CELEBRATES HER 80TH., BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Jane Walker Receives Many Gifts From Relatives And Numerous Friends.

Mrs. Jane Walker celebrated her 80th., birthday last Thursday January 14th., at her comfortable home on north main street, and was the recipient of many tokens of love and friendship from her children, grand-children, church associates and old acquaintances.

Mrs. Walker was Miss Jane Clement and was born in this county, January 14th., 1835, and lived in the county all her life. Since 1872 the family have resided in Marion. Her husband, the late R. N. Walker, was one of the county's best men.

She is a sister of Lefe Clement of Clementburg, this county, and of J. M. Clement, of Mo. Mrs. Sam A. Nunn and Mrs. James Gill, both of this county, are sisters.

Mrs. Walker has six living children, R. C. Walker, postmaster at Grand Junction, Colorado, is the oldest child and only son living. Her daughters are Mesdames Jesse Olive, David Moore, Edward Doss and Miss Nelle Walker, all of this city, and Mrs. Mollie Ledbetter, of Elizabethtown, Illinois.

Mrs. Walker has twenty-five grand-children living. They are R. C.'s five, Mrs. Olive's five, Mrs. Ledbetter's two, Mrs. Moore's seven, Mrs. Doss's four, and the two sons of Joseph Walker, her deceased son. There are eight great grand-children, two being the grand-children of R. C. Walker, two the grand-children of Mrs. Olive, and four the grand children of Mrs. Ledbetter.

Mrs. Walker is in possession of all her faculties and in perfect health and is as industrious as a bee and always was, which no doubt accounts for her longevity and good health. She is a regular attendant at Sunday School, church and prayer meeting, and is loved, respected and honored by all who know her.

Everyone hopes she may live to enjoy many more birthdays.

NOTICE!

LIFE'S CLOSE FOR MRS. N. Y. BROWN

Who Passed Out of This Life To A Better World, Last Friday, January 15th., 1915

On Friday evening, January 15th., as the sun was lowering in the west and nearing the time for man to rest, Mrs. Nellie Young Brown fell asleep in Christ, at her home near Emmaus church in this county.

She was born Dec. 21st., 1887, professed faith in Christ during the revival meeting at Emmaus in the fall of 1903, and was baptized, by the writer, into the fellowship of that church, May 1st., 1904.

She was united in marriage to Dudley Brown, April 8th., 1905. To this union was born five children, one having died two or three years ago, and another just five weeks before the mother, an infant three weeks later, leaving two little orphans deprived of the loving care of a mother.

The funeral service was conducted, by the writer, at the home, Jan. 16th.

Sister Brown was a sweet spirited character and lived her religion in her home every day. To know her was to love her.

The heart broken husband and the precious little children and the bereaved mother, brother and sisters have the heartfelt sympathy of all.

May God sustain them in this sad hour and help them to realize that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord, and that their loss is her eternal gain.

U. G. Hughes.

School News.

This term of the rural school is almost completed.

We wonder if all of the teachers have conducted their school with as much enthusiasm as they exhibited during the Institute last summer. It was then such an easy matter to make promises but with same, it was quite a different proposition when it came to fulfilling those promises. For instance many of the teachers of our Division promised to aid in the disbursement of the bill for our school advertisements and for the medals given in our Declamatory Contest.

Those who possessed the gift to come forth with the cash and pay the bill, are as follows:

Bertha Rankin	50cts
May Drury,	50cts
Ina Vaughan,	50cts
Fred McDowell,	50cts
C. C. Newcom,	50cts
Nelle Nunn,	$1.50
Edith Davis,	$2.17
Walnut Grove School,	$2.00
Audience at Declamatory Contest	$2.58
Total,	$10.75

We fear that one of the young teachers of Division 3 is going to desert us, soon. Will probably be found keeping house for a noble, young farmer who lives not quite a thousand miles from Marion.

Prof. C. C. Newcom is contemplating going West to seek his fortune.

Card Of Thanks.

We desire to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness shown us during the illness of our dear little baby Ethelyn. May Gods richest blessings rest upon them. W. H. and Oma Cullen Father and Mother.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE THIRD SENATORIAL DISTRICT OF KY.

SELDON R. GLENN.

In announcing my candidacy for the State Senate, I am mindful of the honor you conferred upon me when you elected me to that office. I have tried to show you my appreciation by a faithful service. In asking the Democrats of this district to again honor me with this office, it is necessary that my record in the Senate should entitle me to your support. If it does not, then I am not worthy of your votes.

It is an unwritten principal of the great Democratic party that if a public servant has rendered efficient and honest service to his people, that he is entitled to an endorsement. It is my purpose to submit to the voters of the district my record. Upon that record I am willing to stand or fall as you may judge. Space will not permit me to go into details in regard to my record as your State Senator, but it is my intentions to reach every voter in my district, that each individual may be able to judge for himself whether or not I am worthy of this support.

During the time I have served you I answered every roll call, and voted for or against every bill which came up for passage. I was the only man in the two sessions who did this, but I felt it my duty to be there all the time in order that I might safe-guard the interest of my district.

It is hardly necessary for me to talk to you about my Democracy, as I have ever been ready to serve my party. The session of the next General Assembly will be one of the most important ever held. There is a Constitutional amendment pending before the people which if it carries will confer upon the General Assembly the power to change our taxation, a power if mis-used will work a great hardship on the tax-payers of the state. The burden of taxation now rests on real estate, and a special interest is now at work to increase this burden. 35 per cent, of the taxes of this district are paid on real estate, and it is certainly important to the tax-payers to see to it that the man who represents them in the Senate is pledged to them not to increase this burden.

If you see fit to honor me with this nomination, I will promise you the faithful service I have rendered you in the past, and with the experience I have gained in the other sessions, I will be able to safe-guard your interests.

Sincerely yours,

SELDON R. GLENN.

Of him the Cadiz Record says: Thousands of friends throughout the Third Senatorial will be glad to learn that Senator Seldon R. Glenn, of Eddyville, has decided to stand for re-election to the Kentucky Senate, a position he has filled so ably during the past four years, and in the proper column of The Record today will be found his formal announcement.

Senator Glenn made a splendid record in both sessions of the Senate in which he served us, passing more bills than any other member. His name was connected with eleven of the ninety two bills which became laws at the last session, and during the 1912 session he passed one of the most popular laws ever placed upon the statutes of Kentucky—the Confederate pension bill—giving a small pittance to those gallant ex-Confederate soldiers who fought for the Lost Cause. While not the author of the Bank examiners' bill, seven of his amendments were accepted, he having discovered that the bill as introduced would like $8,000 of paying the expenses of that department. The larger banks were not charged enough to cover their examinations. One of his amendments increased the fee to a proper figure, thus saving the tax payers this extra burden. He presided over the Senate in 1912 when the county unit was up for passage; again in 1914 when the Frost 25 per cent bill was up for passage, showing the high estimate in which the temperance people of the state regarded him. He was the author of the bill to elect United States Senators by popular or direct vote of the people; author of the bill to make to all state institutions pay their bills through the Auditor's office, which will save the tax payers $50,000 a year; the House of Re-

HENDERSON BOY KILLED SUDDENLY

"God Take Care of My Wife And Baby," Were Theodore E. Schaeffer's Last Words

Crushed beneath a set of car trucks; weighing four tons, Theodore E. Schaeffer, assistant wrecking crew foreman, was almost instantly killed yesterday morning at 11:30 o'clock in the Illinois Central shop yards, near Tennessee street. He died twenty minutes later.

Schaeffer was directing the removal of several sets of trucks from a flat car to the ground, the work being done by a big crane. He had moved forward underneath the suspended trucks to give some orders, when the chain slipped, and the heavy mass of iron descended upon him. Schaeffer's neck was broken, while his back and ribs were crushed.

The ambulance was called and Schaeffer was removed to the railroad hospital, Fifteenth and Broadway, arriving there at 11:50 o'clock. He died one minute later.

The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of Nance & Pool, where it was prepared for burial. Yesterday afternoon the remains were removed to his home, 1625 Jones street.

The deceased was born in Henderson county, November, 1869, but had been a resident of this city for the past twelve years. In 1913 he married Miss Annie Hancock, of Metropolis. He had been employed at the local shops for the past five years.

He was a member of the Paducah lodge No. 127, of the F. & A. M., a member of the Royal Arch Masons, and the Modern Woodmen of the World. The deceased is survived by a large circle of friends, who mourn his sudden death.

Schaeffer's last words, after the accident, were: "God take care of my wife and baby." He then lapsed into his final sleep. — Paducah News-Democrat.

The Farm Flock.

How I manage my poultry. My chickens are kept in separate yards from January till June then they have free range.

In each yard I have a comfortable dry house, large enough to accommodate the number of hens I want to each yard. Each house is provided with a movable dropping board, directly under the roost poles which keeps the house clean.

