THE POST OFFICE IS BURGLARIZED

Bandits In Marion On Friday Night, Dynamited Two Safes and Escaped With Over $1,000

This usually quiet little city was thrown into intense excitement Saturday morning when it became known that burglars had blown open the two safes in the post office and departed hurriedly with about $1,000 in booty.

The first explosion took place at 1:53 a. m. as indicated by the clock which hangs over the safe in the post office. Persons in the hotel and also Mrs. Minnie Shuttlesworth, the night operator at the Home telephone office heard it but were uncertain as to where or what it was. In a few minutes a second and a third explosion were heard and Mrs. Shuttlesworth lost no time in notifying the post master, the city marshal and the County attorney all of whom were soon on the ground. They found the two safes blown all to pieces and the room full of smoke but the thieves had made their get away leaving no trace. The tools with which the burglary was committed were stolen from the I. C. R. R. tool house and were left on the floor of the post office. They had used a crow bar to prize the bars up after sawing them and had used the same tool to prize up the window breaking the fastening.

Among the items stolen were: 60,000 one cent stamps, 10,000 two cent stamps and $300 in currency and silver change, which loss falls on the government. Three men seen to pass Guess & Ordways livery stable, soon after the explosions, going east on Bellville street are supposed to have been the burglars. Local blood hounds as well as some from Smithland trailed the robbers toward Repton and although the authorities in all surrounding towns were notified, no trace has been found up to this time.

Miss Ruth Croft who is attending school in Washington City will reach home Sunday to remain until after New Years.

CO., DEMONSTRATOR IS EMPLOYED

J. Robert Bird, of Shelby County,
Employed—is an Able Man
In His Line of Work.

The business men of the county, seeing need of practical farming and stock raising, have joined with the farmers in helping them to bring government help into county. We have a man here ready to help in every way possible, any and all farmers of Crittenden county. He can be found in T. C. Bennett's office every Saturday and Court Day, and at all times in the county.

The most of his time will be given to farm visits, but any farmer in need of his assistance for hog Cholera, etc., will be waited on at any time called. Farmers make it your business, when in town, to look up "Bird, The Farmer." Tell him your troubles your ways of farming, and ask his advice about your coming crop.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PLOW.

Now is the best time to plow your corn, do you know you can plow deeper in the next six weeks than at any time of the year. We must prepare our land to stand dry weather, we have found that out in the last two years experience, so every farmer should take advantage of this time and get his corn and tobacco ground plowed deep, subsoil your land if possible.

See the implement houses in Marion about the attachment to fasten on to your steel beam plows, hitch three horses to your plow and plow just as deep as you can. Do not think you are plowing too deep, just put your plow down as deep as you can pull it.

HAVE YOUR SEED CORN TESTED.

It is very necessary if we raise a good corn crop, to have good seed. To have good seed corn we should have gathered our corn for seed and kept it separate from the feeding corn, but if your seed corn is still in your crib pick out what you expect to Lexington, Ky., Dec. 5th., 1914.

Because of the wide prevalence of foot and mouth disease in Kentucky and in States which adjoin Kentucky it is deemed wise by the authorities in charge of the Kentucky State Poultry Show to declare it off for this year. Unquestionably this show would have been of unusual size and importance this winter and it is only after considerable reluctance that this step is taken.

BE A BOOSTER DON'T KNOCK

The Crittenden County Crop Improvement Association Wants
Your Encouragement.

The Press takes pleasure in announcing to the people of Crittenden county that her citizens have at last taken a forward stride, and secured a crop demonstrator for the term of one year, at a salary of $1600.00.

DON'T KNOCK.
This man comes to us in the person of Mr. J. Robert Bird, who is a State University man and who has, since his school days, made good. He has shown himself to be a master of the science of farming.

DON'T KNOCK.

The Press speaks for Mr. Bird the serious consideration of every farmer in Crittenden county. Give him that co-operation essential to his success and our success. Let every farmer in the county pull for higher grade of farming.

DON'T KNOCK.

Mr. Bird is backed up by the whole agricultural machinery of the State and Nation. Disabuse your minds at the start, of the notion that Mr. Bird thinks he knows it all. He does not know it all, and he does not think so. He is a very reasonable, high toned gentleman and has a world of energy. He believes that the two words, "hard work," spells genius to a large extent.

DON'T KNOCK.

The Press desires also to say that one-half of Mr. Bird's salary is paid by the United States Department of Agriculture. Uncle Sam generally knows his business when he hires a man and always keeps track of him. Mr. Bird makes a weekly report that goes to Washington and an annual report to the same place. Uncle Sam has to know all that goes on in Crittenden county to the last detail in agricultural matters while his man is in charge.

DON'T KNOCK.

Mr. Bird is the servant of Crittenden county farmers. While

RURAL ROUTES ON CONTRACT

Postmaster General Burleson Advocates Doing Away With Salaries.—Money Saving Plan.

Washington, Dec. 16.—There are 43,000 rural carriers in the United States, including 2,000 in Indiana, who will be on the anxious seat when they learn that the house committee on postoffice and -postroad spent nearly all of today discussing the question as to whether or not their salaried jobs shall be cut off.

