MRS. CORA CRIDER DEAD

Shockingly Sudden Death of Beloved Matron At Rochester, Minn., Tuesday.

Tuesday afternoon at 2:40 a message was received in this city by Mr. George M. Crider, informing him of the sudden death of his wife a few moments before in St. Mary's Hospital at Rochester, Minn., where she was thought to be recuperating rapidly. The message came from Mrs. Florence Yandell, sister of the deceased, who accompanied her there and who remained with her after all danger was thought to be over and Mr. Crider decided to return to Marion to look after his business affairs and prepare the home for the early return of his wife. Mr. Crider reached here Saturday morning and no one who knows him ever saw him so enthused over anything as he was over the wonderful operation and rapid recovery apparently, of Mrs. Crider. He told everyone about it and was the center of a group of interested friends every where he went and it was the only thing he could talk about. The message contained no statement of the cause and was indeed a rude shock to the husband who was looking forward to his wife's returning, well and sound.

Mr. Crider left immediately on the three o'clock train for Rochester, Minn. A second message from Mrs. Yandell stated she would meet him with the remains in Chicago and this as telegraphed to Mr. Crider on the train at Morganfield. Later still a third message came saying Mrs. Yandell would wait at Rochester, and this leaves the matter confused, as friends and relatives here do not know when to expect them here.

No death ever occurred in Marion which was so distressing, and none was ever more sincerely lamented. Cora Crider was a christian woman whose works will live in the hearts of those who know her. She was about 45 years old, and leaves besides her husband, her father, J. P. Pierce, one sister, Mrs. W. B. Yandell, and four brothers, Cort and Ira of this city, Norvel, of Woodville, Miss. and Collin, of St. Louis. She was a member of the First Baptist church and one of their greatest workers.

Soudon Grass From Seven To Ten Feet.

W. H. Graves, one of the county's most progressive farmers, living north of Marion, was in the city on a recent afternoon and left a few stalks of Soudon grass at the Crittenden Record-Press office, which measure seven and one-half to eight feet in length. He says that he has a lot more that is ten feet high. Mr. Graves has several acres of this grass and says it is the prettiest and most valuable of any crop raised on a farm and that there is no such thing as failure as it prospers rain or shine. This grass can be cut to great advantage four times a year and all kinds of stock like it. This grass has only been grown in this county recently. The seed came from Texas.

GOOD ROADS MOVE IN LIVINGSTON MEETS DEFEAT

County Fiscal Court After Appropriating $12,000. For Such Work With Surveys, Etc., Made, Rescinds Order.

(Smithland Enterprise, Aug. 26)

The Livingston county fiscal court met at the courthouse last Monday to further consider the State road; to hear the report of the engineer and make such order as seemed best for the people of the county. United States Road Engineer, Walter Brooks, of Paducah, was present and exhibited and explained the road survey setting forth estimates in words and figures as had been deduced from field notes taken by the surveyor. The members of the court were all present, Judge Kendall presiding. The entire morning was taken up in discussion for and against the proposition and early in the afternoon session Esq. Martin moved the court to rescind its former action in making the appropriation of $12,000. for State road purposes and that motion was seconded by Esq. Foley. Those voting for the motion were Esqs. Martin, Foley, Malcome and Scyster; those opposed, Esqs. Jameson and Watson. The motion carried.

The action of the court in rescinding its former order and rejecting the report of the road survey seems to end, for the present at least, road building in this county under the State aid law. After a sober second thought we believe the people of this county will refuse to allow the loss of the $7,500 coming to us from the State.

The Enterprise has done all it could to bring better roads to this county and will keep up the fight. If we fail, as now seems probable, our road tax goes to more progressive counties while we go without roads and plank down the money to build roads in other places. The people can see this and seeing it they ought to raise up and demand of the fiscal court such action as would prevent such loss to our county roads. We have hope that our court will look further into the matter before the loss to us comes.

A Letter From Sharpes, Fla.

A few items from this part of Florida might be of interest to some of Crittenden county people.

I, myself, was born in Livingston county, Ky., having married Miss Bertie Bracey, of Crittenden Co. I feel that Crittenden Co., is very dear to me. We were married in September, 1912, and soon after left our dear old Kentucky home and a short time after landed in this place, having made this our home ever since. We are very much delighted with Florida. This is in the heart of the orange belt, where the fine yellow skinned juicy fruit grows the finest. Sharpes is located on the banks of Old Indian river about 105 miles south of Jacksonville, Fla.

When I began talking about Indian river I can't help but tell of some of its beauties. It is very wide, some places being six miles, but at this particular point is about three miles, and as clear as a crystal. When the nights are real dark it looks almost like a large field of fire, caused by the friction of phosphorus. This river affords a great many kinds of food fish, some few of these are namely: Mullet, Trout, Sheep-head, Whiting and Pompano.

We have in this country a great variety of timber the most valuable of which are Pine, Oak, Hickory, Maple, Red Berry, Magnolia and Palmetto. The Palmetto which towers above other trees looks very much like a huge umbrella.

There are a great many cattle and hogs raised in this section, however, the native herd is not very fine looking but we have some imported stock that is first-class. I believe this state can be made a great stock growing state. Grass grows almost the year round.

And this can not be beat for raising chickens, will tell you what we did then you can guess what can be done. We had fifty chickens hatched and have only lost two, and a varmint, I am sure, caught those.

Will say that the winters can not be surpassed any where in the world, so far as I know. Although I have not been everywhere, but I can't see how the climate could be more pleasant than here.

The summers are rather warm and sometimes during the hot weather, it seems as though I would like to be a little further north. The Dixie Highway—we are pleased to say—will come through this section, down the east coast to Miami. We are looking to this with great anticipation. We hope we will not be disappointed.

We hope your paper much success, and if this does not go to the waste basket, I may write again.

Yours Respectfully,
HENRY LASHER.

ELIJAH'S RETURN AND VICTORY

1. Eliza 11:11 (X)—September 5.
Elijah's experience Typical—King Ahab's Queen Jezebel Also Types. The Picture of a Half Year's Drouth Preached—Twelve Hundred and Sixty Years of Spiritual Drouth.