The floors are covered 5 or 6 inches deep with dry leaves or straw and into this litter is scattered all their grain so that Bid-dy has to work hard for her living. This exercise is necessary to heat and egg production. Besides this, it keeps them from huddling together on the back porch or some sunny place waiting for more feed.

On all cold, snowy or rainy days they are kept in the houses.

My yards are also furnished with this same scratching material and on pleasant days, in fact nearly all the time, they have free access to yards, then they are fed in the litter.

I feed a variety of feeds, sometimes one thing sometimes another, just owing to what I have on hand. I raise almost everything I feed, corn, wheat, oats, kafir corn, millet, sorghum seed, stock beets, cabbage and turnips,

SHE ANSWERS THE SUMMONS

On the 56th Anniversary of Her Birth Mrs. Threlkeld Died At New Salem.

Mrs. Mary Frances (Taylor) Threlkeld, of New Salem died Wednesday night January 13th 1914, of paralysis, with which she was stricken last February. On the day of her death which was the anniversary of her birth, all the children had gathered at the old home to celebrate her birthday. During the day she suffered a second attack of paralysis which resulted in the death that night. She was born Jan. 13th 1858, and died Jan. 13th 1914, aged 56 years, was a daughter of the late Ephraim H. Taylor. She is survived by her husband to whom she was married in 1874 and three children Mesdames Charles LaRue, of Levias, J. W. Davenport, of Smithland, and Charles Bealmear, of near Salem. Two sisters also survive her, Mesdames Jesse Stevenson and Wm. H. LaRue; also two brothers Messrs W. L. and G. B. Taylor and one brother Bailey M. George, all of this county. Her husband, all of her children, and all her brothers and sisters were present at her funeral on Friday. Rev. Carl Boucher and W. T. Oakley officiating. She had been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church since childhood and her life in all ways was exemplary and one which any mother should emulate. One of her neighbors remarked when he heard she was dead, "Mr. Jenkins there's one woman you could not say anything too good about, she was one of the finest characters I ever knew, and was greatly beloved in her neighborhood." The burial was at Union Friday.

Peace to her ashes.

Call of Committeemen.

The Democratic Precinct Committeemen are called to meet in executive session at the Court House on Monday, Feb. 8th, 1915. That being County Court day.

W. R. CRUCK, Ch'm.

these latter ones are fed for green feed. Now I don't feed all these at once, oh no! nor in one season perhaps.

I have had fairly good results from my hens this winter as my egg record for December was from 7 to 9 dozen per week.

Corn morning and night, sorghum seed and a little wheat at noon constitutes my grain ration.

On the question of feeding, also feed, I may have something to say in my next. — J. B. Carter.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Louisville, Ky.—"I think if more suffering women would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would enjoy better health. I suffered from a female trouble, and the doctors decided I had a tumorous growth and would have to be operated upon, but I refused as I do not believe in operations. I had fainting spells, bloated, and could hardly stand the pain in my left side. My husband insisted that I try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so thankful I did, for I am now a well woman. I sleep better, do all my housework and take long walks. I never fail to praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for my good health."—Mrs. J. M. Reson, 1900 West Broadway, Louisville, Ky.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Belgium Kiddies Send

Thanks For Presents.

New York, Jan. 20.—Bringing hundreds of letters from orphan children of Belgium, Germany and France addressed to children of the United States, expressing their gratitude for the Christmas remembrances conveyed by the American Santa Claus ship Jason, John Callan O'Loughlin, who had charge of the distribution of the gifts, arrived here today on the steamship Orduna.

The loading and dispatching of the Jason by American children will prove to be one of the greatest things that the United States has done during the war said Mr. O'Loughlin. At every place visited we were received with enthusiasm, and I found that in hundreds of homes the Jason's gifts were all that little war made orphans received. The children were exceedingly grateful, and asked nothing better than to be able some day to visit the land where the unfortunate and helpless were remembered as they had been.

DIRE DISTRESS

It is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Marion Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is often the kidneys' cry for help.

Neglect hurrying to the kidneys' aid. Means that urinary troubles may follow.

Or danger of worse kidney trouble. Here's Cobb's testimony.

Luther Hayes Cobb, near Princeton, Ky., says: "Some time ago I began to have kidney trouble, the first symptom being a sensitiveness through my sides and loins. I noticed acute pains in my back and through my limbs and I came to the conclusion that my kidneys were affected. A friend, who had suffered in a similar way, advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did. They relieved me so promptly that I am pleased to give them my highest recommendation."

The French Alpine Makes

Charge On Skis.

St. Die, Jan. 19.—A brilliant exploit by French Alpine troops who charged on skis down the snow covered mountain slopes at Bonhomme, a post on the Alsatian frontier, forced the Germans to retire on Orbey, five miles down the valley of river Weiss towards Colmar.

The Germans held the railroa from St. Marie to St. Croix, menacing St. Die, where the French heavy artillery opened fire on January 3.

This led the Germans to expect an attack from that direction. At the same time the Alpine troops, leading the way for French infantry, advanced on the German customs house at Diedolshausen, near Bonhomme.

A strong German detachment with quick fliers held the route, but the winding nature of the road prevented the Germans from firing more than 700 yards along it. The French advanced to within this distance of the Germans, while the Alpine troops began to climb the heights to attack the Germans on their flanks.

Progress was slow and the dark forms of the soldiers, outlined against the snow, made excellent marks for the Germans, sharpshooters. Many of the men rolled down the steep slopes, leaving crimson stain behind. The survivors pushed forward until they gained the shelter of the pines at the summit.

Then began an exciting charge on the Germans at Diedolshausen. The Alpine soldiers owe their success to the slide down the mountain side at a dizzy speed, while the infantry in the road below opened fire on the Germans.

Caught between two fires the Germans gave way, fighting obstinately along the five miles of their retreat.

SEN. CAMDEN IS NOT A CANDIDATE

KENTUCKIAN ASSERTS HE DOES NOT SEEK CHAIR OF CHIEF EXECUTIVE.

NO OTHER POLITICAL DESIRES

Prefers to Work for Upbuilding of State in the Capacity of a Citizen.

Washington, D. C.—Senator Camden, when asked whether he will be a candidate for governor of Kentucky, gave the following interview:

"About a month ago when I declined to discuss the matter of making the race for the Democratic nomination for governor, it was because I desired to give careful consideration to the expressed wishes of persons throughout the state whose opinions I value. I have now positively decided not to make the race.

"I do feel greatly indebted to the Democracy of the state for my nomination for Senator at the primary last August, and to the people of Kentucky generally for their ratification of that nomination at the polls in November. Having been appointed by the Governor to fill the vacancy existing in the Senate, I was naturally anxious to have the appointment approved by the electorate of the Commonwealth. My majority of 35,424 at the primary, carrying ten of the eleven Congressional districts, and of 33,629 at the November election, carrying nine of the eleven districts over my Republican opponent, went far beyond my most sanguine expectations.

"Furthermore as a matter of sentiment I was deeply gratified to occupy a seat in the United States Senate where my father, an old line Democrat, had served as the choice of the state of West Virginia.

"The selection of a Governor, and indeed of all state officers, at this time, is certainly a matter of the utmost importance. Kentucky stands at the door of great opportunities, agricultural, educational and commercial. Whether she enters and takes possession of all that the future has in store for her, depends very largely upon whether her affairs are guided by a broad, sound and constructive policy.

"Whatever may come to pass, I shall always be my purpose as a private citizen to give the faithful, earnest service to my state and party, which I feel that every citizen owes, and thus to evidence my profound sense of obligation to the people of Kentucky."

THE RURAL PRESS

The Local Paper a Most Useful Agency on the Farm—The Press, Pulpit and School a Trinity of Influence That Must Be Utilized in Building Agriculture.

By Peter Radford
Lecturer National Farmers Union

A broad campaign of publicity on the subject of rural life is needed in this state today to bring the problems of the farmers to the forefront. The city problems are blazoned upon the front pages of the metropolitan dailies and echoed in the country press, but the troubles of the farmers are seldom told, except by those who seek to profit by the story, and the glitter of the package oftentimes obscures the substance. A searching investigation into the needs of the farmers will reveal many inherent defects in our economic system that can be easily remedied when properly understood and illuminated by the power of the press.

The rural press, the pulpit and the school are a trinity of powerful influences that the farmer must utilize to their fullest capacity before he can occupy a commanding position in public affairs. These gigantic agencies are organized in every rural community and only await the patronage and cooperation of the farmers to fully develop their energy and usefulness. They are local forces working for the best interests of their respective communities. Their work is to build and their object is to serve. They prosper only through the development and prosperity of the community.

Every farmer in this state should subscribe for the local paper, as well as farm periodicals and such other publications as he may find profitable, but he should by all means subscribe for his local paper, and no home should be without it. The local paper is part of the community life and the editor understands the farmer's problems. It is the local press that will study the local problems and through its columns deal with subjects of most vital importance to local life of the community.

A Noble Task.

