Child Born During its Fathers' Funeral Service.

Lavaette, Ind., Nov., 5.—While the Rev. C. A. Singefors was conducting the funeral of J. O. Young here yesterday, a baby girl was born to Young's widow in another room in the house. The wails of the infant interrupted the service for a few minutes.

Young fell through a sky light on a building here a few days ago and was fatally injured.

Don't Look Old Before Your Time

That backache, so common among women, brings with it the sunken chest, the hunched shoulders, the drooping head, and the whole body is no more youthful.

There is no reason why you should be so unfortunate, when you have at your disposal a remedy such as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—recommended for over 40 years as a remedy for ailments peculiar to women. We have thousands upon thousands of testimonials on file—the accumulation of 40 years—testifying to its effectiveness. Neither narcotics nor alcohol are to be found in this famous prescription. Regulates irregularities. Corrects displacements. Overcomes painful periods. Tones up nerves. Brings about perfect health. Sold by dealers in medicines, in liquid or tablet form.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition, answers hundreds of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know.

THIS YEAR'S COURSE

Of Lyceum Concerts, Lectures and Entertainments.

Good Things In Store For Local People Who Attend—Lyceum Movement Throughout America Growing With Marvelous Rapidity.

The concerts, lectures and entertainments which are pictured and described herewith represent a group of good things which are in store for the patrons of the local Lyceum course this season. They are booked through the oldest and largest bureau in the world—the Redpath—a bureau which guarantees every one of its attractions to make good.

In all parts of the American continent the Lyceum movement is growing, and as it grows in size it is likewise growing in popularity. There are today more than 12,000 Lyceum courses in the United States, besides some 1,500 Chautauques. Incidentally it is of interest that more than 900 of all the Chautauques in this country are managed by the same bureau, from which the attractions described on this page are booked.

Lyceum entertainments differ from any other types of public amusements, in that they leave the community life better for their having come and gone. Every Lyceum lecturer has a message which he believes will benefit his hearers. The aim of Lyceum musical companies or entertainers is to help maintain or raise the standard of the art they represent in all the towns and cities they visit.

The following are the Lyceum course attractions which are to be heard here this season:

Declare War on Colds.

A crusade of education which aims "that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation" has been begun by prominent New York physicians. Here is a list of the "don'ts" which the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."
"Don't sleep in hot rooms."
"Don't avoid the fresh air."
"Don't stuff yourself at meal time. Overeating reduces your resistance."
To which we would add—when you take a cold get rid of it as quickly as possible. To accomplish that you will find Chamberlain's Cough Remedy most excellent. Sold by all dealers. 11

UNJUST TAX LAW IN KENTUCKY

How Unsatisfactory the Present Tax System Works in This State

Most Unequal System Ever Devised and Most of the Progressive States Have Abolished the Plan Used in Kentucky.

The present state constitution of Kentucky provides that "Taxes shall be uniform on all kinds of property," and on the surface this seems to be so fair the average thinker can find no fault with it.

In practice, however, it has been found to be the most unequal tax system ever devised, and most of the progressive states have abolished the plan.

Its inequalities and unfairness may be seen from the way it discriminates in certain classes of property and explains why Kentucky seems to have so little intangible wealth as compared with other states.

For instance, cash in savings banks draws only three per cent interest, gilt-edge bonds pay four per cent, real estate notes six per cent, stock in some foreign corporations ten per cent, while the tax on all is the same for state purposes, but varies for county and city purposes according to the location.

Thus where the income is only 3 per cent and the taxes 2½ per cent it leaves the owner only ½ per cent interest, and where the income is 10 per cent and the taxes 2½ per cent the interest is 7½ per cent. In this uniform?

In some counties land is assessed at 30 per cent of its value, in others 50 per cent, and in others 70 per cent. The state tax is the same in all the counties. Is this uniform?

If an honest farmer lists his property at its fair value and his unscrupulous neighbor puts a lower value on his property the former pays more than his share, while the latter pays less.

If the state board of equalization raises the entire list for that county, the honest man pays on property he doesn't own, and yet our law is supposed to be uniform.

That the personality owned by citizens of Kentucky is vastly more than is listed for taxation is a well-established fact; but the tax receipts don't show it. In fact, certain classes of property, such as stocks, bonds, notes and cash have almost disappeared from the tax rolls, and these evidences of wealth apparently grow less each year.

If the present system is allowed to remain in force, it will result, as it has in other states, in almost all kinds of personality disappearing from the assessors' books, and lands and houses which can not be hid or moved will have to bear the chief burden.

It has been so in every state where the "general property tax" has been the plan on which property was taxed, and most of the states have been wise enough to get rid of such an unequal and unfair system.

The Ohio state tax commission, in its 1908 report on the operation of the "general property tax," says:

"It is a failure for purposes of revenue or equality. Perhaps not 5 per cent of intangible property is listed. It punishes the honest. It rewards the dishonest. It frequently results in double taxation and lowers the standard of integrity."

The entire revenue of the state of Kentucky is about $7,000,000, while Michigan, with about the same area and population, receives $14,000,000 from taxes, only a small proportion of which is paid on land.

In Pennsylvania there is no state tax on farms or homes.

