AT OLYMPIA SPRINGS, KY

The Kentucky Press Association—
A Splendid Gathering of Newspaper Men.

Olympia Springs is in Bath county, some twenty miles from Mt. Sterling and situated three miles from Olympia station on the C. & O. railroad, between four and five hours ride from Louisville. This splendidly ballasted road bed has the very heaviest open hearth steel rails, all bridges of the same high class steel construction, coaches, parlor cars, diners, sleepers solidly built, the most courteous, kindly attendees from porter to conductor and the grandest scenery in the mountains, and that's the Chesapeake & Ohio line.

Olympia, was christened long ago by Henry Clay during one of his summer vacations, which he invariably passed at the springs of the same name. This name may not be so great a myth after all. The gods and goddesses of health and of pleasure, of kindness and of love, of good luck and of good cheer are still on Olympia. They shower with blessings the old and the young, the rich and the well, the rich and poor, all who gather around the wonderful waters of this beauty spot up in the blue grass of Kentucky.

Surprisingly beautiful is the great white, homelike hostelry with its pillared fronts and handsome pergola, its vista of blooming flowers, background of pine covered hills, its health restoring waters, its dining tables of epicurean delicacies, the great open fires, big enough to barbecue an ox and still afford room for the chickens and the quail, the venison and the hoe cake of the South. The tennis courts, ball grounds, golf, bowling, billiards, ball room, baths, and all that make for the pleasure of the visitor is at Olympia.

Here met the members, or rather the Editors of the Kentucky Press Association, big, fiercely mustached Kentuckians, men who largely mould the people's actions. The fierceness is gone today, twinkles instead of furrowed lines, smiles in the eyes and gladness in the outstretched hands, boys once more, at the gathering together in the spacious rotunda as old friendships are renewed.

And soon the reality of this meeting, comes the delightfully worded welcome of Mr. Taylor who with true oriental phrase says: "It is yours," the reply by our Gen. Haldeman expresses thanks and accepts in the like gracious way it is offered.

The face of a clear cut cameo, the costume of an American womanly woman, Mrs. Desha Breckenridge, tells us her earnest hopes and desires, for others of her sex, tells us in words that would have advanced the wishes of her English sisters many a year had they, the wonderful persuasive language of this cultured Kentucky lady.

Again, the children of the mountains are brought in terse loving words before us, their inclination to blindness, what we should do for them and how, an earnest appeal that the world might know and knowing remove the cloudy covering from the eyes of these innocent unfortunates.

NEWSPAPER LAW IS HELD VALID

Publications Must Submit to The Provisions of Postal Act of 1912.

Washington, June 18.—The Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of the Newspaper Publicity law enacted as a part of the Postal Appropriation Act of 1912.

The particular section attacked was to bar newspapers and periodicals from the mails unless the owners filed with the postal authorities the names of the editors, owners, stockholders, bond holders, average circulation and a published statement. It also forbade the publication of paid for articles unless marked "advertisement."

The law affects over 25,000 publications. Justice White interpreted the objectionable regulations as being not a restriction of the freedom of the press, but merely as affixing additional conditions for the admission of newspapers to special privileges of second-class mails.

SUGAR LOBBY SPENT BIG SUM

Oxnard Tells Lobby Investigating Committee that He Was Friendly
With Senators and Names a Few.

Washington, June 14.—Henry T. Oxnard, the millionaire beet sugar company, testified today before the senate lobby committee that he estimated he had spent on an average of $20,000 a year in Washington for the last twenty-three years in behalf of the beet sugar industry.

He declared not a cent had been spent illegally. Each year, when he was at his home in Washington, he declared, he came to the capital to watch legislation and see his friends among the senators. Senator Reed demanded that the witness give the names of senators who were his friends.

"Most all the senators," replied Mr. Oxnard.

"You need not include me in that list," declared Senator Reed.

"Well, I call Senator Overman one of my friends, and Senator Cummins there and—I do not know so much about Senator Nelson," said the witness.

Senator Overman promptly asked Mr. Oxnard if he had ever called upon him at his office or house, or if he had ever attended any of Mr. Oxnard's entertainments. Mr. Oxnard replied in the negative.

The committee adjourned until Monday without finishing the examination.

Mr. Oxnard informed the committee that "Havemeyer or some other person connected with the sugar trust," informed him that the "sugar trust" spent $750,000 in the Cuban reciprocity fight. When asked how it was spent Mr. Oxnard suggested some of it may have been spent "in subsidizing newspapers."

He declared he had sold most of his stock in beet sugar companies because of fear of free sugar. He and his brother had owned jointly $4,000,000 of beet sugar stock in companies operating in Colorado, Nebraska and California, and now had $1,400,000 invested in cane sugar in Louisiana.

COSTLY FIRE AT DIXON, KY.

Flames Originating in Blacksmith
Cause of a Loss of $25,000,
Only Drugstore Burned.