In too many instances the country papers mimic the city press by giving prominence to scandals, accidents and political agitation. The new rural civilization has placed upon the rural press renewed responsibilities, and enlarged possibilities for usefulness. It cannot perform its mission to agriculture by recording the frailties, the mishaps and inordinate ambitions of humanity, or by filling its columns with the echoes of the struggles of busy streets, or by enchanting stories of city life which lure our children from the farm.

It has a higher and nobler task. Too often the pages of the city dailies bristle with the struggle of ambitious men in their wild lust for power, and many times the flames of personal conflict sear the tender buds of new civilization and illuminate the pathway to destruction. The rural press is the governing power of public sentiment and must hold steadfast to principle and keep the ship of state in the roadstead of progress. The rural press can best serve the interests of the farmers by applying its energies to the solution of problems affecting the local community. It must stem the mighty life current that is moving from the farm to the cities, sweeping before it a thousand boys and girls per day. It has to deal with the fundamental problems of civilization at their fountain head. Its mission is to direct growth, teach efficiency and mold the intellectual life of the country, placing before the public the daily problems of the farmers and giving first attention to the legislative, co-operative, educational and social needs of the agricultural classes within its respective community.

The Power of Advertising.

The influence of advertising is clearly visible in the homes and habits of the farmers, and the advertising columns of the press are making their imprint upon the lives of our people. The farmer possesses the things that are best advertised.

The farmer is entitled to all the advantages and deserves all the luxuries of life. We need more art, science and useful facilities on the farms, and many homes and farms are well balanced in this respect, but the advertiser can render a service by teaching the advantages of modern equipment throughout the columns of the rural press.

The farmers are in need of personal leadership. They have political leaders, but they need local industrial community and educational leaders.

Imperial Out.

Henderson, Ky., Jan. 12.—The Imperial Tobacco Company will not enter the market in the fifth judicial district this year. This information, which will be of great interest to the tobacco growers of Henderson, Webster and Union counties, was given out this afternoon by Edwin Hodfe, general manager of the Imperial Tobacco Company of Kentucky.

One Hundred Years of Peace.

One hundred years ago today there was signed at Ghent, the treaty of peace between Great Britain and the United States, which marked the close of what has happily proved to be the last war between English-speaking peoples of the earth. To-day the city of Ghent is at the very center of the terrific conflict that rages in Europe. The American Peace Centenary Committee cannot permit this anniversary to pass without inviting the thoughtful attention of their fellow citizens to the contrast presented by the century-long period of peace which English-speaking people have enjoyed among themselves on the one hand, and the appalling destruction of life, property and great monuments of civilization which the European war involves on the other. It had been our confident hope that the example which the English-speaking peoples have set in their relations with each other would be followed by the other great nations of the earth in their several international relations. It had been our earnest desire that the spirit of peaceful and friendly cooperation which each of these peoples manifest toward the people of the United States would also mark their dealings with one another. Unfortunately this was not to be, and we are sorrowfully called upon to mark our centenary celebration in the midst of the most terrible and destructive war that history records.

Even at such a time, we must avow once more our emphatic faith in the supremacy of justice over force, of law over might. We rejoice in the peaceful relations of a hundred years among all English-speaking peoples, particularly in the undefended and unfortified line, nearly four thousand miles in length, which divides the territory of the United States from the Dominion of Canada. The mutual trust, forbearance and helpfulness which make that undefended boundary a link and not a barrier between two peoples, we offer as an example to our warring brothers across the sea.

It had been our purpose, when our Committee was organized in 1910, to plan for a great celebration of the centenary anniversary by various methods which have now, because of the terrible war which is still convulsing Europe and disturbing the whole world, become impracticable until the close of the conflict.

But we appeal to the people in all the States and to all civic bodies to mark this notable anniversary by suitable exercises in the churches of all denominations on the 14th of February, the date agreed upon for that purpose with our associate, the Canadian Committee; by formal addresses at the Capitals of the respective States on 17th and 18th of February, the dates of the ratification and proclamation of the Treaty; and also by appropriate exercises in all the schools on the 22nd day of February, or on such later date or dates in

The war in Europe has cut off the purchasing power for American cotton and other raw materials, so that there is distress as was never before known. Farmers are ruined, merchants can not collect money owing them, railroads have less freight and passengers to haul, manufacturers are fearful to produce goods because they may not be able to sell them, and retailers are afraid to order the goods that people cannot buy.

Heretofore there has been an immense commerce between Europe and the United States. It has been general and it has become a part of the commercial assets of this country. This general condition no longer exists. Eighty per cent, of it is demoralized or destroyed. All that remains and the new business arising from war conditions does not amount to a fraction of the business that is lost. Furthermore, the gains in business have not gone to the industries that have lost. Commerce was peaceful and all who participated prospered. Today commerce with Europe is one-sided only in specialties, but there is nothing leaving the United States that cannot be shipped to any nation in time of peace. The National Farmer.

CONCERNING NEUTRALITY

Also Concerning The Rights Of The United States To Continue In Business, War Or No War.

In proportion to the population of the United States, there is more distress and poverty here than there has been at any time in the history of the country. The charity organizations are more numerous than ever before. One would imagine by the number of people out of work that this country could not support itself. It is a deplorable condition.

There are many reasons for the distress we have mentioned, but none of them have had so much effect as the war in Europe. The war in Europe has kept supplies out of this country, and the want of them has stopped manufacturers that depend upon them. The result is that United States citizens are out of work until the war is over or until we produce the material that will re-establish such industries.

Influence of Hard Times.

A minister once wished to ascertain what influence the hard times had upon his congregation, and said at the close of his sermon:

"I would ask everyone who is still able to pay his debts to rise from his seat."

The whole congregation arose with the exception of one man. The parson then asked all who were unable to meet their bills to rise.

Thereupon the solitary individual got up, a hungry-looking, poorly-clad man, whose features revealed the terrible struggle of one fighting hopelessly against the vicissitudes of the world.

"How is it, my friend, that you are the only one among these people who cannot pay his debts?"

"Sir," answered the man hesitatingly, "I am a publisher of a newspaper, and those who rose just now are all my subscribers, and—"

Loyal To Old Kentucky.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Marion, Ky.

Dear Friend:

The two last issues of the Record-Press have failed to reach us, and I would appreciate it very much if you will mail these to me as I do not like to miss any of the happenings of dear old Crittenden. I supposed the first issue we missed was lost in the shuffle during the Xmas rush, but as we have not had a copy since before Christmas, I am afraid that in your rush of matters you have failed to get me on your books for this year.

We always look forward to the coming of the Press with much interest, and I hope this may be a prosperous year with you.

This is a big day in Denver and is witnessing the passing of Governor Ammons and the coming of Governor Carlson, and silk hats and blue coats are very much in evidence. The coal strike in Colorado has been called off, and we are looking for better times. With the recent big gold strikes in Cripple Creek, and the bumper crop here last year, Colorado is bound to take a place in the front ranks, but with all the good things that Colorado has, her matchless climate, and in fact too many other good things to mention, my heart turns back to old Kentucky, the best place on earth.

Please see that I get the missing papers, and with kindest regards to you and yours, I am,

Very truly yours,

ELLE FRANKLIN GRAY AND HER COMPANY.

Miss Gray's success has been instantaneous and universal. Although still but a girl, she has gained a recognized position as a legitimate artist of high rank.

Miss Gray gave her first violin recital when ten years old, at which time she played the Mendelssohn Concerto. Even at that early age the San Francisco critics recognized her individuality.

From early childhood she has won a series of scholarships that has given her an opportunity to study under the greatest masters of the west, New York and Europe.

Miss Gray plays with a warmth of tone and a freedom of bowing that are masculine in breadth and yet with feminine charm. She is distinguished for her unconscious graciousness of manner and simplicity as much as for her merit as an artist.

Miss Florence Crawford, pianiste of this company, has remarkable ability. She rapidly won favor in New York, where she studied and played in concert, appearing several times with the Philharmonic Orchestra. She has been before the public for many years and plays with brilliancy and buoyant musical feeling. She astonishes her audiences with her strength, endurance and her manipulation of difficult and rapid passages.

Mrs. Margaret Gray always travels with her daughter. Mrs. Gray is a reader of great ability and has won success from east to west.

She is a great favorite with audiences and gives readings with music, spoken songs or character delineations at the option of the local management.

Athens, Greece, Jan. 19.—The fort at Tchanak-Kalessi, guarding the south side of the entrance to the Dardanelles, has been demolished by the continued bombardment of the allies warships, and has been evacuated by the Turkish garrison according to a dispatch received from Salonika.

Fts. Elles and Soddil have been badly damaged, but are still holding out.

Tchanak-Kalessi is known as "The Castle of Asia." The fort there, Kalo-Sultanie, was of old construction, but new guns of the largest type had been mounted within the last two years.

THINGS ALL OUGHT TO KNOW

As Christian Bible Students—The Satisfactory Proof of "Why God Permits Evil."

