END OF LIFE'S LONG JOURNEY

Eighty-Five Years of An Upright Life Left as a Heritage by J.
M. Dean to His Children.

Joseph Madison Dean, a most highly esteemed citizen of the Iron Hill section, was called to his reward Thursday afternoon, Sept. 25th., 1913, at 5 o'clock.

He had been in feeble health from the diseases incident to old age, for a year past and had never fully recovered from the shock he received when his life companion was taken the 27th. of last November. Since that time he has made his home with his only daughter, Mrs. Ida Morse, and has received from her and her family every care and attention which willing hands and loving hearts could bestow. He has been bedfast much of the time and a great sufferer but has patiently and uncomplainingly awaited the summons from his maker to come up higher.

He was born near Bethlehem, in Caldwell county, October 22th 1827, and was therefore in his 86th. year, and was the oldest son of Alexander Maxwell Dean. His mother was Miss Anna Yates His grandmother was Miss Rachel Rebecca Putnam, a lineal descendant of General Israel Putnam of Revolutionary fame.

He was married Nov., 1st., 1854, to Miss Caroline Isabel Clement, daughter of Granville Clement, and related to the large family of that name in this county. The union was blessed with ten children, seven of whom survive. They are James B., of Detroit, Tex., Robt H., of the U. S. Geological survey, St. Louis, Mo., W. Alexander, of Clarksville, Tex., Mrs. Ida Morse, T. Marion, Joseph N. and Edward F., all of Iron Hill. Mrs. Annie Lemon, his oldest daughter, died in 1910, Clement C. in 1892 and Isom the youngest child died of measles in 1885 when a youth of 9 years. He is surrounded by two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Adams, of this city, and Miss Nannie Dean, of this county, also three brothers, Thomas L. Dean, of Barstow, Tex., Alfred Armstrong Dean, of this county and Jobe Edward Dean, of Crider, Caldwell county.

Mr. Dean had held membership in the Presbyterian church U. S., here since its organization moving his membership from Pisgah church, Lexington, Ky., where he united with the church in early life when he resided at Versailles, Woodford, county Ky., with an uncle.

His stay there however was short for in 1849 he crossed the plains in a prairie schooner enroute to the gold fields of California, being six months enroute by ox-team. He did not remain long in the west but returned on a steamer to Panama and thence to New York and then back to his old Kentucky home, and this county had been his home for near three-fourths of a century and the Dean homestead near Iron Hill his residence for over fifty years.

He was a pure man, of highest christian integrity and was loved and honored by his neighbors and every one who came in touch with him.

The funeral was preached Friday afternoon by his pastor, Rev. H. V. Escott, of this city, at Sugar Grove, and the eulogy

UGLY AFFAIR AT PRINCETON

Frank Cliff And Son, of Fredonia,
Try to Pull Off a Military Wedding in Tennessee.

No little excitement was created in Princeton, Ky., Saturday forenoon when Frank Cliff and his son, Lonnie Cliff, two prominent men of Fredonia, Ky., came to Princeton in an automobile, went to the home of Wayne Hamilton, one of the most prominent young men of the city, entered the house and gave him a beating, and then forcibly dragged him from his home and made him get into the machine.

They then proceeded to Clarksville, Tenn., where they were met by the daughter of Mr. Cliff, Miss Lela Cliff. An attempt was then made to force Hamilton to marry the girl, whom the father and brother alleged he betrayed. However the Princeton authorities, having been notified by Hamilton's family of his kidnapping and the intention of his captors to force him into marriage had telegraphed to the Clarksville authorities refused to issue the license. Finding themselves blocked here the Cliffs, with Hamilton still in their possession, caught the Louisville & Nashville train to Erin, Tenn., but Cliff and his son were arrested on their arrival, and forced to release young Hamilton. Hamilton immediately took the train for Princeton and a short time later Miss Cliff went to her home at Fredonia. Cliff and his father were released after their captives had left Erin and they started for Fredonia, stopping off at Hopkinsville. Yesterday afternoon sheriff Henry Towery, of Caldwell county accompanied by two deputies, went to Clarksville to arrest the two Cliffs but arrived there to find they were in Hopkinsville. Sheriff Towery immediately took the train back to Hopkinsville and there found the two men, whom he took in charge and brought back to Princeton. Arriving at Princeton they were placed under a $500 bond each and will be tried on the technical charge of forcibly detaining a man against his will, and assault and battery.

The people involved are members of the most prominent families of the county and the trouble caused a furore among the citizens of both towns. It is expected that trouble will result from the attempted forcing of Hamilton to wed the girl, in spite of the fact the relatives of the young woman allege he committed the grave offense charged by them against him. DAUGHTREY-ALVIS FAMILY REUNION

Given in Honor of Clyde Daughtrey, A Wife, Who Was Miss Tan Alvis.

On Sunday morning, Sept. 21, the members of the two families met at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Daughtrey, near Hebron, to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Daughtrey, of Sikeston, Mo., who were to return to their home the day following.

The weather was cool and dreary, but within the home, all was sunshine and happiness, every old fashion fireplace crackled and sparkled with warmth and cheerfulness.

Dinner was spread at 1:30 o'clock in the long back hall and all thirty-eight ate at the same table. One simple word describes the dinner in every way, no one could say more and none could say less and do justice to the feast. The dinner in every particular, was EXCELLENT.

The afternoon was spent in talking of the "by-gone days, when you and I were sweethearts in the days of yore."

There was but one thing to mar the pleasure of the day, and that was the absence of some members of the family, but they were not forgotten.

Just before the hour of parting some songs were sung, after which the many guests bade their visitors goodbye, wishing them the richest of blessings.

