GOOD WOMAN GOES TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Agness Ellis Dies of Pneumonia After A Brief Illness.—She Was About 73 Years Old

WAS BORN NEAR MARION, KY.

A shadow of gloom was cast over our town, last Friday morning by the announcement of the death of Mrs. Agness Ellis, who died at the residence of Wharf Master, T. L. Thompson, about 8 o'clock, on the morning of the 22nd. Mrs. Ellis was about 73 years of age, and was the widow of the late James Ellis, of near Smithland, who at one time was the most widely known timber man in Western Kentucky.

Mrs. Ellis was born and raised near Marion and was the daughter of William Clement, one of Crittenden county's foremost citizens. She came from old and honored families, her mother being a Nunn, and an aunt of Judge T. J. Nunn, recently a member of the Court of Appeals.

Mrs. Ellis was loved and respected by all who knew her kind hearted, sympathetic and of deep piety, she lived and practiced the religion she professed.

She was visiting Mrs. Thompson, whose former husband was a brother to her, when she was stricken with pneumonia and after an illness of about twelve days she succumbed to the monster who spares none of the children of men.

She was buried in the Smithland cemetery on the evening of the 23rd., the Rev. B. E. Goodrum conducting the funeral services.

Besides a host of friends she leaves one son, W. C. Ellis, Jr., of near town, a step-daughter, Mrs. G. D. Scyler, of this place and three brothers, W. I. and Fred Clement, of Crittenden county, and Dr. T. S. Clement, of Fredonia.—Smithland, Livingston County Enterprise.

IN SOCIETY

The Wednesday Bridge Club was entertained by Miss Eva Clement.

Delicious coffee and sandwiches were served.

Besides the members Mrs. J. W. Wilson and former chief justice T. J. Nunn were present.

Quite a charming social event was the bridge luncheon given Tuesday at the Barnett Mansion by mesdames Wm. Barnett and Jack Thomas complimentary to Mrs. Harold MacDonald of Chicago and Miss May Fleming of Birdsville.

A delicious fine course luncheon of fruit, cocktail, 2nd., roast turkey, celery, potatoes, peas in timbals, and rolls. 3rd., salad with saratoga Dakes. 4th., apricot pudding. 5th., coffee, after which several games of bridge were enjoyed.

Four tables of guests were—Misses Kittie Gray, Eva Clement, Katharine Yandell, Marian Clement, Madeleine Jenkins, Nell Williams and May Fleming of Birdsville.

Mesdames—Creed A. Taylor, Ollie Tucker, Sam Gugenheim, Wilbur Haynes and Harold MacDonald of Chicago.

Messrs.—Douglas Clement, Sylvan Price and Harold MacDonald of Chicago.

Council Proceedings

The City Council met in regular monthly session Monday night; present: Mayor George W. Stone presiding, Councilmen Jas. Paris, George Roberts, Felix Cox, and Dr. Ernest Fox, City Clerk E. L. Harpending, City Attorney James A. Moore, City Marshal A. S. Cannan. A number of claims were allowed for street work, etc.

After which the tax levy for 1915 was taken up and discussed. Councilman Roberts who advocated creating a sinking fund, moved to make the tax rate 75 cents, 15 cents of which is to go in a sinking fund for any purpose which future Councils might see fit his object principally being to prepare the city financially for municipal ownership of the light plant.

On call of the roll Roberts and Paris voted "yea" and Fox, Cox and the Mayor voted "nay."

The Mayor explaining his vote by saying he really preferred to lower the tax rate to 50 cts. instead of raising it to 75 cents on account of the "hard times."

Councilman Cox then moved that the tax rate and distribution of same be 60 cents, the same as last year and on call of roll, Cox and Fox voted "yea" and Roberts and Paris "nay" the Mayor untieing it by voting "yea."

J. C. Bourland being the only bidder was awarded the contract to print City Ordinances at 7 1/2 an inch on hand bills.

The $1000.00 jingo license was re-read and passed and a fine of $5 to ten dollars was put on as a penalty for violation.

Dr. Stone committee on the union of the telephone offices reported that he had received a letter from manager of the Cumberland stating that a final report might be expected at next meeting.

The snow cleaning side walk ordinance was passed and a penalty of 1 to 3 dollars put on for failure to clean off snow within 5 hours after it stops falling in day light, occupants if not owners are to clean their walks and the Marshall was authorized to act for non residents or absentees, to save them from fines.

J. N. Boston was given permit to build two handsome new bungalows on Elm street near Main. There being no further business the Council adjourned.

Enon School.

Enon school closed Friday Jan. 22, 1915. Our district numbers only 36 pupils, Alva Carson and Thomas Ford went every day. Pearl Snow and Bryan Ford took the examination at the close of the school and made good grades. During the school the Improvement League assisted by the teacher purchased a new organ and eighteen song books.

Notwithstanding the bad weather our parents went and took dinner the last day, and there was an abundance of food for all. After dinner the pupils rendered a short program consisting of songs, recitations and dialogues. Interesting talks were made by some of the patrons after which all joined in singing, "God Be With You Till We Meet Again," and school was dismissed. Mrs. Alpha Kemp Todd was our teacher and we wish she would teach our school again next term.—A pupil.

FARMERS' DEMONSTRATION CLUBS

Being Organized All Over Old Crittenden County's Hills And Valleys Continually

MUCH WORK IS IN PROGRESS.

Farmer's Club meetings were held last week at Sheridan, Tolu, and Crayne and there were 120 farmers in attendance at the three places and each and everyone of them joined the Club. They were all "joiners" and before long this Club business will be the biggest thing in the county.

We had a meeting called for Saturday Jan. 30, in the court house but it rained and very few came.

This week we have meetings at the following places:

Union, Feb., 2, 7 p. m.
Copperas Springs, Feb., 3, 7 p. m.
Midway, Feb., 5, 7 p. m.
Court house, Feb., 8, 7 p. m.
Oakland, Feb., 9, 7 p. m.

Let every farmer near one of these places try and be there and lend a hand.

This movement is for your benefit, so help push it along.

Mr. J. H. Carmody, of Lexington who is State Horticulturist, will be with us Feb. 11th, 12th, and 13th.