There are 7,000,000 acres of unimproved farm lands in Kentucky and yet vast quantities of farm products have to be imported.

There are about twenty-five thousand square miles of coal lands in Kentucky, and yet we buy millions of tons of coal from Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana and Tennessee.

Kentucky raises thirty-eight per cent of the tobacco crop of the United States and manufactures only three per cent of it.

These are significant facts and our people should consider them.

There may be other causes for our lack of progress but it is an established fact that no state has ever prospered under the general property tax and it is also known that this deplorable system of taxation has always driven out capital, retarded development and caused untold losses in population.

The last general assembly passed an act amending the state constitution so as to permit future legislation on taxation which will go far towards remedying the evils and it is the duty of every citizen in the state to vote for the amendment at the November election. If it is not ratified at that time it will be impossible to vote on the question for another five years and it has been delayed too long already. It is time for us to wake up and get in line with other prosperous states. Vote for the constitutional amendment at the November election.

COUNTRY CHILD'S DAY NOW IS HERE

Parents and Teachers Prepare For Newer Life.

ERECT MODERN SCHOOLS.

Up to Date Building and Equipment Mean Added Interest to Both Teachers and Scholars in Educational Matters—A Model School Near Louisville With Domestic Science Room.

Wherever people are thinking definitely about the future they realize that the child is the greatest problem with which the state has to deal because it is the state's greatest asset. This is especially true in the rural districts, and both teachers and parents are getting ready for the newer life that promises to develop within the next twenty-five years or sooner.

Four miles out of Louisville on one of the main turnpikes, where for years the people had been thoroughly satisfied with a poor schoolhouse and a poorer playground, a new building has gone up. This building was made possible by the district levying a special fifteen-cent tax for two years and securing the help of the county board of education. When the public began to understand what was taking place it rallied to the support of the new school. This was made very plain when the Southern Brick and Tile company, which had a large plant in the neighborhood, added an extra acre of ground to the already secured by the trustees for the district.

The moment one enters the beautiful brick building with its soft green roof that harmonizes with the surroundings it is evident that it is an up to date school with a modern school equipment, for a sanitary drinking fountain is the first thing that catches the eye. The building has two beautiful schoolrooms perfectly lighted and equipped with modern single desks. Two ample cloakrooms are immediately in front of the classrooms and open into the main hall, while at one end of the building there is a cozy rest room for teachers and pupils, with a light, pleasant little library. Both of the classrooms are arranged so that they may be turned into one huge room, while the teachers' platforms can be joined and become a stage with the library and rest room as dressing rooms for the same. This simple device makes it possible to use the school for entertainments and as a perfect social center for the community.

Down in the big airy basement is the modern heating plant, a gasoline engine and tank that supplies the water for the building. In this same basement there are two big rooms, one of which is equipped with twelve work benches for the manual training class. The other room of the basement is equipped to handle a class of eight girls in domestic science.

It might seem in looking over this school, with its perfect equipment and its splendid grounds, its huge cistern and its deep well, to furnish perfect drinking water for the children, as if the cost would have been excessive. Yet the whole equipment, including gasoline engine, domestic science outfit, manual training benches and tools, cost only $5,750.

There is one final point that should be touched and touched upon definitely, and that is the effect of this building and equipment upon the two teachers. Last season when they realized that this dream was to come true they both went to a summer school, one taking a summer course in domestic science, the other in manual training.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by Catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

INHERITED!

"He inherited consumption"! This is the way a great many people account for every case of the disease. If the parents did not have it, sometimes it is maintained that the disease was transmitted by inheritance from some more distant ancestor. This is all nonsense. The newborn baby of consumptive parents is not affected with the disease. However, when a case of consumption in the family is being ignorantly or carelessly handled at home, it is perfectly possible for a little child to be infected at any time after birth. That, however, is not inheritance; a healthy adopted baby would suffer the same fate. It does not matter even if all of your relatives died of consumption, you need not necessarily travel the same dreary road. If you will live as much as possible in the open air, eat plenty of simple, well cooked foods, and no other, exercise, bathe and sleep regularly, and consult your physician as soon as you seem to be breaking down, there is no reason why you should die of consumption. The Old Age of Fairly Paid Ministers.

A Methodist conference has sought to make more adequate provision for the needs of aged clergymen and their wives or widows. It is a movement that must appeal to universal sympathy.

A more faithful, patient and at the same time under-paid class of intelligent, capable men could hardly be found. What is true of the Methodist clergy is very largely true of all Protestant clergymen.

We pay liberally for our pleasures, but precious little for our piety. We are told that "salvation is free," and this is one of the few things in the Bible that we are pleased to interpret literally.

If toll along the road were heavier there would perhaps be fewer hypocrites marching in the procession.

But the salvation of others is not free to the poor minister.

It costs him much privation, self-denial and sacrifice, even in his active years, and when old age comes he must pay in want and suffering.

Except in a comparatively few city churches, pastors receive small salaries, out of which it is practically impossible to make provision for old age, even in the city churches, where the salaries are men pre-eminent in the profession. The salaries are less than might be expected from the same abilities in other professions.

Preachers have to pay for their own support, and for the support of their families. They are often required to support themselves and their families so lustily that they often pay for the "free" salvation of men who have millions of worldly ends and for building monuments on which to record their supposed Christian virtues, but how niggardly dole out to the minister the toll of the highway to heaven.

