Good Road Facts

THE GOOD ROAD QUESTION

DISCUSSED BY COUNTY JUDGE

Points and Facts On Issuing One Hundred Eighty-Five Thousand Dollars For Building Roads.

Following up the letter on the road question of last week, and concurring in the belief that there are two sides to every question, and with a desire that every man should be fully and correctly informed before he attempts to cast a vote, especially, on questions of as great importance as the question that is now before the people, I am prompted to offer a few points showing the advantages that we may have by voting the bond issue. In trying to enumerate these advantages I am not seeking to mislead, intimidate or delude any voter.

The issue will be for $185,000. The interest on the bonds will amount to $9,250 annually. Our tax limit, if levied, will give us $7,600, or there about, showing a deficit of $1,400, as was stated or intimated in Mr. Clement's article. This statement, if left at this point is grossly misleading. The question of State Aid is slighted or totally ignored here. There is a State Road Fund actually in existence in this State, and has been for two years. Crittenden county has already contributed something near $4,000 as her part and has yet received not a penny in return, nor will we until we do something in the way of making permanent roads. If there had been no chance to recover some of this sum which we are paying out, or an actual State Road Fund for counties wishing to avail themselves of the use of such a fund there would be no question of this kind before the people of the county today, but such conditions do exist today, and many, many counties are taking advantage of the offer.

There is a great howl about Crittenden county being poor, and not able to pay the tax. Crittenden county is about an average for wealth as shown by the State Road Commissioner's report, something more than three and a half million dollars worth of taxable property in the county. The poor will not have to pay this tax any way, except as he is prosperous. We will not be required to pay more than 20c for each $100 worth of property, or $2.00 for each $1,000. In comparing valuations of other counties, Carlisle, for instance, whose valuation is much less than ours, we find they received $5,000 from the State last year. From this comparison, and that of a score of others, we see that our proportion of State Aid, to be conservative, would be nothing less than $5,000. Take this and add it to our tax collected

CEMETERY ASSOCIATION HOPES

To Interest Everybody In Marion At The Services At Cemetery Decoration Day.

Tuesday, May 30th is Decoration day. The Cemetery Association hopes to interest everybody in Marion at the services at cemetery on this day. The usual Decoration services will be held at 8:30 that morning. The hour is made earlier so the services can be over and election of directors held before it gets so warm. When you take your flowers there, can you not wait until this time, so all can be done at once.

A special programme will be prepared for this service. Cannot the business people of Marion close their houses just one hour and go out there? Surely we owe this to our dead. We owe this also to our Cemetery Committee that is trying so hard to get the Cemetery in proper condition.

Have you a lot out there? Have you contributed anything to the Cemetery fund? If you have a lot and are not contributing regularly, then someone is bearing your burden for you, paying your part to the general care of the Cemetery. Do you think this is treating the Association fairly? Begin this year by your contributions. Much work needs to be done and we must have your co-operation in order to keep up the Cemetery.

The Association wishes to express their appreciation for the help given them by many of the lot owners who are so prompt to pay each year. Some of these are out of Marion. This has meant much toward the improvement of conditions out there. We regret the fact, however, that many lot owners here in Marion, take little or no interest whatever in the Cemetery.

$3.00 per year is a reasonable price for the care of your lot, and helping to keep up the general work. $1.00 per year for vacant lot.

The Association plans to place several car loads of rock on drives and walks this year. The cistern is to have a new top and a pump. A chapel out there is contemplated, and, if every lot owner will contribute each year, this one great need can become a reality. Have we not some citizens, possibly not personally interested in the Cemetery, who will make private contributions to this cause?

Have you been to the Cemetery this spring? If not, go out there and see how pretty it is now, ere the weeds grow up on the uncared for lots. Let us have a contribution from every lot owner this year. Committee.

A WORD TO TOBACCO GROWERS

Shortage of Tobacco in Foreign Countries Causes Great Demand For American Grown Product.

The Crittenden Record-Press is glad at this time to be able to state to the farmers of Crittenden county that now is the time to plant tobacco and to plant all that you can possibly cultivate and care for and that you have barn room to cure same. This is going to be an unprecedented year and the demand for low grade tobacco will far surpass the supply. Lugs and trash sold last week for $6.40. This assertion is based on information furnished by the Department of Foreign and Domestic Commerce and Crittenden county people are largely indebted to Senator Ollie M. James for this information.

At the instance of tobacco men in Western Kentucky Mr. James caused cables to be sent to American Consul Generals at Vienna, Austria, Berlin, Germany, Paris, France and other points and all replies indicated a shortage in the crops grown in the countries named, creating a demand for dark, fired tobacco of Kentucky and Tennessee of 50 per cent more than previous years. The Record-Press trusts that its farmer friends will profit by this information and will properly prepare their land before transplanting their tobacco in order that they may have a full acreage per man and limit the quantity only to the barn space that you have for properly curing the tobacco. Not necessarily spending much money for labor if your ground is properly prepared as the middle and low grades will be relatively in strong demand. The reasons for all this are too numerous to mention in one issue of this paper. Here are a few figures: Low estimated annual demand.

JEFF CLEMENT OPPOSED TO IT.

THE ROAD QUESTION

Some Items Of Interest To The Ones Who Are Opposed To The Good Roads.

I noticed yesterday an article, some parts of which some of us think should be answered.

The article says the "the road bonds run for five years, bearing 5% interest, and payment can not be DEMANDED under five years." That is a fact, and neither can they be PAID under five years, unless the bondholder agrees. If he prefers that they draw interest for five years, he gets it.

The article also states that we do not vote a tax, but Empower the Fiscal Court or Commission to levy a tax. Can the taxpayer on "pay day" discern the difference between the tax VOTED and the tax LEVIED?

It also mentions some 70 or 80 miles of road that are to be worked "FIRST." Does any one believe that anything near that much road could be turnpiked either first or last?

It also states that the work will be done by Crittenden county farmers and Crittenden county laborers, if they want to do it.

The ROAD LAW says the contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, and gives nobody any authority or power to dictate to him whom he shall employ. He may, as contractors often do, bring his entire force with him, as men accustomed to certain work become more efficient than others who have had no experience along that line, or he may get his force here, that is, as he chooses. He certainly will manage the job so as to comply with his contract, and get as much out of it for himself as possible.

The article also states "we can earn enough with our teams and labor to pay our taxes 100 years." If any one actually thinks that statement is correct, it is no use to argue to the contrary. Remember, Mr. Taxpayer, you are paying on this big debt and interest, year after year, and at the same time collecting enough from yourself to pay your taxes for one hundred years. So very progressive!

It says "land prices will go higher and rents will be higher, but the renter will reap a more abundant crop. I suspect the writer of this article is putting the TAX COLLECTOR in the role of a renter.

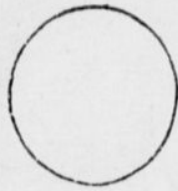

It also says something about "one horse doing the work of four," "and the price of our crops going down while the roads are drying up." The rule don't always hold good, as this time our tobacco went UP while the roads were drying up, and

Boy of Eighteen Takes Bride of Fifty-nine.

New Brunswick, N. J.—Despite the efforts of his mother to stop the ceremony, Fred De Hart, eighteen years old, was married to Mrs. Marie Miller, a widow, fifty-nine years old.

De Hart's mother, who lives at Milltown, got word that a marriage was planned. As the pair were about to be united the mother of the bridegroom burst into the Miller home and forbade the ceremony. The minister, the Rev. Clarence Parrish, hesitated, and Mrs. De Hart told him to wait. She then went to the police and asked that the wedding be stopped, but they said they were unable to help her. The clergyman who had accompanied her to police headquarters, then returned and performed the ceremony.

The mother said the boy had no means of support, but the bride said that she would look out for that.

Long Distance Buying.

The only road to real economy is the road that leads to the home town. This is the first commandment in community development. Whenever we pass up our own community and send an order away from home we break this commandment by one stroke of the pen. Give your home dealer the chance to fill that order. Given the same conditions, he can beat any out-of-town houses in the country. The long distance buying route is the road to waste, over-buying and false economy.—Fulton Leader.

REGIMENTAL COLORS IN PAWN

Odd Experiences of British Emblems Once Greatly Prized by Those Who Carried Them.

