PADUCAH UNDER WATER

Proud Capital of The Purchase Has Not an Inch of Dry Ground.

Western Kentucky towns reported widespread inundation of lowlands and the flight of refugees to cities. A citizens' committee at Paducah has taken up the work preparing for a 56-foot stage predicted for that town, which would place the entire city from one to four feet under water. Shacks are being built on neighborhood hills, provisions are being assembled and arrangements made to charge the reservoir with three days' supply of water.

The crest is expected to reach Paducah Thursday. The stage there last night was forty-nine feet, with a rate of rise of more than one inch an hour. The electric light and gas plants would be rendered inoperative by 53 feet, and water would go out at fifty-six.

Evansville, Ind., April 1.—The conditions at Evansville are growing more alarming with each succeeding hour. At 2 o'clock this morning a 45.3-foot stage had been reached. According to bulletins issued by Forecaster Brand a stage of 47.6 will be reached before the crest of the rise has passed Evansville. The L. and N. is the only railroad running out of Evansville.

Cairo, Ill., April 2.—2 a. m.—The drainage levee on the Mississippi side broke this morning, and has moved 3,000 homes on their foundations. The residence district in Future City is flooded. The main residence district and business section is not flooded.

Flood conditions to-day along the Ohio river levee are declared by the oldest citizens to be the most desperate in their time. The water is rising at the rate of one foot a day, and now stands two feet and eight inches from the top of this concrete wall built at the levee.

Birth-Day Contribution

Something unique in the way of church contributions was taken at the Methodist church Sunday morning. A "birth-day basket" was passed among the congregation, each contributor putting in the basket a penny for each of his or her birth-days. Quite a good sum was collected in this way, the largest single contribution being from Mrs. Elizabeth Douglass, who is 91 years old and who, therefore, added 91 cents to the basket.

DEATH CLAIMS J. P. MORGAN

American King of Finance and the Richest Man in the Western Hemisphere Dead.

Rome, March 31.—J. Pierpont Morgan American king of finance and reported to be the richest man in the western hemisphere, died here at noon today.

Morgan had been on a tour for the benefit of his health, and his condition had been of much concern for several months.

Mr. Morgan controls enterprises capitalized at ($2,000,000,000.00), two billions of dollars, is undoubtedly the greatest financier the world has ever produced.

Lyceum Number Posponed.

A telegram was received from the Redpath Lyceum Bureau, Tuesday, stating that the Anitas would not be able to be here Thursday, April 3rd, on account of floods. They are in the north and it was impossible to get by the high water. Train service is so demoralized that the date had to be postponed. We are assured by the telegram that a later date will be arranged so that we shall not lose this number.

FARMERS' UNION

Hold Enthusiastic Meeting Saturday afternoon. Addressed by R. L. Barnett.

State lecturer, R. L. Barnett, for the Farmers' Union, spoke at the Court house Saturday afternoon. He spoke with emphasis against the man that is in the organization just for a job. Then he touched upon the following: Let each organization retain its own existence. This gives confidence to the commercial world in the honesty and business integrity of the farmers' organizations, every farmer should raise over amount necessary for living. To do this he should raise more corn and some to spare; more potatoes and some to spare; more molasses and some to spare, and so on with all the necessities. He then spoke of co-operations. The teachers co-operate, bankers co-operate, merchants co-operate, why not the farmers co-operate, as well.

He made a fine practical talk and said nothing that would create a prejudice between classes. Mr. Barnett is popular here and was given a respectful hearing by a large and attentive audience of representative farmers, and many other of our citizens.

Notice.

Please do not sprinkle your tobacco before you load it. a31tp. D. N. Kemp.

The Meeting.

At the Methodist church the meeting continues with increased interest. Large crowds are in attendance at each service.

Dr. A. P. Lyon, of Louisville, is assisting in the meeting, to the satisfaction of all who hear him. Here is one of texts:—Ezekiel 37:9. "Then said he unto me, prophesy unto the wind, prophesy son of man and say unto the wind. Thus sayeth the Lord God; come from the four winds. O breathe and breathe upon these slain, that they may live."

The wind is the spirit, the power of God.

Sin brings death. The world as a valley of death. We may go on in sin. Here he mentioned many things in which people engaged for pleasure, that is sin.

Remorse of conscience. Men may engage in sin until they lose all remorse of conscience and go on deeper and deeper in sin.

You may reform for a time, and reformation is good in its place but that will not save you, must repent of your sins and be saved by the blood of Christ.