Dixon, Ky., June 12.—A destructive fire visited this little city early this morning, and before the flames could be checked loss amounting to $25,000, covered by about $16,000 insurance, had been caused. The Hardwick dry goods store and Carvell's drug store, the only drug store in the city, were destroyed, together with a blacksmith shop and stables, and the equipment of office and lodge rooms.

The fire originated in Cleveland Webster's blacksmith shop, and when it was discovered by Mrs. T. S. Page the frame building was ready to fall in. Before the populace could be aroused the flames had spread to the Hardwick building, a few feet away, and the adjoining building, occupied by a drug store, soon caught. The citizens were unable to save much, as the flames gained considerably headway before they arrived. It was impossible to enter the second stories. A cornice of the Presbyterian church caught but the edifice was saved after hard work by the bucket brigade.

There were three lodge rooms in the second stories of the two brick buildings and all the furniture and equipment burned. The equipment of Dr. D. L. Duncan, a dentist, who is in Cincinnati on his honeymoon trip was destroyed. A number of old stables belonging to Watson and Harvey went up in smoke.

ESTIMATE OF FIRE LOSS.

W. C. Hardwick, building, $3,500; insurance, $2,300; stock of dry goods, $7,000; $6,000 insurance.

Dr. M. D. Abel, Louisville, building, $2,000; with insurance, $3,925.

Dr. H. L. Duncan, dentist and fixtures and supplies, $500; insurance, $250.

Lodge rooms, second story of Hardwick building, Odd Fellows $1,200; insurance, $750, Knights of Pythias, 750; no insurance; Masonic Temple, complete loss, no insurance.

Walter Cabel, blacksmithshop, $600; insurance, $400.

Cleveland Webster, blacksmith machinery and fixtures, $300; no insurance.

Watson & Harvey, stables, $400; no insurance.

Presbyterian church, damaged $400, fully covered.

MARION GIRL WINS HONORS

Miss Mira Dixon Wins Scholarship
In Young Ladies' College
At Oxford, Ohio.

Miss Mira Dixon, who advertised the "Marion High School" by being one of the best students at the Oxford, O., Young Ladies' college, is expected home tomorrow. Her friends here, where she is a universal favorite, will be pleased to know she won, and has been awarded the $200.00 scholarship at Oxford, good for three years for meritorious conduct and for her attainments and high grades in her studies.

GOOD ROADS WITHOUT MONEY

D. Ward King to Give Lecture and Demonstration in Marion June 23rd.

D. Ward King, the discoverer of the split-log drag, has been widely advertised as a farmer. He has lived for over twenty five years on the farm which he improved from the native prairie sod, and he lives there yet.

Moreover, Mr. King is an enthusiast on farming and on the delights and advantages of farm life.

But it is not so generally known that the famous road maker is city born and bred.

We listened with much surprise to Mr. King when in conversation the other day he told us that until he had attained his majority he had never put a collar on a horse or washed his face out of doors.

Mr. King was obliged to give up city life and move to the farm while a young man, for the sake of his health, which was slipping away from him in the city's less invigorating atmosphere and environments.

Fully cognizant of his ignorance, and naturally cautious, he began his farming by consulting with the best and most successful farmers in his vicinity, tested their advice and experimented on his own account.

To this fact Mr. King attributes the discovery of a number of innovations, the result of an open mind and an investigating spirit, of which log road dragging is one.

"The man who was raised on the farm," says Mr. King, "is prone to do things as his father did, who perhaps took pattern from the young man's grandfather. While in my case I had all to learn and it seemed natural to try to select the best methods."

Mr. King is also an expert horseman and lectures on the management of horses. He has evolved a method of breaking colts by which they can be brought under control and can be hitched up and driven without being haltered or bridled.

He says it is as simple as road dragging and almost as hard to believe as road dragging was four or five years ago.

Some of us have wondered how a farmer could satisfy the wide range of audience faced by Mr. King—audiences in the schoolhouse of the country districts and others in the luxurious club rooms of great cities. The mystery is explained when we know of his life history.

McAdoo's Offer to Issue Emergency Currency Unexpected by New York Bankers.

New York, June 12.—Secretary McAdoo's overnight offer to issue emergency currency up to the limit of the government's resources completely surprised the financial district. None of the bankers would express an opinion on the subject, but it was clear that the secretary's announcement was interpreted, even before his explanatory statement of today, as an act to reassure the legitimate interests of

NICE PLUM FOR BIT OF LOBBYING

Twelve Thousand a Year Salary And Thousands For Expenses

Washington, June 10.—For six hours today Former Governor Carter and Sidney Ballou, who have conducted the fight of the Hawaiian producers in Washington to retain a duty on sugar, outlined to the senate lobby investigating committee their activities here and elsewhere.

