THE NEWS FROM THE UNDERWORLD

Mining Items From Both Sides of the Ohio River.—World's Output of Spar

This Fluor Spar district of two counties in Kentucky and the like number across the Ohio river in Illinois comprise about all of the commercial output that America has to offer of this valuable mineral.

There are three or four other sections that do produce a small tonnage but the expense of mining small sized veins is so great that it is most probable that after the first flush of excitement over their discovery has subsided no output will be made, as business men usually want to at least see the dollar incoming for the one that has departed and this cannot be done at the present price of the product with the large expense that these bodies of Fluor Spar absolutely require.

The time is at hand when prudent and far seeing consumers of Fluor Spar will provide for their future requirements by owning their own mining land or at least purchasing mineral rights which ordinarily gives the purchasers all facilities that ownership of the surface land could do.

To go a step farther, the ownership of a known vein of Fluor Spar in this district by the consumer of the mineral means very much more than the usual investment. It provides against the contingency of shortages, of undue advanced prices, of the many difficulties that most users of Fluor Spar have for years experienced in securing their supply at the date it is absolutely needed in their plants.

As a matter of fact, the ownership of a known, tested vein of Fluor Spar, by the consumer is a guarantee for the future, an insurance against closing the plant in its busiest season and it is a splendid investment if only to hold as the years pass and this desirable mineral is mined and consumed and the output declines to a tonnage fifty per cent less than is absolutely required for consumption.

That this will occur is as positive as that the gas and oil of the greatest oil fields known have declined in production in many cases to a point where scarcely a barrel of oil or a thousand feet of gas can now be had.

There is no reason to doubt that the constant mining of the veins in the Kentucky-Illinois district will in an apparently short time show an output very greatly less than at present, hence the price per ton will be advanced accordingly, as shortage of supply acts alike in all products.

A late bulletin from the United States Geological Survey gave last year's consumption in short tons as 142,000 in round numbers in this country. Of this tonnage England furnished of its low grade old dump product 26,000 tons leaving 116,000 tons to be supplied by the districts above that is, Kentucky and Illinois, other sections contributed possibly 5,000 tons. Of this tonnage Kentucky supplied some 18,000, the Fairview mine 35,000 and the Rosiclare and other openings in Illinois, the balance, 58,000 tons.

SENATOR JAMES WINS A VICTORY

Livestock and Meats Go On Free
List. Wheat and Flour Have A Countervailing Duty.

Washington, June 28.—The senate finance committee tonight had completed all the schedules of the tariff bill and Senator Kern issued a call for a senatorial Democratic caucus next Friday. One of the important matters settled today was that the countervailing duty should not be put up on live stock and meats. These are to go on the free list unrestricted, as contended for by Senator James, of Kentucky. Wheat and flour will go on the free list, but with the countervailing duty.

The eleventh hour discovery that the sugar schedule contained a "Joker" which would have operated to make all refined sugar dutiable at two cents a pound and nullify the provisions for free sugar after three years, resulted today in an amendment by the finance committee correcting the phraseology of the schedule. The committee also agreed on the amendment which would repeal an act passed in 1890 excepting from general internal revenue tax brandies used by manufacturers to fortify grape wines.

An additional exemption of $500 for each child of a family, in the income tax section of the tariff bill, was determined upon tonight by the senate finance subcommittee of which Senator Williams is chairman, and a change will be recommended to the majority members of the committee tomorrow. The subcommittee is also considering a recommendation changing the $4,000 exemption to $3,000.

Great Day at Crayne.

The Cumberland Presbyterians dedicated their beautiful new house of worship at Crayne Sunday. One of the largest congregations ever assembled there was present. A fine dinner was served and the debt of the church raised and all arranged for.

what could the open Hearth Steel plants of this country do for Fluor Spar. What will they do when the flood stage of outputting cease as cease it will and must? These are very pertinent questions today and they will have to be answered.

The laboratories of the larger steel plants have had their research chemists busily engaged for the past two years endeavoring to discover some other flux that would take the place of Fluor Spar in the Open Hearth Steel plants. So far at least, no discovery of the kind has been made.

We are told that Fairview is outputting 75 tons and that Rosiclare daily tonnage is 400 tons. Here in Kentucky we are either more modest or more truthful as our yield is 85 tons every 24 hours. This stated amount aggregates 560 tons, daily an amount that should give big stock piles to every steel plant in the country yet under such circumstances, strange to say, no steel plant has anything of a stock pile on hand.

It may be possible that figures will not lie but it is a pretty sure proposition that lies will figure and always have done so.

The details of the mining field here will be given later.

SLEEPWALKER LOCKS SELF IN TOWN JAIL

While in Somnambulist State, Enters Prison and Turns Key.

Harrison, O., July 1.—Robert Barnes, 26, a young married man of this place, employed by the Big Four railroad, could not imagine what was doing early this morning when he awakened and found himself locked up in the town jail.

Barnes, while in a somnambulist state, walked out of his bedroom, crossed the street to the jail, entered a cell and pulled the spring lock door shut, imprisoning himself. His wife meanwhile missed her husband, and, aware that he was a somnambulist, and fearing some accident might befall him while wandering around in a trance, notified the neighbors and Night Policeman Riser. While a search was being made throughout the neighborhood by the police and excited neighbors Barnes was peacefully sleeping in the town prison. His cries later attracted attention, and he was released without being fined by Mayor Brinkman.

Touring Country in Autos.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Deboe and son and Mr. Marrie and Miss Ramsey, all of Columbus, Ky., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Nourse, of the Robinson hotel. They are traveling in two automobiles on a tour of the country, and will depart in a day or so for Arkansas. They have covered quite a large territory since leaving their home.—Popular Bluff, Mo., Republican.

Geologists Here.