It developed today that a movement of large proportions is on foot, backed by Postmaster General Burleson, to change the method of payment of rural carriers from the salary basis to a contract basis. If this is accomplished it will be the biggest shift of the kind ever made in the postal service. It will give contracts to many democrats, but the chief advantage claimed for it is economy.

It is proposed that the contracts for carrying mail in the rural routes shall be let to the lowest and best bidder in every instance.

It is estimated that this plan would save $1,850,000 a year.

Tobacco Factory For Sale At Sullivan, Ky.

I will offer for sale the Sullivan Farmers' Warehouse located at Sullivan, Ky. on Dec. 31, 1914, capacity 1,000,000 lbs. terms made known on day of sale 1 o'clock p. m.—H. S. Newcom Pres.

this is true remember that he cannot be everywhere at the same time. If he does not get to you as quick as you think he ought, remember there are others that desire his services. Don't think he will over-look you. And lastly but not least, if you cannot say something good about Crittenden's effort to better her farming interests, don't say anything.

PRINCETON GIRL QUITE A PRODIGY

Although Deaf and Dumb Since She Was Four Years of Age—She Can Talk, Read and Write.

In the person of Gladys Waggener, of Princeton, Ky., a pretty, vivacious, little blond miss of fourteen, Paducah has within its environs a case which draws near to that of the wonderful Helen Keller, as an example of what persistence and intelligent direction can do toward overcoming the terrible handicap caused by the loss of one or more of the senses.

This little girl, who since the age of four, has been wrapped in a mantle of absolute silence, and in addition to her total deafness been unable to speak, because the organs of speech are imitative and can not articulate what is not first heard, is now at the age of fourteen accomplished to a degree far beyond that of many girls of the same age who have been blessed with the full use of all their faculties. She can play on the piano, can read with under standing, write smoothly and legibly, express her thoughts in clear and beautiful English and converse intelligently with anyone who may care to talk to her. Her vocabulary, in fact is much richer and broader than the average girl of her age.

Much of the wonders the little girl has accomplished in overcoming her misfortune has been due to the patient and careful training of Mrs. P. H. Fields, of 228 North Eight street, a woman with a country wide reputation as a teacher of the deaf and dumb, whose pupil she has been for the past three months.

Mrs. Fields has carried her far towards perfection in lip reading and by careful lessons in phonetic speech, with its accompanying gymnastics for the throat and tongue, has made her able to quickly understand what is said to her and to respond in well modulated, effortless speech. She is well up in all branches of

STOP BUYING EXPENSIVE COUGH REMEDIES

Make the Best at Home

Money spent for the old style, ready-made, cough syrups in bottles holding only 2 to 2½ ounces is very largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it was all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better cough medicine at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to J. H. Orme's Drug Store and ask for 2 ounces (50¢ worth) of Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (16 ounces). This new, simple, pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold. Also excellent for Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and whooping cough. One bottle will make enough home-made cough medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take and it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics as do most cough mixtures. Keep on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist has been authorized to return the money in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy under this positive guarantee.

Third of Montenegrin

Army Falls In Battle.

Petrograd, Dec. 15.—King Nicholas of Montenegro has telegraphed the Bourse Gazette that a third of his army has fallen on the battlefield.

"Nevertheless," King Nicholas adds in his message, "Montenegrins will continue to defend their country and deliver attacks on the enemy's territory. Their means are exhausted and they will be most grateful for assistance either in money or supplies."

The war strength of the Montenegrin army is estimated at approximately 50,000 men.

A dispatch from Berlin on December 4 stated that according to an official announcement made there, a number of transports escorted by British and French warships had reached Antivari, the sole seaport of Montenegro. The assumption was that these transports carried troops which would assist the Montenegrins in their campaign.

New York, Dec. 15.—The Charcas was in the service of the New York and Pacific Steamship Company. W. R. Grace & Co., local agents of the line, said today that the ship carried no passengers and that she probably had discharged the greater part of her cargo before meeting the Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

The Charcas was built in Newcastle, England, in 1906. She was 450 feet long and had a beam of 52 feet. Her gross register was 5,067 tons.

Immense Coal Contract

For Kentucky Mines.

Whitesburg, Ky., Dec.—It is said here on good authority that the Consolidation Coal Company in the Jenkins-McRoberts-Dunham-Burdine coal field of this county, has just received contracts aggregating more than 100,000 tons of coal, all to be delivered within the next six months, which will tax the railroad lines entering this section to the limit. This contract also covers the Elkhorn Mining Corporation, in the Fleming-Haywood-Hemphill field which is a subsidiary company. Already the work has started up at a remarkable rate, and ere many days every mine will be running full time at full capacity. This will necessitate the employing of thousands of miners and hundreds of office men in both plants.

A large per cent of the coal shipments will go over the Carolina, Cincinnati & Ohio, now being completed from Elkhorn City, Ky., to Dante, Va., through the "Breaks" destined for foreign ports. Much of it, however, will continue to go to the Great Lakes and Northwest regions. There will be unusual industrial activity throughout this section during the next six months on account of the big coal order.

BRAIN LEAKS.

Albert Elter and his family had retired and Albert's son had fallen asleep. His wife still awake, and was aroused by hearing some one enter their smoke house. His wife called to Albert in a low soft voice, and by giving him a few punches in the ribs with her elbow soon awaking him, the wife says: "There is someone in the smoke house." Albert raised up on his elbows and said to her: "Wife lay right still, dear, and you'll hear him come out directly."

