VERY ENTHUSIAS- TIC MEETING.

Independent Tobacco Growers
Met Last Saturday, Nov., 20
And Pass Resolutions.

As previously announced in the columns of this paper, the independent tobacco growers met Saturday in large numbers at the court house in Marion at 1 o'clock.

The following committee on resolutions was appointed:
A. Huitt, Sam Riley, A. A. Beck, Robt. Vinson, John Dunning, Samuel Harris, Albert Travis, Jas. Boone, J. W. Custard, and they introduced the following resolutions which were adopted:

We, the Independent Tobacco Growers of Crittenden and adjoining counties, in convention assembled at Marion, Ky., on the 30th day of Nov. 1912 for the purpose of devising ways and means to sell and dispose of our present crop of tobacco at the best price possible.

And whereas, the Tobacco buyers have been requested to buy no unpooled tobacco until the pooled crop of tobacco had all been sold, which request is in our judgement unreasonable and unjust, as no one has assurance that the pooled tobacco will be sold when prices are highest but might be held till the price falls, as has been done in the past.

And whereas, the unjust request made by the leaders of the pooled tobacco growers that the independent tobacco buyers buy no independent or unpooled tobacco until the pooled tobacco is all sold, seems to have discouraged and intimidated the independent tobacco buyers so they have made no preparation to buy or handle any tobacco in this or adjoining counties; and we further believe that there will be no danger of damage being done to the person or property of any independent buyer or independent seller, from lawlessness as in the past; but should such be brought about by the unjust demands or otherwise, we believe and hereby resolve that the leaders of such lawlessness should and will be held responsible.

It is further resolved that we are freemen and are entitled to all protection of the laws of Kentucky. That we are entitled to sell our own property as we may like and to whom, as well as any time we may desire.

We do not believe that any set of men have the right to control our property or personal affairs so long as we are law abiding citizens.

We concede to every citizen the right to pool his crop and deliver the same to the pool unmolested.

And we are anxious to see those who have pooled receive the highest price possible for their tobacco.

Be it further resolved, that we hereby call upon and request the independent tobacco buyers to call and see our tobacco, make prices on same.

And in the sale of our tobacco to independent buyers our united efforts to see that he receive just such crops as he may purchase and that he is unmolested in the disposition of the same.

A committee to confer with the buyers was appointed and composed of the following gentlemen: James Brown, A. A. Beck, James Pickens, James

Marion, Ky,

Uncle Josh Tickled at Seeing His Name in Print.

How it tickled your old Uncle to see his "article" miss that basket under the editor's desk! Then to see how important your uncle is when his name comes out in the paper. Encouraged by having such an honor "thrust upon him" he allows his thoughts to be put into print for the second time. Those boys' corn crops ought to make some of us "gray heads and baldheads" ashamed. Think of raising more than 50 bushels of corn on ground that has not been raising 25 and 30. Your old Uncle never believed much in "book larn" till now. He can't help it now: for they have put up the goods. There's lots of us lettin' the manure pile heat or be wasted waitin' on the moon when we ought to be busy hauling it and putting it in the places where it is needed. I hope the boys will continue to show us what they can do, and what we could do too if we would study some and work after their fashion. I hope the boys will hitch up "old Tom and Jo" and haul all of the manure they can find on the place, taking it right to the field where they want it next spring and spread it on the ground row. If you can't do it now, boys, see that it does not get rained on and allow the best part of it to run down the hill and into the branch where it goes to fertilize the river bottom farms. Keep it dry. Boys, don't tell the old folks but your old Uncle has his heart set on getting a number of our leading citizens to offer some nice prizes for you next year. Bedad, if no one else does, your old Uncle will make it interesting for you. Keep your eyes skinned and be sure to look after all of the manure.

George.

A. S. Hard was elected chairman for Crittenden and adjoining counties and J. W. Custard, secretary.

Speeches were made by A. S. Hard, J. W. Blue, Jno. A. Moore, Carl Henderson, Jas. F. Canada, A. J. McMullen and others and much enthusiasm was manifested.

Popular Couple Wed at Hill's Chapel.

