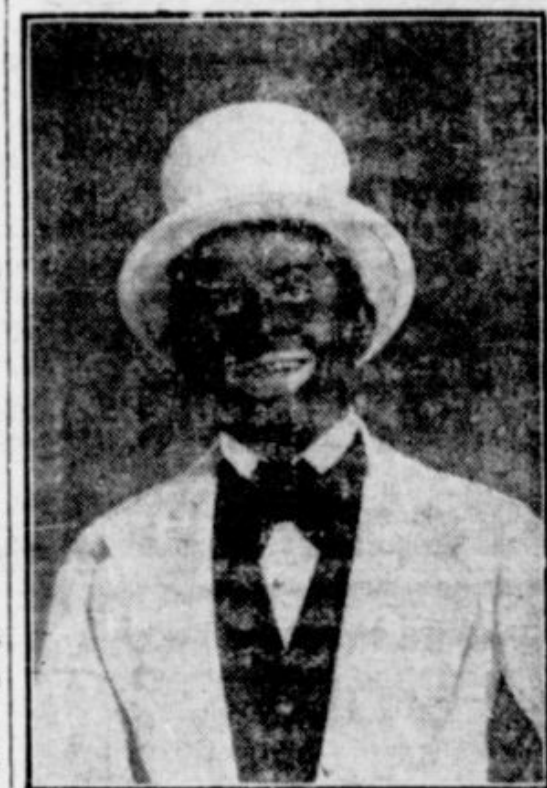

Remains Brought Here Monday—Funeral And Burial Were Largely Attended.

Saturday night, Sept. 14th, 1912, at eleven o'clock, after several weeks of suffering J. O. Brown, the well known wharf master at Tolu passed to his reward. Mr. Brown had been quite ill for some weeks and his family and friends had almost given up hope several days before the end. He is survived by his wife and one son, Foster, each of whom had done all which loving hands and hearts could do for him.

Mr. Brown was born Aug. 23rd, 1847, in Henderson, Ky., and had just past his 65th mile stone. He was a consistent member of the Presbyterian church at Tolu, belonged to the Masonic Order, and also the Odd Fellows.

His remains were brought here Monday and the funeral was preached by his pastor, Rev. H. V. Escott, at the Southern Presbyterian church at 1 o'clock after which the Masons and Odd Fellows took charge of the funeral and burial arrangements, all of which were carried out after the impressive ceremony of those Orders. There was a large attendance at the funeral and also the burial, and many beautiful floral offerings which attested the love and esteem in which he was held.

Indigestion

causes heartburn, sour stomach, nervousness, nausea, impure blood, and more trouble than many different kinds of diseases. The food you eat ferments in your stomach, and the poisons it forms are absorbed into your whole system, causing many distressing symptoms. At the first sign of indigestion, try the old, reliable, vegetable liver powder, to quickly cleanse your system from these undesirable poisons.

Thedford's Black-Draught

Mrs. Riley Laramore, of Goodwater, Mo., says: "I suffered for years from dyspepsia and heartburn. Thedford's Black-Draught, in small doses, cured my heartburn in a few days, and now I can eat without distress." Try it.

WON'T SUPPORT TAFT.

Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, Refuses to Say Who He is For.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 14.—Gov. Francis E. McGovern today denied a report that he would support President Taft for re-election, according to a statement published here. At the same time the Governor refused to discuss the political situation and would not commit himself as to whom he would support.

Leading supporters of President Taft have stated that unless McGovern throws his support to the President a new Republican candidate for Governor will be placed on the ballot by petition.

A Timely Admonition.

The widower had just taken his fourth wife and was showing her around the village. Among the places visited was the church yard and the bride paused before a very elaborate tombstone that had been erected by the bridegroom. Being a little near-sighted, she asked him to read the inscriptions, and in reverent tones he read:

"Here lies Susan, beloved wife of John Smith, and Jane, beloved wife of John Smith, and Mary, beloved wife of John Smith."

He paused abruptly and the bride, leaning forward to see the bottom line, read to her terror:

"Be ye also ready."—National Monthly.

Many Driven From Home.

Every year, in many parts of the country, thousands are driven from their homes by coughs and lung diseases. Friends and business are left behind for other climates, but this is costly and not always sure. A better way—the way of multitudes—is to use Dr. King's New Discovery and cure yourself at home. Stay right there, with your friends, and take this safe medicine. Throat and lung troubles find quick relief and health returns. Its help in coughs, colds, grip, croup, whooping cough and sore lungs make it a positive blessing. 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Haynes & Taylor and J. H. Orme.