If you have two or three hours you want to waste, just ask our depot agent how his baby is getting along.

Newt Dollar says some of the 1913 June brides are now using the bride veils as fly screens for the babies' cot.

Uncle George Stallions said to uncle Billie Loyd: "If you want to be different from the rest of mankind, give money instead of advice."

George Crider says an ideal marriage is one in which the wife can keep her temper, and the husband can keep a little money.

Sam Watson says if a man wants to find out how old his children are, ask their mother.

Mrs. Mollie Hibbs, of Cairo, was going down in the city the other day on a street car, and a rude man sitting beside her, had spit on the floor. She immediately signaled the conductor and he came in to see what was the matter. "Do you allow spitting in this car?" replied Mrs. Hibbs.

"Well, no," replied the conductor, "but you can come out on the platform if you want to spit, lady."

Mrs. Billie Koon asked: "Billie, what will we call the baby?"

"Call it 'Coffee,' for it keeps us awake at night." Was Bill's answer.

Tom Bugg says some birds have a heap of sense. You can't blame the stork for dodging a place after he sees the lady of the house sitting around, nursing a poodle in her arms.

Phil Deboe says there may have been a time when poverty was a blessing, but it was before steak was sold by the inch and butter by the spoonful.

Dr. Bailey, of Fredonia, received late one evening a note from three of his fellow-doctors, saying, "Please come up to the club and join us in a game of bridge." "Pattie, dear," he said to his wife, "here I am called away again. It is an important case. There are three other doctors on the spot already."

Mrs. Effie Baker employed old Andy to help her get dinner for the preachers. After dinner the old negro said, "Ebberbody's got to eat to live, but lawdy honey, it looks like brodders Oakley and Newman just live to eat."

George Crider says a single man thinks there are only ten commandments, but a married man knows there are about ten thousand of them.

One of our Fredonia boys presented himself before the schoolmistress, who asked him his name.

"Marlin," he replied.

"How old are you," asked the teacher.

"I don't know how old I am."

"Well, when were you born?" asked the teacher.

"I wasn't born at all, we've got a step-mother."

Harry Hale stopped at Albert Elter's about 12 o'clock, and Albert said, "Ah what a pity, you didn't come a minute sooner. My wife has just cleared away the coffee."

"Yes, and she nearly broke a cup in her hurry."

Uncle George Carlton said, "I gave it to that man straight. He's twice as big as I am, but I told him exactly what I thought of his rascally conduct right to his face and called him all the names in the dictionary and a lot of others as well."

"Didn't he hit you?" Said George Crude.

"No, but when he tried to answer me back I just hung up the telephone receiver and walked away."

Uncle Dock Green says you can believe all you hear, and get by. But if you try to say all you believe, you are going to spend a lot of time in a hospital.

Howard Rice says the day that father picks out to swear off using cuss words is usually the same day that mother makes him help her straighten the stovepipe in the kitchen and the same day that the stovepipe manages to fall down on father's head.

Cossacks Rout Kurds in Persia.

New York, Dec. 14.—Russian Cossacks have suppressed a Kurd uprising in Persia, according to mail advices to the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian church. Russians now control the Uramia section of Persia, it is said.

The fight, which resulted in the rout of the Kurds, started at Seir, where the Cossacks occupied the English mission house. Their allies, the Syrians, occupied the American house. The Syrians retreated to the English mission house, which they and the Russians defended until reinforcements of Cossacks arrived. The Kurds were then driven out.

Goeben Hit by Fifteen Shells in Black Sea Fight.

Paris, Dec. 15.—A dispatch to the Havas Agency from Athens says that the cruiser Goeben, purchased by Turkey from Germans, undergoing repairs of the heavy damage suffered in the battle with a Russian fleet in the Black Sea recently. The Goeben was struck by fifteen shells from Russian ships, which are said to have killed 125 members of her crew besides destroying a turret smokestack and one engine.

The Goeben's sailors who were killed, it is said, were buried in the garden of the German Ambassador's summer residence at Therapia, a village eight miles northeast of Constantinople on the Bosphorus. Two-thirds of the Goeben's crew are said to be Germans and the remainder are Austrians.

The Goeben was reported in a dispatch from Petrograd on November 19th., to have been badly damaged in a battle the preceding day between a division of the Russian Black Sea fleet and a Turkish detachment consisting of the Goeben and Breslau near the coast of Anatolia.

It was said a series of explosions were seen in the hull of the Goeben, which opened fire slowly. After the battle had continued forty minutes the Goeben reported to have withdrawn and disappeared in the fog, taking advantage of her speed. The Russian losses were given as twenty three killed and twenty-five wounded.

A Berlin dispatch on November 27 stated that the Goeben lost only eleven men killed and that the ship was struck by only one shot, which took effect above the water line.

WHY WAIT?

Edison says that when this great war is over, the energies of the world will be glad to turn to invention, engineering and productive labor and that the greatest constructive advance in history will follow.

It sounds sensible that mankind should soon turn from problems of killing to problems of living, but we in this country are not at war and why should we wait? No doubt we shall advantage greatly in the future by being driven to develop our own resources and by discovering the vast possibilities of foreign trade to which we have been strangers; but what about the "now?"

