Order of Court That County Roads Must be Worked or Pay According to Law

On motion at a special term of Fiscal court of Jan. 7, 1913, it was ordered that the roads of Crittenden county be worked by hands to be warned in by the County Road Engineer, or his assistants, and all able bodied male citizens of the county over the age of 18 years and under the age of 50 years, except licensed ministers of the gospel and citizens of incorporated towns and cities, are required to provide themselves with necessary tools and implements, and to work on public roads of the county, not exceeding two days in a week and six days in each year, provided, however that any road hand may pay to the county engineer, the sum of three dollars. ($3.00) on or before the 1st day of June, of any year, and upon payment of said sum, he will thereby be released from work upon the road during the said year. The County Road Engineer shall immediately pay over said sum so paid to him, to the county treasurer, who shall place same to the credit of road fund, and same shall be applied and used in the employment of graders, plows, and teams and hands to work upon the roads of the county when needed. And said treasurer shall keep a separate account of such funds from that paid to him by the sheriff.

In employing hands to work upon said roads the County Engineer shall pay the prevailing wages in the neighborhood where said work is done, not however, to exceed $1.50 nor less than $1.00 per day, for each day of eight hours. In view of this fact I am now prepared to give receipts to all who want to pay,

M. A. WILSON,
County Road Engineer

Advance Equinoctial Storm Struck This Section Friday.

The storm which broke over this section Friday the 14th was almost equinoctial in its severity. Much damage was done to trees, roofs, flues, chimneys and wires of the telephone and electric light companies.

The latter company suffered considerable damage on account of broken wires and poles, besides a dozen of its large 500 watt Tunsten street lamps were smashed.

Most of the trouble was cleared up Saturday and Monday, the pecuniary loss amounting to about one hundred dollars to the Light Co. alone.

SENATOR JAMES HAS THE CALL.

On All Federal Patronage For Kentucky.

Washington, March 10.—Ollie M. James, Kentucky's new senator, is certain to get first-class committee assignments under the new dispensation, which has brought progressive Democrats to the fore in the senate. It is safe to say that he will go on either the finance committee or the judiciary committee.

The finance committee has jurisdiction of tariff legislation and it is particularly fitting that Senator James should belong to his former service on the ways and means committee, which is the tariff-framing committee of the house. He probably will know his fate as to the committee assignments within a few days.

Senator James was one of the senators who voted for Joseph Wilson, brother of Woodrow Wilson, for secretary of the senate. He regards young Wilson as a clean, able man and thinks a mistake was made in turning him down.

Those Kentucky Democrats who had planned to go over the head of Senator Ollie James, in seeking appointments and make their appeal directly to President Woodrow Wilson, now find themselves "up against it."

President Wilson is adhering strictly to his determination not to receive any applicants for office unless he himself sends for them. The Kentuckians who want to ignore James now find there is no way on earth to get the ear of the president.

Meanwhile "Big Ollie" with a sunflower smile on his face, is sharpening the carving knife preparatory to parceling out the good things. He expects to make some announcements this week.

Today he called on Secretary of State Bryan, Secretary of Treasury McAdoo and other cabinet officials and paved the way for the pie-cutting.

He already has had a very satisfactory conference with Postmaster General Budleson, who stands ready to receive and act favorably on his recommendations.

ONE KILLED ANOTHER HURT

Miner Crushed to Death in Mine at Providence.

Providence, Ky., March 14.—One is dead and another seriously injured as the result of accidents yesterday at the mine of the Lamb Coal Co., at this place. Morris Diuguid, aged 53, was killed by being run over by an empty car as he was walking in to the mines. It is presumed that he stumbled while trying to get out of the way of the speeding car. The car past over him, crushing his breast and legs, and he was dead when fellow workmen reached his side.

Oscar Springfield was struck by falling gob and was dangerously hurt but is likely to recover.

Newspaper Law Restrained From Enforcement by Court.

Washington, March 17.—The supreme court today issued a restraining order prohibiting Postmaster General Burleson from enforcing the newspaper publicity law until the supreme body shall have had time to pass upon its constitutionality.

"Raise Hogs," Is Cry From Western Kentucky.

Henderson, Ky., March 18.—"Cut 'out tobacco, and raise hogs," is now the main idea of farmers in Western Kentucky, which for years has led the world in the crop of the weed. Big meat dealers declare that they have been compelled to buy thousands of dollars worth of the swine in Omaha and Chicago, although they may be profitably grown here. Dissatisfaction over the long delayed sale of only a part of the enormous crop will affect matters materially.

Pennyroyal Fair.

The Pennyroyal Fair at Hopkinsville, Ky., has announced the dates of October 6th to 11th for their fair. This is a new organization incorporated with a capital of $30,000.00. The management has purchased a beautiful piece of property of 40 acres at the edge of the city and are making arrangements for the erection of up-to-date buildings, including floral hall, grand stand and ample stable room, piped water through the grounds and electric lights.

CAPT. STONE WAS RIGHT IN THE JOB

Had Made All Arrangements to Test Constitutionality of Pension Act.