Those present were—Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Daughtrey, Mrs. Sue Alvis, Miss Lizzie Alvis, Jack Alvis, Mr. and Mrs. John Alvis, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Daughtrey and children, Mr. and Mrs. Will Alvis and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Daughtrey, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Alvis and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Daughtrey, Mrs. Lilly Daughtrey and son, Louis Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Moore and little daughter, Rebecca, Oral and Ray Flanary, Mrs. Mary Williams and son, Lee Rankin and family.

One held a pistol on Mr. Pickell while the other went through his pockets. Mr. Pickell is a member of the Kyle-Gettys Company, underwear and hosiery manufacturers at Knoxville. Silver At Rosi-Clare

A new lode of silver, lead and fluor spar 16 feet wide and of an unknown depth has been struck in the Rosi Clare mine. This vein has been side-stepped for over a quarter of a mile through parallel drift and is still found to be 16 feet at the top. Hurrah for Supt. Hanson who has doubled the output of the mines since he came, and hurrah! we say for little old Hardin County. Hardin Era.

JUDGE GORDON WARNS GROWERS

Against Disorder In the Tobacco Regions.—Delivers Very Strong Charge Against Leaders.

Madisonville, Ky., Oct., 2.—The Hopkins Circuit Court began its sessions in this city, with Judge J. R. Gordon presiding. Three murder cases are to come up for trial this term. Nearly half a hundred divorce cases are to come before the court, besides the commonwealth cases, which number sixty-eight.

Judge Gordon made an able address at the opening of the session and said, in part, in reference to the tobacco troubles, that he condemned the would be leaders who go over the country and stir up strife, and advise the working people and farmers in reference to organization that they were in for personal gain. He said these leaders would not know which end of the tobacco plant to stick in the ground. He told them that it was personal gain they were for, and to beware of them. Judge Gordon stated the day would come when such disgraceful things would become a stench to thinking people.

People have the idea that these things never occurred before in history, but back in 1679 people raised so much tobacco in Virginia that it was not profitable. They got together and before the House of Burgesses asking that a law be passed prohibiting the raising so much of the weed. Not getting the law in 1680 the people went out and scraped the plant beds and destroyed whole farms in many cases. Finally the law came to the rescue and such deeds were made treason and punishable with death and confiscation of all property. Speaking further, Judge Gordon said a man should think before joining any organization with lawless intent, and when one joined such conspiracy loses his identity, freedom and self-control.

ARIZONA'S WORLD

WONDER

The Grand Canyon of the Colorado River

The Grand Canyon can be described in measured terms. Every beholder sees it in a different form, just as the rolling clouds suggest different resemblances to the eyes of the beholder. Begin with the thought of the canyon thirteen miles wide, a mile deep, the Colorado river two hundred feet wide imprisoned down in the depths, between lofty walls of weather stained granite and rushing on its way. It is buried so deep that only now and then you can get a glimpse of what looks like a little, bright ribbon of gray. Above the black granite walls of the river you see what you can easily imagine to be row after row of red brick skyscrapers projecting from the sides of the canyon at acute angles and always pinnaled by imposing towers.

The height of those prodigious sky scrapers and towers cannot be measured by the imagination. They seem to rise a few hundred feet. In reality they tower thousands of feet from the foundation walls. The colors are marvelous.—Leslie's.

TABLES OF THE LAW REPLACED.

Review—Sept. 23.
"Thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and abundant in loving kindness."—Nehemiah 9:17.

HOEVER fails to see that Moses, Israel and the Law were types, fails to get the real lesson out of them.

Moses was a type, not only of Jesus, but of the entire Church, of which Jesus is the Head. This St. Peter explains, saying, "Moses truly said unto the fathers, A Prophet shall the Lord your God raise up unto you of your brethren, like unto me."—Acts 3:22.

Jesus was raised up first, and since Pentecost the raising up from amongst the brethren has progressed. The work will be consummated when the full number of the Church shall have been accepted to glory. Then the antitypical Moses will begin His great work of delivering all desiring to return to harmony with God—all of whom are represented in the twelve tribes of Israel.

The Church of this Gospel Age is otherwise called the Church of the First-born, typically represented in the tribe of Levi, all of whom represented the first-born of Israel, saved in the Passover. These were divided into two classes—the priests and their servants. The priests represented the Christ—High Priest and under priests. The Levites represented the remainder of the overcomers.

The antitypical priests will become a Royal Priesthood. Jesus, the great High Priest, invested with kingly honors, will have associated with Himself the faithful Little Flock, His joint-heirs. The remainder of the overcoming Church will be collaborators on a less glorious plane, yet spiritual. Their work will be primarily the blessing of mankind.

The First Tables of the Law.

The first tables of the Law were prepared by the Lord Himself. This represents the fact that man was created a perfect image of his Creator, in full accord with the Divine will and fully expressive of the Divine Law. Adam needed no other law than that which was in and of himself as a perfect man—God's law was written in his heart.

But by reason of sin this Law was broken. Poor humanity has no longer a proper judgment respecting sin and righteousness. Man needs the great Mediator, to make reconciliation for his iniquity and to rewrite the Law of God in his flesh.

Then Moses was instructed to hew out the two tables of the Law. This represents that the Christ is fully commissioned to prepare the hearts of mankind for the rewriting of the Divine Law. To prepare men to obey God's Law will require their restitution—their lifting up out of sin and degradation. This work, committed to Moses in the type, is in the antitype committed to Christ.

Moses' second coming with the two tables of the Law was peculiarly different from the first. His face shone; and it was necessary for him to put on a veil, which thereafter he wore in the presence of the Israelites, but removed when entering the presence of God.

Christ's work as Mediator, at His Second Coming, will be accompanied by a veiling of His glory, so that the world will not see Jesus. This He declared, "Yet a little while, and the world seeth Me no more; but ye shall see Me." The Apostle explains that the Church will be prepared to see Christ in His glory by being changed from earthly to Heavenly nature.

