Crittenden County Registered Southdowns Are Shipped To A Party in Havana, Cuba.

Al Dean, the noted breeder of registered southdowns, who is away in advance of most of our sheep raisers, is extending the reputation of old Crittenden beyond the confines of the States. Last week he received an order for two ewes and one buck from Senor Don Manuel Lucias Diaz, of Havana, Cuba.

Of course this was done by advertising, which all wide awake men, of business, believe in, and there is really no telling the limits to which an ad will go.

These ewes are coming two years old and the buck coming one year old, and are beauties. Mr. Bird, our county demonstrator, says Senor Diaz will be delighted with them and that his friends in other climes, when they see this trio, will send other orders to Crittenden county, and further extend our reputation.

Mr. Dean shipped these splendid individuals, each of which looked like a picture, by American Express to New Orleans, Saturday the charges that for being $3.50 each. From there they take a salt water voyage over the Gulf of Mexico and, barring delay or accident, have reached their destination ere this.

What about Crittenden county's corn club? I have just received a message from Lexington informing me that Willie Shadowns had won first prize on his ten ears of corn and also first prize for the best single ear of corn. This corn competed with all counties in Western Kentucky. This makes Willie's cash winnings $11.50 as he won second at the State Fair, he also won a jersey bull calf at our County Fair, given by Mr. J. E. Crider & Co., of Fredonia. He has 25 bushels of pure Boone county white seed corn for sale, tested and will be graded he will sell for $2.00 a bushel, and besides that the remaining 65 bushels of his crop of one acre, with which he will feed a bunch of hogs this summer. MARRIAGES

MOORE—STALLIONS.

On the 26th day of Jan. 1916, Miss Rose Moore and Mr. Hurse Stallions were quietly married at the Methodist parsonage, Tolu, Ky., Rev. A. Royster officiating.

They were attended by Miss Stella Phillips, the bride's most intimate friend and Will Todd, the groom's boyhood chum.

After the ceremony they drove to the bride's home, where they were received by the brides sister, Miss Cora Moore and another one of her friends, Miss Mattie Lucas who announced that supper was waiting. The attendants led the way to the dining room followed by the bride and groom and a few other of their chosen friends and relatives, where they were welcomed by the father and mother of the bride and were seated at the table where a sumptuous feast was served.

The bride is the youngest daughter of P. C. Moore, one of the county's most highly respected citizens. She is a charming young lady and numbers her friends by the scores.

The groom is the youngest son of the late A. E. Stallions and is one of the leading young men in the community in which he lives and numbers his friends by his acquaintances. They are both devoted christians, belonging to the Hurricane M. E. Church.

They will go to house-keeping on his farm near Sheridan, Ky. They have all prospects of a bright and happy life. We bid them God's speed.

BENNETT—FERGUSON.

Cupid invaded our town Wednesday and claimed two of our most popular young people, Miss Anna Imogene Bennett and Mr. Groce F. Ferguson.

Miss Bennett left for Smithland Monday where she was supposed to, in a few days enter High School. Mr. Ferguson boarded the steamer "Dispatch" Tuesday and stopped at Smithland where they were united in marriage Wednesday A. M. at 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wells, the latter being the sister of the bride.

Mr. Ferguson had been for the past two years the devoted admirer of the bride and for this fact the news of the wedding was not an entire surprise to their host of friends.

The bride is a tall graceful blonde, with blue eyes and light hair and is considered a beauty. She wore a lovely blue silk dress which gave her a most charming appearance. She is the second daughter of the deceased H. B. B. Bennett and is a sister-in-law of J. R. Wells, of Smithland, one of our most accomplished and well-known attorneys at law. Since her early girlhood she has lived with her step-mother, Mrs. H. B. Bennett, who has given her the strictest devotion and care.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Ida Ferguson, and is one of the most prominent young farmers in Lyon county and has been very fortunate in winning such an accomplished young lady for a wife. He wore a beautifully tailored suit of blue.

Mrs. Bennett gave a reception at her home in honor of the bridal party, Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Wadlington, the bride's aunt, and cousin, Miss Ola Char-

Louis Brandeis Made Justice

—Wilson Astonishes With His Appointment Boston Hebrew.

Washington, Feb. 1.—President Wilson today selected Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, as the new Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The nomination was sent to the Senate today. There is surprise everywhere in official circles. He hadn't even been mentioned for the vacancy.

Brandeis is a lawyer who has been much in the public life during the last three years, not only in legal work, but in the various movements for social betterment.

He is sixty years old, was born and educated in Louisville, and later entered Harvard. In 1818 he began practicing law in Boston. He came most notably before the public six years ago through participation in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation of Congress in which he was counsel for the forces who opposed Secretary Ballinger. He participated in other notable cases, and has been in the fore-front of many important movements, such as the Zionist movement in the United States. He is the first Jew to sit on the bench of the Supreme Court.

A Word to Our Farmers.

Everyone will admit that our County Agent, Mr. Bird was a great help to the Crittenden county farmers last year. He can do more this year because he has become acquainted with our people, our farms and the needs of the farms and individual farmers.

We cannot afford to not employ Mr. Bird for another year. He is on the field and at our service, but I learn that the subscription for his salary has not been completed. As Mr. Bird will be in Lexington for the next ten days attending a farmer's meeting, why not get busy and complete this subscription by the time he returns, so that his salary may be assured?

I understand that a subscription paper has been sent to the secretary of each farmer's club. Now why can't we finish this work and report what has been done, not later than Feb. 15th?

I would suggest to those who are willing to contribute not to wait to be called upon, but to find someone who has a paper and give him your subscription.

Yours for better farming,
Jas. Alex. Hill.

CIRCUIT COURT TO CONVENE IN MADISONVILLE MONDAY

Heavy Docket With Many Important Cases to be Tried During The Coming Term.

The February term of the Hopkins Circuit Court will convene next Monday, with Judge Carl Henderson, of Marion, on the bench, Mr. Henderson having been elected last November to succeed Judge Gordon.

The docket is unusually heavy for a February term, there being a big batch of commonwealth cases, the first nine days of the term to be taken up with the trials of these cases. The common law trial docket is also quite heavy.—Madisonville Hustler.

Minister Takes Third Wife.

Paducah, Ky., Jan. 31.—W. T. Nation, a Crittenden county minister, married his third wife here Wednesday when he chose Mrs. Mamie Boggers, a Marshall county widow.

MARRIAGES

MOORE—STALLIONS.

