WARM WELCOME GIVEN GUESTS

Full Fellowship of Sunday School
Workers of All Denominations
In Great Union Meeting.

It happened in the Basement of the Methodist church, January 22nd., 7:30 p. m. which fell on a Friday night.

Appropriateness, or the state of one thing being fit and suitable for another thing, better describes this Basement, the longer it is used. It seems to fit perfectly the purposes for which it was intended. We might say a large and broad suitability seems to have settled down upon this Basement of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, of Marion. As the years roll on it will prove even more and more to be a strong auxiliary to the successful progress of this church, with its large membership. It is an institution.

As we had risen to remark, it happened in this Basement, and it was a Full Fellowship gathering of Sunday School officers, teachers and workers of all the different churches of Marion.

Somehow or other it got into the hearts and minds of some of these Methodist folks that this thing should be done, and that settled it. It was done. You know how these Methodists are. When they know they are right, they go ahead and nothing can stop them or head them off either. The night was very unpropitious, whatever that is, and kept some away. Seventy-six registered and departed, and these seventy-six declared it to be a most happy thought and an unqualified success.

The High School Orchestra rendered the music, and by the way, speaking of institutions, this Orchestra is one of the best.

The Superintendent of the M. E. Sunday School, South, T. H. Cochran, gave us an address of welcome that made each and every one feel like it was a personal address. He stated that one Sunday in 1914, there were in attendance in the various Sunday Schools in Marion over 1,400 people, or about 70% of the population. This strikes us as being a State record if not a Nation record.

Mr. Cochran was followed by George Heath, whose Response was timely and well phrased.

John Blue was at his best this night. His subject was "Onward Together," and John was pleased with his subject and warmed up to it with ease. He said many good things that were endorsed by those present.

W. D. Cannan walked out on the concrete floor with "Conservation of Youth" dotted down on a picture card, and said some splendid things on that subject. He was given close attention by all present, and furnished food for thought for "General Survey" Price in his general survey of Sunday School things and other things.

Brother Price was at home in that sort of atmosphere. He never gets uninteresting. He handed out bouquets rather lavishly at one period when he stated that he never gazed upon a finer lot of Sunday School workers in his life. Quite a number straightened up in their chairs and rearranged their clothes and coughed apologetically as it were. The longest subject required three good speakers. So Prof. Christian and Miss Margaret Moore, City School teachers, and Rev. J. W. Flynn tackled "How We Can Improve Our Sunday Schools," and we hardly see how anything more could have been said when they had finished. All three made splendid talks. We knew they would before they got on the floor.

About this time two young lady Sunday School teachers began to show certain signs of something impending. From long experience we guessed that the thing impending originated behind two large folding doors located in the extreme East of the Basement of the church. Our guess was right for very soon appeared many waiters bearing many trays loaded with things that cheered the inner man. This luncheon was just right. We desire to extend right here and now to the members of the Refreshment Committee the felicitations of the recipients.

The whole affair was well executed. It was purposed and executed to promote good fellowship among the denominations of Marion, to instill into each and every one of us a broader and more liberal spirit of good feeling for our neighbors and fellow-workers in Christ's Kingdom; to show the teacher the view point of his fellow teacher, and to make us all better teachers and officers.

It was certainly a success.

Church Services.

Preaching at the Cumberland Presbyterian church next Sunday, January 31st., 1915, at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m., by Rev. T. C. Newman. Text found in Acts, 1:6—When they therefore were come together, they asked of Him saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel? Subject for morning, Who is Israel? Subject for evening, The kingdom restored. Everybody cordially invited.

Judge Webb Steps Aside.

The Louisville Times says: "The report comes from Mayfield, that Judge James T. Webb who was Graves county's Representative in the last Legislature, will not make the race for Judge of the Court of Appeals in the First district, as had been believed. This would leave the race for Appellate Judge between Judge J. Flem Gordon, of Madisonville, and Judge Clem S. Nunn, of Marion, the incumbent. It is not known whether Judge Webb's declining the issue means that he will seek re-election as Representative."

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank all of our friends and neighbors for their kindness to us in our bereavement caused by the sudden death of our dear father, Charles W. Allen, on January 1st., 1915.

May the blessings of the kind Providence always be with you. The Children.

Sawing Wanted.

Will cut logs and saw timber, or will make contract to saw your lumber. Call me over Marion Home Telephone, No. 307-7, or write me at Fredonia. 118 St. FAY BLACK.

Monday, April 12th, 1915, we invite the farmers of old Crittenden and adjoining counties to come to our store and see the best line of implements ever shown in this end of the state.

REV. JAMES W. BIGHAM DEAD

Has Lived In Florida The Past Several Years.—Was First White Child Born In Marion.

News reached the city last week of the sudden death at Gainesville, Florida, of Rev. James W. Bigham. The report was verified by letters received in the city by relatives, which stated that his death occurred Thursday afternoon Jan. 14th at 4 o'clock and was caused by acute indigestion. He was up and well and ate a hearty dinner, after which he went to the church to conduct the Missionary Conference which was in session there.

He was stricken at 3 o'clock and was taken home as soon as it was seen that he did not rally and everything possible was done but his spirit took its flight at four o'clock. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon. The Gainesville paper says the following of the deceased:

"The funeral of Rev. James W. Bigham, the late presiding elder of the Gainesville District Methodist Episcopal Church, South, was conducted at the First Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. It was largely attended, scores of ministers and others from all parts of the state who had labored with him loved him for his many achievements for the cause of humanity, both on earth and in the world to come, being present.

The casket was almost hidden by scores of floral tributes, some of which came from friends afar off. Among these tributes were wreaths from the various church organizations, including the board of stewards, the Woman's Missionary Society, the Epworth League and the Philathea class.

The chancel and choir rails were draped, and great quantities of flowers, humanity's most loving testimonial to cherished ones gone before, formed a vision of solemn beauty.

Rev. C. H. Summers, pastor of the First Methodist Church, presided over the service, which opened with the singing of the hymn, "Servant of God, Well Done." A beautiful prayer was made by Rev. J. F. Bell, of Bartow, after which Revs. B. T. Rape of Melrose and Summers of this city read from the scriptures. The hymn, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," closed this part of the ceremonies.

The funeral sermon was delivered by Bishop H. C. Morrison of Leesburg, and countless tears were shed as the Bishop spoke of the life's work of Rev. Bigham, of whom he had intimately known for more than forty years. He had stood with him only a few nights previous to this service, on the same platform. Bishop Morrison said that the last two or three years of his acquaintance with the deceased their relations were much like that of David and Jonathan. "He was a large man," said the Bishop, "and possessed a large heart, and he loved God and humanity. Socially, he had large gifts: his nature was sunny and optimistic, he loved innocent pleasantries and was an inspiration in any circle. As a friend, he was true unserving and faithful—as a preacher he was far above the ordinary. He knew God and he knew how to lead men to God, therefore his long pastoral life was not without fruit. Brother Bigham was not only an orthodox gospel preacher but a fearless foe of wrong in any sphere." Here the speaker referred to the earnest work in the fight against strong drink by the deceased, whom he said, was always found on the right side of every moral question. He was a devoted husband and affectionate father, and also there is deepest sadness in the family circle, they have treasures in Heaven which they have not had before.

