ARREST ANDERSON SCHOOL OFFICIAL.

J. W. Baxter is Charged With Trafficking in Examination Papers.

Lawrenceburg, Ky., Aug. 11.—J. W. Baxter, County Superintendent of Schools, was arrested Saturday, charged with the illegal trafficking of examination questions. The warrant was sworn out by Barksdale Hamlett State Superintendent of Instruction. Prof. Baxter waved an examining trial and held over to the November grand jury of the Anderson Circuit court in the sum of $1,500. Any number of the most prominent citizens of the county offered to go on the bond. It was signed by J. C. Vanarsdale, James L. Cole, Robert H. Marrs, I. J. Ballard, William E. Dowling, Dr. W. W. Wash, and William Duncan.

Supt. Baxter belongs to one of the most prominent families in this section of the state and has been a successful teacher for the past twenty years. He was elected County Superintendent of Schools four years ago and at the recent Democratic primary he was nominated for the same position without opposition.

Hardison Sues Rhea

For $5,000 Damages.

Russellville, Ky., Aug. 9.—Robert Hardison, of Greenville, who has been appointed assistant attorney general of the United States, for Indian affairs in Oklahoma, by Attorney General McReynolds upon the endorsement of Senator Ollie James and Congressman R. Y. Thomas, today filed suit in the Logan circuit court against State Treasurer Thomas S. Rhea for $5,000 damages, growing out of the alleged fact that Mr. Rhea slapped Mr. Hardison for speaking to him after, Rhea claiming, Hardison had slandered him.

The City to Have a Fire Engine.

The City Council has consented to allow two different companies, dealing in "fire engines" to demonstrate their wares here at an early date with a view of purchasing the one which the committee appointed by the council decides to be the best and most reasonable. One of the engines has arrived and the other will be here in a few days and then the test will be made and one selected to fight future fires in Marion.

Card of Thanks.

I sincerely thank all my friends who stood by me and helped me to win the nomination for Jailor. I promise to do all that I can to win the election honorably.
Yours truly,
C. W. Love.

Miss Henri Easley Applauded.

At the entertainment of the Teachers Institute last Thursday evening Miss Henri Easley was the chief entertainer. She made her appearance the third time, in a dignified but natural way as an entertainer and impersonator. She cannot be excelled. Her hearers were brought to the point of enthusiasm, of cheers and applause and her many friends wish her well in whatever may be her avocation of life for she is not only entertaining but instructive.
One who was present.

SHE WAS BRED IN OLD KENTUCKY

St. Louis Girl Well Known in Marion Highly Honored.

The many friends and relatives here and in the country of Miss Addie Lee Dean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dean, of St. Louis, Mo., will be gratified to know that she has been chosen by President Barker, of the State University at Lexington, as Librarian of the Experiment Station at the university.

It will be remembered that Miss Dean was an honor graduate of the class of 1912 and took the "Master of Arts" degree this year. President Barker in selecting her was only rewarding her for diligence and merit, while a student of the State University.

SUN AND MOON TO BE IN ECLIPSE SOON.

There are a number of lovers of astronomy in Henderson and they will be pleased to learn that there will be three eclipses of the sun and moon during the months of August and September.

On August 31 there will be a partial eclipse of the sun. However it will be of short duration at this point and will doubtless attract little attention.

On September 05 there will be a total eclipse of the moon, visible in all parts of the United States, and will be a sight seldom witnessed in a century. On September 29 there will be a partial eclipse of the sun, visible in this locality. This gives us two eclipses of the within one month or at two consecutive new moons and an eclipse of the moon at the full moon which intervenes between the two eclipses of the sun.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATION AND FAMILY REUNION

Grand Family Dinner in Honor of Mrs. Sarah Elder's 68th Birthday.

Sunday, Aug., 10th 1913, will long be remembered as one of the pleasantest days in the memory of Mrs. Sarah Elder, and her descendants, most of whom met by appointment at her home on the date named to give her a birthday dinner. Mrs. Elder was born Aug., 10th, 1845, and was therefore 68 years of age. The members of the family who were present were the following:

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Berio, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hopgood, of Sturgis, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Elder, Mr. A. L. Elder and little daughter, Alberta, of Fredonia.

Other guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn and daughter, Atriel, of Fords Ferry, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Newcom, of Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Eskew, Mrs. J. E. Sullenger and daughters, Leota and Katie, Mr. and Mrs. Will Patterson and daughter, Louise, of Marion, Messrs. Earl, Glenn and Chas. Sullenger.

Each one of her children brought a basket well filled with dainties and substantial's all well prepared, "just like mother used to make," which is enough said, for everything was there in abundance and each one enjoyed the spread. Everything was arranged to suit the occasion and a delightful day was enjoyed by all. After spending several pleasant hours together, all departed to their respective homes, wishing mother many happy returns of the day.

Mrs. Elder received many mementoes, all of which she prized very highly.

Mrs. Elder's host of friends wishes her many more happy birthday celebrations.

OKLAHOMA GIRLS HAVE WILD NIGHT.

Machine Goes Dead on Plains Surrounded By Thousands of Bellowing Cattle.

Muscogee, Okla., Aug. 11.—Five girls in a touring car lost on the prairie between Muscogee and Chesla last night were caught in a big cattle herd which held them prisoners until daylight, when the cattle separated. The girls were May McSpadden, Lizzie Sharp, and Viola Milam, of Chelsea and Miss Rucker of Claremore.

As a lark, the girls decided to drive from Rucker's ranch to Muscogee, sixty miles. They lost the road and darkness caught them on a prairie. The motor went dead and the big herd of cattle began to gather around the machine. There were thousands in the herd. The frightened girls spent a night of terror. The cattle were jammed so close to the car that at times the sides were almost crushed. The cattle dispersed after daylight, the car was started with the aid of a herdsman and the girls reached Muscogee.

To Vote on Water-Works Again.

The City Council by a unanimous vote at its meeting, Tuesday night, decided to call an election again as to bonding the city for water works. The vote will be taken at the November election.

ELLIOTT WILL TRY TO SELL TOBACCO

Rumor That President of the Association Will Go to Europe Soon.

None of the last year's prized tobacco of the Stemming District Tobacco Association has been sold according to a statement of William Elliott, manager, says the Henderson Journal.

The report has been current on the street for several days that part of all of the association's holdings had been sold, which according to the statement of Mr. Elliott, is incorrect. Mr. Elliott, when questioned further in regard to a sale of all or part of the last year's crop, gave the information that the committee had had a bid on the tobacco, but the price offered was not enough to induce the committee to make a sale. However, he said the price offered was as good as the price offered last winter.

Mr. Elliott stated further that some one would be sent to Europe within a few weeks for the purpose of trying to make a sale of the tobacco now on hand. In answer to the query if he was not the man that would go to Europe to look after the sale, he replied, "I do not know."

The outlook seems to be favorable for an early sale of the remainder of the tobacco now on hand, which will be good news to the farmers and business men as well.

BROKE UP CRAP GAME

Negro Fell Out of Tree Into A Runch of Dusky Gamblers.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug., 12.—Jack Dorris, a negro, fell out of a tree, just outside of the fair grounds at Providence, and severely injured himself. Dorris had climbed the oak tree and was out on a limb watching the proceedings over in the grounds. A race was called and Dorris went up higher to get a better view, and as the horses were coming down the home stretch he became wild and began to yell and jump up and down on the limb, when it broke, causing him to fall into a bunch of negroes that were shooting craps, knocking two of the men unconscious, besides injuring himself.

When Dorris fell into the game in such an absurd manner there came near being a free-for-all fight, but when matters became known medical aid was given the injured.

Flatrock, Princeton Presbytery.

We have recently held a meeting at this place of fourteen days duration, with visible results, sixty-seven conversions, six reclaimed and twenty-eight additions in the church. Rev. F. S. McDowell did the preaching, with the exception of four sermons, which Rev. J. G. Joiner preached. This was said to be the greatest meeting ever held at Flatrock church. The people of the different churches worked in perfect harmony with us, and there was much of the old time revival spirit of our fathers.

LOCK AND DAM WILL COST MILLIONS.

Site Bought For One Near Smithland as Lately Mentioned.