The Men who Succeed

As heads of large enterprises are men of great energy. Success, to-day, demands health. To fail is to fail. It's utter folly for a man to endure a weak, run-down, half alive condition when Electric Bitters will put him right on his feet in short order. "Four bottles did me more real good than any other medicine I ever took," writes Chas. B. Allen, Sylvania, Ga. "After years of suffering with rheumatism, liver trouble, stomach disorders and deranged kidneys, I am again, thanks to Electric Bitters, sound and well." Try them. Only 50 cents at Haynes & Taylor's and J. H. Orme's.

If I Knew.

If I knew the box where the smiles are kept
No matter how large the key
Or strong the bolt, I would try
So hard
I'd open I know, for me.

Then over the land and sea broadcast
I'd scatter the smiles to play,
That the children's faces might hold them fast,
For many and many a day.

If I knew a box that was large enough
To hold all the frowns I meet,
I would try to gather them, every one
From nursery, school and street.

Then folding and holding, I'd pack them in
And turn the monster key:
I'd hire a giant to drop the box
To the depths of the deep, deep sea.

Silk Plus Gasoline.

(Insurance Engineering.)

A woman and her home were burned up recently in Springfield Mass., though ignorance of the quite commonly known pair of facts that gasoline left open will quickly fill a closed room with a gas sometimes more dangerous than gunpowder and that by rubbing silk, one may produce static electricity, in other words, a spark.

The woman left a silk waist soaking in gasoline in a bowl in a bathroom to clean it. After a time she went back and began rubbing the silk between her hands, producing a spark which ignited gasoline fumes and blew up the place. Had she only known—but what's the use? Sometimes it is ignorance. At other times it is thoughtlessness or carelessness. The resulting fatality is the same.

COST OF ADVERTISING

A single page in a single issue of the Century for Advertising costs $500; in Harper's $400; in other prominent magazines from $350 to $100; a yearly advertisement of one column in the Chicago Tribune costs $26,000; in the New York Tribune, $19,000 for the lowest and $85,950 for the highest. These papers, it is said are never at a loss for advertising to fill their columns. These figures will doubtless be of interest to the men who invest ten dollars with the idea that he is a liberal advertiser.

Do Not Spoil Your Boys.

Mothers should not make the mistake of waiting on their sons "hand and foot," as the saying is, and thus spoil them as husbands for their future wives.

So many mothers do this, with the mistaken idea that it is the best method of showing their love for their children, but after observing the failure of numerous examples of this plan of upbringing, I have come to believe it not only harmful, but extremely wrong.

There is such a thing as over kindness, and a boy does not think more of the mother whom he finds so willing to stifle his complaints with caresses, and so quick to do his every bidding.

Such servitude is rarely appreciated, but rather tends to belittle the mother in the eyes of her son, at the same time making him exacting, selfish, and hard to please.

She should teach him to appreciate the fact that there is nothing "sissy" or girlish in being considerate to his mother, for in no other way will she be so able to inspire and retain his love and respect.—Housekeeper.

GOVERNOR LEADS "JOINTS" RAID IN OKLAHOMA CITY.

Cruce Watches State Enforcement Officers as They Battered Down Doors of Illegal Saloons.

Oklahoma City, Sep. 14.—Gov. Cruce, formerly of Marion, Ky., acting in the capacity of aide-camp to State Enforcement Officer W. J. Caudill, was a silent, smiling watcher one night recently while Caudill and two of his deputy raiders Carrie-Nationized ten "boot-legging" joints in Oklahoma City. The Governor went the rounds and learned the methods of the officers for two hours and went home satisfied with what his friends have termed his first "toot."

Doors were smashed with a sledge hammer and with that weapon entrances to joints were secured through frame walls. Caudill and one of his men took turns about forcing their way into the places. The Governor never balked and stood amazed as barrels of beer and thousands of dollars worth of gambling paraphernalia were brought to light.

"You don't seem to be doing much business here tonight," he remarked to a man behind the velvet in one of the largest places.

"No, business ain't very good," said the man white with fright while the man with the sledge hammer stood before him.

"If I didn't do any more business than you are doing, I'd close up," smiled the governor.

What the Governor learned about "boot-legging" joints in a prohibition state was told in considerable detail next day, in his private office behind closed doors to Assistant Attorney General Davenport, and what he told Davenport to do may be echoed tolerably loud over the city in a few days. For the Governor announced when he went into office that if the legally constituted authorities did not enforce the laws he would know the reason why.

Caudill returned from a tour of the state a few days ago and announced that the prohibition law was being pretty well enforced every where except in Oklahoma City. He said since the law allows him no deputies on pay he could not cope with the situation here. Gov. Cruce heard of that and the raid was arranged for.

