LOSSIE GILBERT SHOOT MAN

At Vandersburg. Well Known Marion Boy, Son of Jas. G. Gilbert of This City.

(The Dixon Journal has this to say of the tragedy)

"John Louis Johnson, aged 61, a farmer of Vandersburg, is dead as the result of being shot late Thursday afternoon by Dr. L. E. Gilbert, a prominent physician of that place. Johnson died of a wound inflicted by a 32 bullet, which pierced his liver.

The shooting took place near the doctor's office and was witnessed by E. B. Brown and a Mr. McLean, besides two sons of the dead man.

It is understood that there has been a long standing grudge between Dr. Gilbert and the Johnson family, and an argument arose Thursday afternoon. Two sons of Johnson's were present.

Dr. Gilbert, accompanied by his wife, came to Dixon and surrendered to the sheriff. He was guarded by a deputy until he was released under $1,000 bond on the charge of voluntary manslaughter, waiving examining trial.

Dr. Gilbert, when approached by a reporter, declared he did not wish to make any statement.

Johnson, in a dying statement made to the county attorney, said that he seized the doctor first.

The Journal has been unable to secure statements from the eye-witnesses, and reports are conflicting.

It is understood that Dr. Gilbert maintained that his life was in danger, he thought, and he fired to save himself.

Dr. Gilbert is 33 years old and has been practicing medicine at Vandersburg for seven years. He came from Crittenden county (The Henderson Gleaner of Saturday said:)

"According to Dr. Gilbert's story he shot in self-defense and only after Johnson had beaten him severely. The two men got into a fist fight on the street and Johnson got the physician down and was raining blows upon him. Gilbert says he drew his gun from his pocket and shot Johnson when he saw one of the old man's sons running to aid him.

The bullet struck Johnson between the ninth and tenth ribs and ranged downward. The attending physician says that he is in a serious condition. Gilbert would not tell the cause of his trouble with Johnson.

FORTY-FIVE CARLOADS OF MULES FOR ALLIES

Shipment of Twelve Hundred Animals, valued at $180,000 Received at Columbia.

Columbia, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Two solid trainloads of mules arrived here over the Louisville & Nashville railroad, to be held here and fed until the British government can obtain the ships necessary to transport them across the waters. The mules, some twelve hundred of them, are a fine looking lot, and will be held here, let out to farmers to be fed and pastured. They are all the property of the British government and are all branded by that government. This is the largest single consignment of mules ever shipped into Columbia. The aggregate value of the shipment is estimated at $180,000. One farmer has taken eight car loads to be fed and pastured.

Fayetteville, Tenn., Aug. 18.—Forty-five car loads of war mules passed through the Fayetteville stock yards on the way to Columbia, an unprecedented record for the Fayetteville yards.

France Pays Millions To Soldiers' Families.

Paris, Aug. 18.—France has expended $384,000,000 during the first year of the war in feeding the wives and families of mobilized soldiers and workers thrown out of employment. There are at present three million persons receiving allowances from the State.

In the beginning a great many people entitled to these allowances preferred not to claim, considering it an easy patriotic sacrifice for them to make, but as the war dragged on, and their resources diminished, they were finally obliged to avail themselves of State-aid.

Mrs. J. W. Wilson Gave Delightful 6 O'clock Dinner And Smoker on Her Husband's Birthday

On Friday, evening of last week Mrs. J. W. Wilson invited a few of hers and her husbands gentlemen friends to a birthday dinner, which was in the nature of a surprise to her husband and to celebrate his 41st Natal day. At about 6 o'clock those bidden were seen wending their way to the hospitable Wilson home, and soon after they were ushered to the banquet table, where a delicious four course dinner was served in a tempting way, making all doubly enjoy the dainties as course followed course. Among those bidden were D. C. and G. P. Roberts, J. W. Blue, C. S. Nunn, T. J. Yandell, S. M. Jenkins, Sam Gugenheim, Levi Cook, W. O. Tucker, J. I. Clement, W. G. Clifton, Ernest Carnahan, R. F. Haynes, William Barnett, Ed McFee, most of whom were present.

The meal finished, cigars were passed and those using them, indulged in a smoke on the veranda, while the hostess dispensed sweet music at the piano, some of which being her own compositions.

The evening was thoroughly enjoyed, one guest declaring, "If I could give one just like it tomorrow evening. I would do so."

The menu consisted of Iced Canteloupes.

Smothered spring chicken, Broiled Crittenden county ham, Mushrooms, Peas, Hot biscuits, Creamed corn, Tomatoes, sliced and iced. Salad dressing.

Cherry ice cream, Angel's food. Cigars. Coffee.

George Latta, Of Smith Mills, Painfully Injured.

Smith Mills, Ky., Aug. 17.—While bailing hay near town late yesterday afternoon, George Latta was victim to a painful accident, when he got his right foot badly mashed by getting it caught in the baler. He was working on top of the baler and while attempting to ram the hay in the Press got his foot caught, mashing the bones nearly to the knee. The young man was taken to Dr. Jones office where the foot was dressed. He was resting as well as could be expected to-day.

