HURRAH! RINGLING DAY ALMOST HERE

Big Circus And Great Spectacle
Occupy Five Trains Crammed
With Wonders.

The big event for which the youngsters and grownups have been impatiently waiting is drawing near, for on Thursday Sept. 28, Ringling Brothers' circus is to exhibit afternoon and night in Paducah. Expectancy never ran so high before and it is likely that this district will send a large delegation to feed the elephants, unusual interest centers around the gigantic spectacle, "Cinderella," with which the famous showmen are this season opening their wonderful main tent program. "Cinderella" is probably the best loved of all fairy tales and to see it produced with more than 1000 persons, hundreds of dancing girls and glorious pageants, indeed gives promise of making "childhood's golden dreams come true." In the same great tent, will come the marvelous circus numbers in which 400 men and women performers, scores of trained animals and a galaxy of special features are introduced. The majority of the acts are entirely new to America, the Ringling Bros. have secured the pick of those European performers who have been obliged to seek engagements in this country because of the war. The all new street parade will take place show day morning.

NOTICE.

I have changed offices and located permanently, I hope, next to Marion Bank, where Cook & Huffman in the pressing business, were. We both—owing to a big increase in business—needed more room. They are also nearer the basement, where you wait while your clothes are being pressed. The blind boy is right there ready to take them and bring them back in just a few minutes, looking a new suit. So come right along we're all here on the ground floor. Come right in and get your glasses, the best on earth for the least money they were ever fit up for. Every pair guaranteed by the largest optical house in the United States.

Then walk right in McConnell & Wiggins' barbershop, get a hair-cut and shave by regular New York barbers.

Right through the door and get your clothes made new.

Through another door into the Record-Press office and get the Record-Press, the best and newest paper published in the world and get any kind of advertising you want, and see the editor one of the pleasantest men on earth; and it is worth a dozen trips to see those good-looking devils setting up type. There is Bob, Seldon and Slim that look so good they do not seem to have done anything but go to Sunday School.

So come right in and let us do your work and go home happy.

Yours for business,
GEO. W. STONE,
Optometrist.

To Whom It May Concern.

Bring your lame and afflicted horses to me. If I don't relieve them and give satisfaction, it will not cost you any thing.

JAPAN'S DEMAND MAY AFFECT U. S.

State Department Will Take Necessary Steps.

Washington, Sept. 12. Japan's demand upon China for the employment of Japanese military advisers in large Chinese centers in south Manchuria and inter Mongolia and Japanese military instructors in Chinese military schools and colleges is viewed by officials here as a part of the new Japanese policy which may threaten America's policies of an open door and the maintenance of Chinese integrity. The state department will await the necessary information upon which to determine its course, but the opinion seems to be gaining ground that Japan's demands may seriously affect this country.

U. S. May Ship Entire Towns Federal Experts Are Optimistic.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—When Europe stops fighting and starts to rebuild towns for her people to live in, it expects the United States to go to its aid. Already plans are being made to buy not only raw lumber but knocked down houses, which will be shipped across the ocean and set up not singly, but by the village.

The initial step, by which the United States government for the first time takes active part with American industry to go out and get trade, to become a traveling salesman and procure orders, was taken in Chicago, when Dr. E. E. Pratt from Washington chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce, met representatives of the federal trade commission and twenty lumber companies to outline a campaign for selling American lumber to Europe.

Heretofore the government, through consular reports on business and trade conditions in foreign countries, has indirectly aided American manufacturers, but in this case the government has provided for a committee which will go to Europe about November 1 to investigate conditions further and begin the campaign with the foreign buyers. R. H. Dowman of New Orleans, president of the National Lumber Manufacturers' association, was chosen as the head of the committee.

Reports read show that all Europe is practically denuded of trees. In Belgium the forests are entirely destroyed, and the nation is so physically wrecked that the rebuilding will have to be financed by the major powers.

The plan of rebuilding France as outlined by the French governmental authorities, he said is to have the towns and villages on the community basis, with model farms on the American plan. It is planned to order knocked down houses which can be set up rapidly and in wholesale quantities. The French government has already offered to buy enormous quantities of railroad timber on twelve months' interest bearing notes.

The lumbermen said that the shipment of large quantities of lumber would relieve serious competition here.

Those at the conference were H. S. Graves, head of the United States forest service, and W. H. Parry and Joseph E. Davies of the federal trade commission, together with representatives of the National Manufacturers' association and the Southern Pine, the California Rosewood, the West Coast, the Northern Pine, the Northern Hemlock, and the Hardwood and Gum Lumber association.

IF YOU ARE TAKING A TONIC BE SURE IT IS A GOOD ONE; MUST INFLUENCE ENTIRE BODY

The welfare of mankind demands that they should be supplied with nourishment and this can only be done through perfect digestion. It is not how much we eat, but how much is digested that counts.

When digestion is bad the entire system suffers. Getting back to healthy condition of mind and body can only be had in many cases by the tonic treatment.

If a tonic treatment is selected, it must be a tonic which has a good influence on the entire digestive tract. Many tonics stimulate digestion, but do not affect the intestinal tract, or that portion of the body through which the food passes after it leaves the stomach. About three-fourths of the digestion takes place after the food leaves the stomach, therefore, the value of Tanlac, as a tonic, can be plainly seen when it is known that this preparation is designed to relieve the entire intestinal tract, as well as the kidneys and liver. By stimulating these organs to activity it relieves constipation, a low skin, black heads and "tired feelings," which usually comes from a disordered condition of these organs.

Tanlac is valuable as a stomach and intestinal tonic. It relieves misery after eating, indigestion, dyspepsia, gas and bloating. It supplies food for the nerves and promotes healthy sleep.

Tanlac is being specially introduced in Marion at Jas. H. Orme's drug store.

To Whom It May Concern.

Miss Evelyn Clement attended the Bowling Green business University several months during the winter and spring of this year and it was my pleasure to have her in some of my classes.

She was easily one of the most capable of my students efficient both in the technical and general education. There is no question about her thorough knowledge of the principles of Gregg shorthand. She makes excellent forms, knows every detail of the technique of shorthand and of Typewriting, and has energy and personality enough to teach these subjects effectively.

Respectively,
J. L. HARMAN.
Vice Pres.

Miss Clement will start a shorthand and typewriting school in this city and all interested in this work should see her at once.

General Basil W. Duke Has Foot Amputated a Half Century Later.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 12.—Word was received here today that Gen. Basil W. Duke, one of the few surviving brigadier generals of the Confederate army has submitted to an operation for the removal of his right foot made necessary by an infection General Duke, who is president of the Morgan Men's Association, will be unable to attend the annual reunion to be held at Olympian Springs September 2. WHAT MANY KENTUCKY FOLKS SAY.

Louisville, Ky.—"When I lived at Hardyville, Ky., I had rheumatism, constipation, took cold easily and blood was thin. I was 'down and out' so I could not do any work. I bought one bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and was pleased that it overcame my rheumatism, gave me an appetite, acted as a laxative, and made me a new man. I give all the credit to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as I took no other medicine at the time."—MR. W. A. HARTMAN, 2025 4th Ave.

A HUMAN MATCH FACTORY.

The body contains phosphorus sufficient to make 483,000 matches. Phosphorus is one of fourteen elements composing the body—divided among bones, flesh, nervous system and other organs. The perfect health of the body requires a perfect balance of the elements. These elements come from the food we eat—the stomach extracts and distributes them.

But if stomach is deranged—the balance of health is destroyed and the blood does not carry the proper elements to the different organs, and there is blood trouble—nerve trouble—rheumatism—gout—heart trouble. Pain is the hungry cry of starved organs. Put the liver, stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of health. That is just what is done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so favorably known for nearly 50 years. It is now put up in tablet form, as well as liquid, and can be obtained of medicine dealers everywhere or by mail by sending 50 cents in 10 stamps for trial box—address Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up nearly 50 years ago. They regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy.

Palm Beeches Pajamas And Mixed In Iowa

Ye scribe nearly laughed his head off last Sunday when he made a visit to Alton and saw what most of the boys were wearing. It seems that by mistake a big wholesale house in Des Moines sent Cyrus Rand, who runs the Alton general store, a lot of pajamas that he didn't order. Cyrus thought they were these Palm Beach suits he had read about and they sold like hot cakes. More than twelve Alton boys had them on last Sunday. We tried to tell them they were to sleep in, but they called us a fool and said nobody ever slept in coat and pants. — Denby III Republican.

And Pains of Marion People.