Professor E. O. Ullrich of the U. S. Geological Survey, Washington, accompanied by the Mo., State Geologist H. A. Buehler of Rolla, Mo., F. W. DeWolf, of Urbana, Illinois and Stuart Miller, of Chicago, made a hurried inspection of our ores and rocks between Marion and the Ohio river on Thursday of last week. It is stated that their special attention was given to the oil possibilities of Crittenden county.

The Publisher of The Record-Press believes that the time has come when Marion should have a Daily Issue of the Press, carrying the local as well as a synopsis of the more important general news. He would greatly appreciate the opinions of the present readers regarding this new departure.

NIGHT RIDERS UP TO THEIR OLD TRICK

Leave Note Warning Eddyville
Merchant to Discharge
a Clerk

Eddyville, Ky., June 30.—As an aftermath of the night rider troubles and the fearful example from their cowardly practice of leaving notes and threatening letters at the doors of respectable homes, the grocery firm of Gresham Bros. found a note and bundle of switches at their door, warning them to discharge James Shacklett, a young man of exemplary habits and held in the highest esteem by the whole town and community.

The note advised them to turn Shacklett off at once and named who should be his successor.

Gresham Bros. refused to comply with the cowardly request.

Gresham Bros. are the leading business men of the city and are Christian gentlemen in every sense of the term, and should the cowardly warning be carried out the world can look for some thing doing in Eddyville.

Kentucky Girl, Well Known Here, Marries.

The Evansville Press, of Tuesday, has this to say of the Lamb—Driskill marriage.

"The announcement of the marriage of Miss Bernice Driskill and Guy Lamb, both of Marion, Ky., which took place at noon today at Henderson, Ky., will come as a surprise to the friends and relatives of the couple in this city and at Marion. The bride has been a frequent visitor here as the guest of Miss Margaret Blackman, 1315 U. Second street, who, with Miss Maude Driskill, were the only attendants and witnesses to the wedding which took place at the home of Rev. Adams, a Methodist minister who has been a life long friend of the family.

After the ceremony the couple and their attendants were served a bridal dinner at the Hotel Kingdom. The bride wore her traveling suit of blue cloth with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Lamb have gone to Louisville to spend their honeymoon, going later to Marion to reside."

Mining.

Mr. Langenbach, of Canton Ohio, rather a short stout gentleman but with all the push and enterprise that has made his city of Canton famous throughout the world, not alone as the home of President McKinley, rather on account of their methods of manufacturing, getting at the top and staying there, is in town. He says he will in connection with Mr. Edward Rommel, the gentleman who has cast his fortunes with us, open both the Nancy Hanks mine at Salem and the Bonanza mine near Lola and make an output of fluor spar and lead that will be a credit to the two counties. In connection with the Mann mine which is a very prominent zinc carbonate producer, these two gentlemen are open to take hold of any good prospect where the owner does not want everything in sight but will tote fairly with them.

Great interest was manifested from the beginning to the close of the service.

MOTHER AT 10.

White Child Breaks Maternity Record in Kentucky.

Bowling Green, Ky., June 27.—A perfectly formed and well developed male child that weighed 6 pounds and lived 5 hours was born at St. Joseph's Hospital to Mamie Still, a white girl, who was born in this country January 25, 1903. The mother is therefore only a few months over 10 years old. The author of her ruin is alleged to be Colly Bennett, fifty years old, who has skipped since he heard a warrant had been sworn out against him. While books record births at an earlier age than this, it is quite an infrequent occurrence. The mother is rather large to her age and is doing well.

Freak Hydranga Plant in Bloom.

William Fitzhugh has a hydranga at his place at 114 Powell street which is attracting much attention because the bush has both pink and blue blossoms, which florists say is unprecedented. Mr. Fitzhugh was unable to offer any suggestion as to the phenomenon. The bush is three years old.—Henderson Gleaner.

Are They Needed in Communities Where Men Outnumber Women?

A great many girls—more than the world supposes—don't marry because they are never asked. It is not because they are inferior in any way to the more favored ones. If marriage can always be called good fortune. They are often brighter, prettier, more practical, fully as loving and in all ways eminently fitted to make fond wives and devoted mothers. They are just overlooked in the general rush.

Although the romantic cling strenuously to the belief that love is heaven sent, devoid of all earthly alloy, ordinary common sense shows that propinquity is a great factor. Young people who are thrown together in the ordinary relations of life, in business, in society, in church, wed among themselves. Loving comes largely as a matter of association. And where there are too many girls there are not enough men to go round.

But the little town of Panther, W. Va., is an exception. It hasn't a single marriageable girl between 14 and 40 in the 800 inhabitants. Lottie Hinrichson, the last one that remained, 18 years old and a peach, has just announced her engagement.

A few years ago there were twenty girls over 16 years old who were willing to receive proposals, but the marriage list rapidly dwindled till it is now without a single name. The town has a number of eligible young men and they are hard put for sweethearts and wives. Some of them have gone a-hunting in other fields but most stay at home and mope and grumble.

What they need there is a good chamber of commerce with a matrimonial section, that will advertise the paucity of girls, the high quality of the many bachelors remaining, and then get the railroads to run Cupid specials, at reduced rates with no return tickets. The railway offices will be besieged with girls who remembered that God helps those who help themselves.

THE REUNION OF CHRISTENDOM

Slowly But Surely The Work Progresses—Some Interesting Statements.

The Protestant Episcopal Church in October, 1910, appointed a Commission to bring about a Conference for the consideration of questions as to the faith and order of the Christian Church, in the hope that such a Conference will promote the cause of Christian Unity.

That Commission is inviting all Christian Communions throughout the world which confess our Lord Jesus Christ as God and Savior to unite with the Episcopal Church in arranging for and conducting such a conference. More than twenty such co-operating Commissions have been appointed, including all the leading Communions in the United States and the Church of England in England and Canada.