Frankfort, Ky., Mar. 12.—Capt. W. J. Stone, Confederate Pension Agent, today issued the following card to Confederate veterans, concerning the suit to test the Pension Act of 1912:

"To the Confederate Soldiers and Widows in Kentucky, who have applied for pensions and their friends, I notice in the Louisville Times of the 11th inst., a card from Gen. Bennett H. Young giving out the information that he intends to prosecute a suit to test the constitutionality of the Confederate pension law. For your information, I want to say that as soon as the Attorney General had written his reply to the Auditor, expressing doubt as to the constitutionality of that law, I, at once, took steps to bring a suit to test the question and before anybody outside the Capital knew of the reply, I had the arrangements all made, and before Gen. Young's card was written a suit had been filed in Court.

"Two prominent and highly competent lawyers volunteered their services to me. James W. Blackburn, Jr., a son of James W. Blackburn, Sr., one of the most gallant Confederates in the state, and Judge James H. Hazelrigg, who was himself as brave and gallant a Confederate as ever wore the gray, and who has since the war honored the judicial ermine of the state by his service and decisions as a judge of the court of appeals. I took the necessary steps to this contest at the earliest possible moment, believing it my duty and knowing I was in better position to do it than anyone else, because of my thorough familiarity with this whole question.

"I employed the above named attorneys because I knew them to be entirely competent. I not only took the matter up at the earliest possible moment, but will be heard by the court in defense of the law. I have no objection to any and all the assistance any Confederate soldier or son of a veteran may desire to render, but I want it known that I am leading in this matter and will continue to do so until the question is decided by the state's highest court.

"I want to say further that the Auditor, Hon. Henry W. Bosworth, is the son of a Confederate soldier, and his sympathies are all with the idea of pensioning needy Confederates, but he is under bond for a large amount and cannot issue warrants for money where there is a question of the legality of a law, until that question has been decided by the court of appeals. The Hon. James Garnett, the attorney general, is also in sympathy with the objects of the pension law, but is sworn to do his duty and must render opinions in accordance with what he deems the law to be.

"That we will be able to show that the pension law is in accord with the Constitution of the state, I have no doubt.

"Very truly,
"W. J. STONE."

McCombs to Take Diplomatic Post at Paris, France.

Washington, March 17.—Wm. F. McCombs, national democratic chairman, will accept the ambassadorship to France, it was semi-officially announced to-day.

Excellent Minstrel Show

at The Bijou Last Night.

Moredock & Watson's celebrated minstrels reached Griffin Wednesday morning, traveling in a special car and gave a creditable show at the Bijou theatre last night. The minstrel troupe came in from a long jump unexpectedly, but when they appeared on the streets in a noon day parade and discourses street and inspiring music on Hill street they attracted much favorably attention and drew a good audience at their night performance.

The minstrels carry special scenery and have some excellent singers and actors. The olio consists of Master Frank Harris, America's youngest juvenile comedian; Richards and Reid, southern boys in an eccentric ensemble of mirth and song; Charles Arnold, minstrelsy's juggler par excellence, and Mordock and Watson, the ragtime monarchs of laughland.

The grand crimson colonial reception constitutes an hour of mirth and melody and introduces the entire company in song and story under the direction of the Interlocutor, Ben Reid.

The singing was good and the entire show was enjoyed by theatre-goers, especially since it was the first attraction of the kind that has visited Griffin in quite a while. The minstrels go from Griffin to Newman, where they will give a performance tonight. They are deserving of a large audience.—Griffin, Ga., Bugle.

Death of E. B. Moore.

Elvis B. Moore died at Owensboro Friday morning of kidney trouble. He had been ill less than two weeks, having been taken at his home two miles west of the city, Sunday, March 2, with a spasmodic kidney disease which was very acutely painful. He went to Salem to consult Dr. Hayden, who at once advised him to go to Owensboro to a sanitarium, but when he reached there, he was in too weak a condition to be benefitted or to stand an operation and death soon relieved him.

The remains were brought here Friday and the funeral was preached at the residence of C. E. Weldon, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and the interment was at the new cemetery.

The deceased was born in this county in Sept. 1841, and has been a member of the Methodist church at Siloam since boyhood. He is survived by his wife, who was a Miss Smith, of Norfolk, Va., and by four sons, Bruce, Burnett, Sidney and Henry and one daughter, Mrs. Margaret Fort.

Training Class Graduates.

On March 15th, twelve members of the Sugar Grove training class were examined by the board of Education. Each made a passing average—the general average of the class being 98 1-4 per cent.

On the following Sunday, E. B. McEwen, A. M. of Owensboro, delivered the baccalaureate address, after which Mrs. McEwen, in a few well chosen words, presented the diplomas.

SHOCKING DEATH OF W. D. HAYNES

Dies as Result of Being Struck by North Bound Train Tuesday Afternoon.