One of the questions which comes to nearly every thinking mind today is, "Why does God permit evil?" As we look about us in the world we observe that it is filled with sorrow and trouble, sickness and pain and every trial we could enumerate, and we cannot help wondering WHY GOD ALLOWS IT. We realize that He is almighty and that He could prevent it if He wished. We read in His Word that He is more willing to do for His children than are earthly parents for theirs, and we know how much that means; yet oftentimes it seems that those who try to do and live right have the most trouble. This question is made very clear in a book entitled, "The Divine Plan of the Ages." Every statement is backed by Scripture, and shows that while God does not sanction evil HE HAS HAD A PURPOSE IN ALLOWING SIN AND DEATH TO REIGN THESE SIX THOUSAND YEARS. This and many other subjects of deep interest to all of God's people are discussed fully and in language easy of comprehension.

Some Don'ts When You Advertise

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Author of "Do Something! Be Something!"

THE price of the gun never hits the bull's eye.

And the bang seldom rattles the bells.

It's the hand on the trigger that cuts the real figger.

The aim's what amounts—that's what makes record counts—

Are you hitting or just wasting shells?

Don't forget that the man who writes your copy is the man who aims your policy.

When you stop to reflect what your space costs and that the wrong talk is just noise—bang without biff—you must see the necessity and sanity of putting the right man behind the gun.

Don't tolerate an ambition on your adman's part to indulge in a lurking desire to be a literary light.

People read his advertising to discover what your buyers have just brought from the market and what you are asking for "O. N. T."

They buy the newspaper for information and recreation and a satisfied with the degree of poetry and persiflage dished up in its reading columns.

Don't exaggerate. Poetic licenses are not valid in business prose. The American people don't want to be humbugged and the merchant who figures upon too many fools finds himself looking into a mirror, usually about a half hour after the sheriff has come to look over the premises.

Don't imitate. Advertising is a special measure garment. Businesses are not built in ready-made sizes. Copy which fits somebody else's selling plans won't fit your store without sagging at the chest or riding up at the collar. Duplicated argument and duplicated results are not twins. Your policy of publicity must be specially measured from your policy of merchandising.

Don't put your advertising in charge of an amateur. Let somebody else stand the expense of his educational blunders. Remember you are making a plea before the bar of public confidence. Your advertiser is an advocate. Like a bad lawyer, he can lose a good case by not making the most of the facts at hand.

Don't get the "sales" habit. "Sales" are stimulants. When held too often their effect is weakening. The merchant who continually yells "bargain" is like the old hen who was always crying "fox." When the real article did come along, none of her chicks believed it.

Don't use fine print. Make it easy for the reader to find out about your business. There are ten million pairs of eyeglasses worn in America, and every owner of them buys something.

And Don't start unless you mean to stick. The patron saint of the successful advertiser hates a quitter.

BACK TO THE BIBLE

"I hold to the Bible, which I constantly read. In it one finds the solution of every difficulty and of every problem even of a political description."—Emperor William of Germany.

TO SOLVE TODAY'S GREAT PROBLEMS

By THEODORE KEMP, LL. D.
(President Illinois Wesleyan University.)

It is surprising how many of the great questions of the day have to do with moral issues. The liquor question, child labor, white slavery, the race question, sweat shops, conflicts between capital and labor, international quarrels, poverty and crime, not to mention other questions, all must find their solution through moral means.

Christ preached the brotherhood of the race. His most fearful invectives were hurled at those who oppressed the laborer, who defrauded the poor and who exploited men for gain. He taught and exhibited in his own great life the duty of unselfish service. He understood the privations of the poor, he exalted womanhood and blessed childhood for all the ages. He made man a child of God and made God understandable. If we had his regard for the sacredness of human life and the value of every soul, and his unselfish purpose for the good of all, the liquor traffic would soon die, child labor would cease, employer and employee would become friends and brothers; womanhood would be honored and righteousness would exalt the nation.

Yes, laws may do much to check crime, but the law of love and kindness in the hearts of men would do vastly more. The sermon on the mount sets new ideals before men: "The meek shall inherit the earth;" "the pure in heart shall see God;" "the peacemakers shall be called the children of God;" "those who mourn shall be comforted." Love will displace hate, and the man of Nazareth by his sympathy, by his spirit of sacrifice, will show men how to live with each other and will show the way to solve the problems which disturb our peace, threaten virtue, despoil homes, and endanger the republic.

BACK TO THE BIBLE

"Never yet did there exist a full faith in the divine word which did not expand the intellect, while it purified the heart."—Samuel Taylor Coleridge, English poet and philosopher.

THE BELIEF IN GOD

By His Eminence JAMES, CARDINAL GIBBONS.

How are we to account for the moral unanimity of mankind in acknowledging a Supreme Being? There is but one rational solution to be given, which may be thus briefly expressed: God enlightens with the light of reason every man that cometh into the world. Guided by that light, we recognize the Creator from the contemplation of His works. We naturally and without effort of mind associate the Architect with the temple of nature luminously standing before us, just as the human voice sounding in our ears is associated in our mind with a speaker hidden from our view. How can our soul listen in silent wonder to the heavenly music of the spheres without admiring the Divine Composer? We cannot separate the Builder from His work. We cannot admire the masterpiece without bestowing a thought on the great Artist. The connection is inseparable. The invisible Author is "clearly seen, being understood by the things that are made."

By the same light of reason we see also within us a moral law written on our hearts. We perceive an essential difference between right and wrong, good and evil, virtue and vice. From the recognition of this universal law we inevitably infer a universal Lawgiver. We hear a voice within us judging us, commending or condemning us, and from the imperious judgment pronounced upon us we conclude that there exists a Sovereign Judge.

And thus God reveals himself to us as our Creator, as our Lawgiver, as our Judge. As our Creator, He manifests himself to us by His works. As our Lawgiver, He speaks to us by the voice of conscience. We apprehend Him by our reason, our moral sense, and our conscience. And, therefore, as long as man continues to exercise his intellectual and moral faculties, so long will he profess his faith in the existence of a living God.

hurt a man who lives right, and is right. He has more power in his silence than another by his words. Character is like bells which ring out musical notes, and which, when touched accidentally
even, resound with sweetest
music.—Phillips Brooks.Social evils are many and wide spread, but the "serpent tongue"
is one that knows no limitations
of climate or language or geography. It is the universal moth
that frets the garments of righteousness the world over.Keep a still tongue; do that
and the reward of promises
will give you a clean bill of moral
health when the year ends.
For a still tongue means no quarrels, no unkind words, no gossip
that kills character. If we do not permit ourselves to speak evil, we cease to think it or to harbor it in our hearts. It is the desire to tell something startling
that leads us to repeat rumors that dishonor our neighbors. If we determine not to talk gossip,
we will find ourselves growing less interested in its hearing. If we refrain from giving a sharp
answer or an unkind cut, we will soon discover that we have no
inclination to criticize or find fault.Verily, it is the wrong words
that come out of our mouths that eat into the culture and Christianity of our hearts. Indulgence
in these sharp words increase
our appetite for them until we find ourselves dissatisfied with only pleasant things to talk about, and conversations that do not contain verbal thrusts, or else do not run to gossip and slandor, are so lacking in "spice"
that they are tiresome. Did you ever stop to think that the "uninteresting," man or woman in the neighborhood is one who never has anything "racy" to tell of other neighbors?The desire to say something smart is the tripping stone for many talkers; they must keep their reputations for wit even if
some innocent person's character pays the price of it. Is not a still tongue better than a brilliant one tipped with venom; had
you not rather be uninteresting,
even tiresome, than to be the spreader of an evil tale, the murderer of a good name?Keep a still tongue, and give your charitable judgment achance to develop. Remember the words of the old governor of Kansas, who said:"There is so much bad in the best us,
And so much good in the worst
of us,That it hardly behooves any of us
To talk about the rest of us."—

The True Lincoln.