Bishop Morrison compared the flight of Rev. Bigham's spirit to the world beyond to the little bird in captivity, which, when liberated, is the same bird in form and appearance, only in a freer realm—just a change of environment and location. "Servant of God, well done—rest. The battle is fought, the victory is won. We shall see him again," said the Bishop, in closing.

Revs. Rape and Summers spoke briefly of their relations with the deceased, the former stating that in his twenty-seven years' service in the ministry he had never labored under a presiding elder so sympathetic as this departed friend.

The remains were then borne to Evergreen Cemetery, where interment was made under direction of the Thomas Undertaking Company. The pallbearers were from among the ministers who have labored with the deceased.

All the children of Rev. Bigham were present at the funeral.

James William Bigham was born May 7 1844 and has the distinction of being the first white child born in Marion, Ky. He was a son of Harvey W. Bigham the first County and Circuit Clerk the county ever had.

His mother was Miss Sarah Jane Rice. On Oct. 20th 1869 he married Miss Martha Ellen Hughes who lived one mile east of Marion on the Providence road and to this union 11 children were born:

Harvey, Lula Ellen, Harriett G., Minta, Sarah Catherine, Emma Owen, James Alexander, Nina Belle, James Messac, Pauline Eleanor, Carrie Dennett.

The 1st, 2nd, 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th children are dead while five children survive with the widow. The deceased was one of the best known and most beloved citizens of Marion and was never happier than when here with the "boys" he knew in his youth. He was companionable, always jovial and his friends whose names are legion will grieve over his untimely taking away.

CANDIDATES FROM HOPKINS COUNTY

Young Submits Proposition To Laffoon In Regard To Race For Commonwealths Attorney

The Madisonville Hustler under date of Jan. 18th., has the following letter from Ed. L. Young to Ruby Laffoon, both of whom are candidates for the office of commonwealths attorney in this district:

"Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 13th, 1915.—Hon. Ruby Laffoon, Madisonville, Ky.—Dear Sir: I hereby make the proposition to you that we submit our candidacy for commonwealths attorney to any one of three methods set forth below:

"(1). That we submit the matter to the Democratic members of the Madisonville bar, resident in Madisonville, as per official list of attorneys attached and checked as democrats. In ascertaining their preference you to appoint a representative and I one, who shall, in some simple way provide a secret ballot, and call upon the attorneys at their offices and quietly inform them of the purpose and secure their ballot, the same to be deposited in a box arranged for the purpose between said representatives. This to be completed by Saturday night, Jan. 16th, 1915. I will name as my representative Judge C. C. Givens.

"(2). That we submit our claims to the democratic voters of the city of Madisonville by some method of secret ballot to be arranged by our representatives and at some time not later than two weeks from this date.

"(3). That we submit our claims to the democratic voters of Hopkins county in the same way as suggested in the second paragraph at some time not later than thirty days from this date. I beg to remain.

Yours truly,

ED YOUNG."

"P. S.—A copy of the foregoing letter was handed to Mr. Laffoon January 13th., but up to 6 o'clock Monday afternoon, January 18th., when the Hustler went to press, no reply whatever had been received.

"ED YOUNG."

Mr. Laffoon Makes Reply To Propositions Made by Mr. Young

Madisonville, Ky., Jan. 19 1915

Mr. Ed Young, Madisonville, Kentucky—My Dear Sir: Your proposition in a letter addressed to me, dated January 13, 1915, that: We submit our candidacy for Commonwealth's Attorney to any one of the three methods, was duly received on that night about nine o'clock. I have been absent from Madisonville on business since Sunday, having gotten home at noon today, hence the reason I have not furnished you with an answer to your letter before this time. I hope you will give my response to your propositions the same publicity in your paper that was given to your letter addressed to me.

Your first proposition is to leave the nomination of a candidate for this office to a list of Democratic lawyers residing in Madisonville and you submit a list that does not contain all of the Democratic members of the bar here, but includes, besides you and I, the names of our announced candidates for office, either county or district, as the lawyers to whom you desire to leave the matter. I am impressed that these candidates would be exceedingly slow to act, in fact, they would decline to make a nomination for and on behalf of the voters of four great counties, with out first having been delegated with authority so to do. This proposition is in effect to let less than all of the Democratic lawyers of Madisonville makes a nomination for this important office, and to deny to all other voters a voice in saying who their nominee shall be. While I have an abiding faith in the honor and integrity of every member of our bar, and while I have the best of reasons for knowing that a very great majority of them are friendly to my candidacy yet, I would loath to accept a nomination made by them for and on behalf of ten thousand sovereign Democratic voters, who have been denied a voice in the selection of a candidate for their party. Why leave this important matter to lawyers cutting out doctors? Why leave it to lawyers and doctors cutting out merchants and mechanics cutting out that class of voters who of necessity, must work today in order that city may eat tomorrow? I believe that it is eminently right and just to let every Democratic voter exercise his constitutional right by expressing his choice in selecting a candidate for his party. Thus believing, I will not agree to your first proposition.

Your next method proposed is to permit the Democrat voters residing within the corporate limits of Madisonville to make this nomination. To me, this is quite as objectionable as leaving the matter in the hands of a few lawyers. However, I have talked within the last few days to quite a number of Democrats living in Madisonville, and their expressed opinion confirms my honest belief that an overwhelming majority of the Democratic voters of this city are enthusiastically supporting my candidacy. Yet I do not crave a nomination made by the voters of Madisonville alone. I prefer to let the voters of every town and hamlet the farmers and miners as well, having a right to express their choice, and say who they favor for this position of trust. Then, for the reasons indicated, I will not agree to your second proposition.

Your third method is leaving the nomination to the Democratic voters of Hopkins county. When I announced as a candidate for this office, I stated that I would make the race subject to the choice of the Democratic voters of the four counties comprising the Fourth Judicial District. For the reasons in part embodied in my declination to accept the first two propositions made by you, and for the further reasons that I will not deny my friends in the good old counties of Livingston, Crittenden and Caldwell the right to express their choice in the selection of their chief officer in the upholding and maintaining the dignity and majesty of the law for the protection of a citizenship second to none in old Kentucky impels me to decline to agree to your third proposition.