Saturday and Sunday was our regular meeting days at Hill's Chapel. We had a good meeting on Saturday and an especially good service on Sunday. We came together on Sunday morning at 10 o'clock and had an interesting Sunday School, and at the hour for preaching there assembled a large congregation. We had the pleasure of preaching to an attentive audience, and just as the sermon was over a nice young couple drove up to the church door, and walked up the aisle and it was with pleasure that we repeated the ceremony that made them husband and wife. I must congratulate Clarence for the good fortune that is his in winning the heart and hand of such an estimable young lady as Miss Josie Paris. May God's choicest blessings attend them through long and useful lives, is my prayer. The bride's home is in Marion, and Clarence Hunt, the groom, is a prosperous young farmer. They will make their future home on the farm that Mr. Hunt had already prepared for the coming of his mistress.

Interesting Letter From Our (correspondent at Carrsville)

Thanksgiving Day was the occasion of many dinner parties notably that tendered the Masonic Lodge members and their visiting brethren by the wives, daughters and sweethearts, of Carrsville lodge. Judge Boyd's ladies were almost given the rheumatism by the quantity of well cooked viands they bore up under. At Witherspoon's hotel good cheer abounded. It being the 87th birthday of Mr. James Stallion and his 50th year in Masonry. A handsome suit of clothes was presented him by the Masonic lodge of Carrsville, the presentation being made by the Worshipful Master Willis Champion.

The body of William Dixon, who for the past thirty years has presided at our wharf-boat with scarcely a day's vacation, was on Sunday last, buried at Piney—his death occurring on Saturday.

Robert Carr's mother, who lives some two miles from town, died on Friday last.

The departure in the near future of Mr. and Mrs. O. S. Denny to Marion, where they will reside, is a real loss to Carrsville socially, financially and every other way. Their son, Gilbert, who was recently under medical treatment at the Evansville hospital, is greatly improved.

The sales of Clemens & Likens, the dry goods merchants, so far this year exceed in amount that of 1911 their banner 12 months in their mercantile history of many years.

The Carrsville Mining Company have erected a store house and blacksmith shop near the mouth of their mining shaft. A rather novel idea will be carried out in lining their working shaft with concrete instead of lumber. The shaft already some fifteen feet in solid rock, is well adopted for the experiment.

The output of fluor spar from the Rosiclare and Fairview mines continues very large and the probabilities are that a very great tonnage will have to be stored at the mines as their output alone will reach the consumers' limit of 125,000 tons per annum.

The Ohio river continues at a low stage and but few through steamers are making their regular trips.

For the benefit of your readers the following time card of passenger boats are due for Goleonda, 6:30 a. m., 9:30 a. m., and 1:30 p. m.; for Elizabethtown, Ill., 9:30 a. m., 2:30 p. m., and 5 p. m. A two horse carriage carrying the mail, leaves Carrsville for Salem and Marion at 7 a. m., reaching Salem at 12 and Marion at about 5:30 p. m., returning leaves Marion at 8:30 a. m., reaching Carrsville at 6 p. m.

Will Bridges, the chief clerk at Clemens & Likens, it is understood has a walk over for the position of Postmaster at Carrsville.

Produce prices the past week delivered at Carrsville were: turkeys 12c/s, geese 7c/s, ducks and chickens 8c/s, and eggs 25 cents. A large business transacted at these prices. Furs according to quality but are freely purchased at advancing prices.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Citizens' Bank of Carrsville, held on Tuesday 3rd, Mr. Harris Davis was elected Cashier in place of Mr. O. S. Denny, who will locate at Marion.

This corn was produced from seed furnished by the state with one exception and grown by boys whose ages range from ten to twenty years. It should show to our Crittenden county farmers what can be done by having the right kind of seed, proper preparation of soil, and correct method of cultivation. If any one wishes to know, I can furnish them with a statement of just how each boy cultivated his crop.

Boys, I am ready to receive applications for next year's club. We will try to make it more interesting next year.

Yours very truly,
E. JEFFERY TRAVIS.

A PAINFUL ACCIDENT.

A Boy Accidentally Shot Himself
While Out Hunting Near Sullivan.

Johnie McClanahan of the Rodney section of this county, just across Tradewater River from Sullivan, the 17 year old son of A. C. McClanahan accidentally shot himself Thanksgiving day, while out hunting and was painfully lacerated. On the arm from the wrist up to the elbow, the flesh was almost torn away, and unless successfully treated, he may lose the use of his arm and hand.

He was carrying the gun by the muzzle when it struck a limb or twig and was discharged sending the entire load into his arm. Physicians were hastily summoned and expressed the hope that a probable loss of some of his fingers may be the most serious result.

