

The Crittenden Record

No. 19.

Marion, Crittenden County Kentucky, Thursday Morning, Nov. 11, 1915.

NEW RAILROAD INTO METROPOLIS

Hundred Miles to Grayville Will be Started Within Few Months.—
I. C. Would be in Control.

LEGAL STEPS BEING TAKEN.

According to Henry B. Pierce, of Golconda, Ill., owner of large spar mines in the Ozark mountains of Southern Illinois, work will be started within the next few months, probably early in the spring of 1916, on a hundred miles of railroad extending from Metropolis, Ill., to Grayville, Ill. Mr. Pierce was in Paducah yesterday and this morning.

Legal steps have been taken to secure control of a charter granted the Toledo, St. Louis & New Orleans railroad and Gulf Lines, connecting railroad of Illinois, quo warranto proceedings having been instituted by Mr. Pierce for the Illinois Central Railroad company which seeks to secure the T. St. L. and N. O. charter. Right-of-way for the one hundred mile route through Southern Illinois has already been secured and as soon as a decision has been rendered by Judge Eagleton, who has the case under advisement at Carmi, Illinois.

WILL COST THREE MILLION.

Mr. Pierce said this morning the Illinois Central's new line would cost approximately $3,000,000 and would be completed within the next two years—at least by the time the Paducah & Illinois bridge at Metropolis is completed.

As soon as the line through Golconda, Ill., from Grayville to Metropolis is completed, the Illinois Central will route practically all of its heavy freight from Chicago and the northwest to the south over the Metropolis bridge and through Paducah. This will mean an immense saving to the Illinois Central, which under its present charter, must pay $7 out of every $100 to the state of Illinois. In addition to this saving, the Illinois Central will have a three-tenths of one percent grade and will not have a curve of over 1.3 degrees.

The line from Metropolis to Grayville, where the I. C. will connect with the old P. D. & E. (now owned by the Illinois Central) will be double-track.

I. C. CLAIMS HOLD-UP.

The Illinois Central's counsel (or that representing Mr. Pierce in the hearing before Judge Eagleton) contends that the T. St. L. & N. O. has no intention of constructing a railroad over the route surveyed several years ago (and which the I. C. desires now) and that they renewed their charter in 1912 for the purpose of securing a compromise from some other road.

The construction of the Metropolis-Grayville line would open up the valuable spar mines of Southern Illinois, as well as afford a new outlet for the big coal fields in that section. It also will open up a new trade for Paducah as residents of that section would have a straight route into Paducah via the bridge.—Paducah News Democrat.

There are twice as many people in the United States as there were in 1880, and three times as many as at the outbreak of the Civil War.

COUNTY FARMERS TAKE WARNING

Begin Now to Be On The Safe Side
By Treating Your Hogs And Keep the Disease Away.

Farmers must watch worms and lice on their hogs. These two pests with dirty beds and pens will sure bring cholera. We can avoid this epidemic this winter with which our neighbors are suffering, if we will begin in time. Use Crude Petroleum to rid the hogs of lice and nits, and the following mixture, recommended by the Government, for worms and general health improving: 1 bu. charcoal, 1 bu. wood ashes, 8 lbs. air slacked lime, 8 lbs. salt, 4 lbs. sulphur, 4 lbs. copperas, powdered and mixed together and kept before the hogs in a trough.

Cholera takes from the Kentucky Farmers annually $2,000,000.00. This can be avoided if we will take proper care of the hogs. If all Crittenden County Farmers will take this precaution we will save our portion of this loss. Livingston County hogs are affected at this date. Do not wait until tomorrow, begin today and keep hog cholera out of the County.

NOTICE TO CLUB BOYS: All records, both for corn and pig club members of 1915, should be completed and sent in as soon as possible. I hope to get every record blank, book and sheet from both farmers and club boys whether accurately kept or not sent in or brought in as the Government has called on me for these reports. I have to make out my annual reports and send in these records, and it will be of great assistance to me if the holders of them will send in to this office as soon as possible, as my reports are very long and it will take considerable time.