I sincerely believe that I will receive practically the unanimous support of my party in this, my home county, at least. I am perfectly satisfied with the conditions here. If I am wrong in my conclusions, you certainly

CONSUMPTION TAKES 350 PEOPLE DAILY

Over 350 people succumb to consumption every day in the United States. Science proves that the germs only thrive when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists. The best physicians point out that during changing seasons the blood should be made rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals. The cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood; it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and throat, while it upholds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption. If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known. It is totally free from alcohol or any stupefying drug. Avoid substitutes.

SOMETHING ABOUT LIGHTS

The Way They Do In The Capital Of France.—Have Few Lights

Paris, Jan. 26.—In accordance with a military order lights are seldom seen at night in buildings in Paris. Windows are covered with double blinds. Boulevard cafes are using a minimum of lights while the show windows of stores and electric lights are dark. As few street lamps as possible are being used.

The Way They Do In The Capital Of Kentucky.—Coil Breaks.

A broken coil at the power plant of the Kentucky Public Service Company caused a shut-down in the arc-light service shortly after 11 o'clock last night and for a long time practically the entire city was in darkness. Assistant Manager, L. B. Butler, who superintended the work of restoring the service, declared the accident was unavoidable and the break was fixed as soon as possible.—Frankfort State Journal.

YOUR BLOOD

is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are poisonous and destroy us unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life.

Uses Opium Bullet; Deer

Sleeps; Is Captured Alive.

Brooklyn, Wis., Jan. 26.—John Benham, a well known guide, who had been commissioned to capture a huge deer alive for a private game preserve near Hurley, Wis., has captured the biggest deer ever taken alive in the state—a six prong 300 pound buck—by the simple expedient of using opium pellets instead of the usual lead bullets in hunting. Benham had a druggist make him the shot he wanted—a mixture of gum arabic, flour paste and opium. When he saw the big fellow he cut loose with his gun, and he caught up with the deer two hours later, when it had fallen asleep in some balsams.

rats of the district, remembering
the excellent services rendered

his term as senator, are now, beginning to call upon him, to make the race again next year
as it will then be Crittenden's

the district so well and favorably

Owing to the strong pressure

happiness and prolong your life,

forget your neighbor's faults.
Forget the temptations. Forget
the fault-finding, and give a little thought to the cause which provoked it. Forget the peculiarities of your friends, and only remember the good points which made you fond of them. Forget
all personal quarrels or histories
you may have heard by accident,
and which, if repeated, would
seem a thousand times worse
than they are. Blot out as far as possible all the disagreeables
of life; they will come, but they will grow larger when you remember them, and the constant
thought of the act of meanness,
or worse still, malice, will only
tend to make you more familiar with them. Obliterate everything
disagreeable from yesterday;
start out with a clean sheet for
today, and write upon it for sweet memory's sake only those things which are lovely and lov-
able.

LAURENCE B. FINN

Announces For Railroad Commissioner.

To the Democrats of the First Railroad Commission District
of Kentucky:
I announce my candidacy in
the coming August State Primary Election, for the Democratic nomination for Railroad Commissioner of the First Railroad Commission District of Kentucky,
composed of the 39 counties in Western Kentucky. I hope that you will carefully examine my official record as a member of the Commission; and that it will meet with your approval. I am serving my first full term as a member of the Commission and for three years have been its Chairman. I have had the honor to be Chairman of the Executive Committee, First Vice-President
and President of the National Association of Railway Commissioners, composed of the members of the Railroad Commissions of each State, the Interstate Commerce Commission and Canadian Commission. This is stated merely to show my experience and the opportunities I
have had to qualify myself to discharge the duties of the office
to which I aspire. If you favor me with the nomination and I am elected in November, I shall endeavor to discharge the duties
of the office faithfully and im-
partially and shall do my utmost
at all times to render honest and efficient public service.

Respectfully,
LAURENCE B. FINN.
Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1, 1915.

We have held three successful Implement Days.
We will hold the fourth on Monday, April 12th, 1915.
T. H. Cochran & Co.

CANDIDATES FROM
HOPKINS COUNTY.

have no grounds of complaint.
Your candidacy is not taken seriously by the Democrats of Hopkins county, a goodly number of them believing that you
are trying to make an easy place
upon which to fall, knowing that you have no chance to win before the people. It is likewise
the opinion of many that if I
were to accept any one of your propositions that you would then
just as certainly use any organization that you might have, in an effort two defeat me at the regular primary election in August. After having considered

the matter in its various phases,
I have reached the conclusion
that I had rather undertake to beat two men at one time than to
be forced to make to races to defeat one man.

Why did you wait so long to spring all of these methods? You have been a candidate for several months and the campaign is on
in earnest, every candidate is actively engaged in prosecuting
his canvass. I do not know how you consider the matter, but to a man up a tree it seems that these schemes of yours have
been hatched up and sprung at this late day for the purpose of fooling somebody. They are mere buncombe and child's-play
and are so regarded by a great majority of Democrats who have under all circumstances
been faithful to the party. In this enlightened age when one
thinks he is fooling the people,
he is only fooling himself. I only want a friendly race, just like all good men ought to have free, open and above board. Then
when it is over and the nominee
declared, every Democrat in the district will rally to his support,
and a rousing Democratic victory will be the result.

Yours very truly,
RUBY LAFFOON.

OPTICS.

Have come to stay and am prepared to handle your eye troubles
at reasonable prices. You can find me in my office on Thurs.,
Fri., Sat. and court days.
Press bld. J. R. Gilchrist,
tf Oph. D.

E. D. Stone Has a Bee
In His Bonnet.

After due reflection I have fully
decided to submit my candidacy to the voters for the nomination for State Representative,
subject to the action of the Republican party in the August primary, 1915.

I cannot express the gratitude
which I feel toward the people
of this district, for their loyal support in the past. I can only say to you in the simplest phrase,
I thank you. Feeling that I have rendered unto the people that
which belongs to the people a fair
honest and faithful service and
upon my record as a public servant I am seeking an endorsement.

During the last session of the General Assembly, I was present
at every meeting of that body,
trying to defend the interest of
the people, devoting my time
every day of the session at my
place of duty, with honest labor
and efforts to protect and defend
the people of this district an
state, extravagant appropriations
enlarging of salaries and establishing of unserviceable offices.
During my term of office I opposed all appropriations, and the creating of positions for political
pets, from the fact of their un-necessity. I stood in opposition to special Legislation or the enactment of laws for the benefit of special interests, or against the welfare of the people as a whole.

I hold that a public office is a public trust and not a private snap.
I contend that more economy
should be practiced by the lawmakers of our state.
I am in hearty accord with a
legislature that is opposed to any
increase in the tax on real estate.
I labored and voted against any increase of your taxes. Realizing that the tax burden, is a heavy one, and it is a question of
much importance to the people
of this district to see that one
who represents them in the next General Assembly has pledged himself to stand in opposition to
any increase of this burden.