His father recently purchased a fine tract of land in this county and moved to it from Waverly Union county, where the family is well known and highly respected.

DEATH PENALTY FOR JAS. ELLIS

Slayer of Magistrate Beatty at Burnside Electrocutated at Eddyville Prison.

Eddyville, Ky., Nov. 26.—Jas. Ellis, convicted at Somerset for the murder of Magistrate Beatty, at Burnside, over a year ago, was electrocuted in the branch prison here this morning. The electrocution was accomplished without a hitch. Only the usual prison officials and physicians were present at the execution.

Ellis, who had been a Constable, was convicted of killing Beatty in the Magistrate's court room at Burnside. He had been accused of selling intoxicating liquors at a soft drink stand, and Beatty had a warrant for his arrest.

The murder was regarded as one of the most brutal in the history of that section and feeling ran high.

MRS. BOSTON ANNOUNCES.

Fredonia, Ky., Nov. 20, 1912.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Dear Sir and Friend:

Having been solicited by quite a number of my friends to make the race for the Post Office, I have decided to do so. I have spent quite a lot of my time and means caring for the orphans and have raised five of them. So I believe, now, something should come my way, and I believe I have friends enough that will help me win in this battle. I don't see why some lady of old Crittenden should not have part of Uncle Sam's pie. I am as good a democrat as you ever saw. So, if you will put this before the public, my friends will come to my rescue. Very Respectfully,
MRS. G. E. BOSTON.

S. R. Bradburn,

A Very Old Newspaper.

Horace Gribbons, of the Bradfordsville section, brought to this office a few days ago, a copy of The Commonwealth, a weekly newspaper published at Frankfort, Tuesday, September 2, 1835, or 77 years ago. The paper was found under a floor which was being relaid at Mr. Gribbons' home. The paper used is very much superior to that of the present-day times, and other than being badly mouse-eaten, it is in excellent condition. The paper is also surprisingly well printed. The name of the subscriber, M. Wilson, is written in ink and is as distinct as if placed there only a few years ago.

The methods of modern-day news gathering and those in vogue in the days of The Commonwealth are brought to mind by an article on the presidential Election of 1832 which the paper contains. Nowadays when an occurrence of importance happens in any part of the country, or even the greater part of the world for that matter, is known in practically every large newspaper office in the land within an hour. According to the Commonwealth's article the vote of all the states in the presidential in 1832 had not reached Frankfort in September, 1835, three years later. The article says:

"We have been frequently asked the question, what was the majority of the votes of the people for Jackson in 1832? Also whether Van Buren had a majority for Vice-president?"

The latter question has been answered repeatedly, but to the former we have been unable to reply owing to the returns from many states being incomplete. However, we are now enabled to present the statement below, which is in the main correct. It gives the majority only in Missouri: viz., 5,159 for Jackson; and the votes by the people in all the other states except Alabama and South Carolina, the former of which voted for Jackson and Lessons from Falling Leaves.

BY IDA MAY ROBERTS.

At this season of the year, when the leaves are falling in showers it should remind us of the time when our lives will be over, here; when we will have to turn every thing loose and descend into the grave, giving place to others.

If, when the time comes to us, we have glorified God with our lives here, and filled the place He in His wisdom designed us to fill, all will be well, we will then be ripe for immortal glory, and suited to another existence. It is a solemn thing to live, and yet it is joyful if we live aright.

Life is solemn because it is of such great importance how we spend this life and because of the great responsibilities that rest on every intelligent accountable being. God has laid them upon us and we cannot shirk them, except it be to our sorrow. Many seem to see nothing in this life, only to live for selfish considerations.

To secure wealth, seek worldly pleasure, have a great name and stand high among people here, forgetting that the Bible has taught us that if we sow to the flesh, we shall of the flesh reap corruption. Such is a life of the flesh but not a Godly life, neither is it a happy life.

We can never be really happy unless we are at peace with our Creator, and living in harmony with His great plan.

The little leaves, full of God's design. At his word they up pear, grow on in silent obedience to Him, do their work and vanish. All nature does likewise. But the human family are different.

By reason of the fall we cannot abide in the condition in which we are born, and please God, for we are taught that they that are in the flesh cannot please God. But if we walk in the Spirit we are not in the flesh.