LEO M. FRANK KIDNAPPED AND LYNCHED

Mary Phagan's Murder Avenged At Her Former Home, Marietta, Ga.

Milledgeville, Ga., Aug. 16.—Leo M. Frank, Georgia's noted life-terminer, convicted of murdering Mary Phagan, was removed from the Georgia prison farm here tonight, by twenty-five armed men, who overpowered Warden Smith.

Prior to the attack the wires leading to the prison were cut. Frank was placed in an automobile and rushed in the direction of Eatonton.

The attack occurred shortly before midnight. The warden and most of the guards were sleeping on the rear porch of the main building in which the prisoners are confined.

Both he and the guards were handcuffed, after which the party entered the prison and removed Frank.

Marietta, Ga., Aug. 17.—Leo M. Frank, serving a life term for the murder of Mary Phagan, the Atlanta factory girl, was taken from the prison farm at Milledgeville last night, and lynched two miles east of here today by the armed party which took him.

He was hanged to a tree. Frank was brought 100 miles from the prison farm to a point almost within sight of the former home of Mary Phagan. No shots were fired.

Frank's body, barefooted and clad only in prison trousers and shirt, was found at 8:30 o'clock this morning. It is believed he was lynched about daylight.

Several automobiles, well loaded, left here in the direction of Milledgeville last night. After the return of some of the machines today officers started out on the road which they believed the automobiles had traveled. They had gone only two miles when they saw the body of Frank not more than 150 yards from the roadside.

THE DEACON GIVEN AT OPERA HOUSE

Play Was A Great Success And Was Enjoyed By All.

"The Deacon," by home talent, under the direction of Miss Lena Holtzclaw and under the auspices of the Epworth League, of the M. E. Church, South, was rendered at the Opera House Wednesday evening of last week, and was thoroughly enjoyed by a huge audience, who gave the home boys and girls a hearty reception and plenty of encouragement, all of which was merited. No use to go out of Marion for a play. Just lets get it up with our own talent which otherwise might lie dormant. Give the home boys and girls a chance and a boost.

Turkey Short Of War Munitions.

London, Aug. 18.—"German diplomats have redoubled their efforts to secure Rumania's consent to a renewal of shipments of munitions of war to Turkey," says the Daily Telegraph's Bucharest correspondent.

"This," the correspondent adds, indicates that Turkey's need of supplies is becoming acute."

WORTH OVER BILLION DOLLARS

Greatest Crop of Corn And Wheat And Other Crops Ever Known.

Washington, Aug. 17.—Three billion bushels of corn, one and a half billion bushels of oats and a billion bushels of wheat are in prospect for this years American harvest. Record crops of rye, white and sweet potatoes, tobacco, rice and hay also are predicted for the prosperous farmers who have planted 310,546,000 acres, or 10,000,000 acres more than last year, to their principal products.

The wheat crop, the greatest ever grown in any country, will be worth more than $1,000,000,000, while the corn crop's value may reach $2,500,000,000.

Estimates of the principal crops announced today by the Department of Agriculture, based on conditions of August 1, show that all crops will be greater than last year. Interest centered on wheat and corn. Both showed improvement over the July conditions, though excessive rains and cold weather in the Central States interfered with the threshing. Oats also suffering in those States, but in other sections the improvement more than offset this.

Corn prospects increased almost 120,000,000 bushels with the principal gains having been Illinois, 30,000,000 bushels; Kansas, 24,000,000; Oklahoma, 25,000,000, Nebraska, 15,000,000; Iowa, 14,000,000; and Texas, 10,000,000.

Kansas showed a loss of 12,000,000 bushels in winter wheat, Oklahoma 6,000,000, Nebraska 4,000,000 and Missouri 3,000,000, while Ohio and Indiana showed an increase of 3,000,000 bushels each.

White potatoes promise to exceed their former record production by 103,000,000 bushels and sweet potatoes by 4,000,000 bushels. Other increases over record crops indicated include tobacco, 18,000,000 pounds; flax, 4,200,000 bushels; hay, 2,400,000 tons, and rye, 1,300,000 bushels. Corn prospects fell 206,000,000 bushels and oats 16,000,000 bushels below the records.

OUR PUBLIC FORUM.

W. D. Lewis
On Co-operative Marketing Plan

W. D. Lewis, president of the Texas Farmers' union, in a recent address to the farmers, said in part: "The Farmers' union is the pioneer force in the campaign for cheap money, warehouse facilities and a financial system adapted to the business of farming. The union has always stood for the best interests of the farmer and, realizing that the task was so monumental as to require the combined efforts of all forces, the Farmers' union blew the horn and called all hands together to build more warehouses and supply cheap money and, as a result, the farmers and business men and the statesmen are now shaking hands over a bale of cotton."