On the 26th day of Jan. 1916, Miss Rose Moore and Mr. Hurse Stallions were quietly married at the Methodist parsonage, Tolu, Ky., Rev. A. Royster officiating.

They were attended by Miss Stella Phillips, the bride's most intimate friend and Will Todd, the groom's boyhood chum.

After the ceremony they drove to the bride's home, where they were received by the brides sister, Miss Cora Moore and another one of her friends, Miss Mattie Lucas who announced that supper was waiting. The attendants led the way to the dining room followed by the bride and groom and a few other of their chosen friends and relatives, where they were welcomed by the father and mother of the bride and were seated at the table where a sumptuous feast was served.

The bride is the youngest daughter of P. C. Moore, one of the county's most highly respected citizens. She is a charming young lady and numbers her friends by the scores.

The groom is the youngest son of the late A. E. Stallions and is one of the leading young men in the community in which he lives and numbers his friends by his acquaintances. They are both devoted Christians, belonging to the Hurricane M. E. Church.

They will go to house-keeping on his farm near Sheridan, Ky. They have all prospects of a bright and happy life. We bid them God's speed.

BENNETT—FERGUSON.

Cupid invaded our town Wednesday and claimed two of our most popular young people, Miss Anna Imogene Bennett and Mr. Groce F. Ferguson.

Miss Bennett left for Smithland Monday where she was supposed to, in a few days enter High School. Mr. Ferguson boarded the steamer "Dispatch" Tuesday and stopped at Smithland where they were united in marriage Wednesday A. M. at 10 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wells, the latter being the sister of the bride.

Mr. Ferguson had been for the past two years the devoted admirer of the bride and for this fact the news of the wedding was not an entire surprise to their host of friends.

The bride is a tall graceful blonde, with blue eyes and light hair and is considered a beauty. She wore a lovely blue silk dress which gave her a most charming appearance. She is the second daughter of the deceased H. B. Bennett and is a sister-in-law of J. R. Wells, of Smithland, one of our most accomplished and well-known attorneys at law. Since her early girlhood she has lived with her step-mother, Mrs. H. B. Bennett, who has given her the strictest devotion and care.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Ida Ferguson, and is one of the most prominent young farmers in Lyon county and has been very fortunate in winning such an accomplished young lady for a wife. He wore a beautifully tailored suit of blue.

Mrs. Bennett gave a reception at her home in honor of the bridal party, Wednesday evening at seven o'clock, assisted by Mrs. W. B. Wadlington, the bride's aunt, and cousin, Miss Ola Char-

Louis Brandies Made Justice

—Wilson Astonishes With His Appointment Boston Hebrew.

Washington, Feb. 1.—President Wilson today selected Louis D. Brandeis, of Boston, as the new Associate Justice of the Supreme Court. The nomination was sent to the Senate today. There is surprise everywhere in official circles. He hadn't even been mentioned for the vacancy.

Brandeis is a lawyer who has been much in the public life during the last three years, not only in legal work, but in the various movements for social betterment.

He is sixty years old, was born and educated in Louisville, and later entered Harvard. In 1918 he began practicing law in Boston. He came most notably before the public six years ago through participation in the Ballinger-Pinchot investigation of Congress in which he was counsel for the forces who opposed Secretary Ballinger. He participated in other notable cases, and has been in the fore-front of many important movements, such as the Zionist movement in the United States. He is the first Jew to sit on the bench of the Supreme Court.

A Word to Our Farmers.

Everyone will admit that our County Agent, Mr. Bird was a great help to the Crittenden county farmers last year. He can do more this year because he has become acquainted with our people, our farms and the needs of the farms and individual farmers.

We cannot afford to not employ Mr. Bird for another year. He is on the field and at our service, but I learn that the subscription for his salary has not been completed. As Mr. Bird will be in Lexington for the next ten days attending a farmer's meeting, why not get busy and complete this subscription by the time he returns, so that his salary may be assured?

I understand that a subscription paper has been sent to the secretary of each farmer's club. Now why can't we finish this work and report what has been done, not later than Feb. 15th?

I would suggest to those who are willing to contribute not to wait to be called upon, but to find someone who has a paper and give him your subscription.

Yours for better farming,
Jas. Alex. Hill.

Crittenden County Registered Southdowns Are Shipped To A Party in Havana, Cuba.

Al Dean, the noted breeder of registered southdowns, who is away in advance of most of our sheep raisers, is extending the reputation of old Crittenden beyond the confines of the States. Last week he received an order for two ewes and one buck from Senor Don Manuel Lucias Diaz, of Havana, Cuba.

Of course this was done by advertising, which all wide awake men, of business, believe in, and there is really no telling the limits to which an ad will go.

These ewes are coming two years old and the buck coming one year old, and are beauties. Mr. Bird, our county demonstrator, says Senor Diaz will be delighted with them and that his friends in other climes, when they see this trio, will send other orders to Crittenden county, and further extend our reputation.

Mr. Dean shipped these splendid individuals, each of which looked like a picture, by American Express to New Orleans, Saturday the charges that for being $3.50 each. From there they take a salt water voyage over the Gulf of Mexico and, barring delay or accident, have reached their destination ere this.

ND LEASING BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

Will Throw 700,000,000 Acres Open
To Development for the Mineral Resources.

Washington, Feb. 1.—The second session of the administration conservation measures, a bill under which more than 700,000,000 acres of public lands would be thrown open for lease by private interests, passed the house today without a roll call. Immediately thereafter the 640 acre home-lead bill was taken up with a prospect that it would be passed early next week.

Opposition to the land lease bill was confined principally to Western representatives, as the case of the water power leasing bill. In its report the lands committee declared that the lands open, which include approximately 700,000,000 tons of coal and 10,000,000,000 worth of phosphates and unknown quantities of oil, gas and mineral fertilizer, could be developed immediately. The Alaskan coal fields and oil lands in naval reserves are not affected by the bill. Protection for California oil promoters, whose claims were affected by Tremendous Profit From A Single Duroc Hog.

A striking example of what can be accomplished by the breeding of pure stock is the record made recently by A. H. Melott, of Route 1. Mr. Melott has a Duroc sow which he purchased two years ago for about $60. In two years the sow has had seven litters of pigs, from which the owner has realized exactly $635.50. He still has nine pigs left out of the lot. More McCracken county farmers would probably find the raising of hogs more profitable if they would exercise Mr. Melott's care in breeding.—Paducah Sun.