At His Second Advent, our Lord will veil His glory from mankind, and speak to them through the veil, and not directly from the spirit plane. Mankind will see Jesus no more. Instead, they shall see His representatives—the Ancient Worthies—as He declared, saying, "Ye shall see Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and all the Prophets." The world will see them in human perfection, samples of what mankind may attain during the resurrection time.

Other Features of the Type.

The appointing of the Aaronic priesthood typified the appointing of the Royal Priesthood. As in the type sacrifices were necessary before appointing and consecrating the priests, so in the antitype Jesus must first be sacrificed before He can be appointed High Priest. His sacrifice was the sacrifice of the Church—His body.

The typical mediator offered typical sacrifices. The real Mediator offers "better sacrifices." The typical mediator led the typical people into the typical Promised Land. The antitypical Mediator, during the thousand years of His reign, will lead God's people back to the blessings and privileges lost through Adam's disobedience, and redeemed by the Sacrifice on Calvary.

Keeping the Body in Repair

Nature intended that the body should do its own repairing—and it would do so were it not for the fact that most of us live other than a natural life.

Nature didn't intend that we should wear corsets, tight collars or shoes, nor live in badly ventilated and draughty houses, nor eat and drink some of the things that we do, nor ride in street cars when we should walk.

The consequence is that the body when it gets out of order must look for outside help to make necessary repairs.

N. Y. World Makes Most Remarkable Offer To Bryan.

Washington, Sept. 28.—There has been much gossip occasioned in official Washington as a result of the remarkable offer made by the New World to Secretary of State, Bryan. The offer which appeared on the first page of the World, is as follows:

"William J. Bryan's salary as secretary of state is $12,000 a year. He has justified his activities as a lectures by the statement that to meet his ordinary expenses without encroaching upon his personal fortune he must have an income of not less than $30,000 a year. He is willing to forego accumulations during his period of public service, but he resents the idea that there should be any sacrifice on his part while he is honored by high official preferment.

"The World assumes that the crux of this nestiquon is, therefore, the sum of $8,000 a year. Mindful of many things, notably the dignity of the American government the circumspect behavior of its principal officers and the success of the administration of Woodrow Wilson, all of which have been given the most sober attention, it modestly made this suggestion to Mr. Bryan.

"If you will devote your entire time to the duties of your office and refrain during your tenure from lectures or addresses at which admission fees are charged. The World will pay you on behalf of the American people regular during your incumbency of the office of secretary of state the sum of $8,000 a year, with no obligations on your part except to observe the one condition herein expressed.

PAINT ADDS TEN TONS TO WEIGHT.

Takes Almost Twenty Thousand Pounds of paint to cover the L. & N. Bridge.

The L. & N. bridge which spans the Ohio river at Henderson, weighs nearly ten tons more than it did at the opening of the summer.

This is the result of two coats of paint applied to the bridge which cost the company a total of over $8,000.

The company has the bridge treated to two coats of paint every two years at this enormous cost. It requires ninety days work two dozen men to complete the job, or 2,160 days work for one man.

It also requires 11,500 pounds of lead and 7,500 pounds of oil, making in all a total of 19,000 pounds of paint and oil used on the bridge.

The work which is being done under C. P. Eldridge, foreman, was begun the latter part of July and will be completed the latter part of October.

Most of the men reside in Henderson and receive good pay for their work.

Painting the bridge has been a perilous job. The men have clambered about over the steel structure like squirrels. It seemed incredible that they could carry their work and escape death, yet up to date there has been only one accident on the bridge. This was when one of the men lost his footing and fell to the floor plan below. Luckily he escaped death, but was badly hurt.

One feature of the work was the long time required for dinner. It is a long walk from the end of the span to the "grub". For this reason Eldridge has allowed an hour and a half for the noon meal.

PILES

are curable. All kinds mean suffering and danger. The CAUSE is always internal. Dr. Leonhardt's HEM-ROID tablets produce amazing results by attacking the INTERNAL CAUSE. The piles are dried up and permanently cured. 24 days' treatment, $1.00. DR. LEONHARDT CO., Buffalo, N. Y. (free book) Sold by Haynes & Taylor and all druggists.

Deserves A Diamond Studded Crown.

An Iowa wife recently soundly whipped her husband for not paying a newspaper subscription after she had given him the money to pay it with. The good woman ought to be honored by having her praises sung here below, and should have a crown made to order and a harp with an extra string up yonder. Harrodsburg Herald.

May Stop to See You When Enroute to The Panama Pacific Exposition.

Rockport, Tex., Sept. 22, 1913.
Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir and friend:—

Enclosed find my subscription for your paper, my brother, W.
S. Lowery, recently sent me two copies, and in reading them I see the names of many well remembered friends of long ago.

I read this paper, when a boy at home on the farm, when I think it was the "Marion Reporter" published by Mr. Adams, then I read it for years and years as the "Crittenden Press" by dear Mr. Walker.

But for several years I have not been reading it, but the last two copies brought back thoughts of happy boyhood days, and I long for the old Press again, and to read the names, of those whose faces I may never see again.

My family and I (wife and four children,) three boys and a girl are away down near 200 miles south of Galveston, on the Gulf of Mexico, and in one of the prettiest little towns on the Gulf, where flowers bloom the year round. Rockport, is known as "The Naples of the Gulf."

Our town site joins the great Taft Ranch, of world wide fame, where they do things.

We have a population of 2000 or 2200 people, with eight churches, and good schools, employing ten teachers, also eight singing and music teachers.

This is a fine summer and winter resort, being neither too hot in the summer or too cold in the winter, I haven't seen any snow since I came to the coast six years ago. I came here on account of catarrh and hay fever, and am glad to say, am entirely well of both. This is a healthy country, as will be noted, we have a very fair size county, and there only two doctors in the whole county, and they are here in Rockport.

Four years ago I organized the State Bank, here, and have been Cashier of it every since, and on account of this excellent climate, good people, schools, churches, etc., I hardly think I will ever leave the coast.