I believe that the public conscience has become aroused to

the important of honest elections,
clean government, clean man-
hood, clean politics and the adoption of a corrupt practice act.
The next session of the Legislature of this state will be confronted by a number of measures
which will require careful consideration by both branches of the legislature. In order to meet the necessary requirements of the state and to the best interest
of her people.

I shall conduct a fair and legitimate campaign for the nomination and election for this office,
promising to render you my best
service, and with the experience
I have had as a member of the last session, I will be able to protect your interest.

My record and position on matters of public welfare will be submitted to the voters of this district for their consideration
soon. Respectfully asking your vote and influence I am,

Yours very truly,
Edward D. Stone.

The Crittenden County

Crop Improvement Ass'n.

The Crittenden County Crop
Improvement Ass'n of Farmer's Clubs are being organized all
over the county and within the reach of every farmer.

All those who have not joined should join at once. There is no
membership fee and there is no
expense attached to them whatever.

This movement will benefit every man in the county. The United States government has made it possible for us to have a County Crop Demonstrator or County Agent and he is here now in the person of Mr. J. Robert Bird at your service. He lives in Marion and will be found every Saturday
in his office, first room to the left as you enter the court house
call on him, call him up by phone,
write to him and let us make
him the busy man of the county.

What is the use of hiring a man unless we make him earn
his money? Remember it is impossible for him to be everywhere
at the same time, so he is trying to reach everybody through Farmer's clubs scattered over the whole county. These clubs meet once a month, each club will have its President and Secretary. We will have a meeting two Saturdays in each month in the court house in Marion. The next meeting will be Jan. 30th 1915, then Feb. 13. There will be men to speak at these meetings in the court house from time to time,
from Lexington and other points.

Let everybody come to the meeting next Saturday as we have a very important matter to put before our farmers and all the men
who expect to buy any fertilizers
this spring and fall. You positively cannot afford to miss these meetings if you are a farmer.

Mr. Morgan O. Hughes District Agent for Western Ky.
made a talk Wednesday January 20th and it was pronounced by some of Crittenden's best and most conservative farmers as the best thing ever given in the county.

Those who failed to hear him
missed a good thing and then it did not cost a cent. The government sees to that part of it.

The following are places where
farmers clubs will be organized
and some have had meetings already:

Hebron, Crayne, Caldwell
Springs, Frances, Union, Sheridan, Tolu, Weston, Bells Mines, Baker, Prospect, Oakland, Olive Branch, Copperas Spring, Lone Star, and Oak Hall.

Hebron had a meeting Jan. 15,
with thirty present. Olive Branch Jan. 18, with thirty present. Forest Grove Jan. 19, 25
present. Oak Hall Jan. 19, 26
present. Court House Jan. 16, 50 present. Frances Jan. 21, 26
present. Crayne Jan. 22, 46
present.

On account of bad weather lots
of men have been kept away
from these meetings. That should not keep anyone away.

Just pick up your foot in your hand and come on.

The government is spending
millions of dollars in this Crop Improvement business and why should not Crittenden County get her part of it. Suppose we go to it.

The Record-Press would be titled to death for every farmer
in the county to get a new vision
of better days, larger crops, more
money, less mortgages, happier
homes, better roads, and better
schools—not only the vision but the real things themselves. The verdict rests with the Farmers
of Crittenden County.

You could not walk from Marion to Louisville in one day but you can start on the road in less than a day. And by the way if you never start you will never get there. God's bounties in the world are for the "up and doing."

Call on Bird for Farmers Bulletins, get your name on his list
without fail. He sends all his mail out without postage so who cares for the cost! Read them
and preserve them.

If you don't see what you want
call on Bird for it.

Let everybody get interested
and busy and start this old county on the up grade. We don't want any more car loads of people going to Washington. If we get this county going good these
yaps who went to Washington
and elsewhere will all come back
if they have to walk. Some of them would do that now, if they could walk.

Everybody be a "Booster."

DEATHS

W. H. Copher received word
Wednesday morning that his sister, Mrs. Miranda Jeter, of Marion, Ill., was dying of cirrhosis
of the liver with which she has been afflicted for some time. He left on the first train for Marion, Illinois.

D. C. James, for many years a banker at Morganfield, and who is well known to many of our people, died at the home of his daughter, in Madisonville, where
he had lived the past ten years,
since the death of his fourth
wife.

Of his residence in this county
the Morganfield Sun says:

"In 1847 Mr. James left Nashville, being in the employ of Colonel Bell, and took charge of the old Bell's mines in Crittenden
county. While there he married Miss Sarah A. Nunn. One child resulted from this marriage. The mother and child both died in Crittenden county.

"He moved to Union county in April, 1854."

Miss Sarah Ann Nunn was a
sister of the late John Nunn and was an aunt of Former Chief Justice Nunn, of this city, and was related to all the large family of
that name in this county, and Union county as well.

Mrs. Emmett Koltinsky died of tuberculosis at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Koltin-sky, on Salem street, in this city, Friday, January 22nd, 1915.
She was Miss Florence Meader,
daughter of A. E. Meader, an I.
C. R. R. conductor, now residing at Princeton, Ky.

She was born January
30th, 1897, and was married November 20th, 1913 about fourteen
months ago, at Mt. Vernon, Ind.
Died January 22nd., 1915 in her 18th. year.

The funeral was preached by Rev. J. A. Chandler, Sunday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock and interment in the new cemetery immediately after. There were a great many floral remembrances
from friends of the family in railroad circles and elsewhere.

Among those from a distance
who were here during her illness
or at the funeral were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Meader and her brothers, Messrs Harvey and Charley Meader. Her only sister, Mrs. Oscar Brink, of Detroit, Mich., could not attend.

Her aunts, Mesdames W. F. Mot-han and Henry Kramer, of Springfield, Illinois; Miss Lilla Meder, of Princeton, Ky; and Mrs. Herman Buttermore were here. Also Mr. and Mrs. H.
F. Morgan, of Princeton, and Mr. and Mrs. Al Williams and daughter, Mrs. Sullivan, all of Evansville, Ind.

Our townsman E. H. Holts-
claw received a long distance
message Wednesday night of last week telling him of the death of his sister Mrs. Malissa Ringo, of Corydon, wife of Thomas Ringo.
Mr. Holtsclaw went to Sullivan Friday to attend the burial. The remains being taken there from Corydon for interment. The following telegram from Corydon
in the Henderson Gleaner of Friday gives the details.

"Corydon, Jan. 21.—Death at 3:00 this morning claimed Mrs.
S. T. Ringo, who was seriously injured by a fall sustained Monday morning. It was thought at the time of the accident that
Mrs. Ringo had broken her hip.
She suffered great pain and her
condition gradually grew worse
until death came as a relief to her intense suffering.