The first joint visited was a large one on Broadway. It took five minutes to gain admission for the bootleggers are shrewd in the matter of barricading their front doors. Not a man was in the building and there was no "booze" in sight when the party entered. But a big bar that was damp on top and curls of cigar smoke in the room left reminders of the retreating host, whose footsteps had been heard.

"It sounded like a herd of stampeded cattle going down those steps," said Caudill. "I am satisfied that some of them tumbled down."

At another place the raiders heard noises in the room that sounded like the clinking of glasses the shuffling of cards and the clicking of poker chips. Caudill rapped on the door. It was not the rap that regular customers of the place give when they want to go in. The men inside became silent. Caudill ordered the door opened. Bang! went the sledge hammer against the door.

When the raiders entered the place was vacated but a few bottles of whiskey were left. Caudill made a search behind the bar and while there a man considerably under the influence of liquor came up and wanted a drink.

"All right, sir," said Caudill, "she's fifty cents a pint."

The man began to swear and said he just wanted a drink. Then he looked around and saw a tall man in a black suit and white necktie and broad-brimmed hat standing near. He recognized the man as Governor Cruce.

"God! the Governor," he shouted and bolted for the door.

Meantime the news spread throughout the city that the Governor was out on a raiding expedition. When the raiders entered another place probably a hundred men stood outside the door and cheered them and about the time the tenth place had been entered the crowd was estimated at 500. This was too much for the governor, who is a modest man and too sincere to go into a deal like that for the sake of notoriety. So he resigned from the staff of the raiders and went home. He had gotten at first hand all the information necessary for the prosecution of men charged with violating the prohibition law.

The governor has been subjected to considerable criticism for going out in a common raid but he cares little for criticism when he is conscious he is doing the proper thing. He is a devout Christian, an elder in the Presbyterian Church, a prohibitionist at heart and from principle.

Nothing has happened in Oklahoma since the advent of the territories into statehood which had as its concomitant a constitutional prohibition of the sale of liquor that has put such a damper on the "bootleggers." In Oklahoma City their business has been interfered with but it is by the city and county officers. It is stated that one firm has made $300,000 in profits from the sale of liquors and from the operation of a gambling house since statehood was attained. The governor may go to the extent of calling out the State militia to close the joints of Oklahoma City.

SAYS L. & N. WILL BUY COTTON BELT SYSTEM

Texas Railroad Commissioner Declares He Has Advice Confirming Reported Deal.

Austin, Tex., Sept. 19.—Allison Mayfield, chairman of the State Railroad Commission, today said he had advice from Cotton Belt railway officials confirming the report that the Louisville & Nashville is completing arrangements to buy the Cotton Belt and that when the directors of the former road meet in New York. They will close the deal and authorize a bond issue of from $40,000,000 to $60,000,000 to carry it out. The Cotton Belt and L. & N. connect at St. Louis, and while the cotton Belt is a Gould line, it is regarded as operating independent of other Gould roads. This system is composed of the following branches. Stephenville, North and South Texas, Pine Bluff & Arkansas River, Paragould & Southwestern, Eastern Texas railway, St. Louis & Southwestern and St. Louis Southwestern of Texas. The mileage of the system is 1,809.

It is authoritatively reported that after the road is transferred, the Cotton Belt will be extended the Gulf, west of New Orleans.

An Amazing Thing.

It is an amazing thing that an intelligent people permit intoxicating liquor to be made sold or used, when they know it is the cause of continual destruction of property and slaughter of lives. Here is a railroad wreck on the Lackawanna Railroad. The engineer had been drinking this drink which is known by every one to poison the brain. Forty persons are killed and sixty desperately injured in this one catastrophe. Yet in an insane way the government protects the makers and sellers of it, and the sale goes on and those who think straight and speak the truth about it are called fanatics. Some time the people will come to their senses. They are acting now like terrorized simpletons, and allowing distillers and saloonkeepers to murder right and left because they are in the business of so doing.

THE INTERPRETATION.

In this issue we publish an address delivered by Harry O. Sommers before the Kentucky Educational Association which is well worth reading. Notice the home thrust, "When we know under the new school census where the illiterate children live"—how many "know" and extend this "cup of cold water" to the "least of these?" and unto Him? Observe the high rank given to the office of County Superintendent. It is higher than that of Congressmen or President. Note the truths uttered against money spent for "bad piano playing" and "dead languages in a live nation." His plea is for the uprooting of traditions for an education of practical utility for the masses. He speaks of the "news papers" and "public schools" almost as "useless one without the other." "Laws" without "public sentiment!" The address is its own best comment and it means much to you that these columns bring it to your hearthstone. The message has reached you. It smacks of no "educational ring." It is an appeal for personal, loving work that you will rejoice to receive.