The discovery of the long lost colors of the old 50th regiment in the garden of Puntington house, near, Chichester, is a reminder of the strange fates that have befallen so many of these glorious military emblems, London Times remarks. The colors of the 81st foot—since disbanded—were captured by American pirates during the war of independence and hidden away in Ireland; the colors of the 20th regiment were deliberately burnt prior to the surrender at Saratoga to prevent their capture by the enemy.

At Bergen-op-Zoom the Royal Scots, to save their precious colors from falling into French hands, sank them deep in the river, though the enemy later fished them out; and when the second battalion of the 8th foot was disbanded at Portsmouth in 1816 the colors were cut into small pieces and distributed among the officers.

One of the colors of the 1st Northamptonshire regiment, which had been carried right through the peninsular campaign, was discovered some years ago in a pawn broker's shop, though how it got there is a mystery to this day. A similar uncertainty attaches to a pair of old colors of the 2d Border regiment, which were recovered from a London pawn broker, who was offering them for sale, by Lord Archibald Campbell in 1888.

Four years later four colors which had accompanied the Gloucester regiment in Egypt and in the peninsula were recovered from a York pawnbroker. It appeared that, having been bequeathed by an old colonel of the regiment to his son, they were ultimately secured by a servant, who, falling on evil times, pawned them for a few shillings.

Look out for Your Lamps

Fill them by daylight only, and never while they are burning. Avoid cloth or paper shades. Lamps are responsible for 2,000 fires in dwellings every year.

Look out for your fire insurance, too. Place it with a strong, reliable company that has a record for prompt payment and fair settlements.

We shall be glad to send you, free, a valuable booklet on "Fire Insurance and Fire Prevention," published by the famous old Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

FRUIT IN THE SOUTH

All over the South the papers are having much to say about the awakening of the people to the value of fruit that has fine flavor. Northwest fruit has been beautiful to look at on the fruit stands in the big cities, but a very small proportion of it has anything in the shape of that touched by the Southern sun. Apples from Georgia lately took a number of first and second prizes in the Great New York exhibit in New York State, and Kentucky apples shipped to the Northwest also took a great many prizes.

As this is true it is especially fitting and opportune that the Conference at Louisville, April 7-8-9-10, is to have Mr. W. M. McDonald, manager of the Excelsior Fruit Growers' Association of Minnesota, to give a talk and make some demonstrations. Mr. McDonald was originally an expert bookkeeper in Minneapolis, but finding that his health was breaking under close office work, he decided to go to the country. He at once took hold of the Excelsior Fruit Growers' Association and in five years pushed the business from $5,000 annually to $200,000. This man will organize a typical fruit growers' association among the horticulturists at the meeting, and show them methods of shipping, packing, advertising and the locating of markets.

When asked about the prices which prevailed when he took hold of the organization, and those prevailing last year, he said, "When the Association was launched 75 cents per case of 24 pint baskets of red raspberries prevailed. Last year our red raspberry cases of the same size averaged $2.05. Of course, to get such prices one must have a perfect pack and first-class fruit. Every fruit grower in our Association has his number and the dealer orders through the number and upon the reputation of the Association for fair dealing."

NOTICE TO FERTILIZER USERS.

In order to co-operate with our farmers and by request of our County Agent, Mr. J. Robert Bird, we will again act as agent for the purchases of Fertilizer for them this season.

Terms will be strictly cash, as our commission will be too small to admit of time prices.

We will pay for the fertilizer when it arrives and the purchaser pay us for same when loaded on his wagon.

By this arrangement the farmer will get his fertilizer practically at wholesale price, and a considerable saving to him.

GOOD ROADS

Facts Of Interest To The Voters Of Crittenden County.

Marion, Ky., April 27, 1916.

Dear friend:

Below you will find a concise, comprehensive statement of the contradicted points connected with the Road Bond Issue. I have been studying the question for several months. I had Clem Nunn, as good a lawyer as we have in this end of the State, also, the County Attorney, T. C. Bennett who has been making a close study of the question for several months, to give me the law on these points and I have tried to give them to you, in substance, just as they gave them to me.

Undoubtedly, there is not a man in the county but what knows we need better roads. There is not a shadow of argument against it. Still there are a few men in the county who are against it. Their principal arguments are that land prices are too high now, and then rent prices will go higher if land advances in value, and a few far-fetched notions like that. These are the men who are satisfied to move along in the same old rut whether it is good for his neighbor or not. Are you satisfied with the price which you can get for your land or would you like to be able to sell for, at least, one-third more than you can now expect to get? If you rent, had you not rather pay a higher rent and be able to reap a more abundant crop than to go on with poor land, poor rent and a poor crop?

The price of land may go up, it never fails where there are improved roads, but our facilities for improving our lands will be made better. The great good, however, comes from being better equipped for marketing our produce. It is estimated that over our dirt roads, when level and dry, one horse can move about 1,400 pounds, and over hilly roads about 1,000 pounds. On improved roads one horse will move 3,300 pounds. On our roads, when a little muddy, it always takes four horses to do the work of one. Figure the saving here. We lose in valuable time, and probably in the falling off in market prices by having to wait for the roads to get so we can travel over them. If our roads were good we could work on the farm while the weather was fine and then go to market on bad days. A thousand points in favor of good roads where there is not one against them.

Five per cent of our taxes now, goes to the State's Good Road Fund, and we are not getting a cent of it back. It amounts to several thousand dollars each year. Should we vote the road bonds we will keep this money at home and use it on our own roads. The Fiscal Court of the county appropriates from $12,000.00 to $17,000.00 each year to roads and bridges. Before the winter and spring rains are over the roads are in as bad condition as they were before a single dollar had been spent on them, then in the spring begin and spend a like amount again, and still we have no roads. Should we vote the bonds the roads built from the proceeds will be permanent and will not have to be worked over every year. Even if the roads built do not come by your farm, or through your immediate neighborhood, still it will lessen your burden of road service by giving you the road hands from off the permanent roads to help keep your road in better condition, and by allowing the Fiscal Court appropriations to come farther your way.

You will be able to earn money enough with your teams and your own labor in building these roads to pay your taxes for a hundred years. There must come a time when this constant out-go of money to work the roads during the summer, and the roads to be allowed to wash away in the winter shall stop! Why not begin it NOW? Other counties are doing it. Other States have done it. Old Crittenden, while she may not be the first in many things, is never last in doing the things that make for her people better and happier homes.

Take this letter over and read it to your neighbor, he may not get one. Talk good roads to him. Tell him you are for the bond issue. Tell him it is the only medium that will make our schools better, homes happier, living easier and civilization greater.

Yours very truly,

E. JEFFREY TRAVIS.

THE REAL SITUATION OF THE ROAD BOND ISSUE.

The Points Enumerated Below Are in Strict Accordance With the Road Law of the State of Kentucky, and Are Not Intended to Intimidate or Mislead Any Voter or Taxpayer.

1st. The bond issue will be for one hundred and eighty-five thousand dollars ($185,000.00), in what is known as 5-30 bonds, of $1000 each, bearing 5% interest. This means that payment cannot be demanded under five years, and the county may defer payment, at will, for thirty years.

2nd. The State appropriates to every county voting the bond issue one half the amount said county may vote, the same to be used in constructing, reconstructing or improving the roads of that county, or retiring the original bonds. In other words the State will put up dollar for dollar in any county voting bonds or otherwise appropriating money for permanent roads.

3rd. You do not vote a tax, but in voting road bonds you empower the Fiscal Court, or its appointed Commission, to levy a property tax, not to exceed 20¢ on the one hundred dollars worth of property assessed. NO POLL TAX. The tax can never go higher. It may be reduced whenever the Fiscal Court, or its Commission, see proper.

4th. The surveying, the oversight of construction, selection for location for bridges, etc., will be done by the State's agent, and will not cost the county a cent.

5th. The roads must lead from one county seat toward that of another county, first, then any other important road, to be selected by the Commission. (This will mean the roads leading from Marion to Salem, Shady Grove, Fords Ferry, Cypress, Princeton, Dycusburg and Tolu.

It is the will of the Commission that no foreign labor be employed in the construction of the roads. The work will be done by Crittenden county farmers and Crittenden county laborers, if Crittenden county people want to do the work.

The Commission, who will handle the funds, act as custodians, and assume responsibility for the proper distribution of the same, is composed of some of Crittenden county's most successful business men. They propose to tender their services WITHOUT PAY, except actual expense.