Invitations are now being sent to the other leading Communions outside the United States as fast as the names and addresses of their officers can be obtained. The Episcopal Commission is publishing leaflets, explaining the scope and methods of the Conference, and giving a list of books on Christian Unity, and these leaflets have been circulated all over the world. The Commission is glad to send them free to any one who will apply for them to the Secretary, Robert H. Gardiner, Gardiner, Maine. He has received probably ten thousand, or more, letters on the subject, coming from every part of the world and from members of every Communion, Protestant and Catholic. Persons applying are entered on a permanent mailing list, so that they will receive all future publications.

The Episcopal Commission is trying to carry on the undertaking in the spirit of Bishop Brent, who urged, at the meeting when the Commission was organized that the size of organization shall not be made too prominent, but that we shall seek spiritual power.

The first step shall be, in a new and full and deep way, to rededicate ourselves to God, free from past prejudices, in order that, so losing ourselves, we may have a spiritual power simply compelling.

Ministers and lay men and women in Kentucky to the number of 131 have already been brought together, at least to the extent of enrollment on the list, which is arranged geographically so that those who are interested enough in Christian Unity to apply to be placed on the list may obtain the names of others in their neighborhood also interested, with whom they can meet for united prayer for the reunion of Christians and for Conference as to how it can best be brought about. The list includes Disciples of Christ, Baptists, Episcopalians, Presbyterians, German Evangelical Synod of N. A. and Roman Catholics. The executive Committee of the Commission of the Episcopal Church, of which the Rev. W. T. Manning, D. D., Rector of Trinity Church, New York, is Chairman, has recently issued a circular letter urging such local conferences.

The World Conference may not be held for a number of years, for it will be a long undertaking to get the approval of all the leading communions all over the world, though the project is being received with great cordiality.

Kidney disease often advances so rapidly that many a person is firmly in its grasp before aware of its progress. Prompt attention should be given the slightest symptom of kidney disorder. J. O. Tabor, Mexico, Ky., says: "I had kidney trouble for about six years. The pains in my back were severe at times and when I was stooping or lifting, sharp twinges went through my loins. My back always ached more intensely at night and in the morning, I felt very lame. I tired easily, was languid and nervous and had headaches. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and caused me annoyance. I took one and a half boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they rid me of the trouble. I am now in good health."

EIGHTH MAN ON DEATH REEL DIES

Andrew Drew, Aviator Falls 200 Feet To Death.

Lima, Ohio, June 24.—Andrew Drew, official of the Aero Club of Chicago and member of a wealthy St. Louis family, who took aviation as a hobby, tumbled in his Wright aeroplane from a height of 200 feet during an exhibition flite late Thursday afternoon and was crushed to death.

Drew, who was an expert in the guidance of aeroplanes, met death through the failure of his engine. He attempted to make an emergency dip when the engine stalled, but the effort was unavailing, as the machine turned over and he was crushed underneath it when the heavy mass hit the earth.

Nearly a score of attendants witnessed the fall. Drew, who was in charge of an aviation school on the field, left this in the machine which had been made at Napoleon, Ohio, for a day's demonstration. He invited Arthur Brabazon, an assistant, to join him in the flight.

Brabazon declined because of the gathering darkness. "Well I'm going to try a short one, any way," he exclaimed, as he seated himself in the aircraft and made preparations for an ascension.

Other attendants watched the young aviator as he ascended to a height of approximately 200 feet. The machine then turned south toward this city. A sudden click of the mechanism of the craft attracted the attention of the attendants and they realized that the engine had stopped.

Believing that the airman would soon right the machine they watched him as he executed an emergency dip to prevent a fall.

The biplane glided and then swerved sharply away. In another moment the machine had overturned and Drew was buried beneath a splintered mass of timbers and machinery. He was killed instantly.

These Old Men Made Good.

John Wesley, the preacher, lived to be 88 years old. Arnold the theologian and sage, translated Josephus in his 80th year. Dryden in his 68th year, commenced the translation of the Iliad. Dr. Cary, the founder of missions, acquired many of the dialects of India after he had quite advanced in life. Michael Angelo was still painting his giant canvasses at eighty-nine years of age. Titian at ninety, painted with the vigor of youth, and kept on painting until he was ninety-nine. Franklin did not commence his philosophical pursuits until he was fifty. Newton, at eighty-three, worked as hard as he did in middle life. Verily, it would seem that there is now no age at which a man—or woman—may retire! An old lady was running over the catalogue of her ailments to her physician, and he replied, "What would you have, madam? I can not make you grow young again." "I know that doctor," she replied, "what I want you to do is to help me grow a little longer." —The Christian Herald.

A HIGH SCHOOL PROGRAM

Held in Northern New York On June Twenty-Third.

From a little town in northern New York, Ellenburgh Depot, has been mailed the "Press" a program of the Commencement exercises of their High School.

This program seems so eminently practical, covering as it does matters of vital interest to the people generally, that we reproduce it as a possible help in making up school programs in this section of the country.

Ellenburgh Depot is the birth place of one of the successful young business men of Marion, Mr. George P. Roberts, and at that date the village was hardly as large as Mexico, in this county, is today.

Pigeon Flies 4200 Miles in 48 Days.

Jeanette, Pa., June 29.—The record flight of a homing pigeon from Rio Janeiro, Brazil, is reported by Stephen Krupa, a local fancier. Last April he shipped "Sunny Jim" and two other racing pigeons to a Rio Janeiro fancier, who liberated them in the public square of Rio Janeiro on May 8th.

"Sunny Jim" put in an appearance here yesterday, after forty-eight days flight. Krupa declares that a pigeon never before "homed" from a point below the equator.

The distance from Rio Janeiro to this city is about 4,200 miles, nearly half the distance being over water.

Stiff Joints Sprains, Bruises

"Sloan's Liniment has done more good than anything I have ever tried for stiff joints. I got my hand hurt so badly that I had to stop work right in the busiest time of the year. Morgan Estate $100,000,000.

New York, July 1.—The whole of the J. P. Morgan estate has a value of about $100,000,000, according to an unofficial estimate here credited to Thomas E. Rush, counsel to State Comptroller Sohmer, who has been in Europe the past month examining the books of the Morgan house in London and Paris, to determine the value of the late financier's holdings. The European assets he found to approximate $15,000,000.