Judge Bunk Gardner, District Chairman, has appointed county chairmen as follows: Jesse Olive of Marion, for Crittenden Co; Senator S. R. Glenn, of Eddyville, for Lyon Co; H. M. Jones, of Princeton, for Caldwell Co; Dr. F. G. LaRue, of Smithland, for Livingston Co; of them the Paducah News Democrat says "Every appointment which Judge Gardner made was done only after a close examination of conditions. County chairmen who are to wage the fight for Democratic votes in the First district are capable and a majority of them the cream of the younger blood in the Gibraltar." Of Mr. Olive we can truthfully say he is as loyal and true as any Democrat, who ever put his vote under the rooster and his appointment meets approval at his home.

WHICH WILSON?

Wilson was the author of the free trade act which was passed by a Democratic Congress under Cleveland's last administration. Now, Wilson, the free-trader, wants the American people to elect him President, so that he can have another free trade policy put into effect, but what would the common people gain in the deal?

Free trade has always brought on hard times. Protection has always brought prosperity. So it's Taft, protection and prosperity, or Wilson, free trade and hard times. Which will you have?—Weekly Globe.

These seventeen lines taken from the GLOBE contain seventeen misstatements and well illustrates the reckless way this Marion standpat organ is handling the political situation.

The Wilson Bill was not a "free trade act."

It never went into effect.

It was vetoed by President Cleveland because the duties levied were in many cases higher than the bill it sought to repeal. Congressman William L. Wilson, the author of the bill died twelve years ago and it is not conceivable that he is now wanting the people to elect him president.

The Democratic candidate for president, Woodrow Wilson is the Governor of New Jersey and is a Democrat and not a free trader.

Neither Congressman William L. Wilson, Woodrow Wilson, nor any other Democrat ever advocated a free trade policy.

Neither has "free trade" always brought "hard times," nor "protection" always brought prosperity. "Free trade" is impossible in America and therefore has never been tried, but every panic which has occurred since the war, and all the "hard times" resulting from them have been under the operation of Republican so-called protective tariffs. Since 1860 no tariff policy has been in effect save that enacted by republican congresses, and approved by republican presidents.

Under the Constitution, government revenues are necessarily derived by taxes in the form of tariff custom duties. No one advocates an amendment to the Constitution in that regard, but there is a well nigh universal demand for the democratic policy of collecting in this way only so much tax as will afford sufficient revenue for the government, economically administered.

The GLOBE should seek information, instead of attempting to impart it. Whether the object of its criticism be a national figure or a local bull mooser it should search for facts and discuss them fairly. Its editorial writer may thereby lose his job, but the writer of its obituary can work more conscientiously.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Value of Education.

By DR. EDWARD L. TRUPEAU.

The first and greatest need in the prevention of tuberculosis is education, education of the people and through them education of the state. It is evident that if every man and woman in the United States were familiar with the facts relating to the disease, the number in which tuberculosis is communicated and the simple measures necessary for their protection not only might we reasonably expect as direct result of this knowledge a great diminution in the death rate of the disease, but the people would soon demand and easily obtain effective legislation for its prevention and control. When a state has once become well educated and not before will the other requisites necessary to the control of the disease be forthcoming.

CIGARETTES ARE BAD FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Has Decided Views on Subject.

AN ERROR IN NAMES.

Wife of Democratic Candidate Gives Out Letter Taking Strong Stand on Smoking Habit.

New York.—For the first time since Woodrow Wilson became the Democratic presidential candidate has Mrs. Wilson appeared. She attended in person her husband's daily conference with reporters, although heretofore she has made special requests that she be not quoted nor written about in the papers.

What Mrs. Wilson wished to have fully understood was that if she becomes the first lady of the land she will not, as has been said in a widely distributed interview, have packages of cigarettes in her personal desk at the White House and indulge in smoking them with her children.

Through Governor Wilson, Mrs. Wilson asked that publicity be given to a letter she had written to the editor of the State Journal at Columbus, O., repudiating an alleged interview with her in which she defended cigarette smoking for women. The interview had come to her in a letter signed "American Citizen," which said:

"Dear Madam—I can scarcely think of any greater calamity to the young women of the nation than to read such a proclamation as your interview offers them. I am a workman, and I see men lose their jobs almost every day because they are incapacitated for work by the use of the cigarette. If smoking does this for strong men what will it do for girls and women?"

The "interview" was indeed a cordial endorsement of the woman smoker. Here are some of its assuring phrases, all credited to Mrs. Wilson:

"A woman writer for a syndicate of Sunday newspapers asked Mrs. Woodrow Wilson if she agreed with Gertrude Atherton's opinion of the smoking of cigarettes by women. She smilingly exhibited three cigarette boxes piled in the corner of her desk, all but empty.