ELIJAH was a type of the Church of Christ. The Revelation (12:1-14:13) pictures Queen Jezebel as representing a great religious system of the Gospel Age, which did violence to the Truth. King Ahab represented worldly governments claiming to be Christ's kingdom. Queen Jezebel typified a false Church system united to these earthly systems; whereas the true virgin Church of Christ was to remain faithful to her Lord, awaiting His Second Coming, when her marriage to Him was to be accomplished.

Although the true Church is indeed symbolized by a woman, it is also represented by a man, when the picture includes the Lord Jesus Christ, Head of the Church. In Revelation the three and a half years of Elijah's experiences are stated in symbolic language—forty-two months—1260 days. (Revelation 11:2, 3; 12:3, 14; 13:5.) This time is symbolic, each day representing a literal year, the whole period 1260 years. Some Bible scholars have applied this as beginning in 539 A. D. and ending in 1799. As during Elijah's hiding in the wilderness there was no rain, so in the Church's experiences there was a spiritual drouth for 1260 years.

As just before the drouth in Israel ended there was a great contest (related in our lesson) with the victory on the Lord's side, so a great contest took place between Catholicism and Protestantism in the period styled the Reformation. The Revelation pictures the Church as a woman driven into the wilderness—lost to general view. The woman corresponds in the type to Elijah hidden from the king, the queen and the prophets of Baal. As Elijah was fed in the wilderness, so the true Church, secluded from general view, was spiritually fed during the twelve hundred and sixty years of famine.

After emerging from the wilderness condition, the Elijah class did a very courageous work. Spiritual refreshment came abundantly. For a time it looked as though Queen Jezebel had been vanquished, as though the slaying of her prophets with the sword of Truth had exalted God's Word and the true Church. However, the Elijah class again fled from Jezebel.

Why Deprived of Rain. Many express surprise that God's Word is telling a beautiful message of Divine Wisdom, Justice, Love and Power. "How," they say, "is it possible to have so much more light on God's Word than had equally zealous Bible students of the past?"

The twelve hundred and sixty years of spiritual drouth are the explanation. About 300 A. D. Christian bishops began to claim Apostolic power and to style themselves Apostolic Bishops. The claim is still made that the bishops of the Church of Rome, of the Church of England, etc., are of equal authority with the Twelve Apostles. The Bible is to the contrary—that the Twelve Apostles selected by Jesus were to be the only foundations of the Church.

This gradual exaltation of the bishops was given great force by the Emperor Constantine's action in calling for a Church Council at Nice, in 325.

A. D. The Council, under the Emperor's guidance, produced the Nicene Creed as representing the faith of God's people. Additions to the creed were made later on by the bishops. The endorsement of these creeds implied that the bishops making them had the authority, the Divine revelation for the work. The doctrine of Apostolic Succession was subsequently made a feature of the creeds. For twelve centuries there was practically no more Bible study; the Apostolic Bishops had formulated the creeds as proper statements of true faith.

Revival of Bible Study. Twelve centuries after the first expression by the so-called Apostolic Bishops bring us to 1520, when printing had become common. In that year Tyndale published his translation of the New Testament in Germany, because of the opposition of the English clergy, and imported it into London, where the people began to purchase it. Meantime, the Germans were learning something of the New Testament teachings from Luther and his associates. But the English bishops bought up the entire edition of Tyndale's New Testament, and burned the books.

Several other translations were subsequently brought out. Finally the bishops gave the people the Bible, but warped them against any construction different from the creeds—threatening them with eternal torture. Later, the Roman Catholics produced the Douay Bible. This was given to the people with similar threatenings. The conflict proceeded until 1700, when the Bible came into great prominence.

Lincoln's Greatest Ambition

When He Was President.

In the "Interesting People" department of the September American Magazine appears an article about Russell H. Conwell, the famous Philadelphia speaker who has delivered one lecture over five thousand times. In the course of the article Mr. Conwell tells as follows what Abraham Lincoln once said to him:

"No man ought to be ambitious to be President of the United States: when this war is over, and that won't be very long, I tell my Tad we will go back to the farm where I was happier as a boy when I dug potatoes at twenty-five cents per day than I am now. I tell him I will buy him a mule and a pony, and shall have a little cart, and he shall make a little garden in a field of his own."

ANNOUNCEMENT

I have made arrangements with Mr. J. Brown to manage my store at Shady Grove, and am having the house straightened up and made ready for the new stock of goods which are being shipped and expect to be opened up and ready for business August 25th, with a new, clean up-to-date stock of general merchandise.

We will give special attention to the Produce business and will pay CASH for all kinds of country produce at all times.

I want to thank my many friends for their liberal patronage in the past and to assure you that I will appreciate your trade in the future; and if you give me your support I feel sure that I will be able to serve you better in the future than in the past, and promise that I will do my utmost to please you.

Yours truly,

No man respects womanhood more than the American, no American more than the Westerner, and it is precisely in those western States where men are at their noblest towards women, that women are at their freest in their new, human womanhood.

If chivalry is to decline as women advance in all free activity, then we should find it least in our free Western States. This is not so.—Charlotte Perkins Gilman, in Pictorial Review.

Products of Old Home Town.

Do you remember the lazy fellow who used to sit around in the implement store and the barber shops in the old home town and predict the failure of every boy who tried to poke his nose above the common herd? Up in the village of Salem Ill, they used to crack lots of jokes at the expense of a lank and ungainly young fellow who clerked in the village grocery, poled flatboats and split rails for a living. They called him Abe in those days. He became the president of the United States and thousands from far places on the earth visited his tomb at Springfield, Ill., to do him honor. They used to make fun of Bill McAdoo back in the home town. Of course you've heard of Bill. He dug a tunnel under the Hudson river and is secretary of the treasury now. But there are a lot of old tads back in the home town who sort of hope that Bill will fall over something yet and land in the consomme. And Orville Wright was a regular joke in his old town. It is the old home town itself that is the joke.—Machinery.

Have Their Troubles Too With Boy Chicken Thieves.