Recently the News-Democrat mentioned the purchase of a part of the W. T. Threlkeld farm, which lies in Livingston county four miles below Smithland, by Capt. Kingsman, of the United States engineering service, for the site on which a lock and dam is to be located and built. The Smithland Banner of last week confirms this deal and adds:

"Work on the dam and buildings will begin next year and more than two and a half million dollars will be expended, giving employment to from 1,800 to 2,000 skilled workmen and laborers."

"Besides the lock and dam equipment three large buildings of stone and brick will be erected at a cost of $18,000, and the grounds will be made into a park under the direction of a government landscape expert."

"Mr. Threlkeld owns over 400 acres adjoining the works which he will divide into small tracts and put on the market right away."

Shocked.

One of our oldest and most highly respected citizens called in our office one morning recently and suggested that we call attention to the way some of our girls appear dressed, on the streets, in transparent tight skirts causing remarks to be made very uncomplimentary to our City. Fathers and mothers are surely overlooking this. Men and boys congregate on the streets of mornings and evenings looking and making remarks too disgraceful to repeat so this caller stated to us. Well boys will be boys and we do not believe the modest and refined womanhood and girlhood of our city will invite their criticisms.

Water Works Bonds

Issued at Madisonville.

Madisonville, Ky., Aug. 12.—The city of Madisonville at the sale of the water works bonds was offered $75,000 for the issue of $75,000 5 per cent bonds, dated July 1, 1913, by the Kentucky Bank and Trust Co., of this city. This institution made an offer as a basis and gave the city the right to communicate with others for a better offer. The second bid was made by Farson, Son & Co., of Chicago, which was $75,015, and the city to pay the attorney's fee and furnish the necessary papers.

Perry—Adams.

Mr. Harry Perry and Miss Nellie Adams, two prominent young people of the Chapel Hill section, were married at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams, Friday night by Rev. A. J. Thomson, pastor of the Chapel Hill church. The groom is the elder son of Mrs. Alma Perry who lives a mile south of the city limits and is an industrious farmer, attending to the farm of his mother who is the widow of G. W. Perry, lately deceased, and who was one of our wealthiest and most substantial farmers.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams and is related to some of the best families in the county.

The wedding was a quiet affair attended only by the family.

KNIFE IS USED BY BOB THOMAS

In a Barroom Fight in Washington.—Cuts Gash on Neck of Doorkeeper.

Washington, Aug., 12.—During a rough and tumble fight in the barroom of the New Varnum Hotel this evening, Representative Robert Y. Thomas, of Kentucky, cut H. C. Goodlett, an assistant doorkeeper of the house, who hails from Alabama.

The two Southerners appeared to be on fairly good terms, according to bystanders in the barroom, until Goodlett is said to have called Thomas a liar.

Then they clinched and the air thickened. In the scuffle Thomas is reported to have reached to his hip pocket. A knife was seen to flash.

The bystanders rushed in and separated the combatants. Goodlett staggering from the bar and found a policeman to whom he exhibited a slight cut on the neck. He requested the policeman to arrest Thomas, in the meantime word has been sent across the street to the house office building and before the policeman arrived Senator Ollie James, and Representative Hefflin, of Alabama, led the Kentuckian to a place of safety.

When last heard of tonight Goodlett exhibited an inch cut on his neck, surrounded by a bedraggled and blood covered shirt, insisting that Mr. Thomas had not treated him right.

BOTTOM OF THE LAKE BE- ING PLOWED AND SCRAPED

Drought Has Exhausted the Water At the Power House Supply Lake.

The "lake" which has been supplying the Marion Electric Light and Ice Co., and others in the city with water is so near dry as to create alarm as to the future of lights in the city to such an extent as to cause the management to look elsewhere for water, to be utilized when the "lake" supply actually gives out. The unusual sight of a half a dozen or more teams and scrapers can be seen each day at work taking dirt out of the bed of the lake and applying to the dams, which are being strengthened considerably and raised slightly all around. The "lake" should it ever fill again with water be a much prettier sheet than ever before and should no mishap occur to the dam, it would always supply the Power House at least.

Ford Auto Put in Commission by Guess and Ordway.

Guess and Ordway have purchased a Ford automobile for the benefit of their customers which is in line with the well known spirit of progress which this firm has always displayed. Their teams were always good and the members of the firm accommodating and this new venture will add greatly to their prestige in the livery business in this section. The firm have always had "live and let live" for their motto and the public may rely on the best of treatment, and reasonable rates.

KENTUCKIANS' HOME-COMING

ONE MILLION FORMER RESIDENTS INVITED TO ATTEND GREAT CELEBRATION.

RAILROADS OFFER LOW RATES

Perry's Victory on Lake Erie, Battle of Thames and Massacre of River Raisin To Be Reproduced in Fire-works and Sham Battles.

One million expatriated Kentuckians and their children, even to the fourth and fifth generations, have been invited to return to Louisville to participate in the Perry's Victory Centennial Celebration, to be held in that city seven days, beginning September 29. Those particularly invited are the descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812, and it is estimated that 75 per cent of native-born Kentuckians and the descendants of those born in Kentucky in the past century are eligible to participate in such a celebration. Approximately one million people now living in other states are included in the "list of those invited."

The purpose of the Louisville celebration is to commemorate not only Perry's victory on Lake Erie but all other events of the war of 1812. However, in particular honor of Commodore Perry a special attraction in the Louisville celebration will be the reunion of the Perry family, regardless of kinship. Everybody by the name of "Perry" will be invited to this special entertainment and those who expect to attend are requested to notify Edwin Perry at the Louisville headquarters.

GOVERNOR ISAAC SHELBY, OF KENTUCKY
Who in person led the victorious forces in the Battle of the Thames.

The Kentucky Association, which has in charge the Louisville celebration, has given an order for a quarter of a million ancestry certificates to be handsomely engraved, and which will be filled in and given away as souvenirs to descendants of Kentucky soldiers and sailors of the War of 1812. Another entertainment in their honor will be a mammoth reception, at which refreshments will be served and opportunity provided for public addresses. For the few remaining actual sons and daughters a banquet will be given. A great ball will be given in the First Regiment Armory, which has a capacity of 20,000 for them.

Forty per cent of the white male population of Kentucky engaged in the War of 1812, consequently forty per cent of the succeeding generation were really sons and daughters of that war, and, estimating that one-half of them intermarried with families which did not participate in the war, sixty per cent of the third generation were grandchildren of the war, and in similar manner at least seventy-five per cent and probably as high as ninety per cent of the fourth and incoming fifth generations are descendants of Kentuckians who fought in that war.

It is estimated that in the state of Kentucky alone one million men, women and children are eligible to participate in the proposed reunion, and it is estimated that another million now living outside of Kentucky are eligible to participate.

During the week of the celebration in Louisville spectacular free events, including features on a mammoth scale not heretofore given with any American celebration, will be provided every afternoon and evening. Pilgrimages to notable historic scenes of interest may be made in the mornings. In addition to free attractions there will be scores of the highest priced amusement concessions that can be secured on the American continent.

The railroads in a radius of 500 miles of Louisville have been asked to make a rate for the celebration week and immediately preceding and following that week of one cent a mile. Railroads running out of Louisville probably will give low rates to other points in Kentucky, so that former Kentuckians who live a great distance can visit their old homes as well as attend the Louisville celebration.

Local committees are preparing an 1812 museum, in which they solicit the loan of any souvenir or relic of the War of 1812, providing the transportation at their expense, and guaranteeing that articles loaned for the week will be returned to owners. This museum for the time being will undoubtedly be the most valuable collection in America.

GOOD WORK OF CANNING CLUBS

Girls and Women Taught to Save Vegetables.

AIDED BY THE GOVERNMENT.

Experts Furnished to Give Instruction in Scientific Canning While Kentucky Agricultural Department Loans Modern Outfits—Women Are Also Showing Interest in the Work.

The garden behind each and every farmhouse produces each summer more vegetables than the family can use. When winter comes the farmer and his family have to buy canned tomatoes, peas, corn and beans at the cross roads store.

The Girls' Canning clubs that the United States government is developing in nine counties in Kentucky this summer are part of a huge movement to check this huge loss in fine food and money that totals millions annually. Besides the saving in money there is another point which is commonly overlooked. In canning vegetables that are home grown the housewife is sure she has a first class article.