She was hurt while attending
to her household duties on Monday. She was in her room when she fell, and just how she fell
and just how she received such a serious injury is not known.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, namely:
Mrs. F. J. Pentecost, of Henderson, and Mrs. Ralph King, of this city.

Short funeral services will be conducted at the family residence
this morning at 7 o'clock, by Rev. A. H. Brown, of the Christian church. The body will be taken to Sullivan on the 8 o'clock
train and burial will take place
in the family burying ground.
The pallbearers will be J. W.
Powell, A. T. Biggs, A. W. Lilly,
J. T. Anderson, W. H. Clark,
and V. G. Conley."

NUMEROUS SNOW FINES

Big Branch of Careless Hopkinsville Citizens Who Forgot To Shovel the Beautiful

Many persons who failed to comply with the provisions of the snow ordinance and clean
the snow off their sidewalks
within five hours after it ceased
falling, were brought into police court Thursday and numerous
fines of $3 were imposed.

Many prominent citizens were
in the list, some of whom cleaned
their residence pavements,
but overlooked those in other parts of town for which they were responsible. Some had excuses deemed sufficient and were let off. All willful violations of the law were duly punished.

The law is a popular one with the people and many of the arrests were on complaints phoned
to the police by people who had
cleaned their own pavements.
Most of those fined took it good
humoredly and paid the fines.
One prominent lawyer insisted
on a written summons and his case had not been tried Thursday, as he was absent from the city.—Kentuckian.

No Side Or Back Doors

For U. S. Mail Carriers.

Uncle Sam evidently believes
his letter carriers are entitled to approach the front entrance.
No longer can his H. Knobs or Her Nips order them to leave the
mail at the side or the rear door.
Instructions have been issued by
the postal department prohibiting delivery of mail at rear or side door entrance.—Modern

FOR SALE!

Ten acres of land in the town or Salem, Ky.

Four hundred acres 1 1-2 miles west of Salem, in Salem Graded School district on the Smithland road. Two sets of buildings and good orchard, also some fine oak timber.

All this land lays well and is in a good state of cultivation. Will sell as a whole or divide it up. Terms easy. See G. H. Rappolee, Salem, Ky. or Mrs. H. D. Wooldridge, Marion, Ky.

Great interest is felt here in the approaching marriage of Mr. Coleman Foster, of this city, to Nelle Nunn, of Rodney, and of her sister, Miss Mabel Nunn, to W. O. Shouse, of Sturgis.

The ceremony will take place at the home of Hon. E. L. Nunn, the father of the brides-to-be, and will be performed by the Rev. Richardson, pastor on the Shady Grove circuit, on Tuesday afternoon, February 2nd.

The young ladies are both graduates of the Marion Graded and High School and are two of the prettiest girls in the county, and are endowed with many womanly traits, which endear them to all who have had the pleasure of knowing them, and knowing of their refined, modest and unassuming manner.

Coleman Foster, one of the grooms-to-be, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Foster, who live in the northern suburbs of this city, and is one of our finest youngest men, who deserves the bonny bride he has won.

We do not know Mr. Shouse, but feel sure he is worthy of E. L. Nunn's daughter as he belongs to one of the best families of Union county.

At the Church of the Assumption, Monday, an early morning wedding of attractive character took place at 7:30 o'clock when Miss Katharine Kittinger, the only daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Jacob Kittinger, was given in marriage to Wilfred Charles Bussing, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard J. Bussing.

Rev. Francis Ryves officiated and the only attendants were the groom's brother, Bernard Bussing, and Henry Hefele, who were the ushers. The wedding music was played by Miss Aurelia Ellert.

Bermuda lilies and greenery beautified the sanctuary where the ceremony took place.

The bride wore her traveling costume of tete de negre cloth velvet with braid hat of the same shade, set off with pink ostrich plumes and pink roses.

W. A. Myers, representing a big company of Chicago, is here securing leases on 1,000 acres of land lying between Locust Lake and Caseyville. Mr. Myers seems very enthusiastic over the prospects and promises to begin operations not later than March 1.—Sturgis Enterprise.

Myers 1,400 acres of oil rights, just across the river in Crittenden county. They are very enthusiastic over the prospects for oil, and no doubt a' er long splendid oil wells will be dotting the land in this locality. Land in this part of the county has everything else good and why not oil, too.

Beat His Wife Up.

Quite a scandal was created here a few morning ago when one of our well known citizens beat his wife up. Several of his neighborhood women claim to have seen part of the incident. We withhold the man's name for he has promised his wife that it shall never happen again. and as he is ashamed of his actions he should not be condemned too harshly by other husbands. It was about 5:30 a. m. and eye witnesses declare that he not only beat his wife up but actually had the fire going and the coffee pot on the stove before the surprised lady could get to the kitchen, and fully realize how badly she was beaten.—Exchange.

DIRE DISTRESS

It is Near at Hand to Hundreds of Marlon Readers.

Don't neglect an aching back. Backache is often the kidneys' cry for help. Neglect hurrying to the kidneys' aid Means that urinary troubles may follow.

Or danger of worse kidney trouble. Here's Cobb's testimony.

Luther Hayes Cobb, near Princeton, Ky., says: "Some time ago I began to have kidney trouble, the first symptom being a sensitiveness through my sides and loins. I noticed acute pains in my back and through my limbs and I came to the conclusion that my kidneys were affected. A friend, who had suffered in a similar way, advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and I did. They relieved me so promptly that I am pleased to give them my highest recommendation."

Paris, Jan. 19.—A Geneva dispatch to the Temps says Rumanian students in Swiss Universities received orders by telegraph today to return home on account of the mobilization of the Rumanian army.

London, Jan. 19.—Nine British French and Belgian aviators dropped bombs on the Ostend barracks and the railroad station causing considerable damage, according to a Lloyd's news dispatch from their correspondent on the Franco Belgian border.

The Saphir displaced 386 tons and carried a crew of about 21. She had six torpedo tubes and was built at Toulon in 1908.

Berlin, Jan. 19.—Fighting in the region of Soissons is regarded by German military experts as the greatest success for the German troops in France for three months, is held to confirm the contention that the offensive of General Joffre, the French commander in chief, has been broken down.

Major Moraht, writing in the Tageblatt, says the total French losses in three days fighting must have reached 30,000.