So numerous have become chicken thieves among boys from 10 to 18 years that the poultry buyers of Mt. Vernon have combined against this element and will not purchase chickens from boys under 18 years unless they are accompanied by their parents when the sale is made.

This the poultry buyers resorted to as a means of relief from the endless bother they are put to by persons who are in search of stolen chickens at their place of business and it also will be the means of discouraging the chicken stealing idea among the boys.

Of the hundreds of chickens stolen recently, most of the work has been done by boys from 10 to 18 years of age, and yesterday the police landed a bunch of confessed chicken thieves in jail. —Harrisburg, Ill., Register.

WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF ROCHESTER, MINN., AND THE MAYOS.

A Typical Northern City Steadily Building Up.

Rochester, Minnesota is one of the finest little cities in all the Northwest. It is in Olmstead county, which county is distinguished as being one of the richest farming counties in the world. Olmstead county is distinguished again in, that she has never had a crop failure for sixty years. The soil of Olmstead county will stand more wet weather and more dry weather and still bring forth her increase than any other county in the United States. That is a broad statement but it can be easily proven. The farmers of this county are in the dairy and live stock business, besides they raise all kinds of farm products—a diversity of crops is carried to the limit.

There are 107 different kinds of grasses grown in Minnesota, and there were 78 kinds on exhibition at one of their fairs a year or so ago. Ninety miles north of here there is one of the ten greatest manufacturing and commercial centers in this country—Minneapolis and St. Paul—twin cities.

The farmers of Olmstead county are up-to-date, in fact up-to-the minute. There is not a barn in Crittenden county that will come up to the average barn in this county. The barns are large and well built with a hip roof and painted red. Nearly all built alike and painted alike. How many painted barns can be found in Crittenden county? I have seen fields of oats that averaged 75 bushels to the acre, and barley that averaged 55 bushels.

Clover grows spontaneous. Some land can be bought for $40, $50, and $75. per acre, while other lands bring up to $150.00.

One of the greatest troubles the farmer has here is the help problem. It is hard to get efficient help notwithstanding the farmer feeds them 5 times per day. In the middle of the forenoon and middle of the afternoon the farmers daughter takes food and hot coffee to the field. Pay them? Oh yes, he pays them $2.50 to $3.50 per day. Common laborers working on the streets in Rochester get $2.50 per day. Carpenters get four and five dollars per day. Bricklayers seven to eight dollars per day. Clerks in the stores get $75.00 to $150.00 per month. I saw carpenters going to their work in automobiles. The fact is there is a boom on in Rochester. There is so much money in Rochester and Olmstead county that her own citizens are doing the buying. When the outside world gets wise to it then it will boom sure enough.

Listen to this. There is to be built right away in this town:—A large building to be occupied as a wholesale house, the Pat Woods building on 4th street, a new electric light and power plant, a new school building, a new church and parsonage, a new 7 story addition to the Colonial Hotel. The Mayo's have bought the old Universalist church property and will double the size of their clinic making it cover half of a block. These are all in the process. In addition there are half a dozen large fine dwellings being erected—more to follow. I saw a 5 acre tract that was sold in May. In two weeks the purchaser was offered $1000. profit. Two weeks ago he was offered $6000. profit. Three lots were sold on College street last week. Today the purchaser was offered $1000. profit. The bank here pay 4 per cent. on time deposits.

The population of Rochester is 10,000. Five years ago it was not half that. Five years from today it will be 20,000 or 25,000. Why, you ask? Because of the Mayo clinic mainly. They perform on an average 35 operations per day. This amounts to about 11000 per year which means 20 or 25000 visitors here every year winter and summer, spring and fall.

This wonderful doctor shop keeps 85 doctors busy. And by the way they are the pick of the country. If the Mayos tell you there is nothing doing you might just as well make out your final papers, administer on your own estate and bid farwell vain world.

I talked with one man who staid here 6 weeks and they examined him every day. They finally made a serum-injected it and after the second injection he left for home. He was soon sound and well. That was a year ago. He has his wife here now for treatment.

This wonderful doctor shop is on the up-grade. The unpaar-elled success of their operations has attracted attention over the whole world and people are here from every clime. You know nothing succeeds like success and there is no telling to what proportions this doctor shop will grow. It is conceded that physicians and surgeons are the biggest cowards in the world when they get sick and have to undergo the knife ordeal. They want to know they are getting the best of the course and right here is where they come.

It is very easy to see now why Rochester, Minn., will double in the next five years.

A man from California said he kept hearing what the Mayo's owned and what they were interested in. They had stock in this hotel and that enterprise. It seemed to him they were in everything. He saw a cat crossing the street, so he said: "Kittie, who do you belong to?" The cat replied, "Meou" (Mayo). That is the right sort of public spirit by the way. They made their money here, so why shouldn't they invest it at home. It shows that their hearts are under the right lapels of their vests.—G. M. C.

POLITICAL AGITATORS

POLITICIANS WHO CAPITALIZE STRIKE A MENACE TO GOVERNMENT.

Neglect of Agricultural and Industrial Opportunities a National Crime.

By Peter Radford.

There never was a time in the history of this nation when we needed statesmen more or agitators less than at the present moment. The opportunities now afforded us on land and sea demand the best there is in statecraft and the possibilities that are confronting us call for national issues that unite the people, build industry and expand trade. The agricultural and industrial development of this nation has suffered severely at the hands of agitators who have sent torpedoes crashing into the port side of business and whose neglect of the interests of the farmer makes them little less than political criminals. We want no more of these evil spirits to predominate in government. Too long their hysterical cry has sent a shiver down the spinal column of industry. Too long have the political agitators capitalized strife, pillaged progress and murdered opportunity. An industrial corpse is not a desirable thing, a crippled business an achievement or neglect an accomplishment about which any representative of the government has a right to boast.

Issues that Breed Agitators Should be Eliminated.

The political agitator must be eliminated from public life before thoughtful consideration can be given to a constructive program in government. The liquor question is the most prolific breeding ground for agitators and whether pro or anti, the hatch is equally as undesirable. This article is in no sense a discussion of the liquor question but deals solely and by way of illustration with the political products of that issue. Other subjects will be dealt with in the order of their importance.