I want to call attention to all Farmers in the County to a special meeting to be held in the Court House, Nov. 17th, at 10 a. m. We hope to have Mr. Morgan O. Hughes, of Bowling Green, Ky., with us at this meeting. Everybody invited.

At a meeting held Nov. 2nd., it was decided to hold a Fair in Crittenden County in 1916, in the last week of August. Mr. Jim Fowler was elected president.

We wish to thank the Farmers Bank for a check of $10.00, Mr. Geo. M. Crider $1.00, Mr. Jesse Olive $1.00 and Mr. Sullinger $1.00 to help make up the deficit in this year's Fair Fund.

Governor McCreary Wants Arbor Day Observed

Frankfort, Ky., Oct. 30.—Arbor Day in Kentucky will be November 12. Gov. McCreary designated the day in a proclamation saying in part: "The attention of all people, and especially the teachers and pupils of all the schools and colleges, is called to this proclamation and the importance of planting trees. Every proper effort should be made for the renewal of our forests."

"Other states are giving much attention to Arbor day and there had been great development in the last decade along forestry lines. I call upon the people to give more attention to the observance of Arbor day in Kentucky than has been given heretofore. The students of all colleges should take an active interest in the setting out of trees, and the pupils of every common school in the state can render great service by each of them setting out one or two trees on Arbor day."

"School houses, home yards, public roads and pastures should be beautified with trees. Our national forests are diminishing, and we must not only save what is left of the forests, but we must reforest the cut over, the burned over and the unforested districts of the state."

W. R. Cruce no Better.

The many friends of W. R. Cruce, democratic county committeeman of Crittenden county will regret to learn that he is still confined to his bed much of the time at Walker's sanitarium in Evansville. He is suffering from a fall he received when filling his silo, which fractured some of his ribs and otherwise bruised and injured him internally. It was not thought serious at first but later necessitated his going to the sanitarium and taking his bed, which his attending physicians will not allow him to leave.

Mrs. Dougherty Dies Near Blackford

Mrs. G. A. Dougherty, one of the most beloved women of the Blackford country, died Monday evening at her home. Death was the result of a paralytic attack. The deceased was the mother of Mrs. G. E. Vaughn, wife of the Judge of the Webster county court, and James Dougherty, of the White Oak vicinity. Mrs. Dougherty was 63 years old. The remains were laid to rest at Oak Grove Tuesday.—Providence Enterprise.

Stanley Has Lead Of 365—Could Lose All Contests and Still Win.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 10.—Unimportant changes were recorded today in the tabulation of official returns from last Tuesday's election for Governor of Kentucky. In one precinct the vote was recounted, and another a substituted certificate indicated a clerical error. Each added 19 votes to the total unofficial majority of A. O. Stanley, democrat, and gave him an indicated lead of 365 over Edwin P. Morrow republican.

Official returns were lacking only from Laurel county, where party leaders practically have agreed on a Morrow majority.

DOCTOR BURWELL QUITS PASTORATE

Has Been Pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Paducah
For Past Five Years.

Rev. H. W. Burwell, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, has tendered his resignation to accept a call to the Westminster Presbyterian church in Dallas, Texas. This announcement was learned with deep regret by the church congregation Sunday morning.

Dr. Burwell succeeded Rev. W. E. Cave as pastor of the church in 1910, after Dr. Cave had been its minister for 27 years.

Dr. and Mrs. Burwell expect to leave Paducah for Dallas the first of December. The best wishes of their many friends in this city will go with them to the new field of labor, and only the congregation of the First Presbyterian church will they be missed, but throughout the city.—Paducah Sun.

McAdoo Advocates

Merchant Marine.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—In an address here last night at a banquet of members of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, Secretary of the Treasury, William G. McAdoo, advocated the establishment of a merchant marine as a naval auxiliary. He declared that two classes of Americans would profit particularly—the farmer and the laboring man. The farmer, he said, with an adequate merchant marine, would find a better market for his products and the laboring man would cease to be forced into the periods of idleness because, with a merchant marine, his employer could better compete with foreign industries.

Citizen Police Force For Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Chicago is to have a citizen police force of 20,000 members to co-operate with the police department, it was announced today. It is proposed to select one citizen in each city block to become a citizen policeman.