"The Farmers' union stands before the public today proud as a king; glorying in its achievements and boasting of its possibilities of rendering a service to the men who follow the plow. The union sounds the bugle call of organization summoning every yeoman to rally around its colors. In business it stands for education and co-operation; in the home it stands for family and the babies; in government it stands for constructive statesmanship. At the moment it directs the attention of the farmers of the South to warehousing and financing the present cotton crop. Fellow farmers, arise and salute King Cotton, a sovereign in whose reign the prosperity of this state is involved and a ruler whose scepter turns the fleecy fiber into gold. A king at whose loom nature weaves, and an imperial potentate at whose shrine millions kneel and sing his praise. Strike for your home, your family and your country by joining the union and becoming a part of the great economic force that is uplifting this state and nation. The Farmers' union is the plowman's hope. Without organization he can neither help himself nor be helped by others, and through organization he is all-powerful."

"We have just passed through the greatest slaughter in crop production known in the history of the cotton industry. The loss to the southern planter last year was greater than that of the freeing of the slaves during the Civil war, and the European conflict is by no means over. The phantom of low prices that hovers around every cotton field in Texas ought to encourage the farmers to deeds of commercial valor. Look upon the face of your babe in the cradle; look upon the woman who stands by your side, then look your own destiny squarely in the face. Lay aside the petty differences that so easily beset you, awaken from the lethargy of indifference that steepens your senses in poverty and arouse thoughts from their dumb cradles and be up and doing with a determination that wins, and rally around the union, for there is no other road to success except through organization."

and strong and because his strength came from work in the fields in such days as he could find no work in his own profession. Because he thought no work of his hands beneath him if it brought us food and a shelter.

"Because he talked to farmers and carpenters and to learned men and to diggers of ditches and to little girls and boys and to Presidents alike, and all loved him."

"Because he wore his overcoats for ten years and his shoes for two years and called his coat 'as good as new, with a little fixing of the lining.'"

"Because he thought no sacrifice of any importance if by it we were made to love more truly whatever is good and beautiful and true in life."

"Because he used to put his arm around Mother and tease her until her eyes twinkled and she said, 'Go away, Boy!'"

"Because everybody missed him when he went away Somewhere Else—and will always remember him."

"That is why I should like to be such a man as he was."

DANGERS REAL AND FANCIED.

The average woman will scream with terror at the sight of an innocent little mouse, and then complacently sit down and suffer in silence with diseases that are destroying her youth, her beauty, her very life. She will uncomplainingly resign herself to the woes and miseries of female troubles, which are to be dreaded a thousand times more than a tiny mouse. It is gratifying to know that untold numbers of women are being restored to perfect vigor and strength by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It benefits uterine disorders. The exact name of the disease doesn't amount to a row of pins. If it is in the womanly organs, "Favorite Prescription" will hunt it out and benefit it. It can be a drain, a pain, an inflammation, an irregularity or a weakness, and this medicine will act as a true tonic and help restore the organs to healthy action. It prepares the girl to become a woman; the wife to become a mother, the middle-aged to pass the "turn of life" in safety. It is not a "cure-all" but a medicine for women only, and is the prescription of Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., the world-famed specialist in the treatment of disorders of women. Any reader of this paper may consult Dr. Pierce free by mail.

Covington, Ky.—"I had 'Favorite Prescription' recommended to me. I had to overcome some conditions of nervousness and was run down. When I began using 'Favorite Prescription' I lacked ambition and strength. I used two bottles and it proved a strengthening and in every way beneficial medicine."—Mrs. MOLLIE KENTON, 1338 Greenup St.

"Because his eyes twinkled and his face was jolly. Because he smiled at us children even in days when he was hiding black despair in his heart."

"What Have Ye Done?"

And they came to the gate within the wall, where Peter holds the keys,
"Stand up, stand up now, Tomlinson, and answer loud and high,
The good that ye did for the sake of men ere ye come to die—
The good that ye did for the sake of men in little earth so lone!"
And the naked soul of Tomlinson grew white as a rain-washed bone.
"This I have read in a book," he said, "and that was told to me,
And this I have thought that another man thought of a prince in Muscovy"—
And Peter twirled the jangling keys in weariness and wrath

And to your love dear heart, from the day's labor,

Sing some old, some sweet hymn of trust and consolation;
Sing to me! Sing!
While from the shelter of the valley
The bells, sweet chiming ring.

I see you listening for my footsteps down the way;
And in your heart, your own true heart, you're singing
The same sweet song the soft toned bells are ringing
At end of day! —Rave.

County Attorney T. C. Bennett

Sounds a Note Of Warning. Boot-leggers Must Go!

For nearly two years I have seemingly remained silent on the whisky traffic in Crittenden county, which has been for two reasons mainly, first because I thought the citizens of this county believed in law and order and would report, with proof, any violations of the liquor law. Second because I deemed it outside the scope of my authority and impossible for me to prosecute these violations, on my own personal knowledge alone.

I have been disappointed in the first from the fact that out of the many violations of the liquor law known to the people of Crittenden county a very few have been reported and even then with a plea not to use the informers name in the prosecution, which condition renders conviction impossible.

In the second instance I have disappointed you in as much as I have failed to convict on my own knowledge of these violations as it would seem, you have expected me to do and my reason for so doing was that such was not my conception of my duty as County Attorney.