Carter testified he received nothing but expenses. Ballou said he was a regular agent in Washington for the sugar producers and received a salary of $12,000 a year and $3,000 for expense money. The two agreed that about $100,000 will be spent by the sugar people in their fight against free sugar. Carter testified he got no satisfaction when he sought a hearing with the president, cabinet members, congressmen and senators. Ballou's testimony was substantially the same.

CLEVE STONE LOSES SUIT

Law Requiring All Trains to Stop at Penitentiary Towns Invalid
—Illinois Central Wins
From Lyon County.

Frankfort, Ky., June 16.—The Glenn law, enacted by the General Assembly of 1912, requiring railroads to stop all passenger trains at towns where a State penitentiary is located, and at the same time continue the service they were rendering at all other towns in the same county, was declared invalid today by the Court of Appeals, and at the same time it put an end to suits pending and in contemplation in Lyon county against the Illinois Central for failing to stop night passenger trains at Eddyville.

The decision reversed the Lyon Circuit Court in the case of the Illinois Central against the Commonwealth in which the road had been fined $200 for refusing to stop one of its through passenger trains at Eddyville for T. C. Stone, who last July purchased a round-trip ticket from Eddyville to Paducah. The train stopped at Kuttawa, two miles from Eddyville.

The Court of Appeals said that Eddyville, a town of 1,000 population has six passenger trains daily; which are amply sufficient for its needs, and a law requiring the perpetual continuance of train service, even though the necessity for it might disappear, is unreasonable. While the Legislature can require roads to afford sufficient accommodation in train service for the traveling public such arbitrary regulation is beyond its power. With regard to the provision requiring all trains to stop at towns where penitentiaries are located, the court said, "under a ruling of the Supreme Court of the United States as a matter of law, the act requiring the trains to stop there is invalid," as an interference with interstate commerce.

The act applied equally to Franklin county, but was prepared with special reference to the demands of Kuttawa and Eddyville.

MINING INTERESTS LOOKING GOOD.

In the Marion District Greater Depth Shows Stronger Ore Bodies.
—The Summers Outlook.

The past week has been an unusual one in mining circles in and around this city. At least three properties have at and below three hundred feet in depth developed large bodies of high grade zinc and fluor spar.

There is an old adage that it takes a mighty good man to continue on in the even tenor of his way despite delays, annoyances, disappointments, high water in the shape of floods, pumps giving out and a general display of cussedness on the part of pretty nearly everything and everybody while sinking a mining shaft.

Continued persistent effort on the part of Mr. George P. Roberts, manager of the Roberts Fluor Spar and Lead Company of this city has resulted in disclosing at 300 feet in depth one of the largest bodies of the very highest grade of pure white spar that has ever been opened in the entire Western Kentucky District since the early days of the Klondike at the Memphis mine. The Keystone Mine referred to when outputting ore yields a large percentage of lead in the purest, white fluor spar that nature gives us. It is a distinct pleasure for the Record Press to chronicle this result of well formed plans consistently and very thoroughly adhered to.

The second property is that of the Eclipse Mining Company, under the direct supervision of Mr. James White whose long experience in the copper country of Montana has made him fully equal to accepting the smiles or the frowns of the titular god of mining with perfect sang froid. At about the same depth in this property a cross cut from the shaft has developed the same strong zinc body that above the shaft, returned to this mining company forty five thousand dollars in a very few weeks besides leaving as much more in the tailings which will be again treated and the result changed into certified checks.

The Franklin Mining Company with its property in the same immediate vicinity of the two above named has under the direction of President Wellar of Columbus, Ohio, opened at the like horizon of 300 feet a splendid body of very pure white fluor spar. The week has really been an eventful one for the results attained in mining and shows very exclusively that success depends upon pluck and perseverance with of course a good bank account behind the pay rolls, yet either one of the three essentials cannot be omitted if a winning hand is to be shown.

B. F. HYDE.

The above named gentleman, whose announcement appeared in last week's Banner as a candidate for Representative from the Livingston and Crittenden counties, is widely known throughout this and adjoining counties as a minister of the Baptist church, having served as pastor of a number of churches; he also owns and operates a farm near Grand Rivers. As a citizen, he has taken an active interest in affairs of state, and has been in many warm political fights, always upholding the principle of Democracy. Mr. Hyde enters the race after many urgent solicitations of friends who know his qualifications and high standing as a moral upright citizen.

Having a large acquaintance in Crittenden county it is also believed that should he be placed on the ticket he will be an aid to the ticket in Crittenden county. If elected Mr. Hyde promises to advocate the passage of all laws that would benefit the toiling masses and would stand steadfast for all measures that would tend toward moral uplift. He will issue a card in a few weeks setting forth his attitude on public questions.

In the south they say it is customary for waiters to ask when breakfast is ordered, "How'll you have your aigs?" One morning a man had ordered some cakes, rolls and coffee, says the Chicago Record-Herald. When the waiter asked "How'll you have your aigs?" The man replied, "You may eliminate the eggs this morning."

