DEATH REMOVES A BELOVED WOMAN

Mrs. Sarah E. Nunn, Known to A Great Number, Passes Away After a Lingered Illness.

Mrs. S. E. Nunn, wife of M. Y. Nunn, Sr., died Saturday morning, Feb. 26th, 1916, at 8 o'clock, at the Nunn farm south of the city limits. She had been ill most of the new year but suffered a relapse two weeks ago, following an attack of Lagrippe of unusual severity attended also with kidney trouble. She was a great sufferer during her last days and nothing which physicians or trained nurse could suggest seemed to offer much relief or rest until death intervened. Miss Shaw, her nurse, did all in her power as did Drs. Clement and Fox her attending physicians. The beloved remains were removed Saturday afternoon from her home in the country to the residence of her son, Dr. F. W. Nunn, on West Depot street, in this city, where the funeral was conducted by her pastor Rev. J. A. Chandler Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The house would not hold those who called to show respect to the deceased. The service was most impressive and was interspersed with sweet hymns which were her known favorites, and appropriately closed with the reading by Rev. Chandler of the following beautiful poem, entitled:

SLEEP ON BELOVED.

Sleep on beloved, sleep and take thy rest,
Lay down thy head upon the Saviour's breast;
We love thee well, but Jesus loves thee best—
Good-night!

Calm is thy slumber as an infant's sleep;
But thou shalt wake no more to toil and weep;
Thine is a perfect rest, secure and deep—
Good-night!

Until the shadows from this earth are cast;
Until He gathers in His sheaves at last;
Until the twilight gloom be over past—
Good-night!

Until the Easter glory lights the skies;
Until the dead in Jesus shall arise,
And He shall come but not in lowly guise—
Good-night!

Until made beautiful by Love Divine,
Thou, in the likeness of thy Lord shalt shine,
And He shall bring that golden crown of thine—
Good-night!

Only "Good-night," beloved, not "farewell!"
A little while and all His saints shall dwell
In Hallowed unison indivisible—
Good-night!

Until we meet again before His throne,
Clothed in the spotless robe He gives His own,
Until we know even as we are known—
Good-night!

Baptist Meeting Still Continues.

The meeting at the First Baptist church which began 10 days ago continues with unabated interest. The edifice is filled to overflowing at each service, after noon and evening. There has been a dozen or more professions, many of them among grown young men. Dr. Wood is a for-

The burial was conducted immediately afterward at the new cemetery and the newly made mound was covered with flowers, many emblems being in evidence.

Sarah Elizabeth Denton was born at Cairo, Henderson county Kentucky, September 1st, 1855. She was the daughter of Fredrick and Elizabeth Denton, old citizens of that section. She professed faith in Christ at a meeting conducted by Rev. Elijah Thurman, in 1869 and united with the Methodist church and lived a consistent christian life ever since, moving her membership to the Methodist church here when they located here a few years ago.

She was united in marriage to Mark Yergan Nunn, Nov. 6th 1873 and to this union was born three children, Clarence Augustus Nunn, who died in March 1908, leaving one little daughter who took her father's name and who lived with her grandparents, Mrs. Olga Sights, wife of Eugene Sights, of Fowlerton, Tex. and Dr. F. W. Nunn, of this city. Her husband, eleven grandchildren, two brothers, Henry and Robert Denton and one sister, Mrs. Mary Ann Denton, of Henderson county also survive her.

Mrs. Nunn as daughter, wife, mother and grandmother, has endeared herself to all her family by her gentle manners and kindness of heart and she will be missed greatly in her family, and by a host of relatives and friends. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereft husband and son in their affliction in the loss of the idolized wife and mother. Peace to her ashes.

MARION CITY SCHOOL NEWS

Interesting Programs Rendered By Members of the Societies.—Some Other Happenings.

On the afternoon of Feb 25 1916 the first of a series of programs given by the four classes of the Scamantian Society, was given by the girls of the Freshman class in the School Auditorium.

The stage was beautifully decorated with the class colors—yellow and black. Each girl wore a white middie and skirt with a red tie and hair ribbon and white hose and slippers.

The program which was carried out was a "girls minstrel." Eighteen girls took part in this well arranged program besides the pianist and middleman. As the curtain rose the entire chorus was singing "Sweet Kentucky Lady." At the close of this they remained standing and the members were introduced by the middleman, each girl bearing the name of a "Movie Star."

The outside visitors who were present said the program was one of the most enjoyable ones they had ever witnessed.

Miss Emma Hunt, of Frankfort, gave some splendid lectures in chapel last week.

In a few weeks we will have a splendid school band.

Dr. Frazer and Bro. Chandler were pleasant visitors at chapel one morning last week.

Miss Ena Clark attended chapel Monday morning.

Among the new pupils in school this week are: Neele Young, of Mexico; Grace and Mattie Lindsey, of Glendale; Cora McConnell, of Sugar Grove; Alton and Inez Wicker, of Cookseyville; Kathie Rice, of Midway; Allan Rice; J. T. Cochran and Edwin Cochran.

Miss Wheeler visited her sister near Mexico Saturday and Sunday.

A splendid program was given in the Boy's Literary Society Friday afternoon. The members responded to the roll call with a one minute booster speech. An appreciated recitation was given by Ralph Hamilton. This was followed by a debate, the subject being: "Resolved, that the Federal Government Should Impose an Income Tax." On the affirmative were Sylvan Bigham and Eugene Threlkeld; negative, Homer McConnell and Orville Threlkeld. All the speakers gave very interesting discussions. The judges, Johnson Postleweight, Nesbitt Fowler and Clifton Crawford, decided in favor of the negative. A reading was given by John Ed Young. The joke paper was edited by Willie Clark, assisted by Eugene Summerville, Raymond Moss and Owen Davenport. This paper was perhaps appreciated by the members of the society more than any other number on the program; An interesting program has been arranged for next Friday afternoon.

Editor Crittenden Record-Press,

Dear Sir:—

As a sufficient amount has not yet been subscribed to insure the payment of Crittenden county's part of Mr. Bird's salary, and feeling that it would be a great loss to the county to abandon the work, I authorize you to say to the people of the county that I will be one of sixty to subscribe ten dollars each. I am sure we have more than that number in this county ready to give more than that sum if necessary, when their attention is called to it.

