THE GREATEST SPECIAL SALE

Ever Held in Marion—Big Preparations Being Made—Thousands Expected Daily.

NEXT FRIDAY SET FOR OPENING

As a result of several months of hard work on the part of Carnahan Bros. & Dodge, they have at last signed a contract with America's greatest Special Sale contractors, T. Brown & Son to install one of their big eight-day No. 2 Bargain Sales to commence Friday, June 6.

In this sale every article in this big store will be sold at special sale prices, as the room is what this big store needs.

Profit and Cost not considered, the entire stock must go at prices cheaper than ever known before in Marion.

Big special features will be introduced all during this big sale, as follows:

Friday, June 6, at 8:30 a. m. the first lady to enter Carnahan Bros. & Dodge's store will get ten yards of calico free; the second lady to enter, eight yards free.

On Friday, June 6, at 3 p. m. choice of any pair of shoes it the store free.

On Monday, June 9, at 3 p. m. nice rug free.

On Wednesday, June 11, at 3 p. m. nice pair of lace curtains free.

On Saturday, June 14, at 3 p. m. 50 pounds of flour free.

The Novelty 12-foot Balloon Ascension, with two 7-foot parachute leaps, takes place Saturday, June 7, at 4 p. m., a great sight to see.

On Saturday, June 14, at 4 p. m., 12-foot Novelty Airship Flight. Don't miss this feature.

You are invited. Are you coming to the biggest bargain feast ever held in the history of the country.

Terrific Storm Near Sheridan.

Saturday night an electrical, rain and wind storm passed north of the city and did considerable damage to trees, buildings, barns, telephone poles and wires. At the residence of John M. Belt the telephone box was struck by lightning and destroyed, and Mrs. Belt who was in the room, was knocked down and severely hurt about the head. She is able to be up and about, but has not yet entirely recovered from the shock.

HARPER'S WEEKLY TO SUPPORT WILSON

Under New Management Pioneer Republican Publication Will Back Administration

Washington, D. C. May 28.—It is understood in official circles here that under its new editor Norman Hapgood, Harper's Weekly is to be run as an administration paper. The real purchaser of the periodical, made famous by George Harvey, are understood to be Cleveland S. Dodge of New York, and Charles R. Crane, of Chicago who are devoted to President Woodrow Wilson and his interest.

Mr. Hapgood, the new editor is also devoted to the fortunes of the President, and thus the paper which "discovered" Woodrow Wilson, will henceforward be used to exploit him.

What His Neighbors Think of Hon. J. R. Summers.

There are few men in Livingston county who are better and more favorably known than Jim Summers and in placing his candidacy before the voters of the county for the office of representative there is nothing that could be said of him as a citizen and high toned christian gentleman that is not already known by our readers.

Though handicapped by an empty sleeve, Mr. Summers has made a success as a farmer and business man, and his counsel has often been sought by his fellow farmers on important business questions, and he has been called upon to serve their cooperative organization in positions of importance. Such a man is admirably qualified to serve as a legislator and he doubtless will have a large following in this and Crittenden county, where he is equally well known and respected.

No one will better appreciate a careful consideration of his claims than Mr. Summers. —Carrsville Enterprise.

New Church To Be Dedicated.

On June 29th, which is the 5th Sunday, the new Cumberland Presbyterian church at Cravne will be dedicated. All day service, with dinner on the ground. Everybody invited to come and bring baskets well filled.

Choice any pair shoes and slippers free Friday at 3 p. m. Carnahan Bros., & Dodge.

Shakespeares 'Midsummer Nights Dream' by the Ben Greet Players, during the Marion Home Coming week, staged in the open air, under the full foliaged trees would be a pure delight. These players will be here.

BRILLIANT NUPTIALS.

Watkins-Yates Wedding at The Main St. Presbyterian Church Wednesday Afternoon.

The marriage of Mr. Arthur Watkins, of Birmingham, Ala., and Miss Allie Mae Yates, of this city, was solemnized at the Main street Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Wednesday, June 4th, Rev. Jas. F. Price officiating. The church had been darkened and the lights turned on which with the beautiful floral decorations added much to the attractiveness of the scene. The church was filled to overflowing long before the appointed hour. Miss Madeline Jenkins entertained the audience with a flute solo until the arrival of the bridal party which entered in the following order, Rev. Jas. F. Price followed by Misses Mildred Dowell, of Tolu, and Elizabeth McAdams who opened the floral gates to matrimony which had been erected in the aisle. Then came Master Wm. Baird, the ring bearer, and little Miss Louise Taylor, the flower girl. The bride and her maid of honor, Miss Imon Overby, of Dixon, Ky., walked down one aisle to the sweet strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, while the groom and his best man, his brother, Wm. Watkins, marched down the other aisle and met them at the chancel, where Rev. Price said the impressive ceremony uniting them for better or for worse. Mrs. V. Y. Moore, who presided at the organ, rendered Lohen grins bridal chorus as the party repaired to the carriages which conveyed them to the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Nora Yates. After donning traveling suits they proceeded to the depot, taking the afternoon train for a bridal trip to New York, Washington and other places in the east.

The bride and groom are not only prominent but popular as evidenced by the array of gifts they received from all parts of the country. They have the best wishes of a host of friends. They will reside in Birmingham, Ala., where the groom is engaged in the mining business.

Gone To Marion.