He will visit the orchards of Dr. F. W. Nunn near Marion and Dr. Woimer (the William Adams orchard 2 1/2 miles South of Marion) on the 11th. All those who want to find out something about apple trees at first hand, be at these orchards on that day. By phone you can find out the exact time he will be at these orchards. There will you see scientific pruning. On Saturday the 13th. Mr. Carmody will speak in the court house at 1 p. m. If you are interested in making your orchard better and worth more money to you, come on out! Who cares for expenses

GREAT REVIVAL AT FRANKLIN, KY.

Told About In An Interesting Letter From W. B. Yates, Who Took Active Part.

MEETING LASTS THREE WEEKS

My dear old friend Jenkins I am quite sure you will be glad to publish in your paper something about the wonderful Revival just closed at Franklin, Ky., in the Methodist Church of which Rev. C. F. Wimberly is pastor. In some ways this was the greatest revival I have ever engaged in. One feature of the meeting was the splendid chorus choir day and night for three full weeks through rain sleet and snow they were there. I tell you it was great with Pipe Organ Piano and from two to three violins and two or three horns and about forty singers, there was something doing all the time. Another interesting feature of the meeting there were people saved every day. Four converted the first night. The meeting grew larger to the close, there were 140 professions in all during the meeting.

Methodist, Baptist, Christian and Presbyterians all converted and joined the Methodist church. One woman came to the altar and got converted and shouted like a free Methodist. Between sixty and seventy joined our church during the meeting and others will join. The pastor Rev. Wimberly did the preaching. He is one of the greatest preachers in the country, his preaching awakens the people and makes them feel uneasy while living in sin, he believes in the old time religion and calls people to the mourners bench and helps them unload and pray through to victory then shouts with them when they get through One thing I have noticed Farmer's Club Organized At Tolu. The farmers of Tolu precinct met at the school house Thursday night Jan. 28. A very interesting lecture was delivered by County Crop Demonstrator, Mr. Bird, after which a club was organized of 24 men and 3 ladies. We want every farmer in Tolu precinct to belong to this club. If you can't attend the next monthly meeting, hand your name to the president or secretary at your earliest convenience, by so doing you will receive the monthly crop bulletin put out by the State Agricultural college. This is a great move for the farmer, let every one put his shoulder to the wheel and push. Lets get out of the old ruts, "be progressive." Mr. Bird will be with us at each monthly meeting, lets have the best club in Crittenden county. We can do it.

MARRIAGES

At the country home of the Hon. E. L. Nunn on the Morganfield road midway between Sturgis and Marion, two of his attractive daughters were led to the altar Tuesday, as announced in these columns last week, Miss Nelle becoming the bride of Coleman Foster, of this city, and Miss Mabel the wife of W. O. Shouse, of Union county.

The first named couple were married at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Rev. J. A. Chandler, of this city officiating, while the last named were united in the holy bonds by Rev. J. B. Trotter, also of this city, immediately afterward.

It was a quiet home wedding, only the relatives and a few neighbors being present.

After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Shouse left for Sturgis to catch the train for Evansville and other points north, on a bridal tour, while Mr. and Mrs. Foster came here to take the train to Memphis and other points south on their wedding trip.

These young people start on one of life's most important missions, with bright prospects and the best wishes of all who know them.

The grooms are both farmers and are sober, upright, and industrious and no higher compliment could be paid them and both are worthy of the beautiful christian girls whom they have won for their life partners.

Among those who attended the ceremony from here were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Lamb and daughter Miss Lois, Miss Clara Nunn and Mr. and Mrs. George H. Foster.

Better Schools For Country Districts.

Herbert Quick, editor of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published at Springfield, Ohio, writes as follows in the current issue of this publication: "Most of us who live in the country do not suspect it but the country people will demand and build up elementary schools and high schools far better than the corresponding city schools—not in buildings perhaps, but in everything that truly educates or 'leads forth' the possibilities of the young. 'The new kind of rural school is coming. It will be so good a school that city people will flock to the country to give their children 'country chances.'"

THE CARE OF THE FARM FLOCK

The Question of Feed Is of Great Importance In Order to Secure Best Results.

FARMER USES OWN METHOD.

The question of feed is one that has much to do with solving the winter egg problem. What to feed and how much at a time is the question the farmer or his wife must decide for themselves.

My experience, as well as observation has proven to me that no poor half-starved or lousy hen will lay in winter, or any other time as to that. But on the contrary well-bred poultry from laying stock comfortably housed and judiciously fed will pay the farmer well for the feed and extra trouble.

Now in addition to the grains mentioned in former article, I feed wheat-bran, bones and table scraps. The table scraps are not fed at each meal but allowed to accumulate until enough is saved to make a feed for at least a part of the flock.

The bones are ground in a bone cutter and fed sparingly. If no bone cutter is to be had a solid block and hard ax or heavy hammer will take its place. Pound the bones up fine and give a small amount to each hen.

The bran is sometimes fed dry in hoppers made for the purpose: if you haven't the hoppers feed in pans or shallow boxes. Other times it is slightly moistened with milk, and fed warm in the hoppers.

We feed no poultry powders or any forcing feeds or stimulants (yet we do not condemn their use.)

Of course you will understand they have fresh water twice a day. Grit, charcoal and lime in some form is regularly supplied. Corn warmed in cold weather forms the greater part of our feed.

This is practically our method of feeding and caring for our own flock and we are satisfied with the results. Our egg record for the first three weeks in January was 12 dozen, 13 1-2 dozen and 16 1-2 dozen. Making 42 dozen from 105 hens including some 3 year old hens and some late hatched pullets, just beginning to lay all of them full stock not a half breed, not a mongrel among them and they are still on the job, laying 26 eggs Jan. 24, not a big record of course compared with the man who is working for a record but for the farm flock, receiving no more care or attention than any ordinary farmer should bestow on his flock. Now I want it distinctly understood that these articles are not intended for the professional chicken fancier who devotes all his time and energies to his business but the ordinary farmer like myself who has more or less spare time during the winter months that we think could be more profitably spent in this way than any other.

Some other time I may emphasize some things I think enter largely into the solution of this subject.

The Cellar Hole and the Sewer Hole

By HERBERT KAUFMAN
Author of "Do Something! Be Something!"