BOYS AND GIRLS CORN & PIG CLUBS

Let Everyone Encourage Them So As to Make Old Crittenden the Banner Club County of Ky.

In organizing our clubs for 1916 we asked that only boys and girls that meant to grow the corn and raise the pigs, give in their names. If this is the case Crittenden county will have 50 acres of corn grown by Corn Club boys and 100 pigs cared for by Pig Club members. If every one will join hands and encourage and help push this along we will make Crittenden the banner Club County of the State of Kentucky.

Don't forget the Farmer's Meetings, Crayne, March 7th, Olive Branch, March 8th, Seminary, March 9th, Deer Creek, March 10th. The meeting at Marion, in the interest of dairying, will be on Friday afternoon March 10th, as we have a letter from Mr. Nichols stating he will be unable to be with us on Saturday. All interested will notice the change and be on hand Friday.

M. E. FOHS TO QUIT BUSINESS

Has Been In Business Here For A Quarter of A Century.

Mr. M. E. Fohs, who came to Marion in 1890 and has been in business here ever since is forced to quit business on account of bad health. Mr. Fohs has been affected with heart trouble and has been unable to look after his business for the past two years. Since Mr. Fohs came to Marion he has engaged in many enterprises and will be missed among the business men of the city. He dealt first in furniture and afterward in groceries and later still was a merchant tailor with a cleaning, repairing and pressing department. He was among the first to go into mining when the boom struck Marion in the days of the "Riley," the "Lucille" and the "old Jim." Later still he opened a 5 and 10 cent store in which he is now engaged.

Mr. David B. Fohs, his son, who has had charge of his store, has been offered a fine position which he intends to accept. Elsewhere in this paper will be found Mr. Fohs' closing out sale advertisement which promises to be one of the largest money saving events in the history of our city. Be sure to read the advertisement and then don't fail to be on hand to get some of the bargains.

OLD LETTER SENT

BACK TO WRITER

Judge Moore Has an Unusual Experience in Recovering note Thirty-two Years Old.

Judge James A. Moore, of this city, has recently had returned to him a letter which he wrote at Frankfort, Ky., on April 25, 1884, thirty-two years ago, while he was a member of the General Assembly of Kentucky.

The Judge was at the time the representative from the counties of Crittenden and Livingston, and wrote the letter to a lady in Madisonville. In some way the letter was misplaced and had fallen behind a mantel piece where it has remained hidden for a third of a century and was not found until a few weeks ago, at which time it was returned to the writer.

The lady Judge Moore addressed was Mrs. Bourland, his wife's mother. She is long since dead and the old mansion has changed hands and in dismantling it the long lost letter came to view.

Japanese Fleet In Mediterranean.

Copenhagen, via London, Feb. 22.—German newspapers print the Italian dispatches stating that the Japanese fleet arrived safely in the Mediterranean sea together with a great number of aircraft. January 3 it was announced from Tokio that a Japanese squadron would be dispatched to the Suez canal presumably for the purpose of protecting Japanese shipping, as two Japanese steamers had been torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean.

Workmen Shot 100 Feet

Through Mud and Water.

New York, Feb. 29.—An explosion in a subway being constructed a hundred feet below the surface of East river today shot three workmen thorough the mud and water to the surface of the river, killing one outright. One was rescued and the third unaccounted for. The explosion was caused by the eruption of a geyser in the river thirty feet high. Small boats put out to the scene and rescued one workman alive and the body of the other one. About forty workmen were in other sections of the tube but the compressed air apparatus prevented the in-rush of the river and they escaped.

BOND ISSUES FOR GOOD ROADS BELIEVED VALID

Dictum, in Opinion of Court Of Appeals Opens Way For Huge Improvements.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 28.—By dictum in the opinion of Judge Hurt, upholding the validity of the Fayette county road bond issue of $300,000, road bond issues in thirteen counties, involving issues amounting to $2,840,000, which carried by a majority but not a two-thirds vote, probably will be validated.

None of the counties in which bond issues carried, but failed of a two-thirds vote, have brought the question squarely before the court and in some of them officials believing the election lost, have done nothing for several months toward issuing the bonds while Pulaski has voted $300,000 bond issues three times but the 5 per cent. limit, of course, will prevent the county from issuing $300,000 in road bonds.

All these counties have held elections within a year: Boyd voted $500,000; Mason $300,000; Pulaski $300,000; Hopkins, $300,000; Daviess, $600,000; Kenton, $250,000; Campbell, $200,000; Oldham, $100,000; Meade, $100,000; Menifee, $50,000; Trigg, $50,000; Lincoln, $50,000; Bracken, $40,000.

Besides these Ballard and Fayette have voted $300,000 by two thirds vote, Lewis and Breathitt, $150,000; Greenup and Knox, $200,000; Rockcastle, Scott and Laurel $100,000; Nicholas, $125,000; Clinton, $40,000, and Russell and Carroll, $50,000.

Christian, Union, Powell, Henderson, Letcher, Knott and Casey counties will vote soon.

Cruciform Memorial.

In memory of his son, Lindon Bates, Jr., who was lost in the Lusitania disaster, Lindon Wallace Bates is arranging to erect on Mount Lebanon, the highest point in the Berkshires, a remarkable monument which will serve to remind future generations of the brilliant career of this young man and of the bravery with which he died. Typically American in origin and design, as is befitting a memorial to one so truly American in ideals as was Lindon Bates, Jr., this monument will rise more than 175 feet above the summit of the monuments, standing out in grandeur by day and beaming forth as a beacon by night to all within a radius of fifty miles. Quite the most striking feature of a memorial characterized by originality and at the same time by dignified simplicity is that the top of the shaft will be provided with electric searchlight reflectors which will throw a great beam of light in a vertical direction and beams of equal power to the east and west, thereby forming a cruciform effect at night. The location of the monument is such that this cross, shining in the darkness, will be seen in five States—New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont and New Hampshire.—New York Telegram.

Plucky Girl And Banker Rout Robbers.

Kansas City, Kan., Feb. 29.—The refusal of Louis Lustig to "put up his hands" when covered by a gun and the bravery of his 16 year old clerk, Miss Frances Gussion in wrenching herself free from the grasp of her captor and running for help, prevented a holdup of Lustig's private bank and shipping office in Kansas City, Kansas yesterday. As Lustig was placing a sack containing $5,000 in his safe two men entered and walked behind the cashier's desk.

