ORGANIZE CANNING CLUBS

Over $1000 Per Month Sent Out of County to Buy Canned Goods. Keep it at Home.

In our mad rush for fast living at the present day rates some times will remind us, if we stop to think, of the snail who said to his bonnie mate, "Dearie, let's climb upon this chunk and watch the turtles as they go whizzing by." We sometimes think we are living fast when, really, it is a puzzle to know whether we are living at all or not.

This week, I made a little canvass of the grocery stores of Marion and found these figures. Money received by the merchants for flour, $15,748; for meat and lard, $15,948; for cabbage, $716; for potatoes, $3,465; for canned goods, $12,969. I did not get the figures on beans, syrup and other articles that could be produced in Crittenden county, but know they are enormous. There are thirty-two other grocery stores in the county, besides the trading points that lie near our borders, where many of our people go to buy their living.

At a TIN CAN CONVENTION in the big ditch behind Baker & Mayes' mill you will find representatives with their labels showing corn from Indiana, corn syrup from New York, condensed milk from the grass of some other state, peaches put up in California, pickles from Colorado, and many other States are represented in this convention, but not a single contribution from home—Crittenden county. The great wonder comes in trying to think where we get the money with which to pay these contributing States for all these good things to eat. Another little item of interest is the enormity of the amount of money it takes. We will add the two numbers and find the number of stores: 9 plus 32 is 41, the number of stores in the county. If 9 stores will sell $48,846 worth of groceries to the people in one year's time, how much will 41 stores sell to a proportionate number of people in one year? Some seventh grade pupil can solve this little problem for you. Your problem comes in teaching your seventh grade child how to avoid this awful mistake you are making.

Had you ever thought that we could sell this stuff to ourselves? Had you ever thought that there could be a canning club in every school district in the county, where, not only the goods used during the winter months by the entire community may be canned and put away at home, but have some to spare for your neighbor? Had you thought what a little industry this might create? They tell me the canning outfit will cost but little. Had you ever thought that a nine year old boy could raise a pig worth $15 on a few bushels of corn, the scraps from the kitchen, and may be, a few young chickens, and enjoy the fun all the time—getting an education? Mine did last year. Did you know potatoes and cabbage would grow in Crittenden county? Had you ever thought of what fallacy it is to work our foot heads off fighting grass to grow tobacco to buy potatoes, cabbage and canned goods to eat during the winter days? Think it over. We have not stopped to think these things over as we should. Of course the groceryman must have a living too, but whose business is it to furnish it? If you produce your own living at home the groceryman will get on just the same. You know he is a hustler or he would never have been in the business. Knocking?? No. Frugality is a virtue to be admired in anyone.

The vital point in our case is the redemption of our soil. We have allowed our farm lands to wash away and become depleted by a one or two crop-system until we cannot make a living at home. Crittenden is noted for her great men and women, not so much at home, but you can find them in almost every State the Union, engaged in all avocations known to the American people—statesmen, professional men, educators, successful farmers, and, well—there may be some tramps.

I will give you some more figures that may cause you to think but may explain why some of our best people are not living in Crittenden now. The records in the County Superintendent's office show that twenty years ago there were one thousand more school children in the county than there are now. There has been a falling off of three hundred in the last six years. Here is another little problem that may come under the old "Rule of Three." If the decrease in population in twenty years is 1000, how long will it take for Crittenden county to become nothing more than an old thrown away field, with no inhabitants except the rabbits and the foxes, with nobody to chase the foxes? Had you stopped to think about it? No! No!! You thought there were more school children in the county this year than ever before. Do you ever visit your neighbors? You ought to get acquainted with him—you might like him.

You will find scores of our people in Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Washington, Oregon, California, New Mexico and many in other States—all from Crittenden county. There is a reason for this. People love to live where they may be satisfied. Satisfaction comes from having a happy home in which to live. Happy homes are made from pleasant and prosperous surroundings. These can be had by right thinking and right acting. The blame must come back to the farm and the rural home. The country can get along without the town, but no town can prosper where the land is poor. Must we let the bushes grow upward and the gullies grow downward? Must we stop these gullies and grow vegetables, forage, etc., in the stead of the bushes, or must we get into the "band wagon" and follow the others to some other State? It strikes me that we may be classed as undesirable citizens should we follow, because we have allowed our homes to slide from under us. Stop! Look!! Listen!!! Knocking? Well, I guess!—but somebody MUST do some thinking!