If the $100,000,000 estimate for the whole estate is correct it is said this will be the biggest estate to pay an inheritance tax in America. New York state will be enriched nearly $4,000,000 it is estimated by a tax on the greater part of the estate.

"Black Mammy."

"She bends beneath the weight of years
With feeble step and slow.
But in her heart there throbs and shines
The light of long ago;
"Of days when on her dear old face
There played an angel smile,
As in her blessed arms she held
And crooned to sleep her 'chile.'
"The color of a lowly race
Shown with its ebon glow,
And yet the old black mammy's soul
Was white as driven snow.
"Her toil worn hands were kind and true
Through all her bonded years
"O 'mistress' and her little ones
In gladness and in tears.
"And through war's wearying agony,
Her heart was free from guile.
And loyal to the bitter end
To 'mistress' and her 'chile.'
"Her ranks are waning year by year
On Southern hill and plain;
And when the last black mammy's gone,
She'll never come again.
"Yet somewhere on the radiant hills,
Beyond earth's woe and wile,
Her dear old arms will fold again.
Old 'mistress' and her 'chile.'
"God bless her till her weary feet
Shall touch the shining shore;
God keep her 'mid the cherubim,
At rest for evermore!"
—Confederate Veteran.

Brisbin, of Elgin, Ill., says: "I have used Kickapoo Worm Killer for years, and entirely rid my children of worms. I would not be without it." Guaranteed by All druggists, or by mail. Price 25 cents. It is not too much to say that the exceptional good health of Marion is very largely due to the foresight of our esteemed health officer, Doctor Frazer. We have, to be sure, a real summer resort climate where its never too hot and very rarely too cold for outdoor festivities, yet the fact remains that malaria and all of its attendant ills has largely been banished by the correct methods of this modern practitioner. Doctor Frazer is a very modest man and no doubt will blush when he reads this but its all true just the same. Now if some kind official will pull the bark from that confounded dog that makes night hideous to any one who is within four miles of his caliopean voice and will sit down sharp on a duet that inclines largely so far as noise is concerned to the tragic in life, most of us when we say our prayers at night will thank the good Lord for the privilege of living in Marion.

Two Views of The Webb Law—A Wrong Conclusion.

The decision of the Kentucky Court of Appeals that express companies can deliver liquor in prohibition territory "for personal use," is tantamount to a repeal of the Webb-Kenyon Law. Of course all liquor delivered by the express companies in the future will be "for personal use," and doubtless orders will be issued to the agents of the companies all over their lines to begin again to deliver liquor shipments.—Madisonville Hustler.

Our cotemporary is right in so far as the Court of Appeals decided that express companies could deliver liquor in "dry" territory for personal use, but is wrong in its conclusion that this will nullify the Webb-Kenyon law. The express companies knew that more than three-fourths of the liquor which they delivered into dry territory was not for personal use, but for sale, and we take it for granted that it will be too hazardous for them to revoke the rule made after the passage of the Webb-Kenyon act. If they did so they would be plastered over with indictments for other than personal use and their fines would far exceed the total charges they would get out of shipment. If they were indicted and fined in one shipment out of ten their profits out of the business would be wiped out and we take it that the express companies are not going to take such a long chance.—Elizabethtown News.

The great man is poised and satisfied—no matter what happens. The little man is always full of trouble, and this trouble he always lays to the fault of some other person.

Judge Gordon on Roads.

Circuit Judge Gordon, one of the most progressive men on the Kentucky bench, delivered a little heart to heart talk to the people of Marion the other day, concerning the use of the split-log drag.

Judge Gordon wasn't speaking from hearsay, but from actual experience. He himself has handled a split-log drag and has seen it handled by his neighbors. He testified unhesitatingly to its good work and urged its adoption at Marion. The judge also cited an example of what bad roads can do to a community, in that seven sawmills were shut down because the owners were unable to make hauls over the poor highways.

Judge Gordon makes a statement that we wish the fiscal court and the road supervisor would take the time to digest. He says his road stays good all the time and costs nothing but a little work at the right time. Take that in, gentlemen, a LITTLE work at the RIGHT time. Not a whole lot of digging and scraping and expensive laboring at the WRONG time.

We heartily wish Judge Gordon could come down to McCracken county and give us a few sermons on roads. Our poor efforts in preaching the doctrine of the log drag and good roads has met with little success. We hesitate to call our road makers hopeless incompetents. Perhaps we do not expound the gospel clearly enough, but they may at least read this.—Paducah Sun.

AUTO GOES INTO DITCH

Two Men Are Killed Accident in Indiana.

Laporte, Ind., July 1.—Barney Dorsey, 45, Michigan City, and William Hamilton, 50, Laporte, were killed near here late last night when the automobile in which they were riding went into a ditch at a sharp turn. The men were enroute from Michigan City to this place. Two others were injured.

Long Live D. Ward King.

The King Drag in the South

We were cruising for land in well, never mind what State it was: it might have happened in almost any state. It was not exactly a new country, but it was rather sparsely settled. None of the road had been graveled or macadized and it had rained a great deal. The roads were very primitive, yet they were nicely rounded up and had been kept nicely dragged. We overtook and passed a four-mule team hitched to a King drag: the use of the team was paid for by the community. After each rain it is the custom to drag these roads. We grumbled a little at the occasional chuck holes, but in the main the road was delightful and our horses trotted along briskly. We gave the roads so little thought (we do not think about things that are giving us little trouble) that we had time to inspect the farms that we passed by and to discuss their advantages and desirabilities.