"Howdy," said the leader, placing a revolver against the banker's side. Lustig grasped the weapon and closed with his opponent. The other stranger grasped the girl but she fought so vigorously that she escaped his clutch and started to run. The robbers fled.

What Happened to a Young Man In 1915.

A year ago a young man—his name doesn't matter—made a New Year resolution. He had been married a few years; he received a small salary and had been mortgaging his future—drifting into debt. The sums he owed were not large but they were larger than he seemed able to shake off, and his wants were steadily increasing. He determined to get rid of the dreadful weight at any sacrifice. His work was such that he could work over time and get extra pay for it. He had perfect health and discovered for the first time that it was valuable capital. He put that health and strength and skill of his into the smelting mill and they assayed pure gold. He found in time that while he was making more money than before he was also making himself more efficient. As his purposes grew in seriousness, his wants became more simple. He was finding ideals the attainment of which money cannot buy, and which call for no expenditure. He had set out to pay his debts before the end of the year. He had cleared them all up within a few months. But he did not cease his efforts. He had found something more than mere freedom from debt—something even more valuable than that, he had been fulfilling his obligation to his employer, which meant that his work had been up to the average. Now, he was fulfilling his full obligation to himself also, which meant that his work was far above the average. His employer could not fail to see it and appreciate it. A good bank account in his own name today helps this young man to see the vast difference between being a slave of circumstances and a master of them.—Christian Herald.

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonsful for 50 cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as the below named druggists are selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say—"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just the same as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the or on the strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money? •

In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficiency from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonsful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonsful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. Druggists everywhere are authorized to sell it under the same guarantee as Schiffmann's famous Asthmador of "Money Back" if not perfectly satisfactory. R. J. Schiffmann, Proprietor, Saint Paul, Minn. Tramps Steal Beehive.

Carmi, Ill., Feb. 29.—Tramps have been pretty thick in Carmi the past week and several misdeemeanors have been attributed to them. A few days ago Levi M. Cross, city gardner, reported the loss of a fine stand of bees. Investigation since made lead to the discovery of the hive on the Big Four right of way a short distance from the city. There was evidence of a hobo feast. The poor bees were indiscriminately raked aside by the nocturnal honey eaters and left out in the cold to freeze.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCEBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Frank Loses Choice Fowls, But Captures the Intruder.

Antigon, Wis., March 1.—Frank Weix is lucky, he was unlucky. He is rich because he lost money when his chicken coop was raided constantly and his choicest pullets and hens killed.

Weix, for three months, has been steadily losing some of his hens, of which he had about 300, when the winter began. There had been constant raids upon the henry and he could not discover how the fowls were being taken away. Blood about the place indicated it was not done by human hands.

Last night he was working in his barn when he heard a disturbance in the henry. He found that there was an opening under a fence and closed it, then went into his poultry yard and captured the intruder. The hen thief was a coal black fox, captured alive and worth $2,000.

If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter,
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter—
God help me speak the little word.
And take my bit of singing
And drop it in some lonely vale

If any little lift may ease

The Address of Governor A. O. Stanley, Before Ky. Association, Sept. 15, 1915

COUNTRY MORE ATTRACTIVE

"Back to the Country" Problem Will Never be Solved Until the Country is Made More Attractive—Build Roads and You Will Lose None of the Sweetness of the Farm.

Louisville.—Address of Governor A. Owsley Stanley before the Kentucky Good Roads Association, on September 15, 1915.

Ladies and Gentlemen: I am deeply grateful to my good friend, Bob McBryde, for his very kind reference to me. We should all be grateful to him for his years of tireless, patient and unrequited toil in behalf of this great movement, without expecting, without receiving, any other recompense than the gratitude of his countrymen and the welfare of his country. With tongue and pen he has presented with marked ability every reason which can be assigned for this great work, and he has answered every objection which the ignorant or penurious might advance. The people of Kentucky have yet to learn the debt they owe this great journalist for a great work nobly done.

I am not here today to attempt to entertain you with anything that approaches a formal address. I am not here to make a speech; if I am elected Governor of Kentucky, my time will not be given to saying things, but to doing them. (Applause) This is in my view a matter of business as well as sentiment, and to the fiscal side of this problem I shall in the main address my few remarks.

You cannot build roads, however advisable it may be, without money. To say that you are in favor of good roads is like saying you are in favor of good health, or good morals, good atmosphere, good looks, or good anything else. Nobody not a drizzling fool favors good roads just as he favors good health, or good weather. We all favor good roads who have sense enough to travel over them. The question is, not whether it is desirable to have better highways in Kentucky, but how we shall obtain them. We all want them if we can afford them, because we must buy and pay for these roads ourselves. We will receive some aid from the Federal Government, but the Federal Government and the State Government alike tax the people for the money, so at least every dollar that is put in good roads comes directly or indirectly out of the pockets of the people who enjoy them. Then the question should first address itself is, not shall we donate, but should we invest the money toward this good work? If you go out to get money to build good roads on the same principle that you go to get money to educate the Chinese, or save the heathen, you will not build many miles of road. To get this money, you must in a way, take it from the people, with their consent, by taxation. But the people are not going to tax themselves to build the roads unless they are convinced that it is a good investment. And whenever the people find that they are making money by expending money upon the roads you will get the money just as quickly as you would secure it from a farmer you have convinced that he would make money by buying an addition of 1,000 acres to his farm, that is for sale nearby. There is no trouble to induce men to spend money where they are certain or reasonably certain of a safe return. How is the expenditure of many thousands of dollars for good roads a safe investment?