A COAL cart stopped before an office building in Washington and the driver dismounted, removed the cover from a man-hole, ran out his chute, and proceeded to empty the load. An old negro strolled over and stood watching him. Suddenly the black man glanced down and immediately burst into a fit of uncontrollable laughter, which continued for several minutes. The cart driver looked at him in amusement. "Say, Uncle," he asked, "do you always laugh when you see coal going into a cellar?" The negro sputtered around for a few moments and then, holding his hands to his aching sides, managed to say, "No, sah, but I jest busts when I sees it goin' down a sewer."

The advertiser who displays lack of judgment in selecting the newspapers which carry his copy often confuses the sewer and the cellar.

All the money that is put into newspapers isn't taken out again by any means. The fact that all papers possess a certain physical likeness, doesn't necessarily signify a similarity in character, and it's character in a newspaper that brings returns. The editor who conducts a journalistic sewer finds a different class of readers than the publisher who respects himself enough to respect his readers.

What goes into a newspaper largely determines the class of homes into which the newspaper goes. An irresponsible, scandal-mongering, muck-raking sheet is certainly not supported by the buying classes of people. It may be perused by thousands of readers, but such readers are seldom purchasers of advertised goods.

It's the clean-cut, steady, normal-minded citizens who form the bone and sinew and muscle of the community. It's the sane, self-respecting, dependable newspaper that enters their homes and it's the home sale that indicates the strength of an advertising medium.

No clean-minded father of a family wishes to have his wife and children brought in contact with the most maudlin and banal phases of life. He defends them from the sensational editor and the unpleasant advertiser. He subscribes to a newspaper which he does not fear to leave about the house.

Therefore, the respectable newspaper can always be counted upon to produce more sales than one which may even own a larger circulation but whose distribution is among unprofitable citizens.

You can no more expect to sell goods to people who haven't money than you can hope to pluck oysters from rose-bushes.

It isn't the number of readers reached, but the number of readers whose purses can be reached, that constitutes the value of circulation. It's one thing to arouse their attention, but it's a far different thing to get their money. The mind may be willing, but the pocketbook may be weak.

If you had the choice of a thousand acres of desert land or a hundred acres of oasis, you'd select the fertile spot, realizing that the larger tract had less value because it would be less productive.

The advertiser who really understands how he is spending his money takes care that he is not pouring his money into deserts and sewers.

BRAIN LEAKS.

By F. S. LOYD

Albert Elder says sometimes a man will complain that this is a cold cold world just because he married a woman who makes it hot for him.

Mrs. Dick Crowe said to her husband "Do you realize, my dear, that you have never done anything to save your fellowmen any suffering?"

"Didn't I marry you?"

Dan Patton said, "Mamie, why do you suppose there is no marrying nor giving in marriage in heaven?"

"Because there are no men there."

Mrs. Albert Elder said, "I have just been reading that widows make the best of wives."

"But really, my dear, you can hardly expect me to die just in order to make a good wife of you."

Miss Florence Patton says father always indignates because the children don't want to go to bed at night and don't want to get up in the morning, but mother knows that the children inherited it from the male side of their parentage.

Bill Smith says marriage is something that changes a sweetheart into a sour heart.

Bro. Oakley says a preacher doesn't have any more of a cinch in life than you have, and he is up against it about as much as you are. He has to get a call to some other church in order to get a raise in his salary.

Albert Elder says there was a time when beauty was skin deep, but now-a-days a lot of it rubs off if you even touch it.

Once upon a time David Woods remembered that the day was the tenth anniversary of his wedding, and he brought home some flowers and candles to his wife and gave her a kiss. And it took four doctors nine days to restore the poor woman from the effect of the shock.

Uncle Bill Loyd says it is fun, but it is a fact, the rich think the poor are extravagant, and the poor think the rich are stingy.

Uncle George Stallions says any scientist will tell you that calomel is the best cure for a broken heart, but he has tried it and doesn't have much faith in scientist, any way.

Ed Baker says there is lots of people who will tell you that the latchstring is always out side, but they do not mention the fact that there is a latch string loose in the front yard.

Dan Patton says sometimes the pillow on the bed look clean when they are shamming.

George Stone says if people got what they needed most, a lot of the girls would wake up on Christmas morning and find a safety razor in their stocking.

Ben Wigginton says married women ought to make good jurors. They know what darned liars all the men are. Wise to all the alibis.

Frank Clift says the women do not use up all the safety pins. The married men have to have something to take the place of buttons.

Sam Howerton says the man who can't tell wool from cotton when he buys a suit, can always tell rye from bourbon when he buys a drink.

Stroder Davis says you can get sea sick without going near the ocean. Just listen to some of the young things talking to their fellows over the phone.

Uncle Billy Loyd says all women are made in the same mold, and yet every woman is different.

Robert Hill says when a man is the father of about fifteen children he hasn't any business cussing Adam because Adam ate an apple.

Sherd Hale says, of course it would not be Christmas without a little egg-nog.

Ralse Dorr says, it is none of my business, but a widower should not begin paying installments on an engagement ring until he has finished paying for his first wife's funeral.

Uncle Dock Green says, the man who tries to earn honest living for his family, and the man who minds his own business, are both classed as undesirable citizens by old man satan.

John Warren Travis says, a woman's tongue can put up a better battle than a man's fist.

Albert Elder says, when his wife is mad at him he will not attempt to fight back, you can turn on a line of baby talk and tell her how good she looks, and what a fine old girl she is, and win her over and make her wonder how on earth she happened to get angry at you.

Ed Baker says, a girl may forget to go out without her jacket, but she never forgets her coat of talcum powder.

Uncle George Stallions says, this isn't a prohibition lecture. It is a cold fact. The meanest man aside from the man who robs poor boxes and sets fire to orphan asylums, is the lad who robs his family of the necessities of life to buy a drink for another man.

Albert Elder says, a woman may do a whole lot of praying for her husband but she never forgets to keep one eye on him just the same.

Tom Yandell says, sometimes a good scare will do a married man more good than a bunch of good advices.

Uncle Dock Green says, all human things of dearest nature hangs on slender strings.

On examination day the teacher said to Cecil Loyd, "What does this sentence mean?—'Man proposes but God disposes.'"

"It means"—answered Cecil with conscious pride—"that a man might ask a woman to marry him, but the lord only knows whether she will or not."

Mrs. Robt. Eise said, "What's that banging, Ed?"

"I don't know, dear I think it must be Santa Clause tangled up in the steam radiator."

Uncle Dock Green says, when I was a young man a girl considered a silver thimble a dandy Christmas present, but if you send one to a girl now-a-days, she would have you arrested for insulting her.