DESTROYED BY FIRE

New Marion Hotel and Farmers Bank Burned to the Ground Wednesday Night

On Wednesday night of last week Marion was again visited by fire, the buildings of the New Marion Hotel and the Farmers Bank being the seat of the conflagration. The fire originated from some unknown cause in a rear room of the upper story of the hotel, which was unoccupied, having been vacated a few days before. The fire alarm was given at 11:45 p. m. and every possible effort was made to stop the flames, but the "tin bucket brigade" were unable to control the flames and the building was burned to the ground.

Besides the hotel and the bank, the building contained the office of Dr. A. J. Driskill, who had two rooms on the first floor; the office of C. V. Oakley, insurance, on second floor; the office of Dr. O. S. Young, dentist, on second floor.

The total loss is estimated at $10,000, with insurance aggregating $7,500.

R. F. Dorr, owner of the New Marion Hotel, estimates his loss at $3,500. Insurance $2,000.

Farmers Bank, unofficial estimate of loss, $3,000, covered by insurance. The money, books, etc., deposited in the bank's vault was found after the fire to be undamaged. They set up immediately temporary headquarters at the office of James & James, where E. J. Hayward, O. S. Denny and W. E. Carnahan are transacting business in the same satisfactory way. As soon as plans and contracts can be had, they expect to rebuild on the same site, and will erect a more commodious building than the old one.

Dr. O. S. Young, dentist, estimated lost, $1,500. No insurance.

E. L. Harpending, insurance, office with C. V. Oakley, loss, $25. No insurance.

James Hicklin, insurance, office with C. V. Oakley, loss, $30.

Carl Henderson, lawyer, loss by damage to books, $250, fully insured.

A. J. Pickens, by damage to building, and Miss Ninna Barnes, dressmaker, loss unknown.

To a reporter for the Record-Press quite a majority of those who sustained loss by the fire expressed themselves as being in favor of city water works.

By a coincidence the fire of Wednesday night occurred on the eighth anniversary of the great fire which visited the city on March 28, 1905. It was by only the hardest work that the buildings across the street were kept from igniting and a repetition of the disastrous conflagration of eight years ago prevented. It is thought by those who fought the fire that had it not been for the small stream of water pumped from the reservoir of the Marion Electric Light & Ice Company, a fire of dire consequence would have occurred, as the water obtained from cisterns and wells was entirely inadequate.

The plate-glass fronts of the stores of Yandell-Gugenheim Co. T. H. Cochran & Co., Yates Bros. and J. H. Orme were broken by the heat.

Dr. A. J. Driskill and Dr. O. S. Young have located their offices in the Stegar building on Main street.

ROMANCE OF THE REAPER

Will Be Presented at the Marion Opera House, Monday, April 14.

DO YOU KNOW—

That there are over six million farms in the United States? That the United States covers only about one-sixteenth of the land area of the globe?

Yet this one-sixteenth of the land produces more than three-fourths of all the world's corn, more than half of the cotton, one-fourth the oats, and one-fifth the wheat.

These and a lot of other interesting things are made plain in "The Romance of the Reaper," which is to be given at Opera House, April 14, 1913.

MAN BEHIND MACHINE—

In presenting "The Romance of the Reaper," Fred W. Reick not only is the man behind the machine, but he is the man behind the voice. That is, he operates the moving picture machine, and at the same time delivers the lecture. And it is easy to imagine that he is kept pretty busy.

After watching him through an evening's entertainment, a farmer put this question to Mr. Reick: "What do you do when you have nothing to do?"

"Talk in my sleep," replied Mr. Reick.

When Mr. Reick arrives in town he has to unpack and set up the machine. Then during the entertainment he talks all the time, changes a slide about every quarter of a minute and runs off 2,000 feet of motion pictures. And after the entertainment he takes down and packs up the machine. And along midnight he goes to bed—some nights he does.

Donation to Flood Sufferers

An offering for the benefit of the flood sufferers in Dayton, Ohio, and other places in that state and in Indiana was given by the Sunday school at the First Baptist church Sunday morning. Sunday was the regular time for missionary collections and by agreement it was decided that the donation be sent to the stricken cities instead of the foreign field. The pastor, Rev. M. E. Miller, will forward the donation, amounting to $20 to the Red Cross Society to be used to help feed the unfortunate people who lost all they had in the disastrous flood.

ding and James Hicklin have headquarters on the second floor of the Jenkins building.

John Sutherland, insurance, has his office in the Stegar building with Dr. Driskill.

Carl Henderson will occupy his old stand and will continue his law business from that office.

CYCLONE GETTING CLOSE TO US

Twister in Elizabethtown, Illinois, Does Considerable Damage Tuesday Morning.