Seeing then, that we, the highest order of God's creation on earth, are alienated from Him by sin and cannot live to his praise in a state of nature, we must get right with Him. Having fallen in Adam we must get back to God through Christ. That is the only way. In Christ's death and great sacrifice for us there is ample provision made for us to have our hearts washed from sin and changed from the love of sin to the love of holiness.

By that mighty transforming work of God we are made new creatures and turning from sin and the ways of the flesh, rejoice to walk in obedience before him. It is then that we are brought into harmony with God and can live to his glory.

Then like the little leaves we live only that we may praise and glorify Him with the life he has given us. We fill our place, we do our work, we serve His wise purpose in our day and generation, and then when our time is fulfilled we gently and willingly give up our lives here.

Our bodies fall into the grave to moulder and decay, but our spirits rise triumphant and soar away to be with Jesus until that glad and glorious morn when He shall come to judge the world.

Then our bodies shall burst forth from the tomb, arrayed in wondrous beauty, immortalized and glorified, and we shall go on praising God forever.

Obituary.

Died at the home of her son, Mr. Lee Green of Sturgis at 3 o'clock Monday morning, Nov. 11, Mrs. S. D. Green, age 77 years. She professed faith in Christ at an early age and joined the Baptist church at Fords Ferry, Ky. Several years ago, she moved her membership to the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Blackford, and two years ago she joined the C. P. church at Sturgis where she lived a faithful member until death.

She was married to Mr. Wm. Green at the age of thirteen. To this union were born six children all of whom survive her. They are Lee Green of Sturgis, Dick Green of Caseyville, John Green of Wickliff, Mrs. J. W. Bennett of Weston, Mrs. Mollie Carrier of Blackford, Mrs. Chas. Kistner of St. Charles, Ky.; and thirteen grand-children, Laura, Herbert, and Ledonia Carrier; Vera, Beatrice and Lillian Bennett; Claude and Roy Kistner; Dennie Green, Dorris and Dixie Green, Mrs. Minnie Kelly, Mrs. Goldie Green, and one great grandchild. Her husband preceded her to the grave 25 years ago.

Mrs. Green was just as well and hearty the day before she was taken sick as usual and seemed to take life happily. She was struck by paralysis on Friday and lived nine days. All of her children except one son, John, were at her bedside. She knew every thing until Saturday night before she died on Monday; then she became unconscious and knew nothing more.

Mrs. Green was a good woman and loved by every one who knew her. She made friends everywhere she went with her bright smiles and kind words.

Dear children do not mourn after your sweet, beloved mother. You know she has gone to the beautiful world in the great beyond. Only prepare to meet her. Her earthly life is ended. That sweet voice is hushed in death. All that is mortal of her whom we loved is mingled with the dust. In the light of eternity, our departed mother and grandmother may have learned more in these few days than in her earthly life. She has left behind an influence; she has borne away a sweet character. Our joy is not in her talents nor in her earthly fame but our joy is in the belief that she lived to glorify God. Her purpose was to do good. We rejoice in the confidence that in the great ends which she set before her, she was an obedient follower of the Savior, patiently endeavoring to do His will and trusting in his mercy for salvation. Now we loved grandmother very much but God loved her more and now that her life which scattered so much sunshine, has gone to shine more beautifully on the other side may it prove a beacon light to land the children and loved ones together on the other shore and from an unbroken family in a land of happiness and perpetual sunshine radiant from the throne of God.

Her remains were laid to rest in the Sturgis Cemetery, Tuesday evening, Rev. J. R. King of Blackford conducting the services. May God comfort the bereaved ones. Goodbye, grandmother, goodbye, till we come to join you in that fair clime. A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our homes, which never can be filled.

Her granddaughter,
Beatrice Bennett.

TO THE DEMOCRATIC VOTERS OF MARION AND VICINITY

To the Democratic voters and to my friends of the 5 Marion Voting Precincts, I take this method of announcing my candidacy for the Office of Postmaster at the Marion Post Office and humbly ask you as a friend and one of you to please consider my candidacy and extend to me your support and influence according to your confidence in my worthiness.