In the history of our government the liquor issue has never produced a constructive statesman worth mentioning and it never will. It has sent more freaks to Congress, Lilliputians to the Senate and incompetents to office than any other political issue under the sun.

The recent experience of the English Parliament which lashed itself into a fury over the liquor question has a lesson that it is well for the farmers of this nation to observe; for the subject in some form or other is constantly before the public for solution and oftentimes to the exclusion of more important problems to the American people.

Too Many Political Drunkards.

Lloyd George, the Prohibition leader of Europe who led the prohibition fight in England, has declared that he will never again take a drink politically and there are many American politicians—pro and anti—who would render their country a service by climbing on the water wagon or signing a pledge of political temperance. Too often our legislative halls are turned into political bar-rooms and many of the members become intoxicated on liquor discussions. We have too many political drunkards—pro and anti—in our public affairs. No one who is a slave to the political liquor habit is quite so capable of dealing with the business affairs of government as the sober and industrious. We have few public men in this day who are strong enough to resist the temptation of strong drink politically and when the demon Rum once becomes firmly entrenched in the mind of a politician, he is less capable of meeting the demands for constructive statesmanship now confronting this nation.

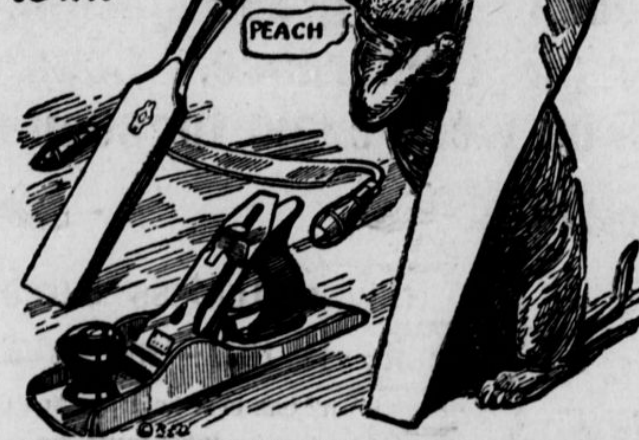

We have in this country too many red-nosed politicians—both pro and anti. A candidate with political delirium tremens, a preacher with political snakes in his boots and an agitator drunk on the liquor question are the saddest sights in civilization and they should all be forced to take the political Keeley Cure.

It is far more important in government to make it easier for those who toil to eat than to make it more difficult for a few toper to drink. There is not one person in one hundred of our rural population that ever touches liquor but we all eat three times a day.

THE LAYMAN'S DUTY

There never was a time when preachers and politicians formed an unholy alliance that civilization did not shriek out and Christianity cry aloud. Since the beginning of government, politicians have sought to decoy the ministry into the meshes of politics and make them carry banners in political processions. They have taken the ministry to the mountain-top of power and offered to make them monarchs of all they surveyed, and while most of them have said, "Get thee behind me Satan," a few have fallen with a crash that has shaken every pulpit in Christendom.

PRAYER OF THE MAN WHO'D BE SQUARE.

Teach me that sixty minutes make one hour, sixteen ounces one pound, and one hundred cents one dollar.

Help me to live so that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow and unharmed by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain.

Grant, I beseech thee, that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and in doing thereof that I may not stick the gaff where it does not belong.

Deafen me to the jingle of tainted money and the rustle of unholy skirts.

Blind me to the faults of the other fellow, but reveal to me mine own.

Guide me so that each night when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal.

Keep me young enough to laugh with my children and to lose myself in their play.

And when comes the smell of flowers and the tread of soft steps, and the crushing of the hearse's wheels in the gravel out in front of my place, make the ceremony short and the epitaph smile: "Here Lies a Man."—Homer McKee.

"SEND OUT SUCCOR" CALL
Munition Ship in Distress.—Bomb May Have Exploded—Faint Message All That Could Be Heard.

NEW YORK, July 29.—At 10 minutes before ten o'clock last night the United States naval wireless station on Fire Island caught an S. O. S. signal out of the air. Before the ship which was calling for help could give her name or position, still less any details, the message was broken off. Apparently the ship which was sending the call was unable to finish.

For 40 minutes the Fire Island station kept calling back in the hope that the break was only temporary and that in time it could get further information. Then, as nothing else followed the first S. O. S. the Fire Island station began passing the news to all wireless stations up and down the coast and to ships at sea, telling them to keep a sharp watch for signs of any trouble.

The message was caught at the Marconi station at Sea Gate, at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, and at the coast guard ship Mohawk lying at Quarantine. The Mohawk is in readiness to set out at any time to the rescue of a ship in distress nearby. Attempts were made to reach the great station at Sayville and find out if a message had been caught there, but the Say-ville plant's telephone was out of order. So was that of the Fire Island plant. The Sea Gate station, with which communication from Manhattan was possible for a few minutes about 11 o'clock, could not be reached again.

It is believed in well informed circles that the ship calling for help was perhaps some vessel sailing with munitions from this port which had been damaged by bombs placed in the cargo, or perhaps attacked by a German submarine.

When you have an achey, stretchy feeling and you are dull, tired and discouraged it is a sign of approaching malaria or chills. You should act quickly to ward off an attack. HERMINE offers you the help you need. It destroys the malarial germ, drives out all impurities and makes you feel bright, vigorous and cheerful. Price 50c. Sold by J. H. Orme, Marion, Ky.

LOYD'S BRAIN LEAKS.

By F. S. LOYD:

Uncle George Stallions says it isn't the most inspiring thing in the world to see Uncle Billie Lloyd dig down into his pocket, pull out a purse, unwrap the blame thing, fish around for a nickle, look at the coin three times and squeeze it to make certain it is not a dime when he goes to buy anything, but you can bet that when he dies they don't have to take up a collection to bury him.

Emma Watson says when Father comes home from work and don't find a dozen things to fuss about, Mother begins to worry for fear he is sick.

Tom Bugg says you could take the bed out of a girl's bedroom and it might take her an hour to notice it was missing. But if you took the mirror off the dresser she would notice its absence the moment she stepped into the room.