VILLA PROCLAIMS

NACO AS CAPITAL.

Naco, Arizona, Nov. 9.—Naco, Sonora, just across the border was declared today the capital of Mexico by Gen Francisco Villa, who arrived there with the vanguard of his army in his withdrawal from the attack of Agua Prieta.

Naco will be made a base of supplies, and troops will rest here for thirty days, it was said.

REPRESENTATIVE ED. D. STONE

Thanks the Republican for Their Generous Support in Electing Him Representative.

I cannot express the gratitude which I feel toward you for re-electing me to this office. "I can only say to you in the simplest phrase that I thank you from the depth of heart. One of the greatest honors that can fall to any Kentuckian is the faith and confidence of the people. In return I owe to the people the very best service that I can render them."

The one thing needful for the redemption of Kentucky is the absolute independence of the next legislature. There is no hope whatever of an economical administration of the State's fiscal affairs or the State's finances properly safeguarded, or of any reduction in the State debt if the next legislature is controlled by professional lobbyists and patronage brokers as legislatures in this State have been controlled for the past sixteen years.

Our past legislatures, and especially the one of 1912 was perhaps more completely under the domination of lobbyists than any other that has assembled at the State capital for years, and the result was a saturnalia of salary grabbing, creating of useless offices, boards and commissions at an aggregate expense to the tax payers of over half-a-million dollars annually, and a present State debt of nearly three million dollars.

Notwithstanding the fact that Kentucky has made practically no increase in population within the past decade, we today find that the actual expense of looking after the State's official business is fully ten times as great as it was ten years ago. Our State treasury supports a number of useless petty officers. Will the legislature that convenes in January allow a few pussy-footed gentlemen and self interested politicians to shape its every action, or is it going to assemble there as an independent, patriotic and self-respecting body, of men, organize as freemen and proceed to look after the people's interests and the State's needs without fear of the lobbyists and grafters. Those pussy-footed gentlemen will be there and they will not be there for their health either; like the lilies of the field, they toil not, neither do they spin, yet Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed they, and already they are boasting that they will control the coming legislature and put this and that scheme across. Truly, the coming legislature will not yield to special individual interest but stand firm to the interest of the mass of the people. Taxpayers of the State—the members of the next session has serious work to do, and in the providence of God it is hoped that it will do that work as becomes honest men.

Yours for faithful service,
EDWARD D. STONE,
Representative from the 7th District.

Electric Fog Bells.

Bells that have no atmosphere use the lamps automatically up every night every morning, have been common in the last few years. A new feature has been added to make them more wonderful. This is the electric fog bell. Whenever the lighthouse bell will sound regularly double outfit has been developed for a water intake crib in Michigan, off Milwaukee. A delicate instrument that will control the amount of water, called a hair hygrometer, controls the fog bell. It is known that hair will lengthen when damp and contract when dry, and this fact is utilized in an ingenious way to lower and raise a bit of metal. When the air is damp, and the hair expands and drops the metal, an electric contact is made that rings an electric gong, current being supplied by storage batteries. Drier air causes the metal to rise and stops the ringing.

The operations of the air in taking up moisture are so complicated that the hair hygrometer may be deceived occasionally about a fog; but any mistake will be made on the side of safety.

Sometimes when the air is very damp but no fog is near, the bell may sound; yet when there is fog, the warning is sure to be given, so long as the apparatus is in good repair. — Saturday Evening Post.

Misconceptions About Alaska.

Alaska is the most misunderstood and misrepresented section of the United States. People generally, and sincerely, believe that the name Alaska is synonymous with snow and ice and couple it accordingly with ice cream freezers and cold drinks. Yet the principal cities of Alaska along its southern coast line—Juneau, Ketchikan, Corodova, Valdes and Seward—do not average as cold in midwinter as New York and are seldom as cold as Baltimore and Washington during cold waves.