It is indeed a marvel how the clergy as a class contrive out of their pittance to support and educate their families. It is a result reached through the utmost thrift and self-sacrifice.

It is but fair that the great religious bodies which exact such sacrifices, which pay so little for so much service, should take measure to provide for the time when pulpit and pastoral activity is no longer possible. For, though we may underfeed and overwork him as long as he has strength, it is not respectable to turn an old horse out on the public road to die.—Henderson Gleaner.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Marion People Know How to Save It.

Many Marion people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers.

The following statement leaves no ground for doubt.

Mrs. G. M. Stark, S. Main St., Madisonville, Ky., says: "I was bothered by pains across the small of my back and sides. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended, I got a box. I used them as directed and they cured me. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, as they live up to representations."

For sale by all dealers. Price fifty cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

(delayed from last week.)

We have had some nice rains, for which we are very thankful.

Mrs. Beniah Baker, of Morehouse, Mo.; and Mrs. James Freeman, of Marion, were visiting relatives in this community two or three days last week.

Rev. Woodruff, who is engaged in a meeting at Crayne, took dinner with your correspondent one day last week.

Several from this vicinity attended the protracted meeting at Crayne which closed Wednesday night. Rev. McDowell, who did the preaching, is a very able preacher. There were several professions.

Hughes McCaslin was in this section last week on business.

Mrs. Belle Boswell, of Missouri, is visiting relatives in this community.

IS KENTUCKY IN NEED OF THE TAX REFORM?

What Happened in "THE COW COUNTIES" in California and Why "THE DOG TAX COUNTIES" in Kentucky Should Emulate Their Example

Until a few years ago the State of California was suffering under the same system of taxation which prevails in Kentucky although many efforts had been made to change it.

The average citizen is opposed to innovations as a general proposition and while the state suffered and the burden of taxation fell heavily on the small property owner, as it does in Kentucky, it was hard to arouse the people and capitalistic classes managed to keep the old law in effect and went on hiding their personal property and escaping taxation, as they do in Kentucky.

"Why is this man working so hard?"
"To get more land to pay MORE taxes."

A simple careless expression in a San Francisco newspaper caused a revolution of feeling and brought about the change which all Californians are now proud of.

The newspaper referred to printed an article to the effect that the same old Constitutional Amendment would be voted on at the November election and added facetiously that "the Cow Counties" would probably vote for it, and treated it as a joke.

The newspaper evidently underestimated the power of "the Cow Counties" as this little attempt at witicism made "the Cow Counties" sit up and take notice.

The people in "the Cow Counties" commenced to ask themselves: Why is it that farm lands and town property pay the bulk of taxes? Why are the owners of stocks, bonds, notes and other personal property able to get off scott free?

Have we a uniform system of taxation in practice as well as in name? And such like questions.

Well, the result was "the Cow Counties" in California determined to throw off the yoke and the amendment was overwhelmingly carried.

"Why is this man working so hard?"
"To hide his property and pay NO taxes."

The same conditions exist in Kentucky to-day and the same opportunity for a change presents itself and it is time for "the Cow Counties" in Kentucky to show their power and force a fair division of taxation.

By subjecting the millions of dollars of personal property to the payment of taxes, farms and town lots would be relieved as in other states with modern tax laws. In Pennsylvania there is no state tax on farm lands and town lots because the revenue from stocks, bonds and notes is sufficient for the purpose.

The dog tax in Kentucky produced more revenue in 1912 ($127,661) than all the taxes from bonds ($32,426), cash in banks ($84,340), and stocks in corporations ($14,000); total $110,866, while farm lands and town lots and improvements paid $3,177,369.

"The Dog Tax" Counties in Kentucky are in the same fix as "the Cow Counties" were in California and it is high time to quit barking and commence biting. A vote for the tax amendment at the November election will make the other fellow do some howling, if "the Dog Tax" counties will only do their duty and vote for the amendment and enable the legislature to frame laws to make all classes of property pay their legitimate share of taxation.

Extract From Report of State Tax Commission.

"We recommend, that the proposed Constitutional Amendment should be adopted by the voters of the state."

"This Amendment has been carefully drawn, its provisions are clear and plain."

"It follows precedents which have been tried and proved successful in other states."

"It authorizes practical changes, which, in our judgment, if adopted, will increase revenue, remove restrictions now handicapping valuable enterprises, and place Kentucky upon a fair plane with other states which have shown marked progress and prosperity, as a result of sane and sound revenue laws."

"It provides that any and all changes made thereunder in our tax laws up to 1917 must be approved by the people themselves after passage by the legislature and their approval may be made a condition after that time, so that the whole matter rests in the hands of the people."

"We consider the amendment necessary in order to enable the legislature to take the initiative in any effective revision of the revenue laws of the state, which have been condemned by the then State Tax Commissions and criticised annually by the State Equalization Board."

SEVEN MONTHS OF SCHOOL IN RURAL SECTIONS OF STATE.