Swelling of the flesh caused by inflammation, cold, fractures of the bone, toothache, neuralgia or rheumatism can be relieved by applying BAL-LARD'S SNOW LINIMENT. It should be well rubbed in over the part affected. Its great healing and penetrating power eases the pain, reduces swelling and restores natural conditions. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle. If your child is pale and sickly, picks at the nose, starts in the sleep and grinds the teeth while sleeping, it is a sure sign of worms. BANKERS URGED TO CO-OPERATE WITH FARMERS

SOUL MATERIAL HAS ENTERED THE BANK VAULTS OF THE NATION.

By Peter Radford.

One of the greatest opportunities in the business life of the nation lies in practical co-operation of the country banks with the farmer in building, agriculture and the adventure is laden with greater possibilities than any forward movement now before the American public.

A few bankers have loaned money to farmers at a low rate of interest, and oftentimes without compensation, to buy blooded livestock, build silos, fertilize the land, secure better seed, hold their products for a better market price, etc. The banker in contributing toward improving the grade of livestock; the quality of the seed and the fertility of the soil, plants in the agricultural life of the community a fountain of profit, that, like Thompson's brook, runs on and on forever. Community Progress a Bank Asset.

The time was when money loaned on such a basis would severely test the sanity of the banker; such transactions would pain the directors like a blow in the face. A cashier who would dare to cast bread upon waters that did not return buttered side up in time for annual dividends would have to give way to a more capable man. This does not necessarily mean that the bankers are getting any better or that the milk of human kindness is being imbibed more freely by our financiers. It indicates that the bankers are getting wiser, becoming more able financiers and the banking industry more competent. The vision of the builder is crowding out the spirit of the pawnbroker. A light has been turned on a new world of investment and no usurer ever received as large returns on the investment as these progressive bankers, who made loans to uplift industry. The bankers have always been liberal city builders, but they are now building agriculture.

A Dollar With a Soul.

It is refreshing in this strenuous commercial life to find so many dollars with souls. When a dollar is approached to perform a task that does not directly yield the highest rate of interest, we usually hear the rustle of the eagle's wings as it soars upward; when a dollar is requested to return at the option of the borrower, it usually appeals to the Goddess of Liberty for its contractual rights; when a dollar is asked to expand in volume to suit the requirements of industry, it usually talks solemnly of its redeemer, but soul material has entered into the vaults of our banks and rate, time and volume have a new basis of reckoning in so far as the ability of some of the bankers permit them to co-operate in promoting the business of farming.

God Almighty's Noblemen.

These bankers are God Almighty's noblemen. Heaven lent earth the spirit of these men and the angels will help them roll in place the cornerstones of empires. They are not philanthropists; they are wise bankers. The spirit of the builder has given them a new vision, and wisdom has visited upon them business foresight.

The cackle of the hen, the low of kine and the rustle of growing crops echo in every bank vault in the nation and the shrewd banker knows that he can more effectively increase his deposits by putting blue blood in the veins of livestock; quality in the yield of the soil and value into agricultural products, than by business handshakes, overdrafts and gaudy calendars.

Taking the community into partnership with the bank, opening up a ledger account with progress, making thrift and enterprise stockholders and the prosperity of the country an asset to the bank, put behind it stability far more desirable than a letterhead bearing the names of all the distinguished citizens of the community. The bank is the financial power house of the community and blessed is the locality that has an up-to-date banker.

POLITICAL PRAYER MEETINGS

It is a sad day for Christianity when the church bells call the communicants together for a political prayer meeting. Such gatherings mark the high tide of religious political fanaticism, put bitterness into the lives of men; fan the flames of class hatred and destroy Christian influence in the community. The spirit actuating such meetings is anarchistic, un-Christian and dangerous to both church and state.

The success of the nation is in the hands of the farmer.

ATTENTION.

The attention of our readers is called to the sale of the George H. Foster farm noted elsewhere in this paper. It is one of the best in the county and has been grazed and fertilized heavily for years. For many years all the manure from Foster's livery barn here was put on this place, and it was greatly enriched thereby. The Salem Mail route 2 times a day each way passes the door. The Tolu Star Route passes each way once a day. Rural Route No. 3, from Marion also passes the farm. 100 acres is in grass and the 80 acres in corn this year had been in grass many years. Oak Grove School House is just across the road, and Marion Graded and High School in easy reach being only 2 miles away and pupils can go from this place to school each morning.

For The Government Railroad in Alaska.

Seattle, Wash.—The first cargo of construction equipment shipped by the United States Government from the Panama Canal Zone to Alaska, where it will be employed in the building of the Federal railroad, has just gone north on the steamship Sinaloa, after stopping here for bunker coal. The cargo will be taken direct to anchorage on Cook Inlet.

The equipment consists of 2,400 tons of boilers, knocked-down locomotives and huge cranes and derricks used during the building of the Panama Canal. Some of the pieces weigh eight to ten tons each.

Other cargoes will be shipped north to be ready for use next spring.

According to shipping gossip, the Sinaloa is getting a rate of $20 a ton for this contract, or $48,000 for the cargo. This rate is because of the scarcity of ocean tonnage as a result of the European war.

Digs Into Grave; Gets

Deed From Dead Man.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Digging into the grave of her uncle, Jay Wheaton, who died four years ago, Mrs. John Wheaton, of Fairmount, N. Y., took from the hands of the dead man a deed to her home, thereby ending a fight for the property begun by relatives.

Mrs. Wheaton says her uncle gave her the house, the transfer becoming effective at his death. After his burial she was unable to find the deed, but continued to live in the house. Recently other relatives sought to gain possession, and then she remembered seeing some papers in her uncle's hand when he lay in the coffin. She hired a man named Degan, and together they exhumed the body and obtained the document. Mrs. Wheaton says the papers were buried with her uncle in an effort to defraud her.

TELLS OF HER

Appetite So Ravenous She Is Afraid Board Bill Will Be Raised.