The negro looked at him and went to the kitchen. Returning shortly said: "Eh—say, mister how did you say you would have your aigs?"

The man replied, "I have said you could eliminate the eggs." Back went the negro to the kitchen, but returned pretty soon and said: "Say, mister, we have got a splendid chef, who has worked in most of the largest and best places in the north, and he says he dun have no tools to 'liminate any aigs.'"

Woman Is As Old As She Looks

No woman wants to look old. Many in their effort to look youthful resort to the "beauty doctor's" prescriptions. Their mistake is that they visit the wrong department in the drug store. Beauty depends upon health. Worry, sleepless nights, headaches, pains, disorders, irregularities and weaknesses of a distinctly feminine character in a short time bring the dull eye, the "crow's feet," the haggard look, drooping shoulders, and the falling step.

To retain the appearance of youth you must retain health. Instead of lotions, powders and paints, ask your druggist for

MOTHER PASSES SENTENCE

On Wayward Son and it is Approved by the Court.

Chicago, June 16.—A mother was called upon to pass sentence upon her 13-year-old son in the juvenile court yesterday after the boy had been found guilty of snatching a pocket-book from a woman on the streets.

Judge Pluckney asked Mrs. Anna Burek, who had heard the testimony against her son, Joseph, to determine his punishment.

"You must earn the money to pay for what you stole," said the mother. "You must promise to be in bed every night by 9 o'clock or I'll ask the judge to send you away until your hair grows gray," was her ruling.

The court considered her decision good and approved the sentence.

DOUBLY PROVEN

Marion Readers Can No Longer Doubt The Evidence.

This Marion citizen testified long ago.

Told of quick relief—of undoubted benefit.

The facts are now confirmed. Such testimony is complete—the evidence conclusive.

It forms convincing proof of merit. Mrs. Emma Weldon, Marion, Ky., says: "Kidney trouble bothered me for five years and my health became run down. My back was lame and pained me most of the time and I suffered from headaches and dizzy spells. None of the remedies I took, gave me permanent benefit. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills as a last resort, procuring them at Haynes & Taylor's drug store. In less than a month they removed every symptom of the trouble. I heartily recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

AFTER PASSING YEARS. Mrs. Weldon was interviewed on Feb. 2, 1912, and she said: "I still use Doan's Kidney Pills and they always benefit me. You may use my endorsement as heretofore."

To The Continental Policy Holder!

I have just purchased of Mr. James T. Hicklin, of this city, the agency of the Continental Insurance Company, for Crittenden and Livingston Counties, and am very glad to find so many policy holders of this Company. I congratulate you upon your wise choice in selecting as old and as reliable a Company as the Continental in which to place your Fire and Tornado Insurance. There are perhaps a few figures in connection with the Continental that might be of interest to you, and they will appear in this space from time to time.

As we have already stated, the Continental was formerly represented by Mr. Jas. T. Hicklin, who succeeded Mr. R. L. Flanary, and it was through no failure upon Mr. Hicklin's part that the agency was transferred, but I paid Mr. Hicklin for the agency. I bought it for two reasons. First, because I KNEW the Continental Insurance Company, and KNEW that you were acquainted with its fair, square methods of dealing with its policy holders. And Second, because I believed you would want your business to remain with just such Company. Things Serious and Frivolous Talked About on The Streets of the County Hub.

(REPORTED BY R. C. HAYNES.)

"The cow, finding herself free from all restraint, kicked up her heels and came on with renewed energy, pawing the earth with her hoofs and giving forth loud bellowings, like unto a cow bawling for her lost calf, and on I dashed, a few yards in the lead, with grim determination to outdistance her, if possible, and on and in the rear rushed the lunatic cow-driver, giving vent to roars of side-splitting laughter!

"Laugh and be dam'd! I reflected, but if I ever escape from this confounded cow and an attack of hydrophobia, I'll make it warm for that ding-blasted cow-driver, or he'll make it hot for me!

"Being naturally of a somewhat combative disposition, the more I reflected on the outrageous behavior of the cow-driver, the hotter and more wrought-up I became. However, with the cow coming at me in full tilt, I thought it best not to attempt to square accounts with the cow-driver then and there. On the contrary, on and down the road I rushed, lickatysplit, as fast as my legs would take me.

"When I had gone perhaps a mile I came in sight of a field, enclosed by a rail fence. I made for the fence with all possible speed, hoping that it afforded a way for my escape from the cow. As I came up to the fence I saw a pole standing on an inside corner with a sign tacked thereon. The sign read:

PostEd
by L. Grouch

"Notwithstanding the blamed posted sign, I bounded over the fence to the inside of the field and betook myself off through the tall weeds. When I had gone a short distance I looked back. The cow was coming over the fence, head-on, likewise disregarding the posted sign and knocking the rails helter-skelter as she came.