I still call Kentucky my home, and guess I always will, for I know there are some of the best people on earth in Kentucky and I often think of the many friends
I have back there, and friend Jenkins, should you or any of them ever come to "Great Big Texas" be sure to come to Rockport, The Queen City of the Gulf, where rail and water meet, and where Uncle Sam has recently established his new Sea Port at Port Aransas, just ten miles south of us. Come in and see me, we haven't much "Hog and Hominy" but lots of fish and fresh oysters, and will welcome you.

Your old Ky., friend,
C. O. LOWERY.

Kills Black Eagle.

Midleboro, Ky., Oct., 1—P.
H. Howell, while out fishing yesterday on the lake in company with Neal Campbell, shot and killed a black eagle that measured seventy-four inches from tip of wings. It was a young bird, and had the body to make an eagle of very large size.

CATARRH SUFFERERS

Get Immediate And Effective Relief
By Using Hyomei.

Hyomei is nature's true remedy for catarrh. There is no stomach dosing—you breathe it.

When using this treatment, you breathe healing balsms and effectively reach the most remote air cells of the throat, nose and lungs, the catarrhal germs are destroyed—quick and sure relief results.

Hyomei often restores health to chronic cases that had given up all hope of recovery. Its best action is at the start of the disease when the breath is becoming offensive, and constant sniffing, discharges from the nose, droppings in the throat, or that choked up feeling begins to make life a burden. At the first symptom of catarrhal trouble, surely use Hyomei.
Ask Haynes & Taylor for the complete outfit, $1.00. They will refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

Status Of Chinese Boy

Somewhat in Doubt.

Frankfort, Ky., Oct., 1.—The question of whether a Chinese boy is "colored" has been submitted to State Superintendent Barksdale Hamlett, and by him referred to Assistant Attorney M. Mr. Logan. A fourteen year old Chinese boy is enrolled in the public schools of Covington, and Superintendent H. A. Sloss is at a loss to know whether to put him in the white or colored schools. While Mr. Logan has not passed upon the question, he is of the opinion that the word
"colored" as used in this state has particular reference to negroes. That the boy will have to be taken care of in the public schools there is no doubt, as the law clearly gives him the right to the benefit of the state school funds.

Shredder Fly Wheel

Bursts, Wrecking Outfit.

Cynthiana, Ky., Oct., 1.—The fly wheel on a fodder shredder, which was being used to fill a silo on the farm of Tice Price, near this city, burst with a loud explosion, wrecking the machine.
Clarence Garnett, who was near the machine, escaped injury almost miraculously, but a horse which was standing about ten feet away was instantly killed, a portion of the wheel being driven entirely through its body.

YOUTHFUL AGE.

BY JAMES R. GLASS.

Now, after fifty years of strife,
How strange that God has spared
our life;

Yet how thankful we should be all
We did not by the wayside fall!

God kindly looks over us each;
A lesson He designs to teach
Along with life amidst the toil,
Amidst the strife and heat and moil.

We cannot think that we are old;
Yet this much we are often told.
We do not think that it is so,
Though our hair be as white as snow!

We don't grow old, but younger grow,

If we the lesson learned to know
Of patience, of right, and of hope,
To look up, not down, and not to mope.

It is the happy, busy soul
That evades the strife and toll
Of life, and rises above this earth,
And lives in peace and joy and mirth.

So let us learn the lesson well,
That we to others yet may tell
How to live lives of joy serene, Let us keep young and fresh and clean.

We do not claim that this old flesh Shall remain young and new and fresh,
But that the soul we may renew
By doing what God wants us do.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians, of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope.
"It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers. 10

Stay At Home, My Heart.

Stay, stay at home, my heart, and rest,
Home-keeping hearts are happiest,
For those that wander they know not where

Are full of trouble and full of care;
To stay at home is best.

Weary and homesick and distressed,
They wander east, they wander west
And are bled and beaten and blown about

By the wind of the wilderness of doubt
To stay at home is best.

Then stay at home, my heart and rest,
The bird is safest in its nest;
O'er all that flutter their wings and fly

A hawk is hovering in the sky;
To stay at home is best,

—Longfellow.

LAST LARGE LAND DRAWING STARTED

Nearly 40,000 Acre Tracts in Fort Peck Indian Reservation, Montana.

Glasgow, Mont., Sept., 20.—
Drawing for approximately 7-000 claims comprised in the 1-345,000 acres in the Fort Peck Indian reservation in Northwestern Montana, which has just been thrown open to settlement by the government, was begun here at noon today.

At the hour Zita Friedl, eight-teen year old daughter of Mayor Friedl, of this city, picked winner No. 1 from the pile of 39-779 envelopes representing the total number of persons registered for the land drawing. Hazel Hurd, a twelve-year-old playmate of the mayor's daughter, drew winner No. 2, the girl's alternating in the drawing throughout the afternoon.

Today's land drawing marks, it is said, the last big land lottery that ever will be conducted by the government; in the United States, the Fort Peck tract being the last of the large areas available for settlement. Registration for the drawing was only half of what was expected, according to the officials in charge.

There never was a time when men of ability and integrity were in greater demand than they are today. As business has become big it has had a call for big men and for young men who have the foundations for expansion.

Salaries for big business men, distinguished for industry and honesty, were never larger, in this or any other country. The demand for masterful men exceeds the supply.

Nor was there ever a time when more little men thought they were big than now, never a time when the little man with a big mouth could make more of a disturbance than today.

It is the big mouth not the big brain that catches the crowd. The big mouth is framing legislation, grabbing fat of f : s. ena lenz ing established cus oms, questioning the founders of the r-public, and impunging the integrity of all who have the courage to resist the advancing tide of unreason, unrest and destruction.