Suddenly we left the good roads. We came into another state and to another region where roads are neglected. It was after a wet winter. The road was awful. Now and then they became impassable and we took to the pastures to avoid dangerous mudholes. When we found any "repair work" done it was of the crudest sort, like throwing branches of trees into the mud. Two strong horses attached to our buggy began to become distressed as they labored through the mud. The soil and topography were the same as we had left, the sole difference that now no one dragged the roads. We were at first amused, then frightened, then indignant. It seemed that we would never without killing our horses get through. Finally we met a man with good horses and a buggy, going in the opposite direction. We halted him and demanded, "Why are not these roads dragged?"

"I can't tell you, sir. I reckon because we never have done it."

I would not accept a farm on undragged roads as a gift and live on it as men do today. Civilization, education, progress—these things are impossible where such roads are. Further, the effort of horses to drag vehicles through that mud is at least fifty times the effort that would be necessary to keep those roads dragged dry and drivable.

Long live D. Ward King, the road drag man.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafe Cruce, of Ardmore, Okla., who came in to visit her mother, Mrs. Nancy Ordway, and other relatives and friends, left Tuesday afternoon for their home.

Miss Mary Cameron, the most accommodating Postal Telegraph Manager in the State, gave us a weather forecast on Tuesday which read "cooler tonight." The forecaster was right, cooler with rain.

Miss Gladdys Franks who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. C. E. Weldon, since Chautauqua has returned to Tolu to resume her place as assistant post mistress.

W. C. Carnahan left last week for Lawrenceburg, Tenn., where he is looking after the firm's interests in a store there while his brother, S. V. Carnahan, is at Blackford on business.

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Stone went to Tolu Monday where Mr. Stone is now conducting a store. Mrs. Stone who was quite ill last week at her home in this city was able Monday to take the trip in an automobile.

Miss Nellie Paris left Saturday to spend a week with relatives in Livingston county. Her uncle, R. S. Paris, is the road engineer of that county and lives at Lola. And another uncle, W. F. Paris, owns the mill there.

Rev. F. L. McDial will fill his regular appointment at Weston, Saturday, July 5th, at 2:30 and Sunday at 11, and at Heath's School House, Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Wilmer Spees, wife, and little Miss Mary Etta, and Walter McConnell, wife and baby spent Sunday at Eddyville and Kuttawa, visiting the Prison, Lake Clough and Kuttawa mineral springs where they took picnic dinner. They went via the automobile route.

Mrs. C. E. Weldon received from her friend, Mrs. Otho Johnson, at Plymouth, Ill., a box of fine cherries last week. They came by parcel post and arrived in fine condition, which, considering the distance, nearly 500 miles, was very satisfactory to Mrs. Weldon and her family especially after being made into a cherry pie.

It is reported that a sale of some 18,000 tons of gravel Floor Spar was concluded by the two largest Illinois mines to the Carnegie Companies at Pittsburg the other day at $5. per ton on board cars at Golconda and Shawneetown. The cost of selling at five per cent, transportation from mine to railroad station one dollar per ton, leaves a net sum for mining, cleaning, loading, etc of $3.75 which does not from our standpoint show much business sense or even common sense on the part of the sellers.

Ed Robinson to Leave Next Sunday.

Ed. Robertson, the well known mail carrier who through rain and shine, heat and cold, has carried Uncle Sam's mail pouches and the American Express Co's parcels, big and little from the depot, for our people, wishes everybody to know that he contemplates leaving town next Sunday morning and he desires those interested to beat the depot and make a note of who leaves on the same train and also to watch all future trains, going and coming, so as to be able to keep track of who leaves the city on the same train with him, and who follows him.

Crittenden County Boy

Will Land The Job

The fight for the Providence post-office was of short duration, for while the other aspirants were priming their guns and whetting their cutlasses for the fray, a dispatch sent out by the associated press from Washington announces that Congressman Stanley has recommended to President Wilson the appointment of Fred A. Casner of this place, an old Crittenden county boy and an intimate friend of Senator Ollie James.

Mr. Casner is one of the most popular young men of the city and is an influential Democratic worker. For several years he has been manager of the Ruby Lumber Company of this place. He is genial, clever and competent and it is believed will make an ideal postmaster.--Prov. Enterprise.

A Great Day at Hurricane.

On the fourth Sunday in June it being the regular preaching day was appointed as the annual "Children's Day." At the hour of 10 o'clock the house was filled to overflowing and the rain clouds began to lower, and the thunder would almost tell us that a storm was on, but notwithstanding all of this the children were lined up and began to put in their work as if they had been trained for months prior. Their drills were perfection, their recitations were fine to say the least of it. Misses Cora Moore, Stella Phillips and others deserve credit for their untiring energy in the preparation and carrying of such a delightful program. We had a good dinner and a good rain on the ground. In the afternoon we had Missionary report by Sister Wilson also a Missionary collection which amounted to about $60.00. We all thought it was good to be there.

WALNUT GROVE

Sunday school every Sunday evening. Our annual meeting commences Saturday night before the second Sunday in July. Rev. M. E. Miller, of Marion, will do the preaching. Don't forget it. The tobacco crop will be very short this year. Some having little, and some none; the corn looks very well considering the light showers. Jap clover pastures are dying. Water is getting scarce for both man and beast.

We will tell you about our little town. It has been a long time since we saw anything in the paper about Enon. We are just a short distance from the Crittenden Co., line in Caldwell Co. There are two dry goods stores, blacksmith shop, Baptist church school house and a fine grove of walnut trees. We have a fine crop of walnuts every year but we don't depend on them for any part of our living. A great many of the young men up here when you see them at any kind of a gathering, they are at the rear-end of a little concern, I believe they call it a cigarette. If I were a nice young girl, and a boy or a young man was to attempt to go with me puffing at one end of these horrid things I would say "no, indeed." I am not a girl neither am I an old maid. We had a good rain Monday.

Announcements reading as follows have been received in the city: "Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Driskill announce the marriage of their daughter, Bernice, to Mr. Guy R. Lamb, Monday, the thirtieth of June, nineteen hundred and thirteen, Henderson, Ky."

Five Hundred Party by Mrs. Sam Dixon.