As one weak link weakens a chain, so may weak kidneys weaken the whole body and hasten the final breaking down. Overwork, strains, colds and other causes injure the kidneys, and generally when their activity is lessened the whole body suffers. Aches and pains and larger and more serious troubles frequently come, and there is often ever increasing tendency toward droopy, feeble, fatal Bright's disease. When the kidneys fail there is no real help for the sufferer except kidney help. Doan's Kidney Pills act directly on the kidneys. No need to take the statement of some living doctor as evidence. Here is a case right in the locality. Mrs. Ernest Arnold, 612 W. Frank Ave., Nashville, Ky., says: "The pains across the small of my back are my only ones. I read about the Doan's Kidney Pills, were doing, and got a box. They quickly cured me and I have had no need of a kidney medicine since." Price 50 cents, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that cured Mrs. Arnold. Foster-McBee Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Hay Fever Ordinance.
Hay fever is not regarded in the light of a joke at New Orleans. In fact what New Orleans has done to promote respect and sympathy for victims of hay fever is not to be sneezed at humorously. Hay fever in New Orleans is rated as a serious affliction so much so that the city council has adopted an ordinance which gives much satisfaction to every sufferer from sneezes. It ordains that no one shall permit "weeds or grass over two feet in height to grow or stand" on premises under his control. It is the first hay fever ordinance ever enacted by a municipality and was enacted at the request of the American Hay Fever Prevention Association. — New Orleans Courier.

Teuton Supply Of Grain Is Cut Off.

Petrograd Says Rumanian Entry Is Event Of Far Reaching Importance to Allies.

Petrograd, Sept. 5.—Rumania's declaration of war is regarded in official circles as of far reaching importance. The foreign office has set out three striking benefits and a fourth of the substantial Rumanian army, which pointed against Austria, will lessen Russia's task and will afford a later freedom of action on the left wing of the war. From the tightening of the ring around the central empires and the opening of a new line of attack; the cutting off of grain supplies to the Austro-Germans, upon which the latter are believed to have placed great reliance.

Recent dispatches from Bucharest indicated that the sale of the entire Rumanian crop had virtually been arranged for and that shipping of the grain had already begun.

Wont Invite Hughes To Missouri Again.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 5.—Because of his raucous reception here, coupled with his stand on woman suffrage, Charles Evans Hughes, republican candidate for president, will not be asked to make any more speeches in Missouri during the present campaign, if the wishes of the state leaders of the party are respected. This determination of the G. O. P. managers will not take the form of resolutions duly moved and adopted, but it is positively unchangeable. Between pumping enthusiasm into a Hughes meeting and getting along without further assistance from the presidential nominee, they have unanimously chosen the latter alternative. It had been the intention of the republican state committee to request a second visit to Missouri of the former justice. But not now.

RICH WOMAN FOUND DYING IN POVERTY

Owned $100,000 Worth of Real Estate and Had $5,000 in House.

Philadelphia.—Mrs. Elizabeth Foster, seventy-five years old, widow of a former street railway manager, and owner of more than $100,000 worth of real estate, and having more than $5,000 in cash secreted in the house, was discovered unconscious by neighbors in the kitchen of her home in North Tenth street. There was no food in the pantry and no coal in the cellar.

The woman was taken to the Episcopal hospital, where she succumbed several hours later. Death was attributed to uremic poisoning.

The woman led the life of a recluse and was regarded as eccentric by neighbors. Her street attire was spoken of as shabby.

Passers-by the other morning were attracted by lights in daytime in the vestibule of the Foster house. Neighbors summoned a fireman, who broke open the front door. The woman was found lying on the kitchen floor. The police were notified and she was taken to the hospital, where she died.

Mrs. Foster's husband, Albert P. Foster, died about four years ago. He was a G. A. R. veteran and was manager and stockholder of the old Fourth & Eighth Street railway until its consolidation with the Union Traction company.

His brother was Horatio B. Foster. They married sisters about fifty years ago. Mrs. Elizabeth Foster is said to have attained prominence as a landscape painter when a young girl. Her maiden name was Elizabeth Hartman.

IS HAPPY WITH TWO WIVES Ohio Farmer Charged With Bigamy Found Living Peacefully With Two Women.

Akron, O.—It is possible to live with two wives under the same roof and be happy, at least so says Jess E. Farewell, aged twenty-eight, a Springfield farmer, who was arrested there lately on a charge of bigamy. County officials also said Farewell was living peacefully with his two wives.

The charge on which Farewell was locked up sets forth that six years ago in Canada he married Miss Clara Akey of Philadelphia, and last November married Miss Irene Bennett, twenty years old, daughter of a farmer of this vicinity. His first wife is the mother of three children and the second wife is expecting the stork.

"Everything was running smoothly and my wives were getting along fine together. I can't understand how this trouble was stirred up," Farewell said. The action of the authorities followed a visit to the Farewell home a few days ago of the mothers of the two wives who did not approve of his domestic arrangements.

REFUSES TO BE TELLTALE Bryn Mawr Student Resigns as Self-Government Officer and Raises Question of Ethics.

Philadelphia.—Bryn Mawr college is now all stirred up over the ethics of the following situation:

Ruth Cheney, a sophomore, treasurer of the Self-government association of the college, learned of several infractions of the self-government rules of the association. As an officer of the association she was bound to report the infractions; as an individual she felt it was dishonorable of her to report another. So she finally cut the Gordian knot by resigning as treasurer.

The association went to her aid by adopting a resolution that none but officers of the association are in honor bound to tell of infractions, so now Miss Cheney, no longer an officer, can keep her secret if she is constitutionally able.

WHEAT PIT FRANTIC AT BALKAN NEWS

Prospect of Opening Dardanelles In Near Future Knocks Bottom Out of Market.

Chicago, Sept. 12.—Abrupt widening of the European war zone today set wheat values tumbling almost as if the market had no bottom. The extreme fall in prices was 11 1-4 cents, an amount virtually a parallel to the extraordinary rise witnessed two years ago on the day that hostilities began. Transactions today as then, were on a large scale, measured in millions of bushels.

It was the view that the end of the war had perhaps been greatly hastened which in the main brought about today's big drop in quotations.

Rumania's declaration of war was generally coupled with the prospect that Italy was about to participate actively with the new recruits in a fresh effort to force the Dardanelles. Word late in the session that actual fighting already had begun on the Rumanian frontier set the wheat pit here nearly frantic and was followed by a wild close at the lowest prices of the day.

WHY WOMEN WRITE LETTERS

To Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co.

Women who are well often ask "Are the letters which the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. are continually publishing, genuine?" "Are they truthful?" "Why do women write such letters?"

In answer we say that never have we published a fictitious letter or name. Never, knowingly, have we published an untruthful letter, or one without the full and written consent of the woman who wrote it.

The reason that thousands of women from all parts of the country write such grateful letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. is that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into their lives, once burdened with pain and suffering.

It has relieved women from some of the worst forms of female ills, from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, nervousness, weakness, stomach troubles and from the blues.

It is impossible for any woman who is well and who has never suffered to realize how these poor, suffering women feel when restored to health; their keen desire to help other women who are suffering as they did.

Keeping Yourself Well

DRIVING OUT CATARRH

If people knew how the presence of catarrh is a constant menace, they would have none of it. It infests some part of the delicately adjusted body and makes it useless, thus throwing on the other organs more than their share of work. It affords a carefully prepared seed-bed for the germs of colds, grip, tuberculosis and pneumonia. It so disarranges Nature's delicate plans as to make possible asthma, hay fever and other respiratory disorders. It spreads until it becomes systemic, thus involving many organs and debilitating the entire system with serious results.

Catarrh is easily neglected, and it rarely gets well of itself. It needs proper medicinal correction. For almost half a century many thousands have found help in Peruna, a valuable tonic with special efficacy in catarrhal conditions. The aim is to clean out waste matter, to dispel the catarrhal inflammation, and tone up the whole system. Its users willingly testify that it has done all this and even more for catarrhal sufferers. What it has done is the best proof of what it will do. You may rely on Peruna.

In tablet form it is pleasant to take and easy to administer.

Thoroughly tested and APPROVED by the Council of the American Home.

Hughes Declines To Attend Labor Day Celebration.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 12.—Charles E. Hughes to-day declined to attend the Labor day celebration here, as arranged for by a local committee. When he was advised that no formal invitation had been extended him by labor leaders and that he would not be permitted to speak except on non-political subjects, Mr. Hughes also declined to view the Tennessee National Guard, saying that he had no right to do so.

No formal invitation had been extended Mr. Hughes by local labor unions in charge of the Labor day celebration, but the committee in charge of the nominee's programme advised him that it "would be all right" for him to attend. Announcement had been made by this committee that Mr. Hughes would be present.

When Charles W. Farmham, manager of the Hughes' tour, conferred today with the local Hughes' Committee he was told that Gov. Rye, of Tennessee, Democrat, and other speakers would address the meeting. Mr. Farmham was told that some of the speakers probably would endorse the enactment of the Adamson bill. He replied that Mr. Hughes would attend the celebration if he would be permitted to speak.