Frankfort, Ky., Nov., 3.—Seven months' school in the rural districts this year is assured, in the opinion of Superintendent of Public Instruction Barksdale Hamlett, who said he has talked over the situation with State Treasurer Thomas Rhea and can talk confidently. There was a surplus of $280,000 to the credit of the school fund at the close of the last fiscal year. It will require about $500,000 to pay the teachers for the additional month, but the money will be forthcoming.

MARRIED IN OKLAHOMA

Popular and Well Known Mattoon Couple Meet In The West.

Miss Elva Roberts and Jesse Duvall were married at Holdenville, Oklahoma, Oct., 27th by the Rev., Campbell, Methodist minister of that place. Miss Roberts left home Oct., 25th, for Holdenville, Mr. Duvall being already in the west, met her there where plans for the wedding were completed. Both parties were born and raised in Crittenden county, near Mattoon, and have been sweethearts since childhood.

She is the daughter of the late J. N. Roberts and has been teaching in Oklahoma for 3 years. The groom is the son of W. S. Duvall of Mattoon section. They will reside at Oakman, Okla. The groom has had employment there for two years and the bride will continue as principal at that place.

The groom is a young man of good character and lives an upright life and is certainly to be congratulated on winning the heart and hand of one so fair and talented. Mrs. Duvall has taught 5 schools in this county and three in Oklahoma and is a noble christian girl, who has always been highly esteemed.

Their "home paper," extends warmest congratulations.

Lucile Pope, Linda Jenkins, Hazel Pollard, Miriam Pierce, Masters Wilson Woods, M. Y. Nunn, Owen and Neville Moore and Medley Cannan. No other town can boast of the musical talent we have right here. "The Dust of the Earth" was the very play to give each one of the actors an opportunity to show how they could adopt themselves to their roles. Prof. Christian is never happier than when taking the part of a farmer, and when Miss Era Deboe was selected as "Susan," his wife, it seemed as if 'twas a heaven made match so well did they suit each other. Miss Acker, proud and haughty, well depicted the character of "Elizabeth."

"Jerry," their son, was full of mischief and did not forget to snowball the preacher; pull the chair from under and bumped into the town tattler with his roller skates. This latter character was well played by Miss Ethel Hard. Virgil Threlkeld, the parson, with his long coat made a hit, as did also Prof. Richardson as the owner of the Maple farm estate in his manly stand-by. "Nell," the dust of the earth, which leading character, was assumed by Miss Lena Holtzclaw, who has so often delighted Marion audiences. On this occasion she did not disappoint them but twined herself about the hearts of her audience more firmly than ever. "Wandering Tom," probably the most difficult role in the play, was ably interpreted by Virgil Moore, and 'twas the consensus of opinion that Walter Guess as "old Mose," could give Cobourn's minstrels cards and spades and then beat 'em. He's a genius. The young people were favored with a fine audience composed of the elite of the city. The beginning of the play was delayed till 8:30 to give the churches time to complete their services. Rev. L. O. Spencer and most of his congregation attended the play in a body.

It was given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of the Main St., Presbyterian church, and a neat sum was realized.

Prof. Christian Honored by District Educational Association. Prof. V. L. Christian, Principal of the Marion High School, is on the program of the First District Educational Association, which convenes in Paducah Nov. 28, for an address. His subject is "Better Preparation of Teachers For Their Work." Address will also be made by the Hon. Barksdale Hamlet, State Superintendent of Public Schools, and by Prof. McHenry Rhodes, State Supervisor of Kentucky, and by Dr. F. Mutchler, of the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Rev. Henry V. Escott will preach at Tolu Presbyterian church next Saturday evening and Sunday morning and evening following.

A Fine Meeting Closes.

The two weeks series of services and discourses on the Bible delivered by Rev. L. O. Spencer at the Southern Presbyterian Church came to a close Sunday night. Seldom has this community had an opportunity to listen to so able and Godly a man. Each of his sermons was a rare gem, glistening with hope, and offering every help to the unbeliever. Rev. Spencer was pastor here at the time this church was organized and is greatly beloved. There were four additions to the church.

JAMES WELLS IS SOON CAPTURED

Calvert City Officer Apprehends Jail Breaker and Companion.

Smithland, Ky., Nov., 4.—Three hours after he effected an escape from the Livingston county jail Saturday afternoon about 5:30 o'clock James Wells, under sentence for life for the murder of Frank Longnecker, a Cincinnati man, was arrested near Calvert City Saturday night at 9:30 o'clock by Constable Breen, who had been warned to keep on the lookout for the murderer.

Sheriff Foster and a posse had started on the trail of Wells with bloodhounds and were prepared to cross the Tennessee river near Calvert City when the Calvert constable appeared with Wells and Ray Jones, a companion, who had escaped from jail with the murderer.

Just how Wells and Jones managed to get out of the cell in which they were confined has not yet been learned by jailer Hardy or Livingston county officials. There were no bars sawed and it is evident that they in some mysterious way were able to pick the lock on their cell door.

Free in the corridor it was only a matter of a short time before the prisoners knocked a hole in the jail wall with a large iron bar that was used as a poker.

Jailer Hardy was at supper at the time Wells and Jones escaped and was surprised when he returned to find Wells cell empty. He immediately got into communication with Sheriff Foster and other county officers, who organized a posse hurriedly.