I have tried to do my duty in this regard from the fact that I have secured a warrant of arrest and prosecuted every violation brought before me on information when the Circuit Court was not in session and have made an honest effort to assist the different grand juries to find indictments on information given them. Now the main trouble is this, the people who want this traffic stopped have not given me the proper support in the prosecution of these violations and it is absolutely impossible for me to handle this trouble without your assistance.

I cannot bring myself to believe that the people of this county want these conditions to continue as they are, but to the contrary I know in my own mind that you do want it stopped, but we are making very slow progress to the extent that even the boot-leggers themselves are getting to believe that the best citizens of the county are in sympathy with them and want them to flourish.

Now I want to say to the people that it is to your interest to look more closely after these matters if you want the law enforced and let's not get too deeply interested in our own immediate affairs and lose sight of that which is in my mind the hardest problem of business and social concern with which we have to do. And while we are organizing corn clubs, pig clubs, singing clubs, and various other clubs in our different communities if you will organize more "anti-bootlegger" clubs, and give it some of your time and attention, and rid yourselves of the greatest menace to all business and social organizations, you will add peace and dignity to your community thereby guaranteeing a higher social and religious standard for your boys and girls.

I too, like you, at times dread to see the hand of the law fall heavily upon the heads of some of our citizens for we know it falls most heavily upon the heads of innocent women and children some of whom are practically if not wholly supported by the proceeds of the sale of whisky and even the bread they eat is but the ruin of some young man.

For both, I have the deepest sympathy and for my sake and for your own sake, find out by what means you are living and use your influence with your husband to induce him to stop it for you may realize only too late that the earnings of your husband or son, are but a curse and will sooner or later bring grief to you and your own children.

Now I am perfectly willing to accept the responsibilities of my office and have at all times tried to do my duty as I saw it but it seems hard to get the people to realize that I can do but little without your co-operation and support and you know that during my two years as an officer you have not been the man to come to me and say: "Bennett, this man or that man in our community is selling whisky, let us help you and you help us to get rid of him."

I have been causing the people of this county an expense of several hundred dollars each year by summoning before the grand jury men and boys who perjure themselves to protect some friend who happens to be a bootlegger and to this character I want to sound a word of warning for I know who you are and in the future I expect to see that you are immediately indicted if I have to make a witness myself to do it, for it is impossible to get rid of bootleggers so long as you are allowed to swear a lie to save them and go unprosecuted.

I have at all times, both for my own good and for the good of the entire citizenship of this county, realized the great necessity of putting a stop to the whisky traffic yet I have dreaded the task because so many are in favor of the traffic. But I have begged you as a friend and as an officer to quit this line of business and to devote your time and energy to something more honorable and regardless of what may happen to you in the future you can never say I have been unfair, but I am saying to you now, whoever you are that you are going to suffer, for I intend to rid this county as near as possible of bootleggers if I have to exhaust the credit of this county to do it, and I have the permission of the fiscal court to do so.

I want to say further that I am not making these statements for the purpose paving my way to re-election as I now have no intention of asking for any office but I am simply not pleased with myself and conditions in general and I am tired of seeing a mockery made of the courts and the law and the people just drifting along from bad to worse and if you are guilty you can take me at my word because I mean to do this if I never accomplish another thing during the remainder of my term of office.

Yours respectfully,
T. C. BENNETT,
County Attorney.

GLAD SHE TOOK FRIENDS' ADVICE

Mrs. Catherine Meyer Finds Relief From Debility In Tanlac.

Louisville, Ky., Aug. 18.—Many women suffer from sluggishness and depression without being able to find relief from a condition which they know to be unnatural. One of them who did find relief is Mrs. Catherine Meyer, of 1915 High street, this city. She said recently that she had recovered from a condition of nervous debility through the use of Tanlac, the peerless preparation.

"I was run-down and felt tired if I made the least exertion," she said. "I was melancholy and nervous. Any unusual noise startled me. My digestion was poor, and I could not sleep well.

"Finally I became interested in Tanlac and sent to the drugstore for a bottle of it. As soon as I began taking it I got better. Now I sleep soundly and have recovered from my nervousness and depression."

Mrs. Meyer's experience is not unusual. Women often suffer from a tired, sluggish feeling without knowing the why of it. They are often subject, too, to depression and melancholy. Where Mrs. Meyer found relief, others may. She is one of hundreds who have given voluntary testimony to the value of Tanlac. Tanlac can now be had in Marion at J. H. Orme's drugstore, and in Blackford at A T Brown's drugstore.

Is Sickness a Sin?

If not, it's wicked to neglect illness and means of relief. It's wicked to endure Liver Ills, Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, when one dose of Po-Do-Lax gives relief. Po-Do-Lax is Podoophyllin (May Apple) without the gripe. It arouses the Liver, increases the flow of bile—Nature's antiseptic in the Bowels. Your Constipation and other ills disappear overnight because Po-Do-Lax has helped Nature to remove the cause. Get a bottle from your Druggist today. Get rid of your Constipation overnight. 3

We do not entirely agree with those who insist that the liquor question can be kept out of politics.

The liquor question IS IN politics.

The liquor question came into politics when the licensed saloon came into existence.