The committee advised him that labor leaders in charge of the programme had decided that Mr. Hughes would not be permitted to talk on subjects of a political nature.

PUT OUT THE FIRE FIRST.

The people who censure Congress for hastily adopting emergency legislation to prevent a railroad strike are either fools or they want a strike.

If Congress failed to rush this legislation through and a strike followed, these same people before Tuesday night would be imploring Congress and the President and all the agencies of Government to settle the strike at once and on any terms.

The most hysterical shouters for a settlement would be the members of chambers of commerce and manufacturers' associations who so smugly deplore the "surrender" of the United States Government to the pernicious demands of trades unionism. The minute their peck-t nerve was touched by the tie-up of traffic, there would not be enough ears in the country to respond to their screams.

These self-appointed critics of the President and Congress have caught the spirit of bluff from the railroads and the unions, and think they ought to make a voluntary contribution of their own to the national store of hypocrisy and false pretenses. They are all very brave and resolute until the strike comes. Then they would be the first to run to cover.

The immediate business of Congress in the matter of legislation dealing with this railroad situation is to pass the bills that will give public guarantees that no strike will take place. The next is to prepare with due care and caution a code of legislation that will safeguard the country in the future. Congress is dealing with a condition, not a theory. The first duty of a doctor in an emergency case is to save the patient's life, not to prescribe a system of moral and economic conduct for him in the event that he survives.

There is no reason why Congress should concern itself at this time with the wailings of the railroad Presidents against the Eight-Hour Bill. The railroad Presidents help to create this situation. They still want a strike. They would be glad to see every facility of transportation paralyzed if they thought it would wreck the unions. They have no more regard for the rights of the American people in this crisis than the brotherhood leaders have shown, and no tears need be shed over them because Congress is jamming an experimental eight-hour law down their throats. Any injustice that is done to their stockholders is sure to be remedied.

Congress in this matter is on the side of the public, and that is where Congress ought to be. The advocates of delay are the advocates of a strike and of national disaster.

It is silly to charge Congress with surrendering to the unions. The unions had a legal right to strike when the strike was ordered. There is not a line on any statute book which prevents their striking, nor could any law be enacted before Monday which would compel them to work. Whatever their moral guilt may be, they are within the law when they do the thing that they threatened to do. Therefore, it is the duty of Congress to take such practicable means as may be adopted at once to remove the excuse for a strike. Whatever further adjustments are necessary can be left for the future. That is the commonsense method, and Congress is displaying far more intelligence and patriotism than its critics.

The rights and wrongs of this controversy are yet to be determined so far as they affect the railroads and their employees. But the rights and wrongs of a railroad strike so far as they affect the public are obvious and incontestable. A philosophic fire department might plausibly contend that its chief duty was not to extinguish the flames, but to frame a fireproof building code and strengthen the laws against arson. That would no doubt be an admirable public service, but in the mean time the building would burn down, the fire would communicate itself to other buildings and a whole community would be left homeless.

We prefer the Congressional way of putting out the fire first, and determining later whether it was of incendiary origin or due to defective wiring, and whether the owner can legally collect his insurance. —New York World, of September 2nd

Bainbridge Colby, of New York, who placed Theodore Roosevelt in nomination in the Progressive Convention at Chicago, has written a letter to Vance C. McCormick, chairman of the Democratic National Campaign Committee, telling why he and other members of the Bull Moose party will support President Wilson for re-election. Whereas he has vigorously opposed Mr. Hughes in a number of public utterances, it is Mr. Colby's first announcement that he is for Mr. Wilson. He says: "Your suggestion that there is ample foundation for effective and agreeable co-operation between the Progressives and the Democratic party, in the re-election of the President, is true beyond all question, and I accept your invitation looking to such co-operation, unhesitatingly and with pleasure."

"The achievements of the Democratic party, under the leadership of Woodrow Wilson, in the field of progressive legislation, constitutes much more than an appeal for support. The record of the President is a veritable claim for such support, upon all sincere Progressives, which the latter cannot consistently ignore or deny."

"Particularly is this true, as the opposition to the President's re-election proceeds from an unregenerate Republicanism, that has weathered the danger of reform, reabsorbed its most vociferous critic, and abandoned it as if again to rancid reaction."

"There they all are—the Old Guard. See for yourself. Count them if you wish. Cannon and Penrose, Snoot and Gallinger, Jim Watson, Joe Kealing, Estabrook, Rodenbreg, McKinley, of Illinois; Hert, McGraw, Hemenway, Crane—not to speak of the others, too numerous to mention—all 'friends of the tariff' and among 'those fit to govern.'"

"What business a Progressive has in such company as this I cannot for the life of me see. They are the pickets and the monitors of privilege. Hughes is only their decoy and retriever. If he were elected they would rope him and tie him, as they did when he was governor in Albany, reducing him to plaintive futility."

"There are, of course, reactionary elements in the Democratic party. Until lately we had them even in the Progressive party. But these elements in the Democratic party are at the worst only a retardation and drag upon the steady forward push which the President has maintained. In the Republican party the reactionaries are in the ascendant. They dominate the party, giving to it their character and features. It is the party of reaction, and the Progressives who have allied themselves with it are the most unfortunate of dupes.

"I am rejoiced to know, and to be able to assure you, that the President will receive an immense support from the members of my party. They recognize the simple courage, the rugged fortitude and the quiet strength which have enabled him to guide his countrymen in peace and honor through the dangers of the last two years. They admire him. They are grateful to him. And, as Americans, they are impatient to manifest their loyalty to him."

OLLIE'S NOTIFICATION SPEECH.

Last week we published the President's speech accepting the nomination. Altho a little late we now publish that "literary gem" Senator Ollie M. James' speech of notification. Our people all want to read what Ollie said to Woodrow.

Mr. President: The Democracy of the Republic, assembled in national convention at St. Louis, Mo., June 14, 1916, was genuinely representative of the true spirit of America—its ideals of justice and of patriotism.

These representatives of the purest democracy in the world, after three and a half years of trial of your service to the people of the country, with a nation to choose from to fill the greatest office in the world, instinctively and enthusiastically turned to you. By this they not only registered their own will and desire, but also the will and wish of the people back home, whose trusted and honored spokesmen they were. With an enthusiasm, unanimity and earnestness never surpassed in the political life of America, they have summoned you again to lead the hosts of peace, prosperity and American righteousness.

CALL FOR MORE SERVICE.

They do not make this call upon you for the purpose of honoring you, for you have already had bestowed upon you by your countrymen the greatest honor within their gift. They call you for service to America and mankind; a service you have so amply proved to be of the highest type known to just Governments among men; a service that has restored taxation to its historic and constitutional function; a service that has freed trade to individual and honest endeavor; a service that has lifted from the tables and burdens of taxation which they have unjustly borne for more than half a century and placed it upon the wealth and fortunes of the land; a service that has driven monopoly from its rendezvous of taxation, a service that has denied the trusts of Republican creation a hiding place in our economic life; a service to the toilers of America that lifted them from the despised level of a commodity to the high plane of a human unit in our industrial life; a service that has dignified them—the great army of workers of the field, factory and mine; a service that opened the courts to all men upon equal terms of justice and constitutional liberty; a service that freed the money of a nation from the control of a "money oligarchy" and lodged it in the hands of the Government; a service that at once destroyed two trusts, a Money Trust and a Panic Trust, where the business cannot be oppressed or destroyed by manipulation of the money market, nor legislation controlled, intimidated or suppressed by the Panic Trust. These two trusts that your service and matchless leadership destroyed live only in memory, as contemporary with the maddening rule of the boss-ridden and monopoly-controlled stand-pat Republican party.

It is a service which has prepared the nation for its defense; a service of fair and equal treatment to all men by destroying a subsidy fed to an American monopoly; a service to the farmers of our country who yearn for a home and freedom to call their own by enacting into law a Federal rural credits system that makes credit and home building easy to the tillers of the soil; a service that in the stormiest hours of America's life and the bloodiest days of the life of the world, you have kept our people at peace with all the earth; a service that has kept homes happy, family circles unbroken, while the Old World staggers beneath its weight of sorrow, mourning and death; a service whose victories for the freedom of the seas, the rights of neutral life, the protection of the American citizens and American rights stand resplendent in the world's international law and in the earth's diplomacy.

This great triumph which you achieved for America and the world gave protection to noncombatants and neutrals that war-mad countries must respect, and this diplomatic achievement will be the guiding protecting precedent to millions of lives of the innocent and unoffending long after you are gone. This triumph of yours will not be told in history by a great war debt, a mammoth pension roll, vacant chairs at unhappy friendships and Decoration day services to place flowers upon the tombs of those who achieved it, but it will be told as the victory of matchless diplomacy and of irresistible logic, presenting in an unequalled manner the everlasting principle of justice.