That the work may be done in the best possible manner, the United States government is furnishing experts to demonstrate this home canning work. The state agricultural department is loaning each of the nine counties a home canning outfit, and the counties themselves are furnishing interested teachers, parents and wide awake country girls to form the clubs.

In Jefferson county clubs have been developed at Valley Station, O'Bannon's and Okaloona. During the latter part of May the government expert gave three demonstrations. Of course there were no ripe tomatoes or beans in the country that early in the season, so they were bought in the city and taken to the schoolhouses where the clubs were to meet. Besides the girls who were members of the clubs, many mothers and interested housekeepers came and brought their dinners so they might get the benefit of all the work that was done.

After the first lot of tomatoes had been put through the canner by the expert in forty minutes the girls were thoroughly interested and continued the work. It was remarkable how fast the work went with five girls as busy as beavers. As one old farmer expressed it: "Every year I've been on my place I've made up my mind to plant fewer tomato vines, for I have more tomatoes than we can use and give away. But I don't believe I'll cut them down in number this year if the girls can do the work this fast. I've just been figuring on it a little bit, and this little canner that'll set on top of a one burner gasoline or coal oil stove will can sixteen quarts of tomatoes every three-quarters of an hour. That's 208 quarts in a ten hour day."

"Yes," remarked one of the housekeepers, "and the great beauty of it is, with the temperature you can get in one of these canners, you can can anything and be sure of its being perfectly sterile. You don't have to use anything with beans, for instance, but a pinch of salt and a little water."

"Well, it took a long time to get the old mothers in this part of the country to use thermometers to test their cream before churning, and I reckon it'll take some time to get them to use modern canners with thermometers so they will be certain of results in canning."

Big Crop of Honey.

Augusta, Ky., Aug. 7.—L. T. Rice, of this county, has just closed a contract with a Huntington (W. Va.) dealer for one hundred cases of comb honey at fourteen cents a pound. The sale amounts to 2,200 pounds. Bracken county will produce 100,000 pounds this year. Dr. M. A. Aulick, of Johnsville, has 137 colonies of bees, from which he will get 10,000 pounds of honey.

Stepping on a rusty nail has been the cause of many cases of lockjaw. The nail was not so much the fault as neglect of the wound. If such wounds were promptly cleansed and BAL-LARD'S SNOW LINIMENT applied there would be no lockjaw, as the antiseptic properties of the liniment would counteract the poison and the wound would heal quickly. Electrocuted During Lodge Initiation.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 12.—The death of Donald Kenny and Christopher Custin, during an initiation into the Loyal Order of Moose in Birmingham, Ala., last night, will probably result formal action being taken against the lodge during the meeting of the Supreme Council in Cincinnati next week.

The two men, candidates for membership in the order, were being initiated. Part of the initiation consisted, according to the report, of giving the men an electric shock. In some manner the men were both given too severe a shock and they became unconscious and died shortly afterwards. Members of the supreme council who are in Cincinnati making preparations for their jubilee convention, discussed the matter to-day and announced that they would make a thorough inquiry during the convention.

Sewed on Horse's Tail

A bad accident befell a $250 horse belonging to George C. Stone, a prominent farmer and horseman living near Owensville, Ind. While the horse was being used in hauling wheat from a threshing machine the animal swung its tail into a revolving pulley on the separator. Instantly the appendage with skin intact was peeled off the bone. The tail was sewed on again by a local veterinarian. Shawneetown, Ill., News Item.

ONE SON KILLED AND ANOTHER INJURED.

When Auto Driven by Lads' Father Overturns Near Decatur, Ill.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 13.—Stephen Keeling, age twelve, of Fort Scott, Kan., was killed, and his brother, Keith, age fifteen, was badly injured when an automobile driven by the boys' father, overturning ten miles east of Maroa, Ill., today. The Keeling family consisting of parents and four children, was touring from Fort Scott to Indianapolis.

Mothers! Have Your Children Worms?

Are they feverish, restless, nervous, irritable, dizzy or constipated? Do they continually pick their nose or grind their teeth? Have they cramping pains, irregular and ravenous appetite? These are all signs of worms. Worms not only cause your child suffering, but stunt its mind and growth. Give "Kickapoo Worm Killer" at once. It kills and removes the worms, improves your child's appetite, regulates stomach, liver and bowels. The symptoms disappear and your child is made happy and healthy, as nature intended. Bit Down on Pearl While Eating Clams.

Akron, O., Aug. 9.—While eating clams at a restaurant here Jack Fewman bit into something hard, and when he removed a piece of foreign substance from his broken tooth a large black pearl was revealed.

Newman took the pearl to several prominent jewelers in this city, and its value was placed at $1000. It is one of the finest of the black pearl varieties. At first it was feared that the jewel was damaged by cooking, but the jewelers pronounced it to be perfect.

Lightning Struck House of Legislator Five Times.

Fort Smith, Ark., Aug. 12.—In an electrical storm today the home of J. W. Baxter, of Fayetteville, was struck by lightning five times within an hour. The first bolt knocked off a chimney. The second entered through a telephone and knocked Baxter unconscious. He had hardly been revived before the third knocked his wife senseless. The fourth stunned his mother, and the fifth knocked the house from its foundation.

To the Farmers of Kentucky.

For a quarter of a century the problems of manufacturing and of transportation have been handled upon the advice of experts—men whose accurate and scientific knowledge extends to the minutest point.

In the past few years able men have realized that farming could be put upon the same basis that instead of being of necessity haphazard enterprise, it is one of the most scientific businesses in the world—that it may be as accurate and as reliable as those processes of nature upon which it depends.

It has been realized also, that the principles of co-operation which have worked out such great things in the industrial world, may be used with equal effectiveness in the realm of agriculture.

To aid in the rapid spread of these ideas and principles seems to me to be a most useful and noble work, and one in which I would gladly have a part in Kentucky.

With this thought, I have decided to give an old-fashioned barbecue at my home in Woodford county, near Versailles, on Wednesday, August 20th. It will be my aim to have matters along the lines I have indicated discussed by some of the great agricultural experts of the country, and it will be my hope that this may give fresh impetus to the work in Kentucky by the farmers which is already so well begun.

Every farmer, and every farmer's wife, and every one interested in better farming in the State, who feels an interest in increasing the rewards of agriculture, and in bettering the conditions of farm life, is most cordially and urgently invited to be my guest on August 20th. This invitation is given in the spirit of good fellowship, and the desire to help, and all who accept it will be most warmly welcomed.

Very sincerely,
J. N. Camden.

Avoid Ruts.

A contributor to the current issue of Farm and Fireside says: "I believe in originality, and don't believe in buying a new buggy or new sort of bridge or fine hat just because Jones bought one and guarantees it. Nor do I believe in planting what all the other farmers are going to plant. Too many farmers farm by the pattern around them, and often it is a pattern that is both faulty and obsolete. I want to experiment and find out for myself what certain soils and ways will do; and before I buy something that is all the go I want to see if I really need it, and if its value measures up to its reputation."

Mrs. Youngwife—"Charley's covered the table-cloth with fruit and coffee stains; it's my very best cloth, and because I spoke of it at breakfast, he slammed the door and he—he didn't kiss me goodby."

Anty Drudge—"Never mind, dearie, don't cry. Get a cake of Fels-Naptha Soap. It'll take every stain away with a little cool or lukewarm water."

The right way to clean clothes is to wash them with Fels-Naptha Soap in cool or lukewarm water. No boiling or hard rubbing to weaken the fabric. Fels-Naptha won't harm the most delicate fabrics.

Just wet the clothes, soap with Fels-Naptha, roll and soak for a few minutes in cool or lukewarm water. Rub lightly, rinse and hang on the line. Easy, isn't it? And the clothes will be clean, too.

Follow directions on the Red and Green Wrapper.

Ant Hills Forty Feet High.

West African ant-hills are veritable giants, frequently standing 40 feet high. These ant-hills are shaped something like a sugarloaf and are divided inside into hundreds of tiny rooms. They have, needless to say, myriads of inhabitants, and these are all busily occupied in various ways—forming tunnels, making roads, gathering food and watching over the eggs and youngsters. The natives are afraid to touch the hills, except from a distance with firearms. The ants often make their strongholds round trees, and they are built very solidly, with sides sometimes twenty inches thick. The inside is hollow, and at the top there is a sort of attic. The "royal sell" where the queen ant lives, is always found on the ground floor. This good lady is a prisoner, but is carefully fed by her busy subjects. The eggs she lays being immediately carried away and deposited in "rooms" set apart for the purpose.—Wide World Magazine.