WHAT CATARRH IS

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form. Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the body; and local treatments in the form of snuffs and vapors do little, if any good. To correct catarrh you should treat its cause by enriching your blood with the oil-food in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building tonic, free from alcohol or any harmful drugs. Try it. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

A heavy cold in the lungs that was expected to cure itself has been the starting point in many cases of disease that ended fatally. The sensible course is to take frequent doses of BALLARD'S HOREHOUND SYRUP. It checks the progress of the disorder and assists nature to restore normal conditions. In other other words all the lady needs to do is to propose to the man, secure his acceptance and take him to the temple of justice and confess that she was the aggressor in the bargain. A NEW SKIN.

Snakes throw off their outer skin once a year. Human beings change their skin perhaps nine times in a year; that is, they have a new skin about once in six weeks.

The value of a clean skin in maintaining health is not properly understood by the majority of people. Cleanliness is a part of health. You cannot be healthy unless you are clean not only externally, but also internally.

The blood should also be assisted occasionally, like the skin, in throwing off poisons so that the system may not get clogged and leave a weak spot for disease germs to enter the system. When the blood is clogged, we suffer from what is commonly called a cold. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It is best for scrofula, eczema, boils, pimples and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. Pure blood is essential to good health. The weak, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

Take it as directed and it will search out impure and poisonous matter in the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys and drive it from the system through the natural channels.

RENEW DIVIDEND ON

U. S. STEEL COMMON

Directors Restore It to 5 Per Cent. Basis—Earnings for Last Quarter Exceed $51,000,000.

New York, Feb. 1.—The United States Steel corporation resumed dividend payments on its common stock today when the directors declared a quarterly distribution of 14 per cent.

This restores the common stock to a 5 per cent basis. It was the first payment authorized on the junior issue since the dividend declared for the September quarter of 1914, which was one-half of 1 percent. Prior to that the common stock had been paying 5 per cent since June, 1910.

The total net earnings for the corporation for the quarter ended Dec. 31st, 1915, were $51,232,788, according to the quarterly report. This breaks all records for previous earnings. The net income for the same quarter was $40,853,113, and the surplus $23,300,692.

The regular quarterly dividend of 14 per cent on the preferred stock was also declared.

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH; CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as the below named druggists are selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say—"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just the same as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money?

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador of "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfactory. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, Saint Paul, Minn. KENTUCKY LEADER IN GOOD ROADS

Began Building Macadamized
Roads as Far Back as the Eighteenth Century

STATE AID LAW IN 1914

In 1908 the General Assembly of Kentucky Passed a Constitutional Amendment Permitting the State to Lend its Credit to the Counties for Roadbuilding and Maintenance.

Frankfort—Kentucky was one of the first states in the union to establish state aid for road construction. As early as 1810 the General Assembly of Kentucky provided for the opening of roads to the Virginia line and began the construction of macadamized roads in 1820.

Prior to 1840, Kentucky had spent more than $2,000,000 in the construction of macadamized roads which were built on rights of way sixty feet wide. These roads were located on light grades and easy curves, and were graded twenty-four to thirty feet between ditches. Telford foundations between sixteen and twenty-four feet were used with a good macadam surface. This work was under the supervision of a state engineering department, consisting of a state highway engineer, at a salary of $5,000 per year, with a corps of assistants at salaries ranging from $1,100 to $2,500 per annum. Many of these roads are yet in a splendid state of preservation, and are rendering substantial service to the communities through which they pass.

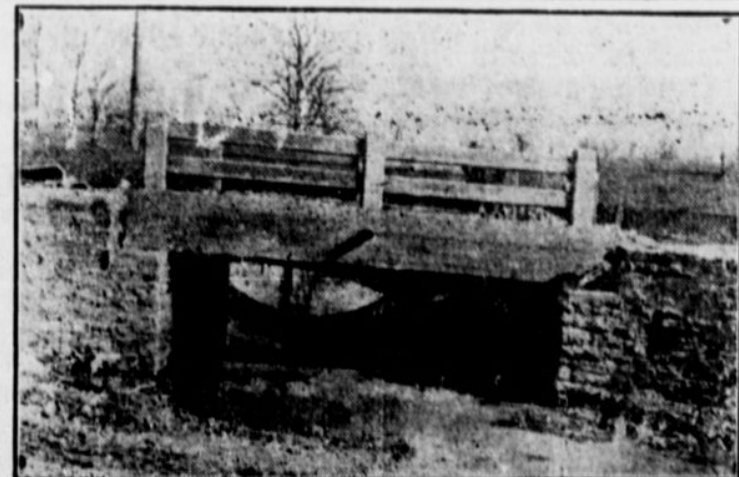

However, the policy of internal improvement was discontinued prior to 1850, owing to the financial condition of the treasury, and a change in political parties, and it was not until 1908 that any attempt was made to revive a state system of highways.

In 1908 the General Assembly of Kentucky passed a constitutional amendment permitting the state to lend its credit to the counties for roadbuilding, and to provide for the construction and maintenance of public highways.

A highway department was established to consist of the Commissioner of Public Roads and such assistants as the Governor might deem advisable, with an appropriation of not to exceed $20,000 per annum from the automobile license tax which had been accruing from 1910 as a state road fund.

The department was organized and Robert C. Terrell was appointed the first commissioner. The duties of the department were purely advisory, and while the counties were required to request plans, specifications and estimates of cost for the road and bridge work, which exceeded $500 in cost, they were not compelled to use the plans and specifications thus prepared. It was not until after the state aid law passed by the General Assembly of 1914 became operative that the state was really in a position to lend material aid to the counties. Although a great deal was accomplished by the commissioner and his assistants prior to 1910, it was only, as stated above, advisory, which in many instances it was hard to get the county officials to take advantage of the engineering assistance offered, but in 1914 the general assembly passed a law levying a five-cent tax on each $100 worth of taxable property in the state of Kentucky. The law further provided that the money should be distributed to the counties based upon the amount of money levied and collected in each county for roadbuilding, and that no county should receive in any one year more than two per cent of the total road fund. The department immediately set to work in the spring of 1915 to secure the co-operation of the counties in building a system of roads as laid out in the bill passed by the General Assembly, which provided that the roads should connect up the county seat of each county of the Commonwealth with the county seats of the adjoining counties by the most direct and practical route, and the county seats of border counties with the state line on the most direct and practical routes leading from said county seats to the county seats of the adjoining counties in the adjacent states.

Why not nationalize highways as well as national waterways?

KENTUCKY'S STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC ROADS

(By Hon. James B. McCreary, Governor of Kentucky.)