[BY EDWARD D. STONE]

More than a century ago two babes were born, one in a little cabin home in the woods of Kentucky amid the hardships and poverty of pioneers; one in England, surrounded by wealth
and culture, who in his career
broke the chains of superstition
and filled the world with intellectual light.The other associated his name
with the enfranchisement of labor, with the emancipation of millions, with the salvation of the Republic.The works and patriotism of Lincoln and Darwin has placed an epoch in the history of the world, to be pondered over by historians yet unknown.Every generation has its heroes, its pioneers, its ideals, to one belongs the Lincoln, whose achievements have heightened
human aspirations and broadened
the field of opportunity to the cares of men. What were the traits of character which made him leader and master, without a rival, in the greatest crisis in our history? What gave him such mighty power? Lincoln had sublime in the people. He walked with and among them. He recognized the importance and
power of enlightened public sentiment, and was guided by it.Even amid the vicissitudes of war he concealed little from the public review and inspection. In all he did, he insisted, rather,
than evade examination and criticism. He submitted his plans
and purposes, as far practicable,
to public consideration with perfect frankness and sincerity. There was such homely simplicity
in his character that it could not be hedged in by the pomp of place nor the ceremonials of high official station. He was so accessible to the public that he seemed to take the whole people
into his confidence.Here, perhaps, was one secret
of his power, the people never lost their confidence in him, however much they unconsciously
added to his personal discomfort
and trials, his patience was almost superhuman. And who will say that he was mistaken in his treatment of the thousands who thronged continually about him.The sympathies of Lincoln, his ties of kindred, were with the south. His sense of justice and his ideals were with the north.
He knew the horrors of slavery;
and he felt the unspeakable ecstasies and glory of freedom. He had the kindness, the gentleness of true greatness, and he could not have been a master; he had the manhood and independence of true greatness, and he could not have been a slave.He was just, and he was incapable of putting a burden upon others that he himself would not willingly bear. Greely once said
I doubt whether man, woman or child, white or black, bond or free, virtuous or vicious, ever assisted or reached forth a hand to Abraham Lincoln and detected
in his countenance or manner
any repugnance or shrinking
from the proffered contact, any assumption of superiority or betrayal of disdain. Bancroft alluding to this characteristic which was never so conspicuously manifested as during the darkening
hours of the war, beautifully illustrated it, in these memorable
words: "As a child, in a dark
night on a rugged way, catches
hold of the hand of its father for guidance and support, Lincoln
clung fast to the hand of the people and moved calmly through the gloom."Back to his days of youth. As strength and purposes of his life gradually unfolded to his country, may we say that sad-
visaged, soul-riven, cabin-born,
poverty-manacled, dreamer of dreams, himself did not catch a vision of that day when he would be the instrument that would strike the manacles from a shack-
led race, even though he may never have dreamed that the words which he uttered and the thoughts to which he gave expression, would be perpetuated
in the hearts and memories of a people for whom he was destined in the end to surrender that life which had found its being amid such inhospitable surroundings.Yet, amid such circumstances,
so great that in America it is now almost impossible to find its like, encompassed by obstacles
on every hand, seemingly unwin-nable but for the intervening hand of Providence, Lincoln grew every year into a greater and grander intellectual power and vigor. His earliest public utterances were made in 1832
when announcing himself a candidate for Representative, he said: "Every man is said to have his peculiar ambition, he observed; and whether it be true
or not I can say for one that I have no other so great as that of being truly esteemed of my fel-lowmen by rendering myself
worthy of their esteem."The fame of Lincoln as an orator was made serene by his debate with Douglas, his political speech at Cooper Institute, his oration at the dedication of the cemetery at Gettysburg, and his second inaugural address. Neither of these distinct examples of argument and eloquence has ever been surpassed, that judgement
is confirmed by competent critics
throughout the English-speaking world. The literary style of the frontiersman who spent but six months in school commanded the encomiums of the French Academy. Perhaps the reputation of no other member of the human
family is more firmly established,
certainly there is none whose
character is so well understood
and so universally admired; and
whose honesty, wisdom and justice are frankly admitted by his opponents.When Lincoln came to the seat
of government the Republic
had reached a crisis, the conflict between Liberty and Slavery could no longer be delayed. From the heights of philosophy standing above the contending hosts,
above the prejudices, looking to the welfare of the republic. He uttered: "A house divided against itself cannot stand, I believe this country cannot permanently endure half slave and half free." He kept for his hand book the Declaration of Independence, which reads: "That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable
rights; that among these are life
liberty and the pursuit of happiness."Then came another crisis, the crisis of secession and civil war.
Lincoln held the idea that the North and South in spite of secession, must remain face to face,
that physically they could not separate, that they must have more or less commerce, and that this commerce must be carried on either between the two sections as friends or aliens. Can aliens make treaties easier than
friends can make laws, can treaties be easier and more faithfully
enforced between aliens than can laws among friends.But, intense as were his convictions, in all those years of strife, he, of all the advocates of emancipation, was the greatest friend of the south; of southern origin, as had been his people before him, he knew and respected
the traditions and sentiments of her people. Against them as a people he had not the slightest feeling. For had he not said that he was willing to free allthe slaves. That he was willing to free only a part, or even willing to continue the institution of slavery, if by so doing he might save or restore the Union? This
"with malice toward none, with charity for all" he would devote his remaining energy and
work to the progress of a better
and stronger nation and to brighten the life of those who had laid
so many costly sacrifices on "the altar of freedom."It is well that the few remaining survivors of that conflict,
that those who have into being
since the closing of that "sad
eventful life" should be reminded of the noted day of him who himself gave the "last full measure of devotion" to the preservation of that Union he loved so well, and from that hallowed
spot where he first looked upon
the countenance of her who gave him birth, to the last sad scenes
which closed his career; from
that humble shack, every stone,
every log, every particle of which is sacred, to that granite temple which the grateful people have erected to his honor in almost every state in the Union,
now, happily, under the supervision of one who fought under
the stars and bars, may we draw
that inspiration to duty which characterized the life of him
whose memory the nation this day holds in reverence.He who lived until he stood in the midst of universal joy, beneath the outstretched wings of peace the foremost man in all the world.He lived until there remained nothing for him to do as great as he had done.What he did was worth living
for, worth dying for.
And then the honor came.
Night fell on noon. The savior
of the Republic, the breaker
of chains, the liberator of millions, he who had "assured freedom to the free," was dead. (Written for the benefit of a college student)

TO THE VOTERS

form bill preventing children
under the age of ten years being sent to the Reform School, which has become the dumping ground
for children without visible
means of support. Before this bill went into effect, one county
of the state had 120 children in that school. One sheriff alone
had charged 1100 dollars mileage
against the state for transporting
these unfortunate to that school.
That amendment will save to the tax payers annually $30,000; the automobile bill. The licenses
under the old law $52,000, and
under the new law it will be $130,
000 an increase of $78,000 annually; an amendment to the road
law, leaving it to the Fiscal Court of each county whether
they should have a road engineer,
and every county in this district
has taken advantage of that amendment. Probably the hardest fought battle since the bill introduced by Gov. Goebel creating the Railroad Commission
was the Glenn-Green Insurance
bill, yet in the settlement of this long fight the people got a 12
per cent reduction on farm property, 10 per cent, on dwelling houses in town and cities, and 25 per cent, reduction on loose leaf warehouses. This reduction in the state amounts to at least $185,000 a year, and deductions are being made under schedule at the rate of 20 dollars per day, and notwithstanding this bitter fight, the insurance companies and the rating board say that there is a better feeling and understanding between them
than ever before in this state.
If the people will sum up the savings to the tax payers on the above bills, they will find that Senator Glenn's work amounts to over a million dollars in four years. Senator Glenn voted aagainst a five cent road tax, was author of another bill giving the Banking Commissioner another examiner, enabling him to have
state banks examined as often as National banks. He won his fight against the bi-partisan prison bill, and throughout both sessions in which he served he was easily recognized as one of the most influential members of that august body.It can truthfully be said that the district has never had a man
in the Senate who has done more
for the people of the state than Senator Glenn, and at this time
when many questions looking to tax reform will come up for settlement, the services of men
with ability and experience like Senator Glenn will be very much needed.

Letter From Washington.

Toppenish, Wash., Jan. 12, 1915.
Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Marion, Ky.

Kind Editor:

We see that it is time for us to renew our subscription for our old Kentucky home letter, "The Record-Press," which we so highly prize and feel that we cannot do without. Enclosed find check for which send it to January 1916. We also think that the editor has thoughts like
this:"How dear to our heart,
Is the steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance
At the birth of each year.Who sends in his check
And does it quite gladly,
That casts around the office,
A halo of cheer.He never says 'stop it,'
I cannot afford it,
I'm taking more papers,
Than I have time to read.But always says 'send it,'
Our folks all like it,
In fact we all think it
A help that we need.How welcome the check,
When it reaches the Editor,
It makes his pulse throb,
It makes his heart dance.He outwardly thanks him,
He inwardly blesses him:
The steady subscriber,
Who pays in advance."

—H. P. JACOBS.

SEE AMERICA FIRST

Campaign Started to Persuade The Rich to Learn More of Their Own Country."See America First" is the slogan
of the new superintendent
of the twelve national parks under the charge of the Interior Department at Washington.
Mark Daniels, the California
landscape engineer, recently appointed to the place just created
has taken up the work not only
of handling the national parks
on a scientific basis, but of convincing the American people that they have spent millions to go to Europe for scenery when they had much better at home.
Franklin Lane, secretary of the interior, and Superintendent Daniels believe there never was such a time to convince the American public of the value of visiting the national parks that there is now with the great war raging. They are going to try to have millions of Americans understand the beauties and the wonders, not only of the Yellowstone, but of Mount Rainer
Park, the Sequoia, the General
Grant, the Wilson Hill and others

Master.Remodel Fulton Parsonage.
Rev. M. E. Miller.Fulton, K., Jan. 19.—Work of remodeling the parsonage of the First Baptist Church was started this morning. The addition will add materially to the appearance
as well as the convenience of the parsonage.

