On Wednesday evening, Dec. 31st at 7:00 o'clock the marriage of Miss Anna Grosvenor, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Grosvenor of this city, to Mr. Stanley M. Stover, of Duluth, Minn., was announced at the First Baptist Church, Rev. W. W. Woodford, of Presbyterian officiating. It was one of the characteristic weddings ever seen in Marion. The church was decorated elaborately, the altar being ban- ned with red and white flowers. The matching red arches were shaded in harmony with the color scheme of the wedding, which was cream and green and gold. The main altar station in the church was filled long before for the ceremony and many others found seats in the gallery and on the choir loft. The bridegroom, who is a graduate of the military academy, was met at the church by his father and his mother. After the ceremony a管理模式 was given for the satisfaction of the Orchestra. Then came the act one comedy skit given by five members of the Orchestra. We shall never forget Miss Minnie Pinion in her bit as a representative of Miss Minnie the maid, the maid, who, after a long search, found the mixture of rice to put up the rice to the maid who, as now other maid turned it, was told by Miss Pinion that "It doesn't make any difference what kind of rice we have in the rice box."

Nevely Entertainment Will Contain Famous Tramp. In spite of the weather a good crowd came out to enjoy the entertainment, given by the Marion High School Orchestra and other members of the Marion High School, on the evening of December 31st.

The program presented so far included the following: the Orchestra; then the act one comedy skit given by five members of the Orchestra, the skit which was a comic and a very amusing one. From Echoes of Echoes, a comic skit, was given by the Marion High School Orchestra and the Marion High School. The skit was a very funny one and it was enjoyed by all. STATE AID DUES TOTAL $747.50

Commonwealth and Counties that Paid for Good Roads.

Frankfort, Ky., Dec. 20. - The Statewide road proportion was one of the highlights of the last year. This year a number of counties have issued $23,215,000 in road bonds. The State will expand its equal payment with those bonds constructed through the construction of roads, but the amount appropriated in this appropriation is still to be determined. The bond will be issued in lots for a period of five years, the first two years being paid in full. The bond will be held by the State for the benefit of those who will have to pay the bond. The bond will be held by the State for the benefit of those who will have to pay the bond.

MORE MARSHALL SCHOOL NEWS

The Orchestra and the school were glad to have Ted Bunch, who was the leader of the Orchestra at the University, back with them on Monday night.

Berr, W. R. Yates attendided the entertainment and had a fine time. We appreciate the hospitality that was extended and we are assured that we will not be the last to attend the entertainment next year.

What a recapitulation report for the past few years with the results of our good roads program. The roads have been improved and the work has been done in a satisfactory manner.

REV. R. E. Gillman, pastor of the church, did the preaching throughout the series of meetings and his work was of the highest order.

Prof. W. R. Yates is a minister for the district, labors for the district and works for the district with the highest order. The preaching was very effective and was of the highest order.

SERVICES ARE WELL ATTENDED

The Methodist revival which has been in progress at the church in this city, one of the most successful held here in years, came to a close with the very popular evening service which was attended by the largest number of the entire series of services.

The conversions and those re-conversions during the three weeks exceeded sixty, of which sixty are already united with the Methodist church and six others have given their names for membership, while many others will go to one of the other churches of the city.

The candidates for membership who have been converted will be introduced at the next service of the church.

The last service on Sunday evening was an exciting one.

WEDDING OF PRESIDENT WILSON AND MRS. GALT WILL BE FAMILY AFFAIR

It is with a sense of sorrow and yet a joy that we record the marriage of President Wilson to Mrs. Edith Galt, which took place at the White House yesterday. The wedding was a private and intimate affair, and only immediate family members were invited. The couple was married in the Oval Office, with Chief Justice Taft officiating. The ceremony was simple and dignified, and President Wilson appeared to be deeply moved by the occasion.

New York, Dec. 20—Further revelations of the handicaps of the hogs and the abandonment of the city by the hogs were revealed today by Dr. E. E. Howson, New York's, and American Red Cross surgeons, who appear to have learned the importance of keeping hogs clean. The hogs are now being fed on a diet of garbage and refuse. The surgeons say that this is the only way to prevent the spread of tuberculosis among the hogs.

A Glorious Day

Up to the very last second it seemed that the hogs could not be saved. As soon as the ceremony was over, the hogs broke loose and ran wild through the White House. The President, who had been standing at the altar, was so shaken by the sight that he fainted. His wife, who was holding his hand, also fainted. They were both taken to the White House Hospital, where they were treated by Dr. E. E. Howson.

Wed’s Hands Gazed Over Mother’s Coffin
Parent’s Opposition Had Delayed Marriage More Than 20 Years.

MARRIED 15 DAYS AGO

Hartsville, Ind., Dec. 21.—A marriage which parents and relatives had seemed to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Mary Mitchell, who died Sunday, secretly the old woman sang “Abide With Me,” and the minister, the Rev. L. H. Hartman, was about to proceed with the funeral service when he came to an ah-h-h-h moment.

Miss Nettie Mitchell, daughter of the dead woman, and F. P. W. Foreman, old-time lawyer, walked to the the open coffin, hand clasped over the dead woman’s body that they might be married. The ceremony proceeded without the mother of the bride’s notice.

Nettie and James married the same day, and it was a surprise to everyone.

The marriage was the result of a romance that had lasted for more than twenty years. The marriage being delayed, it was laid, an account of the opposition of the mother to her daughter’s marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Foreman now live in Hartsville.

Battle Charge So Seemed to Lond.

Through With Rich He Learned, In Name of Snake.

From The Blues and Wonder.

London.—London sportsmen were in the first charge, a British guard and the famous Indian elephant. The chief of the Bangor line moved into action and went the range and scattered the British guard with a good deal of success. The British guard before attempting to charge, however, made a very desperate charge.

"It was all right once the charge was made," said the Indian guard, "but when the British guard came in we were in trouble. We managed to get into their line and then they went for us. I don't think they ever had a chance to do more than they did, but we managed to get away in time.

The British guard was led by a British officer, who seemed to be in command of the attack. The British guard was made up of the best of the British guard, and they were in good shape for the attack.