What sense or profit is there for us in waiting until after the war to buy and sell, to reap and sow, to make and order, to live and let live? You may have heard of the little girl who was bawling lustily with her brother, who wanted a drink, but who said she herself was only "helping Bobbie cry." Among the millions of business men in this country there are always some who are unhappy. No matter how good their reasons, no real help is given by helping them cry.

We hope customers of ours for job work, advertising or subscription will not hold their breath or hold their orders. We shall be glad to receive them, and fill them, and we believe the result will be good for both. Each sub-if all fail to come up promptly this paper would of necessity suspend publication. Who'll be first to pay their subscription?

GEOLOGY AND THE FLOOD

By G. FREDERICK WRIGHT, LL. D., F. G. S. A.
(Geologist; Author of the "The Ice Age" in North America," "Man and the Glacial Period," Etc.)

The Bible represents the "breaking up of the fountains of the great deep" as the principal cause of the flood. For the water continued to rise 110 days after the rain ceased. But as the rising of the water upon the shore corresponds to the sinking of the land beneath the water level, we have in this account testimony to great changes of land level since the human race came into existence. Geology furnishes us striking confirmations of this fact. It is now established beyond all reasonable doubt that man was in existence before the close of the glacial period, his remains being found in many undisturbed glacial deposits. It is equally well established that there was a great depression of land over a large part of the Northern Hemisphere at the close of the glacial period, causing ocean floods to cover a large part of Northern United States and Canada, Northern Europe and Northern and Central Asia. Here are some of the facts:

The skeleton of a whale was found in the post-glacial clays of western Vermont 300 feet above sea level. Another skeleton was found at Annapolis in Canada, at a still higher level. Recent shells are found in post-glacial deposits, on the top of Mount Royal in Montreal, 600 feet above the present sea level, while still farther north in British America the evidence indicates a depression of the land level of more than 1,000 feet. In Sweden a recently abandoned shore line can be clearly traced at various levels from Southern Sweden up to 1,000 feet in the northern part of the Scandinavian peninsula. At Kiev, in Russia, the remains of man have been found buried 50 feet in post-glacial deposits, indicating a depression of several hundred feet. At Trebezon, on the south side of the Black sea, an extensive, recently abandoned shore line, is 700 feet above the present level of the sea, indicating a post-glacial depression to that extent. Similar recent shore lines are found on the Crimea, of about the same elevation, and upon both sides of the Caspian sea.

In Central Asia the indications are of a still greater recent depression of the land level. In Lake Balkal, 2,000 miles from the Arctic ocean and 1,500 feet above sea level, there are great numbers of arctic seal which could have reached there only during a depression of land sufficient to allow arctic waters to cover the intervening area.

While these facts do not positively prove the truth of the Bible story, they go far to remove objections to the story, when rightly interpreted. In this case, as in many others, it is not knowledge, but ignorance, which produces unbelief.

Cannon That Modernized Japan

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Author of "Do Something! Be Something!"

BUSINESS is no longer a man to man contact, in which the seller and the buyer establish a personal bond, any more than battle is a hand-to-hand grapple wherein bone and muscle and sinew decide the outcome. Trade as well as war has changed aspect—both are now fought at long range.

Just as a present-day army of heroes would have no opportunity to display the individual valor of its members, just so a merchant who counts upon his direct acquaintanceship for success, is a relic of the past—a business dodo.

Japan changed her policy of exclusion to foreigners, after a fleet of warships battered down the Satsuma fortifications. The Samurai, who had hitherto considered their blades and bows efficient, discovered that one cannon was mightier than all the swords in creation—if they could not get near enough to use them. Japan profited by the lesson. She did not wait until further ramparts were pounded to pieces but was satisfied with her one experience and proceeded to modernize her methods.

The merchant who doesn't advertise is pretty much in the same position as that in which Japan stood when her eyes were opened to the fact that times had changed. The long range publicity of a competitor will as surely destroy his business as the cannon of the foreigners crumbled the walls of Satsuma. Unless you take the lesson to heart, unless you realize the importance of advertising, not only as a means of extending your business but for defending it as well, you must be prepared to face the consequences of a fully as great as that of a duelist who expects to survive in a contest in which his adversary bears a sword twice the length of his own.

Don't think that it's too late to begin because there are so many stores which have had the advantage of years of cumulative advertising. The town is growing. It will grow even more next year. It needs increased trading facilities just as it's hungry for new neighborhoods.

Newspaper advertising has reduced the value of being locally prominent, and five cent street car fares have cut out the advantage of being "around the corner." A store five miles away, can reach through the columns of the newspaper and draw your next door neighbor to its aisles, while you sit by and see the people on your own block enticed away, without your being able to retaliate or secure new customers to take their place.

It is not a question of your ability to stand the cost of advertising but of being able to survive without it. The thing you have to consider is not only an extension of your business but of holding what you already have.

Advertising is an investment, the cost of which is in the same proportion to its returns as seeds are to the harvest. And it is just as preposterous for you to consider publicity as an expense, as it would be for a farmer to hesitate over purchasing a fertilizer, if he discovered that he could profitably increase his crops by employing it.

Victory At Sea and on Land Gave Allies Much Cheer Thursday.