Not So Bad.

Some have advanced the opinion
that the letter "e" is the most unfortunate character in the English alphabet, because it is always out of cash, forever in debt, never out of danger, and in hell all the time. For some reason, he overlooked the fortunes of the letter, so we call
his attention to the fact "e" is never in war and always in peace.
It is the beginning of existence,
the commencement of ease and the end of trouble. Without it
there would be no meat, no life
and no heaven. It is the center of honesty, it makes life perfect
and without it there would be no
editors, devils or news.—Exchange.

No Corned Poet, This.

sighs—Flour, oh, flour, come down in thy flight.Give us a biscuit, if only one bite.

Resolutions of Blackburn Church.

WHEREAS: It has pleased Almighty
God, the great ruler of the universe,
who knoweth and doeth all things well,
to call from labor to reward, our beloved brother, Rev. J. T. Davis, who was born on the 13th day of August, 1863. Joined the church in 1889. Departed this life July 26th, 1914. Therefore be it resolved,FIRST—By his death, Blackburn church has lost one of its truest and faithful members to the great cause
of christianity which he loved so dear,
to his wife, a faithful and loving husband, his children a kind and loving father and the community a good citizen.SECOND—The family has our heartfelt sympathy in their sad bereavement and time of trouble, and we say
to the wife and children, be proud of the life of your honored husband and father, and be comforted in the thought that his home is in the better land,
where he is waiting and watching for
you.THIRD—That a copy of these resolutions be sent the family of our departed brother, and a copy be inscribed in our church book, and a copy be sent to the Record-Press for publication.B. J. BROWN, W. R. WORKEN,
J. W. TOSH,
Committee.

Card Of Thanks.

We wish to extend our heart felt thanks to each and every one who in any way assisted us
in the affliction and death of our dear wife and mother. May God's richest blessings ever rest
upon you all, is the prayer of R.
E. Threlkeld and children.

DO YOU WANT REAL VALUES?

Some People Buy Things Because They Need Them, Some Buy Things Because They Are Curious to Know About Them, Some Buy Things Because Somebody Else Buys Them But All Buy Things Because They Want Them. You Want Them Because Of Their Values. Now We Have The Values, And We Want You To Have Them Too.

IF CLOTHING

Grew on trees ready to wear, some of them would be higher and much harder to get than buying them from us now. To be sure they are high up the tree of quality, but low when it comes to price. Drop in and look through our line.

You Would Hardly Believe That You Could Get a Ladies $15.00 Suit For $7.50, Or A Good Cloak For $5.00, But You Can Just The Same.

BOYS SUITS

At less price than you would suspect when you see the quality, style and workmanship and we want you to see them.

NEW

Spring gingham have just arrived. Come inspect them even if you don't want to buy just yet. They're only 10c.

HEAVY

Underwear. Regular $1 suit 90c, 50c suit or separate garment 45c. All new goods and well worth the former price.

PROTECT YOUR FEET

With good shoes. You want sure enough good shoes we want to sell them, and any shoe we recommend to you we stand behind. You do not run any risk. Why not be on the safe side, especially when it costs nothing extra.

A lad of twenty killed a man and woman in Sarajevo. All Europe is now fighting to avenge this wrong. England alone is spending $35,000 a minute, according to Sidney Webb, on gunpowder.

Well this is such an expensive way to avenge a wrong that it reminds me of the man at the banquet.

A man entered the cloak room at the end of the banquet, and began to smash in silk hat after silk hat.

Hold on, boss! Wot fo' you smashin' all dem high hats? demanded the attendant.

Obituary.

We are called on to mourn the loss of Mrs. Bettie Davis wife of W. B. Davis.

She was ill only a few days of Pneumonia.

All that loving hands could, was of no avail and on Wednesday Jan. 13th., her spirit went back to God who gave it.

Mrs. Davis was born March 1st, 1864. Professed faith in Christ Aug. 20th., 1886.

She was a Charter member of Blackburn Church, and was ever ready and willing to do all she could for the cause of Christ and the building of her church.

The services were conducted at the church by her pastor Bro. I. W. Talley after which the body was laid to rest in the new cemetery at Blackburn.

A large concourse of relatives and friends were present and many were the tears shed in sympathy for the bereaved and the loss of such a good woman.

Besides the husband she leaves two sons Ernest and Clarence a sister-in-law Miss Lotie Davis a member of the family our aged father T. J. Fralik. Two sisters and a brother to mourn her loss.

We would say to the bereaved ones. Look to Him who doeth all things well and can all our sorrows heal.

A FRIEND.

In Memory.

Glenwood Lamb, aged six years old, son of Lysander and Telie Lamb, died Dec 26th, after a short illness of congestion of the brain, at the home of his parents in Lyon county, Ky. When in his fourth year he asked his mother to pray. She prayed a short prayer. He told her "you never said it all." She asked him "what was it all?" He said "if you had listened to grandmother, you would have known it all." Oh, dear mother, think of the privileges God gives us to teach our little ones to come to God in Jesus' name and be saved for Christ's sake.

On Sunday before he died, he got a song book and asked his parents to sing with him the song "I Must Tell Jesus I Can

Not Bear My Burdens Alone," after they quit, he kept on singing it louder and more beautiful than ever before.

May God bless and save the bereaved family, for Christ's sake, —MRS. M. C. GILL.

BRAIN LEAKS.

By F. S. LOYD:

Simon Heath says we have to give women credit for one thing. A man will do more growling over a stomach ache than a woman will over a hard spell of sickness.

Albert Elder was reading in a magazine, and said to his wife, "Grace, I have found an article on "How to avoid war."

"What does it say?"

"Remain single," he replied.

A Justice of The Peace at Flat Rock was called on to decide a case. The Counsel for both sides made their long and eloquent speeches, after all the facts had been elicited from the witnesses. "Prisona discharged," said Jim Clift. "The hull accusation is done been based on a dinged technicality."

Albert Elder said, "I gave my wife a rainbow kiss when I left home this morning."

"What in the world is a rainbow kiss?"

"One that follows a storm."

Miss Mattie Smith was asked, "Why did you throw him over at the last minute?"

"He wanted to buy a set of dining room furniture instead of an engagement ring."

A young man said to John Warren Travis. "Sir, your daughter has promised to become my wife."

"Well, don't come to me for sympathy, you might know something would happen to you hanging around here five nights in a week."

Dan Patton was asked, "what do you think of a man with a rip in his coat and only three buttons on his vest?"

"Well, he should either get married or get a divorce."

Tom Yandell stepped to Copher's restaurant for a lunch one busy day and called for some steak, said, "waiter, this knife is dull and the steak is like leather." "How would it do to strop the knife on the steak, sir?"

COMMISSIONER'S SALE.

Crittenden Circuit Court. By virtue of various judgements and orders of sale of the Crittenden Circuit Court, rendered at the Nov. Term 1914. I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court House door in Marion, to the highest and best bidder at public auction, on Monday the 8th day of Feb. 1915, at 1 o'clock p. m. or thereabout, it being County Court day, upon a credit of six months, the following described property, viz.

One black smith shop known as the A. J. Stenbridge shop, in the town of Marion, Ky., near the Marion mills, this is a fine location for a shop, good buildings, large and roomy.

Also a small tract of land, containing 2 1/2 acres near the Piney Creek church, with good dwelling house and all necessary out buildings, known as the home stead of the late Mrs. Henry F. x

Also a certain tract of land on Trade-water river, in Crittenden county, Ky., consisting of three separate tracts, all adjoining and composing one tract, containing 106 acres more or less, being the same land conveyed to J. F. Davis by W. Z. Ogilby, and recorded in deed book no. 45, page 183. This is a well improved farm, good buildings, and in fine state of cultivation. This property will be sold to satisfy a debt of 175 dollars with interest, and probable cost of 1-0 dollars or a sufficient amt of same to pay said debt and cost.

Also a house and lot in the town of Marion, Ky., and being the property now occupied by William Tucker, on Salem street, a lot eight feet by about 200 feet and being the same lot conveyed to said Tucker by Haywood Threlkeld on the 18th day of May 1909. A good roomy house and in good repair, this property will be sold for debt of $297 25 with interest, and probable cost of $65.

Also I will sell one, 100 H. P. boiler, one, 150 H. P. boiler, one Sullivan air compressor, two boiler feed pumps, five Hardozz air drills with hose and steel, two Sampson hoists, two Freeman hoists, one lot of pumps and fittings, both on top and underground, one, 40 H. P. portable boiler at shaft no. 4. All of this property is now on the lands of the Hoosier Mining Co. near Mexico, in Crittenden county, Ky. Those wishing to buy will examine the property on the premises before buying. I will not have this property in sight on day of sale.

Also, the surface of a certain tract of land containing about 198 acres of land less about seventy five acres, and known as the Tabb property, now owned by the Hoosier Mining Co., situated in Crittenden county, Ky.