A State Department of Public Roads was advocated by me when I was a candidate for Governor of Kentucky. After I was elected I recommended in my message to the General Assembly the enactment of a law providing for a Department of Public Roads, and an appropriation and a proper and comprehensive act was passed.

The people of Kentucky are in favor of good roads. They know that good roads mean a decrease in the expense of hauling products to market and in getting goods home from the place of purchase. They know that good roads increase the value of farms, mean better access to schools and to churches, and better and more attractive environments.

The Commissioner of Public Roads appointed by me has been active and successful in his organization. He has sent bulletins and literature and has furnished plans and specifications and estimates of cost for many bridges and made many surveys for sites, assisted in road and bridge building, and the sentiment in favor of good public roads has been greatly strengthened.

JAS. B. MCCREARY

The law creating the department set aside from the license tax on automobiles, which constitutes the State Road Fund, the amount which has been necessary to make the road service efficient.

The new road law in Kentucky has met but little opposition, and where it has been given a fair and impartial trial by county officials, and the county road engineers have been given an opportunity to perform their duties unhampered, it has been entirely satisfactory.

The State of Kentucky no doubt will continue the progressive policies so successfully instituted. A system of good roads is the basis of the country's progress and upon this largely depends its material development and prosperity. Public roads have been compared to the veins and arteries in the human body, by which the circulation is carried on, and when they are clogged, or are not in good condition, the usual functions are impeded and vitally diminished.

I am in favor of the United States Government aiding, to a proper extent, in the building of roads. Large amounts of money are appropriated annually by Congress for rivers and harbors, for irrigation and for government buildings, and in the same line Congress should appropriate money to aid in the construction of public roads.

This can never be an ideal country to live in until it is interlaced with a network of highways and the highways so marked as to direct the traveler which road to take to reach his destination.

A man who is opposed to road improvement is worth about as much to a locality as a safety razor is to a colored man at a Georgia picnic.

Never can we have excellent roads until we adopt a patrol system of repair and maintenance.

Pinkham remedies.—Mrs. MAYME ASEACH, North Crandon, Wis.

North Crandon, Wis.—"When I was 16 years old I got married and at 18 years I gave birth to twins and it left me with very poor health. I could not walk across the floor without having to sit down to rest and it was hard for me to keep about and do my work. I went to a doctor and he told me I had a displacement and ulcers, and would have to have an operation. This frightened me so much that I did not know what to do. Having heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I thought I would give it a trial and it made me as well as ever. I cannot say enough in favor of the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. MAYME ASEACH, North Crandon, Wis.

Testimony from Oklahoma.

Lawton, Okla.—"When I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I seemed to be good for nothing. I tired easily and had headaches much of the time and was irregular. I took it again before my little child was born and it did me a wonderful amount of good at that time. I never fail to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all my women because it has done so much for me."—Mrs. A. L. McCASLAND, 509 Hove St., Lawton, Okla.

From a Grateful Massachusetts Woman.

Roxbury, Mass.—"I was suffering from inflammation and was examined by a physician who found that my trouble was caused by a displacement. My symptoms were bearing down pains, backache, and sluggish liver. I tried several kinds of medicine; then I was asked to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Curative Value of Wheat Bran.

Perhaps if ordinary wheat bran which anyone can secure for a few pennies, were put up in fancy pound packages as a valuable laxative, and a fancy price charged for it, more people would use it. Like so many other things in the world, because it is cheap, people fail to place a proper valuation on it.

As a laxative wheat bran has few equals. It leaves no bad results if taken properly, and seldom fails to relieve constipation and the very many ailments that result directly and indirectly from constipation.

Bran, taken properly, will clear up the so-called "liver-spotted" skin, remove the ordinary indigestion, remedy dry skin, and, it is claimed by many, prove a help in anemia.

Nothing comes in boxes, jars, or bottles, that is such a poor beautifier as wheat bran. A poor skin, as most people know now, is due to impure blood, and impure blood is generally a stomach condition. Constipation, indigestion and other ailments cause low, blotched, pimply and otherwise unlovely complexions. The use of wheat bran will help to correct these, relieve the constipation, improve the blood, and, this done, the skin becomes once more good to look upon. No beauty doctor can begin to work such a miracle of beautifying the skin with mere cosmetics and in struments. It is especially for skin eruptions, noted so frequently with young people. A good way to take it is to stir in a glass of cold—not ice—water, and drink it.

If the children, or adults that matter, dislike to take this manner, mix it with morning cereal.

For children, invalids or one else who likes it that mix a food quantity of bran marmalade, honey or some of syrup, and spread it on bread.

Or it may be eaten clear, cereal, with cream and a little sugar.

As to the quantity, it all depends upon your need of a laxative. Anywhere from one five heaping tablespoons may be taken daily. The morning is a good time to take this, as it is not a severe physic when handled properly.—Farm and Home.

Whenever You Need a General Tonic Take Grove's

The Old Standard Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic is equally valuable as General Tonic because it contains the well known tonic properties of QUININ and IRON. It acts on the Liver, Drives out Malaria, Enriches the Blood and Builds up the Whole System. 50 cents.

A Hen's Banquet.

"If you have plenty of sour milk," says Farm and Fireside "try feeding the hens regularly about one gallon daily for each 30 or 40 hens, along with a dry mash made up of one part wheat bran, one part wheat middlings, and one part corn meal, and a scratch feed of equal parts by weight of corn, oats, and wheat or barley. Don't forget to feed plenty of green feed—cabbage, beets, or sprouted oats. Better still, a variety of these succulent feeds, including a small quantity of raw apples and raw potatoes, will be relished. Shell, grit, charcoal, and fresh water make up a hen's banquet."

That injunction to love your neighbor as yourself, means the neighbor in trouble as well as the other who has a big automobile. — Ex.

It has been said that from the same materials one builds palaces, another hovels; one warehouses, another villas; bricks and mortar are mortar and bricks until the architect makes them something else. The block of granite which was an obstacle in the path of the week becomes a stepping stone in the pathway of the resolute. The difficulties which dishearten one man only stiffen the sinews of another, who looks on them as a sort of mental springboard by which to vault across the gulf of failure on to the sure, solid ground of full success. — Ex.