Money and Returns. I am separating it from its moral and aesthetic, its sentimental side. I am talking to you about the propriety of expending money for roads as I would talk to a farmer about the spending of money for land. As I would talk to the manufacturer of the propriety of spending money for machinery. As I would talk to the mine owner for spending money for a tipple, or an option upon so many acres of coal land. A great mistake that farmers have made is in not making a business-like calculation as to the cost of production, which bears a direct relation to the advisability of constructing good roads. A short time ago Charles L. Schwab, former president of the United States Steel Corporation and now president of the Bethlehem corporation, the most gifted of all the great industrial masters of finance, made this startling statement: "One-third of the cost of the production of all steel products is the cause of transportation," and one of the secrets of Schwab's phenomenal success was that he never calculated the cost of anything made of steel from a needle to a thousand tons of armor plates, that he did not calculate the cost of laying it down F. O. B. to the consignee. The farmer does not calculate. He calculates the cost of the production in a rough way, by taking cost of the land, taxes, labor, and tools. When he calculated what it cost him to get in fifty bushels of wheat on his wagon or a thousand bushels of corn in his bin completes his calculation. But he has not estimated the cost of that article to its entirety, for no man comes to his bin for corn or to the threshing for his grain. Until he has calculated the cost of transportation he has not made an accurate estimate of the cost of production. What is the actual value of a free public highway? Let us see—four good horses and a wagon for example with four horses at $150 apiece, $600; the cost of shoeing and harness is to be considered, the whole will cost not less than $1,000, adding in the cost of maintaining these horses at $8.00 a month is $960 a year and you have to add that to the original cost. In six years your thousand and horses and wagon is gone, as they will be worn out. The maintenance will cost you not less than $600 a year—$2.00 per day. We may say that the same team will do double the work over a macadam road as they will do over a dirt road. So that the farmer in the item of four horse team, wagon and driver saves at least one dollar per day by the use of macadam road. When the farmer has calculated the saving of one item of transportation, the taking of their products to the market, leaving out the pleasure of traveling over the macadam roads to himself and to his family, leaving out the advantages to the children in attending school, and his family attending church, leaving out the pleasure of bringing him closer to the market or to the mill on the basis of dollars and cents, there is no better investment to the producer than in the making of a cheap and convenient means of bringing the farmers' commodities to the market.

But let us take a broader and higher view. Every man who casts his ballot in the hope of receiving some pecuniary or personal benefit, either in emoluments of office or some pecuniary advantage is a menace. By that I mean that the man who votes simply to keep up some political organization, the man who votes at the call of a boss, the man who votes for money in hand is a menace to the liberty of a free people.

This government rests upon the disinterested devotion to high ideals of citizenship. It is the foundation upon which the republic rests because a majority absolutely rules in this country. And whenever that majority ceases to be honest this government will topple like a house of cards. What has preserved this government for a hundred and fifty years or more? I will tell you. The simple citizen seated in a cane bottom chair on a rag carpet before an open fireplace, with a Bible on his knees and his family grouped about him, his head bowed simply and reverently asking God to guide him through the night, and arising in the fear of that same God at dawn to take up the simple tasks of the day. He votes of no thought of profit to himself, but for the good of his family and the honor of his country and the glory of his God. This is the power upon which this republic rests and must forever rest.

Now we talk about this simple life, its high ideals, its noble purposes, and yet there is in Kentucky a continual exodus from the country to the town. I make no warfare upon the city. I have lived in towns the most of my life, but what I mean to say, that what we need is more good people on the farms in the country. It will cheapen the costs of living in town. It will bring more customers, and new life and new capital to our great cities.

It is an invincible instinct for men to seek the society of their fellows, to rather as we have gathered here today in great multitudes. It is as natural as for partridges to gather in coveys in the field, or birds in flocks in the sky. It is essential to the happiness, the mental and moral welfare of mankind, just so much as food or clothing. The thing that has destroyed rural life, the thing that has depopulated fertile lands is the loneliness and isolation of life in the country. Our girls and boys who live in rural districts are literally marooned in the winter without access to the postoffice, the church or the school, or to the doctor in time of sickness, or to the store for the bare necessities of life in any other way than on a mule, belly deep in the mire. boys and girls simply will not be kept in the rural districts ten miles from any town under such conditions, however much you may talk about the noble life of the country. It is too often the most lonesome existence on earth. If you wish to live in the country and bring up your family around you, if you wish them blessed by the things which are good and sweet in rural life, then you must give them the pleasant things of life in the city.

Build good roads to the city, you will lose none of the seclusion and sweetness of the country. The sunshine and dew and the landscape are still there, the fertile fields and the lowing herds, and the scent of new mown hay, and the silent benediction of the evening are still yours. With good roads and automobile—if you cannot get an automobile, borrow a Ford—the wife and her boys and girls can go to church, they can go to the fair, they can go to places of amusement, they have the advantage of the pleasures of the city, and you have not been deprived of your country home or anything that makes it desirable or lovely. You will never solve the question of "back to the country" until you have made the country more attractive. You cannot keep your family in the country with ten or twenty miles of impassable dirt roads between them and things they want for nine months in the year.

Increase in Prosperity. The country will be happier, more thickly inhabited if the roads were improved, and the city will finally increase in prosperity whenever you unite the two by macadam roads.

Both political parties—I am not here to talk politics—have condemned the contract labor system; both parties have told you that they are in favor of employing convicts upon the road. Now the counties have the right to employ whom they please with the money they raise themselves, and it is a vexed question to what extent, where the state can force the convict labor upon the county, coming as it must, more or less, in competition with free labor. In Edmondson county, especially, we have an unlimited deposit of rock asphalt, a material that will cover our macadam roads with waterproofing a thousand times more indestructible than oil; a substance, hard, yet elastic, that is as enduring as marble. And yet this vast and priceless deposit today is reached only by dirt roads that are almost impassable. This is a disgrace to Kentucky. I would see, and I hope to see, the labor of convicts, as well as others, employed in the development of these great quarries. I hope to see this, the greatest road-making material ever known, spread over five thousand miles of boulevard all over Kentucky from the mountains to Mills Point.

I could talk to you for a week upon this subject. Oh, it means so much to Kentucky as a state. There is much to expect from the development of good roads. No other state in this union has such a variety and a wealth of undeveloped resources; more coal than Pennsylvania; more hardwood than any other commonwealth between the Mississippi and the Pacific, and more acres of fertile soil than any other state of like area between the two oceans. Our soil produces a greater variety of products than any other on this earth. Why is it that the wealth of the mountain and the wealth of the plain are not developed? It is because the people of the mountains cannot reach the wealth of the plains, and the people of the plains cannot avail themselves of the wealth of the mountains because of the cost of getting from one to the other.

This is eliminated by connecting them by great highways. It will increase the fertility of the soil and the richness of the mines and the vast wealth of the forests.