An investigation revealed the fact that Wells and Jones had disappeared down the Calvert City road and officers on the Marshall county side of the Tennessee river were notified. It developed later that Wells and Jones had asked a farmer in which direction Calvert City lay. The farmer grew suspicious and asked Wells his name. The murderer gave a fictitious one.

Wells had been in the Livingston jail for the past month awaiting the decision of the court of appeals. He was sentenced to life imprisonment for the Longnecker murder and asked for a new trial, which Judge Gordon denied.

The murderer is regarded as a dangerous character and in the future will be watched more closely than ever before.

Mrs. G. C. Gray delightfully entertained at tea in honor of Miss Nonie Blue of St. Louis, Mo., & Mrs. L. O. Spencer of Elizabethtown, Ky., at her home on Main st. last Friday afternoon Oct. 31.

Those who enjoyed her hospitality besides the guests of honor were:

Mesdames Clement, Blue, Woods, Dupuy, Cox, Jenkins, and Wilson. Refreshments were served and many were the pleasant reminiscences of the day of Auld Lang Syne.

Moore-Bebout.

On Sunday, November 2nd, 1913, at Elizabethtown, Illinois, Miss Blanch Bebout was married to Mr. Clarence J. Moore. The bride is the fourth daughter of A. J. Bebout, of Sheridan, and is a vicarious loveable girl while the groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore, living near Sheridan. He is an industrious young farmer, and both number their friends by the score who join in wishing them a long, prosperous, and happy journey through life.

Miss Mabel Yandell, Next Week's Bride, is Guest at Bridge Party.

Mrs. Edward Rommel was hostess at a bridge party given at her home Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Mabel Yandell whose marriage to Mr. Robert Hopper, of Memphis, will take place November 11th.

The house was elaborately decorated with Halloween decorations for the occasion. When you entered the front door two large pumpkins greeted you through the glass. To the left, Library was decorated with witches, ghosts, pumpkins and draperies of black and yellow. The living room was very artistically draped with yellow and black. Dining room, ropes of yellow and black extended from one side of the room to the other.

The table cloths were Halloween creations. Around this cloth were witches and ghosts. At each place there were napkins emblematic of Halloween. The favors were chimney's black cats and witches. Miss Yandell's favor was, bride and groom, the bride wore a white crepe gown with orange blossoms, groom, black evening suit. The orange baskets, filled with tutti fruita and handles of black and yellow, and yellow mints and cakes, carried out the color scheme of Halloween.

Those present were as follows: Misses Esther Barnett, Marian Clement, Evalyn Clement, Gwen delyn Haynes, Mattie Henry, Kittie Gray and Mabel Yandell.

Mesdames Cecil Ellis, Edw. Haynes, Edward Haynes, Geo. Roberts, Presley Guess, Taylor, S. Gugenheim, Henry and Robert Haynes.

The out of town guests, Miss Charlotte Droste, clair, N. J., house guest, Murry Saunders.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. J. E. Wright and Gwendolyn Haynes.

WALL COLLAPSES BUT NO ONE HURT.

Several Persons Have Narrow Escape at A Princeton Boarding House.

Princeton, Ky., Nov. 4.—Part of a wall of a two story brick building on Main street here, used as a boarding house by Newt Crayne, fell Thursday night. Mr. Crayne's family and several boarders were in the building, and their escape was remarkable, especially so with John and Andrew Byford, of Marion, Ky., who were cornered in an upstairs room by the falling of the wall.

Some heavy dynamiting had been done in excavating an adjacent lot for the purpose of erecting an Elks' Home, and it is supposed that this had weakened the foundation of the wall, causing it to fall.

CULEBRA CUT from the RAILWAY

Colon, C. Z.—With the completion of the Panama canal the importance of the Panama railway will decline almost to the vanishing point.

For nearly sixty years this railway has been carrying people and freight from ocean to ocean. Though only 47 miles long, it has been, for certain periods, one of the most important and most interesting railroad lines in the world. During the building of the canal, under the ownership of the United States, it has become one of the best equipped and most efficient of railways. It has given great help in the construction of the canal that will prove its virtual death.

The finding of gold in California was the cause of the building of the Panama railroad. For long years before the wild rush of argonauts in 1849 the isthmus was almost forgotten by the civilized world, but when the yellow metal was discovered on the west coast it became once more a great trade route. In order to avoid the long trip across the plains in "prairie schooners," thousands of gold-seekers went by boat to Chagres, up the Chagres river to Gorgona or Cruces and thence over the old Spanish road to Panama. This, too, was a long route and in the rainy season a painful and dangerous one because of the prevalence of disease.

To the rescue of the gold hunters came three bold Americans, W. H. Aspinwall, Henry Chauncey and John L. Stevens. In 1848 these men had asked the government of New Granada for a concession for the road, and in 1850 Stevens obtained it at Bogota. The Pacific terminus could not be otherwise than at Panama, but at first the harbor of Porto Bello was selected for the Atlantic terminus. However, a New York speculator spoiled this plan by buying up all the land about the harbor and holding it at a very high price, so Navy Bay was chosen instead.

When work on the line was begun in May, 1850, there was no celebration, no turning of the first spadeful of earth with a golden shovel.