The grandest luxury God ever gave man is health. He who trades that off for all the palaces of the earth is cheated. Many have envied Napoleon, but he would gladly have given all his honors to have been freed from the gout. A dinner of herbs tastes better to the appetite sharpened on a woodman's ax or a scythe, than wealthy indigestion experiences seated at a table covered with vension and all the luxuries of the season. With good health we can sleep sweetly on a straw mattress, while fashionable invalids get but little rest on a couch of eagle's down. Let us remember Paul's advice to the Hebrews and if we have health in all other respect "Be content with such things as ye have." — Exchange.

It is so easy to criticize one's neighbor who has gone wrong in morals, or made a failure in business, and so hard to give credit for the effect of the influences impelling him to disaster, over which he has no control, that our criticism of others is often very uncharitable. Men often say how good they would have been, or what they would have accomplished had they been in the other man's place. They do not stop to ask why the fellow that was in the other shoes did not succeed. If they did they would often find the man who went wrong, or who failed, was entitled to great credit for standing up so bravely under forces and burdens that might easily have overthrown his accusers. Sometimes the man who fails is a greater hero than another who wins. — Ex.

Toil is healthful. Even excessive labor can be long endured. But worry is a corrosive that speedily eats out the nerves and tissues of life. He who frets about his work burns life's candle at both ends. It is the friction rather than the revolution of the wheels that wears the machinery. He who knows how to do his level best and leave the result with God, has learned one of the chief secrets of life. But he who is always worrying about how things are coming out is most foolish. Some people constantly complain and protest. They imagine that their lot is so much harder than that of their neighbor. They are always regretting that they did not do things some other way. Such persons will have nerves get on edge, will have chronic indigestion, a gloomy disposition and a diseased brain. Sunshine and health are close friends. Do the best you can and stew not. Work hard. Work very hard. There is much to do. There is much that no one can do as well as you. But do not bear two burdens, both work and worry. All the fretting in the world will not change matters. It will only render you unhappy and unfit you for the largest service. Princeton Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Princeton story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

J. H. Thompson, plumber, Princeton, Ky., says: "I was troubled for five years with backache and other annoying symptoms of kidney complaint. During the early part of the winter when the cold weather set in, I was sure to have an attack of lame back that would make it impossible for me to work for days at a time. I tried many medicines but got no relief. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills and in two days was back to work, feeling better in every way. I do not have backache now and my health has been greatly improved."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER Mr. Thompson, said: "I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I have had occasion to use this excellent medicine I have been greatly benefited."

IN SAD BUT LOVING MEMORY.

Of Mae L. Hardin Who Departed This Life Feb. 2nd, 1915.

We are sitting alone to night Dear, alone in our dreary old home, and the sound of the rain as it falls on the pane, brings darker the gathering gloom, for we know that it falls on your grave Mae, your grave near the Evergreen sod, where we laid you away one year ago today, when the flowers were all faded and gone. Ab lonely and dreary as that hour Dear, and our heart to its depths was stirred, for we knew never more, would your feet cross our floor, or the sound of your voice be heard. To day one year ago her soul to Heaven took its flight, to dwell where all is peace and love, all beautiful and bright, when at the cold and silent grave we bade her form farewell, rejoiced to know her soul had gone to Heaven with God to dwell.

A Word to the Parents

And County Graduates.

We have had numerous inquiries from young people who want to enter High School at the beginning of the second term. We are sorry that we are unable to meet the wants of these deserving young people, but owing to an unusually large attendance in High School and lack of room, it will be impossible for us to begin new classes at this time in the school year.

We are already planning for a great year in 1916-17 and we hope by September 1916 to be able to accommodate any number of pupils who may wish to enter.

We feel that this has been, in some respects at least, the best year in the history of the school. We have re-established the School Library and have recently added several hundred volumes, among them being the new, Eleventh Edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, which is the latest and best reference work published; the school Orchestra is better than ever before; we have a splendid laboratory with equipment for Physics and Biology and we hope soon to add Agriculture to our curriculum. There is a splendid school spirit and we are very much pleased with the outlook for 1915-17.

We would be glad to have you visit the school any time you are in Marion. If we can be of service to you, do not hesitate to call on us.

Yours for better schools,

MRS. DIXIE BRANTLEY LITTLE

A Tribute of Respect by Her Family Physician, John Logan Reynolds, M. D.

There are numbers of and various reasons why I should offer this tribute of respect to the memory of the subject of this memoir. It has been my privilege—as well as pleasure—to be the family physician of her father, Robert Ewen Brantley, since Dixie was a small girl, therefore, I was constantly associated with her in the pleasant relation of friendship in various ways, at various times, and at different places. Consequently I have known her very intimately during the period of her childhood and youth as well as the fleeting years she was permitted to live since reaching the age of womanhood. Being thus associated with her in the various walks of life, I have the unmistakable evidence to that she was a plain, congenial, unassuming Christian girl, who always proved her faith by her daily deportment, thereby holding the utmost confidence of her large number of friends. She was reared by parents whose motto is—"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it" (Proverbs 22:6).

The statement that she made during the month of December, 1915, which was published in the Providence Enterprise and also the Crittenden Record-Press, relative to her condition and desire to thank her many friends for all kindness and favors shown her during her illness, doubtless closed her correspondence with all newspapers for life. While she wrote this memorable communication with a feeble hand, conscious of the fact that she could not possibly live but a very short time, being confined to her bed with no hope of leaving it again only through death, yet with a clear mind, and a heart submissive to the rules of the Dispenser of all good, she took this method of thanking her friends for what they had already done for her; and also to admonish them of the uncertainty of life, the certainty of death, and the important necessity of being ready.

I have been engaged in the practice of medicine for more than fifteen years, have seen a number of sick people die, but I readily confess that the scene witnessed during the closing hours of this pure life, far exceeds anything, of this nature, that has ever been my sad experience to behold. During the last few months of her life, the theme of her thoughts and actions seemed to be a delightful preparation for a journey or visit, in which she took great pleasure, to know that she would soon be with kindred and friends whom she had not seen for a period of time. When in her last hours, after everything that medical skill, human thoughtfulness and tender hands could do for her had been done, but all to no lasting advantage, and while she was bidding her family and friends goodbye and assuring them of her certainty of heaven, I approached the side of her bed and asked her if she wished to say anything to me? With the affectionate look of only a true and faithful friend, with my right hand clasped in hers and with her left hand resting on the back of my neck, she said: "Doctor you have been good to me, and always come when I called for you, farewell." Amid those Christian triumphs she left us to join the angelic throng for the "Glory World" for which she had so earnestly prayed. "Oh! how sad to our natures, yet how cheering to the Christian hope are scenes like these. The most applicable paragraph that English words are adequate to express is this: "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his!" (Numbers 23:10).