J. V. Threlkeld, who has been with the First National Bank, of this city, the past several months left this morning for Marion, where he accepts a position as Assistant Cashier of the Marion Bank. Mr. Threlkeld is a clever young man, and made many friends while in Princeton, who wish for him much success. —Princeton Leader.

MINING NEWS OF INTEREST.

The Mid-Summer Seasons Work In Full Blast. The Days Work--What It Costs.

The floor spar and other mines, in and around Marion as well as throughout the Western Kentucky district are generally in full swing.

Several of the properties will reduce their output of spar this season, lessening the number of men employed to quite an extent. It seems to be a foregone conclusion that lower prices will prevail on floor spar. In the zinc, lead and coal workings throughout the field as large outputs will be made as possible notwithstanding the decline in prices of the two metals named. This decline has been a very severe one. In December Spelter (Zinc) was in demand at $7.08 per hundred pounds, today the price is $5.35 which means a very decided lowering of the price paid for zinc ore. Lead does not share in so much of a depreciation. Notwithstanding this drop in zinc, a very considerable tonnage will be mined on account of the much higher percentage that our zinc ores carry of that metal as compared with all other zinc producing ground in this country. This may seem rather a strong statement but so far every body of zinc ore opened here proves this statement by laboratory analysis.

A comparison of prices paid men for wages here and at Joplin is rather in favor of the men in the Missouri field. For example, blacksmith's, hoisterman, machine men and pumpmen are paid $2.50 for each shift of eight hours; machine man helper, $2.25 and drillmen $2.00 per eight hour shift. Ground bosses get from $25.00 to $35.00 per week. The total cost of all labor is from 53 to 58 per cent of total operating cost. Coal costs for mine run $2.25 to $2.65 per ton.

Prospecting is done by churn drilling, and contracted for at 90 cents per foot. Holes are usually drilled to a depth of 200 to 250 feet, and in prospecting a 40 acre lease 15 holes are deemed sufficient.

A premium of $1.00 is paid for each per cent of zinc above 60 per cent. A penalty of $1.00 is made for every per cent of iron over one. A premium is paid for concentrates containing galena or lime. The largest production of ore is found at a depth of from 140 to 200 feet.

It would probably simplify and cheapen our prospecting in this field to use a churn drill. Much

COL. ROOSEVELT IS VINDICATED

Editor Newett Retracts Charges Against Col. On The Witness Stand.

Marquette, Mich., May 31.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt today won his libel suit against George A. Newett, who charged him with drunkenness, when the defendant brought the case to a sudden close by admitting he was "mistaken" and that "he had been unable to find, in any section of the country, an individual witness willing to state that he has personally seen Roosevelt drink to excess."

Decorative Day Exercises At New Marion Cemetery.

Friday, May 30th, pursuant to previous announcements, a good crowd gathered at the new cemetery with flowers to decorate the graves of friends and loved ones. Vice President Dodge presided in the absence of President Moore. Prayer was offered by Rev. Miller. Short talks were made by Dr. Frayser and Rev. Gordon. Sexton Green was complimented on the condition of the cemetery and its well kept lawns and lots. Mayor Kevill pronounced the benediction.

J. S. G. Green, custodian of the cemetery, informs the Press that the gate to the driveway will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m., each day, but that driving within the cemetery enclosure, faster than a walk is prohibited. He asks that all respect the dead and have due regards for the walks and driveways which were not put there speed ways.

"Devil's Coming, Mama."

Pollard has a horn to blow to warn people of his coming with the ice wagon. Recently a mother in east Marion told her little boy not to go away to visit the neighbor children without asking her consent and by way of emphasis told the young America if he did so the bad man would get him. The little fellow forgot, as boys of ten do, the injunction of his parent until he heard unearthly sounds of Pollard's horn, announcing the approach of the ice wagon. He then lost no time in running home and trying to hide himself in the folds of his mama's dress while saying excitedly "The devil's coming, mama, don't let him get me I wont do it any more."

quicker results could be obtained than our usual method of sinking and timbering shafts, afterwards drifting in various ways to reach the vein. It seems to be rather a crude, haphazard way of proving the value of mining property and especially where drilling would not cost over one dollar per foot.

The citizens' committee of our Home-Coming week, June 14 to 20 especially and particularly invite all of our mining men from the water boy to the General Manager of mines to be in Marion as much of that gala week as possible.

DIRECT ELECTIONS OF SENATORS NOW

Secretary Bryan Issues Announcement Of Amendment To Constitution.

Washington, May 31.—In the presence of a notable company, including many legislators who had to do with its adoption, Secretary Bryan today signed the formal announcement of the Seventeenth Amendment to the Constitution, providing for the direct election of Senators.

The proclamation that the requisite number of State Legislatures had ratified the amendment marks the successful outcome of a movement started 87 years ago. Mr. Bryan invited several to share his enthusiasm over the event.

Former Representative Harry St. George Tucker, of Virginia, chairman of a committee of the Fifty-second Congress having charge of the first direct election of Senators resolution that passed the House; Representative Rucker, of Missouri, chairman of the committee in the Sixty-second Congress which had charge of the resolution which finally was adopted, and Senator Borah, who championed the change in the Senate, were present, as was Mrs. Bryan.

Secretary Bryan used four pens to sign the proclamation. The first, which he used to write "William," went to Mr. Tucker; the second, with which he wrote "Jennings," went to Mr. Rucker; the third, with which he wrote "Bryan," he kept for himself, and that with which he wrote the date he delivered to Senator Borah.