How long the big mouth will be the vogue, heaven only knows. But it dominates in politics and in legislation. It obtrudes upon every effort of reform and, worst of all, it deludes a lot of credulous people into the belief that sound is better than sense, and noise superior to wisdom.

They had the big mouths in scriptural days. They were described by a veracious Chronicler of a period, resembling our own in many respects!—for history continually repeats itself. The Chronicler said: "But all their works they do for to be seen of men: they make broad their phylacteries, and enlarge the borders of their garments. They love the upper most rooms at feasts, and the chief seats in the synagogues. Even so ye also outwardly appear righteous unto men, but within ye are full of hypocrisy and iniquity."

Leslies Weekly.

The Paducah News Democrat of Sept., 23, copied our editorial comment on the Good Roads proposition in Graves County which was as follows:

The Paducah News Democrat says that Graves county has the good roads fever all over. Well, we wish that the Crittenden County would take the same fever, and chills too all over and have buck agues from end to end.

The News Democrat then says "try the same kind of dope on your people that the Maysville Messenger gave the people of Graves County; as the good roads advocates of all sections give their people. There as good people in Crittenden as in any other County in the state, and all they need, we are sure, is to be aroused to their duty to themselves, and they will do the rest. The good roads question is in nowise a selfish one; it is one question perhaps as much as any other one question in which more people are interested than one might think at first thought, for whether one ever travels just a certain road or not somebody will—a relative, a friend, a buyer or a seller. The man or men who think of road building in a way the least selfish is the man who is a drawback to any community and a disgrace to himself, and if he is not now he will soon be an old fogey in his immediate section or a dependent upon the more enterprising residents. Go after your people with good roads dope—there has been stack of it printed—and arouse them to their duty as men and citizens and, as we have said before, they will do the rest."

Thank you John: that's good advice, and we will accept it in the same spirit in which it was given. But you seemed to have overlooked the columns of Good Roads dope we have been giving our people for the last several years. "The Crittenden Press," ten years ago first advocated the use of convicts to help build up the states thoughfares for the benefit of the farming communities instead of leasing them out like mules to contractors who for many decades have grown rich on convict labor leased from the state. Besides all this the state paid for (or helped to pay for) hundreds of miles of turnpikes in central Kentucky. We here in western Kentucky helped to pay for every mile of turnpike in the Blue Grass section, why should we not now get our just deserts in the shape of state aid if only the use of the prisoners for a few years to help bring our roads up to the high standard which prevails in many other sections less favored in many ways by nature than ours. This would be only simple justice

"We are responsible for, and we must account for every power, every talent, every attainment with which we are intrusted; our health of body, our strength of mind, our youth or our maturity, our opportunities, our sympathies, our social, educational and religious privileges, our power to love, to think, to plan, our ability to speak, to write, to sing, our power to appropriate the good and to shun the evil, our far sightedness, genius of management, keenness of judgement, aptness to read character, quick perceptions of right and wrong, our gift of leadership, ability to organize, power to execute. All this and more makes personality. and through this we are to fulfill the petition: "Thy kingdom come; thy will be done on earth."

Honest stewardship is to recognize that all power to do, to be, to acquire, to possess is God-given, and any success comes only as we use the faculties and power intrusted to us. Whether the increase be great or small, there must be increase or we will be held responsible as dishonest and unprofitable servants; for our abilities are most misused when not used, "laid away" out of the barter and trade of life.

Oh! this "laying away" of personality. Surely the apostle James would be justified in changing the "gold and silver" in his criticism and thundering at us, "your personality is rusted, and the rust shall be a testimony against you."

Is it with rusted gifts you are going to face the Master? Do we wish to say of the gift of song of song, "Lord, behold, here is thy gift all rusted, for I never used it for thee?"

Or of appreciation of beauty, "Lord, behold I return thy talent. I robbed thee and used it make my home and my person lovely and full of beauty, but I kept it close to me, and did not help my neighbor or my town. I disdained to make thy church beautiful for thee and refused to lend my skill and taste to those who asked for help. It is a rusted talent I return."

What shall the Master answer? "Out of thy own mouths I judge you unprofitable servants: the rust is a testimony against you."

O women in the work of the Church of Christ! How many of us have consecrated our personality? We sing all too glibly, "Here, Lord, I give myself away," and mean little or nothing by it. When the officers of the local missionary societies plan and pray over the making of their programs, on how many can they depend for an intelligent prayer?

How many of us are able to ask the Lord for a blessing on the individual missionaries and their particular work or the separate stations with mention of special needs?

Shall we bury our talents, allowing them to grow rusty, ruined through disuse? No, rather let us put our personality to usury. Trade, and trade, and trade again. Keep all the interest growing. Multiply the principal; earn the "Well done."

Form Mary McMillan Kingery, our stewardship of personality.

Good Man Honored.

Our old friend Joseph Mascro of Cave in Rock has been nominated for County Commissioner in Hardin county, Ill., and has accepted the nomination which was unsolicited.

Reed, V. Y. Moore, J. D. Threlkeld, J. E. Wright, F. W. Nunn and others. T. H. Cochran was elected to preside and V. Y. Moore, Sec'y.

Culebra, C. Z.—"The strongest defense of the Panama canal, in my opinion, is the fact that a hostile vessel must come into a 500-foot channel long before it is within striking distance of the vital points of the canal, the locks, and in doing so must pass within easy range of the forts that are being built to guard the entrances."

So spoke Colonel Goethals when I asked him as to the vulnerability of the canal in time of war. Continuing, he said:

"The naval power of the nations is so nicely balanced now that no one of them would be willing to risk the destruction of a single battleship by attacking these forts, which will be equipped with powerful guns, and of course the accuracy of guns on shore is much greater than that of those on moving vessels. I do not believe the forts would be attacked from the sea before the enemy had fought and won a naval victory."