As good roads form an indispensable adjunct to the development of better homes, better schools, better church facilities -- in all, better and greater civilization, I am constrained to enlist in the cause, and it gives me great pleasure to subscribe my name to this article as campaign manager for the GOOD ROADS MOVE in Crittenden county.

Yours very truly,

E. JEFFREY TRAVIS.

GO TO CHURCH It Will Help Keep Peace in the Land

GO TO CHURCH and pray that the Almighty may bring peace to the warring nations of Europe.

At various times since the beginning of the TREMENDOUS STRUGGLE WHICH HAS PLUNGED MORE THAN HALF THE WORLD IN WAR there have been Sundays set aside for a general prayer for peace. On these days there have been GREAT TURNOUTS of the people. The appeal for a prayer for peace met with a splendid response. It aided the GO TO CHURCH movement.

EVERY SUNDAY SHOULD BE A PRAYERFUL SUNDAY. PRAY THAT THIS COUNTRY MAY BE SPARED THE HORRORS OF WAR. THANK GOD FOR THE PEACE THAT THIS LAND NOW ENJOYS! EVERY MAN WHO BELIEVES IN GOD BELIEVES IN THE EFFICACY OF PRAYER. AND EVERY MAN WHO BELIEVES IN BOTH GOD AND THE EFFICACY OF PRAYER MUST BELIEVE IN THE GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT. HE MUST GO TO CHURCH HIMSELF. THERE ARE ANY NUMBER OF MEN WHO, WHILE PROFESSING A BELIEF IN GOD, SELDOM VISIT THE CHURCH. THEY WILL PRAISE THE GO TO CHURCH MOVEMENT, BUT WILL NOT HELP IT ALONG BY THEIR PRESENCE AT THE SERVICE.

How can any man who professes a belief in God remain away from the house of God? If such a man will deliberate at all he will not let another Sunday go by without joining the ever-increasing GO TO CHURCH throng. If you already have joined get your neighbor to go. No right thinking man will resent your kindly suggestion that he attend church. Talk up the GO TO CHURCH movement. Start today. You'll be surprised at the number of converts you can make. Religion never was so strong as it is today despite what scoffers are saying. People are beginning to see that the only true life, the only true consolation, can be found in the church.

Do you want happiness?

GO TO CHURCH.

GO TO CHURCH NEXT SUNDAY AND EVERY SUNDAY.

Print Paper Famine.

The newspapers are squarely up against a famine in print paper.

Recently the price was boosted sky high with the indication that the price would about double.

This will inevitably force the newspapers to increase subscription or advertising rates or both.

And now, on top of the rise in price, comes the difficulty of getting print paper at all.

The importation of wood pulp from the war zone is largely responsible for the famine. It is becoming serious and means that newspapers will have to run smaller editions and practice the utmost economy of print paper in order to issue at all.—Henderson Gleaner.

The only way to rid ourselves of our troubles is to look about us for greater ones that are borne by our neighbors. If we sit around and brood over our misfortunes, they do not vanish, but only hatch out new ones.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

I have recently gotten an excellent Jack from Illinois. He is nearly five years old fifteen hands and one inch high, black with white points, with a fine head and ears, lots of bone, a big foot and of heavy and compact build.

This Jack is almost like the one I have stood for service for two seasons. They are the kind that produce the heavy bone mule with body in proportion. These two magnificent Jacks will make the season of 1916 at my farm five miles north of Marion, Ky., known as the E. M. Duvall farm, at $10.00 to insure a living colt. Mares from a distance will be cared for on good pasture at $1.50 per month. B. H. Easley, Owner and Proprietor. 5112t ating.

Prof. Barton is a popular teacher, principal of the Smithland High School which has just closed. Miss Monroe is one of Salem's most beautiful and deservingly popular young ladies, having had a position with the Home Telephone Co., for several years.

They received many handsome and useful presents here, a testimony of high esteem and good will of their many friends.

They left Monday a. m. for the groom's home near Mayfield, with the best wishes of their many friends for a long and happy life together.

Conquers Rheumatism in a Very Few Days

One-half teaspoonful of Rheuma taken once a day has driven the pain and agony from thousands of racked, crippled and despairing rheumatics during the last five years.

Powerful and sure; quick acting, yet harmless; Rheuma gives blessed relief almost at once. The magic name has reached every hamlet in the land and there is not a druggist anywhere who cannot tell you--if he will--of almost marvelous cures.

If you are tortured with rheumatism or sciatica, you can get two bottles of Rheuma from James H. Orme or any druggist for not more than $1.00, with the understanding that if it does not drive rheumatic poisons from your system--money back. 13

Church and Social Leader Also Proves Popular As Sheriff

Marion, Ky., May 8.--It is the proud boast of the citizens of Crittenden county, that in Mrs. Maud Taylor, Deputy Sheriff, they have one of the best and bravest officers in the State.

Mrs. Taylor, who is the daughter of Sheriff D. E. Gilliland, has been serving as deputy in the office of her father, has had full supervision of the office, care of the tax books, and of the many other papers that naturally flow into the hands of the Sheriff. In addition to her duties of writing tax receipts, she serves subpoenas, attachments warrants and assists in the performance of the other duties of the office. She is intelligent and has a charming disposition.

When it comes to a matter of official duty, she is always on the alert to see that the work of the office is properly and promptly dispatched. Especially was this noticeable at the recent term of the Crittenden Circuit Court, when subpoenas were placed in her hands by the foreman of the grand jury for a number of her most intimate women friends, who were wanted before that body to give information regarding certain infractions of the law which the court had called upon the grand jury to investigate. As soon as the papers were placed in her hands for execution she notified the parties one by one that their presence was desired before the grand jury; and where the witnesses showed a disposition to disregard the subpoenas they were informed in a pleasant, but firm voice, "if you fail to come I shall be out after you directly." One telling that she would be after them was sufficient, and all witnesses appeared in obedience to the subpoena, without waiting for any attachment to be issued for them.

Mrs. Taylor can, without waiting to go thru her papers, tell just how many bench warrants are in her hands for execution, whether the parties against whom they have been issued live within or without the State, the amount of bond that has been fixed by the court for their appearance for trial, as well as the number of executions that remain in her hands unsatisfied, and in a moments time can give the details of the entire business of the office.

Mrs. Taylor is 22 years old, the wife of Creed A. Taylor, salesman for a mercantile firm and is not only popular as an official of Crittenden county, but in social and church circles also, invigorating to the Pale and Sickly. The Old Standard general strengthening tonic, GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC, drives out Malaria, enriches the blood, and builds up the system. A true tonic. For adults and children. 50c.

Society Clippings From Georgia Newspapers.

Mrs. Campbell Woolridge entertained at the Capital City club in compliment to her guest, Mrs. Thomas J. Latham of Memphis, Tenn., and at the same place Mrs. E. E. Norris gave a pretty luncheon in compliment to a trio of attractive visitors, Mrs. Lucian Cooke, of Roanoke, Va., Mrs. William Taylor Claiborne, of Knoxville, Tenn., and Mrs. J. H. Wallace, of San Francisco, Cal. --The Georgian, Atlanta, Ga.

Miss Ruth Croft, of Kentucky, is still with Miss Laura Haygood Cole and in her honor Miss Martha Crayne entertained at luncheon Monday. Miss Anne Grady, of Chattanooga, who has been the guest of Mrs. M. H. Boynton also was honor guest at this affair. Miss Grady returned home Monday afternoon. Miss Marie Dinkins gave a matinee party following the luncheon for Miss Croft, with tea later at the Capital City Club.

Watch Child's Cough

Colds, running of nose, continued irritation of the mucous membrane if neglected may mean Catarrh later. Don't take the chances--do something for your child! Children will not take every medicine, but they will take Dr. King's New Discovery and without bribing or teasing. It's a sweet pleasant Tar Syrup and so effective. Just laxative enough to eliminate the waste poisons. Almost the first dose helps. Always prepared, no mixing or fussing. Just ask your druggist for Dr. King's New Discovery. It will safeguard your child against serious ailments resulting from colds. 2

GOOD ROADS QUESTION

and we have $7,600 plus $5,000, equals $12,600 annual income. This will offset the annual interest on the bonds and show this result, $12,600 minus $9,250, leaves $3,350 which becomes the annual sinking fund. This we are not allowed to pay until the expiration of five years. This $3,350 could be invested annually and made to offset the interest on so many bonds. After the very first payment we will have reduced our interest $837. This $837 may drop right back into the sinking fund, thus increasing our ability to pay and at the same time lessening the debt, and so on, at a similar ratio. Or, as the saw goes, "The further we go the faster we get." Does it look to you like it will take generations to free us from this obligation? We hope it means "generations of vipers."