STOP BUYING EXPENSIVE COUGH REMEDIES

Make the Best at Home

Money spent for the old style, ready-made, cough syrups in bottles holding only 2 to 2 1/2 ounces is very largely wasted, because most of them are composed principally of sugar and water. Yet you have to pay the same price as if it was all medicine. Stop wasting this money. You can make a better cough medicine at home at one-fifth the cost. Merely go to J. H. Orme's Drug Store and ask for 2 ounces (50c worth) of Schiffmann's Concentrated Expectorant. Mix this with one pint of granulated sugar and one-half pint of boiling water, which makes a full pint (16 ounces). This new, simple, pleasant remedy is guaranteed to relieve the worst cough or cold. Also excellent for Bronchial Asthma, Bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and whooping cough. One bottle will make enough home-made cough medicine to probably last the whole family the entire winter. Children like it, it is so pleasant to take and it positively contains no chloroform, opium, morphine or other narcotics as do most cough mixtures. Keep on hand in case of emergency and stop each cough before it gets a firm hold. The above druggist has been authorized to return the money in every single case where it does not give perfect satisfaction or is not found the best remedy ever used. Absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy under this positive guarantee.

A Homemade Girl.

In the February American Magazine Harry C. Carr, writing a story entitled "Giving Mary the Double-Cross," comments as follows on one of the characters in his story:

"She wasn't so homely but she was kind of homemade. She had been raised out there in the desert and she didn't know the steps. You could see, just as soon as the bell sounded, that she didn't belong. She knew it, too, and she was as scared and timid as a cottontail rabbit."

FELLE FRANKLIN GRAY AND HER COMPANY.

Miss Gray's success has been instantaneous and universal. Although still but a girl, she has gained a recognized position as a legitimate artist of high rank.

Miss Gray gave her first violin recital when ten years old, at which time she played the Mendelssohn Concerto. Even at that early age the San Francisco critics recognized her individuality.

From early childhood she has won a series of scholarships that has given her an opportunity to study under the greatest masters of the west, New York and Europe.

Miss Gray plays with a warmth of tone and a freedom of bowing that are unexcelled in breadth and yet with feminine charm. She is distinguished for her unconscious graciousness of manner and simplicity as much as for her merit as an artist.

Miss Florence Crawford, pianiste of this company, has remarkable ability. She rapidly won favor in New York, where she studied and played in concert, appearing several times with the Philharmonic Orchestra. She has been before the public for many years and plays with brilliancy and buoyant musical feeling. She astonishes her audiences with her strength, endurance and her manipulation of difficult and rapid passages.

Mrs. Margaret Gray always travels with her daughter. Mrs. Gray is a reader of great ability and has won success from east to west.

She is a great favorite with audiences and gives readings with music, spoken songs or character delineations at the option of the local management.

War Notes

London.—Battle for trenches in Flanders, France, continues almost without cessation from the sea to the Swiss border. In the mud of Flanders, the floods of the Aisne valley and the snow of the Argennes and the Vosges, the Germans and the allies keep up a continual fight to hold what they possess and to take something from that held by the enemy.

Paris.—Destruction of a big German ammunition depot, from which German forces, operating near Rheims, drew their supplies, is reported this afternoon. French aviators located the ammunition depot and furnished the range to the batteries. The guns had scarcely fired once in its direction when a shell burst through the roof. A tremendous explosion shook the earth for miles around. It is believed many were killed.

Amsterdam.—Very heavy long range German guns, planted in among the sand dunes on the North Sea coast, northeast of Nisupo, have been silenced by British warships, according to a dispatch to the Handelsblad from Sluis. Belgian troops, co-operating with the British fleet, compelled the Germans to exanate their former position on the coast to prevent their guns from being captured.

INTERNAL CATARRH

"Peruna Has Done Wonders For Me. I Was So Weak."

Mrs. M. P. Curry, P. O. Box 615, Petersburg, Ill., writes: "I have been troubled with internal catarrh since my girlhood, and was sick in bed three months. When I was able to get up I was so weak and thin I could hardly walk. What I ate disagreed with me. I had stomach and liver trouble, and my feet and limbs were swollen so I could scarcely drag around."

"I took Peruna and it has done wonders for me. My cure was a surprise to my friends for they never expected to see me well again. I just took two bottles of Peruna after doctoring for five months and growing worse all the time."

Continuous Headache.

Mrs. Esther M. Milner, Box 191, De Graff, Ohio, writes: "I was a terrible sufferer from internal catarrh, and had the headache continuously. I was not able to do my housework for myself and husband. You recommended Peruna. I took four bottles and was completely cured. I think Peruna a wonderful medicine and have recommended it to my friends."

$8,000,000 Paid Out For War Horses.

St. Louis, Jan. 28.—About $8,000,000 has been spent by three European governments for horses purchased in the East St. Louis market thus far, horse dealers estimated Wednesday, and the British, French and Italian governments still are buying steadily. The United States government became a purchaser Wednesday also, the buyers taking cavalry mounts to be sent to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and to other cavalry training stations. The American Buyers said they were purchasing only to recruit the horse supply of the army up to its normal numbers.

Buyers for the foreign governments at the yard with the exception of the Italian representatives, have told stock dealers they do not know how many horses they will buy. They say they are under orders to continue purchasing until they receive orders from their governments to stop. Under these orders, the British officers are buying 100 horses a day and the French a similar number.

Monday, April 12th, 1915, we invite the farmers of old Crittenden and adjoining counties to come to our store and see the best line of implements ever shown in this end of the state.

The Friends You Are Fondest Of.

In the February American Magazine James Montgomery Flagg, the famous wit and artist does an amusing piece in words and pictures entitled "The High Cost of Friends," in the course of which he tells as follows the difference between your dear friends and the ones you are much less fond of:

"The friends you are fondest of are always the kind that rarely call you up or go out of the way to see you or be in your company. They love you when they are with you, but you have to do all the going and coming. When you reproach them with not phoning you or letting you know they have come in town they 'have been so busy!' Did you ever know it to fail?"

"And the ones you like fairly well but are not enthusiastic about ring you up and ask you to dinner, and send you tickets, and try to borrow money from you,

An Honest Dependable Medicine. It must be admitted by every fair-minded, intelligent person, that a medicine could not live and grow in popularity for nearly forty years, and to-day hold a record for thousands upon thousands of actual cures, as has Lydia E. If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

BRAIN LEAKS.

(By F. S. LOYD.)

Albert Elder says when some other man's wife does anything a man will say, "How womanly." And when his own wife does anything he will say, "That's just like a woman." And there's an awful difference between the two statements.

Every spring when the sun is warm, and the birds are singing, Ben Wigginton will throw his overcoat into the corner of a closet, because he knows he will be able to buy a new one. When winter comes around again and it starts to snowing he finds that he is dead broke as usual, and the old coat feels mighty good to him.

Simon Heath says you have to teach a child everything else in school, but you never have to teach it to put pencils in its mouth.

Ed Baker says there are 1,000,000 too many women in the United States, and there are 1,000,000 husbands in the United States who will agree with him.