Upon this great movement rests the happiness and the prosperity of the greatest people on earth, the people who live and expect to die in old Kentucky. God bless her.

Little Men Are the Rule Among European Monarchs.

Although the popular notion of kingly authority is associated with men of imposing stature, the fact is that little men rule among kings and have always done so. Emperor William of Germany is so small that he wears high hats and thick-soled shoes when he walks, and uses high saddles when he rides, to give the impression of height.

Contrary to the conception of the Russians, the Czar is hardly taller than Emperor William. King Oscar of Sweden is of medium build and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy is frail and slight. The Sultan of Turkey is less than average stature.

Alexander, who sighed for more worlds to conquer, was small and so was Napoleon, the Little Corporal. Richard III. was a hunchback. King Edward was only five feet six inches tall. General Grant was only of medium height, and Lord Roberts, affectionately known as "Bobs," was five feet in height.

The Sacred Business Lunch A Snare and A Delusion.

In the March American Magazine a young man who diagnosed his own ailment after doctors had been unable to do so blames a large part of his early suffering and misery upon the business lunch.

"The sacred business lunch is a snare and a delusion," he declares. "Two men meet at a hotel, they overeat, they smoke more than is good for them, and they talk for two hours. At the end of that time they have accomplished, perhaps, what might have occupied fifteen minutes of time had one of them gone to the office of the other, instead of saying, 'Take lunch with me, and we'll fix it up!'"

"Temper is one of the poorest things for which one ever exchanged happiness, and one with a bad or ungovernable temper is never happy nor are those around such an one ever contented."

Gifts from the hand are silver and gold, but the heart gives that which neither silver nor gold can buy. To be full of goodness, full of cheerfulness, full of sympathy, full of helpful hope, causes one to carry with him blessings of which he is himself as unconscious as a lamp is in its own shining. Such a one moves on human life as stars move on dark seas to bewildered mariners; as the sun wheels, bringing all the seasons with him from the south.—Beecher.

Profits From Pure Bred Chickens.

Mrs. J. B. Carter's egg record for two days last week, (Feb. 25th and 27th) was 154 eggs. Mrs. Carter placed an order last week with Pope & Pope, Louis-

My birds give good satisfaction as a report from a lady who bought a pen-in 1914 shows. She cleared $65.00 and has a flock of twenty-five nice birds to breed from.

SPECIAL NOTICE!

During January and February many of our customers have taken advantage of the special price made on farm implements for those months, but many have stated to us that they were anxious to take advantage of these special prices, but as tobacco had not been delivered it was impossible for them to take advantage of the special cash price made for Jan. and Feb. and many have requested us to hold certain implements for them and let them get them later. In order to treat all alike and let as many as desire to do so take advantage of these prices we have decided to continue said prices until Apr. 10th, by which time all tobacco will be delivered and all who desire can purchase their implements at the special prices.

MOORE & DAUGHTREY.

DEATHS

Mrs. Nancy J. Vinson died Wednesday, Feb. 16th, at the home of her grand-daughter, Mrs. Lucy Vinson, in Caldwell county, north of Fredonia. She was 88 years old, and died of old age.

Five children survive her:

Mrs. Mary T. Love, of Galveston, Texas; Mrs. Nannie Jones, of Houston, Texas; J. F. Vinson, of Louisville, Ky.; B. M. and Lee Vinson, of Caldwell county. She was a life long member of the Methodist church.

The burial took place at Livingston graveyard on Thursday, Feb. 18th.

She was a Miss Moore and was born in Tennessee and moved to Trigg county, Ky., in early life and afterward to Caldwell Co., where she lived until death called her. She was highly esteemed by her neighbors, and greatly beloved by her children.

A large crowd attended her burial, and she was laid to rest to await the resurrection morn.

SORGHUM AS A FEED.

(by Rufus Robinson.)

The soil of Crittenden county probably is better adapted to sorghum than any other Co., in the State. I hear the people of adjoining counties remark, when speaking about sorghum molasses,

"This is fine. It was made in Crittenden county," and remark "Our soil is not adapted to sorghum, (too rich, or something). Of course I would rather they would not insinuate, but yet it may be true nevertheless, Crittenden has some redeeming features, progressive school teachers backed up by a progressive county superintendent, and a record for sorghum molasses.

But I want to speak of sorghum as a forage crop. I have been growing sorghum for stock feed for eight years, and I find that it yields more feed to the acre than any other crop I have grown during the eight years. No stock or fowl on the farm but what is better by having a crop of sorghum stored away in the barn. Now this is the object of this article to find out the best method of caring for the crop. My sorghum this year is not eaten by my stock with as great a relish as common. Herefore the cattle and horses would leave any other forage to eat the cane, but not so this time. I have come to this conclusion. It was not ripe enough. The stalk was hard and brittle, with no juice in it. Before I have been setting it up in the barn, this year I laid it down like corn fodder. I have come to this conclusion that cane to be cut for feed should be planted early, (though this is contrary to some of the farm journals, and other State and county advice) so it will have time to get thoroughly ripe. Cane—according to my experience—may look ripe when it should stand three or four weeks longer.

I write this more for information than I do to give knowledge, for I think this is the coming crop of this county. I would like to hear from you.

IN MEMORIAM.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Benton, was born Jan. 28th, 1905, and departed this life Feb. 20th, 1906, making him one year and three weeks old. He was sick three weeks of pneumonia. All that loving hands could do, was done for him, but all to no avail. He was a sweet child and was loved by all who knew him.

Hilton has gone. His sweet voice you will not hear, but some day he will call you home.

He is at rest, sleep on sweet babe and take thy rest, God called thee home. He thought it best.

Think of the spot where he lies and my pale-face baby and the white casket, where it gently lies in peace.

The only baby, how bright, he stood until God called home. A gentle voice said, "Come," and an angel from the other side welcomed our loved one home.

ALICE HOLT,
A cousin.

COCHRAN & COMPANY ABANDON DRAWING

Owing To Objections From Federal Postal Authorities

Cochran & Co. have abandoned the plan to distribute free among their customers, by lot, the agricultural implements as heretofore advertised, and the Crittenden Record-Press is requested to so announce.

BLACKFORD

Here we come again with a conglomeration of happenings, sayings and sayings which may—if carefully read and thoroughly digested—cause the item readers to be utterly "flabbergasted."