The present public county debt is neither forty nor thirty thousand dollars, besides there have been ample provisions made to take care of the county debt. The present has no place in this question of a bond issue, and is used, only, to make the figures more delusive and the bluff greater.

These are the actual figures as the conditions now exist. We may hope to sell our bonds for a premium. Other counties have been able to sell their bonds for premium enough to pay the first year's interest. There is no reason why we should not be able to do the same. Too, the question of Federal Aid was loudly scoffed at in the last week's article, with the assertion that there had never been such a thing thought of or introduced into the National Congress. Some people never read the newspapers, we will admit, and depend wholly upon the word of someone else for their information, but we cannot believe our worthy friend has done this. There has been a bill of this kind before Congress for several weeks. It has passed the lower house, carrying with it an appropriation of twenty-five million dollars, and has been detained in the Senate for the sole reason of an amendment to double this amount. Not a shadow of a doubt but there will be a liberal appropriation before long. No Fake!

The argument bears with it a high sounding note of philanthropy sympathy for the poor, frugality, conservatism, and if you will look right close you will see a little pessimism. The man that owns no property or a small amount of property pays no tax. We pay according to our wealth. This is the one question and the only one that has ever come before the people of Crittenden county that has sought to place the burden of road service on the property owner, the place where it ought to be, because he is the man who uses the roads.

Pessimism is the opposite of optimism. A pessimist is what is known as a kicker, a knocker, a disgruntled citizen who is always crying down any and all projects whereby the conveniences may be made better, living easier, and homes happier. Especially is this the case if it takes a little public money, or if the old rut must be climbed out of, or the man on the lower rung of the ladder is to be helped.

The optimist is the fellow who is always ready to look on the bright side of every question, get the good from every passing opportunity, help his companion who may be a little lower in the circles of civilization or worldly goods. The world moves today because of the vision of the optimist.

There are men today who own hundreds of acres of fertile lands and call themselves farmers--we hope none of this kind exist in Crittenden county--who scorn to make their abode with the common people on the farm, and neighbor farmers, but who own palatial homes in the cities or prosperous towns of their county, where their children, their families may have the benefits of concrete sidewalks, paved streets, close and convenient schools and churches with all other advantages that may be had by the expenditure of money secured in just the same way that the road bond issue proposes to raise the money for the roads. The deluded serf who wears out his life toiling on the plantation of this extortioner, vampire, must be content to drag through the mud, the heat and the cold with little or no conveniences, and permit his children to grow up in ignorance and poverty. Comrades, wake up and get busy and let's carry this bond issue. It is a chance of a lifetime.

Yours respectfully,
JOHN G. ASHER.

May 10, Later!--The National Congress has passed a bill appropriating EIGHTY-FIVE MILLION DOLLARS for roads. Kentucky will receive for her share about One and one-half Million Dollars. Crittenden county will receive about ONE HUNDRED-TWENTY-THOUSAND. Rah! The optimistic egg has hatched and the chick is a reality.

Optimism vs. Pessimism.

Miss Cora Dee Eldred won first prize, a pair of gold shirtwaist pins. Second prize being of Mrs. Willar Haines.

Delightful creamed oysters, toast, pickles, cheese, sandwiches and coffee were served to seven tables of guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Gugenheim were the recipients of many useful articles.

Mrs. J. Houston Orme's kitchen shower Wednesday afternoon honoring Miss Maude Flanary, was one of the prettiest parties of the week. As the guests arrived their gifts were placed in an autumn basket of yellow and brown.

The afternoon was spent at auction. At the conclusion of the game, Miss Flanary was presented with the gift basket. The ice course which was served to the eight tables of guests was most attractive and typical of the early fall, the ices being in the form of partially husked corn. Favors were also ears of corn, filled with mints. Mrs. C. S. Nunn received with Mrs. Orme, while the Misses Blue and their guest, Miss Browning, of Falmouth, Ky., stood in line with Miss Flanary.

In might not await evidence of Germany's preparation for war, which President Wilson is desirous to close about him as being in a where he cannot question the faith of Germany's assurance, which must stand or fall by the future conduct of her submarine commanders.

The German embassy view is that the note gives all President Wilson asked for; that it signifies a return to "cruiser warfare"—the use of submarines as regular naval cruisers intercepting commerce with visit and search, and that inasmuch as it makes no mention of the armed ship question, that perplexing feature of the controversy is not involved.

Congress took the note quietly, and although members expressed a variety of views, the general sentiment seemed to be in favor of leaving the situation in the hands of the president. On the surface there was no sign of activity in the group which has been working to prevent the president from pressing the situation to the point of a diplomatic rupture.

The newest orders, however, apparently are regarded as meeting the rate, president's demand for a dereliction of an abandonment of the practices of submarine warfare. Resolutions of respect for the president seem agreed to in this size type.

A BIG PRIZE FOR PIG CLUBS

Offered By General Coleman du Pont and C. Her Wealthy Men

In an address to the members of the Louisville Board of Trade one day last week, Gen. Coleman du Pont praised the movement now on foot to award a Big Prize Fund for Pig Clubs all over the State, which is to be distributed among boys and girls producing the best hog at the lowest cost per pound under rules to be formulated by the Louisville Board of Trade and the State Agricultural Experiment Station.

Gen. du Pont who, by the way, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for President, told the audience that his sense of business efficiency had been outraged for years because of the great waste of such fine stock feed at the distillery plants of the State, when the farmers could fatten their hogs on it at a small percentage of what it required to make the same number of pounds from feeding corn.

"Now," said he, "that the farmer has an opportunity to get this concentrated feed at a very low price from the distilleries and that a movement is on foot to raise a Big Prize Fund to be awarded Pig Clubs throughout the State where this heretofore waste material is used as part rations, I am willing to contribute $500.00 or more to said fund."

To this amount was promptly added another $500.00 by Mr. James Thompson, of Louisville, one of the candidate's hosts, who, by the way, is using his good offices for increasing the fund to several thousand dollars, making it worth while for boys and girls in nearly every county to go after a prize. Several prizes have already been awarded in Daviess county, where some 25,000 hogs are fattened annually on the liquid feed products that heretofore has been run off into the streams or dried up and shipped abroad for cattle feed.

Bullet Fired at Heart.

Seattle, Wash., May 9.—Thos. Dunbar, a realty agent, attributes to a silver dollar the saving of his life when Conrad Leo, a former restaurant keeper, fired a point-blank at his breast. Dunbar was stunned by the blow of the bullet striking the silver in a vest pocket.

Apparently under the impression that Dunbar at least had been wounded, Leo shot himself and died soon afterward. The two had quarreled over a rooming house transaction.

Ballard's SNOW LINIMENT

Is the Right Remedy for All Abrasions of the Flesh.

If the wound is cleansed and the liniment applied promptly, the healing process begins at once and the wound heals from the inside outwardly, thus performing a perfect cure that leaves no scar. If the wound heals on the outside too quickly, pus forms under the surface and breaks out into a running sore that is hard to cure and inevitably leaves a bad scar.

Owners of blooded stock prefer this liniment to all others for that reason, and they use it not only on fine animals, but on human flesh, as it does its work quickly and thoroughly.

BEST PAID MEN ARE NOW ASKING FOR HIGHER PAY

Government Officials Fail To Find Justice In Demands Of Train Service Employees.

By Judson C. Welliver in The Washington Times.

Administrative and legislative authorities in Washington are taking a distinctly different view of the present effort of railway trainmen to compel an advancement in their wages, from any that has been taken on former occasions.

It is very apparent that the case for the employees seeking higher wages is viewed with less animosity than ordinarily. In legislative circles there has recently been serious talk of legislation to prohibit strikes by employees of interstate carriers, and to provide a procedure for compulsory arbitration.

The impression has gained a good deal of ground, that certain favored classes of employees have for a long time been systematically aggregating to themselves most of the increases in wages.