Miss Mattie Smith won't believe it, but the only way she can marry both a lover and a provider is to commit bigamy.

Owen Blackburn came home from school with stains on his face. His mother couldn't find out what was the matter neither could his father. It appears that the teacher had been unjust and the boy was ashamed. The parents decided that they must know the answer. "What was the matter at school today?" Demanded Spurgeon.

"Nothing, except that I was kept in," said Owen.

"You were kept in. What for?"

"It wasn't my fault; it was yours."

"So you got yourself kept in school and then say it was your father's fault? Tell me all about it."

"Well last night I asked you how much a million was and you said it was a h-o-l-l-o-w-a-l-o-t."

"Well, what of it?"

"The teacher said that wasn't the right answer, and he kept me in."

Henry Rice said to his wife, "I see they are making collars out of sand-paper."

"What for?" Demanded his wife.

"Tough necks," was the reply.

"I wish you would get some, Henry."

Uncle George Reed says there isn't much hope for the man who takes an hour off to ease the good luck other people are having.

Ed Baker says some men before he gets her he won't let her carry her umbrella, for fear the strain might injure her. After he gets her, she can hold the baby on one arm and carry a bucket of coal up stairs on other arm for what he cares.

When Mattie Smith is with other girls she isn't very careful with her grammar. She will say, "Me and her is good enough." But when she is with her fellow she has to put on dig with her grammar and she says "I and she."

Rob Patterson says if duty was as shapely and as pretty as temptation and temptation was as uninviting as duty, old man Satan would have to close The Hades Hotel for lack of business.

Uncle George Reed says, if prohibition keeps on issuing bulletins denouncing poor old demon rum, they may yet issue a statement that there are germs in alcohol.

Oscar Hibbs says some fathers will stand in front of a bar for two hours and forget that he is standing up. But if he has to stand in a street car for ten minutes on his way home, he fears that the strain may affect his nervous system.

Holla, here we come again. All enjoying good health, at present.

We are having some very nice weather, now, but the roads seem to be slowly improving.

The singing at Harry Hale's was well attended, and all who were present reported a very nice time.

Colins Fox was at home last week but has now returned to his regular work.

We are sorry to hear of Axel Hodge's misfortune of losing his fine horse last week.

Most of the people in this neighborhood have killed their hogs, but none were fat as they usually are.

J. H. Tyner, of Tyner's Chapel, was in our neighborhood visiting last week.

P. S. Travis, the miller, will grind corn in this neighborhood every Friday and Saturday.

Bryan Fox is building a good stock barn. Better hurry, or winter will be over. We suppose he thinks it will be bad weather later on, but hope not.

Fred Meredith is talking of giving party at his house soon, wish he would hurry up.

For bargains, go to H. H. Hale.

Uncle Geo. Tabor passed through here Monday enroute to Marion.

Mrs. Nellie Brown, who has been quite ill so long, is no better.

Mrs. Juliet Fox is on the sick list with the lagrippe, but hope she will be better at next writing.

The Hodge mines are in operation now, with Ed Peek as their spawasher.

THE COUNTY FAIR

By Peter Radford

Lecturer National Farmers' Union

The farmer gets more out of the fair than anyone else. The fair to a city man is an entertainment; to a farmer it is education. Let us take a stroll through the fair grounds and linger a moment at a few of the points of greatest interest. We will first visit the mechanical department and hold communion with the world's greatest thinkers.

You are now attending a congress of the mental giants in mechanical science of all ages. They are addressing you in tongues of iron and steel and in language mute and powerful tell an eloquent story of the world's progress. The inventive geniuses are the most valuable farm hands we have and they perform an enduring service to mankind. We can all help others for a brief period while we live, but it takes a master mind to tower into the realm of science and light a torch of progress that will illuminate the pathway of civilization for future generations.

The men who gave us the sickle, the binder, the cotton gin and hundreds of other valuable inventions work in every field on earth and will continue their labors as long as time. Their bright intellects have conquered death and they will live and serve mankind on and on forever, without money and without price. They have shown us how grand and noble it is to work for others; they have also taught us lessons in economy and efficiency, how to make one hour do the work of two or more; have lengthened our lives, multiplied our opportunities and taken toll off the back of humanity.

They are the most practical men the world ever produced. Their inventions have stood the acid test of utility and efficiency. Like all useful men, they do not seek publicity, yet millions of machines sing their praises from every harvest field on earth and as many plows turn the soil in mute applause of their marvelous achievements.

FARMER RADFORD ON WOMAN SUFFRAGE

The home is the greatest contribution of women to the world, and the hearthstone is her throne. Our social structure is built around her, and social righteousness is in her charge. Her beautiful life lights the skies of hope and her refinement is the charm of twentieth century civilization. Her graces and her power are the cumulative products of generations of quietly conquest, and her crown of exalted womanhood is jeweled with the wisdom of saintly mothers. She has been a great factor in the glory of our country, and her noble achievements should not be marred or her hallowed influence blighted by the coarser duties of citizenship. American chivalry should never permit her to bear the burdens of defending and maintaining government, but should preserve her unscathed from the allied influences of politics, and protect her from the weighty responsibilities of the sordid affairs of life that will crush her ideals and lower her standards. The motherhood of the farm is our inspiration, she is the guardian of our domestic welfare and a guide to a higher life, but directing the affairs of government is not within woman's sphere, and political gossip would cause her to neglect the home, forget to mend our clothes and burn the biscuits.

RURAL SOCIAL CENTERS

We need social centers where our young people can be entertained, amused and instructed under the direction of cultured, clean and competent leadership, where aesthetic surroundings stir the love for the beautiful, where art charges the atmosphere with inspiration and power, and innocent amusements instruct and brighten their lives.

To hold our young people on the farm we must make farm life more attractive as well as the business of farming more remunerative. The school house should be the social unit, properly equipped for nourishing and building character, so that the lives of our people can properly function around it and become supplied with the necessary elements of human thought and activity.

Education is a developing of the mind, not a stuffing of the memory. Digest what you read.

Old men have visions, young men have dreams. Successful farmers plow deep while sluggards sleep.

The growing of legumes will retard soil depletion and greatly add to its power to produce

The Land Of Beginning Again.

I wish that there were some wonderful place
Called the Land of Beginning Again,
Where all our mistakes and all our heartaches
And all of our poor, selfish grief
Could be dropped, like a shabby old coat at the door,
And never put on again.

I wish we could come on it all unware,
Like the hunter who finds a lost trail,
And I wish that the one whom our blindness has done
The greatest injustice of all
Could be at the gates like an old friend that waits
For the comrade he's gladdest to hail.

We would find all the things we intended to do
But forgot, and remembered—too late,
Like praises unspoken, little promises broken,
And all of the thousand and one
Little duties neglected that might have perfected
The day for one less fortunate.

