ALLIES WON MOST GROUND

Their Conquest of German Colonies Exceeds Conquest of German Armies

London, July 11th—(Telegram service—First official report issued by the War Department, expressing surprise at the unexpected speed with which the Allied forces have advanced towards the German borders.)

The German forces have been pushed back in all directions, with the loss of thousands of lives. The Allied troops have captured several important cities and ports, including Berlin and Hamburg.

The victory is a significant achievement, as it marks the first time in history that an Allied army has crossed the border of an enemy country without encountering significant resistance.

NATIONAL GUARD OR MILITIA AN INTEGRAL PART OF ARMY

New Laws Have Increased its Military Effectiveness and Prepared It for War.

T he Maine Constitutional Interim Commission, at its recent meeting in Portland, has received a long and well-detailed report from the Citizens’ Commission on National Defense, in which the report is summed up as follows: 'The National Guard and the militia are the only military organizations now in the country that are likely to be put into actual service if a war comes. The Guard is well trained and equipped, and the militia is rapidly improving. The report is internationally recognized and is considered as a model for other states to follow. The National Guard is a vital part of our national defense system and must be given the support and resources necessary to maintain its effectiveness.'

The report goes on to say that the National Guard is the only military force in the United States that is not subject to federal control and is therefore free to act independently in case of an emergency. It also states that the Guard is the only force that can be immediately mobilized in case of war and that it is the only force that can be effectively used in a war of limited duration.

The report also makes the point that the National Guard is the only force that can be effectively used in a war of limited duration. It is the only force that can be effectively used in a war of limited duration.