When the bowels feel uncomfortable and you miss the exhilarating feeling that always follows a copious morning operation, a dose of HERBINE will set you right in a couple of hours. If taken at bedtime you get its beneficial effect after breakfast next day. Price 50c. Sold by James H. Orme and Haynes & Taylor.

Home Blessings.

(BY REV. J. B. MCNEELY.)

"As for me and my house we will serve the Lord." Josh. 24:15. The crown of the home is Godliness.—In every home the great creator should be honored reverently. We should teach our children that there is a God, our creator. Besides Him, there is no other; impress the fact that He made all things. Then let us crown Him Lord of all.

The beauty of the home is order.—There is nothing that attracts the attention more than order, and it makes a good impression as concerning or pertaining to the home than order in every department. In this we are honoring our families by teaching obedience to State, Nation and to God.

The glory of the home is hospitality.—Kindness and affection one toward another. All these traits are and should be taught in every home. Hospitality and kindness of the children toward each other, and obedience to parents and submission to each other's rights and obedience to God. Hospitality and benevolence toward strangers.

The blessing of the home is contentment.—Then to be a pleasant home there should be no strife, scorn, contention or acting in a perverse manner toward each other. But there should be kindness and affection one to another. Then all should be contented with their lot, not striving against each other.

Then the blessing of the home is Godliness, order, hospitality and contentment. The great Divine, ruling it all.

751 LIVE FOXES

Fur Output For District in Present Season $600,000.

Edmonton, Alta., Aug. 8.—Seven hundred and fifty-one live foxes, valued at more than $600,000, have been trapped or dug out of their nests in the fur districts north of Edmonton since the beginning of the season. The highest price paid for a pair of black foxes is $20,000. The animals were bought by C. J. Fleming, of St. John, N. B., from a half-breed Indian trapper at Lac la Riche. T. J. McMann, of Edmonton, recently sold 51 fox whelps, all colors, for $26,000 to James A. Kane, of Brooklyn, N. Y., who has fox farms in New York and Pennsylvania. The exportation of live foxes has become so active in northern Alberta that Benjamin Lawton, chief game guardian, has been requested by the provincial government to recommend a closed season the same as there is for other furbearing animals.

There is no horse liniment more effective for animal flesh than BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT, nor is there any healing remedy for the human body only, that is milder or more efficacious in its action. It heals the sores or wounds of man and beast. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Haynes & Taylor and Jas. H. Orme.

W. B Fleming Appointed Trade Adviser by Bryan.

Washington, Aug. 8.—W. B. Fleming, of Louisville, today was appointed Trade Adviser to the State Department at $4,500 a year. The appointment was personal with the Secretary of State, and was attended as a reward to Judge Fleming for loyal party service and uninterrupted friendship for Mr. Bryan. The action of the Secretary was concurred in by Senator James and Representative Swagar Sherley, both of whom had some time ago endorsed Judge Fleming for an office in the Department of Commerce.

Money Made Out of Beans.

A contributor to the current issue of Farm and Fireside says: "Last year I utilized an acre of sandy ground which otherwise would have been idle. I hired the men to plant it in navy beans. They did that with the corn-planter. It took them only a short time. They also cultivated the acre at the proper time and helped me thrash the beans in the fall. I paid for this help at the rate of four dollars per day, amounting altogether to six dollars. For the seed I paid two dollars.

"I had, when all gathered in, twenty bushels of beans, for which I received three dollars per bushel at wholesale, netting me $52 for my headwork."

Bites of poisonous insects that cause the flesh to swell up must be treated with a healing antiseptic that will counteract the poison and heal the wound. BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT answers every requirement in such cases. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Jas. H. Orme and Haynes & Taylor.

Business Talent Needed Among Farmers.

Farm and Fireside says: "Many farmers are a great success at growing crops, but they fall down miserably when it comes to getting the money out of these crops. What we need at the present time more than any other one thing is better business talent on the part of our farmers."

Breeders of fine horses prefer BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT for all cuts, wounds or sores on their stock, because it acts both mildly and quickly and heals an ordinary wound without a scar. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. Sold by Haynes & Taylor and Jas. H. Orme.

A young woman who keeps her hands white at the expense of her mother, who performs the household duties, is never likely to astonish people with her order and cleanliness when she get a home of her own. Neither is the young man who depends on his father for the necessities of life and the good clothes which he wears, apt to set a very large portion of the world afire. —Exchange.

In Memory.

In memory of David L. Perkins who died July the 8th 1913, age 22 years and 10 months, and who was born Sept. the 9th 1890. He professed faith in Christ in 1909 and joined the Methodist church at Martins Chapel. Married Oct. 6th, 1912, to Miss Nellie Travis, daughter of the deceased W. L. Travis, having been married only nine months and two days. He was a sufferer of that dreadful disease tuberculosis of the throat but bore his affliction with great patience and prayer.

To our human vision his stay here was all too short, and we were not ready to give him up but his malady from the beginning baffled the best medical skill the country affords and set at naught all the thousand and one tender attentions and ministrations wrought by loving hands and kind friends. He passed those last hours of suffering in prayer to God, and at different times during his great suffering he called on the friends present to pray for him in his afflictions and for his friends who so willingly administered to his wants during his afflictions.

Dave was a good boy and loved by all that knew him. He was the home dispelling all sadness with his genial nature and made all feel welcome that entered his home. He had his friends many times during his afflictions to sing for him, his favorite song being the "Life Boat." But he listens no more to the earthly choir, his eyes are closed on earthly scenes only to open them with enraptured vision amid the splendors of Paradise. He has dropped his harp and scepter only to wave the palms of victory and sweep celestial harps with deft fingers awakening the blissful harmonies of heaven. He told his wife a short time before he expired that he was going to die, and that he was willing and ready to go, but hated to leave her. What a comfort it is to us who have accepted Jesus Christ, to be able to say like him when dying, "I am reconciled to God's will notwithstanding we all have earthly ties here that we love and hate to part from." Vain is any attempt to measure the loss of this life. After all the poets have sung, and all the lovers dreamed, we are still unable to find anything that will satisfy the heart for the vacant chair. Only the memory is left and this we shall cherish through future life. We loved him so much, but God loved him more, and now that his life, which scattered so much sunshine, has gone to shine more beautifully on the other side, may it prove a beacon light to land the Wife Brothers and Sisters and other loved ones on the other. Weep not as those who have no hope, but ever cherish the thought that Jesus doeth all things well.

The funeral services were conducted at the home of E. T. Perkins, near Francis, by Rev. Woodson, of Eddyville, Ky. His subject being taken from the 18 verse of the 4th chapter of Thessalonians. Wherefore comfort one another with these words. He made an excellent talk on the resurrection of the dead, then the remains were laid to rest by the side of his father in the family grave yard.

Weep not that his toils are o'er.

Weep not that his race is run,
God grant we may rest as calmly.

When our work like his is done.
A Friend.

A LONGING.

I long to be, and not to seem;
I long to know, and not to dream;
I long to see, and not to grope;
I long to live a life of hope.

I long to reach the heights of lore;
I long my mind with facts to store;
I long to read and learn of men;
I long to see old friends again.

I long to live with all in peace;
I long that I, when life shall cease,
Shall leave a pure and stainless name;
I long not for power and fame.

I long to be good, kind and true;
I long to do some good for you;
I long to have the love divine;
I long for heaven to be mine.

I long to live, and without blame;
I long for a life free from shame;
I long to live, but not to roam;
I long to gain a happy home.

I long to earn my living here;
I long to be chaste and sincere;
I long to live a life of love;
I long to gain the courts above.

I long that I, when dead, shall find
That friends of mine, so true and kind
Will place a stone to mark the place
Where I have gone like all the race.

A Delightful Fishing Trip.

On the last day of July, there was quite a number of us went on a fishing tour at Barnett's lake near Rosiclar, Ill. The party consisted of Grover White and wife, John Boyd and family, Charlie Boyd and family, Miss Denzil Beard, of near Hebron; A. B. Griffin and family and several others joined our band before we reached the lake.