Louisville, Ky., September 1.—Mrs. Leon S. Beam, wife of a well-known traveling salesman, who resides with her mother in Bardstown, came to Louisville recently for the sole purpose of expressing her gratitude for the remarkable accomplishment of the new medicine, Tanlac. She said:

"I have been frightfully nervous and so run-down. I was short of breath, and slight noises which did not formerly disturb me, upset my nerves dreadfully. If I had any energy I really did not realize it. I took little interest in anything, and when those distressing headaches came upon me I was almost frantic. My digestion was bad and I had no appetite."

Three or four doses of Tanlac made me feel decidedly better. I have used a whole bottle of Tanlac, and am improved in every way. My digestion is better, my nerves are in an excellent condition, and I have more color and feel stronger than I have in two or three years. Really, I have the most ravenous appetite, and my only fear is that my mother will be forced to increase my board bill."

Tanlac, the premier preparation, that brought such quick relief to Mrs. Beam and thousands of others can be obtained in Marion at J. H. Orme's Drug store also at A. T. Brown's at Blackford, Ky.

VICTIM OF MOB

International Representative of United Mine Workers of America Claims he Was Assaulted

Central City, Ky., Aug. 23.—Calling upon Acting Gov. McDermott to suggest some means for the "abolition of feudalism in Kentucky," W. O. Smith, international representative of the United Mine Workers of America today addressed an open letter to the Governor.

Smith charges that he was the victim of mob assault and was grossly insulted on a recent visit to Clay, Webster County, Ky. He asserts he was attacked by mine guards and that, altho he appealed to both the town marshal and the Sheriff for protection, neither of them came to his aid. Smith's letter follows:

"Central City, Ky., Aug. 23.
"Hon. Edward J. McDermott,
"Acting Gov. of Ky.
"Frankfort, Ky.

"My Dear Sir: I desire to ask some very important questions relating to my constitutional rights and particularly to my right of personal liberty as a citizen of my state and as a citizen of my country."

"On Thursday, the 19th inst., in company with Mr. J. V. Pogg of Madisonville, Ky., I went to Clay, Webster county, Ky. After registering at the Watson Hotel, the only hotel in the city, we went to the home of Mr. Welch, a former neighbor of mine. Shortly after arriving at Mr.

Welch's home I received a mysterious telephone call but failed to learn who called me.

"On our way back to the hotel we were shadowed by a number of coal company guards who even followed us to our rooms in the hotel. On the following morning we again went to the home of Mr. Welch. On our way back to the hotel we were met by three guards who accosted us and, after asking us, with an oath, what we were doing in Clay, began to hurl bitter epithets at us. In a moment they were joined by two more guards. One of the number took hold of me and told the others to 'Beat hell out of my friends.'"

"Being on a peaceful mission, not being armed and having no desire to have any difficulty with them, we started on to our hotel. But the guards accompanied us, cursing and abusing us all the while. When we arrived at the hotel I ask the proprietor if he could afford any protection to his guests. He said there was nothing he could do. I then sent for the Chief of Police who sent word that he could not come to the hotel and that if we wanted to see him we would have to come out on the street. I then telephoned to the Sheriff of the county who said he could do nothing unless some act of violence was committed. Now this all happened in an incorporated town, in the county of Webster, and in the grand old Commonwealth of Kentucky.

"While it is true that I had gone to Clay as a representative of organized labor, in the interest of the enslaved miners in the employment of Western Ky. coal company, I had not been on the company's premises nor had I been off the public streets of the city. I had not even spoken to an employee of the company.

"We were only exercising one of our constitutional rights, the right of personal liberty, going where we pleased to go, where we had an undisputed right to go so long as we did not interfere with the rights of others. When we were abused, insulted, assaulted and deprived of our constitutional rights by a mob made up of heartless thugs whose primary duty is to intimidate and coerce the miners of this county and insult, assault and drive out of the county their would-be emancipators.

"Recognizing your ability as a lawyer and truly believing that you appreciate the supreme importance of every one enjoying in the fullest measure the fundamental rights of personal liberty and personal security. I would be pleased to have you offer some suggestion that may lead to the abolition of feudalism in Kentucky, some suggestion that may be the means of affording protection to law abiding citizens in the exercise of their constitutional rights.

"Very truly yours,
W. O. SMITH,
International Representative,
United Mine Workers of America."

WHY SHOULD WOMEN VOTE?

WOMAN'S SUFFRAGE FROM THE VIEWPOINT OF LEADING FARMERS.

Why should women vote? That is the question that is ringing from ocean to ocean and reverberating from the Canadian boundary to the Mexican border. It is the mission of a newspaper to give the news and the action of the Texas Farmers' Union in opposing woman's suffrage when that question was recently before the Texas legislature is significant as representing the attitude of the organized farmmen. We reproduce in part the argument presented by Hon. W. D. Lewis, president of the Texas Farmers' Union, in opposing the bill:

"It is gratifying to note that it is not the farmer's wife who is clamoring for the ballot. She is too busy trying to make happier homes, molding the minds of future citizens and sharing with her husband the cares of life to indulge in political gossip. The ballot will give her no relief from drudgery, give no assistance in clothing the children or bring to the home additional comforts, conveniences or opportunities in life. It is, as a rule, the city woman promoted to idleness by prosperity, who is leading the suffragette movement.

"From many standpoints, perhaps a woman has as much right to vote as a man. So has she as much right to plow as a man; she has as much right to work in a factory as a man; she has as much right to shoulder a musket as a man, but we would rather she would not do so from choice and we regret that necessity oftentimes compels her to earn a living by engaging in gainful occupations. We do not consider misfortune a qualification for suffrage or a business accident a reason for granting franchise. We are opposed to woman at the ballot box the same as we are opposed to woman in the field, in the factory or in the army and for the self-same reasons. We had rather see her plant flowers than sow wheat; gather bouquets than pick cotton and rear children than raise political issues, although she may have as much right to do one as the other.

Opposed to Unequaling Humanity.