Wm. Duke Haynes one of the town's best known and highly respected citizens was struck by the north bound passenger train Tuesday afternoon near the Kentucky floor spar mill, as he was returning home from his work at the above plant and as a result died 2 hours later. Mr. Haynes as was his daily custom left the mill and walked north along the railroad track. The south bound passenger train due at the station at 3:55 was on the main track coming south and as he met it he stepped over to the side track and was walking on the end of the ties unaware of the approach of the north bound train which had taken the siding at the spar mill.

Mr. Haynes was carrying a sack of corn on his shoulder and evidently did not hear the approaching train. The cross-beam of the engine struck him just below the waist line and he was hurled 20 feet against the switch tower breaking some of his ribs and his leg and otherwise bruising and lacerating him in many places. He was carried home and remained in a semi-conscious condition until 6 o'clock when he passed away. No death occurred here which caused more universal or sincere sorrow. The deceased was held in affectionate esteem by everyone who knew him. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Mary Black a daughter of the late Judge N. R. Black to whom he was married Oct. 18, 1863, and two sons, Edward of Sepe California and Charles of this city, and four daughters, Fultie wife of G. H. Crider of Sepe California, Willie, wife of county attorney Jno. A. Moore and Gustava, wife of J. L. Melton, both of this city and Kitty, wife of J. A. Fowler of the county and two sisters, Mrs. Kit Nunn of this county and Mrs. Shennie Drake of Lexington.

Mr. Haynes was born Jan. 18, 1839 and was therefore in his 75th year.

The funeral was held at the residence at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, and the interment immediately after at the New Cemetery. Rev. Gordon officiating. The deceased had been a consistent christian and a member of the Methodist church for many years.

SPRING TERM OF CRIT. CIRCUIT COURT IN SESSION

Judge Gordon of Madisonville Presiding.

The spring term of the Crittenden Circuit Court, convened Monday with Judge Gordon presiding and commonwealth attorney Grayot prosecuting. The grand jury was empaneled and the judge delivered his charge, after which the county officers made their reports and the petit jury panel was made up.

Much of the commonwealths business was continued for various reasons, and several of the most important cases on the appearance docket were continued or settled.

Wm. Barnett was appointed foreman of the grand jury by Judge Gordon.

"Pittsburgh Perfect" Fence

Why the Electric Weld is the Most Effective Fence-Joint made

Electrically welding joints eliminates innumerable exposed wire ends, and does away with sharply and tightly bending one wire against another, which cracks the galvanizing. The Electric Weld makes every ounce of wire count for strength and durability—no wasted wire, no useless weight dragging down the fence. Electricity is the only medium which truly amalgamates metals—makes two wires one. As we use it, the galvanizing is piled around the joints, producing a one-piece fabric with absolutely dependable joints. Electrically Welded fence-joints (patented) are used only in "Pittsburgh Perfect."

Made in Different Styles for FIELD, FARM, RANCH, LAWN, CHICKEN, POULTRY and RABBIT YARD and GARDEN

HOOK-WORM QUESTIONS

ANSWERED BY HEALTH BOARD

Thousands of Citizens Desire Information Concerning This Deadly Disease.

County Health Officer B. W. Smock, M. D., sends the following questions and answers concerning the hookworm in Kentucky, and as there have been found numerous cases in Jefferson county, the following will prove interesting to our readers:

The questions on hook-worm and hook-worm disease asked daily by physicians and laymen, of the health authorities and their assistants in charge of the work of eradicating the hook-worm, as they conduct their systematic campaign throughout the county of Jefferson, to-wit:

1. What is the hook-worm?
2. Where does it come from?
3. How does it get into the body?
4. What are the symptoms?
5. Is it curable?
6. Can it be prevented?
7. Is it not a new disease?
8. What part of the body is its habitat?
9. How is the specimen examined?

Appreciating that thousands of citizens desire this information it has been considered wise to disseminate this knowledge through the press, and it is hoped that when the good people of our state are made to appreciate the fact that hook worm disease is increasing the death rate, and the decreasing of the earning capacity of the people—especially in the rural districts—that each public spirited man and woman will join in this great campaign of eradicating this pest, and provide against future infection.

The existence of hook-worm disease in Kentucky, and in every county where careful investigation has been made, has been proven, and the only question at present is the degree of infection. This is being determined by a systematic investigation by a corps of trained medical men who appreciate the gravity of this disease, and have sacrificed their general medical practice to devote their time, strength and talent to the eradication of this one disease.

The State Boards of Health all over the South are agitating this cause, and an appeal to every public spirited citizen, as well as the doctors, teachers, preachers, the press and all organized agencies for their co-operation, is being made.

Being a preventable disease, with the cause known and the cure assured, the health authorities are pleading daily for sanitary environments around the house, the school and the community. Until one year ago this State was considered too far North for the disease to flourish, but systematic investigation in one hundred and two counties has proven a thirty-two per cent infection. The work in Jefferson county during the months of December and January has resulted in nearly three thousand specimens being examined, with a thirty-three per cent. infection found.

Each infected person is provided with proper treatment, without cost, and in every instance the local physicians have volunteered their services to hook-worm patients.