Dixie Katherine Little-nee Brantley, was born in Webster Co., Kentucky, near Oak Grove, January 6th, 1894. She professed religion in 1907 when she was thirteen years of age and united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Oak Grove where she retained her membership until death. She was educated in the schools of Webster county and at Marion Graded and High School. She was married to Burtis Clay Little, of near Piney, Crittenden county, Ky., Dec. 22nd, 1912, and they lived happily together, at their beautiful home in east Crittenden (in the region of the nativity of the writer), for about three years. She died at the home of her parents, where she had been for a number of months, Monday, January 10th, 1916, about 12:30 a. m.

The cause of her death was tuberculosis of lungs with which she had been afflicted for some time.

The funeral and burial took place at Oak Grove on Tuesday, January 11th. Owing to her request the funeral services were conducted by Rev. John R. King, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister, and Eld. Abraham Ritch, a general Baptist minister, thus showing that she was not sectarian but liberal in her religious belief.

Paved Roads for Iowa.

"The Greater Iowa Association," says Farm and Fireside, "is out for a program calling for the building of 2,000 miles of paved roads, at a cost of $10,000 a mile, or $20,000,000 in all.

"Iowa is roughly 200 by 300 miles in size. Therefore the most that could be hoped for would be the equivalent of three east and west roads and five north and south. The average farm would be 25 miles from one of these boulevards. This seems some distance when the twenty millions are considered."

Who-What-?

In every field of human endeavor the man or the product that excels must forever live in the white light of publicity where envy and emulation are constantly at work.

Whether in art, literature, music, science or industry, excellence brings the same rewards and punishment.

Widespread recognition is the reward, and the punishment fierce denial and detraction.

When a man's work becomes a standard for the whole world, it also becomes a target for envious competitors.

The leader is assailed because he is a leader, and the effort to equal him is the proof of his leadership.

Failing to equal him the follower seeks to depreciate and to destroy—but only confirms once more the superiority of that which he wishes to supplant.

There is nothing new in this. It is as old as the world, as old as human passions—envy, fear, greed, ambition and covetousness.

And it avails nothing. The man or the product that has in them the real qualities of leadership remains the leader.

That which is good or great makes itself known no matter how loud the clamor of denial. That which deserves to live—lives.

MOTHER NATURE MAKES HER GIFT

Compounds in Her Laboratory Ingredients for the Master Medicine, Tanlac.

Of all the ailments that afflict humanity, chronic dyspepsia probably is the most common. Its causes and characterizations are many. Skilled specialists have been unable to cope with this universal malady, but Mother Nature, who, after all, is an ideal physician in combination with skill in chemistry, has compounded in her inexhaustible laboratory a marvelous remedy for this trouble.

A lecturer would use hours to describe the sufferings that dyspepsia brings. Dyspeptics become listless, then morbid, are melancholy over little things, have whimsical ideas, perhaps "grouchy" is a better word, aside from the nervous physical suffering, and with appetite gone, sleep fitful, dizzy spells and nausea frequent, life hardly seems worth living.

Tanlac seems to almost instantly check this distressing condition and to restore a healthy, normal appetite, bring good, restful sleep, and banish that tired, nervous feeling—in short, to restore the stomach to the habit of doing a full day's work and doing it well.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Marion at J. H. Orme's drugstore and in Blackford at A. T. Brown's drugstore, where it is being explained daily to scores of men and women. Adv.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Lord gave—the Lord hath taken to himself Brother J. P. Pierce. On the morning of Jan. 18th, 1916 with loved ones and friends at his bedside, he calmly passed to the reward that awaits the faithful. We mourn because he has left us, but we bow in humble submission to the will of "Him who doeth all things well." And our hearts reach out in deepest sympathy to the bereaved family and many sorrowing friends.

Bro. Pierce was one of the charter members of the First Baptist church, of Marion, Ky.; was the first Church Clerk and the first Deacon. He was the first Superintendent of the Sunday School a position which he held for twenty-eight years. He always worked tirelessly and faithfully for the upbuilding of the Church and Sunday School.

Up to the last few years he had never missed a meeting of the Ohio River Association. He served as moderator of this Association for two years. All through his services in the church and community he worked with a zeal tempered with kindness; and while he has gone from us his influence lives and will abide.

Therefore, be it resolved:—

1st. That we as a church thus express our appreciation of his life and grief at his death.

MRS. DIXIE BRANTLEY LITTLE

A Tribute of Respect by Her Family Physician, John Logan Reynolds, M. D.

There are numbers of and various reasons why I should offer this tribute of respect to the memory of the subject of this memoir. It has been my privilege—as well as pleasure—to be the family physician of her father, Robert Ewen Brantley, since Dixie was a small girl, therefore, I was constantly associated with her in the pleasant relation of friendship in various ways, at various times, and at different places. Consequently I have known her very intimately during the period of her childhood and youth as well as the fleeting years she was permitted to live since reaching the age of womanhood. Being thus associated with her in the various walks of life, I have the unmistakable evidence to that she was a plain, congenial, unassuming Christian girl, who always proved her faith by her daily deportment, thereby holding the utmost confidence of her large number of friends. She was reared by parents whose motto is—"Train up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old, he will not depart from it" (Proverbs 22:6).

The statement that she made during the month of December, 1915, which was published in the Providence Enterprise and also the Crittenden Record-Press, relative to her condition and desire to thank her many friends for all kindness and favors shown her during her illness, doubtless closed her correspondence with all newspapers for life. While she wrote this memorable communication with a feeble hand, conscious of the fact that she could not possibly live but a very short time, being confined to her bed with no hope of leaving it again only through death, yet with a clear mind, and a heart submissive to the rules of the Dispenser of all good, she took this method of thanking her friends for what they had already done for her; and also to admonish them of the uncertainty of life, the certainty of death, and the important necessity of being ready.

I have been engaged in the practice of medicine for more than fifteen years, have seen a number of sick people die, but I readily confess that the scene witnessed during the closing hours of this pure life, far exceeds anything, of this nature, that has ever been my sad experience to behold. During the last few months of her life, the theme of her thoughts and actions seemed to be a delightful preparation for a journey or visit, in which she took great pleasure, to know that she would soon be with kindred and friends whom she had not seen for a period of time. When in her last hours, after everything that medical skill, human thoughtfulness and tender hands could do for her had been done, but all to no lasting advantage, and while she was bidding her family and friends goodbye and assuring them of her certainty of heaven, I approached the side of her bed and asked her if she wished to say anything to me? With the affectionate look of only a true and faithful friend, with my right hand clasped in hers and with her left hand resting on the back of my neck, she said: "Doctor you have been good to me, and always come when I called for you, farewell." Amid those Christian triumphs she left us to join the angelic throng for the "Glory World" for which she had so earnestly prayed. "Oh, how sad to our natures, yet how cheering to the Christian hope are scenes like these. The most applicable paragraph that English words are adequate to express is this: "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his!" (Numbers 23:10.)