"Sex qualification for suffrage may have its apparent inconsistencies. No general rule adjusts itself perfectly to all conditions. It is a favorite argument advanced by the proponents of woman's suffrage that many cultivated and noble women are far more capable of intelligently exercising sovereignty than a worthless negro, but the South never was anxious for negro suffrage, and while culture and refinement, and even morality, are desirable virtues, they are not the only qualifications for franchise.

"The primary, inherent and inseparable fitness for suffrage is supporting a family. The plow handle, the forge and the struggle for bread afford experience necessary to properly mark the ballot. Government is a great big business and civilization from the very beginning assigned woman the home and man the business affairs of life.

"There has been much freakish legislation enacted during the past decade that no doubt appeals to woman's love for the ridiculous, but to undertake to unsex the human race by law is the height of legislative folly and a tragedy to mankind.

"We are opposed to the equal rights of woman—we want her to ever remain our superior. We consider woman's desire to seek man's level the yellow peril of Twentieth Century civilization.

"Woman is the medium through which angels whisper their messages to mankind; it is her hand that plants thoughts in the intellectual vineyard; it is through her heart that hope, love and sympathy overflow and bless mankind. Christ—the liberator of woman-kind—was satisfied to teach the lessons of life and He was a man. He chose to rule over human hearts and refused worldly power and men followed after Him, women washed His feet. Little children climbed upon His knees and the Ruler of the universe said that in Him He was well pleased. Can woman find a higher calling?"

THEMISTOCLES

When Themistocles was asked by his host at a dinner party to entertain the guests by playing the lute, he replied that he could not play the fiddle, but that he could make a small town a great city. We have in this nation many politicians who are good "fiddlers," but they cannot make a small town a great city. We are over-run with orators who can play upon the passions of the people, but they can't put brick and mortar together. We need builders.

Let those who hunger and thirst for power understand that the highest glory of a statesman is to construct, and that it is better for a man that he should build a public highway than that he should become Governor of a state, and that he start a plow than that he become the author of a law. The true test of statesmanship is the plow and the hammer, so let those who would govern, first build.

Will Democrats Endorse Submission of Woman Suffrage?

Mrs. Murray Hubbard, of Ft. Thomas, Ky., and Her Little Son.

Mrs. Hubbard is chairman of a committee of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, numbering 17,000 women, which is trying to get woman suffrage into the platform of the political parties. She is also Congressional Chairman of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association, which numbers 15,000 women.

The Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs, numbering 17,000 women, voted in May to ask the political parties of Kentucky to put into their platforms, a plank calling for the submission by the next legislature of a constitutional amendment to the voters of Kentucky granting full suffrage to the women of the State.

Mrs. Murray Hubbard, of Ft. Thomas, as the member of the Federation who offered the resolution calling for action by the political parties, was made the chairman of a committee to urge this plank.

Her Success to Date

Mrs. Hubbard's first effort was to get action from the Republican Convention in June. She got the plank endorsing submission. Those present say it brought forth more applause from the Convention than any other plank of the platform.

The Prohibition Party stands this year, as always, for woman suffrage. The leaders of the Progressive Party have assured Mrs. Hubbard that the Progressives will re-enact their former platform, of which one of the most vigorous planks was for woman suffrage.

Will the Democrats Stand By Their Principles?

Mrs. Hubbard will not ask the Resolutions Committee of the Democratic Convention for a plank endorsing woman suffrage; she will merely ask for a plank endorsing submission of the question to the voters. Surely this is Democracy pure and simple. The women are not trying to force suffrage down the throats of the Democrats, they are simply asking them to submit the question. If the women, who can never cast a single ballot in their own behalf, are willing to take their chances with the men of Kentucky, surely a Legislature of men, or a political party of men, especially one that calls itself Democratic, if its members have the courage we expect in Kentuckians, will be brave enough to submit the case to the men voters.

President Woodrow Wilson has said that woman suffrage is a question for the states to settle. The Democrats in Congress have refused Federal suffrage because they believe in the States' Rights doctrine. Then the Democratic party of a state, when the women of that state ask suffrage by the States' Rights method, will surely endorse their having a hearing before the people. That is Democracy and it is common justice. Every subject citizen even should have his chance in court.

Speaker Champ Clark has said that the coming of woman suffrage is as inevitable as the rising of the morning sun. Even a blind man must see now that the question is not whether suffrage will come, but merely when it will come. Over 4,000,000 women in the United States are now eligible to vote in Presidential elections; 49% of the territory of the United States is now "free white territory," as it is marked on the suffrage maps. Ninety-one electors of the electoral college are sent there by the votes of women as well as men.

The Effete East

For the first time suffrage is being submitted to the vote of the people in the Eastern states; in four of these states the submission bill has triumphantly passed two successive legislatures with overwhelming majorities. The people will vote on the question in New Jersey in October. At the November elections, the Keystone State of Pennsylvania will vote, the Empire State of New York will vote, and the State of Massachusetts, where, perhaps, the Pilgrim Fathers are turning over in their graves, and where it is to be hoped the Pilgrim Mothers are turning over also—as the worm turns finally—to see their daughters come into their own after so many generations.

The Solid South

But to a Southerner, even more significant is the breaking of the solid South on the woman suffrage question. The legislature of West Virginia, first of all the states south of the Mason and Dixon's Line, has voted to submit the question to the people; it goes to the vote in November, 1917. Within a few weeks of the time West Virginia voted, the legislatures of Arkansas and Tennessee both voted to submit, and in the lower house of Texas, the Submission Bill lost by only four votes, polling 90, when 94 would have carried it. In Tennessee and Arkansas the bill must go to the legislatures again, but Tennessee women have an additional chance in that a Constitutional Convention has been called, partly as a result of their efforts, to which they will also put their cause.

Will Kentucky Lead or Follow?

In the year 1838, Kentucky men granted school suffrage to a limited class of women. This was the first suffrage granted any English speaking women in the modern movement for the political emancipation of women. Will Kentucky lead now or will she follow? The time has passed when she can any longer lead the Union, as she used to do in early days, when her statesmen shaped national policies. But she still has a chance to lead the states of the South. Will she do it?