The question of the amount of license that the saloon shall pay and the way in which the saloon shall be regulated brings and keeps the liquor question into politics and it will be in politics as long as there is a licensed saloon.

The matter of license and regulation is a matter of legislation and you cannot have legislation without politics.

We do agree with those who say that the recent State-wide agitation was ill advised.

Kentucky was not ready for State-wide prohibition. This is shown conclusively by the vote in the Governor's race. Those who believed in State-wide lined up behind Mr. McChesney to be counted. They WERE counted and they fell many thousand votes short of the number who voted for Mr. Stanley and Mr. McDermott. These candidates were against State-wide and for the county-unit law.

When the returns are completed it will be shown how emphatically the voters served notice that the present County-unit law is sufficient for the present.

Thus does the liquor question leave the political stage for the present campaign at least.

And thus do we clear the stage for some legislation that is vital to the welfare of Kentucky.

Without embarrassment the Democrats can now meet and formulate a great platform for the approval of the voters.

The voters can be assured that A. O. Stanley will improve the schools of Kentucky. He has been a school teacher, is himself an educated man and yet he has abundant horse sense.

We look for great things from our schools with Stanley as governor.

In the matter of taxation, in good roads, in the regulation of corporations and the reduction of the State debt—in all these matters Stanley can just about fill the bill.

And—

With the liquor question settled for the time being there is nothing to hinder him from doing it. —Cleaner Editorial.

Dr. Lossie Gilbert Allowed Bail.

Dr. Lossie Gilbert of Vandersburg, Ky., arrived here with his father James G. Gilbert Tuesday. His friends here are glad he was allowed bail in the case in which he was charged with manslaughter in Webster county. This would indicate that the case is not regarded seriously by authorities. Lossie is a home boy and we hope he will come clear, for his own sake, and for the sake of the girl wife who took him "for better or for worse," and for the sake of the father, so lately bereft of his only other child and for the sake of the aged grandmother who resides in this city and who has always been so proud of him.

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was so poorly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

How would you like to travel 108 miles by sleigh in zero weather?

That's what President Terry of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company did after the great New York fire of December 16, 1835, in order to make immediate payment of the Hartford losses.

In the same staunch spirit the Hartford promptly paid out $1,900,000 after the Chicago fire, and $10,000,000 after the San Francisco disaster.

Hartford protection costs you no more than other kinds—and you can depend upon prompt settlement in case of fire. May we tell you more about it?

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excited; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Likes The Country Fine.

W. Adams, a recent arrival from Kentucky, who came to this district to buy an orchard, but purchased the F. B. Reese grocery store in the O. W. & N. depot at Buena, is getting a good share of the business in that territory. One of the main reasons why his goods are reasonable, and perhaps a little cheaper than a good many stores, is the fact that he has no rent to pay, for he gets the depot free, for looking after the O-W interests. Then too, he sells for cash, which gives him the advantage to pay all bills promptly and get the discounts. The inside of the store has been changed slightly, and more goods of standard make and quality have been added. Mr. Adams believes in selling "better goods for less money," and with no overhead expenses he is certainly able to live up to the slogan. It will certainly pay you to visit the depot store and compare prices.—Zillah, Yakima county, Washington Free Press.

Family Re-union.

On Aug. 8th, J. N. Little, of Piney, Ky., celebrated his fifty-third anniversary with his children in Eldorado, Ill. One son, V. A. Little, and three daughters, Mesdames Ed Bays, J. R. Had and L. M. Wilson, united their efforts in making the occasion a memorable one. An elegant dinner was served in the home of M. L. Wilson and wife consisting of all the good things of which a hungry man dreams of. The table was handsomely decorated in red and green, the color scheme being carried out even to the lettering of two immense cakes, which have the name of "father" and his age. Plates were laid for forty guests. Quite a number of useful presents were given; among them was a lovely running rack, upholstered in morocco, the gift of his children. It was but a miniature reproduction of the great union beyond here.

There were some dear faces missing, but there not one will be gone.

The frost of fifty-three winters has silvered the once jet locks, each year leaving its mark, but as he sat, surrounded by his children, time seemed to fall back and to him they were all kiddies, again, forgetful of all the added years had brought. The out-of-town guests were:—Virgil Bird and wife, Wallace Hearron and wife, Owen Bird and wife, Curg Bird and Miss Nellie Letempe, all of Harrisburg, Ill.; H. T. Little and wife, of Sturgis, Ky.; and Miss Emma Travis, of Blackford, Ky.

Quite an enjoyable day was spent, each wishing many happy returns of the day.

Japanese Navy Planning Maneuvers For October.

Tokio, Aug. 11.—The Japanese navy is planning to hold maneuvers on an unprecedentedly large scale in the seas off the Luchu Islands in the month of October. It is said that 160 vessels of war will participate.

Among these will be the super-dreadnaughts Kongo Hiyei, Haruna and Kirishima. A feature of the exercises will be the operation of seaplanes and submarines. After the maneuvers, which will be finished by the end of October, all the warships will probably congregate in the waters off Osaka and prepare for the grand naval review to be held in celebration of the Emperor's coronation in November.