Just before five o'clock Tuesday morning Elizabethtown was visited by what appeared to be a cyclonic wind. The storm had been raging all night, but the wind blew straight and harmless, till just about day break when perhaps a shorter space than a minute it took on tortuous proportions and wreckage was blown in every direction.

Very few premises escaped damage. Wiley Lavender's store, Mrs. Gullett's dwelling and a few barns were partially unroofed; one end was blown out of a warehouse for Ledbetter Milling Co., and the "Elm Wood" Brick of Mrs. Stacey was blown down, the porch of Mrs. Anderson's hotel was torn loose and blown over the house and across the street.

Torrents of rain followed, letting water in on dry goods and household furniture adding damage to the ruin left by wind.—Hardin Independent.

The storm struck Golconda, Ill. Monday night. It is reported that two or three houses were blown down in that city. Mr. Myers lost a large stock barn and two fine horses, besides all kinds of feed destroyed by lightning. We have not learned the exact extent of the damage.—Carrsville Enterprise.

It's downright foolishness to buy light chicken wire to put around your bull pasture—and you know it.

Rev. Bailey has a brand new Methodist at his house. All doing well.

Our old friend Maj. Harpending has moved into his gun shop and will reside there until the equinoctial storm period is over. The Major has a storm house in his yard, he calls it a cellar, for short, and as a blind, when in fact it is a gun shop. The traveler will notice a mound in the Major's yard, that's where his secret gun shop is located. Thomas Nichols, the Major's old time boon companion, was a gun smith, and the Major was a striker in Mr. Nichol's shop. There he learned the art of making guns. After the close of the war, the Major reflecting upon the horrors of same, set about to see if he could not devise some way to put an end to such brutality. He having prior to the war, discovered and compounded a medicine, Ginseng Syrup and Snake Root Pills, which would cure all the ills that flesh was heir to. He now wishes to put an end to war so as to hasten in the millennium, so, for several years past, the Major has been at work in his underground gunshop upon a gun, which he calls the Annihilator. This gun is so deadly that the Major says men will absolutely refuse to go to war. A few days since the Major took his gun out to his trial grounds, fill the magazine with ammunition and proceeded to put his gun to the test. He says that the cuss fired thing shot so fast and furious, that he had to throw it in the pond to stop it. The Major is one of the best men we ever knew. We are informed that the Major embraced religion at an early day under that eloquent minister, Mr. Jess Dooley. He then joined the Farmers' Alliance, the Good Templars, Murphysites, and we understand petitions the Buffalos and was turned down on account of his war records.

TO THE CITIZENS OF MARION.

It has been currently reported in Marion, so we are informed by some individual to foster their own interest, that the Marion Ice Company would not run the plant the coming season, and thereby induce some people to purchase ice shipped in. Now to make a long matter short would we not have been so foolish to have supplied the citizens of Marion with ice since last November, through the entire winter until May at a considerable loss had we any idea or intention of not running the plant. We can assure you for five to six months during a year there is actually not sufficient ice sold in Marion to pay a man for delivery and feed stock necessary to deliver it, giving the ice for nothing, but we are in the ice business to stay and have at all times kept ice for those using it for sickness and other uses even when our supply would run short actually shipping it in by express which alone cost as much as we often get for the ice.

This shows reliability and our intention to remain in the business and give service and we do believe that our service along this line is appreciated by the citizens, neither do we believe as a rule many people in Marion can be induced to patronize a foreign industry, when they have at home an enterprise worthy of patronage, which has at all times not only furnished the goods but showed their faith in Marion by erecting an ice plant that has given employment to their people.

There may be few people in Marion that probably will catch the Sears & Roebuck habit but as a rule they are in a class to themselves. The good citizens of Marion can depend on the plant not only being run when the proper time arrives but will be supplied with the best of ice at all times, and the promptest service possible, rendered. We give this notice that all may understand the facts and may know what to depend on. Mr. W. D. Baird, whom you all know, is looking after the prompt delivery of ice. We are preparing to put the plant in better condition this season than ever before, for not only turning our better ice if possible, but in larger quantities and will be well prepared to make special inducements to the country trade and wagon load customers at the proper time.

Very sincerely,

Property Loss in Michigan Heavy.

Detroit, Mich., April 2.—Accurate estimates of the havoc wrought by Friday's storm, the worst in 42 years' history, in the state, were still impossible today. With many sections of the state still unreported, it is known that the property loss will run into millions of dollars.

It is also known that one person was killed, two fatally hurt and about 100 others injured. A drop in the temperature bringing the mercury to 15 degrees above zero this morning, caused great suffering among the hundreds of homeless.

Gift Is Returned.

By The President.