Under your unrivaled and fearless leadership you have rescued the little children of America—the future fathers and mothers of our race—from the grinding slavery of the sweatshop and the factory. No dividends or fortunes in the future will bear the stain of their toil and tears; their youthful days will be spent in the fresh air of growing life and in the schoolrooms of the land, where they will be properly prepared in strength and mind to become the future citizens of a great, humane and free republic.

COUNTRY PROSPEROUS

You beheld your country after three and a half years of your administration more prosperous than ever in its history. The earnings of the laborers of America exceed by $3,000,000,000 their earnings under four years of the administration of your predecessor; the savings of the people deposited in the banks of our country amount to $6,000,000,000 more than was deposited under the four years of the administration of Mr. Taft.

Our reports for the first time in our history lead the world; our farmers are more prosperous than ever; individual endeavor is no longer denied its reward. The increase in the business of the commercial world is so great that it almost staggers the mind to contemplate it, notwithstanding a world's war has called for legislation to stay the process of the courts in debt collections in all the neutral countries of the world except here, where plenty blesses and prospers our people. Your beloved country marches forward to a prosperity never dreamed of. Your opponents are unwillingly forced to admit this happy condition of our people, which they say is not permanent, but they shall be no more regarded as prophets now than they were when they said it would not come.

Four years ago in accepting the nomination of the Democratic party for the presidency, you stated that you would seek advice and counsel wherever you could obtain it upon free terms; this you have done. You uncovered and drove a mighty lobby out of the Capitol and invited Americans of all stations to come and counsel with you. The laborer with his grimy hand, the farmer with the tan of the blazing sun upon his face, the railroad men who hold the throttle, swing the lantern and direct the rolling wheels of commerce, the toiler from the damp and darkness of mine, from the shop, the mill and the factory; the business men from their offices, the clerk from the counter, the banker, the artisan, the lawyer and the doctor, have come and found welcome and shared counsel with you. They knew you were free to serve, that you were unboasted, unowned and unafraid. They knew you only sought the truth, and when you found it you were ready to challenge all of its adversaries to any conflict.

WILL LIVE IN HISTORY.

When peace shall spread her white wings over a charred and bloody world, in the quiet of the chamber of the just historian, when the din and roar of political antagonism shall have ceased, when the prejudice and passion of partisanship shall have died away, when principle shall actuate men and parties rather than appetite, when ambition shall no longer lure men and parties to unjust attack the historian will accord to you and your administration a foremost place in the republic's life.

Americans are not ungrateful; the people are not unpatriotic; they recognize the thousands of difficulties that no man could foresee which you have encountered and mastered. Their verdict is already written; it has been agreed upon at the freshest of the land and has been molded in the school houses, the places of worship, and wherever Americans meet to talk over the affairs and good of their country. That verdict leaps forth from almost every American heart in unquenching gratitude to you for the service you have rendered, for the peace, prosperity and happiness your leadership has given, and I but voice this day the overwhelming wish of Americans everywhere for your triumphant re-election.

This great convention which nominated you was neither controlled nor intimidated by any un-American or foreign influence. It had the heart beat and spoke the true sentiment of our country.

A committee composed of the permanent chairman of the convention and one delegate from each State and Territory was appointed to inform you of your selection as the nominee of the Democratic party for President of the United States and to request you to accept it, and the convention did me the honor to make me the chairman of this committee, charged with such a heavy mission.

Therefore, in compliance with the command of that convention, the committee performs that pleasant duty, and, as the appointed agent of that great National Democratic Convention, I hand you this formal letter of notification, signed by the members of the committee, accompanied by a copy of the platform adopted by the convention and upon that platform I have the honor to request your acceptance of the tendered nomination. And, on behalf of the Democrats of the whole Republic, who are proud of your great administration, we pledge you, their enthusiastic and united support, and our prayer is that God, who blessed the peace-maker, may guide you to a glorious victory in November.

Owens Oldest Bell.

The following interesting item is taken from the Boone Terre Register:

"The Rev. Father M. T. Sevek claims to have the oldest bell in the United States. He bought it recently in St. Louis and is now having a frame cast at the local foundry. It was cast in 1711 in Spain and sent to Cuba. During the Spanish-American War an American soldier got hold of the bell and sent it to this country. On top of the bell is an inscription in Latin, St. Paul, pray for us, and on other side is an inscription saying that it is for Jerome 111 of Cuba. Until this bell was sent to the United States the old bell at Kaskaskia, across the river from Ste. Genevieve, was supposed to be the oldest bell in the country. It was cast in 1736, but this bell is 25 years older. It weighs about 90 pounds and contains an unusual amount of silver, giving it a very beautiful tone.

RINGLING BROS.

COMING THIS WAY

World's Greatest Circus and Spectacle "Cinderella" Announced For Early Date.

Announcement is made that on Thursday, Sept. 28th, Ringling Bros., circus will give afternoon and night performance at Paducah.

The famous showmen are this season presenting an all new and wonderful program. The tremendous fairyland spectacle, "Cinderella," will appeal to both young and old. More than 1000 persons take part in it. It is easily the biggest spectacle Ringling Bros. have ever staged and its glorious "Ballet of the Fairies," with 300 dancing girls, is in itself worth going many miles to see. Following "Cinderella" 400 arenic artists appear in the main tent program. Because of the great European war the Ringlings have secured scores of circus performers never before seen in America. An entire trained animal show has been made a part of the main tent program this season. The menagerie now numbers 1009 wild animals. The elephants, including "Big Bingo," the earth's largest pachyderm, have been increased to 41 and almost 900 horses are carried. There will be 60 clowns and a big free three-mile street parade show day morning.

Letter Norris City, Ill.

Norris City, Ill., Sept. 8, 1916.

Mr. S. M. Jenkins,
Marion, Ky.

Dear Sir:

In separate wrapper I send you a marked copy of the Norris City Record, giving notice of my class in the Sunday school here.

I am an old Crittenden county boy. Having retired from the pastoral work, I have for the past three years been engaged in the Sunday school work. In this time I have built up this class, which numbers now 115.

I have many friends among your subscribers to whom I send christian greetings and good fellowship.

Wishing you success, I am yours fraternally.—J. L. HUGHEY.

The Helpers' Class.

Rev. J. L. Hughey's class in the Presbyterian Sunday school, known as "The Helpers' Class," and consisting of over one hundred members, received a very nice and deserving mention in the Westminster Adult Bible Class, a monthly magazine issued by the official board of that church. A halftone picture of the class as arranged just outside of the church, with Rev. Hughey in the center, appears and a brief writeup is given. We quote the item below:

"In the Presbyterian church of Norris City, Illinois, of which Rev. J. L. Hughey is teacher, there is a strong men's Bible class called 'The Helpers,' which has grown until, when the photograph was made of which the reproduction appears on this page, there were one hundred and four members. The live Sunday school at Norris City has an orchestra of twelve members, as well as a choir of thirty."

Rev. Hughey is well known to many of our people and has been a subscriber to this paper many years.

PURPLE MARTIN (Progne subis)

Length, about eight inches.
Range: Breeds throughout the United States and southern Canada, south to central Mexico; winters in South America.

Habits and economic status: This is the largest as it is one of the most beautiful of the swallow tribe. It formerly built its nests in cavities of trees, as it still does in wild districts, but learning that man was a friend it soon adopted domestic habits. Its presence about the farm can often be secured by erecting houses suitable for nesting sites and protecting them from usurpation by the English sparrow, and every effort should be made to increase the number of colonies of this very useful bird. The boxes should be at a reasonable height, say 15 feet from the ground, and made inaccessible to cats. A colony of these birds on a farm makes great inroads upon the insect population, as the birds not only themselves feed upon insects but rear their young upon the same diet. Fifty years ago in New England it was not uncommon to see colonies of 50 pairs of martins, but most of them have now vanished for no apparent reason except that the martin houses have decayed and have not been renewed. More than three-fourths of this bird's food consists of wasps, bugs, and beetles, their importance being in the order given. The beetles include several species of harmful weevils, as the clover-leaf weevils and the nut weevils. Besides these are many crane flies, moths, May flies, and dragon flies.

SLEUTHS NABBED AS BUNCO MEN

New York Inspector and Assistant Arrested While on Vacation.

BROUGHT BEFORE CHIEF

Produce Credentials and Chief, Pop-Eyed, Apologizes and Leads to Nearest Swinging Doors—Captors Take to Woods.

Jacksonville, Fla.—"There's too many confidence men about our fair city," quoth Chief of Police F. C. Roach to his detective force. "I don't care as long as they confine their infernal machinations to the Yankees who infest us, but some of our best families have been beguiled. They must be arrested."

Having delivered his ukase, he nodded to his detective force, which immediately went out and arrested Inspector Joseph A. Faurot and Sergeant William Haley of the New York detective bureau. Setting a cop to catch a cop cost Chief Roach unnumbered apologies and countless bottles of wine.