To those assembled Mr. Bryan expressed his gratification at being the official to proclaim the constitutional change.

Marion And Salem Road.

In last week's Press there appeared an article highly complimenting our road engineer, Mr. Wilson, for work done on this road. Now, we would not pluck a single feather from Mr. Wilson's cap; we too, are ready to sing his praise but we think there are others who are justly entitled to some of the credit for the fine work done on this road. For instance, E. Champion, Settles, Jim Hall and others should each come in for a share.

We want to congratulate Mr. Wilson on securing the services of Mr. Champion to run the grader. We want to say right here without fear of successful contradiction, that E. Champion for good judgment and stickability with a road grader is without a peer, and to our way of thinking, E. is the man behind the gun, (I mean with the grader.) With the telephone poles moved out of the way, Settles and his crew can fix the Beard hill as he has the LaRue hill and E. called back to grade the part driven over, we will have a road to the county line that you can motor, drive, haul or ride over without being ditched or derailed every few hundred yards, and one that the taxpayers will not kick to pay the tax on.

So Mr. Wilson let the good work go on, the more, the better.

Respectfully,
J. B. CARTER.

CROWDS GREET CHAUTAUQUA TRAIN FROM CHICAGO TO DIXIE

Schools Along Route Dismiss and Both Children and Parents Gather at the Railway Depots.

Speeches Made and World-Famous Band Plays—The Event of Particular Interest Here Because of the Chautauqua in Our City This Season.

BY W. FRANK M'CLURE.

The first train of its kind ever run in this or any other country—the Redpath Chautauqua Special de luxe from Chicago to Dixie Land, recently reached its destination at Albany, Ga., after being greeted by thousands of people in the many towns and cities enroute. In fact, the demonstration everywhere was little less than remarkable and illustrates how firmly the foundations of our great American forum—the Chautauqua, is embedded in the hearts of the people of the South and Middlewest.

Covered with banners and laden with talent, the Redpath Chautauqua Special left the LaSalle Street Station, Chicago, over the C. & E. I. at 10 A. M. on Tuesday, May 20, amid the waving of flags and the cheers of many who had come down to see the train leave.

There were five cars, including a diner and an observation car, and, besides the usual train force, a special representative of the railroad was on board to assist in making the trip a pleasant one in every detail.

There were seventy-two people on board. Besides these more than half the Chautauqua program, including the Ben Greet Players, the Grand Opera Company, and other organizations had preceded the special train by several days.

Among those on the special train were Bohumir Kryl—world-famous cornet player and band director, and his band; Opie Read, the renowned author and lecturer; Laurant, the magician, and his assistants; the Barnard Orchestra; the Mozart Trio; Charles Edward Varney, the lecturer; Harry P. Harrison, president and general manager of this entire Chautauqua system; J. P. Young, treasurer; W. F. McClure, editor of the Lyceum News; C. A. Shaw, manager of the Redpath Musical Bureau; Wm. Padgett, manager of the Lyceum Magazine; A. T. Stearns, secretary and treasurer of the printing company which prints vast quantities of Redpath Chautauqua publications.

The train was en route to the Albany (Ga.) Chautauqua, the first Chautauqua on this circuit of 110, which had already opened three days before. It was scheduled to stop at all places en route where Chautauquas are to be held later, and word was sent ahead announcing the time of its arrival.

Reporters and photographers were in the crowd at every stop, and nearly a hundred negatives were made of the train in three days.

The first stop was at Vincennes, Ind. On account of rain the trip up-town in autos at this time was abandoned and the band played to the crowd assembled under the cover which sheltered the depot platform.

At Princeton, Ind., automobiles were waiting and within ten minutes after the train stopped the band was playing at a central point in the main business section with not only the sidewalks but the roadways crowded with conveyances and people on foot.

At Evansville, Ind., the train stopped over night. Opie Read, prominent member of the Chicago Press Club, was entertained here by the Evansville Press Club.

Seven a. m. the next morning saw the special train again on its way over the L. & N. road, and a short time thereafter the train pulled into Henderson, Ky., where, as in the case of both Vincennes and Princeton, a Redpath Chautauqua was held last year. In spite of the early hour many people were at the depot, including a reporter and a photographer. Not a few of the people present were in wagons and other conveyances, which indicated that they had driven in from the surrounding country.

An hour later the train pulled into Madisonville, Ky., which also had a Chautauqua in 1912. The biggest crowd thus far on the trip greeted the party here. The number was roughly estimated by many at a thousand, and from here on at all stops in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Georgia the crowds numbered into the hundreds.

To get a better view many people were in the second and third story windows of the business blocks.

Three miles further on at Earlington the schools had dismissed and the children in a body were at the depot. The people here attend the Redpath Chautauqua at Madisonville. One of the accompanying photographs shows the school children gathered at the train. Here again the band played and the members of one of the Chautauqua crews, mostly college men, gave a Chautauqua yell—a typical college yell—and ended with the words: "What's the matter with Earlington? She's all right."

The next stop was at Hopkinsville, Ky. The crowd which assembled at the depot here is illustrated only in part in the accompanying photograph. After the band had played Charles Edward Varney addressed the people from the rear of the observation car, congratulating them on their fine

Chautauqua spirit and telling them something of the program which was to come to their city later on.