"Washington, July 17.—Dr. W. L. Heizer, of Bowling Green, a member of the Kentucky State Board of Health is here gathering evidence in the departments against a patent medicine company that is doing business in Kentucky."

Pity Dr. Heizer cannot keep busy at home attending to his vital statistics and other matters of much more "vital" importance than nosing around other people's business.

There are hundreds of proprietary medicines that are specifics in many cases and preferably to many so-called "prescriptions" given by many doctors, but the "medical trust" is never satisfied except when prying around trying to put somebody out of business.

The people are not fools—they know a good thing when they see it and can be depended upon to stick by the good and discard the bad without any unnecessary trouble on the part of the medical trust.—Park City Daily News

AT THE HELLESPONT

The World Landmarks Are Going.

How the Homeric heroes, if they could revisit the scenes of their earthly exploits of some three thousand years ago, would marvel at the devastation wrought by the war in places which history had enshrined as sacred. On the Asiatic side of the Dardanelles, the big guns of the Allies have played havoc with most of the ancient landmarks on the Trojan plain. All that now remains of "the topless towers of Ilium"—the ruins of ancient Troy at Hissarlick, which Schliemann and other archeologists have so wonderfully described—is now a shapeless mass. The wall from which, according to tradition, the sorrowful Andromache watched Hector's departure, is now utilized as a shield or cover for a military trench. Indeed the fiercest fighting on the Asiatic side has nearly all taken place quite close to the ruins of Troy near Kum-Kale, and the venerated mound which marks the site is now so changed that the explorer of the future, finding it unrecognizable will gaze on it in despair.—The Christian Herald.

Fence Built Around Babe Left In Woods.

Easton, Pa., Aug. 19.—Berry Pickers in the woods heard the cries of a child and following the sound, came across Binechina Lucrezia, the twenty-one-months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lucrezia, who was kidnapped from her home. Around the child had been built an inclosure of stakes and wire, which prevented her from getting out. A heavy shower had occurred only a short time before and the baby was drenched.

It is believed that the child fell into the hands of a degenerate, who brought her back to the woods, a half mile from her home, because of the great cry that was raised over her disappearance.

Buy Booze From Your Wife
And Keep The Money At Home.

Besides those who sell the stuff there really are a lot of confused people who think that there is wealth for the community in the waste and wrong of whisky, that booze booms business, and all that sort of thing. One meets these victims of saloon logic even in the prosperous dry towns of the West. They ought to ponder the wisdom of a Delaware Judge who sentenced an imbricate to drink at home. The Buffalo "Express" quotes his humor as follows:

"Give your wife $2. to buy a gallon of whisky. There are sixty-nine drinks in one gallon. Buy your drinks from no one but your wife, and by the time the first gallon is gone she will have four dollars to put in the bank and two dollars to start business again. Should you live ten years and continue to buy from her, and then die with snakes in your boots, she will have enough to bury you decently, educate your children, buy a house and lot, marry a decent man and quit thinking about you."

That's the whole truth about wealth and whisky, and we hope other police-court judges will follow this precedent.

Prohibition Wave Marches

Forward With Hostilities.

The Czar of Russia, at the opening of the great European war, gave orders to stop the manufacture and sale of vodka the annual consumption of which reached $500,000,000 a year, but the Russian Chancellor states recently that the country was getting double that income by way of increased efficiency of the workmen and farmers.

President Poincaré, of France soon after the war started, issued a proclamation ordering the stoppage of the manufacture or sale of absinthe.

King George V. of England urges abstinence from liquor during the war, and declares he will not use intoxicants while hostilities are in progress.

Lord Kitchener announced the other day that he would abstain from wines or liquors until peace was proclaimed.

THE CHANGING BATTLE LINE IN THE EAST

The Germans again have penetrated as close to Warsaw as the star which marks the "high tide" of last autumn.

FIRST YEAR OF THE WAR IN THE EAST

The first twelvemonth of fighting between the Russians on one side and the Austrians and Germans on the other is a story of great changes of fortune, both combatants being repeatedly driven back only to show the greatest resiliency in defeat and soon to resume the offensive in a most surprising manner.

The end of the year, however, finds the pendulum swinging strongly against the czar. He may recover and take again the roads to Cracow, Vienna and Berlin, but just at present he is on the whole in worse plight than in any hour since the war started.

Russia's losses in the first year of the war are not approached by those of any nation in any war of history. According to reliable estimates, she has had between 2,500,000 and 4,000,000 men killed, injured and captured. Despite these horrible gaps made in her ranks, she still has millions in the field, and her great reservoir of personnel does not show signs of exhaustion. It is not men she lacks, but guns, shells and brains.

Slow to Mobilize.

On August 1, 1914, Germany declared war on Russia. Almost immediately the Germans crossed the frontier at Thorn and the Austrians south of Lublin. They were practically unopposed because of the slowness of mobilization in Russia. The Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholasievitch was forced to gather his main armies well to the rear of the line of great fortresses running through Kovno, Grodno, Osovets, Novo Georgievsk, Warsaw, and Ivanogrod.