"Why shouldn't a woman smoke if she enjoys it?" she queried.

"Why hasn't she just as much right to a cigarette as a man? Certainly I agree with Mrs. Atherton that any existing prejudice against women smoking is to the last silly and absurd."

"Smoking cigarettes is a question of manners, not morals. It promotes good fellowship."

"Some women feel that a cigarette calms their nerves and helps their brains into working order. Personally smoking diffuses my thoughts instead of concentrating them. I enjoy it as I enjoy after dinner coffee. Both are pleasant ways of ending and finishing off; both add to conviviality and good fellowship."

The editor of the Ohio State Journal, it was clear, had been much incensed at the apologies for the cigarette habit among women attributed to Mrs. Wilson, as he wrote on Aug. 10 an editorial in which he called for the defeat of Governor Wilson or a repudiation from his wife. If there was no mistake about it, he wrote, "Mrs. Woodrow Wilson shouldn't be mistress of the White House."

If the Ohio editor was emphatic Mrs. Wilson was certainly not less so. After the reporters had said they would gladly publish her letter to the Ohio editor she asked for an hour's time in which to write one. This was what she prepared:

"Dear Sir—I have just received a copy of the Journal with your editorial entitled 'Smoking Women,' and I beg leave to indignantly deny the statement that I approve of women smoking cigarettes. The interview upon which your editorial was based is a pure invention. I intensely dislike the cigarette smoking habit for women—in fact, so strong is my feeling on the subject that my real danger lies in being unjust and unkind in my judgment of those who differ with me in this respect. But certainly no woman in our household ever has or ever will smoke. Quite apart from the bad taste of it, I believe with you that it has an extremely injurious effect on the nerves."

ELLEN A. WILSON.

(Mrs. Woodrow Wilson.)

Governor Wilson, in approving the letter sent out by Mrs. Wilson, offered what he thought might prove an explanation for the interview.

"I do not think it was maliciously invented," he said. "There is a rather well known writer who signs herself Mrs. Wilson Woodrow, and she no doubt has been confused with Mrs. Wilson."

Mrs. Wilson Woodrow was formerly married to a relative of Governor Wilson, and it is understood that her views on the matter of women who smoke are different from those held in the household of the Democratic candidate.

The divided Republican party is like the boy "blowing against the wind." There will be a lot of bluster, but it will not take votes away from Wilson and Marshall.

Winning with Wilson means more than a mere Democratic victory; it means restoring real prosperity.

Wilson is the best equipped man nominated for the presidency since Lincoln.

George W. Perkins is sure a "bully" Progressive.

URIED TALENT HELD TO BLAME

Uneducated People Responsible for the Illiterate.

OPPORTUNITIES NOT REALIZED

An Awakening Address Delivered by Harry A. Sommers of the Elizabethtown News Before the Kentucky Educational Association, the People of the Commonwealth Were Forcibly Reminded of a Duty Long Neglected.

At a recent meeting of the Kentucky Educational Association at Covington, Harry A. Sommers of the Elizabethtown News charged that the uneducated people of the commonwealth were chiefly responsible for the uneducated and that Kentucky has been asleep for fifty years on the public school situation.

Mr. Sommers spoke in part as follows on the subject of "The Press and the Public School":

I charge that the educated of the commonwealth are chiefly responsible for the uneducated, that the learned are responsible for the illiterate. We have been given talent which we have

HARRY A. SOMMERS.

used instead of using for our more fortunate fellow man. We have marvellous opportunities, but we have not realized or accepted the responsibilities which go with the opportunity.

Kentucky, the first state in the Union to establish free schools, has been asleep for nearly fifty years on public school education and now wakes to find herself lagging in the rear of most of her sister states in this important matter. We were asleep when we allowed our rural schools to retrograde. We were asleep when we did not keep the school space with the development and growth of the nation. We were asleep when we left the whole matter in the hands of the school teacher and neglected our responsibility to assist him and stand by him. We were asleep when we sent men to the legislature unfit to grapple with this question and most generally indifferent to it.

Thank God we are awake now and before it is too late. Awake and on ward and if we are sentinels for education on the watch towers of progress go to sleep until the school house is made a thing of credit instead of a thing of reproach, until the stain of illiteracy is wiped out, we deserve the fate of any sentinel who goes to sleep at his post. A man who does wrong and does not know he has violated the law is not exempt from the penalty but the man who knowingly violates the law is more culpable. While we were ignorant and indifferent to the lack of advancement in our school we were nevertheless responsible, but now that we are fully aware of our inferior condition we are doubly responsible if we do not respond to it.