The population of the world, outside of Crittenden county seems to be growing, and there are a few things that can be done that will still make Crittenden the best place in the world in which to live. Some of these things are good roads, better farming, more altruism between country and town, and capital and labor. If I am permitted to continue this story in the Crittenden Record-Press I want to show you that the schools can go far in accomplishing a "Land of Promise" in Crittenden county yet.

Yours very truly,
E. JEFFREY TRAVIS,
County Superintendent.

HAYNES REUNION IN SUNNY FLORIDA

All the Brothers and Sister of R. F. and H. A. Haynes, of This City, Present at Dinner.

Messrs. W. D. and A. C. Haynes and Mrs. Sam Gordon gave a Kentucky dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Haynes Tuesday, the entire Haynes family being present in reunion. This was the first time the brothers and sisters had dined all together in many years, and the occasion was particularly auspicious on that account. The dinner was given particularly in compliment to R. F. Haynes, of Marion, Ky., who is here on a visit. He is the father of Misses Anna and Gwendoline Haynes well known here a few years ago.

The tables were arranged in the form of the name initial H. and with the usual attractive appointments, further enhanced by Mrs. Haynes' beautiful hand painted china, and an artistic arrangement of nasturtiums and foliage, the effect was indeed fairy-like. Covers were laid for twenty-six. Emphasizing the reunion feature, the brothers and sisters were seated on each side of the bar of the letter, thus occupying the centre. They were Messrs. Harry, R. F., W. D., A. C. and George T. Haynes and Mrs. Sam Gordon. Others seated around the tables were Mrs. Harry Haynes and two daughters, Misses Mamie and Ruth, and her grand daughter Mildred Bennett; Mrs. W. D. Haynes and two daughters, Misses Catharine and Delta, and his son, Gordon Haynes; Mrs. A. C. Haynes; Mr. and Mrs. Robt Haynes, Mrs. T. E. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward and three children, John, Mamie and Hoyt; Mr. and Mrs. Duke Gordon and sister, Miss Mildred Mann.—Volusia County Record., Deland, Fla., March 10.

Dan W. Stone's new bungalow cottage is nearing completion on east Bellville street, and it adds much to that section of the city.

A HEALTH AND WELFARE LEAGUE

Organized at M. E. Church, South. —Work to Help Tuberculosis Patients in Kentucky.

On Tuesday evening, March 7th, Miss Emma Hunt of the State Tuberculosis Commission, spoke to a large audience of representative men and women on what Tuberculosis is doing in Kentucky. So close to the hearts of her audience did Miss Hunt bring her work for the help of Tuberculosis patients and the business like methods the State Commission has adopted for the work, that the entire audience volunteered their service to help in the war on the white plague. After Miss Hunt's address short talks were made by Rev. Trotter, and Rev. Chandler, of the Methodist church on the church's place in this war. He pointed out that it was as much the church duty to help the physical as well as spiritual welfare of man. Rev. Trotter was just as forceful in his argument. They were followed by Drs. Frazier and Fox, Messrs. C. S. Nunn, J. F. Dodge and T. H. Cochran. The organization of Crittenden county, followed with the following officers being elected:—J. F. Dodge, president; George W. Yates, vice president; E. L. Harpending, sec'y and treas.

The adoption of the Constitution followed. The League will endeavor to establish a permanent visiting nurse, Medical Inspection of school children so as to detect Tuberculosis in the incipient stage, examinations for defective vision, having, a better baby, week to be observed and a general health education for the entire county.

E. James, Chas. E. Terry, Walter Enoch, Will U. Hughes, Ira Robinson, James Smith, Alfred James, Lonnie Brantley, Ed Newbell, W. P. Watson, Cassie Cook and Ed Hunt.

Road Bonds At Premium.

Ballard county's $300,000, 4 1/2 per cent. road bonds were sold last week, bringing a bonus of $3,841. The purchasers were the Fifth-Third National Bank, and Breed, Elliott & Harrison, both of Cincinnati, Ohio.

All Kentucky county road bonds seem to be selling at fancy premiums. Thus we may reasonably expect Powell county bonds to yield no less than $6,000 premium, and they will do so if the bidders figure their interest rate as low as they did in the Ballard county bond purchase. —Better Farms and Roads.

COMMANDMENTS LAID DOWN FOR ALL TRUE AMERICANS

Written by Dr. Joseph Silverman, Rabbi of Temple Emanu El, Of New York City.

From an exchange are clipped these ten commandments for all true Americans, as laid down by Dr. Joseph Silverman, rabbi of Temple Emanu El, of New York City:

First—I, the United States of America, am thy nation, which by the help of God has brought thee out of the Land of Monarchy, out of the House of Bondage.