Highest Paid Class Of Men

On behalf of the engineers and trainmen who are making the demand for a large wage increase, it is urged that the higher cost of living justifies their demand. Yet these men, the engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen, are the highest paid classes of railroad labor. The question being asked why an engineer getting an average wage in 1913 of $5.20, should require an increase, while trackmen, who were getting $1.58 per day, should be left out?

Again, the average wage of conductors in 1913 is shown by the statistics of the Interstate Commerce Commission to have been $4.39 per day. At the same time, telegraph operators and dispatchers were getting an average wage of $2.52 per day.

If the increased cost of living for the $4.39 conductor necessitates a large increase in his compensation, where does the $2.52 dispatcher come in?

No demand is being urged on behalf of the operators and dispatchers, and some of the railroads have lately been intimating vigorously that if a big additional burden must be laid on their labor funds they would like to give the benefit to the poorer paid classes of employees.

The truth of the whole business is that, as a whole, the railroad employees of the country are not very highly paid as compared to other people. A few classes of railroad men are paid very high wages. The most fortunate of all these classes are the engineers, firemen, conductors and brakemen.

Rate Rising Rapidly

Not only are these four classes paid much more liberally than other employees, but the figures show that their rate of wages has been rising more rapidly than that of any other classes.

In 1914 the Interstate Commerce Commission's report showed the number of railroad employees for the entire country to be 1,710,296. Out of this number there were 62,621 engineers, 64,959 firemen, 43,261 conductors, and 136,869 other trainmen; a total of 311,900, or just about one-sixth of the entire number.

At that same date, the number of trackmen, exclusive of foremen, was 327,451. That is, the number of common laborers on the section was greater than the entire roll of engineers, firemen, conductors, and brakemen. Yet this huge army of trackmen was working for an average wage of $1.58 per day, while engineers were getting $5.20, firemen were getting $2.13, conductors were getting $4.39, and other trainmen were getting $3.04. These figures are the commission's averages for the entire country.

Condition Bettered

Largely because they are the best organized classes or railway workers and have been unremitting in their demands for better wages, these four classes have succeeded in bettering their condition rapidly and regularly, at the expense of the other classes, which are not so highly organized.

The trainmen, whenever they insist on a wage increase, have, on their side, the tremendously potent argument that if they don't get what they ask, they can walk out and tie up the whole railroad system. No other class of employees could do this, because no other is so instantly indispensable.

How effectively the four favored classes have used their power, is shown by the cold figures. In the ten years from 1903 to 1912, inclusive, the salaries of general officers increased an average of 17 per cent.

In that same ten-year period the salaries of engineers increased 21 per cent.

During those same ten years the wages of general office clerks increased 13 per cent, while the wages of firemen increased 32 per cent.

During those same ten years the wages of telegraph operators and dispatchers increased 14 per cent, while those of trainmen other than conductors increased 36 per cent.

Impressive Statement

Here is an impressive statement of fact about railway wages that ought not to escape attention. There were a total of 27,873 employees classified as switch tenders, crossing tenders, and watchmen. These were receiving in 1912 an average of $1.70 per day, which was actually 6 cents a day less than they had been receiving ten years earlier.

At that time there were 48,201 conductors with whom the statistics dealt. The conductors, therefore, were only a slightly more numerous class than the tenders and watchmen; yet, while the conductors had had their wages raised from $3.38 to $4.29 per day, the less fortunate class of tenders and watchmen had to stand a reduction from $1.76 to $1.70 per day.

If the cost of living has been steadily advancing for conductors, so as to justify an increase of 27 per cent in their wages, it seems difficult to explain why that same cost of living should have fallen sufficiently to warrant a decrease of 3 per cent in the wages of switch tenders, crossing tenders, and watchmen.

Take the single classification of general office clerks. There were $7,106 of these according to the official report. A much larger number than of either engineers, firemen, or conductors.

These general office clerks were paid an average of $2.21 per day in 1903, and of $2.50 in 1912; an increase of only 13 per cent in the ten-year period.

General office clerks, without exception, are compelled to live in cities, where the cost of living is high.

Engineers Better Off

Engineers, on the other hand, are distributed between large towns and small towns; on the average, their living circumstances ought to make their expenses average considerably less than those of office clerks, yet the statistics show that engineers have received in the ten-year period an increase of 24 per cent in their wages, making them average exactly $5 per day, while general office clerks have received an increase of only 13 per cent, making them average $2.50 per day.

One of the worst underpaid classifications of railway employees is that of the station agents. There are just about 40,000 of these in the country, or nearly as many as the number of conductors.

In 1903 station agents averaged $1.80 a day, and in 1912 they had been raised to only $2.20 a day, while in that same time conductors had advanced from $3.38 to $4.29.

That is, the station agent in 1912 was getting just about half the wages of the conductor, and in ten years he had had an average increase of 17 per cent, while the conductor's increase had been 27 per cent.

Here are two of the most numerous classes of railway employees: Trainmen, other than engineers, firemen, and conductors, numbered 136,869, while trackmen numbered 327,451. The statistics show that the trackmen were getting in 1903 an average of $1.31 per day, and in 1912 an average of $1.50 per day, an increase of 14 per cent.

What Others Got

On the other hand, the classification of other trainmen was getting in 1903 $2.17 per day, and in 1912, $2.96 per day, an increase of 36 per cent. In percentage, this is the largest advance received by any single class of railway employees during this decade.

A general survey of wage conditions in the railway service and in other industries, it is believed, would show that in the last fifteen years the highly organized and favored classes of railway wage earners have had their incomes increased more than almost any other class of workers in the country, while the much more numerous, but less effectively organized classes of railway workers have probably received rather less increases than other industrial workers in general.

In view of the strong feeling that these most fortunate classes of the railway employees are now making excessive and unreasonable demands, attention is now being called as never before to these general discrepancies. There is a strong disposition to inaugurate a general and sweeping investigation of the whole question of railway wages with a view to establishing some sort of public regulation not unlike that already applied to railroad rates, in the interest of employees and public alike. Meanwhile, there is a marked disposition to extend further favors to those classes already most highly favored, at the expense of other classes of employees who appear to be getting very low wages.

Effects Of a Tie-Up

It is calculated that if a general tie-up and paralysis of all freight traffic should result from the demand of the freight trainmen for an increase of 25 per cent in their wages, a large number of the poorer people of New York City would face starvation within three days; in other words, these people have available supplies of food for not more than two days ahead. Other large cities would face like conditions. Milk supplies would be cut off, and babies dependent on the daily milk jar for sustenance would be left to perish. The distress would reach all classes everywhere, and more especially the working people because factories necessarily would be shut down on account of inability to secure raw material or to ship finished products.

Heroism Wins Bride.

Denver, Col., May 8.—A romance—like those you read about in novels—culminated recently when Miss Leilah Alma Peck, a nurse at the county hospital, formerly of Madison, Ind., was married to Vincent Brunner, Jr., of Mishawaka, Ind.

Several months ago Brunner read in an Indiana paper that little five-year-old Mary Lena Lewis, who was badly burned in a Colorado forest fire, needed healthy skin grafted on to her sacred little body. The appeal touched his heart, and he being a healthy young man, came to Denver and gave a portion of his skin that the child might recover.

During the skin operation he met Miss Peck, and the romance began that ended in their marriage. In the spring the couple will take up a homestead for their future home.

WHO IS COMING?

(Chicago Post)

"Who is coming?" said the Crocus, And she poked her golden head From beneath the old earth's cover As she scrambled out of bed.

"Who is coming?" said the Violet As she peeped from 'neath the sod, Lifted by the tender fingers Of the ever-present God.

"Who is coming?" said the Tulip As she threw her shutters wide; And the Jonquills stood on tiptoe, Looking out on every side.

"Who is coming?" said the Myrtle As she ran along the fence In her mouth a little blossom As the winter's recompense.

"Who is coming?" said the Cowslip, With her golden buckled shoes; And the Bluebells all were ringing, For they, too, had heard the news.

Then the little wind came running, Bringing puffs of summer air, 'Tis the sunshine that is coming, And it's coming everywhere."

I THINK I THINK A LIE.