On account of his desire to do all he could to relieve the French, who were being driven from northern France by the amazing German rush through Belgium, Nicholas attacked sooner than he otherwise would have done. As a result, he met two disasters.

He sent General Samsonoff into East Prussia from the south and General Rennenkampf into East Prussia from the east, the latter winning the first large engagement of the war in the East at Gumbinnen.

At this moment the Germans, believing that the French were well in hand and about to be surrounded on their eastern frontier, quickly withdrew 250,000 men from France and hurried them by rail into East Prussia, where they fell upon Samsonoff with crushing force in the great German victory of Tannenberg (Aug. 28).

Meanwhile, the Austrians, leaving only a few troops in Galicia to hold back the Russians advancing from Tarnopol on the line of the Gnila-Lipa, struck the Russians on masses at Krassnik and routed them to Lublin.

Most Bloody Drive of War.

With two armies in difficulty, the grand duke decided to abandon one to its fate and save the other. He threw reinforcements into Lublin and ordered the line of the Gnila-Lipa river be forced at any cost. In one of the most bloody drives of the war the Russians advanced into eastern Galicia and occupied Lemberg.

The Russians then advanced to Rawa Ruska and took the Austrian armies in Poland in the rear, cutting them up frightfully.

Meanwhile Von Hindenburg had completed his victory over Samsonoff by turning on Rennenkampf and clearing East Prussia of Muscovites. But though Rennenkampf had been defeated and Samsonoff almost annihilated, the Germans.

The Russians were now as far west as Tarnow in Galicia, while their Cossacks were able to make raids into Hungary farther south. Hindenburg concentrated a great force suddenly in Silesia and began a drive from the west against Warsaw and Ivanogrod. The Siberian corps arrived in the nick of time to save Warsaw from the enemy.

High Tide of Russian Invasion.

Hindenburg then drew off the northern section of his army in Poland to the north, thinking to take the pursuing Russians in flank with the southern section. But the Austrians were too slow to carry out the field marshal's plans and the Russians, slipping into a gap in the lines between the Germans and their allies, slaughtered the latter. The result was the high tide of Russian invasion. The Austrians withdrew over the Carpathians again, leaving Przemyśl to be besieged a second time. The Germans withdrew to Silesia and the Russians, following closely, were able for a brief moment to raid this rich province at Pleschen. At the same time they entered East Prussia again.

But again the German strategic railways proved their undoing. Hindenburg concentrated at Thorn and drove into the right flank of the Russian main forces, throwing them back on Lodz.

He advanced too far, however, and when he had the Russian forces nearly surrounded, he suddenly found Russians in his own rear. In this extremity, the Russians say, he telegraphed for reinforcements.

But before the reinforcements sent from Flanders arrived the Germans had managed at frightful cost to hack their way to safety. This was the bloody battle of Lodz.

Wins Second Victory.

With stronger German forces opposing them the Russians withdrew to the line of Bzura, Rawa and Nida rivers. At the same time the Austrians, attempting to debouch from the Carpathian passes, were driven back everywhere, leaving 50,000 prisoners.

With January Hindenburg made a third desperate attack on Warsaw. For ten days, both night and day, the Germans came on. Then, having lost probably 50,000 men and the Russians nearly as many, they gave it up.

Unable to reach Warsaw, Hindenburg concentrated twice Siever's force in East Prussia, and won his second overwhelming victory there. Enormous captures of Russians were made, and the fortress of Grodno was attacked farther west, from Osovets to Pultusk. The Germans retreated to Mlawa and then tried to flank the Russians at Przasnysz, which city they took. But the Russians again flanked the flanking party, as they had done at Lodz and won an important success (February 22-23).

In March and April, the Russians pressed through the western Carpathian passes and entered Hungary. Just when their future seemed brightest, the Germans broke the Russian line in West Galicia and let through enormous forces.

Pressing westward irresistibly, they took the Russian Carpathian armies in the rear. The latter tried to retreat, but vast numbers were captured. Przemyśl, which had succumbed to the Russian besiegers March 22, fell again into the hands of the Austro-Germans.

Great German Maneuver.

From Przemyśl Von Mackensen drove east through Msciska and Grodek and captured Lemberg, the Galician capital. Then he turned north and marched upon the Warsaw-Ivanogrod-Brest-Litovsk triangle from the south.

At the same time the Russians in southern Galicia, putting up a desperate resistance, were driven by Von Linsingen first to the line of the Dniester and then across the Gnila-Lipa to the line of the Zlota-Lipa.

Reaching the vicinity of Krasnik in their drive to Warsaw from the south, the Austrians sustained a severe check in the scene of their triumph of the previous summer, held on this line the Germans attacked hotly from the north and took the town of Przasnysz (July 14).

The Germans now began the grandest maneuver ever seen in the history of human warfare.

From the Windau river in the Baltic provinces all the way along the border of East Prussia and in a gigantic sweep through the vicinity of Radom, west of the Vistula, and a line south of the Lublin-Chelm railway they delivered smashing blows and have reached the very gates of Warsaw.