Second—Thou shalt have no other nation before me. Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor serve them, for I, the United States of America, claim thy love and gratitude. I shall punish the iniquity of those who hate me, and shall show kindness unto those who love me and keep my laws.

Third—Thou shalt not make light of the laws of the United States, thy country, for it will not hold him guiltless who maketh light of its name.

Fourth—During the six days of every week in which thou laborest thou shalt honor thy country in all thy work; thou, thy son, thy daughter, thy man servant, thy maid servant, and even the stranger who has entered the gates of thy country; and on the seventh day on which thou keepest holy, thou shalt also pray for the welfare of thy country.

Fifth—Thou shalt honor the Constitution and flag of thy country in order that thou mayest live long and in peace in this land which the Lord thy God has given thee.

Sixth—Thou shalt not kill the people of another country by offensive warfare, nor permit the people of thine own country to be killed by the tricks of war.

Seventh—Thou shalt not enter into entangling alliances with any nation, but seek the peace of the nations.

Eighth—Thou shalt not steal the territory, the commerce or the glory of another nation.

Ninth—Thou shalt not be false to thy treaties with other nations.

Tenth—Thou shalt not covet another nation's territory, nor its army, nor its navy, nor its ideals, nor its ambitions, nor anything that belongs to another nation.

The Textbook Business.

Greatly exaggerated ideas prevail concerning the total number of textbooks sold in the United States each year and the annual profits resulting from such sales. Confidential data obtained by the United States Bureau of Education from 43 textbooks publishers for use in public and private schools in 1913 amounted to $17,274,030. The aggregate for public schools, elementary and high, amounted to $14,261,768. The total enrollment in public elementary and high schools for the year was approximately 18,609,040. Excluding the elementary books, the number becomes 18,213,786. For each child enrolled in the public schools in the United States, therefore, the total annual sale of textbooks is approximately 2 per cent of the total cost of maintenance, support, and equipment. The cost per child on the school population basis (5-18 years of age) is 56.6 cents; the annual per capita cost of textbooks on the total population basis is less than 15 cents.

These figures indicate that there is little ground for the fear sometimes expressed that the introduction of free textbooks will add greatly to the cost of the public-school system and will greatly increase the rate of taxation for school purposes. As a matter of fact the cost for textbooks is a relatively small item in the total expenditure for school purposes. Bureau of Education officials feel convinced that the figures obtained afford a trustworthy statement of the real facts about the size of the schoolbook business. The 43 firms from which data were obtained handle probably 99 per cent of the total textbook sales in this country. Besides California, Kansas also now prints its own textbooks, but the plan was not in operation in 1913. Bulletin of the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Education.

Evansville, Ind., March 14.—Girls in the local High School, who a few days ago organized a basketball team with a view of securing games with the other schools, will not be permitted to carry out their plans for the reason that E. P. Wiles, principal of the High School, has taken a stand against it, saying that it would tend to "cheapen" the girls and place them on the same level with boys.

NEGROES TO CALL SECOND MEETING OF REPUBLICANS

Another State Convention Will Be Held, Says Lexington Colored Leader, G. W. Gentry.

Lexington, Ky., March 14.—A second republican state convention, to be called at the instigation of negro republican leaders, may be a result of the dissatisfaction engendered among some of the negro delegates by resolutions adopted at the Louisville convention. According to developments here yesterday the negro republican organization, known as the Republican Pacific and Political League, is understood, will call a second convention.

George W. Gentry, of Sanford, who was endorsed as one of the original "big eight" to be sent from Kentucky to Chicago, but who was turned down, is president of the league. E. W. Chenault, and Ed Willis, of Lexington are active members. An outline of the plan to be followed was given out here by E. W. Chen-aunt on his return from Louisville.

"This is not to be merely a colored convention," he said, "but it will be a republican convention assembled under the call of the national committee. The election of eight delegates, where the call provided for only four, was not in accordance with the call and we do not expect it to stand if contested.

"We shall ask Ch'n. Franks to call a state convention. If he refuses we shall issue the call. We hope white delegates who are dissatisfied with the Louisville deliberations will attend. We expect this second convention to be called in less than thirty days.

"The convention will then choose four delegates, one of whom will be a colored man, and we believe that these delegates chosen in proper form will be entitled to seats in the Chicago convention."

The members of the league claim that the colored delegates had no voice in the convention at Louisville.

FOR BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING COUGH, CROUP, COUGHS AND COLDS

Make the Best Remedy at Home—128 Teaspoonful for 50 cents.