I used to think when I was young, And my heart free from guile That there was grief in every tear And joy in every smile; And friendship was not all a cheat, And love could never die; But thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

I used to think about myself, And think that I could be A governor or a president Or a general like Lee; But I have waited long in vain While years rolled slowly by, And thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

I used to think the ladies were All sweetness combined, That they were all God's last and best Of perfectness refined; That they were not half pads and paint, But angels from on high; But thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

The preachers, too, I used to think, Were not like other men, And were not tempted of the flesh And could not therefore sin. But since I've traveled round a bit, I've watched them on the sly, And thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

The honest tiller of the soil, When marketing his crop, Takes pains to put the ripe and best Always upon the top; I used to think these honest men Would never cheat or try, But thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

The editors, a lordly set Who lived on milk and honey, They've nothing else on earth to do But write and rake in money; Leastwise that way I used to think, But now it makes me cry, To think about the way I think And how I think a lie.

What noble men the doctors are, I used to think they came From heaven or some heavenly land, And worked for love and fame; That they could cure all human ills, And never let us die; But thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

The lawyers, too, I used to think— Oh! God forgive the thought— That their convictions of the right Could not be knaves be bought, That they would not a client rob Or "sell" him on the sly; But thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

The dry goods men are honest too, They swear they sell at cost; I used to think they told the truth, And all their profits lost; I thought a yard was full three feet— Don't ask my reason why— But thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

The niggers, too, I used to think, If they were all set free, Would make good honest citizens Like white folks used to be, But they have wandered far from grace, The chickens still roost high, And thinking now of what I think, I think I think a lie.

Social Fads in The "Bluff City."

Some times society leaders becomes so anxious to do something new or outstrip some other leaders that they apparently do not consider consequences. A Memphis (Tenn.) newspaper devotes two columns to a write-up of a reception given by a Memphis society leader in her palatial home, to compliment her colored house girl and colored butler. The paper says that other society leaders of the city attended the reception, accompanied by their colored servants. The receiving line contained many of the wealthiest men and women of Memphis, and it is said that the colored honorees danced and drank from 9 p. m., until 1 a. m., when they were taken in automobiles to their homes. Certainly this reception was an innovation, and if that was all the hostess desired, she succeeded splendidly.

Petrograd, May 6.—The fall of Trebizond has given rise to fresh crop of rumors that Turkey is approaching Russia with peace overtures, but it is authoritatively stated in official circles that no such proposals will be considered for a moment by the Russian government.

Voicing a conviction that Turkey is a defeated nation and not in a position to make any terms, the Petrograd Gazette declares:

"We now may consider one of our enemies finished. The taking of Trebizond has so disorganized the Turkish defensive plan that all that remains for her is to lay down her arms and ask mercy."

"She already has sought ways to separate peace, and has met with the absolute refusal of her opponent, who is determined to close no separate agreements. Turkey's hour has struck, and it is not improbable that she will in the near future entirely disappear from the map."

Cat Buried Two Weeks; Still Has Eight Lives.

Eatonton, Ga., May 9.—Mrs. W. M. Dennis, of Eatonton, has an ordinary house cat about her home. It was decided to get rid of the cat, so the butler was delegated to kill it.

He shot it to death and then buried it in the Dennis garden. It lay buried for two weeks, when the gardener, preparing for his early spring planting, plowed up not only the garden, but the cat. And two weeks in the grate had not dulled the cat's sense of sight, smell or taste, for it made a dash straight from the garden to the kitchen.

When the cook recovered, the cat was given food and water. It is still alive and running around the house.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. A Good Creed.

Here is a creed offered by the National Hardware Bulletin. If you can subscribe to it you are a good citizen:

"I believe in My Town. I believe in her people, in her boys and girls. I will make myself a committee of one to make of this a good place in which to live and a mighty hard place to leave."

"I believe in My Town. I believe in her institutions, in her schools, in her churches and her stores."

"I believe in her street broom, and the street sweeper, and in the paint pot. I believe in ne'er an empty can on a vacant lot but many a full one in the larder. Never again will I throw waste paper or rubbish in the street or alley."

"I believe in My Town. I believe in trees, God's first temples, grass instead of ash heaps, and flowers instead of weeds. May God bless the tongues that give honest praise and commendations, and may He doubly bless the ear that is deaf to scandal and gossip. If I can not speak good of my neighbor I will hold my peace. When it costs me nothing at least, I will spend my money here, and by so doing leave a part of the purchase price to circulate in the channels, where its equivalent in wealth was originally created, to do good among the folks who are a part of the community of which I am part, in the place that I call home, sweet home."

Wilson Will Now Await Evidence of
gress Not Disturbed.

Washington.—Germany's note has postponed if it actually has not averted
States.

It was stated authoritatively after the cabinet meeting that if the official text bore out the unofficial version transmitted in the Berlin news dispatches, Germany's assurances undoubtedly would be accepted, and before taking another step the United States would await the fulfillment of her latest promises.

In such case the United States might not reply to the note and would await evidence of the abandonment of Germany's present practices of submarine warfare, which is declared.
President Wilson is described by those close about him as being in a position where he cannot question the good faith of Germany's assurance, which must stand or fall by the future conduct of her submarine commanders.

"The German embassy view is that the note gives all President Wilson asked for; that it signifies a return
marines as regular naval cruisers intercepting commerce with visit and search, and that inasmuch as it makes no mention of the armed ship question, that perplexing feature of the controversy is not involved.

Congress took the note quietly, and
although members expressed a variety of views, the general sentiment seemed to be in favor of leaving the situation in the hands of the president. On the surface there was no sign of activity in the group which has been working to prevent the president from pressing the situation to the point of a diplomatic rupture.

The newest orders, however, appar-
president's demand for a declaration of an abandonment of the present practices of submarine warfare. Officials seem agreed that the president's demand that Germany also "effect" such an abandonment only could be answered by time.

Text of The Note.

Berlin.—Following is the text of the note of the German government in reply to the American note respecting submarine warfare, delivered by Gottlieb von Jagow, the foreign secretary to Ambassador Gerard:

imperial German government, has the honor to present to his excellency, the ambassador of the United States, Mr.
James W. Gerard, the following reply to the note of April 20 regarding the conduct of German submarine warfare:

"The German government handed over to the proper naval authorities for early investigation the evidence concerning the Sussex as communicated by the government of the United States. Judging by the results that the investigation has hitherto yielded, the German government is alive to the possibility that the ship mentioned in the note of April 10 as having been torpedoed by a German submarine is

reserve further communication on the matter until certain points are ascertained, which are of decisive impor-
case. Should it turn out that the commander was wrong in assuming the vessel to be a man-of-war, the German government will not fail to draw the consequence resulting therefrom.

the Sussex, the government of the United States made a series of statements, the gist of which is the assertion that the incident is to be considered but one instance of a deliberate method of indiscriminate destruction of vessels of all sorts, nationalities and destinations by German submarine commanders.

"The German government must emphatically repudiate the assertion.
The German government, however,
thinks it of little avail to enter into details in the present stage of affairs, more particularly as the government of the United States omitted to substantiate the assertion by reference to concrete facts.

"The German government will only state that it has imposed far-reaching restraints upon the use of the submarine weapon, solely in consideration of neutral interests, in spite of the fact that these restrictions are necessarily of advantage to Germany's enemies. No such consideration has ever been shown neutrals by Great Britain and her allies.

have had, in fact, orders to conduct the submarine warfare in accordance
and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, the sole exception being the conduct of warfare against enemy trade carried on enemy freight ships encountered in the war zone surrounding Great Britain. With regard to these no assurance have ever been given to the government of the United

also by the thought of the great doom which threatened the entire civilized world should the cruel and sanguinary war be extended and prolonged.

of Germany's strength, twice within the last few months announced before the world its readiness to make peace on a basis safeguarding Germany's vital interests, thus indicating that it is not Germany's fault if peace
Europe. The German government feels all the more justified in declaring that responsibility could not be borne before the forum of mankind and in history if after 21 months of the war's duration the submarine question under discussion by the German government and the government of the United States were to take a turn seriously threatening maintenance of peace between the two nations.

As far as lies with the German government, it wishes to prevent things from taking such a course. The German government, moreover, is prepared to do its utmost to confine operations of the war for the rest of its duration to the fighting forces of the belligerents, thereby also insuring freedom of the seas, a principle upon which the German government believes now, as before, that it is in
United States.

"The German government, guided by this idea, notifies the government of the United States that German naval forces have received the following order:

"In accordance with the general principles of visit and search and the destruction of merchant vessels recognized by international law, such vessels both within and without the area
be sunk without warning and without saving human lives unless the ship attempts to escape or offer resistance."