At 8 o'clock, a. m., every day except Sunday, at the business house of our fellow-townsmen, J. A. Oakley, we have an entertainment carried on by the following participants: E. F. Stevens, B. B. Thurman and F. M. Brightman. The amount of "gossip and boomerang" expelled by this trio is surprisingly great—yes almost immense.

The Public Graded School at this place is moving along in the usual Webster county style. Considering the conditions of the weather, health of the pupil, and the recent high water, the interest seems to be fairly good.

Joseph N. Dean, formerly of Deane-wood but now Marion, was among the Blackfords one day last week.

Truman, Ark., where he contemplated meeting a number of other Kentuckians who have already made their exodus.

J. B. Allen, a former Blackford but now of near Repton, was here last Monday.

W. H. Gahagen, wife and daughter, Gwendola, of Weston, were here last week visiting the family of R. H. Statley.

Mrs. W. B. Snow, of Providence, and her mother, Mrs. M. E. Brooks, of Oak Grove, were at this town on last Monday.

William D. Lamb and Andrew E. Tudor, of Crittenden Hills, have recently been seen running loose on the streets of Blackford.

We shall ask two questions and quit for this time. What class of women are most apt to give tone to society? Which travels at greater speed, heat or cold.—PUELLA.

Cheap and big can Baking Powders do not save you money. Calumet does—it's pure and far superior to sour milk and soda.

DOING GOOD.

There are trees, like the butternut, that impoverish the ground upon which they grow, but the olive tree enriches the very soil upon which it feeds. So there are natures as unlike in effect as these. Some cold, selfish, absorbing, which impoverish everyone with whom they come in contact. Others radiant, affluent souls, who enrich by their very presence, whose smiles are full of blessing, and whose touch has a balm of feeling in it like the touch of him of Nazareth. Squalid poverty is not so pitiable and barren as the selfish heart, while wealth has no largeness like that with which God dowers the broad and sunny soul.

Be like the olive from whose kindly boughs blessings descend. One of the old philosophers bade his scholars to consider what was the best thing to possess. One came and said that there was nothing better than a good eye, which is, in their language, a liberal and contented disposition. Another said a good neighbor was the best thing he could desire; another preferred a wise person. But at last came one, Eleazer, and he said a good heart was better than all. "True," said the master "thou hast comprehended in two words all that the rest have said; for he that hath a good heart will be both contented, a good neighbor, and easily see what is fit to be done by him."

Every man should ever consider that it is best for him to have a good heart. We counsel our friends then to seize every opportunity of contributing to the good of others. Sometimes a smile will do it, oftener a kind word, a look of sympathy, or an acknowledgement of obligation.

Sometimes a little help to a burdened shoulder and a heavy wheel will be in place. Sometimes a wheel or two of good counsel, a seasonable and gentle admonition, and at others a suggestion of advantage to be gained and a little interest to secure it, will be received with lasting gratitude, and thus every instance of kindness done, whether acknowledged or not, opens up a little wellspring of happiness in the doer's own breast, the flow of which may be made permanent by habit. Influence is to a man what flavor is to fruit or fragrance to the flowers. It does not develop strength or determine character, but it is to the measure of his interior richness and worth, and as the blossom cannot tell what becomes of the odor which is wafted away from it by every wind, so no man knows the limit of that influence which constantly and imperceptibly escapes from his daily life and goes out far beyond his conscious knowledge or remotest thought. There are noxious weeds and fragrance laden flowers in the world of minds as in the world of matter. Truly blessed are they who walk the way of life as the Savior of mankind once walked on our earth, filling the air around them, which is so subtly distilled from kindly deeds, helpful words and unselfish lives.

One drop of water helps swell the ocean, a spark of fire helps give light to the world. You are a small man, passing amid the crowd—you are hardly noticed but you have a drop, a spark within you that may be felt through eternity. Set that drop in motion, give wings to that spark and behold the results. It may renovate the world. None are too small, too feeble, too poor to be of service—think of this and act. Life is no trifle; if we work upon brass, time will efface it, if we rear temples they will crumble into dust. But if we work upon immortal minds if we imbue them with high principles, with the just fear of God, and of their fellow men we engrave on these tables something which no time can efface, but which will brighten through all eternity.

Value of Highways In The U. S. is Enormous.

Stretched out in a single line the roads of the United States would encircle the globe more than eighty times. Traveling at the rate of 150 miles a day, it would take thirty-six years or 13,900 days to travel their length. The value of these roads is stupendous. At the lowest possible estimate of construction, $1,500 per mile, the value of 2,000,000 miles of road in the United States is $30,000,000,000; but the sum which has been expended on the construction and maintenance of these roads is so far above this that it would be impossible to even form a rough estimate of the true amount of money spent for highways in this country.—Hustler.

Dangers of Draft

Drafts feel best when we're hot and perspiring, just when they are most dangerous and the result is Neuralgia, Stiff Neck, Sore Muscles or sometimes an attack of Rheumatism! In such cases apply Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the sore and painful part. The blood flows freely and in a short time the stiffness and pain leaves. Those suffering from Neuralgia or Neuritic Headache will find one or two applications of Sloan's Liniment will give grateful relief. The agonizing pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth and quiet rest and sleep is possible. Good for Neuritis too. Price 25 cents at your Druggist.

Eugenics Is A Wild Fad, Says St. Louis U. Teacher.

Chicago, Feb. 22.—Eugenics was denounced as a "wild fad embodying the principles of the stock farm," in an address by Rev. William F. Robinson, professor of theology at St. Louis University. He was the principal speaker in the afternoon at Powers' Theatre, for the benefit of the Jesuit Missions of Central America.

"Eugenics is not a solution of the heredity question and has so many objectionable features," he said, "that it should never be tolerated."

COURT EDICT AS TO RHEUMATISM

Judge Barhorst Testifies Rheuma Has Given Permanent Relief to Many.

No matter how many so-called remedies for rheumatism you have tried, do not be skeptical about the wonderful curative power of Rheuma.

There is no other preparation like Rheuma. It goes to work so quickly as to leave no doubt in your mind of the ultimate successful and permanent relief. One dose daily acts on the diseased kidneys, blood and joints more readily than any other known remedy. It cleans out the "human sewers" and thus purifies the entire system.