The strop came to the president because of his remarks on the value of a strop as a barometer.

Special Chair for Ollie.

Senator Ollie James is going to have a great big easy leather rocker for his private room in the senate office building at Washington, the gift of the Boosters' club of Paducah. It will be all "Paducah made" too. The Boosters desired to furnish a suitable chair for the "big" senator's use in the senate chamber, but were informed by Senator James that it would not be permitted. It was then that the Boosters determined to present "Big Ollie" a chair that would fit him for his private office, and that would be a constant reminder of the "Metropolis of the Purchase."—Louisville Times.

A Chi-Namle Demonstration That is Different

You can ask the Demonstrator to show you any Chi-Namle product you may be interested in, actually applied.

For instance—White Enamel, Porch Furniture Enamel, Gold and Aluminum Paint, Varnish Remover the kind that softens old varnish so it can be wash off with a common scrub brush and clear water Floor Wax, Furniture Polish, Mission Stains, Colored Varnishes for staining and varnishing with one application.

She will not merely show the package containing these materials, but show it in the brush, and applied before your eyes—in fact, you can take the brush and apply it yourself.

You can see the actual colors—see how easy it is to apply—how all brush marks disappear before it hardens.

This will be a demonstration worth while for the care and good appearance of the interior wood-work and furniture of a home.

By asking for a demonstration of any particular Chi-Namle product you will not place yourself under obligation to buy; this demonstration is to acquaint the public with the use and economy of Chi-Namle in the home.

Farmers Bank of Marion

On Wednesday night, March 26th, about eleven thirty, a fire, of unknown origin, was discovered in a vacant building adjoining this Bank's building, which resulted in the complete destruction of this Bank's building and furniture.

Our vault prevented any damage to our valuables, and all books and valuable papers were found in as good condition as if there had been no fire.

Temporary quarters have been secured in one of the rooms of James & James and our business is being transacted, as if there had been no fire.

Just as soon as plans and a contract can be let for a new building, we will build a substantial Bank building on our old site.

While we are now prepared to render you the same banking service that we have rendered since this Bank was organized, we have no vault in which to protect your valuable papers, and a second fire might result in their damage.

We will keep a watchman and do all else that we can to protect these papers, but we would advise you to decide for yourself whether you should leave them in this temporary office, or take them where you can see to their safety.

We appreciate your past patronage, and hope to soon be in position to serve you as well or better than we have in the past.

Nothing Is Unimportant
To The Person Involved.

David Grayson, writing a new "Adventure In Contentment" in the April American Magazine, makes the following observation: "Isn't it odd how unconvinced we often are by the crisis in the lives of other people? They seem to us trivial or unimportant; but the fact is, the crisis in the life of a boy, for example, or of a poor man, are as commanding as the crisis in the life of a millionaire, for they involve equally the whole personality, the entire prospects."

HUSBAND FINDS WIFE DEAD BESIDE BABY

Mother of Three Weeks And Bride of Less Than A Year
Expires Suddenly.

Mrs. Ben Gibson, 18 years old, a bride of less than a year and mother of three weeks, was found dead in bed at 5 o'clock Friday morning at her home in Audubon. Heart failure was the cause of her death, according to the coroner's jury, which held an inquest. Mrs. Gibson gave birth to a child three weeks ago, and is believed to have left the sick bed before she should have. Apparently however, she was almost as strong as usual; and her husband was agast with horror when he discovered her lifeless body early Friday morning lying by the side of her infant child. Mrs. Gibson expired between 12 and 5 o'clock. She arose from the bed at midnight to get her baby some milk. — Henderson Gleaner.

Easter comes in the spring time. Life is in the air, and the spirit of renewal is felt everywhere, the breath of approaching life sifts through trees, grasses and flowers bloom, birds sing. Hope springs triumphant. It is resurrection time all around us, nature is preaching Easter sermons and the theme is "He has risen." It is symbolical that we too shall rise.

And if the righteous scarcely be saved, where shall the ungodly and the sinner appear. First Peter 4:18.

He Went To Sleep In Church.

"Say, do you ever go to sleep in church?" asked a gentleman from the country the other day, of a MONITOR reporter, as the two sat together, whittling on the same empty goods box. An indomitable love of the truth forced the newspaper man to admit that he did get a little dozy on some occasions.

"But why do you ask?" he inquired.

"I went to church the other Sunday," said the gentleman, "and about the time the minister had got as far in his sermon as 'thirteenthly,' I seemed to lose the thread of his discourse and fell asleep, and as result of it you see me in this shape."