About 7:30 o'clock, a. m., most of the crowd had gathered at the home of A. B. Griffin, and we started from there.

Then the fun began. There was one wagon load of men and quite a number of us in buggies. There was one apple orchard visited and some of the crowd enjoyed a watermelon which some of us missed, nevertheless we will get that back on you sooner or later.

We drove over a long beautiful road, then came to a fine well of water, where we watered our teams, and ourselves, then quickly ended our journey at the lake.

There the men prepared for seining the lake, after dragging the lake they drew out many large fish and the women began to prepare for frying them and making coffee. After this was done, the men were called for dinner, and the large baskets that had been prepared for that day, were brought down to the edge of the water and the nice things were spread on the ground and was enjoyed by everyone present. After the dinner was cleared away, and the little children napped awhile and the women laughing and talking. About the grandest thing was the little people wading in the lake. We believe they were the prettiest children we ever saw before. We can't tell how pleased they were. They were little Annie Mae Boyd, Garland Griffin, Charline Boyd, Wilson Boyd, and Bennett Hamilton. They wadded in the water for quite awhile, then they were redressed and we started for home. Then there were horse-racing, and many other things to make it a gala day for us.

We reached Mr. Griffin's and the fish were divided and each one started for their respective homes. So this ended our fishing trip.

Letter From Washington.

Zillah, Wash., Aug. 1, 1913.
Dear Editor:—

I wish to let my friends and relatives know through the columns of your paper that I arrived home safely, and stood the trip fine.

I spent the winter with my sisters and brothers and their families in and around Crayne and Marion, Ky. I was glad to be with them again, after being away out west for nine years. I visited all of my childhood homes and churches, and I certainly had a good time. Last of March I went to Paducah to be with my son and brother for a few weeks, was there during the Ohio floods and cyclones of that place.

I am safe at home and came alone from St. Louis. Hayze, my son, having come that far with me. I had spent four months with him who now resides at Paducah, Ky.

I am now 66 years old, can still work, and have good health. Found all friends and relatives in our western homes, O. K.

I love my native State, Kentucky, and dearly remember my beloved ones there. I found it better in many respects than I expected here. Yet I am glad to get back in the west, where it is cool and nice to rest, 104 is the warmest it has ever been here and only a few days. It is always cool at nights.

Everybody is busy in their fruit. The trees are loaded.

I wish to thank every one that lend a helping hand or spoke a kind word to me. I am sorry I did not get to see all that I once knew. I stayed there seven months and certainly had a nice time. If I live long enough I may come back again. If not, meet me in Heaven, where a majority of "our loved ones" are awaiting us now. May God be with and bless you one all.

Would be glad to hear from all who knew me.

Dr. D. Ward King Knows
How to Break Horses.
Rolla, Mo.,
August 10 1913.

Editor: The Management of the Barnitz Lake Chautauqua which is in session in Dent county about a dozen miles southeast of this place, is offering a decidedly unique number for Wednesday afternoon, consisting of a lecture entitled, "How to Manage a Wild Horse Without Touching Its Head," to be delivered by Mr. D. Ward King, of Maitland, Mo.

After the lecture Mr. King will give a practical demonstration of his new way of handling horses by going into a tight enclosure with a wild horse, when, without bridle or halter, or anything attached to its head or neck, he promises to harness it and drive it about at will.

D. Ward King's name is familiar to the public as the man who invented the split log drag, but his standing as an expert with horses is not so well known. However, our people are in a receptive frame of mind.

In the evening of the same day (Wednesday) he will deliver his famous address on "The Split Log Drag."

Her many friends here will regret to know that Mrs. May Wyatt, who is now residing in Cairo, Ill., with Miss Mary Wyatt, and the Misses Gholsons has recently been quite ill and is now in the hospital and under the care of a trained nurse.

KEPT HIS MARRIAGE A SOUND SECRET.

Arch Hatchett And Miss Lizzie
Waupele Married Jan. 17.

The many friends of Arch Hatchett, the efficient and accommodating deputy circuit court clerk, will be surprised to learn that he was married last January to Miss Lizzie Waupele, of Morganfield, at Mt. Vernon, Ind.

Mr. Hatchett and his bride kept their marriage a profound secret. Not even their most intimate friends knew of it until Wednesday, when in some manner it leaked out.

Mrs. Hatchett is one of the best known women in Union county. She is postmistress at Morganfield. Mr. Hatchett served as deputy county clerk at Morganfield for a year before returning to this city to accept a deputyship under Clerk Crafton.—Henderson Gleaner.

Find Big Rattle in

The Room With Baby.

Bedford, Ind., Aug. 15.—Mrs. James Young, of Piqua, O., who is visiting her sister here, tells of a thrilling experience she had at her mother's home, Mrs. Jas. Beavers, east of here, with a rattlesnake that had hid itself in a crack in the wall paper, fell to the floor when they entered the room to look after her six-month-old baby that was asleep on the bed. They fled from the room and the snake escaped from the house.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES

A Woman Finds All Her Energy And Ambition Slipping Away.

Marion woman know how the aches and pains that often come when the kidneys fail to make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, are frequent indications of weak kidneys and should be checked in time. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney diseases by striking at the cause.

Can Marion sufferers desire stronger proof than this Princeton woman's word?

Mattie L. Morse, Princeton, Ky., says: "For fifteen years I had kidney trouble. I suffered from pains in the small of the back and whenever I stooped or lifted, sharp twinges darted through me. My back ached at night and was very lame in the morning. I tired easily and was often nervous. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused annoyance. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills and they improved my health greatly."

Frozen Rabbits A Dainty

Dish in Europe.

To such extent has Argentine's frozen hare industry developed that the Government has been asked to lend assistance with respect to obtaining a greater quantity of supplies, and announcement is made that the principal difficulty is the lack of trappers. France is a ready market having taken 300,000 frozen hares this season. The preserved hares have taken premiums at the exhibitions in Paris, Naples, Liege, London and Rome. Great Britain alone imports over 500,000 pounds of frozen rabbit annually.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE

CROSSING THE RED SEA.
Exodus 14:19-31—Aug. 17.
"Before they call, I will answer."—Isaiah 65:24.

THE Bible story of Israel's miraculous crossing of the Red Sea has long been questioned by agnostics, who also questioned the large number ascribed to Israel—300,000 men, implying a total of 2,000,000 or more. However, the Bible finally is triumphing. Misstatements and failures properly to interpret figures of speech were the basis of our misunderstandings.

Professor Flanders' People calls attention to the fact that the Hebrew word afaf is used in the Scriptures sometimes to mean a thousand and at other times to signify group, families, or tents, very much as we use the word regiment to signify a group of a thousand men, yet often far less in number, especially after a battle. Thus understood, the record, "Judah 74,600," would read, Judah, seventy-four families, or tents, with six hundred men in all; "so they set forward, every one after their families," according to the house of their fathers.—Numbers 2:34.

Thus reckoned, the entire host of Israel might be estimated at about 30,000. Even this was a goodly host to be the descendants of Jacob in but little more than two centuries. That the Israelites were very prolific was evidenced by the Egyptian decree which sought to destroy their children, fearful that eventually they would outnumber the Egyptians.

Necessity of the Miracles.
A miracle is not necessarily a violation of a law of Nature. An unusual occurrence, indicating an interposition of Divine Power in human affairs, would be a miracle, even though it conformed to natural laws. God rarely works miracles except in necessity.

Three roads led out of Egypt in the direction of Palestine; but as a military wall extended from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea to protect against invading armies, these roads had access into Egypt only through strong iron gates.

One of these roads led through the country of the Philistines, to pass through which so large a body of people would have been prohibited. The second road led through a sandy desert, furnishing neither provender nor water. The third road was the one which the Israelites took, leading through the wild mountain regions of Sinai, where they found pasture.

Several days elapsed before the Israelites reached the Red Sea. Meantime, Pharaoh perceived that the Israelites had wandered about as though undecided which road to take, and concluded that it would be easy to bring them back. The gates of the wall were closed, and several hundred chariots and footmen sent to pursue.

Meantime, the Israelites had passed through two mountain ranges, up against the northern arm of the Red Sea—the Gulf of Suez. Apparently they had gone into a pen, from which there was no escape. Divine providence arranged that a heavy pillar of cloud, or fog, hovered over the Egyptian camp, while there was a bright light in the Israelites' camp. Thus the Egyptians were delayed, and the Israelites moved on until they came to the Sea and beheld that they were hemmed in. Then they cried to the Lord and to Moses, requesting to be permitted to return to Egyptian bondage.