Microscopic examinations of a tiny particle of feces also reveals the presence of other intestinal worm and others, and medical ad-worm, Round worm, Thread parasites, namely, Dwarf tape vice is given the patient.

The public appreciates this valuable work, and those who have been treated and become cured are very enthusiastic that the work shall continue until the entire county and State be examined and the disease eradicated.

Hook-worm disease is no respecter of persons; the richest and the poorest; the old and the young; male and female, and all races. The parasite known as hook-worm is about one-half inch in length and is found in the soil where infected persons stool. The female worm is supposed to lay from four hundred to one thousand eggs in a day, and these ova pass out of the body with the feces. If deposited on soil exposed to sunshine and moisture, the eggs develop into larvae; these soon become mature and any person who comes in contact with the polluted soil may become infected by the parasites boring their way through the skin into the circulation. Once in the blood current they are carried on until the small intestines are reached and this being their proper habitat they embed their hooks into the mucous membrane lining and begin their destructive work.

Flies, also, may carry the infection through food and water into the body, as typhoid bacilli is carried. Should the larvae become dried they cannot be revived and are harmless.

The life time of a hook-worm is seven years. Each worm is supposed to sap a drop of blood each day, and to also manufacture a toxin which poisons the blood. Often the intestines become ulcerated where the hooks are implanted. Cases have been found where the small intestine is completely fringed with the parasites.

The symptoms of this disease vary according to the degree of infection. Anemia is the most pronounced symptom; swelling in one or more parts of the body; skin irritation caused by the worms passing through the skin; this is usually known as toe-itch, dew-poison, eczema, etc., which may be a misnomer; low vitality, drawn or pinched appearance of the features, sallow and dry skin, distended abdomen, dilated pupils, pale and sometimes blue lips, very marked pulsation in the blood vessels of the neck, emaciated chest, prominent and sharp ribs, stooped shoulders, perverted appetite, disordered digestion, weak and rapid pulse, often palpitation, heart murmurs often present, shortness of breath is common, varied temperature. Some, if not all of these symptoms are found in each patient, and are due to the reduction in number of red blood cells and the decrease of Hemoglobin.

From one to three properly administered doses of Thymol produces a cure. The disease is as old as the world, and in different countries has different names. It is supposed to have been brought to the United States by the first cargo of African slaves, but at present the infection is much smaller among the negroes than the white race.

As the hook-worm is in the feces, a specimen of the feces from a patient must be microscopically examined to diagnose the case. This small portion of the bowel movement, no larger than a grain of corn, is dissolved, strained through gauze and centrifuged by electricity, which drives the worms on to the cork of the centrifuge tube; the cork is removed and a smear from it is made on a glass slide and placed under the microscope, and the entire field closely examined.

Besides the careful laboratory work necessary, reports are made to the physicians of the infected patients, or to the individuals if desired. Records of each case are also kept in the office of the County Health Officer.

As hook-worm disease is a foe to progress it is worthy of consideration from an economic standpoint.

During the month of January, five lectures have been given in the Buchel and Fern Creek districts, and hundreds of specimens have been examined and scores of infected persons treated, as the result. Stereopticon lectures have also been given to the Industrial School of Reform, Institute for the Blind, Lakeland Asylum and the Louisville Presbyterian Orphanage at Anchorage, as well as the Baptist Orphanage. From these various institutions came hundreds of specimens, which have been, and are now being examined in the county laboratory in the Court House, and two of the county microscopists are still located in the Lakeland Asylum, carrying on that part of the work.

To allow this investigation to drop, just as the interest is so intense and the citizens co-operating so heartily is a serious mistake and is being commented on by many who know the true situation.

A large appropriation to this work is not necessary, as it is now on a solid foundation, but unless the necessary fund is supplied the hook-work force will be transferred to another county.

The economic loss from hook-worm disease is beyond belief, as it induces low vitality and thus impedes progress. An infected community is lacking in energy and aggressiveness. The health interest of a community should be the first consideration. So much for the eradication of present infection. To guard against future infection let every public spirited man and woman contend for strictly sanitary toilets at their homes and the schools and communities where children frequent. Spring with its warmth and moisture will give new impetus to the cause, and vigilance and prompt action on the part of philanthropists should keep pace.—[Extracts from The Jeffersonian, Jeffersontown, Ky. J. C. Alcock, Editor.]

There is nothing more discouraging than a chronic disorder of the stomach. Is it not surprising that many suffer for years with such an ailment when a permanent cure is within their reach and may be had for a trifle? "About one year ago," says P. H. Beck, of Wakelee, Mich., "I bought a package of Chamberlain's Tablets, and since using them I have felt perfectly well. I had previously used any number of different medicines, but none of them were of any lasting benefit." For sale by all dealers.

TO THE VICTORS BELONG SPOILS

If Postmaster General Burleson Has His Way Democrats Will Eat Pie.

Washington, March 17.—President Wilson's advisors have hit upon solutions for two political problems now confronting the new administration—what kind of democrats shall get the plums and how the thousands of democrats can be given a fighting chance for same.