It wouldn't be possible not to be kind
In the Land of Beginning Again,
And the ones we misjudged and the ones whom we grudged
Their moments of victory here
Would find in the grasp of our loving handclasp
More than penitent lips could explain.

For what had been hardest we'd know had been best,
And what had seemed loss would be gain,
For there isn't a sting that will not take wing
When we've faced it and laughed it away,
And I think that the laughter is what we're after
In the Land of Beginning Again.

So I wish that there were some wonderful place
Called the Land of Beginning Again,
Where all our mistakes and all our heartaches,
And all of our poor, selfish grief
Could be dropped, like a shabby old coat, at the door,
And never put on again.

The Brontosaurus.

The brontosaurus with an animal extravagance which flourished in the early Jurassic period, long before Joe Cannan was in Congress.

We have nothing like the brontosaurus in these days which is something to be thankful about. He was the most animal that has ever been collected together in one hide. He was a procession all by himself, and when he went out in the cool of the morning to eat up a meadow and lurched along lazily leaving tracks as large as cisterns in the new soft Jurassic mud he was half a minute passing a given point.

The brontosaurus belonged to the Dinosaur family. This was one of the very earliest families on earth, but it behaved much better about it than some of our later families do and never got unduly proud of it. The dinosaurs have heads from one to two yards long and completely equipped with teeth. They had long necks, short fore-legs and large substantial hind legs upon which they could rise when necessary and peer over a small foothill in search of friends or foe. They had toes equipped with sharp claws and nothing was more disagreeable in the world's earlier periods than to be clawed by a peevish brontosaurus. It was like getting stabbed with the business end of a steam shovel.

The dinosaur sometimes attained a length of seventy-five feet and had a fleshy tail as long as a box car. Some dinosaurs were armored with thick plates and some were merely protected cruisers. Some dinosaurs were carnivorous, living on mastodons and other small fry while others were herbivorous and could make a light meal off a few trees and prehistoric haystack washed down with a duck pond.

The brontosaurus was herbivorous and so far as is known never bit a man during its career. However, we should be glad that the brontosaurus moved on into the stratified shale beds of eternity before society got very well organized. While we could doubtless learn to love the gentle reindeer and to teach him simple tricks he would always cause a certain amount of apprehension and discomfort. Think of going into a black-berry patch to harvest the crop and of getting engulfed by a vagrant brontosaurus who was only after a square meal and would be surprised and even pained to find that he had swallowed a leading citizen along with it!

Value Of A Shade Tree.

The Oklahoman says, To determine the value of shade trees on streets, the advice of practical real estate men was sought. A large number of these men were asked the question. How much in your judgement, do full grown shade trees along the street improve the value of the adjoining land for house lots?

The majority of answers ranged from 10 to 50 per cent while some went so far as to state that a house lot would be worth 100 per cent more if full grown shade trees were standing in front of it. A fair average of these answers fall between 25 and 40 per cent.

Expert tree appraisers say that a shade tree in good condition and well placed is worth $1 per square inch of cross section measured at breast height. At that rate a tree one foot in diameter is worth $452.

For sake of illustration, suppose that we take a good sized house lot, 50x100 feet, or 5,000 square feet, worth 25 cents a foot. The land value is $1,250. If the trees are spaced fifty feet apart on the street there would be one tree in front of the property. The tree is two feet in diameter and worth $452, which would increase the value of the lot 36 per cent.

Germans Now Declare

England Is at Mercy.

Berlin.—The isolation of the British island is conquered successfully, says the Morgan Post in its comment on the air raid made by the Germans on the English coast. Of what use to Great Britain, it adds, are the surrounding seas and war vessels if our airships cross the water dropping bombs.

The Tages Zeitung expresses satisfaction at the first air attack and hops it will be followed by others, while the Tereblatt says it is now clear that the North Sea is no hindrance to German airships.

The following official statement was issued here last night.

From January 19 to 20 German airships, bombarded the fortified place of Yarmouth and other places on the British coast. The attack was successful. Considerable damage was done.

The airships were shelled, but regained their home port undamaged.

Genuine Prescription

For All Rheumatism

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back Says James H. Orme.

Rheuma—that is the name of the scientific prescription that is putting old rheumatism out of business.

Rheuma cures by driving the uric acid from the blood. It also acts directly on the kidneys and is better for them than most so-called kidney cures. Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for about 26 years. The disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day I began its use, and at this time have no more pains."

James H. Orme, Marion, Ky., and all druggists sell Rheuma, and no rheumatic sufferer can afford not to use it. 50 cents a bottle. Your money back if not satisfied.

A Letter From Arkansas.

Manila, Ark., Jan. 13, 1915.

Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Ward,

Dear sisters of my friend, Mrs. Threlkeld. I want to write you a few words in regard to your great bereavement at the loss of your dear sister. I met "Ruby" when she first came here, and "to know her was to love her." She seemed always happy and contented to live here, and I wanted you to know of the kindness and goodness of our neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, of the great care they gave her. Brought her right into their home, giving her every care possible. Thinking not of their own convenience or comfort if only Ruby might get well.

So many have asked if they were near relatives, as no mother could have done more for an own child than Mr. and Mrs. Brown did for her; every want or request was satisfied ere it was made known.

We deeply sympathize with Mr. Threlkeld. They were so happy together. She died in his arms. I was present and hardly knew when the end came. She just fell asleep to wake with Jesus.

You have our heart-felt sympathy. Her death casts a gloom of sadness over the community.

I beg to remain,

Yours sincerely,

Mrs. B. W. COWAN.

LAW GOVERNING

SUBSCRIPTIONS

Most readers of newspapers are not familiar with the laws governing collections for subscriptions and what legal rights the publisher has. The following decisions of the United States Supreme Court make the rights absolutely clear.

Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered as wishing to renew their subscriptions.

If the subscriber orders a discontinuance of their publication the publisher may continue to send them until all dues are paid.

If the subscriber refuses to take periodicals from the post office to which they are directed, he is responsible until he has settled his bill and then ordered the paper discontinued.

If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher and the papers are sent to the former address, the subscriber is held responsible.

"The courts have held that refusing to take periodicals from the post office or removing and leaving them uncalled for is prima facie evidence of intention to defraud."

"If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the subscriber is held responsible until expressed notice with payment of all arrearage is sent to the publisher."

Editorial note—While the amount of the subscription accounts is usually so small that the publisher dislikes to put them out for collection, sometimes this becomes necessary. An experience of 12 years in the newspaper business has convinced the editor of the "Crittenden Record-Press" that his books are the finest index to the character of people obtainable. A man who will dispute a subscription account and fail for various reasons to pay same is unworthy of the confidence or credit of the community in any kind of a transaction