"There's some mistake," Faurot gasped when his collar was grasped in accepted movie style. "I am inspector Faurot of the New York police. This gentleman—"

Looked Real Desperate. "Is Napoleon Bonaparte," the wily southern sleuth interrupted. "You-all are confidence men. We've been trailing you. You're that feller Wallingford. I've seen his picture in our Rogues' gallery. This guy is your comen. It ain't a bit of use to argue—you can tell your troubles to the chief."

Neither of the New York men tried further, but suffered themselves to be led ignominiously to where Chief Roach sat in state.

"We spotted these fellows as soon as they stepped off the New York boat," their captors chorused proudly. "They've been hangin' around the exclusive hotels, looking for gullible southerners. Lock 'em up, chief. They're real despritt."

Roach surveyed the culprits. He frowned upon Faurot's heavy black mustache and his faultless attire. He snarled at Haley's expression of simple innocence.

"A bunco-steerer and his comen," he pronounced. "Lock them up. Our homes must be protected."

Then the Chief bought. Then the bunco steerer produced from his vest a gold police badge and laid it on the desk before the chief. His comen fished out a similar but less ornate trinket, which he also displayed before Roach, who suddenly became pop-eyed.

The chief collared his captives and led them sadly toward the nearest pair of swinging doors.

"I have other credentials, chief," the inspector explained suavely. "If they are not sufficient, wire New York."

Before Chief Roach had recovered sufficiently to articulate both detectives had passed out into the night. Shortly thereafter they tripped over Mason-Dixon's line, heading in the general direction of Toronto.

Inspector Faurot recently obtained fifteen days' leave, without pay, on account of ill health. He started Sunday immediately, taking with him Sergeant Haley, a finger print expert on his staff.

Mistook Girl's Leg for Umbrella.

New York.—Frederick Hess was arrested upon complaint of Miss Beatrice Diennenhaus, who declared that young man entered a street car in which she was seated, edged his way through the crowd of passengers and pulled her leg twice. "It was only once your honor," Hess protested. "I looked like an umbrella with a silk covering and I reached down to pick it up." The magistrate found Hess guilty.

PURPLE MARTIN

(Progne subis)

Length, about eight inches.
Range: Breeds throughout the United States and southern Canada, south to central Mexico; winters in South America.

Habits and economic status: This is the largest as it is one of the most beautiful of the swallow tribe. It formerly built its nests in cavities of trees, as it still does in wild districts, but learning that man was a friend it soon adopted domestic habits. Its presence about the farm can often be secured by erecting houses suitable for nesting sites and protecting them from usurpation by the English sparrow, and every effort should be made to increase the number of colonies of this very useful bird. The boxes should be at a reasonable height, say 15 feet from the ground, and made inaccessible to cats. A colony of these birds on a farm makes great inroads upon the insect population, as the birds not only themselves feed upon insects but rear their young upon the same diet. Fifty years ago in New England it was not uncommon to see colonies of 50 pairs of martins, but most of them have now vanished for no apparent reason except that the martin houses have decayed and have not been renewed. More than three-fourths of this bird's food consists of wasps, bugs, and beetles, their importance being in the order given. The beetles include several species of harmful weevils, as the clover-leaf weevils and the nut weevils. Besides these are many crane flies, moths, May flies, and dragon flies.

SLEUTHS NABBED AS BUNCO MEN

New York Inspector and Assistant Arrested While on Vacation.

BROUGHT BEFORE CHIEF

Produce Credentials and Chief, Pop Eyed, Apologizes and Leads to Nearest Swinging Doors—Captors Take to Woods.

Jacksonville, Fla.—"There's too many confidence men about our fair city," quoth Chief of Police P. C. Roach to his detective force. "I don't care as long as they confine their internal machinations to the Yankees who infect us, but some of our best families have been beguiled. They must be arrested."

Having delivered his ukase, he nodded to his detective force, which immediately went out and arrested Inspector Joseph A. Faurot and Sergeant William Haley of the New York detective bureau. Setting a cop to catch a cop cost Chief Roach unnumbered apologies and countless bottles of wine.

"There's some mistake," Faurot gasped when his collar was grasped in accepted movie style. "I am Inspector Faurot of the New York police. This gentleman—"

Looked Real Desperate. "Is Napoleon Bonaparte," the wily southern sleuth interrupted. "You all are confidence men. We've been trailing you. You're that feller Wallingford. I've seen his picture in our Rogues' gallery. This guy is your comelon. It ain't a bit of use to argue—you can tell your troubles to the chief."

Neither of the New York men tried further, but suffered themselves to be led ignominiously to where Chief Roach sat in state.

"We spotted these fellows as soon as they stepped off the New York boat," their captors chorused proudly. "They've been hangin' around the exclusive hotels, looking for gullible southerners. Look 'em up, chief. They're real despair."

Roach surveyed the culprits. He frowned upon Faurot's heavy black mustache and his faultless attire. He snarled at Haley's expression of simple innocence.

"A bunco-steerer and his comelon," he pronounced. "Lock them up. Our homes must be protected."

Then the Chief Bought. Then the bunco steerer produced from his vest a gold police badge and laid it on the desk before the chief. His comelon fished out a similar but less ornate trinket, which he also displayed before Roach, who suddenly became pop-eyed.

The chief collared his captives and led them sadly toward the nearest pair of swinging doors.

"I have other credentials, chief," the inspector explained suavely. "If they are not sufficient, wire New York."

Before Chief Roach had recovered sufficiently to be articulate both detectives had passed out into the night. Shortly thereafter they tripped over Mason-Dixon's line, heading in the general direction of Toronto.

Inspector Faurot recently obtained fifteen days' leave, without pay, on account of ill health. He started South immediately, taking with him Sergeant Haley, a finger print expert on his staff.

Mistook Girl's Leg for Umbrella.

New York.—Frederick Hess was arrested upon complaint of Miss Beatrice Dienenhaus, who declared the young man entered a street car in which she was seated, edged his way through the crowd of passengers and pulled her leg twice. "It was only once your honor," Hess protested. "I looked like an umbrella with a silk covering and I reached down to pick it up." The magistrate found Hess guilty.

BLOODY PRINTS

BARE'S MURDER

Samuel Bedford, Missing Since February Slain By Bootleggers

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 12.—The print of a bloody hand on a pool room wall and bloody stains on a pool table at High Bridge have solved the mystery of the disappearance of Samuel W. Bedford, prominent insurance man who disappeared while on a trip to High Bridge, Feb. 18th.

Mr. Bedford was murdered because he was thought to be a United States marshal. His assailants are alleged bootleggers. His throat was cut from ear to ear and his body wrapped up in a bundle of old sacks and placed in a back room of the combination pool room and barber shop.

One of the men who saw the murder done has confessed. Another, a young boy said to be implicated in the murder was arrested at Heidelberg and brought to jail here.

Five men are alleged to be implicated in the crime one of these is the actual murderer, who is somewhere in Ohio. The others are Eli Benton of Nicholasville, under bond now on several charges of bootlegging; Richard Woods, now in the Nicholasville jail on a charge of housebreaking; George Norton, arrested yesterday at High Bridge charged with being an accessory after the fact; and Fritz Fein, who is now somewhere in eastern Kentucky.

The pool room where Bedford was murdered was owned by Richard and Eli Benton and the others accused are hangerson and alleged bootleggers. According to a statement which detectives credited to Fein, the murderer used a razor to cut his victims throat, and when the boy realized a time was being committed he left the place immediately, got aboard a log raft and started down the river.

FRANCE OUT OF RUINS

Country Preparing to Rebuild 3000 Destroyed Towns.

New York, Sept. 5.—France has made preparations for the reconstruction of the towns and villages of the northeast, almost 3,000 in number, destroyed or seriously damaged by the German invasion. The large French cities which were untouched by the war have undertaken to act as "godmother" to the stricken towns and communities. Lyons is ready to give maternal care to Lille, when that afflicted city shall have returned to the possession of France.

The famous Arts and Crafts college in Lille, obliterated from that city by the Germans, is being reorganized in Lyons, and at the favorable hour will be restored to Lille. Paris will be the godmother for a multitude of towns.

Several cities are bidding for the honor of having Verdun as a foster child, as the great fortress city, though not captured, is badly wrecked, and Marseilles may be successful in this regard. Arras may be allotted to untouched Dijon which has gathered in many refugees from that war wrecked city.

Meantime an exposition is being held at which time great building and contracting corporations of France have presented models of new towns and villages which they will undertake to erect in a given number of days for a fixed sum of francs and centimes. Where hasty construction is needed these quickly erected models will be selected upon in view of the varied conditions of the centres of population to be replaced. A certain quantity of the quick construction work probably will be needed even in towns only partly destroyed, as the refugees are anxious to return to the sites of their homes at the earliest possible moment. More permanent structures can later on be put up at leisure.