The fellow did seem in rather a bad shape. Besides being somewhat lame, he had a black eye, a crippled hand, and lacked a front tooth. A shin plaster adorned his nose, occupying almost the entire length of the olfactory organ, and he was otherwise bruised up.

"What! Did you inflict all these wounds on your person by simply falling out of your pew?" asked the reporter.

"No, nothing of the kind," replied the man. "I did not fall from pew. It happened this way. After the service was over my wife told me she was ashamed of my conduct; that I furnished ample amusement for the whole congregation; that I was equal to a circus to the choir, and that even the deacons were seen to smile. The pastor also came round and reproved me for not being more spiritually minded. So last Sunday we went to church again as usual and when we arrived at the house worship, to avoid a repetition of the previous Sunday's experience I told my wife to go on in and that I would remain outside and take care of the team. She did so, and I kept my seat in the buggy. Just how long I sat there and how it all came about I can't tell but suddenly I was aroused from sleep by feeling myself jostle from my seat, down between the wheels of the vehicle, over rocks and stumps, against trees, snags and saplings, to the ground. This is just how it was, and why it is you see me in this shape, and don't you put it in the paper. Say, do you know where I could get a pluz of a boy to plow a few days?" And the gentleman from the country put his knife in his pocket and rose to go. —MARION MONITOR, of April 20, 1894.

Surest Way to End Catarrh.

Go to Haynes & Taylor's and say: "I want a HYOMEI outfit." Booth's HYOMEI is balsamic air; it contains no opium, cocaine or other harmful drug and is sold on money back plan for Catarrh, Croup, Colds and Coughs. Three Cheers For E. W. Nation.

Mr. Jenkins, kind editor:—Seeing the announcement in the Record-Press will just say there can't be any better man elected than E. W. Nation. He is a good old man in every respect, has always worked on the farm and has never asked for an office until now. Why not everybody vote for him? He is a good old christian man always ready to talk to sinners and pray for them and I am sure that is the man that would do lots of good any where. It would be good to have a man take care of prisoners who could talk to them about their savior, who died for their salvation.

We, in this community, are going to stand by him, he is a man of truth and honesty, and is a F. E. & C. U. of A., of Rosedale lodge, is a man that always has plenty to eat and his wife certainly puts plenty on the table, too. If you don't believe it, just stop Mr. Editor some time he will show you. He puts up from five to eight big porkers in his house every winter, lots of potatoes and beans and in fact everything you would wish to eat in the winter days. NOTICE

Order of Court That County Roads Must be Worked or Pay According to Law

On motion at a special term of Fiscal court of Jan. 7, 1913, it was ordered that the roads of Crittenden county be worked by hands to be warned in by the County Road Engineer, or his assistants, and all able bodied male citizens of the county over the age of 18 years and under the age of 50 years, except licensed ministers of the gospel and citizens of incorporated towns and cities, are required to provide themselves with necessary tools and implements, and to work on public roads of the county, not exceeding two days in a week and six days in each year, provided, however, that any road hand may pay to the county engineer, the sum of three dollars, ($3.00) on or before the 1st day of June, of any year, and upon payment of said sum, he will thereby be released from work upon the road during the said year. The County Road Engineer shall immediately pay over said sum so paid to him, to the county treasurer, who shall place same to the credit of road fund, and same shall be applied and used in the employment of graders, plows, and teams and hands to work upon the roads of the county when needed. And said treasurer shall keep a separate account of such funds from that paid to him by the sheriff.

In employing hands to work upon said roads the County Engineer shall pay the prevailing wages in the neighborhood where said work is done, not however, to exceed $1.50 nor less than $1.00 per day, for each day of eight hours. In view of this fact I am now prepared to give receipts to all who want to pay,

M. A. WILSON,
County Road Engineer

GLADSTONE

This little hamlet is situated in northeast part of Crittenden county in a fertile valley on Hood's creek and is also situated on the I. C. railroad. It has one general store, postoffice, one grocery store, blacksmith shop, saw and grist mill. It has about 20 or 25 inhabitants, among whom are John Gilbert and his wife, Pernecia, about the oldest couple in the county. Uncle John, as he is called, being in his 88th year, and aunt Necia in her 86th year. Although growing old they are enjoying good health and are quite jovial. They were married April 8th, 1852, and had seven children, five of whom are still living. They have eighteen grand children and nine great grand children. One remarkable feature is that they have one son-in-law, who is nearly three years older than uncle John. The writer was invited to dine with them the other day and gladly accepted, and after enjoying the many good things the table contained and spending a pleasant evening with these good people, I took my leave hoping to spend many more such times with them. I was about to forget to state that though this couple is growing old, neither was ever married but the one time.