LOYD'S BRAIN LEAKS.

By F. S. LOYD:

Newt Dollar says nothing seems funny to some of our town girls after they have discovered that they wrinkle their noses when they laugh.

Miss Mattie Smith says when a girl asks a young man to carry her powder bag in his pocket for her when they are going out together; you can bet that it is all over with him, and he might as well take his medicine, and help her select the wallpaper and the furniture.

Sam Howerton says it is hard to make some people believe that a falsehood is as onery as a plain lie.

Darby Wyatt says the flame of love is a grand thing but it takes a lot of money to keep the pot boiling after you get married.

Aunt Joe Dollar says this would be a fine world if people were as polite all the time as they are when they are trying to sell you something.

A man who was suffering with stomach trouble, and he sought the advice of Dr. Spickard:

"You'll have to quit drinking," said the doctor.

"I can't do that," argued the man.

"Oh yes, you can," replied the doctor. "Every time you feel a craving for drink coming on, just eat an apple and the craving will disappear."

"But how in the ssm hill is a man going to eat eighty or ninety apples a days," demanded the man.

Simeon Heath says if we could see ourselves as others see us, we would hotfoot to an oculist and have our eyes examined.

Noel Baker says Sunday is the occasion Father selects to stay home all day and eat up everything in the house so he will be able to wonder what makes him feel so rotten shabby on Monday.

Mrs. Sue Dason says some of our girls would rather have a muddy complexion than improve it by steaming it over a washtub.

Guy Rice says the trouble with buying engagement rings on the installment plan is that you can't get a mortgage on the girl.

Mrs. Effie Baker says if my husband's faults came out in pimples his face would look as if he had the measles.

THE VOICE OF LOVE.

I like to hear a mother call
To some wee lad at play,
Who has not seen the shadows come
That mark the close of day.

It is a voice of love to me—
None sweeter is of earth;
It gently warns him he must cease
From games and boyish mirth.

I like to hear a mother call,
Because I know some day
That one with tender voice shall bid
Me come from earth away.

I know that I shall want to stay
And play a longer while;
I may complain, but He will watch,
And wait with gentle smile.

And I shall wander from the dusk,
And, folded on his breast,
Discover I was wearied out
And really needing rest.

I think of this, and so I like
To hear a mother call
To some wee lad who plays too long
When evening shadows fall.

WHY SHE WAS SO POWERFUL

Growth of Germany Something Wonderful.

The way Germany scientifically watches and states its growth in population is shown by the following from the monthly paper, the Victoria, in Berlin: "There are perhaps few people who know that Germany had in each hour, according to statistics for 1910, 225 births and 125 deaths, so that the German people have an excess of births over deaths of 100 in each hour. How this movement of the population takes place in one hour is visualized by means of a large board which is displayed at the present exhibition for physical culture in Stuttgart.

"In Germany a child was born every 16 seconds, and a person died every 23 seconds, events indicate by red and black flashing lights. In the average hour there appeared 116 male and 110 female births; six times in one hour a stillbirth is indicated, and twice in one hour twin births. Considerably slower than life does death work, but still too fast for our state of civilization. Every 14 minutes there died in Germany an infant (20 boys and 15 girls in one hour).

"The mechanical device also illustrates certain causes of deaths. Every four and one-half minutes there occurs one death from tuberculosis, every ten minutes one from malignant disease; three times in one hour a person dies by accident, and twice suicide is committed. There died in Germany more people by accident and suicide than from diphtheria, scarlet fever, measles and typhoid taken together. At the end of one hour we see the net result: The German nation has increased by 100 lives. These figures are of course when the German Empire is on a peace footing.—Wall Street Journal.

"Still Fighting for Republicanism," Declares Mack, But,--Well, Read His Masterpiece.

Col. Latt F. McLaughlin, of our own fair village, defeated last Saturday in the Republican primary for the nomination for Governor by Edwin P. Morrow, of Somerset, is not "sore" over his defeat, no, not a bit of it, so he claims, and in order to prove this statement his letter of "condolence" to his victorious opponent, mailed yesterday, is given to the public this morning. Just glance at his masterpiece, herewith reproduced:

Mr. Edwin P. Morrow,

Dear Sir: I hope that you will accept this letter of condolence in the same sincere spirit in which it is written, as the expression of my heartfelt sympathy for you as the republican nominee for governor of Kentucky, by the grace of an unworthy and antiquated organization of political slaves, and bucked and gagged by a liquor controlled mob, at Lexington, June 15th, assembled by a call at the request of perfidy, corruption and dishonor; for, now, you must of necessity spend some of your time and means in a doomed campaign, as you have no more chance to win than a snow ball in Hades. You committed suicide at Lexington and victory for our party was there assassinated.

The trap closed on us Aug., 7th, and the dead-fall will get us November 2nd, unless your soul awakens from selfishness and

Time To Sow Alfalfa.

August 20th, is the best time to plant alfalfa in Kentucky. Some farmers have sown it in the spring with good results, but weeds are apt to get the best of it, while if it is seeded in August, it gets a good start before winter and grows ahead of weeds the next spring.