Emma Watson says, when father gets up on Christmas morning mother gives him a present. And when he comes home Christmas night with a load of egg-nog, she gives him the devil.

Jim Freeman, who has ten or twelve hairs on his dome, always pitties a bawled headed man.

The Liver Regulates the Body A Sluggish Liver Needs Care.

Someone has said that people with Chronic Liver Complaint should be shut away from humanity for they are pessimists and see through a "glass darkly." Why? "Twilight Sleep" Used In Removing Man's Appendix.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Physicians yesterday were deeply interested in the application of scopolamin-morphine, heretofore used only as the "twilight sleep" treatment for childbirth, in an operation on a man for appendicitis.

The operation, said to have been a complete success in every way, was performed by Dr. Chas. H. Parkes, in Sheridan Park Hospital. The patient was Rev. John Albert Johnson, pastor of the American Reformed Church of Norwood Park. Dr. Parkes used three injections of scopolamin-morphine at intervals of an hour before operating. The patient said he felt no pain.

French Remedy Aids Stomach Sufferers

France has been called the nation without stomach troubles. The French have for generations used a simple mixture of vegetable oils that relieve stomach and intestinal ailments and keep the bowels free from foul, poisonous matter. The stomach is left to perform its functions normally. Indigestion and gastritis vanish.

Mr. Geo. H. Mayr, a leading druggist of Chicago, cured himself with this remedy in a short time. The demand is so great that he imports these oils from France and compounds them under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. People everywhere write and testify to the marvelous relief they have received using this remedy—one dose will rid the body of poisonous accretions that have accumulated for years and convince the most chronic sufferer from stomach, liver or intestinal troubles.

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is sold by leading druggists everywhere with the positive understanding that your money will be refunded without question or quibble if ONE bottle fails to give you absolute satisfaction.

Letter From Missouri.

Desloge, Mo., Jan. 21st, 1915.
Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:—
The Record-Press is like a letter from home and each number is welcomed and eagerly read.

Since coming to Desloge we have found new and very pleasant friendship, have even been fortunate enough to meet some who have lived in Crittenden and Caldwell counties. Mr. Stenson, our missionary, and Rev. Leeper, son of Dr. Leeper, of Freeonia, have been our guests and friends.

As a result of a Xmas sleet, I have been crippled for a few days, thereby have had time to amuse myself by looking over some old compositions, essays, etc. Among them I find a poem—if it may be called such—I wrote twenty years ago. You may publish it if you like. —EFFIE JENNINGS.

Cures Old Sores, Other Remedies Won't Cure. The worst cases, no matter how long standing, are cured by the wonderful, old reliable E. Porter's Antiseptic Healing Ointment. It relieves pain and heals at the same time. 25c, 50c, 1.00.

Sick Women Made Well

Reliable evidence is abundant that women are constantly being restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The many testimonial letters that we are continually publishing in the newspapers—hundreds of them—are all genuine, true and unsolicited expressions of heartfelt gratitude for the freedom from suffering that has come to these women solely through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Money could not buy nor any kind of influence obtain such recommendations; you may depend upon it that any testimonial we publish is honest and true—if you have any doubt of this write to the women whose true names and addresses are always given, and learn for yourself.

Read this one from Mrs. Waters:

CAMDEN, N.J.—"I was sick for two years with nervous spells, and my kidneys were affected. I had a doctor all the time and used a galvanic battery, but nothing did me any good. I was not able to go to bed, but spent my time on a couch or in a sleeping-chair, and soon became almost a skeleton. Finally my doctor went away for his health, and my husband heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me some. In two months I got relief and now I am like a new woman and am at my usual weight. I recommend your medicine to every one and so does my husband."—Mrs. TILLIE WATERS, 530 Mechanic Street, Camden, N.J.

From Hanover, Penn.

HANOVER, PA.—"I was a very weak woman and suffered from bearing down pains and backache. I had been married over four years and had no children. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved an excellent remedy for it made me a well woman. After taking a few bottles my pains disappeared, and we now have one of the finest boy babies you ever saw."—Mrs. C. A. RICKBORN, R.F.D., No. 5, Hanover, Pa.

Now answer this question if you can. Why should a woman continue to suffer without first giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? You know that it has saved many others—why should it fail in your case?

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's ailments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health.

Write to LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Rabies Prove Fatal.

Princeton, Ky., Feb. 2.—Elbert Bright died last night at his home, three miles northwest of Princeton, of rabies. About six weeks ago he was bitten on the chin by a dog, but nothing was thought of it until last Friday when he was taken ill and rabie developed. Bright was 19 years old and a grandson of W. G. Throckmorton, jailer of Caldwell county.

The Parable Of The

Stolen Chicken.

Down near Petersburg, Va., is a colored church with a large but somewhat incongruous congregation. Just before the collection was taken up one Sunday recently the negro preacher announced that a certain brother had forgotten to lock the door of his chicken house the night before and on that very morning he found that most of his fowls had disappeared. I don't want to be personal, bredd'n, he added, but I hab my s'picious as to who stole dem chickens. I also hab reasons fo' b'lievin' dat if I am right in dose s'picious dat pesson won't put any money in de plate which will now be passed around.

The result was a fine collection not a member of the congregation feigned sleep. After it was counted the old parson came forward.

Now bredd'n, he said I don't want yo' dinners to be spoilt by wongerm where dat brudder lives who doan' lock his chickens up at night. Dat brudder doan' exist, mah friends. He was jes a parable gotton up fo' de purpose eb finances, and bless de Lord it done de work.

IN RACE FOR GUBERNATORIAL NOMINATION

CONGRESSMAN A. O. STANLEY.

STANLEY SHIES HAT IN RING

Announces Candidacy for Governorship at Primaries.

IS OPPOSED TO RING RULE

Will Also Turn Light On Activities of Legislative Lobbyists if Elected to High Office—Promises to Conserve Resources of State and Work For Better System of Highways—Opposes Convict Contract System.

Formal announcement was made in Washington by Representative A. O. Stanley that he will seek the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky at the primaries next August. In his statement Mr. Stanley promises that if elected he will rid the state board of valuation and assessment of all outside influences and that his administration will be absolutely free from all taint of ring rule. His statement follows:

Mr. Stanley's Statement.