Telegrams had been sent ahead to Nashville, Tenn., to have lunch at noon ready at the depot dining room for the entire party. Nashville is Opie Read's boyhood home.

After lunch the next stop scheduled was Columbia, Tenn., where a Chautauqua was held last year and where enthusiasm is unbounded. Autos transferred the party to the main part of the town. Congressman L. L. Padgett introduced Mr. Varney, who, following the playing of the band, spoke amid great applause.

The next stop was at Pulaski, Tenn., where the assembly gathered about the monument of Sam Davis. Sam Davis, it will be recalled, was a spy who was captured during the war. He was offered his freedom if he would divulge the name of the one who gave him the plans and information in his possession. He refused to do so and was sentenced to be hung on the public square at Pulaski. Just before the hanging took place he was given a final chance to retract his position, but replied that although he had a thousand lives he would lose them all before he would betray a friend or the confidence of his informant. A monument was erected to his memory, and it was about this historic monument that the Chautauqua crowds gathered.

The train arrived at Decatur, Ala., shortly after 6:00 p. m. Twenty-eight autos met the train and carried the party to New Decatur and return. The band played in both towns.

The next stop was at Birmingham, Ala., where the party arrived shortly after 10:00 p. m. A photographer was on hand at the depot and took a flashlight of the party.

Thursday morning at 5:30 the train pulled out of Birmingham after a counting of noses to see that no one was left behind. En route to Americus in many places the people came out to see the special train dash past. At Americus the Barnard Sextette gave a brief concert from the platform of the observation car. The canvas top of the big Chautauqua tent could here be seen a short distance from the depot.

Smithville entertained the party for dinner.

When the long train pulled into Albany there was a tooting of locomotive whistles, and friendly greetings from the crowds. A long line of automobiles met the party. The ladies were given enormous bouquets of magnolia blossoms, and the procession started for the Chautauqua grounds. Householders stood at doors and windows along the route waving Greeting the Chautauqua Train at Hopkinsville.

Chautauqua flags and pennants. Vehicles lined both sides of the street gay with flags and Chautauqua streamers.

Upon the arrival at the great auditorium, the audience had already gathered and practically every seat was taken for the matinee. The program of the afternoon was rendered by Kryl and his band and met with enthusiastic applause.

This great trip will linger long in the memories of both those on board and those in the towns through which the train passed.

Before leaving Chicago H. P. Harrison, manager of 110 Chautauquas, was presented with a rabbit's foot by his friend, Dr. J. W. Shedd of Chicago. It was mounted in silver and bore Mr. Harrison's initials. The rabbit is one that Dr. Shedd had killed in the spruce forests in Minnesota at the time that Congressman Mann of Illinois and Congressman Ryan of Buffalo were making a congressional investigation of the spruce forests. Dr. Shedd also being a member of the party. Mr. Harrison wore this foot as a watch fob throughout the trip.

June 14-20 will include Salem day, Dycusburg day, Mexico day, Crane day, Piney day, Repton day, Sheridan day, Fredonia day, and all days will be your own especial day. A band of 57 pieces.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given to all concerned that on the 9th day of June, 1913, I will move the Crittenden County Court, on behalf of J. S. Most Children Have Worms

Many mothers think their children are suffering from indigestion, headache, nervousness, weakness, costiveness, when they are victims of that most common of all children's ailments—worms. Peevish, ill-tempered, fretful children, who toss and grind their teeth, with bad breath and colicky pains, have all the symptoms of having worms, and should be given Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, which expels worms, regulates the bowels, tones up the system, and makes children well and happy. Kickapoo Worm Killer is guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25cts. Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

To The Continental Policy Holder!

I have just purchased of Mr. James T. Hicklin, of this city, the agency of the Continental Insurance Company, for Crittenden and Livingston Counties, and am very glad to find so many policy holders of this Company. I congratulate you upon your wise choice in selecting as old and as reliable a Company as the Continental in which to place your Fire and Tornado Insurance. There are perhaps a few figures in connection with the Continental that might be of interest to you, and they will appear in this space from time to time.

As we have already stated, the Continental was formerly represented by Mr. Jas. T. Hicklin, who succeeded Mr. R. L. Flanarg, and it was through no failure upon Mr. Hicklin's part that the agency was transferred, but I paid Mr. Hicklin for the agency. I bought it for two reasons. First, because I KNEW the Continental Insurance Company, and KNEW that you were acquainted with its fair, square methods of dealing with its policy holders. And Second, because I believed you would want your business to remain with just such Company. Therefore, I purchased the Agency and take this method of saying to you that I not only desire, but sincerely believe that you will allow your business to remain with the Continental, and will speak a good word for me and the Continental to your neighbors. You will find me at all times not only ready, but anxious, to serve you in any way possible. Should you want any change made in your policy; should you have a loss; should you make a deal involving the title to your property, please report it to me AT ONCE. You will find me located in the Jenkins building, Room No. 12, Phone No. 239-2. Call me. Rest assured that I will be to see you in plenty of time to renew any policy which may expire, and will put forth best effort to make our dealings mutual and satisfactory. Trusting that I may have the pleasure of meeting every one of the Continental Policy holders personally within the near future, I am, Sincerely Yours,

Stories of The Town

Things Serious and Frivolous Talk- ed About on The Streets of the County Hub.

(REPORTED BY R. C. HAYNES.)