Postmaster General Burleson is expected to present to the president a plan that will open to democrats of 35,000 third and fourth-class postmasterhips covered in the civil service order recently issued by ex-President Taft.

He said tonight that he was undecided whether to ask President Wilson for a revocation of that order or to suggest that postmasters who benefitted by the Taft order be required to pass a merit test which would be open also to voters.

Henderson Dark Monday Night

Superintendent Hite, of the electric light plant, stated to a Gleaner reporter Monday night that the cause of the street lights not burning was due to the burning out of a coil in the motor driving the street lighting generators, which would require about seventy-two hours to repair. However, he hopes by working a crew of men last night and today to have such temporary repairs made that a part if not all the street lights can be in operation tonight.—Gleaner.

SENATOR JAMES ON FINANCE COMMITTEE

Democratic Forces Took Charge of the United States Senate Today.

Washington, March 17. Democratic forces took charge of the United States senate today, elected new officers and paved the way for a reorganization of the committees. Another session of the "starring committee" lasting late into the evening brought the committee list near completion. It is expected the democratic caucus tomorrow would prepare all committees for presentation to the senate on Saturday.

The personnel of the senate finance committee became known tonight and included Senator Ollie James, of Kentucky, and Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, as chairman.

Information late in the day indicated that Senator Tillman had won his fight for chairmanship of the appropriations committee.

Among other important chairmanships settled during the day was that of banking and currency committee which went to Senator Owen.

"No Votes, No Babies."

The English suffragettes have called a new turn for forcing upon them the right to cast the ballot. For some time cable dispatches from London have told of various secret meetings by the London suffragettes, intimating that the indications were that the women who are demanding the right to vote were scheming some desperate means to accomplish their desires. At last it has leaked out. The suffragettes have agreed to call a "celibate strike" their motto being: "No votes, no babies." With what success this strike is to be attended must be left to subsequent developments of English vital statistics.—Owensboro Inquirer.

Ready-to-Use Medicine an Economic Development.

Ready-to-use medicines are as much an economic and commercial development as are ready-to-wear clothing, ready-made hats or ready-made shoes. Only people of means have clothing made to their order, and the practice of having hats or shoes made especially for the wearer has long since gone out of anything like general use. There was a time when practically all clothing was home-made, and in that period the housewife brewed the home remedies from herbs which she gathered. But, in time, the village cobbler and the village tailor, specialists in their respective lines, took over the shoe-making and the clothes-making, and the village apothecary, a specialist in his line, took over the business of making the brews and concoctions which were considered absolutely necessary in every home.

In time the making of shoes was taken over by shops and factories, and the village cobbler was left, by the economic advance, as a repairman, with only an occasional pair of shoes to make. The village tailor was, largely, supplanted by a centralized industry, and the apothecary was supplanted by the pharmaceutical manufacturer, and the ready-to-use medicine manufacturer. At the present time it would be difficult to find a druggist who makes his own fluid extracts, or who makes a practice of handling or reducing crude drugs. This work is all done by pharmaceutical manufacturers and package medicine manufacturers, by whom have been developed not only the ready-to-use medicines, and the great array of extracts, etc., found in the bottles on the drug shelves, but also the so-called "elegant pharmaceutical," and the preparations wherein the disagreeable taste and odor of medicinal drugs is concealed and medicine made palatable.

The so-called "patent" medicine industry is the development, along commercial lines, of the business of the old-fashioned apothecary shop, with the added facilities and improvement that comes with the concentration of any industry. To return to the old apothecary shop methods—which were admirably suited to the time in which they thrived—would be as unscientific as to return to the old-fashioned way of making shoes and clothing.

In Memory of Mrs. Nellie Tolly.

Miss Nellie Barnett, daughter of Samuel J. and Melissa Barnett, was born May 24, 1884, near Lola, Ky.

Professed faith in Christ Oct. 3, 1898, and was baptized into the fellowship of the Baptist church at Lola the first Sunday in June, 1899, and was a faithful and useful member of that body till after her marriage to James Robert Tolly, Nov. 20, 1907. She then left the Baptist and joined the M. E. church with her husband.

After their marriage both failed in health and went to California and stayed there some two years thinking they might be benefited but realizing the end was fast coming, they returned to their native home and friends, about a year ago and God called him to his reward May 20, 1912; and her, March 8, 1913.

Sister Tolly was a noble Christian woman; lived her religion every day.

She was a great sufferer but bore her afflictions without murmuring. When the end came she had her "House set in Order," from a business standpoint, as well as a spiritual, having every thing prepared just as though she was going on an earthly trip. When I visited her in Jan., she asked me to conduct her funeral service, giving me her dates and talking as calmly as if it had been about going to church. She was conscious till the last moment. When she could no longer speak, her baby boy, eighteen months of age, reached his little hands up to his dying mother and she tenderly caressed it for the last time on earth.