But the word of the Lord through Moses was that soon they would see Jehovah God bring deliverance. Meantime, the north wind began to blow, and gradually the waters receded southward, uncovering a ledge and sand bar, upon which the Israelites crossed to the other side. The belated Egyptians followed, possibly not realizing that they were on land actually covered by water.

As they progressed into the moist sand, the Egyptian chariot wheels became clogged, their horses went more slowly, then balked, wheels broke, etc., until the Egyptians concluded that, in the figurative language of that time, God had looked upon them with an evil eye out of the cloudy pillar. Possibly there was some manifestation, such as a lightning flash. Meantime, the wind had changed to the south. Before the Egyptians could extricate themselves the water was upon them, and they soon were overwhelmed.

There is nothing in this account to stagger faith. United States Government Reports show that the waters of Lake Erie have varied as much as fifteen feet at Toledo, by reason of change of wind, and without any special hurricane. What has staggered our faith in the past was the statement that the Sea constituted a wall on either side of the Israelites. But the word wall in its broadest sense signifies barricade. The United States has the Atlantic as a protective wall on one side and the Pacific on the other.

If the Bible is interpreted with a little common sense, it is entirely reasonable, rich in knowledge and wisdom from an High.

Man and Young Woman Killed
When Train Struck
Automobile.

Rochester, N. Y., Aug. 9.—E. K. Sankpeal, vice president of a lumber company, and Miss Martha Hartlebin, a young woman of this city, were instantly killed early today when an automobile, driven by Sankpeal was struck by the Wolverine Express on the New York Central at a crossing in Penfield, a few miles from the city.

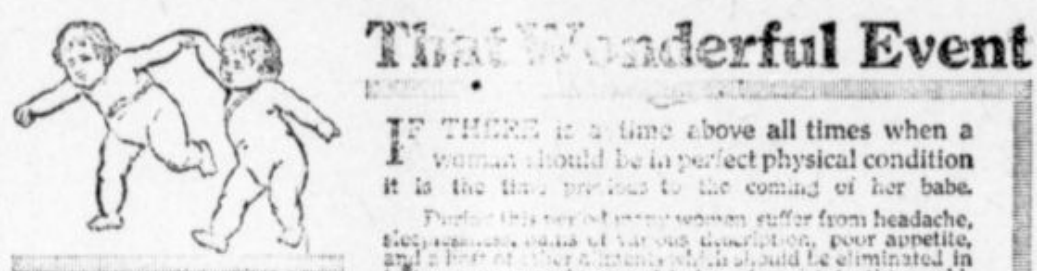

Mrs. Sangpeal identified both bodies at the morgue this morning. She told the coroner she had quarreled with her husband last night, and he left her in anger. She was sitting up awaiting his return when notified of the accident.

PULMOTOR PUTS LIFE IN BABY

Born Without Heart Action Breathes After 37 Minutes

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 8.—Forty-four minutes after an 11 pound baby was born Monday to Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Weaver of this city, without any heart action and no signs of breathing, life was put into it by means of a pulmotor. The physicians in attendance, Dr. Stauffer and Dr. Perkins, sent at once to the offices of the Harrisburg Gas company for the pulmotor when the child was born.

It required seven minutes to rush the machine across the city and after 37 minutes of work the infant began to breathe and cry.

Good Reason for His Enthusiasm.

When a man has suffered for several days with colic, diarrhoea or other form of bowel complaint and is then cured sound and well by one or two doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera Diarrhoea Remedy, as is often the case, it is but natural that he shall be enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy, and especially is this the case of a severe attack when life is threatened. Try it when in need of such a remedy. It never fails. Sold by all dealers. 8

The Elephant's Bath.

The elephant enjoys a bath in the streams and pools of his native habitat, but his lordly brother in captivity finds no such comfort in the bath that from time to time is given him. A trainer thus describes the expensive operation.

It takes a week to carry out the process in every detail. It requires the services of three men and costs $300. This treatment is necessary for a show elephant and, if the animal is a valuable one, the proprietor of the show does not consider the money wasted.

The first step consists of going over the immense body with the best soap procurable; 150 pounds of soap is used, and the elephant's ears are especially attended to. When the soaping and drying are completed, the elephant is well sand-papered, and after that rubbed all over with the purest Indian oil until the mouse gray skin is supple and glistening.

This last finishing touch is the most expensive part of the whole bath, as it means the application of about $150 worth of olive

GETTING READY FOR BIG TRAINS.

I. C. will Spend $2,000,000 Between Memphis and New Orleans.

Memphis, Aug. 8.—It is rumored and not denied by local officials of the Illinois Central railroad and the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley Railroad company that $2,000,000 will be spent to relay the main line of the Illinois Central from Memphis to New Orleans with heavier steel in order to take care of the largest engines ever sent to a southern railroad.

Work, it is said, will begin in the next thirty days. The entire track is to be relaid together with several long sidings.

It is also said that the Yazoo & Mississippi Valley line will be relaid with heavier steel from Baton Rouge to New Orleans at a cost of more than a million dollars.

Work will begin at once on the $300,000 roundhouses at Nonconah yards, and the second track from that point to Lake Cormorant, Miss., will be finished by the middle of August.

The company is preparing to double the present freight and passenger depot at Clarksdale. Engineers have finished their gradings and workmen will be put on the job next week.

The new roundhouses at Memphis will mark the beginning of machine shops and yard improvements that are going to cost the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley line $3,000,000, according to a statement made several weeks ago by General Superintendent Egan.

Costly Treatment.

"I was troubled with constipation and indigestion and spent hundreds of dollars for medicine and treatment," writes C. H. Hines, of Whitlow, Ark. "I went to a St. Louis hospital, also to a hospital in New Orleans, but no cure was effected. On returning home I began taking Chamberlain's Tablets, and worked right along. I used them for some time and am now all right." Sold by all dealers.

SHIP CARRYING $700,000 GOLD ARRIVES IN SEATTLE

City Celebrating Golden Potlatch
When Vessel Arrives, As Did
One In 1897.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 9.—The steamer Senator arrived from Nome, Alaska, today with $700,000 in gold bullion, a timely incident in the Golden Potlatch, which is held here every year to commemorate the arrival of the first Klondike gold shipment in 1897, also with $700,000 in gold.

Among today's Potlatch features was an entertainment in the armory for the men of the Pacific reserve fleet.

Secretary of the Navy, Joseph Daniels, was the guest of honor at a banquet in the Ranier, and afterward attended an informal reception at the Press Club.

A Red Letter Day at Brown's School House.

The third Sunday of July will long be remembered by the good people of the Brown School House section. At 10 o'clock a. m. the pupils of the Sunday School marched in regular order from the School House to the stand in the grove, each carrying a flag, the banner, "Brown's Sunday School," being carried in front. Then recitations followed which were well prepared and delivered. Preaching at 11 o'clock, then dinner, Oh! The "grub" it was there, of every kind and flavor. The writer of this item left at 1:30 p. m., but from what we learn the afternoon program was full of interest and the day was well spent, and will be remembered as a great day by the people of that community.

Gas in the stomach comes from food which has fermented. Get rid of this badly digested food as quickly as possible if you would avoid a bilious attack; HERBINE is the remedy you need. It cleanses and strengthens the stomach, liver and bowels, and restores energy and cheerfulness. Price 50c. Sold by Haynes & Taylor and James H. Orme.

"Cured"

Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

TAKE Cardui The Woman's Tonic

Cardui helps women in time of greatest need, because it contains ingredients which act specifically, yet gently, on the weakened womanly organs. So, if you feel discouraged, blue, out-of-sorts, unable to do your household work, on account of your condition, stop worrying and give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women,—why not you? LOVE.

If folks loved folks while folks are alive.

As folks love folks who've departed,

The unkind deed would be left undone,

And the word unsaid that smarted.

If folks loved folks in the here and the now

As folks hope to love hereafter,

Then hearts would be cheered and eyes be cleared,

And the earth would be filled with laughter.

If folks loved folks as folks claim to love God,

A heaven would be made of the nation,

His Kingdom would come, His will would be done,

And the race would then see his salvation,—Jessie E. Firth.