Close onto the cow's heels came the cow-driver, leaping over the fence and making a grab for the rope, failing, however to make good. On the contrary, as he landed on the inside of the field his feet, some way, became entangled in the rope and, losing his foot-hold upon terra firma, he bumped up up against the pole and fell to the ground, the posted sign landing on top of him.

"On I went through the field, lickatysplit, parting the weeds as I went, and on plunged the cow and the cow-driver after me!

"As I rushed thus onward, I saw the owner of the field and manufacturer of the posted sign off at some distance digging post holes, and I made off in his direction, hoping the blamed cow would be attracted from me and go after old Grouch. So as I neared him, I cried out:

"Run, Grouch, run! The cow has hydrophobia!"

"The man dropped his post-hole digger and lit out through the field at a great rate, despite the thick, tall weeds which would sometimes entangle his legs and throw him to the ground. Up he'd come, like Banquo's ghost, and off he'd go, running south, while I hastened on eastward, in the direction of my home.

"My stragetic movements, however, were of no use; for the cow, paying no attention to old Grouch, kept straight on after me, causing a fresh outburst of laughter from the apparently demented cow-driver, at the sound of which the old man turned round, shook his fist at the cow-driver, then lie out again across the field, running as if his life depended on the speed he made. The last I saw of old Grouch he was climbing over the fence into his horse-lot.

"When I had crossed the field to the other side I again bounded over the fence into the road and was followed in my course by the cow, which came crashing over the fence, almost wrecking the panel, she, in turn, being followed by the cow-driver.

"I was now only a short distance from home and I started off in that direction in full speed, taking off my coat as I went and carrying it in one hand, while I still clung to my string of fish with the other.

"On I went up the lane, lickatysplit, encouraged by the sight of home and the thought of old Nab's being near and, I felt sure, on the alert.

"Still on and up the lane I ran, and on rushed the cow and the cow-driver after me!

"As I approached the house I saw my wife standing out in the yard by the front gate, gazing in consternation in my direction. Nor was it any wonder. The three of us—I, the cow and the cow-driver—coming toward the house, like a whirlwind, presented a novel spectacle—I a few yards in the lead and running at full speed; the cow plunging after me, with no sign of a let-up, and the cow-driver bringing up the rear with long strides and now and then roaring out, 'Haw-haw-haw! Haw-haw-haw!'

"As I neared the gate I could see old Nab standing by the side of my wife, as if to guard her from danger, and I could discern also that the dog was taking aim at the cow's nose. I knew if he got hold of her nose the race would close then and there.

"As the three of us got still nearer to the gate I saw, to my amazement, the expression of Mary's face change from a look of consternation to one of mirth and she, too, gave vent to a merry 'ha-ha-ha!'

"Thunderation! I reflected. Is everybody going crazy? Even old Nab had relaxed somewhat, and I saw him look at the cow then give his tail a friendly wag!

"On, however, I rushed through the gate, passing by Mary and old Nab, the cow and the cow-driver coming on, lickatysplit, at my heels!

"When the cow came up old Nab, instead of grabbing her by the nose, let her pass by; then, grabbing the end of the rope in his mouth, he ran twice around the martin-pole, winding the rope around it, then pulled back on his end of the rope with all his might. The cow, brought to a sudden halt, gave vent to a loud bawl, her head went toward the ground, her heels and tail went upward into the air and over she went, landing on her back—and the race was at an end.

"'Poor old Marg,' said Mary, going up and patting the cow, after the animal had regained her feet. 'Didn't you know her, Ben,—old Marg, the pet cow we traded to Mr. John Riley a few years ago? She was only glad to see you and was anxious to renew her acquaintance with you. The idea of running from old Marg! We must trade for her, Benjamin.'

"Turning to the cow-driver—who, I now discerned, was not Bob Elkins, Jim Hill or Nathan Ward, but was Lenard Riley—I said:

"Why in the Dickens did you yell at me that the blamed cow had hydrophobia?"

"I didn't do it, (Haw-haw-haw!) answered Lenard. 'I cried out to you:

'Hold on there, Ben, the cow seems to know you.'

"I invited the cow-driver into the house and we all had fish for supper."

Why Leave Kentucky.

"The average Mississippi farmer buys canned and dried fruit—likewise other canned and dried goods. He gets up at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, fastens his Chicago suspenders to his Detroit overalls, washes his face with soap in a Pennsylvania washpan, sits down to a Grand Rapids table and eats Indiana hominy fried in St. Joseph lard on a St. Louis stove. He puts a St. Louis bride on a Tennessee mule and plows a farm covered by an Ohio mortgage. When bedtime comes, he reads a Bible printed in Chicago, says a prayer written in Jerusalem, and crawls under a blanket made in New Jersey, only to be kept awake by a Mississippi dog—which is about the only homeraised product on the place."—Exchange.