If everything was sold in as liberal and fair a manner as the below named drug-gists are selling Schiffmann's New Concentrated Expectorant, absolutely no cause for complaint or dissatisfaction could possibly arise from anyone. These druggists say—"Buy a bottle of this remedy and try it for Bronchitis, Whooping Cough, Severe Cough, Croup or any Bronchial Affection, and we will return your money, just the same as we do with Schiffmann's famous Asthmador, if it does not give satisfaction, or if not found the best remedy ever used for any of these complaints." Why not take advantage of this guarantee and try this medicine, and get your money back, rather than buying another purely on the exaggerated claims of its manufacturer? The strength of testimonials from others and run the chance of getting something worthless and also wasting your money? In buying this remedy, besides securing an absolute guarantee of its efficacy from these druggists, you also get about eight times as much medicine as you would in buying most any of the old-fashioned, ready-made kinds, which average from 20 to 32 teaspoonful, because 50c worth makes a whole pint (128 teaspoonful) when mixed at home with simply one pint of sugar and one-half pint of water. This remedy positively does not contain chloroform, opium, morphine or any other narcotic. It is pleasant to take and children are fond of it. You will be the sole judge, and under this positive guarantee absolutely no risk is run in buying this remedy. ## MOTHERHOOD.

A robust, manly son and a cooing baby-girl nestling in her bosom—what more can any womanly woman ask? It is a boon that Heaven intended should be granted to every woman.

Thousands fail of this because they have neglected to look after their health in a womanly way. The health of a woman's babies is dependent upon her own health. The prospective mother cannot be too particular about her physical condition. If she suffers from local weakness, nervousness or loss of vigor and virility, her children will be weak, puny and sickly. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the right remedy for weakness and disease of the delicate and important organs. It makes these organs strong, healthy. It makes the mother strong and cheerful. It is the invention of an eminent and skillful specialist.

Prepared from nature's roots and herbs, it contains no alcohol nor narcotics, nor any harmful ingredient. Medicine dealers everywhere have it on hand in either tablet or liquid form at all times. If you want a specialist in women's diseases to diagnose your case absolutely free of charge, write Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., to-day.

aging earnestness. "Chief," he said, "won't you tell me how I can kill my baby so it won't be against the law. Maybe you will help me so it will be alright like that baby in Chicago."

"What's that: say it again," gasped the chief.

"You see," went on Cleveland, "this baby hasn't any regular mouth at all and the doctors say that she might not ever be able to eat regular food and, chief, she has fits all the time and my wife does nothing but cry all the time and she's sick. So I asked the doctors to kill the baby, but they would not because they said the police would not let them. So I come to ask if you would help me to do it all regular."

At Cleveland's desolate home the city physician found the baby in convulsions and the mother in hysterics. He instructed that both be taken to a hospital. He said it would be impossible to operate on the infant during the convulsions.

HAISELDEN MAY SEE BABE
Chicago, Mar. 14.—Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, who for humanitarian reasons permitted Baby Bollinger to die when an operation might have saved his life, said tonight that he might go to Des Moines to look into the case of the Cleveland baby.

"Of course, no physician would kill the child, but in such a case I would control the convulsions by the use of bromides, and the result of such treatment is almost invariably death," said Dr. Haiselden. "It is, however, a kinder death than that which now threatens the little one. There is a growing movement on now for sanity rather than mawkish sentimentality in dealing with such cases."

ARLINGTON MERCHANT FEELS BETTER

Friedrich Redeker, a business man of Arlington, Ill., was a victim of stomach and digestive troubles. He went to a hospital for an operation for another trouble. When he recovered from the operation he found his stomach trouble worse and his heart affected.

He took Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. He got his appetite back and gained in strength right away. He wrote:

"I owe you some words of congratulation for your stomach remedy. I could not eat anything but soft food and the bloating from gas got so bad that at one time I had a fainting spell for three hours. I went to one of your Chicago drug stores and got your remedy. I took the remedy and the next morning was relieved. I am getting stronger and can eat anything that comes along."

PERISCOPES ON MINES

German Object Is to Induce British Ships to Ram Them

Baltimore, Md., Mar. 14.—Floating mines, equipped with periscopes, is said to be the latest device now being used by the Germans in bringing about the destruction of the enemy's ships, according to Capt. B. J. Keely, of the British steamship Hartfield. The Hartfield arrived here Sunday from London.

Capt. Keely tells of having sighted one of the new destructive agents in the English channel. The periscope gave it the appearance of a submarine. He did not attempt to win the admiralty reward of $2,500 for ramming a submarine but reported it to a patrol boat.