"I, John Barhorst, Justice of the Peace of McLean Township, Ft. Laramie, Ohio, do certify that I was cured of a very bad case of rheumatism by using two bottles of Rheuma. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previous to using Rheuma I was a cripple, walking on crutches. I have advised Rheuma to at least a dozen persons and each one speaks as highly of it as I." You can secure a bottle of Rheuma for only 50 cents of James H. Orme or any druggist.

Keep in mind also that you were ready to do almost anything to get her—and so you are reminded that it's up to you to make some little sacrifice in order to keep her.

Just keep your eye on your wife and do your share toward making a success of your greatest business of being a happy married man.—Exchange.

How to Keep Drunks

And Loafers Out.

"There is one firm associated with the Chicago Employer's Advisers Club," says Hugh S. Fullerton in the March American Magazine, "that has a reputation of working its office force extremely hard. I inquired about it."

"That," said the man who represents the firm in the club, "is one of our best assets in securing good help. Don't mention our firm name; but we are not hard, in fact easier than many. We strive, however, to maintain a reputation for working our office force to death."

"Why?" I asked, surprised. "It keeps the drunks and the loafers from applying for work here. The reputation scares them away, and we do not have to study and analyze the applicants to see if they drink or are lazy."

AFTER FOUR YEARS

Princeton Testimony Remains Unshaken.

Time is the best test of truth. Here is a Princeton story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of us.

J. H. Thompson, plumber, Princeton, Ky., says: "I was troubled for five years with backache and other annoying symptoms of kidney complaint. During the early part of the winter when the cold weather set in, I was sure to have an attack of lame back that would make it impossible for me to work for days at a time. I tried many medicines but got no relief. I finally got Doan's Kidney Pills and in two days was back to work, feeling better in every way. I do not have backache now and my health has been greatly improved."

OVER FOUR YEARS LATER Mr. Thompson, said: "I am glad to confirm my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. Whenever I have had occasion to use this excellent medicine I have been greatly benefited."

Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Thompson had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

City of Pembroke Has Troubles About Her Lights.

The streets of Pembroke have been dark since the 10th of the month, on account of a disagreement between the city council and the South Kentucky Power Company. The bill of the company for January service was shaved $12.00 at the February meeting of the council, for alleged failure to keep a certain number of lights burning, as per contract. The company claims, through its local manager, Capt. O. G. Ragsdale, that the lights were on except two nights, and this was occasioned by the sleet storm, which broke down the wires, and the lights had to be turned off while these were being repaired. So, the town is in the dark, and no one seems to know how long it will remain thus.—Pembroke Journal.

In the March American Magazine Ex-Senator Burton of Ohio says:

"A good memory is an almost incalculable asset to any young man starting out on his life's work. TANLAC ROMANCE

NOW FULLY TOLD

Its Launching And What Inspired It Is At Last Explained.

"Every few years someone suggests something that will tend to better our condition, whether it may pertain to our business, our knowledge, convenience, or health, or our social state," declared L. T. Cooper recently.

"It has been my pleasure to offer Tanlac to the world," he continued. "I presented Tanlac on its merits, knowing full well that it would prove satisfactory if properly tested.

"Confident as I was of the reception Tanlac would receive, I confess I was hardly prepared for the wonderful popularity into which it at once sprang. When it is considered that just nine months to the day after Tanlac was announced, one million bottles had been sold, it can be understood that when the story of Tanlac is called a romance of the business world it is quite true.

"Tanlac appeals particularly to the best people everywhere—people who are able to judge carefully and to render a just opinion of its merits. Upon the thousands of indorsements of such men and women Tanlac's astonishing success has been based. Great as is the demand for Tanlac now, I really feel that the country, as a whole, is only just awakening to it.

"Tanlac, which is the joint product of Herr Joseph Von Trimbach, the noted German chemist and myself is, I believe, the most effective remedy known for ailments of the stomach, liver and kidneys and for catarrhal affections of the mucous membranes.

"It is compounded of roots, herbs, barks and flowers, many of which come from remote parts of the world, and it is free from the mineral taint feared by many persons.

"I have no doubt that Tanlac will be as successful in your city as it has in every other in which it has been introduced."

Tanlac now may be obtained in Marion at the J. H. Orme drugstore, where it is fully explained; and also in Blackford, by A. T. Brown. Adv.

LOYD'S BRAIN LEAKS.

:BY F. S. LOYD:

Albert Elder says, A man can have enough executive ability to manage 10,000 other men. But he can't do a blame thing with his wife.

Ambrose Wheeler says, You never get acquainted with a woman until you marry her.

Abe Deboe says, The trouble about this world, is that as soon as you get through telling your troubles, the fellow you have been telling them to, starts right in telling you his.

Bill Smith says, A man can get into enough trouble in one hour to make him behave himself the rest of his life.

Bob Rushing says, There never was a woman who was so ugly that she didn't believe that at least 800 men were struck on her.

Taylor Stokes says, Some men join the army when they want to be ordered around day and night; and other men get married.

Charley Byrd says, we have some men if they had their way, the alphabet would be changed around and "I" would be the first letter, and "U" would be the last letter.

John Travis says, religion is a great factor for keeping men out of trouble, but hard work is also entitled to some credit.

Hub Butler says, A leopard can't change its spots, but a girl can.

Uncle Gus Bentley says, You can sell a good name, but you can't buy one.

Ben Wigginton says, It wouldn't do us a blame bit of good to be able to see ourselves as others see us, we wouldn't believe our eyes.

Billy Cox says, when a girl is plastering it on her cheeks, she never stops to remember that red is a dangerous signal.

Uncle George Stations says, Fifty years ago it was considered vulgar to display the ankles, and it was considered proper to display the lace trimmed pantalettes; but it is different now-a-days.

Carlous Oakley said: "Pa, what is a trying duty?"

"Serving on a jury, my son."

Frank Clift says, some of our girls gets a chance to ride in big cars and they think they have to hold their noses up in the air all the time, or you will imagine that they are not used to motoring.

Billy Cox says, Did you ever notice how much better you feel when you pay for what you get?

George Crider says, The trouble with combined business and pleasure, is that you usually forget the business.

Henry Rice says, The most distressing sight in the world is fat man wearing high collar in hot weather.