"One of the greatest issues which will confront the Democracy of Kentucky at the ensuing August primary election will be the control of the state board of valuation and assessment and the tremendous powers inherent in it. The Democrat who is to be elected governor must turn a face of flint toward every proposal to use this board for putting screws to any public service corporation which may refuse to do its bidding or for rewarding with any character of privilege or exemption such corporations as may agree to become part and parcel of the political machine. For unless a governor of Kentucky can keep clean the board of valuation and assessment he can not give an honest, economical and efficient administration. He is in chains.

"I shall be a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky, and I do not desire to be governor unless I can be free Rotation in Office.

"One of the vital issues which the Democracy of the state will be called upon to endorse or repudiate is the principle of endless rotation in office. I am convinced that the question of whether or not a single coterie of officeholders shall perpetuate themselves in power by rotating in different offices will be settled in August as overwhelmingly as the people adopted that provision in the present state constitution, which renders every state official ineligible as his own successor. That clause in the organic law was thus heartily endorsed by the people of Kentucky because they believed it would end ring rule in the state house. But there is better reason for keeping a state official in the same office indefinitely in the discharge of duties with which he has become familiar than to rotate him through a succession of positions in which he has had no previous experience.

"The Democratic party in Kentucky no longer tolerate a political War at the head of a close corporation of officeholders who have twisted Democratic doctrine of rotation in office to mean that the same set shall rotate from one office to another and back again every four years.

True Function of Governor.

"It is known of all men that Percy Haly proposes either to nominate himself as governor of Kentucky or some respectable figurehead of his own selection whom he can own and control and that men shall be ineligible to position on the all-powerful board of assessment and valuation, whose names do not appear on his exclusive roll of honor (?). I shall fight with all the energy I possess and shall exert to the utmost all the authority vested in me to prevent the intermeddling by an officeholding trust or a petty political hierarchy with these or any other offices in the state, and I shall fight every concerted attempt to dictate nominations for national, state, district or county offices.

"The function of the governor and those associated with him is to transport the business of the state in such a way as to redound to its credit and to that of its party and the security and prosperity of the people and not to construct an endless chain of officeholders, from street sweeper to chief magistrate, for the purpose of maintaining perpetually in power a political trimvirate and a pampered and protected lobby. I shall fight the Haly-Rhea-Shackelford triumvirate now in control as bitterly as I shall fight any other individual or combination which may seek to pillage our state.

No Invisible Government.

"I willingly surrendered a seat in congress to fight above all else that most insidious and abominable menace to the liberties and property rights of a free people—'invisible government'—powers nominally vested in benevolent and respectable figures, actually exercised by covert and cunning emissaries of every favor-seeking and tax-dodging interest fortunate enough to have a friend at court.

"If elected governor of Kentucky I solemnly and earnestly pledge the people of the commonwealth here and now that I will turn the calcium light upon the lobbyist and upon all who seek to secure positions of honor or privilege by any secret or unholy alliance with him.

"The Needs of the State. "I shall earnestly endeavor, if made chief magistrate of my native state, to conserve and encourage every legitimate business and industry, whether large or small, to encourage the investment of capital in and the development of our unutilized and as yet almost undeveloped resources; to promote the construction and operation of public highways to the end that our people may find a better and speedier access to the market, the mill, the school and the church. As means to this end, I favor the abolition of prison contract labor and the employment of the convicts on the roads of the state.

"I shall vigorously endeavor to protect the citizen from every form of lawlessness or confiscation; to see that his person and his property are secure whether that property be invested in live stock, in lands or in manufacturing enterprises.

"I stand for the county unit law as it now exists, and will, if elected, do all in my power to make it effective.

"Believing that as governor of the state I can render my countrymen material service in carrying into effect the reforms I have mentioned, I respectfully solicit their support as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for the office of governor of Kentucky in the ensuing August primary election. A. O. STANLEY."

PE-RU-NA LAXATIVE-TONIC

"I was taken with a severe headache and cold, which finally brought on constipation and bowel trouble. Physics of all kinds were used, and we were obliged to resort to the fountain syringe for help. I could drink castor oil like water, but it did no good. Salts were of no use. The doctors were puzzled. After using three bottles of Peruna I consider myself entirely well." Mr. John B. Capers, No. 610 Pecan St., Fort Worth, Texas.

Those who object to Liquid Medicine will find Peruna Tablets a desirable remedy for CATARRHAL CONDITIONS.

The Aeroplane in Holy Land.

During the last few months the aeroplane has made its appearance in many strange places, not the least among these being ancient city of Jerusalem. It was during his flight from Constantinople to Cairo that M. Bonnier, the French airman, passed over the Holy City in his monoplane, descending on the historic plain of Ephraim, a short distance south of Jerusalem. It was on this plain that King David met and defeated the Philistines. Never, in modern times, was the city so excited. It poured out en masse to see the airman and his machine.—Christians, Jews and Moslems.

Dear Sir:

Enclosed please find one dollar for this year's paper.

December was pretty cold here but this month has been pleasant until now it is cold and the wind blowing hard today.

There has been lots of plowing and other farm work done here in the last three weeks.

I have learned from the news papers that times have been dull in the east and north western part of the country. But dull times never reached here until last summer.

First: crude oil went down from one dollar and ten cents per barrel to fifty-five cents per barrel and the pipe lines wouldn't take but about half of the production.

So field work stopped then there were lots of men that had been making from seventy-five to one hundred and fifty dollars per month, was sure out of a job and most of them had no money or credit. So some of them sold their over coats, pistols or watches for enough to buy a ticket back home or somewhere else.

Cotton didn't sell for only about two cents per pound in the seed. Most of the men that raise cotton are in debt, that price didn't pay off their debts. The banks have closed out some, others they are carrying.

I know farmers here that had in from thirty to eighty acres of cotton and no other crop of any kind.

But times are getting better here now, they have over 1500 men working at the glass factories at Okmulgee, besides there are two oil refineries running night and day, and there is lots of other work going on.

This county is assessed at over twenty-one million dollars. Crittenden Co., Ky. I think is less than three million dollars.

I see your schools are closing there, we have nine months term in our district, I live in three-fourth mile of school.

If there is anyone from Ky out here they can find me on the west half of the north west quarter of section of thirty-four (34) township, (14) fourteen range, (13) thirteen east.