At the conclusion of the story of Dog-Owner No. 3 it was agreed between the assembled dog-owners that No. 1 should take up his adventure where he left off, it will be remembered, at the suggestion of Dog-Owner No. 4, owing to the persistent interruptions of Dog-Owners Nos. 2 and 3. He therefore resumed, as follows:

"As I have intimated, gentlemen, old Nab was a sagacious dog, uncommonly watchful as to the welfare of the household over which he had been trained from his puphood to guard. Though he was friendly enough with our neighbors and friends, no stranger dared venture within the gates; and, moreover, though he commingled on friendly terms with our own flocks and herds, no tramp cow or stray hog was allowed around the premises.

"When on this occasion, therefore, I decided to leave the soil unturned and the cloas unpulverized in the field and betake myself away fishing, I felt no misgiving in leaving my wife and baby at home with old Nab doing picket duty. So, setting out for Claylick creek, as I have said, afoot and alone, arrived there in due time, selected a good fishing-hole, took a seat upon the bank and proceeded at once to business.

"When one goes alone on such occasions, he is generally rewarded for his loneliness by the catching of a good string of fish. It was so with me. I kept on getting bites and landing the fish on the bank, taking little note of the time occupied thereby. I was brought, however to a realization of the situation of things mundane when I looked toward the west and saw that the sun had gone down behind the Claylick hills and the shadows of twilight were gathering around the creek, darkening the waters of the stream and causing to fall upon me an almost imperceptible feeling of solitude.

"I must haul in my tackle and hasten home, I reflected, or Mary will be uneasy about me, thinking I have fallen into the creek, with no one to help me out. With these reflections, I arose, strung my fish and set out for home.

"I had brought no snake remedy with me on this occasion, which fact I mention, gentlemen, that you may be sure that I was in full possession of all my faculties when I met with the adventure I have set out to narrate.

"After leaving the creek I took my way through the pathless woods until I struck the public road, on which my farm was situated a mile or so farther on.

"Now that I have gained the public road, I reflected, I can make better time; and I was about to hasten on, when I looked back up the road to the west and saw a man just coming in sight over a hill, some three or four hundred yards away, driving a cow—at least an animal belonging to the kine family, though at that distance I could not determine whether male or female.

"The man had a rope loped around the animal's horns and the two were coming down the road, walking leisurely along and seemingly well contented. Owing to the distance between us, and the gathering shadows of night, I could not make out just who the cow-driver was, but thought it was either Bob Elkins, Nathan Ward or Jim Hill.

"Being of a sociable nature, though I was in a hurry to get home to Mary and the baby, I decided to wait until the man with the cow came up and the three of us go on together so long as our destinations should lead in the same direction.

"They were coming down a long and rather steep hill and as the two approached me I could see that the cow was making efforts to increase her speed and was being held back by the man.

"The nearer they came to me the more discontented the cow became with her rate of speed, shaking her head, pawing the earth and plunging forward, the driver at the same time digging his heels in the ground and pulling back at the end of the rope in a desperate effort to hold her.

"I could not determine whether or not I was the magnet that was drawing the beast on so frantically, but, I reflected, if the animal be a bull he may be displeased at my presence in the roadway. I looked at my coat and trousers to see if there was anything red about my clothing, finding nothing, however, except a bandanna handkerchief protruding from one of one of my pockets, and that, I reflected, was not glaring enough to attract the attention or the animosity of the beast.

"On cajoled the cow, rearing and plunging, and on followed the driver, pulling manfully at the end of the rope. As they came thus on toward me, I heard the man bawl out something indistinctly, as he seemed to be about out of breath, but which I took to be:

"Run, Ben, run! The cow has hydrophobia!"

"On hearing the word hydrophobia, I needed no other incentive to induce me to vacate that locality at once and to put as many feet of soil as possible between me and the cow.

"I therefore obeyed the voice of the cow-driver and started off and down the road in a run, leaving a blue streak behind me, my string of fish in one hand and my hat in the other.

"On I dashed down the road toward home and on rushed the cow and the cow-driver after me, the latter fast losing all control over the unmanageable beast.

"Still on I plunged, plumbing the middle of the road and kicking up the dust that lay thick in my pathway, and as I was thus dashing onward in an effort to widen the distance between me and the blamed cow, I heard a rip-roaring haw-haw-haw!—the sound emanating from the mouth of the either crazy or heartless cow-driver!

Crooked Creek Meeting.

An immense crowd was at Crooked Creek the fourth Sunday, being estimated at 1,000 or more people.

A service of Scripture reading and prayer was held by the pastor, Rev. J. B. McNeely, and song service by the choir.

Preaching by Rev. R. A. LaRue. A collection for missions, amounting to thirty-five dollars, was placed on the table for that great cause.

At the close of this service a fine dinner was spread, which was partaken of and enjoyed by all.

One hour was spent by the children of the Sunday school in songs and recitations.

Bro. Frank Dodge read a scripture lesson and made comments thereon.

A number of brethren followed, and at four o'clock the service closed and the large audience departed for their homes, feeling that the day had been well spent.

Services at this church every fourth Sunday at 11 o'clock and on the Saturday afternoon preceding, at 3 o'clock. The public is invited.

Our Seven Springs Cor. Says:

We admired Billy Joel's opinion in a recent issue of the Record-Press on Sunday visiting.