One of the touching sights described at the Paris "reconstructed city" exposition is the crowd of refugees from the invaded region who go there. Many of them shed tears at the thought that these new model structures are to take the place of the quaint, irregular buildings that have been associated with their ancestors for generations. Important consideration is given to the fact that immediately after the war there will be so much building to be done that labor will be exceedingly scarce and it will be necessary for the time being to content, in many places at least, with makeshift structures until sufficient numbers of workmen can be found to attend to the building of solid houses. The factories and the government works will make a severe demand on the available labor of the country. Arrangements are already being considered for importing large numbers of Italians and Spaniards to assist in the reconstruction work.

Many of these will follow the advance of the French on the Somme front, as it is the purpose of the government to restore conditions as rapidly as possible.

Portable three-room houses are shown at the exposition which can be erected by four men in six hours, and two-room houses which can be erected in three hours by the same number of men. One contracting company offers to construct a village composed of a communal hall a church, a postoffice a covered market, ten shelters, five 3,000 franc houses, ten 4,000 franc farms, a public dwelling house and dormitory for ten men and another for ten women, for 103,000 francs ($20,620). A similar village erected in better fashion and with superior material, will cost 195,000 francs.

Other companies undertake the installation of light and power, of water supply, of sewerage system, at moderate prices still other concerns will contract for the erection of hygienic establishment and of schools and for the drainage and sanitation works needed in the war swept country.

The whole question regarding choice of structures to be erected and means of finding the funds and the labor with which to build them is in the hands of an interministerial committee, of which, besides representatives of the state departments, prominent personages of the political, financial, industrial, commercial, scientific and artistic world of France form part. This committee has not decided whether the reconstruction of towns and the renovation work generally are to be intrusted to private corporations, or whether the government itself may take charge of the entire work and mobilize the building and contracting companies to operate under government control.

HUSBAND RESCUED

DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Caston, Ky.—Is an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 50 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

Daily Thought.

The sweetest music is not in oratorios, but in the human voice when it speaks from its instant life tones of tenderness, truth and courage.—Emerson.

LEGHORN IS POPULAR BREED

Fowl is Hardy and Prolific With Alert Style and Carriage—They Are Great Producers.

The Leghorn may be said to be the smallest of the practical and popular breeds of domesticated chickens in America. They originated in Italy but have been bred in this country for many years.

Of this breed there are nine recognized varieties, several of which were created in this country. They comprise a group of useful fowls, characterized as being rather small in size and graceful in conformation, says Wisconsin Agriculturist. They are hardy and prolific with alert style and carriage. The modern Leghorn is rather long in back and body and well upon legs. The concave sweep of back to tail without any decided angle at juncture of tail is a characteristic peculiar to the breed. The tail should be well spread and carried at an angle of 40 to 45 degrees above the horizontal. The neck should be rather long, gracefully arched, and rather slender, especially in the female. The comb should be rather small in size, the female's dropping slightly to one side. The eye should be reddish bay in color, the shanks and the skin yellow.

The Leghorns are very popular with the operators of egg farms on account of their white shelled egg and also because they are nonsitters. The white egg is very desirable for supplying a fancy egg trade, but on the common market, no extra price is paid for them.

The cockerels grow rapidly to broiler age but are a nuisance if kept on the farm to maturity, and on many farms it is preferred to do the hatching with hens rather than with the incubator. In such cases the larger breeds should be selected. However, the Leghorn rightly bred, is a great egg producer and an active forager and if one prefers them to others

there is no reason why they should not take them up.

The various varieties are designated by their difference in shape of comb or color of plumage, the same shape description applying to all. It is generally recognized, however, that the S. C. Whites are a little in advance of the others in shape.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GAME BIRDS

Flesh of Guinea Has Gamy Flavor and Is Gaining Popularity in Some of Eastern Cities.

The flesh of the guinea has a gamy flavor and is coming into use as a substitute for game birds in some of the eastern cities. The young guinea, two-pound size, is quoted by some commission merchants at from 45 to 50 cents each, while old guineas are quoted on the same market at 25 cents each. Guinea eggs sell at the same price as hen eggs and have the advantage of having much thicker shells and are not so liable to get broken in shipment.

LIBERAL FEED AFTER HATCH

Yen Should Be Encouraged to Remain on Nest With Chicks for First Forty-Eight Hours.

It is a good plan to see that the hen is fed very liberally immediately after hatching, as it will tend to keep her quiet and brood the little ones very closely the first 48 hours. Do not allow her to start on through the meadow or plowed field strutting the little ones after her to become lost or injured, when a little feed, such as whole corn, fed immediately after the hatch is over, will retain her on the nest.

TIME BETWEEN CHICK FEEDS

It Can Be Shortened by Feeding Early and Late—Make Youngsters Scratch for Grain.

The time between night and morning feeds is, at best, rather long and can be shortened by feeding early and late. This is as essential as it is to feed little and often.

Chicks must be induced to exercise. Cover the floor with a thin layer of chaff or fine litter and feed the cracked grain in the litter. The chicks scratch for the feed and exercise in this way.

Notice To Taxpayers.

It is now time to begin making the assessment again. The law requires that each tax payer give a full and complete list of all taxable property in his or her possession on September 1st. I want to ask that each tax payer make an invoice on Sept. 1st, of all taxable property, valuing it at a fair cash value, estimated at the price it would bring at a fair voluntary sale, and note it down on a piece of paper so you will have it ready when I call on you.

Upon investigation I find that the Dog Tax Law was not repealed as was reported, so please remember that all dogs over four months old, on Sept. 1st, will be subject to taxation, and if you do not want to pay taxes on them, please get rid of them before that time.

BLOODY PRINTS BARE'S MURDER

Samuel Bedford, Missing Since February Slain By Bootleggers

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 12.—The print of a bloody hand on a pool room wall and bloody stains on a pool table at High Bridge have solved the mystery of the disappearance of Samuel W. Bedford, prominent insurance man who disappeared while on a trip to High Bridge, Feb. 18th.

Mr. Bedford was murdered because he was thought to be a United States marshal. His assassins are alleged bootleggers.

His throat was cut from ear to ear and his body wrapped up in a bundle of old sacks and placed in a back room of the combination pool room and barber shop.

One of the men who saw the murder done has confessed. Another, a young boy said to be implicated in the murder was arrested at Heidelberg and brought to jail here.

Five men are alleged to be implicated in the crime one of these is the actual murderer, who is somewhere in Ohio. The others are Eli Benton of Nicholasville, under bond now on several charges of bootlegging; Richard Woods, now in the Nicholasville jail on a charge of housebreaking; George Norton, arrested yesterday at High Bridge charged with being an accessory after the fact; and Art Fein, who is now somewhere in eastern Kentucky.

The pool room where Bedford was murdered was owned by Richard and Eli Benton and the others accused are hanger-on and alleged bootleggers. According to a statement which detectives credited to Fein, the murderer used a razor to cut his victims throat, and when the boy realized a time was being committed he boarded a log raft and started down the river.

FRANCE OUT OF RUINS

Country Preparing to Rebuild 3000 Destroyed Towns.

New York, Sept. 5.—France has made preparations for the reconstruction of the towns and villages of the northeast, almost 3,000 in number, destroyed or seriously damaged by the German invasion. The large French cities which were untouched by the war have undertaken to act as "godmother" to the stricken towns and communities. Lyons is ready to give maternal care to Lille, when that afflicted city shall have returned to the possession of France.

The famous Arts and Crafts college in Lille, obliterated from that city by the Germans, is being reorganized in Lyons, and at the favorable hour will be restored to Lille. Paris will be the godmother for a multitude of towns.

Several cities are bidding for the honor of having Verdun as a foster child, as the great fortress city, though not captured, is badly wrecked, and Marseilles may be successful in this regard. Arras may be allotted to untouched Dijon which has gathered in many refugees from that war wrecked city.

Meantime an exposition is being held at which time great building and contracting corporations of France have presented models of new towns and villages which they will undertake to erect in a given number of days for a fixed sum of francs and centimes. Where hasty construction is needed these quickly erected models will be selected in view of the varied conditions of the centres of population to be replaced. A certain quantity of the quick construction work probably will be needed even in towns only partly destroyed, as the refugees are anxious to return to the sites of their homes at the earliest possible moment. More permanent structures can later on be put up at leisure.

One of the touching sights described at the Paris "reconstructed city" exposition is the crowd of refugees from the invaded region who go there. Many of them shed tears at the thought that these new model structures are to take the place of the quaint, irregular buildings that have been associated with their ancestors for generations. Important consideration is given to the fact that immediately after the war there will be so much building to be done that labor will be exceedingly scarce and it will be necessary for the time being to content, in many places at least, with makeshift structures until sufficient numbers of workmen can be found to attend to the building of solid houses. The factories and the government works will make a severe demand on the available labor of the country. Arrangements are already being considered for importing large numbers of Italians and Spaniards to assist in the reconstruction work.