Lodon, Dec. 10; 7 p. m.—The British Squadron under command of Vice Admiral Sturdee chief of the war staff, engaged the German Squadron under Admiral Count Von Spee, off Falkland Islands, in the South Atlantic, yesterday, and won a victory which is being acclaimed throughout England.

The armored cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the protected cruiser Leipzig, three of the German warships which have been menacing British shipping, and part of the squadron which sank the British cruiser Good Hope and Monmouth in the Pacific on November 1st were destroyed, while the cruisers Dresden and Nürnberg, the other two vessels composing the German squadron, made of during the fight, are according to the latest accounts, being pursued. Two colliers were captured.

The announcement of this engagement and victory, the most important naval engagement of the war except that of Helgoland in August, was made this evening by the admiralty in a statement of less than one hundred words.

The statement refers to some survivors being rescued from the Gneisenau and Leipzig, but no mention is made of any one of the crew of the Scharnhorst, the flagship of the German admiral, being saved. It is thus presumed that Count Von Spee and his officers and men went down fighting.

The British casualties are light but beyond the fact the British squadron was commanded by Sturdee no information is vouchsafed regarding the ships engaged, and newspapers are enjoined not to speculate, as "other combinations may be effected."

The British squadron which engaged the Germans left England without the knowledge of the general public. Until his name was mentioned it was believed that Vice Admiral Sturdee was serving in home waters.

Victory At Sea and on Land

Gave Allies Much Cheer Thursday.

Lodon, Dec. 10; 7 p. m.—The British Squadron under command of Vice Admiral Sturdee chief of the war staff, engaged the German Squadron under Admiral Count Von Spee, off Falkland Islands, in the South Atlantic, yesterday, and won a victory which is being acclaimed throughout England.

The armored cruisers Scharnhorst and Gneisenau and the protected cruiser Leipzig, three of the German warships which have been menacing British shipping, and part of the squadron which sank the British cruiser Good Hope and Monmouth in the Pacific on November 1st were destroyed, while the cruisers Dresden and Nürnberg, the other two vessels composing the German squadron, made of the fighting, are according to the latest accounts, being pursued. Two colliers were captured.

The announcement of this engagement and victory, the most important naval engagement of the war except that of Heligoland in August, was made this evening by the admiralty in a statement of less than one hundred words.

The statement refers to some survivors being rescued from the Gneisenau and Leipzig, but no mention is made of any one of the crew of the Scharnhorst, the flagship of the German admiral, being saved. It is thus presumed that Count Von Spee and his officers and men went down fighting.

The British casualties are light but beyond the fact the British squadron was commanded by Sturdee no information is vouchsafed regarding the ships engaged, and newspapers are enjoined not to speculate, as "other combinations may be effected."

The British squadron which engaged the Germans left England without the knowledge of the general public. Until his name was mentioned it was believed that Vice Admiral Sturdee was serving in home waters.

BACK TO THE BIBLE

"The grand old book of God still stands, and this old earth, the more its leaves are turned over and pondered, the more it will sustain and illustrate the sacred Word."—Richard Dwight Dana, eminent geologist.

GEOLOGY AND THE FLOOD

By G. FREDERICK WRIGHT, LL. D., F. G. S. A.
(Geologist; Author of the "The Ice Age in North America," "Man and the Glacial Period," Etc.)

The Bible represents the "breaking up of the fountains of the great deep" as the principal cause of the flood. For the water continued to rise 110 days after the rain ceased. But as the rising of the water upon the shore corresponds to the sinking of the land beneath the water level, we have in this account testimony to great changes of land level since the human race came into existence. Geology furnishes us striking confirmations of this fact. It is now established beyond all reasonable doubt that man was in existence before the close of the glacial period, his remains being found in many undisturbed glacial deposits. It is equally well established that there was a great depression of land over a large part of the Northern Hemisphere at the close of the glacial period, causing ocean floods to cover a large part of Northern United States and Canada, Northern Europe and Northern Central Asia. Here are some of the facts:

The skeleton of a whale was found in the post-glacial clays of western Vermont 200 feet above sea level. Another skeleton was found at Annapolis in Canada, at a still higher level. Recent shells are found in post-glacial deposits, on the top of Mount Royal in Montreal, 600 feet above the present sea level, while still farther north in British America the evidence indicates a depression of the land level of more than 1,000 feet. In Sweden a recently abandoned shore line can be clearly traced at various levels from Southern Sweden up to 1,000 feet in the northern part of the Scandinavian peninsula. At Kiev, in Russia, the remains of man have been found buried 50 feet in post-glacial deposits, indicating a depression of several hundred feet. At Trebezon, on the south side of the Black sea, an extensive, recently abandoned shore line, is 700 feet above the present level of the sea, indicating a post-glacial depression to that extent. Similar recent shore lines are found on the Crimea, of about the same elevation, and upon both sides of the Caspian sea.

In Central Asia the indications are of a still greater recent depression of the land level. In Lake Baikal, 2,000 miles from the Arctic ocean and 1,500 feet above sea level, there are great numbers of arctic seal which could have reached there only during a depression of land sufficient to allow arctic waters to cover the intervening area.

While these facts do not positively prove the truth of the Bible story, they go far to remove objections to the story, when rightly interpreted. In this case, as in many others, it is not knowledge, but ignorance, which produces unbelief.