Wednesday morning the beautiful Country club never looked more inviting than upon this occasion, when Mrs. Sam Dixon delightfully entertained with five hundred in honor of her house party, Misses Mattie Ellis Sloane, of Owensboro; Myra Dixon, of Marion, and Miss Irma Overby, of Dixon.

The spacious hall was artistically decorated with flowers and green. Nine tables of guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Dixon and this popular game. After several games were played an elaborate and most enjoyable two course luncheon was served. The head prize was won by Miss Blanche Dade, the second by Miss Louise Blackwell. Mrs. Dixon was assisted in serving by Miss Joe Eakins and Miss Rosa Lee Negley.--Henderson Gleaner.

Some Prayer.

A Virginia clergyman was called to dedicate a colored church in Richmond. After services the minister called upon the colored deacon to offer the closing prayer. Here it is: "Gib dis poor brudder de eye of de eagle dat may spy afar off. Glue his hands to

Bow his head way down between his knees, oh Lord, and fix his knees way down in some lonely, dark and narrow valley, where prayer is wanted to be made. WORK RESUMED ON WIRE PLANT

Alleged To Have Closed Because Of Tariff Bill

Washington, July 1.—Senator Bankhead, of Alabama, today received a telegram from Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the Board of Directors of the United States' Steel Corporation, announcing that work will soon be resumed on the $15,000,000 steel wire mill at Corey, near Birmingham, Ala., in the congressional district of Majority Leader Underwood. Friends of Mr. Underwood were highly gratified to hear this news, because the construction of the plant was stopped and several thousand men thrown out of employment two years ago when the Underwood Farmers' Free List Bill was pending in the house, the excuse being that the free listing of steel wire and nails in the bill would ruin the business.

The most dramatic incident in the debate on the Farmer's Free List Bill two years ago was the announcement by the majority leader that he had received word from his district that work on the wire plant at Corey would cease and several thousand of his constituents be thrown out of employment if the bill passed.

Mr. Underwood in a vigorous speech, ringing with resentment against the Steel Corporation, declared that he had reported the bill, free listing wire and nails, because he thought it was for the best interest of the people of the United States; that he was sorry if any of his constituents would suffer thereby, and that he believed that there was no real justification for the "threat" of the United States Steel Corporation to stop building.

He announced that he would stand by the bill and push it through the House, even if it cost him his seat in Congress.

Soon after the bill was passed the wire works ceased, notwithstanding the fact that the bill was vetoed by President Taft and never became a law.

The Underwood Tariff Bill, which has already passed the House, and is now pending in the Senate, places these same articles on the free list, and it will become a law.

Mr. Underwood's friends believe that the decision of the Steel Corporation to resume operations at Corey is a vindication of the steel schedule of his bill.

They believe that steel products can be produced more cheaply in this country than anywhere else in the world and that the free listing of these products will not interfere with legitimate profits.

Corey as a town built up entirely by the Steel Corporation.

The number of people dependent upon the wire mill when it is completed and in operation will be between 12,000 and 15,000, according to the latest maps of the Steel Corporation. For two years no work has been done on the mill, although several millions of dollars had already been spent there.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleansed and the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus performing a perfect cure that leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside too quickly, pus forms under the surface and breaks out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on fine animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

Hair With The Hide.

Senator Ollie M. James, of Kentucky, who led the cheering at the conclusion of the President's address, said to-night the Senate will pass a currency bill immediately after completing its work on the tariff. The hair will go with hide, and the President has wielded a razor of currency reform as well as he did the bowie knife of tariff revision. The message of today went straight home. It did not irritate.

It did not cause rebellion. On the contrary, it resulted in a most marked change of feeling on the part of those democratic leaders who had been inclined to question the wisdom of financial legislation at this session. This was evident to anybody who talked to a Democratic Senator or Representative after the delivery of the message. Not a man could be found who openly disagreed with the President. All joined in the conviction that the Executive was right, and that he had accurately interpreted the expectations of the people.

Hot flashes—dizziness, fainting spells, headache, bearing-down feeling and ill of a kindred nature—are nature's danger signals. CONVERSATION.

One day through the primeval wood,
A calf walked home as good calves should;
But made a trail all bent askew,
A crooked path as all calves do.
The trail was taken up next day
By a lone dog that passed that way;
And then a wise bell-wether sheep
Pursued the trail o'er vale and steep,
And drew the flock behind him, too,
As good bell-wethers always do.
And from that day o'er hill and glade,
Through those old woods a path was made;
And many men wound in and out,

And dodged and turned and bent about
And uttered words of righteous wrath
Because 'twas such a crooked path.
But still they followed—do not laugh—
The first migration of that calf,
And through the winding roadways stalked
Because the wobbled when he walked.
So men prefer to go it blind
Along the calf-paths of the mind,
And work away from sun to sun
To do what other men have done.

Man And His Shoes.

How much a man is like his shoes!
For instance, both a sole may lose;
Both have been tanned; both are made tight
By cobblers; both get left and right.
Both need a mate to be complete, And both are made to go on feet.
They both need heeling, oft are sold,
And both in time will turn to mold.
With shoes the last is first; with men
The first shall be last; when the shoes wear out they're mended new.
When men wear out they're men dead, too!
They both are trod upon and both
Will tread on others nothing loath;
Both have their ties, and both incline,
When polished, in the world to shine;
And both peg out. Now would you choose
To be a man or be his shoes?

TRICE BENNETT ANNOUNCES

For County Attorney.

I take this method of making known to the citizens of Crittenden County my candidacy for County Attorney. Realizing the many responsibilities resting upon the various officials and having acquainted myself fully with the duties imposed upon this particular branch of our local government, I ask you honestly and fairly to honor me with your support.

I deem it fairness to the voters and justice to myself to say that I was graduated from the Law School of Central University of Kentucky in June 1907 going immediately to Marietta, Oklahoma where I engaged in the practice of Law until October 1st, 1911 when circumstances over which I had no control demanded my return to Kentucky since which time I have farmed on the Ohio below Tolu.