I fully appreciate the fact that I am asking a great deal of you in asking for your support for this office and especially at this time when many of you doubtless have other friends that would like to have your help and under other conditions I would not want or try to presume on your friendship, but being disabled from doing farm work or any other kind of manual labor, I am forced to hunt some other kind of work to make a living for myself and family and beg to assure you that no one would appreciate your support or try harder to prove himself worthy of the trust than I and if you see fit to elect me as your choice for this office, I promise you that my appreciation shall be proven by a faithful performance of the service you demand.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

DR. FRANKLIN'S POLITE SARCASM.

By A. W. MACY.

Dr. Benjamin Franklin was noted for his politeness, though he not infrequently tinged it with sarcasm. In 1774 he was dismissed by the British government from the office of surveyor general of the postoffice in America, no reason being assigned except that his majesty the king had no further need for his services. Two years later the Continental congress appointed him postmaster general of all North America; whereupon he could not resist the temptation to write the English minister that the British government need not worry any more about postal affairs in America as they had again been placed in competent hands. Some months after the opening of the war he summed up the situation thus in a letter to a friend in England: "The English have made a campaign here, which cost two million; they have gained a mile of ground, and lost half of it back again. They have lost 1,500 men and killed 150 Yankees. Meantime we have had between 50,000 and 70,000 children born. How long will it take to conquer America?"

Look at the World in Bright Colors.

Did it ever occur to you, Old Grouch, that it is yourself creates your social atmosphere, and that life, so far as you play a part in it, is only a reflection of your own temperament?

Have you never discovered that this big, busy world is not worrying about you a whit, and that in the most impartial manner imaginable it allots to you only the joys that you bring into it?

Haven't you found out yet that life is like a looking glass which gives you back grimaces or smiles, whichever you face it with?

Well, if you haven't found out these important things it's time you quit grousing in your own gloom long enough to see what sunshine a little smiling will bring.

The French have a saying, "Voir tout couleur de rose," meaning to see all things in their bright colors.

We all look upon life through glasses tinted by our own temperaments. It depends upon ourselves whether the tint be the rosy one of cheer or darkened by our own heart of gloom.

What is the practical difference? Just this;

In the one case life looks bright and joyous, and in the other cold and dreary. Through the one tint we see friendships, loves, hopes, successes; through the other hates, envy, malices, disappointments, failures.

But is the difference only seeming? Not at all. It is the most actual reality in the world. —Pensacola Journal.

U. S. Will Improve

Tradewater River.

Sturgis, Ky., Nov. 30.—Captain Kingman, civil engineer from the federal service from Louisville office, was in Sturgis several days last week on an investigating trip looking to the locking and damming of Tradewater river. The river was well sounded and investigated many miles above the mouth.

The report of engineers filed heretofore showed it would take a comparatively small sum of money to dredge the river from the mouth to Commercial Point and that a lock and dam at this point would give many miles of navigable water on Tradewater river. Such improvements will mean much to Sturgis and the country generally. It looks as if the eyes of the government are on the possibilities of this great section.

TEDDY AND TAFT.

Teddy and Taft got on a raft, and went up the river together; Said Teddy to Taft with a sickening laugh, There seems to have been a change in the weather.

Around the hill went Teddy and Bill, Trudging along together; Said Teddy to Bill it's sorter up hill, This running for Presidency.

Billie and Ted went to bed, Late on the 5th of November; Said Billie to Ted, I wish by Ned, You'd drowned at the fork of the river.

Answered Ted with glee, my boy don't you see, We're in the same boat together? Wilson has won and we are done, So let's make friends and stay under the cover.

So failing to sleep there's none to weep, They continue to rest very quietly; Till 1916 they'll again vent their spleen, Seeking National notoriety.

Well just let them snore four years more, —We hope they'll never awake, — When Wilson's in the chair, trusts will be no more And prosperity will our nation o'er take.

THE END OF TUBERCULOSIS

Fake Cures For Consumption.

By SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS.

Any nostrum which claims to cure tuberculosis is a detriment to the patient, since, if it does no worse, it at least diverts him by falsely inspired hopes from the careful regimen of life wherein lies his best chance of recovery. Tuberculosis nostrums, therefore, may be divided into the positively harmful and the negatively harmful classes. In the first class I should put all these containing opium, hashish, chloroform and any considerable quantity of alcohol. Every physician whose work takes him into the slums well knows the typical history of the consumptive working man who puts his faith in this class of nostrums. Stimulated by the alcohol or lulled by the morphine into fictitious hopefulness or security, he continues his unchanged habits of life until the final breakdown comes with appalling swiftness. To those of the medical profession I leave it to say how swiftly incipient tuberculosis becomes galloping consumption under the influence of these drugs.