Alaska is one-fifth the size of the whole United States and its prodigious area of about 600,000 square miles, nearly the size of the Empire State, spreads from the temperate zone to the Arctic Circle. Not one-quarter of it is in the latter. Below the circle lies a magnificent belt of fertile soil. It is estimated by Government authorities that the agricultural area of Alaska, its fertile valleys and plains, on many of which cattle can be wintered without feeding, aggregates 30,000 square miles, with a climate like that of northern Europe—Norway, Finland and Sweden. This land is richer and more productive than that of any other country in the world, well watered, fairly well timbered, and 320 acres are open free to the settler if he wishes to take up a homestead.

In the great central valley of Alaska the coldest days of winter are not as cold as reported from time to time in the prairie States of the United States, like Nebraska, Montana and North Dakota. Stock raisers and farmers are going into Alaska on every steamer from Seattle to look the country over. They are equipped with the special Government reports on Alaska that can be had without charge by writing to the Department of Agriculture and to the Department of the Interior at Washington or from any member of Congress. Visitors to Alaska are surprised at what they find when they reach the interior. Nor do they need to suffer hardship in making the trip, for first-class steam ships to the principal ports, with unusually reasonable rates, are running out from Seattle nearly every day and railroad and automobile lines to the interior are readily available. Nor is it necessary to go far, for every valley leading from the coast is waiting for the husbandman. — Leslie's.

Rows of Corn Mile Long

The farmer boy who thinks it a hardship to plow corn rows the length of two-acre field, even when he has the privilege of resting in the shade of a big tree at either end of each row, probably would throw up his hands at the mention of following rows a mile long, with never a tree on the horizon. This is what some farmers in the United States do, however—particularly in the dry farming land of eastern Colorado. And, instead of looking upon it as a hardship, they actually enjoy the work, and take pride in making the rows as straight and even as a string. — St. Nicholas.

Total value to date $85.00 with a fine cap to wear on Sunday. All boys in Crittenden county have an opportunity to be club boys next year. Boys go to the front, we have a start. USING CONVICTS ON HIGHWAYS

Many States Have Abolished Contract System of Working the Prisoners

WORK CONVICTS ON ROADS

Kentucky Could Possibly Save From Twenty to Thirty Per Cent of the Money Expended For Road Work on the Public Highways Says Commissioner Terrell.

Frankfort, Ky., (Special)—R. C. Terrell, Commissioner of Roads, when asked for his views regarding the employment of convicts on the roads of the state, granted the following interview on this subject:

"In recent years the convict labor problem has been one that has been given a great deal of attention, and prison reforms have brought about a study of conditions as they exist, with a view of how they could be bettered, and as a result, most of the States have abolished the contract system of working the prisoners and have established the more modern system of using the convicts on the public highways, and in the prisons for the purpose of preparing materials for the highways, and on other public works in the various States. Reports from various Highway Departments over the United States show conclusively that convict labor can be used to an advantage in road building and at a saving of both to the county and State in the cost of labor for this class of work.

"In the biennial report of Mr. T. P. Tynan, Warden of the State Penitentiary of Colorado for the year 1913, it is shown that there was built one hundred and fifty-seven miles of road through the mountain sections of that State, at a saving, according to his estimate, of $223,479.56; that the average cost per day per man for the laborers engaged in this class of work was 32c. He further states that the convicts were able to do the work of not only ordinary laborers, but some were found able to perform the services required of experienced men in drilling, blasting, laying masonry, blacksmithing, and other skilled labor. With such labor commanding a salary of from $2 to $5 per day, this without a doubt, shows that convict labor can be used to advantage on heavy construction work and in places where more or less permanent camps can be maintained.

"Virginia also has succeeded in this undertaking, as is shown by the results. For the past nine years convicts have been used on the public highways of this State, and Mr. P. B. J. White, former State Director of Commissioner, and now the Assistant Director in the United States Office of Public Roads at Washington, D. C., stated that more than 1,500 men were used on the public highways of Virginia in the year 1913, that from forty to seventy-five were grouped together in a single camp—separate camps being maintained in each county—and that the cost of clothing and feeding them, and general maintenance of the men was 52c per day for a period of three years; that the men were not specially selected, but that the road forces were made up of prisoners as they were presented at the prisons; that men who were physically weak, or even cripples, were often sent out as part of the road force. He further states that the contractors who contracted for the work had very frequently offered $1 per day for men furnished by the State.