I shall conduct a fair, clean and legitimate campaign for the nomination, and election for this office and shall present myself before you strictly upon my own merits, and not upon the demerits of any person or persons who might oppose me. Having a high regard for the citizenship of this County I promise you that I shall not cast reflections of discredit upon friend or foe for the purpose of advancing my cause.

Should I be chosen by you to serve you as your County Attorney it shall be my pleasure to serve you in a firm, courteous and constant manner, striving for honor to both you and myself. Respectfully asking your support and influence in the Democratic primary election to be held August 2nd, 1913, I am, Yours very truly,
T. C. Bennett.

SKIN NEEDED FOR VICTIMS OF FIRE

More Than 10,000 Square Inches Necessary to Hold Buffalo Death List.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 1.—Over 10,000 square inches of skin must be given for grafting purposes if the death list of the Husted elevator explosion and fire is to be kept from reaching far more appalling proportions, according to conservative estimates of physicians in attendance on the injured at the various hospitals.

To meet this demand the services of 300 volunteers will be required. A public appeal will be made as soon as the exact conditions are known.

No more bodies had been recovered from the ruins this morning and fire men were still pouring water into the wreckage. Preparations were made to move the heavy mass of twisted steel and concrete by a wrecking crane. The debris is piled sixty feet high and no substantial progress toward the recovery of bodies can be made until the ruins cool and the wreckage is removed.

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with
Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with
phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 3/4 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder, is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

Kentucky's Consolidated Schools

CHILDREN are very much like their parents. They do enjoy a good time with congenial people of their own age. In any one room schoolhouse, no matter how fine it may be, the chances are that there will be very few children in the upper grades. These older children crave companionship and often drop out of school for no other reason. In fact, it is not at all unusual to overhear conversations like the following:

"What's the matter? You ain't going to stop school?" "Yes; I'm goin' to stop. I'm past fifteen."

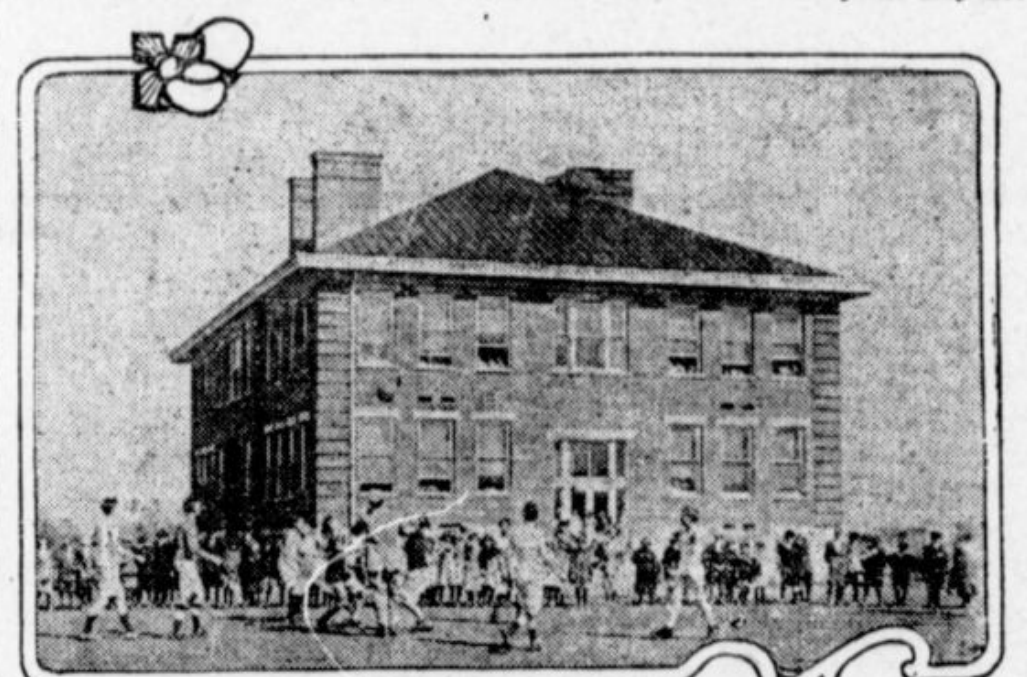

"But you ain't through school yet?" "No; I know I ain't, but I'm tired to death of goin' to school every day with a big bunch of little kids. I don't like the boys to see me walkin' with all those youngsters taggin' along the road with me. I'm goin' to stop tomorrow."

GREENDALE CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL.

If parents would only question their children of school age carefully they would soon gain their individual viewpoint. The child's viewpoint may not be well taken; but, nevertheless, it is his or her viewpoint and therefore has value. It is always good policy to SUGAR COAT EVERY EDUCATIONAL PILL. The small school can never afford the pleasure and the exhilaration which large numbers of children of the same school age can give. The big consolidated schools are particularly strong in this hold upon the older pupils.

BRAIN LEAKS.

BY F. S. LOYD.

Mrs. Albert Elder heard a knock at the front door yesterday, and after straightening up the room and putting on another dress she went to the front door, all smiles, only to find that the noise had been made by Albert knocking the ashes out of his pipe.

Some one said to Dan Boister the other day, "I can't see why so many women marry homely men." Ask your wife, can't she tell you?

Sam Howerton says people who have warm friends are happier than those who have none. All the wealth of the world could not buy you a friend or pay you for the loss of one.

"Are caterpillars good to eat," asked little Etienne Watson at the dinner table the other day. "No," said her father, "what makes you ask a question like that while we are eating." "You had one on your lettuce," replied Etienne, "but it is gone now."

Uncle John Farr, who suffered from rheumatism, asthma and chicken pox all winter, has recovered from them. He believes the hot weather cured him. He is still laid up, however, as he has hay fever, heat and summer complaint.