I bought the above land last Dec. 10th 80 acres price $2,200 all cash, there were no improvements on it, only 14 acres broke on it, its all prairie, it is two miles east and one and one-half north of the passenger depot at Okmulgee. I am always glad to see anyone from Crittenden county.

Perhaps I have written too much so wishing all old friends good luck for 1915. So long.—R. H. Butler.

This he won in Manchuria for taking command of the regiment when all the officers had fallen and leading it in a charge against the Japanese. Father Shtsherbakovski also wears the order of St. Anne in his troops' victory in another battle, third degree for assisting.

He who loses wealth loses much; he who loses a friend loses more; but he that loses courage loses all.—Cervantes.

"The taxes are indeed very heavy, and if those laid on by the government were the only ones we had to pay we might more easily discharge them; but we have many others. We are taxed twice as much by our idleness, three times as much by our pride, and four times as much by our folly."—Benjamin Franklin.

We are reliably informed that Senator N. W. Utley will enter the race for Lieutenant Governor. This is one of the most important offices of the state, and there is not a man in the state better qualified to fill this office than Senator Utley. He is an able lawyer, thoroughly familiar with parliamentary usages. He was President of the Senate in 1902 and by virtue of this office, there being no Lieutenant Governor, he served for two years as acting Lieutenant Governor, filling that office not only with honor to himself, but to his constituents. The First Congressional District, the Gibraltar of Democracy, will present Senator

Utley as its only candidate for State office, and we feel that we should have this from the Democratic party without opposition.
We think we are modest in our demands, for we give a great deal toward the supremacy of Democracy in Kentucky.—Lyon
County Herald, Jan. 22, 1915.

Boys if you want to be heroes,
do not dream of war, but train yourselves to loathe it. The real heroes are those who can restrain themselves. Those heroes who shall be real benefactors of their generation and the generations to come, will be the heroes who make peace not only possible, but inevitable, through peaceable means.

Build for the uplift of humanity. I would rather be a conscientious school teacher with a vision of my mission in life, than to be the inventor or owner or manufacturer of the most surprising and destructive gun in Herr Von Krupp's catalogue. I would rather be the humblest minister of the gospel, teaching to a community the principles of the Prince of Peace, than Count
Zeppelin or Germany's minister of war—or the Emperor himself.
A man's passions naturally flow toward resentment and violence.
It takes the noblest natures to hear above the inward voice of selfish emotions, the outside cry of humanity's need, viz
peace be still.

Boys, make up your minds that wherever your influence can be exerted, it will be for peace. No body but a bully wants to fight.
Be a gentleman.—"Onward."

We did not come out even in 1914. Our exports were smaller than in the year before by about four hundred million dollars and our imports were somewhat larger.
So the balance of trade in our favor was less than in 1913 by well toward half a billion dollars. This balance was not large enough to offset our current indebtedness to Europe for interest, freights, and the like; and we shipped thither
a hundred and sixty million dollars in gold.

War in the last five months of the year had much to do with this result, because it cut our exports far below what they would otherwise have been, but did not proportionately decrease imports.
Yet, before the war, the trade balance in our favor ran smaller than in the preceding year. High protectionists charge this up to the new tariff act which went into effect in the fall of 1913, but the plain fact is that the smaller trade balance was due quite as much to decreased exports as to increased imports.

The man who gets any convincing tariff arguments out of the trade figures for last year must have had his arguments all made up before he examined the figures.

Generally speaking, exports are the important thing. Let us sell enough and we can afford to buy. A merchant does not care what his purchases are so long as his sales are satisfactory; but we should have a better trade balance in 1915. Probably we shall have.—The Saturday Evening Post.

FARMERS' CLUB

as long as the State and Uncle Sam pays it?

We have a fertilizer proposition before us and all you farmers who expect to use it this year be sure and be in town Monday, Feb. 8th. Don't forget the date.

The Crittenden Record Press desires to assure the farmers that this movement for the betterment of crops is taking all over this county worse than the measles, it is talked on every side. You know nothing succeeds like success and this has gone far enough for the Press to make the prediction that Crittenden county will have a Crop Demonstrator every year from now on for many years. And if Crittenden County farmers will stay right with it each and every man will be more prosperous each and every year and his land will be worth more and more, and as the years roll by he will see plainer and plainer that the inheritance of land handed down to the generations to follow will be something he can hand on with pride. The Press has always believed in Crittenden county and still does. Her citizens are not blown about by every wind that rises, yet be it remembered when a good thing comes along they lay hold.

How many silos do you suppose there are in the county?

Here they are—

Lee Hughes Yandell & Paris
Jeff Clement Jim Hill
Boston & Cochran Jim Fowler
Tom Dempsey Eli Nunn
Mrs Alice Hughes W. E. Smith
J. N. Boston T. E. Griffith
Harry L. Cully Ed Gahaggin
Guy Griffith Blue & Nunn
W. R. Druce W. D. Sullenger
Henry Rice Jr. E. W. Jenkins
Harry L. Cully.

That list of twenty silos built in Crittenden county in the last year or so takes Crittenden forever out of the slow class. What county has a better record? Caldwell county is not in it. The truth is Caldwell county after much fuming and fussing failed to get a County Demonstrator at all. They don't believe in new fangled things up there.

Genuine Prescription For All Rheumatism

Satisfaction Guaranteed or Money Back Says James H. Orme.

Rheuma—that is the name of the scientific prescription that is putting old rheumatism out of business.

Rheuma cures by driving the uric acid from the blood. It also acts directly on the kidneys and is better for them than most so-called kidney cures. Porter Smith, Dobbin, W. Va., writes: "I have been a great sufferer from rheumatism for about 26 years. The disease had become chronic. I began taking Rheuma with little faith in its virtues, but was better from the first day I began its use, and at this time have no more pains."

James H. Orme, Marion, Ky., and all druggists sell Rheuma, and no rheumatic sufferer can afford not to use it. 50 cents a bottle. Your money back if not satisfied.

PIECE OF SHIN PUT IN SKULL

A St. Louisian Undergoes Unusual "Twilight Sleep" Job.

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 2.—A piece of George Weyer's shin bone was inserted in his skull in a "twilight sleep" operation performed at the German-American hospital here.

Weyer, who was an epileptic, suffered from a depression of the skull. His home is in St. Louis. He was hit with an iron bar when he was 14 years old. Several years ago an operation was performed at Baltimore, in which pieces of the skull bone, pressing on his brain, were removed. This did not cure, however.