Two Americans with a gang of Indians landed on Manzanillo Island, now the site of the city of Colon, then a desolate, uninhabited spot, and began the tremendous task of clearing the route through the dense jungle. The surveying party suffered intensely, for the land was so swampy and so infested with malaria and yellow fever bearing mosquitoes that they were compelled to sleep aboard a ship. Much of the time they carried their lunches tied on their heads and ate them standing waist-deep in the water.

The efforts of the company to obtain laborers were attended by a terrible tragedy. Eight hundred Chinese were brought over from Hong Kong, but within a week of their landing scores of them died. Opium was given the survivors and for a short time checked the ravages of disease. But the supply of the drug was shut off on account of its cost, and again the deaths became numerous. The poor Orientals in despair began to commit suicide, some by hanging, others by impalement, while some deliberately sat down upon the seashore and waited for the rising tide to overwhelm them. In a few weeks scarce two hundred were left, and these, broken in health and spirits, were sent to Jamaica.

Another shipload of laborers, this time from Ireland, met no better fate, for nearly every man died.

The material difficulties that confronted the railway builders are thus summarized by Tomes in his "Panama in 1855": "The isthmus did not supply a single resource necessary for the undertaking. Not only the capital, skill and enterprise, but the labor, the wood and iron, the daily food, the clothing, the roof to cover and the instruments to work with came from abroad. . . . Most of the material used for the construction of the road was brought from vast distances. Although the country abounded in forests, it was found necessary, from the expense of labor and the want of routes of communication, to send the timber, for the most part, from the United States, and not only were the rails, to a considerable extent, laid on American pine, but the bridges, and the houses and workshops of the various settlements were of the same wood, all fashioned in Maine and Georgia. The metal work, the rails, the locomotives and the tools were brought either from England or the United States. The daily food of the laborers, even, came from a New York market."

The first section of the road was laid through a mangrove swamp in which no bottom was found, the tracks being floated on an immense pontoon. By October, 1851, eight miles had been completed, and solid ground was reached at Gatun. Lack of funds now began to hamper the builders. Investors in the states had become discouraged and the cost of labor had advanced. But a hurricane came to the rescue. Two ships loaded with gold-seekers were forced to anchor near Manzanillo Island and the passengers paid the company a handsome sum to carry them to Gatun in work cars. The news that the road had carried more than a thousand passengers reached New York and funds again flowed into the coffers of the company.

As the work progressed passengers were hauled longer and longer distances and before the line was completed the receipts from passengers and freight were considerably above $2,000,000. The last rails were laid the night of January 27, 1855, and the next day the first train passed clear across the isthmus from the Atlantic to the Pacific. The entire cost of the road up to December 31, 1858, had been something less than $8,000,000 and its gross earnings in the same time were a little more than that sum.

The rate across the isthmus was put at $25 gold, being intended to be to a certain extent prohibitive until they could get things into good running order, but so great was the volume of travel that the rate was not reduced for more than twenty years. Soon after its opening the road began to declare 24 per cent. dividends, and at one time its stock went up to 350.

In the '60s the company fell on hard times. It lost much of its freight traffic, was held up by the politicians in Bogota and then suffered by the completion of the Union Pacific railroad. Next Russell Sage and others like him got control of the directorate and wrecked the road. When de Lesseps came over to dig a canal his company bought up the stock and used the road to help in its work.

Then in 1904 the United States bought out the French company and also acquired the railway and so it became the first American road to be owned by the government. So economically and efficiently has it been conducted since then that it is cited as an argument for the government ownership of all our railways.

The building of the canal and especially the creation of the artificial Gatun lake made necessary the relocation of the Panama railroad along most of its route. The old roadbed now is under water for much of the way, the old line still in use being only about seven miles in length, from Colon to Mindi and from Corozal to Panama. From Mindi to Gatun the grade ascends to 95 feet above tide level. From Gatun the road runs east until it is four and a half miles from the canal, and then south again on great embankments across the Gatun valley.

Along this stretch passengers obtain an unusual view. Because of the construction of the Gatun dam across the channel of the Chagres river, the Chagres valley and all its tributary valleys have been converted into a lake with an area of about 164 square miles. The Gatun valley is one of these drowned arms and as the train crosses, wide stretches of water are to be seen on both sides of the track. Down below the surface are still visible the tops of giant trees that have been killed by submergence, and along the edges of the lake the tallest and hardest of the trees reach their dead limbs above the waters. Here and there is a pretty little island that not long ago was the summit of a hill, and the shores line is most picturesquely broken up by capes, peninsulas and bays.

From Monte Lirio the line skirts the shore of the lake to the beginning of the Culebra cut at Bas Obispo. Originally it was intended to carry the railroad through the Culebra cut on a 40-foot beam along the east side, ten feet above water level, but this plan was knocked out by the slides and breaks. The line was carried around Gold Hill to a distance of two miles from the canal until it reached the Pedro Miguel valley, down which it runs to Paraiso and the canal again. Thence it runs almost parallel with the channel to Panama. There are two big steel bridges on the line. One, near Monte Lirio, has a center lift span to permit access to the upper arm of Gatun lake; the other, a quarter of a mile long, across the Chagres river at Gamboa. The total cost of building the new line of the railway was $8,866,382. In addition, a large sum has been expended in increasing the terminal facilities.