Cannon That Modernized Japan

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Author of "Do Something! Be Something!"

BUSINESS is no longer a man to man contact, in which the seller and the buyer establish a personal bond, any more than battle is a hand-to-hand grapple wherein bone and muscle and sinew decide the outcome. Trade as well as war has changed aspect—both are now fought at long range.

Just as a present-day army of heroes would have no opportunity to display the individual valor of its members, just so a merchant who counts upon his direct acquaintanceship for success, is a relic of the past—a business dodo.

Japan changed her policy of exclusion to foreigners, after a fleet of warships battered down the Satsuma fortifications. The Samurai, who had hitherto considered their blades and bows efficient, discovered that one cannon was mightier than all the swords in creation—if they could not get near enough to use them. Japan profited by the lesson. She did not wait until further ramparts were pounded to pieces but was satisfied with her one experience and proceeded to modernize her methods.

The merchant who doesn't advertise is pretty much in the same position as that in which Japan stood when her eyes were opened to the fact that times had changed. The long range publicity of a competitor will as surely destroy his business as the cannon of the foreigners crumbled the walls of Satsuma. Unless you take the lesson to heart, unless you realize the importance of advertising, not only as a means of extending your business but for defending it as well, you must be prepared to face the consequences of a folly as great as that of a duelist who expects to survive in a contest in which his adversary bears a sword twice the length of his own.

Don't think that it's too late to begin because there are so many stores which have had the advantage of years of cumulative advertising. The town is growing. It will grow even more next year. It needs increased trading facilities just as it's hungry for new neighborhoods.

Newspaper advertising has reduced the value of being locally prominent, and five cent street car fares have cut out the advantage of being "around the corner." A store five miles away, can reach through the columns of the newspaper and draw your next door neighbor to its aisles, while you sit by and see the people on your own block enticed away, without your being able to retaliate or secure new customers to take their place.

It is not a question of your ability to stand the cost of advertising but of being able to survive without it. The thing you have to consider is not only an extension of your business but of holding what you already have.

Advertising is an investment, the cost of which is in the same proportion to its returns as seeds are to the harvest. And it is just as preposterous for you to consider publicity as an expense, as it would be for a farmer to hesitate over purchasing a fertilizer, if he discovered that he could profitably increase his crops by employing it.

Why It Is Called the "Honeymoon"

A custom commonly observed by newly married couples among the ancient Teutons was drinking a wine made from honey during the first 30 days after marriage. The use of the word "moon" was used simply to designate the period of time, one month, that the use of the wine continued. In no other respect was the moon supposed to have significance in the matter.

Although the custom of drinking this particular kind of wine was long ago abandoned, the word honeymoon has survived in a different sense. It is now applied to the period after marriage, long or short, generally devoted to a trip away from home.

Effects of German Gunners.

Paris, Dec. 16.—During the bombardment of Arras twenty-four shells struck the belfry of the beautiful Hotel de Ville in that city. The Hotel de Ville was built in the Sixteenth century and restored in the Nineteenth. The belfry was 240 feet high.

Another target for German shells which is today a ruin was the house in Sampigny belonging to President Poincare. The house was near St. Mihiel, in Lorraine. A London Times correspondent who visited that district a week later wrote:

The damage at Sampigny, a peaceful little village of 1,600 inhabitants perched above the Meuse, between the two ranges of hills on each side of the river, is confined to only a few houses; one of them, called Le Clos, happens to belong to the President of the Republic, and has accordingly been made the target for forty-eight German shells during the two bombardments. It is now a heap of ruins."

A Fair Deal For Father.

In Chicago the other day in deciding a divorce case the judge refused to allow a fifteen year-old daughter to claim a third of her father's income for her education, chiefly musical. The judge was more than right. Most of the money put on the average girl's education is badly spent, anyhow. There is not one woman out of 100 who when she is 25 can show that her music, her painting or her dancing, that she had as a girl, has helped her to become an efficient woman.

If a girl really has talent it will show before she is fifteen, and if she has none then the money spent for indifferent teachers is wasted. In refusing to order the father to contribute $50.00 monthly for his daughter's education, the court said: "I have a young daughter myself, but you know that even father is entitled to consideration sometimes some parents who have more money than sense, indulge their children and ruin them and at the same time make heart aches for poor or less fortunate ones."—Gleaner.

Fred Hilliard, who is teaching school at Boaz, and Miss Locke Powell, both of Repton, were united in marriage Thanksgiving day. Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard returned to this section on Sunday following and are boarding with Mr. and Mrs. L. K. McClure, where they will remain the remainder of his school at this place. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard in our midst, as they have made many friends while here so short a time. Mr. Hilliard's manner and way of conducting his schools has proved to the people here that he is a fine instructor on the line of educational work. Both patrons and pupils admire him.

Miss Leecie LaRue visited her parents near Union church Thanksgiving. John Patton, of Mexico, Ky., was a caller here last week.

Brethren and Sisters, let's try to attend our prayer meetings regular, for there is great good accomplished through the prayer meeting, for God has said in His word, "where two or three are gathered together in His name, that He would be in the midst." Surely all of us ought to want to be where we can have Jesus in our midst. Think of our savior, who died upon the cruel cross to redeem mankind from sin and destruction, and yet some of us are so neglectful of our christian duties, that we almost forget the assembling of ourselves to the house of worship. We hope that many of us will wake up to a realization of our duties that we owe to God, to ourselves and to the world and do more and better service in the future for Jesus.