Many of these will follow the advance of the French on the Somme front, as it is the purpose of the government to restore conditions as rapidly as possible.

Portable three-room houses are shown at the exposition which can be erected by four men in six hours, and two-room houses which can be erected in three hours by the same number of men. One contracting company offers to construct a village composed of a communal hall, a church, a postoffice, a covered market, ten shelters, five 3,000 franc houses, ten 4,000 franc farms, a public dwelling house and dormitory for ten men and another for ten women, for 103,000 francs ($20,620). A similar village erected in better fashion and with superior material, will cost 195,000 francs.

Other companies undertake the installation of light and power, of water supply, of sewerage system, at moderate prices still other concerns will contract for the erection of hygienic establishment and of schools and for the drainage and sanitation works needed in the war swept country.

The whole question regarding choice of structures to be erected and means of finding the funds and the labor with which to build them is in the hands of an interministerial committee, of which, besides representatives of the state departments, prominent personages of the political, financial, industrial, commercial, scientific and artistic world of France form part. This committee has not decided whether the reconstruction of towns and the renovation work generally are to be entrusted to private corporations, or whether the government itself may take charge of the entire work and mobilize the building and contracting companies to operate under government control.

HUSBAND RESCUED DESPAIRING WIFE

After Four Years of Discouraging Conditions, Mrs. Bullock Gave Up in Despair. Husband Came to Rescue.

Catron, Ky.—Is an interesting letter from this place, Mrs. Bettie Bullock writes as follows: "I suffered for four years, with womanly troubles, and during this time, I could only sit up for a little while, and could not walk anywhere at all. At times, I would have severe pains in my left side.

The doctor was called in, and his treatment relieved me for a while, but I was soon confined to my bed again. After that, nothing seemed to do me any good. I had gotten so weak I could not stand, and I gave up in despair.

At last, my husband got me a bottle of Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I commenced taking it. From the very first dose, I could tell it was helping me. I can now walk two miles without tiring me, and am doing my work."

If you are all run down from womanly troubles, don't give up in despair. Try Cardui, the woman's tonic. It has helped more than a million women, in its 30 years of wonderful success, and should surely help you, too. Your druggist has sold Cardui for years. He knows what it will do. Ask him. He will recommend it. Begin taking Cardui today.

LEGHORN IS POPULAR BREED

Fowl Is Hardy and Prolific With Alert Style and Carriage—They Are Great Producers.

The Leghorn may be said to be the smallest of the practical and popular breeds of domesticated chickens in America. They originated in Italy but have been bred in this country for many years.

Of this breed there are nine recognized varieties, several of which were created in this country. They comprise a group of useful fowls, characterized as being rather small in size and graceful in conformation, says Wisconsin Agriculturist. They are hardy and prolific with alert style and carriage. The modern Leghorn is rather long in back and body and well upon legs. The concave sweep of back to tail without any decided angle at juncture of tail is a characteristic peculiar to the breed. The tail should be well spread and carried at an angle of 40 to 45 degrees above the horizontal. The neck should be rather long, gracefully arched, and rather slender, especially in the female. The comb should be rather small in size, the female's drooping slightly to one side. The eye should be reddish bay in color, the shanks and the skin yellow.

The Leghorns are very popular with the operators of egg farms on account of their white shelled egg and also because they are nonsitters. The white egg is very desirable for supplying a fancy egg trade, but on the common market, no extra price is paid for them.

The cockerels grow rapidly to broiler age but are a nuisance if kept on the farm to maturity, and on many farms it is preferred to do the hatching with hens rather than with the incubator. In such cases the larger breeds should be selected. However, the Leghorn rightly bred, is a great egg producer and an active forager and if one prefers them to others

there is no reason why they should not take them up.

The various varieties are designated by their difference in shape of comb or color of plumage, the same shape description applying to all. It is generally recognized, however, that the S. C. Whites are a little in advance of the others in shape.

SUBSTITUTE FOR GAME BIRDS

Flesh of Guinea Has Gamy Flavor and Is Gaining Popularity in Some of Eastern Cities.

The flesh of the guinea has a gamy flavor and is coming into use as a substitute for game birds in some of the eastern cities. The young guinea, two-pound size, is quoted by some commission merchants at from 45 to 50 cents each, while old guineas are quoted on the same market at 25 cents each. Guinea eggs sell at the same price as hen eggs and have the advantage of having much thicker shells and are not so liable to get broken in shipment.

LIBERAL FEED AFTER HATCH

Hen Should Be Encouraged to Remain on Nest With Chicks for First Forty-Eight Hours.

It is a good plan to see that the hen is fed very liberally immediately after hatching, as it will tend to keep her quiet and brood the little ones very closely the first 48 hours. Do not allow her to start on through the meadow or plowed field strutting the little ones after her to become lost or injured, when a little feed, such as whole corn, fed immediately after the hatch is over, will retain her on the nest.

TIME BETWEEN CHICK FEEDS

It Can Be Shortened by Feeding Early and Late—Make Youngsters Scratch for Grain.

The time between night and morning feeds is, at best, rather long and can be shortened by feeding early and late. This is as essential as it is to feed little and often.

Chicks must be induced to exercise. Cover the floor with a thin layer of chaff or fine litter and feed the cracked grain in the litter. The chicks scratch for the feed and exercise in this way.

DEMOCRACY'S BANNER DAY

Campaign Opening at Winchester
Most Auspicious Event

Many Thousand People Listen To
Oratory And Enjoy Burgoo
And Barbecued Meats

The formal opening of the Democratic campaign at Winchester, Saturday, was as delightful as the occasion was auspicious. The sun never shone more brightly on the "Old Kentucky Home," the atmosphere was never more delicious and invigorating, a warmer welcome was never extended than by the Democracy of the splendid county of Clark and everything seemed to work together to make the event one of the never to be forgotten by the many thousands of enthusiastic men and women who attended. Every detail for the comfort and enjoyment of their guests had been carefully arranged and nothing left undone by the general chairman, Judge John E. Garner, Judge John M. Stevenson, Senator Abe Rennick, Steve Vaught, and the able and willing corps of assistants, while the people of town and county vied with each other in doing everything in their power to add to the delights of the day. The city had been decorated in gala attire and flags and bunting floated everywhere.

The fair grounds were selected for the place of speaking, and a shed erected in front of the mammoth amphitheater for the speakers and hundreds of men of prominence. At 10:30 Judge Garner made a stirring and witty address of welcome, followed by Chairman J. Campbell, Cantrill, of the State campaign committee, who thanked in warmest terms the good people for their splendid efforts to make the opening memorable, said a few words of cheer to the people who crowded the amphitheater and filled every conceivable space in all the region aroundabout and introduced Congressman Hardy, of Texas, as the first speaker, who eloquently told of the accomplishments of the administration and urged the retention in office of the man who made them possible and fulfilled every promise of the convention that nominated him. His speech was logical, forceful and vote winning.

Following his address, which was listened to with rapt attention, the onslaught on the feast of burgoo, fried chicken, barbecued beef and lamb with many other good things, began, and though the charge was heavy and continuous the impression was hardly noticeable and the heavy laden tables would have withstood the charge of several thousands more and still groaned under their weight of well prepared edibles. It was a real feast, from which no one went away empty. On their own initiative and at their own expense, the ladies had prepared another feast in a large tent in honor of the vice president's charming wife, where the speakers and others enjoyed a real banquet, served by beautiful girls and comely matrons and every body made to feel that it was good to be there. The tent was gaily decorated and the ensemble was beautiful.

The inner man having been satisfied, Gov. Stanley introduced the leading speaker of the day, Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, of Indiana, who was received with tumultuous applause, and his was a most captivating address, full of hope and confidence. Mr. Marshall is a born orator and possessing the ability to tell an anecdote well, he soon caught his audience which listened to his effort with wild cheers and applause. There are few more popular speakers than Woodrow Wilson's running mate, "the tail to his kite," as he called himself, and his eloquent recital of constructive work accomplished during the three and a half years that the Democrats had been in power, made a lasting impression on the multitude, which drunk in every word with avidity, and seemed fully to agree with him that God had raised up Woodrow Wilson for his great work.

Congressman W. J. Fields then introduced the Hon. Thomas J. Heflin, of Alabama, whose fame as an orator is nation-wide, and for an hour he kept the vast throng applauding or convulsed with laughter at the stories he told so minutely. It was a great speech and kept the crowd to its end, though more than half of it had stood to hear it.

Chairman A. B. Rouse, of the speakers' bureau, could hardly have made better selection for the occasion as every man of them is master in his line of speech.

The great crowd, which came from many parts of the state and was variously estimated at from 10,000 to 20,000, reluctantly took its leave, filled with enthusiasm and intent on doing all in its power to re-elect Wilson and Marshall for four more years of patriotic service.