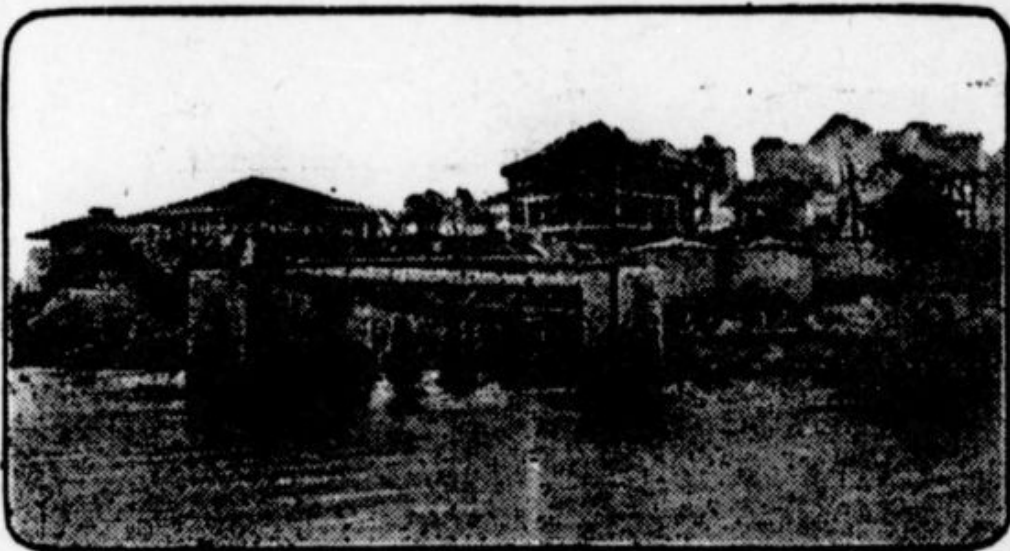

The forts of which Colonel Goethals spoke are nearing completion and the emplacements for many of the heavy guns already have been constructed. No one not officially connected with the work is permitted to approach them, but I venture to say that in case of urgent necessity the guns could be hurried down to the isthmus and mounted ready for emergency service within a very short time.

Two forts protect the Atlantic enable to drop shells with accuracy close behind Taboga Island, making that place untenable for an enemy. Besides that, there is nothing on the island that a hostile fleet would want. The United States might have acquired Taboga, but we didn't need it."

How strong a land force is to be kept in the zone by the United States I believe has not yet been determined. It is generally admitted that the greatest danger to the canal in time of war lies in attacks by forces that might have succeeded in landing on the isthmus. As a defense against this it may be that a small army must be maintained in the zone, and it has been suggested that the towns of Empire and Culebra, instead of being destroyed because they are on the "wrong side" of the canal, be utilized as quarters for the soldiers. This would necessitate connecting them with the other side of the canal, where the Panama railroad has been re-located, by ferry, bridge or tunnel. No decision on this matter has been reached yet by the authorities.

Meanwhile the army has not been neglecting its part of the defensive work. For some time the Tenth infantry has been encamped in the zone and its men, in small detachments, have been "hiking" all over that part of the isthmus. The possibilities of landing a hostile force on the shores of both the Atlantic and the Pacific have been investigated, and also the trance of the canal. One is on Toro Point, at the land end of the long breakwater that shields Colon harbor, and is on a considerable elevation. The other is on Margarita Island, a low-lying islet close to the shore about a mile northeast of Colon. Both these fortifications are shielded from observation by the palms and other tropic vegetation.

At the Pacific end of the canal, a little more than three miles out in the ocean and close to the eastern side of the deep water channel, lie the four little islands of Naos, Perico, Culebra and Flamenco. These the United States acquired with the Canal Zone. On Culebra is the quarantine station for that end of the canal. On the others are being built strong fortifications. The rounded tops of the rocky islets have been cut off and a little army of men is busy blasting and shoveling and preparing the bulwarks behind which will be mounted long cannon and immense mortars. The four islands are all being connected with each other, and Naos, the nearest, is joined to the mainland at Balboa by a breakwater about 17,000 feet long, on which has been constructed a railway line.

Some eight miles away, nearly due south, lies the larger island of Taboga, and timid souls have suggested that it would form a safe shelter and recuperating point for a hostile fleet, for its hills rise to a considerable elevation and on its south side there is plenty of deep water. But if Colonel Goethals' opinion is to be taken—and it should be—Taboga need not cause Uncle Sam any anxiety.

"The mortars to be installed in the Pacific fortifications," said he, "will be chances that such a force would have of finding sustenance. Then little groups of soldiers have been started from various possible landing places with instructions to make their way as swiftly as possible to given points along the canal, mapping the country they traverse, in order to determine what an enemy could do.

The result of this work of investigation so far, briefly and wholly unofficially stated, is that the shores of the Atlantic ocean, within a good many miles of the zone, are impracticable for a landing force because of the nature of the country; that a landing could be made easily on the Pacific side some distance west of the zone, but between there and the canal the jungle is so dense as to be virtually impassable; that the dangerous district is that lying immediately east of the zone on the Pacific side. On the last mentioned shores an enemy could well land an army, and the semi-open, rolling savannas between there and the canal would give easy access to the zone.

The army officers on the isthmus make no secret of the fact that their investigations are being carried on mainly with the Japanese in mind. How those islanders could land there and what they could do if they did land are the problems engaging the attention of Colonel Greene and his men of the Tenth.

One defensive measure that has been adopted is the clearing out of practically all inhabitants from the zone, except at the ends of the canal and in several of the larger towns, which, as I have said, may be kept as quarters for the soldiers. All holdings of land are being valued by a mixed commission and the residents moved away. When the canal is completed the jungle, much of which has been cleared out, will be allowed to grow up again, for the experience of centuries has shown that that jungle itself is a powerful defense against an invading army. The practicable roads through it are few and far between, the streams not navigable, and the growth of trees, brush and great vines so dense that it is virtually impassable for a body of men, to say nothing of cannon and supply wagons. A rapid dash through the jungle would be entirely out of the question, and when the zone is deserted all food supplies will have disappeared.