TO SHOOT NIAGARA FALLS

Rodman Law, Human Fly, Plans to Attempt Feat in Two Months.

Lake Placid, N. Y., Aug. 9.—Rodman Law returned here last night after having successfully shot Rainbow Falls at the head of Ausable Chasm, suffering only from a badly bruised left hip. This latest stunt of the human fly was made under contract with a motion picture house.

The flat-bottom boat used by Law stuck on the rock ledge at the top of the falls and when finally worked loose by the daredevil occupant dropped the sheer fall of 75 feet and crashing through 10 feet of water at the base, broke in pieces on the rock bed of the river below. Law swam ashore.

Law, who will remain here some time doing stunts, says he is having a special suit and boat made and that he plans in about two months to go over Niagara Falls.

D. WARD KING'S HOME STATE.

Will Drag 7,000 Miles of Highway recently Became Law.

Governor Major approved the bill to use $225,000 of the State's money to drag the roads connecting all county seats.

It is to be borne in mind that both these bills distributed the State's money practically equally among the counties. But the bill which he rightly vetoed apportioned the money in 115 equal parts, with no specific provision for its expenditure and with the almost certain results that it be frittered away by county politicians.

By the good bill, which the governor approved, the counties will get the money, but it will be applied to dragging roads to and from the county seat—roads selected with the advice of the state highway department. The result will be a system of 7,000 miles of connected good earth roads. The roads will be excellent within themselves. They will be excellent, also, in furnishing an incentive to macadam highways and in providing the system to be macadamized.—Kansas City, (Mo.) Star.

The game was featured with brilliant fielding on the part of Ford's

Sea Sank Under Warships.

Milan.—A curious phenomenon is reported here from Southern Italy. During the recent period of earthquake shocks and renewed volcanic activity, Count Getto Biscaretti, commander of the Vettor Pisani, with three other torpedo vessels was engaged in target practice in the Gulf of Salerno, when the sea suddenly began to sink at so amazing a rate that he was constrained to weigh anchor and steam 300 yards away. The center of the disturbance seemed almost immediately under the feet.

This remarkable phenomenon was witnessed also by Admiral Corsi and the members of the various crews. They said it was unique in their experience. The lower level was observed for a quarter of an hour. Then the sea returned to its normal level, and after a while the whole phenomenon was repeated. The same phenomenon was observed over a space of two hours in the Bay of Naples and also at Messina. Near the latter port in the salt lake of Ganzirra, celebrated for its oyster and other shellfish beds, the water became boiling hot during the night, so that the fisherfolk found the surface covered with tons of cooked fish and molluscs.

Remarkable Cure of Dysentery.

"I was attacked with dysentery about July 15th, and used the doctor's medicine and other remedies with no relief, only getting worse all the time. I was unable to do anything and my weight dropped from 145 to 125 pounds. I suffered for about two months when I was advised to use Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I used two bottles of it and it gave me permanent relief," writes B. W. Hill, of Snow Hill, N. C. For sale by all dealers.

Persian Legend About Goats.

In the course of an article about "Goats" in the current issue of Farm and Fireside appears the following:

"In Persia there is a legend regarding the goat, which tells us that the goat, without fault of her own, excited the prejudice of mankind until her life was unbearable. The powers then made it possible for her to find sustenance on inaccessible mountain-tops where man could not molest her, and she was given the power to find by instinct the leaf of healing, so that she would never become ill. And after centuries of insolation she was to return and live again among the haunts of men, to be a 'blessed' animal and to be indispensable to his needs, alone having power to save him from many troubles."

OUR $5,000,000 COCKROACH

E. W. PICKARD

CUCARACHA SLIDE

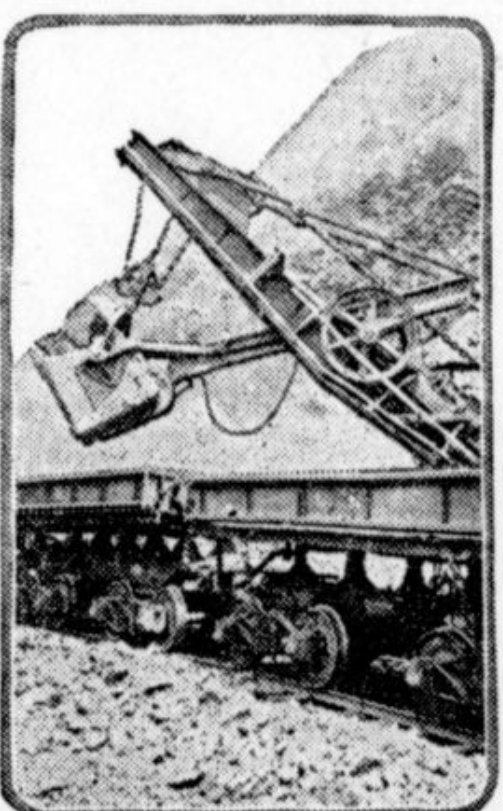

Colon, C. Z.—If you wish to hear "language," just say "Cucaracha" to one of the engineers engaged in building the central division of the Panama canal.

Cucaracha in Spanish means a cockroach. In the Canal Zone it means the greatest of the numerous slides that have made the completion of the Culebra cut so different and so expensive. Why that slide was named the cockroach I could not discover. Certainly even the Panamanian cockroach is not so large, and he moves much more swiftly.

Before the first French company quit operations in 1889 the Cucaracha began to slide, and it first gave the Americans trouble in 1905, the second year of their work on the canal. Between then and July 1, 1912, nearly 3,000,000 cubic yards of material was removed from the canal because of it. The slide had broken nearly 1,900 feet from the axis of the canal, and covered an area of 47 acres. Last fall the engineers were congratulating themselves on having the cockroach stopped, but in January it started moving again, and nearly covered the bottom of the cut.

"What is going to be the cost of that slide to the United States?" I asked Colonel Goethals as we stood at the edge of the Culebra cut and looked across the chasm to where the steam shovels and hundreds of men were laboring to remove the vast mass of earth and rock.

"Well," the chief engineer replied, "our estimate is that by the time it is all cleared up it will have required the expenditure of about $5,000,000 more than the cut would have cost if the slide had not occurred. It is still moving, and has broken so far back that now we are shoveling the crest away from the canal in order to relieve the pressure from above. Before the movement in January began the excavation in the cut at that point had been carried to within 15 feet of the canal bottom. Digging out that 15 feet of material removed the support of the Cucaracha, and down it came. If we could have turned in the water and taken out the 15 feet with dragages, I think the pressure of the water would have done much to prevent the slide.

"What of the future?" I asked. "Is there any danger of slides occurring after the canal is opened?"

"Absolutely none, I believe," he answered. "When the excavating and dynamiting have ceased and the water is in, it will be quite safe. We have the slides and breaks mapped out as far back as there is any indication of their extending, and are working back to those lines. It is merely a matter of persistency and patience."

"When will the water be let into the cut?"

"In October," replied Colonel Goethals. "But there will be no celebration over the event. That one in January, 1915, is giving us enough worry, and we don't forget the premature and ridiculous celebration by Ferdinand de Lesseps many years ago. We will just turn the water in—that's all. Then we can complete the excavation there with suction dragages, which will do the work cheaply and rapidly."

"And when will boats be passing through the canal?"

"That I cannot say, but the sooner the better, for the operating crews must be properly trained before that January celebration. I wouldn't have an accident occur for anything. If we cannot have commercial vessels going through before then, I shall ask the government to send naval vessels through, so the operating forces can get the experience. Anyhow, I want to see the canal opened to commerce as soon as possible, for it is revenue I am after."

Another day I stood with Col. D. E. Gaillard, the engineer of the central division, outside his office in Empire, and watched his army laboring in the cut, the completion of which has been his biggest task and greatest glory. Right at our feet a big area had sunk down 70 feet in a night, and if there had not been warnings of the break a wing of the colonel's office building would have gone down with it. "We had just time to remove that wing," said he, "and my office force is rather nervous now, for there are three big cracks under the main building. I expect it, too, will have to be torn down very soon."