"But neutrals cannot expect that Germany, forced to fight for existence, shall, for the sake of neutral inter-
weapon if the enemy is permitted to continue to apply at will methods of warfare violating rules of interna-
incompatible with the character of neutrality, and the German government is convinced that the government of the United States does not think of making such a demand, knowing that the government of the United States repeatedly declares that it is
of freedom of the seas, from whatever quarter it has been violated.

"Accordingly the German government is confident that in consequence of the new order issued to the naval forces the government of the United States will also now consider all impediments removed which may have
toward restoration of the freedom of the seas during the war, as suggested in the note of July 23, 1915, and it does not doubt that the government of the United States will now demand and insist that the British government shall forthwith observe the rules of international law universally recognized before the war as laid down in the notes presented by the government of the United States to the British government December 23, 1914
and November 5, 1915.

"Should steps taken by the government of the United States not attain the object it desires to have the laws of humanity followed by all belligerent nations, the German government would then be facing a new situation in which it must reserve to itself complete liberty of decision.

"The undersigned avails himself of this opportunity to renew to the American ambassador assurances of high est consideration."

Suggesting Pain and Disease.
Grown people often aggravate the little aches and pains of children by making too much of them. It would be better if they would turn the mind of a child off from most of his troubles and ailments. The principle applies just as well to youth as it does to childhood. It will be granted that when a child has a serious complaint, it ought to be discovered early. But the best way for the parent to discover it is to learn the signs of serious disturbances so that he can read them without asking the child whether he "feels bad." A parent ought to be able to tell when a child has a fever or when he is not being properly nourished, or when he has a long-continued pain due to malfunction of any kind. The less said to the child
his case is unusual. The child's health should be in the keeping of parent,
should follow, as a matter of habit, a healthful regime in respect to food, exercise, cleanliness, etc., and then his thoughts should be kept on optimistic and constructive instead of gloomy and introspective matters.—Mother's Magazine.

The Missing Remnant.
A certain Lancashire town boasts a full brass band, including a big drum.
The drummer, according to the Tatler, is about five feet high and rather deaf, but he thinks nobly of his im-
parades, it always takes the same course through the main streets; but the other day the leader, for some purpose known only to himself, turned down a bystreet. The little drummer did not see what was happening in front of him, for to compensate for his lack of height he holds his drum high before him. So with his gaze concentrated on his music he banged away, and marched straight ahead, as usual. About five minutes afterward he finished his part, and, hearing no other instruments, he stopped. Part of the crowd had accompanied him, and they gave him a cheer. But he was ill at ease. He shoved his drum to one side and gazed ahead; then on the other, and did likewise. But he saw no band. Then, in uneasy astonishment, he turned to the smiling bystanders and inquired: "Heigh! Has any of you seen the remnant of a band anywhere about 'ere?"

tained in the declaration of February 8, 1916.

The German government cannot admit any doubt that these orders were given or are executed in good faith.
Errors actually occurred. They can in no kind of warfare be avoided altogether. Allowance must be made in the conduct of naval warfare against an enemy resorting to all kinds of ruses, whether permissible or illicit.

errors, naval warfare, just like warfare on land, implies unavoidable dangers for neutral persons and goods entering the fighting zone. Even in cases where the naval action is confined to ordinary forms of cruiser warfare, neutral persons and goods repeatedly come to grief.

"The German government has made several proposals to the government of the United States in order to reduce to a minimum for American travelers and goods the inherent dangers of naval warfare. Unfortunately the government of the United States declined to accept the proposals. Had it accepted, the government of the United States would have been in-
citizens have met with in the meantime.

"The German government still stands by its offer to come to an agreement along these lines.

"As the German government repeat-
the use of the submarine weapon in the conduct of warfare against enemy trade. The German government, however, has now decided to make a further concession, adopting methods of submarine war to the interests of neutrals.

"In reaching this decision the German government is actuated by considerations which are above the level of depleted questions.

"The German government attaches
no less importance to the sacred principles of humanity than the government of the United States. It again fully takes into account that both gov-
in developing with the principles of international law, the ultimate object of which has always been to confine warfare on sea and land to armed forces of belligerents and safeguard as far as possible non-combatants against the horrors of war. But, although these considerations are of great weight, they alone would not, under present circumstances, have determined the attitude of the German government. For in answer to the appeal by the government of the United States on behalf of the sacred principles of humanity and international law, the German government must repeat once more with all emphasis that it was not the German but the British government which ignored all accepted rules of international law and extended this terrible war to the lives and property of non-combatants, having no regard whatsoever for the interests and rights of neutrals and non-combatants that through this method of warfare have

"In self-defense against the illegal
fighting a bitter struggle for national existence, Germany had to resort to the hard but effective weapon of submarine warfare.

"As matters stand, the German government cannot but reiterate regret that the sentiments of humanity which the government of the United States extends with such fervor to the unhappy victims of submarine warfare are not extended with the same warmth of feeling to many millions of women and children who, according to the avowed intention of the British government, shall be starved, and who, by sufferings, shall force the victorious armies of the central powers into ignominious capitulation.
The German government in agreement with the German people fails to understand this discrimination, all the more as it has repeatedly and explicitly declared itself ready to use the submarine weapon in strict conformity with the rules of international law as recognized before the outbreak of the war. If Great Britain likewise was ready to adapt the conduct of warfare to these rules.

"General attempts made by the government of the United States to prevail upon the British government to act accordingly failed because of flat refusal on the part of the British government. Moreover, Great Britain again and again has violated international law, surpassing all bounds in outraging neutral rights. The latest measure adopted by Great Britain declaring German bunker coal contraband and establishing conditions under which English bunker coal alone is supplied to neutrals is nothing but an unheard-of attempt by way of ex-action to force neutral tonnage into the service of British trade war.

"The German people know that the government of the United States has the power to confine the war to armed forces of the belligerent countries, in the interest of humanity and maintenance of international law. The government of the United States could have been certain of obtaining this end
had it been determined to insist, against Great Britain, on the incontrovertible rights to freedom of the seas. But as matters stand, the German people are under the impression that the government of the United States, while demanding that Germany, struggling for existence, shall restrain the use of an effective weapon and while making compliance with these demands a condition for maintenance of relations with Germany, confines itself to protests against illegal methods adopted by Germany's enemies. Moreover, the German people know to what considerable extent its enemies are supplied with all kinds of war material from the United States.

"It will therefore be understood that the appeal made by the government of the United States to sentiments of humanity and principles of international law cannot under the circumstances meet the same hearty response by the German people which such an appeal otherwise always is certain to find here. If the German government, nevertheless, is resolved to go to the utmost limit of concessions, it has been guided not alone by the friendship connecting the two

President Wilson's Reply.

Washington, May 10.—Following is the text of the note cabled
Ambassador Gerard at Berlin
with instructions to deliver it to the German minister of foreign affairs:

"The note of the imperial German government under date of May 4, 1916, has received careful consideration by the government of the United States. It is especially noted, as indicating the purpose of the imperial government as to the future that it is prepared to do its utmost to confine the operation of the war for the rest of its duration to the fighting forces of the belligerents, and that it is determined to impose upon all its commanders at sea the limitations of the recognized rules of international law upon which the government of the United States has insisted.

"Throughout the months which have elapsed since the imperial government announced on Feb. 4, 1915, its submarine policy, now happily abandoned, the government of the United States has constantly been guided and restrained by motives of friendship in its patient efforts to bring to an amicable settlement the critical questions arising from that policy. Accepting the imperial government's declaration of its abandonment of the policy which has so seriously menaced the good relations between the two countries, the government of the United States will rely upon a scrupulous execution henceforth of the now altered policy of the imperial government such as will remove the principal danger to an interruption of the good relations existing between the United States and Germany.

"The government of the United States feels it necessary to state that it takes it for granted that the imperial German government does not intend to imply that the maintenance of its newly announced policy is in any way contingent upon the course or result of the diplomatic negotiations between the government of the United States and any other belligerent government, notwithstanding the fact that certain passages in the imperial government's note of the fourth instant might appear to be susceptible of that construction.
In order, however, to avoid any possible misunderstanding, the
notifies the imperial government that it cannot for a moment enertain, much less discuss a suggestion that respect by German naval authorities for the rights of citizens of the United States upon the high seas should in any way or in the slightest degree be made contin-gent upon the conduct of any other government affecting the rights of neutrals and non-combatants. Responsibility in such matters is single, not joint, absolutely, not relative."