The Wise Farmer.

There was a man in our town, And he was wondrous wise, He knew that if he wanted crops He'd have to fertilize. "It's nitrogen that makes things green" Said this man of active brain: And potash that makes the good strong straw, And phosphate plumps the grain But it's clearly wrong to waste plant food

On a wet and soggy field. I'll clearly have to put in drains. If I'd increase the yield.

And after I have drained the land

I must plant it deep all over: And even then I'll not succeed, Until it will grow clover.

Now acid soils will not produce A clover sod that's prime; So if I have a sour soil I'll have to put on lime.

And after doing all these things To make success more sure, I'll try my very best to keep From wasting the manure. So I'll drain and lime and cultivate

With all that that implies: And when I've done that thoroughly, I'll manure and fertilize.

HOW THE SCHOOL RALLY WILL HELP

Awakens New Enthusiasm In the Children's Condition.

IT MAKES THEM ALL THINK.

As an Old Farmer Said, "I Believe This Is the Most Important Lot of Young Stock That's Ever Been Exhibited."
Did the Investment Pay?

A little over a year ago a man who saw possibilities in the pleasures and enthusiasm of child life decided to invest some money. He had seen much of the world, but determined to try his experiment in his old boyhood home county of Bullitt. He offered the county school officials the dividends from a thousand dollar L. and N. bond, to be used as they saw fit. These officials decided upon an all day rally and picnic, with many and varied contests, so that every child in the county might compete.

During the most perfect October weather Shepherdsville had her first school rally. Early that morning the children began to pour into town by rail, in buggies and surreys, in big farm wagons and on wide spread hay frames, on horseback and muleback, and their friends and relatives came too. By 10 o'clock, the time set for the parade, the town was alive with boys and girls. The staid farmers that braced the courthouse fence wore long badges hanging from the laps of their coats, badges that read "FRIEND OF THE SCHOOLS." No one seemed inclined to talk about crops or politics.

With a full brass band from Louisville heading the column, 700 youngsters marched, danced and pranced through the old town. It was a parade of exquisite beauty because of the joy that beamed and sparkled in childish faces; it was a parade of grave importance because of the future citizenship that was there. The long line was broken here and there by a gayly bedecked wagon overflowing with smiling, giggling, rosy faced girls and boys.

The contests at the fair grounds were begun as soon as the parade disbanded. These contests were divided into eight sections, so that children of about the same age might enter. There were spelling matches, arithmetic matches, story telling matches, in progress at most continuously. There were potato races, foot races, three legged races, horse races, hitching up races, races for each and every one. Now and then the program would be interrupted by a marching column with its cheer leader. The column would yell itself hoarse and retire amid the applause of the grand stand. Over in the floral hall was a splendid display of needlework, good things to eat and handiwork of all kinds. All of this fun and enthusiasm out in the glad mellow sunshine of a perfect autumn day!

Was the investment a good one? This might be answered by a farmer's answer to the question, "Well, what do you think of it?"

The old man's face wrinkled into a smile that began in the corners of his eyes and gradually spread to his big mouth before he said quietly:

"I have been lookin' at fine stock in this here fair grounds for years, an' I've thought a lot about feedin' an' han'lin' stock, but"—he hesitated a moment, waved his hand out toward a big group of children intent upon some contest and continued—"I believe this here is the most important lot of young stock that's ever been exhibited, an' I'm goin' to think more about han'lin' 'em after this."

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

DR. FRANKLIN'S POLITE
SARCASM.

By A. W. MACY.

Dr. Benjamin Franklin was noted for his politeness, though he not infrequently tinged it with sarcasm. In 1774 he was dismissed by the British government from the office of surveyor general of the postoffice in America, no reason being assigned except that his majesty the king had no further need for his services. Two years later the Continental congress appointed him postmaster general of all North America; whereupon he could not resist the temptation to write the English minister that the British government need not worry any more about postal affairs in America as they had again been placed in competent hands. Some months after the opening of the war he summed up the situation thus in a letter to a friend in England: "The English have made a campaign here, which cost two million; they have gained a mile of ground, and lost half of it back again. They have lost 1,500 men and killed 150 Yankees. Meantime we have had between 50,000 and 70,000 children born. How long will it take to conquer America?"