Also, a tract of land including the mineral and surface purchased by the Hoosier Mining Co. from S. W. Moneymaker, on I. C. rail road near Mexico, Crittenden county, Ky., containing about, over or enough of said personal property and real estate to pay off and satisfy debt, to the extent of about $1500, adjudged against the Hoosier Mining Co.

I will also sell at the same time and place, on a credit of three months, about $650 in accounts, due the estate of A. J. Stenbridge dec'd. A list of same can be had at the office the Circuit Court Clerk.

Also about 273 acres of land, known as the J. P. Heath land situated near Weston, Ky. This land is well improved and in good state of cultivation, with lots of fine timber, or a sufficient amount of it, to bring $1284.00 and $190.00 probable cost of suit.

Commissioner, C. C. C.

Prompt Action Will Stop Your Cough.

When you first catch a Cold (often indicated by a sneeze or cough), break it up at once. The idea that "it does not matter" often leads to serious complications. The remedy which immediately and easily penetrates the lining of the throat is the kind demanded. Dr. King's New Discovery soothes the irritation, loosens the phlegm. You feel better at once. It seemed to reach the very spot of my Cough. It is one of my honest testimonials. 50c at your druggist.

SHADY GROVE

Fred Lemon has moved his stock of goods from his store here, to Providence and is having a sale.

Mrs. Lena Hubbard and children, Boyce and Hinkle, were guests of Pearl Sigler Saturday.

Kirby and Earl McChesney have moved to Providence.

Alec Guess, of Marion, was in town one day last week.

Glen Eskew went to Blackford Friday.

Mrs. George Lamb visited Mrs. Henry Towery Saturday.

Dr. Fox and wife, of Marion, were guests of relatives here last week.

Burk Crider went to Fredonia Tuesday.

Will Brown, of Princeton, was in town Friday.

Dennie Hubbard had a fine mare to die last week.

There was a large crowd at the sale Tuesday.

America Armed With Bread
Is Americanizing Belgium.

Brussels, via London, Jan. 11.—"If the United States had not come to our aid it meant starvation to the most of us," said Alfred Nerinx, provisional burgomaster of Louvain, to the associated Press today. "The most powerful army in the world can not Teutonize Belgium, but America, armed with bread, is Americanizing Belgium."

Oil Treatment For Stomach Troubles.

A simple prescription made up of a combination of pure vegetable oils is producing wonderful results for sufferers from stomach, liver and intestinal troubles. The remedy, which is said to have originated in France, where it has been used for years by the peasantry, was introduced into this country by George H. Mayr, a leading Chicago druggist, who cured him self of severe stomach, liver and intestinal troubles by its use. Those who have used it say the first cure is sufficient to convince any one of its remarkable merit, and that within twenty-four hours the sufferer feels like a new person. This medicine which has become known as Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE LITTLE fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

GLENDALE

J. P. Hatcher has bought, and is moving the Bethel old school house, home.

Andrew Hughes and Lee Enoch each lost a good mare with blindstagers, and a cow belonging to Charles Murphy, died since our last report.

R. H. Thomas was one of the board of tax supervisors, which met in Marion the first week in January.

Our school closes the 22nd instead of 23rd.

J. P. Hatcher, G. P. Griffith and H. J. Moore sold some good logs, recently delivered at Marion.

Rans Westmoreland and family, of Caney Fork section, Everett Bebout and family, of the Colon section, were guests of Alvin Walker and wife the second Saturday night and Sunday.

B. B. Terry, the genial, smiling suburban Sheridan grocerman, was in this neighborhood last week. Washington does not seem so far away as it once did, Blake says.

Dink Lynn has moved from the John Springs farm to Sheridan, and Homer Hodge has moved to the house vacated by Mr. Lynn. We are sorry to lose Mr. Lynn and his good family.

Tobe Bryant and family have returned to their home at Carversville, having spent a week with his sister, Mrs. Douglas Hardin.

There were some splendid singing in this neighborhood recently, led by Tobe Bryant and wife and they were enjoyed by all who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Hurley were guests, Jan. 9th, of Mrs. Hurley's brother, R. M. Franks, at Tola. His sister, Miss Addie Franks, spent several days with him recently, also.

M. T. Enoch is building a residence on Wm. Barnett's farm near Tola.

We hope not to burden our readers too often with such state news as our last. Don't blame the Editor because he has enough burdens to bear already even "his shoulders are broad." But the blame where it should be, on the writer.

Colds

should be "nipped in the bud", for if allowed to run unchecked, serious results may follow. Numerous cases of consumption, pneumonia, and other fatal diseases, can be traced back to a cold. At the first sign of a cold, protect yourself by thoroughly cleansing your system with a few doses of

THEOFORD'S
BLACK-
DRAUGHT

the old reliable, vegetable liver powder. Mr. Chas. A. England, of Madison Heights Va., says: "I have been using Theoford's Black-Draught for stomach troubles, indigestion and colds, and find it to be the very best medicine I ever used. It makes an old man feel like a young one." Insist on Theoford's, the original and genuine. E-67

BRAIN
LEAKS.

:BY F. S. LOYD:

Uncle George Stallions said to uncle Billy Loyd, "Did that onion poultice I sent you do you any good?"

"Yes, it did me a heap of good."

"Those external applications are often efficacious."

"Oh I applied it internally. Those onions smelt so good that I ate them."

"A woman has to give up a great deal after she gets married," sighed Mrs. Elder.

"A man does nothing else but give up after he gets married," replied Albert.

"What do you mean?" Asked Sam. "It is mighty hard to convince them," Dave replied, "that six into three won't go."

Miss Annie May Rolana was heard to say, "No, Victor, I fear we could never be happy. You know I always wait my own way in everything."

"Put darling you could go on waiting it after we are married."

Miss Delce will take a two weeks' vacation from her duties at the post-office. During her absence Postmaster Henderson request patrons of the office to lick their own stamps.

It is said that Oscar Hibbs, of Cairo, was standing in a crowded street car not long ago hanging to a strap, for some unknown reason the car suddenly stopped, and Mr. Hibbs was precipitated into the lap of a young and very pretty woman. Oscar arose and bowed profoundly. "Madam," he said, "this is the first time the Street Car Co., ever conferred a favor on me."

Dr. Spickard was paying a visit to one of his patients, a young mother.

"You must let the baby have one cow's milk to drink every day, Mrs. Crider," he said.

"Very well doctor, if you say so of it will," replied the perplexing young woman, "but I really don't see how he is going to hold it all."

Randle Ray had been given a penny with a hole in it. He spent it for a doughnut. John Loyd in due course, objected. "See here, bud, there's a hole in this penny and goes clear through."

"And there's a hole in the doughnut, too," was the grinning reply.

Albert Elder says a single man is innocent until you can prove him guilty. A married man is guilty until he can prove to his wife that he is innocent, and even then he is under suspicion.

Pressley Maxwell says the onery cun who can't save a nickel always justifies his course by saying "Oh well you can't take it with you when you die."

Uncle Billy Loyd says there may be other funny sights, but one of the funniest I ever saw was a fat woman trying to tiptoe across a floor.

Uncle Dave Woods says another one of the sure things of life is that you can't find a man who will admit that his salary is increasing as fast as the cost of living.

Albert Boaz says some men use mighty big words to say mighty small things.

Germans Fighting Ice
Along Eastern Front.

London, Jan. 20.—The Germans are utilizing icebreakers on the Mazurian lakes in East Prussia to prevent the lakes from freezing, according to a Reuter dispatch from Petrograd. There is a double object in this—to enable the German gunboats to continue their operations, and to render it impossible for the Russians engaged in East Prussia to cross on the ice.

Old People Everywhere Say

Peruna is good for Coughs, Colds, Catarrhs, Diseases and after effects of the Grip.

MR. W. C. HEMPHILL.

Eighty Years Old.

"I had a great deal of trouble with my bowels and bladder, and pain in my right hip which felt like rheumatism. Weak back, constipated, urine highly colored. Many doctors failed. I have taken Peruna and think I am cured. I have gained twenty pounds in weight since I began Peruna." Mr. W. C. Hemphill, Louisville, Mo.

Eighty-four Years Old.

"About fifteen or twenty years ago I was suffering with pains in my back. I could scarcely get about. I got some Peruna and was relieved of the pains ever since. I have used Peruna occasionally since and recommended it to others."

A Criticism.

An editor who was asked by his son to help him with some of the problems, assigned as night work, says he can't see how a boy is going to learn anything when his teacher sends him home with problems like the following: If it takes a 4 months old woodpecker, with a rubber bill, nine months and thirteen days to peck a hole through a cypress log that is large enough to make 117 shingles, and it takes 165 shingles to make a bundle worth 93 cts, how long will it take a cross eyed grass hopper with a cork leg to kick all the seeds out of a dill pickle?—Enterprise.

Servia Ambitious.