Dixie Katherine Little-nee Brantley, was born in Webster Co., Kentucky, near Oak Grove, January 6th, 1894. She professed religion in 1907 when she was thirteen years of age and united with the Cumberland Presbyterian church at Oak Grove where she retained her membership until death. She was educated in the schools of Webster county and at Marion Graded and High School. She was married to Burtis Clay Little, of near Piney, Crittenden county, Ky., Dec. 22nd, 1912, and they lived happily together, at their beautiful home in east Crittenden (in the region of the nativity of the writer), for about three years. She died at the home of her parents, where she had been for a number of months, Monday, January 10th, 1916, about 12:30 a. m.

The cause of her death was tuberculosis of lungs with which she had been afflicted for some time.

The funeral and burial took place at Oak Grove on Tuesday, January 11th. Owing to her request the funeral services were conducted by Rev. John R. King, a Cumberland Presbyterian minister, and Eld. Abraham Ritch, a general Baptist minister, thus showing that she was not sectarian but liberal in her religious belief.

Paved Roads for Iowa.

"The Greater Iowa Association," says Farm and Fireside, "is out for a program calling for the building of 2,000 miles of paved roads, at a cost of $10,000 a mile, or $20,000,000 in all.

"Iowa is roughly 200 by 300 miles in size. Therefore the most that could be hoped for would be the equivalent of three east and west roads and five north and south. The average farm would be 25 miles from one of these boulevards. This seems some distance when the twenty millions are considered."

Who-What-?

In every field of human endeavor the man or the product that excels must forever live in the white light of publicity where envy and emulation are constantly at work.

Whether in art, literature, music, science or industry, excellence brings the same rewards and punishment.

Widespread recognition is the reward, and the punishment fierce denial and detraction.

When a man's work becomes a standard for the whole world, it also becomes a target for envious competitors.

The leader is assailed because he is a leader, and the effort to equal him is the proof of his leadership.

Failing to equal him the follower seeks to depreciate and to destroy—but only confirms once more the superiority of that which he wishes to supplant.

There is nothing new in this. It is as old as the world, as old as human passions—envy, fear, greed, ambition and covetousness.

And it avails nothing. The man or the product that has in them the real qualities of leadership remains the leader.

That which is good or great makes itself known no matter how loud the clamor of denial. That which deserves to live—lives.

MOTHER NATURE
MAKES HER GIFT

Compounds in Her Laboratory Ingredients for the Master Medicine, Tanlac.

Of all the ailments that afflict humanity, chronic dyspepsia probably is the most common. Its causes and characterizations are many. Skilled specialists have been unable to cope with this universal malady, but Mother Nature, who, after all, is an ideal physician in combination with skill in chemistry, has compounded in her inexhaustible laboratory a marvelous remedy for this trouble.

A lecturer would use hours to describe the sufferings that dyspepsia brings. Dyspeptics become listless, then morbid, are melancholy over little things, have whimsical ideas, perhaps "grouchy" is a better word, aside from the nervous physical suffering, and with appetite gone, sleep fitful, dizzy spells and nausea frequent, life hardly seems worth living.

Tanlac seems to almost instantly check this distressing condition and to restore a healthy, normal appetite, bring good, restful sleep, and banish that tired, nervous feeling—in short, to restore the stomach to the habit of doing a full day's work and doing it well.

Tanlac is now being introduced in Marion at J. H. Orme's drugstore and in Blackford at A. T. Brown's drugstore, where it is being explained daily to scores of men and women. Adv.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

The Lord gave—the Lord hath taken to himself Brother J. P. Pierce. On the morning of Jan. 18th, 1916 with loved ones and friends at his bedside, he calmly passed to the reward that awaits the faithful. We mourn because he has left us, but we bow in humble submission to the will of "Him who doeth all things well." And our hearts reach out in deep sympathy to the bereaved family and many sorrowing friends.

Bro. Pierce was one of the charter members of the First Baptist church, of Marion, Ky.; was the first Church Clerk and the first Deacon. He was the first Superintendent of the Sunday School a position which he held for twenty-eight years. He always worked tirelessly and faithfully for the upbuilding of the Church and Sunday School.

Up to the last few years he had never missed a meeting of the Ohio River Association. He served as moderator of this Association for two years. All through his services in the church and community he worked with a zeal tempered with kindness; and while he has gone from us his influence lives and will abide.

Therefore, be it resolved:—

1st. That we as a church thus express our appreciation of his life and grief at his death.

2nd. That in his death his wife has lost a kind and devoted husband; the children a loving and indulgent father; the church a faithful and efficient member; the community a valued citizen.

3rd. That these resolutions be spread upon the records of the church, a copy be given the family of the deceased and that a copy be given the Crittenden Record-Press for publication.

Done by order of the church January 20th, 1916.

MISSOURI NIGHT RIDERS ALL ENTER GUILTY PLEAS

Thirty-Three Throw Themselves On The Mercy of the Court.

New Madrid, Mo., Feb. 1.—Thirty-three defendants in the night rider trials here pleaded guilty today, thus bringing the trials to a sudden end.

All thirty-three were sentenced to six months imprisonment and were paroled on good behavior. Two men who were on trial today were allowed to plead guilty and were paroled with the rest.

The prison sentences of the eighteen whose cases already had been disposed of will stand unless the trial judge should parole them.

The object of the night riders' operations was to force lower rent and higher wages.

MAMMOTH MACHINE CUTS CAR'S PRICE

Moving Platform for Entire Assembly Operation on Maxwell Cars.

BARE FRAME STARTS

In Less Than Four Hours Finished Car Rolls Off The Other End.

One machine tool, nearly 1000 feet long, plays an important part in the manufacture of each Maxwell automobile.

This machine, costing many thousands to install, has nevertheless helped make it possible for the Maxwell Motor Co., Inc., to chop nearly $100. off the list price of its car for the 1916 season, through the increased production capacity which it affords, and the simplification of the labor schedule in the assembly operation.