Peevish, ill-tempered, fretful children, who toss and grind their teeth, with bad breath and colicky pains, have all the symptoms of having worms, and should be given Kickapoo Worm Killer, a pleasant candy lozenge, which expels worms, regulates the bowels, tones up the system, and makes children well and happy. Kickapoo Worm Killer is guaranteed. All druggists, or by mail. Price 25cts. Kickapoo Indian Medicine Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

Take Plenty of Time to Eat.

There is a saying that "rapid eating is slow suicide." If you have formed the habit of eating too rapidly you are most likely suffering from indigestion or constipation, which will result eventually in serious illness unless corrected. Digestion begins in the mouth. Food should be thoroughly masticated and insalivated. Then when you have a fullness of the stomach or feel dull and stupid after eating, take one of Chamberlain's Tablets. Many severe cases of stomachache trouble and constipation have been cured by the use of these tablets. They are easy to take and most agreeable in effect. Sold by all dealers.

NEW SCHOOL LAW

Trustees Must Visit Parents.

It might be well to call attention of school directors throughout the county to the following section of law that might be easily overlooked.

Section 4447—During the two weeks preceding the opening of school, the trustees shall visit all the parents of pupil children and urge upon them the necessity of prompt and regular attendance at school. They shall make careful inquiry as to whether any children are unable to purchase the necessary books, and immediately report the names of all such children to the county superintendent only. During the progress of the school the trustees shall ascertain the causes of all non-attendance, etc."

While this matter of visiting parents may be news to many trustees, it is, nevertheless, the law, and should be complied with.

The business meetings of the Association, the suggestions for the good of the order, the banquet, the ball, a german, card parties, old friendships renewed, newcomers presented and made glad by the cordial welcome of the veterans.

The business routine of suggestions for improving and making more attractive the many newspapers of the State were presented by the men who know. The final election of officers for the coming year. The banquet and the gathering of the clan for the return through the delightful atmosphere to the railroad station and thence to our homes. All this is now in the past, regretfully so, and here is to each and every one of these splendid cultured men of the Kentucky Press. May their especial type be added to, their forms never lessened in size, and when the time does arrive for distribution may it be in and among a like beautiful country and the same good friends as we all found at Olympia Springs in the pleasant month of June, 1913.

If your road is soft or rough,
Drag, brother, drag;
Once or twice will be enough,
Drag, brother, drag;
Wheels won't sink into a rut,
Every time you strike a rut,
Teams won't worry if you'll but
Drag, brother, drag.
"Twon't take long to fix your road,
Drag, brother, drag;
If you'd pull a bigger load,
Drag, brother, drag;
It means dollars in the end,
Saved on teams and wagons, friends,
So to this your best ear lend—

And once or twice don't fill the need,

And the sun shines out at last,
While the roads are drying fast,
Drag, brother, drag.
Every time you drag the road,
Drag, brother, drag;
The lighter to your team the load,
Drag, brother, drag;
It will pay you every time,
Just to see your horses smile,
As they quickly trot a mile,
Drag, brother, drag.

When he gets home he'll take his pen,
And write you up as the best of men,
And you'll be mighty famous then(?)

William J. Hatfield Dead,
Was Well Known Here.

A Telegram was received last night by Prof. C. B. Hatfield from Portland, Oregon, announcing the sudden death of his brother, Mr. William J. Hatfield of that city. His death was caused by heart trouble and was quite sudden. Mr. Hatfield formerly lived in Evansville and for a number of years traveled throughout this territory for the Brown Shoe Co., later going west where he held a responsible position with this company. It will be remembered that he visited his brother in this city a few months ago and all that time was in excellent health. He had many friends in Paducah who will learn of his sudden death with great sorrow. He was a man of genial personality and highly esteemed by all who knew him. He will be buried in Portland.
Paducah News Democrat.

Miss Kate Bridges, of Carrsville, and her sister, who have been attending the State Normal at Bowling Green, were here this week enroute home and were the guests for several days of Alonzo Babb and family on east Depot street.

MARRIAGES

The marriage of Miss Marion Ellis Gray to Mr. Frank Raymond Edwards, was consummated Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. Father Kellers of Union town officiating. It was a home wedding and the hospitable home never looked so inviting.

Potted plants were in evidence and the decorations which were quite profuse were of Plumosa and smilax twined over the draperies and arranged in festoons from the ceiling and electroliers. The effect was quite beautiful.

Long before the appointed hour the guests began to arrive, filling the reception hall and in fact all the parlor floor to overflowing. Promptly as the clock pointed to the hour of two the bride and groom entered the room, unattended but preceded by the Priest who turned and faced them uniting them by the ring ceremony. The groom and his bonny bride each answered all the questions propounded by the Rev. Father in plainly audible tones. The ceremony was not a short one but was the form used by the Catholic church in its ritual, and was impressive and beautiful. The ceremony over, the happy couple received the congratulations of their friends. The bride was becomingly attired in a fawn brown traveling suit and the groom in conventional style. They were the recipients of many beautiful gifts, which evidenced the love and esteem in which they are held where ever known. They left on the afternoon train for their home at Gilbert Minnesota, but expected to visit at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Edward the parents of the groom who reside in the city of Minneapolis.