According to masters of British vessels the placing of a periscope on a mine was devised for the express purpose of inducing some of the ships of the allied nations to ram it, which would have resulted in the blowing up of the ship and possibly the loss of life. It is understood that a number of the periscoped mines have been cast adrift around Britain and the fleet of patrol boats are engaged in removing them from the track of navigation.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

CONVICTS ARE TOO FEW

North Dakota Hasn't Enough to Run Prison Twine Plant.

Washington, March 14.—Warden Talcott of the North Dakota prison today told the senate committee investigating charges of alleged attempts to fix sisal prices, that the anti-liquor laws of his state were so effectively enforced that he couldn't get enough convicts to run the prison twine works. He could keep only eighty workmen in the place. He said he had only 280 in the entire penitentiary. These figures so interested members of the committee that they temporarily forsook the sisal inquiry to interrogate him about the North Dakota anti-liquor law.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caron, Ky.—In an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without its tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. ## MOEWE SAFE IN GERMAN PORT

Slips in With 199 Prisoners And 1,000,000 Marks in Gold—15 Prizes to Her Credit.

Berlin, March 14.—Official announcement is made by the navy general staff today that the German commerce raider, Moewe, returned to a German port. She had on board 199 prisoners and 1,000,000 marks in gold bars. Among the prisoners were four British officers, twenty-nine British marines and sailors, 166 men of crews of enemy steamers, among them 103 Indians.

The vessel captured fifteen enemy steamers, the greatest part of which were sent as prizes to neutral ports. At several points on the enemy coast the Moewe also laid out mines to which among others the battleship King Edward VII fell victim, the official announcement stated.

The Moewe's capture of two of the fifteen vessels listed by the German admiralty has not been reported previously. They are the Saxon Prince, 3,471 tons gross, owned by Prince Line of New Castle, England and the Maroni, both of which were engaged in the trans-Atlantic service. The Maroni was owned by the Compagnie Generale Transatlantique, of Havre, and was 3,109 tons gross.

At least part of the gold captured by the Moewe was taken from the Appam which put in at Newport News several weeks ago under the command of Lieut

Berg, with a German prize crew.

London, March 14.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Amsterdam says the Moewe reached Wilhelmshaven yesterday.

Count von Dohna, the Moewe's commander has been awarded the Iron Cross of the first class and the members of the crew have received the Iron Cross of the second class.

DISPLAYS A RELIC OF THE DAYS GONE BY

Dabney Hancock Still Keeps Drum Used in the Civil War.

D. C. Hancock, a veteran of the Civil War, and a follower of the Southern Confederacy, had exhibition at the court house Monday a relic of the days of "60." It was the old drum picked up on the battlefield and has been in his possession ever since. It has figured conspicuously in many campaigns of the county, especially that of the court house race, that will be remembered particularly by the elder citizens. Dabney says that on that occasion in which Uniontown went down in defeat, he had his drum and following him was a crowd, hundreds strong, who cast their votes for Morganfield.—Uniontown Telegram.

SOUTHERN DRUG MERCHANT MAKES UNUSUAL STATEMENT

Great Business Losses Due to Neglect

W. WITHERS MILLER

President of the Polk-Miller Drug Company, Richmond, Va., is authority for the following extraordinary statement:

"I estimate that the business men of this country could increase their efficiency fully ten per cent by taking an occasional laxative and not neglecting the bowels as most of them do."

He also said that if the Department of Commerce in Washington would present each business man in the country with a box of Rexall Orderlies, it would be of great benefit to the national welfare. Rexall Orderlies are prompt in action, pleasant to take and never gripe, can be used by men, women or children, and are just the thing for toning up sluggish livers.

A town is very much like an individual. To be flourishing it must have energy and enterprise. The people in a town should remember that the individual prosperity depends to a large extent upon the character of the place in which their business is located. Every public measure should be liberally supported by all, especially the business men. At the present day there is as much competition between towns as there is among persons and business enterprises. A man seeking a location will invariably select a town that is up to the times, and is eagerly in favor of every modern improvement. A town in these modern times cant afford to be peopled with old fogies or antediluvian fossils who are continually kicking at every enterprise. To make a flourishing town you must believe in its future and work for it, encouraging every improvement. Make a special effort to exhibit some evidence of improvement in your own work and character. Help every worthy man, every enterprise, and encourage every good man to locate in your town.—Ex.