Uncle Sam Lowery, the rural mail carrier, is having a lot of fun over the last order issued by Postmaster General. He notified the carriers that every parcelpost and free delivery wagon must be painted red and that all mail boxes must be the same color. The carriers are preparing to get the paint and also getting ready for the rushes of the country bulls and turkey gobblers.

Uncle Gus Bentley says some men cannot get along without their wives while others cannot get along with theirs.

Charley Byrd says the world is filled with men who can sit down and talk to you for a whole hour and not say a blamed thing.

Mrs. Irene Smith says sometimes a woman gets so hard up for something to brag about that she will blow about having a husband who eats horse radish on his pie.

Henry Rice says the man who is careful to select good company, is a lonely cuss.

Little Victor Crow was enjoying his first visit in a country home. The sun was setting in the far west. He took a stool beside the farmer's wife, who was picking a chicken for supper. He watched the operation carefully for some time, then he spoke, "do you take off their clothes every night, lady?"

Miss Mamie McChesney was teaching a class in natural history. She was working hard but received rather unsatisfactory answers to her questions. At last she inquired, "now what little boy or girl can tell me where the home of the swallow is?" (Long silence in the class) finally little Finnis Lowery waved his hand. "Well, Finnis, where is it?" "The home of the swallow," declared Finnis, "is in the stomach."

George Loyd said "I do spring cleaning at all seasons of the year." "How's that, George?" "I'm a watch tinker."

Shelley Dunn said to his little girl the other day, "now darling why do you give me the only apple you have, instead of eating it yourself." "Dar's a worm in it, papa."

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

MOSES, THE GOODLY CHILD. Exodus 1:22-2:10—July 6.

"Whoso receiveth one such little child in My name, receiveth Me."—Matthew 18:5.

JOSEPH was the Grand Vizier of Egypt for eighty years—dying at the age of one hundred and ten years. Surely the Israelites suffered no oppression during that time. Shortly thereafter, however, another Pharaoh came into power who "knew not Joseph"—who ignored his services to Egypt and the tentative covenant with the Israelites. This Pharaoh is supposed to have been Rameses II., a hard-hearted, selfish despot.

This Pharaoh perceived that the Israelites were multiplying much more rapidly than were the Egyptians. Therefore he considered them a menace. At first they had been viewed as a protection, because Goshen lay eastward, and an invading army would encounter the Israelites first. Egypt's only antagonist in those days, was Assyria. When the Israelites would outnumber the Egyptians, an invading army might bribe them, and thus the rule of the Pharaohs be overthrown.

To meet this contingency, various expedients were tried. First, an edict compelled the Israelites to perform arduous labors, which it was hoped would undermine their strength. On the contrary, they seemed to flourish increasingly with every burden. The next repressive measure was the edict that every male child of the Israelites should be strangled at birth. But this command was disregarded, the midwives claiming that they arrived too late. The final resort was the royal edict that the Israelites must drown every new-born male infant. Failure to do this was made a punishable crime.

It was under these conditions that Moses was born. The account indicates that both his parents were pious, and hence we are not surprised that the babe "was a goodly child"—beautiful. Comparatively few parents realize that where children are otherwise than "goodly"—graceful in feature and character—a responsibility for the defects rests upon them. We do not mean that any human pair could bring forth absolutely perfect children. "Who can bring a clean thing out of an unclean?"—Job 14:4.

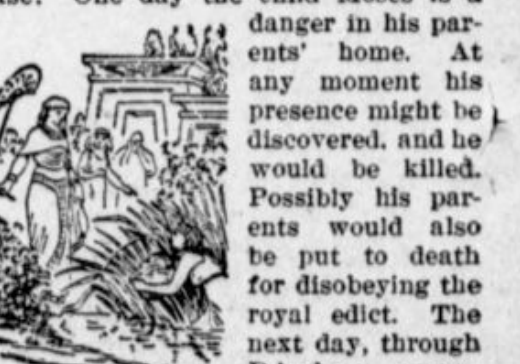

What we mean is that as careful breeding affects the form, features and character of the lower animals, and improves both fruit and flowers, so also it is potent in respect to humanity. Parents have in their own control the most wonderful power whereby to influence the character and form of their children before birth, and not to be ignored after birth—the power of the mind. Were this law of nature clearly recognized by intelligent, conscientious people, what a change would speedily be effected!

Co-operating With God's Providences.

Doubtless Moses' parents thought how to advance the plan which proved so successful in saving his life. They knew that the Egyptian princess resorted to a certain secluded spot on the Nile for her bath, presumed to have been part of a religious ceremony. A little basket was woven of bulrushes, and made watertight with pitch. The babe was placed therein, and at a proper time was left near the spot visited by the princess. Moses' little sister Miriam stood near, ready to suggest the bringing of a nurse. It is quite possible that the princess perceived the ruse, and merely co-operated, believing that the child might as well have the mother's care.

Aided and Protected.

How much there is of wonderful romance in this story! Think of the leadings of Divine providence in this case! One day the child Moses is in danger in his parents' home. At any moment his presence might be discovered, and he would be killed. Possibly his parents would also be put to death for disobeying the royal edict. The next day, through Divine providence, the child is back in the same home, and his mother paid by the princess for caring for him.

It is assumed that the child was weaned at the age of four years. Then he was claimed by the princess as her own. He was given the name Moses, of which Professor Sayce says: "The Greek form of the Hebrew Mosheh-Moysees—is derived by Josephus from the Coptic (ancient Egyptian) Mo (water) and yses (saved out of it). In other words, the princess made a pun of the name, as though she had said: 'This is my son, because I brought him forth—out of the water.'"

Truly, we never know when Divine Wisdom is working human woe into the Divine web, or plan. God's people are ever to remember that He is "working all things according to the counsel of His own will." While using human instrumentalities, God nevertheless respects the human will, and merely co-operates with it. And who ever most zealously co-operates with God receives proportionately the larger share of the Divine blessing. This simple lesson, received into good and honest hearts, gives us greater faith in God.