Under our present system in Kentucky the State receives the manifest sum of 75c per day per man employed under contract, and the State is required to feed and clothe the prisoners and a great many of the prisoners are let at a lower figure than that stated above.

"Kentucky could possibly save from twenty to thirty per cent of the money expended for road work under the State aid plan, if the convicts could be used on the public highways, and in the preparation of the materials which go into the highways. It would be possible to establish semi-permanent camps in the various counties where limestone is available in large quantities and prepare this material for road building, ready to be delivered by rail or motor truck to roads under construction, and these camps could be maintained practically the entire season.

"In Edmonson County, Kentucky, there exists an unlimited deposit of rock asphalt, which is a hard sandstone—the finest road making material known—containing from seven to nine per cent of bitumen or asphalt base. This material has an overabundance of from two to twenty feet of soil, sand or rock and lies in a horizontal strata of from six to twenty feet in thickness. Would it not be a fine thing to collect this material, and use it for the purpose of making a convict camp, where they could be used in the stripping of this material, conveying and preparing it for use in the construction of the commonwealth? The actual cost of production, or even a reasonable per cent of profit could be charged by the State for the material, and at the same time very materially reduce the cost for use in road construction, and insuring to the counties for their limestone, macadam, or other hard surfaced roads, a splendid, long lived surfacing material, that is dustless, noiseless, durable and at the same time water-proof. Other camps might be established for the purpose of preparing limestone as stated above, and still others for the manufacture of brick to be used in the surfacing of roads, and a very efficient organization might be had for the placing of concrete roads as is now being used in Illinois, Georgia, and other States where that type of road is being constructed.

"The men become skilled in the performance of their duties, and this, while preparing them for a better existence when they have completed their term, also reduces the possibility of breaking up the organization by men quitting. Another important factor to be considered is the reduction of the cost, the reducing of the cost making it possible for all the counties in the state—not merely the rich counties—but practically all of them, to construct permanent roads. When one stops to consider that there are one hundred and twenty counties in Kentucky, most of them having a road fund ranging from $500 to $5,000, while less than ten have a road fund of more than $20,000, it is quite an easy matter to understand the advantage that convict labor would furnish these counties, where funds are limited, in the securing of permanent types of road.

"The convict labor would not come in competition with free labor, for without it the counties would be compelled to build a cheaper type of road, and in many instances would not be able to build at all, while, with the convict labor, better and more durable types of road could be constructed, as well as a more durable type of bridges. Even in the fabrication of steel material for the longer span bridges these could be obtained at a much cheaper figure, with the convict labor, than they could be done by contract.

"In summing up the advantages to the counties and to the state, one should not overlook the big advantage to the convict himself—the wholesome out-of-door labor—bettering him, mentally, morally and physically—a much more healthy occupation than that which he would find inside the prison walls."

IT'S A GAY OLD WORLD.

It's a gay old world when you're gay. And a glad old world when you're glad. But whether you play Or go toiling away, It's a sad old world when you're sad.

It's a grand old world if you're great And a mean old world if you're small; It's a world full of hate For the foolish who prate Of the uselessness of it all.

It's a beautiful world to see Or it's a dismal in every zone. The thing it must be In its gloom or its glee Depends upon yourself alone.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mr. Ben Turley, thirty-three years of age, died at his home near Forest Grove, Oct. 20th, 1915, of Bright's disease. He had been in bad health for a year but would not give up until the end. He bore his sufferings with patience, and said he was ready to go when God called him.

The people who knew Ben from childhood on up, spoke of him as an honest and upright man. He had friends by the score. We have lost a good neighbor and a dear friend.

He professed faith in Christ in 1913, and joined Freedom church.

He was also a member of the Woodmen of the World, whom all know is one of the greatest organizations in the world.

He leaves a wife, father and five brothers to mourn his death.

He was married to Miss Lillie Harless in 1905. We know the dear wife will miss him as they were so devoted to each other and loved each other very dearly.

His father, Sanford Turley, of Freedom, and his brothers as follows: Messrs. Harve, Tom, Harrison and Burnett, all of this county, and Archie, when last heard from, was in the U. S. army.