Today his skull was laid bare and a piece of bone four inches long was cut out of his left shin. The bone was inserted over the brain and the scalp was sewed over it. During the greater part of the operation Weyer was conscious. Asked by the surgeons how he felt, Weyer replied at intervals that he could feel nothing or that he experienced only a little pain.

The operating room was filled with surgeons interested in the case. After the operation it was said the patient would recover and become a normal and healthy man.

English Will Capture Dacia If She Sails.

Washington.—The British government tonight, through its ambassador here, announced that if the former Hamburg American Liner Dacia proceeded to sea, she would be captured and taken to Prize Court. Her cargo of cotton would be purchased by the British government or forwarded to Rotterdam without further expense to the shippers, according to the owners' prefer.

The vessel loading at Galveston will sail notwithstanding the British government position. It is believed the owners resolved to test the issue in Prize Court. Incidentally, the war risk insurance bureau, of the American government, today issued a policy covering the cotton cargo at four per cent., but declined to insure the vessel itself.

RATE INCREASE NECESSARY

FARMERS' UNION OFFICIALS THINK RAILROADS ARE ENTITLED TO MORE REVENUE.

Products of Plow and Farmer Who Lives at Home Should Be Exempt From Increase.

By Peter Radford, Lecturer National Farmers' Union.

The recent action of the Interstate Commerce Commission in granting an increase in freight rates in the eastern classification of territory; the application of the roads to state and interstate commissions for an increase in rates, and the utterances of President Wilson on the subject bring the farmers of this nation face to face with the problem of an increase in freight rates. It is the policy of the Farmers' Union to meet the issues affecting the welfare of the farmers squarely and we will do so in this instance.

The transportation facilities of the United States are inadequate to effectively meet the demands of commerce and particularly in the South and West additional railway mileage is needed to accommodate the movement of farm products. If in the wisdom of our Railroad Commissions an increase in freight rates is necessary to bring about an improvement in our transportation service, and an extension of our mileage, then an increase should be granted, and the farmer is willing to share such proportion of the increase as justly belongs to him, but we have some suggestions to make as to the manner in which this increase shall be levied.

Rates Follow Lines of Least Resistance.

The freight rates of the nation have been built up along lines of least resistance. The merchant, the manufacturer, the miner, the miller, the lumberman and the cattleman have had their traffic bureaus thoroughly organized and in many instances they have pursued the railroad without mercy and with the power of organized tonnage they have hammered the life out of the rates and with unrestrained greed they have eaten the vitals out of our transportation system and since we have had railroad commissions, these interests, with skill and cunning, are represented at every hearing in which their business is involved.

The farmer is seldom represented at rate hearings, as his organizations have never had the finances to employ counsel to develop his side of the case and, as a result, the products of the plow bear an unequal burden of the freight expense. A glance at the freight tariffs abundantly proves this assertion. Cotton, the leading agricultural product of the South, already bears the highest freight rate of any necessary commodity in commerce, and the rate on agricultural products as a whole is out of proportion with that of the products of the factory and the mine.

We offer no schedule of rates, but hope the commission will be able to give the railroad such an increase in rates as is necessary without levying a further toll upon the products of the plow. The instance seems to present an opportunity to the Railroad Commissions to equalize the rates as between agricultural and other classes of freight without disturbing the rates on staple farm products.

What is a Fair Rate?

We do not know what constitutes a basis for rate making and have never heard of anyone who did claim to know much about it, but if the prosperity of the farm is a factor to be considered and the railroad commission concludes that an increase in rates is necessary, we would prefer that it come to us through articles of consumption on their journey from the factory to the farm. We would, for example, prefer that the rate on hogs remain as at present and the rate on meat bear the increase, for any farmer can then avoid the burden by raising his own meat, and a farmer who will not try to raise his own meat ought to be penalized. We think the rate on coal and brick can much better bear an increase than the rate on cotton and flour. We would prefer that the rate on plows remain the same, and machinery, pianos and such articles as the poorer farmer cannot hope to possess bear the burden of increase.

The increase in rates should be so arranged that the farmer who lives at home will bear no part of the burden, but let the farmer who boards in other states and countries and who feeds his stock in foreign lands, pay the price of his folly.

The Knecker's Prayer

Lord, please don't let this town grow. I've been here for many years and during that time I've fought every public improvement. I've knocked everything and everybody. No firm or individual has established a business here without my doing all I could to put them out of business. I've lied about them, and would have stolen from them if I had the courage. I have done all I could to keep the town from growing and never have spoken a good word for it. I've knocked hard and often. I've put ashers on the childrens slides and have made the marshal stop the boys playing ball on my vacant lot. Whenever I saw anyone prospering or enjoying themselves I've started a reform to kill the business or spoil the fun. I don't want the young people to stay in this town and I will do all I can by law, rule and ordinance to drive them away.

I am against building a new church even though I gave nothing. I have always fought ball playing, shows, dancing, amusements on the Fourth of July. It pains me, O Lord, to see that in spite of my knocking, the town is growing and some day I fear I will be called upon to put cement walks in front of my place and who knows but what I may have to help keep up the streets that run by my premises? This would be more than I can bear. It would cost me money, though I have made all I have right here in the county. Then, too, more people might come if the town grows, which would cause me to lose some of my pull. I ask therefore, to keep this town at a standstill, that I may continue to be one of the chiefs.

AMEN.

The Perambulating Showcase

By HERBERT KAUFMAN

Author of "Do Something! Be Something!"

THE newspaper is a huge shop window, carried about the town and delivered regularly into thousands of homes, to be examined at the leisure of the reader. This shop window is unlike the actual plate glass showcase only in one respect—it makes display of descriptions instead of articles.

You have often been impressed by the difference between the decorations of two window-trimmers, each of whom employed the same materials for his work. The one drew your attention and held it by the grace and cleverness and art manifested in his display. The other realized so little of the possibilities in the materials placed at his disposal, that unless some one called your attention to his mediocrities you would have gone on unconscious of their existence.

An advertiser must know that he gets his results in accordance with the skill exercised in preparing his verbal displays. He must make people stop and pause. His copy has to stand out.

He must not only make a show of things that are attractive to the eye but are attractive to the people's needs, as well.

The window-trimmer must not make the mistake of thinking that the showiest stocks are the most salable. The advertiser must not make the mistake of thinking that the showiest words are the most clinching.