When "Pay As You Ride"

Stephens, of the Cochran Hardware Co., local Maxwell distributors, was last in Detroit, Walter E. Flanders, President and General Manager of the Maxwell Company, showed him this machine—a moving platform with tributary machinery, on which the Maxwell cars are assembled, on what Mr. Flanders terms the progressive plan.

This progressive assembling, Mr. Stephens declares, is a wonderful climax of manufacturing science.

It occupies a strip along one side of one of the Detroit Maxwell factories. The room is 1000 feet by 150—one story and flooded with sunshine.

The platform progresses 23 inches a minute. At one end men roll on this platform a string of low wheeled trucks, each bearing a bare, unpainted frame. This frame journeys steadily from one end of the platform to the other, nearly 1000 feet away. Its progress is flanked with stock rooms from which emerge men with steady streams of automobile parts and units. Alongside the platform stand seventy gangs of men—the most skilled in the thousands who work for Maxwell.

Drawing on the stockroom at their immediate rear, these men install, on this moving frame, part by part the components of a complete automobile. Always the work is moving, slowly, steadily. At one point the platform meets an overhead railway which supplies at exactly the correct rate an automobile body for each chassis.

It takes nearly four hours for the frame to become the complete automobile, which rolls off the platform and into the hands of the tester for final adjustment under actual running conditions. Under manufacturing conditions in vogue still in many plants, this assembly process would have required as many days.

Installations of scientific manufacturing like this, and of a similarly intensified order, are the element that is bringing down automobile prices, declares Mr. Stephens. At present, he believes, it looks as if the production sharps have brought efficiency and standardization to very near the perfection point. Whether or not future years will witness similar progress is now generally deemed a highly doubtful matter. Adv.

WESTON

Miss Bertha Rankin, at the head of the school, preparing an interesting program to be given at the close of the winter session on Feb. 11 are invited to be present on that date.

Mrs. Ed Tabor has returned to Smithland to live. It has been only a short time since she lost her husband, who was well known in this part.

Jim Rankin gave a dance last Saturday night to the young people of this neighborhood. The Brewer band made music for the occasion. Several from other parts came and enjoyed the dancing. The grand march was led by Miss Bertha Rankin and Mr. Joseph Hughes. All present enjoyed themselves and were sorry when the band played "Goodbye Everybody" and "Good Night Dear." The young people desire to thank Mr. and Mrs. Rankin for their kindness.

Miss Edwina Rankin and Roy Brewer were in the city Tuesday. While here they visited the school and spent the early part of the day, returning to Ford's Ferry in the afternoon.

Miss Joanna Rankin has been with her sister near Marion for the last few weeks.

Dink Sturgeon, captain of the yacht Ollie James, predicts another rise which will equal the rise of 1913, owing to the volume of water which fell in the latter part of last week.

Mr. Burch, of Elizabethtown, Ill., was in the city Monday in the interest of the Elizabethtown Fur Co.

Ben Rankin entertained the young people Monday night, Jan. 31st, with an informal dance at his home "Green Hills" near here. Brewer's band furnished music for the dancers, who made merry until the wee hours of morning. For those to whom dancing held no delight; tables were prepared at which 500 and other games were indulged in. It is only another instance of the spirit surviving at "Green Hills."

BLACKFORD

Feb. 1st, 1916.

On the 1st ultimo we pencilled an item from this burg which was published in due time, therefore we feel encouraged to try again, so here goes—

Quite a number of our people are now experiencing the after effects of an attack of influenza, which has been somewhat prevalent in this part of the world during the recent changeable weather.

Due to the weather conditions, the farmers in the surrounding country are suspending their farm work.

Rev. John A. Crowell, a retired Methodist clergyman, who resides at this place, celebrated the 77th anniversary of his birth, on January 19th, with four generations represented.

Eli King, of Panther Hollow, and J. M. Burton, of Hog Wallow, were here last week on legal business.

Rev. E. R. Bennett, of Clay, and Dr. J. L. Reynolds, of Blackford, went to Princeton on last Saturday to attend the nuptial vows of Rev. Albert Henry Reynolds, of Hampton, and Miss Elizabeth Allen Bennett, of Bowling Green, who were married in the Methodist church at Princeton. The connubial knot was tied according to the form of the Methodist discipline, by Revs. W. C. Brandon and E. R. Bennett.

The man who likes his life work well enough to keep everlastingly at it, and takes pains at every turn, is a safe genius to pattern after. It is not a sign of weakness to seek advice of the man who has had experience, but it is a sign of good judgment. No man can do more than his best, but a great many can do more than they think is their best. It matters not so much what you do, but how you do it. If you see another succeeding better than yourself, watch him closely and see how he does it. It is much easier to slide down a banister than to climb a flight of stairs. You can slide down to obscurity without trouble or much effort, but it takes climbing to be worthwhile. Conscientious success means living on a dollar a day if you earn two; minding your own business and not meddling with other people's; trusting in God and relying on your own resources.

"It is easy enough to be pleasant When life moves on as a song, But the man 'worth-while' is the man Who smiles when everything goes wrong." —Puella.

Additional School News

In spite of the bad weather and la-grippe the Marion Graded and High School continues to grow. The attendance now is larger than it has been at any time during the year. The County Supt. tells us that there will be over one hundred common school graduates in the county this year and many of them will want to enter High School next year. Many of these noble young people, who, in working for the betterment of themselves are helping to make a greater and better Crittenden, are already planning to spend next year in school in Marion. The good people of Marion heartily welcome them and the Record Press feels free to say that the intellectual, physical and moral interest of these young people will be safely and carefully guarded and properly developed under the efficient management of the best school in Western Ky.

No longer do we hear it said that Crittenden county is in the rear in Educational matters. Crittenden's school men not only satisfy the people at home but others recognize their ability.

The following men have been appointed as the committee on Necrology of the Kentucky Educational Association which meets at Louisville in April:

Prof. A. C. Burton, of Bowling Green; Supt. E. Jeffry Travis, of Marion and Prof. John E. Calfee of Berea.

It will be remembered that at the K. E. A. last year Crittenden won the F. D. attendance prize, which is the greatest honor that the E. E. A. can confer upon any county.

The Winnie Stewart Co., will give us an evening of character readings, music and songs at the School Auditorium Friday evening Feb. 4th. Don't fail to hear them. Admission 35 and 25 cents.

Miss Maude Gill, of Waupnuka, Okla., who was summoned home on account of the serious illness of her father, returned to her school work Monday, as her father is much better.