Fire Works Proclamation.

Christmas will soon be with us. It is against the LAW to shoot fire works of any kind inside of City limits. Now I want the children to have a good time. Now let all take their fire works and go home and have their fun and not on any of the streets of the city.

For as every one knows it is very dangerous, not only to children themselves, but people with teams. Our friends and neighbors coming in from the country want some assurance that they may come to town without danger to themselves or teams. It makes a more kindly feeling between people to know that all feel considerate toward one another. I shall ask the City marshal to enforce the laws. So please keep off the streets to shoot your fire works. GEO. W. STONE, Mayor.

NETHERLANDS TO ASSIST BELGIANS

Government to Lend 10,000 Tons of Wheat, Enough to Feed Starving People Two Weeks.

Rotterdam, Dec. 15.—(via London, 4:10 p. m.)—At a meeting held here today of The Netherlands Cabinet, attended by Charge d'Affaires Langhorne and Capt. T. E. Lucey, of the Belgian Relief Commission, the Government consented to loan and to deliver immediately 10,000 tons of wheat, valued at $1,000,000, to be used at once in Belgium at such points where the danger of starvation is most acute.

The commission has been faced with a desperate situation. It is impossible for sufficient food to come in from America to prevent actual starvation in many places in Belgium. The action of Holland in loaning this wheat has brought from the American commission expressions of the deepest gratitude, particularly since it is recognized that Holland herself is in great need of grain, bread having been placed on a war basis throughout the Kingdom.

When the question was raised as to the time and manner of repaying this loaned wheat The Netherlands Government waived all formality and declared that it was prepared to deliver the wheat immediately on Capt. Lucey's personal receipt.

Representatives of the commission declared today that this loan would enable them to feed the Belgians for a fortnight, but that the need at the end of that time would be most urgent.

People of Shawneetown

Fear Levee May Break.

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 16.—Information reaching here from Shawneetown, Ill., states that the residents of that town are fearful that a rise of several feet in the Ohio river will greatly damage one of the government levees there and that a stage of twelve feet or more may cause the water to go through the weakened levee. According to the report the south levee is in a bad way, caused by the settling of the dirt, and several large crevices have appeared. Workmen are now engaged trying to stop all the crevasses with sandbags.

COMPLIMENTS OUR CITIZENSHIP

Will Aid Our Crittenden County Boys And Girls To Secure Higher Education

Married one of our girls, hence in love with all the county. Who can blame him?

The following letter from our friend Beverly Todd Towery will be read with interest by all our people.

"For some time I have been contemplating some articles for you, but I have simply been so busy that, as yet, I have not had the time for them, that is, to shape them up and send them to you. I have a plan on foot to lend more encouragement to our boys and girls by way of providing a certain species of aid for them in acquiring a higher education. Our product, our exact type is a rarity in Illinois.

I have the highest admiration for and the profoundest faith in the people of Crittenden County, and especially Marion. The only regrettable thing is that she does not send more of her sons and daughters out in the world. There is an intelligent spirit of popular interest and enthusiasm in Crittenden County and among Crittenden County people that is nowhere else to be found in Western Kentucky.

Europe's Grain Through Canal.

Panama, Dec. 15.—Grain for Europe, from north Pacific ports of the United States, has so far formed the largest single item of cargo carried through the canal, says the Canal Record. In the two months and a half of canal operation ending November 1st, the canal was used by 17 east-bound vessels in this traffic, and eight vessels have passed thru from the Atlantic to the Pacific in ballast, to return with grain.

The laden vessels have carried through an aggregate of 122,238 tons of grain consisting of 72,932 tons of barley and 49,326 tons of wheat. Counting 37 bushels of wheat and 46 of barley to the long ton, the cargo amounted to 1,825,062 bushels of wheat and 3,354,872 bushels of barley, a total of 5,179,938 bushels of grain.

The next largest single item of cargo handled through the canal during the same period was nitrates, principally from Chile. This was carried in 14 vessels, and amounted to 99,126 tons, an average of 7,080 tons to the vessel.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST BATTLE

Capture of Lodz Gives Germans Control of Railroad to Warsaw.

Berlin, Dec. 15.—It is officially announced that the Germans occupied Lodz Sunday.

The Germans must be credited with winning the greatest battle ever fought in the history of the world. But they certainly paid the price, for it is estimated that the Germans lost in this battle close to 200,000 in killed, wounded and missing.

Not only was the victory of the greatest in history, but it is momentous. The capture of the city of Lodz means the victor the control of an important railroad in Poland—a railroad leading straight to Warsaw, the capital of Russian Poland, whose conquest is the object of the German strategy in the East.

Lodz, a city of some 415,000 population, is the chief manufacturing center of Russian Poland. It has numerous textile mills, the majority of them for the manufacture of cotton goods. In addition, it has flour mills, dyeing establishments, brick yards, machinery plants and breweries. The population is made up of Poles, Germans and Jews.

While out playing in the yard last Sunday, Ilene, the eleven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strong, picked up a dynamite cap which exploded when she tried to punch a hole in it, so she could string it with her beads, blowing three of her fingers and thumb almost off of her left hand. It is believed that her hand can be saved unless complications arise, and it may be that her fingers can be saved also.