"One of our exchanges says: Too many of us are strangers to each other in this community, where we should all be brothers and dwell together in unity for the common good of all. And that is because there are entirely too many hard and fast cliques and sets, with each immersed in its own shell and never peeping at the light of outer day. We need a common ground for meeting, where neighbor greets neighbor and the stranger finds himself at home and among friends. If co-operation is good for commercial affairs it would be of equal benefit in private and social life. It would afford us a more intimate knowledge of humanity and broader perspective of life, and the resultant spirit of good fellowship would be felt in a thousand ways. "A year of 'getting together' would stamp a wonderful imprint upon the heart, the soul and the conscience of this community." The editor heartily endorses all of the above. It is one of his greatest pleasures to know people, not only the rich but the poor and to speak a word of cheer. Then again so many of our county people do not know each other. It would astonish one who does not meet people from all sections, as the editor does each day, to see how many people are not acquainted right here in our county. It is not hard to say Mr. Jones, do you know Mr. Brown, or Mr. Hill, do you know Mr. Hughes? Nine times out of ten you'll find that they say "No never met him." Is there anything lacking in our social life?

END OF BABY WEEK.
For the first time, during the past week, there has been a nation wide effort to teach people how to keep babies alive. In more than 2,000 cities and towns instruction along this line has been given to mothers, and to other persons interested to learn. By lectures, by pictures and charts, and in a multitude of ingenious ways, sound and scientific information has been given. It is impossible to estimate the good that has been done. This important new departure was planned and made a reality by a suffragist—Miss Julia C. Lathrop, head of the Federal Children's Bureau at Washington. What has been done thus far, of course, is only a beginning. But it is immensely valuable to make a beginning, to take the first step in a matter so important. The week's work has only scratched the surface. It has reached only a fraction of the mothers, and has brought to those only a small part of the knowledge that they need. But it is the first step, and even this one week of teaching will doubtless result in the saving of thousands of little lives. Sooner or later we may hope to come up nearer to the mark of New Zealand, where every mother is taught baby hygiene by a government-trained nurse, and where, after 23 years of equal suffrage, the infant death rate is the lowest in the world. ## TOXICATION IS SELF POISONING

Few Realize Causes of this Form of Ailment.

Few realize what a great number of people, among those who live in such cities as this, suffer from auto-intoxication. This condition, which has caused so much discussion, is nothing more nor less than a slow self-poisoning of vital organs. It is the very foundation of many ailments.

When the organs become weakened from any cause they are unable to throw off the accumulations of waste matters. The putrefactive germs soon begin to get in their deadly work and the sufferer finally is a direct victim of poisons generated right in his own system.

Among the common results of this auto-intoxication are jaundice, hard cold, constipation, indigestion and fermenting of food, biliousness, sick headaches, back aches, diarrhea, dizziness, pains in the kidney region and nervousness.

Tanlac is designated especially to combat this condition of congestion brought about by auto-intoxication. Its properties as a tonic and invigorant tend to throw off the poisons and to spur the organs back to needed efforts—in short, to clean them and make them normal again.

To an automobilist it might be said that Tanlac acts as a spark plug in the human mechanism. It starts the vital engines and then keeps them going at a properly regulated speed.

Tanlac is now obtainable in Marion at Jas. H. Orme's drugstore, and in Blackford at A. T. Brown's drugstore, where it is being daily explained during the constantly increasing demand.

Maintaining Earth Roads

Drainage of Prime Importance—Drag Should Not Be Used on a Dry Road—How to Operate Road Drag

(Prepared by the U S Department of Agriculture)

The first and last commandment in earth road maintenance is to keep the road well drained. To insure good drainage the ditches should be kept open, all obstructions removed and a smooth crown maintained. Side ditches of ample capacity should be maintained with sufficient fall to dispose of surface water. These ditches in most places can be constructed and repaired with a road machine. The road machine or grader may in general be used effectively for this work. The machine should be used when the soil is damp so that it will pack and bake into a hard crust.

All vegetable matter, such as sods and weeds, should be kept out of the road, as they make a spongy surface which retains moisture. Clods are also objectionable for they soon turn to dust or mud. Boulders or loose stones are equally objectionable if a smooth surface is to be obtained.

A split-log drag or some similar device is very useful in maintaining the surface after suitable ditches and cross-sections have once been constructed. This drag can also be used to advantage on most gravel roads as well as on earth road. The principle involved in dragging is that clays and most heavy soils will puddle if worked when wet and set very hard when dry. The little attention that the earth road needs must be given promptly, therefore, and at the proper time if the best results are to be obtained.

In dragging roads only a small amount of earth is moved, just enough to fill the ruts and depressions with a thin layer of plastic clay or earth a small amount of the damp soil which is smeared over the surface of the road.