Graveyard Cleaning.

On the third Saturday in August, all interested are asked to come and help clean off the Crowell graveyard. Bring your dinner and tools, prepared to spend the day. A few flowers to put upon the grave of those we love would not be amiss.

TRICE BENNETT ANNOUNCES

For County Attorney.

I take this method of making known to the citizens of Crittenden County my candidacy for County Attorney. Realizing the many responsibilities resting upon the various officials and having acquainted myself fully with the duties imposed upon this particular branch of our local government, I ask you honestly and fairly to honor me with your support.

I deem it fairness to the voters and justice to myself to say that I was graduated from the Law School of Central University of Kentucky in June 1907 going immediately to Marietta, Oklahoma where I engaged in the practice of Law until October 1st, 1911 when circumstances over which I had no control demanded my return to Kentucky since which time I have farmed on the Ohio below Tolu.

I shall conduct a fair, clean and legitimate campaign for the nomination, and election for this office and shall present myself before you strictly upon my own merits, and not upon the demerits of any person or persons who might oppose me. Having a high regard for the citizenship of this County I promise you that I shall not cast reflections of discredit upon friend or foe for the purpose of advancing my cause.

Should I be chosen by you to serve you as your County Attorney it shall be my pleasure to serve you in a firm, courteous and constant manner, striving for honor to both you and myself. Respectfully asking your support and influence in the Democratic primary election to be held August 2nd, 1913, I am,

Yours very truly,
T. C. Bennett.

"Ollie James Special" Barbecue.

The reunion of the members of the "Ollie James special party" was being held and celebrated with a big barbecue in Orme's Grove near the city limits. As this was the 98th anniversary of "Waterloo" which was fought in a down pour of rain, we wish the "Ollie James special party" no worse luck than that they may all get drenched with rain as the soldiers trained in the schools of Frederick the Great and Napoleon did on June 18th 1815.

We regret to say that several correspondents were left out.

The Automobile Parade.

The automobile parade Tuesday morning brought into requisition all the machines here about and excited much interest.
Great throngs were on the streets in the line of the procession.
Each machine was full of pretty girls and each chauffeur thought he had the most precious burden.
Some of the machines were decorated beautifully. All of the girls were. It was an inspiring sight, one long to be remembered. Why not have them often and offer a prize for the prettiest, most unique, or original decorated car.

Our Home Paper.

It wants you to be on its reading list, recorded on its books, and then you'll get it every week and know just how it looks.

It will tell you all about the news, in this and nearby towns, who gets married, is born, and who elopes or drowns.

There isn't a thing from A to Z that tends to help the town, that the paper doesn't catch it up and quickly pass it round.

It tells about your visitors, with titles emphasized, while their points of merit are freely generalized.

It tells the story of success, but screens the failure side, and when the facts will make a mess it simply lets them slide.

It tells about your virtues and overlooks your sins, and puts an extra emphasis upon the birth of twins.

It never dares to tell a lie except in personal praise, and then it does it clean and strong, and with its choicest phrases.

In writing up your marriage, it elaborates with care, and says the bride was beautiful and the groom was on the square.

It doesn't matter who it is that crosses Jordan's river, the paper tickets him as a saint, and safely sends him thither.

It tells about that darling boy who had a dollar raise, leaves out his measly little tricks and just recites his praise.

And there's your daughter on the street, gadding night and day, of all the rumor slow or fleet it wisely does not say.

It points out every blemish on the picture of your life, and paints in every virtue of a home that has no strife.

It learns to read between the lines and find the tender spot, to blow not cold on, young or old, when the blowing should be hot.

It silences all the skeletons behind the closet door, and runs its big blue pencil through the lines that turn them over.

It knows about your weakness your little streaks of yellow, just how to smother ill reports or make them smooth and mellow.

It knows what families live in peace, and those most apt to jar, and whether it's just a birthmark, or a sad domestic scar.

It knows the man who pays, and the one who could but won't and all the chronic knockers, and the one who makes a "bunt."

It knows the financial standing of every man in town, and whether its living or cheerless giving, that constantly keeps him down.

Unlike the city dailies that delve in scandal's sewer, it eliminates the sewerage and retains the good and pure.—Ex.

Studebaker

"I've had my Studebaker 15 years—and not a cent for repairs"

A word of just praise for a wagon that has done its work faithfully and well.

Men become attached to their Studebakers—proud of them.

Because they realize that a Studebaker is built on honor and with an experience in wagon building that dates back to 1852.

Studebaker wagons are a result of that long experience, coupled with a desire to build the best wagons, not cheap ones.

And when your dealer says "Buy a Studebaker—there's no better wagon made" he's giving you the verdict of a million farmers. He is not asking you to try an experiment.