The precious jewels of the commonwealth are its children. The future of the state depends upon them and they depend on us. Are we going to polish them with an education to fit them for life's duties and obligations and citizenship, or are we going to allow them to grow up in ignorance to become paupers and criminals? It is a burning question which appeals to mankind, which appeals to intelligence, which appeals to our hearts.
Have we heard the cry which comes from the mountains and from the isolated sections all over Kentucky?
I, for one, have heard it. It has been ringing in my ears for ten years or more and neither my pen nor voice shall become silent in answering it until every educated man and woman in the state realizes our needs and recognizes the responsibility. As the aged Hamanlar in his camp fires saw the infant Hannibal to eternal honor for Rome, so I would swear you now by the intelligence which beams in your eyes, by the enthusiasm which runs in your veins and by the love which is in your hearts, to swear an eternal hatred for ignorance and illiteracy until we have wiped it from our borders.

What we need in Kentucky is public sentiment for the public schools, for laws without public sentiment will not solve our problem. We need a public sentiment which will impress the fact that a greater obligation rests upon the parents to educate their children than upon the state and that they ought to be willing to pay more for it than the state.

That the best way to create a local interest in the local school is a local tax and as proof of this, it should be shown that all the best schools have a local tax and all the worst schools are without it.

That the district trustee should be as much interested in the teacher and his teaching as the teacher is in his school. That the school house should be as good and as attractive as any home in the district.

That when we know under the new school census where the illiterate children live, it will become the duty of the people of that district to see that these children are sent to school and provide clothing and shoes if the parents are too poor to provide them.

That the teacher should be more commended for what he is able to accomplish and less criticized for what he is unable to do.

That moonlight schools for the adults will pay better than moonshine still.

That the office of county school superintendent is the most important in the country.

That it is more important to educate all the people some, than a few of the people a great deal.

That we do not need to teach dead languages in a live country except within the walls of a university.

That those things which will be of most value to a boy and girl after they leave school should be the things which should be taught first and best.

That the children's minds should not be poisoned over Greek roots when they do not know the difference between calamus root and poke root.

That the conjugation of the verb "amo" need not be taught in the school because the boys and girls learn it soon enough outside the school.

That the unknown quantities of algebra had better remain unknown than that a boy should remain ignorant of the real quantities of his father's farm.

That the time spent in making indifferent performances on the piano could be better utilized in abolishing bad biscuits from the breakfast table.

That the public school ought to get in the newspaper and the newspaper in the public school.

While you may not agree with me in all of these things, you will certainly agree with me in most of them.
The question is how are we going to create this public sentiment.

The school teacher is powerless to do it even when he does his best.
He is handicapped by the very nature of the case. We must look to the educated people of this state. Men and women who will give their time and talent and means to create a better sentiment for the rural schools, and we must look to the press.

The newspaper and the public schools are the two greatest forces at work in this country for both progress and enlightenment.

The newspaper's influence depends upon the number of readers it has and the number of readers depends on how many people are taught to read. There must be a combination between the press and the professor, a united interest between the newspaper and the public school. If the press of this state would give half the thought and half the space to education that it does to politics the schools would be revolutionized in less than a decade. The press must first be made interested in this great question, then it must be educated to the needs of the schools, then shown how the needs may be supplied. The editor and the school teacher must be brought within closer touch with each other. This should be done through this organization.

Mind you, I am not talking about a movement through the press for the benefit of the teachers, but a movement for the benefit of the people. The school must be made the important thing and not the school teacher. The children's interest must be put in the foreground as the battle cry through the press for their welfare, and the welfare of the state. All great enterprises get before the public with the news bureau and there is no enterprise as great as the education of the masses. Most enterprises pay for publicity, but this is one of which the newspapers will require no pay. It takes real newspaper talent to conduct any kind of publicity bureau. It requires the talent of first interesting the reader with what it tells, then it must do more than interest it.
It should get the reader in a grip with the story, then it must get the reader hold of him that he wants a part of it.
There should be selected a most reliable man or woman with proper instinct to send a column once a week to every newspaper in Kentucky of such live public school matter that the editor will be glad to insert it. The information should be gathered from the various schools all over the state by the teachers and sent to the head of this bureau. It should be facts and not arguments.
The facts can be so written that they will carry their own argument and also carry conclusions. Such an educational press bureau established in this city or Frankfort could and would arouse more interest and create more public sentiment for the rural schools than any other one thing could do because every week it would have a thousand times as large an audience as this building will hold. With the press willing to help, I do hope that such an opportunity will not be allowed to escape.

THE BEST PROOF

Given by a Marion C. tizen.
Doan's Kidney Pills were used—they brought benefit.