She leaves a precious little girl of about three summers and the baby boy, a devoted mother, two brothers and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

We would say to them, weep not for her. She has gone to that land where sorrow, pain and death are felt no more; to the house not made with hands. The funeral took place from the Lola church at 2 p. m., Sunday, March 9th, conducted by pastor U. G. Hughes, of the Baptist church, assisted by pastor Gilett, of the M. E. church and Rev. Hood Kennedy.

The body was laid to rest in Hopewell cemetery, with that of her husband, to await the morn of the resurrection.

U. G. HUGHES.

Death of Dr. Kuykendahl.

Rev. W. T. Oakley was called to Clay Thursday, to preach the funeral of Dr. James M. Kuykendahl, who died there Wednesday, March 12th. He was a promising young physician in his 30th year and had been practicing only 6 years.

The attendance at the funeral at the Missionary Baptist church Friday, at Clay, was said to be the largest ever known in that community and the floral offering the most elaborate.

NEW SALEM

The hardest wind storm in years swept over our section on the 13th, doing great damage to timber, fencing and orchards.

The remains of Mrs. Adger Howard, of the Seven Springs section, who died in Nashville, Tenn., on the 12th, were buried at Tyner's Chapel on the 13th. Mrs. Howard was the wife of Mr. and Mrs. John Bass, of the Tyner's Chapel section. She leaves besides her husband, two little ones, a host of relatives and friends to mourn her loss. A large concourse of relatives and friends attended her funeral which was conducted by Rev. Cook Kinsolving, after which the remains were laid to rest.

Aunt Susan LaRue is the guest of her son, James LaRue.

John Wolfe and wife, of Tolu, attended the burial of Mrs. Adger Howard.

James Mahan and William Sisco spent part of last week in Illinois on a trading trip and brought back some fine stock.

Frank Capron, of Cypress, Ill., was in our section last week and bought some fine stock from Bill Sisco which he could add to his stock farm in Illinois.

Mose Paton, of Dycusburg, attended the funeral of Mrs. Adger Howard.

We were down in Livingston Co., last week and ran across our old friend Henry Rappee, of Salem, who is making the race for county attorney of Livingston county. The boys are whooping it up for Henry and the knowing ones say he will be Livingston county's next attorney. A good man for the place.

Our farmers are very much despondent over the outlook for selling the 1912 crop of tobacco. About 5 per cent of the crop has been sold to Hopkinsville and Kuttawa dealers.

J. B. Carter, of the Levias section, was in our midst last week and to keep his hand in, was doing a little trading.

James King, of Mexico, Ky., visited his daughter, Mrs. Andrew Wheeler, last week.

Dan Riley, of Caldwell Springs section, was the guest of W. C. Tyner last week.

We notice that the Cross Roads correspondent says there were no riots, routs, breaches of peace or any unlawful assemblies at his little burg. Good lord, does he think there will never be a judgement? It looks so. We just want to remind him that some day he may want something to fall on him.

J. D. Hall has moved on the farm of Bill Fuller and will show Bill how to raise tobacco this year.

Miss Ruth Austin, of Piney, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Luther Pace, near New Salem.

This good year 1913 is the year to fill our county offices and the poor farmers will have a poor show for a crop. Now we love all men and don't want any one hurt but we give warning in time. We have one of the worst dogs in three counties; one of old Heck's pups. He goes with us to the field every day and candidates and peddlers are his particular delight to fight. He is a honery looking cuss, but if he gets hold of you, your wife will need a needle and thread before you canvas any more, unless you do it after dark.

MOURNERS GAZE IN TERROR AND THEN START WILD STAMPEDE

When Supposed Corpse Comes to Life, Throws Off Sheet, Saying "What the Dickens This For?"

Chester, Pa., March 17.—Pro-nounced to be dead by the family physician, a sixteen-year-old boy "returned to life" today. Mourning relatives and sympathizing neighbors gazed in terror and a stampede followed.

The boy is Frank Moore, Jr., who had been ill for several weeks. Today he suddenly became unconscious and lost all semblance of life.

The physician who made an examination found Moore's heart had stopped beating and that he showed every indication of having died.

About a dozen persons were in the room when the supposed corpse sat up, threw the winding sheet off, saying: "What the dickens is that for? I'm hot."

Hodges of Iron Hill was here Tuesday and in course of a conversation he informed the Record-Press that he was a candidate for Jailer, subject to the action of the Republican primary on August 2nd next. Squire Hodges is well known to most of our voters. He has been on the magisterial board and has faithfully looked after the county's interests and is popular in the Shady Grove and Piney sections, where many of his relatives, the Lambs and Cullens live. He is also related to the Hunt and to the James families.

ONE of the minor courts that will open out from the great exposition city upon a vast tropical garden upon the south. This court, a marvel of tropical transplanting, is south of the Court of Four Seasons. It is designed by Mr. George W. Kelham. The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will stand alone not only in its architectural treatment but in its setting at Harbor View, the exposition site, in the adornment of its huge interior courts and of its grounds, with hundreds of thousands of palms, flowers and rare shrubs and vines, and in the superb color plan created by Jules Guerin, world famous colorist. The theme of the exposition, the sculpture, and mural paintings will exalt the spirit of achievement through which America has completed the Panama canal. The theme of the great interior court will suggest the meeting of the East and West.