"These slides used to make us rather despondent, for it seemed as if they never would stop, but the progress we are making this year has cheered up the operating forces again, and we can see the end of the task. The slide and the break are quite different. In the former the earth slides at an angle down a sloping face of rock, and in the latter the mass sinks straight down and at the bottom bulges out into the channel. Along both sides of the cut you can see numerous small slides and breaks. Those are in pockets in the rock wall, and, annoying as they are, they only need cleaning out. The Cucaracha started as a slide and now it is both a slide and a break."

"Incidentally, that cut should be a great place for geologists. I have found in it every kind of rock except granite, and many interesting fossils and petrification have been discovered there. In one stratum through which we cut there were found a great number of teeth of prehistoric varieties of sharks."

"What is your opinion concerning the date when the canal will be ready for commerce?" I asked.

"If I had my say," said the colonel emphatically, "not a commercial vessel would be allowed in the canal until it is absolutely complete down to the smallest detail. In some of the many safety devices were not in operation and an accident should result, the canal would get a black eye from which it might not recover for a long time. Officially, the time for the completion of the canal is still January 1, 1915. It may be done before that date, but in March of this year there was still about $50,000,000 worth of work ahead of us."

"We who have been digging the canal and are still here in positions of responsibility—I mean the members of the Isthmian canal commission—are rather fearful concerning that part of the Adamson bill which permits the president to dissolve the commission whenever in his judgment the canal is near enough to completion. We feel that it would be extremely unjust not to allow us to remain on the job until after the grand formal opening in January, 1915. It would be much like permitting a boy to complete his university course, and then taking him home before he receives his diploma."

And then Colonel Gaillard said some things about Mr. Taft's efforts to put into effect that clause last January, which must have made the ex-president's ears tingle a bit.

"The Culebra cut is like a three-ring circus. I don't know which way to look," said one visitor to the zone.

It is indeed a scene of wonderful activity. Giant steam shovels are scattered through it, scooping up enormous masses of rock and earth; on half a dozen tracks on as many different levels snorting and puffing locomotives are swiftly drawing loaded or empty dirt trains; along the ledges are batteries of steam and compressed air drills, making holes for dynamite; suddenly there is a toot-tooting of a steam whistle, a hundred men scurry to shelter, and a dynamite blast fills the air with sound and dirt and rocks.

Watching the steam shovels is a favorite occupation of visitors who venture down into the Culebra cut. They seem almost human, and do a vast amount of work. Their dippers hold five cubic yards of material, weighing on an average a little more than three tons. This spoil is emptied into cars of several kinds. Flat cars with one high side are unloaded by ploys that are drawn the length of the train by cables upon a winding drum. The others are dump cars, the largest of which are operated by compressed air from the locomotive. The trains haul the spoil from the cut to dumping grounds, which on an average are about 12 miles distant. Some 18,000,000 cubic yards of this material was used as filling for the long breakwater at the Pacific entrance.

Rupture Cured WHILE YOU WORK

Paducah, Ky., July 23, 1913.
To Whom It May Concern:

This is to certify that for 12 years I was a sufferer from double rupture. During that time I tried many remedies which only left me with a lighter purse and disappointment as far as any relief was concerned.

A friend of mine who had been cured of a rupture, of many years duration, by Dr. Murphey, kindly told me of him and I determined to try his treatment. As a result I am cured of my rupture and would here record my appreciation to Dr. Murphey for the benefit his treatment has brought me.

For many years I also suffered with hemorrhoids and once was operated on with the knife, but it failed to cure me. For this ailment I was also treated and cured by Dr. Murphey. I will add in conclusion, that there was no cutting operation used either in the treatment of my rupture or hemorrhoids.

Respectfully,

H. W. BURWELL,
Pastor First Presbyterian Church.

Paducah, Ky., July 23, 1913.
I take pleasure in testifying that Dr. G. N. Murphey has cured me of a painful rupture which had troubled me greatly for 24 years.

The cure was made about 18 months ago, and I have not worn a truss for more than a year.

REV. H. M. WEISECKE,
Pastor Unity Evangelical Church.

Paducah, Ky., July, 1913.
To Whom It May Concern:
I take pleasure in recommending Dr. Murphey to any one suffering with rupture. I was cured by him in February, 1911, and have not worn a truss for more than two years. I am perfectly free of rupture.

BRYAN HERRING,
Employee I. C. R. R. Shops.

Paducah, Ky., July, 1913.
To Whom It May Concern:
I cheerfully certify to the fact that I was cured of a rupture from which I suffered for 56 years by Dr. Murphey. I have been cured for the past two years and would not take a thousand dollars for the relief it has already afforded me.

Hemorrhoids Cured Without the Knife.

Dr. Eugene F. Hoyt, a well known surgeon of New York City, says: "There is not a possible case of piles that can not be cured without the knife, and I am at a loss to explain why so many cling to the methods that carry with it so much suffering." After fifteen years experience in treating hemorrhoids with the hydropneumatic needle, I can fully endorse every word of the above statement. I have also cured more than one hundred cases of malignancy or cancer in the past twenty years.

The dry weather continues, but we are not complaining. All things work together for good to those that love the Lord.

Quite a number of people from this neighborhood are attending the camp meeting at Piny Fork.

School opened Monday morning with Miss Etta Boister as teacher. Sixteen boys and girls present with smiling faces. We have a good school house and plenty of water. We are counting on another good school this term.

Sidney Freeman, his mother and sister, all of Louisville, are visiting relatives in this community. We are always glad to see them.

The peach crop makes us think of the fruit the twelve spies brought out of the land of Canaan. That is the amount, not the quality.

WESTON

We had some rain here Thursday which was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Lilly Hughes and little daughter.

Inez and Hattie, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Wm. Plew, of Tolu.

Mrs. Beatrice Crisp, of near Mattoon, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. J. W. Bennett.

Our protracted meeting begins here Wednesday night Sept. 3rd. Everybody come and help us to have a good meeting.

G. W. Baker and daughter, Miss Cora, left Monday for Paducah, where they will remain for a short time and then leave for Memphis, Tenn. We have had Cora with us for some time and it makes us sad to part with her. We wish her much joy and happiness in her new home.

J. W. Bennett and S. A. Dillard were in Blackford, Tuesday on business.

John Marvell and family, of near Repton, spent Thursday in Weston on the bank of the river frying fish.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Johnson left Friday morning for Paducah where they will reside.

Maurice Wilson and family have moved to Weston.

Miss Nannie Mae Williams was the guest of Miss Lillian Bennett, Sunday.

Capt. Sturgeon and Boyd Gahagen will give an excursion trip to Rosiclare, Aug. 17th. Round trip 50 cents. Will leave Weston at 7 o'clock.

The Parker hill near Weston is in a better shape than it ever was known before. It is a regular automobile road. Hurrah for our road overseer, Robert Gahagen.

The river is very low. The Abigail is the only boat running now.

Klondiker Strikes it Rich And Makes Good His Promise.

Macon, Mo., Aug. 11.—Gratitude, that sprang from a kindness done seven years ago, entered the home of Jack Borron, near Macon, last night, when George Pratt, who was cared for by Borron and his wife during a trying period of his life, returned home from the Klondike gold fields, where he had made a fortune. When Pratt appeared at the Borron home he was not recognized.

"Beg pardon," said Borron, "but who is this?" "George Pratt," was the reply. "Just in from the Klondike, Don't you remember me?" Pratt then took a big roll of bills from his pocket and peeled off $1,500, which he handed to Borron.

"Stuff that in your jeans," he said. "If you need any more, I'm your banker. Tomorrow we'll go to town and buy a motor car for the wife. I'm just crazy to ride in one of those things."

When Pratt was on his way from the East to the Klondike in 1906 he stopped at Borron's house and asked for something to eat. He was given the best in the house and invited to remain over night. That night he was taken ill and for more than a month Borron and his wife ministered to the wants of the sick stranger. Borron paid the doctor's bill and gave Pratt enough money to get to Kansas City.

"If I strike it, friends," said Pratt as he was leaving, "you will hear from me." Pratt "struck it" and they "heard" from him last night when they gratefully accepted his generosity.

NEW SALEM

The present drouth has practically ruined all crops, to say the least of it. Our people are facing a hard proposition for the coming winter. The man with a fat bank account, with him it is not so bad, but the poor man with a house full of little helpless children, on rented land, is the man to be pitted, with debts, taxes, etc., to be paid he is the man that is going to see the monkey before the grass comes again.