Of course, even after the canal is opened, the railway will have a good deal of business, transporting people and goods between Colon and Panama, and serving the needs of the operating forces of the canal. But its days of glory have departed, and J. A. Smith, the American who has been its efficient general superintendent, recognizing that fact, has resigned and returned to the states.

Smithland Kicking.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 27.—The people of Smithland, Ky., are considerably wrought over the tearing away of the dike at the head of Green's Island, opposite Smithland, by government engineers. The waters of the deep channel now flowing through on the Smithland side will, through the work, be diverted to the Illinois side, leaving Smithland high and dry at some seasons of year. The change is being made at the urgent request of coal shippers in order to shorten their haul from the upper Kentucky mines.

EDWARD AMHERST OTT.

The popular lectures which Edward Amherst Ott is giving on the Lyceum platform are bearing fruit in the way of advanced legislation for the betterment of the American people. His lecture on "Sour Grapes," which treats of marriage and divorce, has been given nearly 2,000 times. In one of the states where it was given the legislator who introduced a reform marriage bill said he got his inspiration to do so from hearing Mr. Ott's lecture. But, whether he delivers this lecture or one of his other subjects, he is always alike forceful, entertaining and inspiring. He has appeared before more than 3,000 audiences in America, and more than 2,500 copies of his books have been sold. American audiences can scarce get enough of this man and his purposeful oratory.

Every lecture should answer one of the fundamental inquiries of the mind. If a lecture is also humorous and highly entertaining, so much the better. Although known as the purposeful orator and author, Mr. Ott combines much of humor and entertainment in each of his lectures.

In 1910 Mr. Ott appeared at the original New York Chautauqua in two lectures. For two years Mr. Ott was president of the International Lyceum Association, and he has done much for the Lyceum and Chautauqua movement in general throughout the country.

BROOKLYN TABERNACLE BIBLE STUDY

MOSES CALLED TO SERVICE. Exodus 3:1-14.—July 20.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."—Matthew 5:3.

MOSES was forty years old when he fled from Pharaoh. He was eighty years old when God called him to be leader of Israel. The first forty years were an ordinary schooling; the last forty, a special schooling in meekness. He was now ready for service at exactly the time when God wished to use him. So thoroughly discouraged had he become that he who was so ready to lead the hosts of Israel without a special Divine commission was now so distrustful of himself that even when called of God he apologized, pleading his unfitness, etc. He did not realize that he had only then become fit.

Moses was tending Jethro's flocks, and perhaps considering how wise it was that forty years before he had been unsuccessful in arousing his brethren to flee from Egypt. He could now see, in the light of maturer years, what a herculean task he would have had as their leader. He could better understand the difficulties that would have attended his people in the wilderness journey and also in attempting to take possession of the land of Canaan. Quite possibly he philosophized that people unfitted to be delivered were wise in remaining in bondage.

The Burning Bush Consumed Not. Thus meditating, while his flocks pastured on the mountainside, Moses caught sight of something most unusual. A bush was afire, yet it was not consumed. Moses approached the bush to investigate. From it came a voice, declaring the phenomenon to be a manifestation of God's presence and power. Moses obeyed the command to take off his sandals, for it was holy ground, by reason of the presence of the Angel of the Lord. Moses then covered his face in reverence, while he listened to the Divine message.

The statement, "I am the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob," brought to this instructed man of God a clear understanding of what was signified by his experience. By it God reminded him of the Covenant which He had made with Abraham, and renewed with Isaac, and confirmed to Jacob for an everlasting covenant. Thus Moses learned that God's time had come for the deliverance of Israel and for their attainment of the Land of Promise—Canaan.

If Moses had ever wondered whether God really cared for the Israelites and why He had permitted them to be oppressed by the Egyptians, he now had God's own assurance that He did care, and that He had a purpose in withholding so long. The Lord's explanation closed with an invitation to Moses to be His servant and messenger to Pharaoh, calling upon him to liberate the captive Israelites.

"Certainly I Will Be With Thee." Then Moses, who forty years before was full of confidence and courage, and ready to lead the Israelites, but who now was lacking in self-confidence, replied to the Lord, "Who am I, that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring forth the children of Israel out of Egypt?" This meant, I am a failure; with all the educational advantages that I had, I am fit for nothing better than to be a sheep-tender.

God's reply was: "Surely I will be with thee." I shall not expect you to do it yourself. I realize that it is a mighty work. By way of emphasis, the Lord declared that not only should Moses lead the people forth, but they should worship God in that very mountain.

Moses, remembering his previous failure, was cautious. He inquired what response he should make if the Israelites should inquire which God had sent him. The Divine response was that God's name is, "I AM THAT I AM"—the self-existent One. But Moses was so distrustful of himself that he urged that the Egyptians would not let the people go, and that the Israelites themselves would not believe that God had really appeared to Moses.

Answering these objections, the Lord gave Moses certain signs, convincing him that he was talking to the Omnipotent, and assured him that these signs would convince the Israelites, and also the Egyptians.

So meek was Moses that although he fully believed the Lord and trusted His power, he could not feel competent to do this great work. Humility, lack of self-confidence, meekness, had become so pronounced in him that he wept that even if he should be used, some one else might be the spokesman. God heard his request and granted that he should have his brother Aaron for a companion and mouthpiece before Pharaoh.