There have been many grand openings of Democratic campaigns in Kentucky, but the one at Winchester eclipsed them all and the Democracy of the state owes the people of Clark county a debt they can hardly repay. Everybody at all acquainted with the public spiritedness of those wide-awake citizens, knew that they would strive to outdo all other occasions, and gloriously did they fulfill the confidence. And to them be honor and glory now and always. They certainly emphasized the ambitious little city's place on the map and wrote her name high on the scroll of fame.

Chairman Cantrill expressed his real delight over the auspicious opening of the campaign, that must result in a famous victory for Democracy and is prouder of the county of his congressional district than ever. It was indeed a glorious day for the cause of the people and a forerunner of a victory that will surprise the nation, which has been led to think that Kentucky is a doubtful state.

The enthusiasm engendered by the glorious meeting at Winchester will spread all over Kentucky and with such candidates as Wilson and Marshall and such achievements as the Democratic party has to its credit the old commonwealth ought to be good for the Tilden majority, which was 60,000. Kentuckians recognize true worth and faithful service and all who love these qualities will vote to retain the man in office who has done so much for the cause of humanity. Up men, and at 'em.

The President Turned the Trick

Candidate Hughes is greatly worried over the way the president succeeded in averting the railroad strike and deplores the passage of laws in advance of investigation. He is, therefore, attempting to belittle the whole business, but he will have his labor for his pains. As Grover Cleveland said on one occasion, "A condition and not a theory," confronted Mr. Wilson, and he did what the whole country applauded him for doing. The Republicans tried to embarrass the President in the matter, but he turned the trick and came out more than a victor and made himself more solid with the people. The laboring people especially are singing the praises of the man who meets every emergency manfully and successfully.

Easy to Satisfy.

The Republican State Campaign Committee professes to be satisfied with the result of the cost of the performance in trying to make a showing for Hughes in this state, another instance of being thankful for small favors. It is doubtful if Hughes made a vote by his speech in Lexington, while it does not admit of a doubt that he lost very many. Neither his speech nor his presence was inspiring and the crowd, motley as it was, evidently expected better things from the candidate of a once great party. Mr. Hughes' visit demonstrated anew and more fully that the Wilson spirit prevails in this state and that it will be given full force and effect on the 7th of November.

Has Another Think Coming.

"I cannot believe that the splendid spirit which has been shown here today is a mere passing enthusiasm, I hope it means that the people of your State realize that the success of the Republican party in national affairs will advance the welfare of the nation, their own state, and their own homes." Thus spoke Mr. Hughes at Lexington. If the one hundred per cent. candidate really believes his own words he has another think coming. Kentuckians are usually polite to visitors and show them courtesy, but they do not accept as truth everything that is told them. Mr. Hughes is likewise mistaken about enthusiasm. It was not great to begin with and was entirely manufactured by the campaign committee and its hirelings. There is nothing about Mr. Hughes or his speeches to enthrall over, and he who seems to slip over on them does so either for pay or for pretense. Kentucky generally is pretty well satisfied with conditions under Wilson and cannot be made to realize, if such a realization were possible, that return of the Republican party to power would advance their welfare. They believe that return of that party to the control of the government means a return to special privileges by the taxation of many for the benefit of the few. Nay, Mr. Hughes do not permit yourself to be fooled—Kentucky may be doubtful sometimes, but there is no doubt about her this time, she is for Wilson first, last and all times.

The Colonel Disgusted.

Authentic report is that Colonel Roosevelt is much more chagrined with the desire to defeat Wilson than the election of Hughes, which he regards as a secondary consideration. The Colonel's antipathy for Wilson is because of the fact that the president has eclipsed him in the service of the country and relegated him from the front page and from the limelight. It is also said that Roosevelt is disgusted with the Hughes performance in the west, that he is almost ready to quit playing second fiddle in the swat fly campaign, as he calls it. Instead of talking Americanism, he says Hughes' talks civil service reform and instead of denouncing the German American alliance, denounces extravagance in governmental expenditure. He believes he has been tricked and is almost ready to quit. The Democrats, however, will object as he is making more votes for Wilson than it is possible for him to make for Hughes.

The Country Newspaper.

Nearly all of the big newspapers have space regularly devoted to jests on the little country newspaper. Perhaps to city readers it matters little whether Tom Jones visited Dave Smith and his wife last Sunday or whether Tim Howe built a new barn, and perhaps Tim Howe's barn is not as imposing as some of the big structures in the big cities, but all the same, these little personal mentions tell a story of vital interest to the community.

People in the country are interested in each other's doings, and the people mentioned as a rule are of the substantial sort and very few of them have their names in the newspapers in connection with scandal or divorce.

But to one who does not know country life these personal mentions sound funny. After all, the little country paper in reporting these simple things and the clean wholesome life about, is doing that which is worth while, for the real American is out side of the big city. It is in the quiet country place and in the small towns where the strength of the nation is rooted, where its wealth is created, and where its most important and precious ideals are cherished.

These country papers must be true to country life, of which they are an important part, if they are to live and do work of the highest value. Their continued effort in behalf of community betterment is of more worth to the nation than all the efforts of the big city papers that are devoted to the building up of great cities. Some one has said, "God made the country, and man made the town," and if that be true, then God must certainly look kindly on the country papers which are devoted to the work of community betterment in the country and the small towns. Ex

POULTRY FACTS

FOR SECURING FERTILE EGGS

Strong, Vigorous Male Birds Should Be Used and Inbreeding Avoided—Cull Sickly Hens.

The first essential is to handle the breeding flock of hens in such a manner as to secure a high percentage of fertile eggs. To accomplish this all small, weak or sickly appearing hens should be removed from the flock and only eggs from strong, vigorous, healthy hens should be used for hatching. The flock should be allowed considerable range if this is convenient, though extensive range is not necessary to secure fertile eggs. If the hens must be confined in small quarters, green food or meat meal must be used in the ration and the hens must be permitted to scratch in clean litter for part of their feed in order to insure sufficient exercise.

Strong, vigorous cock birds must also be used, and inbreeding should be avoided. For all meat and egg breeds one cock should be allowed for ten hens and for the lighter weight egg-producing breeds one cock bird for every 15 hens.

MAKE PROFIT WITH TURKEYS

More Profitable Side Line Can Hardly Be Found for Those Who Are Favorably Situated.

For those who are favorably situated for raising turkeys, a more profitable side line can hardly be found. Given plenty of range where the turkeys can find grasshoppers and other insects, green vegetation, the seeds of weeds and grasses, waste grain acorns and nuts of various kinds, the cost of raising them is very small and the profits large.

Grain and stock farms are particularly well adapted to turkey raising, and it is on such farms that most of the turkeys are raised.

Little has ever been done in the way of raising turkeys in confinement, and where it has been tried the results have been discouraging. Plenty of range is essential to success in turkey raising.

Capons sell in winter at from 25 to 30 cents a pound.

Rhode Island Reds, Plymouth Rocks and Brahmans make the best capons. Keep fowls without food 24 hours before caponizing.

Be careful to cut away from, and not toward, the backbone when making the incisions.

Always dress capons in "style"—leave feathers around necks, backs on wing tips and end of the tail.

Dry-pick capons to get the best results. Ship capons in down lots; they bring better prices.

A Popular Place.

Cannan's restaurant and hotel Monday, County Court day, was crowded from 10:30 till 1:30, over three hours.

They do not know how many men they fed but it was well up into the hundreds. Mr. Cannan has added much to the value of real estate in that part of the city by building a modern and complete residence with all necessary out buildings, which with his restaurant and its equipment represents an out lay of many thousands of dollars, spent to build up our little city.

They never lose a patron, but please them so well that all go back and take some with them. Mr. Cannan contemplates other improvements in his vicinity to further provide for his growing business. His new and elegant residence is one of the best ever built here.

HOGS HAD FINE JAG ON MOONSHINE MASH

Poured Out in Anticipation of Raiders' Visits. Pigs

Muskogee, Okla.—Deputy Sheriff Conley of Sequoyah county led a raid on a suspected moonshine industry at the Zach Gossard farm, six miles from Vian. According to the officers, advance information of the attack had been obtained and they could find no "worm," so that an important link in the suspected case was missing.

The officers said they arrived at the moment when they supposed the mash would be "ripped." There were a lot of it, they declared, but it had been poured out, and 24 fine hogs had "gone after it."

Conley said, in effect, that the swine had one of the most approved jags he had ever seen. Most of the animals were inclined to playfulness, according to the deputy sheriff, and performed most unusual antics for an hour or so, while others fought until the effects of the mash began to simmer, when the hogs lay down, chucked softly and went to sleep. According to subsequent advice, he said, the hogs had only a mild "hang-over" when they awoke.