CORROBORATION

Of Interest to Marion Readers.

For months Marion citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by Marion residents. Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable? Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement? The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every Marion reader.

J. E. Glass, farmer, Marion, Ky., says: "The statement I made in 1908, regarding the attack of kidney trouble that I had at that time and was permanently cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, was correct. I recommend them to all sufferers of kidney trouble. They surely do all that is claimed of them. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many other people and they have also been cured of severe cases of kidney and bladder trouble."

Year's Report Shows Great Growth In Educational Cause.

During the past year there were 125,000 men and boys in Bible classes of the Y. M. C. A. and the attendance at all religious services was 5,818,718. There were 69,000 enrolled at night educational classes and 300,000 in physical training. The membership is now 566,000. The Association is working among the men of the packing houses, foundries, shops and factories;

Mrs. Apartment — "It's the hardest thing to get hot water here; you're not supposed to do any washing in the rooms. And when I do get hot water it takes so long to wash that the rooms get awful smelly."

Anty Drudge — "Why don't you use Fels-Naptha Soap? Then you won't have to use hot water and will get through in a jiffy."

To women who live in apartments the washing of clothes is a problem. The solution—Fels-Naptha Soap.

Say you have a shirtwaist or other small things, that you don't want to send out to be washed. You can do much better at home in this way:

Wet the clothes, soap well with Fels-Naptha, roll and leave to soak in cool or lukewarm water for a short time. Then rub lightly, rinse and dry.

Takes but one-fourth the time and one-tenth the work of the old way. Also saves the clothes.

Comparing Life.

(by J. B. McNeeley.)

Saul a choice young man, 1 Sam. 9:2.

Saul died and his three sons and his armour bearers, and all of his men that same day. 1 Sam. 31:6.

The first theme is the twilight of the morning.

Second, is the blackness of the night.

1. Like the Cedars of Lebanon. He was a choice young man, fine appearance, good parentage, son of a rich man, good blood as the world puts it. He must maintain the family reputation. He was ambitious, though rich, he honored his parents. He was humble free from vanity. When Samuel told him he was king, Saul said, "Am I not a Benjaminite of the smallest of the tribe?" Modesty and humility are elements of strength. Note:—He was certain of his calling. Many are weak because they are not certain of their calling.

There went with him a band of loyal men to God. Just here is the turning point of his life. The sacrifice is to be offered. Samuel was not present and the children of Belial said, "How can this man save us? Samuel was delayed and Saul takes the matter into his own hands, acts as priest himself. This treason against the Almighty."

Here the twilight of his manhood begins to pass out and the blackness of the night begins, brought on by disobedience to those in authority. He disobeys and he is now in trouble. So many young men and others are now in trouble on account of disobedience. So he is in trouble with an evil spirit.

He seeks places of pleasure, he has David to play upon the harp, and for a time he is happy, but he flies into a passion and tries to kill David. So it is with the worldly-minded. They are seeking pleasure but find it not. They visit places of a worldly nature to satisfy their conscience and a sinful heart.

Sampson in his death slew many of his enemies, but Saul by his influence carries his friends with him. So we are making two distinct periods in our lives, the twilight of the morning and the blackness of the night.

KILL THE PEACH BORER NOW

Do Not Wait Until Spring, for Then Eggs Will Be Hatched and Insects Scattered.

(By W. H. UNDERWOOD.)

Go to your blacksmith with a ten or twelve inch flat file and have five or six inches of the small end made into the shape of a sharp-pointed knife blade with one side of the blade flat and the other half round.

Both edges of the blade must be sharp.

Bend this blade to a crescent shape, with the flat side on the inside of the bend. Put a good handle on and you have an instrument with which you can sit down to a tree and scrape all sides of it without moving. The diameter of this bend should be at least three inches.

After the first frosts, go through the peach orchard with this little File for Scraping Trees and Main Diamond Hoe.

Instrument, scraping the bodies of the trees at least two inches from the surface of the ground.

A small diamond or half-diamond shaped hoe, with a handle not over two feet long, is another tool you must have to get over the trees rapidly.

In the late fall, most all eggs have hatched out, and most of the little grubs will be between the earth and bark, within a few inches of the top of the soil. In scraping the rough bark or outside of the bark of the tree, you will get 95 per cent. of them.

In the spring go over the trees again. In three or four days after going over the trees the second time, go over them a third time. Then you can readily see all you have missed the second going over. In the third going over draw the soil back to the trees, leaving the dirt a little the lowest at the base of the trees.

"When I talk business I want to be surrounded by a business atmosphere. I want the scene all set—one practical desk, two practical chairs, one telephone, one letter-basket, one self-filling fountain-pen, et cetera. And when I lunch I want to lunch with nothing weightier on my mind than the question as to whether I'll have chicken liver saute or creamed sweetbreads with mushrooms."