We love to have company and also enjoy visiting our relatives, neighbors and friends, but we do believe in attending our regular church services, prayer meetings and Sabbath schools, for God's word says, "Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together," and we as Christians should be careful in attending to our duties and obligations to God.

Take Plenty of Time to Eat.

There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomach trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by all dealers. je Obituary.

On May 35 that unwelcome visitor, death, closed its dark wings over the home of F. E. Hoover and took away his father, Uncle Billy Hoover. Uncle Billy was loved by all who knew him and leaves host of friends to mourn his loss, besides nine children, some who seemed to be near to the same gate that Uncle Billy has passed through.

He was born in Coffee county, Tennessee, on April 10, 1825, came to Kentucky when a young man and has resided here ever since.

He was laid to rest in the Love cemetery, where Rev. Charles E. Harden preached an inspiring sermon, which was appreciated by all who heard him.

Considerable interest in being manifested among the churches of the world toward what has so long been termed the "utopian dream on unity." So far considerable advance has been made towards this really great understanding. The efforts on the part of many bodies of protestants, having various denominational characteristics, but originally proceeding from one of the older religious bodies, to return to the parent fold is one of the more encouraging features of this work. A spirit of unrest is manifested throughout Christendom not only by the clergy but the laity, as well in all of the great historic churches as well as those organized during the past one hundred and fifty years.

The appointment of Receivers for the "Frisco" lines of railroads last week was the chief event in financial circles. This section of country is interested from the fact that the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad Company which extends from Evansville, Ind., to Chicago, with various branch lines happens to be one of the "Frisco's" leaseholds. A protective receivership for the Chicago & Eastern Illinois was also granted and this will conserve the rights of the real owners and prevent any interruption to trains or road bed. This is the line over which several of the Louisville & Nash ville's fast Florida trains are routed from Chicago. It is also our connecting line from Marion, via Evansville to Indianapolis, Cincinnati and the East. It is quite probable that many rumors will attribute this failure to the democratic administration or its acts. The bankruptcy was caused not by any political party but in all probability by attempting to transact a champagne business on a beer income.

A well informed real estate dealer, of Louisville, who was in Paducah during the recent homecoming week in that city gives it as his well considered opinion that the values of realty were increased fully 40 per cent in that city through the festival mentioned. Paducah has many advantages and prospects that most places in western Kentucky do not possess, there is no transportation problem as exists in Marion. With the Ohio river and the several railroads that are keen to make Paducah their southern gateway, manufacturers of all descriptions will find the transportation problem an easy one. Paducah should be from its situation, its people, monetary institutions, its newspapers and the general trend of current events, a very great city. Marion hastens to congratulate the town that will ultimately become the peer of Louisville and Memphis.

The Colonel, meaning Theodore the First, is appeased, he is satisfied now, six cents worth, yet six cents has in the past helped a man over very rough roads, street car fare you know. Judging from the evidence submitted up in the iron country of Michigan, there was no period of time that did not seem to be covered except when the colonel was asleep, provided he ever does sleep, yet a man hardly ever takes a drink when he is fast in the land of dreams. The last grand stand has been occupied, the bands have played, honor and other things satisfied, ring down the curtain and on the head stone place "Rest in Peace."

There is a darkened home in our country. Grief stricken, bleeding hearts for the one that was and is not. Tenderly, lovingly was she laid among the beautiful flowers, our common mother earth placed above her. We are all quite human, all imbued with revengeful instincts, but let him that is without sin cast the first stone at that monster of lust, whoever he may be, that has married the lives of the once happy family.

We publish below from The Madisonville Hustler published last week, a statement from Judge Gordon as to his position in the Congressional race in the 2nd district to succeed O. A. Stanley. The nomination will be made in the August 1914 primary Judge Gordon's name has been favorably mentioned in connection as a logical candidate and he is looked upon here as a sure winner. His friends here hate to have him leave the bench. The second congressional district is composed of the Counties of Davis, Hancock, Union, Webster, Henderson, Hopkins, McLean and Christian and should Judge Gordon make the race he would have the misfortune of not having Crittenden, Caldwell and Livingston counties which are now his judicial district to help him in his Congressman race.

Judge Gordon's statement: "My attitude in respect to Congressional honors is this:

"I have always felt, and feel now, that the political offices belong primarily to the people, to be placed by them in the hands of those whom they believe can render to them the best possible service; and that positions should never be regarded by our good citizens as favors or donations to one of their number merely to gratify the vanity or ambition of the one who imagines that he has been touched by the divine afflatus and that the liberties and rights of the people will perish from the earth if he be denied the coveted privilege to exercise his two chief qualifications, namely: His presumption, and his big voice in second rate oratory in their behalf in the American congress.

Therefore I have no ambition or aspiration to hold any political office, except I be called to accept it by a considerable number of my fellowcitizens acting in the belief that I can render them a more efficient and satisfactory service. I hold it to be the duty of every man to serve the public in every capacity to which he may be called by the people, and it should be gratifying to any man, as it is to me, to be called upon and solicited, as I have been, by quite a number of voters of the democratic ticket to allow them to present my name to the voters of the Second Congressional district for congressional honors.

"The confidence and esteem which these solicitations imply is deeply appreciated by me, and I only wish that nature had endowed me more bountifully with qualifications of mind and worth that I might more truly merit their regard.

"Under the circumstances now existing I shall duly consider the wishes and solicitations of these good citizens; of course, it is not to be expected that any one should receive anything like unanimous support but if I should find a respectable number of representative party adherents in accord with those who have already expressed themselves, I shall later, and at the proper time, become a candidate for congress.