The story was told to Marion residents.

Time has strengthened the evidence.
Has proven the result lasting.
The testimony is home testimony—
The proof convincing.

It can be investigated by Marion residents.

Coleman Byford, Marion, Ky., says: I cannot express my gratitude for the great good Doan's Kidney Pills did me.
I was laid up with my back. I had to pass the kidney secretions many times during the night, and there was a scalding sensation when being voided.
My heart was also affected, and my health and strength run down. I had about given up hope of recovery. I was living in Owensboro, Ky., at the time, and the two doctors that were attending me could do nothing for me.
I had heard my mother speak highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and as they had cured her, I procured a box at the Haynes & Taylor's Drug Store. Before I had taken the contents, I felt greatly improved and after I had finished four boxes, I was as well as ever was in my life."
(Statement given Feb. 3, 1908.)

RE-ENDOSEMENT.

On Feb. 2, 1912, Mr. Byford added:
"I can still praise Doan's Kidney Pills.
I do not need this remedy very often, but when I do it quickly cures me of kidney complaint."

Kiss on Street Not a Crime.

Philadelphia, Sept. 17.—According to Magistrate Scott it is no crime to kiss one's sweetheart on the streets of Philadelphia. Harold Luders was called before him having been arrested for kissing Miss Hilda Young, his fiancée, when he was leaving her last night.

"Why, this boy has committed no crime," said the magistrate.
"Things have come to a pretty pass when a man cannot kiss his girl on the street." If this keeps on it will be high time for the young people to move out."
He discharged Luders, forthwith.

FIGHT DOE FOR FAWN, EAGLE IS WINNER

California Campers Witnessed The Battle And See Big Bird Fly Away With its Prey.

San Bernardino, Cal., Sept. 11.
—Campers in Lytle creek, climbing to Bonita Falls, witnessed a remarkable fight between a deer and an eagle. The prize was a fawn.

As the climbers were ascending the mountains they first caught sight of the deer and two fawns quietly feeding on a distant level. Suddenly their attention was attracted to a great gray eagle circling in a downward flight.

As they watched the eagle suddenly shot downward, and lighting on the back of one of the fawns, rose with it. The mother deer charged upon the bird, and the two fought back and forth for some time, the eagle finally setting its talons into the fawn and with swift strokes of its wings soaring upward.

It alighted on a crag, high over the spot where the frantic mother deer pawed the earth.

Snake Drops From Door on Young Farmer.

Nothing to it, the worst scared man that ever lived in Harmony township was Noble Stallings, who had a large sized chicken snake fell on him last Friday while passing through a door into his house. When the excitement had subsided and the snake was killed it was found three rocking chairs and a folding bed had been demolished during Noble's attempt to free himself from the unwelcome visitor. The room looked like a cyclone had struck it.

The snake had been lying above a transom on an outside door and when Mr. Stallings opened the door it pulled the snake down on him. The reptile, to save itself from falling, wrapped itself around the young farmer's neck, body and arms and no doubt was as badly scared as its victim.

That neighborhood is doing its share towards furnishing sensations for the countryside.

Mr. Stallings owns a dog that crows like a rooster, and his neighbor, Wm. Burrows, has a calf that eats chickens alive. A few weeks ago a young son of Mr. Burrow's became lost and all the farmers of that section searched half the night for him.
Rigdon Johnson, another neighbor, sprang into national fame by owning a tame black snake that caught all the rats on his place and which was written up from Maine to California.—New

MONEY BACK CATARRH REMEDY

Dosing the stomach won't kill Catarrh germs. Neither will sprays, douches, snuffs or ointments.
The quickest way to kill germs is to beath deep into the lungs the vaporized air of Booth's HYOMEI.

As this antiseptic air passes over the sore spots infested with Catarrh germs;
it not only destroys them, but heals the inflamed membrane and stops the discharge of mucus.

Then hawking, spitting, snuffling, crust in nose and foul breath will disappear, and vile, disgusting Catarrh will be conquered.

A complete HYOMEI outfit, which includes a hard rubber inhaler, only cost $1.00. Extra bottles, if afterwards needed, 50c; and Haynes & Taylor are authorized to refund your money if dissatisfied. s12-19

ONLY

Save $8.00

As a Special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold, price always the same, we will give free one hand-some set of ware as illustrated here.

SPECIAL

All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC FACTORY will be glad to show you "ALL ABOUT RANGES"—SHOW YOU why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

Come, If You Intend To Buy or Not.

EDUCATION lies in KNOWING Things—KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—KNOW how the water is heated—HOW the top is heated—Why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel—KNOW how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. DON'T OVERLOOK a chance to KNOW things shown by one who knows. COME.