If the Democratic Party in Kentucky endorses the submission of the woman suffrage question, and the next legislature passes the bill, Kentucky men have a bare chance to lead the South, as in the old days they lead it. If the Democratic Convention fails to do this, if the Legislature of 1916 fails to do this, Kentucky has no chance; for, it is practically certain that other Southern states will come in before she has another opportunity to submit the question to her people. Kentucky men, do you want to lead or to follow to justice to your women and in appreciation of their service?

What the Great Commoner Says

"As for myself, I am not in doubt as to my duty. I desire to present the argument to which I give the greatest weight—the mother's right to a voice in moulding the environment which shall surround her children. She has proven herself equal to every responsibility imposed upon her. LET HER VOTE!"

"WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN"

SUFFRAGE IN GEORGIA WOULD HELP MORE THAN LYNCHINGS.

The Mayor of Atlanta tries to justify the lynching of Frank upon the ground that when it comes to a woman's honor, there is no limit we will not go to avenge and protect. A fair standard by which to measure the desire of the men of a State to protect the honor of women is the law fixing the "age of consent" for girls. Georgia is the only State in the Union which has no Statute on the subject, precedent has fixed it sometimes at ten and sometimes at twelve years. The age of consent in the woman suffrage states is from eighteen to twenty-one years. Even in Kentucky, one of the backward states in this respect, it is sixteen years. The Georgia Legislature of 1914, which rejected a woman suffrage bill, also rejected a bill to raise the age of consent for girls. Just as the Kentucky Legislature of 1914, which rejected a suffrage submission bill also rejected a bill to raise the age of consent from sixteen to eighteen. Georgia is one of the most backward states in the Union as to the protection of working women and children. At the time Mary Phagan was assaulted and murdered in the Atlanta factory, she was under fourteen years. Georgia was one of the four states in the Union allowing children to work in factories at night, and one of a very small number in the Union allowing children under fourteen to work in factories at all.

It is time Georgia men realized that talk of "Southern Chivalry" no longer goes. The country is judging Georgia by the protection she actually gives her women and children, not by her talk about chivalry; and it is not justifying the lawless acts of the lynchers either by the hypocritical excuse of the Mayor of Atlanta. The women of Georgia have a right to demand the right to protect themselves by law, for with all their lynchings the men of Georgia have absolutely failed to protect them. The State that really wants to protect women will be found ready to give them the protection of the ballot.

SPECIAL BARGAIN OFFER.

Suffragists who want to get the news of the suffrage movement the world over and in every state of the Union should subscribe for The Woman's Journal, published in Boston, founded by Lucy Stone and Henry Blackwell; now edited by their daughter, Miss Alice Stone Blackwell. It is the oldest suffrage paper published in the world, and it is today the newest and the most special organ published, for it deals with the latest topic going—the completion of the age-old struggle for individual political liberty. Our American Revolution was an episode in this struggle still going on in most parts of the world; taxation without representation is tyranny today as it was in '76. The Woman's Journal is a weekly paper, good print and good paper. Price, $1.00 a year; or for trial subscriptions, 50c for six months; 25c for four months. Under a special offer now prevailing, 30c of every dollar subscribed in Kentucky goes to the local suffrage work. Send in your name and dollar to State Headquarters of the Fayette Equal Rights Association, 726 McClelland Building, Lexington, Ky.

SUFFRAGE CONVENTION IN LEXINGTON IN NOVEMBER.

Lexington has won out over Louisville and Covington, and will get the Annual Meeting of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association. It will be held in the early part of November. Mrs. Phillip Snowden, the famous English suffragist, will speak at the convention. Other speakers of national reputation will be announced later. Lexington suffragists will entertain the visiting suffragists. County suffrage leagues are asked to notify Mrs. Desha Breckinridge, President, at Lexington, at once of the persons they desire to send as delegates, that entertainment may be provided.

THOSE WHO CAN, DON'T (?)

Over four hundred thousand adults in Kentucky can not read or write. Many of those who can read, make it a point not to. Is this the reason that woman suffrage which is sweeping the rest of the country, has gone so slowly in Kentucky? The suffragists are calling on the men of Kentucky who can read and write to find out what is going on in the world, and to get Kentucky into the procession.

WHY WE OPPOSE WOMEN TRAVELING IN RAILWAY TRAINS.

(An Anti-Suffragist's Reason.)

1. Because traveling in trains is not a natural right.
2. Because our great-grandfathers never asked to travel in trains.
3. Because woman's place is in the home, not the train.
4. Because it is unnecessary; there is no point reached by train that cannot be reached on foot.
5. Because it will double the work of conductors, engineers and brakemen, who are already overburdened.
6. Because men smoke and play cards in trains. Is there any reason to believe that women will behave better?

A WOMAN'S BACK

THE ADVICE OF THIS MARION WOMAN IS OF CERTAIN VALUE.

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Oftimes 'tis the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Earlington women know this. Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. Henry Clements, Earlington, Ky., says: "I was in such great pain from kidney trouble that I had to scream aloud. I don't know what caused the trouble. My back was so sore and lame that I had to catch ahold of chairs when walking. My limbs were swollen and dizzy and my head ached nearly all the time. Doan's Kidney Pills made me feel much better in every way. I believe that they saved my life. I am now entirely cured and enjoying better health than I have been for years."

Price 50 cents at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Clements had. Fester-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. 8-269-2

LOUISVILLE SILO & TANK CO.

Incorporated.

HIGH GRADE SILOS

Made of Long Leaf Pine and Oregon Fir

A Few Reasons Why You Should Buy a "Louisville" Silo

1. Because it is easy to erect.
2. Because we guarantee every part of it.
3. Because our silo is second, to none on the market.
4. Because it is a silo on which each and every feature has been tested and is not an experiment.
5. Because all our doors are made of California red-wood, which shrinks and swells less than any wood on the market.
6. Because our doors are easy to remove and replace, and cannot stick or bind.
7. Because we own our own patents, and do not have to pay any royalty, thus saving the farmer from $15.00 to $25.00 on his silo.
8. Because the hoops can be adjusted from the ladder front door frame without the necessity of climbing all around the silo on a ladder.
9. Because we are not in the silo trust. Because it is HOME INDUSTRY.