Some fear has been expressed that a few men could land, make their way quietly to the canal and blow up the locks. But it seems unlikely that they could get ashore and transport to the canal, undetected, enough explosives to do any great damage.

On the whole, the canal will be quite adequately protected—provided it is not attacked too soon.

EXERCISE!

A person leading a quiet, sedentary life is healthy only by accident, unless he makes up for by a little vigorous, open air exercise. Cram a locomotive fire-box with coal, without removing the cinders, and the engine will become so clogged as not to work properly. The body is exactly like a locomotive; if it is not exercised, the waste products accumulate and the result is disease. Moreover, judicious exercise shakes up the organs of the body and increases their activity; it keeps the muscles in condition to meet the extraordinary emergencies which may come to any of us; and, if taken heartily, diverts the mind from its ordinary cares and lets a man return with new vigor and refreshed spirits to his tasks.

Ninety per cent of the women who bother the doctors with all sorts of more or less vague complaints, need nothing but a loose dress, a hoe and a garden. Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission.

SUNSHINE!

The Italians have a saying, "Where the sunlight is shut out, the doctor is let in." Fire, steam and a few powerful chemicals are the only things that will kill disease germs as quickly as sunlight. The germ in the spit of a consumptive, exposed to the glare of the July sun for an hour or two, are dead or harmless. Nor is the sunshine any more friendly to the other tiny enemies of mankind. Consequently, leave your windows and shutters open for the fresh air and sunshine several hours every day. If you are afraid it is going to fade the carpet, take up the carpet. Bare floors are cleaner and consequently more healthful any way. Instead of carpets use rugs and frequently expose them to the fresh air and sunshine. Give the fresh air and sunshine as much access to your whole body as possible. Exercise out of doors daily, with garments no heavier than necessary. The fresh air and sunshine, as well as the exercise, will stimulate the action of the skin in throwing off the waste products of the body. Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission.

PLACARDED!

When the physicians say "Scarlet Fever!" or "Diphtheria!" and a colored card is put on your front door, and you are not allowed to go out, and only the doctor can go back and forth, don't think that all this disturbance is useless, and intended simply to fill the pocketbooks of the doctors. These germ diseases are spread in ways so infinitely delicate that it is hard for us to understand them. More often than not too little rather than too much care is exercised. If the bowel discharges of a typhoid patient are not thoroughly disinfected by formaldehyde, quiklime, or other powerful chemicals before being thrown out, it is perfectly possible for the germs to be carried in water under ground, or by flies through the air, for a long distance, to infect other people. The germs of scarlet fever may live in the clothes of the victims and months later infect the person who chances to handle them. When the doctors' precautions bother you, remember that the ignorance, carelessness or obstinacy of some one else is responsible for the disease in your family, and co-operate with your doctor! Kentucky Tuberculosis Commission.

THE LAST OF THE FAMILY. Out of thirty-two members of three generations of this rural Kentucky family, this one survives. At least sixteen died of consumption, all in the same house. There was no money to give them adequate care. A county tuberculosis hospital, which could have cared for the first cases and prevented the infection of the others, might have saved several lives in this one family.

Sherill-Russell Lbr. Co.,
Paducah, Ky., Gentlemen:

Sturgis, Ky.,
July 21st., 1913.

I have your recent letter advising that you have completed delivery of our order for lumber for fifty barges and wanting to know if the quality of the material, workmanship and service was satisfactory in every detail, and if not that you were ready to make proper adjustment of any shortcomings.

Reply thereto will state that since the day I signed the contract with you for material necessary to build these barges it has not been necessary for me to have the least concern. In the construction of the barges I am not unmindful of the fact that it required fir timbers that originated in the Pacific northwest. Long Leaf Yellow Pine which originated in the extreme South and Long White Oak which is common to growth in this section of the country. The larger portion of this order moved from one extreme end of the country to the other, and considering that there were about twenty-four thousand pieces of Planing and timbers in the order, something over two million feet, nearly $100,000, involved, I feel you are entitled to special commendation for the very thorough manner in which the business was managed.

I find pleasure in stating I have no complaint to offer, on the other hand, thank you for the efficient service rendered. Very truly,

JOHN WOLFE MUST HAVE BROKEN LOOSE AGAIN

The Courier Journal of Sept. 24th, Has Some Secrets Not Known to Many And Says The Following.

Down in Crittenden county, round about "the mouth o' Hurricane," the myrmidour of the law are arresting the proprietors of "whiskeyboats," who have been running their floating blind tigers since the saloons at Rosiclaire, on the Illinois shore were lidded. The fight against the rum demon in Crittenden has been long, hard, and not always a successful one since reconstruction days.

One of the leading centers of population in Crittenden is Tolu, which set up as a rival of Hurricane post office, about thirty five years ago, with certain topographic advantages that augured success. Not the least of these was that the home of Joel Guess, which topped a knoll west-south-west of the Devil's Elbow, as a parabolic, rather than diabolic curve in Hurricane Creek was called, was above high water. The city-to-be was composed of a sawmill, which made corn into meal when not making logs into lumber, and a department store consisting of one department in which staple groceries, stick candy, psrphine chewing wax, calico, chilled plows, sardines, cove oysters, ear bobs, striped blankets, plow gear, soda crackers and other necessities and luxuries of life huddled close together under a clapboard roof, and surrounded a stove nearly as great in circumference as that in the cabin of the Arkansas Belle or the Will S. Hayes. The stove was surrounded by a circle of nail kegs upon which tillers of the soil, logging men, flatboat men and other constituent elements of the sparse population of a still heavily timbered section of Western Kentucky sat to discuss such public questions as to whether there would be any probability of the re-establishment of slavery in the event of a Democratic President's election and whether mast-fed hogs would be "up" or "down" at Evansville next autumn.