The dear wife, father and brothers have the sympathy of a host of friends in the sad bereavement.

—A Friend.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutrient gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.

Prince Pickens, a colored man 85 years old who lived in this county many years and who left his son, Sherman, where he now makes his home.

Prince, while here, called on old friends who had accommo-many small debts, which his creditors had forgotten, one was to over $50.00, one to H. A. Hay-were more like him.

MARION GIRL IN THE GOLDEN WEST

Miss Mary Finley Writes Entertainingly of San Francisco And The Great Exposition.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 24 '15
Dear Editor:

Amid all the pleasures and wonderful sights which may be enjoyed by any one person, there are times when one's thoughts will wander back to home; and so while "my heart turns back to Dixie," I am writing one more letter for the Record-Press.

In the evening of the 6th of October, my adorable and most noteworthy cousin, Mrs. T. J. Latham, and myself boarded the "Owl" on the Southern Pacific R. R., and traveled north to Oakland City where we crossed the beautiful San Francisco Bay to the wonderful city of San Francisco.

We located at the Glen Hotel on Market and Turk streets. Market is the main thoroughfare of the city. Then we visited some of the large stores of the city.

The next day we went out to the Exposition grounds entered "the Zone" went in "Japan Beautiful" and also took in what we considered one of the best amusements, the Panama Canal. Next went down to see the main buildings. The buildings of varied Industries, Liberal Arts, where exhibit of Italian statuary is perfectly wonderful, manufacturing and horticultural buildings. The famous Tower of Jewels is beautiful by day or night but not more beautiful than other buildings. When in the Court of the Universe or standing by the lagoon in front of the Palace of Arts when buildings are illuminated, we wonder if the city of New Jerusalem could be any more lovely than these beautiful buildings and grounds. The Palace of Arts and annex have all the pictures of every description that you ever could want to study. The fire works on the Marino together with the scintillators were too grand for description.

The eating places and hotels in San Francisco are too numerous to mention, cafes, cafeterias, restaurants and dairy lunches on every corner almost. Enjoyed eating at the Muller Luxus cafe at Exposition where a splendid band from Guatemala played while we ate, also, eating at the Netherlands building where the Dutch maids waited on us.

The French building with its beautiful faces and Paris models, the Formosa tea houses, the Turkish building with its beautiful rugs; the Virginia building a representation of Washington's Mt. Vernon home; the beautiful Canadian building; the Pennsylvania building with the Liberty bell, and the magnificent California building with wonderful displays of every description, these stand out most prominently in my memory, and I will always remember the Underwood typewriter in the Manufacturing building.

The Food Products building had every kind of thing to eat, we liked the Scottish scones best of all.

On the 18th of October we left the Glen Hotel and went to the Bellevue Hotel to be with the daughters of the Confederacy, as the twenty-second annual convention of U. D. Cs. was held here from the 19th till the 23rd. To a daughter of a Confederate Veteran it was most inspiring to see how patriotic these southern ladies are and to see how much the south is revered.

The 20th of October was a great day for all the U. D. Cs. at the Exposition grounds. We went out to the Van Ness St. entrance and went in the Yellowstone National Park (our badges gave us free admittance)

"My Electrical Home"

Electricity should be your servant.

Few women realize the uses to which electricity can be put in their homes, as a means of simplifying the house work, which is, at times, detested.

The same wires that now serve you so well with light are ready to bring to you new comfort, convenience and enjoyment thrown in.

Next to the easy availability of electricity in most homes is its low cost. You all know of the small cost of burning one electric lamp. For operating most of these devices the current consumption is no greater than an ordinary Mazda lamp, if as much.

There are the electric toaster and the many other heating devices for the easy preparation of food, and the little step-saving inter-phone for communication from room to room.

And then there are those wonderful labor savers, the motor; the electric iron and washing machine.

All these devices are sold and guaranteed by James Clark Jr. Electric Company, dealers in all kinds of electrical supplies.

Write us for our literature, catalogs and the name of our nearest agent in your locality.

To Electrical Dealers

Our line means satisfied customers. The guarantee means what it says. There is double assurance of value—yours and ours.