Windows are too few in number to be used with indiscretion. The good merchant puts those goods back of his plate glass which nine people out of ten will want, once they have seen them.

The good advertiser tells about goods which nine readers out of ten will buy, if they can be convinced.

Newspaper space itself is only the window, just as the showcase is but a frame for merchandise pictures. A window on a crowded street, in the best neighborhood, where prosperous persons pass continually, is more desirable than one in a cheap, sparsely settled neighborhood. An advertisement in a newspaper with the most readers and the most prosperous ones, possesses a great advantage over the same copy, in a medium circulating among persons who possess less means. It would be foolish for a shop to build its windows in an alleyway—and just as much so to put its advertising into newspapers which are distributed among "alley-dwellers."

We love to read the good old Record-Press, although when we read the sad news of Mrs. Ruby Threlkeld's death, it made us sad, as it has been only a few months since we saw the young couple aboard the train at Crayne, Ky., for their new home Manila, Ark., and we wished them a life of joy, peace, happiness and prosperity. We had to receive the news of her death. The bereaved husband and relatives have the prayers and sympathy of the writer. We say to her beloved, weep not as that have no hope; that is a glorious thought that we have of meeting her beyond this veil of tears, where death is no more and where God will wipe all tears from our eyes.

How much you will miss her, We can not tell, But we know with the angels She has gone to dwell. Where all is peace, joy and love In that beautiful land above.

S. L. Shelby and Harry Butler had an interesting checker game Tuesday. Those boys did play some. We seldom appreciate happiness, until we reach the point where we speak of it in the past tense.

ECHOES FROM

MADISONVILLE

Madisonville Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Madisonville resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

Mrs. Eva Hobbs, N. Seminary St., Madisonville, Ky., says: "No one but those who have suffered from bearing-down pains across the small of the back can appreciate what a boon to kidney sufferers Doan's Kidney Pills are. I used everything that was recommended to me for kidney complaint, but the trouble remained. I tried plasters and different remedies, too, without success. Finally I used Doan's Kidney Pills. After taking a few doses, I felt their good effect and I continued until all symptoms of kidney disease were removed. My health is now greatly improved. Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Hobbs had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 2411

Mend Hunchback's Spine.

Chicago.—There was much pain in the body of Edward Dipple in Mercy Hospital. But in his heart was joy.

Dipple for years has been a double hunchback. Now, through the wonderful workings of modern surgery, those deformities have been removed and Dipple—if he recovers, as he probably will—will walk through life erect and undisfigured.

The operation on Dipple, performed by Dr. William Welles Hoyt, was the first of its kind ever done in the world. It is known as the double albee operation.

Two pieces of bone were taken from Dipple's shins and were transplanted into his spine, to make it rigid. He probably will be out of the hospital with back straightened and humps gone within eight weeks.—Washington Post.

BLACKFORD

Since our former communication was published and with hope that a number who read the contents of the Crittenden Record-Press may, with a certain degree of satisfaction, peruse this missive, we shall endeavor to write again.

Blackford is similar to all other inhabitable places, it has disadvantages as well as advantages. Owing to the nation-wide depression, business prospects are somewhat discouraging in this part of the world. Considering the conditions of the weather, the health of the people is fairly good.

A. B. Vaughn has secured the position recently vacated by G. H. Nunn in Blackford Bank and is now serving as cashier. Mr. Vaughn is a man of good habits and very careful in business affairs.

James Monroe Crider, of Gladstone, was here on business one day last week. He tells us that everything up his way was O. K.

Rev. Alpha D. Spence, pastor of the Camberland Presbyterian church at this place, has accepted a call to serve the church of like faith at Nevada, Mo., and is making extensive preparations to become a Missionary—by adoption—in the near future. Bro. Spence is an efficient minister and a man who makes friends, by his genial and obliging manner, wherever he goes. While we are sorry to give him up, we wish him well in his new field of labor.

Albert H. Reynolds, of Clay, Ky., was over among the Blackforders on Saturday night and Sunday. The writer has known Albert for many years, a call from him is always appreciated.

Thomas H. Roberts, of near Repton, was a Blackford visitor last week. Friend Roberts informed your "scrier" that he had been fortunate in raising a "staving" good crop last year, consequently he never felt any better physically, mentally and spiritually during his past life.

Your item "jog-ger-up" has been asked if he ever saw a bald-headed woman. For the benefit of those who want to know and with due respect to all parties concerned, we shall say: No, we never did, nor did we ever see a woman waltzing around and staggering into every saloon or unbecomingly "dive" she saw in town. We have never seen a woman go fishing with a bottle in her pocket, sit on the ground all day, and go home drunk at night; nor did we ever see a woman "yank" her coat off and swear she could whip any man in town. For these reasons alone, we are almost persuaded to believe that woman suffrage is absolutely necessary. To show that our intention is to be courteous to our fellow-correspondents, we shall ask them to answer the following:

"What is it that Adam never saw, never possessed, and yet he gave two to each of his children?" —PICAYUNE.

JAIL CRACKS

Hadn't Lost Any Burglar.

(BY JOHN & GILLIAM.)

"Learner," said Mrs. Guess, suddenly waking him, "there's a buglar in the house."

"Are you sure, my dear?" he asked. "Positive," she replied. "Don't you hear him?" He got up and began to dress hastily, but, quietly.

"What are you going to do, Learner?" she inquired.

"I'm going to sneak out the back way and get Albert Cannan." He asserted.

"But if you go right down stairs now," she said, "you'll find him in the dining room!"

"Oh, I'll find him, will I?" He retorted, sarcastically. "Well now you just look me over carefully."

"Yes, Learner, what of it?"

"Do I look like a man who has lost a burglar anywhere?"

"No, of course not, but—"

"Do I have the reputation of being an impertinent fellow who is always interfering with other people's business?" Do I in any way resemble the lost and found department of a daily newspaper?"

"No, certainly not."

"Then why should I get tangled up with other people's property?"

"You're afraid, Learner."

"Afraid, nothing!" he retorted, indignantly. "I am looking at it from an ethical point of view. This burglar undoubtedly has been lost by the police, and if I took charge of him they might think I was trying to steal him and make a lot of trouble for me, besides I'm no searching party. You women don't understand the ethics of business at all." —JAIL CRACKS.