BEAUTY OF OUR STATE ROADS

Plan of Planting Shade Trees Along Roadside Is Good One—Decision of Maryland Court.

The decision of the court of appeals sustaining the validity of the law which confers upon the state board of forestry regulatory power and authority in the matter of planting or cutting and pruning trees along the state highways, is of potential importance in connection with the latest proposal to improve the side lines of the state roads by the planting of forest or fruit trees. The state road law apparently, in the original draft, contemplated such a scheme of improvement, says Baltimore American. While the planting of shade trees is not made a mandatory duty on the state road commission, there is a clause in the law that opens the way for such a plan of beautification.

The state forestry board would perhaps be the agency through which such a plan could be best realized. The activities of the annual arbor days have not been largely successful in the matter of roadside tree planting. Such a scheme can only be brought to realization through systematic and persistently maintained effort. But the idea is a good one and should be brought to realization even though it is necessary for the state to invest some money in the undertaking. Nothing would more conduce to the beau-which packs very hard so that the next rain, instead of finding ruts and depressions in which to collect, runs off, leaving the surface but little affected.

Using the Drag.

The drag should be light and should be drawn over the road at an angle of about 45 degrees. The driver should ride on the drag and should not drive faster than a walk. One or two round trips, the first straddling the wheel tracks, is usually sufficient to fill the ruts and smooth the surface. If necessary, the road should be dragged after every bad spell of weather, when the soil is in proper condition to puddle well and still not adhere to the drag. If the road is very bad it may be dragged when very wet and again when it begins to dry out. A few trips over the road will give the operator an idea as to the best time to drag. Drag at all seasons but do not drag a dry road.

The side slope or crown of an earth road should be about one inch to the foot. If the crown becomes too high it may be reduced by dragging toward the ditch instead of from it. If the drag cuts too much, the ditch should be shortened and the driver should change his position on the drag. If it is necessary to protect the face of the drag with a strip of iron, it should be placed flush with the edge of the drag and not projecting. A cutting edge should be avoided as the main object of the drag is to move but tification of rural neighborhoods than the lining of the highways with shade trees.

STATE TO MAINTAIN ROADS

Amount Exceeding $100,000,000 Expended Annually for Construction and Care of Highways.

The realization has become quite general that, in order to render maximum service, state highway departments should be given some measure of control over the construction and maintenance of local roads. For this class of roads an amount exceeding $10,000,000 is expended annually, with comparatively little result to show in the form of improved road mileage for this great outlay. The state of Iowa has met this situation by placing all the road work in the state under the direction of the state highway department.

Traffic is increasing so rapidly as to cause excessive wear upon the roads, especially in the vicinity of congested centers of population. This results in a heavy annual maintenance cost, averaging in the large Eastern states not less than $750 per mile per annum. Many experiments have been made in the effort to devise types of road which can be maintained at relatively low cost. Thus far, aside from the cheaper forms of construction, the states are depending upon the various forms of bituminous macadam, concrete and vitrified brick road.

NIGHTFALL

Nightfall and home and you!
Across the west the heavy shadows lie,
Shutting from out my heart the long,
long day—
The empty day that held no speech with you
Who once did walk with me beside the way.
Nightfall and home and you!
Oh, blessed dusk that hold a little while,
Forgetfulness of all the world outside!
What care we for its little hurt and jar?
A vine-wreathed door we know stands open wide.
Nightfall and home and you!
One red star hangs above the wooded hill,
Guiding my eager feet along the way
To home and love and—oh, Dear heart, dear heart,
What more has life to give at close of day?

How would you like to travel 108 miles by sleigh in zero weather?

That's what President Terry of the Hartford Fire Insurance Company did after the great New York fire of December 16, 1835, in order to make immediate payment of the Hartford losses.

In the same staunch spirit the Hartford promptly paid out $1,900,000 after the Chicago fire, and $10,000,000 after the San Francisco disaster.

Hartford protection costs you no more than other kinds—and you can depend upon prompt settlement in case of fire. May we tell you more about it?

Sues His Father

For Promised Reward.

Columbus, O., Mar. 9.—When Howard Titus was fifteen years old, his father, Lincoln G. Titus, promised, according to the son, to give him $500 on his twenty-first birthday if he would abstain from the use of tobacco until that time. The son became of age last December and yesterday filed suit in the Franklin county common pleas court to recover the $500 which he alleges his father failed to pay.

Howard says the agreement was made in writing and that he has carried out his part of the bargain. Father and son live in Columbus.