James Clark Jr. Electric Co's., goods are heavily and constantly advertised. We help you sell. James Clark Jr. Electric Co., experts help you.

Your Christmas Gifts

About this time thoughts of Christmas shopping commence to arise. The prospect needn't worry you—we can solve your difficulties. Can you think of any gift which will be more acceptable to your friend than one of the above advertised articles?

Are You One In A Million?

A million is not quite the number of satisfied customers of James Clark Jr. Electric Co's., appliances. There are more than a million. If you're not one you should be.

Our reputation bars our taking chances. We must preserve our most valuable business asset—our reputation and the reputation of our product. Therefore we must "make good" and over a million satisfied customers say we do.

The world knows the wonderful comfort and economy of electricity. It is in use everywhere. We show just a few of the different successful types here, adapted to different needs. Each one is tested, tried and proved before it leaves our factory.

James Clark Jr. Electric Company,

Louisville, Kentucky.

At the Old Faithful Inn were given a lovely luncheon while an orchestra of 150 men played. The tables were decorated with small balloons and some with lovely baskets of California grapes others with vases of dahlias.

After the luncheon we took in all the scenery in the Park. From here all the daughters went on an electric car to the Mississippi building where memorial exercises were held for the departed U. D. Cs. After these exercises we went to the Missouri building where an informal tea was given, from here we went to the Y. W. C. A. building to a grand six o'clock dinner, where we were given toasts and we were told of the work of the Y. W. during the Exposition and some experiences they had in aiding different kinds of people.

The 21st was the busiest day of the convention as all officers were elected for 1916 and all important business attended to. I felt very proud when my cousin, Mrs. Latham, was nominated and elected by a unanimous vote an Honorary President of this national convention. The many lovely things said in praise of her and most of all when she was escorted to the stage and presented with lovely chrysanthemums and a Confederate flag, amid the cheers of the Daughters. In the evening we were given a reception at the Southern Club.

Our sojourn through Chinatown and the sight-seeing trip around San Francisco was hugely enjoyed. There are said to be 50,000 inhabitants in Chinatown. The presidio is said to be the largest in the U. S., and San Francisco is well protected by large cannon, disappearing guns and a large number of soldiers, sailors and marines.

The only consolation that I had, that Kentucky was not represented at the Fair by any kind of an exhibit, was that only half of the states of the union had buildings.

Well, will soon be on my road home and will be glad to see Kentucky again.

Yours Respectfully,
MARY H. FINLEY.

Great Revival Meeting

At Seven Springs.

Rev. Willie Crouch, pastor at Seven Springs, commenced a protracted meeting here Oct. 9th, which continued six-teen days. Bro. Crouch did all the preaching, and from the beginning the presence of the holy spirit's power accompanied the messages to part of the congregation. The first opportunity he offered for penitents, many came to altar. There were twenty-seven additions on Sunday. Bro. Crouch baptized thirteen and on Thursday following he baptized ten more, making twenty-three in all. We want to praise Fred Hillyard, our school teacher at Boaz, for his excellent service toward us. He dismissed school every day and brought his pupils and led the singing.

Whenever a district employs Mr. Hillyard they may be sure their children will be instructed in religious work, as well as education.

Prise

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 11, 1915.

Emma Henle, of 154 Tucky street, Louisville, declared recently that she had the faith in Tanlac when she began taking it, but after doses she noted a remarkable change in her condition.

"I had suffered for years kidney trouble and rheumatism," she said recently. "At times the pain was so bad I could hardly stand it. I had no appetite and lost a great deal of sleep. My friends became alarmed at me. My nerves were in a dreadful shape and I had no strength."

"I decided to try Tanlac," she said. "I had heard so much about it that it had helped many people. I am frank to say I didn't expect it would do me much good. But in that I was agreed, I was surprised. I had been taking it very short time when the pain came back. I sleep peacefully now as a baby. I really feel like a different person, and I have Tanlac for it."

Tanlac, the premier remedy of kidney and liver trouble, circulation, rheumatism and kindred ailments. It is being sold in Marion and Orme's drugstore and in the store at A. T. Brown's.