DUCHESS ADVISES MOTHERS

Says Well-Cooked Meal is the Best Antidote for Drink.

London, England, June 16.—The Duchess of Marlborough, speaking at the annual meeting at St. Pancras' School for Mothers, today said that the mothers of the present generation left school with little knowledge of domestic science or hygiene and that in consequence they were incapable of cooking a wholesome meal or giving proper attention to bringing up their children.

She said she hoped there soon would be a well-established system of schools for mothers, supplementing and complementing the primary domestic and hygienic education of girls. Such an education, she said, would insure a higher standard of natural health and would produce in the mother a greater consciousness of her obligation toward the coming generations.

The Duchess said she believed that a well-cooked meal provided a better antidote for drink than any amount of legislation and that she was certain a well-trained housewife had a better chance of having a happy home than a dirty, untidy one.

Bible Questions.

What was the difference between John Baptist and the Lord? Answer:—The baptism ordained by our Lord, was into the name of the Father, and of the son and of the Holy Ghost, and was accompanied by the Grace of the Holy Spirit to those who believed, John truly baptised with water; but ye shall be baptised with the Holy Ghost not many days hence. Acts 1 and 5.

What is the meaning of baptism with fire? Answer:—The purifying fire of the Holy Spirit or some searching and exposing power. Every man's work shall be made manifest; for the day shall declare it, because it shall be revealed by fire and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. I Cor. 3-13.

Local bankers believe that the offer will have the effect of releasing large amounts of time money, in which a severe stringency was threatening. No later than yesterday over-year money was utterly lacking in this market, while the rates for four, five and six months hardened perceptibly.

One effect of the proposed measure was a sharp rally in stocks to-day, and Stock Exchange houses reported a better investment demand than at any time since the recent depression.

No small part of the inquiry came from out of town sources where the effect of Secretary McAdoo's announcement appears to have been received with great encouragement than in local circles.

LAME BACKS

Soon Made Sound by Ward's Kidney Pills.

Thousands of sufferers have been made well and happy because of the wonderful curative properties of Ward's Quaker Kidney Pills in driving out the waste matter and poisonous uric acid from the system that causes Rheumatism, Lame Backs, Swollen Ankles or feet, Dropsy, Inflammation of the Kidneys or Bladder.

Delay means serious illness; perhaps that dread malady, Bright's Disease, will appear if the kidneys are not cleansed of all impurities and strengthened in order to have them perform their important duties of filtering out of the system all poisons that lodge in the bladder and kidneys.

If your back hurts, go at once to Haynes & Taylor's and purchase a 50-cent box of Ward's Quaker Kidney Pills and remove the cause. This prescription will quickly discharge the lurking poisons in the system, strengthen and build up the kidneys.

Money back if Ward's Quaker Kidney Pills fail. Ask Haynes & Taylor about them. je1926

S. D. T. A. NEWS.

BY JAMES N. BANKS.

The growers of the Stemming type of tobacco arbitrarily, by the Department of Agriculture at Washington, confined to eleven counties, six on the east and five on the west side of Green river, have learned by experience that a multiplicity of pools and associations are ineffective for the attainment of the best results in the contest of tobacco growers with that malign monopoly, the tobacco trust.

Wherefore the meeting at Madisonville last Saturday, June

7th. And significant it is to note just here that seventeen counties, instead of eleven, sent delegates to that meeting. The fact is the counties range themselves as growers of the Stemming type more accurately than does the Bureau of Agriculture.

In the chronology of farmers cooperation the seventh of June, 1913, the date of the "get together," meeting at Madisonville, will prove an accepted point of time from which succeeding epoch cooperative endeavors are numbered.

The exodus of the Israelites from Egypt, and the Babylonish captivity, are remarkable epochs in their history. And looming big in the years to come as a conspicuous day marking the beginning of a plan promising the fullest protection to the tobacco growers of Kentucky is the 7th day of June.

And the plan is simplicity itself. Attentively regard that compound word, "get together," and there you have it. Voluntarily wipe off the map this little pool and that little pool; surrender charters for this association big or little and let all farmers growing the stemming or Regie type of tobacco get together for a cooperative sale. Say seventeen or eighteen counties and the same hooked up with the Protective Association handling the great bulk of the Clarksville type. That is the plan.

Needful it is that this article be kept within bounds, for prime importance is the presentation of the Constitution and By-laws of the proposed new association as adopted at Madisonville may be deferred.

Following is the Constitution: Preamble.

We the tobacco growers of Kentucky, in order to more effectively provide facilities for pooling, handling grading, storing, shipping and selling tobacco and that we may secure reasonable prices for same, and to establish and maintain a perfect unit of tobacco growers, do hereby mutually join, unite and associate ourselves into a body politic under the name of the consolidated Tobacco Growers' Association of Kentucky, and do ordain and establish the following as the constitution and by laws of this association.