Wonder Who Told It?

A man living not a thousand miles from Flora spent a recent evening with some friends in this city, says the Flora Journal. Quite a number of kindred spirits were present and they grew quite jovial. It was a late hour that H— started home, and his steps were a little uneven. He was met at the gate by Mrs. H—who piloted him to the chicken house, where she fastened him in and left him to ponder on the error of his ways. He had only been there a short time when he heard someone fumbling at the lock. Presently a peg-legged chicken thief, unconscious of H—'s presence stepped in and began selecting some choice pullets. Taking advantage of the opportunity H— slipped out through the door and locked it behind him.

Gaining entrance to the house through the kitchen window he crept upstairs and went to bed with the hired man. In the morning when Mrs. H— opened her chicken house door she was filled with shame and remorse gave the thief a dollar to say nothing about the incident. He said he wouldn't.—Shawneetown Exchange.

John L. Wood announced to his Democratic friends in various parts of the county that he is no longer a candidate for assessor. I feel that if I had run the race out, I would have won the nomination in August, but if I had won the nomination I could not make the crop I want to make and make a clean canvass of the county and therefore that would not be doing the party justice and will ask my friends to be careful and vote for the man that can win in November.

There are lots of candidates for the various offices in the county and let us all abide by the primary and support the candidates that gets the nomination and win in November.

"Patent" Medicine Fill

An Economic Need.

The idea that people should be practically deprived of the right to buy the medicine they need, without first hunting up a doctor, and paying him for permission to do so, could only prevail among those ignorant of existing conditions or whose judgment is warped by interest or prejudice. Civilization will as soon go back to grinding corn in a mortar as it will to the days of the old apothecary shop. Improved methods, the great growth of population with correspondingly increased demand, have resulted in improved methods of manufacture and distribution, and "Patent" medicines represent the most improved method of manufacturing and distributing medical necessities. To try to block progress in this line is on a par with attempts to block any other development which follows out economic laws.—National Labor Bulletin. Adv.

Highest and Lowest Points.

The maximum difference in elevation of land in the United States is 14,777 feet, according to the United States geological survey. Mount Whitney, the highest point, is 14,501 feet above sea level, and a point in Death Valley is 276 feet below sea level. These two points, which are both in California, are less ninety miles apart. This difference ence is small, however, as compared with the figures for Asia, Mount Everest rises 29,002 feet above sea level, whereas the shores of the Dead sea are 1,290 feet below sea level, a total difference in land heights of 30,292 feet. Mount Everest has never been climbed.

The greatest ocean depth yet found is 32,088 feet, at a point about forty miles north of the island of Mindanao, in the Philippine islands. The ocean bottom at this point is therefore more than eleven and one-half miles below the summit of Mount Everest.

The difference in the land heights in Europe is about 15,868 feet.—News Gleaner.

The Man of Words.

A man of words and not of deeds is like a garden full of weeds; And when the weeds begin to grow, It's like a garden full of snow; And when the snow begins to fall, It's like a bird upon the wall; And when the bird begins to fly, It's like an eagle in the sky; And when the sky begins to roar, It's like a lion at your door; And when the door begins to crack, It's like a stick upon your back; And when your back begins to smart, It's like a penknife at your heart; And when your heart begins to fail, It's like a ship before a gale; And when the ship begins to sink, It's like a bottle full of ink; And when the ink begins to write, It's like a lady all fair and bright.

Good Sermon.

(Special to the Press.)

Rev. M. E. Miller returned from a trip in the mountains Friday and preached a strong spiritual sermon at the Baptist church Sunday. The subject was "Curse Removed." His text was Gal. 3:13, "Christ hath redeemed us from the curse of the law, being made a curse for us."

1. It is universal, it rests upon all Adam's race.
2. It is just, for all have sinned.
3. It is a fearful curse. Death of body and soul; and the second death, which is eternal.
4. It is a present curse.

Removal Of The Curse.

1. It is done in a moment, instantaneous.
2. It removes all the curse.
3. Not to be undone, once settled, forever settled.

How many of us can say we have had the curse removed by the substitute which God provided in the gift of His Son?

This discourse delivered by pastor Miller, was one of the best he has ever preached during the five years of his pastoral work in this city. —M.

Kinsolving in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends, who were grieved to learn of her death.

Mrs. Howard was a good christian woman, loved and admired by all who knew her. She leaves a husband and two little children, who will miss her besides father, mother and other relatives. But we would admonish them to try to live so as to be ready to join her when the death angel calls for them, as it did for her. She told her husband just a short time before she expired, that she was going to die, and that she ready and willing to go, but hated to leave him and her little children. Oh, what a comfort it is to us who have accepted Jesus Christ, to be able to say like her when dying, I am reconciled to God's will notwithstanding we all have earthly ties here that we love and hate to part from, yet we are willing to give up all for one who suffered and died for us that we might have eternal life, and we would say to the grief stricken husband look to Jesus who is able to heal every broken heart, and trust in Him.