SET OF WARE FREE

MAJESTIC RANGES ARE MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES

WHICH SHALL IT BE?

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn-out cook stove?

You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.

You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure.

Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range a range with a reputation—

The Great Majestic Malleable and Charcoal Iron Range?

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with the REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALEABLE AND CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight-lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a movable reservoir and an oven that won't warp—that's why the Majestic uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the yr. (brown bread just right all over without turning) heats 15 gallons of water while breakfast is cooking properly handled lasts a life time, and costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen," you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300 percent stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

Don't Overlook the Date. This is a Special Invitation to You and Your Friends and Neighbors

NEW SALEM

One half of the tobacco crop is safe in the house.

Some few complaining, but no bad sickness.

Miss Florence LaRue, who is attending school at Salem, paid her parents a visit last week.

We noticed quite a lengthy letter post marked 'Cross Roads' which means the little village of Salem. Well, the writer about hit it, so far as the name is concerned. We are glad he is on the Record-Press staff. We notice a few things that this old wind-bag gets off. He says the crops look fairly well in the New Salem section considering the land and the cultivation, well, they do, a great deal better than thirty-five years back when a citizen of the little Cross Roads village used to plow his corn one time and pull the bridle off of old "Ball," (his horse,) and say go it old fellow until next crop time. And again he pays his respects to your correspondent by calling up old times and our friends that have long since passed over the great divide. He mentions Thomas Nickels. That brings up things long since forgotten and among other things the longest game of seven-up we ever saw played, with Judge Stevens on one side and the aforesaid Nickels on the other. The time was July 17th, 1869. Never mind what day of the week it was—the game commenced at 8 a. m., and lasted until 6 p. m., when the money was counted and the Judge was 20 cents ahead. Mind you, the Judge has long since laid aside the paste boards. Further on he mentions some valuable remedies that we have for sale. That is all right and we are under obligations to him for the free ad.

He mentions the Ginseng Syrup. We fixed up a bottle, put just enough corn licker to give it a little flavor, and went to the little Cross Roads village and sold the whole lot, recipe and all the syrup to our old friend Judge Charley Stevens and Col. Henry Rappolee. The Judge wanted it to cure lumbago and the Colonel wanted it if it would make hair grow on a billiard ball, for which it is highly recommended. As to the eclipses mentioned, if the Judge will call back thirty-five years he would doubtless remember when along with your correspondent he has seen the sun, moon and all the stars go in an eclipse.

We were in the little Cross Roads town a few days ago and upon our arrival found all the inhabitants out on the sidewalks. We asked them what was up? And they said look at our concrete walks. Well, it reminded us of the little boy with first pair of pants. When the Circuit Rider asked him what he had in his pockets. Later on we will mention a few more things.

Jesse Baker and wife, of Louisville, were guests of his brother last week. Jesse is one of our old Crittenden Co., boys, having served an enlistment in "Uncle Sam's" navy. We were truly glad to see you, Jess.

Born to the wife of Richard Wheeler last week, a fine boy.

Andrew Wheeler and wife visited friends in Mexico, (this county,) last week.

Mrs. John Ladd is quite sick at this writing.

Jesse Tyner made a business trip to Tiline recently.

Protracted meeting commences Monday after 4th Sunday in this month.

We failed to mention that Mrs. Dora Davenport and son, Duke, of Smithland, were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Threlkeld, last week.

As to the weather forecast, we will say, after a trip to Paducah a man is liable to forecast snow a foot deep in July.

The Good Book says, "Do unto others as you would have them do to you," but we try to do to others as they do to us. The flesh is weak.

Mrs. Mattie Franklin and Mrs. Dora Pace, of Salem, were guests of relatives near New Salem Sunday.

Harlan Pace, of near Tribune, is the guest of his mother.

the county. It also avoids for the public the necessity of traveling over what is known as the Love graveyard hill or Griffith hill and upon which the grades are excessively steep, long and rocky and notoriously in bad repair because of the great expense and scarcity of road hands thereon.

This Love graveyard hill is perhaps the greatest barrier on the road from Marion to Tolu and no road in the county is harder to keep in repair than the one upon this hill; in fact it is almost impossible. The change as viewed by the commissioners will make an ideal roadway and will be worth thousands of dollars to the people living in the N. W. section of the county. It will be unfortunate if any of the land owners along the new road should find themselves injured or inconvenienced by it, but their farms can soon be adjusted to the new conditions and if beyond the benefits to accrue from the road they are still damaged, the public will pay them for it. The commissioners reported that Henry Lynn and Ed Moore should each be paid $55.00. The report lays over until the October term of court when it will be approved, unless in the mean time exceptions are filed.