Humility is a quality most essential to all Christians who would be used of the Lord. Let us say with the poet, "I'll go where You want me to go, dear Lord."

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

Over mountain, or plain, or sea; I'll say what You want me to say, dear Lord. I'll be what You want me to be.

DEPARTING FROM OLD TRADITIONS

High Schools Aid In Developing Kentucky Fruit Growing.

CO-OPERATION A ONE FLOT.

Extensive Apple Growing Associations Launched In Rowan and Hardin Counties—Movement Means Wider Use of Agriculture and Horticulture In Rural High Schools of the State.

The present year has seen a great impetus given to the fruit growing interest in Kentucky. Two different sections of the state have launched extensive co-operative apple growing associations. Both in Rowan and in Hardin counties the work has been helped and developed by our state department of agriculture. The department has furnished these counties with four standard varieties of apple trees free of charge and has also agreed to advise and train the members of the association in the care and general cultivation of the young trees and orchards during the next five years.

When the newly grafted young trees were received by the association in Rowan county they were divided among the members, to be placed in home gardens for the summer's growth. In Hardin county it was decided best to plant and cultivate the 60,000 young trees in one nursery plot. While plans were being discussed as to the best place and manner of caring for this nursery work the agricultural class of the county high school offered to take the trees and carry them through the summer until transplanting time next autumn.

Just next to the high school at Elizabethtown a fertile piece of sod land was broken and carefully prepared for the tender young stock. The day the planting took place was made something of a gala day for the students, especially as two experts from the state agricultural station, a government expert and a Louisville newspaper man came to inspect the work.

When the 60,000 trees, enough to set 1,500 acres, were stacked in the side yard they did not look as if they would require much time to plant. But after the bundles were opened and tiny bunches that could be held in one hand were seen to contain seventy-five or a hundred small trees the boys stared first at the bundles and then at the well worked ground.

The splendid part of this work lies in the fact that the high school is stepping outside of the old, narrow, musty limits of educational tradition and is doing something of very definite value for the community. It will undoubtedly be of great benefit to the boys who do the work; their fathers, their friends and neighbors, in gaining a new viewpoint of what education will mean in the coming years.

The development of Kentucky's resources should be the first aim of every citizen, and when the enormous practical value of this work is realized it will give a great impetus to every form of agricultural endeavor.

If this work is a pronounced success this year it will naturally mean a wider use of agriculture and horticulture in our rural high schools over the whole state. When this comes it will also mean that each community will be willing to put much larger sums of money into its school than it has in the past. Let us hope that many high schools will follow this splendid start.

"Cured"

Mrs. Jay McGee, of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years, I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

TAKE
The Woman's Tonic

Cardui helps women in time of greatest need, because it contains ingredients which act specifically, yet gently, on the weakened womanly organs. So, if you feel discouraged, blue, out-of-sorts, unable to do your household work, on account of your condition, stop worrying and give Cardui a trial. It has helped thousands of women,—why not you? TO IMPROVE PRETTY HAIR AND BEAUTIFY UGLY HAIR

Harmony Hair Beautifier, delightful liquid hair dressing, is just what it is named—a hair beautifier. No matter how pretty your hair now is, it can be made to look even better by using Harmony Hair Beautifier. To those who mourn because the hair is stringy, dull, lustreless and homely, Harmony Hair Beautifier will prove a blessing and pleasure. It seems to polish and burnish the hair, making it glossy, silky-soft and more easy to put up in graceful, wavy folds that "stay put." It overcomes the oily smell of the hair with a dainty, true-rose fragrance, very pleasing to the user, and those around.

Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of the hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50 cts. Both guaranteed to satisfy you in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

Giant Steamship Encounters Ice-burg on Trip To Liverpool.

New York, Nov., 4.—Cable dispatches tonight report the narrow escape of the Teutonic from collision with a giant ice-burg on October 21. The Teutonic arrived in Liverpool tonight. A fog enveloped the steamer, which was proceeding slowly, when ice was reported ahead. The captain signaled astern, and threw the helm hard to port. The vessel answered the helm perfectly just as the enormous berg loomed out of the fog, and missed the ship on by a few yards.

Regulate the bowels when they fail to move properly. HERBINE is an admirable bowel regulator. It helps the liver and stomach and restores a fine feeling of strength and buoyancy. Price 50 cents. Sold by J. H. Gerne, and Haynes & Taylor. 11

Poisoned Candy Sent Children Through the Mail.

Russellville, Ky., Nov. 4.

The four children of Isaac Nuchols, ranging in age from two to seven years, who reside four miles west of town, are suffering from eating candy which had been poisoned with paris green.

The children are living with their grand parents, who found the candy in the mail box addressed to the children.

Just who did it is not known, but an investigation is being made to find the guilty party or parties.

Another Addition To the Conscience Fund.

Postmaster Henderson received a letter that was unsigned on last Saturday morning from some unknown person saying that the writer had when a child used stamps that had already been used, that she did not know that it was stealing when she took them but that now she realized that it was wrong and asking that the one dollar bill which was enclosed be remitted to the Postoffice department, which was done.