Rheumatic Pain Stopped

The drawing of muscles, the soreness, stiffness and agonizing pain of Rheumatism quickly yield to Sloan's Liniment. It stimulates circulation to the painful part. Just apply as directed to the sore spots. In a short time the pain gives way to a tingling sensation of comfort and warmth. Here's proof—"I have had wonderful relief since I used your Liniment on my knee. To think one application gave me relief. Sorry I haven't space to tell you the history. Thanking you for what your remedy has done for me."—James S. Ferguson, Philada., Pa. Sloan's Liniment kills pain. 25c at Druggists. 3

Why He Dislikes the Cow.

Frankly, I do not like the cow, and have never taken the trouble to make her acquaintance. I do not like her unrelenting regularities, such as being milked twice a day and having her feed bills paid. I could not be patient under her glaring irregularities, such as breaking out of the pasture and meandering off into the next township, and it seems to me that if I had to go after her I should take along a shotgun. The cow has never appealed to me, either as a business proposition or a character; I am afraid of her husband, and her children interest me chiefly as real.

This is just a statement of my own feelings in the matter, of course, and I seek no quarrel with the thousands of able men who can love and manage her. At one time I liked horses no better. But in the country a horse quickly became a necessity, and thus I formed an intimate acquaintance with one, and got to see the interesting traits of others, so that today I maintain friendships with many horses, both in the country and in town. Yet I should not like to pay the winter board bills.—Country Gentleman.

Popular Fad.

"Well, this will be your son's last year at college and football."

"Yes."

"Of course you're glad. He'll soon settle down to something practical and useful."

"I'm afraid not."

"He?"

"No. He expects to be a sociologist."

Maxwell

A man said to me the other day:

"Alvis Stephens" you've not only helped my business but you've given my family a better idea of living. Believe me, I appreciate it."

This man had been skeptical about motoring. He had both a business and a family to keep going, without adding an automobile, and he couldn't see why he should tie up good dollars in such a luxury.

I began talking "Maxwell" to him. I convinced him that $655 was the limit necessary to get the best in an automobile.

I cited concrete facts about the Maxwell as a business asset—the time it saves, the prestige it gives, the new business it makes possible.

I emphasized the advantages of a Maxwell in his home-life—the opportunities it affords to get out into the open—to let his family enjoy new health and new pleasures.

Then I told him about my "Pay-As-You-Ride" plan—a plan that offers you the privilege of paying for your Maxwell as you use it, just as you might pay for furniture or real estate.

That man today is SATISFIED. He owns his Maxwell—it is a genuine help to him in many ways—yet he pays as he rides, without inconvenience to his pocket-book.

You can own a Maxwell on the same plan. You can know the same benefits—the same pleasures. You can pay as YOU ride.

I want to give you the complete details.

LOYD'S BRAIN LEAKS.

By F. S. LOYD:

Dr. Bunton says, When a woman starts in to give her husband a piece of her mind, she never stops until she has given him the whole cheese.

Dr. Bailey says, A man wins about as much when he marries for money, as he does when he bucks up against any of the other forms of gambling.

J. B. Ray, Jr., says, "Pa, does it take two to make a quarrel?"

"Not when you are married, my son."

Mrs. Ray said, "J. B., you go down and clean out the cellar."

Oscar Hibbs says, when we were first married we had to hug and kiss for ten minutes in the hall before leaving the house to go to work, but about a year later when I say good-bye in the morning she turns one side of her face to me and I peak at it with my lips as if I was afraid I might touch it and get poisoned.

Sherd Hale says, Next to paying an old bar bill is paying for a suit of clothes after it is worn out, is the hardest job.

Dock Clement says, There are not many sure things in the world, but one of them is that you will never get a million dollars by sitting down and figuring what you would do with it if you had it.

Sam Howerton says, Lots of men who whip their children for telling lies, will go out and use a decoy duck when they are out hunting.

Vernon Oakley says, when a city man fails at everything else, he tries selling insurance; and when a country man fails he tries to get the agency for washing machines.

Ed Baker says, Style is something that will make a woman wear high shoes in summer and low shoes in winter.

"Seeing is believing," said Dave Woods.

"Not necessarily," replied George Crider. "We see men every day whom we would not believe under oath."

Noel Baker says, Father gets mad all over because the children gag and cry when they have to take castor oil. But when father has to take it, mother has to send the children out of the house and stuff cotton in her ears.

Lacy Loyd says, the only sure bet we know of right now is that a girl's shoes are not too big for her.

Carlos Oakley said, "Pa, what is a dispeptic?"

"A man who would rather fight than to eat, my son."