"I have never been noted for leading my friends to defeat, and if I should enter the contest it will be to conduct a vigorous winning fight.

"I am not a poetical dreamer, nor do I imagine that I am endowed with oratorical powers with which I could hope to beguile and capture the unsophisticated, or use as a cover for my stupidity or ignorance; I am a plain practical man of affairs, making no pretence of display, claiming no gift of tongues, and employing no artifice of sound or fury to conceal my deficiencies, but resting content in the modest belief that should I be chosen, I will be found to possess at least a good working knowledge of the science of Civil Government sufficient to apply the just principles of progressive government to the regulation of human concerns, in an effort to secure the greatest good to the greatest number. I will hope to find my chiefest pleasure in the knowledge that some lasting good had come to my people, through my faithful service in their behalf, rather than from the vain glory and conceit of charming myself with the sound of my own voice in the national capital.

"A great statesman once said, in substance, that there is no place in the world, where a man so quickly finds his true level and so persistently keeps it, as in the American Congress. My aspiration would be to strike that level at an elevation that will inspire a just pride in my constituents and secure for them a respectful consideration."

A Clean Town.

There is no town of the size of Marion in the State that is kept cleaner and more sanitary than our town. Our streets and yards are far above the average.

Most of our citizens are doing their best to make their homes comfortable and beautiful. Quite a number of our houses have been painted and the out buildings whitewashed. Yet there are a few that have neglected some things that go to make us perfect.

Our streets have been cleaned and oiled but recently and already on many of them is to be seen paper and rubbish of all kinds. Our post office is supplied with a receptacle for waste paper and yet some have persisted in throwing it in the gutter to be blown over town. Let us have more of these receptacles for banana peels that great fly producer, and other things that are not sanitary.

Our Chautauqua will bring a great many people to town from other places and we want to make the best impression on them. To do this we have set Friday, June the 6th as "clean up day." Our best citizens are behind this and they are anxious that between now and that time there will be no building left without a coat of paint or whitewash. Lime will be furnished any one who is not able to buy it, and wagons will cart away all rubbish that may have accumulated around your house. Have this rubbish in a pile on the side of the street or alley so that no time may be lost in getting to it. If there is anything that should be burned place it where there is no danger of setting anything else on fire and burn it. Let us have a clean town.

"In Society."

Brown-Guess.

Tuesday afternoon June 3rd, 1913, at 5:30 o'clock, at the home of L. E. Guess, Foster Brown and Miss Ruth Guess were united in marriage, the ceremony being performed by Rev. M. E. Miller.

It was a quiet and most beautiful wedding, the bridal party Foster Brown and Miss Ruth Guess, Foster Shepherd and Miss Katherine Hammond, all of Tolu, came over in an automobile. The groom had no trouble in identifying himself to our Clerk as he has been making regular visits to the home of our Clerk's mother for several years. When they had secured the license they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Guess, the bride's brother, where only a very few of the closest friends had gathered, and the ceremony was pronounced. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party, together with Mr. Guess and Rev. Miller went into the dining room where there was spread, a most elegant dinner. After dinner the bridal party in car and Mr. Guess and family in another left for Tolu.

May their stay here below be happy and prosperous one, and their eternity be one of joy forever.

Mrs. V. Y. Moore gave a delightful luncheon Tuesday, June 3rd, in honor of Miss Allie May Yates, one of the season's brides.

Mrs. Moore's hospitality included:--Misses Kathryn Yates, Madeline Jenkins, Marian Clement, Allie May Yates, Imon Overby, of Dixon; Ellis Gray, Verna Pickens. Mesdames C. Ellis, and W. Haynes.

Miss Kathryn Yates gave a luncheon Monday in honor of her sister, Miss Allie May, the bride of the week. A delightful four course lunch was served consisting of grapefruit, salad course, asparagus, tomatoes, chicken, peas, sherbet and cake. Covers were laid for six. Her guests beside the guest of honor were Misses Imon Overby, of Dixon; Ellis Gray, next week's bride. Mrs. V. Y. Moore, last year's bride, and Miss Madeline Jenkins.

"IT'S MORGAN'S" OR WHAT WE'RE COMING TO.

I came to a mill by the river side. A half mile long and nearly as wide. With a forest of stacks and an army of men, Toiling at furnaces and shovel and pen.

"What a most magnificent plant," I cried, And a man with a smudge on his face replied: "It's Morgan's"

I entered a train and rode all day, On a regal coach and right of way, Which reached its arms over the land, In a system too large to understand.

"A splendid property, this," I cried, And a man with a plate on his hat replied: "It's Morgan's."

I sailed on a great ship, trim and true, From pennon and keel, and cabin, and crew, The ship was one of a monster fleet: A first-class navy could scarce compete.

"What a beautiful craft she is," I cried, And a man with akimbo legs replied: "It's Morgan's."

I dwelt in a nation filled with pride; Her people were many, her lands were wide; Her record in war and science and art Proved greatness of muscle and mind and heart.

"What a grand old country it is," —Cadiz Record.

NOT ONLY IN MARION

Similar Cases Occur Daily in This Vicinity.

Not only here in Marion but in our neighboring towns, the same good story is heard. An encouraging instance from Princeton is given here, and will be read by us with great interest.