The waning rival of the then unnamed settlement, sometime referred to as Guess' sawmill and sometimes as Weldon's store, known as Hurricane Landing. The post office store stood upon stilts near the river's brink, where the waters of Hurricane Creek, called "Hurricane" locally, and as often as not by the "mud"clerks of the steamers as well as the mates, although of course, not by the captains, met the Ohio river under the spreading branches of gnarled sycamores. The creeks mouth afforded a harbor for storeboats, floating shows and picture galleries as the boys called the tin-type boats upon which the artist would put a set ring upon the finger of any patron without extra charge and make it look so natural that nobody who saw the picture could say that the subject never wore a ring when the picture was taken. A Raab kept the store at the landing and his name was a popular pun.

When the post office store yielded one dark and stormy night to the upward pressure of a heaving sea during high water and floated out over the river bank, trailing its silts beneath it, to embark upon a voyage of uncertain termination, it was conceded even by those who had held out for the superiority of the landing as the site of a future city, that the settlement up at the Devil's Elbow had been appointed by fate to wear the laurels. From that time forward the settlement waxed.

All of this history is told because the good citizens of Crittenden county—and they were many in proportion to the total population—were even then attempting to lay the rum demon by the heels. Before the settlement at Devil's Elbow had been given a name, and when it was going by the bifurcated appellation of Weldon's store and Guess' mill a singularly potent stomach bitters known as "Tolu Tonic" was upon sale there. The label of the bottles did not violate the law against the sale of "spirituous, vinuous, or malt liquors" but there was a high-lonesome and headache in each bottle. So popular did Tolu Tonic become among the bibulously and convivially inclined, and so thriving was the business, done in the commodity that the humorists in the neighborhood began calling the point at which it was obtainable "Tolu." The jest finally crystallized into a name and that is now official. The joke upon the law was lithographed forever upon the United States map. "Tolu" got the post office and became a flourishing little city. It has always been outwardly dry, but doubtless the oldest inhabitant will admit confidentially that there has always been a nip in sight for the worldly wise either in the form of straight liquor boot-legged or sold on a trading boat or under a winking label as bitters. It has rarely been necessary to pull a Leavenworth skiff to Rosiclaire or Elizabethtown in order to buy a quart of tanglefoot. Since the days when some of the backwoodsmen marveled at the manner in which the first "screw propeller boat," ran up stream without stern wheel or side wheel in sight, and when old hunters brought their long deer rifles down to the bottoms to shoot a strange "varmint" when the first syren whistle awoke the echoes between Shawneetown and Golconda, the war upon the rum demon has been earnestly prosecuted by the sober and thoughtful and lawabiding citizens of Crittenden. But the blind tiger still lurks in the jungle, the boot-legger still walks abroad and the whiskeyboat turns her nose into the "mouth o' Hurricane" when the lid is put on at Rosiclaire.

And so runs many a story of the persistent attempt of the strong and the good to prevent the weak from indulging in their weaknesses and the wicked from profiting by their wickedness.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleansed and the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus performing a perfect cure that leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside too quickly, pus forms under the surface and breaks out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on fine animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

STOP WATCHING US WOMEN

Tight Skirt Lady Comes Back Strong.

A smart-alek newspaper man who probably was tickled to death to get a chance to peep at the things he was kicking about published this in his paper.

"Backward, turn backward, oh Time in your flight; give us a girl whose skirts are not tight; give us a girl whose charms many or few, are not too much exposed by a peck-a-bow; give us a girl no matter what age, who won't use the streets as a vaudeville stage; give us a girl not to sharply in view, dress her in skirts that the sun can't shine through."

Whereupon one of his lady subscribers "came back" with the following, since which every thing has been very quiet:

"Backward, turn backward, oh Time in your flight; give us a man that never gets tight, give us a man both honest and brave, who still wears something when he goes to shave; give us a man no matter what age, who won't make the world a vaudeville stage, give us a man with fine, many face, who won't shed all his clothes when running a race, in playing baseball and basketball game, give us a man who won't show all his frame; give us a man that has something to do besides watching us women, please, oh please do!"—Cleaner.

Stop Watching Us Women.

While reading the proof sheet we were very much impressed with "give us a man that has something to do besides watching us women, please do"

There is more truth in the above than fiction what do you think about a group of men standing on the corner making slightly remarks about the dress or skirt of some lady as she passes along, and then he throws from his mouth a quid of tobacco the size of a hen egg, and says, "don't that beat you."

Gentlemen, what is it to you? you don't have to "wear them" and if you have to buy them, it don't take near as much to make them. The writer very well remembers when it took ten to fifteen yards of dress material to make his wife a dress, now she fits herself up with six yards, and she is just the same virtuous woman now she was then.

"Men looketh upon the outward appearance but God looketh upon the heart."

MATTOON

The tent meeting in progress here, bids fair to be a successful one. Rev. Bunch, of Crayne, is doing the preaching. Miss Beatrice Reed, of Eldorado, Ill., has the instrumental music in charge.

Frank Phillis, formerly of this place but now a citizen of Ardmore, Okla., is spending a vacation with friends here.

Albert Lucas whose ill health has been alarming, is fast improving. He is out again feeling much better.

Mrs. Edna Truitt, of Rodney, has been the guest of her father, Joseph Foster, this week.

Miss Elva Roberts has had a musical instrument installed in her home and while spending her vacation is studying music.

We are having a real good school at Seminary. A. A. Fritts has charge and his school's are always characterized by a marked degree of success.

The dyptheria epidemic has subsided, without loss of life. The earnest efforts put forth by Drs. Newcom and Frazer to suppress the spreading of this deadly disease, should be deeply appreciated by citizens of this and surrounding neighborhoods.