Charges Filed against

Mineral Water Concern.

The Dawson Springs Mineral Water Company was charged with violating the pure food and drugs law in an information filed yesterday in the Federal Court
by Perry B. Miller, United States District Attorney. It is alleged the company shipped to a St.
Louis corporation a quantity of Dawson Springs water, which upon being analyzed by Federal experts, proved to contain less mineral substance than the labels claimed. The case will be on the docket at Owensboro at the
Court there.—Courier Journal.

J. I. CLEMENT OPPOSED TO IT

exceptions to all rules.

One of the greatest inducements in this argument for the bond issue, is that the rock road would enable us to work on our farms in good weather and market our produce when the weather was bad. Don't even extend to us the invitation to "come in out of the wet." Perhaps it is thought we would not know what it meant, anyhow. But I am of the opinion that the farmer enjoys sitting around the fire with his family, on bad days as much as any other man does. It is true, as stated in this article, that at present the Road law imposes no poll tax; but the most enthusiastic supporters of the bond issue, frankly admit that,
under present arrangements, there will not be sufficient funds to meet the interest and pay the bonds, and, that the Legislature will have to increase the tax rate.

Who believes the present Commission will assume the responsibility and see after the distribution of these funds very long for nothing? And who would ask them to do so? This will
things get started, the new wears off, and the "dog days" come, no man will spend that much time and trouble for nothing;
and I for one would not ask him
to. I mention this to remind you, this is another place for some of the tax to go.

I was told yesterday, it was said that I went before the Fiscal Court last year and advised against any appropriations of from $5000 to $10,000.00 to build rock roads under the State Aid law; and I did. At that time we had paid very little into the State Road fund, some $1700 or $1800.00. The county was already heavily involved. To appropriate $5000.00 or more would either put the county deeper in debt or it would deprive the tax payer in other sections of the
of road would start right at the town of Marion,) of the money they were entitled to on their road.
Did I do right, or did I do wrong?
We are all tax payers alike. Each section of the county should, as nearly as possible, receive its share of the taxes spent to improve the roads. I do not believe in playing any FAVORITES on any proposition. Now, if we can get our county out of debt, and stop this eternal grind of interest, then I am in favor of an appropriation of any amount we are able to make,
and getting State aid, and trying rock roads, and see if they are a panacea for all our ills and aches.
I think it is as bad business policy for a county to be heels over head in debt, paying a big percent of its revenue out in interest, as it is for the individual to be in that condition. The most of us have paid more or less interest.
We know how it cuts and digs into our earnings, and how much better and freer we feel when we are no longer hampered with it.

Interesting Meeting of

The Commercial Club.

The Crittenden County Commercial Club met in called session, in Marion, May 2, 1916, with President, W. B. Yandell, presiding.

After reading of minutes of the last meeting, the following named persons were enrolled as members of the club, viz: Senator W. J. Deboe, Supt., E. J.
Travis, E. M. McFee, J. M. Freeman, W. D. Cannan and Jeff Chandler.

The place of meeting, upstairs lobby of Post Office building, was filled to overflowing with enthusiastic citizens of town and county to discuss various topics of vital interest to every citizen of the county. The principal topics discussed being schools,

Supt., E. J. Travis, chairman of committee on education, reported a plan for a consolidated High School for the county and city schools of Marion, which was discussed at length and which seems to be the most important school question before the citizens of Marion and the county for some years. It is the opinion of many of the citizens that such a school will bridge the chasm that has long existed between county and town on all school questions. The idea of county as a unit for schools was forcefully advocated by Prof.
Christian and others.

gress Not Disturbed.

States.

text here out the unofficial version
her latest promises.

marine warfare, which is declared.
duct of her submarine commanders.

search, and that, as such, it makes
discrepancy is not involved.

answered by time.

tary to Ambassador Gerard:

ambassador of the United States, Mr.
conduct of German submarine warfare:

from.

ments, the gist of which is the asser-
erate method of indiscriminate de-
man submarine commanders.

phatically repudiate the assertion.
to concrete facts.

of neutrals' interests. In spite of the
sarily of advantage to Germany's enemies. No such consideration has ever
and her allies.

war be extended and prolonged.

many's vital interests, this indicating
Europe.

"The German government
ing that responsibility must rest before the world the terms of peace and in history it after 41 months of the war, during the submarine question under discussion by the Ger-
of the United States here to be thus, seriously endangering peace and peace between the two nations.

ernment, it wishes to prevent peace
pared to do its utmost to render operation of the war for the rest of its
United States.

ing order:

destruction of merchant vessels recog-
attempts to escape or offer resistance.

warfare violating rules of interna-
quarter it has been violated.

does not doubt that the government
the notes presented by the govern-
and November 5, 1915.

complete liberty of decision.

ican ambassador assurances of the German government's warmest regards.

making too much of them. It would be better if they would turn the mind of
"feels bad." A parent ought to be able to tell when a child has a fever or when he is not being properly nourished, or when he has a long-continued pain due to malnutrition of
should be in the keeping of parent,
Magazine.

The Missing Remnant.

full brass band, including a big drum.
of the crowd had accompanied him,
the other, and did likewise. But he saw no band. Then, in uneasy astonish-
anywhere about here?"

8, 1916.

given or are executed in good faith.
Errors of fact occurred. They are in no kind of warfare be avoided at all. Allowance must be made for the conduct of naval warfare against any enemy resorting to all kinds of ruses, whether permitted or not.

endangering the fighting zone. Even to conduct the naval action is con-

of the United States in order to direct the conduct of American trade and goods the inherent dangers of naval warfare. Unfortunately the government of the United States refused to accept the proposals. If it accepted, the government of the
time.

"The German government stands by its offer to come to an agreement along these lines.

neutrals.

man government is actuated by con-
of disputed questions.

ciple of humanity than the govern-
in developing international law in conformity with these principles, the ultimate object of which has always been to confine warfare on sea and land to armed forces of belligerents and safeguard as far as possible non-combatants against the horrors of war.
But, although these considerations are of great weight, they alone would not, under present circumstances, have determined the attitude of the German government. For in answer to the appeal by the government of the United States on behalf of the sacred principles of humanity and international law, the German government must repeat once more with all
but the British government which knows all accepted rules of international law and extended this terrible war to the lives and property of non-combatants, having no regard whatever for the interests and rights of neutrals and non-combatants that

marine warfare.

and who, by suffering, shall feel the victorious armies of the central powers into ignominious capitulation.
of the war. It Great Britain likewise
warfare to these rules.

"Several attempts made by the government of the United States to pre-
claring German bunker coal contraband and establishing conditions un-
service of British trade war.

the interest of humanity and maintenance of international law. The gov-
had it been determined to insist, against Great Britain, on the inalienable rights to freedom of the
man people is under the impression
these demands a condition for maintenance of relations with Germany, con-
methods adopted by Germany's enemies. Moreover, the German people
States.

President Wilson's Reply.

ing is the text of the note cabled
affairs:

upon which the government of the United States has insisted.

Feb. 4, 1915, its submarine policy, now happily abandoned, the
imperial government's declaration of its abandonment of the
menaced the good relations be-
ernment of the United States
tered policy of the imperial gov-
between the United States and Germany.

state that it takes it for granted
tiations between the government
of the United States and any
other belligerent government,
tertain, much less discuss a sug-

Charges Filed against Mineral Water Concern.

with violating the pure food and drugs law in an information filed
District Attorney. It is alleged
the company shipped to a St.
Court there.—Courier Journal.

OPPOSED TO IT

One of the greatest objections to this argument for the bond issue, is that the road
farms in good weather and market our produce when the weather was bad. Don't even extend
under present arrangements,
rate.

mission will assume the respon-
off, and the "dog days" come,
time and trouble for nothing;
and I for one would not ask him
to. I mention this to remind
some of the tax to go.

I was told yesterday, it was said that I went before the Fiscal Court last year and advised
rock roads under the State Aid
ready heavily involved. To ap-
either put the county deeper in
they were entitled to on their road.

Did I do right, or did I do wrong?
panacea for all our ills and aches.
I think it is as bad business policy for a county to be heels over
cent of its revenue out in interest,
have paid more or less interest.
no longer hampered by it.

forcefully advocated by Prof.
Christian and others.

High School a County College?