Rome Jan. 20.—Contrary to statements that have appeared in the newspapers of London Paris and Berlin that an understanding has practically been reached about a Servian outlet to the Adriatic sea it is stated in Servian official quarters here that this will not now satisfy Servia.

It is declared that such a concession would have been satisfactory two year ago when the subject was discussed at the London conference but that now after a war in which her life and independence were risked Servia could not accept a port or a trip of coast. What she now claims, it is stated, are Servian regions possessed by Austria, including Bosnia, Herzegovina and Dalmatia, which must be assigned to her through the principle of nationality.

Cardinal Was Arrested.

Rome, Jan. 20.—The German denial that Cardinal Mercier was arrested in Brussels is true in only a technical sense, says the Tribune in a special edition. The Cardinal was not physically arrested and brought away from his residence, but he never the less was placed in a state of arrest within his palace and was watched by the military.

The German Government, realizing that violence against a Prince of the Church would have a painful consequences throughout the world, and also among the Catholic population of Germany, and fearing the effect of measures which might be taken by the Vatican, decided hurriedly to restore conditions to their former status. Nevertheless an act of violence has been committed against the primate of Belgium.

The Holy See has asked that reparation be made by the German Government. The explanation of Germany is awaited eagerly.

Construction Of Alaskan Railroad.

Washington, Jan. 20.—Actual construction of the government railroad to connect the Alaskan coal fields with the coast authorized by congress last March, will be begun this spring, according to a statement by Secretary of the Interior Lane after a conference at the White House between President Wilson and Mr. Lane and Thomas Riggs, Jr., comprising the Alaskan engineer ing.

Members of the commission who have been surveying different proposed routes for the railroad since June, will not complete their report for several weeks, but they went over with the President and Secretary Lane many facts gathered in their investigations. Under the law providing for construction of the rail road the president is authorized to decide on the route on whether railroads already constructed shall be purchased as a part of the line and other details. No decision will be reached on these points until after the commission has completed its report.

CHERRY SEEKS GOVERNORSHIP

Educator to Be Candidate at Democratic Primaries.

Worked His Way Through School and After Years of Struggling With Unsympathetic World Was Made Head of Western Kentucky State Normal School.

H. H. Cherry, the noted educator of Bowling Green, has announced his candidacy for governor of Kentucky, subject to the Democratic primary Aug. 7, 1915.

He was born in a log cabin, among the sand hills of northwestern Warren county, Kentucky, forty-eight years ago. He worked on his father's little ridge farm and attended school from six to eight weeks each year and learned by the time he was twenty-one years of age to read, write and cipher a little. When he became of age his father gave him the privilege of cutting down some hickory trees and splitting them into ax handle timber and hauling it with a yoke of oxen to Bowling Green, a distance of nine miles, over an almost impassable road. After seven months of hard labor he managed to accumulate $72. This was his first real business experience. With the $72 he started on foot through snow twelve inches deep to his native city to enter school. For more than five years he worked his way through school and during much of the time did self-teaching. He cooked his meals on a one-eyed

one of the greatest educational institutions of the south.

Dr. Cherry has been an active worker in all endeavors looking toward the development of a "Greater Kentucky." This has been his aim in the past and will be in the future. He was president of the Kentucky Educational association, a member of the educational campaign commission of 1905, a member of the literacy commission, a member of the board of directors of the Southern Educational association, chairman of the statewide farmers' chautauqua organization, and a member of many other progressive educational and industrial organizations organized in the interest of a greater state.

Owing to the many exacting executive duties Dr. Cherry has been unable to find time to do any teaching during the past twelve years. Practically all his life has been devoted to an executive work. It is a source of great pride to him that he has made a business success in the county in which he was born and reared, without a single blot on his record, and the people all love and respect him. He is perfectly willing for the people of his native county to say whether he is qualified for the high honor he seeks.

Dr. Cherry in making his formal announcement said in part: "If I am elected governor, I shall be free from all entanglements and not an appointee or slave of any faction, organization or machine. I would rather preserve my integrity, die a pauper, and go down in defeat than make a single promise that would cripple public efficiency or destroy my usefulness while in office. My motive for entering this race is higher than the holding of office, the drawing of a salary or being a dummy governor. If I am elected I shall, on entering office, be free as the 'mountain air' free to fight for the rights of the people and free to take the executive initiative in the work of transacting public business. I shall do my utmost to make the campaign, which I shall earnestly prosecute, a patriotic cause, a vision of a greater Kentucky, and I shall try to appeal to the intelligence and higher motives of men rather than to their prejudice and ignorance."

DR. H. H. CHERRY, President Western Kentucky State Normal School, Bowling Green, Ky.

kerenski stove and, in this way, boarded himself for less than $5 per month. This training and experience prepared him for other duties, broadened his sympathies and created within him a desire to assist the struggling boys and girls to secure an education and to become trained workers for a greater Kentucky.

He chartered and organized a private school in Bowling Green in 1892 and conducted it without buildings and without money. Notwithstanding the low rates of tuition and board, which were put within the reach of the poor boys and girls, and one of the worst financial panics ever known in this country, the school grew from three small rooms to a magnificent educational plant and from twenty-eight students enrolled during the first six months of its existence to an annual enrollment of more than one thousand.

Without a dollar of endowment the institution met its obligations punctually and became a noted educational and business success. This long executive experience has given him a larger knowledge of the needs of the state.

When the state normal schools were established Dr. Cherry was unanimously elected president of the Western Kentucky State Normal school without loss of a single vote. He has given due consideration to the needs of the state and required a vast amount of constructive work to organize the new institution and develop it upon a good business basis and upon the educational needs of the state. It required not only a knowledge of the educational problems, but executive ability. The state normal school was opened nine years ago, but notwithstanding this short period it enrolled last year seventeen hundred and nine different student-teachers, who are now largely engaged in teaching the boys and girls in the rural schools of Kentucky. The probe committee, appointed by the legislature in 1905, in speaking of the work of the Western Normal, over which Dr. Cherry presided, said in part: "We find nothing about this institution to criticize but a very great deal to commend; and we would suggest that if all of the institutions of Kentucky, revolving state all would, with the same regard for economy and efficiency, discharge their respective duties to the commonwealth of Kentucky, at all times bearing in mind that the taxpayers of the state are to be given due consideration there would not be any occasion for a committee of this kind to investigate state institutions to be a full day's work."

He is a strong advocate of temperance and would insist on a rigid enforcement of all temperance laws, and if any bill were passed to take a step backward on this subject he would veto it. He feels that the cause of temperance would suffer if any effort were made to substitute, at this time, statewide prohibition for local option with the county as the unit.

If you endorse this character of man and the principles he advocates, Dr. Cherry would appreciate your support, and if you feel like writing him he would be glad to hear from you.

BLACKFORD

Editor, Record-Press:

As it has been quite awhile since any items from this place have been published in your paper, we have decided to write something concerning this little burg.

While we do not profess to be scientific in our dialect, nor very proficient in French, Greek, Hebrew or Latin, yet we promise to crouch our thoughts in such language that all who read may understand.

The good year nineteen-fourteen, with its gains and losses, is now a part of the past and the new year nineteen-fifteen, with its untold possibilities, lies before us. While the old year has come and gone, the question now is, how shall we spend the year whose door we have just entered? Doubtless at the beginning of this New Year a number of resolves were made that, owing to the weakness of humanity, may be deviated from ere the year is half gone. Be these things as they may, it is the paramount duty of each human being to strive to walk worthily before all men, endeavor to act in such a manner each day, that he may have the unmistakable satisfaction that he has wronged no man. Every-day deportment is the criterion by which all human beings should be governed and by which we are judged. This the time of the year to pay your debts, settle with your debtors, and adjust your books.

W. D. Brantley, of Selden, Kan., formerly a Crittendenite, was the guest of relatives and friends here and at Providence during the holidays.

Kirby Crowell, station helper at Morganfield, visited relatives at this place Sunday.

Miss Mina White, who visited her parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. T. White, during the holidays, has returned to Bowling Green to resume her studies in the Bowling Green University.

A little girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. George S. Woodson on the 11th. George—whose surname is Rastus—seems to be very jubilant over the young lady's arrival.

Barnabas B. Thurmond and William T. Perry are growing so corpulent that their "old braches" do not fit them. Therefore they have mutually agreed, rather than to fight or wrestle, take an old fashion game of marbles sometime in the future after the mud has dried.

Clarence L. Ringo says either his book on etiquette or the people are wrong. For his book says "sip your coffee or tea from the cup," whereas the people sip it from a spoon.

Hurrah for Prof. H. H. Cherry for the next governor of our grand old Commonwealth! We heartily endorse moral as well as educated men to preside over our destiny.

Trusting the readers of the Record-Press (also the Editor and devil) may enjoy their worldly share of prosperity and good health during the year of 1915, and that the contents of this manuscript may escape the waste basket, we quit until next time.—PICAYNE.