J. H. Thompson, plumber, Princeton, Ky., says: "I was troubled for five years by backache and other annoying symptoms of kidney complaint. During the early part of the winter when the cold weather set in, I was sure to have an attack of lame back that made it impossible for me to work for days at a time. I tried many remedies but got no relief. It was just about a year that I was laid up. When a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I got a box. I began taking them and in two days I was back to work, feeling better in every way. I do not have backache now and my health has been greatly improved."

A SECOND STATMENT.

When Mr. Thompson was interviewed on Feb. 3rd, 1912, he added: "I am glad to confirm the public statement I gave some years ago, praising Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I have had occasion to use this remedy, I have been greatly benefited."

LOYD'S BRAIN LEAKS.

The Marion jailer is requested to pay no attention to the editorial in the Record-Press, headed, "Turn the rascals out."

George Loyd says he don't care nothing about the high tariff on sugar so long as Miss Helen Davis remains single.

Ben Wiggington says all the farms that are run down don't belong to widow women not by a darn sight.

Dan Boister is on a trade for two more bound pups to take up the surplus of fleas at his house.

Uncle Jim Dobson says he can work very well in the garden until he strikes some good fishing worms, then he wants to light out to the creek.

Uncle Billie Loyd was asked one day, "Did you ever have more money than you knew what to do with?" "I don't remember it, but I must have had, or I wouldn't have gotten worried any more."

The little boy was waiting at the gate when the preacher drove up. "Are you Bro. Oakley?" The little boy asked. "Yes, my little man, are you glad to see me?" "You bet I am. Mama'll cut that big cake, now."

Miss Mattie Smith stepped into Albert Elder's store the other day and called for a pair of shoes. He picked up the yard stick and started to her. "What are you going to do with that yard stick?" "Get the length of your foot, Mattie."

Frank Davis went to church last Sunday and sat down by Miss Florence Patton and fanned her while she talked to Leman Lowery. Frank says from now on, every fellow will have to furnish his own wind for conversation.

Henry Leeper had his first fishing of the season last week. He set into fishing in Livingston creek just above Daddy Loyd's, early in the morning, and by dinner time had nearly caught several fish and a turtle.

COMBINED NOTICE & ORDER OF SALE

In The District Court of The United States For The Western District of Ky.

In The Matter of JAS. F. JONES, In Bankruptcy. Bankrupt

To the creditors of said bankrupt This is to notify you, that Virgil Y. Moore, trustee of the bankrupt's estate, has filed petition herein asking for the sale of the real estate hereinafter described, upon which it appears there are certain lien claims, which property is appraised at $800.00.

A hearing upon said petition will be had at my office in Paducah, Kentucky, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon on the 26th of May, 1913, when and where you may appear and show cause, if any you have, why said petition should not be granted; and when and where, if no objections are made, it is ordered that said trustee, at one o'clock in the afternoon on the 21st day of June, 1913, do sell the following described lot of ground, in Tolu, Crittenden County Kentucky.

and, "Beginning at a stone in the West line of Water Street, at S. E. Corner of Harris & Co. lot; thence South with said street 33 ft. to a stone; thence West 154 3-4 feet to a stone; thence North 33 ft. to a stone in the line of said Harris & Co's lot; thence east with said lot 154.3-4 feet to the beginning; and on which is located a storehouse known as the L. A. Weldon storehouse; being the same property conveyed by T. F. Harris and Mary Harris, his wife, to J. F. Jones, on the 19th day of August, 1912, deed to which is recorded in deed book no. 30, page 144, in the Clerk's office of the Crittenden County Court. The trustee shall sell said property free from any and all liens for one-half cash and the remainder on a credit of four months possession thereof to be delivered to the purchaser four months from date of sale, bond for the deferred payment, with approved surety, to be executed by the purchaser, payable to the trustee, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum from the 21st day of October, 1913, until paid. The liens on said property shall attach to the proceeds thereof, as the lienors may be adjudged entitled, and said property shall be sold subject to the approval of the referee.

In witness whereof I hereunto sign my hand this 14th day of May, 1913.

Emmett W. Bagby.
Referee in bankruptcy.

NEW SALEM

Mrs. Charlie Bush and Mrs. O. K. Hayden, Salem, were the guests of friends in this neighborhood Sunday.

Joe Parker and daughter, of Salem, attended the funeral and burial of R. S. Threlkeld.

R. S. Threlkeld died May 23rd, 1913, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. K. Summers. Mr. Threlkeld was in his 72nd year. In the death of Mr. Threlkeld, this section loses one of its old land marks, he having been born and raised in Crittenden county. We have known him for nearly a half a century. He was one of our county's best citizens, a man that attended strictly to his own business, a man that will be greatly missed by his neighbors and friends. He is survived by one child, Mrs. E. K. Summers; and one brother, Robert. Spillman, as he was better known, was surely called to pass through the deep waters. He lingered three weeks suffering great pain before the summons came. His wife having passed to the great beyond some five months before the summons came to him. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. T. Oakley at Union church in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and friends. His remains were laid to rest beside his wife.

Mrs. Blake Hopkins and son, Robin, of Glennwood Springs, Colo., arrived at Marion, Saturday, May 24th, with the remains of her husband, who died there on the 19th. His remains were buried in the New Cemetery at Marion, Ky., on the 24th.

Road work is in full blast in Union precinct.

Crop prospects are not very good in this section.