District Game Warden J. L. Wyatt, of Fredonia, Ky., has been here this week looking after violators of the hunting statutes and in company with County Warden Capt. W. D. Farnsley both will patrol the rivers for law breakers and Sunday hunters until this sort of violation ceases.

seventh grade work, in fact a prodigy in comparison with the average seventh grade pupil and gives or no evidence of being without one of the most valuable of her senses.

For nine years after a spell of diphtheria and scarlet fever, which deprived Gladys of her hearing, her mother toiled with her untiring to educate her and to recall the power of speech which went with the loss of her hearing. Mrs. Waggener also sent her daughter to an institute for the deaf at Northampton, Mass., for a time also, but she has made the most rapid progress under the teaching of Mrs. Fields.

Before her marriage to the Rev. Peter Fields, Mrs. Fields was for eleven years principal of a deaf school in Chicago and for seven years teaching in Mount Airy Institute for the Deaf of Philadelphia, Pa. She is one of the foremost authorities of the country on her methods of teaching and has of course, had to do with thousands of deaf and dumb pupils, but she rates the little Waggener girl as the most apt scholar she has ever had in her care and a child nothing short of a genius.

The little deaf girl's father, W. C. Waggener, is supervisor of bridge and buildings for the Illinois Central railroad at Princeton. The child stays here with Mrs. Fields during the school days of the week, going to school three hours to her instructress and reading an hour each day.

Wm. Orr Killed.

William E. Orr, 46 years old, of Paducah, was ground to pieces beneath the wheels of an Alton, Peoria & Pekin Union railroad train near Peorio, Ill., presumably early Monday night. His mangled body was found at 7:30 o'clock Monday night by a switchman. Orr's identity was established by a registration certificate. It is not known how Orr came to his death but it is believed that he fell when trying to board a moving train.

News of their brother's untimely death was received here by Messrs. Dan, Filas and Dave Orr, who directed that it be sent to Caseyville, Ky., where the funeral and burial will take place tomorrow afternoon.

The deceased was a well known riverman and left here December 1, on the towboat Tabor for Peoria, Ill. He was born and reared at Caseyville, Ky., and came to Paducah a few years ago to make his home. He was unmarried and leaves five brothers: Messrs. Dan, Filas and Dave Orr of Paducah; John Orr of Eldorado, Ill., and Thomas Orr of Caseyville. He leaves many friends in Paducah, who will be shocked to hear of his sudden death.

GOVERNMENT MUST PAY FOR CATTLE KILLED

Representative Ben Johnson Finds Law Making Uncle Sam Liable For Value

Washington, Dec. 15.—A question from a constituent put Representative Ben Johnson onto a scent which may greatly complicate the foot and mouth disease quarantine situation.

He discovered in searching the law for Federal slaughter rights as to cattle, that there is only one provision on that subject, and it specifically says that before suspected or diseased animals can be killed they must be purchased by the government.

The Federal authorities have been making agreements all over the country that they will pay half the price of slaughtered cattle if the States will pay half, and there has been no suggestion that the purchase money be paid before slaughter.

tary Board, reads as follows:

"The Federal Government and the Kentucky Live Stock Sanitary Board are availing themselves of every possible means of confining this disease in Kentucky to local outbreaks. To this end all public markets have been closed until further notice. It is deemed inadvisable to have poultry shows, pet stock shows or animal shows of any nature while this disease is so prevalent. "It is therefore ordered that all poultry shows, and pet stock shows and animal shows of every description be abandoned until such time as this disease is eradicated from our State."

The poultrymen of this State have generously aided in arranging for this Show, and we wish to herewith express thanks for their generous assistance.

The big poultry meeting will still be held on Tuesday of Farmers' Week, January 5, 1915. Every farmer is invited to come to this meeting. The addresses will be made by practical poultrymen and poultrywomen of great experience. The program for this meeting will be found at the beginning of this article.

This is a very important thing for our farmers to look into. Take advantage of this offer and have your corn tested. Tell your neighbor, come to the office and talk the matter over with "Bud."

Letter From Marion Boy.

Editor Crittenden Record-Press, Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir: Find enclosed $1.50 for which please put my name on your subscription list, I think $1.50 is your subscription price isn't it.

I am a soldier now, I enlisted in the army Feb. 24, 1914. I enlisted at Columbus, Ohio and was sent from there to this place. I am located about five miles from Boston, Mass., on an Island.

There are five forts in the harbor and are all within a radius of about 2 miles. Ft Warren is headquarter post for the harbor, we have three boats daily for the city and wemay go as often as we like, providing we're good soldiers.

I like the army fine and I think military training good for a young man, it teaches one how to take proper care of themselves in every way.

I am assigned to a mine company, our duty is to mine all of the main ship channels in case of war. We have practice work all summer and the last day of the practice we fire three mines, they will blow water over a hundred feet in the air. They are fired by means of a large cable running to the field from the shore and are fired by electric dropping blocks in the casemate or as you would call a dynamo room. We also have some large guns on the Island. Several 12 inch, some 10 inch and 3 inch. I think I have said about enough for the present.

Yours truly,

Wilbur C. Boston,