A man said to Sherd Hale: "That whiskey has killed more men, than bullets."

"That may be so, but byingoes I'd rather be full of whiskey than bullets."

Albert Elder says, You can knock married life all you please, but down in his heart the average married man knows that if it wasn't for his wife he would be a bigger fool than he is.

George Stations says, A man can usually tell you the reason for doing a thing, but a woman's reason is always "because."

Uncle Billy Loyd says, A man isn't worried as much about laying up treasures in heaven as he is about dodging taxes here on earth.

Bill Smith says, It is hard to please my wife. If I stick around the house all the time, she gets mad; and if I stay away from the house all the time, she gets mad.

Hub Butler says, I wonder what has become of the old fashioned girl who wore a petticoat.

Taylor Stokes says, This would be a better world if some of our people would find time to mind their own business.

Some one asked Albert Elder "What Is Man?"

He said, "A married man is an animal who has to spend a lot of time apologetizing to his wife for something she did to him."

Rum and Mahogany.

What will the schooners laden with New England rum for West Africa, bring home? That question may have puzzled many who have noted that strange revival rum traffic that used to flourish in the slavery days. It may have been thought that the rum paid for the round voyage. A four-masted schooner, the first to go out, has now returned to Boston with 486,673 feet of mahogany in logs from West Africa, a cargo of no small value. The round voyage has consumed seven months, the loading of the mahogany being a slow process owing to the indolence of West African labor. At the dock was another capacious wind jammer ready to sail with 200,000 gallons of rum, 1,500 barrels of flour and other things that the natives seem to be in need of. As many as six sailing vessels have entered this trade since last spring—Providence, R. I. Journal.

Cattle Without Necks Object of Experiments.

Columbus, Miss., March 1.—While experts of the British, French and American governments keep close tab, Gano Johnston, formerly of Mt. Sterling, Ky., but now of Lowndes county, Mississippi, is perfecting the breeding of neckless cattle, a characteristic which the scientists have been working on for years. He has always been a horse breeder, but has paid attention to cattle and learning that the United States, England and France were interested in the breeding of neckless beef cattle he set about to experiment. He notified all three governments and some three months ago the first English authority arrived.

"I am sure that a neckless breed is possible," said Mr. Johnston, "and I will work hard to bring about the desired result sought after so anxiously by so many."

Mr. Johnston's sense of horse breeding is so keen that he can foresee certain characteristics.

England's War Debts 12 Times Value of Kentucky.

Using round numbers to express the war credits voted by Great Britain during the life of the present conflict, she has obligated herself for ten and one-half billion dollars. The assessed valuation of all the property in the state of Kentucky, real and personal, in 1914, the only figures readily at hand, was $887,141,119. Thus it will be seen that England has with the new credit voted yesterday, obligated herself to pay out nearly twelve times the total valuation of all the property in Kentucky.

Comfort In Poverty

A VISITING nurse found this old lady dying of tuberculosis in extremely poor surroundings. There was no one to care for her except her old crippled husband, and there was not sufficient money to provide good food or clean clothing, nor did he know how to make his wife comfortable. Charitable people were interested in the case, so that fresh bedding and food were provided. Frequent visits from the nurse have helped in making this old consumptive woman as comfortable as possible in her last days. Without the care of the nurse she might have been a menace to her neighbors.

Maxwell Motor Cars

PAY AS YOU RIDE for your automobile while you use it. you pay for a piano, or real estate. get the full benefit of motoring, and without any inconvenience to your bank account.

This Is My Plan

An automobile today is a necessity. It no longer represents an expenditure that only a few can afford.

And I don't see why a necessity should not be sold on a basis that will appeal to even the man of moderate means.

An enormous factory production of 103,000 Maxwells this year, 1916, makes possible a price of $655 for this beautiful, powerful, dependable, completely-equipped Maxwell automobile.

On my "Pay-As-You-Ride" plan, this $655 can be paid as you use the car. It is a simple, liberal plan that you will appreciate.

Let me tell you more about it.

DOING GOOD.

It is a great thing to stand in a place of God and proclaim his word in the presence of angels and men. If you would prove yourself a man in the truest and noblest sense, go not to the dwellings of the rich, go not to the palaces of kings, go not to the halls of merriment and pleasure. Go rather to the poor and helpless, go to the widow and relieve her woe, go to the orphan and speak words of comfort, go to the lost and save them, go to the fallen and raise them up, go to the sinners and whisper in their ears words of eternal life. A man's true wealth hereafter, is the good he does in this world for his fellow men. When he dies people will say, "What property has he left behind him?" But the angels who examine will ask, "What are the good deeds thou hast sent before thee?" There is nobody but that they can do some good; and everybody should do diligently all the good they can. It is by no means enough to be rightly disposed to be serious and religious in our closets, we must be useful too and take care that as we all reap numberless benefits from society, society may be better for every one of us. It is a false and an indolent humility that makes people sit still and do nothing because they will not believe that they are capable of doing much. Everybody can set a good example, be it many or few. Everybody can in some degree encourage virtue and religion, and discountenance vice and folly. Everybody has someone whom he can instruct or in some way help to guide through life. Those who are too poor to give alms can give their time, their assistance in preparing or forwarding gifts of others, in considering and representing distressed cases to those who can relieve them; in visiting and comforting the sick and afflicted. Everybody can offer up their prayers for those who need them, which if he do reverently and sincerely, he will never be wanting in giving them every other assistance that it should please God to put in his power. "He who waits to do a great deal of good at once, will never do any." Good is done by degrees. Life is made up of small things-- It is but once in an age that occasion is offered for doing a great deed. True greatness consists of being great in little things. How are railroads built? By one shovelful of dirt after another; one shovelful at a time. Thus drops of water make the ocean. Hence we should be willing to do a little good at a time, and never wait to do a great deal of good at once. If we would do much good in the world, we must be willing to do good in little things--little acts one after another, setting a good example all the time; we must do the first good thing we can, and then the next and the next and keep on doing good. The first aim of religion is not to prepare for another world, but to make the best of this world. It is to be good and do the most good we can here and now and help others to be and do the same. There is pleasure in contemplating good, but the greatest pleasure is in doing good. Be always sure of doing good. This will make your life comfortable, your death happy, and your account glorious. Zealously strive to do good for the sake of good. Be not simply good, be good for something.
